B. CONTRACTS OF SALE: RESIDENTIAL PROPERTY

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.34

FORM 21.34 Sale of apartment building--seller to refinance mortgage in larger amount--buyer takes title subject to refinanced mortgage

COMMENT

In the agreement illustrated here, the closing of the sale is contingent upon the seller's obtaining a new and larger first mortgage. The terms of the new mortgage are carefully defined. The seller's primary concern is with the amount of the first mortgage. The buyer's concern, however, is with all the terms of the mortgage, since the buyer will have to live with this mortgage during his ownership of the property even though he is not personally liable on the mortgage debt. The contract provides that the purchaser may within a fixed period of time procure the required first mortgage if the seller himself has been previously unsuccessful in doing so. The parties have agreed that any amortization payments on the new mortgage, between the date of the new mortgage and the date of the closing, shall benefit the purchaser.

Refinancing alternative to purchase money mortgage

If a purchaser's cash resources are limited, refinancing will enable the seller to obtain more cash than he would receive by the purchaser's taking subject to the old mortgage and the execution of a purchase money second mortgage for the balance. Also, the seller obtains in cash the full benefit of the appreciation in the value of his property. While the refinancing itself does not result in tax, a sale can lead to tax liability. This is because the amount of the new mortgage is not subtracted from the amount realized by the owner on the sale of his property.

Purchaser considerations

So far as the purchaser is concerned, he may want nonrecourse financing to avoid any personal liability on the new mortgage and for that reason may insist that the larger mortgage be obtained by the seller before the sale takes place. If the purchaser can take title to the property subject to the seller's existing mortgage, rather than assume it outright, the effect is practically the same as the purchaser obtaining his own nonrecourse loan. The amount of the new mortgage will, however, be included in the purchaser's cost basis of the property.

Disclosure of lead-based paint hazards

Federal law requires the seller of pre-1978 residential housing to disclose known information to the prospective purchaser on lead-based paint hazards. See 42 U.S.C. §§ 4851-4856; 40 C.F.R. Part 745 and 24 C.F.R. Part 35, Subpart A. The sales contract must include a lead warning statement and certain disclosure information. See discussion in comments to Form 21.15, supra. A sample lead-based paint sales contract rider, including both disclosure under the federal law and a lead-based paint contingency clause, is included in this chapter at Form 21.30, supra.

FORM

AGREEMENT made April 28, _____ [year], between Herman Darwin, residing at 60 Main Street, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania ("Seller") and David Powell, of 100 East 42d Street, New York, New York ("Buyer").

Seller shall sell to Buyer, and Buyer shall buy from Seller, the real estate described on attached Schedule A, commonly known as and referred to as Sunset Apartments, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, together with all improvements, and the stoves, refrigerators, and other personal property owned by Seller and now situated thereon.

1. Purchase price. The purchase price for the premises shall be $2.4 million, payable as follows:

(a) $600,000 in cash or good certified check or checks on the closing of title.

(b) $1.8 million by accepting title subject to a first mortgage in that amount, to be obtained by Seller as described in Section 2. If Seller has made amortization payments reducing the aggregate balance of the mortgage against the premises below $1.8 million at the time of closing, the amount under paragraph (a) above, shall be increased by the amount of such payments.

2. Contingent on first mortgage

(a) Terms of mortgage. This contract is conditioned upon Seller obtaining a conventional first mortgage loan, which Buyer shall not be required to assume, for $1.8 million from a bank, insurance company, mortgage lending institution, or other financial institution upon terms and conditions similar to those presently customary in a real estate loan of such amount in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. The loan shall, among others, have the following provisions: it shall bear interest of not more than 12-percent per annum; principal and interest is to be payable in equal monthly installments until the final maturity date; the amount of each monthly installment due before the maturity date is to be determined upon the basis of a 25-year amortization period; the final maturity date is to be not earlier than 20 years from the date thereof; and prepayment shall be permitted after the fifth year upon 90 days prior written notice and the payment of a prepayment penalty during the first five years not to exceed 3 percent of the amount prepaid.

(b) Failure to obtain commitment. Seller shall use due diligence to obtain the loan. If Seller is unable to obtain a commitment for the loan within 45 days after the date hereof, Buyer shall have 45 days thereafter in which to secure a commitment for the loan for and on behalf of Seller. If neither party obtains a commitment for the loan within 90 days after the date of this contract, this contract shall be null and void and all moneys or securities deposited shall be returned forthwith to Buyer, unless Buyer agrees in writing both to accept title subject to a loan upon less favorable terms without abatement in the purchase price and to pay to Seller in cash on the closing date an additional sum equal to any amount by which the original principal balance of the loan is less than $1.8 million.

(c) Discharge existing mortgage. If the loan is obtained, Seller shall prepay in full the existing first mortgage presently a lien against the premises. Seller shall pay all costs and expenses of securing the loan and prepaying and releasing of record the existing first mortgage, except that Buyer shall pay the appraisal fees and legal fees of the new lender to the extent that such fees do not total more than $4,000, and any net title insurance premium for title insurance required by the new lender.

(d) Notice of commitment. Seller shall notify Buyer promptly upon securing a commitment for the loan and shall deliver a copy of the commitment to him. Seller shall grant Buyer's counsel a reasonable opportunity to discuss with counsel for the new lender the form of mortgage and note to be utilized in the transaction.

(e) Acceptable lenders. The following lending institutions are the only ones that may place the loan:

New York Life Insurance Company,

Home Life Insurance Company,

Metropolitan Life Insurance Company,

The Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States,

New England Mutual Life Insurance Company, or

Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company.

(f) Contingent second mortgage loan. Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary herein contained, if a commitment for the loan is obtained which meets all of the requirements set forth herein except that the amount thereof is for $1.6 million rather than $1.8 million, Seller shall take back a purchase money second mortgage, prepared by Buyer's counsel and approved by Seller's counsel, for $200,000. The second mortgage loan shall, among others, have the following provisions: it shall be payable in constant monthly installments of principal and interest, each installment being applicable first to interest of 12-percent per annum and the remainder in reduction of principal; it shall be a loan for a term of at least three years, with options exercisable by the then owner of the premises to extend the maturity date for at least two additional three-year terms on the same conditions of payment; and it shall not impose any personal liability on Buyer or any owner of the premises for the repayment of the secured debt.

3. Seller's representations and warranties. Seller makes the following representations and warranties, which shall survive the passing of title:

(a) Rents. Attached and marked Exhibit B is a true and accurate schedule of rentals presently being collected by Seller. There are no rents prepaid for more than one month in advance and no tenant has been granted any rent-free occupancy. Seller has performed, or will perform before the closing date, at his expense, all decorating and alteration work that he is required to perform by that date.

(b) Insurance. Attached and marked Exhibit C is a true and accurate schedule of insurance carried on the premises. The insurance shall not be increased between the date hereof and the closing date. Seller has not failed to comply with any notice or request from any insurance company issuing the policies, and Seller shall comply before the closing date with any such notice or request received before that date.

- (c) Payroll. Attached and marked Exhibit D is Seller's true and accurate payroll record for the period indicated.
- (d) Maintenance contracts. The only maintenance or other contracts (exclusive of leases and tenancy agreements) affecting the premises are set forth in the schedule attached and marked Exhibit E.
- (e) Work notices. Seller has complied with all notices from the holder of the existing first mortgage requiring any work to be performed or completed in or on the premises.
- (f) Violations. The premises do not violate the provisions of any applicable building code, fire regulations, or other governmental ordinances, orders, or regulations. Seller will convey the premises free of any such violations.
- (g) Utility bills. Attached and marked Exhibit F are true and accurate lists of gas bills, electricity bills, and telephone bills relating to the premises for the 12 months indicated.
- (h) Refrigerators and ranges. Seller owns, free and clear of all liens, at least 105 refrigerators and 105 ranges located upon the premises. All of the refrigerators and ranges are included in the sale, regardless of where located.
- (i) Income and expenses. Attached and marked Exhibit G is a true and correct statement of income as of May 1, _____ [year], and expenses for calendar year _____ [year].
- (j) Tax bills. Attached and marked Exhibit H are copies of tax bills for the premises for the periods indicated.
- (k) Building addition. The penthouse currently being added to the building on the premises does not violate any zoning regulations, building restrictions, or other municipal ordinances, or any certificate of occupancy or building permit, and the addition will be fully completed and paid for by Seller before the closing of title. At the closing Seller shall deliver to Buyer a copy of a certificate of occupancy or other evidence of the legality of the premises as laid out.
- (l) Leases. All leases affecting the premises have been exhibited to Buyer. The leases have not been modified or amended and shall not be modified or amended without Buyer's written consent, which Buyer will not unreasonably withhold. The rentals set forth in the leases are legally collectable. No concessions have been granted to the holder of any lease. All of the leases are in full force and effect and not in default, and will be in full force and effect and not in default at closing of title.
- (m) Utility access. All public utilities required for the operation of the premises enter the premises through adjoining public streets, or if they pass through adjoining private land do so in accordance with valid public easements.
- (n) Effective at closing. All of Seller's representations and warranties shall be true at the closing date as if they were made at that time.
4. Survey and title insurance. Seller represents that the building upon the premises is entirely within the boundary lines of the land described in attached Schedule A and that there are no encroachments. Seller will deliver to Buyer a survey of the premises at the closing of title. Seller represents further that its title shall be insurable at the closing by a responsible title insurance company selected by Buyer.
5. Maintenance of premises. Between the date hereof and the closing date, Seller will continue to maintain the premises in good condition and repair, ordinary wear and tear, damage by fire or other casualty, or by acts of God and the elements, excepted, subject, however, to Section 8 governing casualty losses.
6. Prorations. The following items shall be prorated between the parties as of the closing date: real estate taxes for the calendar year _____ [year]; water and sewer rents; utilities; prepaid transferable insurance; mortgage interest; employees' wages, payroll taxes, fringe benefits, and vacation pay, if any; maintenance and service contracts; and prepaid rents. In addition, Seller shall turn over to Buyer all security deposits held by Seller under the leases.

7. Assessments. If at or before delivery of the deed, the premises or any part thereof is affected by a special assessment or assessments which are or may become payable in installments, of which the first installment is a charge or lien on the closing date or theretofore has been paid, Seller shall pay and discharge all the unpaid installments of the assessment or assessments.

8. Casualty. Buyer may cancel this contract if before delivery of the deed any improvements on the premises are destroyed, or if there has been damage by fire or other casualty, which would cost over $30,000 to repair, and the repair is not completed on or before the closing date. If Buyer cancels this contract, all monies and securities deposited by him will be returned to him. If Buyer does not cancel, all insurance monies payable as a result of the casualty shall be turned over to Buyer for the purpose of making the required repairs, except to the extent that the insurance moneys are paid to, or must be turned over to, the holder of the first mortgage on the premises. Any fire or casualty damage of less than $30,000 shall be repaired by Seller before the closing.

9. Buyer's deposit in escrow. Upon the execution of this contract Buyer has deposited with the Pennsylvania National Bank as escrowee securities with attached stock powers endorsed in blank to be held by the escrowee pursuant to the terms and conditions of an escrow letter entered into by Buyer, Seller, and the Bank dated this day. Buyer shall, within ten days after receipt of an unconditional commitment for a first mortgage loan satisfying the conditions set forth in Section 2, deposit with the escrowee additional marketable securities of comparable quality with attached stock powers endorsed in blank, with a marketable value at the time of deposit of not less than $100,000, to be held in escrow by the escrowee pursuant to the terms and conditions of the escrow letter. The parties intend that such securities be held by the escrowee as security for the performance by Buyer of his obligations under this contract and be disposed of in accordance with the terms and provisions of the escrow letter. If Buyer defaults under this contract and the securities are sold by the escrowee under the terms and conditions of the escrow letter, the net proceeds from any such sale which are paid over to Seller, together with any additional amount, the "deficiency sum," shall be retained by Seller as liquidated damages for Buyer's breach, and this contract shall thereupon be deemed null and void. The term "deficiency sum" shall mean any amount by which the net proceeds from the sale of all securities deposited by Buyer with the escrowee upon the execution of this contract is less than $100,000. If, however, Buyer has made the required additional deposit of securities upon receipt of the mortgage commitment, the term "deficiency sum" shall mean any amount by which the net proceeds from the sale of all securities held by the escrowee is less than $200,000. Seller's sole remedy shall be the liquidated damages, consisting of the net proceeds from the sale of the securities and any "deficiency sum." Seller expressly waives the remedy of specific performance.

10. Documents at closing. At the closing of title hereunder Seller shall:

(a) Deed. Execute, acknowledge, and deliver to Buyer a general warranty deed conveying to Buyer a fee simple title to the premises free and clear of all liens and encumbrances except as herein provided. The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the City of Pittsburgh transfer taxes on recording the deed shall be borne equally by the parties.

(b) Lease assignments. Assign to Buyer all of the existing leases between Seller and all tenants of the premises.

(c) Bill of sale. Execute and deliver to Buyer a bill of sale with affidavit of title to all the personalty, furnishings, and fixtures included in this sale.

(d) Guaranties. Assign to Buyer all guaranties or warranties received by Seller from contractors or materialmen with respect to any work or installations in the premises.

11. Date of closing. This transaction shall be closed at 11 a.m. on July 28, _____ [year], at the offices of the title company selected by Buyer in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. Buyer shall give Seller written notice of the time and place of the closing. If the first mortgage loan referred to in Section 2 closes before the closing date Seller shall notify Buyer of the time and place of the closing of the mortgage loan, and Buyer or his representative shall have an opportunity to attend that closing.

12. Brokerage. At closing, Buyer shall pay a brokerage commission of $45,000 to H. Gordon & Company, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, in accordance with the provisions of a separate agreement dated this day.

13. Assignment. Buyer may assign his rights hereunder. In the event of such an assignment and the assignee assumes Buyer's obligations hereunder, Buyer shall be relieved of all liability hereunder.

14. Notices. All notices under this contract shall be in writing and sent by registered or certified mail, postage prepaid, if to Seller, c/o James T. Shane, Esq., 100 Union Trust Building, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and if to Buyer, at 100 East 42d Street, New York, New York 10017, with a copy to Arnold Gore, Esq., 11 East 39th Street, New York, New York 10016.

15. Entire agreement. All prior understandings and agreements between the parties are merged in this contract, which constitutes the entire agreement between the parties. This contract is entered into after full investigation made by Seller, and neither party relies upon any statement or representation made by anyone unless contained herein.

16. Modifications. No provision of this contract may be modified except in an instrument signed by both parties.

17. Binding effect. This contract is binding on the parties and their respective personal representatives, successors, and assigns.

18. Headings. Headings in this agreement are for convenience and reference only and shall not be used to interpret or construe its provisions.

19. Non-waiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise any right hereunder, and no partial or single exercise of any such right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

20. Governing law. This contract shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of Pennsylvania.

21. Counterparts. This contract may be executed in two or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

22. Time of essence. Time is of the essence of this agreement.

The parties have caused the execution hereof on the day and year first above written.

Herman Darwin, Seller

David Powell, Buyer

68 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms

B. CONTRACTS OF SALE: RESIDENTIAL PROPERTY

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.35

FORM 21.35 Contract for sale of rental property--allocation of rent and tenant related expenses--assumption of leases and service contracts--nonrecourse purchase money and existing debt

COMMENT

This agreement contains several important provisions in the sale or purchase of rental property. Some of the more significant items are:

- (1) The sale is subject to the rights of tenants and existing leases, which were examined and initialed by the purchaser (paragraph 7(d)).
- (2) Vacant space may be leased by the seller before the closing, existing leases may be extended or renewed, and the related expenses are allocated or apportioned between the seller and purchaser (paragraph 9).
- (3) Existing service contracts and leases are listed on separate schedules, and are to be assumed by the purchaser (paragraph 10).
- (4) Rents allocated to the seller, but unpaid for up to one month at the time of closing, are to be paid to the seller when received by the purchaser, less collection expenses (paragraph 11).
- (5) Electricity and water charges owed but unpaid by the tenants, similarly, are to be paid to the seller when received by the purchaser (paragraph 12).
- (6) Security deposited by tenants are to be transferred to the purchaser (paragraph 14).
- (7) Summary proceedings against defaulting tenants may be instituted by the seller (paragraph 15).

Nonrecourse financing and "subject to" existing debt

Under this agreement, the seller agrees to take back a purchase money note, secured by a deed of trust, as part of the purchase price. There is no personal liability imposed on the debtor-purchaser, and the seller cannot seek a deficiency judgment against the debtor-purchaser after any action against the property, i.e., nonrecourse financing (paragraph 6). To further protect the purchaser from personal liability, the financing package includes taking title "subject to" two existing deeds of trust. Taking title subject to existing financing is significantly different than assumption of that debt. Under an assumption of debt the purchaser most likely becomes personally liable for repayment of that debt. By taking title subject to the existing debt liens, without assumption of the debt, the nonrecourse character of the purchaser's obligations is retained. Generally, the purchaser risks loss of the property through a trustee's sale, foreclosure, or similar proceeding, but does not assume personal liability for amounts not satisfied out of the proceeds of sale of the property. Generally, amounts owed under nonrecourse financing arrangements are not "at risk." Loss deductions in the activity of holding real property are limited to the amount at risk. Under an exception, however, qualified nonrecourse financing, i.e., generally amounts borrowed from a financial institution, are considered as amounts at risk. A further limitation on loss deductions applies to passive activities. Any rental activity is a passive activity. For a discussion of the passive activity loss limitations and the at risk rules, see The Tax Background (TB) §§ 21.08 and 21.09 at the beginning of this chapter.

Ordinary income and capital gain on installment sales

If some or all of the sales price is paid after the year of sale, the installment method is applied automatically, unless the seller elects to report all gain currently. Any amounts recaptured as ordinary income due to prior deductions of accelerated cost recovery or accelerated depreciation are recognized and taxed in the year of sale, whether or not cash payments are received in the year of sale. After taking into account any recapture amounts, the gain in excess of the recapture amount is recognized proportionately each year installment payments are received. Under the installment method, the seller reports as income in any taxable year the proportion of the payments received during that year which the excess gross profit to be realized bears to the total contract price. Although the character of the gain is generally not changed by use of the installment method, under the imputed interest rules or the original issue discount rules more than the stated amount of interest may be treated as interest. However, for debt instruments not exceeding $2.8 million given for property, the discount rate cannot exceed 9 percent under these rules. If the seller is a dealer, installment sale tax treatment is not available, unless certain limited exceptions apply. For a further discussion of installment sale tax treatment see TB § 21.11.

Recapture of cost recovery

Different sets of recapture rules apply to real property, depending upon when the property was placed in service, and whether the capital cost of the property was recovered under the accelerated cost recovery method or rules of depreciation. Under the recapture rules for accelerated cost recovery, real property is categorized into two broad classes: nonresidential and residential. Generally, if the cost of nonresidential real property was recovered under the prescribed accelerated method, all gain attributable to the accelerated recovery method will be ordinary income to the extent of all recovery allowances previously taken. However, if the straight-line method is elected, all gain will be capital gain. For all residential real property, gain will be ordinary income only to the extent that the recovery allowed under the prescribed accelerated method exceeds the recovery that would have been allowed if the straight-line method over the cost recovery period had been used. Therefore, if the straight-line method is elected for residential real property, all gain will be capital gain. Residential rental property and nonresidential real property placed in service after 1986 are allowed only straight line recovery over 27.5 years and 39 years respectively, and therefore, are not subject to recapture. For a discussion of recapture of accelerated cost recovery and depreciation deductions, see TB § 21.07.

Information reporting of real estate transactions

The attorney or title company responsible for closing title is required to report real estate transactions to the IRS. In addition, a statement must be provided to the customer before January 31 of the year following the closing. If an attorney or title company is not involved in the closing, the information reporting is the responsibility of the mortgage lender. The information reporting requirements are discussed in TB § 21.02[4].

Disclosure of lead-based paint hazards

Federal law requires the seller of pre-1978 residential housing to disclose known information to the prospective purchaser on lead-based paint hazards. See 42 U.S.C. §§ 4851-4856; 40 C.F.R. Part 745 and 24 C.F.R. Part 35, Subpart A. The sales contract must include a lead warning statement and certain disclosure information. See discussion in comments to Form 21.15, supra. A sample lead-based paint sales contract rider, including both disclosure under the federal law and a lead-based paint contingency clause, is included in this chapter at Form 21.30, supra.

FORM

AGREEMENT made October 23, _____ [year], between Moosac Corporation, a Delaware corporation having its principal office at 100 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York ("Seller"), and James Davis, having an office at 100 Connecticut Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. ("Purchaser").

1. Sale. Seller shall sell and convey, and Purchaser shall purchase, all that certain plot, piece, or parcel of land, with the buildings and improvements thereon erected, situate, lying and being in the District of Columbia, generally known as 100 Harrison Street, N.W., Washington, D.C., (the "Premises"), and more particularly described as follows:

(Insert description)

2. Rights in streets. This sale includes all of Seller's right, title, and interest in and to any land lying in the bed of any street, road, or avenue opened or proposed, in front of or adjoining the premises, to the center line, in and to any award made or to be made in lieu thereof and in and to any unpaid award for damage to the premises by reason of change of grade of any street. Seller will execute and deliver to Purchaser, on closing of title, or thereafter, on demand, all proper instruments for the conveyance of such title and the assignment and collection of any such award.

3. Personal property. This sale includes all of Seller's right, title, and interest in and to the personal property which is appurtenant to or used in the operation of the premises. Seller's personal property covered by this sale shall be free and clear of all security interests and other encumbrances, except the lien, if any, of mortgages or deeds of trusts covering the premises.

4. Purchase price. The purchase price is $450,000, payable as follows:

(a) $20,000 on the signing of this contract, by check subject to collection, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged;

(b) $40,000 in cash or by a bank, cashier's, or Purchaser's certified check payable to Seller, drawn on a New York Clearing House bank on delivery of the deed;

(c) $146,480 by Purchaser taking title subject to a First Deed of Trust, now a lien on the premises in that approximate amount, bearing interest of 12 percent per annum, the principal being due and payable on August 23, _____ [year];

(d) $88,871 by Purchaser taking title subject to a Second Deed of Trust, now a lien on the premises in that approximate amount, bearing interest of 12 percent per annum, the principal being due and payable on March 23, _____ [year]; and

(e) $154,649 by Purchaser executing and delivering on the delivery of deed a 90-day promissory note payable to Seller in that amount, with interest of 12 percent per annum and a purchase money Deed of Trust covering the premises as security for the payment thereof, except that the amount of such note shall be increased by the payments made by Seller under the First and Second Deeds of Trust as provided in Section 5.

5. Increase of purchase price for mortgage payments. Purchaser shall repay Seller at the closing all payments of principal or amortization made by Seller under the First and Second Deeds of Trust from the date of this Agreement to and including the date of closing of title, including, without limitation, the following:

(a) Any regular payment of principal or amortization required to be made thereunder, including any portion thereof contained in a combined installment of interest and principal; and

(b) Any additional payment of principal or amortization required to be made under the Second Deed of Trust.

6. Nonrecourse purchase money note. The purchase money note referred to in Section 4(e), to be delivered by Purchaser to Seller at the closing of title, shall provide as follows:

(a) The amount shall be $154,649 plus the payments made by Seller under the First and Second Deeds of Trust as provided in Section 5.

(b) Interest shall be 12-percent per annum and be payable on the first day of each month for the preceding month (or any part thereof) until the total amount of the loan is paid in full.

(c) The entire principal, together with any accrued interest, shall be due and payable 90 days from date. The Deed of Trust in security of the note shall be subject, in form and substance, to the approval of Seller's counsel, and shall contain all provisions that Seller's counsel deems necessary or advisable to protect Seller's subordinate lien. The note and Deed of Trust shall not impose a personal liability on the maker and shall provide that in any action brought thereon no deficiency or other judgment will be sought or obtained against the maker.

7. Liens and encumbrances. The premises are sold and are to be conveyed subject to:

(a) All present and future state, local, and municipal regulations and ordinances relating to the premises.

(b) All encroachments of stoops, areas, cellar steps, trim, and cornices upon any street or highway.

(c) Any state of facts as shown on survey of Cady & Homer, Inc., dated _____ [date], redated _____ [date], and to any further state of facts which a continuation of such survey may disclose, if such further facts do not render title unmarketable.

(d) Rights of tenants under and subject to existing leases with such tenants, which have been exhibited to Purchaser, and examined and initialed by him. Purchaser approves the forms and terms of the leases, and all other new tenancies permitted in this contract. Purchaser assumes the obligations of the landlord under the leases after delivery of the deed, and shall hold Seller harmless from all claims in connection with the leases arising after delivery of the deed. This assumption and indemnity shall survive the closing of title.

(e) Purchaser has read, initialed, and approved the First and Second Deeds of Trust together with the note secured by the First Deed of Trust, the form of note secured by the Second Deed of Trust, and the Constitution and Bylaws of Capital Savings Association, the holder of the beneficial interest under the First Deed of Trust.

(f) Possible lack of right in Seller to maintain vaults or excavations under the sidewalk beyond the building line.

8. Other liens and encumbrances. The existence of other deeds of trust, mortgages, security interests, liens, or other encumbrances shall not be objections to title if properly executed instruments in recordable form necessary to satisfy them are delivered to Purchaser at the closing of title, together with recording and filing fees. The other deeds of trust, mortgages, security interests, liens, or other encumbrances may be paid out of the cash consideration paid by Purchaser. If request is made within a reasonable time before closing of title, Purchaser shall provide at closing separate certified checks aggregating the balance of the purchase price, to facilitate the satisfaction of any such lien or encumbrance.

9. New leases and vacant space. Seller may rent any present or future vacant space in the premises, and may extend or renew leases if their terms end no later than December 31, _____ [year], or any later date approved by Purchaser, but Purchaser shall not unreasonably withhold his approval. Any brokerage commission or painting expenses in connection with the new tenancies shall be for Purchaser's account, and Purchaser shall reimburse Seller for such expenses, but Purchaser's liability for brokerage commissions shall not exceed 10 percent of the annual rent. Purchaser shall reimburse Seller for all decorating expenses, repairs, or alterations in connection with any new tenancy. The reimbursement shall equal the cost incurred by Seller multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of days between the closing of title and the end of the term of such tenancy, and the denominator of which is the total number of days of the tenancy. Purchaser shall take title subject to any vacancies which may exist at closing, without reduction or abatement in price.

10. Schedules of leases and service contracts. Seller represents that attached Schedules A and B, respectively, are accurate schedules of all leases and tenancies (Schedule A) and all service contracts (Schedule B) affecting the premises as of the date of this Agreement, unless otherwise provided. Purchaser acknowledges that he has examined and initialed all the leases and contracts listed on the schedules. Purchaser shall assume at the closing Seller's obligations under the leases and contracts arising on and after the closing date and with respect to the items adjusted at the closing irrespective of the period covered. If there is any discrepancy between the information set forth on Schedules A and B and on the contents of any leases or contracts referred to in the schedules, the schedules shall be deemed amended to conform to the leases and contracts.

11. Rents allocated to Seller. If Seller is entitled at closing of title to all or part of any past rentals owed by tenants, not exceeding one month, Purchaser shall hold the first monies received from the tenants as trustee for Seller on account or in payment of such past due rentals, and shall immediately remit to Seller from such monies, less any amounts expended for collection, the amount due Seller. This provision shall survive delivery of the deed.

12. Tenants' unpaid electricity and water. If tenants in possession are required to pay for electricity and water, depending upon consumption, and if at closing of title any tenant owes Seller accrued but unpaid (or unread) charges for electricity and water, Purchaser shall use his best efforts to collect the unfixed or past due charges and shall remit the collected monies to Seller. This provision shall survive delivery of the deed.

13. Tenants' unpaid water meter charges and taxes. If the tenants in possession are required by their leases to pay for water meter charges or taxes and those charges or taxes are accrued but are not liens against the premises at the time of closing, Seller shall not be required to pay any portion of them. Purchaser shall take title subject to the unpaid charges and taxes and they shall not be deemed an objection to title.

14. Security under leases. Upon the closing of title, Seller shall turn over to Purchaser all securities deposited by tenants with Seller under the terms of leases for space occupied by tenants in the premises (to the extent that Seller has not applied the securities in accordance with leases with respective tenants). Purchaser shall simultaneously execute an agreement acknowledging receipt of the securities and agreeing to indemnify and hold Seller harmless from liability for the proper application or return of the securities to the respective tenants in accordance with the terms of their leases.

15. Summary proceedings against tenants. Seller may, at its expense, institute summary proceedings against any tenant of the premises based upon the tenant's default or failure to perform before title closing.

16. Premises purchased "as is." Seller has not made and does not make any representations as to the physical condition, layout, leases, footage, rents, income, expenses, operation, or any other matter or thing affecting or related to the premises and to this contract, except as herein specifically set forth, neither party relying upon any statement or representation made by the other not embodied in this contract. Purchaser acknowledges that no such representations have been made and agrees to take the premises "as is." Seller is not liable or bound in any manner by any verbal or written statements, representations, real estate broker's exhibitions, ads, or information pertaining to the premises or its operation, layout, expenses, condition, income, leases, or rents furnished by any real estate broker, agent, employee, servant, or other person, unless specifically set forth herein.

17. Representations by Seller. Seller makes the following representations and warranties:

(a) The First and Second Deeds of Trust are not in default and all payments required to be made thereunder, coming due before delivery of the deed, shall be paid.

(b) The rents shown on Schedule A, or as shown in the leases set forth in the attached schedule, have been actually collected except for arrears of certain tenants as set forth on Schedule D.

(c) The real estate taxes for the _____/[year]/[year] taxable year do not exceed $12,000.

(d) Attached Schedule C is an accurate payroll schedule for the period shown.

(e) Seller has not failed to comply with any written demands by mortgagees for performance of work by Seller.

(f) Attached Schedule E is a current insurance schedule affecting the premises, and Seller will keep such insurance (or comparable insurance) in effect until the closing.

(g) Seller has paid no more than $3,000 for fuel oil during the calendar year 1991.

(h) Seller has paid no more than $2,500 for electricity during the calendar year _____ [year].

(i) Seller has a Management Agreement with Stuart Graham, a copy of which Purchaser has examined and approved.

Purchaser shall assume Seller's obligations under the Management Agreement and hold Seller harmless under it.

18. Items to be apportioned. The following are to be apportioned as of the date of delivery of the deed:

(a) Rents as and when collected.

(b) Interest on Deeds of Trust.

(c) Premiums on existing transferable insurance policies or renewals of those expiring before closing.

(d) Real Estate taxes and sewer rents, if any, on the basis of the fiscal year for which assessed. If the closing of the title occurs before the tax rate is fixed, the apportionment of taxes shall be upon the basis of the tax rate for the next preceding year applied to the latest assessed valuation.

(e) Water charges. If there is a water meter or other meter on the premises, any unfixed meter charges and unfixed sewer rents shall be apportioned on the basis of the last reading.

(f) Purchaser shall pay Seller the cost of all building supplies such as soap, cleaning powder, electric bulbs, and the like, in unopened containers, at cost, and in accordance with an inventory to be made by the Managing Agent of the premises as of the date preceding the closing.

(g) The cost of the fuel in the premises on the date preceding closing of title. The written estimate of the dealer supplying the fuel on the premises at such time shall be accepted as conclusive by the parties.

(h) All contracts referred to herein.

(i) Wages of employees, any vacation pay, and all related payroll taxes.

19. Payment of outstanding items at closing. The amount of any unpaid taxes, assessments, water charges, and sewer rents which Seller is obligated to pay and discharge, with the interest and penalties, may at its option be allowed to Purchaser out of the balance of the purchase price, if Seller furnishes official bills with interest and penalties figured to such date at the closing. If at closing there are any other liens or encumbrances which Seller is obligated to pay and discharge, Seller may use any portion of the balance of the purchase price to satisfy them, if it has delivered to Purchaser at the closing title instruments in recordable form and sufficient to satisfy such liens and encumbrances of record, together with the cost of recording or filing such instruments. Purchaser shall provide at the closing separate certified checks as requested, aggregating the amount of the balance of the purchase price, to facilitate the satisfaction of all such liens or encumbrances. The existence of any such taxes or other liens and encumbrances shall not be deemed objections to title if Seller complies with the foregoing requirements.

20. Unpaid liens. Unpaid liens for taxes, water charges, and assessments shall not be objections to title, but shall be subject to the provisions for apportionment of taxes and water charges contained in this Agreement. Unpaid franchise tax of any corporation in the chain of title which is a lien against the premises shall be no objection to title if Seller at the closing of title deposits with its attorneys or the title company, in escrow, a reasonable amount to secure the payment of the unpaid franchise tax within 60 days from the date of closing of title, and if Purchaser's title company examining title insures against the collection of the franchise tax out of the premises.

21. Seller's deposits with mortgagees. If any mortgagee has moneys on hand deposited with it by Seller for taxes, insurance, etc., Purchaser shall, at the closing of title, pay to Seller an amount equal to the total of the deposits held on hand by the mortgagee, and thereupon Seller shall assign to Purchaser all of its right, title, and interest in and to the deposit.

22. Outstanding security interests. If on the date of closing there are financing statements which were filed more than five years before closing of title, these shall not be deemed to be an objection to title, if Seller executes and delivers to Purchaser an affidavit setting forth that the property covered by the financing statements is no longer in the premises; or if such property still is in the premises, that it has been fully paid for. Financing statements or other encumbrances, although filed against the premises but affecting a tenant or which are the obligation of any tenant, shall not be an objection to title.

23. Evidence as to outstanding mortgages. Receipts, or letters signed by the beneficial owners of the First and Second Deeds of Trust, their agents or attorneys, evidencing the payment of installments of principal or interest, or reciting the present status of the Deeds of Trust as to principal and interest shall be sufficient evidence of the reduction of principal and the payment of interest. If, however, Purchaser's title company does not insure that the liens of such Deeds of Trust are in their respective reduced amounts at the time of closing, the same shall be no objection to title if Seller represents at the closing the reduced amounts thereof. This representation shall survive the closing.

24. Judgments against persons with similar names. If a search of the title discloses judgments, bankruptcies, or other returns against persons having names the same as or similar to that of Seller, Seller will on request deliver to Purchaser an affidavit showing that the judgments, bankruptcies, or other returns are not against Seller.

25. Building violations. Seller shall comply with all notices or orders of violations of law or municipal ordinances issued to it by the Departments of Housing and Buildings, Fire, Labor, Health, or other district or municipal departments having jurisdiction against or affecting the premises at the date of this Agreement. However, if any issued building or other municipal department violations of record are pending against the premises at the date hereof which will cost $3,500 or more to remove, Seller shall not be obliged to remove them, but may elect to cancel this contract on the same terms as in the case of unmarketability of title, unless Purchaser accepts title subject to such violations without reduction of the purchase price, except to the extent of the actual cost of removing them, but in no event, to exceed $3,500. If Seller is required to remove the violations hereunder, such requirement shall not be an objection to the closing of title if Seller agrees in writing to remove them within 60 days after the closing of title and this covenant shall survive delivery of the deed. Purchaser shall accept title subject to violations noted after the date of this Agreement, without reimbursement or abatement. Radio and television antenna violations or violations which a tenant is required to comply with or remove pursuant to the terms of a lease or tenancy, or violations relating to a tenant's use or occupancy which are prohibited by the tenant's lease, shall not be an objection to title, and Purchaser shall take title subject thereto, notwithstanding any contrary provision contained herein.

26. Assessments. If upon delivery of the deed, all or any part of the premises is affected by an assessment or assessments which are or may become payable in annual installments, Purchaser shall take title subject to all unpaid installments becoming due and payable after delivery of the deed.

27. Destruction of premises. Neither party may cancel this contract if before closing all or any part of the premises is destroyed by fire, the elements, or any cause beyond either party's control. Seller shall assign to Purchaser all of its right to receive any insurance proceeds for such complete or partial destruction as well as to negotiate a settlement with the insurance carriers, it being understood that Purchaser shall assume the risk of any such destruction pursuant to the foregoing.

28. Eminent domain. If before the date for closing title all or any part of the premises is taken by eminent domain, either party may, by written notice to the other, elect to cancel this contract. If either party so elects, both parties shall be relieved and released of and from any further liability hereunder, and Seller shall forthwith repay Purchaser the amount paid upon the execution and delivery of this contract. Unless this contract is so cancelled, it shall remain in full force and effect, and Seller shall assign, transfer, and set over to Purchaser all Seller's right, title, and interest in and to any awards that may be made for such taking.

29. Liens for deposit money. All sums paid on account of this contract, and any reasonable expenses of examining title to the premises and of the survey made in connection therewith, are made liens on the premises, but such liens shall not continue after Purchaser's default under this contract.

30. Default by seller. If Seller is unable to convey title to the premises in accordance with the terms and provisions of this contract, Purchaser may either accept any title Seller is able to convey, without any claim by Purchaser for defects or objections, or rescind the contract. If Purchaser elects to rescind, he shall be entitled to a return of the amount paid upon the execution hereof (plus net title company charges if Purchaser has ordered title insurance, or the cost of an abstract of title if he has ordered an abstract of title), including any cost of redating of survey. Upon such repayment, this contract shall be null and void, and Seller shall not be obligated or liable to Purchaser for any damages resulting from Seller's failure to convey title.

31. Default by purchaser. If Purchaser defaults in the performance of its obligations hereunder, Seller may retain as liquidated damages all monies paid hereunder by Purchaser, neither party shall have any further liability hereunder to the other, and this contract shall thereupon be null and void.

32. Objections to title. Within 15 days before the date set for closing of title, Purchaser shall notify Seller's attorneys in writing of any objections to title that require Seller's compliance hereunder. Purchaser shall promptly order a title report for the premises from The Capital Title Company, Washington, D.C.

33. Form of deed. The deed shall be the usual Bargain and Sale Deed, with covenant against grantor's acts, in proper statutory form for record, and shall be duly executed and acknowledged so as to convey to Purchaser the fee simple title to the premises, free of all encumbrances, except as herein stated. Purchaser shall pay for recording fees to record the deed and any local taxes imposed, including, among others, the District of Columbia transfer tax. Seller shall pay for any charges or taxes incurred in respect of the Purchase Money Deed of Trust.

34. Date and place of closing. The deed shall be delivered upon receipt of the purchase price at the offices of The Capital Title Company, 100 H Street, Washington, D.C., at 11 a.m. on December 17, _____ [year], and all apportionments shall be as of December 15, _____ [year]. Seller, however, may adjourn the closing to January 3, _____ [year] by so notifying Purchaser on or before December 1, _____ [year], in which event all apportionments shall be as of January 3, _____ [year].

35. Survival of contract provisions. No provision of this contract survives delivery of the deed except as expressly provided. Acceptance of the deed shall be a satisfaction of all Seller's obligations except those expressly stated to survive delivery of the deed.

36. Brokerage. The only broker Purchaser has authorized to act on his behalf in respect of this transaction or the premises is James Robbins. Purchaser has not authorized any other broker to submit any offer on his behalf to Seller to purchase the premises. Purchaser shall indemnify and hold Seller harmless against any claim by any broker (other than James Robbins) that he was authorized on behalf of Purchaser to make an offer to Seller in respect of this transaction or the premises. The representations contained in this paragraph shall survive delivery of the deed.

37. Notices. All notices shall be in writing. All notices and payments required to be made before closing of title by Purchaser shall be sent by certified mail as follows:

To Seller:

c/o Salter & Richards, Esqs.

100 Park Avenue
New York, New York

All notices by Seller shall be in writing and sent by certified mail to Purchaser as follows:

To Purchaser:

c/o Louis Stone, Esq.
1000 Connecticut Avenue, N.W.
Washington, D.C.

38. Assignment. Purchaser may assign this contract without Seller's written consent if the assignee is a corporation, partnership, joint venture, or other entity owned or controlled by Purchaser, by members of his immediate family, or by both.

39. Entire agreement. This contract constitutes the entire agreement between the parties.

40. Construction. All terms and words used in this contract, regardless of the number and gender in which they are used, shall be deemed and construed to include any other number, singular or plural, and any other gender, masculine, feminine, or neuter, as the context or sense of this contract or any paragraph or clause may require, the same as if such words had been fully and properly written in the required number and gender.

41. Binding effect. This contract shall be binding on the parties hereto and their respective personal representatives, successors, and assigns.

42. Headings. Headings in this agreement are for convenience and reference only and shall not be used to interpret or construe its provisions.

43. Non-waiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise any right hereunder, and no partial or single exercise of any such right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

44. Governing law. This contract shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the District of Columbia.

45. Counterparts. This contract may be executed in two or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

46. Time of essence. Except as provided in Section 34, time is of the essence of this agreement.

The parties have executed these presents the day and year first above written.

Attest:

Secretary

Moosac Corporation

by _____
President

James Davis

[Acknowledgments]

69 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms

B. CONTRACTS OF SALE: RESIDENTIAL PROPERTY

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.36

FORM 21.36 Sale of apartment building subject to overall lease to third party--subject to existing mortgage--seller representations and warranties

COMMENT

This agreement is a contract for the sale of a multi-family apartment building which is subject to a long-term lease of the land and entire building to a third party. The purchaser, therefore, is acquiring a fee interest subject to the long-term lease, and will only receive fixed rental payments from the long-term lessee for the duration of this lease. All dealings with the tenants are the obligation of the long-term lessee, and the profits or losses from the actual operation of the apartment building, subject to the rent payment, belong to the long-term lessee.

Leasehold improvements and acquisition costs

The cost of leasehold improvements made by a lessee are recovered under rules applicable to other taxpayers. Therefore, the cost recovery of improvements made by a lessee to real property would generally be recoverable over 27.5 years in the case of residential rental property or 39 years in the case of nonresidential real property. The recovery period applicable under the cost recovery rules applies, regardless of the term of the lease. On termination of the lease, the lessee who does not retain the improvements computes gain or loss by reference to the adjusted basis of the improvements at that time. The amortization of lease acquisition costs, however, involves the term of the lease. In determining the amortization period, the term of the lease includes all renewal options as well as other periods for which the parties reasonably expect the lease to be renewed, if less than 75 percent of the acquisition cost is attributable to the period of the term remaining on the date of its acquisition. Not taken into account, however, are any periods for which the lease may subsequently be renewed, extended, or continued pursuant to an option exercisable by the lessee. For a discussion of cost recovery of leasehold improvements and acquisition costs, see The Tax Background (TB) § 21.06[2], at the beginning of this chapter.

Information reporting of real estate transactions

The attorney or title company responsible for closing title is required to report the real estate transactions to the IRS. In addition, a statement must be provided to the customer before January 31 of the year following the transaction. If an attorney or title company is not involved in the closing, the information reporting is the responsibility of the mortgage lender. The information reporting requirements are discussed in TB § 21.02[4].

Disclosure of lead-based paint hazards

Federal law requires the seller of pre-1978 residential housing to disclose known information to the prospective purchaser on lead-based paint hazards. See 42 U.S.C. §§ 4851-4856; 40 C.F.R. Part 745 and 24 C.F.R. Part 35, Subpart A. The sales contract must include a lead warning statement and certain disclosure information. See discussion in comments to Form 21.15, supra. A sample lead-based paint sales contract rider, including both disclosure under the federal law and a lead-based paint contingency clause, is included in this chapter at Form 21.30, supra.

FORM

AGREEMENT made November 28, _____ [year], by and between Samuel Gower and Harriet Gower, residing at 100 Center Street, Detroit, Michigan ("Sellers,") and James Allen, of New York, New York ("Purchaser").

Sellers agree to sell to Purchaser, and Purchaser agrees to purchase from Sellers, the real property described on Schedule A attached hereto and made a part hereof, commonly known as the Redwood Apartments, Dearborn, Michigan, together with all improvements, and the stoves, refrigerators, and other personal property owned by Sellers and now situated therein (the "Premises").

1. Purchase price. The purchase price for the premises shall be $600,000 over the unpaid principal balance of the first mortgage as of the time of closing. The purchase price is payable as follows:

(a) $30,000 by Purchaser's check made payable to the order of Harris Winslow, as Escrowee, to be held subject to the terms and conditions of this agreement.

(b) $570,000 in cash or by certified check or checks on closing of title.

2. Outstanding mortgage. Purchaser shall accept title subject to the then unpaid balance of the first mortgage, presently constituting a lien against the premises in the approximate unpaid principal balance, as of October 30, _____ [year], of $1,082,000. This mortgage is held by the Farm Insurance Company. Sellers represent that they have exhibited to Purchaser a true copy of the mortgage and the note secured by the mortgage, and that the mortgage and note have not been modified or amended. Sellers further represent that the mortgage is presently in full force and effect, that no default exists by the mortgagor, and that the foregoing state of facts shall be true as of the date of closing.

3. Closing subject to mortgage. Sellers shall, at the closing of title, deliver to Purchaser a closing letter from the holder of the mortgage setting forth the unpaid principal balance as of that date, the last date to which interest has been paid, the amount then held on deposit for real property taxes and insurance premiums, and whether to the mortgagee's knowledge any default then exists in the performance by the mortgagor of its obligations under the mortgage. Sellers shall make all regular payments of principal and interest due under the mortgage up to and including the date of closing. Purchaser shall accept title subject to the unpaid principal balance of the mortgage as so reduced at the time of closing, without any adjustment in the purchase price, but shall not be required to assume payment of the unpaid balance of the mortgage.

4. Technical default under mortgage. The parties acknowledge that the note secured by the first mortgage contains a provision granting to the mortgagee the option to accelerate the maturity date of the mortgage upon any termination of the corporate existence of the corporate mortgagor or upon any bankruptcy, insolvency, or similar act affecting the original corporate mortgagor. Sellers represent that the original corporate mortgagor has been dissolved and its corporate existence terminated. Sellers shall use their best efforts to secure from the present holder of the mortgage a waiver of the right to accelerate the maturity date of the mortgage by reason of any event described in this paragraph. If Sellers are unable to secure such a waiver in writing from the holder of the mortgage within 30 days from the date hereof, they shall give Purchaser written notice of such fact and Purchaser may either:

(a) Terminate this agreement, in which event the monies deposited by Purchaser shall be returned to him, the agreement shall be deemed terminated, and neither party shall have any further claims against the other; or

(b) Accept title subject to the above state of facts.

Purchaser shall make his election within 30 days after receiving Sellers' written notice that they cannot obtain a waiver by the mortgage holder. If Purchaser elects to accept title despite Sellers' failure to secure the waiver, Purchaser may adjourn the closing date for a period of up to 60 days in order to permit him to secure a new first mortgage to replace the existing first mortgage.

5. Outstanding lease. Sellers have exhibited to Purchaser a true copy of the Lease Agreement dated April 13, _____ [year], entered into by Sellers, as Lessors, and Redwood Ltd., a limited partnership, as Lessee, under which the entire premises have been leased to the Lessee for a term expiring June 30, 2009, at a net monthly rental of $14,000 payable in advance upon the first day of each month of the term. Sellers represent and warrant that the Lease is presently in full force and effect and unmodified, that neither party to the Lease is presently in default in the performance of the respective obligations thereunder, and that this state of facts will be true as of the closing date. Sellers shall deliver to Purchaser at the closing of title a letter from the Lessee certifying that the Lease is then in full force and effect, unmodified, and that the Lessor is not in default in performing any of its obligations thereunder.

6. Seller's other representations and warranties. Sellers make the following representations and warranties:

(a) Work notices. Sellers represent that no notices or requests have been received by them from any insurance company issuing any policy of insurance covering the premises, from the holder of the first mortgage, or from the Lessee, requesting full compliance in the performance of work on or in the premises. Sellers shall, at their expense, fully comply at or before the closing with all such work notices and requests received before then.

(b) Violations. The premises and their present use do not violate any provision of any applicable building code, fire regulation, or governmental ordinances, orders, or regulations. Sellers will convey title free of any such violations.

(c) Personal property. Each apartment in the premises contains a refrigerator and range owned by Sellers free and clear of all liens and encumbrances other than the possible lien of the first mortgage. All of such refrigerators and ranges are included in this sale.

(d) Taxes. The city and school taxes payable with respect to the premises for the fiscal year ending June 30, _____ [year], are $9,600, and the county taxes for the fiscal year ending November 30,

_____ [year], are $7,200.

(e) Contracts. There are no existing maintenance or other contracts affecting the premises, other than the Lease.

(f) Insurance. Attached Schedule B is a true and accurate schedule of all insurance carried by Sellers with respect to the premises. The total annual premiums for such insurance is $4,200.

(g) Utilities. The parcels described on Schedule A are contiguous, and all public utilities required for the operation of the premises either enter the premises through adjoining public streets, or if they pass through adjoining private lands do so in accordance with valid easements.

(h) Encroachments access. The buildings upon the premises are entirely within the boundary lines of the lands described in Schedule A; there are no encroachments; and there is access from each building to a legally opened public street or highway over lands included in this sale or pursuant to irrevocable easements running to the benefit of the owner of the premises. Sellers shall deliver to Purchaser at the closing a completion survey covering all of the premises.

(i) Survival of representations and warranties. All representations, warranties, and agreements made by Sellers herein shall be binding upon Sellers jointly and severally and shall survive the closing.

7. Prorations. The following items shall be prorated between the parties as of the closing date: prepaid rents, and interest on the first mortgage. Sellers shall at the closing assign to Purchaser without further proration all sums then held as advance real property tax deposits and insurance premium deposits held by the holder of the first mortgage.

8. Casualty. Purchaser may cancel this agreement, by giving written notice to Sellers, if before delivery of the deed (a) any improvement on the premises is damaged or destroyed by fire or other casualty, the estimated cost of repair and restoration exceeds $30,000, and (b) the repair or restoration is not completed by the closing date (for which purpose Sellers shall be entitled to a reasonable adjournment of the closing of up to 60 days). Upon cancellation, all monies deposited by Purchaser shall be returned to him and neither party shall have any further claim against the other. If Purchaser does not exercise the option to cancel, he shall accept title to the premises in its damaged condition, and Seller shall turn over to Purchaser all insurance proceeds payable because of the casualty. Any damage from fire or other casualty shall be repaired by Sellers if the cost of repairs is less than $30,000. Sellers shall complete the repairs before the closing date, but shall be entitled to a reasonable adjournment of the closing of up to 60 days.

9. Sellers' inability to convey good title. If Sellers are unable, after due diligence, to convey title in accordance with this agreement and Purchaser is unwilling to accept such title as Sellers are able to convey, Sellers' sole liability to Purchaser shall be to return to him the monies deposited plus the net cost of title examination. In that event, this agreement shall be canceled and neither party shall have any further claim against the other.

10. Default by purchaser. If Purchaser defaults in performing his obligations hereunder, Sellers may retain the monies deposited by Purchaser as and for liquidated damages, it being agreed that actual damages would be difficult or impossible to ascertain. Liquidated damages shall be Sellers' sole remedy, and Sellers expressly waive the remedy of specific performance.

11. Deed; title policy; assignment of lease. Sellers shall convey title on the closing date by general warranty deed duly executed and acknowledged. The deed shall convey to Purchaser a good, marketable, and insurable fee simple title to the premises. Sellers shall provide Purchaser at the closing with an Owners Fee Title Insurance Policy in the amount of $1.67 million, issued by the Central Title Insurance Co. or any other comparable title insurance company selected by Purchaser. Sellers shall assign to Purchaser at the closing, in form for recording, all of the landlord's interest in the Lease.

12. Closing. The closing of title shall be held at 11 a.m., on February 12, _____ [year], at the office of Monroe Davis, Esq., 1700 Skyway Building, Detroit, Michigan.

13. Broker. The Smith Management Co. was the broker who brought about this transaction, and Sellers shall pay the broker a commission pursuant to separate agreement when this transaction closes.

14. Notices. Any notice required under this agreement shall be given by certified mail to Sellers in care of Monroe Davis, Esq., 1700 Skyway Building, Detroit, Michigan, and to Purchaser at 100 Park Avenue, New York, New York.

15. Escrow. Harris Winslow by the execution of this agreement as Escrow Agent agrees to hold the proceeds from the check deposited by Purchaser upon the execution of this agreement in escrow, and to dispose of the proceeds by return to Purchaser if Purchaser becomes entitled to the proceeds in accordance with this agreement, or by turning over the proceeds to Sellers upon the closing of title or a default by Purchaser.

16. Assignment by purchaser. Purchaser may assign his interest under this agreement. If Purchaser makes such an assignment and the assignee assumes all of Purchaser's obligations under the agreement, he shall thereupon be relieved of all liability hereunder.

17. Binding effect. This agreement shall be binding on the parties and their respective heirs, personal representatives, and assigns.

18. Entire agreement. All prior understandings and agreements between the parties are merged in this contract, which constitutes the entire agreement between the parties. This contract is entered into after full investigation made by Seller, and neither party relies upon any statement or representation made by anyone unless contained herein.

19. Headings. Headings in this agreement are for convenience and reference only and shall not be used to interpret or construe its provisions.

20. Non-waiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise any right hereunder, and no partial or single exercise of any such right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

21. Governing law. This contract shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of Michigan.

22. Counterparts. This agreement may be executed in two or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

23. Time of essence. Time is of the essence of this agreement.

The parties have executed this agreement at Detroit, Michigan, on the day above first written.

Samuel Gower, Seller

Harriet Gower, Seller

James Allen, Purchaser

Harris Winslow, Escrow Agent

70 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms

C. CONTRACTS OF SALE: COMMERCIAL PROPERTY

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.37

FORM 21.37 Sale of office building--assumption of leases and other contracts by buyer--transaction closed in escrow

COMMENT

This is a contract for sale of an office building. After the initial contract deposit, the buyer is required to pay the balance of the purchase price in cash at the closing. The purchaser has examined the leases, service contracts, and other documents prior to signing of the contract, and agrees to assume each of them listed in an exhibit to the contract. Prior to execution of the contract, the buyer has inspected the property not just to ascertain its physical condition, but also to verify compliance with the Americans With Disabilities Act of 1990 ("ADA") and its Accessibility Guidelines ("ADAAG"), and all regulations or amendments promulgated thereunder. The buyer also has inspected the property to make sure it is in compliance with all environmental laws, rules and regulations, federal, state and local. In the absence of inspections, or in addition thereto, the buyer should attempt to obtain warranties from the seller that to its knowledge, it is in compliance with such laws.

The buyer agrees to indemnify the seller against matters arising after the closing, and the seller indemnifies the buyer against matters arising prior to the closing. The contract specifies the documents to be delivered at the escrow closing and the closing adjustments. The seller must maintain and operate the property until title is transferred.

FORM

AGREEMENT made in Los Angeles, California, by and between the Camelot Building Corporation, a California corporation ("Seller") and James Warren ("Buyer").

1. Purchase and sale. Buyer agrees to buy, and Seller agrees to sell, the property more particularly described in Schedule A attached (the "property"), together with all items of personal property owned by Seller and located in or used in connection with the operation of the subject property.

2. Purchase price. The purchase price for the property shall be $2 million.

3. Terms of payment. The purchase price shall be paid as follows:

(a) $200,000 to be paid to Seller upon the execution of this agreement.

(b) $1.8 million to be deposited in the escrow referred to in paragraph 5, before the closing.

4. Inspection of documents and premises and assumption of obligations

(a) Buyer acknowledges that, prior to the execution of this agreement, he has inspected each of the instruments listed on attached Exhibit B. Seller warrants that Exhibit B is a complete list of all leases and contracts under which it has any obligation or benefit. Buyer approves each of the instruments on Exhibit B. Seller represents that no tenant is entitled to any rebate, concession, or other benefit except as set forth in the leases referred to in Exhibit B, and that the rentals due or to become due under such leases and other tenancies will not be assigned, encumbered, or subject to liens at the close of the escrow. Buyer expressly accepts, assumes, and agrees to all of Seller's terms, provisions, covenants and conditions contained in each such instrument. Buyer shall also indemnify, defend and hold Seller harmless from any claim, demand, or cause of action asserted against Seller arising from a breach, violation, or failure to perform any provision of any such instrument that allegedly occurred after the closing date of the escrow. Seller shall indemnify, defend and hold Buyer harmless from any claim, demand, or cause of action asserted against Buyer arising from a breach, violation, or failure to perform any provision of any such instrument that allegedly occurred before the closing date of the escrow.

(b) Buyer has inspected a preliminary report of title issued by the Title Insurance Company of Los Angeles, California, dated July 2, _____ [year], bearing Order Number 50132, as to the status of the fee title of the property. This report is annexed and marked Exhibit C. If the extended coverage policy of title insurance fails to show any exception not shown in the preliminary report, and exceptions 4 through 10 of the report, Buyer expressly approves the report of title and agrees to accept title subject to exceptions 1, 2, and 3 of the report.

(c) Buyer has examined Seller's books and records, and is relying on such examination and not upon any representations made by Seller or its agents concerning the income or expense of the property. Seller warrants and represents that the books and records furnished to Buyer are kept and maintained by Seller in its ordinary and normal course of business and used by it in computing its federal income tax returns.

(d) Buyer has inspected the property during January _____ [year] with respect to the physical condition of the structure, its compliance with the Americans With Disabilities Act of 1990 and its Accessibility Guidelines, and all regulations thereunder, and its compliance with all environmental laws, federal, state, and local, and agrees to accept it at the close of escrow in the same condition as it was at the time of inspection, reasonable wear and tear excepted.

5. Escrow

(a) Within ten days after the execution hereof, the parties shall cause an escrow ("escrow") to be opened at the Title Insurance Company of Los Angeles, California, at its main office, 500 South Water Street, Los Angeles, for the purpose of carrying out the provisions hereof.

(b) Each party shall execute escrow instructions and all other necessary instruments to consummate the transaction and effectively convey and assign the property from Seller to Buyer. Each party shall also deposit into escrow all sums and documents required from time to time by the escrow instructions.

(c) Seller shall deposit the following documents into escrow on or before the escrow closing date:

(1) The original, or duplicate original, of each instrument listed in Exhibit B.

(2) All documents and data necessary to determine the prorations to be made, as set forth in paragraph 6.

(3) A grant deed to the property, duly executed and acknowledged and in sufficient recordable form to convey the required fee title.

(d) If for any reason Seller is unable to convey and assign all or any part of the property in accordance with the terms hereof, Buyer may purchase all rights, title, and interest Seller is able to convey and assign, without abatement of any part of the purchase price. Nothing in this subparagraph, however, shall relieve Seller of any of its obligations under this agreement.

(e) On the close of the escrow, Seller shall furnish, at its expense, a policy of title insurance issued by the Title Insurance Company of Los Angeles, California, in its extended coverage form, in the amount of $2 million, insuring Buyer's title to the property, subject only to exceptions 1, 2, and 3, as they appear on Exhibit C, as provided in subparagraph 4(b).

(f) Each party will pay the portion of the escrow costs and charges which are normally charged to it, respectively, under existing escrow practices in the City of Los Angeles, California. Seller will pay the cost of the title policy to be furnished by it.

(g) The closing date of the escrow shall be on or before July 1, _____ [year]. Buyer shall designate the closing date, by giving the Title Insurance Company, as escrow holder, and Seller, written notice at least ten days before the designated date. Time is of the essence with regard to the closing date. If the escrow fails to close on or before the above date for any reason other than Seller's default, this agreement shall terminate.

(h) At the close of the escrow, Seller will deliver to Buyer all documents, correspondence, lease files, and related records pertaining to the leases and contracts listed on Exhibit B.

(i) Seller shall pay a real estate broker's commission of $35,000 to Harrison & Co., Inc., 100 State Street, Los Angeles, California, from the proceeds of the escrow, when the escrow is closed.

(j) The escrow instructions are not intended to supersede this agreement, but are deemed merely to be supplemental hereto and a means of carrying out and consummating the provisions hereof.

6. Prorations. The following items shall be prorated as of the close of the escrow:

(a) Rents, other than delinquent rents under the leases and tenancies listed on Exhibit B. If any lease set forth in Exhibit B provides for a minimum basic rent, plus an additional rent to be computed on the basis of a stated percentage of the tenant's monthly or annual revenue or volume of business, then for the purpose of prorating such additional rents, it shall be assumed that the revenue for each month or each year for which additional rent is to be computed is the same as the revenue for the last calendar month or last calendar year, as the case may be, immediately before the close of escrow. Delinquent rents are rents which are not paid within ten days after they are due. Delinquent rents shall not be prorated and shall remain the property of Seller, except that Buyer shall be entitled to receive and retain all rents allocable to the period after the close of escrow.

(b) All security deposits and lease considerations then held by Seller shall be credited to Buyer as of the closing date. Seller shall, on the close of escrow, represent and warrant that such security deposits or lease considerations are the only ones in its possession.

(c) Garage parking and service income.

(d) City and county real and personal property taxes.

(e) Salaries of employees (not including management employees). Attached Exhibit D is a list of the names of such employees, their positions and salaries.

(f) Union welfare and pension fund contributions, social security payments, Christmas bonus payments (based on a calendar year on the amounts paid in _____ [year]), and vacation payments accruing since the last previous vacation of the employees shown on Exhibit D or of employees replacing them.

(g) Exhibit E is a list of insurance policies showing the name of the insuring company, the policy number, the term and expiration date of the policy, the premium charged, and the general nature and the type of policy. Premiums on such policies shall be prorated. Seller shall maintain such policies in full force and effect until close of escrow.

(h) Charges under the service contracts listed on Exhibit B. The net balance of the foregoing prorations, if in favor of Seller, shall be added to the cash required to be paid by Buyer, before the close of escrow; or, if in favor of Buyer, shall be deducted from such cash required. No prorations will be made of public utilities but, in lieu thereof, Seller will cause the respective utility companies to read the gas, water, electric, and power meters on the morning of the close of escrow, and will pay such invoices when rendered. Seller will also pay any telephone charges allocable to the period before the close of escrow.

7. Possession and use of building name. Possession of the property shall be delivered to Buyer upon conveyance of title and the close of escrow. Seller will assign to Buyer its right to use the name "Camelot Building."

8. Conduct of business during escrow

(a) Seller shall continue to maintain, repair, manage, and operate the property in the same manner as it is now conducted, reasonable wear and tear excepted, and shall perform all obligations under the leases and contracts referred to in Exhibit B until the close of escrow and the delivery of possession of the property to Buyer. Except as provided in subparagraph (b) of this paragraph, Buyer shall have no rights with respect to the management, operation, or conduct of the property until the close of escrow.

(b) Seller shall submit to Buyer, for his approval, after the execution hereof, any contract or lease relating to the property which Seller contemplates executing. Seller shall not execute any such contract or lease until it is first approved in writing by Buyer. Seller, however, shall not be required to execute a contract or lease because it has been submitted to Buyer for approval and approved by him. Buyer will not unreasonably withhold approval of any contracts or leases submitted to him for approval by Seller. Seller shall not modify, extend, renew, cancel, or surrender any of the existing leases or contracts in Exhibit B without Buyer's written consent in each instance.

(c) If Buyer approves any such contract or lease, in writing, and it is subsequently executed by Seller, an executed copy of the contract or lease shall be deposited by Seller into the escrow.

(d) As of the closing date Buyer shall accept and assume all of the terms, provisions, covenants and conditions which Seller is required to observe, perform and keep in each contract or lease that Buyer approves under subparagraph (c) of this paragraph, and which is executed by Seller. Buyer shall indemnify and hold Seller harmless from and against any claim, demand, or cause of action asserted against Seller arising from a breach, violation, or failure to perform any provision of any such contract or lease that allegedly occurs after the closing date of the escrow. Seller shall hold Buyer harmless from any claim, demand, or cause of action asserted against him arising from any breach, violation, or failure to perform any provision of any such contract or lease that allegedly occurs before the closing date of the escrow.

9. Passage of title. Until the closing of escrow, the parties do not intend that title to the property pass from Seller to Buyer, that title to the funds to be deposited in escrow hereunder pass from Buyer to Seller, or that this agreement be deemed consummated. Seller's warranties, covenants, and representations contained in paragraphs 4(a) and (c), in paragraph 6(a), in the last two sentences of paragraph 6, and in paragraphs 8(a) and (d), shall survive the closing of escrow.

10. Fire, earthquake, or other casualty. If, at any time before the close of escrow, the property is destroyed or damaged by fire, earthquake, or other casualty, and the damage cannot be repaired for less than $100,000, Buyer may terminate this agreement and be released from all obligations hereunder. If Buyer elects to terminate, he shall be entitled to the return of all monies paid hereunder and deposited in escrow. If Buyer does not elect to terminate, Seller shall assign to him any insurance proceeds paid on account of the casualty, or any claims under the insurance policies, and if such insurance payment is subject to a deductible under Seller's policy, the amount of such deductible shall be credited against the purchase price. In that event, Buyer shall complete the purchase of the property and accept the same in its damaged condition. If, at any time before the close of escrow, the property is damaged by fire, earthquake, or other casualty and the damage can be repaired for less than $100,000, Seller shall repair the damage at its expense but may retain the insurance proceeds.

11. Default. The $200,000 that Buyer is to pay Seller upon the execution hereof shall become Seller's property immediately upon payment. Seller shall apply the $200,000 toward payment of the purchase price of the property upon the close of escrow. Buyer acknowledges that he has no right to the return any portion of the $200,000, unless either Seller defaults or Buyer becomes entitled to the return of the money under the provisions of paragraph 10. If Buyer shall be in default of its obligations hereunder, Seller's sole remedy shall be to retain the foregoing sum of $200,000 as liquidated damages. Seller and Buyer agree that said sum represents their best estimate of what the actual damages would be to Seller, which damages would be difficult to ascertain.

12. Assignment. Buyer may assign this agreement and it shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the legal representatives, successors and assigns of both parties.

13. Entire agreement; modification. This contract constitutes the entire agreement between the parties. It may not be modified except by an instrument signed by the party against whom the enforcement of such modification is sought.

14. Nonwaiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise or enforce any right hereunder, and no partial or single exercise of any such right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

15. Headings. Headings in this agreement are for convenience only and shall not be used to interpret or construe its provisions.

16. Governing law. This agreement shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of California.

17. Counterparts. This agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

18. Time of essence. Time is of the essence of this agreement.

19. Notices. All notices hereunder to Seller shall be given by certified mail, addressed to:

Camelot Building Corporation
100 Wilshire Boulevard
Los Angeles, California

All notices to Buyer under this agreement shall be given by certified mail, addressed to:

James Warren
200 State Street
Denver, Colorado

The parties have executed this agreement January 15, _____ [year], in the City of and County of Los Angeles, State of California.

Attest

Secretary

Camelot Building Corporation

by _____ President, Seller

James Warren, Buyer

71 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms

C. CONTRACTS OF SALE: COMMERCIAL PROPERTY

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.38

FORM 21.38 Sale of office building and theatre--operating income guaranteed by seller's escrow deposit--seller to obtain purchaser's mortgages

COMMENT

The purchaser under this contract requires the seller to obtain a new mortgage, in a specified amount and upon certain terms, on each of the two parcels involved in the transaction. The amount of these mortgages will be included in the tax basis of the properties to the purchaser.

Guaranty of operating profits

The unique feature of this agreement is the seller's guaranty to the purchaser of a minimum net profit from the operation of the properties for a ten-year period. A specific fund is deposited by the seller into escrow. Payments are made to the purchaser from this fund to the extent that the net operating profit is less than the guaranteed minimum in any year. Notwithstanding the possibility that payments may have to be made to the purchaser in the future, the seller in reporting his gain or loss in the year of sale must include within the amounts realized the money paid into the escrow fund. To the extent that amounts are paid from this fund to the purchaser in later years, the seller will have deductible losses with the same character as the gain or loss recognized in the year of sale. Thus, if capital gain is recognized in the year of sale, payments in later years will be capital losses.

Title defect provision

The seller agrees to convey marketable title subject only to specified encumbrances. Title defects are liens or encumbrances against the title which are not included within the specific exceptions. An interesting aspect of this contract's title provision is that the seller agrees to take prompt legal action to remedy title defects for which legal action would be effective. Although this is not a common provision, it may be of more benefit to the buyer to have the encumbrance removed by legal action than to hold an escrow to remedy the defect in the future.

Compliance with laws

The purchaser in this contract was able to obtain certain representations from the seller that the property is in compliance with certain laws relevant to and affecting office buildings, namely the Americans With Disabilities Act of 1990 and its Accessibility Guidelines, and with all environmental laws, federal, state, and local. There is also a warranty that there is no asbestos in the buildings. In the absence of warranties, or in addition thereto, the purchaser should do its own due diligence with respect to such matters.

FORM

AGREEMENT made August 20, _____ [year], between Capital Realty Corporation, a Delaware corporation ("Seller"), and Karl Kramer ("Purchaser").

1. Sale. Seller agrees to sell, and Purchaser agrees to buy, the real property situated in the District of Columbia consisting of two parcels of land with improvements thereon, one improved by the Talbert Building, and the other by the Talbert Theatre Building. The parcels of land are more particularly described in the annexed Schedule A. The sale includes all of the furniture, fixtures, machinery, and equipment located in and upon the two buildings, and used in connection with their operation and maintenance. A detailed inventory of the personal property situated in the Talbert Theatre Building and comprising a part of the within sale is set forth in the annexed Schedule B.

2. Purchase price. The total purchase price for the property is $3.2 million, computed in accordance with the breakdown contained in Schedule C attached. The purchase price is payable as follows:

(a) $100,000 upon the signing of this agreement, by check subject to collection, and deposited with the District Title Insurance Company, 1000 Eye Street, N.W., Washington, D.C., to be held in escrow until the date of settlement of this contract or until other disposition is made as provided for herein. If this sale is consummated the escrow holder shall deliver the proceeds of the $100,000 check to Purchaser to be applied on account of the purchase price.

(b) $1 million by cashier's or certified check to the order of Seller on the date for closing of title. However, if Purchaser elects to adjourn the closing date in accordance with the provisions hereof, the $1 million payment shall be reduced by the additional payment or payments made by Purchaser on account of the purchase price when he gave notice or notices of such election.

(c) $1.4 million out of the proceeds of the new mortgage financing of the Talbert Building, the financing to be procured by Seller.

(d) $700,000 out of the proceeds of the new mortgage financing of the Talbert Theatre Building, the financing to be procured by Seller.

3. Additions to purchase price. An amount equal to the total of the following items, adjusted as of the closing date, shall be added to the purchase price in paragraph 2:

(a) Prepaid insurance premiums on the policies of insurance enumerated in Schedule D annexed. Seller represents that all the listed insurance policies are transferable and at the date of the closing will be in full force and effect without modification. If any policies expire before the closing date, renewals shall be made only with Purchaser's written consent.

(b) Prepaid real estate taxes apportioned on the basis of the real estate tax year.

(c) Prepaid water and sewer rents.

(d) The value, at Seller's expense, of all fuel on hand, and janitor and custodial supplies to the extent of unopened packages containing such supplies.

4. Reductions in purchase price. An amount equal to the total of the following items, adjusted as of the closing date, shall be deducted from the purchase price in paragraph 2:

(a) Unpaid insurance premiums on the policies of insurance enumerated on Schedule D annexed.

(b) Accrued and unpaid real estate taxes, apportioned on the basis of the real estate tax year.

(c) Charges to be accrued for electricity, water, sewer, gas, and other utilities.

(d) Rents received in advance for any period after the date of closing.

(e) All unpaid water, frontage, and sewer taxes, impositions, and charges.

(f) Security rent deposits and any other deposits made or given by any tenant of the properties.

(g) Employees' salaries, wages and vacation pay, welfare funds and union dues if any, federal income tax on employees' wages withheld at the source, federal and District of Columbia payroll and social security taxes, all apportioned on the basis of time and adjusted as of the closing date.

5. Seller's representations and warranties. Seller represents and warrants to Purchaser as follows:

(a) It is the owner in fee simple of all of the real property and owner of the personal property described in Schedules A and B, free from all liens and encumbrances other than the rights of tenants in possession under the leases and rental agreements.

(b) Such real and personal property is subject to certain leases and rental agreements listed in the attached Schedule E, which sets forth the name of each tenant and the space occupied by him, the expiration date of each lease, all allowances and concessions to tenants, the rate of rental actually and currently collected from such tenants, and the new rental rates as they will be placed into effect on or before the closing date.

(c) At the time of closing the rentals of the Talbert Building alone will aggregate $400,000 per year, and the rentals of the Talbert Theatre Building will aggregate $100,000 per year.

(d) Only those tenants indicated in the annexed Schedule E as "lease tenants" have written leases; and no written or oral agreements, except those leases, have been entered into with any tenants, relating to or connected with their occupancy of such real property.

(e) All work to be done, and all equipment to be furnished by the Landlord under such leases or agreements have been done or furnished.

(f) There are no deposits by any tenant of such real property either as security for or prepayment of rent, except as set forth in the annexed Schedule E.

(g) No condemnation of any of the real property described in Schedule A has occurred for which damages are unpaid, and there is no existing notice covering future condemnation.

(h) Seller has not violated any provision of the insurance policies to be transferred to Purchaser at the date of closing.

(i) To Seller's knowledge the property is in compliance with the Americans With Disabilities Act of 1990 and its Accessibility Guidelines, and all regulations promulgated thereunder.

(j) To Seller's knowledge, the property is in full compliance with all environmental laws, federal, state, and local.

(k) The property is free from asbestos and any asbestos containing materials.

6. Conditions to purchase. Purchaser's obligation to consummate this transaction is subject to and conditioned upon the following:

(a) That at the closing of this contract the title to all of the improved real property and the personal property described in Schedules A and B will be good of record and fully marketable, free of all liens and encumbrances excepting only the rights of the lessees and tenants in possession as set out in Schedule E, and that the state of such title will be such that either the District Title Insurance Company, the Lawyers Title Corporation, or the Columbia Title Insurance Company will insure at normal and usual rates. If, upon examination, the title to such real and personal property is found defective and not as herein represented, Purchaser may terminate this contract unless the defects may be readily remedied by prompt legal action. If Purchaser terminates, all deposits shall be returned to him, together with all of his reasonable costs in connection with examining title and obtaining any surveys. Seller is released from all liability for damages by reason of any defect in the title. Seller will do no act nor permit anything to be done between the date hereof and the date of closing that will affect the state of the title to such property. If legal action is necessary to perfect the title, Seller shall take such action promptly at its expense, whereupon the time for full settlement by Purchaser will be extended for the period necessary for such prompt action. If Seller does not remedy such defects in title within 20 days following the date fixed as the date of the original closing, Purchaser may terminate this contract by giving 15-days' written notice to Seller of his intention to do so, after which period this contract shall terminate and all deposits shall be returned to Purchaser, together with the reasonable costs incurred by him in connection with the examination of title and obtaining any surveys.

(b) That Seller shall comply with all notes or notices of violations of law or municipal ordinances, orders, or requirements noted in or issued by any federal or municipal department or other department of the District of Columbia having jurisdiction over or affecting the real property described in Schedule A, at the date of closing, and that there shall be no violations imposed by any public authorities outstanding against such real property at the time of the closing.

(c) That, at the time of closing, all of the real property described in Schedule A and all furniture, fixtures, machinery, and equipment located thereon and used in connection therewith will conform with all applicable municipal or other local laws, including zoning ordinances, health codes, building codes, fire ordinances, and the like, and there will be no outstanding notices or orders not complied with affecting the use or occupation of any part of such property or requiring any repairs, alterations, or improvements.

7. Condemnation and casualty. Purchaser may terminate this agreement, by giving Seller ten-days' written notice, if before the closing date the real property described in Schedule A is condemned in whole or in part, or it is wholly or partly damaged by fire or other casualty and the cost of repair is $100,000 or more. Upon termination, Seller shall return to Purchaser the deposit and other monies paid on account of the purchase price, plus Purchaser's reasonable costs in connection with examining title and obtaining surveys. Upon such payment, both parties shall be released and discharged from all further obligations to each other, and this agreement shall become null and void. If Purchaser does not terminate, this agreement shall be performed, but the purchase price shall be adjusted in Purchaser's favor by the amount realized by Seller from the proceeds of fire or other casualty insurance or condemnation plus the amount of any deductible under Seller's insurance policy applicable to such insurance payment, and Seller shall not be responsible for restoring or repairing the property.

If the property is damaged by fire or other casualty and the cost of repair is less than $100,000, Seller shall promptly repair and restore the property at its expense, and the closing date hereunder shall be extended for the reasonable period required to make such repairs and restoration.

8. Cost of title search and related expenses. Purchaser shall pay the cost of title examination, tax certificates, conveyances, notary fees, and all recording charges. If upon examination, however, title to the property is found defective and is not remedied by Seller within the period provided for herein, and if Purchaser declares this agreement terminated as a result, Seller shall return all deposits and reimburse Purchaser for his reasonable cost in connection with examining title and obtaining surveys.

9. Placing of new mortgage. In order to induce Purchaser to enter into this agreement and to purchase the property, Seller at its expense shall:

(a) Obtain for Purchaser a mortgage loan of $1.4 million, the loan to be secured by a first Deed of Trust on the property, known as the Talbert Building, and to be closed contemporaneously with the closing of this agreement. The mortgage loan shall be made and advanced by an institutional lender, be for a period of not less than 15 years, bear interest of not more than 12 percent per annum, have a combined total of interest and principal amortization of not more than 14.5 percent per annum of the face amount, and provide for constant monthly payments of interest and principal amortization of not more than $16,100, to be applied first to interest on outstanding balances of principal and then to principal. The first Deed of Trust and note secured by it shall be drawn in the completed form attached as Schedule F.

(b) Obtain for Purchaser a mortgage loan of $700,000, the loan to be secured by a first Deed of Trust on the property known as the Talbert Theatre Building, and to be closed contemporaneously with the closing of this contract. The mortgage loan shall be made by an institutional lender, be for a period of not less than 15 years, bear interest of not more than 12 percent per annum, have a combined total of interest and principal amortization of not more than 14.5 percent per annum of the face amount, and provide for constant monthly payments of interest and principal amortization of not more than $8,402, to be applied first to interest on outstanding balances of principal and then to principal. The first Deed of Trust and note secured thereby shall be in the form attached as Exhibit G.

10. Operation of property. Between the date hereof and the closing date:

(a) Seller shall not modify or terminate any lease identified in annexed Schedule E except by reason of a tenant's default or with the prior written consent of Purchaser or his designated representative.

(b) Seller shall not enter into any new lease or tenancy without the prior written consent of Purchaser or his designated representative, except as provided in Schedule E.

(c) Seller shall not increase the salary of any building employee without the prior written approval of Purchaser or his designated representative. Seller warrants and represents that the annexed Schedule H is a true and complete list of all persons presently employed in the operation and maintenance of the buildings, together with the amount of wages and salaries actually paid to them and overtime and vacation time allowed them.

(d) Seller shall make all repairs and replacements to the real and personal property at its expense. Seller shall maintain the buildings and personal property in their existing condition, reasonable wear and tear excepted.

11. Survival of warranties and representations. All of Seller's warranties, representations, and agreements shall be and remain true at the time of closing, and shall survive the closing and the conveyance of the property to Purchaser.

12. Misrepresentation by seller. If Purchaser has relied to his detriment on any substantial misrepresentation made hereunder by Seller, Purchaser may terminate this agreement by giving Seller written notice thereof. Upon termination, Seller shall return to Purchaser all monies paid hereunder, together with Purchaser's reasonable expenses in connection with examining title and obtaining surveys. Purchaser may exercise all other rights and remedies against Seller that are available to Purchaser. However, if Purchaser decides not to terminate and the effect of any misrepresentation may be remedied by an adjustment of the purchase price, Purchaser may close this transaction and accept delivery of the property upon payment of the purchase price less any adjustments.

13. Default by purchaser. If on the date set for the closing, or any other adjourned date, the Seller is ready, willing, and able to carry out and perform this contract, and all other conditions precedent to such closing are complied with, but Purchaser nevertheless refuses or is unwilling to perform the obligations imposed upon him, the amount deposited on account of the purchase price shall be paid to Seller as fixed and liquidated damages, and not as a penalty, and this contract shall, thereupon, become void and neither party shall have any further rights against the other. Seller and Purchaser agree that the actual damages would be difficult to ascertain and that the amount of the deposit represents their best estimate of what the actual damages would be.

14. Type of deed. Seller shall convey the real property listed in the annexed Schedule A to Purchaser by good and valid special warranty deed.

15. Closing and adjournments thereof. The closing of this contract shall take place at 10 a.m. on _____ [date] (the "original closing date") at the office of District Title Insurance Company, 1000 Eye Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. Purchaser may adjourn the closing of title by giving Seller not less than ten-days' written notice of his decision. The notice shall specify an adjourned date for the closing of title, which shall be not more than 30 days after the original closing date, if Purchaser delivers to the District Title Insurance Company, as Escrow Agent, at the time notice is given, $50,000 as an additional deposit on account of the purchase price. The additional deposit shall be applied on account of the purchase price at the closing of the title and shall be held by the Escrow Agent until the closing or other disposition. Purchaser shall have a further right to a second adjournment of the closing by giving Seller not less than ten-days' written notice of Purchaser's election. The latter notice shall specify an adjourned date for the closing, which shall be not more than 60 days after the original closing date, if Purchaser delivers to the District Title Insurance Company, as Escrow Agent, at the time notice is given, another $50,000 as an additional deposit on account of the purchase price. The additional deposit shall likewise be applied on account of the purchase price at the closing of title and shall be held by the Escrow Agent until the closing or other disposition.

16. Guaranty of operating income by escrow deposit. At the closing, Seller shall cause $125,000 to be deposited with the Central Savings and Trust Company, the principal office of which is 1500 New York Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. Seller shall hold this amount, plus all income derived from it, as Escrow Agent, with the right to invest in short term securities guaranteed as to principal and interest by the U.S. Government, for the following purposes:

(a) If the net operating profit (as defined in subparagraph (b)) derived from the operation of the Talbert Building and the Talbert Theatre Building is less than $140,000 in any operating year (as defined in subparagraph (c)) the Escrow Agent shall, upon demand from Purchaser, his successors or assigns, pay to Purchaser, his successors or assigns, out of the escrow funds, an amount equal to the difference between $140,000 and the net operating profit for the operating year in question, upon the certificate of any certified public accountant auditing the books and records of Purchaser, his successors or assigns, and certifying that the amount is due and payable under the terms of this contract.

(b) For the purpose of this paragraph, the term "net operating profit" shall mean net profits derived from the operation of the Talbert Building and the Talbert Theatre Building as ascertained through the use of standard accounting practices, except that (1) depreciation of buildings and improvements shall not be considered as a deduction, (2) mortgage amortization shall be considered as a deduction, (3) the cost of capital improvements not in excess of $5,000 per year shall be considered as a deduction, and (4) management and leasing fees not exceeding 5 percent of gross rentals shall be considered as a deduction. The term "capital improvements," shall be deemed to include only those capital expenditures that are necessary in the normal management of the property and which may not be charged to expense under the Regulations of the Service, except, that tenants' alterations up to $14,000 per year shall not be included as "capital improvements," but shall be considered a deduction. No item shall be allowed as a deduction unless it constitutes an expenditure that is directly attributable to the property, and no overhead or administrative expenses of a type not now charged against the operations of the property shall be allowed as a deduction.

(c) For the purpose of this paragraph, the term "operating year" shall mean a period of 12 consecutive calendar months commencing on the first day of the month following the closing date, and each 12 consecutive months thereafter.

(d) The provisions of this paragraph shall apply to each of the first ten operating years immediately following the closing date, and the benefits of the provisions of this paragraph may at any time be assigned by Purchaser, his successors or assigns, to the fee owner or owners of the Talbert Building and the Talbert Theatre Building or to the lessee of the entire Talbert Building and the Talbert Theatre Building.

(e) Purchaser, his successors or assigns, shall keep a full and accurate set of books adequately showing the amount of net operating profit received by him in each operating year. Within 60 days of the close of each operating year Purchaser, his successors or assigns, shall furnish to Seller a statement certified by a certified public accountant of the State of New York or District of Columbia setting forth the amount of net operating profit received by him during the preceding operating year. If the net operating profit in any operating year is less than $140,000, Purchaser, his successors and assigns, shall serve upon the escrow agent a demand for payment from the escrow funds to Purchaser or his successors or assigns, as the case may be, of an amount equal to the difference between $140,000 and the net operating profit for the operating year in question. Within ten days after the receipt of such demand the Escrow Agent shall make payment of the amount demanded to Purchaser, or to his successors or assigns, subject to the provisions of subparagraph (g), and will continue to hold the balance in escrow subject to the terms of this paragraph.

(f) Seller, and its duly authorized representatives, may inspect the books and records of Purchaser, or his successors or assigns, as the case may be, at all times during such ten-year period during normal business hours, and such books and records shall be kept at a convenient place in the City of New York or District of Columbia during such period.

(g) If Seller is not satisfied with the certified statement, it shall notify Purchaser or his successors or assigns in writing to that effect within ten days after receipt of the statement. If Seller fails to do so, Seller shall be deemed to have accepted and approved the statement. Any dispute as to the amount of net operating profit shall be determined by arbitration in accordance with the rules of the American Arbitration Association. Judgment upon the resulting award may be entered in any court of competent jurisdiction.

(h) The Escrow Agent shall hold the escrow funds during the ten operating years immediately following the closing date. Upon the expiration of such period, the Escrow Agent shall return to Seller any moneys remaining in escrow with it, except that it shall continue to retain in escrow a sum of money equal to the amount which Purchaser may have been demanded of the Escrow Agent for the tenth or prior operating years if not yet paid to Purchaser.

(i) At the closing, the Escrow Agent shall sign a depository agreement which shall contain the terms and conditions of this paragraph. All expenses charged by the Escrow Agent, and all costs of administering the Escrow Account, shall be paid out of the income arising from such deposit. If, however, the income is insufficient to cover all the expenses and costs, Seller shall reimburse the Escrow Agent for the difference.

17. Broker. Seller represents that the Hemlock Company, of Washington, D.C., is the broker that brought about this transaction. Seller shall pay for the broker's services and shall indemnify and hold Purchaser harmless from all claims for broker commissions in connection with this transaction. Purchaser represents that no broker other than the Hemlock Company and its employees have interested Purchaser in entering into this contract, and that he has not dealt with any broker other than the Hemlock Company in bringing about this transaction.

18. Notices. All notices under this contract shall be sent by registered or certified mail, addressed to the parties at the addresses set forth below:

Seller's address:

c/o Frank Smith, Esq.
100 15th Street, N.W.
Washington, D.C.

Purchaser's address:

c/o William Mason, Esq.
805 F Street, N.W.
Washington, D.C.

19. Entire agreement; modifications. This instrument constitutes the entire agreement between the parties with regard to the subject matter hereof. It may not be modified except by an instrument duly executed by the party against whom the enforcement of such modification is sought.

20. Assignment. Purchaser may assign this agreement and all rights hereunder, which shall inure to the benefit of Purchaser's assignees or successors in interest.

21. Binding effect. This contract shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of both parties and their respective legal representatives, successors, and assigns.

22. Nonwaiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise any right hereunder, and no partial or single exercise of such right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

23. Headings. Headings in this contract are for convenience only and shall not be used to interpret or construe its provisions.

24. Governing law. This contract shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the District of Columbia.

25. Counterparts. This contract may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

26. Time of essence. Time is of the essence of this agreement.

In witness whereof the parties have hereunto set their hands as of the day and year first above written.

Attest:

Secretary

Witness:

Capital Realty Corporation

by _____
President

Karl Kramer

72 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms

C. CONTRACTS OF SALE: COMMERCIAL PROPERTY

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.38A

FORM 21.38A Sale of Apartment Building--Green Building Certification Requirement

COMMENT

This is an agreement for the construction of a new apartment building to be purchased upon its substantial completion and certification by the United States Green Building Council as a LEED Certified building. There are several green building rating systems, but the one referred to as "LEED," which stands for Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design, obtained from the U.S. Green Building Council, is the one most frequently used for such a certification. In general, a "green" building is one that is environmentally and economically sustainable, cost effective, energy efficient, resource efficient, climate and community appropriate, contains building systems optimization, uses integrated design and construction methods, and is planned and designed particularly for the end user.

In order to obtain the LEED Certification, it is necessary to register the building project, and have the U.S. Green Building Council professionals track the progress of construction and document achievement of certain levels or standards required to obtain the LEED Certification. The U.S. Green Building Council has four (4) levels of LEED, known as the basic "LEED Certified," and also "LEED Silver," "LEED Gold," and "LEED Platinum." In this particular form, the minimum certification required is just the LEED Certified level. The perceived advantages of obtaining the Certification is it evidences a decrease in operating costs, an increase in building value, improvement in the return on investment for the owner, a potential increase in occupancy rates, and a potential higher level of rents. It is a strong selling point to owners of LEED Certified buildings at the time they are ready to start leasing the LEED Certified building, whether it be for commercial or residential purposes. According to the McGraw-Hill Construction Analytics SmartMarket Trends Report of 2008, the value of green building construction starts are expected to exceed $12 billion in 2008, and is projected to increase to $60 billion by the year 2010.

In addition to the sales advantages of a green building, there are now certain tax advantages as well. A taxpayer may deduct the cost of certain energy efficiency improvements installed on or in a depreciable building located in the United States, effective for improvements placed in service before December 31, 2013, under the terms of IRC § 179(D). The deduction applies to "energy efficient commercial building property" which is defined as depreciable property installed as part of a building's: (i) interior lighting systems, (ii) heating, cooling, ventilation and hot water systems, or (iii) envelope as part of certified plan to reduce the total annual energy and power costs of these systems by at least fifty percent (50%) in comparison to a reference building that meets specified minimum standards. The fifty percent (50%) achievement is measured against a similar reference building that meets the minimum specified energy standards described in Standard 90.1-2001, Energy Standard for Buildings Except Low-Rise Residential Buildings, of the American Society of Heating, Refrigerating, and Air Conditioning Engineers and the Illuminating Engineering Society of North America. The deduction is limited to the product of $1.80 and the total square footage of the building, over the aggregate amount deducted for all prior tax years. Generally, the deductions may be claimed by the person who is entitled to depreciate the property (the owner of the building or the lessee who pays for and installs the improvements). However, in the case of a federal, state or local government building, the person who designs the energy efficient commercial building property may claim the deduction (see IRC § 179(D)(d)(iv)). This incentive was added by the Energy Tax Incentives Act of 2005, and amended by the Tax Relief and Health Care Act of 2006. The benefit of this Act was extended from December 31, 2008 to December 31, 2013 by the 2008 Amendments.

FORM

PURCHASE AGREEMENT AND ESCROW INSTRUCTIONS

THIS AGREEMENT is made at _____, _____ this ____ day of _____, 20____, between _____
_____, hereinafter [collectively] called "Seller," and _____ hereinafter [collectively] called "Buyer."

WITNESSETH:

In consideration of the mutual promises and covenants hereinafter set forth, the parties mutually agree as follows:

1. A. Upon substantial completion of the hereafter described premises, the Seller agrees to sell and convey to the Buyer, and the Buyer agrees to purchase and pay for, the premises located at _____, _____, a legal description of which premises is attached hereto, made a part hereof, and marked Exhibit A. The premises shall include the land and any and all buildings, fixtures, improvements, rights, privileges, and easements appertaining thereto, all of which shall hereinafter be referred to as the "Property."

B. All work done by Seller to complete the Property shall be done in a good and workmanlike manner. Seller agrees to substantially complete the Property in an expeditious manner, and in strict accordance with the plans and specifications marked Exhibit B, attached hereto and made a part hereof. Seller shall cause the construction of the Property to be registered with the United States Green Building Council ("USBC") so as to permit the Property to be eligible for certification through the USBC's Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design ("LEED") program. Upon substantial completion, Seller shall take steps to ensure that the property meets at least the minimum level for such LEED certification.

2. The total purchase price for the Property is _____ Dollars ($ _____), payable by Buyer as follows:

A. _____ Dollars ($ _____) in cash or by check upon the execution of this Agreement, delivered to Seller, which sum shall be deposited into escrow with the escrow agent, hereinafter designated.

B. The balance of the purchase price, namely _____ Dollars ($ _____), in cash (or certified check), or partly in cash (or certified check) and partly by an irrevocable commitment for mortgage financing issued by a reputable lending institution committing said institution to loan Buyer a portion of the purchase price, all of which shall be deposited into escrow on or before the closing date of this transaction.

3. The closing date of this transaction shall be upon substantial completion of the Property as required hereunder and obtaining of the LEED Certification described above, but in no event later than _____, 20____.

4. A.

This Agreement is subject to Buyer's obtaining a commitment by _____, 20____, from a reputable lending institution of a mortgage loan of at least _____ Dollars ($ _____), payable in equal constant monthly payments over a period of _____ (____) years or longer, with interest at _____ percent (____ %) per annum or less and a loan fee of _____ percent (____ %) or less. Buyer shall endeavor in good faith to obtain a mortgage loan on said terms or more favorable terms, but if Buyer shall be unable to obtain such a commitment by the aforesaid date, this Agreement shall be null and void and all funds and documents shall be returned to the respective parties hereto, and neither party shall have any rights against the other.

B. This Agreement is expressly conditioned upon the following contingencies being met to Buyer's satisfaction:

(i) review and approval of a Phase I environmental audit to determine that no environmental hazards exist in, on or about the Property. Seller will provide copies to Buyer of all previous environmental audits performed on the Property, if any;

(ii) inspection and approval of the physical condition of the improvements located on the Property upon substantial completion;

(iii) review and approval of all surveys, maps, blueprints, engineering reports, soil tests, and plans in Seller's possession affecting the Property.

Buyer shall use commercially reasonable efforts to satisfy the above conditions within one hundred twenty (120) days of the date of execution of this Agreement. Buyer, its agents and employees, shall have the right of access to the Property to perform all such tests, investigations and reports as Buyer shall determine to do, at Buyer's cost and expense. Buyer agrees to and does hereby indemnify, defend and hold harmless Seller from any damages to persons or property resulting from such inspections. In the event the aforesaid contingencies are not satisfied within the aforesaid 120-day period, Buyer shall have the right, at its option, to terminate this Agreement by written notice to Seller in which event all funds and documents shall be returned to the respective parties without further liability hereunder to either party.

This Agreement is also contingent upon Seller obtaining by the closing date the LEED Certification described above. In addition, it is contingent upon Buyer obtaining and approving an ALTA/ACSM survey of the Property from a reputable, licensed surveyor, which survey shall locate on the survey all items shown in the title commitment referred to hereinbelow. Buyer shall have the right, at its expense, to cause such surveyor to locate all such items, and to certify the survey to the title company to enable the title company to delete its standard survey exceptions from the title policy to be issued to Buyer or Buyer's nominee. Upon receipt of such survey by Buyer, a copy of same shall be delivered to Seller. In the event such a survey shows any items which are reasonably objectionable to Buyer, Buyer shall have the right to terminate this Agreement by written notice to Seller given within twenty (20) days from receipt of such survey, and to receive the return of all funds and documents, unless the Seller agrees to cure or cause to be cured by the closing date such items which are reasonably objectionable to Buyer.

C. Seller hereby warrants, which warranties shall be effective as of the closing date and shall survive the transfer of title to Buyer or Buyer's nominee, as follows:

(i) that upon substantial completion of the Property, all improvements now on the Property are entirely within the boundary lines of the land described on Exhibit A, attached hereto, and no other adjoining property encroaches upon said land;

(ii) that upon substantial completion of the Property, all work and labor performed and all materials furnished with respect to any improvements have been paid in full, and there will be no mechanic's liens or the possibility thereof in connection with any such work, labor and materials performed on or furnished to the Property;

(iii) that upon substantial completion of the Property, there are no outstanding notices or orders from any governmental authority with respect to the Property, or with respect to any claim of a violation of any laws, ordinances, zoning codes, building codes or orders applicable thereto;

(iv) that all improvements made by the local governmental authority that now benefit or will benefit the Property upon completion have been assessed against the Property as of the execution date of this Agreement;

(v) that upon substantial completion of the Property, there are no actions, suits or proceedings against the Seller with respect to the Property, and that there are no investigations pending or actions, suits or proceedings at law or in equity or investigations threatened against Seller that would adversely affect this transaction or the Property being sold hereunder;

(vi) that Seller will assign to Buyer on or before the closing date by delivering into escrow any and all guarantees or warranties with respect to the condition of the Property, including all improvements, fixtures and equipment;

(vii) that upon substantial completion of the Property, all documents delivered or required hereunder to be delivered to Buyer and all warranties herein made by Seller are accurate and complete and there has been no material change in any of the facts, circumstances or subject matter of this transaction of which Buyer has not been informed;

(viii) that upon substantial completion of the Property, the sale and transfer of the Property aforesaid is or shall be prior to the closing date duly authorized in accordance with law, and within the scope of authority of the party or parties conveying the Property, and evidence of such authority shall be presented to Buyer prior to the closing of this transaction;

(ix) that all split and subdivision approvals required for the use of the Property have been obtained, and the Property is properly zoned for its current use;

(x) that there are no underground oil and gas wells or septic tanks affecting the Property;

(xi) that there are no unrecorded easements or other possessory rights affecting the Property;

(xii) that electric, gas, telephone and other utility pipes, lines or facilities have been properly installed in the street adjoining the Property, are available for connection to the Property and are paid in full;

(xiii) that all water and sewer (storm and sanitary) lines and facilities necessary to serve the Property have been properly installed in the street adjoining the Property, are available for connection to the Property, and are paid for in full;

(xiv) that the Property is not located in a flood plain or a wetlands area; and

(xv) that upon substantial completion of the Property, the Property shall be in compliance with all applicable governmental laws, rules and regulations, including without limitation the Americans with Disabilities Act, as amended.

5. A. Seller shall convey marketable title to the Property to Buyer or Buyer's nominee by good and sufficient general warranty deed, with dower rights released, if any, warranting title to be free and clear of all liens, charges and encumbrances, clouds and defects whatsoever, except such restrictions, reservations, limitations, easements and conditions of record, if any, which are approved by Buyer as hereinafter provided, zoning ordinances and taxes and assessments, both general and special, which are a lien but not yet due and payable. Said deed shall be deposited into escrow on or before the closing date. Prior to the deposit of said deed into escrow, a copy of said deed shall be submitted to Buyer's counsel for approval.

B. Seller shall accompany Seller's deed with an ALTA Owner's Fee Policy of title Insurance with extended coverage (hereafter referred to as "title insurance") issued by _____ (hereinafter called "title company"), in its customary form, in the amount of the purchase price, insuring marketable title to be good in Buyer, subject only to the exceptions to be contained in the deed.

C. A preliminary title report, with a special tax search included, in the form of a commitment to issue the required title policy requested by Buyer ("title report") shall be ordered from the title company by Seller immediately upon the execution of this Agreement, a copy of which shall be delivered to Buyer. Within twenty (20) days from the receipt by Buyer of said title report and the survey referred to above showing all items in Schedule B - Section 2 of the title report, Buyer shall notify Seller and the title company of any restrictions, reservations, limitations, easements and conditions of record (together herein called "title defects") disclosed in said title report or survey which are objectionable to Buyer. In the event Buyer so notifies Seller of any such title defects, Seller shall have until the closing date to cure or remove said title defects. Seller shall be obligated to remove all such title defects objected to by Buyer that may be removed by the payment of money, and Seller shall take whatever reasonable steps may be necessary to remove any other title defects.

On the closing date, the escrow agent shall notify Seller and Buyer as to whether the title company is then in a position to issue the title insurance showing as exceptions only those items in the title report to which the Buyer did not object (or providing affirmative endorsements acceptable to Buyer). If the escrow agent shall notify the parties that (a) the title company will issue such title insurance, this transaction shall be consummated in accordance with the terms and provisions of this Agreement, or (b) the title company will not issue such title insurance, and if the Seller does not forthwith cure the title defects that the escrow agent shall recite as preventing such issuance showing as exceptions only those items in the title report to which the Buyer did not object, or within such period of time as Buyer in Buyer's sole discretion shall permit, or Buyer does not forthwith waive the same, then this Agreement shall be automatically void and of no further force and effect, the escrow agent shall return to the parties the respective funds and documents deposited into escrow by them, and the parties shall be fully released from any liability or obligation hereunder, except Seller shall pay the full cost of the escrow and the charges of the title company. If Buyer shall waive the title defects preventing such issuance by so notifying the title company and the escrow agent, or if the Seller shall have cured the same as permitted above, the obligations of the parties hereunder shall not be affected by reason thereof, there shall be no abatement or reduction of the purchase price, and this transaction shall be consummated in accordance with the terms and provisions of this Agreement, except that such title defects that are waived by Buyer, if any, shall be set forth as exceptions in the deed and in the title insurance.

6. Should the building or any other improvements on said Property be damaged or destroyed prior to transfer of record title and the same cannot be reconstructed by the outside closing date referred to above, Buyer shall have the option to terminate this Agreement and be refunded the down payment, or to extend the outside closing date to allow Seller to substantially complete the Property by such extended date and to obtain the LEED Certification referred to above.

7. All real estate taxes and assessments, both general and special, shall be prorated by the escrow agent as of the date the deed is filed for record, using for such purpose the rate and valuation shown on the last available tax duplicate. If the aforesaid proration shall not fully reimburse Buyer for all real estate taxes and assessments accrued and unpaid with respect to the Property as of the record date of transfer of title because the Property is not yet fully valued as a completed Building or otherwise, Seller shall promptly reimburse Buyer that amount accrued in excess of the proration credit upon the official certification of the real estate tax duplicate for the year in which transfer of title occurs or year in which the Property is fully valued as a completed Property on the tax duplicate.

8. The Seller and the Buyer represent to each other, which representation shall survive the closing of this transaction, that no real estate broker was involved in this transaction and that no brokerage fees or other compensation is due any real estate broker or any other person because of this transaction, except for _____, whose commission in the amount of _____ Dollars ($_____) shall be the sole responsibility of Seller and shall be paid by the escrow agent from the funds deposited into escrow and charged to Seller, if and when the transaction contemplated by this Agreement is consummated.

9. This transaction shall be placed in escrow with _____ ("escrow agent"). An executed counterpart of this Agreement shall be deposited with the escrow agent by the Buyer, and this Agreement shall serve as the escrow instructions. The escrow agent may attach its standard conditions of acceptance thereto; provided, however, that in the event said standard conditions are inconsistent or in conflict with the terms of this Agreement, then this Agreement shall control.

10. On the closing date, the escrow agent shall file for record the deed and any other instruments required to be recorded and shall thereupon deliver to each of the parties the funds and documents to which they shall be respectively entitled, together with its escrow statement, provided that the escrow agent shall then have on hand all funds and documents necessary to complete the within transaction and provided the title company has stated in writing that it shall be in a position to and will issue and deliver, upon the filing of the deed for record, the title insurance required hereunder.

In closing this transaction, the escrow agent shall charge the Seller with the following:

- (a) the full amount of real estate taxes and assessments prorated up to and including the date of transfer of title;
- (b) the cost of any transfer tax;
- (c) the cost of a title report, title search, and title insurance policy in the amount of the purchase price;
- (d) the cost of paying off and satisfying any mortgage indebtedness for which Seller is liable, together with the cost of any mortgage cancellation, recording fee or other costs incident to the satisfaction of any such indebtedness;
- (e) the cost of the brokerage commission, if any, required to be paid hereunder;
- (f) one-half (1/2) of the escrow fee; and
- (g) all other charges properly borne by Seller consistent with the terms of this Agreement;

and immediately thereafter shall deliver to the Seller the balance of the funds in its hands due under the terms hereof, and any documents due the Seller.

On closing, said escrow agent shall charge the Buyer with the following:

- (a) any cost of financing this transaction which may be arranged for by the Buyer;
- (b) the cost of filing the deed for record;
- (c) one-half (1/2) of the escrow fee; and
- (d) all other charges properly borne by Buyer consistent with the terms of this Agreement;

and immediately thereafter, said escrow agent shall deliver to Buyer said title insurance the recorded deed or Recorder's receipt therefor, any prorations to which Buyer is entitled, and any other funds or documents due the Buyer.

11. Any notice which may be or is required to be given pursuant to the provisions of this Agreement shall be deemed to be sufficiently given if personally delivered, sent by a nationally recognized overnight courier, or sent by certified or registered mail, postage prepaid, return receipt requested, and addressed as follows:

If to Seller, to:

with a copy to:

If to Buyer, to:

with a copy to:

12. This Agreement represents the entire agreement between the parties and shall not be modified except by a written amendment executed by both of the parties hereto. This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of Seller and Buyer and their respective heirs, successors and assigns. This Agreement shall be governed by the laws of the State of Ohio.

13. This Agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts, each of which shall be considered an original for all purposes; provided, however, that all of such counterparts shall together constitute one and the same instrument.

The parties hereto have hereunto set their hands the day and year first above written.

SELLER:

[typed name]

[typed name]

BUYER:

By: _____

Its: _____

73 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms

C. CONTRACTS OF SALE: COMMERCIAL PROPERTY

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.39

FORM 21.39 Sale of land--new office and warehouse to be constructed by seller--construction formula of hard costs plus percentage up to ceiling amount--provisions for construction changes, inspections and arbitration

COMMENT

This form is a contract for the sale of land and the construction of an office and warehouse on the land by the seller. Construction is to be completed according to existing drawings and specifications, with provisions for additional costs based on changes before completion. The purchase price for the land is set, but the construction costs are based on a formula of hard costs plus a percentage, not to exceed a specified maximum. Hard costs are defined in the contract.

If the buyer has not ascertained certain matters with respect to the land before signing the contract, the buyer should ask for certain representations from the seller regarding the land. Examples would include that the soil conditions are adequate to allow for such building to be constructed, that the land itself is in compliance with all environmental laws, rules and regulations, that there are no underground storage tanks on the land, and that the property is not located in a flood plain or wetlands area.

New construction clauses

Several provisions of this contract relate particularly to new construction situations. The buyer is authorized to inspect the improvements as they are being constructed. This is useful not only to assure proper construction, but also to permit inspection by prospective tenants, mortgage lenders, and various other persons involved in the completed project. Written "change orders," or changes in construction plans, are allowed. These are to be completed at buyer's expense. Such changes might be required by new tenants who had not signed on before the project was started. Construction or safety codes may change in the middle of a project's development. Construction delays caused by events beyond the developer's control will extend the completion date. The sale of a site coupled with a contract for the construction of a building is commonly known as a "turn-key" transaction.

Time of the essence

This contract contains a time of the essence clause which could result in a significant loss to a seller, particularly if the seller is also the builder. In new construction situations builders generally are reluctant to agree to time being of the essence.

Arbitration

This form provides for the arbitration of any disagreement between the parties with regard to construction of the improvements. The contract may provide for alternative methods of dispute resolution, such as arbitration or mediation, where the parties desire to avoid expensive, protracted litigation.

Tax aspects

Nonresidential real property is limited to cost recovery on a straight line method over 39 years. Losses from real property activity are limited by both the passive activity loss limitation and the at risk rules. Under passive loss rules, passive activity losses can only offset passive activity income. A rental real estate activity is a passive activity. The at risk limitation limits loss deductions to the amount the taxpayer has at risk. For real property, nonrecourse financing is generally an amount not considered at risk, except to the extent it is qualified nonrecourse financing, i.e., generally amounts borrowed from government or financial institutions. For a further discussion of the cost recovery rules, see The Tax Background (TB) § 21.06 at the beginning of this chapter. For a brief discussion of the passive loss rules and the at risk rules, see TB §§ 21.08 and 21.09. For a more detailed discussion of the passive activity loss limitations and the at risk rules, see The Tax Background to Chapter 1, "Partnerships," in Volume 1.

Information reporting of real estate transactions

The attorney or title company responsible for closing title is required to report the real estate transaction to the IRS. In addition, a statement must be provided to the customer before January 31 of the year following the closing. The information reporting requirements are discussed at TB § 21.02[4].

FORM

THIS AGREEMENT, entered into between L. B. Construction Company, of Akron, Ohio ("Seller"), and John E. Lacey ("Buyer").

Seller and Buyer agree as follows:

Article I

Sale and Purchase

Seller agrees to sell and convey to Buyer or his nominee, and Buyer agrees to purchase a parcel of land, being approximately 4.0 acres, on Mountain Road, Akron, Ohio, together with the improvements to be constructed and known as 31300 Mountain Road, together with all easements, rights and appurtenances appertaining. The land is described more fully in Exhibit A, and the land and improvements are hereinafter referred to collectively as "the premises."

Article II

Construction

2.1. Improvement. Seller shall construct or cause to be constructed on the land described on Exhibit A, at its expense, an office and warehouse facility, with site improvements, in strict accordance with certain drawings and specifications initialed by both parties and identified on the attached Exhibit B.

2.2. Change orders. Any changes in the construction work planned and specified shall be made only by written agreement signed by both parties, specifying the addition to or subtraction from the purchase price occasioned by each change.

2.3. Additional costs. Seller shall perform all additions to the construction work on the basis of its hard costs for the additions, plus 15 percent. Such additions to the purchase price shall be paid on the closing date.

2.4. Construction period. Seller shall commence construction of the improvements not later than the execution date of this Agreement, and shall thereafter diligently and in good faith prosecute the construction so that it is completed on or before August 31, _____ [year].

2.5. Delays. The completion date shall be extended by the time caused by delays due to any act or neglect of Buyer or Buyer's agents and nominees, by written changes ordered in the plans and specifications, or by strike, public authority or lockout, fire or other casualty, material shortages, or any other cause beyond Seller's control.

2.6. Time of essence. Time is expressly declared to be of the essence of this Agreement.

2.7. Compliance with law. Seller shall cause all work in connection with construction of the improvements to be completed in accordance with all local ordinances, building codes, statutes, and applicable governmental regulations bearing on the construction of the improvements. If any required construction work is at variance with any applicable governmental laws, rules and regulations, Seller shall promptly notify Buyer in writing and any necessary changes shall be adjusted by proper change orders.

2.8. Standards. All materials and supplies used in connection with construction of the improvements shall be new and both workmanship and materials shall be of good quality.

2.9. Nonconformities. Seller shall, upon discovery that any work in connection with construction of the improvements fails to conform to the requirements of this Agreement, correct the work without delay at its expense.

2.10. Defects. If within one year after the date of final payment of the purchase price, any construction work is found to be defective or not in accordance with the plans and specifications of Article I (or proper change orders with respect thereto), or if a defect is found with respect to work covered by guaranty or warranty not assignable to Buyer within any longer period of time prescribed by the terms of said guaranty or warranty obtained by Seller from its suppliers or the subcontractors or suppliers of the subcontractors, Seller shall correct, or cause to be corrected, such situation promptly after receiving written notice from Buyer specifying the nature of the defect. Buyer shall give such notice promptly after discovery of any such condition. Seller shall within a reasonable time after receipt of written notice thereof make good any defects in materials or workmanship which may develop during the one-year period, and any damage to other work caused by the repairing of such defect shall be at Seller's expense and without cost to Buyer. Seller shall assign to Buyer all warranties or guarantees of workmanship and materials that are assignable.

2.11. Right of inspection. Seller shall allow Buyer and his duly authorized agents at all reasonable times during construction of the improvements, (a) the right of entry and free access to the improvements, (b) the right to inspect all work done, labor performed and materials furnished in and about the improvements, and (c) the right to inspect all books, contracts, and records of Seller or its subcontractors to the extent they relate to the construction of the improvements.

2.12. Insurance. Seller shall purchase and maintain during construction of the improvements property insurance insuring the improvements, including any materials stored on the site or elsewhere, to their full insurable value, against the perils of fire, extended coverage, vandalism, and malicious mischief. Upon construction of the improvements under this Agreement, and before transfer of title to Buyer, Seller shall purchase and maintain property insurance on the improvements against loss or damage by fire and other perils normally included within extended coverage insurance policies, in an amount not less than the full replacement value of the improvements. Buyer shall be named as an additional insured under the insurance policies as his interest may appear. Seller shall deliver certificates of such insurance to Buyer. In addition to the amounts payable by Buyer to Seller under Article IV, Buyer shall reimburse Seller for the cost incurred to obtain such insurance, upon substantial completion of the construction work.

2.13. Construction financing. Seller shall arrange the necessary construction financing. In addition to the amounts payable by Buyer to Seller under Article IV, Buyer shall pay Seller all costs incurred by Buyer in connection with such construction financing in addition to the purchase price set forth below, upon substantial completion of the construction work. Seller shall submit to Buyer for Buyer's review during the period of construction, copies of the construction loan draw requests. Seller shall also assist Buyer, at his request in arranging permanent financing, at no additional cost to Buyer.

2.14. Fees. Seller shall secure all necessary permits, governmental fees, and licenses for the proper execution and completion of the construction work. Upon substantial completion of the construction, Buyer shall pay Seller the cost of such permits, fees, and licenses, in addition to the amounts set forth in Article IV.

2.15. Bonds. At Buyer's request, Seller and its subcontractors shall obtain bonds satisfactory to Buyer covering the faithful performance of the construction work. In addition to the amounts payable by Buyer to Seller under Article IV, Buyer shall reimburse Seller for the costs of any such bonds within 30 days after Seller submits to Buyer the receipt evidencing such payment or upon substantial completion of the construction, whichever occurs first.

2.16. Mechanic's liens. Upon substantial completion of the construction work, and before the closing date of this Agreement, Seller shall submit to Buyer mechanic's lien affidavits from Seller's major suppliers and the subcontractors and major suppliers of the subcontractor, for the purpose of satisfying Buyer as to mechanic's liens.

Article III

Seller's Default

Buyer may terminate this Agreement by giving Seller ten-days' prior written notice if any one or more of the following events shall occur: Seller is adjudged a bankrupt; Seller makes a general assignment for the benefit of its creditors; a receiver is appointed on account of Seller's insolvency; Seller persistently or repeatedly refuses or fails, except for cases in which extension of time is provided or reasons beyond Seller's control, to supply enough properly skilled workmen or proper materials; Seller fails to make payment to its subcontractors; Seller persistently disregards laws or ordinances; or Seller otherwise is guilty of a substantial violation of any provision of this Agreement. In addition to the right of termination, Buyer may prosecute all of his other legal and equitable rights and claims, including the right of specific performance.

Article IV

Purchase Price

4.1. Land price. The purchase price for the land shall be $330,000, payable by Buyer or his nominee as follows:

(i)	Earnest money deposit, receipt of which is hereby acknowledged.	$15,000.00
(ii)	Balance to be paid at closing date, as defined in Article VIII.	$315,000.00
	Total $330,000.00
-

In addition, Buyer shall pay interest of 8 percent per annum on the unpaid purchase price from September 14, _____ [year] to the closing date, payable at the closing.

4.2. Improvement price. The purchase price for the improvements being constructed shall be the sum of the hard costs (as defined in Section 4.3) incurred by Seller, plus 15 percent, plus $60,000 for supervision, plus $15,000 for landscaping. The purchase price, however, shall not exceed the "upset price" of $1,697,880 (which includes the above cost of $60,000 for supervision and allowance of $15,000 for landscaping). If the total purchase price is less than the upset price, the amount payable by Buyer for the improvements shall be the upset price less an amount equal to 70 percent of the difference between (i) the sum of the hard costs, plus 15 percent, plus supervision and landscaping allowance, and (ii) the upset price. The maximum cost to the Buyer for the improvements is guaranteed not to exceed $1,697,880.

4.3. Hard costs. Seller's hard costs are all costs incurred by Seller for:

- (a) Wages. Wages paid for labor in the direct employ of Seller in the performance of the construction work, and including any welfare or other benefits that are payable with respect thereto;
- (b) Salaries. Salaries of Seller's employees when stationed at the field office, in whatever capacity employed. Employees engaged, at shops or on the road, in expediting the production or transportation of materials or equipment shall be considered as stationed at the field office and their salaries paid for that portion of their time spent on the construction work;
- (c) Payroll taxes. Cost of contributions, assessments or taxes for such items as unemployment compensation and social security, insofar as such cost is based on wages, salaries, or other remuneration paid to Seller's employees and which are included in the cost of the construction work;

(d) Structural materials. Cost of all materials, supplies, and equipment incorporated in the construction work, including costs of transportation thereof;

(e) Subcontractors. Payments made by Seller to subcontractors for work performed under subcontracts for the construction work;

(f) Supplies. Cost, including transportation and maintenance, of all materials, supplies, equipment, temporary facilities, and hand tools now owned by the workmen, which are consumed in the performance of the work, and cost, less salvage value, on such items used but not consumed which remain Seller's property;

(g) Rentals. Rental charges of all necessary machinery and equipment, exclusive of hand tools, used at the site of the construction work, whether rented from Seller or others, including installation, minor repairs and replacements, dismantling, removal, transportation and delivery costs, at rental charges consistent with those prevailing in the area;

(h) Sales taxes. Sales, use, or similar taxes related to the construction work and for which Seller is liable;

(i) Deposits. Royalties, and deposits lost for cause other than Seller's negligence;

(j) Clean-up. Cost of removal of all debris;

(k) Engineer's fees. Cost of engineering services; and

(l) Additional items. Other costs, except for those provided in Article II, incurred in the performance of the construction work if and to the extent approved in advance in writing by Buyer.

Article V

Conveyance

Seller shall convey to Buyer or his nominee, by general warranty deed, in form satisfactory to Buyer, good marketable title in fee simple, free and clear of all defects, liens, encroachments, and encumbrances, except an easement to the Smith Pipe Company recorded at Volume 16122, page 143, of Summit County Records, general taxes and general and special assessments, which are due but not yet payable, and building and zoning ordinances affecting the premises.

Article VI

Real Estate Taxes

Seller shall pay all delinquent taxes, penalties and interest applicable to the land being conveyed. Buyer shall receive a credit against the purchase price for all unpaid real estate taxes and both general and special assessments, for years before the closing, and a portion of such unpaid taxes for the year of closing, prorated through the date of closing. The proration of undetermined taxes shall be based on the value of the land without any improvements constructed pursuant hereto on a 365-day year and on the last available duplicate showing the tax rate and valuation, and the amounts so computed and adjusted shall be final. Until closing date, taxes shall be paid as they become due by Seller. If any split tax bills are required, Buyer's proration credit shall be estimated on a per-acre basis, and funds due Seller shall be held in escrow pending receipt of the actual split tax bill issued by the County Auditor, at which time the proration shall be completed using the split tax bill.

Article VII

Title Insurance

At closing, Seller shall provide to Buyer a Title Insurance Policy issued by Merit Title Insurance Company ("title company") with mortgagee protection, if required, in the full amount of the Buyer's costs under this contract, insuring marketable title as specified in Article V. Seller, however, shall pay only the portion of the cost that would be charged for a Title Guaranty in the amount of $330,000, the excess cost to be paid by Buyer.

Article VIII

Escrow Closing

Except as provided in Article IX, closing shall be on a date not more than 30 days after the improvements have been substantially completed, at a closing date mutually agreeable to the parties. Upon substantial completion, an escrow shall be opened at Merit Title Insurance Company or at Buyer's lending institution, at Buyer's election, and the same shall act as escrow agent for this transaction. An executed counterpart of this Agreement shall be deposited with the escrow agent, and this Agreement shall act as the escrow instructions for the escrow agent. The escrow agent may attach its standard conditions of escrow, but if they are inconsistent, this Agreement shall control.

All funds due and payable by Buyer to Seller but not paid under Article II, shall be deposited in escrow by Buyer on or before the closing date.

Article IX

Title Defects

If on the closing date, title to all or part of the real estate to be conveyed is subject to any liens, encumbrances, easements, conditions or restrictions other than those set forth in Article V, or in the event of any encroachment, Seller shall have a reasonable time, not to exceed 30 days after written notice thereof, within which to remedy or remove the defect, lien, encumbrance, easement, condition, restriction, or encroachment, or obtain title insurance against the same. If Seller is unable to cure or eliminate such objections or defects within the 30-day period, Buyer may, by written notice to Seller and the escrow agent:

- (i) terminate this Agreement, whereupon it shall be null and void and the obligations of the parties shall cease, except that Seller shall be charged with all title fees; or
- (ii) waive such objections or defects; or
- (iii) extend the time for curing or eliminating such objections or defects for an additional period not to exceed 60 days.

If Buyer elects the remedy under subparagraph (iii), and at the end of the 60-day period Seller is unable to cure or remove the defects or obligations, Buyer will, by notice to Seller, either elect to terminate this Agreement as provided in subparagraph (i) or waive the designated objections or defects as provided in subparagraph (ii). The closing date shall be postponed to a date five days after resolution of title problems as set forth in this Article.

Article X

Possession

Possession of the premises shall transfer from Seller to Buyer as of the closing date in "broom-clean" condition.

Article XI

Costs

11.1. Seller's costs. Seller shall be charged with and pay out of the funds due it all costs of:

- (a) The conveyance fee required by law applicable only to the value attributable to the land, namely $330,000;
- (b) The title search;
- (c) Cost of a Title Guaranty in the amount of $330,000;
- (d) The full amount of the proration of general and special taxes and assessments; and
- (e) Any delinquent taxes and assessments.

11.2. Buyer's costs. Buyer shall pay for:

- (a) The cost of filing the deed for record;
- (b) The cost of the Title Insurance Policy in excess of the cost of a Title Guaranty in the amount of $330,000; and
- (c) The conveyance fee required by law attributable to the value paid by Buyer for the improvements.

11.3. Escrow fee. Each party shall pay one half of the escrow fee.

Article XII

Condemnation

12.1 Eminent domain. If before transfer of record title the premises, or any part thereof, are taken for public or quasi-public purposes by the United States, the State of Ohio, or any other government or power, or by any corporation by the right of eminent domain, or are condemned by any federal, state, city, or other governmental department, bureau, or other authority, and such taking or condemnation would necessitate a substantial alteration of the building plans or make it economically unreasonable for Buyer to have the improvements constructed, Buyer may either (a) accept the proceeds from the award or damages and complete the purchase without a reduction in the purchase price, or (b) withdraw from this Agreement. If Buyer elects to withdraw, all awards and damages shall belong to Seller and Buyer shall not interfere with Seller's claim nor shall Buyer make any claim. Buyer shall exercise either option by notifying Seller in writing within ten days after he receives notice of the appropriation. If Buyer fails to notify Seller within such period, Buyer shall be deemed to have withdrawn from this Agreement. If Buyer withdraws or is deemed to have withdrawn from the Agreement, as provided above, Buyer shall have no further obligation to Seller, and Seller shall pay all title costs incurred to that date.

12.2. Destruction. If damage occurs at any time to the improvements being constructed (whether during or after construction), before the Deed conveying title to the premises to Buyer is filed for record with the Summit County Recorder, Seller shall repair or reconstruct the improvements to the same condition as existed before the damage or destruction. In the event of damage or destruction, Seller shall promptly commence and diligently prosecute the repair or reconstruction so that it is completed as soon as reasonably possible. The closing date shall be postponed for a sufficient period of time to permit Seller to complete the repair or reconstruction of the improvements in the manner contemplated by this paragraph.

Article XIII

Survival

All warranties, representations, covenants, and options herein contained shall survive the closing, and if the deed and this Agreement are inconsistent, the provisions of this Agreement shall control.

Article XIV

Entire Agreement

This Agreement contains the entire understanding between the parties.

Article XV

Ohio Law

This Agreement shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of Ohio.

Article XVI

Brokers

The parties warrant that no real estate broker has been involved in this transaction except for Richard Jones, whose commission shall be paid entirely by Seller outside of escrow, if and when this Agreement is consummated.

Article XVII

Notice

All notices under this Agreement shall be in writing and delivered or mailed by United States mail, certified with return receipt requested, and addressed as follows:

If to Seller: L.B. Construction Company
 P.O. Box 510
 1095 Broadway
 Akron, Ohio

If to Buyer: John E. Lacey
 1234 Highway 21
 Barbertos, Ohio

Either party may have notices sent to a different address by so notifying the other party in accordance with the above terms.

Article XVIII

Arbitration

Any disagreement arising out of this Agreement with regard to construction of the improvements shall be submitted to arbitration. Judgment upon the award rendered may be entered in any court of competent jurisdiction. The decision of the arbitrators shall be a condition precedent to any right of legal action by either party against the other. The arbitration shall be held under the standard form of construction arbitration procedure of the American Arbitration Association of Cleveland, Ohio.

Article XIX

Assignments

Except as otherwise provided herein, neither party may assign this Agreement or any right under it without the other party's prior written consent.

Article XX

Binding Effect

This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of both parties and their respective legal representatives, successors, and assigns.

Article XII

Non-waiver

No delay or failure by either party to exercise any right hereunder, and no partial or single exercise of such right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

Article XXII

Headings

Headings in this Agreement are for convenience and reference only and shall not be used to interpret or construe its provisions.

Article XXIII

Counterparts

This Agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

The parties have executed this Agreement as of the day and year first shown below.

Date:

Buyer:

John E. Lacey

Seller:

Date:

L.B. Construction Company

by

74 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms

C. CONTRACTS OF SALE: COMMERCIAL PROPERTY

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.40

FORM 21.40 Sale of non-residential condominium unit in medical office building--condominium to be formed--sale based upon proposed declaration, by-laws and offering plan--agreement to terminate if plan not completed

COMMENT

This form is a contract for the sale of a condominium unit in a medical office building. The condominium is yet to be formed, so the sale is based upon the proposed condominium's declaration, by-laws and offering plan. The sale is contingent upon the completion of the condominium plan.

Because the unit in this contract is essentially being sold in "as is" condition, except for any warranties that may be in the Offering Plan, the purchaser should, prior to signing the contract, have the unit and personal property inspected for any physical defects.

Mortgage contingency

This contract is contingent upon the purchaser obtaining a loan from an institutional lender to afford the purchase price. This contingency protects the purchaser from liability if he or she is unable to complete the transaction because a loan cannot be obtained. When drafting a mortgage contingency, it is extremely important to specify carefully the type and amount of the mortgage which, if it is obtained by a particular date, will bind the purchaser to perform. This contract specifies that the purchaser obtain a conventional mortgage in a fixed amount. This contract also requires the purchaser to apply promptly for financing, to pay all required fees, and to notify the seller of the name and address of the lending institution.

Existing tenant

In this transaction, the purchaser is responsible for obtaining possession of the condominium unit from the existing tenant if the tenant is still in possession at the time of the closing. Unless the contract provides otherwise, a purchaser takes property subject to existing tenancies. The contract should list all tenancies and tenants' rights as exceptions to title. The purchaser should be advised that where the tenancy is for a fixed period of time, it cannot be terminated before the end of the fixed period absent a contrary provision in the lease or unless a violation of the lease has occurred.

FORM

THIS AGREEMENT made and dated _____ [date], between MEDICAL CENTER ASSOCIATES, a State of _____ partnership with offices at _____ Street, City of _____, State of _____, hereinafter called the Seller (Sponsor), and _____, M.D., residing at _____, hereinafter called the Purchaser.

WHEREAS, the Seller will promulgate a Condominium Plan and desires to offer for sale units in the building located at _____ Avenue, City of _____, County of _____, and State of _____, and the Purchaser desires to purchase a Condominium unit therein;

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual promises and undertaking hereinafter set forth, the Seller and the Purchaser agree as follows:

1. The Purchaser hereby agrees to purchase and the Seller agrees to sell the Condominium unit designated as Unit # _____ and containing approximately _____ square feet, together with a _____% undivided interest in the common elements appurtenant thereto.
2. Prior to the closing of title set forth herein, the Seller will declare the property and the Condominium units erected thereon, to be a Condominium pursuant to the laws of the State of _____.
3. The Seller has exhibited and delivered to the Purchaser at least 72 hours prior to the execution of this Agreement, and the Purchaser has read and agrees to be bound by the proposed Declaration, By-Laws and Offering Plan of the Condominium (and the Schedules, Plans and Exhibits attached thereto) all of which are incorporated by reference and made a part of this agreement with the same force and effect as if set forth in full herein.
4. The Purchaser acknowledges that he is purchasing a Condominium unit in a Condominium to be formed, and that, except as stated in this agreement (and as set forth in the Declaration, By-Laws and Offering Plan) he has not relied on any plans, brochures, schedules, advertisements, representations or other statements of any kind or nature made by the Seller or otherwise, including, but not limited to any relating to the description, size or dimensions of the Unit or rooms therein, the estimated common charges or other expenses in connection therewith.
5. The closing of title shall take place at an office to be designated by Seller on or about _____ [date], at _____ a.m., or at another date and time designated by the Seller upon ten (10) days' written notice mailed to the Purchaser at the address set forth above. The Seller shall be entitled to a reasonable adjournment in the closing of title in the event of delay by reason of weather conditions, strikes or material shortages, or delays in inspections and reports thereon, or other requirements.
6. The purchase price is $ _____, payable as follows:
$ _____ on the signing of this agreement, the receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged;

$_____ by certified or bank cashier's check on closing of title;

$_____ by obtaining a conventional mortgage loan in that amount to be procured by the Purchaser from a lending institution. (See paragraph 24.) Any payment made by check is accepted by Seller subject to collection.

7. The Declaration and By-Laws will be recorded by Seller in the Office of the Clerk of _____ County, prior to the conveyance of the first Condominium unit as set forth in the Offering Plan. The Seller shall file with the Declaration when it is recorded, or shall amend the Declaration prior to the closing date, and file at such time, a verified statement of a registered architect or licensed professional engineer, simultaneously with such amendment, fully and fairly depicting the layout, location, Condominium unit designation and approximate dimensions of the Condominium units as built. The Declaration and By-Laws when recorded by the Seller will be substantially in the form and substance of the Declaration and By-Laws delivered to the Purchaser and any changes therein will not substantially adversely affect the Purchaser.

8. It is specifically understood and agreed that if the Seller is unable to deliver or cause to be delivered a deed to the premises to the Purchaser, in accordance with this agreement, because of the inability of the Seller to complete the filing of the premises as part and parcel of a condominium plan, in accordance with the Offering Plan, _____ Medical Center Condominium, and any amendments thereto, then the Seller shall immediately notify the Purchaser, and thereupon this agreement shall terminate and the sole liability between the parties shall be the return by the Seller to the Purchaser of the Purchaser's down payment with interest, if any, under this agreement.

9. The Purchaser may, at his option, pay the Purchase Price "all cash" without obtaining a mortgage, provided Purchaser gives written notice to Seller thereof within 30 days from the date hereof.

10. If the Purchaser is financing any part of the purchase price by a mortgage loan, Purchaser agrees to pay any and all expenses therefor. In addition, Purchaser will contribute $_____ to the Condominium as initial working capital. The Purchaser also agrees to apportion with Seller such real estate taxes and common charges as may be determined to be due at closing.

11. The Seller will hold all monies received directly or through its agents or employees hereunder in trust until the closing of title to a unit. Such funds will be held as trust funds, in a special account entitled "_____ Medical Center Condominium Special Account" or similar in the _____ Bank, City of _____, State of _____. The signature of a member of the firm of _____, _____ Avenue, City of _____, State of _____, shall be required to withdraw such funds. The funds existing in the trust account will be payable to the Seller after the closing of title to the unit covered by this purchase agreement. In the event of a default by the Purchaser under this purchase agreement which continues for fifteen days after notice of such default from the Seller to the Purchaser, the down payment may be released to the Seller from such account as liquidated damages and thereafter neither party shall have any rights or obligations against or to the other. The parties agree that such sum represents their best estimate of what the actual damages would be because of such default.

12. If the Seller cannot convey title to the Unit, all monies advanced by the Purchaser hereunder shall be returned to the Purchaser, with interest, if any. The Seller will not record the Declaration until it has purchase agreements for at least 15% in number of all the Units declared. If the Seller does not record the Declaration within eighteen months of the date of the Offering Plan, all monies advanced by the Purchaser will be returned promptly.

13. The Purchaser understands and acknowledges that on the date hereof, the Unit is occupied under a lease expiring _____ [date], at a rent of $_____ per month. If the tenant does not voluntarily remove from the Unit when his lease expires or is terminated or his right to occupancy ends, Purchaser shall be required to obtain possession at Purchaser's sole expense. Purchaser understands and acknowledges that Purchaser shall be obligated to comply with existing law in evicting the tenant, and Purchaser will, after the closing of title, assume Seller's rights and obligations under the existing lease or tenancy, which will include the obligation to repair and maintain the Unit for the benefit of the tenant and the right to collect rent payable under the existing lease or tenancy, whether the same be greater or less than the common charges for the Unit under the Condominium Documents.

14. All articles of personal property, fixtures and equipment as set forth in the Offering Plan for the Unit are included in this sale, and same will be delivered free and clear of all liens and encumbrances, except the lien of the mortgage applied for by Purchaser herein.

15. The Purchaser is purchasing this Unit "as is", and as described in the Offering Plan. Seller makes no representation as to the condition of the building or Unit other than as set forth in the Offering Plan and will not be responsible for any defects whatsoever in the building, the Unit or any equipment, mechanical or otherwise, included therein.

16. The closing deed shall be a bargain and sale deed with covenant against grantor's acts, in proper statutory form for recording, and shall be executed and acknowledged by the Seller at the Seller's expense, excluding State of _____ Transfer Tax. The deed shall contain a description of the premises which is acceptable and/or approved by the lending institution or the title company insuring such lender, so as to validly convey the Unit and the undivided interest in the common elements referred to herein. At the closing of title, the Purchaser agrees to execute and deliver to the Seller the Power of Attorney in the form annexed hereto (and made a part hereof) and designated as Exhibit _____.

17. The Seller shall give and the Purchaser shall accept a good and marketable title (subject to the terms of the Declaration and By-Laws as filed and of the Offering Plan), free and clear of all liens and encumbrances, except the lien of the mortgage applied for by Purchaser herein, and except as set forth in the Offering Plan, and such title as _____ Title Company will approve and insure. Fee title insurance, if ordered by Purchaser, shall be purchased from the above title company at Purchaser's expense.

18. The Seller's liability under this agreement for failure to complete and/or deliver title for any reasons other than Seller's willful default, shall be limited to the return of the money paid hereunder, with interest, if any, and upon the return of such money this agreement shall be null and void and the parties hereto released from any and all liability hereunder. In any event, the Seller shall not be required to bring any action or proceeding or otherwise incur any unreasonable expense to render the title to the premises marketable or to cure any objection to title.

19. Anything to the contrary herein contained notwithstanding, it is specifically understood and agreed by the parties hereto that the acceptance of the delivery of the deed at the time of the closing of title hereunder shall constitute full compliance by the Seller with the terms of this agreement and none of the terms hereof, except as otherwise herein expressly provided, shall survive the delivery and acceptance of the deed. All representations contained in the Offering Plan shall survive delivery of the deed. The parties hereto agree that trial by jury in any action, proceeding or counterclaim arising out of or from this agreement is hereby waived.

20. The existence of unpaid taxes or liens of any kind at the time of title closing shall not constitute an objection to title, provided the Seller shall deposit a sufficient amount with a title company, so that such company shall be willing to insure against collection of same from the property herein described. The parties agree that the Seller may pay and discharge any liens and encumbrances upon the property, not provided for in this agreement, out of the monies to be paid by the Purchaser at the time of closing title.

21. Purchaser agrees to deliver to Seller all documents and to perform all acts required by the Seller to carry out the provisions of the Offering Plan, establish the Condominium, and conform to the provisions of all applicable laws and regulations. This paragraph shall survive delivery of the deed.

22. If the Seller is unable to convey title to the Condominium unit on or before twelve (12) months after the date of delivery of title set forth herein, the Purchaser shall have the option to cancel this agreement and to have the down payment advanced by him returned with interest, if any. The Seller has the option not to close title to the Condominium unit described herein if less than 80% of all the Condominium units to be constructed as part of the Condominium are not sold within one (1) year after the date of the initial filing of the Offering Plan, so long as title to any Condominium unit has not been conveyed and the Declaration has not been filed at such time. If Seller exercises such option, it shall forthwith return the Purchaser's down payment with interest, if any.

23. The parties agree that the stipulation and agreements herein contained shall be binding upon them, their respective executors, administrators and/or assigns. The Purchaser agrees that he will not record or assign this agreement or any of his rights hereunder without the written consent of the Seller. Any notice to be given hereunder shall be in writing and sent by certified mail to the parties at the address above given, or at such address as either party may hereafter designate to the other in writing.

24. The parties agree that no broker except _____ Management Corp. brought about this sale, and the Purchaser agrees to indemnify Seller against any claim brought for brokerage commission based upon Purchaser's acts.

25. If two or more persons are named as the Purchaser herein, any one of them is hereby made agent for the other in all matters of any and every kind or nature affecting the premises herein or this agreement.

26. This purchase agreement is conditional upon Purchaser obtaining mortgage financing in the amount set forth above. Purchaser agrees to expeditiously make all necessary applications for such financing and represents that he shall furnish the lending institution to which he makes applications with all financial statements and other information that such institution may require. In the event that the Purchaser is unable to obtain a mortgage commitment in the amount set forth above within sixty (60) days of the date of this agreement, this agreement shall become null and void and the down payment paid herein by the Purchaser shall be returned to him without interest. If the Seller does not receive written notice of the Purchaser's inability to obtain such financing within such sixty-day period, this provision shall be deemed waived by the Purchaser. The Purchaser agrees to furnish the Seller at the Seller's request with a copy of his mortgage application and the name and address of the institution to which the application has been made.

27. This agreement states the entire understanding of the parties and the Seller shall not be bound by any oral representations and/or agreement.

Date: _____

Buyer _____

_____, M.D.

Date: _____

Seller: _____

Medical Center Associates

by: _____

75 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms

C. CONTRACTS OF SALE: COMMERCIAL PROPERTY

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.41

FORM 21.41 Sale of shopping center--assumption of deed of trust, leases and service contracts--percentage rent adjustment--tenant estoppel certificate form

COMMENT

This form is an agreement for the sale of a shopping center. The contract is contingent on the delivery to and approval by the buyer of the leases; the delivery to the buyer of a written assignment of leases executed by the seller; and the delivery to the buyer of estoppel certificates signed by the tenants.

Lease assignment and estoppel certificates

Although a transfer of real property normally carries with it the grantor's rights as landlord under leases without the necessity of requiring the tenants to formally attorn to the new owner, the buyer should know what kind of leases he is buying. An examination of the written lease may not be sufficient to protect the buyer. For example, the buyer will generally be bound by any waivers granted by his predecessor in title. Thus, this form provides for the seller to execute a formal written assignment in a form approved by the buyer's attorney of the leases and for each tenant to sign an estoppel certificate stating that he has no offset or defense to an action for collection of rent. Included is a form of estoppel certificate.

Percentage rent adjustment

Under this contract percentage rents are adjusted based on the percentage rent which accrued for the prior rental period. This allows for a final adjustment at closing. A frequently used alternative provides that the closing adjustment of percentage rent will be redetermined when the final percentage rent figures are available at the end of the rental period in which the closing takes place. This would require a post-closing payment by one party to the other.

Due Diligence Inspection

In this transaction the buyer did an inspection prior to signing the contract and was satisfied with the results of the inspection. As part of its due diligence, the buyer needs to inspect for such matters as the physical condition of the improvements on the property, and compliance of the property with such laws as the Americans With Disabilities Act of 1990 and its Accessibility Guidelines, environmental laws, and zoning and building codes, including parking requirements.

FORM(1) Contract of Sale

AGREEMENT made July 17, _____ [year], by and between Anderson Associates, a California Limited Partnership with offices at 75 Golden Gate Drive, Sausalito, California ("Sellers") and Clifford, Inc., a California corporation with offices at 55 Marejos Boulevard, San Francisco, California ("Buyer").

Sellers agree to sell to Buyer and Buyer agrees to purchase from Sellers the real property in the City of San Francisco, San Francisco County, California, known as The Presidio Shopping Center, described as follows:

(Insert description)

together with the building name and personal property owned by Sellers and used in connection with the operation of the real property (collectively the "property").

1. Purchase price. The purchase price for the property shall be $500,000.

2. Payment of purchase price. The purchase price for the property shall be paid in the following manner:

(a) The sum of $5,000 on the execution of this contract by a certified check payable to the California Title Company, the escrow holder, as a deposit on the purchase price, receipt of which Sellers hereby acknowledge.

(b) The assumption and payment by Buyer according to its terms of the unpaid balance of the promissory note, having an approximate balance of $300,000, that is secured by a Deed of Trust on the property executed January 15, _____ [year], in favor of the Union Bank and Trust Company, as named beneficiary and recorded January 17, _____ [year], in Book 12,732, at page 1011, of the Official Records in the Office of the County Recorder of San Francisco County, California.

(c) The balance on the close of escrow as herein provided.

3. Sellers' warranty as to leases. Sellers warrant that the attached Exhibit A is a complete list of all leases, tenancies, rental agreements, and concession agreements presently encumbering the property; and that:

(a) Complete list. No person, firm, or corporation has any title, interest, or right to possession of the property or any portion of it as a lessee, tenant, or concessionaire of Sellers except as shown on Exhibit A.

(b) Seller not in default. All the leases, tenancies, rental agreements, and concession agreements shown on Exhibit A are now in full force and effect; Sellers are not in default in performing any such instrument or agreement; and no tenant, lessee, or concessionaire is entitled to any rebate, concession, or other benefit except as set forth in the leases and agreements referred to in Exhibit A.

(c) Rents. The rentals and other sums due or to become due under the leases and agreements referred to in Exhibit A have not been assigned or encumbered by Sellers and will not be assigned, encumbered, or subjected to any liens by Sellers before the close of escrow as herein provided.

4. Warranty as to insurance. Sellers warrant that the attached Exhibit B is a complete list of all insurance policies now insuring the property, showing for each policy: (a) its number; (b) the name of the insurance company that issued the policy; (c) the term and expiration date of the policy; (d) the premiums on the policy; and (e) its general nature and type.

5. Warranty as to employees. Sellers warrant that the annexed Exhibit C is a true and complete list of all persons employed by Sellers in connection with the property, showing for each employee: (a) the employee's name, social security number, position, and salary; (b) the collective bargaining agreement covering the employee; and (c) the amount of contributions accruing to union welfare and pension funds, Christmas bonus funds, and vacation funds for the employee.

6. Warranty as to service and other contracts. Sellers warrant that the annexed Exhibit D is a true and complete list of all services and other contracts pertaining to the property on which Sellers are obligated, showing for each contract: (a) the names of the parties to the contract; (b) the service rendered or to be rendered under the contract; (c) the compensation payable by Sellers under the contract; and (d) its term and expiration date.

7. Agreement to continue operations. Until the close of the escrow and delivery of possession of the property to Buyer, Sellers shall:

(a) Leases. Perform all obligations arising under the leases, agreements, and other relationships described in Exhibits A through D attached hereto.

(b) Maintenance. Maintain the property in good repair and in the same condition, reasonable wear and tear excepted, as it was when Buyer inspected it on June 15, _____ [year].

(c) Operation. Continue to operate and manage the property in a reasonable, diligent, and prudent manner, except that Sellers shall not enter into any additional leases or contracts pertaining to the property before the close of the escrow without Buyer's written consent.

8. Agreement to inventory personal property. Sellers shall prepare jointly with Buyer and deposit in escrow within ten days after the execution of this contract a true and complete inventory of all personal property owned by Sellers and used in connection with the operation of the real property described in the contract.

9. Indemnity agreement. Sellers shall indemnify and hold Buyer and the property free and harmless from any liability arising because of a breach of lease, breach of contract, or other matter related to the property which occurred or is alleged to have occurred before the close of escrow.

10. Opening of escrow. An escrow shall be opened to complete the sale of the property under this contract at the California Title Company within ten days after the date hereof.

11. Conditions of escrow. The close of the escrow and Buyer's obligations under this contract to purchase the property are expressly conditioned on:

(a) Title. The conveyance to Buyer of good and marketable title to the real property, as evidenced by a standard form C.L.T.A. title insurance policy issued by the California Title Company in the full amount of the purchase price, subject only to the Deed of Trust described in subparagraph 2(b) of this contract, any existing leases approved by Buyer, and any other encumbrances and matters approved by Buyer. Buyer's failure to object to any item or exception, except leases, shown on a preliminary title report of the real property prepared by the California Title Company within ten days after it has been delivered to Buyer shall be deemed Buyer's approval of the item or exception.

(b) Leases. Delivery to and approval by Buyer within 15 days after the execution of this contract of all leases and lease amendments encumbering the property. Buyer's failure to object in writing to any such lease or amendment within ten days after it has been delivered for approval shall be deemed Buyer's approval of the lease or amendment.

(c) Tenant estoppel certificates. Delivery to Buyer on the close of escrow of an estoppel certificate, in a form drafted by Buyer's attorney, from each tenant of the property signed by the tenant certifying that:

(1) He is a tenant in possession of a portion of the property under a written lease;

(2) The date and names of the parties to the written lease;

(3) The landlord, as of the date of the certificate, is not in default in the performance of the lease;

(4) The tenant, at the date of the certificate, has no defense or offsets to any action brought for collection of rents thereafter accruing under the lease.

(d) Management records. Delivery to Buyer within 15 days after the execution of this contract of true copies of all books and records relating to the management of the property during the past three years and showing the current or delinquent status of each lessee during that period.

(e) Service contracts. Delivery to and approval by Buyer within 15 days after the execution of this contract of all service and other contracts pertaining to the property listed on Exhibit D. Buyer's failure to object in writing to any such contract within ten days after it has been delivered for approval shall be deemed Buyer's approval of the contract.

(f) Property inventory. Deposit in escrow within 15 days after the date of this contract of a true and complete written inventory taken jointly by the parties of all personal property now owned by Sellers and used in connection with the management of the real property described in the contract.

(g) Lease assignments. Delivery to Buyer on the close of escrow of a written assignment, in a form to be approved by Buyer's attorney, duly executed and acknowledged by Sellers, assigning to Buyer all of Sellers' right, title, and interest in the leases encumbering the property.

(h) Bill of sale. Delivery to Buyer on the close of the escrow of a bill of sale duly executed by Sellers conveying to Buyer title to all personal property used in connection with the management of the real property as listed on the inventory to be taken jointly by the parties and deposited in escrow.

(i) Possession. Delivery of possession of the property to Buyer immediately on the close of the escrow free and clear of all uses and occupancies except those which Buyer in this contract expressly agrees to assume.

(j) Permits, licenses, etc. Issuance to Buyer by the appropriate governmental agencies on applications filed by Buyer within 15 days after execution of this contract of all permits, certificates, and licenses required by Buyer to operate the property in the manner previously operated by Sellers.

12. Failure of conditions of escrow. If any condition specified in paragraph 11 fails to occur within 45 days after the opening of escrow, Buyer may, by giving written notice to the escrow holder and Sellers, elect to cancel the escrow, terminate this contract, and recover all amounts paid to Sellers or the escrow holder on account of the purchase price of the property. Such election, however, shall not constitute Buyer's waiver of any other right against Sellers for breach of this contract. If any condition fails to occur and Buyer gives the necessary notice, Sellers irrevocably instruct the escrow holder to immediately refund to Buyer all monies and instruments deposited by it in escrow under this contract.

13. Prorations. The following items shall be prorated between the parties as of the close of escrow on the basis of 30-day months:

(a) Taxes. Real and personal property taxes for the current tax year levied or assessed against the property, including any water tax or water rate levied against the property for the furnishing of water, based on the latest available tax bills for that year or the preceding tax year.

(b) Insurance premiums. Premiums on all insurance policies insuring the property against damage or destruction that are assignable and that have been approved by and are being transferred to Buyer.

(c) Rent and percentage rent. All rentals accruing under the leases for the period in which the escrow is closed. If any lease provides for the payment of rent in a specified minimum amount plus additional rent equal to a percentage of the tenant's annual or monthly gross receipts or sales in excess of a specified amount, for the purposes of prorations the amount of percentage rent accruing under the lease for the rental period in which escrow closes shall be deemed the same as the amount of percentage rent that accrued under the lease for the rental period immediately preceding the rental period in which the escrow closes. The term "rental period" as used in this subparagraph means the period, fiscal year, calendar year, fiscal month, or calendar month over which the gross receipts or sales of the tenant are measured in determining the percentage rent payable by him under the lease.

(d) Security deposits. Security deposits made under the terms of any lease from which resort may be properly had for rent accruing or breaches occurring during the period in which escrow is closed, all of such shall be paid to or credited against the purchase price for Buyer's benefit.

(e) Salaries. Salaries of employees shown on the schedule marked Exhibit C.

(f) Benefits. Social security payments and contributions to union welfare and pension funds, Christmas bonus funds, or vacation funds on account of the employees listed on the schedule marked Exhibit C accruing for the period in which escrow closes.

(g) Service contract charges. Charges accruing for the period in which the escrow closes on service and other contracts approved by Buyer and listed on the schedule marked Exhibit D.

(h) Interest. Interest on obligations secured by encumbrances to which the property will remain subject after close of escrow.

14. Assessments. Any bonds or improvement assessments which are a lien on the property shall, on close of the escrow, be assumed by Buyer.

15. Broker's commissions. All commissions due to real estate or other brokers as a result of the sale of the property shall be paid for by Sellers.

16. Expenses of escrow. The expenses of the escrow shall be paid in the following manner:

(a) Seller expenses. Sellers shall pay:

- (1) The full cost of securing the title insurance policy described in paragraph 11(a);
- (2) The full cost of preparing, executing, and acknowledging to Buyer or its nominee good and marketable title to the real property in the manner provided in paragraph 11(a);
- (3) The full cost of preparing and securing the execution of the certificates described in paragraph 11(c);
- (4) The full cost of preparing the inventory of personal property described in paragraph 11(f);
- (5) The full cost of preparing, executing, and acknowledging the written assignment of leases described in paragraph 11(g);
- (6) The full cost of preparing and executing the bill of sale described in paragraph 11(h);
- (7) Any sales tax that might become due to the State of California because of the transfer of the personal property used in connection with the management of the real property to Buyer or its nominee;
- (8) Any tax that may be imposed on the conveyance of title to the real property to Buyer.

(b) Buyer expenses. Buyer shall pay:

- (1) The full cost of preparing, executing, acknowledging, and recording any instruments required by the holder thereof to allow Buyer to assume the promissory note and Deed of Trust described in paragraph 2(b);
- (2) The cost of recording the grant deed, or other instrument executed by Sellers conveying good and marketable title to the real property to Buyer or its nominee;
- (3) The cost of recording the written assignment of leases described in paragraph 11(g).

(c) Escrow fee. Any escrow fee charged by the escrow holder in addition to the cost of the title insurance policy required by this contract shall be paid by the parties in equal proportions.

17. Assumption of leases and contracts. On the performance of the conditions specified in paragraph 11 and the close of the escrow, Buyer shall accept, assume, and perform all the terms and conditions of the leases now encumbering the property and the service and other contracts listed on the schedule marked Exhibit D that were to be kept or performed by Sellers.

18. Inspection by buyer. Buyer warrants that it inspected the property on June 15, _____ [year] to ascertain the physical condition of the property, compliance with environmental laws, compliance with all zoning and parking regulations, and compliance with the Americans With Disabilities Act of 1990 and its Accessibility Guidelines, and is satisfied with the aforesaid. Buyer agrees to accept the property at the close of the escrow as herein provided in the same condition as it was at the time of the inspection, reasonable wear and tear thereafter expected.

19. Indemnity agreement. After the performance of the conditions specified in paragraph 11 and the close of escrow, Buyer will indemnify, defend and hold Sellers and their property free and harmless from any liability arising because of a breach of lease, breach of contract, or other matter related to the property which occurred or is alleged to have occurred after the close of escrow.

20. Default by buyer. If Buyer defaults in performing this contract, Sellers shall be released from their obligation to sell the property to Buyer or to further perform this contract and may proceed against Buyer on any cause of action or for any remedy given them by law or equity.

21. Notices. All notices between the parties or between a party and the escrow holder, whether hereunder or otherwise required by law, shall be in writing and be deemed duly served and given when personally delivered to the party, or, in lieu of personal service, when deposited in the United States mail, first class postage prepaid, addressed, if to Buyer, at 55 Marejos Boulevard, San Francisco, California, and if to Sellers, at 75 Golden Gate Drive, Sausalito, California. Either party may change its address for the purposes of this paragraph by giving the other party written notice of the change in the manner provided above.

22. Objections. Any objections in writing provided for or mentioned in paragraph 11 shall be of no force and effect until served on Sellers in the manner provided in paragraph 21 and delivered to the escrow holder either personally or by United States mail, first-class postage prepaid.

23. Attorney's fees. If any litigation is commenced between the parties concerning the property, this agreement, or the parties' respective rights and duties hereunder, the prevailing party shall be entitled to a reasonable sum for attorney's fees, in addition to all other relief granted. The amount of such fees shall be determined by the court in the litigation or in a separate action brought for that purpose.

24. Entire agreement; modification. This instrument contains the entire agreement between the parties with regard to the property. It may not be modified except by an instrument signed by both parties.

25. Binding effect. This agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of both parties and their respective legal representatives, successors, and assigns.

26. Nonwaiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise any right hereunder, and no partial or single exercise of such right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

27. Headings. Headings in this contract are for convenience and reference only and shall not be used to interpret or construe its provisions.

28. Governing law. This agreement shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of California.

29. Counterparts. This agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

30. Time of essence. Time is of the essence of this agreement.

The parties have executed this agreement the day and year first above written.

Anderson Associates (Sellers)

by _____

George Anderson, General Partner

Clifford, Inc. (Buyer)

by _____

Harry Clifford, President

(2) Estoppel certificate

To: Clifford, Inc., Buyer:

I hereby certify that:

1. I am the tenant in possession of _____.
2. I hold the premises under a written lease between myself as lessee and George Anderson and Betty Anderson, as lessors dated _____, _____ [date].
3. My lease of the premises expires _____ [date].
4. As of the date of this certificate, I am not in default in the performance of the lease nor have I committed any breach.
5. So far as is known to me, the lessor under the lease is not, as of the date of this certificate, in default in the performance of the lease nor has he committed any breach.
6. No rent has been paid by me in advance under the lease except the rent that became due on _____ [date] for the current month.
7. I have no claim against the lessor for any deposits except _____.
8. I have, as of the date of this certificate, no defenses or offsets I could allege in any action brought against me for rent accruing under the lease after _____ [date].
9. I make this certificate with the understanding that you are contemplating purchase of the leased premises and that if you do purchase the premises you will do so in material reliance on this certificate.

Executed on _____ [date] at _____, County, California.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.

Tenant

76 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms

C. CONTRACTS OF SALE: COMMERCIAL PROPERTY

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.42

FORM 21.42 Sale of shopping center--subject to existing mortgages--seller representations and disclaimers for existing leases--percentage rent and other adjustments

COMMENT

The property in this contract is a completed shopping center. In many respects the terms in this type of transaction are similar to those involved in the sale of rental property in general. Here the seller is taking back a second mortgage and the purchaser takes title subject to the existing mortgage on the property. The contract contains specific provisions concerning existing leases and adjustments for rents, arrears, tax escalation amounts, percentage rents, and security deposits.

Mortgage financing

This contract provides that the purchase money mortgage will be subject to the first mortgage, and that the purchaser-mortgagor can refinance the first mortgage, subject to specified limitations as to amount and allocations of funds, and the second purchase money mortgage will be subordinate to the refinanced amount.

The seller's first mortgage lender, whose mortgage is to be assumed by the purchaser, may be in a position to approve or disapprove (1) the assumption of its mortgage by the purchaser, and (2) the second purchase money mortgage from the buyer to the seller. An examination of the mortgage document and note (or bond) is required. Many mortgages provide that the mortgage is not assumable without the lender's prior consent.

Existing leases

In this contract the seller not only exhibits all the lease documents to the buyer, but also represents that they are not modified and that no other changes in leases have been made. The seller also separately represents that the seller, as landlord, has complied with his obligations as landlord (i.e., that the tenants cannot claim that the landlord has breached the lease, and thereby withhold rent), and that there are no claims or offsets against future rents. The purchaser is assured that no tenant has substantially prepaid rent to the seller, which prepayment would include the period of time after the buyer takes title.

Shopping center lease adjustments

Adjustments for percentage rent, amounts due under the lease tax escalation clause or as rent arrearages and penalties are specifically adjusted. Because many of these adjustments are based on amounts which may not become certain until after closing, such as percentage rent, the provisions are made expressly to survive closing.

Seller's disclaimers

Here the seller, although representing that the leases are effective as exhibited to the buyer, makes no representation that the tenants will be in possession at closing, or not in default of their lease at closing. In this contract because the purchaser has agreed to take the property in "as is" condition, without warranties related to the condition of the property, under circumstances where the purchaser has not done an inspection prior to signing the contract, the purchaser should make the contract contingent on performing an inspection. This will allow the purchaser to verify the physical condition of the property, environmental condition, and compliance with laws such as the Americans With Disabilities Act of 1990 and its Accessibility Guidelines, and with building and zoning codes, including those related to adequacy of parking. In addition to the express acceptance of the premises "as is" by the purchaser, the contract states that the seller has not made any representations or warranties as to the conditions, rents, leases, income, expenses, or use of the property except as expressly set forth in the contract. The seller is expressly relieved of any representations which may have been made to buyer by the seller's agents, brokers, or other representatives. Security interests in tenant fixtures and other tenant personal property are expressly excluded as objections which the purchaser can raise at closing.

Seller's representations

In addition to the representations made by the seller regarding the leases, the contract contains a rider (as prepared by the purchaser's attorney and accepted by seller and seller's attorney) which lists the seller's representations. The seller represents that the first mortgage, to be assumed by the buyer, will be kept current; that certificates of occupancy for uses by tenants are in existence (i.e., that the tenant uses are in compliance with local ordinances); that seller will pay the real estate commission after closing, if not at closing; that lease copies exhibited to the buyer are true; and that amount specified has been paid by tenants toward certain real estate taxes.

FORM

AGREEMENT made January 14, _____ [year], between Center Realty Co., Inc., a New York corporation, having an address care of Cullen Bronson, 32 Elm Street, West End, New Jersey ("Seller"), and Adam Cole, residing at 215 Jefferson Lane, County Seat, New York, and Michael Roland, residing at 510 Liberty Drive, County Seat, New York (collectively "Purchaser").

Seller agrees to sell, convey, and transfer to Purchaser, and Purchaser agrees to purchase and acquire from Seller, all that certain plot, piece or parcel of land with the buildings thereon erected and the appurtenances thereto (collectively the "Premises") situate, lying, and being in the Town of West End, County of Sussex, and State of New York, bounded and described in Exhibit A.

This sale includes all of Seller's right, title, and interest in and to any land lying in the bed of any street, road or avenue, open or proposed, in front of or adjoining the Premises, to the center line, and all of Seller's right, title, and interest in and to any award made or to be made in lieu thereof and in and to any unpaid award for damage to the Premises by reason of change of grade of any street; and Seller will execute and deliver to Purchaser, on closing of title, or thereafter, on demand, all proper instruments for the conveyance of such title and the assignment and collection of any such award.

Article I Purchase Price

1.1. Purchase price. The purchase price shall be $450,000 over and above the reduced amount as of the Closing Date (as that term is defined in Article XIV) of a first mortgage (the "First Mortgage"), which is now a lien on the premises to the extent of $1,220,308.96. The First Mortgage is held by The Essex Savings Bank ("Essex"), bears interest of 10.5 percent per annum, and is payable as set forth in a note and mortgage executed by Seller to Essex. True copies of the note and mortgage have been delivered to and examined by Purchaser or his attorney.

The $450,000 purchase price shall be payable as follows:

1.2. Deposit. On the signing of this contract of sale, $25,000 by Purchaser's check made payable to the order of Seller, subject to collection.

1.3. Cash. On the closing date, $225,000 in bank, cashier's, or good certified check of Purchaser (or a combination of checks for that amount), all drawn upon a bank or banks that are members of the New York City Clearing House, to the order of Seller.

1.4. Second purchase money mortgage. Two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) by Purchaser or his assigns, executing, acknowledging, and delivering to Seller a note in that amount, secured by a purchase money second mortgage (the "Purchase Money Mortgage") on the Premises.

(a) Terms. The note and Purchase Money Mortgage shall be for $200,000, bear interest of 9 percent per annum, and be payable on the first day of the month following the Closing Date and on the first day of each subsequent month, with the principal to become due and payable seven years from the Closing Date;

(b) Form. The note and mortgage shall be drawn on the standard forms of the New York Board of Title Underwriters for similar mortgages;

(c) Amendments. The note and mortgage shall contain no additional provisions except as provided below;

(d) Purchaser's expense. Purchaser shall pay for Seller's attorney's costs in drawing up the note and mortgage, as well as for the mortgage recording tax and recording fees.

(e) Subordination. The mortgage shall also provide that it shall be subject and subordinate to the lien of the existing First Mortgage in its reduced amount as of the Closing Date and any extensions thereof and to any new first mortgage or new consolidated first mortgage made with a Lending Institution (as that term is defined in paragraph 1.4(i)) for a term to be at least one year beyond the maturity date of any Purchase Money Mortgage placed on the Premises in lieu thereof and to any extensions thereof, if:

(1) Interest rate. The interest rate is not more than 10.5 percent per annum, but if the proposed interest rate exceeds such amount (but in no event exceeds 12.5 percent), the mortgagee will accept the increased rate if the then unpaid principal balance of the mortgage is reduced by 50 percent;

(2) Installments. The total annual debt service charge is not greater than the charge on the existing First Mortgage as of the date any new first mortgage or new consolidated first mortgage was placed;

(3) Principal amount. If the principal amount exceeds the amount of principal owing and unpaid on the First Mortgage at the time such new first mortgage or new consolidated first mortgage was placed, the excess will be paid to the holder of the Purchase Money Mortgage by reduction of the principal. The excess payment, however, shall not alter or affect the regular installments, if any, of principal then payable thereunder and the Purchase Money Mortgage shall further provide that the holder will, on demand, and without charge, execute, acknowledge, and deliver any further agreement needed to effectuate such subordination.

(f) Tax escrow. The Purchase Money Mortgage shall also provide that the mortgagor will make monthly deposits for payment of real estate taxes, except that such provision will be waived if the provisions of a Lending Institution first mortgage require similar tax deposits to be made with the Lending Institution mortgagee.

(g) Prepayment. Mortgagor may, on any interest date, prepay without penalty the entire unpaid balance of principal with interest to the date of payment, by giving the Mortgagee not less than 30-days' prior written notice of the prepayment.

(h) Nonrecourse. The note and Purchase Money Mortgage shall contain provisions in substance to the effect that the Mortgagee will not look to the Mortgagor for the payment of all or any part of the mortgage indebtedness but will look solely to the mortgaged premises.

(i) "Lending institution." The term "Lending Institution" shall include the following institutions that are subject to the jurisdiction of the New York State courts: a savings or commercial bank or trust company (whether acting individually or in any fiduciary capacity), an insurance company, a college, university, or other educational institution, a real estate investment trust whose certificates of beneficial interest are listed on either the New York or American Stock Exchange, a state, corporate, or municipal (or similar public employees) welfare, pension endowment fund or retirement fund system.

Article II Subject Clauses

The Premises shall be sold subject to the following:

2.1. Zoning. Zoning regulations and ordinances (and any variances therefrom) of the city, town, or village in which the Premises lie, which are not violated by existing structures.

2.2. Access roads. Curb cuts and access roads to and from abutting streets in existence at the Closing Date.

2.3. Covenants and restrictions. Covenants and restrictions in Liber 1936, page 159 and in Liber 5243, page 212, true excerpts of which have been delivered to and examined and initialed by Purchaser or his attorney.

2.4. Utility easements. The rights of Empire Lighting Company and New York Telephone Company under agreement recorded in Liber 4789, page 88 granting such corporations the right to maintain their route of polls and wires along the abutting street with the right to trim trees along such route necessary to keep wires clear at least 18 inches.

2.5. Survey. The state of facts shown on survey made by J. Henry Carpenter & Co. and dated March 17, _____ [year], a true copy of which has been examined and initialed by Purchaser or his attorney and to any change in the physical condition of the Premises since the date thereof, if such change does not render title unmarketable.

2.6. Franchise taxes. Liens, if any, of franchise taxes against Seller if Purchaser's title company will insure Purchaser against collection of such taxes out of the Premises.

2.7. Real estate taxes. Non-delinquent and unpaid real property taxes, water charges, and sewer rents but subject to apportionment as hereinafter provided.

2.8. Water easements. Water and sewer easements, if any, as existing on the Closing Date.

2.9. Secured financing. The Mortgage, the Purchase Money Mortgage, and any existing or future (i) assignment of rents or leases; and (ii) security agreement and financing statements covering fixtures, improvements, and personal property issued in favor of any mortgagee under any such mortgage.

2.10. Leases

(a) Scheduled leases. Subleases and tenancies set forth in the annexed Schedule of Space Leases and the rights of tenants thereunder (including but not limited to recorded subleases, any future subleases, or tenancies emanating therefrom and any nondisturbance agreements relating thereto) and where the Schedule of Space Leases refers to written leases, modifications, or supplementary letter agreements, the same have been exhibited to, examined and initialed by Purchaser or his counsel.

(b) Representations. Seller represents that the Space Leases referred to therein will not be modified in any manner which will survive the Closing Date or affect Purchaser, and will not be voluntarily cancelled or terminated. Seller represents that to the best of its knowledge, information, and belief it has complied with all of landlord's obligations under the space leases referred to and that it knows of no claims, offsets, or defenses which any of the tenants under such spaces may have against Seller.

(c) No warranties. Seller makes no representations to Purchaser whether in fact the tenants under the existing space leases will be in possession or not in default on the Closing Date; and lack of possession or default by any such tenant shall not affect Purchaser's obligations hereunder.

(d) Defaults. Seller reserves the right between contract and Closing Date to terminate leases for defaults by tenants and to institute and prosecute available dispossession remedies for default, except that Seller shall notify Purchaser before instituting any such proceeding and Purchaser may cure or remedy the default. If Purchaser does so, Seller will not institute proceedings against the tenants.

(e) New leases. No new leases or modifications will be entered into without Purchaser's consent, which shall not be unreasonably withheld. If, however, space becomes available by reason of a tenant's default, Seller may relet the space for a term not to exceed ten years (plus a five-year renewal if required by the prospective tenant) at rental rates not less than those of the existing lease with the defaulting tenant. In that event, however, the new tenant shall pay the parking maintenance charge specified by Seller and its proportionate share of increases in real estate taxes above the year in which the new lease is executed.

(f) Schedule of leases. Seller represents that the annexed Schedule of space leases is a full and correct list of the leases presently affecting the real property and that, with the exception of James' Hair Stylists, Inc., who is presently paying a rental, including maintenance, at the rate of $9,462 per annum against the lease provision of $10,000 per annum, such leases as of the date hereof are in full force and effect; that except as aforesaid, none of the leases have been modified or amended except as provided for in such leases, modifications, or supplemental letter agreements which have been exhibited to or examined by Purchaser or his counsel.

(g) Commissions. Seller represents that it has paid or will pay brokerage commissions on all existing leases.

(h) Documents. Seller will deliver to Purchaser all leases, agreements, modifications, and other documents and correspondence of current value on the Closing Date. Seller warrants that none of the tenants have received any concessions or inducements to enter into their respective leases which will survive the Closing Date, except as referred to in the leases, modifications, and other letter agreements referred to in the schedule of space leases. If any tenants enter into occupancy before the Closing Date, Seller shall maintain and provide for them all essential services that they are entitled to receive under their leases through the Closing Date.

2.11. Fixture financing. All security agreements and financing statements filed against or with respect to any articles or fixtures installed by or for any tenant listed in the schedule of space leases, if they are or become the tenant's property under its lease.

2.12. Set back violation. A one-story brick and masonry bank building on the Premises violates that portion of the restrictive covenant in Liber 5290, page 506 calling for the set back of 50 feet from the highway property line in that said building is within 50 feet from the highway property line because that building is within 50 feet of Garden Lane as shown in the survey referred to in Section 2.5 of this agreement. Seller, however, represents that The State Title Insurance Company will insure that the bank building may remain as presently located as long as the building stands.

2.13. Adam avenue access. No representation is made with respect to access over Adam Avenue.

2.14. First mortgage. Seller represents that the first mortgage, as exhibited to Purchaser, has not been changed or modified.

Article III Violations

Seller shall remove, at its expense, all notes or notices of violation of applicable state, county, or municipal laws affecting the Premises on the date hereof, if Purchaser notifies Seller of the violations at least 15 days before the Closing Date. Seller may cure the violations after the Closing Date and transfer of title if Seller deposits with Anderson, Brown & Alan (Seller's attorneys) a sufficient sum to remove the same. Such deposit shall be returned to Seller as soon as the violations are removed. Any dispute between the parties as to the sufficiency of the deposit shall be submitted to George Marshall, the town of West End's attorney, as arbitrator, and his determination shall be final and binding upon them. If Seller shall fail to remove the violations within 60 days after the Closing Date, Purchaser shall be entitled to the return of the deposit. If Seller makes the required deposit, the existence of any violation on the date hereof shall not be deemed an objection to the title or grounds for Purchaser to reject the deed on the Closing Date. Notwithstanding any contrary provision above, if the total cost of removing all violations exceeds $5,000, Seller may refuse to make the deposit or to remove the violations. In that event, Purchaser may either (i) terminate this agreement and be entitled to a refund of the deposit and the new cost of his title examination (as defined in Section 7.3), or (ii) accept title subject to the violations and the Purchase Price shall be deemed reduced by only $5,000, but Seller shall not be required to remove such violations.

Article IV Fire, Casualty, and/or Condemnation

If all or any part of the Premises are damaged by fire or other casualty or if there is a taking of all or any part of the Premises by eminent domain, the provisions of Section 5-1311 of the General Obligations Law (Uniform Vendor and Purchaser Risk Act) shall control in all instances.

Article V Apportionments

The following are to be apportioned on the Closing Date as of the close of business on the preceding day (the "Adjustment Date"):

5.1. Rent.

(a) Current rent. Rents as and when collected. If at the Closing Date tenants owe past due rents of not more than one month, the first monies received by Purchaser from the tenants shall be on account or in payment of the past due rents and Purchaser shall immediately remit to Seller its share of such rents.

(b) Rent arrears. Seller may retain the right to recover any rents that are in arrears for at least one month, or may assign or transfer the arrears to Purchaser against his agreement to pay the arrears to Seller as and when collected, less reasonable collection charges not in excess of the local prevailing rates. This paragraph shall survive the Closing Date.

(c) Tax escalation. If a tenant lease contains obligations for escalation rent charges for taxes and Seller collects prior to the Adjustment Date any portion of the charge for a period beyond the Adjustment Date, a pro rata adjustment and credit shall be given to Purchaser for that period. If such charges have not been billed or, if billed, have not been collected by Seller as of the Closing Date, and the amount of the additional rent is subsequently determined and is collected by Purchaser from the tenants, Purchaser shall remit to Seller a fraction of such rent, the denominator of which is 12 and the numerator of which is the number of months (or part thereof) in the particular lease year for which the items have been paid that have elapsed from the start of the lease year to and including the Adjustment Date. This paragraph shall survive the Closing Date.

(d) Percentage rent. If a tenant lease contains percentage rent provisions and as of the Closing Date Seller has not billed the tenant or collected the rent, Purchaser shall bill and collect the rent from the tenants when the amount of percentage rent is determined, and Purchaser shall remit to Seller the applicable portion up to and including the Adjustment Date. The determination shall be made on the basis of a denominator, which shall be 12, and a numerator, which shall be the number of months (or part thereof) in the particular lease year for which the percentage rent has been collected. This paragraph shall survive the Closing Date.

(e) Tenant audits. Purchaser shall not be required to conduct an audit on any tenant's records with respect to percentage rent for periods preceding the Closing Date. However, if Purchaser conducts an audit with respect to any tenant's lease year in which the Adjustment Date falls, the audit shall include the portion of the lease year that precedes the Closing Date.

5.2. Real estate taxes. Taxes, assessments, and sewer rents, if any, on the basis of the fiscal year for which assessed, except that if the Closing Date occurs before the tax rate is fixed, the apportionment of taxes shall be upon the basis of the tax rate for the next preceding year applied to the latest assessed valuation, and when the tax rate is fixed there shall be a recomputation and any additional payment or refund shall be made accordingly. This paragraph shall survive the Closing Date.

5.3. Water charges. Water frontage charges on the basis of the calendar year, or if there are water meters on the Premises Seller shall furnish a reading, to the extent it is obtainable, to a date not more than 30 days before the Closing Date. Any unfixed meter charges and sewer rent based thereon for the intervening period shall be apportioned on the basis of the last reading. As soon as an actual reading is taken, the apportionment will be readjusted and Seller or Purchaser, as the case may be, will promptly deliver to the other the amount determined to be so due upon the readjustment. If Seller is unable to furnish the prior reading, any reading subsequent to the Closing Date will be apportioned on a per diem basis from the date of such reading and the reading immediately prior thereto and Seller shall pay the proportionate charge due up to the date of the closing. Unpaid water meter bills which are the obligations of tenants in possession in accordance with the terms of leases shall not be deemed an objection to title and Purchaser will take title subject thereto. Seller shall assign to Purchaser all amounts owing by the tenants. This provision shall survive the Closing Date.

5.4. Interest. Interest on First Mortgage.

5.5. Insurance premiums. Premiums on existing transferable insurance policies or renewals of those expiring before the Closing Date, if any; it being understood that if blanket policies have been used by Seller and if severable and assignable, Purchaser will nevertheless be required to adjust therefor.

Appropriate reflection will be made if premiums are affected by declaration of dividends on any mutual insurance company policies before or after the Closing Date. Purchaser shall pay Seller a proportionate share of all dividends declared after the Closing Date, based on the Adjustment Date. This provision shall survive the Closing Date.

5.6. Utility charges. Seller will cause all the utility meters to be read to and including the Adjustment Date and will be responsible therefor. This provision shall survive the Closing Date.

5.7. Security deposits. On the Closing Date, Seller shall deliver to Purchaser all securities deposited by tenants against and in exchange for Purchaser's execution and delivery of an agreement indemnifying and holding Seller harmless against all claims against Seller for the amounts turned over to Purchaser.

5.8. Mortgage escrow account. Purchaser shall reimburse Seller for any tax, water rates, sewer rents, insurance, etc., escrow fund held by Essex, in consideration for which Seller shall assign the proceeds of the fund to Purchaser.

Article VI Deed

The deed shall be the usual Bargain and Sale Deed with covenant against grantor's acts in proper statutory form for recording and shall be duly executed and acknowledged by Seller so as to convey to Purchaser the fee simple to the premises, free of all encumbrances, except as herein stated, and shall also contain the covenant required by subdivision 5 of Section 13 of the Lien Law.

Article VII Title

7.1. Notice of defects. Purchaser, at least 15 days before the Closing Date, shall give written notice to Seller of objections to title as shown on the report of Purchaser's title insurance company. Purchaser, notwithstanding such notice, shall not be bound by any defects arising after the date of the title report and on or before the Closing Date, if Purchaser promptly notifies Seller of the defect as soon as he learns of it.

7.2. Cure of waiver of defects. If, after Seller receives notice of objections to title and is afforded reasonable adjournments of the Closing Date to enable it to remove the objections, Seller is unable to convey title to the Premises, subject only to the liens, encumbrances, terms, and conditions specified herein, Purchaser may either:

- (a) Accept such title Seller is able to convey without any reduction or abatement of the Purchase Price; or
- (b) Rescind this Contract, in which event Seller's sole obligation shall be to refund the monies deposited hereunder and to reimburse Purchaser for the new cost of title examination.

7.3. Reimbursement. As used in this Contract, the term "new cost of title examination" means the expenses incurred by Purchaser for the examination of title but in no event to exceed the new amount charged by The State Title Insurance Company without issuance of a policy, plus the cost of redating the existing survey. Upon the making of such refund and reimbursement, this Contract shall terminate, neither party shall have any further claim against the other, and any lien of Purchaser against the Premises shall wholly cease.

7.4. Closing adjournment. If Purchaser fails to give notice of objections or defects on or before the applicable dates Seller may elect to receive a "reasonable adjournment," which shall be not less than one month after Purchaser gives such notice.

7.5. Seller's obligation. Nothing herein contained, however, shall be deemed to obligate or require Seller to institute, bring, maintain, or prosecute any action or proceeding or otherwise to incur any expense or cost in order to render title to the Premises marketable.

7.6. Mortgages, liens, and other encumbrances. The existence of mortgages, liens, or encumbrances other than those expressly set forth in this Contract shall not be objections to title, if properly executed instruments, in recordable form, necessary to satisfy the same are delivered to Purchaser on the Closing Date together with recording and/or filing fees, and such mortgages, liens, or encumbrances may be paid for out of the cash consideration paid by Purchaser. Unpaid liens or taxes, water charges, and assessments shall not be objections to title, but shall be deducted from the cash consideration to be paid hereunder and allowed to Purchaser, subject to the provisions for apportionment herein contained. If Seller requires the use of any portion of the cash consideration to be paid by Purchaser for such purposes, Seller shall notify Purchaser not later than 24 hours before the Closing Date.

Article VIII Judgments, Etc.

If a search of the title discloses judgments, bankruptcies, or other returns against other persons with names the same as or similar to that of Seller, Seller will, on request, deliver or cause to be delivered, to Purchaser an affidavit or affidavits, showing that such judgments, bankruptcies, or other returns are not against Seller.

Article IX Assessments

Purchaser shall take title subject to the existence of any assessment or assessments, regardless of whether they are payable in annual installments or whether the first installment is then a charge or lien or has been paid. Any installment assessment shall be subject to apportionment as herein provided. Seller represents to Purchaser that as of the date hereof Seller knows of no existing assessments and has no knowledge, information, or belief respecting pending assessments.

Article X Fixtures

10.1. Conveyance. The plumbing, heating, air-conditioning systems, and all other fixtures and personal property attached or appurtenant to or used in connection with the operation of the Premises, to the extent presently located thereon or owned by Seller, are included within this Contract excluding, however, any personal property which is or shall be the property of any space tenant.

10.2. Good title. All fixtures and personal property included in this sale at the Closing Date will be free and clear of all liens and encumbrances (except for the First Mortgage and the Purchase Money Mortgage). Any lien which is or may have been filed against the property of any space tenant shall not be a breach or violation of this representation or warranty or an objection to title, and Purchaser shall not refuse to accept title by reason thereof.

Article XI Disclaimer, Merger

11.1. Examination of premises. Purchaser has examined the Premises and is familiar with its physical condition. Seller has not made and does not make any representations or warranties as to the physical condition, rents, leases, income expenses, costs of operation, and maintenance (past and future), use to which the Premises may be put, the quantity, quality, and condition of the articles of personal property and fixtures used in connection with the Premises, or any other matter or thing affecting or related to the Premises except as herein specifically set forth. Purchaser acknowledges that he has inspected the Premises and agrees to take the Premises "as is."

11.2. Agent representations. Further, Seller is not liable or responsible for, or bound by brokers, agents, or other representatives' statements, set-ups, writings, or other representations to Purchaser or others, all of which are merged into this Contract and are superseded by the provisions of this Article XI.

11.3. Entire agreement. This Contract constitutes the entire agreement between the parties, who have entered into the same after full investigation. Neither party has relied upon any statement, representation, or warranty by the other not embodied herein.

Article XII Notices

All notices to Seller hereunder shall be given by certified or registered mail, addressed to Seller at the address set forth above, with a copy to Anderson, Brown & Alan, Attention: George Anderson, Esq., 310 Second Avenue, West End, New York. All notices to Purchaser shall similarly be sent by certified or registered mail, addressed to Purchaser at the above address, with a copy to James Goodard, Esq., 150 Court Square, County Seat, New York.

Article XIII Brokers

Purchaser represents and warrants to Seller that Purchaser has had no dealings with respect to this transaction with any real estate broker, firm or salesman, or any other person or corporation, except West End Real Estate Company and County Seat Real Estate, Ltd. In reliance upon this representation, Seller agrees to pay a brokerage commission to West End Real Estate Company and County Seat Real Estate, Ltd., in accordance with the terms of a separate agreement (evidenced by a writing with West End Real Estate Company and County Seat Real Estate, Ltd.). The provisions of this Article shall survive the delivery of the deed.

Article XIV Closing Date and Place

The Closing Date shall be at 10 a.m. on March 30, _____ [year], and shall take place, and the deed shall be delivered upon the receipt of the Purchase Price, at the Office of Anderson, Brown & Alan, 310 Second Avenue, West End, New York.

Article XV Liability of Purchaser

If Purchaser defaults under this agreement, Seller shall look solely to the monies deposited by Purchaser upon the execution and delivery hereof as liquidated damages, and shall not look to Purchaser for any liability in connection therewith.

Article XVI Maintenance of Premises

Seller agrees to maintain the Premises in a normal state of repair up to the Closing Date.

Article XVII Modification

This agreement may not be changed or terminated orally but only by an instrument signed by both parties.

Article XVIII Binding Effect

This agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of both parties and their respective legal representatives, successors, and assigns.

Article XIX Non-Waiver

No delay or failure by either party to exercise any right hereunder, and no partial or single exercise of such right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

Article XX Headings

Headings in this agreement are for convenience only and shall not be used to interpret or construe its provisions.

Article XXI Governing Law

This agreement shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of New York.

Article XXII Counterparts

This agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

Article XXIII Time of Essence

Time is of the essence of this agreement.

(See Addendum attached hereto and made a part hereof.)

The parties have caused this agreement to be duly executed as of the day and year first above written.

Center Realty Co., Inc.

by _____

Cullen Bronson, President (Seller)

Adam Cole (Purchaser)

Michael Roland (Purchaser)

Addendum to Contract of Sale Dated January 14, _____ [year] Between Center Realty Co., Inc., as Seller and Adam Cole and Michael Roland, as Purchaser

A. Seller represents that between now and the Closing Date it will pay all of the regular constant monthly installments of principal and interest that become due and payable under the terms of the First Mortgage.

B. Seller represents that there are certificates of occupancy with respect to the Premises which permit the occupancy of the existing tenants for the purposes set forth in their respective leases and that it will deliver such certificates on the Closing Date.

C. The representation contained in the Contract with respect to the payment of all brokerage commissions by Seller on all of the space leases shall survive delivery of the deed.

D. Seller represents that the space leases which are being initialed by the parties contemporaneously herewith are true and correct copies of the original leases.

E. Seller represents that for the fiscal school tax year 1991-_____ [year] and for the calendar year _____ [year], it has received approximately $300,000 in state, county, and town taxes from the space tenants, in accordance with their respective leases.

Initialed	Date
_____	_____

_____	_____

_____	_____

Exhibit
[Schedule of Space Leases]

Exhibit
[Security Deposit Schedule]

77 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms

C. CONTRACTS OF SALE: COMMERCIAL PROPERTY

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.43

FORM 21.43 Sale of shopping center under construction--construction and tenant occupancy completed before closing--sale subject to nonrecourse first mortgage--seller note in escrow for liquidated damages--purchaser note in escrow in lieu of cash deposit

COMMENT

This form is a contract for the sale of a shopping center under construction. The seller is required to complete construction and have tenants in occupancy before closing. As part of the purchase price, the buyer will take title subject to a nonrecourse first mortgage to be placed on the shopping center by the seller before closing. In place of a cash deposit, the purchaser deposits a note in escrow. The seller also deposits a note in escrow to fix liquidated damages to the buyer for a seller default.

Financing and escrow of notes

This agreement provides that the purchaser will take title subject to a first mortgage to be placed on the property by the seller before closing. If the seller obtains a first mortgage loan for less than the amount specified in the contract, the seller will take back a subordinated mortgage for the difference (paragraph 3). The buyer does not assume the mortgage. To further protect the purchaser from personal liability, the contract requires the first mortgage to be a nonrecourse loan (paragraph 7). Even if a nonrecourse loan can be obtained from the lender, the lender will usually carve out certain exceptions to the nonrecourse feature. Examples of such carveouts where the borrower will have personal liability are damages arising from the existence of hazardous or toxic substances or failure of the property to comply with environmental laws, misapplication of insurance or condemnation proceeds or tenant security deposits, or damage from any fraud or misrepresentation. The buyer is released from liability under the contract, except for the note in escrow, if the buyer assigns the contract (paragraph 25). These terms allow the purchaser to form a corporation, partnership, or other arrangement to further insulate itself from liability and bring in other investors. The use of the note in lieu of a cash deposit benefits the buyer who will continue to have the use of the funds which would otherwise have been deposited toward the purchase price (see paragraph 4). The seller's deposit of a note in escrow, to fix liquidated damages for a seller default, is not a common or usual provision and is more of a benefit to purchaser than the seller (see paragraph 5).

Construction and tenancy occupancy

The seller's principal obligations include completion of construction and tenant occupancy before closing. This is in addition to the obligation to place a first mortgage on the shopping center. Construction is to be in accordance with pre-existing plans and specifications as well as tenant lease requirements, supported with a two year guarantee from the seller (paragraph 6). The seller is also required to deliver possession of completed space to tenants listed on an exhibit to the contract. If the minimum rentals from tenants do not reach a specified amount, the seller agrees to rent the remaining space for an amount to make up the difference (paragraph 8). These terms are particularly beneficial to the purchaser.

FORM

AGREEMENT made and entered into September 8, _____ [year], by and between Patrick Baker, joined by Harriet Baker, his wife, residing at 10 Sunset Lane, Palm Beach, Florida ("Seller"), and Realty Investment Corp., a New York corporation, having its principal place of business at 500 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York, or nominee ("Purchaser").

Recitals

Seller is the owner of a tract of land situated in Palm Beach County, Florida, which is more particularly described in the appended print of survey marked Exhibit A (the "premises").

Seller is in the process of constructing upon the premises a shopping center, substantially in accordance with the appended plot layout marked Exhibit B, which is being built by Halloway Company of Jacksonville, Florida, pursuant to a firm building contract, and Seller has agreed to sell the premises, together with the improvements to be constructed (the "improvements"), and Purchaser has agreed to purchase them.

Now, therefore, the parties agree as follows:

1. Property. Seller shall sell and Purchaser shall purchase the premises more particularly described in the annexed Exhibit A, together with the improvements and all equipment, machinery, and personal property attached, appurtenant to, or used in connection with the premises (other than those owned by tenants).

2. Permitted encumbrances. The premises and the improvements thereon are to be sold and conveyed subject to the following:

(a) A first mortgage to be placed with the Central Insurance Company, as more particularly described in the appended letter of commitment, marked Exhibit C.

(b) The leases for space in the property, described in the appended schedule marked Exhibit D, as well as all other leases hereafter executed in accordance with paragraph 7(c).

(c) Conditions, restrictions, and limitations of record, none of which prohibit the use of the premises for the operation of the planned shopping center, nor the operation of their respective businesses by the various lessees.

3. Purchase price and financing

(a) Price. The purchase price for the premises, together with the completed shopping center, shall be $5.2 million, payable as follows: $1.2 million in cash or good certified checks upon the closing of title and delivery of the deed; and the balance of $4 million by taking title subject to a first mortgage, which Seller will place upon the premises, at his expense, with the Central Insurance Company, as provided in paragraph 2(a).

(b) First mortgage. If the amount of the first mortgage to be placed by Seller with the Central Insurance Company is less than $4 million at the closing of title (or if there are senior and junior participations in the first mortgage under the provisions of paragraph 3(c), and the participations total less than $4 million at the title closing), by reason of amortization payments on the first mortgage made by Seller between the placing of the mortgage and the closing of title, Seller shall not receive any credit for the amortization payments, but the purchase price shall be reduced by their amount. If the closing of title occurs on the day when a constant monthly payment on the first mortgage is due and payable, that payment shall be made by Seller in full. If the closing of title occurs on any other day, the total of the next constant monthly payment due under the first mortgage shall be adjusted between the parties in the same manner as interest on a mortgage is normally adjusted at title closings.

(c) Seller's junior participation. Purchaser will not object if the Central Insurance Company reduces the amount of the first mortgage at the time of the mortgage closing below $4 million, in accordance with the commitment for the mortgage as set forth in Exhibit C (but in no event shall the reduced amount be less than $3.6 million). Seller shall, however, at the closing of the reduced first mortgage, take and simultaneously close a junior participation interest in the first mortgage, in an amount equal to the difference between the amount taken by the Central Insurance Company and $4 million. The terms of the junior participation interest shall be identical in all respects with those of the first mortgage taken by the Central Insurance Company, which will then become the senior participation interest, except that the amount of monthly payments on the junior participation interest shall equal the difference between $33,500 (the amount of monthly installments required to be made pursuant to the commitment for the first mortgage as set forth in Exhibit C) and the amount to be paid to the Central Insurance Company under the reduced first mortgage. The holder of the junior participation interest shall be bound by all decisions of the holder of the senior participation interest.

4. Purchaser's escrow note in lieu of deposit

(a) Seller's liquidated damages. The parties, recognizing that damages are difficult to determine in this type of transaction, agree that if Purchaser defaults Seller's damages will be $300,000, which will be deemed to be liquidated damages without any further proof by Seller.

(b) Purchaser's note. Simultaneously with the execution of this agreement, Purchaser shall execute and deposit with Harold Jones, Esq., of 100 Clematis Street, Palm Beach, Florida, as Escrow Agent, its promissory note payable after a default by Purchaser, in the principal amount of $300,000. The note shall be noninterest bearing except after a default, when interest shall commence at the rate of 9 percent per annum, or the applicable federal rate as defined in IRC Section 1274, whichever is higher. The promissory note is deposited in lieu of earnest money to assure the faithful performance of the terms of this agreement by Purchaser.

(c) Escrow terms. The conditions of the escrow are these: If on the closing date Purchaser fails, neglects, or refuses to consummate the transaction in accordance with the terms and conditions of this agreement, through no fault of Seller, the Escrow Agent shall affix a due date to the note, which shall be the date set for the closing, and shall deliver the note to Seller. The Escrow Agent will then be deemed to have performed his duties and will be discharged from any further obligations in connection therewith. If this transaction is not consummated in accordance with the terms and conditions of this agreement, or if Seller defaults and prevents the consummation of the transaction, the Escrow Agent shall return the note to Purchaser, whereupon the Escrow Agent will be deemed to have performed his duties and will be discharged from any further obligations in connection therewith.

(d) Sole remedy. Seller's sole remedy for Purchaser's default shall be the liquidated damages provided for in paragraph 4(a).

5. Seller's escrow note to fix liquidated damages.

(a) Purchaser's liquidated damages. The parties recognize that damages are difficult to determine in this type of transaction and agree that if Seller defaults, Purchaser's damages will be $300,000, which shall be deemed to be liquidated damages without any further proof required of Purchaser.

(b) Seller's note. Simultaneously with the execution of this agreement, Seller shall execute and deposit with Harold Jones, Esq., of 100 Clematis Street, Palm Beach, Florida, as Escrow Agent, his promissory note payable after a default by Seller, in the principal amount of $300,000. The note shall be noninterest bearing except after a default, when interest shall commence at the rate of 9 percent per annum, or the applicable federal rate as defined in IRC Section 1274, whichever is higher.

(c) Escrow terms. The conditions of the escrow are these: If Seller closes this transaction on the closing date, or if Purchaser defaults at the closing, the promissory note shall be returned to Seller, whereupon the Escrow Agent will be deemed to have performed his duties and will be discharged from any further obligation in connection therewith. If Seller defaults and fails or refuses to consummate this transaction on the closing date, the Escrow Agent shall affix a due date to the note, which shall be the date set for closing, and shall deliver the note to Purchaser, whereupon the Escrow Agent will be deemed to have performed his duties and will be discharged from any further obligations in connection therewith.

(d) Sole remedy. Purchaser's sole remedy for Seller's default shall be the liquidated damages provided for in paragraph 5(a). Purchaser acknowledges that actual damages would be difficult to ascertain.

6. Construction of the shopping center.

(a) Shopping center. Seller covenants, at his expense, to proceed promptly and diligently to erect upon the premises a modern shopping center consisting of a group of store buildings containing at least 175,000 square feet of rentable space and other related structures with appropriate entrances and driveways, and with parking facilities for at least 1400 cars for the conduct of a modern shopping center, in full compliance with all governmental and legal requirements.

(b) Plans and specifications. Construction shall be in accordance with the plot layout in Exhibit B and the plans and specifications of Francis Kane, Registered Architect of Palm Beach, Florida, copies of which will be delivered to Purchaser within 15 days from the date hereof. The documents comprising the plans and specifications, as last revised, are more fully described in appended Exhibit E, consisting of six sheets and initialed by John Morris, Consulting Engineer, New York, New York. The shopping center is to be fully completed, leased and occupied by the tenants described in appended Exhibit D, with the permanent first mortgage financing fully in effect, in accordance with the Exhibit C, not later than the closing date. All notes and requirements contained in the specifications or endorsed upon the plans shall be deemed covenants to be performed by Seller as if set forth therein in detail. Any work shown on the plans and not described in the specifications, or shown in the specifications and not described in the plans, or any other work necessary to the construction, furnishing, decorating, equipping, and completion of the entire project as a modern shopping center, shall be performed and completed by Seller.

(c) Governmental approvals. Seller, at his expense, shall procure the necessary governmental approval of the plans and specifications, and, if required under any lease, approval by the tenant of that lease. If any changes in the plans or specifications are required, Seller shall submit the same to Purchaser for its approval, which Purchaser shall not unreasonably withhold if the changes are not substantial. Purchaser shall give Seller its answer within five days after it receives Seller's submission. Purchaser's approval of the plans and specifications or of any required changes, or any action taken by it in respect thereof, shall not constitute Purchaser's opinion or representation as to the sufficiency of the plans and specifications so far as the governmental authorities, the mortgagee, or any other party is concerned, nor impose any liability or responsibility upon Purchaser.

(d) Compliance. The construction of the shopping center shall comply with all applicable provisions hereof, all leases, all applicable governmental laws and regulations, including without limitation all environmental laws, federal, state and local, and the Americans With Disabilities Act of 1990 and its Accessibility Guidelines, and all applicable orders and requirements of any agency or authority having jurisdiction.

(e) Certifications on completion. Before the closing of this transaction, and as a condition thereof, Seller shall procure and deliver to Purchaser: (1) a certificate duly executed by Francis Kane, architect in charge of the construction of the shopping center, attesting to the fact that the shopping center has been completed substantially in accordance with the plans and specifications, (2) a certificate of occupancy issued by the necessary governmental authorities, (3) a certificate of approval by the Board of Fire Underwriters, if the same is customary in the South Florida area, having jurisdiction, (4) all other certificates, permits, and approvals customarily issued in the locality upon the completion of building construction, and (5) the affidavit of Halloway Company, the general contractor, verifying to the completion of construction and to the payment in full of all work, labor, services, and material, as well as an acknowledgment by the general contractor in the affidavit that it has been paid in full for its services and costs, including any excess to the contract price which may result from Seller's undertaking to make installations or alterations for tenants.

(f) Construction quality. The work in constructing the shopping center shall be first class and of workmanlike quality.

(g) Indemnification. Until the title actually closes, Purchaser shall have no control over the premises or the construction of the shopping center. Seller assumes full responsibility and entire liability for all damage or injury of any kind to all persons, whether employees or otherwise, and to all property, arising from or connected with the operation of the premises and the construction and operation of the shopping center. Seller shall indemnify and hold harmless Purchaser and its agents, servants, and employees of and from all liability, loss, expense (including reasonable attorneys' fees), or damages arising out of or in connection with the foregoing. Nothing in this paragraph shall be deemed to relieve Seller of any obligation under this agreement or to affect Purchaser's right to approve certain phases of the construction.

(h) Insurance. At all times during construction of the shopping center, up to and including the closing of title, Seller shall maintain and keep in full force and effect, by valid and enforceable policies issued by recognized insurance companies doing business in the State of Florida, which are reasonably satisfactory to Purchaser, the following types and amounts of insurance: general public liability insurance against claims for personal injury, death, or property damage occurring in or about the premises or the adjacent streets and sidewalks, in an amount not less than $1 million for bodily injury or death to any one person, in an amount not less than $2.5 million for bodily injury or death to any number of persons arising out of one accident or disaster, in an amount not less than $500,000 for damage to or destruction of property arising out of any one claim on account of any one accident, and in an amount not less than $1,000,000 for damage to or destruction of property arising out of any number of claims arising out of any one accident; together with all necessary endorsements covering the additional risks during the course of construction.

(i) Inspections. During construction of the shopping center, Purchaser, its supervising architect, engineer, or other authorized agent, may enter and inspect the premises for the limited purpose of determining whether the work performed or being performed conforms with the plans, specifications, and terms of this agreement. Seller shall keep at the construction site the plans and specifications and shop drawings relating to the construction, which Purchaser and its architect, engineer, or other authorized agent may examine at all reasonable times. If during construction, Purchaser, or its architect, engineer, or other authorized agent reasonably determines that construction is not proceeding in accordance with the plans or specifications of this agreement and if Purchaser gives Seller notice specifying the particular deviation, deficiency, or omission, Seller shall immediately take all necessary steps to correct the deviation, deficiency, or omission.

(j) Construction guarantee. Seller, at closing of title, will deliver to Purchaser his absolute guaranty that for a period of two years from completion of the shopping center, the Halloway Company, at its expense, will make all necessary repairs, replacements, and corrections of any nature or description, whether interior or exterior, or structural or nonstructural, that become necessary because of faulty construction, labor, or materials. If the Halloway Company fails or refuses to make the above repairs, replacements, or corrections, Seller shall do so at his expense.

(k) Guaranties and warranties. By way of extension and not in limitation of the provisions of the preceding subparagraph, Seller will deliver to Purchaser at the closing and cause to be effectively assigned to it the following additional guaranties and warranties: 20-year guaranty of the roofing and sheetmetal contractor with a surety company bond; five-year factory warranty on all air conditioning compressors; and all other guaranties or warranties that Seller receives in connection with any work or services performed or equipment installed in the construction of the shopping center.

(l) Service contracts. Purchaser shall not be obligated to take over any maintenance, service, or employment contracts entered into by Seller or on his behalf.

7. Nonrecourse first mortgage. On or before the closing date, Seller shall, at his expense, obtain and close a first permanent mortgage loan with the Central Insurance Company under the terms set forth in the letter of commitment appended as Exhibit C. In no event shall the mortgage or the bond or note provide that, by taking the conveyance of the premises subject to the mortgage, Purchaser shall become personally obligated for the payment of the mortgage indebtedness or the performance of any of the mortgagor's terms, covenants, and conditions thereunder with the exception for the customary personal liability carveouts for items such as environmental conditions.

8. Tenant leases

(a) Occupancy. Before the closing of title, Seller shall consummate the delivery of possession to each tenant of its respective space under the terms of its respective lease, the spaces being indicated on the appended Exhibit D. Copies of the leases have been examined and initialed by Purchaser's attorney.

(b) Lease terms. Seller shall use his best efforts to consummate the execution and delivery of occupancy leases for the remainder of the rentable space at the shopping center. Each lease shall be for a term of not less than three years, at a minimum basic rental of not less than $15 per square foot and, unless the tenant is rated as having a net worth in excess of $2 million, shall require a deposit of an amount equal to at least three months' rent as security. Each new lease shall be on the same general terms as those previously entered into by Seller, and shall be to tenants whose respective type of use will not conflict with any provision of past or future leases entered into by Seller. The leases shall require the tenants to pay for all utilities, utility services, and plate glass insurance, to maintain all equipment installed in the rented premises, including air conditioning, and to make all interior repairs to the premises, except structural repairs. No lease shall in any way violate any term of the mortgage commitment or of the mortgage.

(c) Purchaser approval. Each proposed new renting shall be subject to Purchaser's prior approval, which shall not be unreasonably withheld. If Purchaser fails to disapprove of the terms of a proposed new renting within 48 hours

(Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays excluded) after submission by telegram, Purchaser shall be deemed to have given its approval.

(d) Seller's lease of unleased space. If the aggregate basic minimum rentals under all leases executed by Seller to the time of closing are less than $725,000 per year, Seller shall, at closing, enter into a lease for the remaining rentable space at an annual rental equal to the difference between the aggregate minimum basic rental of all existing leases and $725,000, for a term of three years from the date of closing. Seller's lease shall give to the landlord the absolute right to cancel the lease at any time by giving five-days' notice. Seller's lease shall provide that Seller, as lessee, may at any time and from time to time, with Purchaser's approval, enter into leases on behalf of Purchaser, upon the terms and subject to the restrictions in this paragraph relating to new leases to be made before closing. Upon the execution of any such new lease and the taking of possession by the tenant, the space included within the new lease shall be released from the lease with Seller, and the rental payable by Seller as lessee shall be reduced by the amount of the minimum basic annual rent of each such new lease. When the rental payable by Seller, as lessee, is reduced to zero, Seller's lease shall terminate, and any remaining space covered by that lease shall be surrendered by Seller, as lessee, to Purchaser, as landlord. If Purchaser unreasonably disapproves any new lease, Seller's liability under the lease for the unrented space shall be reduced by the amount of the rent for which consent was so unreasonably withheld, and the space covered by the proposed lease shall be surrendered to Purchaser.

(e) Leasing expenses. All expenses connected with the negotiation, execution, and delivery of occupancy leases executed before the closing, including real estate brokerage commissions, attorneys' fees, and recording fees, as well as all expenses for changes at the premises required by any tenants, shall be Seller's obligation and shall be fully paid for by Seller before the closing. Evidence of the full satisfaction of these obligations shall be delivered to Purchaser before or at the closing. Similarly, Seller shall bear all expenses connected with the negotiation, execution, and delivery of leases to tenants which are made after the closing by Seller under the provisions of subparagraph (d), as well as any changes required by the tenants. Seller shall pay all these expenses as they are incurred.

9. Mechanics and other liens

(a) Preclosing liens. Any mechanics or other lien, charge, or order for the payment of money is not a permitted encumbrance, and shall be removed and satisfied of record as against the premises by Seller before the closing.

(b) Postclosing liens. If after the closing, any mechanics or other lien, charge, or order for the payment of money is filed against the premises or Purchaser or its assigns, based upon any actual or alleged act or omission of Seller, its agents or employees, or any contractor or subcontractor connected with the construction and completion by Seller of the shopping center (regardless of whether the lien, charge, or order is valid or enforceable), Seller shall, within 20 days after receiving notice of the filing, take any action, by bonding, deposit, payment, or otherwise, necessary to remove and satisfy the lien of record against the premises.

10. Seller warranties. Seller warrants that at the time of the closing:

(a) Lease changes. The contents of any lease will not be changed after the date of this contract without Purchaser's written consent. The Purchaser will not unreasonably withhold its consent to a change in any lease if the change is requested by the Central Insurance Company as a condition to closing the first permanent mortgage.

(b) Compliance with leases. All of the occupancy leases executed and delivered before the closing (the executed originals of which Seller will deliver to Purchaser at the closing, together with duly executed and acknowledged assignments of Seller's interest in each, in form for recording) will be in full force and effect and unmodified and Seller as landlord will not be in default. There will be no existing set-offs or defenses against the enforcement of the terms, conditions, covenants, agreements, and limitations to be performed or complied with by the tenants under the leases. All tenants will have taken possession and will have made payment of all rent due and will have executed acknowledgments of the completion by the landlord of the required work in accordance with the terms of their respective leases, and the acknowledgments shall be delivered to Purchaser at the closing. Each lease will, as of the date of closing, conform with the requirements of all other leases so that there will be no violation by the landlord of any lease provisions.

(c) First mortgage. The mortgage referred to in paragraph 7 will be in full force and effect, unmodified, and Seller, as mortgagor, will not be in default in performing or observing any of the terms, agreements, covenants, conditions, and limitations. At the closing, Seller shall deliver to Purchaser a letter issued by the then holder of the mortgage, or its servicing agent, dated not earlier than ten days before the closing date and executed by a duly authorized officer, certifying as to the amount of the unpaid principal and interest, the date of maturity, the amount of the constant payments, the interest rate, the last date to which interest has been paid, and the last date when a constant payment was paid and the period covered by the payment. The letter will state that the mortgage is in good standing and not in default, and that the owner of the premises has performed all his obligations under the mortgage.

(d) Lease deposits. Seller will pay over to Purchaser all moneys on deposit with Seller as security under the occupancy leases. Purchaser will give the usual indemnity agreement protecting Seller from liability for such security.

(e) Zoning. The premises will be, at the time of closing, properly zoned for retail commercial and shopping center uses and purposes, and the zoning regulations will not prohibit the tenants from operating their various businesses under the terms and conditions of their respective leases.

(f) Violations. The premises will not be subject to violations of any laws or regulations, and Seller does not know of any threatened violations or notices of actual or threatened violations.

(g) Tenant construction requirements. The plans and specifications prepared by Francis Kane, Architect, will have incorporated the requirements of all tenants who submitted their requirements in accordance with the terms and conditions contained in their respective leases. The plans and specifications will satisfy the landlord's obligations under each of the leases, and will meet the requirements of the tenants under the leases, as well as of the Central Insurance Company as mortgagee, and the applicable governmental authorities.

11. Violations. Seller shall remedy all violations of law noted or issued against or affecting the premises at the date hereof or at any later time up to and including the closing date, and the premises shall be conveyed free and clear of such violations. Seller shall authorize Purchaser to make the necessary searches for violations. Seller shall also remedy all violations noted or issued against or affecting the premises after the closing that result because of Seller's acts or omissions to act before the closing.

12. Assessments. If, at closing, all or part of the premises is affected by any one or more assessments which are or may become payable in annual installments of which the first installment is then a lien or has been paid, all the unpaid installments of any such assessment, including those which are to become due and payable after the closing, shall be deemed to be due and payable and to be liens upon the premises and shall be paid and discharged by Seller on the closing date. If, at any time after the closing, all or any part of the premises are affected by any assessment for any utilities, sewers, street laying, or other improvement placed upon the premises or any part before closing of title, the assessment shall be paid and discharged by Seller upon Purchaser's demand. If any improvement is completed or in process, it shall be treated as a certified lien regardless of whether noted in the public records, and it shall be paid by Seller.

13. Deed, bill of sale. A warranty deed shall be duly signed, executed, and acknowledged by Seller, in form for recording, and shall be delivered to Purchaser at the closing. The deed shall convey to Purchaser the fee simple title to the premises and all appurtenances thereto, together with the buildings, structures and fixtures comprising the shopping center free of all liens and encumbrances, except as herein expressly provided. Seller shall pay all city, county, or state transfer or similar taxes connected with the conveyance of the premises. In addition, Purchaser may elect to receive Seller's duly executed bill of sale covering all personalty in or used in connection with the shopping center, in form and substance satisfactory to Purchaser and sufficient to convey title to Purchaser free of all liens and encumbrances, except the lien of the mortgage referred to in paragraph 2(a). Seller shall pay all state, county, or city transfer taxes or similar taxes payable in respect of either instrument.

14. Affidavit of title. In addition to the warranty deed and bill of sale, Seller shall deliver to Purchaser at the closing Seller's affidavit setting forth the following: (a) that Seller is the owner of the premises, improvements and equipment, free and clear of all encumbrances, save for the first mortgage, (b) that all work, labor, services, and material furnished to or in connection with the premises and the improvements and the installation of equipment have been fully paid for, so that no mechanic's, materialmen's, or other lien may properly be filed against the premises or the improvements or equipment, (c) that Seller is not the subject of any insolvency or bankruptcy proceeding, nor the subject of any suit or proceeding at law or in equity, or otherwise, the result of any of which might affect the title to the premises, or to the improvements and equipment, (d) that Seller has no knowledge of any violations against the premises, whether filed or threatened, nor of any restriction against the sale of the premises, or of the improvements and equipment, and (e) that Seller has no knowledge of any claim or claims made or threatened, the result of which could in any way affect the title to the premises, or to the improvements and equipment.

15. Eminent domain or land trusts. If the premises or any part is the subject of an eminent domain proceeding, or if there is in the chain of title any reverter clauses or any conveyance by, through, or under grantors of the nature commonly referred to as Land Trusts, then, in addition to all other valid objections to good and marketable title, any of the foregoing may likewise be treated by Purchaser as valid objections to title.

16. Survey. At the closing, Seller will furnish Purchaser with a current survey prepared by a duly Registered Engineer prepared in accordance with the then current accuracy standards as adopted from time to time by the American Congress on Surveying and Mapping ("ACSM"), the National Society of Professional Surveyors, and the American Land Title Association ("ALTA"). Such survey shall confirm that there are no existing encroachments.

17. Closing date. The full completion of the construction of the shopping center, the obtaining and closing of the permanent first mortgage loan, the occupancy by the tenants under the leases, and the performance by Seller of all other conditions under this agreement, are indivisible transactions, and Purchaser shall not be required to accept the deed unless Seller has fully complied with all the required provisions. Subject to the foregoing, the deed and other instruments shall be delivered at the office of Butler & Butler, Esqs., 200 Olive Street, Palm Beach, Florida, at 10 a.m. on November 30, _____ [year]. If Seller has complied with all requirements hereof before the closing date, Seller may, on or after December 1, _____ [year], accelerate the closing date by giving Purchaser at least 180 days' prior written notice of the accelerated closing date, and the accelerated closing shall take place at the same place and time of day as set forth above. Seller may not give notice accelerating the closing date unless the buildings are 80-percent completed according to a certificate issued by Purchaser's architect in charge of the construction. The architect shall furnish the certificate when the notice accelerating the closing date is given. As used in this agreement, "closing date," "date of closing," "date for closing," or similar terms shall be construed to mean the original closing date, or if accelerated, the accelerated date.

18. Adjustments and apportionments. The following shall be adjusted and apportioned as of the closing date:

(a) Rent. The rent and other charges due from the occupancy tenants at the premises, less any prorated reasonable management commissions, as, if, and when collected, but Purchaser shall not be obligated to collect or account for rents in arrears for more than 30 days before closing.

(b) Taxes, utilities. Real estate taxes, utility charges, and like charges (except charges payable by any occupancy tenant) on the basis of the fiscal year for which they are respectively assessed. If the closing occurs before the tax rate is fixed, the apportionment of real estate and like taxes shall be held at a future date after the tax rate has been fixed. Pending readjustment, Seller shall deposit with Purchaser's title company, as Escrowee, a sum reasonably satisfactory to the Escrowee to cover Seller's estimated share of the tax apportionment. It shall not be an objection to title that utility meter readings were not obtained as of the closing date. However, promptly after the closing, Seller shall obtain a reading to the date of closing, or to the nearest date, and Seller shall pay Purchaser, within 30 days after the reading is obtained, Seller's proportionate share of the utility charges determined by the reading up to the date of closing. Seller will deposit with the Escrowee a sum reasonably satisfactory to the Escrowee to assure payment of the utility charges.

(c) Mortgage payments. The constant monthly payments to be due under the first mortgage in accordance with the provisions of paragraph 3.

(d) Insurance premiums. Premiums on fire and extended coverage insurance, and on all other transferable insurance. All of the policies shall be delivered to Purchaser at closing. No insurance policy shall be written for a period of more than three years.

(e) Payroll. Payroll of employees, if Purchaser has previously consented to the employment, and the vacation pay.

(f) Fuel. Fuel on the premises, if any, as determined by Seller's supplier, at the cost price.

(g) Lease overage. If the closing of title occurs more than one month after the commencement of the term of leases which provide for overages, any overages collected by Purchaser at the end of the first year will be adjusted and apportioned at that time between the parties.

(h) Rent free occupancies. If, at closing, any tenant is not obligated to pay rent by reason of provisions in its lease concerning dates of compulsory occupancy and dates upon which payments of rent are to commence, even though the tenant is in possession and has accepted possession, Seller will allow to Purchaser as a cash adjustment under each such lease rent from the date of closing until the date the tenant is obligated to commence paying rent.

19. Risk of loss. Between the date of this agreement and the date of closing, Seller assumes the full risk for any damage or destruction by fire or the elements to the premises, including the buildings, structures, and other improvements comprising the shopping center, and Seller shall pay the cost of the work of restoring, rebuilding, repairing, and replacing, before the closing date. The risk of loss or damage assumed by Seller shall continue until the actual delivery of the deed in accordance with the terms of this agreement.

20. Abstract of title. Within 60 days from the date of this agreement, Seller shall furnish to Purchaser's attorneys, an abstract of title showing Seller's title to be good and marketable. Purchaser shall, within 60 days thereafter, examine the title and advise Seller of any defects. If the title is not found to be good and marketable, Seller shall make title good and marketable within 60 days after receipt of notice of defects. In addition, between 20 and 30 days before the closing date, Seller shall furnish Purchaser with a continuation of the abstract of title to show Seller's title to be currently good and marketable. If the continuation shows any defects in title, Seller shall cure them and furnish Purchaser with adequate evidence of cure at least three days before the closing.

21. Waivers and releases of liens. At least ten days before the closing, Seller will make available to Purchaser for examination and copying all of the waivers and releases of lien connected with the improvements on the premises, and will certify that, except for contractors, subcontractors, or materialmen whose total bills are less than $250, the waivers and releases of lien submitted represent those of all contractors, subcontractors, laborers, and materialmen.

22. Escrow for recording deed. The cash proceeds of sale shall be retained by Purchaser's title company, as Escrowee, for a period of five business days after the closing, to allow the deed to Purchaser to be recorded, and the abstract of title continued at Purchaser's expense. The abstract of title shall show title in Purchaser without any intervening encumbrance, cloud, or defect from the date of the last prior continuation, except for the purchase money mortgage and other acts of Purchaser.

23. Notices. All notices under this agreement shall be in writing, furnished in duplicate, and transmitted via registered mail, return receipt requested, as follows: (a) One copy to Seller or Purchaser, as the case may be, at the party's address set forth on the first page of this agreement, or any other address the party designates to the other by appropriate notice, and (b) the other copy, if sent by Seller, addressed to Harris and Jacobs, Esqs., Empire State Building, New York, New York, or, if sent by Purchaser, addressed to Butler & Butler, Esqs., 200 Olive Street, Palm Beach, Florida.

24. Survival of provisions. Each covenant, condition, and representation made in this agreement shall survive the closing. All provisions which are to be performed or apply to circumstances after the closing shall likewise survive the closing.

25. Assignment by purchaser. Purchaser may assign this agreement and all deposits in escrow made on account of the purchase price if, at least five days before the closing date, Purchaser gives Seller written notice of the assignment (which shall include the assignee's name and address), together with an executed counterpart thereof requiring the assignee to assume the performance of all Purchaser's terms hereunder. The assignment shall release Purchaser of all liabilities and obligations hereunder, except the liability on the note in lieu of deposit referred to in paragraph 4.

26. Corporation as title holder. If title to the premises is taken by or on behalf of Purchaser or its assignee in the name of a corporation, the corporation shall be qualified to do business in the State of Florida before the closing date.

27. Short form contract for recording. The parties will simultaneously herewith execute a short form contract in form for recording. The short form contract shall not be recorded, but shall be held in escrow by Harold Jones, Esq., until the closing of the first mortgage transaction with Central Insurance Company, after which Purchaser may record the contract among the Public Records of Palm Beach County, Florida.

28. Brokerage commissions. The parties acknowledge that Garson & Holt of Miami, Florida, are the brokers who brought about this transaction. Seller shall pay the brokers' commissions under a separate agreement between Seller and the brokers.

29. Entire agreement; modification. This instrument constitutes the entire agreement between the parties and may not be modified except by an instrument signed by the party against whom the enforcement of such modification is sought.

30. Binding effect. This agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective legal representatives, successors, and assigns.

31. Nonwaiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise or enforce any right hereunder, and no partial or single exercise of such right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

32. Headings. Headings in this agreement are for convenience and reference only and shall not be used to interpret or construe its provisions.

33. Governing law. This agreement shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of Florida.

34. Counterparts. This agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

35. Time of essence. Time is of the essence of this agreement.

36. Variation in pronouns. All pronouns and variations thereof shall be deemed to refer to the masculine, feminine, neuter, singular, or plural, as the identity of the party or parties, or their personal representatives, successors, and assigns may require.

The corporate party has caused these presents to be executed by its duly authorized officers and the corporate seal affixed and the individual parties have affixed their respective hands and seals this 8th day of September _____ [year].

Corporate Seal

Attest:

Secretary

Realty Investment Corp.

by _____

President

(L.S.)

Patrick Baker

(L.S.)

Harriet Baker

Exhibit	Description
A	Survey description of premises
B	Plot layout of shopping center
C	Commitment for first mortgage
D	Schedule of leases
E	Construction plans and specifications

78 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms

C. CONTRACTS OF SALE: COMMERCIAL PROPERTY

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.44

FORM 21.44 Sale of operating hotel--liquor license transfer contingency--closing adjustments and other payments--assessed value reduction sought

COMMENT

This form is an agreement for the sale of an operating hotel. The sale includes not only the real property, but also the business, inventory, other personal property, and additional items related to the hotel. The contract contains terms, therefore, covering matters usually found in contracts for the sale of real estate as well as terms related to the sale of a business.

In this contract because the purchaser has agreed to take the property in "as is" condition, without warranties related to the condition of the property. Under circumstances where the purchaser has not done an inspection, the purchaser should make the contract contingent on performing an inspection. This will allow the purchaser to verify the physical condition of the property, environmental condition, and compliance with laws such as the Americans With Disabilities Act of 1990 and its Accessibility Guidelines, and with building and zoning codes including those related to adequacy of parking.

Closing adjustments and other payments under this contract include a number of hotel items (paragraph 4). The purchaser will pay an additional amount for inventory items certified by accountants, including new and unused furniture and furnishings, supplies, food and liquor. The purchaser pays sales tax for the personal property items (paragraph 15). The apportionment of rent covers percentage rent due from hotel shops as well as guest rentals. The contract contains specific procedures for the transfer of custody of safe deposit boxes (paragraph 6), guest baggage (paragraph 7), and tenant security deposits (paragraph 8). The contract is contingent on governmental approval of the transfer of the hotel's liquor license to the purchaser (paragraph 36).

In this agreement, the seller seeks a reduction in the hotel property's assessed valuation for lower real property taxes. The reduced taxes, if any, and the costs of seeking the reduced assessed value are to be apportioned between the buyer and seller (paragraph 26). A seller oriented provision contained in this contract is the parties' waiver of the Uniform Vendor and Purchaser Risk Act, coupled with detailed procedures in the event of a casualty loss (paragraph 17). Under the Uniform Vendor and Purchaser Act, which has been adopted in a minority of states, the risk of loss transfers on the earlier of the transfer of possession or the transfer of title. As in this contract, the parties may waive the statute and allocate the risk of a casualty loss as they see fit.

FORM

AGREEMENT, made January 30, _____ [year], by and between Carson Hotel, Inc., a New York corporation, having its principal place of business at 100 East 42d Street, in the City, County, and State of New York ("Seller"), and Central Realty Corporation, a New York corporation, having its principal place of business at 500 Fifth Avenue, in the City, County, and State of New York ("Purchaser").

1. Description of property. Seller agrees to sell and convey, and Purchaser agrees to purchase, all that lot or parcel of land, with the buildings and improvements thereon, in the Borough of Manhattan, City, County, and State of New York, bounded and described as follows:

(Insert description)

Such premises being known as and by the street numbers 100-112 East 68th Street.

Together with Seller's entire right, title, and interest:

(1) of, in, and to any land lying in the bed of the street in front of or adjoining such premises to its center line; and

(2) to the name "Carson" and all trade names used in connection with the hotel.

Also together with all fixtures, chattels, and articles of personal property that are now, or later may be, placed upon, attached to, or used in connection with or in the operation of the premises, regardless of whether enumerated herein, including, among other items, furnaces, boilers, oil burners, radiators and piping, plumbing and bathroom fixtures, refrigeration, air conditioning and sprinkler systems, washtubs, sinks, gas and electric fixtures, stoves, ranges, awnings, screens, window shades, elevators, motors, dynamos, refrigerators, kitchen cabinets, incinerators, and all furniture, fixtures, silverware, linen, china, glassware, napery, and all other articles of personal property owned by Seller and used in connection with that portion of the premises used and operated as a hotel.

Seller represents that it owns all of the above property free from liens and encumbrances, except as set forth hereinafter. Expressly excluded, however, are the following:

(a) Fixtures, chattels, and articles of personal property in that portion of the premises known as 102 East 68th Street, all of which are owned by the tenant in possession.

(b) Furniture, furnishings, and articles of personal property owned by tenants or occupants of rooms, apartments, or other areas in that portion of the premises used and operated as a hotel; and

(c) Television sets and antenna owned by James Television, Inc. and leased to the hotel under the lease agreement set forth on Schedule B.

2. Subject clauses. The premises and personal property are sold and are to be conveyed and transferred, subject to the following:

(a) State of facts as shown on survey made by Herbert C. George, dated April 20, _____ [year], to any changes since the date of the survey and to any state of facts the survey brought down to date will show, if such additional facts do not render title unmarketable.

(b) To leases and tenancies as set forth in the annexed Schedule A, and to all tenancies that exist on closing. Purchaser acknowledges that it has examined all leases referred to in Schedule A and has initialed each one for identification.

(c) A mortgage, now a lien of record originally given to secure the principal sum of $1.3 million, which will have been reduced by payments at or before the date set for closing, to the sum of $660,000 bearing interest at 9 percent per annum, requiring payments of $12,500 on the first day of each month, applicable first to interest and the remainder to amortization of the principal balance, until December 1, _____ [year], when the balance of principal then remaining unpaid becomes due and payable. Seller represents that the last monthly payment on such mortgage was made to the Central Savings Bank.

(d) Zoning regulations and ordinances of the City of New York, now in force, which are not violated by existing structures.

(e) Covenants, restrictions, easements, and reservations of record, if any, if they are not violated by existing structures.

(f) Party walls, and party wall and sewer agreements, if any.

(g) Possible encroachments of retaining walls, foundations, cellar doors, gratings, water tables, trim, cornices, sidewalk, elevator, fences, copings, and variations between record lines and fences or retaining walls.

(h) Rights, if any, acquired by any utility company to maintain and operate lines, wires, cables, pipes, poles, and distribution boxes, in, over, or upon such premises.

3. Purchase price. The purchase price is $4 million, which is payable as follows:

(a) $340,000 on the signing of this agreement, by check subject to collection, the receipt of which is acknowledged.

(b) $660,000 by taking title subject to the existing first mortgage now a lien on the premises. Receipts or letters signed by the mortgagee, its agent or attorney, evidencing the payment of installments of principal and interest or reciting the present status of the mortgage as to principal and interest, shall be sufficient evidence of the reduction of principal and the payment of interest.

(c) $3 million in cash or by certified check, drawn by the grantee named in the Deed, on a New York Clearing House bank, to the direct order of Seller as payee, on delivery of the Deed.

4. Apportionments and additional payments. The following apportionments and payments are to be made:

(a) Rents. The rental paid by the tenant who occupies the portion of the premises known as 102 East 68th Street is measured in part by a percentage of the tenant's sales, the tenant being required to pay or adjust the rental at a date after the closing of title. The fixed and percentage rental shall be apportioned between the parties as at the closing date on the basis of a monthly rental accrual of $3,000 for each month of the leased term, notwithstanding any contrary provision of the lease regarding fixed or percentage rental, even if payment or adjustment of rent by the tenant is after the closing.

(b) Interest on the mortgage.

(c) Premiums on existing transferable insurance policies or renewals of those expiring before the closing.

(d) Taxes and sewer rents, if any, on the basis of the fiscal year for which assessed. If the closing of title occurs before the tax rate is fixed, the apportionment of taxes shall be upon the basis of the tax rate for the preceding year applied to the latest assessed valuation.

(e) Water charges on the basis of the calendar year. If there is a water meter on the premises, the unpaid meter charge and unpaid sewer rents for the time intervening between the date of the last reading and the date of closing shall be apportioned on the basis of such last reading. If any tenant in possession is required to pay for water meter charges under the terms of a lease, Seller shall not be required to pay any portion thereof. Purchaser will take title subject to any unpaid water meter charges owing by any tenant, and Purchaser shall look solely to the tenants who are obligated to pay the same for payment.

(f) Employees' vacation pay, if any, and other fringe benefits under a collective bargaining agreement.

(g) One year after date of closing the accounting firm of Williams & Company shall determine whether Purchaser has failed to pay beneficiary employees the accruals for vacation pay charged against Seller, and if so, the unpaid amounts. On the basis of such determination, and within ten days thereafter, Purchaser shall pay Seller the amount charged against Seller but not paid out by Purchaser. In addition, Williams & Company shall determine whether, as a result of negotiations currently pending between the union representing Seller's employees and the hotel association of which Seller is a member, any wage increases are effective retroactively for any period before the date as of which closing adjustments are made. If there are, Seller shall pay Purchaser the retroactive wage adjustments determined to be due.

(h) All rents and charges payable under servicing and maintenance contracts to which Seller is a party, including those set forth on the annexed Exhibit B. The contracts shall be assigned Purchaser, who shall assume the obligations to be performed after the closing.

(i) Employees' accrued wages or salaries and wages and salaries of employees up to 7 a.m. on the day of closing shall be charged to Seller.

(j) Charges for the consumption of electricity, steam, gas, and telephone services.

(k) Telephone equipment rental.

(l) If the payment does not violate state and federal rules and regulations governing liquor sales, at the closing Purchaser shall pay Seller, in cash or by certified check, a sum equivalent to the cost of all foodstuffs, in good, wholesome condition and liquor inventories consisting of bottled or canned goods on hand at the hotel premises owned and operated by Seller, computed at cost and certified to by Williams & Company, whose certification shall be final, conclusive, and binding upon the parties.

(m) At the closing Purchaser shall pay Seller, in cash or by certified check, a sum equivalent to the cost of the following inventories and operating supplies, regardless of whether such inventories or supplies have been issued from storerooms to operated departments, computed at cost and certified to by Williams & Company, whose certification shall be final, conclusive, and binding upon the parties:

- (1) food inventory, cooked or raw;
- (2) linen, glass, china, and silverware in unbroken packages;
- (3) guests' cleaning and paper supplies and stationery in unbroken packages;
- (4) printing and stationery, such as front office bills, menu stock, and advertising matter, in unbroken packages;
- (5) upholstery material in full bolts;
- (6) new and unused carpets and rugs on hand or in storage;
- (7) new and unused furniture, fixtures, and equipment;
- (8) new and unused engineers' supplies and equipment;
- (9) new and unused paint and painters' supplies and equipment;
- (10) new and unused employees' uniforms.

(n) At the closing Purchaser shall pay Seller, in cash or by certified check, a sum equivalent to all monies in house banks. The house banks shall be counted jointly by the parties' representatives on the day of closing.

(o) Transient rentals for guests for the night on the day of the closing shall be apportioned equally between the parties.

Except as otherwise provided herein, all apportionments provided for in this agreement shall be made as of the close of business of the day preceding the closing date. If any questions arise with respect to the amount of apportionments, the decision of Williams & Company shall be final, conclusive, and binding upon the parties. Closing adjustments shall be determined by Williams & Company tentatively at the closing and payment of the net figure resulting from such adjustment shall be made by Purchaser to Seller by check at the closing. A final closing adjustment shall be made by Williams & Company within 30 days after the closing, and to the extent that any additional payment or repayment is indicated on the final closing adjustment, the payment or repayment shall be made within five days after the final adjustment is made.

5. Past due rents and past due accounts. The following shall apply to past due rents and other customary hotel charges:

(a) Seller's accountants shall, as of the close of business set forth as the closing date, prepare a listing of all accounts receivable balances originating before the closing date and due to Seller from tenants, guests, and patrons of the hotel for rents and other customary hotel charges.

(b) Purchaser shall take over and exercise all reasonable diligence to collect for the account of Seller all balances contained in such listing. The first moneys received after the title closing from debtors owing such accounts receivable balances shall be received in trust for Seller on account of such accounts receivable for rents and other customary hotel charges and shall be remitted to Seller, together with a listing of such collections at ten-day intervals from the closing date.

(c) Any credit balance of guests shall be credited to Purchaser.

(d) Seller's accountants may review accounts receivable collections whether for rent or from other sources after the closing date at least once in each month following the closing date.

(e) All past due accounts not collected by Purchaser within six months from the date of closing shall be turned back to Seller who, as the exclusive owner, may institute any proceedings and take any steps to effect collection.

6. Safe deposit boxes. Seller shall send written notice to guests who have safe deposit boxes advising of the sale of property to Purchaser and requesting the removal and verification of the contents within five days after the closing. Seller, at its expense, shall have a representative on the premises during such five-day period for this purpose. Boxes of guests not responding to written notice shall be listed at the end of the five-day period, and Seller shall have no responsibility to them in connection with the safe deposit boxes. Purchaser shall indemnify Seller against any such liability, unless Seller's representative is present when the box is finally opened.

7. Baggage inventory. All baggage checked or left in Seller's care shall be listed in an inventory to be prepared in duplicate and signed by the parties' representatives on the day before closing. Purchaser shall be responsible from and after the closing for all baggage listed in such inventory. All baggage or other property of guests retained by Seller as security for unpaid accounts receivable may be left on the hotel premises without any responsibility or liability therefor by Purchaser, for a period not exceeding six months from the closing date, within which time Seller shall remove or otherwise dispose of the baggage or other property.

8. Security deposits. Schedule A contains the names of all tenants who have deposited securities and the amounts deposited. At the closing, Seller shall deliver the security deposits to Purchaser (if not prohibited by the terms of the lease), after which Purchaser shall hold and apply the security for the purpose contained in the lease, and shall indemnify and hold Seller harmless against any liability in connection therewith.

9. Fuel. Purchaser shall purchase from Seller, at Seller's cost, all fuel on the premises at the time of delivery of the Deed, and shall pay Seller for the fuel upon such delivery. The parties shall accept as conclusive the written estimate of a reputable dealer as to the amount of oil on the premises at such time.

10. Violations. Seller shall furnish Purchaser, upon written request, with authorization to make the necessary searches for violations. All notices of violations of applicable federal, state, or municipal zoning ordinances, including those related to environmental matters, health codes, multiple dwelling laws, building codes, fire ordinances, and the like, against or affecting the premises at the date hereof shall be removed by Seller before the closing, or within a reasonable time thereafter, if Purchaser gives Seller written and detailed notice of the violations not later than ten days after the date hereof. Such violations shall not be objections to title. Seller, however, may cancel this agreement by notifying Purchaser in writing, if the reasonable cost of removal exceeds $10,000 or if such compliance is affected by any governmental law, regulation, requirement, or limitation order in such a manner that, in the sole opinion of the architect named below, the violation cannot be removed within a reasonable time and with reasonable certainty. If Seller elects to terminate, this agreement shall be null and void and the parties shall be released from all further obligations hereunder, except that Seller shall refund to Purchaser the amount of the down payment. Seller's written election to terminate shall be given not later than ten days after it receives Purchaser's written notice. The written estimate of Harris & Johnson, Architects, 111 Fifth Avenue, New York, of the reasonable cost of such compliance shall be conclusive on the parties. Radio and television antennae violations shall be no objection to title and Purchaser will take title subject thereto. Violations which a tenant is required to comply with or remove pursuant to the terms of a lease shall be no objection to title and Purchaser will take title subject thereto. Notwithstanding anything in this paragraph, Purchaser may elect to close the contract and pay the purchase price in full without abatement, taking subject to the violations which Seller is not obligated to correct hereunder.

11. Special assessments

(a) If, at the time of delivery of the Deed, the premises, or any part thereof, shall be or has been affected by an assessment or assessments which are or may become payable in annual installments, of which the first installment is then a charge or lien, or has been paid, then, for the purposes of this agreement, all the unpaid installments of any such assessment, including those which are to become due and payable after delivery of the Deed, shall be deemed to be due and payable and to be liens upon the premises affected thereby and shall be paid and discharged by Seller upon such delivery.

(b) Purchaser shall have ten days after the date of this agreement within which to examine the records with regard to any assessments, other than those referred to in subparagraph (a) above. If the examination discloses any assessments subject to which Purchaser is unwilling to take title, it shall so notify Seller in writing within the ten-day period and request Seller to discharge them. Within ten days after receiving the notice, Seller shall notify Purchaser whether Seller is willing to discharge the assessments. If Seller is not willing to do so, Purchaser may, within five days after notification by Seller, cancel this agreement. In that event, both parties shall be released from any further obligation hereunder, and Seller shall immediately return to Purchaser the amount paid upon the execution and delivery of this agreement. If Purchaser does not cancel, the assessments shall not be the subject of adjustment of the purchase price, and Purchaser shall be deemed to have waived the assessments as an objection to closing and for all purposes of this agreement.

12. Encumbrances to be removed at closing. If, at closing of title, the premises are affected by any liens which Seller is required hereunder to discharge or satisfy, Seller shall be deemed to have discharged or satisfied the same if proper instruments of satisfaction or discharge are delivered to Purchaser at title closing and reasonable allowances are made to Purchaser for the estimated charges for recording. Purchaser shall advance at title closing, in cash or by certified check satisfactory to Seller, drawn to the order of a payee or payees named by Seller, any amount (not exceeding the cash balance of the purchase price) required to discharge the liens, and the amount so advanced shall be credited against the cash balance of the purchase price due at title closing. Lien or liens dealt with as herein provided shall not be an objection or objections to title. Violations filed in any county, city, state, or federal department which Seller is required to remove shall not be objections to title if Seller deposits with its attorney a sufficient sum to secure the performance of the work and provide the necessary materials to remove such violations and agrees to remove such violations within 90 days from the closing date.

13. Amortization payments by the seller. Any installment of principal, including the portion which represents principal of a combined payment of principal and interest on the first mortgage, between the date hereof and the closing of title, and paid by Seller, which reduces the unpaid principal of such mortgage below $660,000, shall be repaid to Seller by Purchaser, in cash or by certified check, at title closing.

14. Deed. The Deed shall be the usual bargain and sale deed with covenants against grantor's acts, in proper statutory form for recording, duly executed and acknowledged, so as to convey to Purchaser the fee simple of the premises, free of all encumbrances, except as herein stated, and shall also contain the covenant required by subdivision 5 of Section 13 of the Lien Law.

15. Sales tax. Purchaser shall pay Seller, in cash or by certified check, the amount that Williams & Company estimates Purchaser to owe for New York City and state sales and use tax. Such payment shall not be, or construed to be, part of the purchase price. Purchaser shall reimburse Seller for any additional amount Seller is required to pay for sales and use tax in connection with the sale. The final audits of the state and City of New York, Sales Tax Division, determining the amount of sales and use tax in connection with this purchase, together with receipted bills showing payment, shall be final and conclusive evidence of the amount of the additional tax and the fact of payment. The provisions of this paragraph shall survive the delivery of the Deed, Bill of Sale, and other instruments.

16. Deposit a lien. All sums paid on account of this agreement and the reasonable expenses of the cost of title examination are made liens on the premises, but such liens shall not continue after Purchaser's default under this agreement.

17. Destruction of premises and eminent domain

(a) The parties waive the provision of Section 5-1311 of the General Obligations Law, the New York Uniform Vendor and Purchaser Risk Act, if, before the date for closing title (1) all or a material part of the hotel building on the premises is destroyed, or (2) all or a material part of the premises is taken by eminent domain. In either such event, neither party may cancel this agreement, and upon the closing of title, and the receipt of the purchase price less the credit hereafter described in this Section 17, Seller shall pay Purchaser any money collected by Seller under the insurance policies or renewals thereof, listed on the annexed Schedule D, insuring against the loss in question, after deducting any amounts which Seller has agreed or become obligated to pay for repairs or restoration of the damage. If the proceeds received by Seller does not fully cover the amount of damage because of a deductible or for any other reason, then Purchaser shall receive a credit against the purchase price in the amount of such deficit. In addition, Seller shall assign to Purchaser all of its right, title, and interest in and to such policies and any further sums payable under them, and, if any part of the premises is taken by eminent domain, in and to any awards made for such taking.

(b) If, before closing of title, (1) an immaterial part of the hotel building on the premises is destroyed, or (2) an immaterial part of the premises is taken by eminent domain, neither party may cancel this agreement, and Purchaser shall be entitled to an equitable abatement of the purchase price, to the extent of the destruction or taking.

(c) Any dispute as to (1) the materiality of any part of the building destroyed or of the premises taken by eminent domain, or (2) the amount of any equitable abatement of the purchase price to which Purchaser is entitled, shall be referred to Harris & Johnson, Architects, whose written determination of the questions in dispute shall be final and conclusive as if rendered by a court of competent jurisdiction. If necessary, the closing date shall be adjourned until the dispute is fully resolved.

18. Broker. Purchaser represents to Seller that this sale was brought about by James Stoner & Company and Smith & Baron, as brokers, and that all negotiations with respect to the terms of this agreement were and are conducted exclusively by or through such brokers. If any claim is made for commissions by any broker other than James Stoner & Company or Smith & Baron, by, through, or on account of any acts of Purchaser or its representatives, Purchaser will hold Seller free and harmless from all liability and expenses in connection therewith. Purchaser shall pay the brokerage commission to James Stoner & Company and Smith & Baron if and when title passes hereunder. The provisions of this paragraph shall survive delivery of the Deed.

19. Waiver, change, or modification. This agreement may not be modified or terminated except by an instrument signed and executed by both parties.

20. Unmarketable title. If Seller is unable to convey a marketable title, subject to and in accordance with this agreement, other than due to his willful acts or omissions, its sole obligation shall be to refund Purchaser's down payment and to reimburse Purchaser for the cost of title examination. Upon the making of such refund and reimbursement, this agreement shall terminate and neither party shall have any further claim against the other by reason thereof, and Purchaser's lien, if any, against the premises shall wholly cease. Seller shall not be required to bring any action or proceeding or otherwise to incur any expense to render the title to the premises marketable. Purchaser may, nevertheless, accept such title Seller is able to convey, without any reduction of, or credit or allowance against, the purchase price and without any other liability against Seller. Purchaser's acceptance of a Deed shall be deemed to be a full performance and discharge of all of Seller's obligations hereunder, except any specifically stated herein to survive delivery of the Deed.

21. Cost of title examination. The term "cost of title examination" is defined, for the purposes of this agreement, as the expense actually incurred by Purchaser for title examination. Such cost, however, shall not exceed the net amount that would be charged by a title company in the City of New York for title examination of the premises, without issuance of policy, plus the cost to Purchaser of any survey actually obtained, such cost, however, not to exceed the amount which would be charged by such title company for a similar survey.

22. "As is" condition. Purchaser represents that it has inspected the premises and the personal property included in the sale and is purchasing them "as is."

23. Unpaid franchise tax. The nonpayment by Seller of the New York State franchise tax due at any time during the current year and its omission to file a franchise tax return during the current year shall not constitute an objection to Seller's title or a ground for the rejection of title. Seller shall hold Purchaser harmless from the collection of such franchise tax out of the premises. The provision of this paragraph shall survive delivery of the Deed. Unpaid franchise taxes of any corporation in the chain of title shall be no objection to title if Seller deposits with its attorney, in escrow, a reasonable amount to secure the payment of such unpaid franchise taxes within 60 days from the date of closing title.

24. Other unpaid liens. Unpaid liens for taxes, water charges, and assessments shall not be objections to title, but their amount, plus interest and penalties, shall be deducted from the cash consideration to be paid by, and allowed to, Purchaser, subject to the provisions for apportionment of taxes and water charges.

25. Seller's right to summary proceedings. Seller may institute summary proceedings against any tenant based on the tenant's default or failure to perform before the title closing.

26. Seller's right to proceedings for reduction of assessed values. Purchaser recognizes that there are currently pending proceedings instituted by Seller in connection with applications for the reduction of assessed values of the premises. Seller expressly reserves the right to continue such proceedings, to prosecute them through judgment, or to settle on any terms that it deems advisable. All refunds or tax savings resulting from such proceedings shall be apportioned between the parties as of the date of adjustments. Purchaser shall assume the legal retainer agreement with respect to required fees for such proceedings and such fees shall be apportioned between the parties as of the date of adjustments. Purchaser consents to any action so determined to be taken by Seller with respect to such proceedings.

27. Agreement indivisible. This agreement for the sale of Seller's real and personal property is indivisible even though separate considerations have been stated for the property. An election by either party under any provision hereunder shall be an election as to all such property, subject to the rights of election as set forth herein.

28. Entire agreement. This instrument constitutes the entire agreement between the parties. Seller is not liable or bound in any manner, except as otherwise expressly set forth herein, by express or implied warranties, guaranties, promises, statements, or representations pertaining to the premises or personal property or their condition, the rentals, or any other matter made or furnished by any real estate broker, agent, employee, or other person representing or purporting to represent Seller.

29. Survival of warranties. All warranties, representations, promises, covenants, and agreements specifically set forth in this agreement shall survive the acceptance of the Deed by Purchaser and payment made at the closing.

30. Notices. All notices under this agreement shall be in writing and sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid, addressed, if to Seller, to Carson Hotel, Inc., c/o Nathan & Adams, Esqs., 200 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York; and if to Purchaser, to Central Realty Corporation, c/o John Banner, Esq., 500 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York. Either party may, at any time and from time to time, in the manner set forth for the giving of notices, change the address designated in this paragraph.

31. Closing. The closing shall take place at the offices of Nathan & Adams, Esqs., Seller's attorney, at 10 a.m. on the fifth day after the New York State Liquor Authority takes final action on Purchaser's application or May 30, _____ [year], whichever date is later.

32. Seller's documents at the closing. At the closing, Seller shall deliver to Purchaser the following:

- (a) Deed to the real property;
- (b) Bill of Sale to the personal property;
- (c) Assignment of leases set forth in Schedule A, together with the leases referred to in such assignments and any security deposits provided for in such leases;
- (d) Assignment of any licenses that may be lawfully assigned;
- (e) Assignment of service contracts set forth in Schedule B;
- (f) Assignment of insurance policies on which apportionments were made;
- (g) Certified copy of minutes of Seller's directors and shareholders authorizing the sale; and
- (h) Assignment of service and maintenance contracts.

33. Purchaser obligations at the closing. At the closing, Purchaser shall deliver the following:

- (a) The consideration set forth in paragraph 3;
- (b) An amount for New York City and state sales tax set forth in paragraph 15;
- (c) An assumption agreement assuming all of the service contracts set forth in Schedule B;
- (d) Certified copy of minutes of Purchaser's directors and shareholders authorizing the purchase; and
- (e) Sales tax payment.

34. Assignment by purchaser. Purchaser may not assign this agreement without Seller's prior written consent.

35. Headings. Headings in this agreement are for convenience and reference only and shall not be used to interpret or construe its provisions.

36. Liquor license

(a) This sale is conditional upon the approval of the New York State Liquor Authority of Purchaser's application for a license to dispense alcoholic beverages for on-premises consumption for the premises and the issuance of an appropriate license.

(b) Purchaser represents and warrants as follows: that neither it nor any officers, directors, or shareholders owning 10 percent or more of it have ever been convicted of a crime; that the State Liquor Authority has never disapproved of an application of Purchaser or of its officers, directors, or shareholders; that neither Purchaser nor any of its officers, directors, or shareholders has ever had a license revoked, cancelled, or suspended; that Purchaser is not borrowing money from any brewery, wholesaler, or dispenser of wines and liquors for the purpose of investing it in the business being purchased; that the funds to be paid under this agreement are from sources acceptable to the State Liquor Authority; and that Purchaser knows of no reason why its application for a liquor license should be denied.

(c) Any refund that the State Liquor Authority or another governmental agency returns to Seller on its unexpired portion of a license shall fully belong to Seller.

(d) Purchaser shall make diligent effort to procure a license by, among other things, executing and filing an appropriate application within five days after this agreement is executed, and attending all hearings and interviews required by the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board and the State Liquor Authority. If the State Liquor Authority disapproves the application, and the disapproval is not due to Purchaser's omission or other fault under the representations made in subparagraph (b), this agreement shall terminate, the deposit shall be returned to Purchaser, and neither party shall have any claim against the other.

(e) Purchaser shall deliver to Seller a photocopy of each communication from the State Liquor Authority within 24 hours after receipt by Purchaser or its representative, and Purchaser authorizes Seller to make inquiries as to the status and progress of the application.

(f) Purchaser shall be deemed in default hereunder if (1) the State Liquor Authority disapproves of Purchaser's application for a liquor license because of any act, omission, or other fault of Purchaser under the representations made in subparagraph (b), or (2) Purchaser withdraws its application for the license. If Purchaser is in default for either reason, Seller shall retain, as liquidated damages, the monies paid by Purchaser on the signing of this agreement. The parties agree that the actual damages would be difficult to ascertain. The parties agree that said sum represents their best estimate of what the actual damages would be.

(g) If Purchaser is unable, not through its fault, to obtain the State Liquor Authority's approval of its application for an appropriate liquor license within 180 days from the date hereof, Seller may cancel this agreement by giving Purchaser written notice. If Seller elects to cancel, this agreement shall immediately terminate, the deposit made herein shall be returned to Purchaser, and neither party shall have any claim against the other.

37. Seller's representations. Seller has not made and does not make any representations as to the physical condition, income, expense, operation, or any other matter or thing affecting or related to the premises, except as herein specifically set forth, and Purchaser acknowledges that no such representations have been made. Seller is not liable or bound in any manner by any verbal or written statements, representations, real estate broker's "set ups," or information pertaining to the premises furnished by any real estate broker, agent, employee, servant, or other person, except as specifically set forth herein.

38. Lease renewals and rentals

(a) Seller makes no representations as to the continued occupancy by any tenant or tenants.

(b) Seller does not undertake, represent, or guarantee that any leases or tenancies currently in effect will be in effect at closing.

(c) Seller reserves the right to terminate any lease or tenancy by agreement or through summary proceedings.

(d) Seller may rent any space now vacant or which may become vacant and may extend or renew leases. However, all rentals, leases, extensions, or renewals shall be for a period of not more than two years from the date of making and at rentals consistent with those currently existing for comparable space in the premises.

(e) Seller represents that no concessions for free rent or otherwise have been given to any tenant or occupant of the premises.

39. Purchaser's inspections. From the date of this agreement, Purchaser may have its representatives upon the premises, but they shall not in any manner interfere with the operation of the hotel.

40. Purchaser's right to designate nominee. At the closing, Purchaser may require Seller to convey the land to one of Purchaser's nominees and the building and personal property to Purchaser or another nominee.

41. Binding effect. This agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective successors and assigns.

42. Nonwaiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise or enforce any right hereunder, and no partial or single exercise of such right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

43. Governing law. This agreement shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of New York.

44. Counterparts. This agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

45. Time of essence. Time is of the essence of this agreement.

The parties have caused this agreement to be signed the day and year first above written by their respective duly authorized officers.

Attest:

Secretary

Attest:

Secretary

Carson Hotel, Inc.

by _____
President

Carson Realty Corporation

by _____
President

79 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms

C. CONTRACTS OF SALE: COMMERCIAL PROPERTY

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.45

FORM 21.45 Sale of operating hotel--IRS tax ruling contingency--terms covering liquor license, inventory adjustments and purchases

COMMENT

This form illustrates some of the numerous provisions involved in the sale of a hotel. Many of these provisions are necessary because in a transaction of this kind the seller is transferring not only real estate but a hotel business connected with the real estate.

Hotel contract terms

Many of the provisions in this agreement cover items directly related to the sale of an operating hotel. These terms are in addition to those usually found in a contract for the sale of real estate, such as liens, purchase price, closing date, default, violations, assessments, deeds, casualty and condemnation, etc. Violations may relate to such matters as building and zoning codes, environmental laws, and the Americans With Disabilities Act of 1990 and its Accessibility Guidelines. The seller maintains a liquor license at the hotel. In this agreement, if the purchaser does not obtain the necessary governmental approval for transfer of the liquor license, the purchaser must still acquire the hotel, but the seller can store the liquor at the hotel until that inventory is sold to another party (paragraph 21). This is an alternative to having the contract contingent on approval of the liquor license transfer. This contract includes detailed adjustment terms which deal with inventory and other items used in the hotel operation (paragraph 14). In addition to adjustments, the purchaser will pay additional amounts for certain inventory and other personal property items not already included in the sale (paragraphs 19 and 20). This agreement also covers the transfer of custody over guest baggage, safe deposit boxes, and tenant security deposits (paragraphs 23 and 24). This contract is contingent on receipt of a satisfactory tax ruling (paragraph 5). This contingency is not unique to hotel contracts, and can be used in other appropriate transactions.

Tax ruling contingency

The closing of title under this contract is conditioned upon the issuance to the seller by the Service of a specific ruling with respect to the tax consequence of the transaction. Under some circumstances a taxpayer may obtain an advance ruling on a prospective transaction. Except in the few cases where the statute requires a prior determination, the issuance of such a ruling is discretionary.

Liquidation by seller

In this case the seller was a corporation. It sought a ruling that the sale qualified as a tax-free 12-month liquidation so that gain would not be recognized to the corporation, but only to the shareholders on the distributions in liquidation of the corporation. This provision was repealed by the Tax Reform Act of 1986. The framework of the contract clause, however, can still be used in other cases where a ruling is sought and the contract is contingent on the ruling.

Allocation of purchase price

The sale of a business involves purchase price allocation for both the seller and the purchaser. A going business is not a single property. Gain or loss must be computed for each of the assets sold, and the character of the gain or loss is separately determined for each asset. Consequently, the selling price should be allocated to each asset included in the sale. If, however, all of the assets produce capital gain, the allocation for the seller is not significant. The allocation for the purchaser is usually significant, particularly for establishing the cost of depreciable property and the cost of any inventory property.

Passive activity loss limitation

Generally speaking, rental real estate activity is considered to be a passive activity. Therefore, deductions and credits from rental activities can only offset income from other passive activities. Such deductions and credits cannot be deducted from nonpassive income, such as wages, dividends, interest, etc. However, there are two major exceptions to this general rule.

First, beginning in 1994, certain eligible taxpayers who materially participate in rental real estate activities can deduct losses from such activities against nonpassive income. These eligible taxpayers include individuals and closely-held C corporations that meet special eligibility requirements. IRC § 469(c)(7). Second, an individual who owns at least a 10-percent interest and actively participates in rental real estate activity is permitted to offset up to $25,000 of passive activity losses against his nonpassive income. IRC § 469(i). For an in-depth discussion of the passive activity loss rules, see the Tax Background at the beginning of this chapter, § 21.08[2].

"At risk" rules apply to hotel property

The "at risk" rules, limit, generally, the loss deductions which a taxpayer may take in most activities to the amount which the taxpayer has at risk. For example, funds secured by nonrecourse mortgages are not at risk because the taxpayer is not personally liable (unless the financing meets the definition of qualified nonrecourse financing). The at risk limitation does apply to real estate placed in service by the taxpayer after 1986. The activity of holding real property includes losses and expenses related to personal property and services which are incidental to making real property available as living accommodations. Thus, losses realized in rendering services or maintaining personal property incidental to the operation of a motel or hotel, held by the taxpayer, are limited to the amount at risk by the taxpayer with respect to such services, personal property and real estate. For a further discussion of the at risk rules see the Tax Background (TB) § 21.09 at the beginning of this chapter, and the TB in Chapter 1, "Partnerships," in Volume 1.

FORM

AGREEMENT made September 10, _____ [year], between Hotel Crown Corporation, a New York corporation, having its principal office at the Hotel Crown, 800 Main Street, White Plains, New York ("Seller"), and William Alterman, residing at 100 Circle Drive, New Rochelle, New York ("Purchaser").

1. Sale. Seller shall sell and convey, and the Purchaser shall purchase, all that certain plot, piece, or parcel of land, with the buildings and improvements thereon erected, in the City of White Plains, County of Westchester, State of New York, bounded and described as follows:

(Insert description)

Together with all right, title, and interest of the Seller in and to the use of the names "Hotel Crown" and "Crown Hotel," and in and to the use of the names of all the public rooms in the hotel.

2. Purchase price. The purchase price is $3.8 million, of which $330,000 is allocated to the price of the furniture and furnishings included in this sale, to be paid as follows:

$40,000--on the signing of this contract, by check subject to collection, receipt acknowledged;

$3 million--(except as herein provided) in cash or good certified check or checks upon the delivery of the deed;

$760,000--by taking title subject to a consolidated first mortgage now a lien on the premises in that amount, bearing interest of 9 percent per annum, with constant quarter-annual payments on the 1st days of March, June, September, and December in each year as follows:

To and including March 1, _____ [year]	--$18,000
To and including March 1, _____ [year]	--$17,400
To and including March 1, _____ [year]	--$15,000
Balance due March 1, _____ [year]

3. First mortgage. A copy of each of the following instruments relating to the consolidated first mortgage referred to in paragraph 2 has been exhibited to and initialed by Purchaser's attorney:

(a) Consolidation and extension agreement, dated March 2, _____ [year], between Mountain Insurance Company and James Cooper.

(b) Security interest granted by James Cooper to Mountain Insurance Company pursuant to a Security Agreement dated March 2, _____ [year].

Seller shall procure and deliver on the closing date receipts or a letter from the mortgagee and the holder of the security interest indicating the amount of the unpaid principal and interest on the closing date, and such receipts or letter shall be deemed sufficient evidence of such facts. All regular installments of principal paid under the consolidated first mortgage between the date hereof and the closing date shall be repaid by Purchaser to Seller by adding the amount thereof to the amount of cash to be paid on the closing date.

4. Liens and encumbrances. The premises are sold and are to be conveyed subject to:

(a) The consolidated first mortgage referred to in paragraph 2.

(b) The state of facts shown on survey dated April 6, _____ [year], and redated August 1, _____ [year], made by William Wolf, P.E., a copy of which has been exhibited to and initialed by Purchaser's attorney.

(c) Zoning regulations and ordinances, if they are not violated by existing structures or use.

(d) Consents by any owner of the premises for the erection of any structure or structures on, under, or above any street or streets on which the premises abut.

(e) Utility easements and agreements.

(f) Leases and agreements set forth on the annexed schedule marked Schedule A.

(g) Service, rental, and music contracts set forth on the annexed schedule marked Schedule B.

(h) Management contract dated October 1, _____ [year], between Hotel Crown Corporation and Hotel Managers, Inc.

A copy of each instrument recited in items (f), (g), and (h) has been exhibited to and initialed by Purchaser's attorney.

5. Tax ruling

(a) The closing of title is conditioned upon the procurement by Seller of a ruling from the U.S. Treasury Department that no gain or loss to Seller will result from the proposed sale under the provisions of IRC Section 337. Seller shall file its application for such ruling not later than 30 days from the date hereof, and in any event shall use its best efforts to obtain the ruling as promptly as practicable. Seller shall deliver to Purchaser, within three business days after filing the application, a copy of the application with a statement as to the date of filing.

(b) Seller shall deliver to Purchaser, within three business days of receipt, a copy of the ruling issued with respect to the application. If Seller obtains a favorable ruling on or before April 1, _____ [year] (or May 1, _____ [year], if Seller's time to obtain a favorable ruling is extended as provided in subparagraph (c), below), and a copy of the ruling is furnished to Purchaser in the manner provided above, Purchaser shall, within three days after receiving the copy, make a further payment of $150,000 on account of the purchase price.

(c) If a favorable ruling is not obtained by April 1, _____ [year], Purchaser may extend Seller's time for obtaining a favorable ruling to May 1, _____ [year]. If Purchaser does not notify Seller by April 4, _____ [year] of Purchaser's election to exercise this option, or if the option is exercised but a favorable ruling is not obtained by the adjourned date, this agreement shall terminate, Seller shall return to Purchaser all sums paid on account of the purchase price, and neither party shall have any further claim against, or obligation to, the other.

(d) If a favorable ruling is obtained, Seller shall cause a special meeting of its shareholders to be held within 45 days thereafter, for the purpose of voting upon (1) a plan of complete liquidation in compliance with the provisions of IRC Section 337, and (2) the approval of the sale under this contract. Seller agrees to obtain the requisite vote of shareholders at the meeting for such approvals. Seller shall deliver to Purchaser, within five days after such meeting, a certified copy of the resolutions adopted with respect to the plan of liquidation and sale.

6. Closing. The closing of title shall then take place at the office of Loomis & Goodman, Esqs., 500 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York, at 10 a.m., on the last business day (the "closing date") of the third complete calendar month following the month in which the ruling referred to in paragraph 5 is obtained. Purchaser shall be entitled to an adjournment of the closing date for a period of one month upon making a further payment of $20,000 on account of the purchase price, at least ten days before the closing date. Purchaser shall be entitled to a further adjournment for a period of one month upon making a further payment of $20,000 on account of the purchase price, at least ten days before the adjourned closing date. Purchaser shall be entitled to no other adjournments of the closing date.

7. Adjustment date. All adjustments hereunder are to be made as of 11:59 p.m. on the last day of the month in which the closing of title takes place (the "adjustment date").

8. Default by purchaser. If Purchaser defaults, this contract shall terminate and Seller shall retain, as liquidated damages, all payments made by Purchaser on account of the purchase price. Thereupon, neither party shall have any further claim against, or obligation to, the other. If the further payment of $150,000 has not been made as provided in paragraph 5(b), Purchaser shall be personally liable to Seller for such amount, notwithstanding any transfer or assignment of this contract. In that event, Seller shall retain, as liquidated damages, both the $150,000 and the initial payment of $50,000 on account of the purchase price, and neither party shall have any further claim against, or obligation to, the other.

9. Failure of title. If Seller is unable to convey title to the premises, subject only to the encumbrances, terms, and conditions set forth herein, and such failure is not due to Seller's wilful act or failure to act, Purchaser may either: (1) accept such title Seller is able to convey, without making a claim for abatement for defects or objections, or (2) rescind this contract, after first affording Seller reasonable adjournments of title (not exceeding two months) to enable it to cure or correct the defects or objections to title. If Purchaser elects to rescind, Seller shall immediately repay Purchaser all sums deposited on account of the purchase price, plus the net cost of title examination, this contract shall terminate, and neither party shall have any further claim against, or obligation to, the other. Nothing contained herein, however, shall be deemed to require Seller to bring any action or proceeding, or otherwise to incur any expense, to render title to the premises marketable, except that Seller shall make the required payments if any defect or objection can be cured or corrected by the payment of a fixed sum of money.

10. Violations

(a) Violations. Seller shall comply with all notices or notes of violations of law noted or issued against or affecting the premises at the date hereof or at any later time up to and including the closing date, including without limitation those related to environmental laws, federal, state and local, and those related to the Americans With Disabilities Act of 1990 and its Accessibility Guidelines, and the premises shall be conveyed free of such violations. Seller shall authorize Purchaser to make the necessary searches for violations if requested in writing. Seller's failure to comply with any notices or notes by the closing date shall not be an objection to title if Seller, at the closing, deposits with its attorney, in escrow, a sufficient sum, or furnishes to Purchaser a bond of a reputable surety company in a sufficient amount, reasonably to insure compliance with or discharge of such notes or notices within 90 days from the closing date. If this cannot be done, Seller will promptly commence the required work and proceed with due diligence to completion.

(b) Notwithstanding the above, if the lending institution from which Purchaser procures financing in connection with this transaction requires such compliance or discharge before the closing date, Seller, upon receiving notice, shall so comply or secure the discharge if compliance may be accomplished by the closing date with the exercise of due diligence. If it cannot, Seller shall commence the required work promptly and proceed with due diligence to completion, and shall make the deposit upon closing to insure compliance and discharge. Seller shall give Purchaser written notice promptly upon Seller's receipt of all notices of violation.

11. Assessments. If, on the closing date, the premises or any part thereof are affected by an assessment or assessments which are or may become payable in annual installments, of which the first installment is then a charge or lien, or has been paid, for the purposes of this contract all the unpaid installments of any such assessments, including those which are to become due and payable after the closing date, shall be deemed to be due and payable and to be liens upon the premises, and shall be paid and discharged by Seller on the closing date.

12. Deed. The deed shall be the usual bargain and sale deed with covenants against grantor's acts in proper statutory short form for record and shall be duly executed, and acknowledged, so as to convey to Purchaser the fee simple of the premises, free of all encumbrances, except as herein stated, and shall also contain the covenant required by subdivision 5 of Section 13 of the Lien Law. Seller shall give and Purchaser shall accept whatever title the Manhattan Guarantee & Trust Company would approve and insure.

13. Bulk sale. Seller shall indemnify Purchaser against any claim, loss, or liability arising under the Bulk Sales Law in connection with this transaction.

14. Adjustments. The following adjustments, to be computed and determined by Smith & Smith, C.P.A.s, are to be made at the closing:

(a) Rents and other charges due Seller, as collected. With respect, however, to rents and other charges for which the liability is undisputed for the two-month period preceding the adjustment date, the first monies received for 90 days after the closing date from debtors owing such rents or other charges shall be received in trust for Seller on account of the rents or charges, and the same shall be remitted to Seller every ten days during such 90-day period. Seller may, at any one or more times, enforce collection of such rents and charges against the debtors, in its own name only, and Purchaser shall have no collection obligation except to receive and remit. At the end of the 90-day period Purchaser's obligations under this subparagraph (a) shall terminate, and Purchaser shall remit all collections then in its possession and return all accounts receivable records.

(b) The adjustment, if any, of guest room revenues for the night of the adjustment date shall be determined by the accounting firm of Smith & Smith, the determination to be evidenced by letter of the firm and to be conclusive upon the parties.

(c) Public room operations shall be adjusted as of the closing hours of the rooms involved in the day following the adjustment date. All expenses and income to such closing hours shall belong to Seller, and the inventory of food, beverage, and liquor therein shall be taken as of such closing hours on that date.

(d) Interest on the consolidated first mortgage referred to in paragraph 2.

(e) Premiums on the insurance policies, or renewals of those expiring before the closing date, such policies being set forth on the annexed schedule marked Schedule C, and all dividends or premium credits with respect to them. Wherever possible Seller shall make such renewals for five-year periods payable in annual installments.

(f) Wages and related payroll expenses. Seller has exhibited to Purchaser and Purchaser has initialed the current payroll. Seller represents that the employees listed thereon are all of the employees of the hotel, for the period indicated, and that there will be no additions to the payroll between the date hereof and the closing date, except as required in the normal course of operation. Seller represents that there are no employment contracts, except as specified in paragraph 4 and except the union contract noted in Schedule B. There shall be no adjustment for Christmas or other bonuses of employees.

(g) Vacation pay of all employees, except those positions listed on the annexed schedule marked Schedule D. Seller shall, however, receive a credit against this adjustment in a sum equivalent to 15 percent (in lieu of any adjustment in favor of Seller for normal turnover of employees and for employees who are not replaced during their vacation periods).

(h) Taxes, on the basis of the fiscal year for which assessed. If the closing date occurs before the tax rate is fixed, the apportionment of taxes shall be upon the basis of the tax rate for the next preceding year applied to the latest assessed valuation.

(i) Water charges and sewer rents. Seller shall furnish a reading of all water meters to a date not more than 30 days before the closing date, and the unfixed meter charge and the unfixed sewer rent, if any, based thereon for the intervening time shall be apportioned on the basis of such last reading.

(j) Fuel. The amount of fuel on hand on the adjustment date shall be determined by Seller's supplier and set forth in a letter from the supplier, a copy of which will be delivered to Purchaser. Smith & Smith will determine the cost based upon Seller's most recent bills.

(k) Advertising expenses and unused advertising contracts and due bills.

(l) Trade publication subscriptions, and hotel and trade association dues.

(m) Auditing fees, and credit information service.

(n) Music and entertainment expenses, music license fees, broadcasting charges, and copyright charges.

(o) Licenses and permits assignable by law.

(p) Postage meter rental, and unused meter postage.

(q) Sundry deposits made to suppliers, if transferable.

(r) All other charges on service contracts, equipment rental contracts, and music contracts as set forth in Schedule B. In making these adjustments Seller shall pay all laundry, dry cleaning, and contract cleaning charges on items sent out before the adjustment date even if not returned by that date.

(s) House banks, petty cash funds, and cash registers. Seller and Purchaser shall jointly participate with Smith & Smith in the counting of these moneys. Seller may, however, by giving two-days' prior notice to Purchaser, remove all such moneys on the adjustment date in lieu of adjusting them.

(t) Tour agents commissions.

(u) American Express, Master Card, Visa, and Diners Club commissions, and commissions of other credit organizations.

(v) Checkroom and washrooms coin lock income.

(w) Laundry, florist, and vending machine percentage rentals.

(x) All prepaid rents, room rental deposits, and all other deposits for advance reservations, banquets, or future services.

(y) All employees union dues to be paid to New York Trades Council, Inc.

15. Discharge of taxes, water rents, etc. The amount of any unpaid taxes, assessments, water charges, and sewer rents which Seller is obligated to pay and discharge, with the interest and penalties to a date not less than three business days after the adjustment date, may, if Seller elects, be allowed to Purchaser out of the balance of the purchase price, if official bills with interest and penalties included to such date, are furnished by Seller on the closing date. If on the closing date there are any other liens or encumbrances which Seller is obligated to pay and discharge, Seller may use any portion of the balance of the purchase price to satisfy them, if Seller has delivered to Purchaser on the closing date instruments in recordable form and sufficient to satisfy such liens and encumbrances of record, together with the cost of recording or filing such instruments. Purchaser, if request is made within a reasonable time before the closing date, shall provide on that date separate certified checks as requested, aggregating the amount of the balance of the purchase price, to facilitate the satisfaction of any such liens or encumbrances. The existence of such taxes or other liens and encumbrances shall not be deemed objections to title if Seller complies with the above requirements.

16. Unpaid franchise taxes. Unpaid franchise taxes of Seller or of any corporation in the chain of title shall not be an objection to the title, if Seller deposits in escrow with the title company insuring the title the amount required by such company to enable it to insure against collection of such unpaid franchise taxes out of the premises.

17. Items not to be adjusted

(a) Telephone, electricity, gas, and steam charges will not be adjusted. Seller will arrange for the making of collections or rendition of final bills by the public utility companies involved as of the adjustment date, and will pay such bills as rendered.

(b) Seller shall be responsible for any income, franchise, occupancy, or other tax liabilities relating to periods before the adjustment date, even if such liabilities do not arise or become payable before then.

18. Documents to be delivered by seller

(a) On the closing date Seller shall turn over to Purchaser all mailing lists, register books, rental records, other guest records, promotion records, banquet records, and other hotel operational records. Seller may examine such records for three years after the closing, but Purchaser shall have no responsibility for their care.

(b) On the closing date Seller shall assign to Purchaser all its right, title, and interest in and to all leases and contracts set forth in Schedules A and B, and in and to the contract set forth in paragraph 4(h), and Purchaser shall assume the performance of all Seller's obligations accruing under such leases and contracts from and after the closing date. Seller shall indemnify the Purchaser against all claims, losses, and liabilities in connection with such leases, contracts, and agreements accruing before the closing date or arising out of Seller's acts or omissions before the closing date.

(c) Seller covenants and warrants that all license fees for all vault space appurtenant to premises have been paid, and Seller shall indemnify Purchaser against any claim, loss, or liability in connection therewith. Seller shall deliver to Purchaser at the closing all vault licenses and permits in its possession.

19. Personal annexed property

(a) The items of personal property set forth in the annexed inventory marked Exhibit E, are included in the sale. Seller represents that it owns all of such items free and clear of any liens and encumbrances, except the consolidated first mortgage and security interest referred to in paragraph 3. Seller shall not remove from the premises any of such items or any other items of personal property included in this sale between the date hereof and the closing date, except as required for repair or replacement. Replacements shall be of equal quality and quantity, and shall be free and clear of any lien and encumbrance, except the consolidated first mortgage and security interest. Seller may retain the proceeds of the sale of any replaced item, except that if the proceeds exceed the cost of the replacement item the excess shall be turned over to Purchaser on the closing date. On the closing date, Seller shall deliver a supplemental inventory setting forth all additions and replacements of personal property between the date of the annexed inventory and the closing date.

(b) On the closing date, Seller shall also deliver a detailed additional inventory of all restaurant, bar, and kitchen equipment, service bars, housekeeping linens, blankets, carpeting and other equipment, mechanical, carpentry, and electrical shop machinery and equipment, and furnishings and equipment belonging to Seller in the barber, valet, and beauty shops. The additional inventory shall also include the serial number or manufacturers' make of each office machine listed on the annexed inventory. Purchaser may at any time before the closing date take a physical inventory of the personal property included in this sale. If Purchaser takes an inventory, he will apprise Seller of any discrepancies found in the annexed inventory, at least five days before the closing date, in order that an opportunity be given to reflect the actual personal property to be contained in the supplemental inventory. Seller warrants and represents that it now has and on the closing date will have good title to all the personal property included in this sale, and that the same will be delivered to Purchaser free and clear of all liens and encumbrances, except the consolidated first mortgage and security interest. On the closing date, Seller will deliver to Purchaser a bill of sale covering the personal property together with the usual warranty of title.

20. Certain personalty to be purchased separately. Included in this sale are all fixtures, chattels, and articles of personal property (except items owned by tenants or occupants of space and rental items listed on Schedule B) constructed or placed upon or attached to or used in connection with the operation of the premises or which may hereafter be attached to or used in connection with the premises by Seller, regardless of whether enumerated on the annexed inventory marked Schedule E, or located on or off the premises, including television receivers, air conditioning machinery, ducts, apparatus, and equipment, office furniture, machines, and equipment, restaurant, bar, and kitchen furnishings and equipment, operating supplies and equipment, public and guest room furniture and furnishings, and all glassware, chinaware, silverware, and three changes of linens. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the following shall be purchased separately by Purchaser: food supplies in raw state and unprocessed; alcoholic beverages and soft drinks in unopened bottles; and supplies, stationery, printed matter, advertising literature, linen, chinaware, silverware, glassware, and other inventory in reserve stock and unused. The separate purchase of such items shall be upon the following conditions:

- (a) The only items to be purchased separately are those Smith & Smith certifies to be unused, in good condition, and readily saleable or useable. All other items are included in the purchase price for the premises.
- (b) All stationery, printed matter, and advertising literature shall have no distinguishing names other than that of "Hotel Crown" or its public rooms.
- (c) Purchaser shall only be obligated to purchase normal amounts of items reasonably required for the operation of the hotel.
- (d) The amount of such items shall be determined by an inventory to be taken by Smith & Smith, and the price shall be computed at cost or market, whichever is lower, as certified by Smith & Smith. The parties shall jointly supervise the taking of the inventory.
- (e) Seller warrants that it has and will have on the closing date good title to all the items being purchased separately and that such items will be delivered to Purchaser free and clear of all liens and encumbrances, except the consolidated first mortgage and security interest referred to in paragraph 3. Seller will deliver to Purchaser on the closing date a bill of sale covering such items, together with the usual warranty of title.

(f) All adjustments shall be determined and computed by Smith & Smith, which shall also make all other determinations relating to inventory, prices, saleability, and useability. All determinations of Smith & Smith under this agreement shall be consistent with general hotel accounting practice and shall be conclusively binding on both parties. The payment of this firm's fees for services shall be shared equally by the parties. In view of the difficulty in completing the computation of adjustments and the taking of inventory and pricing of personal property to be purchased separately, on the closing date Purchaser or Seller, as the case may be, will pay the amount certified by Smith & Smith as that firm's estimate of the net adjustments. Within 30 days thereafter, or on any later date that Smith & Smith reasonably requires, that firm shall make and certify final computations. At that time, Seller or Purchaser, as the case may be, will promptly make such payments as are found to be due upon such final computation.

21. Liquor license and liquor. Promptly after the execution hereof, Purchaser shall cause an application to be filed with the appropriate governmental authorities for an on-premises liquor license. The application shall be prosecuted with due diligence, and an endeavor made to obtain such license before the closing date. Seller shall apply for and obtain a liquidator's permit and take all other necessary steps to comply with the applicable laws so as to permit the sale by Seller of all liquor in unopened bottles under the terms of this agreement. If, however, the on-premises liquor license is not granted by the closing date, such liquor will not be purchased hereunder, but in that event, Seller may store such liquor on the premises, rent free, until the license is granted, and at that time Purchaser will purchase the liquor.

22. Operation and maintenance of hotel. Seller covenants and warrants that between the date hereof and the closing date it will continue its usual program of maintenance and repair of the premises, the existing operation of the premises, and its present advertising commitments and its usual program of advertising. However, Seller will not be required during such period to make any capital improvements in the premises, except those required in the usual program of maintenance and repair. Smith & Smith shall make the conclusive determination as to whether the existing operating, maintenance, repair, and advertising programs have been properly continued. The determination of that firm shall also be conclusively binding as to capital improvements that may be required in the usual program of maintenance and repair. It is the parties' intention that the general operation of the premises shall not be changed between the date hereof and the closing date. Purchaser may, during normal business hours, make a physical inspection of the premises and obtain from Seller all information with respect to the operation of the premises that would enable him to determine whether the provisions of this paragraph are being complied with.

23. Guest baggage and safe deposits

(a) Any baggage or other property of departed guests held by Seller as security for unpaid accounts receivable may be left on the premises for a period of 60 days following the closing date. After such period, Seller will remove all such baggage or property. Seller shall indemnify Purchaser against all claims, losses, and liabilities in connection with the holding of such baggage or other property.

(b) On the closing date, the parties shall jointly inventory, seal, and tag all baggage checked with or left in Seller's care that belongs to guests who are still in the hotel on such date. Purchaser shall indemnify Seller against all claims, losses, or liabilities in connection with the baggage arising out of Purchaser's acts or omissions after the closing date. Seller shall indemnify Purchaser against all claims, losses, or liabilities with respect to the baggage arising out of Seller's acts or omissions before the closing date.

24. Leases, rents, and tenants

(a) Seller represents and covenants that all rents due or to become due in connection with the use and occupancy of any space in the premises are not now and on the closing date will not be subject to any assignments, liens, or encumbrances, except the consolidated first mortgage and security interest referred to in paragraph 3.

(b) Seller shall turn over to Purchaser at the closing all security deposits of tenants which Seller holds at that time against Purchaser's written receipt. Included in Schedule A is a list of all security deposits now held by Seller. Seller will not return any deposits to the tenants or allow part of the deposits as a credit against rent unless required to do so by the terms of the tenants' leases. On the closing date, Seller will represent and warrant to Purchaser that the securities delivered to Purchaser are the only ones then held by Seller.

(c) Seller represents and warrants that there are no leases or agreements in force and effect covering the use and occupancy of space in the premises other than those listed on Schedules A and F and transient guests on a day-to-day basis. Seller covenants that the leases and agreements thus listed will not be modified or cancelled by agreement, or an accepted surrender, during the period between the date hereof and the closing date without Purchaser's written consent.

(d) Seller shall not enter into any extensions or renewals of existing or expired leases, or enter into any new leases, without Purchaser's prior written consent. If the terms of any new leases or extensions or renewals of old leases commence after the date hereof, the cost of any required repairs or improvements and any brokerage fees and commissions due to brokers, incurred in connection therewith, shall be apportioned between the parties on the closing date on the basis of the initial term of the extension, renewal, or new lease.

(e) The existence of any new or additional vacancies or the expiration of any leases shall not affect the obligations of the parties, and Purchaser shall take title subject thereto without allowance or abatement, or reduction of purchase price, if such vacancies or expirations do not result from any cancellation by agreement or any acceptance by Seller of the surrender of the unexpired term of any leases, and Purchaser has not consented in writing to the cancellation or surrender. Seller shall pay over to Purchaser on the closing date any cancellation penalty paid by a tenant in connection with a cancellation or surrender.

(f) Seller covenants and warrants that all work required to be performed at any time under leases executed before the date hereof, and all work required to be performed and all personal property required to be furnished in rooms at any time pursuant to agreements or commitments with hotel guests made before the date hereof, have been or will be completed and paid for before the closing. Seller shall indemnify Purchaser against any claim, loss, or liability with respect to such requirements. Seller further covenants and warrants that no payments, credits, rebates, reductions, concessions, or other amounts are due or will become due to tenants under leases executed before the date hereof, except as expressly provided in the leases referred to in Schedule A or agreements or commitments made with hotel guests before the date hereof; and Seller shall indemnify Purchaser against any claim, loss, or liability with respect thereto. Seller shall pay all commissions in connection with any lease executed before the date hereof and indemnify Purchaser against any claim, loss, or liability with respect thereto.

25. Fire and other insurance. Until the closing of title, Seller will not cancel its present fire insurance policies on building and contents, or for rent and use and occupancy insurance, now carried upon the premises, as listed upon annexed Schedule C. If the insurance carrier cancels any such policy, Seller will promptly obtain new coverage in the same amount.

26. Uninsured damage to premises. If the premises are damaged before the closing date by fire or other casualty not covered by insurance, the provisions of Section 5-1311 of the General Obligations Law, the New York Uniform Vendor and Purchaser Risk Act, shall govern.

27. Insured damage to premises. If the premises are damaged before the closing date by fire or other casualty covered by insurance:

- (a) Seller shall give prompt written notice of the damage to Purchaser.
- (b) Seller shall furnish Purchaser promptly with an estimate of the Hammer Company, contractor, of 100 Country Drive, White Plains, New York, of the estimated cost of restoration, replacement, or repair of the damage.
- (c) If the estimated cost of restoration, replacement, or repair does not exceed $600,000, Seller shall, with due diligence, proceed to effect the restoration, replacement, or repair, at its expense, and shall receive the funds payable by the insurance companies.
- (d) If the estimated cost of the restoration, replacement, or repair exceeds $600,000, Purchaser may cancel this contract by giving Seller written notice of cancellation within 30 days after receipt of Seller's notice of damage and of such estimate. In that case, all sums paid by Purchaser to Seller on account of the purchase price shall be repaid to Purchaser, this agreement shall be cancelled, and neither party shall have any further claim or remedy against the other. If Purchaser does not elect to cancel this contract, Seller shall, with due diligence, proceed to effect the restoration, replacement, or repair, at its expense, and shall receive the funds payable by the insurance companies for the restoration, replacement, or repair.
- (e) Seller shall submit all contracts for the restoration, replacement, or repair to Purchaser for approval of their provisions except the provision regarding cost, but Purchaser shall not unreasonably withhold his approval.
- (f) If the restoration, replacement, or repair is not completed on the closing date:
- (1) Seller shall furnish Purchaser a bond of a surety company authorized to do business in the State of New York in any form and contents and amount that is reasonably acceptable to Purchaser, guaranteeing the performance and completion of all such work, the discharge of any liens that are filed in connection therewith or by reason thereof, and the payment of the cost of restoration, replacement, or repair. Or Seller shall deposit with the Central Trust Company under a depositary agreement to which Purchaser is a party cash, government bonds, or securities listed on the New York Stock Exchange or American Stock Exchange in the amount determined by Hammer Company, as adequate to guarantee the performance and completion of such work, the discharge of liens with respect thereto, and the payment of the cost thereof.
 - (2) Seller shall deliver to Purchaser Seller's agreement to indemnify and save harmless Purchaser against all claim, loss, or liability with respect to the performance, completion, discharge of liens, and payment of the cost of such work, regardless of whether such bond, bonds, or securities are sufficient for these purposes.
 - (3) Seller shall also obtain public liability insurance in which Purchaser is named as one of the insureds, with limits of $1,000,000 for personal injury to any one person, and $2 million in connection with any one occurrence, and $500,000 for property damage, and Workmen's Compensation Insurance. Seller shall deliver the insurance policies, together with proof of payment of the premiums, to Purchaser. The policies shall provide that Purchaser be given at least ten-days' prior notice of any cancellation. Seller shall indemnify and hold harmless Purchaser from and against all claims, loss, or liability resulting from Purchaser's failure to carry the required insurance.

(g) Seller shall assign to Purchaser on the closing date all of Seller's claims under the rent and use and occupancy insurance policies listed in Schedule C for damages accruing after the closing date by reason of such casualty.

28. Eminent domain. If before the closing date the entire premises is taken by any governmental authority under its power of eminent domain, Purchaser may, by giving Seller written notice within ten business days after the taking, either:

(a) Take title to the premises on the closing date without any abatement or adjustment in the purchase price, in which event Seller shall assign its rights in the condemnation award to Purchaser (or Purchaser shall receive the condemnation award from Seller if it has already been paid before the closing date); or

(b) Cancel this contract, in which event all sums deposited on account of the purchase price shall be refunded to Purchaser, this agreement shall be null and void, and neither party shall have any further right or remedy against the other.

29. Lien for purchaser's deposit and expenses. All sums paid on account of this contract and the reasonable expenses of the examination of the title to the premises are made liens thereon, but such liens shall not continue after Purchaser's default hereunder.

30. Judgments not applicable. If a search of the title discloses judgments, bankruptcies, or other returns against other persons having names the same as or similar to that of Seller, Seller will on request deliver to Purchaser an affidavit showing that such judgments, bankruptcies, or other returns are not against it.

31. Pending lawsuits. Seller covenants and warrants that no other suits, actions, or proceedings are pending, whether involving a governmental authority or private party, to which Seller is a party or in connection with the operation of the hotel or its bars or restaurants, except those arising in the ordinary course of business and negligence actions covered by liability insurance and Workmen's Compensation claims. Seller shall give Purchaser prompt notice of all suits instituted between the date hereof and the closing date.

32. Corporate resolutions and affidavits. Seller shall deliver to Purchaser at the closing a certified copy of the resolution of its Board of Directors authorizing the sale of the premises under this contract, together with the affidavit of its President or Vice President stating that the resolution of stockholders authorizing the sale, referred to in paragraph 5(d), was adopted by a vote of the holders of at least two thirds of Seller's shares issued, outstanding, and entitled to vote, at a special meeting duly called for such purpose. Seller shall also deliver to Purchaser the affidavit of its President, Treasurer, or other fiscal officer warranting that the conveyance of the premises to Purchaser will not render Seller insolvent, and all other resolutions and documents that the title company insuring title reasonably requires.

33. Abatement of purchase price for limited breach by seller. If either of the following events occur, and Purchaser's resulting damages do not exceed $70,000, Purchaser may not cancel or rescind this contract but rather shall receive an appropriate abatement of the purchase price on the closing date: (1) any of Seller's representations or warranties under the contract are incomplete or untrue, or (2) any of Seller's covenants hereunder are breached before the closing date. Nothing contained herein, however, shall constitute a waiver of Purchaser's rights to recover for damages after the closing date by reason of incomplete or untrue representations and warranties, or the breach of covenants, which survive delivery of the deed.

34. Broker. The parties acknowledge that Deerfoot Realty Corp. is the only broker involved in this transaction and brought about this sale. Seller shall pay the broker's commission in accordance with the terms of a separate agreement made between them.

35. Recording of contract. This contract or a memorandum of it may be recorded in the Office of the Register of Westchester County.

36. Notices. All notices under this contract shall be sent by certified mail, be deemed given when mailed, and be addressed as follows:

(a) If to Purchaser: c/o William Johnson, Esq.
200 Madison Avenue
New York, New York

(b) If to Seller:

c/o
Loomis &
Goodman,
Esqs.
100 Fifth Avenue
New York,
New York

37. Provisions surviving delivery of deed. The provisions of the following paragraphs shall survive the delivery of the deed hereunder: 10, 13, 14, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 23, 24, 25, 33, and 34.

38. Entire agreement; modification. This contract constitutes the entire agreement between the parties. It may not be modified except by an instrument duly executed by the party against whom the enforcement of such modification is sought. This contract is being entered into after full investigation, neither party relying upon the other party's statements or representations unless contained herein. Purchaser has inspected the buildings, furnishings, and equipment on the premises and is thoroughly acquainted with their condition.

39. Binding effect. This agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective legal representatives, successors, and assigns.

40. Nonwaiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise or enforce any right hereunder, and no partial or single exercise thereof, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

41. Headings. Headings in this contract are for convenience and reference only and shall not be used to interpret or construe its provisions.

42. Governing law. This agreement shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of New York.

43. Counterparts. This agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

44. Time of essence. Time is of the essence of this agreement.

The parties have duly signed this agreement.

Corporate Seal

Attest:

Secretary

Hotel Crown Corporation

by: _____

President

William Alterman

80 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms

C. CONTRACTS OF SALE: COMMERCIAL PROPERTY

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.46

FORM 21.46 Sale of resort motel, restaurant, and lounge--price allocation by separate contracts for motel and for restaurant-lounge--inventory valuation by accountant--contingent on mortgage commitment, franchise and liquor license transfers

COMMENT

These two contracts are part of a single transaction. In the first agreement, the largest asset, the real estate of the motel, is sold along with the personal property used in connection with the operation of the motel. The purchaser has made its purchase contingent on inspection of the property. This will allow the purchaser to do its due diligence regarding such matters as the physical condition of the property, environmental compliance, and compliance with the Americans With Disabilities Act of 1990 and its Accessibility Guidelines. This transaction should be approached not only as a sale of real estate, but also as the sale of an on-going business. In the second contract the parties deal with the sale of the lounge and restaurant business.

Allocation of purchase price

The specific allocation of the purchase price in the contract to the various assets sold is an advantage to both the buyer and the seller. The negotiation of the price for each asset, specified in the contract, is strong evidence of its fair market value. This negotiated allocation should be persuasive with the Service for purposes of determining the seller's gain or loss, and the purchaser's basis for depreciation.

In the transaction here, the parties have allocated the price to the various assets, not only in the individual contracts, but also by means of writing two separate contracts dealing with two different classes of assets: (1) the motel (real estate vs. related personal property), and (2) the lounge and restaurant businesses (business, licenses, and franchise vs. inventory). A further break down of the purchase price may be desirable in other circumstances. Value may be determined at a later date for tax purposes, but without the advantage of a specifically negotiated, arm's length fair market value set forth in a written contract.

At risk loss limitation

Generally, an investor's loss deductions are limited to the amount which he has "at risk." The amount of money invested in a venture, but obtained through nonrecourse financing, i.e., the borrower-investor is not personally liable on the loan, is not considered, generally, to be at risk (unless the nonrecourse financing is "qualified nonrecourse financing"). Subject to the at risk loss deduction limitation are the losses incurred in the holding of real estate and personal property and rendering services in making such real property available as a living accommodation.

Transferee liabilities

One of the prime considerations of buyer's counsel recommending a purchase of assets rather than the corporate entity itself is the avoidance of certain contingent liabilities of the corporation. Although a buyer may be willing to assume known liabilities which are a lien on a particular asset, such as a mortgage or secured loan, he may be unwilling to assume liability for outstanding or potential law suits, regulatory violations, or executory contracts. Although a substantial amount of the seller's liability can be avoided by the purchaser, counsel should carefully examine current developments in the law, especially where substantially all of the assets of a corporation are sold and transferee liability is sought to be imposed. Potentially dangerous areas to purchasers involve product liability claims, and qualified plan funding requirements. If the situation requires specific protection for the buyer, buyer's counsel might include specific warranties or representations in the contract that there have been no violations of the relevant law, rules, or regulations. Another method of providing some protection to the purchaser is to provide that the seller will indemnify the purchaser for any unspecified liability incurred by reason of the transfer of substantially all the assets to the purchaser. The second form has such an indemnity paragraph.

Special business property clauses

Aside from the provisions in this contract which deal specifically with real estate matters, there are special clauses included due to the purchase of the business as well. In addition to a deed, the seller is required to give a bill of sale for the furnishings and other personal property used in connection with the motel. A separate paragraph is added to protect the purchaser under the Bulk Sales Provisions of the Uniform Commercial Code, especially since a major part of the seller's supplies and inventory are to be transferred. The seller represents that it has good title to the personalty.

Franchise transfer

The contract is contingent upon the motel franchisor approving the operation of the motel by purchaser. This approval contingency should be included whether or not the franchise agreement between the seller and the franchisor expressly permits assignment of the franchise, or is silent on the matter. If assignment of the franchise is prohibited, entering the contract to sell the motel may be a ground for termination of the seller's franchise.

Apportionment of income

A relatively unique provision of this agreement apportions the resort income and expenses as of the close of the calendar year. This arrangement is especially useful if both buyer and seller are calendar year taxpayers. Any delay in closing, expected or otherwise, will not prevent the calendar year purchaser from receiving the maximum tax and economic benefit from his investment. Depreciation, mortgage interest, and other deductible items should more than offset any additions to taxable income realized between January 1 and the delayed closing date.

Tie-in with business contract

The performance of the first contract is made expressly contingent upon the closing of the lounge and restaurant sale agreement. This permits the attorneys to deal with each matter in a separate writing, while preserving the interdependence of the transactions.

FORMS

(1) Sale of motel

THIS AGREEMENT is made at City of _____, State of _____ on January 1, _____ [year], by and between M&L Limited, a limited partnership in the State of _____ ("Seller") and M&L Resort Company, a corporation incorporated in the State of _____ ("Purchaser").

1. Purchase and sale. Seller agrees to sell and convey and Purchaser agrees to purchase from Seller, all of the real estate owned by Seller, with the building and improvements thereon, situated at 2200 Blayne Road in the City of _____, _____ County, State of _____, as more particularly described in attached Exhibit A (the "premises"), and all personal property, both tangible and intangible, used by Seller in its motel business, including, assets listed in a certain writing, exhibited by Seller to Purchaser, and initialed by Purchaser on the date of this Agreement entitled "List of Assets of M&L Limited, Used in Connection with the Operation of Siesta of America Motel", City of _____, State of _____ (the "personal property").

2. Real estate. The sale includes the land described in Exhibit A, the buildings and improvements thereon consisting of buildings used for a motel, lounge, restaurant, and golf clubhouse.

3. Inspection. Within 30 days from the date of execution of this Agreement, Purchaser or its agents may, at its or their own risk, inspect the premises regarding its physical condition and compliance with all laws, including environmental laws and with the Americans With Disabilities Act of 1990 and its Accessibility Guidelines, and show the same to prospective mortgagees at reasonable times during normal business hours if reasonable notice is given to Seller. In the event Purchaser is not satisfied with its inspections and Seller is not willing to correct the matters objected to by Purchaser, this Agreement may be terminated by Purchaser by written notice given by Purchaser to Seller within 40 days from the date of execution of this Agreement.

4. Purchase price. The purchase price shall be $5.023 million, which shall be deposited into escrow as provided in paragraph 13. The purchase price shall be allocated as follows: $173,000 to the personal property, and the balance of $4.85 million to the premises.

5. Bill of sale; deed; title guaranty

(a) Seller shall convey marketable title to the personal property to Purchaser by bills of sale and other documents necessary to effect such transfer. Seller shall convey marketable title to the premises to Purchaser or Purchaser's nominee(s) by good and sufficient general warranty deed warranting title to be free and clear of all liens and encumbrances except easements, covenants, and restrictions of record, if any, zoning ordinances and taxes and assessments, both general and special, which are a lien but not due and payable.

(b) Seller shall accompany its deed to the real estate with a title guaranty policy in the amount of the purchase price issued by State Title Guarantee and Trust Co. in the City of _____, State of _____ ("title company"), in its customary form, guaranteeing the record title to the premises to be good in Purchaser subject only to the exceptions to be contained in the deed. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Purchaser may, by giving written notice to the escrow agent before the closing date, elect to be furnished with an owner's policy of title insurance ("title insurance") in the amount of the purchase price, prepared by the title company, insuring marketable title to be good in Purchaser, subject only to the exceptions to be contained in the deed. In such event, in lieu of a guarantee, Seller shall furnish Purchaser with title insurance, and Seller shall pay that portion of the costs which would have been incurred if a guarantee had been issued, and Purchaser shall pay the remaining costs.

(c) On the closing date, the title company shall notify parties whether it is then in a position to issue the guaranty or title insurance (as the case may be). If the title company notifies the parties that (1) it will issue such a guaranty or the title insurance (as the case may be), this transaction shall be closed; or (2) it will not issue such a guaranty or title insurance (as the case may be), and if Purchaser does not forthwith waive such defects which the title company recites as preventing such issuance, or if Seller does not forthwith cure them, the closing of this Agreement shall be postponed for a reasonable period of time not to exceed 30 days until Seller removes the defects. If Purchaser waives such title defects by forthwith notifying the escrow agent, the title company and Seller or if Seller has cured such defects, the obligations of the parties hereunder are not affected by reason thereof, there shall be no abatement or reduction of the purchase price, and this transaction shall be closed, except that any title defects waived by Purchaser shall be set forth as exceptions in the deed and in the title guaranty or title insurance (as the case may be).

6. State of _____ Bulk Sales Act. No provision is made in this Agreement for compliance with the State of _____ Bulk Sales Act. In lieu of compliance with such act, and for the protection of the transferee of the assets, Seller guarantees and warrants to Purchaser that:

(a) As of the closing date, Seller shall have paid all of its creditors when their bills are due.

(b) Seller, at its expense, shall hold Purchaser harmless from all claims of Seller's creditors for claims arising under the State of _____ Bulk Sales Act.

7. Damage or destruction. If any damage or destruction in excess of $100,000 occurs to the buildings or improvements on the premises before the closing date, Purchaser may either: (a) receive any proceeds of insurance payable in connection with the damage or destruction, but if the insurance proceeds are less than the amount of the damage and cost to restore, the purchase price shall be credited in the amount of such deficit, or (b) withdraw from the within transaction. In the latter event, the escrow agent shall return to the parties the respective funds and documents deposited in escrow by them, and thereupon each party shall be fully released and discharged from any liability or obligation hereunder to the other. However, each party shall pay one half of the escrow agent's charges.

If any such damage or destruction occurs, Seller shall forthwith give notice thereof to Purchaser, and Purchaser within 15 days after delivery of such notice shall elect under (a) or (b) hereof by so notifying Seller. If Purchaser fails to so elect within the 15-day period, it shall conclusively be deemed to have elected under (a). If Purchaser elects or is deemed to have elected under (a), its obligation hereunder shall not be affected by reason of any damage or destruction, and the within transaction shall be closed without abatement reduction of the purchase price, but if the insurance proceeds are less than the amount of the damage and cost to restore, the purchase price shall be credited in the amount of such deficit. All insurance proceeds received by Seller before the closing date by reason of damage or destruction to the buildings and improvements shall be applied as a credit towards the funds Purchaser is required to deposit hereunder. If any such proceeds become payable but are not received by Seller before the closing date, Seller shall as of that date assign to Purchaser all of Seller's right, title, and interest in and to the proceeds. Seller shall maintain fire and extended coverage insurance on the buildings located on the premises in an amount not less than their full insurable value, and a standard "Contract of Sale Clause" naming Purchaser shall be endorsed on all Seller's policies of insurance until the transfer of title of record.

If any such damage or destruction of $100,000 or less occurs to the buildings or improvements on the premises before the closing date, this Agreement shall remain in effect and, if Purchaser elects, Seller, at Seller's expense, shall promptly restore the premises or the purchase price shall be abated by the amount of the damage or destruction.

8. Authority. Seller shall deliver to the escrow agent, on the date hereof, certified copies of resolutions duly adopted by its partners, authorizing the execution and delivery of this Agreement by the partner(s) who have executed it and the performance of all acts required for carrying out its terms, provisions, and conditions.

9. Other agreements. Contemporaneously with the signing of this Agreement, another document is being executed. It is:

An Agreement for Purchase of Lounge and Restaurant (both of which are located on the premises) between Purchaser and Seller.

10. Conditions of sale. This sale is conditioned upon:

(a) Purchaser demonstrating to the satisfaction of the lender through which Purchaser intends to finance the purchase that it possesses working capital or a commitment to provide working capital of $180,000, by the closing date;

(b) Purchaser obtaining approval of transfers of Seller's franchise as a motel operator from Siesta of America by the closing date;

(c) A lender delivering to Purchaser within 30 days from the date of execution of this Agreement a commitment to lend to Purchaser $4.2 million, with interest payable monthly at 12 percent per annum for a three-year period, and principal payments of $100 per month during such period, and with a financing fee of one point;

(d) The American Savings and Loan Company delivering to Purchaser by the closing date a commitment for permanent financing committing the lender to lend Purchaser $4.2 million, with interest at 12 percent per annum, payable over a period of 22 years in equal monthly installments, with a financing fee of one point, such financing to commence at the end of the three-year period referred to in (c) above, unless Purchaser obtains other permanent financing during the three-year period; and

(e) The concurrent closing of the Agreement for Purchase of Lounge and Restaurant referred to in paragraph 9 above.

If any of the above conditions do not occur by the dates set forth above, Purchaser shall immediately give notice to that effect to Seller and to the escrow agent, and this Agreement shall be void. If this Agreement is voided, none of the parties shall have any claims against any other party by reason of anything contained herein. The escrow agent shall thereupon return any property previously delivered to it to the party originally making delivery.

11. Closing date. The transactions forming the subject of this Agreement shall be closed on February 1, _____ [year].

12. Seller's warranties. Seller represents and warrants, the warranties to be effective as of the closing date and to survive the closing, that:

(a) It will have good and marketable title to all of the personal property to be purchased, sold and assigned under the terms of this Agreement, that the same are not subject to any liens, charges or encumbrances of any type, and that such personal property shall be delivered to Purchaser on the closing date in good working order;

(b) It shall have completed, by February 1, _____ [year], all of the facilities of the motel, lounge, restaurant, recreational facilities, and golf clubhouse in accordance with the plans and specifications drawn by the firm of Alan and Cooper, Inc., the plans and specifications and any amendments having been delivered by Seller to Purchaser;

(c) The buildings comprised as part of the premises are entirely within its property lines and do not encroach upon any adjoining property and that no buildings on adjoining property encroach upon the premises;

(d) It has no knowledge of any outstanding notices or orders from any governmental authority with respect to the condition of the buildings and improvements comprised as part of the premises or the repair of the same, or with respect to any claim to violation of laws, ordinances, statutes, building codes, regulations and orders applicable thereto;

(e) It shall have paid for all work, labor and materials furnished to the premises before the closing date, and will indemnify and hold Purchaser harmless from any mechanic's liens, filed or otherwise claimed, in connection with any such work, labor and materials performed on or furnished to the premises before the closing date, and all legal and related expenses incurred by Purchaser by reason of the mechanic's liens;

(f) The heating, air-conditioning, electrical, and plumbing systems in the buildings are in good working order, and shall be on the date of title closing; and

(g) It shall have and/or will obtain all use, occupancy or other governmental approvals needed by Purchaser in connection with Purchaser's ownership, use and occupancy of the premises being conveyed.

13. Escrow agent. This transaction shall be placed in escrow with an escrow agent to be designated by Seller. An executed copy of this Agreement shall be deposited with the escrow agent concurrently with its execution by Seller, and the Agreement shall serve as the escrow instructions. The escrow agent may attach its standard conditions of acceptance thereto but if the standard conditions of acceptance are inconsistent with or in conflict with the terms and provisions hereof, the terms and provisions of this Agreement shall prevail.

On or before the closing date, (a) Purchaser shall deposit in escrow the purchase price described in paragraph 4, all or any portion of which may be cash or by way of a firm written loan commitment of lender, which shall require lender to make such cash available on the closing date, and (b) Seller shall deposit in escrow its deed, bills of sale, the resolution of authority under paragraph 8, and all other documents required by the terms hereof.

14. Duties of escrow agent. The escrow agent shall make a special tax search as of the closing date, both of record and with appropriate municipal authority in order to ascertain the existence of any special assessments which constitute a lien against the premises. The escrow agent shall charge Seller with the cost of the title search and title guaranty, the cost of the tax search, the conveyance fee for the deed, the cost to cancel any existing liens against the premises, one half of the escrow fee and all other charges properly chargeable to Seller consistent with the terms hereof. The escrow agent shall charge Purchaser with the cost of filing for record the deed, any mortgage Purchaser elects to place on the premises, one half of the escrow fee, the amount by which the costs of furnishing title insurance exceed the cost of furnishing a guaranty if Purchaser (under paragraph 5) elects to be furnished with title insurance, and all other charges properly chargeable to Purchaser consistent with the terms of this Agreement.

As of January 1, _____ [year], the escrow agent shall make the following prorations: real estate taxes and assessments, both general and special, using for such purpose the rate and valuation shown on the last available tax duplicate, except that the full amount of any special assessments which shall as of the closing date constitute liens upon the premises, together with interest and penalties, if any, shall be paid into escrow by Seller, and the cost of any assignable insurance carried on the premises and personal property being conveyed by the terms of this Agreement.

On the closing date, the escrow agent shall file for record the deed and all other required instruments, and shall thereupon deliver to each party the funds and documents to which it is respectively entitled, together with its escrow statement in triplicate, if it then has on hand all funds and documents necessary to complete the within transaction and is in a position to and will issue and deliver, upon the filing of the deed for record, the title guaranty or its title insurance if so elected by Purchaser.

15. Allocation of income and expenses. The parties shall prorate income and expenses from the operation of the resort outside of escrow, using January 1, _____ [year], as the proration date. All bills relating to goods and services rendered before January 1, _____ [year], all Social Security, Withholding, Sales, Workmen's Compensation and Unemployment Insurance Taxes, or any other taxes or bills accrued or due and payable as of the close of business on December 31, _____ [year], shall be paid by Seller; all bills relating to goods and services provided on January 1, _____ [year], and thereafter, and any other taxes or bills accruing on or after January 1, _____ [year], shall be paid by Purchaser. Income from resort operations accrued as of the close of business on December 31, _____ [year], shall be payable to Seller, and income from resort operations accrued on or after January 1, _____ [year], shall be payable to Purchaser.

On January 1, _____ [year], or as soon thereafter as possible, the parties will cause the meters for all utility services, including, water, gas and electricity, to be read, and on said date to be changed from the name of Seller to the name of Purchaser. Seller will pay for all utility services up to such date, and Purchaser will pay for all utility services rendered on or after such date. Seller will cancel as of the closing date, all service contracts relating to the premises that can be cancelled, and Seller shall assume as of the closing date those service contracts that cannot be cancelled.

16. Delivery of possession. As of 12:00 p.m. on the closing date, Seller shall deliver possession of the premises to Purchaser.

17. Notice. All notices under this Agreement shall be sent by certified or registered mail, postage prepaid, return receipt requested, and addressed as follows:

If to Purchaser, to: M&L Resort Company
c/o John R. Martin, Esq.
1256 East Main Street
City of _____, State of _____

If to Seller, to: M&L Limited
c/o Olson, Radner & Kulpepper
235 Cleveland Avenue
City of _____, State of _____
Attn: James E. Olson

18. Condition of premises. Subject to the provisions of paragraph 7, between January 1, _____ [year], and the closing date, Seller represents that it will maintain the premises in a condition in which it existed as of January 1, _____ [year], subject, however, to ordinary wear and tear. Such obligation of maintenance includes adequately protecting the premises, maintaining the sprinkler system in operating condition and maintaining the heating, air conditioning, electrical and plumbing systems.

19. Binding effect. This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective legal representatives, successors, and assigns.

20. Entire agreement; modification. This instrument constitutes the entire agreement between the parties hereto and may not be modified except by an agreement duly executed and signed by the party against whom the enforcement of such modification is sought.

21. Nonwaiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise or enforce any right hereunder, and no partial or single exercise of such right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

22. Headings. Headings in this Agreement are for convenience and reference only and shall not be used to interpret or construe its provisions.

23. Governing law. This agreement shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of Ohio.

24. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

25. Time of essence. Time is of the essence of this Agreement.

The parties have executed this Agreement on the day and year first above written.

Seller:

M&L Limited

by _____

General Partner

Purchaser:

M&L Resort Company

by _____

(2) Sale of lounge and restaurant

THIS AGREEMENT is made and entered into at City of _____, State of _____, on January 1, _____ [year], by and between M&L Limited ("Seller") and M&L Resort Company, a Michigan corporation ("Purchaser").

Recitals

Seller has conducted a lounge and restaurant business located at 2200 Blayne Road, City of _____, State of _____, under the name "Meadow Lark"; and Seller desires to sell and convey to Purchaser, and Purchaser desires to purchase from Seller, all of the tangible and intangible assets of the business;

Now, therefore, the parties agree with each other as follows:

1. Purchase and sale. Seller agrees to sell to Purchaser or its nominee, and Purchaser shall purchase, all the tangible and intangible assets used by Seller in its lounge and restaurant business, wheresoever located, including those assets listed on a certain writing, exhibited by Seller to Purchaser, and initialed by Purchaser on the date of this Agreement, entitled "List of Assets of M&L Limited, Used in Connection with the 'Meadow Lark' Restaurant and Cocktail Lounge, in the Siesta of America Motel, City of _____, State of _____.

2. Purchase price. The total purchase price shall be (a) $102,880, plus (b) the value of the inventory on January 1, _____ [year] as provided in paragraph 9, which shall be deposited into escrow as hereinafter provided.

3. Other agreements. Contemporaneously with the signing of this Agreement, another agreement is being executed. It is a Purchase of Motel Agreement between Purchaser and Seller.

4. Liquor license; bills of sale and assignments. As soon as this Agreement is executed, Seller shall forthwith execute the requisite form of the State of _____ Department of Liquor Control, and shall cause the same, together with a copy of the Purchase of Motel Agreement referred to above, a copy of this Agreement, and all other documents required as a part of said application, to be filed with the proper State of _____ agency for approval of the transfer to Purchaser of Seller's liquor permits.

Seller shall convey marketable title to the assets being sold by bills of sale, assignments, and all other documents in customary form that are necessary to transfer the assets listed in paragraph 1 to Purchaser, free and clear of all liens, claims, charges, and encumbrances.

5. Seller's warranties. Seller represents and warrants (the warranties to survive the closing date) that:

(a) On closing date, it will have good and marketable title to all the assets to be purchased, sold and assigned under the terms of this Agreement, that the same are not subject to any liens, charges or encumbrances of any type, and that such assets shall be delivered to Purchaser on the closing date in good working order;

(b) It now holds liquor permits which are in good standing and have never been suspended or revoked; and

(c) It shall deliver possession of the premises at which the lounge and restaurant business are located to Purchaser at 12:00 p.m. on February 1, _____ [year], in a clean condition so as to permit Purchaser to operate the business as of that date.

6. State of _____ Bulk Sales Act. No provision is made in this Agreement for compliance with the State of _____ Bulk Sales Act. In lieu of compliance with such act, and for the protection of the transferee of the assets, Seller guarantees and warrants to Purchaser that:

(a) As of the closing date, Seller shall have paid all of its creditors when their bills are due.

(b) Seller, at its expense, shall hold Purchaser harmless from all claims of Seller's creditors for claims arising under the State of _____ Bulk Sales Act.

7. Conditions of sale. This sale is conditioned upon (i) approval by the State of _____ Liquor Control Department of the transfer of Seller's liquor licenses to Purchaser and the issuance to Purchaser of an appropriate vendor's license and food handling license by the closing date or within a reasonable period of time thereafter, and (ii) closing of the Purchase of Motel Agreement referred to in paragraph 3 above concurrently with the closing of this Agreement.

If any of the above conditions do not occur by the times stated above, Purchaser shall immediately give notice to that effect to Seller and to the escrow agent and this Agreement shall be voided. If this Agreement is voided, neither party shall have any claims against the other party by reason of anything contained herein. The escrow agent or respective parties shall thereupon return any property previously delivered to them to the party originally making delivery.

8. Closing date. The transactions forming the subject of this Agreement shall be closed on February 1, _____ [year], or on the same date the Purchase of Motel Agreement referred to in paragraph 3 above is closed, whichever is later.

9. Transaction at closing. On January 1, _____ [year], the parties shall take inventory of all unopened liquor, beer and wine used in the lounge and restaurant business. Such inventory shall be valued at cost, and the amount as determined by the parties shall be paid to Seller on the closing date, but in no event shall the amount paid to Seller exceed $10,000. Seller shall have its normal supply of food for the restaurant on hand on the closing date, and said food supplies shall pass to Purchaser as part of this transaction, without cost to Purchaser.

10. Escrow Agent. This transaction shall be placed in escrow with an escrow agent to be designated by Seller. An executed copy of this Agreement shall be deposited with the escrow agent concurrently with its execution by Seller, and this Agreement shall serve as the escrow instructions. The escrow agent may attach its standard conditions of acceptance thereto, but if the standard conditions of acceptance are inconsistent with or in conflict with the terms and provisions hereof, the terms and provisions of this Agreement shall control.

On or before the closing date, (a) Purchaser shall deposit into escrow the purchase price described in paragraph 2, except for the value attributed to the inventory which is deposited into escrow on the closing date, all or any portion of which may be cash or by way of a firm written loan commitment of Purchaser's lender, the commitment requiring lender to make such cash available on the closing date, and (b) Seller shall deposit in escrow its bills of sale and any other documents needed to transfer to Purchaser the assets being sold to Seller.

11. Duties of escrow agent. On the closing date, if the conditions set forth in paragraph 7 are met, the escrow agent shall:

- (a) Deliver to Purchaser all documents held by it that are necessary to transfer to Purchaser the assets listed in paragraph 1;
- (b) Pay to Seller the purchase price referred to in paragraph 2, less any prorations charged against Seller; and
- (c) Pay to Seller the value of the inventory as of January 1, _____ [year].

In closing this transaction, the escrow agent shall charge one half of its escrow fee to each party.

12. Allocation of income and expenses. The parties shall prorate income and expenses from the operation of the restaurant-lounge outside of escrow, using January 1, _____ [year], as the proration date. All bills relating to goods and services rendered before January 1, _____ [year], all Social Security, Withholding, Sales, Workmen's Compensation and Unemployment Insurance Taxes, or any other taxes or bills accrued or due and payable as of December 31, _____ [year], shall be paid by Seller. All bills relating to goods and services provided on January 1, _____ [year], and thereafter, and any other taxes or bills accruing on or after January 1, _____ [year], shall be paid by Purchaser. Income from restaurant-lounge operations accrued as of the close of business on December 31, _____ [year], shall be payable to Seller, and income from restaurant-lounge operations accrued on or after January 1, _____ [year], shall be payable to Purchaser.

On January 1, _____ [year], or as soon thereafter as possible, the parties will cause the meters for all utility services, including water, gas and electricity, to be read, and on said date to be changed from the name of Seller to the name of Purchaser. Seller will pay for all utility services up to such date, and Purchaser will pay for all utility services rendered on or after such date. Seller will cancel as of the closing date, all service contracts relating to the restaurant-lounge business that can be cancelled, and Seller shall assume as of the closing date those service contracts that cannot be cancelled.

13. Indemnification. Seller shall indemnify and hold Purchaser harmless from and against all actions, suits, damages, judgments, costs, charges, expenses, and attorneys' fees in consequence of any liabilities of whatever nature accruing before the closing date and which may be asserted against Purchaser as the transferee of assets to be purchased by Purchaser hereunder. It is understood that this indemnity refers only to such transferee's liabilities as might be imposed by law on Purchaser as transferee of the assets to be purchased under this Agreement.

14. Binding effect. This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective legal representatives, successors, and assigns.

15. Notices. All notices hereunder shall be in writing and delivered personally or mailed by certified or registered mail, postage prepaid, return receipt requested, addressed to the parties at their last known addresses.

16. Entire agreement; modification. This instrument constitutes the entire agreement between the parties. It may not be modified except by an instrument duly executed by the party against whom the enforcement of such modification is sought.

17. Nonwaiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise or enforce any right hereunder, and no partial or single exercise of such right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

18. Headings. Headings in this Agreement are for convenience and reference only and shall not be used to interpret or construe its provisions.

19. Governing law. This agreement shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of _____.

20. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

21. Time of essence. Time is of the essence of this Agreement.

The parties have executed this Agreement on the day and year first above written.

Seller:

M&L Limited

by _____

General Partner

Purchaser:

M&L Report Company

by _____

81 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms

C. CONTRACTS OF SALE: COMMERCIAL PROPERTY

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.47

FORM 21.47 Sale of racket club with restaurant and lounge--covenant not to compete with allocation of purchase price--real estate sale agreement attached--guarantee of seller's performance

COMMENT

Sale of a sports facility, here a racquet ball and tennis court complex, is, in effect, the sale of an operating business. Included in the contract are the specific provisions relating to taking inventory, allocation of income and expenses, transfer of licenses as well as warranties and representations related to compliance with all laws, including environmental laws, building codes, and the Americans With Disabilities Act of 1990 and its Accessibility Guidelines. However, additional matters must be dealt with in the sale of a sports complex, including the assignment of membership deposits, employee contracts, and certification of the membership roster, if any. Because of the potentially exhaustible local market for use of racquet ball and tennis facilities, the purchaser is particularly interested in obtaining a covenant not to compete from the sellers. The value of this type of business would be severely diminished if the sellers were to open up a newer and competing facility in the same or adjoining county.

Covenant not to compete:

The practitioner should carefully examine the jurisdiction's limitations on the enforceability of a covenant not to compete. State courts vary in their interpretation as to what is a reasonable time period or geographical location in which the seller can be barred from competition.

Personal guaranty and covenant not to compete:

The seller in this contract is a closely held corporation with the sole purpose being the ownership and operation of the club. In the contract the seller's covenants, warranties, and representations, for the most part, are intended to survive the closing, and should be enforceable after closing. As a practical matter, however, rights of enforcement against a shell or defunct corporation are useless. Therefore the buyer here obtained the personal guarantee of the principals of the selling corporation, as well as their personal and individual covenants not to compete.

Separate contracts:

Separate contracts are written for the transfer of the business and of the real estate. This is principally a matter of price allocation, as the provisions of the real estate contract can easily be included in the same writing as the business sale contract. However, when separate forms are used, care should be taken to include cross-contingency clauses in each. By this approach, performance of either contract is contingent upon performance of the other.

Joint closing:

The real estate closing is through an escrow agent with the business asset closing taking place simultaneously with the real estate closing. The status of title to be insured by a title company has been approved by the buyer. All of the purchase price is to be escrowed through the escrow agent closing the real estate portion of the sale.

FORM

Purchase Agreement

THIS AGREEMENT is made on February 27, _____ [year], between Tennis Associates, Inc. ("Seller"), and Jonathon S. Smythe and Harold E. Burns (collectively, "Buyer").

Recitals

Seller owns and operates a racket club, restaurant and lounge business and desires to sell the property and assets of the business upon the terms and conditions hereinafter set forth; and

Buyer desires to purchase the property and assets upon such terms and conditions;

It is therefore agreed as follows:

1. Sale of business assets. Seller shall sell, assign, and transfer to Buyer, and Buyer shall purchase, at the closing date described at paragraph 3 below, Seller's land, building, and assets set forth in Exhibit A, located at 1792 Sloan Avenue, City of _____, State of _____, and which are used in conjunction with a racket club, restaurant, bar and pro shop business known as "The Racket Club."

2. Purchase price. The purchase price for the property and assets shall be $1.7 million.

3. Closing. The closing of this transaction shall take place at the date and place mutually agreed upon by the parties, but in no event later than 35 days following the execution of this Agreement, except for unavoidable delays arising from the time requirements of the Escrow Agent named in the Real Estate Purchase and Sale Agreement attached as Exhibit B.

The transfer of the business shall be deemed to take place as of the beginning of business on the closing date. All items of income and expense respecting the business, including utilities, _____ [year] personal property taxes, prepaid insurance, and all other expenses, and all items referred to in attached Exhibit C, shall be prorated between the parties as of the beginning of business on the closing date.

4. Payment of purchase price. The purchase price shall be delivered to Seller at the closing by the Escrow Agent appointed under the Real Estate Purchase and Sale Agreement, attached as Exhibit B, which shall be executed contemporaneously with the execution of this Agreement and thereafter performed according to its terms.

It is acknowledged that inventory to be purchased and sold in this transaction may, on the closing date, exceed $12,000. The amount of such excess, if any, exclusive of spare parts inventory, shall be paid by Buyer to Seller in cash at the closing.

5. Warranties and representations

(a) Seller makes the following warranties and representations, all of which shall survive the closing, delivery of possession, delivery of a Bill of Sale, and recording of the deed:

(1) Systems. All plumbing and electrical systems in the building sold shall be, to Seller's knowledge, in good working order at transfer of possession;

(2) Violations. Seller has and shall have at the closing date no knowledge of any building code, use, or other violation at the premises including without limitation, any violation of environmental laws, federal, state or local, and violations of the Americans With Disabilities Act of 1990, and its Accessibility Guidelines;

(3) Connection lines. All sewer and other waste lines used in connection with the premises are lawfully tied into main lines in compliance with all applicable governmental regulations;

(4) Good standing. The Seller is a corporation incorporated under the laws of the State of _____, and authorized to do business in the State of _____. This transaction will not violate any corporate articles, bylaws, shareholder agreements, loan documents, or other corporate restrictions, and is duly authorized by all of Seller's Shareholders and Directors;

(5) Leases, contracts. There are no leases, contracts, or other obligations existing with respect to the business except as disclosed to Buyer in writing within 30 days;

(6) Roof. The roof on the property shall not leak at delivery of possession and shall be in good condition;

(7) Income. The Statement of Income exhibited to and initialed by Buyer fairly and accurately reports the earnings of Seller's business for the 12-month period ended June 30, _____ [year]; and

(8) Liquor license. Seller's liquor license is a D-5 permit in good standing with no revocation or suspension proceedings known, pending, or threatened as of the closing date.

(b) Membership roster and deposits. Seller represents and warrants that the roster of members is true and complete, and that the listed deposits, being made by each respective member, are in a separate account with the Eastlake Bank and Trust Company, and shall be assigned by Seller to Buyer at closing. Seller shall, at its expense, send written notice, approved by Buyer, to each such member advising it of the prospective change in ownership of The Racket Club, transfer of their deposit to the new owners, and a statement that operation of the club and court schedules shall remain unchanged during the transfer. Such notice shall be sent out no later than 15 days before closing, but no sooner than 30 days before closing. Seller shall renew all memberships, and accept new memberships to The Racket Club in the ordinary course of business, pursuant to terms and conditions no less favorable to Seller than those presently in effect.

6. Bulk sales. In lieu of compliance with the State of _____ Bulk Sales Act, and for the protection of Buyer, Seller covenants and agrees that all of its creditors will be duly paid as their bills are presented or otherwise become due; and that Seller will indemnify and hold harmless Buyer from all claims, demands or losses, including costs of defense and attorney's fees, arising out of Seller's noncompliance with the State of _____ Bulk Sales Act.

7. Operation of business and risk of loss. Seller shall operate the business as before closing, consult with Buyer in connection with all contracts coming up for renewal, and maintain inventories in standard levels. If before the closing date the property or assets are damaged in an amount not exceeding $25,000, this transaction shall be closed and Buyer shall be entitled to recover (i) all insurance proceeds paid by reason of such loss or damage, plus (ii) an additional amount equal to the deductible damage clause (if applicable) reflected in insurance policies covering such damage. If the damage before the closing exceeds $25,000, Buyer may either (i) terminate this Agreement without liability, or (ii) waive the diminution in value and close hereunder, buying the property "as is." If Buyer elects (ii), he shall receive any insurance proceeds paid by reason of the loss or damage and the indicated deductible damage allowed.

8. Transfers at closing. In addition to the acts and transfers described in the Real Estate Purchase and Sale Agreement attached as Exhibit B, at the closing Seller shall furnish to Buyer:

(a) Tax clearance. Certificate of Property Tax Clearance issued by the Treasurer of _____ County, State of _____;

(b) Good standing certificate. A Certificate of Good Standing of Seller issued by the Secretary of State of the State of _____;

(c) Bill of sale. A Bill of Sale for all personal property, contract rights, fixtures, equipment, and motor vehicles sold herein. The Bill of Sale shall schedule all such items, include inventories at the customary levels, contain the warranties herein provided for, and convey all such items free and clear of all encumbrances;

(d) Motor vehicle titles. Motor vehicle titles free and clear of all encumbrances signed by Seller as assignor;

(e) Liquor permits. Seller's liquor permit, together with all documents that Buyer reasonably requests Seller to execute in connection with the transfer of the permit by the State of _____ Department of Liquor Control to Buyer; and

(f) Resolutions. Certified copies of Shareholders' and Directors' Resolutions of Seller authorizing this Agreement, and designating by name and title the individuals who are duly authorized to execute it. Such Resolutions shall refer to this Agreement by date and by complete reference and shall incorporate it as if fully included in such Resolutions.

(g) Membership deposits. Evidence of transfer of the membership deposit accounts held at the Eastlake Bank and Trust Company;

(h) Proration. At the closing, the Escrow Agent shall make the prorations required herein and in the attached Exhibit B, and shall deliver the balance of the purchase price to Seller.

9. Transfer of liquor permit; employment agreement

(a) Promptly upon completion of the closing, Buyer shall, with Seller's cooperation, forward to the State of _____ Department of Liquor Control all application forms and ancillary documents required for the transfer of Seller's liquor sales permit to Buyer. The parties shall take all steps reasonably necessary to effect such transfer. Pending the completion of such transfer, the liquor sales portion of the business shall be operated by Buyer, in accordance with the terms of the Employment Agreement exhibited to and initialed by him, which shall be mutually executed and delivered at the closing.

(b) Professional contract and trade name. Buyer desires that the Employment Agreement be executed on behalf of Racket Sports, Inc., a corporation to be formed in the State of _____. It is agreed that:

(1) Professional contract. Buyer jointly and severally guaranties performance of every covenant, warranty, and representation made by said corporation in the Employment Agreement, waiving notice of acceptance of guarantee, notice of modification of terms when the same are known to Arnold C. Marshall in advance, any extension or forbearance given by Seller, and further waiving any requirement that suit first be brought against said Racket Sports, Inc., in order to enforce any of such obligations of Buyer.

(2) Trade name. If the closing does not occur, or if the closing occurs but paragraph 10 of this Agreement subsequently becomes operative, all right, title, and interest in the name "The Racket Club" and every variation thereof shall forthwith be irrevocably transferred and assigned to Seller, and the name of the corporation shall be changed, by means of filing amended Articles of Incorporation with the Secretary of State of _____, to a name not including the words "Racket," "Racquet Ball," "Tennis," or "Courts."

10. Failure of transference. If the parties are notified by full and final order of the State of _____ Department of Liquor Control that Seller's liquor sales permit cannot be transferred to Buyer, and if Buyer cannot obtain a substitute permit, the within transaction shall be deemed void, and all property, documents and monies shall be promptly re-exchanged between the parties. In such event, (i) all profits attributable to the operation of the business before such re-exchange shall belong one half to Buyer and one half to Seller, and (ii) all property returned to Seller shall be in at least as good condition as when originally transferred to Buyer at the closing, reasonable wear and tear excepted.

11. Covenant not to compete. Seller, and by their signatures even though such signatures are in a representative capacity, Phillip S. Cameron, and Joan M. Cameron agree that for three years from the closing neither it nor they will directly or indirectly, whether as owner, Shareholder, Director, agent, employee, or in any other capacity, compete with Buyer or his successors or assigns, in the operation of a racquetball, tennis, or similar racket sports courts in the area of _____ and _____ Counties of the State of _____. Without limiting the foregoing, Seller and Phillip S. and Joan M. Cameron agree that they will not for a period of three years from the closing request or induce any employee of Buyer to leave Buyer's employment at The Racket Club or directly or indirectly assist any other person or entity in taking such action.

12. Assignment. Buyer may assign all or part of this Agreement to any person or entity, or sever any portions hereof, without Seller's consent. No such assignment or severance shall require Seller to perform any greater obligations than those set forth herein, but no assignment shall relieve Buyer of his liability to perform this Agreement.

13. Acts necessary. Each party shall do all acts necessary to carry out this Agreement and shall not disqualify himself or itself from performing.

14. Representation of title and authority. Seller warrants and represents that it has title to all assets to be purchased and sold, and has full power and authority to execute this Agreement.

15. Notices. All notices and communications under this Agreement shall be mailed by certified mail, return receipt requested, or hand delivered as follows:

If to Seller: Tennis Associates, Inc.
1792 Sloan Avenue
City of _____, State of _____

with a copy to: Alan, Wood & Staele
150 South Main Street
P.O. Box 1031
City of _____, State of _____

If to Buyer: Jonathon S. Smythe, and/or
Harold E. Burns
368 Raven Court
City of _____, State of _____

16. Binding effect. This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective legal representatives, successors, and assigns.

17. Entire agreement; modification. This instrument constitutes the entire agreement between the parties. It may not be modified except by an instrument signed by the party against whom the enforcement of such modification is sought.

18. Nonwaiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise or enforce any right hereunder, and no partial or single exercise of such right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

19. Headings. Headings in this Agreement are for convenience and reference only and shall not be used to interpret or construe its provisions.

20. Governing law. This agreement shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of _____.

21. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

22. Time of essence. Time is of the essence of this Agreement.

23. Contracts disclosed. Seller represents that at or before the closing it will have disclosed and delivered to Buyer all Contracts pertaining to the premises and the operation of the business.

24. Certificate of sales tax clearance. Seller will secure and deliver to Buyer as soon as possible a Certificate of Sales Tax Clearance. Buyer acknowledges that same will not be delivered until after closing.

25. Additional repairs to premises. The Escrow Agent is to hold back $2,500 from the proceeds to Seller at the closing. The Escrow Agent may pay this sum to Seller when the Agent receives a Certificate of Horace Jones verifying that Seller has completed repaving of the parking lot over sewer line repairs and roto-tilling and seeding of the area affected by sewer line repairs, such repaving and seeding being comprised by the following:

(a) Repaving. Repaving of the strip 3 feet wide by 130 feet long at the back of the building, from the edge thereof to the sewer basin; and

(b) Seeding. Roto-tilling and seeding along the length of the building, at the south side thereof parallel to Sloan Avenue, from east to west.

The parties have executed this Agreement, in duplicate, on the date first above written.

Tennis Associates, Inc.

by _____

Philip S. Cameron, President

and _____

Joan M. Cameron, Secretary

Jonathon S. Smythe

Harold E. Burns

Personal Guaranty

The undersigned, Philip S. Cameron and Joan M. Cameron, jointly and severally guarantee performance of each and every obligation and satisfaction of each and every warranty and representation made by Seller in the foregoing Agreement, waiving: Notice of Acceptance of Guaranty; Notice of Modification or Change to the Terms of the Agreement when such Modification of Terms is made known to Phillip S. Cameron in advance of such modification; all extensions or forbearance given by Buyer; and any requirement that suit first be brought against Seller in order to enforce any of such obligations.

Phillip S. Cameron

Joan M. Cameron

Exhibit A

Asset and Value Allocation

Land _____

$ 90,000

Building, etc. _____	870,000
Courts _____	640,000
Inventory _____	12,000
Buses _____	6,000
Furniture and Fixtures _____	72,000
Covenant not to compete _____	10,000
TOTAL	1,700,000

The foregoing is intended to include all property located at the premises used in connection with Seller's business at the premises but excluding all cash and accounts receivable.

Exhibit B

Real Estate Purchase and Sale Agreement

THIS REAL ESTATE PURCHASE AND SALE AGREEMENT is made on February 27, _____ [year], between Tennis Associates, Inc. ("Seller"), and Jonathon S. Smythe and Harold E. Burns (collectively, "Buyer").

Recitals

Seller and Buyer are entering into an Agreement dated this date (the "Business Agreement") for the sale of a racket club, restaurant and lounge business known as "The Racket Club" and located at 1792 Sloan Avenue, City of _____, State of _____, including the real estate; and

Seller and Buyer desire to provide by separate agreement the terms and provisions of the purchase and sale of the real estate assets;

It is therefore agreed as follows:

1. Real estate assets. The real estate assets being sold include the land described on the attached Schedule 1, and all buildings, fixtures, improvements, rights, privileges, and easements appurtenant thereto.
2. Purchase price. The purchase price for the real estate and assets shall be as set forth on Exhibit A annexed to the Business Agreement. The purchase price for the real estate assets, and additional funds to be applied toward payment of the business assets referred to in the Business Agreement, shall be paid by the deposit of Buyer's funds into escrow with the Escrow Agent, and by the deposit into escrow of the mortgage loan proceeds obtained by Buyer.
3. Escrow Agent. This transaction shall be placed in escrow with an Escrow Agent of Buyer's choice. Buyer shall deposit an executed counterpart of this Agreement with the Escrow Agent, and this Agreement shall serve as the Escrow Agent's escrow instructions. The Escrow Agent may attach its standard conditions of acceptance thereto, but if such conditions are in conflict with the terms and provisions hereof, this Agreement shall control.

4. Closing. This transaction shall be closed contemporaneously with the closing of the Business Agreement.

5. Deed and title insurance. Seller shall convey marketable title to the real estate assets to Buyer by good and sufficient general warranty deed, warranting title to be free and clear of all liens, charges and encumbrances, clouds and defects whatsoever, except zoning ordinances, taxes and assessments, both general and special, not yet due and payable, and restrictions, reservations, limitations, easements and conditions of record which have been previously approved by Buyer by review of the Title Guaranty Commitment referred to in Paragraph 10. below. An unexecuted copy of the warranty deed has been delivered to Buyer. The warranty deed shall be deposited into escrow with the Escrow Agent on or before the closing date.

Seller shall accompany its warranty deed with a title guaranty policy in the amount of $1.7 million issued by Omaha Title Insurance Company ("Title Company") in its customary form, guaranteeing record title to the real estate assets to be good in Buyer subject only to the exceptions to be contained in the warranty deed. Notwithstanding the above, Buyer may, by giving written notice to the Escrow Agent before the closing date, elect to be furnished with an Owner's Fee Policy of title insurance ("title insurance") in the same amount issued by the Title Company, insuring marketable title to be good in Buyer subject only to the exceptions to be contained in the warranty deed. In such event, in lieu of the certificate of title guaranty, Seller shall furnish Buyer with title insurance. Seller shall pay that portion of the costs which would have been incurred if a certificate of title guaranty had been issued, and Buyer shall pay the remaining costs.

6. Prorations. Real estate taxes and assessments, both general and special, shall be prorated as of the date the warranty deed is filed for record, using for such purpose the rate and valuation shown on the latest available tax duplicate. If the proration does not fully reimburse Buyer for all real estate taxes and assessments accrued and unpaid as of the record date of transfer of title for the real estate assets, Seller shall promptly reimburse Buyer that amount accrued in excess of the proration credit upon the official certification of the real estate tax duplicate for the year _____ [year]. Further, the Escrow Agent shall prorate any insurance premiums on assignable policies assumed by Buyer, and service contract prepayments. Buyer shall receive a credit for any security deposits on leases affecting any part of the premises, and all tenant rents shall be prorated to the date of closing, treating rents which have become due before such date as having been paid on the date on which they became due, regardless of whether they were in fact paid.

As of the beginning of business on the closing date, the parties shall cause to be read all meters for utilities used in connection with the real estate assets, and shall bear their respective costs of such utilities.

7. Duties of escrow agent. On the closing date, the Escrow Agent shall file for record the warranty deed and any other required instrument and thereupon deliver to both parties the funds and documents to which they are respectively entitled, together with its escrow statement, if (i) the Escrow Agent is then in receipt of all funds and documents required to be deposited with the Escrow Agent, (ii) the Business Agreement between the parties is contemporaneously closed, and (iii) the Title Company is in the position to and will issue and deliver upon the filing of the deed for record, the required title guaranty or policy of title insurance. If the Escrow Agent notifies the parties that the Title Company will not issue such a guaranty or title insurance, and if Buyer is not willing to waive such defects, Seller shall immediately cure any title defects that the Escrow Agent recites as preventing such issuance, or cure the defects within 30 days (or any longer period permitted by Buyer).

8. Closing costs. In closing this transaction, the Escrow Agent shall charge Seller with (i) the full amount of real estate taxes and assessments, both general and special, prorated up to and including the date of transfer of title, (ii) the cost of a title search and title guaranty policy, (iii) the cost of satisfying any mortgage indebtedness for which Seller is liable, together with the cost of any mortgage cancellation, recording fee, or other costs incurred in connection with the satisfaction of such indebtedness, (iv) one-half of the escrow fee, (v) all other charges properly borne by Seller consistent with the terms of this Agreement, and (vi) the State of _____ Transfer and Conveyance Fee. The Escrow Agent shall charge Buyer with (i) the cost of financing this transaction which may be arranged for by

Buyer, (ii) the cost of filing for record the warranty deed, (iii) the amount by which the cost of furnishing the title insurance exceeds the cost of furnishing the title guaranty, if Buyer elects to be furnished with title insurance, (iv) one half of the escrow fee, and (v) all other charges properly borne by Buyer consistent with the terms of this Agreement.

From the proceeds distributable to Seller, the Escrow Agent shall withhold $1,000 until Seller satisfies the Escrow Agent that all water bills owed by Seller have been paid.

9. Binding effect. This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective legal representatives, successors, and assigns.

10. Title guaranty commitment. Seller has secured from Omaha Title Insurance Company, a Title Guaranty Commitment in favor of Buyer, or his nominee, in the amount of $1.7 million, and has delivered the commitment to Buyer. Buyer does not object to any matters contained therein.

11. Notices. All notices hereunder shall be in writing and delivered personally or mailed by certified or registered mail, postage prepaid, return receipt requested, addressed to the parties at their last known addresses.

12. Entire agreement; modification. This instrument constitutes the entire agreement between the parties. It may not be modified except by an instrument duly executed by both parties.

13. Nonwaiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise any right hereunder, and no partial or single exercise of such right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

14. Headings. Headings in this Agreement are for convenience and reference only and shall not be used to interpret or construe its provisions.

15. Governing law. This Agreement shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of _____.

16. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

17. Time of essence. Time is of the essence of this Agreement.

Tennis Associates, Inc.

by _____

Phillip S. Cameron, President

Jonathon S. Smythe

Harold E. Burns

82 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms

C. CONTRACTS OF SALE: COMMERCIAL PROPERTY

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.48

FORM 21.48 Sale of bar and restaurant --transfer of liquor license and fixtures--seller agreement not to compete

COMMENT

This form is a contract for the sale of an operating bar and restaurant. The sale includes not only the real property, but also the business, fixtures, other personal property, and the liquor license. Consequently, the contract contains terms related to the sale of a business as well as terms relating to the sale of real property.

Allocation of purchase price:

The contract specifically allocates portions of the purchase price to real property, personal property and the liquor license. Such a negotiated allocation is strong evidence of the fair market value of each asset for the purposes of determining the seller's gain and loss, and the purchaser's basis for depreciation.

Stock in trade not included:

This contract specifically excludes from its provisions the sale of stock in trade, such as inventory and supplies needed to carry on the business. The purchaser is to buy such items separately and not as a part of the sale of the business. This exclusion is designed to remove the transaction from the Bulk Sales provisions of the Uniform Commercial Code.

Covenant not to compete:

The practitioner should carefully examine the jurisdiction's limitations on the enforceability of a covenant not to compete. State courts vary in their interpretation as to what is a reasonable time period or geographical location in which the seller can be barred from competition.

 AGREEMENT made and dated _____ [date], between _____, having an office at _____ Street, City of _____, State of _____ ("Seller"), and _____, having an office at _____ Avenue, City of _____, State of _____ ("Purchaser").

1. Agreement to sell. Seller agrees to sell, and Purchaser agrees to purchase, the following property:

a. The land and building located at _____ Street, City of _____, State of _____, on which is currently located the _____ Bar and Restaurant, and which is more particularly described in the annexed Exhibit A;

b. The fixtures, equipment and furniture located at _____ Bar and Restaurant, more particularly described in the annexed Exhibit B; and

c. Seller's liquor permit, No. _____, issued by the State of _____ Department of Liquor Control.

2. Purchase price. The total purchase price for all the property described above, real and personal, is $_____, computed as follows: (a) $_____ for the land and building; (b) $_____ for fixtures, equipment and furniture; and (c) $_____ for the liquor permit. The total purchase price is payable as follows:

a. $_____ as a deposit upon the signing of this contract, by Purchaser's check to the order of Seller, subject to collection, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged.

b. $_____, by Purchaser's good certified or official bank check to the order of Seller on the closing of this transaction.

3. Stock in trade excluded. This sale does not include Seller's inventory, supplies or other stock in trade.

4. Liquor Permit. The approval of the State of _____ Department of Liquor Control of Purchaser's application for the transfer from Seller to Purchaser of Seller's liquor permit, No. _____. Immediately upon the execution of this contract, Seller and Purchaser shall jointly apply to the State of _____ Department of Liquor Control for the transfer of the liquor permit. If the State of _____ Department of Liquor Control fails or refuses to approve the application for such transfer, this contract shall terminate and the deposit money shall be returned to Purchaser.

5. Conduct of business between contract and closing. Seller will continue to operate, manage, maintain and repair the _____ Bar and Restaurant in the same manner as it is now conducted, reasonable wear and tear excepted, until the closing of this transaction and the delivery of possession of the property to Purchaser.

6. Subject clauses. The property described in Exhibits A, B and C is sold subject to the following:

a. Zoning regulations and ordinances and municipal building restrictions and all other laws, ordinances, regulations or restrictions of the federal, state, county or city governments now in force which are not violated by existing structures or use;

b. Any state of facts an accurate survey would show, if the facts do not render title unmarketable;

- c. Covenants, easements, restrictions and reservations of record, if any, which do not render title unmarketable or prevent the present use of the property;
- d. Possible encroachments of retaining walls, foundations, stoop areas, cellar steps, trim, cornices, sidewalks, driveways, parking lots, and fences;
- e. Rights, if any, acquired by any utility company to maintain and operate lines, wires, cables, pipes, poles and distribution boxes in, over or upon the property;
- f. Any matter that a title insurance company would ordinarily insure against without additional premium.

7. Delivery of deed. Upon receiving payment of the purchase price as required by this contract, Seller shall execute, acknowledge and deliver to Purchaser a deed in proper statutory form for record, containing the usual full covenants and warranty so as to convey to Purchaser the fee simple of the premises free from all encumbrances except as stated in this contract.

8. Deliver of bill of sale. Upon receiving payment of the purchase price as required by this contract, Seller shall execute a bill of sale to Purchaser for the personal property.

9. Closing. The closing shall take place at the office of _____, at _____ Street, City of _____, State of _____, or at such other place as the parties mutually agree upon, on or about _____ [date]. The parties agree that if either party sends notice hereafter that time is of the essence, no less than _____ weeks' notice shall be given. No such notice shall be given until the transfer of the liquor permit has been approved as described in this contract.

10. Possession. Seller shall give Purchaser possession of the premises upon the closing of this transaction.

11. Seller's representations and warranties. Seller represents and warrants to Purchaser as follows:

- a. Seller is the owner in fee simple of all of the real property and owner of the personal property and liquor permit described in Exhibits A, B and C, respectively, subject only to the liens and encumbrances expressly stated in this contract.
- b. There are no liens, judgments, action or proceedings pending against Seller in any court or administrative agency as of the date of the signing of this contract.
- c. Seller has timely paid all taxes and assessments with respect to the property or its operation which are or could become liens against the property.
- d. All labor performed and materials supplied for the property have been fully paid by Seller, and no mechanic's liens or other liens may be claimed by any person for such labor and materials.
- e. No condemnation of any of the real property described in Exhibit A has occurred for which damages are unpaid, and there is no existing notice covering future condemnation.
- f. Seller has received no notice alleging or claiming any violations of building, housing, safety, fire, zoning, health, environmental, or other laws, rules or regulations affecting the property, including the Americans With Disabilities Act of 1990 and its Accessibility Guidelines, and Seller has no knowledge of any such violations. Seller will notify Purchaser promptly if Seller receives any such notice prior to Closing.

g. The property shall be conveyed free and clear from all violations or complaints filed or existing in any of the municipal departments of the City of _____ or any other governmental entity and affecting the property or its use. Compliance shall be at Seller's expense and fully completed before the delivery of the deed.

12. Adjustments to purchase price. The following adjustments shall be made to the purchase price at the closing:

- a. Real property taxes for the current fiscal year;
- b. Fees or charges to all transferable licenses and permits;
- c. Water and sewer expenses in accordance with customary practice in the City of _____;
- d. Electricity and gas, based on readings thereof obtained by Seller;
- e. Fuel on hand, if any, based on Seller's cost therefor.

13. Risk of loss. If the property is damaged by fire or other casualty before the closing, in an amount of not more than $_____, Seller will be obligated to repair such damage before the delivery of the deed. If such damage is not or cannot be repaired within that time or if the damages exceed $_____, Purchaser may elect to terminate this contract and the deposit money shall be returned to Purchaser. If Purchaser elects to carry out this contract despite such damage, Purchaser will be entitled to all the credit for the insurance proceeds resulting from such damage plus the amount of the deductible; however, such proceeds may not exceed the total purchase price. If any fixtures, equipment, appliances, furniture or the like fail between the date of this contract and the closing, Seller shall be liable for the repair or replacement of such items with items of similar size, age and quality, or an equivalent credit.

14. Use of business name. At the closing, Seller will assign to Purchaser its right to use the name "_____ Bar and Restaurant," and will execute any document required to transfer that name to Purchaser.

15. Covenant not to compete. Seller agrees that for a period of _____ years from the date of the closing, Seller will not engage directly or indirectly, as an owner, shareholder, agent, employee or in any other capacity, in a competing bar or bar and restaurant business within _____ miles from the _____ Bar and Restaurant.

16. Unmarketable title. If Seller is unable to convey a good and marketable title to the premises free from encumbrances, restrictions, encroachments or other defects in title except those specified in this contract, and Purchaser refuses to take title for that reason, this contract shall be deemed canceled and Seller shall return Purchaser's deposit.

17. Liquidated damages. If Purchaser fails to take title as required by this contract, Seller shall retain the deposit money paid on the signing of this contract as liquidated damages, and neither party shall have any other rights under this contract against the other. The parties agree that in such event actual damages to Seller would be difficult to ascertain and that said sum represents their best estimate of such actual damages.

18. Assignment. This contract shall not be assigned without Seller's prior written consent, which consent Seller shall not unreasonably withhold.

19. Entire agreement; modification. All previous understandings and agreements between the parties are merged in this contract, which alone fully and completely expresses their agreement. This contract is entered into after full investigation made by Seller, and neither party relies upon any statement or representation made by anyone unless contained herein.

20. Nonwaiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise any right under this contract, and no partial or single exercise of that right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

21. Amendments. No provision of this contract may be modified or waived unless in writing and signed by the party against whom the enforcement of such modification or waiver is sought.

22. Binding effect. This contract shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective executors, administrators, legal representatives, heirs, successors, distributees, and assigns.

23. Headings. The headings used in this contract are for convenience only and shall not affect the construction to be given any of this contract's provisions.

24. Governing law. This contract shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of _____.

25. Counterparts. This contract shall be executed in counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original _____.

26. Notices. All notices, elections, demands, requests and responses hereunder to Seller shall be given by certified mail, return receipt requested, addressed to _____, _____ Street, City of _____, State of _____. All notices hereunder to Purchaser shall be given by certified mail, return receipt requested, addressed to _____, _____ Avenue, City of _____, State of _____.

The parties have executed this agreement on _____ [date], in the City of _____, State of _____.

Seller

Purchaser

83 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms

C. CONTRACTS OF SALE: COMMERCIAL PROPERTY

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.49

FORM 21.49 Sale of land parcels--preconstruction testing and mortgage contingencies--right of entry for tests--seller retains one-half deposit if tests unsatisfactory

COMMENT

When a buyer intends to construct a building or other structure on vacant land, it is advisable for him to run tests on the property to determine if it is suitable for the purpose intended. If such a determination cannot be made prior to entering the contract, the contract should provide for such soil and other underground tests as the buyer's engineer or architect may require. The buyer should also make sure there are no environmental conditions affecting the land parcels, such as contaminated soils, which would necessitate large expenditures to clean up. The inspection should also include a wetlands delineation to determine if there are any wetlands areas and, if so, where they are located on the parcels.

Right of entry:

This contract gives the buyer the right to enter the property before closing for inspections, surveys, and tests. Before actual construction can begin, usually several inspections, surveys, and tests must be made. These are required for municipal, county, state, and, in some cases, federal approval, financing commitments, as well as for architectural and engineering plans and other items. To delay these inspections, surveys and tests until the buyer takes title may substantially increase the cost of a project.

Liquidated damages:

The contract provides that if the sub-soil tests do not meet specific standards, the purchaser will forfeit one half of the deposit (earnest money). The buyer will forfeit all of the deposit if he fails to take title for any reason (other than failure of the mortgage contingency or seller's default). Each amount forfeited by the buyer is retained by the seller as liquidated damages. Frequently land acquisition contracts are made contingent on satisfactory soil and other tests. This is an alternative to the provision in this contract for forfeiture of one half of the deposit.

Liquidated damages received by a seller upon a buyer's default are taxable as ordinary income. This arrangement between buyer and seller strongly resembles an option. Except for failure of the mortgage contingency, the buyer will never see one half of his deposit or earnest money, while the seller is fairly assured of receiving at least one half of the earnest money, either upon a negative sub-soil test or at closing. If, in fact, the contract is deemed to be an option, the seller would receive ordinary income treatment for the "liquidated damages." The buyer, on the other hand, would receive capital loss (or gain) treatment upon his failure to exercise the option. For a further discussion of options see The Tax Background § 21.03 at the beginning of this chapter.

Liquidated damages, local law:

Generally, where liquidated damages are deemed to be a penalty, the courts will not permit the seller to collect them. The amount provided as liquidated damages must be reasonably related to anticipated actual damages, which are not ascertainable at the time of signing of the contract. A careful review of the relevant jurisdiction's law should be made before setting an amount for liquidated damages.

FORM

THIS AGREEMENT is entered into at Cleveland, Ohio, by and between Josephine Jones, a widow, her executors, administrators, successors and assigns ("Seller"), and Larry Harris, his executors, administrators, successors and assigns ("Buyer").

The parties agree as follows:

1. Premises. Seller agrees to sell, and Buyer agrees to buy, the real estate identified as parcels 3-C, 3-D and 3-E on the attached plat of survey, marked Exhibit "B," and said parcels 3-C, 3-D and 3-E being more fully described on Exhibit "A" attached, each of said Exhibits being initialed by the parties (the "property").

2. Purchase price. The total purchase price for the property shall be $530,825, payable as follows:

(a) $25,000 delivered to Seller concurrently with the execution hereof, to be held by Seller as earnest money and applied as part of the purchase price, subject to the provisions of paragraph 5.

(b) $145,000 to be deposited in escrow with the Escrow Agent on or before December 22, _____ [year].

(c) The balance of $360,825 from Buyer's lender, The Midwest Insurance Company of America, in the form of a first mortgage loan in such amount, with a fixed interest rate of 8% per annum or lower, amortized by fixed payments of principal and interest over a period of twenty (20) years with a balloon payment due at the end of ten (10) years.

3. Delivery of possession. Seller shall deliver possession of the property to Buyer upon the date of the transfer of title. Buyer and his agents or employees may enter upon the property in order to cause inspections, surveys, or tests as provided in paragraph 6, at Buyer's expense, including costs for adverse environmental conditions and to determine if there are any wetlands areas. Buyer shall indemnify and save Seller harmless from all liability with respect thereto, including claim for damages to person or property occurring as a result thereof. Buyer shall repair and restore any damage caused to the property to as near as possible to its prior condition.

4. Proration of taxes. Taxes and assessments, both general and special, shall be prorated as of the date of the filing of the deed for record, using as the basis of such proration the last available tax duplicate. The full amount of all installments on any assessments payable from and after the date of the filing of the deed for record shall be assumed by Buyer. Seller shall pay when due the real estate taxes and assessments, both general and special, for the first half of the year _____ [year], directly to the Cuyahoga County Treasurer. Seller has applied for a reduction in the _____ [year] official valuation of the property for real estate tax purposes and contemplates applying for a reduction in such valuation for the year _____ [year]. If either or both of such applications result in a refund (or refunds) of real estate taxes for _____ [year], _____ [year], or both years, Seller shall receive the entire amount of the refund or refunds.

5. Title. Seller shall convey the property to Buyer or Buyer's nominee by good and sufficient warranty deed, free and clear of all liens and encumbrances, except applicable zoning ordinances, and other governmental limitations affecting or restricting said property, and those restrictions, limitations, easements and reservations of record which are identified on Exhibit C, attached hereto, and determined by Buyer not to interfere with Buyer's proposed construction and use of the property, and taxes and assessments, both general and special, which are a lien but not yet due and payable.

Seller shall furnish Buyer, at Seller's expense, an owner's title guaranty of the Mountain Land Title and Trust Company or, if it cannot be obtained, a fee policy of title insurance, in the full amount of the purchase price, guaranteeing or insuring, as the case may be, record title to be good in Buyer or his nominee as of the date of transfer of title, subject only to those matters permitted under this paragraph.

6. Conditions of closing. The following shall be conditions of Buyer's obligation to accept title to the property subject to the conditions of the within agreement:

(a) Buyer shall promptly cause Arrow Testing Laboratories ("Arrow") to make all inspections, surveys, and tests of the subsoil conditions of the property, including test borings, that are sufficient, in Arrow's judgment, to determine whether the subsoil meets the standards of "3500-pound bearing soil." Buyer shall furnish Seller with a copy of Arrow's report on or before September 30, _____ [year]. If the report indicates that the subsoil does not meet the above standards, Buyer may, by written notice to Seller on or before October 10, _____ [year], terminate this Agreement. In that event, Seller shall promptly return to Buyer one half of the $25,000 earnest money provided for in paragraph 2(a), and retain the balance as liquidated damages. Otherwise, this Agreement shall remain in full force and effect, subject to the provisions of paragraph 6(b).

(b) On or before September 30, _____ [year], Buyer shall submit to The Midwest Insurance Company of America ("Midwest") his application for a first mortgage covering the property. If Midwest approves the application on the terms described in Paragraph 2(c) above by December 15, _____ [year], Buyer shall notify Seller in writing of that fact within five days after he receives the approval. This Agreement shall then remain in full force and effect, and subject to the terms of Paragraph 6(a), the parties shall close on December 27, _____ [year]. If such approval is not obtained by such date, this Agreement shall be terminated and all funds and documents shall be returned to the respective parties.

If either of the following events occur, this Agreement shall automatically terminate, but Seller shall be permitted to retain the earnest money as liquidated damages: (a) Buyer does not receive Midwest's approval on or before December 15, _____ [year], and does not, by that date, notify Seller in writing of his intention to close the transaction in accordance with this Agreement, or (b) Buyer receives Midwest's approval on or before December 15, _____ [year], but, without default by Seller, this transaction is not closed on December 27, _____ [year].

The parties agree that the liquidated damage amount referred to in this Paragraph 6(b) and in Paragraph 6(a) above represents their best estimate of what the actual damages would be in the event such events occur. The parties agree that such actual damages would be difficult to ascertain.

7. Escrow instructions. A fully executed copy hereof, which shall be deposited with the Escrow Agent promptly upon execution, shall serve as escrow instructions to the Escrow Agent. All documents and funds necessary to close this transaction shall be deposited in escrow with the Escrow Agent on or before December 22, _____ [year].

The parties instruct Mountain Land Title and Trust Company, as Escrow Agent, to proceed to close this transaction upon the following terms and conditions:

(a) When the funds, note, deed, mortgage, and other papers and documents necessary to close this transaction are deposited with you, and when Mountain Land Title and Trust Company is in the position to issue its title guaranty or fee policy of title insurance, in favor of Buyer in the amount of the purchase price, guaranteeing or insuring title to the property in Buyer as specified in Paragraph 5, and showing that Buyer's mortgage provided in Paragraph 2(c) is the first lien against the property, you shall proceed to cause to be filed the warranty deed and mortgage deed for record, cause to be issued the above-described title guaranty or policy, and make the charges and distribution of funds and documents as hereinafter provided;

(b) You shall charge Seller with the following:

- (1) The full amount of all taxes and assessments, both general and special, prorated up to and including the date of transfer of title;
- (2) The cost of necessary and applicable governmental transfer or other taxes due by reason of the transfer of property;
- (3) The charges of Mountain Land Title and Trust Company covering the title guaranty or policy;
- (4) The cost of recording the first mortgage;
- (5) One half of the escrow fee; and
- (6) All other charges that should properly be borne by Seller in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement;

(c) You shall charge Buyer with the following:

- (1) The cost of the filing of the deed for record;
- (2) One half of the escrow fee; and

(3) All other charges properly to be borne by Buyer in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement;

(d) Upon closing, after making the necessary charges and prorations, you will:

(1) Pay to the order of Seller the balance of the purchase price and other funds properly payable to Seller;

(2) Deliver to Seller the promissory note and mortgage deed;

(3) Deliver to Buyer the warranty deed;

(4) Deliver to Buyer the owner's title guaranty or policy; and

(5) Deliver to Seller or Buyer all other funds or documents necessary by reason of the provisions hereof;

(e) You may attach and incorporate your usual conditions of acceptance, not inconsistent with the provisions hereof, and the same, when so incorporated, shall be binding upon the parties and upon you as Escrow Agent. All of the terms and provisions of this Purchase Agreement are incorporated in these escrow instructions.

8. Notice. All notices under this Agreement shall be deemed given when deposited in the United States Mail, postage prepaid, and marked registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, and addressed to the parties and/or the Escrow Agent at the following addresses:

To Buyer: Mr. Larry Harris
1035 Maple Avenue
Cleveland, Ohio 44777

To Seller: Ms. Josephine Jones
c/o Marshall, Smith & Brown
2072 North Main Street
Cleveland, Ohio 44777

To Escrow Agent: Mountain Land Title and Trust
Co.
400 Main Street
Cleveland, Ohio 44777

9. Entire agreement; modification. This instrument constitutes the entire agreement between the parties with respect to the property. It may not be modified except by an agreement duly executed by both parties. Buyer acknowledges notice of, and agrees to take title subject to, Ceylon Ordinance No. 1992-874 creating a connection charge to the water main in Century Road. Buyer represents and warrants with respect to the property that he has not been contacted by, or engaged in any activity with, any broker other than A. C. Smith Company.

10. Binding effect. This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective legal representatives, successors, and assigns.

11. Nonwaiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise any right hereunder, and no partial or single exercise of such right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

12. Headings. Headings in this Agreement are for convenience and reference only and shall not be used to interpret or construe its provisions.

13. Governing law. This Agreement shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of Ohio.

14. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

15. Time of essence. Time is of the essence with respect to the performance of all obligations hereunder.

The parties hereto have executed this Agreement as of September 15, _____ [year].

Josephine Jones, Seller

Larry Harris, Buyer

84 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms

C. CONTRACTS OF SALE: COMMERCIAL PROPERTY

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.50

FORM 21.50 Sale of land tract--payment in publicly traded stock issued by purchaser

COMMENT

Under this agreement a publicly owned corporation is to purchase real property with shares of its own common stock. The land is warranted to be free of any adverse environmental conditions and free of wetlands areas. The agreement imposes upon the purchaser the responsibility for filing a proper registration statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission for the shares to be issued to the seller, and for the listing of such shares with the American Stock Exchange.

When property is sold for marketable securities there is little difficulty in calculating the seller's gain or loss. The amount realized by a seller is the fair market value of the securities plus the amount of mortgages assumed by the purchaser or to which the property is subject. Gain or loss is the amount realized less the adjusted basis of the property to the seller. See The Tax Background § 21.04.

A corporation which issues its own stock for property conveyed to it does not realize any gain or loss as a result of the acquisition, whether or not the stock issued by it was previously unissued or was held by it as treasury stock. The basis of the property acquired by the corporation is determined in the same manner as in the case of other purchasers, i.e., the fair market value of the stock issued to the seller plus the mortgages assumed or to which the property is subject.

FORM

AGREEMENT made February 17, _____ [year], by and between Harold J. Barnes and Barbara Barnes, his wife, of 700 Lake Drive, Richmond, Virginia, and Arnold Morrison and Dorothy Morrison, his wife, of 100

Center Drive, Falls Church, Virginia ("Sellers"), and Lansing Realty Corporation, a Delaware corporation with an office at 100 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York ("Purchaser").

Recitals

Sellers are the owners as tenants in common of a certain tract of land in Fairfax County, Virginia, more particularly described in the attached Exhibit 1; and

Sellers desire to sell, and Purchaser desires to purchase such land and to pay the purchase price therefor in shares of Purchaser's common stock, which are to be registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission pursuant to the Securities Act of 1933, as amended and supplemented, and are to be listed on the American Stock Exchange;

Now, therefore, it is mutually agreed as follows:

1. Representations by sellers. Sellers jointly and severally represent and warrant to Purchaser:

(a) As tenants in common, they are the owners of the land described in Exhibit 1, and at the date of the closing such land will be conveyed to Purchaser by deed of special warranty, free and clear of all easements, restrictions, and encumbrances, except as set forth in Exhibit 1.

(b) No litigation is now pending or threatened with respect to the ownership of the land described in Exhibit 1, or Seller's rights to enter into this agreement or to convey such land.

(c) The land described in Exhibit 1 consists of a tract of 50,000 acres zoned Commercial-Retail/Office, and such zoning permits the erection of a commercial building on a minimum lot containing 10,000 square feet.

(d) All items of information furnished by Sellers to Purchaser in connection with the Registration Statement required under this agreement will be true, correct, and complete in all material respects, and will not include any untrue statement of a material fact or omit any material fact necessary to make the information furnished not misleading in the light of the circumstances under which such information is furnished.

(e) In addition to the encumbrances set forth in Exhibit 1, the land described in such Exhibit is presently subject to a Deed of Trust given by Harris Homes, Inc. to James Wallis, as Trustee, and recorded in Deed Book 3542 at Page 190 of the land records of Fairfax County, Virginia, which on the date of the closing and the delivery of the stock provided for herein will have been paid and fully satisfied by them.

(f) The land is free from any hazardous or toxic substances or other contamination in violation of any environmental laws, federal, state or local.

(g) The land is free of any wetlands areas.

2. Representations by purchaser. Purchaser represents and warrants:

(a) It is a corporation duly organized and existing under the laws of the State of Delaware duly qualified to exercise its franchise and to do business in each state wherein such qualification is required. No action is pending or threatened in any court or administrative body which might deprive it of any of its corporate franchise, privileges, or powers.

(b) It will take the necessary action to reserve, out of its authorized capital stock, the number of shares necessary to be delivered to Sellers to close this transaction.

(c) The shares of its outstanding common stock are listed on the American Stock Exchange.

(d) The shares of its common stock to be issued under this agreement will, when issued, be validly issued and outstanding shares fully paid and nonassessable.

3. Sale and consideration. Sellers agree to sell, and Purchaser agrees to purchase from Sellers, the land described in Exhibit 1 in consideration of the issuance and delivery by Purchaser to Sellers of 75,000 shares of Purchaser's common stock, par value 25 cents per share, subject to the terms and conditions of this agreement, such shares to be issued at Sellers' instruction to the persons and in the denominations set forth in the attached Exhibit 2.

4. Registration of shares of stock. Promptly after the execution and delivery of this agreement Purchaser will, if in its discretion it is deemed practicable so to do, amend its presently pending Registration Statement filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission, so as to cover the shares of stock to be issued to the persons designated in Exhibit 2 upon the closing of the title. If such amendment is not deemed practicable Purchaser will promptly prepare and use its best efforts to file as soon as practicable after completion of the effectiveness of the pending Registration Statement a new Registration Statement with reference to such shares. In either case, the Registration Statement or amended Registration Statement may apply also to Purchaser's other shares or securities issued or to be issued pursuant to any other transaction which Purchaser may then have in view. Purchaser will use its best efforts to cause the applicable Registration Statement to become effective, and at the closing it will deliver to Sellers, and their assigns, as many copies of the applicable Prospectus as the parties agree upon, but not less than two copies of such Prospectus for each of the persons designated in Exhibit 2, in addition to one copy for each Seller.

5. Failure of title. If title to the land described in Exhibit 1 is not as represented by Sellers, Purchaser may terminate this agreement. In such event, Sellers shall be released from all liability for damages by reason of defect in title, but shall be obligated to pay Purchaser the reasonable costs of title examination and Purchaser's expenses in preparing and filing the applicable Registration Statement (or that portion equitably allocable to the securities deliverable to Sellers).

6. Closing date. It is a condition of this agreement that the applicable Registration Statement shall become effective on or before June 15, _____ [year]. If, however, Purchaser exerts its best efforts to file the Registration Statement in accordance with paragraph 4 and diligently pursues the same, Sellers shall, at Purchaser's request, grant any additional reasonable time beyond June 15, _____ [year] that will enable Purchasers to comply with the requirements of the Securities & Exchange Commission, to the end that the Registration Statement becomes effective at the earliest practicable date thereafter. As soon as the Registration Statement becomes effective, either by the original or extended date, Purchaser shall notify Harvey Baron, Esq., attorney for Sellers, at 1700 Connecticut Avenue, Washington, D.C. The date of the closing shall be not less than five days nor more than 15 days after the effective date of the Registration Statement, as set forth in the notice to Sellers. The closing shall take place at the office of Sellers' attorney or any other place agreed upon by the parties.

7. Exchange of deed and stock. At the closing Sellers shall deliver to Purchaser a special warranty deed for land described in Exhibit 1 conveying to Purchaser good and marketable title to such land, in fee simple, free and clear of all easements, restrictions, and encumbrances except as set forth in Exhibit 1, or otherwise acceptable to Purchaser, against delivery to the persons named in Exhibit 2 of 75,000 shares of Purchaser's fully paid and nonassessable common stock as set forth in Exhibit 2.

8. Transfer of engineering work. At the closing Sellers will assign, transfer, and deliver to Purchaser, in any form Purchaser requires, all engineering work performed or obtained by Sellers or their predecessors in title in connection with the proposed development of the land described in Exhibit 1, including all of Sellers' right, title, and interest in and to all soil borings, engineering work, plans, drawings, and copies thereof, together with an authorization directed to the engineers who performed such work for or on behalf of Sellers or their predecessors in title to deliver such work, plans, drawings, and copies to Purchaser, at its request.

9. Conditions to obligations of purchaser. Purchaser's obligations to issue and deliver shares of its common stock shall be subject to the following conditions:

- (a) There has been no material breach of any representation or warranty set forth in paragraph 1 before the closing date, and all such representations and warranties shall be true as of the closing date.
- (b) Sellers and their respective spouses have taken all required action to convey to Purchaser, as herein provided, the land described in Exhibit 1.
- (c) Purchaser has received satisfactory evidence of good and marketable title to the land described in Exhibit 1.
- (d) All actions or proceedings to enjoin the carrying out of this transaction, except those instituted by Purchaser or on his behalf, have been completely determined at the time of closing.
- (e) The Registration Statement has become effective.

10. Conditions to obligations of Sellers. Sellers' obligation to convey the land described in Exhibit 1 shall be subject to the following conditions:

- (a) There has been no material breach of any representation or warranty set forth in Paragraph 2.
- (b) The Registration Statement has become effective within the time prescribed by paragraph 6, and no stop order is in effect at the closing date with respect to such Statement.
- (c) Purchaser has filed a listing application with the American Stock Exchange for the listing of the shares of its common stock to be issued to the persons designated in Exhibit 2, and such listing has been approved by the Exchange, subject to notice of issuance.

11. Real estate taxes. At any closing the parties will adjust real estate taxes, as of the date of closing, in accordance with customary practice in Fairfax County, Virginia.

12. Broker. The parties mutually represent and agree that no agent or broker brought about this sale.

13. Assignment. Purchaser may assign this agreement to a new or existing subsidiary, and in such event title to the land described in Exhibit 1 will be conveyed by Sellers to the assignee. The assignment, however, shall not release Purchaser from its obligations under this agreement.

14. Notices. All notices hereunder shall be in writing and delivered personally or mailed by certified or registered mail, postage prepaid, return receipt requested, addressed to the parties at their above addresses.

15. Binding effect. This agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective legal representatives, successors, and assigns.

16. Entire agreement; modification. This instrument constitutes the entire agreement between the parties. It may not be modified except by an agreement duly executed by both parties.

17. Nonwaiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise any right hereunder, and no partial or single exercise of such right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

18. Headings. Headings in this agreement are for convenience and reference only and shall not be used to interpret or construe its provisions.

19. Governing law. This agreement shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of Virginia.

20. Counterparts. This agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

21. Time of essence. Time is of the essence of this agreement.

The individual Sellers have hereunto set their hands and seals and the Lansing Realty Corporation has caused this agreement to be executed by its proper corporate officers, all on the date above written.

Sellers:

_____ (L.S.)

Harold J. Barnes

_____ (L.S.)

Barbara Barnes

_____ (L.S.)

Arnold Morrison

_____ (L.S.)

Dorothy Morrison

Purchaser:

Lansing Realty Corporation

Attest: _____

Secretary

by _____

President

85 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms

C. CONTRACTS OF SALE: COMMERCIAL PROPERTY

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.51

FORM 21.51 Sale of improved parcels--income-investment properties--payment in cash, purchase money note and deed of trust, and purchaser's unregistered corporate stock--title transferred subject to mortgages--stock to be registered on seller's request

COMMENT

The consideration for the sale in the contract illustrated here is cash, a purchase money note secured by a deed of trust, various existing mortgages, and stock of the purchasing corporation. The stock to be issued to the seller, although that of a public corporation, is not to be registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission as part of the sales transaction. Instead, the purchaser agrees to file the necessary registration statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission upon the request of the seller at the time the seller decides to dispose of the stock. In the meantime, the seller is required to deliver to the purchaser an investment letter. The purchaser, however, is required, as part of the sales transaction, to comply with the local securities statute and secure a permit approving the issuance of its stock to the seller.

The assets to be conveyed to the purchaser under this contract consist of seven different parcels, each in separate locations. Nevertheless, the transaction is treated as an entirety, primarily because the purchase money deed of trust is to cover all of the seven parcels. If a taxpayer acquires two or more properties at an aggregate cost, such cost must be apportioned in accordance with the respective values of the properties. The sale of each parcel is treated as a separate transaction and gain or loss is computed separately on each parcel. A lump-sum selling price for several parcels generally requires allocation in proportion to values, and neither the taxpayer nor the Service may allocate arbitrarily. On the other hand, parcels purchased separately retain their separate basis, even when they are later sold as a unit. There may be long-term capital gain on one, and short-term capital loss on the other.

In this contract because the purchaser has agreed to take the property in "as is" condition, without warranties related to the condition of the property, under circumstances where the purchaser has not done an inspection prior to signing the contract, the purchaser should make the contract contingent on performing an inspection. This will allow the purchaser to verify the physical condition of the property, environmental condition, and compliance with laws such as the Americans With Disabilities Act of 1990 and its Accessibility Guidelines, and with building and zoning codes, including those related to adequacy of parking.

FORM

AGREEMENT made August 24, _____ [year], by and between Standard Realty Corporation, a Delaware corporation with offices at 100 Center Street, Dallas, Texas ("Seller"), and Jamestown Corporation, a Delaware corporation with offices at 500 Lake Street, Chicago, Illinois ("Purchaser").

1. Sale. Seller agrees to sell, assign, transfer, convey, and deliver to Purchaser, and the Purchaser agrees to purchase and pay for, all of the following:

All of those certain parcels of land and the improvements thereon, situated in the Counties of Dallas and Harris, State of Texas, more particularly described as Parcels A, B, C, D, E, F, and G, in Exhibit 1 hereto attached, together with and including all the rights, hereditaments, and appurtenances in anyway belonging or appertaining thereto, and Seller's interest in all fixtures and articles of personal property attached to or used in or about the buildings now erected on such lands, including refrigerators, ranges, boilers, engines, cabinets, shades, blinds, lawn mowers, and plumbing, heating, air conditioning, lighting, ventilating, laundry, and incinerating equipment, supplies and inventory;

For the considerations and upon the terms, provisions, and conditions hereinafter specified.

2. Purchase price. The purchase price for all of the above properties is as follows:

- (a) $250,000 by check subject to collection as provided in paragraph 11 hereof.
- (b) $750,000 in cash or a certified or cashier's check, or checks, in Dallas, Texas, funds at the closing of title.
- (c) The issuance by Purchaser to Seller at the closing of title of 50,000 shares of Purchaser's common stock of the par value of $1 per share.
- (d) Purchaser's delivery to Seller of Purchaser's vendor's lien note in the principal amount of $1.2 million, in the form attached as Exhibit 2, and a Deed of Trust securing such note, covering the properties described in Exhibit 1. The Deed of Trust shall be in the form attached as Exhibit 3 and subject only to the title exceptions set out in the attached Exhibit 4.
- (e) Purchaser shall take title to the parcels of land described in Exhibit 1, subject to the mortgages (which term as used throughout this agreement shall include deeds of trust) thereon securing indebtedness, the principal balance owing on which as of August 31, _____ [year], will be the sum set out opposite each such parcel, as follows:

Parcel	[date] Mortgage Balance
A	$200,000
B	610,000

C	305,000
D	700,000
E	900,000
F	500,000
G	620,000

(f) The foregoing considerations are allocable to the properties in the respective amounts set forth in the attached Exhibit 5.

3. Form of conveyance. The parcels of land shall be conveyed by Purchaser by general warranty deed, subject only to the exceptions set out in Exhibit 4, and to the vendor's lien and Deed of Trust securing Seller in the payment of the deferred portion of the purchase price. The personal property shall be conveyed by a bill of sale with an affidavit of title, subject only to any liens of mortgages covering the real estate on which such personalty is located and any security agreements given in connection therewith.

4. Seller's representations. Seller represents, warrants, and covenants to and with Purchaser as follows:

(a) Upon the closing date, the improvements presently situated upon the parcels of land described in Exhibit 1 shall be in substantially the same condition as presently existing, reasonable wear and tear and damage from any risk insured against excepted.

(b) The schedule attached as Exhibit 6 correctly sets forth, as of the date specified therein, in all material respects, the information indicated thereon with respect to each commercial property and apartment project covered by this agreement.

(c) There exists, and at the time of closing there will exist, no written or oral agreement with any person or persons for occupancy of any space or apartment unit subject to this agreement at rentals less than the rental applicable to such unit as set out in the schedule of rental information attached as Exhibit 6, except as indicated upon such schedule.

(d) The schedule attached as Exhibit 7 is true and accurate, and correctly identifies all lease agreements and amendments with Seller's tenants as of the date hereof, covering space in properties described in Exhibit 1, other than apartment projects. Copies of the lease agreements and all amendments have been submitted to and examined by Purchaser. Seller has not collected from any of the tenants any advance rental or security deposit except as indicated upon such schedule.

(e) Upon the closing date none of the mortgages or any assignments of rent or security interests collateral thereto referred to in Exhibit 4 shall be in default.

(f) Seller is acquiring the shares of Purchaser's stock required to be delivered to Seller on the closing date, for its own account for investment, and with no present intention of resale.

(g) Seller is not subject to any charter, bylaw, mortgage, security interest, lien, lease, agreement, indenture, instrument, order, judgment, decree, or other provision or restriction, of any kind or character, which would be violated by the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this agreement.

(h) All decorating and alteration work required to be performed on or before the closing date for any tenant of space in the properties described in Exhibit 1, or required to be performed by the landlord, or the cost thereof to be reimbursed to any such tenant, as an incident of any tenancy existing on the date hereof, has been performed or reimbursed or will be performed or reimbursed by Seller, at its cost, before the closing. All moving expenses for any tenant and all rents payable under pre-existing leases of any tenant to owners of other properties, where Seller has assumed pre-existing leases or the obligation to pay the rentals thereunder, have been paid or will be paid by Seller before the closing. If any tenant, in accordance with its present lease, lawfully demands, subsequent to the closing, reimbursement from Seller or offsets any amount against rental payments, for decorating, alteration, moving, or rentals payable with respect to other premises, Seller will pay the same and will indemnify and hold Purchaser, its successors and assigns, free and harmless from all such tenants' claims, except to the extent that Seller grants Purchaser at the closing a credit against the purchase price for such claims.

(i) Pending the closing of title, no existing lease shall be terminated, amended, or extended, and no new lease entered into, without Purchaser's prior written consent. Seller, however, may rent individual apartments as they become vacant for terms not exceeding two years, and at rentals not less than those shown on the rent rolls in Exhibit 6.

(j) The present use of each of the properties described in Exhibit 1 is in conformity with the Certificate of Occupancy issued for such property, or in the absence of a permanent Certificate of Occupancy, with legal uses for such property as presently laid out. None of the properties or the present use or condition thereof violate any applicable building code, deed restriction, fire regulations, zoning regulations, or other applicable ordinance, order, or regulation, and Seller will convey all such properties free of any such violations.

(k) Seller has not received any notice from any mortgagee, insurance company, board of fire underwriters, the Department of Housing and Urban Development, or any other governmental agency requesting the performance of any work or alterations with respect to any of the properties described in Exhibit 1. Seller will comply at its cost with any such notice received before the closing.

(l) Seller has no knowledge of any pending or contemplated condemnation of any property described in Exhibit 1.

(m) The following attached Schedules are true and accurate:

Exhibit 8	--	Insurance Schedule
Exhibit 9	--	Payroll Schedule
Exhibit 10	--	Schedule of Maintenance Contracts
Exhibit 11	--	Schedule of Utility Bills
Exhibit 12	--	Schedule of Real Estate Taxes
Exhibit 13	--	Schedule of Rental Commissions Payable

(n) Seller shall not enter into any new contracts (other than apartment leases for terms not exceeding two years) affecting the ownership or operation of any property described in Exhibit 1 between the date hereof and the closing of title, other than the usual and customary agreements relating to the ownership or operation of the property which are terminable at will.

(o) No tenant of any property described in Exhibit 1, to Seller's knowledge, has asserted any claim, offset, or defense against Seller which may affect the collection of rent; no tenant has been granted any rent free occupancy or concession other than as set forth in Exhibits 6 or 7; no tenant of any space other than in the apartments has given Seller any notice of intention to terminate its tenancy or move from the premises. Seller will notify Purchaser before the closing of any exception to the above representations.

(p) The leases described in Exhibit 7 are all in full force and effect; none of the tenants of the leases, except as shown on the Exhibit, are in default in performing their obligations thereunder; and to Seller's knowledge no conditions exist that would give any tenant the right to terminate its lease. The above representations will be true as of the closing date.

(q) Except as set forth in the attached Exhibit 14, all fixtures and articles of personal property, including furniture and furnishings in the furnished apartments, attached to or pertaining to or used in connection with, or to maintain any of the properties described in Exhibit 1 or their operation, other than property owned by tenants or maintenance equipment and fixtures owned by independent contractors, are represented to be owned by Seller, free and clear of all encumbrances other than the possible lien of any mortgage against the property wherein such personalty is located, and such personalty shall be owned by Seller at the time of closing. Before the closing Seller will deliver to Purchaser an inventory of all personal property included in this sale.

(r) All sewers required for the operation of the properties described in Exhibit 1 enter the respective properties through adjoining public streets or, if they pass through adjoining private lands, do so in accordance with valid public easements. All roads in the parcels described in Exhibit 1 have been dedicated to the appropriate municipality and accepted thereby.

The above representations, warranties, and covenants by Seller shall survive the closing, except that no claim on account of any alleged breach thereof (except the representations, warranties, and covenants set forth in subparagraphs (d), (g), (h), (i), and (r)) shall be valid unless presented in writing to Seller within one year from the closing date.

5. Purchaser's representations. Purchaser represents, warrants, and covenants to and with Seller as follows:

(a) Purchaser is a corporation duly organized, validly existing, and in good standing under the laws of the State of Delaware.

(b) Purchaser has the corporate power to own its properties and carry on its business as now conducted.

(c) The information contained in Purchaser's Registration Statement filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, D.C., under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, for the registration of 500,000 shares of common stock, File No. 2-1456, and in the Prospectus dated June 8, _____ [year], issued in connection therewith, is correct in all material respects as of the date thereof. Since the date of the Registration Statement, there has been and, before the closing, there will be no material adverse change in Purchaser's financial or other condition, other than changes occurring in the ordinary course of business, none of which has been or will be materially adverse. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary hereinafter contained, no claim made by Seller or anyone claiming under or through Seller by reason of any alleged breach of the representations contained in this subparagraph shall be valid unless presented in writing to Purchaser on or before June 8, _____ [year].

(d) There shall be no reclassification or recapitalization of Purchaser's stock, nor shall any stock dividend be declared between the date hereof and the date of closing.

(e) Purchaser is not subject to any charter, bylaw, or loan or other agreement, of any kind or character, which would be violated by the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this agreement.

(f) Upon Seller's request at any time after the closing, accompanied by Seller's statement that it intends to sell or otherwise dispose of no less than 20,000 shares of Purchaser's common stock to be issued to Seller at the closing under this agreement, Purchaser will, at its expense, file under the Federal Securities Act of 1933, and the applicable Rules and Regulations thereunder, an appropriate Registration Statement with respect to that portion of the 50,000 shares of common stock to be issued to Seller in partial payment for the properties covered by this agreement which Seller desires to sell or otherwise dispose of. Purchaser will use its best efforts to cause the Registration Statement to become effective. If Seller does not sell or otherwise dispose of the entire 50,000 shares of Purchaser's common stock during the period the Registration Statement is effective, Purchaser shall, upon Seller's request, file an additional Registration Statement, at Purchaser's expense, with respect to the balance of the 50,000 shares, and shall use its best efforts to cause the additional Registration Statement to become effective.

(g) Purchaser has inspected the properties covered by this agreement and is purchasing them "as is."

The foregoing representations, warranties, and covenants by Purchaser shall survive the closing.

6. Closing. Closing of the sale shall take place on September 8, _____ [year], at Seller's office in Dallas, Texas, or at any other place in Dallas, Texas, agreed upon by the parties.

7. Documents to be delivered to purchaser. At the closing, Seller shall deliver to Purchaser the following:

- (a) A certified copy of the resolution of Seller's directors authorizing this agreement and the consummation of this transaction.
- (b) A general warranty deed or deeds conveying to Purchaser the real properties described in Exhibit 1, subject only to the exceptions listed in Exhibit 2. In each deed there shall be reserved a vendor's lien upon such properties to secure payment of the deferred portion of the purchase price.
- (c) A bill of sale to Purchaser covering all personal property covered by this agreement, containing warranties of title. The bill of sale shall be subject only to existing security interests upon such properties securing first mortgage indebtedness identified in Exhibit 4. Also, assignments of Seller's interest in all cash deposits for taxes and insurance held by the mortgagees pursuant to the mortgages identified in Exhibit 4.
- (d) The owner's title insurance policies insuring ownership by Purchaser of the real properties to be conveyed hereunder, such policies to be in amounts equal to the respective purchase prices of such properties as shown on Exhibit 5. The policies shall be issued by the Southern Title Insurance Corporation, Dallas, Texas, and shall contain no exceptions other than those listed in Exhibit 4, the vendor's lien and deed of trust securing the unpaid portion of the purchase price covering such properties, and any other exceptions acceptable to Purchaser. The title policies shall be in Texas Standard Form, the survey exception in each policy shall be deleted, and no restrictive covenants, except as set forth in Exhibit 4, shall be shown.
- (e) Certificates of security interest searches by abstracters in Dallas and Harris Counties, Texas, in customary form, covering a period three years before the closing date, the certificates to indicate the existence of no unreleased security agreements upon personal property covered by this agreement, executed by Seller, except any security interests that may additionally secure first mortgage indebtedness identified in Exhibit 4.
- (f) All original lease agreements and amendments thereto, and rental and other records or copies thereof, relating to the operation of the properties described in Exhibit 1.

(g) Possession of the realty and personal property covered by this agreement, subject to the rights of tenants.

(h) Certificate of the mortgagee or of its servicing agent as to the status of and the balance owing upon each mortgage identified in Exhibit 4, and amount of any escrow deposits being held. Such certificate shall include a statement to the effect that the indebtedness is in good standing at the time of closing, and that to the knowledge of the mortgagee no default then exists or has occurred. The certificate shall likewise set forth the last date to which principal and interest have been paid.

(i) An opinion from Seller's counsel, reasonably acceptable to Purchaser's counsel, as to the valid authorization, execution, and delivery by Seller to Purchaser of this agreement, and of the documents referred to in subparagraphs (b), (c), and (k) of this paragraph.

(j) Assignments in recordable form of all leases set forth in Exhibit 7. The assignments may be in the form of blanket assignments with respect to each individual building.

(k) If the consent of any other party is needed in connection with the transfer of any interest in any lease or the assignment of any other required item, Seller will furnish Purchaser such consent in duly recordable form before consummation of the transactions covered by this agreement. The foregoing shall specifically include a consent from the holder of the first deed of trust on Parcel B together with the holder's agreement that the term "grantor" as used in such deed of trust shall refer, after the date of the transfer, solely to the then owner from time to time of the mortgaged premises, and a waiver from the holder of the second mortgage on Parcel E waiving all right to accelerate the unpaid balance of such second mortgage in the event of any dissolution of the mortgagor therein named.

(l) An assignment of all tenants' security deposits.

(m) An assignment of all utility deposits, if any.

(n) Assignments of all guarantees or warranties, if any, supplied to Seller by manufacturers, contractors, materialmen, or other suppliers or installers supplying or installing equipment or doing work upon any of the properties described in Exhibit 1.

(o) A letter to the tenants occupying space in the properties described in Exhibit 1 notifying them of the change of ownership and directing them to pay all future rentals to Purchaser or its designee.

8. Documents to be delivered to seller. At the closing, Purchaser shall deliver to Seller the following:

(a) Cash or certified check or cashier's check or checks issued by a member of the Dallas Clearing House Association, in the amount of $750,000.

(b) An authorization directing the Southern Title & Abstract Co. to pay over to Seller the $250,000 being deposited with such company as provided in paragraph 11.

(c) A vendor's lien note in the principal amount of $1.2 million, in form and containing provisions as set out in Exhibit 2.

(d) A Deed of Trust in form attached as Exhibit 3.

(e) A mortgagee's title insurance policy issued by the Southern Title Insurance Corporation to Seller, covering the vendor's lien note described in subparagraph (c) of this paragraph.

(f) Certificates for 50,000 shares of Purchaser's common stock duly and validly issued to Seller, fully paid and nonassessable.

(g) An Opinion of Purchaser's general counsel, reasonably satisfactory to Seller's counsel, as to the matters contained in paragraph 4(a), (b), and (e), the valid issuance, full payment, and nonassessability of the shares of Purchaser's common stock delivered to Seller, and the valid and legal authorization, execution, and delivery by Purchaser to Seller of this agreement and of the documents referred to in subparagraphs (c) and (d) of this paragraph.

(h) A certified copy of resolutions of Purchaser's Board of Directors authorizing this agreement and the consummation of all transactions contemplated hereby.

(i) An instrument executed by Purchaser indemnifying Seller and agreeing to hold Seller harmless with respect to commissions set forth on Schedule 13 to the extent that they are payable for periods after the closing date.

9. Adjustments and prorations. Ad valorem taxes (based on _____ [year] taxes), accrued interest on debts represented by deeds of trust and mortgages, electric, water, sewer, and other utility charges, salaries, vacation pay, bonuses, and all other fringe benefits of Seller's personnel, if any, retained by Purchaser and current rentals, in respect to all properties shall be prorated to midnight, August 31, _____ [year], and adjusted in cash at the closing. If the ad valorem taxes for _____ [year] are not ascertainable at closing time, the proration for taxes shall be made on the basis of _____ [year] taxes. When the _____ [year] taxes are subsequently determined, any difference in the proration resulting from use of the _____ [year] taxes shall be paid by Seller to Purchaser, or from Purchaser to Seller, as the case may be. At the closing, Purchaser shall pay Seller in cash the amount of cash deposits for taxes and insurance held by mortgagees of the properties described in Exhibit 1, and any utility deposits. At the closing, Seller shall pay Purchaser in cash the amount of all prepaid rents and security deposits made by tenants and any rentals collected by Seller for periods after August 31, _____ [year]. Purchaser shall pay Seller all past due rents on the properties described in Exhibit 1 for periods before September 1, _____ [year], as collected by Purchaser. To the extent that it is impracticable to prorate or adjust any of the above items on the closing date, settlement in accordance with the provisions hereof shall be made as promptly after the closing date as is reasonably possible and adjusted in cash.

10. Mutuality of obligations. Seller's obligations hereunder are subject to the performance by Purchaser of all its obligations under paragraph 7, at or before the closing. Purchaser's obligations hereunder are subject to the performance by Seller of all its obligations under paragraph 6, at or before the closing.

11. Escrow deposit. Purchaser, contemporaneously with the execution of this agreement, is depositing with the Southern Title & Abstract Co., in escrow, the sum of $250,000 by check subject to collection, to be held by such escrowee and disposed of on the following terms and conditions:

(a) If the sale is closed in accordance with this agreement, the escrowee shall turn over such funds to Seller.

(b) If this agreement is terminated by reason of Purchaser's default, the escrowee shall deliver such funds to Seller, which shall retain them as and for its liquidated damages for Purchaser's breach hereof, in lieu of all other damage suffered by Seller by reason of the breach. The parties agree that said sum represents their best estimate of what the actual damages would be upon such default.

(c) If Seller is unable or fails to convey title subject to and in accordance with the terms of this agreement, or if this sale is not consummated for any reason other than Purchaser's default, the escrowee shall return the funds to Purchaser upon its demand.

(d) If the escrowee receives conflicting instructions from the parties, it is authorized to deliver the funds to any court of competent jurisdiction, after which it will be relieved from any further liability hereunder.

12. Default by seller. If Seller is unable to convey title to the properties subject to and in accordance with the terms of this agreement other than due to its willful acts or omissions, its sole obligation shall be to authorize the escrowee to refund Purchaser's deposit. Upon such refund, this agreement shall terminate, and neither party shall have any further right against, or obligation to, the other. Seller shall not be required to bring any action or proceeding or otherwise to incur any expense to render the title to the properties insurable in accordance with this agreement. If, however, any title defect may be remedied with reasonable diligence within 30 days from the scheduled date of closing of this agreement and the reasonably estimated cost of remedying all title defects does not exceed $100,000, the closing of title shall be adjourned pending removal of the defects, and Seller shall use its best efforts to cure the same and to convey title in accordance with the terms hereof. If there is any adjournment, the date for prorations and adjustments as provided in paragraph 9 shall remain unchanged.

If at the closing there is a lien against any of the properties, and the lien is dischargeable by the payment of a specific sum of money and it is not one of the encumbrances subject to which Purchaser has agreed to accept title, Purchaser may pay and discharge the lien and deduct the amount thereof from the purchase price of the property. Purchaser may in any event accept any title Seller is able to convey, without any reduction of the purchase price. If Purchaser accepts the conveyance, that shall be deemed a full performance and discharge of all of Seller's obligations hereunder, except those that are specifically stated herein to survive the closing.

13. Risk of loss. Seller assumes the risk of loss or damage to the properties by fire or other casualty until passing of title. If any portion of the properties is damaged by fire or other casualty before that time and the estimated cost of repair and restoration exceeds $25,000, and Seller does not repair the damage before the closing (for which purpose Seller may request a reasonable adjournment and proration shall be as of the date of actual closing), Purchaser may either: (a) accept the properties in their damaged condition at the purchase price provided herein, reduced by the amount of any insurance proceeds (other than rental insurance for the period before the closing) received by Seller or to which Seller is entitled by reason of the damage or casualty, and reduced by the amount of any deductible applicable thereto, or (b) terminate this agreement, either in its entirety or solely with respect to the damaged properties, by giving written notice to Seller. If Purchaser elects to terminate the entire agreement, Seller shall direct the escrowee to return to Purchaser all sums deposited by it under paragraph 11, this contract shall thereupon be deemed null and void, and neither party shall have any further claim against the other.

14. Broker. The parties represent that this sale was brought about by Harrison Deal of Dallas, Texas, as broker, and that neither of them negotiated with respect to the terms of this agreement with or through any other brokers. Seller has agreed to pay as brokerage a total commission of $50,000 to Harrison Deal if and when this sale is closed in accordance with this agreement. Upon Purchaser's written request before closing of title, accompanied by a release from Harrison Deal and an agreement from Purchaser assuming Seller's obligations to pay the commissions, Seller shall pay Purchaser $50,000 at the closing. If either party makes a misrepresentation with respect to the facts set forth in this paragraph, it shall be responsible to the other party for all resulting damages.

15. Additional documents. After this transaction is closed, both parties shall execute, acknowledge, and deliver any additional instrument of transfer or conveyance that is required from time to time to effectuate this agreement. Seller shall furnish Purchaser, at its request, with any operating statement relating to Seller's period of ownership of any property to be conveyed hereunder that is required by the holder of a mortgage against such property.

16. Authority for stock as purchase price. Purchaser shall use its best efforts between the date hereof and the closing of title to secure a permit from the Texas State Securities Commissioner approving the issuance by Purchaser to Seller of the 50,000 shares of Purchaser's common stock to be delivered by it to Seller at the closing in accordance with this agreement. If Purchaser is unable to secure a permit, it shall pay Seller $1 million, in cash or by certified or cashier's check or checks, in substitution for and discharge of all of Seller's claims with respect to such shares. Upon receipt of the shares, Seller shall deliver to Purchaser an investment letter in form satisfactory to Purchaser's counsel.

17. Assignment. Purchaser may assign all or part of its interest in any one or more properties under this agreement. Such assignment, however, shall not release Purchaser from its obligations hereunder, including its obligation to deliver stock (subject to the limitation of Purchaser's liability for breach of contract set forth in paragraph 11(b)) or from its obligation to execute and deliver the Vendor's Lien Note and second Deed of Trust or, in the alternative, to guarantee the obligations of any assignee who is the maker of such Vendor's Lien Note and Deed of Trust in form satisfactory to Seller's counsel.

18. Seller's inspection of documents. If any claim or demand is made by Purchaser against Seller arising out of any undertaking, representation, covenant, or warranty by Seller contained in this agreement, Purchaser shall make available to Seller, for inspection and copying, at all reasonable times, for the purpose of enabling Seller to determine the validity of such claim or demand, any document or record reasonably designated by Seller from among those delivered by Seller to Purchaser at the closing.

19. Notices. All notices under this agreement shall be in writing and delivered personally or mailed by certified or registered mail, postage prepaid, return receipt requested, addressed as follows:

If to Seller: 100 Center Street
 Dallas, Texas

If to Purchaser:

500 Lake Street
Chicago, Illinois

20. Binding effect. This agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective successors and assigns.

21. Entire agreement; modification. This instrument constitutes the entire agreement between the parties. It may not be modified except by an agreement duly executed by both parties.

22. Nonwaiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise any right hereunder, and no partial or single exercise of such right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

23. Headings. Headings in this agreement are for convenience and reference only and shall not be used to interpret or construe its provisions.

24. Governing law. This agreement shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of Texas.

25. Counterparts. This agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

26. Time of essence. Time is of the essence of this agreement.

In witness whereof the parties have executed this agreement on the day and year first above written.

Corporate Seal

Standard Realty Corporation

Attest:

by _____

Secretary

President

Corporate Seal

Jamestown Corporation

Attest:

by _____

Secretary

President

[Acknowledgments]

86 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms

C. CONTRACTS OF SALE: COMMERCIAL PROPERTY

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.52

FORM 21.52 Sale of leasehold interest--initial lease replaced with prime lease and sublease back to seller-tenant--landlord included as contract party

COMMENT

This form involves a three-party transaction in which a tenant in effect sells its leasehold interest, together with title to certain leasehold improvements to a third party, and subleases the premises from the third party who becomes the prime lessee. The landlord and the prime lessee agree to revise the terms of the leasehold interest. Consequently, the original lease is cancelled and the landlord and the prime lessee enter into a new lease. The prime lessee then subleases the space to the original tenant. The broker's commission is divided between the landlord, tenant, and prime lessee. The new lease contains a cancellation clause which, if exercised, requires the prime lessee to reimburse the landlord for its share of the broker's commission.

Although not contained herein, the purchaser of a leasehold should have the same concerns regarding the condition of the property and improvements and their compliance with laws as if the fee title were being acquired.

FORM

This AGREEMENT is made and entered into June 30, _____ [year], by and among American Tool Corporation, a Delaware corporation ("Tenant"), Ohio Foundry, Inc., an Ohio corporation ("Prime Lessee"), and Lawrence S. Jones ("Landlord").

Recitals

Tenant on or about May 31, _____ [year], entered into a lease agreement with Landlord (the "Lease Agreement"), a copy of which is attached and marked Exhibit 1.

Tenant and Landlord wish to terminate the Lease Agreement; Prime Lessee and Landlord wish to enter into a new lease agreement to be dated as of the date Tenant delivers to Prime Lessee possession of the leased premises (the "Prime Lease"), a copy of which is attached and marked Exhibit 2; and Prime Lessee and Tenant wish to enter into a sublease to be effective as of said delivery of possession (the "Sublease"), a copy of which is attached and marked Exhibit 3.

The parties desire to have all the right, title and interest of Tenant in the leasehold improvements and the premises leased under the Lease Agreement (the "Leased Premises") transferred and assigned to the Prime Lessee;

Now, therefore, it is agreed as follows:

1. Lease and sublease. All further rights and obligations of Tenant and Landlord under the Lease Agreement shall terminate upon delivery, subject to the Sublease, to Prime Lessee of possession of the Leased Premises. Tenant consents to the execution by Prime Lessee and Landlord of the Prime Lease Agreement; Landlord consents to the execution by Tenant and Prime Lessee of the Sublease. Tenant and Landlord individually and not jointly, covenant, represent and warrant that at the date of this Agreement and up to the time the Sublease becomes effective, the Lease Agreement will be in full force and effect, unmodified, and with no defaults.

2. Rent payments. Tenant shall continue to make all required payments to Landlord under the Lease Agreement for or in respect of periods before the date of delivery of possession of the Leased Premises to Prime Lessee, including the full rental and leasehold amortization payments due and payable on August 1, _____ [year]. To the extent that any such payments relate to the portion of the Leased Premises referred to in the Lease Agreement as Premises "A," "B," and "C" for or in respect of periods subsequent to said delivery of possession, Prime Lessee will give Tenant a credit against required payments by Tenant to Prime Lessee under the Sublease.

3. Possession date. Tenant shall give possession of the Leased Premises, subject to the provisions of the Sublease, to Prime Lessee no later than August 16, _____ [year]. Tenant may give such possession to Prime Lessee prior to such date, whereupon Prime Lessee shall become the lessee under the Prime Lease Agreement effective as of the date of such possession. The Sublease shall become effective as of the date of such possession.

4. Leasehold improvements. Exhibit 4 is a list prepared by Tenant of all leasehold improvements installed in the Leased Premises with detailed costs and depreciation and amortization schedules. Tenant transfers and assigns to Prime Lessee, effective on delivery of possession of the Leased Premises to Prime Lessee, all right, title, and interest of Tenant in and to all of said leasehold improvements. Landlord consents to such transfer and assignment. Tenant shall execute and deliver to Prime Lessee appropriate documents satisfactory to counsel for Tenant and Prime Lessee to effect such transfer and assignment.

5. Title information. Landlord shall promptly furnish to Prime Lessee a set of the working drawings of the Leased Premises, a copy of the survey of the Leased Premises described in the Lease Agreement and copies of all title insurance policies or title guarantys with respect to the Leased Premises. The policies or guarantees shall promptly be assigned to Prime Lessee to the extent they are assignable.

6. Real estate commission. It is understood that Brown-Smith, Inc., is the only real estate broker who has represented any party to this transaction, and that the broker's commission shall be computed and payable as follows:

(a) Tenant payment. Tenant will pay $8,000 to Brown-Smith, Inc., payable on the date that possession of the Leased Premises is given to Prime Lessee.

(b) Assignee payment. Prime Lessee will pay $34,000 to Brown-Smith, Inc., $4,500 of which is payable when Prime Lessee takes possession of the Leased Premises and $29,500 one year thereafter.

(c) Landlord payment. Concurrently with the execution hereof, Landlord will pay $25,000 to Prime Lessee, which Prime Lessee agrees is in full consideration of all liability of Landlord with respect to any Commission due Brown-Smith, Inc., to be payable by Prime Lessee to Brown-Smith, Inc., on the date that Tenant gives possession of the Leased Premises to Prime Lessee.

(d) Repayment. If Prime Lessee exercises the right to cancel pursuant to the terms and conditions of paragraph 29 of the Prime Lease Agreement (Exhibit 2), concurrently with the delivery of written notice of cancellation, Prime Lessee shall repay $25,000 to Landlord.

7. Commencement date. Upon delivery to Prime Lessee by Tenant of possession of the leased premises under paragraph 1, Prime Lessee and Landlord shall amend paragraph 2 of the Prime Lease Agreement (Exhibit 2) by inserting the date of delivery of possession as the date of commencement of the term of the Prime Lease Agreement. Delivery of possession shall be evidenced by a letter signed by Prime Lessee and Tenant on such date.

8. Binding effect. This agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties and their respective successors and assigns.

9. Warranty. Tenant and Landlord represent and warrant that the Lease Agreement is the only agreement between Tenant and Landlord and that it has not been amended, superseded, added to or interpreted at any time.

In witness whereof the parties have signed or have affixed their corporate signatures as of the date first above written.

Attest:

Attest:

Ohio Foundry, Inc.

by _____

American Tool Corporation

by _____

Landlord

Exhibit 1

_____ [year] Lease Agreement between Tenant and Landlord

Exhibit 2

Prime Lease Agreement between Prime Lessee and Landlord

Exhibit 3

Subleases between Tenant and Prime Lessee

Exhibit 4

Leasehold Improvement List

87 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms

C. CONTRACTS OF SALE: COMMERCIAL PROPERTY

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.53

FORM 21.53 Sale of lease--lease assignment subject to net sublease of entire property

COMMENT

The lease being sold in the agreement illustrated here is subject to a net sublease covering the entire premises. Generally, a net lease or net sublease requires the lessee or sublessee to pay all or most of the costs and expenses of the leased property, including such items as maintenance, utilities, labor costs, taxes or tax escalation, insurance, and repairs. Therefore, as between the seller and the purchaser, it is necessary to provide only for an apportionment of the rent under the sublease. If on the other hand, the lease covered property occupied by various tenants, or occupied by one tenant who was not on a net rental basis, it would be necessary to make the usual adjustments for taxes, insurance, etc., and to take the precautions generally considered in the purchase of rental property.

Although not contained herein, the purchaser of a leasehold should have the same concerns regarding the condition of the property and improvements and their compliance with laws as if the fee title were being acquired.

Leasehold improvement and acquisition costs:

The cost of leasehold improvements made by a lessee are recovered under the rules applicable to other taxpayers. Therefore, the cost recovery of improvements made by a lessee to real property would generally be recoverable over 27.5 years for residential rental property and 39 years for nonresidential real property on a straight line method. The recovery period under the cost recovery rules apply, regardless of the lease term. On termination of the lease, the lessee who does not retain the improvements computes gain or loss by reference to the adjusted basis of the improvements at that time. The amortization of lease acquisition costs, however, involves the term of the lease. In determining the amortization period, the term of the lease includes all renewal options as well as other periods for which the parties reasonably expect the lease to be renewed, if less than 75 percent of the acquisition cost is attributable to the period of the term remaining on the date of its acquisition. Not taken into account in this determination, however, are any periods for which the lease may subsequently be renewed, extended, or continued pursuant to an option exercisable by the lessee. For a discussion of cost recovery of leasehold improvements and acquisition costs, see The Tax Background (TB) § 21.06[2].

Information reporting of real estate transactions:

The attorney or title company responsible for closing title is required to report the real estate transaction to the Service. In addition, a statement must be provided to the customer before January 31 of the year following the transaction. For a discussion of the information reporting requirements, see TB § 21.02[4].

FORM

AGREEMENT made March 25, _____ [year], between Walker Properties, Inc., a New York corporation, having its office at 100 West 40th Street, New York, New York ("Seller"), and Capital Center Company, a New York partnership, having its office at 200 Third Avenue, New York, New York ("Purchaser").

1. Sale. Seller agrees to sell and assign, and Purchaser agrees to purchase all of Seller's right, title, and interest as Lessee in and to that certain lease and the leasehold estate created thereby dated May 1, _____ [year], made by The Atlantic Insurance Company as Lessor and the Seller, as Lessee (the "Lease"), and recorded in the office of the Register of the City of New York in New York County on May 2, _____ [year], in Liber 6000 of Conveyances, page 1, covering the following described property:

(Insert description)

Together with the buildings and improvements erected upon such parcel of land.

2. Purchase price. The purchase price shall be $900,000, payable in cash or certified check on the delivery of the assignment of the lease.

3. Encumbrances. The Lease is sold and is to be assigned subject to:

(a) The matters set forth in the "subject" clauses contained in Article 1 of the Lease.

(b) Franchise taxes, if any, against any corporation in the chain of title. Seller shall indemnify and hold Purchaser harmless from and against any claim, loss, or liability arising out of any collection or attempted collection of any such franchise taxes out of the Lease or the premises.

(c) A Sublease of the entire premises substantially in the form annexed as Exhibit A.

4. Closing. The closing shall be held at the offices of Charles Borden, Esq., 100 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York, on the 1st day of June, _____ [year], at 10 a.m., the closing date, at which time the Purchaser shall pay the purchase price and Seller shall deliver the assignment of the Lease and the other documents herein referred to. Purchaser may, by giving at least five days prior written notice to Seller, adjourn the closing date for one month, to July

1, _____ [year], at the same time and place.

5. Form of assignment. The assignment of the Lease shall be in the form annexed as Exhibit B and shall be in recordable form, duly executed and acknowledged in triplicate so as to transfer to Purchaser the Lease, free of all encumbrances, except as herein stated. Such assignment shall also be executed by Purchaser, for the purpose of assuming the Lessee's obligations under the Lease and releasing Seller from liability thereunder.

6. Apportionment. The basic rent payable under the Sublease shall be apportioned between the parties as of midnight of the day preceding the closing. No other adjustments or apportionments shall be made.

7. Judgments against others. If a search of the title discloses judgments, bankruptcies, or other returns against persons having names the same as or similar to that of Seller, Seller will, on request, deliver to Purchaser an affidavit showing that such judgments, bankruptcies, or other returns are not against Seller.

8. Objections to title. Purchaser shall furnish Seller with any objections to title at least ten days before the closing date.

9. Additional documents at closing. At the closing, Seller shall deliver to Purchaser:

(a) A duplicate original or true copy of the Lessor's consent to the assignment of the Lease.

(b) An estoppel certificate from the Lessor under the Lease setting forth that the Lease is unmodified and in full force and effect, or if the Lease has been modified, setting forth the modifications, the dates to which the rent and other charges under the Lease have been paid, and stating whether, to the best knowledge of the signer of the certificate, the Lessee is in default in performing any covenant, agreement, or condition contained in the Lease, and, if so, specifying each such default of which the signer of such certificate has knowledge.

(c) An estoppel certificate from the Sublessee under the Sublease setting forth that the sublease is in full force and effect and unmodified, or if the Sublease has been modified, setting forth the modifications, the dates to which the basic rent and all other charges under the sublease have been paid, whether there are any existing set-offs or defenses to the basic rent and all additional rent due to the Sublessor under the Sublease, and stating whether, to the Sublessee's best knowledge, the Sublessor is in default in performing any covenant, agreement, or condition contained in the Sublease, and, if so, specifying each such default of which Sublessee has knowledge.

10. Purchaser's partnership agreement. At least ten days before the closing, Purchaser shall deliver to Seller a duplicate original copy of its partnership agreement, and a certified copy of its Partnership Certificate filed in the Office of the County Clerk of the County of New York. Such partnership agreement and Certificate shall be in the form necessary to qualify Purchaser as a permissible assignee of the Lease.

11. Seller's covenants and warranties. Seller covenants that, upon the execution and delivery of the assignment of the Lease, the Lease will be in full force and effect as a valid and subsisting lease. On the closing date, Seller will warrant that it has had no notice of default from the Lessor under the Lease. Seller will not modify or consent to a modification of the Lease or the Sublease between the date hereof and the closing, without Purchaser's prior written consent. Purchaser will not unreasonably withhold its consent to any modification of the Lease or the Sublease if such modification does not adversely affect the interests of the Lessee under the Lease or the Sublessor under the Sublease.

12. Satisfaction of liens. Seller may use any portion of the purchase price to satisfy liens or encumbrances of record which it is obligated to pay and discharge at the closing, if it delivers to Purchaser at the closing instruments in recordable form and sufficient to satisfy the liens and encumbrances, together with the recordation and filing costs. If request is made within a reasonable time before the closing date, Purchaser will provide at the closing separate certified checks aggregating the amount of the purchase price, to facilitate the satisfaction of all such liens or encumbrances. The existence of liens or encumbrances shall not be deemed objections to title if Seller complies with the above requirements.

13. Insurance policies and casualty damage. Seller shall maintain or cause to be maintained the existing insurance on the premises. If such insurance is cancelled by the issuing company, Seller shall obtain new insurance of the same amount and coverage. If the premises are damaged or destroyed before the closing date as a result of fire or other casualty, this agreement and the parties' rights thereunder shall continue unaffected, and Seller shall, at the closing, pay over to Purchaser all insurance proceeds in its possession, which Purchaser shall hold subject to the terms and conditions of the Lease. The parties hereby waive the provisions of Section 5-1311 of the General Obligations Law, the New York Uniform Vendor and Purchaser Risk Act, and agree that their respective rights in case of fire or other casualty covered by such Section shall be governed by the provisions of this paragraph.

14. Entire agreement; modification. This instrument constitutes the entire agreement between the parties. It has been entered into after full investigation, neither party relying upon any statement or representation by the other unless embodied herein. Purchaser has inspected the building upon the premises and is fully acquainted with its condition. This agreement may not be modified except by an agreement duly executed by both parties.

15. Binding effect. This agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective legal representatives, successors, and assigns.

16. Notices. All notices hereunder shall be in writing and delivered personally or mailed by certified or registered mail, postage prepaid, return receipt requested, addressed to the parties at their addresses listed above.

17. Nonwaiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise any right hereunder, and no partial or single exercise of such right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

18. Headings. Headings in this agreement are for convenience and reference only and shall not be used to interpret or construe its provisions.

19. Governing law. This agreement shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of New York.

20. Counterparts. This agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

21. Time of essence. Time is of the essence of this agreement.

In witness whereof the parties have executed this agreement the day and year first above written.

Attest:

Secretary

Walker Properties, Inc.

by _____

President

Capital Center Company

by _____

Partner

88 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms

C. CONTRACTS OF SALE: COMMERCIAL PROPERTY

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.54

FORM 21.54 Sale of contract to purchase property--cash payments timed with payments required under real estate contract

COMMENT

In this agreement, the seller, who holds a contract to purchase certain real estate, is selling his purchase contract to the buyer. The principal purpose of this agreement is to assign to the buyer all the seller's rights in the purchase contract. If the title report received by the purchaser discloses a defect in the title not provided for in the purchase contract, the seller is required to submit notice of the defect to the owner of the property. If the defect is not cured prior to the title closing, the seller is obligated to refund all payments previously made by the purchaser, together with net title company charges incurred by the purchaser.

The consideration for the assignment of the purchase contract is payable in three installments. The first two of these installments represent amounts required to be paid under the purchase contract to the owner of the property. In effect, the payment of these two installments would represent the seller's basis for his purchase contract. The third installment, which is to be paid by the buyer to the seller at the time of the closing, is the seller's profit on the sale of his purchase contract. Whether the profit will be ordinary income or capital gain depends upon whether the contract in the hands of the seller was held primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of business or was investment property. If the purchase contract is held by the seller for more than the prescribed holding period, the gain, if capital gain, will be long-term. Note: For property acquired after 1987 (or before June 23, 1984), the required holding period for long-term capital gain treatment is more than one year. See The Tax Background § 21.05.

FORM

AGREEMENT made February 28, _____ [year], by and between James Turner, residing at 100 Bayberry Drive, Scarsdale, New York ("Vendor"), and William Saxon, residing at 300 Ocean Avenue, Red Bank, New Jersey ("Vendee").

Recitals

Smith Realty Corp. has entered into a contract dated December 24, _____ [year], to purchase certain improved real property located in Bridgeport, Connecticut, more particularly described in such contract (the "Real Property"), from Carl Williams, as seller (the "Owner"), a copy of the purchase contract (the "Purchase Contract"), being annexed hereto, made part hereof and marked Exhibit A; and

Smith Realty Corp., by assignment dated December 24, _____ [year], assigned to Vendor all of its right, title, and interest in the Purchase Contract, together with the sum of $100,000 deposited with the Owner on account of the purchase price set forth in the Purchase Contract; and

The purchaser under the Purchase Contract is required, pursuant to the terms thereof, to deposit with the Owner on or before April 1, _____ [year], an additional sum of $100,000 on account of the purchase price set forth in the Purchase Contract; and

Vendor intends to make the $100,000 deposit on or before April 1, _____ [year]; and

Vendor desires to sell to Vendee and Vendee desires to purchase all of Vendor's right, title, and interest in and to the Purchase Contract, and the parties desire to record all their agreements and understandings,

Now, therefore, it is agreed as follows:

1. Sale. Vendor shall assign or cause to be assigned to Vendee all of Vendor's right, title, and interest in and to the Purchase Contract, together with the sum previously deposited by Vendor and the sum to be deposited by Vendor on or before April 1, _____ [year], both sums on account of the purchase price fixed in the Purchase Contract.

2. Purchase price. The consideration for the assignment of the Purchase Contract is $350,000, which Vendee shall pay to Vendor as follows:

(a) $100,000 upon the execution of this agreement to reimburse Vendor for a like sum advanced by him on account of the purchase price fixed in the Purchase Contract;

(b) $100,000 by delivering, on or before March 25, _____ [year], an acceptable certified check in that sum to Farnsworth & Grant, attorneys for Vendor, the proceeds of which Farnsworth & Grant shall pay to the Owner on or before April 1, _____ [year], on account of the purchase price fixed in the Purchase Contract;

(c) $150,000 on the closing.

3. Default of vendee. If at the time or times fixed herein, Vendee fails or refuses to perform any term, provision, covenant, or condition hereof required by Vendee to be kept, observed or performed, Vendor may terminate this agreement by giving notice to Vendee or his attorneys, Lane & Williams, 99 Park Place, Roseland, New Jersey. In such event, this agreement shall be deemed terminated for all purposes, and Vendor may retain, as liquidated damages, all sums paid hereunder by Vendee.

4. Title report. Vendee shall, within five days after the date hereof, order a title report from a title company acceptable to Vendor, and shall deliver a true copy to Vendor's attorneys within five days after receiving the report, but in no event later than April 5, _____ [year].

5. Title defect. If the title report referred to in Section 4 discloses any defect, lien, or encumbrance not provided for in the Purchase Contract, which would render title unmarketable and give the purchaser under the Purchase Contract the right to cancel the Purchase Contract as provided therein, and if by reason thereof Vendee intends to reject title, Vendee shall give immediate notice in writing to Vendor setting forth the alleged defect, lien, or encumbrance. Upon receipt of such notice from Vendee, Vendor shall, in accordance with the provisions of the Purchase Contract, immediately give the Owner notice of such alleged defect, lien, or encumbrance. If the Owner fails or refuses to remove such defect, lien, or encumbrance at or before the date of closing of title provided for in the Purchase Contract and Vendee elects not to waive such defect, lien, or encumbrance, Vendor's sole liability shall be limited to refund to Vendee all sums paid on account under this agreement, together with the net title company charges, without interest. In that event, this agreement, upon receipt of such payments by the Vendee, shall terminate, and the parties shall be released and discharged of all further claims and obligations hereunder. Vendee shall exercise its right to terminate this agreement within five days after Vendor has apprised Vendee by notice in writing of the fact that the Owner cannot or refuses to cure such defect, lien, or encumbrance.

6. Assignment of purchase contract. On the closing date, if Vendee shall have fully performed all the terms and conditions of this agreement, Vendor shall execute and deliver to Vendee or its assign a separate instrument of assignment (the "Assignment") in the form annexed as Exhibit B.

7. Broker. Vendee represents and warrants to Vendor that no broker brought about this transaction and that this transaction was negotiated between the principals. This representation shall survive delivery of the Assignment.

8. Representations and warranties by vendor. Vendor represents to Vendee that he is the sole owner of the Purchase Contract, that the Purchase Contract has not been modified, and is in full force and effect. Vendor warrants that he will not modify the Purchase Contract without the consent in writing of Vendee and, except as provided for in the Purchase Contract, shall not extend the time for title closing without Vendee's written consent, which he will not unreasonably withhold.

9. Exclusiveness of contract. This agreement is made without any express or implied representation or warranty by Vendor or any person acting in his behalf, except for representations or warranties specifically set forth herein, and there shall be no recourse to Vendor for any express or implied acts, omissions, alleged representations, or warranties relating to the Purchase Contract, the property which is the subject thereof, or this transaction, except for representations or warranties specifically set forth herein.

10. Closing. The closing date shall be June 28, _____ [year]. All acts to be performed by the parties on the closing date shall take place at the office of Farnsworth & Grant, 500 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York, at 9:30 a.m. on that date.

11. Notices. All notices hereunder shall be in writing and delivered personally or mailed by certified or registered mail, postage prepaid, return receipt requested, addressed, if to Vendor, c/o Farnsworth & Grant, at the address in paragraph 10, and if to Vendee, c/o Lane & Williams, 99 Park Place, Roseland, New Jersey.

12. Binding effect. This agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective legal representatives, successors, and assigns.

13. Entire agreement; modification. This instrument constitutes the entire agreement between the parties. It may not be modified or terminated except by an agreement duly executed and signed by both parties.

14. Nonwaiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise any right hereunder, and no partial or single exercise of such right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

15. Headings. Headings in this agreement are for convenience and reference only and shall not be used to interpret or construe its provisions.

16. Governing law. This agreement shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of New York.

17. Counterparts. This agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

18. Time of essence. Time is of the essence of this agreement.

The parties have executed and delivered this agreement.

James Turner, Vendor

William Saxon, Vendee

[Acknowledgments]

89 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms

C. CONTRACTS OF SALE: COMMERCIAL PROPERTY

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.55

FORM 21.55 Sale of partner's interest in real estate partnership--sale to remaining partners

COMMENT

This form is a contract for the sale of a partner's interest in a real estate partnership. The purchasers are the remaining partners of the partnership. Because the remaining partners are already familiar with the real estate owned by the partnership, there are not the usual concerns regarding the condition of the real estate and its compliance with laws. In addition to a basic price, the selling partner will also receive his distributive share of the profits for a period before the closing. The selling partner's distributive share of profits is paid, however, after the closing when it is determined by the accountants.

Frequently the seller of a partnership interest will indemnify the purchaser against undisclosed liabilities which may have been incurred by the partnership. This agreement contains an indemnity with respect to such liabilities, and a representation that the seller will not incur any liabilities on the behalf of the partnership between the date of the contract of sale and the date of the closing.

For a discussion of the tax aspects of a sale of a partnership interest see The Tax Background to Chapter 1 in Volume 1.

FORM

AGREEMENT made April 25, _____ [year], by and between Karl Marden of Chicago, Illinois ("Seller"), and Bernard Coates and Lawrence Hess, of Chicago, Illinois ("Purchasers").

Recitals

Karl Marden, Bernard Coates, and Lawrence Hess each owns a one-third interest in the partnership known as 500 River Drive Associates.

Purchasers wish to purchase, and Seller wishes to sell, Seller's one-third interest in such partnership.

Now, therefore, the parties agree as follows:

1. Sale. Seller agrees to sell and assign to Purchasers, and Purchasers agree to purchase from Seller, Seller's one-third interest in the partnership known as 500 River Drive Associates.

2. Purchase price. The purchase price shall be $300,000, plus Seller's distributive share of the partnership profits for the period May 1, _____ [year], to the date of closing, computed as set forth in paragraph 3, less any amounts previously withdrawn by Seller from the partnership on account of such distributive share. Such profits shall be computed, for purposes of determining the amount to be paid to Seller, without deduction for depreciation of fixed assets.

3. Payment of purchase price. The purchase price shall be paid as follows:

(a) Purchasers shall pay Seller the sum of $300,000 in cash or by check at the closing.

(b) Within 60 days after the closing, Marks & Co., accountants for the partnership, shall submit to the parties a certified profit and loss statement of the partnership, computed as of the close of business on the day preceding the date of closing, in accordance with the terms of this agreement. Within five days of receipt of such statement, Purchasers shall pay Seller his distributive share of the Partnership profits computed in accordance with the terms of this agreement. The books and records of the partnership shall continue to be kept in the same manner as they have been kept on the accrual basis.

4. Continuance of partnership. Seller shall remain as a member of the partnership from the date hereof to the date of closing.

5. Documents at closing. At the closing, Seller shall deliver to Purchasers:

(a) An assignment or assignments of his partnership interest, and of his interest, if any, in the real property and other assets owned by the partnership to such designees and in such fractional interests as Purchasers direct in writing.

(b) All additional instruments and documents that Purchasers may reasonably require in order to evidence the transfer of Seller's interest in the partnership and the termination of his interest therein.

6. Representations, covenants, and warranties by seller. Seller warrants, covenants, and represents, and at the closing will warrant, covenant, and represent, that he has not:

(a) previously assigned, transferred, pledged, hypothecated, or in any other manner disposed of or encumbered any part of his partnership interest.

(b) incurred any liabilities on behalf of the partnership other than the liabilities shown on its balance sheet, dated as of February 28, _____ [year], prepared by Marks & Co., and that he will not incur any liabilities on behalf of the partnership between the date hereof and the date of closing.

7. Indemnity to seller. At the closing, Purchasers shall indemnify and hold Seller harmless from and against all claims, losses, and liabilities of the partnership, except for those incurred by Seller on behalf of the partnership but not disclosed to Purchasers, or which Seller incurred on behalf of the partnership in violation of paragraph 6, whether such liability accrued before or after the closing date. This indemnity shall not extend to any liability of the partnership or of its partners for any tax imposed upon or measured by the income of the partnership or of its partners.

8. Amendment of partnership certificate. Immediately after the closing, Purchasers shall cause to be filed in the Office of the Clerk of Cook County an amendment to the partnership's Certificate of Conducting Business, which shall show that effective on the date of closing, Seller is no longer a member of the partnership.

9. Closing. The closing shall be held on July 1, _____ [year], at the offices of Howard Gordon, Esq., 100 Michigan Boulevard, Chicago, Illinois, at 10 a.m., at which time the purchase price, the assignment, and the other documents herein provided for shall be delivered by the respective parties.

10. Notices. All notices under this agreement shall be in writing, by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, addressed to Purchasers, c/o Howard Gordon, 100 Michigan Boulevard, Chicago, Illinois, and to Seller, c/o Arnold Evans, 200 West Randolph Street, Chicago, Illinois.

11. Binding effect. This agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties and their respective heirs, administrators, successors, and assigns.

12. Entire agreement; modification. This instrument constitutes the entire agreement between the parties. It may not be modified or terminated except by an agreement duly executed and signed by both parties.

13. Nonwaiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise any right hereunder, and no partial or single exercise of such right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

14. Headings. Headings in this agreement are for convenience and reference only and shall not be used to interpret or construe its provisions.

15. Governing law. This agreement shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of Illinois.

16. Counterparts. This agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

17. Time of essence. Time is of the essence of this agreement.

The parties have executed this agreement the day and year first above written.

Purchasers:

Bernard Coates

Lawrence Hess

Seller:

Karl Marden

90 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms

C. CONTRACTS OF SALE: COMMERCIAL PROPERTY

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.56

FORM 21.56 Sale of portion of partner's interest in real estate partnership--sale to third party--amended certificate and amendment to partnership agreement attached--partial mortgage indemnity

COMMENT

This agreement is another form involving sale of a partnership interest in an existing real estate partnership. Although not set forth in this agreement, a third party purchaser of a partnership interest in a real estate partnership should do a certain amount of due diligence regarding the underlying real estate owned by the partnership as would be done if the real estate were being purchased outright. The partnership is a general partnership and the partnership property is encumbered by a mortgage. The new partner has agreed to indemnify the former partners on a pro rata basis with respect to the mortgage liability. The Amendment to the Partnership Agreement and Amended Certificate are attached as exhibits.

See The Tax Background to Chapter 1, Volume 1, for a discussion of the law and tax aspects of exchanges of partnership interests.

FORM

THIS AGREEMENT is made on January 27, _____ [year], by and between Oscar A. Brown, 2200 Erie Road, New Haven, Indiana ("Seller"), and George B. Stein, 6122 String Road, Auburn, Indiana ("Buyer").

Recitals

Seller is a partner in a general partnership known as The Ft. Wayne Realty Company, pursuant to a General Partnership

Agreement dated October 28, _____ [year]; and Seller owns a 50-percent interest in the partnership and desires to sell 20 percent of his interest to Buyer, and Buyer desires to purchase the 20-percent interest.

Now, therefore, the parties agree as follows:

1. Price. The purchase price for 20 percent of Seller's partnership interest shall be $150,000, payable in cash or its equivalent.

2. Effective date of transfer. The sale and transfer of the above partnership interest shall be effective as of January 1, _____ [year]. From and after that date, Buyer shall have a 10-percent interest in the cash flow and net income or loss of the partnership, subject to its liabilities.

3. Indemnification. As a condition of this purchase, Buyer covenants, such covenant to survive the sale and transfer of the partnership interest, that he shall and hereby assumes 10 percent of the mortgage liability of the partnership to Louisville Life Insurance Company, and shall indemnify Seller and John L. Blaird, the other partner in the partnership, from their personal liability on the promissory note payable to Louisville Life Insurance Company, as partners and as guarantors of the note, up to the amount of 10 percent of the liability.

4. Covenant of buyer. Subject to the terms of paragraph 5, Buyer shall be bound by all of the terms and provisions of the above General Partnership Agreement, dated October 28, _____ [year], effective as of the date of transfer of Seller's partnership interest.

5. Resale of partnership interest. If for any reason Buyer terminates his employment with Advance Builders Corp., an Indiana corporation, he shall immediately resell his 10-percent partnership interest to Seller, or Seller's successors in interest, and Seller shall purchase same. The price for Buyer's 10-percent interest shall be the same as the price paid by Buyer for the partnership interest as set forth in paragraph 1. Notwithstanding the preceding, if Buyer's termination of employment is due solely to his retirement from the corporation under its employee retirement plan or policy, Buyer shall not be required to resell his partnership interest but rather the disposition thereof shall be governed by the General Partnership Agreement.

6. John L. Blaird has executed this Agreement solely for the purpose of agreeing to execute the Amended Certificate of Partnership, attached as Exhibit A, and the First Amendment to General Partnership Agreement, attached as Exhibit B, and the parties each agree to execute Exhibits A and B.

7. Binding effect. This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties and their respective heirs, executors, administrators, and assigns.

8. Entire agreement; modification. This instrument constitutes the entire agreement between the parties. It may not be modified except by an agreement duly executed and signed by both parties.

9. Nonwaiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise or enforce any right hereunder, and no partial or single exercise of such right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

10. Notices. All notices hereunder shall be in writing and delivered personally or mailed by certified or registered mail, postage prepaid, return receipt requested, addressed to the parties at their respective addresses above.

11. Governing law. This Agreement shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of Indiana.

12. Headings. Headings in this Agreement are for convenience and reference only and shall not be used to interpret or construe its provisions.

13. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

14. Time of essence. Time is of the essence of this Agreement.

The parties have executed this Agreement on the date first above written.

Seller:

Oscar A. Brown

Buyer:

George B. Stein

Consented to:

John L. Blaird

Exhibit A

Amended
Certificate of Partnership for
The Ft. Wayne Realty Company

The undersigned certify, acknowledge, and resubmit the following amended certificate of The Ft. Wayne Realty Company, an Indiana general partnership having a fictitious name for the purpose of adding George B. Stein as a partner, effective as of January 1, _____ [year]:

Partnership Name and Principal Place of Business:	The Ft. Wayne Realty Company 2500 First Avenue Ft. Wayne, Indiana

Partners' Names and Addresses:	Oscar A. Brown 2200 Erie Road New Haven, Indiana

John L. Blaird
26520 Lake Road
Huntington, Indiana

George B. Stein
6122 String Road
Auburn, Indiana

The undersigned have executed this Amended Certificate of Partnership on _____ [date].

Oscar A. Brown

John L. Blaird

George B. Stein

[Acknowledgments]

Exhibit B

First Amendment to General Partnership Agreement of
The Ft. Wayne Realty Company

The undersigned amend certain sections of the General Partnership Agreement of The Ft. Wayne Realty Company, to account for the addition of George B. Stein as a Partner, such amendments to be effective as of the 1st day of January, _____ [year]:

1. Paragraph 5 of the Agreement is amended to read in its entirety as follows:

"5. Partners. The names and addresses of each of the Partners are as follows:

Name	Address
Oscar A. Brown	2200 Erie Road New Haven, Indiana
John L. Blaird	26520 Lake Road

George B. Stein

Huntington, Indiana
 6122 String Road
 Auburn, Indiana"

2. Paragraph 7 of the Agreement is amended to read in its entirety as follows:

"7. Net profits, net losses and cash flow.

A. Profits and losses. Subject to the adjustments that may be made as hereinafter provided, the net profits and the net losses shall be shared by the Partners as follows:

Partner	Percentage
Oscar A. Brown	40%
John L. Blaird	50%
George B. Stein	10%

The terms "net profits" and "net losses" shall mean the net profits and net losses of the Partnership as determined for federal income tax purposes by its certified public accountant.

B. Cash flow. The "cash flow" of the Partnership shall be its net profit or loss as defined in paragraph 7A, plus depreciation and other noncash charges deducted in determining the net profit or loss, plus sums borrowed by the Partnership, minus principal payments on all mortgages, any other cash expenditures which have been not deducted in determining the net profit or loss of the Partnership, and any amount reasonably required by it to maintain sufficient working capital and a reasonable reserve for replacements. The cash flow of the Partnership shall be determined separately for each fiscal year and not cumulatively and, as so determined, but subject to any adjustments required below, shall be distributed as follows:

Partner	Percentage
Oscar A. Brown	40%
John L. Blaird	50%
George B. Stein	10%

The cash flow shall be distributed on or before the 90th day following the end of the Partnership's fiscal year. The fiscal year end of the Partnership shall be December 31."

3. The first paragraph of paragraph 9 of the Agreement is amended to read in its entirety as follows:

"9. Managing Partner. The day-to-day affairs of the Partnership shall be handled by the Managing Partner, John L. Blaird. If at any time John L. Blaird is unable or unwilling to serve as Managing Partner, the successor Managing Partner of the Partnership shall be Oscar A. Brown. If at any time Oscar A. Brown is unable or unwilling to serve as Managing Partner, the successor Managing Partner of the Partnership shall be elected by a majority in interest of the Partners."

In witness whereof, the undersigned Partners of The Ft. Wayne Realty Company have signed this First Amendment as of January 27, _____ [year].

Signed in the presence of:

General Partners:

Oscar A. Brown

John L. Blaird

George B. Stein

91 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms

C. CONTRACTS OF SALE: COMMERCIAL PROPERTY

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.57

FORM 21.57 Sale of Membership Interests in Limited Liability Company in Lieu of Direct Sale of Real Estate

COMMENT

Real estate can be sold directly by the title holder or indirectly by a sale of Membership Interests in a limited liability company ("LLC") if the real estate is owned by an LLC (or if it can be transferred by the owner to an LLC). There are several reasons why it may be more advantageous to sell the Membership Interests as opposed to a direct sale of the real estate. One advantage if Membership Interests are sold is that no deed will have to be recorded in the public records where the real property is located. Therefore, the transaction can be kept private by the parties. In addition, because no deed is recorded, the county real property assessor will not be able to increase the value of the real property on the tax rolls to the current value as established by the purchase price, which likely will be higher than the value on the tax rolls. That disclosure would result in a revaluation of the real property for real estate tax purposes, and higher real estate taxes to pay.

A second advantage is the sale of Membership Interests may avoid the parties having to pay a transfer tax or conveyance fee. In many jurisdictions a transfer tax or conveyance fee must be paid when there is a transfer of real estate for value. The fee is usually based on the purchase price paid for the real property and it is usually paid when the deed is recorded. If the Member Interests are sold, there is no transfer of real property because the Membership Interests are considered personal property.

If the real property to be sold is not already held in an LLC, but rather is held by an individual, the individual can transfer the real property to a new LLC set up by the individual. In exchange for that transfer, the individual will receive 100% of the Membership Interests in the LLC. In most jurisdictions there is no transfer tax required to be paid on the transfer into the LLC by the individual owning it because it is treated as a contribution, not as a sale, and because the same individual that contributed the real property continues to own it, although indirectly through an LLC.

In the following form the parties anticipated setting up an LLC from the outset so the purchase agreement sets forth that the buyer would acquire the LLC Units (or Membership Interests) owned by the seller, instead of acquiring the real estate directly. In this form the owner of the real property was an existing LLC, but to protect the buyer from unknown liabilities of the existing LLC, the agreement required the seller to transfer the real estate to a new LLC, which would have no risk of unknown liabilities. The buyer then is required to purchase all of the Units held by the owner of the new LLC and is able to avoid having to record a deed. By not having to record a deed in this jurisdiction, the parties avoided any transfer tax and any upward revaluation of the real estate by the county real property assessor. The price paid for the units is the same as what would have been paid for the real estate because the only asset of the new LLC is that real estate. The buyer ends up owning the real estate, but indirectly as the sole owner of the LLC.

The next form illustrates a form which can be used to convert a conventional direct sale of real estate into a sale of Membership Interests in an LLC.

FORM

THIS AGREEMENT is made at _____, Ohio, this _____ day of _____, 20____, between READING LLC, an Ohio limited liability company (hereinafter called "Seller"), and JOHN S. STONE, or his nominee (hereinafter called "Buyer").

WITNESSETH:

WHEREAS, Seller is the owner of the premises described on Exhibit A, attached hereto and made a part hereof, consisting of approximately 5 acres of vacant land, made up of four (4) parcels and the single story buildings thereon known as 28350 Woods Road, 28230 Woods Road, and 28220 Woods Road, Ohio, which buildings the Buyer may elect to demolish at some time after closing. The aforesaid premises include the land and any and all rights, privileges, and easements appertaining thereto, the buildings and all improvements thereon, all of which shall hereinafter be referred to as the "Property"; and

WHEREAS, it is the intention of Seller to contribute the Property to a new Ohio limited liability company called Blackstone Development Company, LLC, hereinafter referred to as "Blackstone," in exchange for all of the membership units in Blackstone, consisting of 100 units to be issued to Seller in exchange for its contribution to Blackstone; and

WHEREAS, the Property shall be contributed to Blackstone by Seller on the closing date hereafter set forth, by good and sufficient general warranty subject only to the encumbrances approved by Buyer as hereafter described, provided all conditions set forth herein have been satisfied; and

WHEREAS, after the issuance of such 100 units, Seller shall own all of the outstanding membership units in Blackstone (collectively, the "Units"); and

WHEREAS, Seller desires to sell to Buyer, and Buyer desires to purchase from Seller, all of the Seller's right, title and interest in and to the Units; and

WHEREAS, Blackstone consents to such purchase and sale of the Units, subject to the terms set forth herein; and

WHEREAS, the parties hereto desire to provide for the purchase and sale of the Units under the terms and conditions set forth herein;

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual covenants and conditions contained herein, the parties hereto, intending to be legally bound hereby, covenant and agree as follows:

1. Transfer of Units. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, Seller hereby agrees to sell, convey, transfer, assign, set over and deliver to Buyer, and Buyer does hereby purchase, acquire and accept from Seller, all of the Units in Blackstone.

2. Purchase Price. Subject to the adjustments hereafter set forth, the total purchase price for the Units is Two Million and 00/100 Dollars ($2,000,000), payable by Buyer as follows:

(a) Twenty Thousand and 00/100 Dollars ($20,000.00) in cash or by check upon the execution of this Agreement, delivered to Seller, which sum shall be deposited into escrow with the escrow agent hereinafter designated.

(b) The sum of One Million Five Hundred Thousand and 00/100 Dollars ($1,500,000.00) in cash (or certified check), which sum shall be deposited into escrow on or before the closing date of this transaction, as hereinafter designated.

(c) The balance of the purchase price, namely Four Hundred Eighty Thousand and 00/100 Dollars ($480,000.00), shall be payable within five (5) years from the closing date, or when Buyer (or any affiliated party of Buyer) obtains title to the adjacent property located at 28400 Woods Road, Ohio, whichever is sooner. Said balance shall be evidenced by a promissory note secured by a mortgage subordinate to any mortgage deed securing a construction loan obtained by Buyer to develop and improve the Property in an amount not to exceed eighty percent (80%) of the completed value of the land and improvements as determined by a reputable MAI appraiser engaged by Buyer's lender. A copy of said promissory note and mortgage deed are marked Exhibit B and Exhibit C, respectively, attached hereto and made a part hereof. Executed counterparts shall be deposited into escrow on or prior to the closing date.

The purchase price for the Units shall be adjusted if necessary, in the event a registered surveyor, licensed in the State of Ohio, hired and paid for by Seller, determines the actual usable acreage of the Property to be more or less than five (5) acres, assuming a price per usable acre of Four Hundred Thousand and 00/100 Dollars ($400,000.00). It is agreed that the purchase price for the Units is tied directly to the value of the Property. The surveyor shall measure the actual usable acreage, as hereafter defined, within the boundaries of the parcels, but not to the centerline of the roadway, to at least two (2) decimal places, and shall notify Seller and Buyer of such determination. The term "usable acreage" shall mean that portion of the acreage which is buildable, specifically excluding (i) the utility substation and the areas immediately around it that may be restricted from use (ii) the electric utility right of way easement containing a transformer and utility poles and the areas immediately adjacent thereto which may be restricted from use by law or by regulation of the utility company, (iii) the portions of Woods Road which are a part of the land taken in connection with the widening of those roads, and (iv) any other nonbuildable areas. If the actual usable acreage is determined to be different than five (5) acres, the purchase price shall be adjusted accordingly, using $400,000 per usable acre or fraction thereof. Within five (5) business days of receipt of the surveyor's determination of usable acreage, Buyer and Seller must mutually agree to such determination by written notice given to the other. The parties agree to use the legal descriptions of the parcels prepared by the surveyor for the deed of conveyance, and a copy thereof shall be certified to the title company by the surveyor. Seller agrees to cause such survey to be obtained within sixty (60) days from the date of execution hereof, and to cause copies thereof to be delivered to Buyer. Seller agrees to order the survey from a surveyor designated by Buyer, but shall not be required to pay in excess of $5,000 towards said cost. If the cost exceeds $5,000, Buyer shall pay the excess.

3. Closing. The closing of this transaction shall be the later of _____, 20____, or seventy-five (75) days from the date of execution of this Agreement.

4. Contingencies. A. Buyer shall have sixty (60) days from the date of execution of this Agreement to satisfy the following contingencies:

(i) To determine the suitability of Blackstone's land for Buyer's intended purposes, including subsurface soil conditions, soil tests and such other tests and investigations as Buyer shall determine;

(ii) To determine the environmental condition of the Property by obtaining a Phase I site assessment and wetlands delineation prepared by a licensed professional environmental engineering company; and

(iii) To inspect the buildings on the Property.

All of the above shall be done at Buyer's sole risk and expense. Seller agrees that Buyer, its agents and employees, shall have access to the Property for the purpose of performing the above site assessments, tests and investigations. Buyer agrees to interfere as little as possible with Seller in the conduct of such matters, and agrees to indemnify, defend and hold harmless Seller from any damages to persons or property resulting from the aforesaid. Any damage to the real or personal property resulting from the inspections and testing shall be promptly repaired by Buyer to restore the Property to its pre-existing condition.

In the event Buyer does not satisfy and approve any one or more of the above contingencies within sixty (60) days from the date of execution of this Agreement, Buyer shall have the right to notify Seller in writing of its disapproval, in which event this Agreement shall be terminated without further liability to either party, and all funds and documents shall be returned to the respective parties. Seller shall have no obligation to convey the Property into Blackstone until the above contingencies shall have been satisfied or waived by Buyer, and the parties are in the position to close this transaction.

B. Buyer agrees that upon completion of its inspections and tests referenced above, except as otherwise provided herein, Buyer is purchasing the Property in "as is" and "where is" condition, with all faults.

5. A. On or before the closing date, Seller shall deposit into escrow with the escrow agent the certificates evidencing the Units to be sold by Seller hereunder, duly endorsed for transfer to the Buyer or Buyer's nominee, or accompanied by written powers duly executed and otherwise sufficient to convey and transfer the Units to the Buyer or Buyer's nominee. Such Units shall be delivered by the escrow agent to Buyer in connection with the closing of this transaction, provided Buyer has deposited all funds and documents required under the terms of this Agreement. Seller shall execute and deliver to Buyer such other and further documents and instruments of conveyance, sale, assignment and transfer, and shall take or cause to be taken such other or further action as Buyer may reasonably request in order to more fully vest, confirm or evidence the Buyer's title to and ownership of the Units. In addition, Seller shall provide to Buyer and to the title company all such resolutions as are required to satisfy Buyer and the title company that Seller has all requisite authority to convey the Property to Blackstone and to transfer the Units to the Buyer or his nominee.

B. Seller shall accompany the conveyance of Seller's Units with the simultaneous issuance of an ALTA Owner's Fee Policy with respect to the Property in the amount of the purchase price issued by First American Title Insurance Company, Ohio (hereinafter called "title company"), insuring marketable title to be good and marketable in Blackstone upon the filing of Seller's warranty deed conveying the Property to Blackstone, subject only to the exceptions approved by Buyer as hereafter set forth. Seller and Buyer shall split equally the cost of the title insurance premium.

C. A preliminary title report, with a special tax search included, in the form of a commitment to issue the required title insurance ("title report") shall be ordered from the title company by Seller immediately upon the execution of this Agreement, a copy of which shall be delivered to Buyer. Within fifteen (15) days from the receipt of said title report by Buyer, Buyer shall notify Seller and the title company of any restrictions, reservations, limitations, easements and conditions of record (together herein called "title defects") disclosed in said title report which are objectionable to Buyer. In the event Buyer so notifies Seller of any such title defects, Seller shall have until the closing date to cure or remove said title defects. Seller shall be obligated to remove all such title defects objected to by Buyer that may be removed by the payment of money, and Seller shall take whatever reasonable steps may be necessary to remove any other title defects. If any special assessments are shown in such commitment other than for routine maintenance of street improvements, Buyer may object to same within the aforesaid 15-day period. If such objection is made, Seller may, but shall not be obligated to, pay in full such assessments, including all future installments thereof. If Seller elects not to pay such assessments in full, Buyer shall have the right to terminate this Agreement by written notice to Seller, in which event all funds and documents shall be returned to Buyer. Notwithstanding the above, Buyer shall have the option to request that the surveyor hired by Seller also prepare an ALTA/ACSM survey to be certified to the title company, in addition to the boundary survey referred to in Paragraph 2. above. If so, the 15-day period shall not commence until Buyer is in receipt of the ALTA/ACSM survey. In addition, Buyer shall have the right to object to any items shown in the survey, in which event such objections shall be treated in the same manner as title defects referred to hereinabove.

On the closing date, the escrow agent shall notify Seller and Buyer as to whether the title company is then in the position to file the warranty deed referred to above and issue its title insurance showing as exceptions in the deed and in the title insurance policy only those items in the title report to which the Buyer did not object. If the escrow agent shall notify the parties that (a) the title company will issue such title insurance then this transaction shall be closed in accordance with the terms of this Agreement, or (b) the title company will not issue such title insurance, and if the Seller does not forthwith cure the title defects that the escrow agent recites as preventing such issuance showing as exceptions only those items in the title report to which the Buyer did not object, or within such period of time as Buyer shall permit, or Buyer does not forthwith waive the same, then this Agreement shall be automatically void and of no further force and effect, the escrow agent shall return to the parties the respective funds and documents deposited into escrow by them, and the parties shall be fully released from any liability or obligations hereunder. If Buyer shall waive the title defects preventing such issuance by so notifying the title company and the escrow agent, or if the Seller shall have cured the same as permitted above, the obligations of the parties hereunder shall not be affected by reason thereof, there shall be no abatement or reduction of the purchase price, and this transaction shall be consummated in accordance with the terms and provisions of this Agreement, except that such title defects that are waived by Buyer, if any, shall be set forth as exceptions in the warranty deed and in the title insurance.

6. If the buildings or other improvements shall be damaged prior to transfer of record title to the Buyer, Seller shall promptly notify Buyer of the extent of said damage, and, if said damage exceeds Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000), Buyer shall have the option, exercisable in writing within ten (10) days of receipt of notice of said damage from Seller (i) to rescind and void this Agreement, in which event all funds and documents shall be returned to the respective parties by the escrow agent, or (ii) to continue this Agreement in full force and effect, in which case the Seller shall execute and deliver to Buyer all documents reasonably required to irrevocably assign to Buyer all insurance proceeds payable because of the damage; otherwise this Agreement shall be closed in accordance with (i) above. Seller shall carry a fire and extended coverage insurance policy insuring the improvements in an amount not less than their full insurable value until the closing date. After transfer of record title to the Property, risk of loss shall be and is assumed by Buyer. There shall be no proration of insurance. It shall be the obligation of Buyer to obtain Buyer's own policies of insurance from and after the closing date. After transfer of record title to the Property, risk of loss shall be and is assumed by Buyer. There shall be no proration of insurance. It shall be the obligation of Buyer to obtain Buyer's own policies of insurance from and after the closing date.

7. A. All real estate taxes and assessments, both general and special, shall be prorated by the escrow agent as of the closing date, using for such purpose the rate and valuation shown on the latest available tax duplicate.

B. There shall be no holdback for water and sewer charges. Buyer acknowledges that the buildings on Woods Road have well water and septic systems.

8. The Seller and the Buyer represent, which representation shall survive the transfer of title, that no real estate broker was involved in this transaction and that no brokerage fees or other compensation is due any real estate broker or any other person because of this transaction.

9. This transaction shall be placed in escrow with First American Title Insurance Company ("escrow agent"). An executed counterpart of this Agreement shall be deposited with the escrow agent by the Buyer, and this Agreement shall serve as the escrow instructions. The escrow agent may attach its standard conditions of acceptance thereto; provided, however, that in the event said standard conditions are inconsistent or in conflict with the terms of this Agreement, then this Agreement shall control.

10. On the closing date, the escrow agent shall deliver to Buyer or his nominee the Units and shall thereupon deliver to each of the parties the funds and documents to which they shall be respectively entitled, together with its escrow statement, provided that the escrow agent shall then have on hand all funds and documents necessary to complete the within transaction and provided the title company has stated that it shall be in a position to and will issue and deliver, upon the closing date, the title insurance required hereunder.

In closing this transaction, the escrow agent shall charge the Seller with the following:

- (a) the amount of real estate taxes and assessments prorated up to and including the date of transfer of title to the Units;
- (b) the cost of a title report, title search, and one-half (1/2) of the premium for the title insurance in the amount of the purchase price;
- (c) the cost of paying off and satisfying any mortgage indebtedness for which Seller is liable, together with the cost of any mortgage cancellation, recording fee or other costs incident to the satisfaction of any such indebtedness;
- (d) one-half (1/2) of the escrow fee; and
- (e) all other charges properly borne by Seller consistent with the terms of this Agreement;

and immediately thereafter shall deliver to the Seller the balance of the funds in its hands due under the terms hereof, including any prorations due the Seller, and any documents due the Seller.

On closing, said escrow agent shall charge the Buyer with the following:

- (a) one-half (1/2) of the cost of the premium for the title insurance;
- (b) The cost to record the deed to Blackstone;
- (c) one-half (1/2) of the escrow fee; and
- (d) all other charges properly borne by Buyer consistent with the terms of this Agreement;

and immediately thereafter, said escrow agent shall deliver to Buyer any proration to which Buyer is entitled and any other funds or documents due the Buyer and, as soon as available, the recorded warranty deed to Blackstone and title insurance issued with respect to the Property.

11. Any notice which may be or is required to be given pursuant to the provisions of this Agreement shall be deemed to be sufficiently given if personally delivered or sent by certified or registered mail, postage prepaid, return receipt requested, and addressed as follows:

If to Seller, to: Reading LLC

With a copy to:

If to Buyer, to: John S. Stone

With a copy to:

12. This Agreement and the transaction described herein shall be kept strictly confidential by all of the parties hereto and their respective representatives and advisor.

13. This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of Seller and Buyer and their respective legal representatives, successors and assigns. Buyer shall have the right to assign this Agreement to such persons or entities as Buyer designates, provided all such persons or entities assume the obligations of Buyer hereunder.

The parties hereto execute this Agreement the day and year first above written.

SELLER:

READING LLC, an Ohio limited liability company

By: _____

Managing Member

BUYER:

John S. Stone

EXHIBIT A

Legal Description of Property

EXHIBIT B

Promissory Note for $480,000

EXHIBIT C

Mortgage Deed Securing the Promissory Note for $480,000

92 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms

C. CONTRACTS OF SALE: COMMERCIAL PROPERTY

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.57A

FORM 21.57A Amendment to Real Estate Purchase Agreement to Convert to Sale of Membership Interests in Limited Liability Company

COMMENT

For the reasons discussed in the Comment to the prior Form 21.65, it is sometimes advantageous to sell the Membership Interests in a limited liability company (LLC) in lieu of selling the real estate owned directly by the LLC. However, frequently before the seller and buyer realize this fact, they have already signed the Purchase Agreement. In such a case this Amendment can be used to convert the purchase and sale transaction to a purchase and sale of the Membership Interests of the LLC owning the real estate.

In this instance, the real property is owned by an existing LLC who transfers it into a new LLC, in this agreement called the "Subsidiary." The existing LLC then becomes the sole member of the Subsidiary. That sole member then sells its Membership Interests for the same price the real estate was agreed to be sold for in the original Purchase Agreement. A new LLC was used because the buyer is then better protected from unknown liabilities of the existing LLC.

FORM

THIS AMENDMENT is entered into this ____ day of _____, by and among _____ or her nominee(s) (referred to hereafter as "Buyer"), _____, an _____ limited liability company (referred to hereafter as "Seller"), and _____ (referred to hereafter as "Member").

WHEREAS, Buyer and Seller entered into a Purchase Agreement, Offer, Receipt, and Acceptance effective as of _____ (referred to hereafter as the "Agreement") wherein Buyer agreed to purchase from Seller, and Seller agreed to sell to Buyer, the building and land on which it is located at _____ as more fully described therein (referred to hereafter as the "Real Property"); and

WHEREAS, Member is the sole member of Seller and has economic and other interests in Seller and in the proceeds of the sale contemplated herein; and

WHEREAS, the parties hereto desire that in lieu of Buyer's purchase of the Real Property in accordance with the Agreement, Seller shall sell and transfer to Buyer, and Buyer shall purchase and acquire from Seller, all of Seller's right, title, and interest in the membership interests (referred to hereafter as "Membership Interests") of a newly-formed, wholly-owned subsidiary of Seller (i.e., _____) (referred to hereafter as the "Subsidiary"), which will own the Real Property, together with all rights as a landlord resulting from any tenancies, and the personal property used in connection with the operation of the Real Property described in Exhibit A (referred to hereinafter as the "Personal Property"), attached hereto and incorporated herein; and

WHEREAS, the parties hereto desire to amend the Agreement to provide for such purchase and sale of the Membership Interests in lieu of the Property;

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual covenants and conditions contained herein, the parties hereto, intending to be legally bound hereby, covenant and agree as follows:

1. Transfer of Membership Interests. Subject to the further terms and conditions of this Amendment, Seller hereby sells, conveys, transfers, assigns, sets over, and delivers to Buyer, free and clear of all liens and encumbrances, and Buyer does hereby purchase, acquire, and accept from Seller, all of the Membership Interests in the Subsidiary.

2. Transfer of Real Property and Personal Property. As soon hereinafter as is practicable, Seller will transfer to the Subsidiary by general warranty deed good and marketable title to the Real Property and will transfer to the Subsidiary by bill of sale good and marketable title the Personal Property, but Seller shall not be obligated to do either until after Buyer has waived Buyer's contingencies under the Agreement.

3. Closing. The closing date of this transaction shall be _____ or such other date as the parties may hereafter agree. On the closing date, the purchase price, costs, fees, taxes, security deposits, prorations and expenses associated with the transaction shall be borne by and/or allocated to Seller and Buyer as though Buyer had purchased the Property from Seller as of the closing date. The purchase price and all other funds and documents required to close the transaction shall be deposited with the escrow agent. On or before the closing date, Seller shall deposit in escrow with the escrow agent the certificate evidencing the Membership Interests to be sold by Seller hereunder, duly endorsed for transfer to Buyer or accompanied by written assignments duly executed and otherwise sufficient to convey and transfer the Membership Interests to Buyer, which shall be delivered by the escrow agent to Buyer on the closing date. Seller and the Subsidiary shall execute and deliver to Buyer such other and further documents and instruments of conveyance, sale, assignment and transfer, and shall take or cause to be taken such other or further action as Buyer may reasonably request, in order to more fully vest, confirm or evidence in Buyer title to and ownership of the Membership Interests. Notwithstanding any provision of the Agreement to the contrary, the sole title company and escrow agent for this transaction shall be Lighthouse Title Agency.

4. Allocation of Income and Expense. The parties agree that all income and expenses relating to the Subsidiary that accrue prior to the closing date shall be allocated to and be the responsibility solely of Seller and that all income and expenses of the Subsidiary that accrue on or after the closing date shall be allocated to and be the responsibility solely of Buyer. The parties agree to cooperate in order to satisfy all tax reporting and filing obligations in a timely and consistent manner.

5. Warranties and Representations of Seller. Seller and Member hereby jointly and severally warrant and represent that the following are true and correct on the date of this Amendment and will be true and correct as of the closing date:

A. Seller is validly existing and in full force and effect under the laws of the State of _____, with all requisite power and authority to own the Real Property and Personal Property, and was formed on _____ under Charter Number _____; and, furthermore, the Subsidiary is or will be validly existing and in full force and effect under the laws of the State of _____ as of the closing date;

B. Seller is the sole owner of the Subsidiary and the sole record and beneficial holder of the Membership Interests and holds the Membership Interests free and clear of any lien, pledge, encumbrance, claim or other charge whatsoever;

C. Seller is not subject to any legal or personal restraint or disability that would prevent or restrict Seller's execution, delivery or performance of this Amendment, and the execution, delivery and performance of this Amendment by Seller will not (i) constitute a breach of or violate any provision of any agreement or instrument, or any law, regulation, order or decree, to which Seller is a party or by which Seller is bound, (ii) conflict with or violate the governing documents of Seller in any material respect, or (iii) result in any lien against the Membership Interests, the Real Property, or the Personal Property;

D. As of the Closing Date, the Subsidiary owns good and marketable title to the Real Property free and clear of all liens and encumbrances, except zoning ordinances and building codes, taxes and assessments, both general and special, which are a lien but not yet due and payable, and such restrictions, reservations, limitations, easements and conditions of record as are waived by Buyer under the terms of the Agreement;

F. As of the Closing Date, all of the Personal Property is held by the Subsidiary free and clear of all liens, claims, or encumbrances whatsoever;

G. There are no pending or threatened actions, suits or proceedings against Seller or the Subsidiary, and there are no outstanding notices or orders from any governmental authority with respect to any claim of any violation of any laws, ordinances, zoning codes or rules and regulations;

H. Exhibit B attached hereto is a list of all agreements and contracts to which Seller and/or the Subsidiary is a party, whether written or oral;

J. All warranties and representations of Seller set forth in the Agreement are true and correct on the date of this Amendment and will be true and correct as of the closing date;

K. Seller has disclosed to Buyer all facts known to Seller that are material to the condition, assets, liabilities, and operations of Seller and the Subsidiary, and no representations or warranties of Seller contained in this Amendment or in the Agreement, and no statement contained in any schedule, list or other writing furnished or to be furnished by Seller to Buyer, contains any untrue statement of a material fact or omits to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements contained therein not misleading;

L. The Subsidiary will not have any liabilities other than real estate taxes due and not yet payable, and since its formation the Subsidiary has not conducted any business or commercial activities other than the ownership and operation of the Real Property and the Personal Property;

M. Neither the Subsidiary nor Seller has any employees for purposes of income tax and withholdings requirements or otherwise; and

N. Seller has delivered to Buyer all operating agreements and other contracts and agreements to which the Subsidiary is a party, if any.

Each of the foregoing representations and warranties shall survive the closing of the transaction contemplated herein.

6. Buyer's Indemnification. Buyer shall hold harmless, defend and indemnify Seller and its agents, representatives, successors and assigns, from and against any claim, loss, damage, obligation, liability, expense or cost of any kind or amount whatsoever including, without limitation, reasonable attorneys' fees, resulting from or arising out of any liabilities of Buyer, the Subsidiary, the Real Property, or the Personal Property that relate to the period after the date of this Agreement, including, without limitation, claims based upon the failure to file federal, state, or local tax returns and/or failure to pay any federal, state, or local taxes.

7. Sellers' Indemnification. Seller and Member jointly and severally shall hold harmless, defend and indemnify Buyer and Buyer's respective agents, heirs, representatives, successors and assigns, from and against any claim, loss, damage, obligation, liability, expense or cost of any kind or amount whatsoever including, without limitation, reasonable attorneys' fees, resulting from or arising out of (i) any liabilities of or relating to Seller, the Subsidiary, the Real Property, or the Personal Property that relate in any way to the period immediately preceding the closing date, including, without limitation, claims based upon the failure to file Federal, state or local tax returns and/or failure to pay any federal, state, or local taxes; (ii) Seller's breach of the Agreement or this Amendment; and (iii) any inaccuracy in, breach of or default under any of the foregoing warranties and representations or in any document furnished or to be furnished by or on behalf of Seller in connection with the transactions contemplated in the Agreement and/or this Amendment.

8. Resignations. At the closing, all officers and managers or the Subsidiary shall submit written resignations, effective immediately upon the consummation of this transaction, and Seller shall provide Buyer with all originals of all of the Subsidiary's documents and written actions.

9. Good Standing. As of the closing date, Seller shall deliver to Buyer a full force and effect certificate for the Subsidiary, dated not more than ten (10) days before the closing date, issued by the Secretary of State of _____.

10. Securities Restriction. Buyer agrees that Buyer is acquiring the Membership Interests for Buyer's own account as an investment without the intent to distribute the Membership Interests.

11. Binding Effect; Assignment. This Amendment and the various rights and obligations arising hereunder shall inure to the benefit of and be binding upon the parties hereto and their respective legal representatives, heirs, successors and assigns.

12. Counterparts. This Amendment may be executed simultaneously in multiple counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which taken together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

13. Effect of Amendment. Except as expressly provided herein or as the context of this Amendment may otherwise require, all other terms of the Agreement shall remain unmodified and in full force and effect and shall remain binding upon and inure to the benefit of Buyer and Seller, including, without limitation, all contingencies to closing (including, but not limited to, Buyer's due diligence review and approval of zoning and development feasibility), all warranties and representations of Seller.

The parties hereto have executed this Amendment on the day and year first written above.

BUYER:

SELLER:

By: _____

MEMBER:

By: _____

EXHIBIT A

Personal Property

EXHIBIT B

List of All Agreements to Which Seller or Subsidiary is a Party

93 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES

Part IV. Forms

D. CONTRACTS OF SALE: MISCELLANEOUS CLAUSES AND PROVISIONS

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.57B

FORM 21.57B Miscellaneous clauses and provisions

COMMENT

The following clauses and provisions cover a wide variety of situations in both residential and commercial real estate sale and purchase contracts. These items may be included in the original contract or any amendments or riders to the contract.

The clauses and provisions have been arranged under general categories. The categories are arranged in the following order (with corresponding clause numbers):

- ☐ --Property, improvements, condition: (1) through (22)
- ☐ --Title, liens, deed: (23) through (45)
- ☐ --Representations, warranties: (46) through (48)
- ☐ --Parties: (49) through (53)
- ☐ --Taxes, assessments, adjustments to purchase price: (54) through (63)
- ☐ --Contingencies, conditions other than mortgages: (64) through (78)

- ☐ --Mortgages, financing: (79) through (88)
- ☐ --Casualty, condemnation, insurance: (89) through (94)
- ☐ --Purchase price, deposit, remedies, liability: (95) through (109)
- ☐ --Possession, closing: (110) through (115)
- ☐ --Assignment: (116) through (120)
- ☐ --Boilerplate clauses: (121) through (128).

FORMS

Property, Improvements, Condition

(1) Land, building, and improvements

Seller agrees to sell and convey to Purchaser, and Purchaser agrees to purchase all that certain plot, piece or parcel of land (the "Land"), together with the building and improvements thereon (the "Building"), situate, lying, and being in the City of New York, County of New York, State of New York, more particularly described in the attached Exhibit A (the Land and the Building collectively referred to as the "Property");

Together with all right, title, and interest, if any, of Seller in and to any land lying in the bed of any street, road or avenue, opened or proposed, in front of or adjoining the Property, to the center line thereof, and all right, title, and interest of Seller, if any, in and to any award for damage to the Property by reason of change of grade of any street;

Together with all right, title, and interest of Seller, if any, in and to all fixtures and articles of personal property including, without limitation, equipment, inventory, and supplies now or hereafter affixed to or used in connection with the use, operation, maintenance and occupancy of the Property;

And together with all easements, rights of way or use, privileges, licenses, appurtenances, and rights to the same belonging or appertaining to the Property.

(2) Residential land, building, and improvements

Seller agrees to sell and convey, and Purchaser agrees to purchase, all that certain plot, piece or parcel of land, together with the buildings and improvements thereon erected (hereinafter collectively referred to as the Premises), situate, lying and being in the City of _____, County of _____, and State of _____, bounded and described as follows:

(insert description of property)

The Premises are known as and by the street number _____ Street, City of _____, State of _____.

This sale includes all right, title and interest, if any, of the Seller in and to any land lying in the bed of any street, road or avenue opened or proposed, in front of or adjoining said premises, to the center line thereof.

(3) Apartment building to be constructed

Purchaser agrees to purchase, and Seller agrees to sell, that certain property (collectively, the "Apartment Project") in the City of _____, County of _____, and State of _____, described in Exhibits A, B and C attached hereto and made a part hereof as follows:

A. The real property ("Land") described in Exhibit A;

B. The buildings and other improvements ("Improvements") to be constructed and installed on the Land by Seller at Seller's expense, and substantially completed not later than _____ [date], in accordance with the plans and specifications described in Exhibit B, or as amended with the approval of the construction or permanent lender;

C. The tangible personal property ("Personal Property") which Seller, at its expense, shall furnish and install in or about the Land and Improvements as described in Exhibit C; and

D. All intangible property ("Intangible Property") owned or hereafter acquired by Seller in connection with the Land, the Improvements, and the Personal Property and any business and apartment building operation to be conducted thereon or with the use thereof, including but not limited to use, occupancy and operating permits, trade style or names (including specifically the name "_____") and agreements, contract rights, condominium documents, advertising materials, prospective purchaser lists, utility contracts and assignable telephone numbers.

(4) Condominium unit

Seller agrees to sell to Buyer, and Buyer agrees to buy, the residential condominium unit (the "Unit") designated as Unit _____ in the building commonly known as "_____ " located at _____ Street, City of _____, State of _____, in the _____ Condominium (the "Condominium"), together with its _____ percent interest in the common elements of the Condominium, as described in the declaration recorded on _____ [date] in the _____ County Clerk's Office at Book _____, Page _____ (the "Declaration"). The Unit includes _____ rooms.

(5) Cooperative apartment

Seller agrees to sell, transfer and deliver to Purchaser, and Purchaser agrees to purchase and take title to:

(a) _____ shares of stock in the _____ Street Apartment Corporation (the "Corporation"), which carries with it the privilege of receiving a proprietary lease to Apartment _____, located at _____, Street, City of _____, State of _____.

(b) The proprietary lease appurtenant to the shares of stock for Apartment _____, either by assignment of Seller to Purchaser, or issuance of a new lease by the Corporation to Purchaser, as required by the Corporation and subject to any amendments, additional terms or conditions, or deletions as prescribed by the Corporation; and

(c) The fixtures and equipment in the apartment, subject to the provision of Seller's proprietary lease, including range, refrigerator, dishwasher, air conditioner, carpeting, fireplace mantel, Venetian blinds, shades, and attached drapery hardware. Neither Seller nor the Corporation shall be required to install or replace any additional fixtures, equipment, or other items included in this sale. Purchaser shall accept the fixtures, equipment, and other items in "as is" condition. Purchaser has inspected the fixtures, equipment, and other items and does not rely on any representation regarding them made by Seller or Seller's agents, except as expressly stated in this contract.

(6) Fixtures and other personal property included in sale

All fixtures and articles of personal property attached or appurtenant to or used in the operation of the premises, including plumbing, heating, lighting, cooking and air conditioning fixtures, air conditioning units, ranges, built-in and microwave ovens, vent fans, refrigerators, television antennae, bathroom and kitchen cabinets, trash disposal and compactors, dishwashers, clothes washers and dryers, dehumidifiers, mantels, door and wall mirrors, shades and blinds, screens and screen doors, storm windows and doors, awnings, chandeliers, garage door openers, mail boxes, installed carpeting, installed drapery and curtain hardware, pumps, exterior lighting fixtures, shrubbery and plants are represented to be owned by Seller, free from all liens and encumbrances except as herein stated and are included in the sale.

(7) Appliances included in and excluded from sale

A. The following appliances are included in the sale:

- (i) refrigerator;
- (ii) gas stove;
- (iii) dishwasher;
- (iv) washer/dryer; and
- (v) carpeting.

B. The following appliances are excluded from the sale:

- (i) air conditioner; and
- (ii) fireplace mantel in living room.

(8) Seller to erect building on premises

Seller shall immediately proceed (or continue) with the construction of a building on the premises in accordance with plans and specifications made by _____, architect, and exhibited to Purchaser and initialed by him for the purpose of identification and shall cause the construction of the building to be completed on or before the _____ day of _____ [date]. The building shall be constructed in accordance with not only the plans and specifications but also any ordinances of the City of _____ or laws of the State of _____ or any other legal requirements of the building or other department of such city or state. The building shall not be deemed complete until certificates of occupancy have been duly issued by the building department of the City of _____ and the same together with necessary electrical certificates of the fire department and National Board of Fire Underwriters are delivered to Purchaser and all other certificates required under any ordinance or statute to permit the full occupancy of the building. It is understood and agreed further that the building must be completed in every particular in accordance with the plans and specifications and in every respect be ready for occupancy before Seller will be deemed to have complied with this provision of this contract. Seller shall not make any variation in the plans and specifications without Purchaser's written consent unless so required by a federal, state, or municipal department or other competent governmental body. It is further understood and agreed that the time for the completion of the building is important but if Seller is unduly delayed for a period not to exceed _____ months through any cause over which he is unable to exercise any control and for which he is not legally responsible, failure to complete within the time specified shall not be deemed a breach of this agreement, but the time for the closing of title shall be deemed extended to the time of the completion of the building but not in any event for a period to exceed _____ months after the date specified in this agreement for such completion.

(9) Seller to make repairs or alterations

Seller shall on or before the date set for the closing of the contract make the following repairs and alterations on the premises: _____ [list repairs and alterations to be made in as complete detail as may be necessary to insure completion in the manner anticipated by the parties]

(10) Standards for repairs made pursuant to contract

Unless otherwise agreed in writing, any repairs required under this agreement shall be completed before the closing and shall comply with applicable building code and permit requirements. Materials used shall be of comparable quality to existing materials.

(11) Seller to improve subdivision street, etc.

It is understood that Seller under this agreement is in the process of developing a tract of land of which the premises herein described are a part and, as part of such development, intends to open and improve certain streets, including the street upon which the premises fronts, and to cause sewers, city water and gas to be installed in such street and to be connected with the proper systems and sources of supply and discharge. It is, therefore, agreed that Seller will at his own expense cause such improvements to be made in the tract of land being subdivided and in particular in the street on which the premises fronts within _____ months from the date of this agreement, such work to be done in a good and workmanlike manner and in the form required by the ordinances and regulations of the City of _____ (or otherwise describe the utility installations and improvements to be made in the street in as complete detail as is necessary to insure that the work is properly done.)

(12) Building may be used for retail purpose under zoning ordinance

The parties understand that Purchaser desires to use the building on the premises for the purpose of conducting a retail business. If before the closing of title under this contract it appears that the zoning ordinance of the City of _____ prevents use of the building for such purpose, Seller shall return to Purchaser the money paid on the signing of this contract, and neither party shall thereafter be under any liability or responsibility to the other on account of this agreement.

(13) Property sold "as is"

No representations or warranties have been made by Seller or anyone in his behalf to Purchaser as to the condition of the premises or the improvements, and it is understood and agreed that the premises are sold "as is" at the time this agreement is closed.

or

All previous understandings and agreements between the parties are merged in this Agreement, which alone fully and completely expresses their agreement, and the same is entered into after full investigation, neither party relying upon any statement, representation, express or implied warranties, guarantees, promises, statements, "setups," representation, or information, not embodied in this Agreement, made by the other, or by any real estate broker, agent, employee, servant, or other person representing or purporting to represent Seller. Purchaser has inspected the Property and is thoroughly acquainted with its condition and takes same "as is," as of the date of this contract, ordinary wear and tear and damage by the elements or casualty excepted. Seller has not made and does not make any representations as to the physical condition, expenses, operation or any other matter or thing affecting or related to the Property, except as specifically set forth in this contract. Purchaser acknowledges that all representations which Seller has made, and upon which Purchaser relied in making this contract, have been included in this contract.

or

Purchaser represents to Seller that Purchaser knows and has investigated, to the full satisfaction of Purchaser, the physical nature and condition of the land, improvements and the personal property agreed to be sold hereby; that neither Seller nor any agent, employee or representative of Seller has made any representations as to the physical condition, income, expense, operation or any other matter or thing affecting or related to the premises, except as herein specifically set forth. Purchaser further agrees to take the premises together with any personalty to be conveyed hereby, "as is," in their present condition, subject to wear, tear and casualty between the date hereof and the closing of title. Seller is not liable or bound in any manner by any verbal or written statements, representations, real estate broker, agent, employee, servant or other person, unless the same are specifically set forth herein.

(14) Pre-contract inspection by purchaser, no warranties by seller or agent

Purchaser has inspected the property and is not relying upon warranties, representations or statements of Seller or Agent (except as specifically warranted by Seller in this contract) as to age, size, physical condition of the property, title, zoning, boundary lines, land use restrictions, building codes or environmental matters of any nature specifically including, but not limited to, matters concerning hazardous materials. Purchaser further understands that Agent disclaims the making of any warranty or representation as to the potential success or profitability of any venture involving the property.

(15) Pre-closing inspection of condition of property

Purchaser shall have the right to make a final inspection of the property approximately _____ days before the closing, not as a contingency of the sale, but solely to confirm that: (a) Seller has completed alterations, repairs, replacements or modifications as required by this contract; (b) Seller has complied with warranty obligations as required by this contract; and (c) the property is in substantially the same condition as on the date of this contract.

(16) Seller to keep premises in good repair

Seller shall keep the premises in their present state of good repair up to the date for the closing of title or such adjourned date as may be agreed upon and shall not allow any deterioration of the premises while in possession.

(17) Electrical, plumbing and other systems to be in normal working order

Purchaser shall have the right, at Purchaser's expense, to do a more detailed inspection of the property to assure Purchaser that the electrical, plumbing, exhaust, and heat and air conditioning systems are all in normal working order. Purchaser shall notify Seller within ten business days after acceptance by the Seller if any of the above items are found not to be in normal working order. If Purchaser does not give notice of defects within the said ten business days, any necessary repairs shall be solely at Purchaser's expense. If Seller, following receipt of Purchaser's notice of defects, refuses to pay the costs of repairs, Purchaser may accept the property in its present condition or may declare this contract null and void. If Purchaser makes the initial inspection and notifies Seller of defects, then Purchaser shall have the right to reinspect the above items immediately prior to the closing to assure Purchaser that said items have been repaired and that same are in normal working order at the time of closing. If such reinspection discloses defects which were not repaired, or additional defects, Purchaser shall again notify Seller to the end that the listed items shall be in normal working order at the time of closing, "In normal working order" means, as to any item, that said item functions for the purpose and in the manner intended, e.g., that the heating unit heats, that the air conditioning cools, etc. If an item is "in normal working order," an opinion that such item may cease to be in normal working order in the future will not require repair by the Seller.

(18) Smoke detectors

Prior to the closing, Seller shall provide to Purchaser a written statement of compliance and any other documents required by state and local laws mandating that residences be equipped with operable smoke detectors. Additional smoke detectors, if required, shall be installed by Seller at Seller's expense prior to delivery of the deed.

(19) Guaranty that two parcels are contiguous

The parties understand that Purchaser will construct a building that will cover both of the parcels of land described in this Agreement. Seller, therefore, guarantees that the two parcels of land are contiguous and constitute one parcel. If it appears upon the examination of the title or upon a survey of the premises or otherwise, that the two parcels are not contiguous, Purchaser shall return to Seller the money paid on account of the purchase price and neither party thereafter shall be under any further liability or responsibility to the other.

(20) Disclaimer of new construction implied warranties

Seller agrees to deliver to Purchaser at closing or within a reasonable time thereafter a Home Warranty Agreement for the property. Seller and Purchaser disclaim any and all implied warranties of merchantability and fitness as to the property, and in the place of such warranties, whether arising from custom, usage, course of trade, statutory or case law or otherwise, substitute the Home Warranty Agreement described above. The provisions of this paragraph shall survive the closing and delivery of the deed to the Purchaser.

(21) Seller's warranty of no violations

Seller warrants that Seller has received no notice alleging or claiming any violations of building, housing, safety, fire, zoning, health, environmental, or other laws, rules or regulations affecting the property, and Seller has no knowledge of any such violations. Seller will notify Purchaser promptly if Seller receives any such notice prior to Closing.

(22) No representations by seller

All of the terms and conditions of this agreement between the parties are stated herein and no representations or inducements have been made to Purchaser by Seller other than those expressly stated in this Agreement.

Title, Liens, Deed

(23) Title conveyed as title company will insure

Seller will convey and Purchaser will accept any title that the _____ Title Insurance Company (or a reputable title insurance company licensed to do business in the State of _____ and approved by Seller) will approve and insure.

(24) Seller to furnish abstract of title

Seller shall on or before the _____ day of _____ [date], furnish to Purchaser a complete abstract of title to the premises brought up to date and certified as correct by a title or abstract company or other person or corporation competent to make the same showing that Seller has a marketable title to the premises free and clear of all encumbrances except those set forth in this agreement. Seller shall allow Purchaser a reasonable opportunity to have the abstract examined and passed upon by his attorney. If, after examination, Purchaser's attorney finds the title to the premises to be defective or encumbered, Seller shall have a reasonable time within which to render the title marketable, to cure or correct any defects in title, or to remove any encumbrances that cannot be removed by payment of money on the closing of this agreement.

(25) Seller to furnish preliminary title report, title insured at purchaser's expense

Seller shall furnish to Purchaser a current preliminary title report at Seller's expense. Purchaser shall, within _____ days, provide written notice to Seller of any items reasonably disapproved. At the closing: (a) title shall be transferred by bargain and sale deed; (b) title shall be free of liens, except as provided in this agreement; (c) title shall be free of other encumbrances, easements, restrictions, rights and conditions of record or known to Seller, except for matters shown in the preliminary title report which are not disapproved in writing by Purchaser; (d) Purchaser shall receive a title insurance policy issued by _____ Title Company, at Purchaser's expense.

(26) Purchaser to obtain title commitment and to furnish copy to seller

Purchaser shall promptly make application to Purchaser's title company for a title commitment with respect to the premises, and upon receipt of the same shall furnish Seller's attorneys with a copy thereof. Purchaser shall direct its title insurance company to deliver to Seller's attorneys copies of the title commitment and all amendments and correspondence with respect thereto delivered by Purchaser's title insurance company to Purchaser's attorneys. Purchaser shall furnish Seller's attorneys with a list of objections to title no later than thirty (30) days prior to closing. In the event that Purchaser does not furnish Seller's attorneys with a copy of Purchaser's title report as above stated, any objections to title, except those arising after such date, will thereupon be deemed to have been waived by Purchaser.

(27) Purchaser to give notice of objections to title

Purchaser shall within a reasonable time after the execution of this contract cause the title to be examined by an attorney or title insurance or abstract company selected by Purchaser's attorney. If the examination discloses any apparent objections to the title to the premises, Purchaser shall notify Seller thereof in writing on or before the _____ day of _____ [date]. If any such objections to title appear to be valid, Seller shall have a reasonable time thereafter within which to remove the same. If it appears to Seller that the objections cannot be removed or removal will be too costly, Seller may return the amount paid on the execution of this agreement to Purchaser (with interest at _____ percent per annum) and all reasonable expenses of examination of title and neither party shall have any other rights hereunder against the other.

(28) Violations not title objections

If Seller or a prior owner appears to have violated any statute or ordinance governing the maintenance or repair of the building on the premises and violations have been filed against the property, such violations shall not be an objection to title if (a) they can be removed by repair or alteration of the building, and (b) Seller deposits in escrow with Purchaser's attorney a sufficient sum of money to provide the material and pay for the work required to remove the violations. All materials shall be furnished and work done within _____ days from the closing date.

(29) Title to be obtained through foreclosure sale

The parties understand that Seller is not the owner of the premises but is the plaintiff in an action to foreclose a mortgage thereon held by Seller and recorded in the office of (state recording office) of the County of _____ in Liber _____ of Mortgages at page _____ (or other record of recording), which action is now pending in the _____ Court of _____ County and is entitled _____ against _____. If Seller does not obtain title to the said premises within _____ months from the date of this agreement for any reason, Seller shall return to Purchaser the moneys paid on the signing of this agreement and neither party shall thereafter have any rights hereunder against the other, and the parties shall be mutually released.

(30) Right of way to be reserved: easement

Seller reserves a right of way over the Property to be used in connection with other premises owned by Seller as a means of ingress and egress from and to _____ Street in front of the Property. The right of way shall be over the driveway now existing across the Property to the full width thereof (or otherwise describe the right-of-way reserved). The right of way shall be kept in repair by Purchaser under this agreement and at all times shall be kept open for Seller's use. The right of way shall run with the land and shall remain an encumbrance upon the Property for the benefit not only of Seller but of any person or corporation which hereafter becomes the owner of the adjoining premises, the ownership of which is retained by Seller and for the benefit of which the right of way is reserved.

(31) "Subject to" statement of encumbrances, general

The conveyance of the Premises shall be subject to the following:

- (a) Zoning regulations and ordinances and municipal building restrictions and all other laws, ordinances, regulations, or restrictions of the city, town, or township in which the Premises are located if they do not prohibit the present use of the Premises.
- (b) Any state of facts an accurate survey would show, if the facts do not render title unmarketable.
- (c) Easements, covenants, and restrictions of record, if any, if they do not render title unmarketable or prevent the present use of the Premises.
- (d) Any assessment or assessments for municipal improvements, construction of which is commenced after the date of this Agreement and thereafter becoming liens on the Premises.
- (e) Any matter that a title insurance company would ordinarily insure against without additional premium.
- (f) Leases and tenancies, if any, described in this Agreement.

(32) "Subject to" statement of encumbrances, commercial building

The Property is to be conveyed subject to the following:

- (a) Encroachments of stoop areas, cellar steps, trim, and cornices, if any, upon any street or highway.
- (b) Consents by any former owner of the Property for the erection of any structure or structures on, under, or above any street or streets on which the property may abut.
- (c) All present or future city, state, and federal rent laws and regulations.
- (d) Leases and tenancies listed on the annexed Exhibit B, and any new leases which may hereafter be entered into. All leases referred to in Exhibit B have been examined by Purchaser and Purchaser's attorney. Seller makes no representation or warranty that on the Closing all of the tenants shown on Exhibit B will be in occupancy, and reserves the right to dispossess any tenant for any default and a tenant may vacate its premises either at the expiration of its lease or in violation of its lease. Purchaser acknowledges that any inconsistency between Exhibit B and the actual lease initialed by Purchaser or his representative shall be controlled by the terms of the initialed lease and that any errors in Exhibit B shall not constitute an objection to title.

Seller will not enter into any new lease of space in the Building after the date of this contract without Purchaser's consent, but Purchaser will agree by written instrument to indemnify Seller from and against any loss of rental for the period before the Closing which Seller incurs as a result of failing to enter into such new lease, the indemnity to be effective regardless of whether title to the Property closes in accordance with this Agreement.

(e) All present and future zoning and building laws, ordinances, codes, restrictions, and regulations of all governmental authorities having jurisdiction, none of which are violated by the present structure and use.

(f) Rights and easements, if any, of any utility company to maintain, operate, and repair lines, wires, conduits, boxes, cables, poles, and other utility facilities on, under, or across the Property, none of which are violated by the present structure or use.

(g) Service, maintenance, union contracts, and other contracts in connection with the Property as set forth in the annexed Exhibit C. Personnel employed in connection with the maintenance and operation of the Building are listed in the annexed Exhibit D. At Closing, Purchaser shall, by written agreement, assume for the benefit of Seller, Seller's obligations under the contracts set forth in Exhibit C.

(h) Possible lack of right to maintain vault or vaulted areas, if any, under the sidewalk or the right of governmental or municipal authorities to require removal of same.

(i) Matters disclosed in a survey of the Property dated _____ [date], and to any matters an accurate survey after the latter survey would disclose, if such subsequent matters will not interfere with the present use of the Building.

(j) All other matters set forth in Certificate of Title No. _____ of the _____ Title Insurance Company, other than items designated as _____, and _____, and if the Title Insurance Company will insure against collection of items designated _____, and _____ out of the Property.

(33) "Subject to" statement of encumbrances, residential property

The premises are sold and are to be conveyed subject to:

(a) Zoning regulations and ordinances of the city, town or village in which the premises are located.

(b) Consents by the Seller or any former owner of the premises for the erection of any structure or structures on, under or above any street or streets on which the premises may abut.

(c) Covenants, restrictions, easements, agreements and reservations of record, if any, provided same are not violated by and do not prevent the present use of the present structure on the premises;

(d) Encroachments of shrubbery, stoops, areas, steps, doors, ledges, window sills, bay windows, trim, coping, sidewalk elevators, cornices, vaults, chutes, fuel oil lines, drainage pipes, standpipes, sewerage pipes, retaining walls, foundations, footings, fences, fire escapes, air conditioning units, canopies, ramps and similar projections, if any, on, over or under the premises or the streets or sidewalks or property abutting the premises and variations between record lines of the premises and fences, walls, retaining walls and the like, if any.

(e) Any easement or right of use created in favor of any public utility company for electricity, steam, gas, telephone, water or other service, and the right to install, use, maintain, repair and replace wires, cables, terminal boxes, lines, service connections, poles, mains, facilities and the like, upon, under and across the premises.

(f) Any state of facts an accurate survey may disclose.

(g) Party walls, party wall and sewer agreements, if any.

(h) Revocability or possible lack of right to maintain vault or vaulted areas, cellar doors on sidewalk, coal chutes or other underservice areas, if any, under the sidewalk or beyond the building line.

(i) Rent regulations or laws now or hereafter in effect.

(j) Violations noted in or issued by any governmental body having jurisdiction over the premises which are the obligations of tenants in occupancy to cure.

(k) Any violations of record which Seller is required to remove hereunder, provided Seller shall undertake to cure the same within a reasonable time, not to exceed four (4) months after the closing, such undertaking to survive closing, and provided that a reasonable sum shall be deposited in escrow with the Seller's attorneys for the curing of the same. If the reasonably estimated cost of curing such violations shall exceed $_____ in the aggregate, Seller may decline to cure the same, in which event Purchaser shall have the option of (i) accepting title subject to such violations and receiving an allowance of $_____ against the cash portion of the purchase price, or (ii) terminating this contract, in which event the provisions hereunder applicable to Seller's inability to convey title shall apply.

(l) Any state of facts or condition which might constitute a violation of law, ordinance or regulation but which is not as of the closing of title noted in or issued by any governmental body having jurisdiction over the premises.

(m) Radio and television antennae violations.

(n) The printed exceptions contained in the form of title insurance policy then issued by the title insurance company which shall insure Purchaser's title.

(o) Any other matters which do not render title unmarketable.

(34) Subject to existing mortgage

If Purchaser is to take title subject to an existing mortgage or assume an existing mortgage against the Premises, and the mortgage has been reduced by payments on account of the principal, Seller shall deliver to Purchaser upon delivery of the deed a proper certificate executed and acknowledged by the holder of such mortgage and in form for recording, certifying the amount of the unpaid principal of the mortgage and rates of interest, and Seller shall pay the fees for recording the certificate.

(35) Seller may pay liens at closing

Seller may pay and discharge any liens and encumbrances not provided for in this contract out of the moneys to be paid by Purchaser on the closing of title.

(36) Liens allowed as credit to purchaser at closing

If at the closing the premises are affected by any lien or encumbrance which can be liquidated and discharged by the payment of a sum of money, the same shall not be deemed an objection to title, but in that event Seller shall allow on the closing of the title an amount sufficient to pay such lien or encumbrance.

(37) Property to be conveyed free of violations

Seller shall convey the premises free and clear from all violations or complaints filed or existing in any of the municipal departments of the City of _____ and affecting the premises. Compliance with the requirements of the Housing Department will be certified in writing upon a search made for any violations of the multiple dwelling laws. Compliance shall be at the Vendor's expense and fully completed before delivery of the deed.

(38) Compliance with governmental laws and regulations

Seller shall promptly disclose to Purchaser any improvements, additions or repairs made by Seller or known to Seller to have been made without required governmental permits, final inspections, or approvals. In addition, Seller represents that Seller has no knowledge of any notice of violations of city, county, state or federal building, zoning, fire or health laws, codes, statutes, ordinances, regulations or rules filed or issued against the property. If Seller receives notice or is made aware of any of the above violations before the closing, Seller shall immediately notify Purchaser in writing.

(39) Liens satisfied by escrow at closing

If at closing the Premises are affected by any liens or encumbrance which can be paid and discharged by the payment of money, the same shall not be deemed an objection to title, but Seller shall deposit with the title company (or attorney) representing Purchaser on closing a sum of money sufficient to cover the same under an agreement that the title company (or attorney) shall be permitted out of the deposited money to pay such lien or encumbrance and return any unused balance to Seller. Seller shall pay any additional amount required for the purpose of paying and satisfying such lien or encumbrance.

(40) Property conveyed subject to water charges incurred by tenants

The premises shall be conveyed subject to any water meter charges for which the tenants in the property are liable or have agreed to pay under any lease or leases.

(41) Sale subject to rights in party wall

The parties understand that the building on the property is constructed up to the north line of the premises and that the north wall of the building is a party wall standing one-half on the property and the other half on the property adjoining on the north, forming part of the building on the adjoining property. The premises shall, therefore, be sold subject to all rights of the owner of the adjoining property in the party wall.

(42) Sale subject to existing and new leases

The Property is sold subject to those written leases exhibited to and initialed by Purchaser and to present occupancies. It is understood that the termination of any lease or occupancy shall not be deemed an objection to title. If a tenant under any lease or occupancy vacates or is dispossessed, Seller may enter into a new lease upon such terms as to him may seem proper, if the new lease or letting does not extend beyond the 1st day of _____ [date], and the monthly rent under the new lease or occupancy is not less than 15 percent of the present rental of the premises affected. The existence of a new lease shall not be an objection to title.

(43) Deed and delivery of deed

Seller upon receiving payment of the purchase price at the time and in the manner above set forth shall, at his expense, execute, acknowledge and deliver, or cause to be executed, acknowledged and delivered, to Purchaser, his heirs and assigns, a deed in proper statutory form for record. The deed shall contain the usual full covenants and warranty (or a good and sufficient bargain and sale deed containing the usual covenant against grantor's acts or a good and sufficient quit-claim deed) so as to convey to Purchaser the fee simple of the premises free from all encumbrances except as herein stated.

(44) Deed to contain subdivision restrictions

It is understood and agreed that the deed to be delivered by Seller under this agreement shall contain the following covenants, conditions, and restrictions: (Set forth restrictions as these are to be inserted in the deed.)

It is further understood and agreed that Seller shall insert the above covenants, conditions, and restrictions in every deed to be delivered by him conveying lots or plots or other portions of the property shown on the map of the subdivision, and that the insertion of the covenants, conditions, and restrictions shall be deemed a part of the consideration of this agreement.

(45) Seller to disclose information about condominium or planned development

If the property is in a condominium or planned development: (a) the current regular Homeowners' Association dues and/or assessments are $ _____ per month; (b) Seller shall promptly disclose to Buyer in writing any known pending special assessments, claims or litigation; and (c) Seller shall promptly request, and upon receipt shall provide to Purchaser (i) copies of covenants, conditions and restrictions, (ii) articles of incorporation, (iii) by-laws, (iv) other governing documents, (v) most current financial statement distributed, (vi) current Homeowners' Association statement showing any unpaid assessments, and (vii) most recent Homeowners' Association minutes, if available.

Representations, Warranties

(46) Seller representations and warranties

To induce Purchaser to enter into this Agreement, Seller makes the following representations and warranties, each of which is material and relied upon by Purchaser:

(a) Seller is the sole owner of good, fee simple, unencumbered, marketable title to all of the real and personal property to be sold to Purchaser under this Agreement, including the real and personal property described in the annexed Schedules A and B, subject only to the liens and encumbrances expressly stated in this Agreement, and the rights of tenants in possession under leases specified in this Agreement and in Schedule _____.

(b) Except as expressly stated in this Agreement, there are no encroachments, easements, or rights-of-way on, over, under, or across the Property or any part of it. No part of the buildings or structures on the Property encroach on any other property and all improvements on the Property are fully within its boundaries and violate no set back requirements. None of the improvements on the Property violate any ordinance, regulation or restriction of the City of _____ or any other governmental authority, or any restrictions, covenants, or agreements of any kind or nature.

(c) No part of the Property is subject to any building or use restrictions or any easements or right-of-way except as disclosed in this Agreement, and the same will not impair or interfere with the continued use of the Property as it is presently used. The Property is properly zoned for its current use.

(d) There are no violations of any rule, regulation, code, resolution, ordinance, statute, or law involving the use, maintenance, operation, or condition of the Property or improvements. All installations and improvements on the Property fully and duly comply with all applicable resolutions, statutes, rules, regulations and codes of the City of _____, the County of _____, and State of _____, and all governmental agencies having jurisdiction over the Property, and the requirements of all Boards of Underwriters.

With respect to the Property, the Seller represents that [except as identified and disclosed in Exhibit _____ with respect to environmental and environmental related matters] the Seller has no knowledge (a) that the Property is or may be in violation of applicable federal, state or local environmental laws and regulations ("Environmental Requirements") including, without limitation, the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation and Liability Act of 1980 ("CERCLA") and the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act of 1976 ("RCRA"); (b) of any pending or threatened investigation or inquiry by any environmental government authority relating to the Property; (c) that hazardous substances or hazardous wastes have been disposed of or otherwise released on the Property; (d) that the Seller, in respect of the Property, is subject to any remedial obligations under any Environmental Requirements; and (e) that the Seller has no knowledge of any claim or suit or threatened claim or suit of a non-governmental third party with regard to damage to such third party based upon environmental matters or environmental related matters in the use, operation or ownership of the Seller's Property. For purposes of this provision, the terms "hazardous substance" and "release" shall have the meanings specified in CERCLA; the terms "hazardous waste" and "disposal" (or "disposed") shall have the meanings specified in RCRA; provided that, to the extent that applicable state laws establish a meaning for "hazardous substance," "release," "hazardous waste," or "disposal" which is broader than that specified in CERCLA or RCRA, such broader meaning shall apply.

(e) All improvements and systems have been constructed in a good workmanlike manner and in compliance with all applicable laws, statutes, codes, and requirements of all governmental authorities having jurisdiction and all Boards of Underwriters, and all improvements and systems, and parts thereof, are structurally safe and sound. Seller does not know or have reason to know of any defects in or about any part of the Property, improvements, or systems.

(f) Seller has timely paid all of his taxes with respect to the Property or its operation which are or could become liens against the Property.

(g) All labor performed and materials supplied for the Property have been fully paid by Seller, and no mechanic's lien or other lien may be claimed by any person for such labor or materials.

(h) No condemnation proceedings are pending, or to the best of Seller's knowledge are threatened, against the Property or any part thereof, and Seller has not received any oral or written notice that any public authority or utility intends or desires to take or use the Property or any part thereof.

(i) All statements made and information given to Purchaser in this Agreement, including any related Schedules and Exhibits, are true and accurate in every material respect, and no material fact has been withheld from Purchaser. No representation or warranty of Seller in this Agreement contains any untrue statement of a material fact, or omits to state a material fact necessary to make the statements not misleading.

(j) Seller has no knowledge or information of any facts, circumstances, or conditions which do or would in any way adversely affect the Property, the improvements thereon, or the successful operation of the Property, except as specifically stated in this Agreement or any related Schedules and Exhibits.

Seller's representations and warranties shall survive the closing of this Agreement for a period of one year after delivery of the deed.

(47) Seller representations covering leases and other items

Seller represents that, as of the date hereof:

- (a) There are no leases or other occupancy agreements relating to the Property other than those set forth in Exhibit B.
- (b) Seller has not collected any prepaid rent in advance in excess of rent for the month during which the Closing occurs or the month immediately following such month, and as of the date hereof, there are no leasing commissions owing in connection with the Property.
- (c) Seller has not received (and has no knowledge of) any notice or request from any insurance company or Board of Fire Underwriters (or organization exercising similar functions) requesting the performance of any work or alteration in respect of the Property. Seller shall promptly notify Purchaser if Seller receives any such notice before the Closing.
- (d) Seller has no knowledge of any pending or contemplated condemnation proceeding affecting the Property or any part thereof.
- (e) All personal property and any alterations or work in connection with the Property performed or required to be performed by Seller (i) under the terms of any leases, or (ii) under any contracts or other agreements affecting the Property have been completed and fully paid for by Seller.
- (f) No rents or leases have been assigned (except pursuant to any mortgage to which Purchaser agrees to take subject and for which Purchaser receives a credit towards the purchase price).
- (g) To the best of Seller's knowledge, no person, firm, or entity (except as may be set forth in this agreement) has any rights in or right to acquire the Property or any part thereof.
- (h) Seller is not a party to any litigation, nor does he know of any litigation or threatened litigation, affecting the Property, and Seller shall give Purchaser prompt notice if any such litigation is instituted before the Closing.
- (i) There are no contracts or agreements for services rendered in connection with the operation of the Property which Purchaser shall be required to take the Property subject to, except as set forth in Exhibit C-1 and the union contract pursuant to which the employees listed in Exhibit C-2 are employed, and Exhibits C-1 and C-2 are true, correct, and complete.
- (j) Seller has paid all sums due for wages, utilities, or fees pursuant to all service contracts, management agreements, union contracts, or other agreements affecting the Property.
- (k) The Certificate of Occupancy, a copy of which has been delivered to Seller and is included in the Certificate of Title referred to herein, shall be in effect on the Closing, without amendment or modification.
- (l) Seller shall not, without Purchaser's consent, negotiate or enter into any new service or other contract affecting the Property which cannot be terminated without cost to Purchaser on or before the Closing.

It shall be a condition to Purchaser's obligation to close that all of the foregoing representations shall be true at and as of the Closing (except to the extent Seller is permitted herein to take actions which may change such state of facts), and Seller further makes such representations as of the Closing (except to the extent Seller is permitted herein to take actions which may change such state of facts). The representations contained in this Article shall survive the Closing for a period of six months only, and any claim based upon breach of any such representation must be asserted within that period.

(48) Seller warranty of compliance with Americans with Disabilities Act

Seller warrants and represents that to the best of its knowledge the Premises are in compliance with the requirements of Title III of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, 42 U.S.C. § 12101 et seq. ("ADA") and the rules and regulations issued thereunder. Seller further represents and warrants that any alterations, modifications, or construction performed by Seller to the Premises or any part thereof before the Closing shall be performed in compliance with the ADA.

Parties

(49) Seller not owner but has contract to purchase property

It is understood that Seller is not the owner of the premises but that he has an interest therein as purchaser under a contract with _____, dated _____ [date], which Seller believes to be valid and binding. Purchaser has read the contract in its entirety.

If the above contract is not closed within _____ months from the date of this agreement, or if Seller does not obtain title to the premises within that period, Seller shall return to Purchaser the moneys paid by him on the signing of this agreement, and the parties shall thereupon be mutually released from all other liability and responsibility hereunder.

(50) Purchasers to be joint tenants, not tenants in common

The purchasers under this agreement will take title as joint tenants and not as tenants in common, and the deed shall so designate them so as to comply with the statutes of the State of _____. If either purchaser dies before delivery of the deed, both purchasers' entire interest in this contract and in the premises shall vest in the surviving purchaser, whom the deed shall designate as sole grantee.

(51) Spouse to join in deed

In consideration of the purchase of the premises by Purchaser, _____, Seller's spouse shall execute the deed to be delivered hereunder and release to Purchaser all [his] [her] rights of dower, curtesy, election, or otherwise in the premises.

(52) Resolution of board of directors of corporate party

Seller (or Purchaser), a corporation incorporated under the laws of the State of _____, will deliver to the Purchaser (or Seller) at the closing a resolution of its Board of Directors authorizing the sale (or purchase) of the premises, and a certificate by the Secretary or Assistant Secretary of the corporation certifying such resolution.

(53) Title to assignee corporation; original purchaser liable or not liable on purchase money note

Purchaser may assign this contract to any corporation organized under the laws of the State of _____ if it is legally qualified to take title to and hold the premises, and to perform all the terms, covenants, and conditions of this agreement and of the notes and mortgages that are now or may become liens upon the premises. If an assignment is made, Seller shall convey the premises to the assignee corporation on the same terms, covenants, and conditions as are contained in this contract. In such event, however, Purchaser shall remain liable for the due performance of all of its terms, covenants, and conditions until title is closed hereunder.

Taxes, Assessments, Adjustments to Purchase Price

(54) Taxes to be paid or adjusted

All taxes which may be a lien on the premises shall be paid by Seller except the city and county taxes for the current fiscal year, which shall be prorated and adjusted by the parties as of the date of the delivery of the deed.

(55) Tax rate to be used for adjustment

If the closing of title occurs before the tax rate is fixed, the adjustment of taxes shall be made on the basis of the tax rate for the next preceding year applied to the latest assessed valuation, subject to further and final adjustment when the tax rate is fixed for the year in which the closing takes place.

(56) Taxes and assessments to be allowed out of purchase price

All taxes, assessments, and water rents that at the time of sale are liens upon the property will be allowed out of the purchase money if, before delivery of the deed, the purchaser produces proof of such liens and duplicate receipts for their payment. The existence of unpaid taxes or assessments shall not be deemed an objection to the title if the amount thereof is so allowed.

(57) Franchise taxes not objection to title

If it appears upon examination that title has passed through any corporation, it shall not be an objection to title that the corporation has unpaid franchise taxes if the corporation has filed all past reports with the state tax department or other department where reports are to be filed, and the seller makes a sufficient deposit with the title insurance company (or abstract company or attorney) representing the purchaser to insure payment of such franchise tax or taxes within _____ days after closing.

(58) Purchaser to pay taxes after contract executed

Purchaser shall pay all taxes, assessments, and water rents which may become a lien upon the premises between the date of this contract and the date for the closing of title.

(59) Unpaid outstanding assessments to be paid by seller

The parties understand that an assessment has been levied against the property by the proper authorities of the City of _____ to pay for the cost of opening _____ Street (or other purpose) and that such assessment is a lien upon the property for the full amount thereof but is payable in annual installments of which the first installment is now due (or has been paid). It is further agreed, therefore, that all unpaid installments of such assessment, including any that are to become due and payable after the delivery of the deed under this agreement, shall be deemed due and payable immediately so far as the parties are concerned and to be liens on the property at the time of the closing of the title, and shall be paid and discharged by Seller before delivery of the deed, or Seller shall upon the closing of title allow to Purchaser a sufficient amount to pay any unpaid installments.

(60) Pending proceedings for reduction of real estate taxes

If proceedings are pending for the reduction of real estate taxes at the premises for the tax year in which the closing occurs, Purchaser shall continue such proceedings with the attorney previously employed by Seller. The parties shall mutually negotiate and settle all claims in connection with said proceedings. The cost of such proceedings and (in the event taxes are reduced) any refund shall be apportioned between Seller and Purchaser according to the ownership of the premises during respective portions of the relevant tax year. Any refund covering a period prior to the closing and all expenses incurred in connection with obtaining such refund shall belong to or be incurred by Seller alone. This paragraph shall survive the closing.

(61) List of items to be adjusted at closing

The following items are to be prorated and adjusted by the parties at the closing: (a) taxes on the basis of the fiscal year for which assessed; (b) water and sewer charges on the basis of the calendar year; (c) fuel; (d) rents as and when collected; (e) interest on mortgages; (f) premiums on existing transferable insurance policies or renewals of those expiring before the closing; (g) prepaid amounts for services under existing transferable service contracts for trash removal and elevator maintenance.

(62) Apportionment of water and sewer charges between seller, purchaser and tenants

If there is a water meter on the premises, the unfixed meter charge and the unpaid sewer rents for the time intervening between the date of the last reading thereof and the date of closing hereunder shall be apportioned on the basis of such last reading; provided, however, if any of the tenants is obligated to pay any portion of any water charges, Seller shall not be required to pay the same and Purchaser shall look solely to each tenant or tenants for payment thereof.

(63) Adjustment for fuel on premises at closing

Purchaser agrees to purchase from Seller the fuel on the premises at the time of the delivery of the deed, at the cost price thereof to Seller, and Purchaser agrees to pay Seller for the same at the time of delivery of the deed. The written estimate of a reputable dealer as to the amount of the fuel on the premises at such time shall be accepted as conclusive by the parties.

Contingencies, Conditions Other Than Mortgages

(64) Zoning authorization and construction improvements contingency

The purchaser may terminate this contract if, before the closing of the sale, he is unable to obtain valid zoning authorization, ordinances, or permits from the proper authorities to conduct his business upon the premises, or if the soil tests indicate that the soil or ground is not suitable for the construction of improvements for the conduct of his business.

(65) Contract void if zoning prohibits intended use

If before the date set for closing of title any zoning ordinance prohibits Purchaser from using the property for the intended use, this contract shall terminate, Seller shall return to Purchaser the amount paid on the signing of this agreement, and neither party shall be under any further liability or responsibility to the other.

(66) Building permit contingency

Purchaser shall apply to the Department of Housing and Buildings or any other board or officer having jurisdiction in the matter in the City of _____ for a permit for the erection upon the premises of a business building 25 stories in height. If all reasonable efforts are made by Purchaser to secure such permit and it is denied on or before the 1st day of _____ [month/year], this contract shall terminate, and the amount paid on account hereof shall be returned to Purchaser, and neither party shall thereafter be under any liability to the other. In any other event, however, the contract shall remain in full force and effect.

(67) Unmarketable title: cancellation or price reduction

If Seller is unable to convey a good and marketable title to the premises free from encumbrances, restrictions, encroachments or other defects in title except those specified in this contract, and Purchaser refuses to take title for that reason, this contract shall be deemed cancelled. In that event, Seller shall return forthwith to Purchaser the amount paid on the signing of this agreement (with interest thereon at _____ percent per annum) and in addition all reasonable expenses of a survey and the examination of title; and the liens reserved to secure said sums shall be preserved, anything to the contrary notwithstanding, and thereupon neither party shall have any other claim against the other. However, if there are any encumbrances, Purchaser may take title subject to them, and in that event, the amount of the encumbrances, together with the expenses of discharging them, shall be deducted from the purchase price and be first charged against the amount to be paid on closing.

(68) Cancellation for defective title

If Seller is unable to convey a good and marketable title free from all encumbrances or other defects in title, except those specified herein, and the purchaser rejects title for that reason, this contract shall be deemed cancelled and the seller shall return to Purchaser forthwith the amount paid on the signing of this agreement (with interest thereon at the rate of _____ percent per annum) and in addition all reasonable expenses of a survey and the examination of title. Purchaser shall have a lien upon the premises for such amount, anything to the contrary herein notwithstanding and, upon repayment of said amount, neither party will have any other claim or rights against the other.

(69) Subject to court approval, fiduciary seller

Seller is executing this contract as general guardian of Jane Roe, an infant, who is the owner of record of the real property and has no power or authority to execute and deliver a deed of the premises unless authorized so to do by a court of competent jurisdiction. It is understood and agreed, therefore, that this contract is subject to the approval of such a court. Seller shall, at his expense, take all steps and bring proceedings necessary under the statutes of the State of _____, to obtain the approval and authority of such a court to the making of the conveyance under this agreement. If the Seller has used all reasonable diligence to obtain such approval and authority and for reasons beyond his control has not been able to do so at the date set in this contract for the closing, he shall be entitled to a reasonable adjournment of not to exceed _____ months for the purpose of obtaining such approval and authority. If, however, such approval and authority are not obtained within _____ months from the date of closing under this agreement, Purchaser may terminate this agreement, Seller will thereupon repay to Purchaser the money paid on the signing of this agreement, and neither party will thereafter be under any responsibility or liability to the other.

(70) Termite inspection contingency, inspection at purchaser's expense

Purchaser, at his expense (not to exceed $ _____), shall cause a termite inspection of the premises to be made by _____ Co. before the date of closing. If such inspection discloses a termite condition or termite damage which Seller is unwilling to adequately correct, either party may cancel this contract and all rights of both parties hereunder shall cease. Notice of such cancellation must be served upon Seller or Seller's attorneys personally within five days after either receives a written report of such inspection.

(71) Termite inspection contingency, inspection at seller's expense, insurance bond

Seller shall cause the premises, at Seller's expense, to be inspected by a qualified exterminating company approved by Purchaser for the purpose of determining whether the premises are infested with or have been damaged by termites or other wood boring organisms. If any infestation or damage is found, Seller shall, at Seller's expense, treat such infestation and/or damage. At the closing, Seller shall deliver to Purchaser (a) a report from the exterminating company certifying that no infestation or damage exists, or that any infestation or damage has been satisfactorily treated or removed, and (b) a bond, issued by a reputable insurer acceptable to Purchaser, and on terms acceptable to Purchaser, insuring against loss from any such infestation or damage.

(72) Wood boring insect contingency, temporary removal of items for accessibility

This agreement is subject to the results of an inspection demonstrating that no wood boring insects exist within the structures located on the premises and that no damage to the structures has been caused by wood boring insects. The inspection shall be performed by a licensed exterminator at the expense of the Purchaser (or the Seller). A copy of the inspection report shall be provided to both Purchaser and Seller.

Seller consents to the temporary removal of any wall, floor or ceiling cover in any area deemed inaccessible by the inspector. All items removed shall be restored to their prior condition, all at Purchaser's expense, at the conclusion of the inspection.

(73) Structural inspection contingency

This contract is contingent on a structural inspection by a reliable structural inspector, engineer or engineering firm within _____ days after the execution of this agreement. The engineer shall inspect for the structural and mechanical soundness of any buildings, including the proper functioning of the roof, foundation, walls, basement, windows, doors, beams, joists, and the heating, plumbing, electrical, air conditioning, ventilation, water supply, and sewage disposal systems. If the inspection report shows no deficiencies, this contract shall be binding and effective. If the report shows deficiencies, Seller will promptly notify Purchaser whether Seller will (a) correct the deficiencies at its expense before closing of title, (b) allow a credit against the purchase price for the Purchaser's reasonable estimate of the costs to correct the deficiencies, or (c) cancel this contract. If Seller elects to cancel, and Purchaser accepts the refund of the deposit money, this contract shall be void and unenforceable. Purchaser may waive this contingency, either by refusing the refund or by stating so in writing. In either event, this contract shall be binding and enforceable, and Purchaser will accept the property "as is" except as otherwise stated in this contract.

(74) Contract contingent on results of survey and appraisal

This contract is subject to the following contingencies:

(1) That an accurate survey shows that the driveway, walkways, fences, gardens and buildings are entirely within the property lines of the subject premises.

(2) That the subject premises have an appraised value of $ _____. The appraisal shall be performed by _____, who is a licensed appraiser, on or before _____ [date], at the expense of the Purchaser. A copy of the appraisal shall be provided to both Purchaser and Seller.

(75) Contract contingent on letters from tenants of intent to remain in building

This contract is contingent upon Seller providing Purchaser with letters of intent from at least _____ percent of the tenants whose leases expire within _____ months after execution of this contract indicating that the tenants intend to remain as tenants in the buildings. Seller shall provide these letters of intent to Purchaser on or before _____ [date]. If Seller fails to provide a sufficient number of letters by that date, Purchaser shall have the option to terminate this contract by giving Seller written notice by certified mail, return receipt requested, within _____ days. If Purchaser elects to terminate this contract, Seller shall immediately return Purchaser's deposit.

(76) Contract contingent on approval by parties' attorneys

This contract is contingent upon Seller and Purchaser obtaining their respective attorneys' approvals of this contract and all matter contained in it. This contingency shall be deemed waived unless, within _____ days from the signing of this contract, Seller's or Purchaser's attorney, on behalf of his or her respective client, notifies the other party, at the address set forth below, in writing, of his or her disapproval of the contract. If Seller's or Purchaser's attorney so notifies the other party, then this contract shall be deemed canceled, null and void, and all deposits shall be returned to Purchaser.

(77) Option to cancel contract during first few days

Purchaser may at any time within _____ days after the date of this agreement cancel this contract by giving written notice thereof to Seller by registered or certified mail at Seller's address. Seller shall then return to Purchaser the amount paid on the signing of this agreement (or otherwise provide for disposition of money paid on signing), and thereupon this contract shall for all purposes be deemed terminated and neither party shall have any further rights against the other.

(78) No mortgage or other contingencies unless expressly stated in contract

This contract is not contingent upon (i) Purchaser's ability to finance the transaction, or (ii) any other matter or condition except as may be expressly stated to the contrary herein.

Mortgages, Financing

(79) Purchaser to assume and to pay mortgage

Purchaser shall take the premises subject to the mortgage held by _____, and shall assume and agree to pay such mortgage and to save Seller harmless from any liability on the note which the mortgage was given to secure. Simultaneously with the execution and delivery of the deed to the premises, Purchaser shall execute and acknowledge either a statement that he assumes and agrees to pay such mortgage debt and give the specific amount of the debt assumed, or the deed which shall contain a similar written statement.

(80) Buyer to obtain mortgage commitment

Part of the purchase price shall be paid by mortgage money borrowed from an established lender on a note secured by a first mortgage on the Property in the principal amount of $_____. Buyer shall promptly apply for the mortgage loan and use his best efforts to obtain a mortgage commitment. Buyer shall supply all necessary information and fees requested by the lender. The commitment for the mortgage loan must be received by Buyer no later than _____ [date]. Buyer shall notify Seller whether the commitment has been received by that date. The terms of the mortgage commitment shall be at least as favorable to Buyer as the following: conventional mortgage with interest at the then prevailing rate, for a term of 30 years. Any points are to be paid by Buyer. Buyer may accept a commitment on less favorable terms or agree to acquire the Property without a mortgage commitment. The parties may agree to extend the date for receipt of a mortgage commitment. If the commitment is not received by the time specified, or if this contingency is not waived or extended, either party may cancel this contract.

(81) Mortgage contingency, if commitment not obtained seller option to finance sale

This contract is contingent upon Purchaser obtaining a participation mortgage in the amount of $_____, at an annual interest rate not to exceed the prime rate plus one percent (1%) for a term of at least twenty (20) years. Purchaser shall not be required to accept a mortgage which is conditioned on the personal guaranty of any of its officers, directors or shareholders, or on any cross corporate guaranty.

This condition shall be deemed waived unless Purchaser notifies Seller in writing of Purchaser's inability to obtain a mortgage on or before _____ [date]. Notice shall be deemed given when received by Seller, in person or by certified mail, return receipt requested. If notice is timely given, Seller may elect to hold the mortgage under the same terms and conditions described above. Purchaser shall be obligated to accept the mortgage if Seller elects to offer it. Any such offer by Seller shall be made in writing and delivered to Purchaser as described above within five (5) days of receipt of notice of Purchaser's inability to obtain a mortgage. If Seller does not elect to hold the mortgage, this contract shall be deemed canceled. All deposits made pursuant to this contract shall be returned to the Purchaser immediately.

(82) Contract contingent on closing new mortgage commitment to pay off seller's mortgage in default

It is understood that the premises are now encumbered by a mortgage given by _____ to _____ on the _____ day of _____ [date], to secure the principal sum of $ _____ and interest and duly recorded in the office of (specify recording office) in Liber _____ of mortgages at page _____ (or other proper notation of recording), and that the mortgage is past due and full payment has been demanded by the holder thereof. It is further understood that Purchaser has obtained a commitment for a loan for an amount sufficient to pay the past due mortgage and that the execution of this agreement by him is subject to the actual closing of such loan at the time of closing this contract. If Purchaser is unable for any reason, other than his wilful default, to obtain the mortgage by the date set forth herein for the closing of title, or any reasonable time thereafter agreed upon by the parties, this contract shall terminate, Seller shall return to Purchaser the amount paid on the signing of this agreement, and neither party thereafter shall be under any liability or responsibility to the other.

(83) Buyer to give seller note secured by mortgage

As part of the purchase price, Buyer shall deliver to Seller, at closing, a purchase money note and mortgage in the principal amount of $ _____. The note and mortgage shall be payable with interest at _____ percent per year by monthly installments of $ _____. The term of the note and mortgage shall be _____ years with full prepayment rights, without interest or penalty, and _____ days default period. The note, mortgage, and mortgagor's affidavit of title shall be in the form prepared by Seller's attorney at a cost to Buyer not exceeding $ _____, plus recording costs, mortgagee title insurance, and credit report costs, if any.

(84) Purchase money mortgage permitting prepayment

The purchase money mortgage to be executed by Purchaser to Seller shall contain a clause permitting the Mortgagor or the then owner of the property to pay the amount secured thereby with interest to date at any time before the date fixed in the mortgage for the payment thereof (or in amounts of not less than _____ Dollars each on any interest-bearing date under the mortgage).

(85) Acceleration of purchase money mortgage

The purchase money mortgage shall contain a provision allowing the Mortgagee or the then holder of the mortgage to have the entire sum become due and payable if Mortgagor or the then owner of the property defaults in paying interest on the mortgage for more than ten days after the same becomes due and in paying taxes and assessments for more than ten days after such charges become a lien on the property.

(86) Execution of purchase money mortgage by purchaser or assigns

If Purchaser makes an assignment of this contract of sale, Purchaser or his assigns shall execute the purchase money mortgage that is to be taken back as part of the purchase price.

(87) Purchase money mortgage to be subordinate to construction loan mortgage

Seller shall subordinate the purchase money mortgage to a construction loan mortgage for an amount not to exceed _____ percent of the total cost (or value) of the premises and of the building erected thereon and, if Purchaser within one year from the date of the closing of the title under this contract elects to erect upon the premises a building, Seller will execute all subordination agreements required to subordinate the purchase money mortgage to the construction loan mortgage obtained by Purchaser. The purchase money mortgage shall contain a clause to that effect, and Seller will indicate his acceptance thereof by executing the mortgage.

(88) Interest to be paid on unpaid purchase price

Purchaser shall pay Seller interest of _____ percent per annum upon all unpaid amounts of the purchase price from the date of the signing of this contract until the amounts are fully paid.

Casualty, Condemnation, Insurance

(89) Premises damaged or destroyed

If, before the date for closing or any adjourned date, the premises are damaged or destroyed by fire or other casualty in an amount as adjusted of less than _____ percent of the total amount of insurance then covering the premises (which Seller represents now to be not less than $_____, and which Seller will maintain throughout the term of this contract), Purchaser shall be required to perform this contract and upon so doing shall be entitled to a deduction on account of the purchase price of the amount received by Seller from such insurance. If the amount so adjusted equals or exceeds _____ percent of the total insurance, Purchaser may perform this contract, such option to be exercised within _____ days after notification to Purchaser that the loss or damage has been adjusted and of the amount of the adjustment. In such event, Purchaser shall be entitled to a deduction from the purchase price of the amount of the insurance received by Seller (to be applied in the first instance to an amount of the purchase money mortgage and not to the cash payments required under this contract). If Purchaser so elects to perform the contract, the time for performance shall be extended until _____ days after the option is exercised. If Purchaser does not exercise the option, this contract shall be automatically terminated and the down payment refunded to him.

If within _____ months from the date of such loss or damage Purchaser has not received notice of the adjustment of the loss or damage and of the amount, he may terminate this contract and shall be entitled to the return of the down payment. The loss or damage shall be deemed adjusted within the meaning of this provision when the amount has been agreed upon and the insurers are ready, willing, and able to pay it.

(90) Premises damaged, destroyed, or taken by condemnation or eminent domain

If, on or prior to the closing, any part of the premises or the building situated on the premises shall be destroyed or damaged by fire or other casualty or shall be taken by condemnation or eminent domain, then (i) such event shall not be an objection to title to the premises, (ii) Purchaser shall be required to purchase the premises and this contract shall remain in full force and effect, (iii) there shall be no reduction in the purchase price, and (iv) at the closing, Seller shall (a) pay over to Purchaser the amount of any insurance proceeds or condemnation awards to the extent at that time collected by Seller in connection with such casualty or taking, less the amount of actual expenses incurred by Seller in collecting such proceeds and in making repairs to the premises occasioned by such fire or other casualty or taking, and (b) assign to Purchaser by assignment (without recourse to Seller) all of Seller's right, title and interest in and to any such insurance proceeds or condemnation awards that are uncollected at the time of closing, subject to the payment by Purchaser to Seller, upon the receipt of any such proceeds or awards, as the case may be, to the extent not reimbursed to or retained by Seller pursuant to clause (a) of this sentence. Purchaser's rights under this paragraph are in lieu of any other rights Purchaser may have at law. This paragraph shall survive the closing.

(91) Assignment of fire insurance proceeds

Seller represents that there is now in force and existence fire insurance on the building on the premises in the amount of $_____ and agrees that the insurance shall be kept in force until the closing of this contract. If the insurance is continued in force, any loss or damage by fire to the building before the closing of this contract shall not constitute ground for the rejection of the title to the property. In case of fire, however, Seller upon the closing of the title to the property shall allow to Purchaser on account of the purchase price any amount received by him from the policies of fire insurance or shall pay such amount to Purchaser. If at the time of the closing of this title payment for the loss has not been made by the insurance company or companies insuring the premises, Seller will assign to Purchaser all policies of fire insurance held by him on the premises together with all his rights and claims thereunder.

(92) Building partially destroyed by fire to be rebuilt

If before the closing of title under this contract the building now on the premises is partially destroyed by fire or other casualty, Purchaser (or Seller) shall be required to rebuild to the extent of any money received on any policy or policies of insurance now or hereafter in force covering the premises. Neither party, however, shall be required to expend in the rebuilding any sum of money in excess of the amount received from the insurance policies.

(93) Right to cancel in case of condemnation

If proceedings to condemn the property or any portion thereof are legally commenced before the date for closing or any adjourned dates, Purchaser at any time after such commencement, but not later than _____ days after receipt of notification thereof from Seller, may terminate this contract, Seller shall return to Purchaser the down payment, and neither party shall thereafter have any other claim against the other.

(94) Property to be insured against loss

Until the purchase money called for in this agreement has been fully paid (or until the closing of the title under this contract) Purchaser (or Seller) shall keep all buildings on the premises insured against loss by fire, lightning, tornado, wind storms and other insurable casualty for an amount of at least $_____ in a good and sufficient insurance company or companies authorized to do business in the State of _____. The insurance is to be written in the name of the then owner of the premises with loss, if any, payable to either or both of the parties according to their respective rights and interests in the premises at the date the loss is incurred.

Purchase Price, Deposit, Remedies, Liability

(95) Purchase price and deposit

The price is _____ Dollars ($_____), payable as follows: (a) _____ Dollars ($_____) on the signing of this contract, by check subject to collection, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged; and (b) _____ Dollars ($_____) by certified check to the order of Seller on the delivery of the deed as provided below.

(96) Purchaser to pay by certified check at closing

If request is made of Purchaser by Seller or Seller's attorneys within a reasonable time prior to the closing, Purchaser agrees to provide at the closing separate certified checks or official cashier's checks, as requested, drawn upon a bank which is a member of the New York Clearing House Association, aggregating the amount of the cash portion of the balance of the purchase price due hereunder to facilitate the satisfaction of any obligations or liabilities affecting the premises or Seller, including, but not limited to, any unpaid real estate taxes, assessments, water charges or sewer rents and the payment of any liens and encumbrances.

(97) Deposit held by listing broker, applied to brokerage fee

Seller and Purchaser agree that any deposits made by Purchaser are to be deposited with the Listing Broker at _____ as part of the purchase price. All such deposits shall be held in escrow by the Listing Broker until the contingencies and terms have been met. Purchaser will receive credit on the total amount of the deposit toward the purchase price. The Listing Broker shall then apply the total deposit to the brokerage fee. Any excess of deposit over and above the fee earned shall be paid to Seller. If the contingencies and terms contained in this contract cannot be resolved, or if Seller or Purchaser defaults, the deposits will be held by the Listing Broker pending a resolution of the disposition of the deposits.

(98) Deposit to be held in escrow

The amount paid on the signing of this contract shall be delivered to _____, as attorney for the seller, to be held in escrow and to be delivered to the seller at the time fixed for the closing of this title or any adjourned date mutually agreed upon in writing. If the purchaser is entitled to a full or partial refund of such money under this contract, the amount due shall be refunded to him.

(99) Deposit to be held pursuant to escrow letter terms

The down payment deposit in the amount of $_____ ("Deposit") made upon the execution of this contract shall be made to Seller by payment thereof _____ & _____, Esqs. ("Escrow Agent"), to be held by Escrow Agent in escrow pursuant to the terms of the Escrow Letter entered into by and between Seller and Purchaser as of the date hereof ("Escrow Letter"). The down payment together with the interest earned thereon, if any, shall be held by Escrow Agent until the earlier of (i) the delivery of the deed to Purchaser, or (ii) such time as Seller or Purchaser may be entitled to a refund thereof, at which time Escrow Agent shall remit the Deposit together with the interest earned thereon to the party entitled thereto. At the closing, the Deposit together with the interest earned thereon shall be paid to Seller. The parties hereto have mutually requested that Escrow Agent act as escrow agent for the purpose of holding the Deposit in accordance with the terms of this contract. Purchaser recognizes that Escrow Agent represents Seller herein and has agreed to act as Escrow Agent as an accommodation to both parties hereto. Purchaser further acknowledges and agrees that in the event of any dispute between the parties to this contract or the Escrow Letter, Escrow Agent shall be free to continue its representation of Seller with regard to these matters.

(100) Payment on signing as liquidated damages

If Purchaser fails to take title as required by this agreement, Seller shall retain the amount paid on the signing of this contract as liquidated damages and neither party shall have any other rights hereunder against the other.

(101) Retention of deposit as liquidated damages and not as a penalty

If Purchaser fails to accept title and pay the purchase price in accordance with this contract, the down payment together with interest earned thereon, if any, shall be retained by Seller as liquidated damages. The provisions herein contained for liquidated and agreed-upon damages are bona fide provisions for such and are not a penalty, the parties agreeing that by reason of Seller binding himself to the sale of the premises and by reason of the withdrawal of the premises from sale at a time when other parties would be interested in acquiring them, that Seller will have sustained damages if Purchaser defaults, which damages will be substantial but will not be capable of determination with mathematical precision. Therefore, this provision for liquidated and agreed-upon damages has been incorporated in this contract as a provision beneficial to both parties.

(102) Provision for purchaser's lien

All sums paid by Purchaser on account of the purchase price set forth in this agreement and the reasonable expenses of a survey and the examination of the title are made liens on the premises, but such liens shall not continue after Purchaser's default under this contract.

(103) Remedies of seller in case of default

If the Purchaser fails or refuses to take title to the property as required by this agreement, the Vendor shall retain as liquidated damages the amount paid upon the signing of this agreement, and thereafter neither party shall have any rights against the other.

(104) Remedies of buyer in case of default

If Seller is unable to convey a good and marketable title to the premises as required by this contract, he shall repay to Buyer the amount paid by Buyer upon execution of this agreement (with interest thereon of _____ percent per annum) and the reasonable expenses of examining title and the making of a survey of the premises, and thereafter neither party shall have any rights against the other.

(105) Purchaser election to accept defective title without claim or to rescind contract

In the event that Seller cannot convey title or cause same to be conveyed in accordance with the terms of this contract, subject to the encumbrances specifically enumerated in this contract, Purchaser shall, at its election, which election shall be made at or prior to the closing date, have the right to accept such title as Seller (who is under no obligation whatsoever to take any steps to render title marketable) is able to convey, or cause to be conveyed, without any claim on the part of the Purchaser for abatement for defects or objections; or the Purchaser shall have the right to rescind this contract, upon which rescission, pursuant to this paragraph the sole liability of Seller will be to refund to Purchaser the amount paid on account of the purchase price together with the interest earned thereon, if any, and to pay the net cost of examining the title, and upon such refund and payment being made, this contract shall be considered canceled; provided, however, that Seller shall have, at Seller's option, an additional sixty (60) days to remove or satisfy valid objections to title and Seller shall be entitled to an adjournment of the closing for a period of up to sixty (60) days.

(106) Purchaser's liability limited to deposit

Purchaser is in no event liable under this agreement for any amount except the $_____ paid by him upon the execution of this agreement. The vendor must look to the property for any additional amounts to which he is entitled.

(107) Purchaser to pay broker's commissions, if any

The purchase price is based upon Purchaser's statement that the sale was not brought about through the efforts of any broker and that neither party is required to pay any commissions. If, therefore, it appears that this sale was brought about through the efforts of a broker, Purchaser shall pay the required commissions.

(108) Alternative dispute resolution clause

Mediation of disputes: Seller and Purchaser agree to mediate any dispute or claim between them arising out of this contract or any resulting transaction before resorting to arbitration or court action. Mediation is a process in which parties attempt to resolve a dispute by submitting it to an impartial, neutral mediator who is authorized to facilitate the resolution of the dispute, but who is not empowered to impose a settlement on the parties. The mediation fee, if any, shall be divided equally among the parties involved. Before the mediation begins, the parties agree to sign a document limiting the admissibility in arbitration or any civil action of anything said, any admission made, and any documents prepared, in the course of the mediation. If any party commences an arbitration or court action based on a dispute or claim to which this paragraph applies without first attempting to resolve the matter through mediation, then, in the discretion of the arbitrator(s) or judge, that party shall not be entitled to recover attorney's fees even if they would otherwise be available to that party in any such arbitration or court action. However, the filing of a judicial action to enable the recording of a notice of pending action, for order of attachment, receivership, injunction, or other provisional remedies, shall not in itself constitute a loss of the right to recover attorney's fees under this provision. The following matters are excluded from the requirement of mediation hereunder: (a) a judicial or non-judicial foreclosure or other action or proceeding to enforce a mortgage, (b) an unlawful detainer action, (c) the filing or enforcement of a mechanic's lien, and (d) any matter which is within the jurisdiction of a probate court.

Arbitration of disputes: Any dispute or claim in law or equity between Seller and Purchaser arising out of this contract or any resulting transaction which is not settled through mediation shall be decided by neutral, binding arbitration and not by court action, except as provided by the laws of the State of _____ for judicial review of arbitration proceedings. The arbitration shall be conducted in accordance with the rules of the American Arbitration Association (AAA), unless the parties agree in writing to use different rules or a different arbitrator. In all other respects, the arbitration shall be conducted in accordance with Section _____ of the _____ Code of the State of _____. Judgment upon the award rendered by the arbitrator may be entered in any court having jurisdiction thereof. The parties shall have the right to discovery in accordance with Section _____ of the _____ Code of the State of _____. The following matters are excluded from arbitration hereunder: (a) a judicial or non-judicial foreclosure or other action or proceeding to enforce a mortgage, (b) an unlawful detainer action, (c) the filing or enforcement of a mechanic's lien, (d) any matter which is within the jurisdiction of a probate or small claims court, and (e) an action for bodily injury or wrongful death, or for latent or patent defects. The filing of a judicial action to enable the recording of a notice of pending action, for order of attachment, receivership, injunction, or other provisional remedies, shall not in itself constitute a waiver of the right to arbitration under this provision.

Any dispute or claim by or against a real estate broker or agent participating in this sale shall be submitted to mediation followed by binding arbitration consistent with the above provisions.

(109) Seller to pay selling broker's commission, purchaser warranty that no other broker brought about transaction

The parties agree that _____ Realty, Inc. is the broker who brought about this sale. Purchaser represents and warrants to Seller that no broker other than _____ Realty, Inc. brought about this transaction; that all negotiations with respect to the terms of this contract were conducted by or through said broker; and that in the event any claim is made for broker's commission or finder's fee as the result of any acts or actions of Purchaser or Purchaser's representatives with respect to this transaction, Purchaser and Purchaser's heirs, successors and assigns do hereby agree to hold Seller harmless from any and all loss, liability, cost, damage or expense with respect to such claims (including without limitation, reasonable attorneys' fees and disbursements) without any charge or cost to Seller. Seller shall pay the brokerage commission to _____ Realty, Inc. in accordance with Seller's agreement with _____ Realty, Inc. if and when title passes hereunder. This paragraph shall survive the delivery of the deed.

Possession, Closing

(110) Possession of premises delivered at closing

Seller shall take all necessary steps to insure that he will be able to deliver possession of the premises to Purchaser on the date set in this contract for the closing of title, that the premises will be vacant at that time, and that Purchaser will be able immediately to go into possession. If for any reason Purchaser is unable to obtain possession of the premises or the premises are not vacant, Purchaser may elect to terminate this contract, Seller will return to Purchaser the money paid at the time of the signing of this agreement, and neither party shall thereafter be under any liability or responsibility to the other.

(111) Purchaser to be allowed to take possession

Upon the signing of this contract and the payment of the required amount, the purchaser shall be permitted to take immediate possession of the property (and shall be entitled to retain such possession so long as he makes the payments herein stated).

(112) Time and place of closing, time of the essence upon notice by either party

The closing shall take place at the office of _____, at _____ Street, City of _____, State of _____, or at such other place as the parties mutually agree upon, on or about _____ [date]. The parties agree that if either party sends notice hereafter that time is of the essence, no less than _____ weeks' notice shall be given. No such notice shall be given until all contingencies contained in this contract have been satisfied or waived.

(113) Extension of closing by making additional payment

If Purchaser under this agreement is not ready to close title on the date set in this agreement, he shall be entitled to an extension of time for a further period of _____, upon paying to the Vendor on or before the date set for the closing of title on account of the purchase price of the premises an additional sum of $_____.

(114) Certificate of occupancy to be furnished

On the closing of the title, Seller shall deliver to Purchaser a certificate of occupancy issued by the proper authorities of the City of _____, permitting the property to be occupied for the purposes for which it is designed. The certificate shall be in full force and effect on that date and not subject to any violations filed against the property by the officials of the City of _____.

(115) Assignments of leases, service contracts and security deposits at closing

The Seller shall deliver to the Purchaser at the closing:

- (a) An assignment, without representation, warranty or recourse, of all of Seller's right, title and interest in and to all tenancies and leases affecting the property, or any part thereof, as of the closing date;
- (b) An assignment, without representation, warranty or recourse, of all of Seller's right, title and interest in and to all service, maintenance and other contracts affecting the property, or any part thereof, as of the closing date;
- (c) An assignment, without representation, warranty or recourse, of all of Seller's right, title and interest in and to all rent security deposits made by tenants under the tenancies and leases affecting the property which are in Seller's possession as of the closing date, together with any accrued interest earned thereon.

Purchaser shall execute the assignments of leases, service contracts and security deposits for the purposes of assuming Seller's obligations thereunder from and after the closing date, and indemnifying Seller against any and all loss or expense resulting from Purchaser's failure to perform its obligations under such leases or service contracts, or from any claims made in connection with any transferred security deposit.

Assignment

(116) Contract not to be assigned without written consent of seller

This contract shall not be assigned without Seller's prior written consent. If an assignment is made without such consent, the contract shall terminate and Seller shall retain the down payment made under it.

(117) Right to assign contract

Either party may assign this contract and all his interests in and rights under it to other persons or corporations.

(118) Right to assign contract, purchaser liable on purchase money mortgage

Purchaser shall execute the purchase money note to be given as required by this agreement so as to render himself personally liable for the amount of the mortgage debt. The execution of the note shall be the consideration given by Purchaser for the right to assign this agreement.

(119) Right to assign contract, assignee liable on purchase money mortgage

Seller will accept a purchase money note and mortgage executed by Purchaser's assignee in lieu of Purchaser.

(120) Assignment of contract and rights endorsed on contract

I hereby assign to John Doe my right, title, and interest in this contract, together with all present and future rights, claims, and demands arising under it and the negotiations leading to its execution.

Boilerplate Clauses

(121) Non-waiver of contract rights

No delay or failure by either party to exercise any right under this contract, and no partial or single exercise of that right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

(122) Controlling state law

This contract shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of _____.

(123) Contract entire agreement between parties (merger clause)

All prior understandings and agreements between the parties are merged in this contract, which constitutes the entire agreement between the parties. This contract is entered into after full investigation made by Seller, and neither party relies upon any statement or representation made by anyone unless contained herein.

(124) Binding effect on parties' successors

This contract shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective executors, administrators, legal representatives, heirs, successors, distributees, and assigns.

(125) Any amendments to agreement to be in writing

No provision of this contract may be modified or waived unless in writing and signed by the party against whom the enforcement of such modification or waiver is sought.

(126) Provisions of rider to control over printed contract

If any provision of this rider shall conflict with any printed provision of this contract, the provision of this rider shall control.

(127) Indivisible contract, terms do not survive closing

It is specifically understood and agreed that this contract is a single, indivisible contract, and the delivery and acceptance of the deed shall be considered full compliance with all the terms of this contract by Seller, and none of the terms shall survive the delivery and acceptance of the deed, except those provisions which this contract expressly states shall survive such delivery.

(128) Delivery of notices

Any and all notices, elections, demands, requests and responses thereto permitted or required to be given under this contract (collectively "Notices") shall be in writing, signed either by the party giving the same or such party's attorneys, and shall be deemed to have been properly given and shall be deemed effective upon receipt (i) if personally delivered, or (ii) if delivered by express overnight delivery service with receipt for delivery, or (iii) if deposited in the United States mail, postage prepaid, certified with return receipt requested, to the other party at the address of such other party set forth above or at such other address as such party may designate by notice specifically designated as a notice of change of address and given in accordance herewith. Rejection or other refusal to accept or inability to deliver because of changed address of which no notice has been received shall also constitute receipt. Copies of all Notices shall also be delivered as follows: (set forth addresses of parties' attorneys).

94 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms
E. EXCHANGES

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.58

FORM 21.58 Exchange agreement--both properties subject to mortgage

COMMENT

This agreement is for an exchange of two properties between two parties. Each property is to be transferred subject to an existing first mortgage. The difference in the values of the properties, over and above the first mortgage liens, is paid by one party to the other. One party receives like kind property as consideration for the transfer of property, and the other party receives like kind property, cash, and a purchase money second mortgage. Because each party is taking title to real estate, this agreement includes many of the provisions contained in a contract for the sale of real estate for cash and/or purchase money financing. These provisions include the form of the purchase money mortgage, encumbrances, violations, closing date, and apportionments.

General tax rule for exchanges

Usually, the fair market value of property received by a transferor is considered equivalent to cash. Therefore, the tax consequences of an exchange are normally the same as those of a sale. Each of the parties to an exchange will realize taxable gain or loss measured generally by the difference between the fair market value of the property received and the adjusted basis of the property conveyed. However, nonrecognition provisions apply to the exchange of property of "like kind." See The Tax Background (TB) § 21.12, at the beginning of this chapter, for a further discussion of like kind exchanges.

Like kind exchange nonrecognition

No gain or loss is recognized on the exchange of property held for productive use in a trade or business or for investment if the property is exchanged solely for property of like kind to be held for productive use in a trade, business, or for investment. The "like kind" test refers to the nature or character of the property and not to its grade or quality. Therefore, no gain or loss is recognized by a taxpayer who exchanges city real estate for a ranch or farm, or a leasehold of a fee with 30 years or more to run for real estate, or improved real estate for unimproved real estate. See TB § 21.12[4].

Business and investment property limitation

Business property may be exchanged for investment property and vice versa. Both the transferred property and the acquired property must be held for productive use or for investment. This excludes personal residences and property which is held primarily for sale to customers or which is intended to be sold immediately after the exchange. The fact that property was not sold but was exchanged for similar property is an indication that the taxpayer is holding it for investment rather than for sale. See TB § 21.12[2].

However, it is possible for a residence which is converted to a rental property to be exchanged for another rental property under certain circumstances. Both of the rental properties would have to be considered investment properties under I.R.C. § 1031, and then be eligible for like-kind exchange treatment. TB § 21.12. To meet the safe harbor now available for such an exchange, the residential rental properties would have to meet the requirements of Rev. Proc. 2008-16, applicable to exchanges occurring after March 10, 2008. TB § 21.12[2].

Receipt of cash

A taxpayer's exchange is nontaxable even if he pays cash in addition to transferring property. However, if the taxpayer receives "like kind" property plus other property or money, any gain is taxable to the extent of the value of the other property and the amount of money received. The receipt of other property or money, however, does not permit the recognition of loss. If the taxpayer receives cash on the exchange, his gain is taxable to the extent of the cash even if he assumes a mortgage on the property acquired on the exchange. Most likely the result would be different if the taxpayer received unencumbered property and no money, and then obtained a mortgage. See TB § 21.12[6].

Exchange of mortgaged property

If the taxpayer transfers mortgaged property in the exchange, and receives unencumbered property, the amount of the mortgage is treated as money received on the exchange. This rule applies regardless of whether the taxpayer was personally liable for the mortgage, or whether the mortgage was assumed by the transferee. But, if the taxpayer receives mortgaged property in exchange for his own mortgaged property, the amount of the mortgage on the acquired property is offset against the amount of the mortgage on the property exchanged. Similarly, any money paid by the taxpayer in the exchange is offset against the mortgage on the property exchanged. However, if the taxpayer receives money in the exchange, the money is taxable, because it may not be offset by a mortgage on the property received. See TB § 21.12[6].

Information reporting of real estate transactions

The attorney or title company responsible for closing title is required to report the real estate transaction to the IRS. In addition, a statement must be provided to the customer before January 31 of the year following the transaction. The information reporting requirements are discussed in

TB § 21.02[4].

FORM

AGREEMENT made December 10, _____ [date], between William Barnes, residing at 300 Palmer Street, Larchmont, New York ("Barnes"), and James B. Harris, residing at 200 Bank Street, New Rochelle, New York ("Harris").

1. Transfer by Barnes. Barnes agrees to sell and convey to Harris, at a valuation, for the purpose of this contract, of $188,000:

All that certain plot, piece, or parcel of land, with the buildings and improvements thereon, situate, lying, and being in the

(Insert description)

Such premises are to be sold and conveyed subject to the following:

(a) A first mortgage now a recorded lien on such premises upon which there is unpaid the principal sum of $120,000 and interest, a copy of which Harris has examined and initialed.

(b) Covenants and restrictions of record, if they are not violated by the existing building and improvements on such premises and the use thereof.

2. Transfer by Harris. Harris agrees to sell and convey to Barnes, at a valuation, for the purpose of this contract, of $300,000:

All that certain plot, piece, or parcel of land with the buildings or improvements thereon, situate, lying, and being in the

(Insert description)

Such premises are to be sold and conveyed subject to the following:

(a) A first mortgage now a recorded lien upon such premises upon which there is unpaid the principal sum of $180,000 and interest, a copy of which Barnes has examined and initialed.

(b) Covenants and restrictions of record, if they are not violated by the existing building and improvements on such premises and the use thereof.

3. Payment of difference in net values. The difference between the values of the respective premises, over and above encumbrances, for the purpose of this contract, shall be deemed to be $52,000, which shall be due and payable by Barnes to Harris as follows: $12,000 on the signing of this contract, by check subject to collection, the receipt of which is acknowledged; $30,000 by Barnes or his assigns executing, acknowledging, and delivering to Harris a note in that amount, satisfactory to Harris, secured by a purchase money second mortgage covering the above described premises to be conveyed by Harris, payable in quarter-annual installments of $1,000 beginning 90 days from the date of the closing until fully paid, together with interest of 12 percent per annum payable with each installment of principal on unpaid balances; and $10,000 at the closing in a certified or cashier's check to the order of Harris.

4. Street rights. The sale by each party includes all right, title, and interest, if any, of the seller in and to any land lying in the bed of any street, road, or avenue opened or proposed, in front of or adjoining the premises to be conveyed to the center line thereof, as well as in and to any award made or to be made in lieu thereof and in and to any unpaid award for damage to such premises by reason of change of grade of any street. Each party will execute and deliver to the other, on the closing of title, or thereafter, on demand, all proper instruments for the conveyance of such title and the assignment and collection of any such award.

5. Form of purchase money mortgage. Any note and mortgage to be given by Barnes shall be drawn on the standard forms of the New York Board of Title Underwriters for mortgages of like lien. The note and mortgage shall be drawn by the mortgagee's attorney at the mortgagor's expense. The mortgagor shall also pay the mortgage recording tax and recording fees and pay for and affix to such instruments all necessary revenue stamps.

6. Additional encumbrances. The premises of each party shall be sold and conveyed subject to:

- (a) Zoning regulations and ordinances of the city, town, or village in which the premises lie which are not violated by existing structures.
- (b) Encroachments of stoops, areas, cellar steps, trim, and cornices, if any, upon street and highway.
- (c) Consents by the seller or any former owner of such premises for the erection of any structure or structures on, under, or above any street or streets on which the premises abut.
- (d) Any state of facts an accurate survey may show which does not render the title unmarketable.

7. Evidence of mortgage debt. If there is a mortgage on the premises and such mortgage has been reduced by payments on account of the principal, the seller agrees to deliver to the purchaser upon delivery of the deed a proper certificate executed and acknowledged by the holder of such mortgage and in form for recording, certifying as to the amount of the unpaid principal and interest, date of maturity, and rate of interest, and the seller shall pay the fees for recording such certificate.

8. Departmental violations. The respective sellers shall comply with all notes or notices of violations of applicable municipal or other laws, including zoning ordinances, health codes, multiple dwelling laws, building codes, fire ordinances, and the like, against or affecting the premises at the date hereof, and the premises shall be conveyed free of such violations. This provision shall survive delivery of the deeds. Each party shall furnish the other with an authorization to make the necessary searches for such violations.

9. Unpaid assessments. If upon delivery of the deeds all or part of either premise is or has been affected by any assessment which is or may become payable in annual installments, of which the first installment is then a charge or lien or has been paid, all the unpaid installments of any such assessment, including those that are to become due and payable after delivery of the deed, shall be deemed for purposes of this contract to be due and payable after delivery of the deed and to be liens upon the premises affected thereby, and shall be paid and discharged by the seller upon delivery of the deed. Sewer taxes shall be excluded from the provisions of this paragraph, and the installments not due and payable at the time of the delivery of the deed shall be assumed by the purchaser of the property so affected without abatement of the purchase price.

10. Apportionments. The following items shall be apportioned: (a) rents as and when collected; (b) interest on mortgages; (c) premiums on existing transferable insurance policies or renewals of those expiring before the closing; (d) taxes and sewer rents, if any, on the basis of the fiscal year for which assessed; (e) water charges on the basis of the calendar year; and (f) fuel, if any.

If the closing of the title occurs before the tax rate is fixed, the apportionment of taxes shall be upon the basis of the tax rate for the next preceding year applied to the latest assessed valuation. If there is a water meter on either of the premises, the respective seller shall furnish a reading to a date not more than 30 days before the closing, and the unfixed meter charge and the unfixed sewer rent, if any, based thereon for the intervening time shall be apportioned on the basis of such last reading.

11. Deeds. Each deed shall be the usual bargain and sale deed with covenant against grantor's acts in proper statutory short form for record and shall be duly executed and acknowledged, so as to convey to the grantee the fee simple of the premises conveyed, free of all encumbrances, except as herein stated, and shall also contain the covenant required by subdivision 5 of Section 13 of the Lien Law. Each party shall give and the other party accept any title that the Central Title Insurance Company or the General Title Insurance Company approves and insures.

12. Lien for deposit and title expense. All sums paid on account of this contract, and the reasonable expense of the survey and the examination of the title, are made liens on the respective properties, but such liens shall not continue after default by the respective purchaser under this contract.

13. Fixtures and personal property. All fixtures and articles of personal property attached or appurtenant to or used in connection with such premises are represented to be owned by the respective sellers of such premises, free from all liens and encumbrances except as herein stated, and are included in this exchange. Such fixtures and articles of personal property include plumbing, heating, lighting, and cooking fixtures, air conditioning fixtures and units, ranges, refrigerators, television aerials, bathroom and kitchen cabinets, mantels, door mirrors, blinds, shades, screens, awnings, storm windows, window boxes, storm doors, mail boxes, pumps, and shrubbery.

14. Judgments against others. If a search of the title discloses judgments, bankruptcies, or other returns against other persons having names the same as or similar to those of the respective parties, such party will on request deliver to the other party an affidavit showing that such judgments, bankruptcies, or other returns are not against the affiant.

15. Default. If either party is unable to convey title in accordance with the terms of this contract, his sole liability shall be to refund to the other party any amount paid on account of the difference between the agreed values of the respective premises and to pay the net cost of surveying and examining such title. As soon as the refund and payment are made this contract shall be considered cancelled.

16. Fire loss. The respective sellers assume the risk of loss or damage to the premises by fire until delivery of the deeds.

17. Closing. The closing shall be held at the office of Mark Davidson, Esq., 10 Court Square, White Plains, New York, at 10 a.m. on February 10, _____ [date].

18. Broker. The parties agree that Noonan & Company brought about this exchange and agree to pay the commission as provided in a separate agreement executed by them.

19. Binding effect. This agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective legal representatives, successors, and permitted assigns.

20. Entire agreement; modification. This instrument constitutes the entire agreement between the parties. It is entered into after full investigation, neither party relying upon any statement or representation made by the other not embodied herein. The parties have inspected the buildings standing on the respective premises to be purchased by them and are thoroughly acquainted with their condition. This instrument may not be changed or terminated orally, but only by an agreement duly executed and signed by the parties.

21. Notices. All notices hereunder shall be in writing and delivered personally or mailed by certified or registered mail, postage prepaid, return receipt requested, addressed to the parties at their above addresses.

22. Non-waiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise any right hereunder, and no partial or single exercise of such right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

23. Headings. Headings in this agreement are for convenience and reference only and shall not be used to interpret or construe its provisions.

24. Governing law. This agreement shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of New York.

25. Time of essence. Time is of the essence of this agreement.

This agreement has been duly executed by the parties.

William Barnes

James B. Harris

[Acknowledgments]

95 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
 Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
 Part IV. Forms
 E. EXCHANGES

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.59

FORM 21.59 Exchange agreement--one parcel subject to long term lease--transfers subject to existing mortgages--excess value of one parcel paid in cash

COMMENT

This is a contract for the exchange of rental properties. One of the properties is subject to a long term lease of the entire parcel and is to be conveyed subject to the lease. Because the lessee pays expenses, such as taxes and insurance, usually apportioned between the parties at closing, this exchange agreement provides for no apportionment of expenses for the leased parcel. Expenses for the property not subject to the long-term overall lease, however, are apportioned at closing under this agreement. Since the value of one parcel exceeds that of the other, the excess is to be paid in cash at the closing. Due to the differences in title and other matters, this contract is generally arranged to treat each parcel separately. The provisions in this agreement are arranged under five areas: the description of the first parcel; the description of the second parcel; matters relating to the first parcel; matters relating to the second parcel; and matters applicable to both parcels.

Tax aspects

This exchange most likely will qualify as a "like kind" exchange. However, the nonrecognition possibility virtually disappears for one of the parties in this case, because of the disparity in the gross values of the properties. Also, the assumption of the mortgage on the more valuable property provides a major portion of the consideration in the exchange. Mortgage assumption transactions usually create taxable gain for the owner of the more valuable property, even if no cash is received, notwithstanding the nonrecognition provision. For a general discussion of like-kind exchanges and of the effect of mortgages on the amount of recognized gain, see The Tax Background § 21.12[6], at the beginning of this chapter.

FORM

AGREEMENT, made September 30, _____ [date], between Charlton Corporation, a New York corporation with its principal place of business at 100 East 42d Street, New York, New York ("Charlton"), and Center Realty Corporation, a New York corporation, having its principal place of business at 500 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York ("Center Realty").

1. Description of first parcel. Charlton agrees to sell and convey to Center Realty;

All that certain plot, piece, or parcel of land, with the buildings and improvements thereon, situate, lying, and being in the Borough of Manhattan, City, County, and State of New York, more particularly bounded and described as follows:

(Insert description)

Together with all the right, title, and interest of Charlton, if any, of, in, and to all strips or gores of land adjacent to or abutting such premises.

The above described premises are hereinafter referred to as the first parcel.

2. Description of second parcel. Center Realty agrees to sell and convey to Charlton,

All that certain plot, piece, or parcel of land, with the buildings and improvements thereon, situate, lying, and being in the Borough of Manhattan, City, County, and State of New York, bounded and described as follows:

(Insert description)

The above described premises are hereinafter referred to as the second parcel.

3. Matters relating to first parcel. The following provisions contained in this paragraph shall apply solely to the sale by Charlton to Center Realty of the first parcel:

(a) Liens and encumbrances on first parcel. The first parcel is to be sold and conveyed subject to the following:

(1) A mortgage to be a lien on the parcel upon delivery of the deed, which shall secure the principal sum of $5,300,000 and interest. The mortgage shall be executed to the General Life Insurance Company, shall be payable and made in accordance with the provisions of the commitment issued by such institution, dated August 26th, _____ [year], and the mortgage documents shall contain the appropriate provisions of such commitment. The commitment has been examined and initialed by or on behalf of Center Realty. The first payment of interest only under such mortgage shall be due and payable three months after the closing of title hereunder, and the first fixed quarterly payment of $106,000 shall be due and payable six months after the closing of title. All expenses (including broker's commissions and the other expenses set forth in such commitment) in connection with the mortgage loan shall be paid by or on behalf of Charlton.

(2) The state of facts shown on the survey made by George C. Hollerith, dated March 14, _____ [year] and redated June 27, _____ [year], a blueprint of which has been examined and initialed by or on behalf of Center Realty.

(3) A lease of the entire parcel for a term of 25 years, commencing on or about the date of the delivery of the deed, with options of renewal, such lease to be in the form of the attached Schedule A, made a part hereof, after all blanks are filled in with appropriate data.

(4) Subleases and tenancies of portions of the parcel.

(5) All municipal assessments, water meter charges, and sewer rents assessed, levied, imposed, or confirmed against and becoming a lien against the parcel or any part thereof and which the lessee under the lease described in subparagraph (3) is obligated to pay.

(6) Covenants and restrictions of record, if any, to the extent they are in force and effect, if they are not violated by the existing building and improvements on the parcel and the use thereof.

(7) Licenses and easements, if any, for public utilities.

(b) No apportionments. There shall be no apportionment between the parties with respect to insurance, real estate taxes, water rates, sewer rents, charges, and other items normally apportioned with respect to the sale of real property, since all of such items are payable by the lessee under the lease described in subparagraph (3).

(c) Damage to property. If before the closing any building or improvement is totally or partially damaged or destroyed by causes covered by insurance, such damage or destruction shall not affect this agreement. Notwithstanding the damage or destruction, Center Realty shall close this transaction without any claim or abatement of price or allowance of any kind, except that Charlton shall at closing of title deliver to Center Realty all insurance proceeds received by Charlton, and Charlton shall also transfer, assign, and set over to Center Realty all of Charlton's rights to such proceeds or any claim thereto received by or accrued to Charlton at or before the closing.

(d) Purchase price. For purposes of this agreement the value of the first parcel, over encumbrances, shall be deemed to exceed the value of the second parcel, over encumbrances, by $200,000. At the closing Center Realty shall deliver to Charlton $200,000 in cash or by good certified check.

(e) Modification of existing leases. From and after the date hereof Charlton shall not, without Center Realty's prior written consent, modify, amend, or terminate any lease or tenancy affecting the first parcel. At the closing, Charlton shall deliver to Center Realty a list of all existing subleases and tenancies with relevant data.

4. Matters relating to second parcel. The following provisions contained in this paragraph shall apply solely to the sale by Center Realty to Charlton of the second parcel:

(a) Liens and encumbrances on second parcel. The second parcel shall be sold and conveyed subject to the following:

(1) A mortgage now a recorded lien on the parcel upon which there is now unpaid the principal sum of $280,000, and interest. Such mortgage is payable in constant quarter-annual payments of $5,950 each, until August 1, _____ [year], when the balance of principal then unpaid, together with accrued interest, shall become due and payable. Such constant quarter-annual payments of $5,950 each are to be applied first towards the payment of interest at the rate of 9 percent per annum, and the balance of each payment on account of principal of the mortgage. Copies of such mortgage and of the obligation secured thereby have been examined and initialed by or on behalf of Charlton.

(2) The state of facts shown on the survey made by J. George Hollerith, dated May 26, _____ [year], and redated May 22, _____ [year], a copy of which survey has been examined and initialed by or on behalf of Charlton.

(3) Leases and tenancies of portions of the parcel listed in the annexed Schedule B and made a part hereof; any written leases and agreements so listed have been examined and initialed by or on behalf of Charlton. It is recognized that such leases and tenancies may change between the date hereof and the closing of title, by reason of defaults, summary proceedings, or other reasons beyond the control of Center Realty.

(b) Water and sewer charges. If there are water meters on the second parcel, the unfixed meter charges and the unfixed sewer rents if any, based thereon for the intervening time between the date of the last reading and the closing of title, shall be apportioned on the basis of such last reading. Notwithstanding any contrary provision herein, if the second parcel is subject to any lease or leases or tenancies, pursuant to which any tenant is obliged to pay water meter charges or sewer rents, such charges or rents shall not be apportioned, and Charlton shall look solely to such tenant or tenants for the payment thereof.

(c) Mortgage installments. Mortgage installments representing payments of principal required to be paid by the terms of the mortgage on the second parcel between the date hereof and the closing of title, and paid by Center Realty, shall be repaid by Charlton to Center Realty in cash at the time of closing title, and the second parcel shall be conveyed subject to the mortgage as reduced.

(d) Assumption of service contracts. Charlton shall at the closing of title assume in writing the performance of the maintenance contracts set forth in the annexed Schedule C affecting the second parcel. All charges payable under such maintenance contracts shall be apportioned at the closing of title.

(e) Departmental violations. Within 60 days after the closing of title, Center Realty shall comply with all notes or notices of violations of applicable municipal or other laws, including zoning ordinances, health codes, multiple dwelling laws, building codes, fire ordinances, and the like, against or affecting the second parcel at the date hereof. This provision shall survive delivery of the deed. Center Realty shall furnish Charlton with authorization to make the necessary searches for such violations.

(f) Apportionments. The following shall be apportioned between the parties as of November 1, _____ [year]:

(1) Rents as and when collected.

(2) Interest on the first mortgage.

(3) Taxes, based on the fiscal year for which assessed.

(4) Fuel, if any.

(g) Unpaid assessments for improvements. If, at closing, all or part of the second parcel is or has been affected by any assessment which is or may become payable in annual installments, of which the first installment is then a charge or lien or has been paid, all the unpaid installments of any such assessment, including those that are to become due and payable after delivery of the deed, shall be deemed for purposes of this contract to be due and payable and to be liens upon the second parcel, and shall be paid and discharged by Center Realty before delivery of the deed.

(h) Evidence of mortgage debt. An ordinary receipt or letter from the holder of the mortgage covering the second parcel, reciting the amount unpaid, and the date to which interest was last paid, shall be sufficient evidence thereof, and no further evidence shall be required.

5. Matters applicable to both parcels. The following provisions shall be applicable to the sale by each party of its respective parcel:

(a) Additional encumbrances. In addition to the items set forth in paragraphs 3 and 4, each of the parcels shall be sold and conveyed subject to:

(1) Zoning regulations and ordinances of the city, town, or village in which the parcels lie which are not violated by existing structures.

(2) Consents by the seller or any former owner of the parcels for the erection of any structure or structures on, under, or above any street or streets on which each parcel abuts.

(3) Encroachments of stoops, areas, cellar steps, trim, and cornices, if any, upon any street or highway.

(b) Street rights. The sale by each party includes all right, title, and interest, if any, of the seller in and to any land lying in the bed of any street, road, or avenue opened or proposed, in front of or adjoining the parcel to be conveyed to the center line thereof, any award made or to be made in lieu thereof, and any unpaid award for damage to such parcel by reason of change of grade of any street. Each party will execute and deliver to the other, on the closing of title, or thereafter, on demand, all proper instruments for the conveyance of such title and the assignment and collection of any such award.

(c) Deeds. Each deed shall be the usual bargain and sale deed without covenants in proper statutory short form for record and shall be duly executed and acknowledged, so as to convey to the grantee the fee simple of the parcel conveyed, free of all encumbrances, except as herein stated, and shall also contain the covenant required by subdivision 5 of Section 13 of the Lien Law. Center Realty shall pay any New York City Real Property transfer tax in connection with the transfers by both parties. Both parties shall join in executing and filing any returns required under the New York City Real Property Transfer Tax Law.

(d) Fixtures. All fixtures and articles of personal property attached or appurtenant to or used in connection with the parcels owned by the respective sellers, free from all liens and encumbrances except as herein stated, are included in this exchange.

(e) Judgments against others. If a search of title discloses judgments, bankruptcies, or other returns against other persons having names the same as or similar to those of either party, such party will on request deliver to the other party an affidavit showing that such judgments, bankruptcies, or other returns are not against the affiant.

(f) Unpaid corporate taxes. Unpaid corporation or franchise taxes of any corporation in the chain of title to either parcel shall be no objection to title, if the title company examining the title for the purchaser of such parcel agrees to insure that such taxes will not be collected against the parcel.

(g) Broker. The parties agree that no broker brought about this exchange, and that this exchange was negotiated by and made directly between them.

(h) Closing. The closing shall be held at the offices of Kahn & Carlin, Esqs., 100 Madison Avenue, New York, New York, at 10:30 a.m. on November 2, _____ [year]. At that time, the deeds and other necessary documents shall be delivered, and Center Realty shall make the required payment to Charlton. Center Realty may adjourn the closing to November 30, _____ [year], upon payment to Charlton of $20,000 as security for the performance of this agreement by Center Realty. Charlton shall refund this sum to Center Realty if the closing takes place. If Center Realty defaults in performing this agreement, Charlton shall retain the $20,000, which shall be credited against the liquidated damages to be paid by Center Realty as set forth in subparagraph (j).

(i) Default by Charlton. If Charlton is unable to acquire title to the first parcel or is unable to convey title in accordance with the terms of this agreement, its sole liability shall be to reimburse Center Realty for any sums paid by Center Realty as security for performance of this agreement together with the net costs of title examination and of any survey made in connection therewith incurred by Center Realty. Thereupon, this agreement shall terminate and neither party shall have any further rights against the other.

(j) Default by Center Realty. If Center Realty defaults hereunder, this agreement shall terminate and neither party shall have any further rights against the other, except as set forth below. The parties acknowledge that if this agreement terminates, Charlton will suffer damages, the precise amount of which cannot be determined. Accordingly, in the event of such termination, Center Realty shall pay Charlton, as liquidated damages and not as a penalty, $60,000 less any amount Center Realty has paid to Charlton and which Charlton has retained under the provisions of subparagraph (h).

(k) Entire agreement; modification. This agreement constitutes the entire agreement between the parties. It is entered into after full investigation, neither party relying upon any statement or representation made by the other not embodied herein. The parties have inspected the buildings standing on the respective premises to be purchased by them and are thoroughly acquainted with their condition. This instrument may not be changed or terminated except by an agreement duly executed and signed by both parties.

(l) Binding effect. This agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective legal representatives, successors, and assigns.

(m) Notices. All notices hereunder shall be in writing and delivered personally or mailed by certified or registered mail, postage prepaid, return receipt requested, addressed to the parties at their above addresses.

(n) Non-waiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise any right hereunder, and no partial or single exercise of such right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

(o) Headings. Headings in this agreement are for convenience and reference only and shall not be used to interpret or construe its provisions.

(p) Governing law. This agreement shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of New York.

(q) Time of essence. Time is of the essence of this agreement.

In witness whereof this agreement has been duly executed by the parties.

Attest:

Secretary

Attest:

Secretary

First Party:

Charlton Corporation

by _____

President

Second Party:

Center Realty Corporation

by _____

President

[Acknowledgments]

96 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms
E. EXCHANGES

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.60

FORM 21.60 Exchange agreement--three-party exchange, two-party agreement--third property and owner to be located--alternative exchange and sale timing and methods

COMMENT

In this agreement, two parties agree to exchange property. One party owns land which the other party wishes to acquire. This is a three party transaction because other property or properties are to be located, and the owner or owners are to agree to sell or exchange it with one of the parties to the agreement. The completion of this agreement, therefore, depends upon locating and acquiring other satisfactory property. This agreement intends that one of the parties to the agreement will purchase the third party's property and then exchange it for the property owned by the other party to the agreement. If this cannot be arranged, the agreement provides for a direct exchange between the property owner in the agreement and the third party. The third party will then sell the property acquired in the exchange to the other party to the agreement. Under either transaction, the property owner who enters into this agreement should qualify for nonrecognition of gain as a result of the like kind exchange. Also, under either transaction, the party wishing to acquire the owner's property completes the transaction with title to the other party's property. An owner who engages in a triangular exchange secures the benefit of a "like-kind" tax-free exchange, if, among other requirements, his intention was only to make an exchange and if he did not have a binding agreement to sell for cash.

Exchange preceded by third party sale

There are two basic patterns for triangular exchange transactions. In the first, the owner causes a third party (who wants to sell his property rather than exchange it) to make a sale of his property to the purchaser. The owner then exchanges his property for the property acquired by the purchaser from the third party. A variation of this pattern occurs where the owner agrees to transfer his property to the purchaser if the purchaser will arrange to have the third party's property transferred to the owner. In this latter situation, there is usually a sufficient "exchange" even though the purchaser causes a direct conveyance to the owner from the third party. While in these cases the owner does not make a direct exchange with the third party (because the owner conveys his property to the purchaser), the effect of the over-all arrangement is a like-kind exchange by the owner. This latter technique of exchange is provided in this form as an alternative method to be followed by the parties for making an exchange if the parties' preferred exchange method cannot be completed.

Exchange followed by third party sale

The second pattern for a triangular exchange transaction, and the one described as the basic or preferred method in this form, is one in which the owner exchanges his property with a third party, but arranges as part of the exchange to have the third party sell the owner's property to the purchaser. The net effect is the same as under the first pattern: the owner makes an exchange; the third party makes a sale; and the purchaser acquires the owner's property. Here the owner's intention to make an exchange is carried out directly, and he himself is never obligated to sell for cash. Such a transaction by the owner should, therefore, fall within the tax-free exchange provision.

Tax free exchange time limitations

Any property received by the taxpayer more than 180 days after the date on which the taxpayer transfers property, or after the due date of the taxpayer's tax return for the taxable year in which the transfer occurs if earlier, is not to be treated as like-kind property. Thus, tax-free treatment will be unavailable for exchanges not completed within this time period. In addition, property which was not designated as the property to be received by the taxpayer on or before the day which is 45 days after the date the transferred property was relinquished will not qualify as like-kind property. In this agreement, the transfers and exchanges all occur well within these time limitations.

Form combines option with three party exchange

In this form, the owner grants an option to purchase to an optionee, i.e., the purchaser. If this option is exercised, the owner has the right to exchange his property with a third party, but is obligated to find and commit a third party to sell the owner's property to the optionee-purchaser. If the owner is unable to effect an exchange within a prescribed period, he is then obligated to sell his property directly to the optionee-purchaser. Thus, in this agreement an option and a third-party exchange are combined. Also in this agreement, the optionee-purchaser is given two successive options, one exercisable after the other, and a third-party exchange is to be used in each instance.

Recognized gain or loss for third party

The position of the third party in these transactions is fairly clear. Under the first pattern (exchange preceded by third party sale), the third party has plainly been involved only in a sale of his property. Under the second pattern (exchange followed by third party sale), although the third party appears to engage in an exchange, it is not a tax-free exchange because the property received is not intended to be held either in business or for investment. In any event, the immediate sale by the third party of the property received by him will result, most likely, in taxable gain or loss.

Tax aspects

For a discussion of the basic rules on tax-free "like-kind" exchanges, and for the method of treating mortgages, cash, and other property in such exchanges, see The Tax Background § 21.12, at the beginning of this chapter.

FORM

AGREEMENT entered into October 15, _____ [year], by and between Mountain Bank and Trust Company, as Trustee under Trust 500 ("Owner"), and Smith Realty Company, a corporation ("Optionee").

Recitals

Owner is the owner in fee of certain real property in Orange County, California, comprising approximately 400 acres, more or less (the "Subject Property"), which is bordered by a yellow line and shown on a map prepared by Kay Engineering, Map No. K425, dated March 15, _____ [year]. A copy of this map is attached as Exhibit A and made a part hereof as fully as though set out at length herein. For purposes of this agreement, the Subject Property is divided into two parcels which shall be referred to as follows: Parcel A, comprising 160 acres, and Parcel B, comprising 240 acres.

Owner has made available to Optionee copies of the attached map, which Optionee has examined. Optionee acknowledges that the boundaries bordered by a yellow line on such map are acceptable to it.

Owner wishes to exchange Parcels A and B of the Subject Property for other property of like kind and having these transactions qualify as Exchanges under Section 1031 of the Internal Revenue Code.

The Subject Property is the only land to which Optionee acquires any rights hereunder. All other property shown on the map is excluded.

Now, therefore, it is mutually agreed as follows:

1. Grant of first option. In consideration of $50,000 paid by Optionee to Owner, the receipt of which is acknowledged, Owner grants to Optionee the sole and exclusive option to acquire Parcel A of the Subject Property. This option shall automatically terminate at 5 p.m. on June 15, _____ [year]. If Optionee does not duly exercise this option to acquire Parcel A, Owner may retain the $50,000 paid to it by Optionee as consideration for the option, without any obligation or liability to Optionee, and this agreement shall automatically terminate.

2. Exercise of first option. Optionee shall exercise the option for Parcel A of the Subject Property by delivering written notice thereof to Owner, no earlier than June 15, _____ [year], but no later than 5 p.m. on June 15, _____ [year], at the place set forth in paragraph 12 for sending notices. Such notice shall be deemed to have been delivered after personal delivery to Owner at the address to which notices are to be sent or within 24 hours after deposit in any branch of the United States Post Office in California, addressed as herein provided, registered or certified mail, return receipt requested and postage fully prepaid.

3. Owner's right to effect an exchange. Upon timely exercise of the option, Owner shall thereafter have until July 15, _____ [year], to exchange Parcel A of the Subject Property for other property of like kind, and to close the exchange. As soon as Owner exchanges Parcel A for other property, it will cause the new owner or owners to agree in writing to sell Parcel A to Optionee according to the following terms and provisions:

(a) If Parcel A is not exchanged by Owner in a consummated transaction within the time provided above, it shall be sold by Owner to Optionee as provided below.

(b) Optionee shall acquire Parcel A from Owner or from the person or persons then owning Parcel A, for the price and upon the terms set forth herein. Within five business days after Optionee has duly exercised the option, Owner shall enter into an escrow at the Western Title Company, Santa Ana, California, or cause the person or persons with whom Owner has entered into an exchange for Parcel A to enter therein, with Optionee, for the sale of Parcel A. Such escrow shall provide for the closing not later than on July 15, _____ [year]. The value and purchase price of Parcel A shall be $600,000. The purchase price of Parcel A shall be paid in cash at the close of escrow, and Optionee shall not be entitled to any credit for the $50,000 already paid under the terms of paragraph 1.

(c) The parties agree to execute the escrow instructions as an accommodation for assisting the escrow holder in settling the escrow transaction. If no escrow instructions are executed, the terms of this agreement shall be deemed to be instructions to such escrow holder.

(d) The following provisions shall govern the escrow:

(1) Parcel A shall be conveyed to Optionee free and clear of encumbrances, except any lien or liens for real property taxes and assessments not then delinquent, and any lien or charge suffered or created by the Optionee on Parcel A. The condition of title shall be subject to reservations, restrictions, easements, and rights-of-way of record at the date of execution of this agreement, but no others. Title shall also be subject to any future bonds and assessments placed of record after the date hereof.

(2) All real property taxes and assessments for the then current fiscal year shall be prorated to the close of the escrow.

(3) The seller and purchaser under such escrow shall pay the customary charges of the Western Title Company for its services and delivery of a standard coverage policy of title insurance. In particular, the seller shall pay for the standard policy of title insurance, the seller and purchaser shall each pay one-half of the escrow fee, the purchaser shall pay for the recordation of documents, and any unusual charges shall be paid by the party causing such expense to occur.

4. Grant of second option. If Optionee exercises the option set forth in paragraph 1, and acquires Parcel A of the Subject Property according to all of the applicable conditions, Optionee shall have the exclusive right and option to acquire Parcel B of the Subject Property upon the terms and conditions hereinafter set forth. The option to acquire Parcel B shall automatically terminate if Optionee fails either to perform any condition specified above within the time limitation provided or to exercise the option as provided below. In either event, Owner may retain the $50,000 paid to it by Optionee under paragraph 1 as consideration for this option.

5. Exercise of second option. Optionee shall exercise the option as to Parcel B of the Subject Property by delivering to Owner, at the address provided in paragraph 12, a written notice that it intends to exercise the option as provided in paragraph 6. Such notice shall be deemed to have been delivered after personal delivery to Owner at the address to which notices are provided to be sent, or within 24 hours after deposit in any branch of the United States Post Office in California, properly addressed, registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, and postage fully prepaid.

6. Time for exercise and price. The written notice of exercise of the option to acquire Parcel B of the Subject Property shall be made in the manner described in the next preceding paragraph but shall only be effective if given during one of the periods of time set forth below. The value and purchase price of Parcel B shall be adjusted upward depending upon the date of exercise of the option. The applicable value and purchase price of Parcel B per gross acre is set forth opposite the respective periods of time for exercise of such option, as follows:

Period of Time	Value per Gross Acre
(a) July 16-31, ____ [year]	$20,600
(b) October 16-31, ____ [year]	$20,800
(c) January 16-31, ____ [year]	$21,000
(d) April 16-30, ____ [year]	$21,200
(e) July 16-31, ____ [year]	$21,400
(f) October 16-31, ____ [year]	$21,600

7. Owner's right to effect exchange. Upon timely exercise of the option, Owner shall have 90 days within which to exchange Parcel B of the Subject Property for other property of like kind, if such exchange is completed within 90 days after exercise of the option. As soon as Owner exchanges Parcel B for other property, it will cause the owner or owners to agree in writing to sell Parcel B to Optionee according to the following terms and provisions:

(a) If Parcel B is not exchanged by Owner in a consummated transaction within the time provided, it shall be sold by Owner to Optionee as provided below.

(b) Optionee shall acquire Parcel B from Owner or from the person or persons then owning Parcel B for the price and upon the terms set forth herein. Within 150 days after exercise of the option, Owner shall enter into an escrow at the Western Title Company at its then existing office in Orange County, or cause the person or persons with whom Owner has entered into an exchange for Parcel B to enter therein, with Optionee for the sale of all of Parcel B. Such escrow shall provide for the closing within 180 days after exercise of the option to acquire Parcel B. The purchase price shall be paid in cash at the close of escrow, except that Optionee shall be entitled to credit for the $50,000 already paid as option money under paragraph 1.

(c) The following provisions shall govern the escrow:

(1) Parcel B shall be conveyed to Optionee free and clear of encumbrances, except any lien or liens for real property taxes and assessments not then delinquent, and any lien or charge suffered or created by Optionee on Parcel B. The condition of title shall be subject to reservations, restrictions, easements, and rights-of-way of record at the date of execution of this agreement, but no others. Title shall also be subject to any future bonds and assessments placed of record after the date hereof.

(2) All real property taxes and assessments for the then current fiscal year shall be prorated to the close of escrow.

(3) The seller and purchaser under such escrow shall pay the customary charges of the Western Title Company for its services and delivery of a standard coverage policy of title insurance. In particular, the seller shall pay for the standard policy of title insurance, the seller and purchaser shall each pay one-half of the escrow fee, the purchaser shall pay for the recordation of documents, and any unusual charges shall be paid by the party causing such expense to occur.

8. Alternative method of exchange. As an alternative to the manner of exchanging Parcels A and B of the Subject Property as set forth in paragraphs 3 and 7 above, Optionee shall cooperate fully with Owner and purchase any other land that Owner wishes to receive in exchange for Parcel A or B, or both. Optionee shall not be charged with any additional expense on account of the exchange transactions. The closing dates and other provisions of this agreement shall remain unchanged.

9. License to optionee to enter property. Owner hereby grants to Optionee a nonexclusive license to enter the Subject Property from time to time during the option period referred to in paragraph 1, for the sole and exclusive purpose of allowing Optionee to conduct soil, engineering, and other tests on such land. Optionee shall indemnify and hold Owner harmless from all damage caused by Optionee or its agents to the land, crops, and cattle grazing thereon. Optionee shall be responsible for any hazards created through its conduct on the Subject Property. After performing its tests and engineering work, Optionee shall restore the land to substantially the same condition that existed before its activities thereon. Optionee shall warn Owner before it goes onto the land so that Owner may post notices of nonresponsibility. Owner's failure to post such notices shall not be deemed a failure to mitigate any damages caused by Optionee's conduct on the land. Optionee shall indemnify and hold Owner harmless from all mechanic's, laborer's, and other liens arising out of its activity on the Subject Property. The license to go onto the Subject Property shall be only for the limited purpose of allowing Optionee to perform soil, engineering, and other tests. The license shall automatically terminate after the option period referred to in paragraph 1 expires or the tests are completed, whichever occurs first. Thereafter, Optionee shall not have the right to possession of any portion of the Subject Property until it acquires fee title.

10. Limitation on right of assignment. Optionee shall not assign this agreement or any right or interest hereunder without Owner's prior written consent. No such prior approval shall be necessary, however, if Optionee assigns its entire rights hereunder to a corporation in which it owns at least 50 percent of the voting stock, or to a joint venture in which it owns at least a 50-percent interest in the profits. Optionee shall remain liable hereunder even if it makes a valid assignment.

11. Remedies. If either party brings an action against the other to enforce any term or provision of this agreement or in connection with the Subject Property, the prevailing party shall be awarded its reasonable costs and expenses, not limited to taxable costs, and reasonable attorneys' fees. Such award shall be in addition to any other available relief, including damages or injunction.

12. Notices. All notices under this agreement, whether to a party or the escrow holder, shall be in writing and delivered personally or mailed by certified or registered mail, postage prepaid, return receipt requested, addressed to the parties or the escrow holder at the respective addresses set forth below, or to any other address later designated by them:

Owner:	Mountain Bank & Trust Company, Trustee under Trust 500 100 West First Street Santa Ana, California
Optionee:	Smith Realty Company 100 Coast Highway Santa Barbara, California
Escrow Holder:	Western Title Company Santa Ana, California

Any notice sent by mail shall be deemed given on the day after it is deposited in the United States mail, properly addressed with postage fully prepaid, if mailed in the County of Orange, or on the second day after mailing if mailed elsewhere.

13. Binding effect. This agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective legal representatives, successors, and assigns.

14. Entire agreement; modification. This agreement constitutes the entire agreement between the parties. It is entered into after full investigation, neither party relying upon any statement or representation made by the other not embodied herein. This instrument may not be changed or terminated except by an agreement duly executed and signed by both parties.

15. Non-waiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise any right hereunder, and no partial or single exercise of such right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

16. Headings. Headings in this agreement are for convenience and reference only and shall not be used to interpret or construe its provisions.

17. Governing law. This agreement shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of California.

This agreement has been executed at Santa Ana, California, by the parties as of the day and year first above written.

Mountain Bank and Trust Company

Trustee under Trust 500

by _____

Vice President

by _____

Secretary

Owner

Smith Realty Company

by _____

Vice President

by _____

Secretary

Optionee

97 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms
E. EXCHANGES

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.61

FORM 21.61 Addendum to Purchase and Sale Agreement -- Conversion to Like-Kind Exchange Transaction -- Use of Qualified Intermediary in a Deferred Exchange.

COMMENT

This form can be used where the seller of the real property has already executed the purchase and sale agreement and then decides to do a forward delayed like kind exchange transaction, through a "qualified intermediary." See Tax Background § 21.12[3]. The form makes clear that the purchaser has no responsibility with respect to accomplishing the like kind exchange transaction for the seller, but does agree to cooperate with the seller towards that end.

The 1991 Treasury Regulations established four "safe harbors" the use of which allow the taxpayer to avoid actual or constructive receipt of money or other property for the purposes of completing a like kind exchange. The use of a qualified intermediary is the preferred method of accomplishing a deferred forward like kind exchange, similar to the transaction described in the preceding Form 21.60, which did not use a qualified intermediary. The qualified intermediary, who is not treated as the agent of the seller, holds the seller's property (the "relinquished property") until the replacement property is received. Even though the intermediary may actually sell the property and acquire the replacement property, the taxpayer is treated as exchanging the property.

The qualified intermediary is a person who enters into a written agreement with the seller (the "exchange agreement") and, as required by the exchange agreement, acquires the relinquished property from the seller, transfers the relinquished property to the purchaser, acquires the replacement property, and transfers the replacement property to the seller. All of this must be accomplished within the time constraints imposed by Section 1031. See Tax Background § 21.12[3]. An example of an assignment of the purchase and sale agreement to the qualified intermediary by the taxpayer is set forth as Form 21.62.

FORM

Addendum to Purchase and Sale Agreement

This Addendum to Purchase and Sale Agreement ("Addendum") is made by and between Harry E. Simpson and Joann Simpson, husband and wife (collectively "Seller"), and Brown Realty Corporation, an Ohio corporation ("Purchaser").

WITNESSETH:

WHEREAS, Seller and Purchaser entered into a Purchase and Sale Agreement dated June 12, _____ [year] (the "Purchase Agreement"), whereby Seller agreed to sell, and Purchaser agreed to buy, certain real property situated in the City of Elyria, County of Lorain, State of Ohio, and more particularly described in the Purchase Agreement; and

WHEREAS, it is Seller's intention to sell the land described in the Purchase Agreement (the "Land") in exchange for a like kind property as part of a tax free like kind exchange transaction; and

WHEREAS, in order to facilitate such exchange, Seller and Purchaser desire to modify the Purchase Agreement as herein set forth;

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the premises and the mutual covenants and agreements herein set forth, the parties hereto agree as follows:

1. Capitalized Words and Phrases. Unless otherwise defined or redefined herein, the capitalized words and phrases used herein shall have the same meanings ascribed to them in the Purchase Agreement.

2. Like Kind Exchange. Purchaser and Seller acknowledge that Seller may wish to structure Seller's disposition of the Land in a manner intended by Seller to constitute an exchange of the Land for property of a like kind (the "Replacement Property") that is described in Section 1031 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (an "Exchange"). Notwithstanding anything in the Purchase Agreement to the contrary, Seller shall have the right to assign Seller's interest in the Purchase Agreement, without Purchaser's consent to such person or entity as Seller may designate to serve as a Qualified Intermediary (within the meaning of Treasury Regulation § 1.1031(k)-1(g)(4)) for the sole purpose of enabling Seller to effect such an Exchange; provided, however, that notwithstanding any such assignment, Seller shall not be released from any of Seller's liabilities, obligations or covenants under the Purchase Agreement.

Purchaser shall cooperate in all reasonable respects with Seller to effect any Exchange; provided, however, that (i) Seller's ability to consummate an Exchange shall not be a condition to the obligations of Seller under the Purchase Agreement, and Purchaser does not warrant and shall not be responsible for any of the tax consequences to Seller with respect to the transactions contemplated hereunder, and (ii) Purchaser shall not be required to incur any additional costs or expenses as a result of any Exchange.

3. Effect of Addendum. Except as provided herein all other terms and provisions of the Purchase Agreement shall remain unmodified and in full force and effect.

Seller and Purchaser have caused this Addendum to be duly executed as of the ____ day of ____ [year].

SELLER:

Harry E. Simpson

Joann Simpson

PURCHASER

Brown Realty Corporation

By _____

Title: _____

98 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms
E. EXCHANGES

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.62

FORM 21.62 Assignment of Purchase Agreement to Qualified Intermediary -- Like Kind Exchange Transaction

COMMENT

If the Seller of real property decides to use a "qualified intermediary" to accomplish a like kind exchange, assignment of the purchase and sale agreement by the seller to the qualified intermediary will be necessary. For the advantage in using a qualified intermediary, see Tax Background § 21.12[3]. Once it is decided to use a qualified intermediary to facilitate the deferred exchange, an exchange agreement is entered into with the qualified intermediary. In this instance, the qualified intermediary is an affiliate of the title company doing the title work for the purchase and sale agreement. The exchange agreement is usually provided by the qualified intermediary after the seller provides the necessary information to the qualified intermediary, but with the understanding that the exchange agreement will be reviewed by the seller's attorney to ensure that the agreement complies with the Treasury Regulations.

Once the exchange agreement is executed, the seller will assign the purchase and sale agreement to the qualified intermediary to facilitate the exchange by use of this form of an assignment.

FORM

ASSIGNMENT OF PURCHASE AGREEMENT

For value received, Harry E. Simpson and Joann Simpson ("Assignor") hereby transfers, sets over, and assigns all of Assignor's right, title and interest, but not Assignor's obligations, in and to that certain Purchase Agreement dated _____ [date], between Assignor (as seller therein) and Brown Realty Corporation (as buyer therein), and any earnest money or other deposit received pursuant thereto for property known as _____ to North American Exchange Services Co. ("Assignee").

This Assignment is made in furtherance of the terms, conditions and obligations of that certain Agreement for Exchange of Real Property dated _____ [date] between Assignor (as Exchange Party therein) and Assignee (as Intermediary therein).

Assignor:

Harry E. Simpson

Joann Simpson

Date: _____

99 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms
E. EXCHANGES

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.63

FORM 21.63 Trade-in of old residence to developer for new home--developer's sale of old home in exchange for acquisition of new home--developer's guaranteed sale or acquisition of old home at minimum price

COMMENT

In the series of forms illustrated here, a residential subdivision developer agrees to purchase and/or sell the old residence of a purchaser of a new residence in the developer's tract. Ordinarily, a developer is not involved in the sale of his purchasers' former residences. But in a slow residential real estate market, the developer's agreement either to acquire or to sell his customers' old homes can result in sales of new homes which otherwise may take longer to sell.

Tax aspects

A taxpayer's residence will not qualify for like kind exchange nonrecognition of gain. A principal residence is not used in a trade or business or for investment. Therefore, the forms illustrated here do not comply with the like kind exchange requirements. The transactions, however, do resemble exchanges in that the transfers of title occur within the same approximate time period, and in some of the forms the parties acquire and sell each others' residences. Despite the ineligibility of these transactions for like kind exchange treatment, a taxpayer selling a principal residence can exclude from income up to $250,000 of gain ($500,000 on a joint return in most situations) realized on the sale or exchange. These tax rules are discussed below. Because the parties are not restricted by the like kind exchange requirements, there can be actual sales and purchases between the parties.

A taxpayer's residence may qualify for like-kind exchange treatment if it is converted to a rental property which meets the definition of an investment property. See TB § 12.21 for a discussion of like-kind exchanges. In the past, the IRS has traditionally treated residential properties which were used partly for rental purposes and partly as a personal residence as not qualifying for a like-kind exchange. However, under a recent revenue procedure, the IRS has created a safe harbor which, if met, would qualify the residence as an investment property eligible for like-kind exchange treatment. The property being transferred and the property being received must both meet the requirements of the safe harbor.

In order for the properties to qualify as investment properties, the taxpayer must have owned the property being transferred for at least 24 months before the transfer and must own the property received in exchange for no less than 24 months after the transfer. During each of the two 12-month periods constituting those 24-month periods: (i) the taxpayer must rent the dwelling unit at a fair rental price for 14 days or more; and (ii) the period of the taxpayer's personal use of the dwelling unit must not exceed the greater of 14 days or 10% of the number of days during the 12-month period that the dwelling unit is rented at a fair rental. This safe harbor is effective for exchanges occurring after March 10, 2008.

Developer to accept trade-in of purchaser's residence

In the first form in this series, the developer agrees to acquire its customer's old residence as consideration for the customer purchasing one of the developer's homes. This "trade-in" agreement is not effective until the customer notifies the developer of the customer's election to have the developer acquire the old home. This form is, in effect, an option to sell, which allows the customer time to sell the old home at a higher price to a third party. In this first form involving a trade-in, upon the trade-in there is clearly a taxable exchange of one residence for another. The selling price is in effect that value of the new residence received. The amount realized in the selling price less expenses such as commissions and legal fees. The taxable gain is equal to the amount realized less the adjusted basis of the old residence. The adjusted basis refers to the original basis in the old residence, usually cost, plus costs such as capital improvements. Depending on the amount of the gain, all or part of it may be excluded under the tax rules mentioned above and discussed below.

Developer to sell purchaser's residence

The second form in this series is a combination of an option to purchase a new residence from a developer and the grant of a real estate listing to the developer for the old residence. The option to purchase the new residence is contingent upon the sale of the old residence within a specified period of time. If no sale is made during such period, the agreement is cancelled, and the option price, or deposit, is returned. If the old residence is sold, and the option not exercised, the deposit is forfeited as the cost of the option. Gain on the sale of the old residence may be excluded under the tax rules discussed below.

Developer to sell or purchase at guaranteed price

In the third form in this series, the developer has a limited time to sell the old residence for the best price obtainable. If it is not sold within such limited time, the developer agrees to purchase it at the guaranteed price which is, presumably, lower than the price a third party would have paid. Gain on the sale of the old residence may be excluded under the tax rules discussed below.

Exclusion of gain on sale of residence

An individual may exclude from income up to $250,000 of realized gain ($500,000 on a joint return in most situations) on the sale or exchange of a principal residence. Certain ownership and use tests must be met. For a further discussion of these ownership and use tests see The Tax Background § 21.14[2]. The exclusion may not be used more frequently than once every two years. The old tax rule allowing for the postponement or roll over of gain on the sale of a principal residence if a new principal residence was bought or built in an amount at least equal to the old residence has been repealed, along with the once in a lifetime exclusion of $125,000 of gain on the sale of a principal residence by taxpayers at least 55 years old. Both have been replaced by the exclusion of gain provisions discussed above.

Ordinary income treatment for developer

When a developer sells a house purchased under a trade-in, he would have ordinary gain or loss since for him the property is dealer property. For a further discussion of dealer property, see TB § 21.05[7].

FORMS

(1) Developer to accept trade-in of purchaser's residence

Mr. John Larkin _____ May 10, _____ [year]
 15 Spring Lane
 Peoria, Illinois

Dear Mr. Larkin:

In exchange for the premises known as [insert short description of developer's new home] more particularly described in the annexed attachment, Metropolitan Development Corporation agrees to purchase from you the six-room, two-bath residence now owned by you at [insert short description of customer's old home] more particularly described in the annexed schedule, together with all fixtures and articles of personal property attached to or used in connection with the premises, free from all liens and encumbrances except as herein stated, including articles of personal property, plumbing, heating, lighting, and cooking fixtures, air conditioning units, ranges, refrigerators, television aerials, bathroom and kitchen cabinets, mantels, door mirrors, venetian blinds, shades, screens, awnings, storm windows, window boxes, storm doors, mail boxes, weather vanes, flagpoles, pumps, shrubbery, and outdoor statuary for the sum of $70,000, if you request us to do so before September 10, _____ [year], or before the date you vacate the property, whichever comes first.

The property shall be conveyed by a warranty deed, duly executed and acknowledged by you in a manner proper for recording on the basis of which a title company acceptable to us will, on the closing, insure to us a fee simple title free from all liens and encumbrances except real estate taxes due and payable in the year _____ [year] and a balance of $24,000 on the first mortgage held by the Federated Savings and Loan Association. We shall assume and agree to pay the balance, which shall be deducted from the purchase price. Customary real estate practices in Peoria County, including apportionments and adjustments, shall apply to the sale. Possession shall be given within 15 days after the closing date.

If you exercise your option to sell your property to Metropolitan Development Corporation, you also agree to enter into a contract of sale with Metropolitan Development Corporation in the form of the attached exhibit.

Please signify your agreement to the above by signing and returning the enclosed copy of this letter.

Metropolitan Development Corporation

by _____

President

Accepted:

John Larkin

(2) Developer to sell purchaser's residence

AGREEMENT entered into May 10, _____ [year], between P.B.M. Corporation, the Developer, and Joseph Maxwell, the Seller, wherein it is mutually agreed as follows:

1. Construction of new residence. In order to give the Seller the opportunity to sell his present eight-room, two-bathroom residence located at 500 Circle Drive, Ogden, Utah, with a view toward obtaining sufficient proceeds from such sale to purchase a new residence from the Developer, the Developer shall immediately begin construction of a house in accordance with the plans and specifications accepted by the Seller which are attached to this agreement as Exhibit A. The house is to be erected on Lot No. 14 of the development owned by the Developer known as Saddle Ridge Estates in Ogden, Utah.

2. Completion and option. The house shall be completed by December 11, _____ [year], and until that date the Seller shall have the option to purchase the house and lot for $90,000. If the Seller exercises the option to purchase the Developer's home, the parties agree to sign the contract of sale attached as Exhibit B.

3. Title and mortgage. The Developer shall furnish a lot survey and merchantable abstract of title certified to the date of the closing and shall convey title by warranty deed subject to a purchase money mortgage to the Developer in the amount of $40,000, which the Seller shall execute and assume, such amount to be deducted from the purchase price.

4. Deposit and listing. In consideration of the option granted him, the Seller herewith deposits with the Developer $3,000 as earnest money and grants the Developer a real estate listing for the present residence of the Seller for the sum of $70,000 subject to a first mortgage to the Utah Savings and Loan Association, which has a present balance of $20,000. A copy of the listing agreement is attached as Exhibit C.

5. Failure to sell present residence. If the Seller's present residence is not sold on or before December 11, _____ [year], this option shall become null and void, the deposit shall be returned to the Seller, and the real estate listing shall be cancelled.

The parties have executed this agreement as of the day and year first above written.

P.B.M. Corporation

by _____

President

John Maxwell

[Acknowledgments]

(3) Developer to sell or purchase at guaranteed price

AGREEMENT made May 10, ____ [year] between the Wyatt Sprague Corporation, the Developer and Mills Clark, the Owner.

Recitals

The Owner has purchased a residence from the Developer located at 215 Fern Lane, Louisville, Kentucky, (the "New House"), under a Contract of Sale executed simultaneously with the execution of this agreement.

The Owner desires to sell his ten-room, three-bathroom home located at 95 Elm Street, Covington, Kentucky, together with all fixtures and articles of personal property attached to or used in connection with the property (the "Old House"), so that he can pay a portion of the purchase price for the New House.

The Developer is willing to guarantee the sale value of the Old House and to apply the equity of the Old House against the purchase price of the New House.

The parties mutually agree as follows:

1. Guarantee. The Developer guarantees to the Owner that the Developer will effect a sale of the Old House on or before September 10, ____ [year], for a net sale value of not less than $70,000 subject to a first mortgage to the Old Kentucky Savings and Loan Association, the present balance of which is $20,000, leaving an equity of $50,000.

2. Credit against purchase price. The Developer will credit the equity of $50,000 against the purchase price of the New House.

3. Sale at higher price. The parties will use their best efforts to sell the Old House for the highest price and on the best terms obtainable. The Owner agrees to sell the Old House to the purchaser offering the best price and terms, whether the purchaser is obtained by the Developer or the Owner, if the purchase price is not less than $70,000 and the terms are acceptable to the Owner. The Owner will not unreasonably reject terms of any offer of $70,000 or more. The Owner is permitted to give a sales listing to a bona fide real estate broker in addition to the listing to the Developer.

4. Sharing of amount in excess of minimum price. If a purchaser is obtained for the Old House for a purchase price of more than $70,000 after the payment of the real estate commissions, 25 percent of the excess price over $70,000 shall be paid to the Developer as consideration for its guarantee and the balance retained by the Owner.

5. Failure to obtain purchaser. If no purchaser is obtained for the Old House on terms acceptable to the Owner and for a purchase price of not less than $70,000 on or before September 10, ____ [year], the Owner will have the following options: (a) to convey the Old House to the Developer in full payment of the $50,000 to be credited against the purchase price of the New House, in which case the Developer will assume the mortgage to the Old Kentucky Savings and Loan Association, or (b) to pay the Developer $50,000 in cash to be credited against the purchase price of the New House and retain full title to the Old House free and clear of any further obligations under this agreement.

6. Date of conveyance. If the Owner elects to convey the Old House to the Developer under subparagraph 5(a), the conveyance of title, unless otherwise agreed upon by the parties, will be made not later than 30 days after September 10, _____ [year]. If prior possession of the New House is taken by the Owner, an executed deed for the Old House will be held in escrow by the Developer's attorney, Morris Clay, until the end of such 30-day period and the Owner shall pay all maintenance, fuel, utilities, interest, insurance, and other expenses during such period.

7. Right of cancellation. At any time within 30 days from the date hereof, the Owner may give notice cancelling this agreement. In such event, this agreement shall be automatically modified to provide that the $50,000 to be credited against the purchase price of the New House shall be paid in cash within five days of the notice of cancellation by the Owner to the Developer.

8. Time of essence. The parties agree that the time of sale, payment, and cancellation as provided in this agreement shall be of the essence.

9. Binding effect. All of the covenants contained in this agreement shall be binding upon and extend to the respective parties, their heirs, executors, administrators, successors, and assigns.

The parties have executed this agreement as of the day and year first above written.

Wyatt Sprague Corporation

by _____

President

Mills Clark

[Acknowledgments]

100 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms
E. EXCHANGES

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.64

FORM 21.64 Exchange agreement--joint venture-partnership interests--investment real property principal assets

COMMENT

This contract illustrates an exchange of interests in joint ventures. The underlying assets in each joint venture is real estate held for investment, i.e., apartment complexes. Many of the clauses found in this exchange agreement resemble those found in a contract for the sale of real estate. The exchanging party is, in substance, acquiring real estate, through the exchange of his joint venture interest. Therefore, special attention is given to the condition of title, status of tenancies, local laws, taxes and other matters. Because the joint ventures are on-going businesses, the contract also contains representations, indemnification clauses and other items similar to those found in the outright purchase of an existing business.

Partnership interest exchange not qualified for nonrecognition

An exchange of interests in a partnership does not qualify for nonrecognition as a like kind exchange. Congress enacted this exception to the like kind exchange rules under the belief that partnership interests typically represent investment interests, similar to those which continue to be excluded from qualification for nonrecognition.

No longer a method of tax shelter bailout

One of the reasons for the specific exclusion of partnership interest exchanges from nonrecognition was their use to facilitate an investor's bail-out of a tax shelter. Previously, partnership interest exchanges were made when the parties had held tax deferring "partnership" interests for a number of years, and were realizing or soon would realize income from the investment instead of deductible losses. In effect, the tax shelter had reached the "cross-over" point and was "burned out." Since the basis of the taxpayer in the partnership was equal to his cash investment and borrowings, less deductible losses, he risked realization of substantial gain upon the sale of that interest. This realized gain often exceeded the actual cash received in many situations and cash to pay the taxes on the gain might not be available.

In an effort to continue the deferral of tax on gain, some taxpayers and practitioners had used the exchange of partnership interest route. As indicated above, this was a controversial approach, but could result in continued tax deferral.

If the taxpayer was holding interests in a venture which had exhausted its benefits in terms of deductible losses and expenses, his basis in the partnership was low. An election under IRC Section 754 to adjust the basis in the partnership property upward upon the exchange could be favorable to the taxpayer. By trading into a "younger" venture, "phantom gain" realized on the exchange was not recognized, the taxpayer obtained a new, upwardly adjusted basis, and a more favorable relationship between cash flow and recognized taxable income was created. As stated above, this no longer works because the exchange of partnership interests no longer qualifies as a tax free exchange.

Limited partnership interests exchanges

A limited partnership interest, for tax purposes, is generally treated substantially the same as any other partnership interest. An exchange of limited partnership interests, therefore, is not qualified for nonrecognition.

FORM

AGREEMENT made November 15, ____ [year], at Cleveland, Ohio, between Ohio State Corporation ("Ohio State"), an Ohio corporation, with its principal office located at 65 East Main Street, Toledo, Ohio; Summer Lake Corporation ("Summer Lake"), an Ohio corporation, with its principal office located at 324 Washington Avenue, Akron, Ohio; Lake Erie Homes, Inc., and Lake Erie Development Co., Inc. (respectively "Lake Erie Homes," and "Lake Erie Development"), each a corporation of the State of Ohio, and each with its principal office located at Suite 701, 1414 East Ohio Street, Cleveland, Ohio.

Preamble

1. Ohio Valley Company is a joint venture by and between Ohio State and Lake Erie Homes, pursuant to a certain agreement of the said co-venturers dated January 1, ____ [year]; and
2. Ohio Valley Company owns and operates a certain garden apartment complex, commonly known as "Valley Garden Apartments," located in Fairfield, Baxter County, Ohio; and
3. Great Lake Hills Company is a joint venture by and between Summer Lake and Lake Erie Development, pursuant to a certain agreement of the said co-venturers dated December 31, ____ [year]; and
4. Great Lake Hills Company owns and operates a certain combination shopping center-apartment complex, commonly known as "Great Lake Community" located in Chester, Erie County, Ohio; and

5. Lake Erie Homes and Summer Lake wish to exchange interests; and

6. The value of interest of Lake Erie Homes in the joint venture, Ohio Valley Company, exceeds by $600,000 the value of Summer Lake in the joint venture, Great Lake Hills Company;

Accordingly, Lake Erie Homes and Summer Lake agree, and Lake Erie Development and Ohio State consent to the following:

Article I Exchange

1.1. Lake Erie Homes agrees to assign all its right, title, and interest in Ohio Valley Company, a joint venture, to Summer Lake in exchange for the payment of $600,000, the assignment of interests in Great Lake Hills Company, a joint venture.

1.2. Summer Lake agrees to assign all its right, title, and interest in Great Lake Hills Company, a joint venture, to Lake Erie Homes and to pay Lake Erie Homes $600,000, in exchange for the assignment of interests in Ohio Valley Company, a joint venture.

Article II Conditions

2.1. Mortgagee consent. The performance of this agreement by either Lake Erie Homes or Summer Lake is conditioned upon the written consent to this exchange by Main Life Insurance Company, the holder of the first mortgage on the Valley Garden Apartments, and Toledo Realty Investment Trust, the holder of the first mortgage on Great Lake Community.

2.2. Mortgagee conditions. If either mortgagee, Main Life Insurance Company or Toledo Realty Investment Trust, conditions its consent upon any adjustment of the terms or conditions of their respective first mortgages, including any proposed change in interest rate, the parties shall have the right to terminate this agreement, without liability to any other party hereto, within ten business days of receipt of a true copy of such consent. If the termination is not so elected within the ten-day period the parties shall be deemed to have consented to the preconditions set by the respective mortgagee, as between the parties, and shall be precluded from using such preconditions as grounds for termination of this agreement.

2.3. Financing. This agreement is contingent upon Summer Lake, for itself or by joining with Ohio Valley Company, a joint venture, obtaining a written commitment for financing, from Main Life Insurance Company, or any other financial institution authorized to do business in the State of Ohio, in the amount of $500,000, repayable over a term of 25 years, or more, with interest at the then prevailing rate. If Summer Lake does not receive such written financing commitment within 60 days of the date of this agreement, it may cancel this agreement without further liability, and all obligations hereunder shall cease. If Notice of Cancellation by Summer Lake is not received by the other parties within three business days after the 60-day period expires, this contingency shall be deemed waived by Summer Lake.

Article III Representations

Lake Erie Homes and Summer Lake warrant and represent to each other as follows:

3.1. Organization and authority. Each is a corporation, duly organized and in good standing under the laws of the State of Ohio; has the power to own its property and conduct its business in the State of Ohio; the joint venture, of which each is respectively a member, is duly organized and existing under the laws of the State of Ohio, and possesses the power and authority to own its property and conduct its business in the State of Ohio.

3.2. Co-venturers. The only persons or corporations holding any equity interest in the respective joint ventures are those set forth in the preamble of this agreement.

3.3. Financial statements. The financial statements of Lake Erie Homes and Ohio Valley Company as examined and initialed by representatives of Summer Lake, and the financial statements of Summer Lake and Great Lake Hills Company as examined and initialed by representatives of Lake Erie Homes, are true, complete, and correct statements of the financial status of the respective entity, and are each prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, uniformly applied.

3.4. Taxes. Each corporation and joint venture party to or subject of this agreement has filed all required federal, state, county, and local tax returns and reports, including those with respect to income, withholding, social security, unemployment, franchise, excise and sales taxes, no taxes, interest, or penalties shown on such returns or assessments are delinquent or unpaid, and copies of such returns and reports exhibited to and initialed by representatives of the respective parties are complete and correct.

3.5. Title to property. Each has good and unencumbered title to its interest in the aforesaid joint venture, and each has fee title to the real property specified in the preamble hereof, subject only to exceptions specified in Schedule B to the respective title policies exhibited to and initialed by the parties' representatives, as well as good and valid title to all other personal intangible property used by the joint venture in the operation of its business.

3.6. Leases. All leases pursuant to which the respective joint ventures lease apartment units and commercial space to tenants therein are in good standing and are valid and effective in accordance with their terms, and the respective landlords are not in violation or breach of any of their duties under said leases. Copies of said leases exhibited to and initialed by the parties' representatives are true and complete, and the rent rolls as exhibited to and initialed by the respective parties are true, accurate, and complete.

3.7. Litigation. No litigation, arbitration, government investigation, or any other proceeding, claim, or controversy is pending or threatened against or relating to any of the parties, the consenting parties or the above-mentioned joint ventures, or against their respective businesses, properties, or other assets.

3.8. No brokers. All negotiations relative to this agreement and transaction have been initialed and carried on by and between the parties directly and without the intervention or assistance of any third party broker, finder, commission agent, or attorney. There is no basis for a valid claim for a brokerage commission, finder's fee, or other like payment by any third party either presently existing or to become due upon closing of this transaction.

3.9. Securities registration. The entering into and completion of this contract does not bring the respective entities mentioned within this agreement under the filing requirements of the federal securities law, and such entities, prior to entering this agreement, were not required to make any filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

3.10. Conduct of business. Prior to and pending closing of this transaction, each party shall conduct its business in the ordinary course consistent with past practices.

Article IV Closing

4.1. Assignments. Lake Erie Homes shall assign its interests in Ohio Valley Homes, a joint venture, by a written assignment in a form satisfactory to Summer Lake's attorneys. Summer Lake shall assign its interest in Great Lake Hills Company, a joint venture, by a written assignment satisfactory to Lake Erie Homes' attorneys.

4.2. Payment. Payment of $600,000 by Summer Lake to Lake Erie Homes shall be made at closing by cash, certified check or bank check, or any combination thereof.

4.3. Title. At time of closing title to the real property held by the respective joint ventures shall be insurable by a reputable title insurance company authorized to do business in the State of Ohio; subject only to the covenants, easements, restrictions, and mortgages specified in the existing Schedule B to the title insurance policies now outstanding and exhibited to and initialed by the parties' representatives.

4.4. Adjustments. The parties, at closing, shall make adjustment (to the extent of their proportionate one-half interest) for items customarily adjusted at real estate title closings, including, taxes, mortgage interest, rent, insurance premiums, any interest which the respective parties may have in security deposit accounts, operating bank or checking accounts, and any other such similar items.

4.5. Date. All warranties and representations made herein by the respective parties shall survive the closing. Closing of title shall take place between the hours of 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. at the offices of Lamb, Smith, and Albert, Suite 701, 1414 East Ohio Street, Cleveland, Ohio, attorneys for Lake Erie Homes on January 2, ____ [year]. If the consent of either or both mortgagees, or the commitment of the financial institution committed to extend funds to Summer Lake, expires before the specified closing date, closing shall occur on a mutually agreeable date before such expiration, but in no event before December 21, ____ [year].

Article V Termination

Either party may terminate this agreement at any time before the closing, by written notice, upon the occurrence of any of the following events:

5.1. Closing date. Closing is not completed by February 1, ____ [year].

5.2. Misrepresentation. The other party has made a material misrepresentation of the representations set forth herein.

5.3. Contingencies. The above specified contingencies fail to occur.

5.4. Litigation. Any legal action or proceeding is instituted against any corporation or joint venture named herein, or any in rem action is brought against the real property of either joint venture, unless either the affected party waives its termination right or the disputed matter is insubstantial.

Article VI Miscellaneous

6.1. Indemnification. Effective subsequent to, and surviving closing, Lake Erie Homes and Summer Lake respectively agree to indemnify and hold harmless the other with respect to all liabilities, contingent or otherwise, incurred by reason of their being a former holder of a joint venture interest in the respective joint venture, so that Lake Erie Homes shall be indemnified and held harmless against the debts of Ohio Valley Company, and Summer Homes shall be indemnified and held harmless against the debts of Great Lake Hills Company.

6.2. Notice. Notice by either party to the other shall be by certified mail, return receipt requested, directed to the president of the respective corporation at the address specified above, and in addition, any notice to Lake Erie Homes or to Lake Erie Development shall also be noticed to their attorneys, Lamb, Smith and Albert, Suite 701, 1414 East Ohio Street, Cleveland, Ohio.

6.3. Binding effect. This agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of Lake Erie Homes and Summer Lake only (and consenting parties shall not be deemed third-party beneficiaries hereof), and their successors and assigns.

6.4. No assignment. This agreement shall not be assigned by any party, the exchange of joint venture interests held by the respective parties being of the essence of this agreement.

6.5. Amendments. This agreement may be amended only by a writing subscribed to by authorized representatives of Lake Erie Homes and Summer Lake, with the written consent to such amendment endorsed thereon by authorized representatives of the consenting parties and the first mortgages.

6.6. Entire agreement; modification. This agreement constitutes the entire agreement between the parties and may not be changed or terminated except by an agreement duly executed by both parties.

6.7. Non-waiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise any right hereunder, and no partial or single exercise of such right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

6.8. Headings. Headings in this agreement are for convenience and reference only and shall not be used to interpret or construe its provisions.

6.9. Governing law. This agreement shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of Ohio.

6.10. Time of essence. Time is of the essence of this agreement.

6.11. Counterparts. This agreement, and any amendment hereof, may be executed in one or more counterparts, all of which shall be considered one and the same, and shall become effective when one or more counterparts have been signed and consented to by each of the parties and delivered to the other party, even though both parties do not sign the same counterpart.

In witness whereof this agreement has been signed by the duly authorized officers and attested to by the respective secretaries of the respective parties, as of the date and year first above written.

Attest:

Secretary

Secretary

Lake Erie Homes, Inc.

by _____

President

Summer Lake Corporation

by _____

President

Consent. The undersigned consents to the above contract and to the above contract and the underlying transaction contemplated therein.

Lake Erie Development Company for itself and as coventurer of Great Lakes Hills Company, a joint venture:

by _____

Attest:

Secretary

Secretary

Ohio State Corporation for itself and as co-venturer of Ohio Valley Company, a joint venture

by _____

101 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms
F. BROKERAGE AGREEMENTS

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.65

FORM 21.65 Broker's agreement granting open listing for sale of real property

COMMENT

A real estate broker may be required to be licensed by an appropriate administrative agency to act as a broker and collect a commission. As a general rule, a real estate broker has earned a commission when he finds a ready, willing, and able buyer, regardless of whether the property is actually transferred. This rule may be modified by contract, and in some jurisdictions it has been modified by statutes adding conditions such as an actual transfer of title.

Real estate listing agreement

Although many jurisdictions require a written agreement before a real estate broker is entitled to collect a commission on a sale, it is advisable to have a written agreement in jurisdictions which do not impose this obligation. The amount of the broker's commission is usually expressed as a percentage of the sale price. The commission customarily includes any expenses or disbursements of the broker, such as advertising and mileage, incurred in locating a purchaser. It is in the seller's interest to specify a term for the listing agreement either by stating the period of its duration, such as six months or one year, or an expiration date. It is in the broker's interest to provide that if a person to whom he showed the property purchases it after the expiration of the listing, the commission is earned. Before such a commission is payable upon expiration of the listing, however, the seller should require that the broker submit in writing upon the expiration of the listing, the names of all parties who were shown the property. In addition, the seller should place some time limit after the expiration of the listing within which the sale must occur. The seller should specify the price sought for the property so that no obligation to pay a commission will arise if he turns down an offer at a lower price.

Open listing, exclusive agency, and exclusive right to sell

Brokers may be given open listings, exclusive agencies, or exclusive rights to sell. An open listing is one in which the owner reserves the right to list the property with other brokers or sell the property himself. If no agreement to the contrary is made, the broker's listing is most likely an open listing. An exclusive agency is an arrangement under which the broker is the sole and exclusive agent of the owner to sell the property. If the owner sells the property through another broker during the term of the exclusive agency, other than one who is cooperating with the exclusive agency broker, the owner will be liable to pay a commission to the exclusive agent as well as the other broker in most cases. An exclusive agency does not prevent the owner from making the sale himself. If he does, the exclusive agency is terminated and the owner is not liable for the broker's commission. Under an exclusive right to sell, on the other hand, the broker is entitled to a commission no matter who sells the property--another broker, the owner, or anyone else. In an exclusive right situation, the contract should specifically spell out the exclusive right to sell. And in this situation, the agreement should provide that if the property is sold to a party to whom the broker showed it during a specific time, the broker will be entitled to the commission.

Conditions to commission payment

Under a conditional contract, the owner protects himself by providing that certain conditions must occur before payment of the commission to the broker will be due, such as (a) the contract of sale being valid and enforceable, (b) the specific purchase price and terms being met, (c) the transaction being finally completed by a transfer of title or possession, or (d) in the case of the sale of a cooperative apartment or condominium unit, the approval of the sale by the appropriate board of directors or trustees. If specific conditions are included in the listing agreement, the broker is not entitled to a commission after he only finds a buyer ready, willing, and able to purchase the property. Payment will depend upon the specific conditions being met. The conditions should be clearly drafted to preclude any right to a commission until the conditions are met. If the listing contracts provide, for example, that the commission is to be paid when title is transferred, it may be implied that the commission is earned upon the broker's producing a ready, willing, and able buyer, but payment is delayed until closing. The owner, in this case, should provide that the commission is not earned, due or payable until title is transferred.

"Net" listing

Under a "net" listing, the owner sets a minimum price which he is to receive for the property. The broker agrees to a fee equal to, or a substantial percentage of, the selling price over the minimum price plus, in some cases, the owner's selling expenses. In some jurisdictions brokers are prohibited from taking a net listing. These prohibitions are generally based on a policy to protect unsophisticated owners from agreeing to a below market minimum price for the property.

Tax aspects of commission payment

The commission received by the broker is taxable in the same manner as any other compensation. If a broker's commission is paid by the purchaser, the amount will be an addition to his cost basis, not a current deduction. Commissions paid by the seller are offset against the selling price and not separately deducted. Commissions, however, are not deducted or taken into account in determining the "initial payment" or "selling price" to qualify a transaction as an installment sale.

FORM

AGREEMENT made June 20, _____ [year], between James Nielson of 120 Wellington Street, Knoxville, Tennessee, the Owner, and Thomas Hadfield of 600 Park Avenue, Knoxville, Tennessee, the Broker.

1. Employment. The Owner hereby grants to the Broker a nonexclusive agency to sell the real property owned by the Owner situated at 900 Gilbert Drive, Knoxville, Tennessee, for a period of 90 days from the date of this agreement.

2. Terms of sale. The purchase price for the property shall be not less than $80,000, payable by the purchaser as follows: $10,000 in cash upon the execution of the sales contract; $20,000 in cash upon the closing of title; $30,000 by the purchaser taking the property subject to a first mortgage in that amount now a lien on the property; and $20,000 by the purchaser executing and delivering to the Owner a purchase-money second mortgage in that amount payable in 15 years with interest of 8 percent per annum payable quarter-annually.

3. Commission. The Broker shall be entitled to a commission of 6.5 percent of the purchase price if he procures a purchaser for such property upon the terms above set forth. The commission shall be earned and payable out of the purchase price, when, as, and if title actually closes.

4. Representations. The Owner represents that he is now the owner in fee simple of the property referred to above and agrees to convey it by warranty deed if it is sold by the Broker for the price and on the terms and conditions hereinabove set forth.

The parties have subscribed this agreement the day and year first above written.

James Nielson

Thomas Hadfield

102 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms
F. BROKERAGE AGREEMENTS

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.66

FORM 21.66 Broker's agreement granting exclusive agency to sell real property for fixed time period--terms of sale include existing and purchase money mortgages

COMMENT

In the following form, an owner of real property grants a broker an exclusive agency to negotiate a sale of the property. This agreement does not preclude the owner from selling the property without the broker. Unless the owner is a dealer in real estate, selling commissions are an offset against selling price and are not separately deductible.

FORM

AGREEMENT made September 21, ____ [year], between Max Ross, 4 Larch Avenue, Scarsdale, New York, the Owner, and Michael Blum, 912 Third Avenue, New York, New York, the Broker.

1. Exclusive agency. The Owner grants to the Broker the exclusive agency to sell the real property hereinafter described for a period of six months from the above date.

2. Description of property. The property covered by this agency is the parcel of land, with the buildings and improvements thereon in the County of Westchester, State of New York, generally known as 4 Larch Avenue, Scarsdale, New York, and more particularly described in the annexed Exhibit A subject to the encumbrances listed in Exhibit A and to any other encumbrances and to any zoning regulations, ordinances, encroachments, covenants, restrictions of record, and any other defects which a title search may reveal and to any state of facts an accurate survey may show.

3. Terms of sale. The purchase price for the property shall be not less than $200,000, to be paid by the purchaser as follows: $10,000 in cash on the signing of the contract; $50,000 in cash or certified check upon the closing of title; $60,000 by the purchaser taking the premises subject to a mortgage for that amount now a lien on the premises; and $80,000 by the purchaser executing and delivering to the Owner a purchase-money mortgage for $80,000 payable in 15 years with interest of 8 percent per annum payable semiannually.

4. Commission. The Broker shall be entitled to a commission of 7 percent, payable out of such purchase price when, as, and if title actually closes.

5. Commission at higher sales price. If the Broker sells the real property for more than the amount set forth in paragraph 3, and on the same terms and conditions, except that the balance of such purchase price over the mortgages referred to in paragraph 3 is payable in cash, the excess amount over $200,000 shall be divided as follows: 75 percent to the Owner and 25 percent to the Broker.

6. Authority of broker. The Broker is authorized to place a "For Sale" sign on the premises and to take all necessary steps to bring about a sale.

7. Duties of broker. The Broker shall make diligent efforts to effect a sale of the property, and shall list and advertise it in such manner as he deems most likely to bring about a sale.

8. Representations. The Owner represents that he is now the owner in fee simple of the property, and shall convey it by a bargain and sale deed with full covenants if it is sold by the Broker for the price and on the terms and conditions above set forth.

The parties have executed this agreement the date above written.

Max Ross

Michael Blum

103 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms
F. BROKERAGE AGREEMENTS

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.67

FORM 21.67 Broker's agreement granting exclusive agency to sell real property--owner may terminate at automatic renewal dates

COMMENT

In this form, the property owner grants the broker an exclusive agency to sell real property. This agreement does not preclude the owner from selling the property without the broker. Unless the owner is a dealer in real estate, selling commissions are an offset against selling price and are not separately deductible.

FORM

AGREEMENT made _____ [date], between _____, of _____ Street, City of _____, State of _____, hereafter designated as the Owner, and _____, of _____ Street, City of _____, State of _____, hereafter designated as the Agent.

The Owner hereby grants to the Agent the exclusive agency to sell the property (insert description) for a period of _____ days from the above date, to be renewed automatically for like _____-day periods, unless before the expiration of any _____-day period the Owner terminates such agency by written notice.

The property shall be sold for a total purchase price of not less than $_____, such price to be made up by the assumption by the purchaser of a mortgage for not more than $_____, at _____ percent to be due in _____ years and payable $_____ annually. The balance of the purchase price is to be paid in cash, certified check or bank check, at the time the owner conveys the property.

The Agent shall be entitled to a commission of _____ percent of the purchase price of $_____, payable out of the purchase money when, as, and if title actually closes. In the event that the Agent succeeds in selling the property at a price greater than $_____ and on the same terms and conditions as above, the surplus over $_____ shall be divided equally between the Owner and Agent.

The Agent is authorized to place a "for sale" sign on the property and to take the usual necessary steps to place the property on the market.

The Agent agrees to make diligent efforts to sell the property and to list and advertise it immediately.

The Owner represents that Owner is now the owner in fee simple of the property and agrees to convey it by _____ deed if it is sold by the Agent on the terms set forth above.

Owner

Agent

[Acknowledgments]

104 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms
F. BROKERAGE AGREEMENTS

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.68

FORM 21.68 Broker's agreement granting exclusive agency to sell residential real property--short form with plain language explanations

COMMENT

In this form, the property owner grants the broker an exclusive agency to sell real property. This agreement does not preclude the owner from selling the property without the broker. Unless the owner is a dealer in real estate, selling commissions are an offset against selling price and are not separately deductible.

FORM

In consideration of One ($1.00) Dollar and other good and valuable services, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, the undersigned hereby grants _____ Real Estate, Inc. the Exclusive Agency for the sale of _____ Street, City of _____, State of _____, for the price of $_____, and terms to which the undersigned may consent. This agreement shall be in effect _____ days.

It is further understood and agreed that the undersigned will pay _____ Real Estate, Inc. commissions due at a rate of _____ percent of the selling price.

AGREED AND ACCEPTED:

_____ Real Estate, Inc.

By: _____

Date: _____

Date: _____

Owner/Owners Representative

NOTE:

EXPLANATION: An "Exclusive Right to Sell" listing means that if you, the owner of the property find a buyer for your house, or if another broker finds a buyer, you must pay the agreed commission to the listing broker.

EXPLANATION: An "Exclusive Agency" listing means that if you, the owner of the property, find a buyer, you will not have to pay a commission to the broker. However, if another broker who did not have a separate agreement with _____ Real Estate, Inc. finds a buyer, you will owe a commission to both the selling broker and your present listing broker. If a separate agreement was entered into between listing and selling brokers, the commission divided between them shall not exceed _____ percent.

I have read the above and understand the distinction.

Owner/Owner's Legal Representative

ACCEPTED:

For _____ Real Estate, Inc.

105 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms
F. BROKERAGE AGREEMENTS

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.69

FORM 21.69 Broker's agreement granting exclusive agency to sell proprietary lease for and shares allocated to cooperative apartment

COMMENT

In this form, the property owner grants the broker an exclusive agency to sell the proprietary lease for, and the shares allocated to, a cooperative apartment. This agreement does not preclude the owner from selling the apartment without the broker. Unless the owner is a dealer in real estate, selling commissions are an offset against selling price and are not separately deductible.

FORM

Re: Apt. # _____
_____ Street
City of _____, State of _____

EXCLUSIVE AGENCY AGREEMENT

Dear _____,

This will confirm your appointment of _____ of _____ Real Estate, Inc. as your exclusive agent for the sale of the above captioned property.

The asking price is to be $_____ for the property and is subject to change at any time by notice from the seller.

This agreement shall be in effect for _____ days from the date hereof.

It is agreed that the undersigned will pay _____ Real Estate, Inc. commissions at the rate of _____ percent of the aggregate sales price.

It is further understood and agreed that the undersigned will pay _____ Real Estate, Inc. commissions when due at the rate of _____ percent of the selling price when, as, and if the sale actually closes except in the event of willful default of the seller, where the commission will be due and payable.

It is understood that you will refer all inquiries from other brokers to us as exclusive agents. In the event a customer has been introduced to the property by us during the term of the agreement for the sale of the property and has informed us in writing of the name of such person within ten (10) days of the expiration or early cancellation of this agreement, and such purchaser buys the property after the expiration or early cancellation of the agreement, the undersigned will pay _____ Real Estate, Inc. commissions at the above rates.

The seller warrants that there are no existing conditions to prevent the "stock and lease" from being transferred.

This agreement shall be binding on all parties hereto, their heirs, executors, and assigns.

Kindly execute the two copies of this agreement and return a copy to us for our records.

_____ Real Estate, Inc.

By: _____

Agreed:

By: _____

Date: _____

106 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms
F. BROKERAGE AGREEMENTS

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.70

FORM 21.70 Broker's agreement granting exclusive right to sell or exchange real property

COMMENT

This is an illustration of an agreement granting a broker an exclusive right to sell or exchange real property. This exclusive rights agreement is for a stipulated term but will continue thereafter unless either party elects to terminate by written notice. The broker is entitled to a commission no matter who sells the property during the effective period of the agreement. However, if the property is sold or exchanged with to the persons or entities listed on Exhibit B, there is no commission payable to the broker. This exclusion allows the owner to exclude relatives or other close acquaintances, or anyone with whom the owner may have previously negotiated before this listing went into effect. The broker has the right to act on his own behalf as purchaser or principal and may represent both parties to an exchange and receive a commission from both owners. Except for the failure of the broker to use commercially reasonable efforts to sell the property, the broker is entitled to his commission if the owner withdraws the property from the market during the effective period of the agreement or otherwise prevents the broker from performing. The agreement provides for an arbitration clause so that any dispute can be settled expeditiously.

FORM

AGREEMENT entered into on June 12, _____ [year], between Daniel Colombi, of 1025 Hyland Boulevard, Staten Island, New York (the "Owner"), and Associated Realtors, of 600 St. George Avenue, Staten Island, New York (the "Broker").

1. Exclusive right to sell or exchange. In consideration of the promise of the Broker to list and its efforts to sell or exchange the Owner's real property and improvements, located in Staten Island, Borough of Richmond, City and State of New York, known as 1025 Hyland Boulevard, the Owner grants the Broker the sole and exclusive right to offer for sale or exchange and to sell or exchange such property through its efforts for a purchase price of not less than $400,000.

2. Duration of agreement

(a) This agreement shall remain in force for a period of six months from the date specified above, and shall continue thereafter until either party terminates it by written notice to the other party not less than 15 days before the intended termination date.

(b) During the six-month period specified above, this agreement shall be irrevocable, unless terminated by the Owner because of the failure of the broker to use commercially reasonable efforts to sell the property.

(c) If the Owner withdraws the property from sale or exchange during the period of this agreement or otherwise prevents the Broker from selling or exchanging such property, the Broker will be entitled to its full commission, unless terminated by the Owner because of the failure of the broker to use commercially reasonable efforts to sell the property.

3. Authority of broker. During the term of this agreement, the Broker is granted the sole authority to advertise the property for sale or exchange, to place a "For Sale or Exchange" sign on the property, and to take all necessary steps to bring about a sale or exchange. The Owner shall refer all inquiries or offers to the Broker.

4. Representations

(a) The Owner represents that he is the Owner in fee simple of the property and that there are no encumbrances thereon except as identified on Exhibit A attached hereto.

(b) The Broker makes no representations or guarantee of a sale or exchange but agrees at all times during the term to use commercially reasonable efforts to sell the property.

5. Right of broker to act on own behalf. The Broker may purchase the property or participate as a principal in an exchange. In such case, title to the property shall be conveyed to the Broker or its designee.

6. Commission. The Broker will be entitled to a commission of 6 percent if any of the following events occur: the property is sold or exchanged through the Broker's efforts; the Broker locates a prospect ready, willing, and able to purchase or exchange for the property; or the property is sold or exchanged, by the Owner or anyone else, while this agreement is in force. Notwithstanding the above, if the purchase or exchange is to those persons or entities listed on Exhibit B, there shall be no commission payable to the Broker.

7. Right of broker to represent both parties to exchange. If there is an exchange of properties, the Broker may represent and receive commissions from both parties and cooperate with other brokers or divide with them the commissions earned.

8. Sale or exchange after termination of agreement. If a sale or exchange is consummated after the termination of this agreement, to or on behalf of a party to whom the property was submitted by the Broker and written notice thereof was given to Owner within ten (10) days of the termination of this Agreement, the Broker will be entitled to its full commission.

9. Arbitration. Any claim or controversy under this agreement shall be submitted to arbitration under the rules and regulations of the Arbitration Committee of the Real Estate Board of the City of New York.

The parties have executed this agreement on the date first above written.

Daniel Colombi

Associated Realtors

By: _____

President

107 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms
F. BROKERAGE AGREEMENTS

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.71

FORM 21.71 Broker's agreement granting exclusive right to sell residential real property--short form with plain language explanations

COMMENT

In this form, the property owner grants the broker an exclusive right to sell real property. The broker is entitled to a commission no matter who sells the property during the effective period of the agreement. Unless the owner is a dealer in real estate, selling commissions are an offset against selling price and are not separately deductible.

FORM

In consideration of One Dollar ($1.00) and other good and valuable services, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, the undersigned hereby grants _____ Real Estate, Inc. the Exclusive Right to negotiate for the sale of _____ Street, City of _____, State of _____, for the price of $_____, and terms to which the undersigned may consent. This agreement shall be in effect _____ days.

It is further understood and agreed that the undersigned will pay _____ Real Estate, Inc. commissions due at a rate of _____ percent of the selling price.

AGREED AND ACCEPTED:

_____ Real Estate, Inc.

By: _____

Date: _____

Owner/Owner's Representative

Date: _____

NOTE:

EXPLANATION: An "Exclusive Right to Sell" listing means that if you, the owner of the property find a buyer for your house, or another broker finds a buyer, you must pay the agreed commission to the listing broker.

EXPLANATION: An "Exclusive Agency" listing means that if you, the owner of the property, finds a buyer, you will not have to pay a commission to the broker. However, if another broker who did not have a separate agreement with _____ Real Estate, Inc. finds a buyer, you will owe a commission to both the selling broker and your present listing broker. If a separate agreement was entered into between listing and selling brokers, the commission divided between them shall not exceed _____ percent.

I have read the above and understand the distinction

Owner/Owner's Legal Representative

ACCEPTED:

For _____ Real Estate, Inc.

108 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms
F. BROKERAGE AGREEMENTS

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.72

FORM 21.72 Broker's agreement granting exclusive right to sell real property--broker authorized to enter and show property any time

COMMENT

In this form, the property owner grants the broker an exclusive right to sell real property. The broker is entitled to a commission if the property is sold during the listing period regardless of whether the broker is responsible for the sale. Generally, a broker may not negotiate directly with an owner if the broker knows that the owner is a party to an exclusive listing contract with another broker.

FORM

City of _____, State of _____
[date]

_____, Real Estate Brokers
City of _____, State of _____

Dear _____:

In consideration of your listing and undertaking the sale of the property which is described on the reverse side hereof (or insert description), I give to you for a period of _____ months from this date the exclusive right and agency to sell the property for the price of $_____ to be paid (set forth financial terms).

If you procure a purchaser for the property at the above price and upon the above terms, and in any event in the case of the sale of such property during the term of this contract, whether such sale is negotiated by you or by any broker, or directly by me, I shall pay you on the sale price commissions as follows: (set forth rate of commission)

I have good and saleable title to the property and will execute and deliver to the purchaser a warranty deed to the same in which my wife (or husband, or other parties, as necessary) will join, to give good title.

I authorize you to accept a deposit to be applied on the purchase price set forth above.

You are authorized to place a "For Sale" sign on the property, with your name as broker and your address and telephone number, and you are authorized to enter upon and show the premises at any and all times to prospective purchasers. I will cooperate in every way to consummate the sale. You will notify me in writing of all persons who are shown the property.

During the period of this agreement, I will refer to you all inquiries concerning the property and names of all prospective purchasers coming to my notice.

It is understood and agreed that your advertisement and showing the property shall be without expense to me, or us, except for the commissions agreed to be paid above.

Owner

Agreed to and accepted this ____ day of ____ [date].

_____, Real Estate Brokers

By: _____

Agent

109 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms
F. BROKERAGE AGREEMENTS

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.73

FORM 21.73 Brokerage agreement for sale of cooperative apartment--conditional upon completion of sale to specified purchaser

COMMENT

This form illustrates a conditional brokerage contract for the sale of a cooperative apartment for which the broker has a purchaser. The broker's right to compensation is conditioned upon the actual completion of the proposed transaction; otherwise there can be no claim for payment.

FORM

Mr. Samuel Levy _____
470 West End Avenue
New York, New York 10024

June 11, _____ [year]

Re: 470 West End Avenue

Apartment 5B

Dear Mr. Levy:

To induce you to proceed with negotiations for the sale of the captioned apartment to Mr. Arthur Reynolds, the undersigned, duly licensed real estate brokers and broker-dealers in the State of New York, confirm that our understanding regarding the compensation to be paid to us in connection with any such sale is as follows:

1. Written agreement. No compensation shall be earned by us for any past or future services connected with the sale of the captioned apartment to Mr. Reynolds unless a written contract, satisfactory to you and your attorneys, is entered into between you and Mr. Reynolds, the closing of the sale of the captioned apartment is consummated, and the agreed upon purchase price is paid in full in the manner required by the terms of such contract.

2. Compensation. Our right to receive compensation is conditioned upon the actual completion of the proposed transaction. We shall have no claim for any payment for our services in the event of noncompletion because of your inability to agree upon contract terms, the failure or refusal of Mr. Reynolds to accept title as required by any duly executed contract, the failure of the cooperative corporation to unconditionally consent to the sale in the manner provided by your lease, or because of any other reason.

3. Rate of commission. Our compensation for the sale of the apartment to Mr. Reynolds shall be 6.5 percent of the purchase price. If we are paid for our services, we shall indemnify you against commission claims made by any other broker in connection with the sale. In such case, however, our liability will be limited to the amount of the payment made to us.

Please signify your assent to the above by signing and returning the enclosed copy of this letter.

Very truly yours,

Accepted:

Samuel Levy

Century Realty Associates

By: _____
Partner

110 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms
F. BROKERAGE AGREEMENTS

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.74

FORM 21.74 Brokerage agreement for sale of residential property--conditional upon completion of sale to specified purchaser

COMMENT

This is a form for an agreement between a broker and an owner for the sale of residential real property for which the broker has a purchaser. The broker's right to compensation is conditioned upon the completion of the proposed sale to the specified purchaser.

FORM

BROKER'S AGREEMENT

Dated: _____ [date]

City of _____, State of _____

Re: Sale of Premises known as _____ Street, City of _____, State of _____

Dear _____:

As an inducement to you to enter into and/or continue negotiations with _____ and _____ ("Purchaser") for the sale by you to the Purchaser of the above-captioned property ("Premises") for a purchase price of $ _____ ("Transaction"), the undersigned warrants to you that: (a) the undersigned is a real estate broker licensed as such in the State of _____; (b) the undersigned is the sole broker in any way instrumental in interesting the Purchaser in acquiring the Premises, and that the undersigned knows of no other broker who has dealt with the Purchaser in connection with the purchase of the Premises; (c) the undersigned is the sole procuring cause of any contract of sale for the Premises that may result from such negotiations; and (d) the undersigned's services in this Transaction are for the account of the undersigned and that the undersigned has not and will not act in this Transaction for or with any other broker or for or with any other firm or corporation either as employee, agent or in any other capacity.

As a further inducement to you to enter into or continue such negotiations, the undersigned agrees that the sole compensation for commissions and otherwise for services or reimbursement of expenses to be paid to the undersigned in connection with this Transaction will be $ _____, but that such commission shall not be deemed to be due, earned or payable unless and until all the following conditions are met: (a) you and the Purchaser shall have agreed upon all of the terms and conditions of the sale; (b) a contract of sale ("Contract of Sale") for the Premises between you and the Purchaser satisfactory in all respects to you, as to which matter the undersigned agrees you shall be the sole judge, shall be executed and delivered by and between you, as seller, and the Purchaser, as purchaser; (c) the Contract of Sale shall close in accordance with all of its terms and conditions; and (d) the Purchaser shall pay the full purchase price specified in and take title to the Premises pursuant to the Contract of Sale.

The above commission shall be the sole compensation payable to a broker and the undersigned agrees to accept $ _____ as and for the undersigned's sole commission, fees and compensation in this Transaction. In the event that the purchase price for the Premises shall be other than as set forth above, then the commission due hereunder shall be modified so that the total amount of commission shall be _____ percent of such revised purchase price.

It is further agreed that (a) if, for any reason, a Contract of Sale is not entered into between you and Purchaser, or (b) such Contract of Sale is entered into, but is not consummated for any reason, it being expressly understood that the closing of this Transaction is an absolute condition to any liability for any brokerage commission, then, and in any such event, the brokerage commission shall not be due, earned or payable to the undersigned and the undersigned hereby releases you from any and all claims, commission or other compensation in connection with this Transaction.

The undersigned acknowledges that (a) no understanding has yet been reached between you and the Purchaser, (b) any compensation to any other broker or real estate salesperson shall be the undersigned's sole responsibility, (c) no representation, promise or inducement of any kind has been made to the undersigned by you or anyone else to induce the signing of this broker's agreement, (d) if more than one person is executing this broker's agreement on behalf of the undersigned, our liability hereunder shall be joint and several, primary and direct, and that any payment made by you to any one signer shall be deemed to constitute payment to all, and (e) the undersigned has no claim and will assert no claim in the future with respect to any other transaction that you may make with the Purchaser unless a separate written brokerage agreement shall be executed by you with respect to such other transaction.

The undersigned further agrees that the undersigned will indemnify and hold you harmless from and against any damage, cost or expense (including, without limitation, reasonable attorneys' fees) sustained or incurred by you by reason of any claims of any nature that may arise from any person, corporation, or other entity in connection with any brokerage fee, commission, or other compensation in connection with this Transaction in the event that any of the undersigned's warranties or representations set forth herein are incorrect.

This broker's agreement supersedes and replaces any prior written or oral agreement which may have been entered into between you and the undersigned.

If the foregoing meets with your understanding and approval, please sign and return to the undersigned the enclosed copy of this broker's agreement as evidence of your agreement to pay commission to the undersigned upon the conditions indicated in this agreement.

Very truly yours,

_____ Realty, Inc.

By: _____

Accepted and Agreed to:

Owner

111 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms
F. BROKERAGE AGREEMENTS

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.75

FORM 21.75 Broker's agreement--"net" type listing

COMMENT

This is a net listing under which the broker's compensation is to be a percentage of the excess over the net minimum price specified by the seller.

Under a net type of listing, the seller sets a minimum amount which he wishes to receive and the broker agrees to a compensation based upon the excess over and above the minimum plus the seller's expenses. Care should be taken to make it clear in the listing whether that minimum figure which the seller is to receive is truly a net figure or whether there are some expenses of the seller which must still be accounted for in order to arrive at the exact amount of money which the seller is to receive.

Although net listings are recognized in most jurisdictions, they are less commonly used than other types of listings. One reason that net listings are less frequently used is that they are more easily subject to attack on the grounds that the brokers involved have, for their own personal advantage, influenced their principals to set too low a minimum net figure. It should be noted that the license of a real estate agent may be suspended or revoked should he fail to disclose to his principal, prior to or coincident with the signing of the agreement, the full amount of his compensation.

FORM

AGREEMENT made July 10, ____ [year], between James Spear of 150 Hull Drive, Sacramento, California (the "Owner"), and Keith Johnson, 500 University Place, Sacramento, California (the "Broker").

1. Description of property. The property to be sold pursuant to this listing is situated in the City of Sacramento, County of Sacramento, State of California, and is described as follows:

(Insert description)

2. Terms of sale. The selling price of the Property shall be any sum which exceeds the total of $75,000 net to the Owner and all expenses, costs, and other charges with respect to the Property (including those outstanding obligations secured by encumbrances on the Property) which must be paid by the Owner during escrow. Subject to such minimum requirements, the selling price shall be determined, fixed, and approved, in writing, by the Broker in his sole and absolute discretion. The selling price shall be payable in lawful money of the United States.

3. Term. This listing shall commence on July 11, _____ [year], and terminate at midnight on September 10, _____ [year].

4. Compensation. The Owner shall pay the Broker, as his commission, 25 percent of that portion of the selling price in excess of the sum of $75,000 net to the Owner and all such expenses, cost, and other charges which must be paid by the Owner as set forth in paragraph 2. The Broker's commission shall be earned, due, and payable if the Owner enters into a sales agreement with the purchasers through the Broker's efforts.

The parties have executed this agreement the day and year first above written.

James Spear

Keith Johnson

112 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms
F. BROKERAGE AGREEMENTS

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.76

FORM 21.76 Broker's agreement with purchaser--open listing

COMMENT

On occasion, a purchaser may wish to use his own broker in order that he may have independent representation. In such circumstances, typically, the purchaser does not have in mind any specific property on which he wishes to make a definite offer. Accordingly, the purchaser designates a broker to represent him in the purchase of a property and empowers him to solicit sales offers which are to be submitted to the purchaser for acceptance.

This form will normally be used in advance of locating a specific property for which the purchaser wishes to make an offer. Thus, the description cannot be as precise as it can be in the other broker agreements in this chapter. However, an attempt should be made to come as close as possible to accurately depicting the property desired. Unless the property can be described with such accuracy, questions may arise as to whether or not the purchaser is obligated to compensate the broker should a property be purchased or refused which does not conform to the description set forth in the agreement.

FORM

AGREEMENT made May 15, ____ [year], by and between Newell Manufacturing Company, Inc. (the "Purchaser"), and Ace Realty Associates (the "Broker").

1. Description. The property to be purchased shall be a single-story factory building with an area of between 100,000 and 125,000 square feet, a floor load of at least 125 pounds per square foot, electrical power of 220 volts, air conditioned offices, a railroad siding, and located in the City of Peekskill, Westchester County, New York, in a zone which permits light manufacturing.

2. Term of agreement. This agreement shall commence on July 17, _____ [year], and terminate at midnight on September 15, _____ [year].

3. Conditions. The above-described property shall be purchased on the following terms and conditions: the price for the property shall not exceed $2 million, payable as follows: 5 percent as a deposit upon the execution of the contract of sale, 10 percent at the closing, and the balance of 85 percent of the purchase price in the form of a purchase money mortgage, maturing in 20 years with interest not to exceed 8 percent per annum and with the right of prepayment after two years without penalty. Title shall be subject to liens, easements, restrictions, rights, and conditions of record or known to the seller which are approved by Purchaser, not to be unreasonably withheld. Interest, insurance, taxes, fuel, and other prepaid expenses shall be prorated as of the date of the closing.

4. Compensation. Subject to the other provisions of this agreement, the Purchaser shall pay the Broker a commission of 5 percent of the purchase price. The commission shall be earned, due, and payable if the deed to the property is recorded and the purchase of the property is consummated through the efforts of the Broker in procuring the seller.

5. Open agency. The Broker shall not be entitled to any compensation if the Purchaser enters into an agreement to purchase the property through the efforts of other brokers, firms, or persons, including the Purchaser.

6. Safety clause. The Purchaser shall pay the Broker the compensation set forth in paragraph 4 if, within 90 days after this agreement terminates, the Purchaser purchases the above property from any person or firm with whom the Broker or its associates negotiated during the term of this agreement and the Purchaser had knowledge of such negotiations given by written notice to the Purchaser from the Broker.

7. Cooperation of purchaser. The Purchaser shall cooperate with the Broker and commit no act that might tend to obstruct the purchase of the above property, and shall execute and deliver all necessary papers to complete the transaction.

8. Power of acceptance. It is understood that this agreement is only authority to solicit offers from Sellers, and that such offers are to be submitted to the Purchaser for its approval and acceptance.

9. Time of essence. Time is declared to be of the essence of this agreement.

This agreement has been executed by the parties on the day and year first above written.

Attest:

Secretary

Newell Manufacturing Company, Inc.

By _____

President

Ace Realty Associates

By _____

Partner

113 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms
F. BROKERAGE AGREEMENTS

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.77

FORM 21.77 Broker's Agreement with purchaser--exclusive right to represent--commission paid by seller or landlord

COMMENT

Many brokers now specialize in representing purchasers of real estate or tenants looking to lease space in a commercial office building. The purchaser may not have the time to locate and analyze the market of available properties of space. After informing the broker of the criteria for the property desired to be purchased or space to be leased, the broker will search its database of available properties or space.

In this transaction, the broker, if successful in finding a suitable and acceptable property or space, is actually paid by the seller or landlord. If the seller or landlord already has hired a broker, the two brokers will work out an agreement to split the commission.

FORM

_____[date]

Mr. Fred Bencraft
Attorney at Law
Bencraft & Associates

_____, _____

Dear Mr. Bencraft:

This letter will constitute an agreement between our firm and yours, recognizing your appointing us as your Exclusive Real Estate Agent to lease or purchase facilities for your company. The term of this Exclusive Right to Represent Bencraft & Associates in its search becomes effective upon signing and expires in one (1) year, and will automatically renew unless written notice is given from one party to another.

The Roudabush Brokerage Company will utilize its best efforts and expertise to acquire the complete details on all existing facilities presently available and/or those contemplated being available, and carefully select and present to you those facilities which in our opinion are the most suitable for your utilization. Such facilities, submitted for your consideration, will include those properties listed by other recognized commercial real estate brokers.

It is understood and agreed that our services will be provided at no cost to you, unless otherwise agreed to in writing, and The Roudabush Brokerage Company will look only to the landlord or the seller for compensation for their efforts. Bencraft & Associates agrees to refer to The Roudabush Brokerage Company all inquiries and offers from other recognized real estate brokers and property owners, and inform all persons and companies that make inquiry and/or offers, of The Roudabush Brokerage Company's exclusive representation.

It is further agreed that under no circumstances will The Roudabush Brokerage Company commit Bencraft & Associates to any obligations unless specifically authorized to do so, and Bencraft & Associates will use their best efforts to protect and effect The Roudabush Brokerage Company's receiving compensation for real estate brokerage services to be paid by the property owner at the successful completion of the transaction.

Sincerely,

The Roudabush Brokerage Company

By: _____

President

AGREED AND ACCEPTED:

Bencraft & Associates

By: _____

Fred Bencraft

Date: _____

114 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms
G. SALES AND LEASEBACKS

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.78

FORM 21.78 Sale and leaseback of commercial property

COMMENT

The nature of a "sale and leaseback" transaction is apparent from its title. Generally, a sale of property is made on condition that the purchaser lease it back to the former owner. The seller becomes the lessee of the property he has just sold. The new owner does not get physical possession of his property; his right is to receive rent under the lease to the former owner. Usually, the lease is made for a long term, and often with renewal options.

Tax advantages to seller-lessee

The sale and leaseback arrangement may frequently offer tax and nontax advantages to both parties. The seller converts his equity in the property into the cash and other proceeds of the sale, while retaining physical use of the property. As tenant, he may deduct his rental payments, which are often greater than the deductions for cost recovery or depreciation and mortgage interest available to an owner. When a substantial portion of the value of property is allocable to the land, which is not depreciable, or is allocable to substantially depreciated assets, the deductions as a lessee are especially likely to be greater than those as an owner. The loss of the cost recovery or depreciation deduction may, in some circumstances, outweigh any advantage from the deductible leaseback rent payments. In that case, the sale and leaseback may not be appropriate.

Options to renew or purchase

Because the seller-lessee wants to retain use and occupancy of the property, there may be an option to renew the lease in the leaseback, or even an option to buy back the property. The options to renew or purchase may subject the transaction to attack by the Service, on the basis that the parties are actually financing by mortgage loan, rather than completing a bona fide sale. Here, a careful examination of the case law, the Code, and regulations is required.

The renewal option in the leaseback assures the seller continued use of the property, even though title has been relinquished. The purchase option provisions in the leaseback agreement often establishes the option price. The price can be stated, or can be determined in the future by appraisal, or related to the remaining lease payments. The purchase option can be limited in time by permitting exercise only during the term of the lease, only during certain periods, or only upon expiration of the lease. These terms are usually negotiated between the parties based on business concerns, but with an eye toward the possible tax consequences of these factors.

Advantages to purchaser

A major attraction to the buyer is that he often obtains a long-term tenant who has a special interest in remaining on the property. In many transactions, the lease calls for a net rental, under which the tenant is obligated to pay all carrying charges, such as taxes, insurance, etc. This rental usually is designed to give the new owner sufficient money to pay the mortgage servicing charges (interest plus amortization of principal) and a fair return on his investment. The entire rental, of course, is deductible by the tenant. The owner, on the other hand, has interest and cost recovery or depreciation deductions to set off against his rental income.

Taxation of the seller-lessee

The seller-lessee exchanges deductions of mortgage interest and cost recovery or depreciation for the deduction of rent, and additional rent in the net leaseback. The seller-lessee can determine the time of sale, thus timing the realization of gain or loss. Gain may be timed to be realized on an appreciated asset in a year when net operating loss carryover or investment credits would expire otherwise unused. The gain would thus be sheltered by the net operating loss carryovers or investment credit carryover which would otherwise be lost.

Although normally gain realized would be capital gain, the property sold may be subject to investment credit or depreciation recapture. In general, the amount of prior depreciation recaptured is the amount of the depreciation, if any, in excess of the amount allocable under the straight-line method. Because real estate placed in service after 1986 must be depreciated under the straight-line MACRS rules, there may be no recaptured depreciation. However, any long term gain attributable to prior depreciation (not otherwise treated as ordinary income) is taxed at a maximum rate of 25%, not at the maximum capital gain rate of 15%. This is called "unrecaptured Section 1250 gain." The recaptured amount, if any, would be taxed at ordinary income rates, and the unrecaptured Section 1250 portion of the depreciation would be taxed at a maximum rate of 25%. Those higher taxed portions of the gain may offset any advantages from the sale and leaseback set up.

Taxation of purchaser-lessor

Rent received by the purchaser-lessor is ordinary income. This is offset, to a certain extent, by the cost recovery or depreciation deduction. If accelerated cost recovery or depreciation is available, in the early years, the purchaser-lessor cannot only receive the rent tax-free, but shelter some other income as well. Interest on the purchaser's purchase money mortgage is also a deductible offset against rental income.

Tax recharacterization risks

The tax and financial advantages of the sale and leaseback may be destroyed in the event of a successful Service attack on the substance of the transaction. This risk is increased when there is an obvious tax avoidance arrangement without a legitimate business purpose. The Service, however, has specific lines of attack on sales and leasebacks.

Like kind exchange

Gain or loss will not be recognized upon the sale, if it is deemed to be a like kind exchange, such as a fee for a leasehold. The Regulations state that an ownership in fee and a 30-year lease are properties of "like kind." This provision has caused apparently conflicting decisions so that it is uncertain whether a sale with a leaseback for a period of 30 years or more will result in the recognition of gain or loss to the seller, or will be treated as a nontaxable like kind exchange in which no gain or loss can be recognized.

The courts have looked primarily at two factors when the Service claims the transaction is a like kind exchange. The first factor is whether fair market value was paid for the property in cash, without including the leaseback as part of the consideration. The second factor is whether fair rental value is paid on the leaseback. A leaseback rental of less than fair rental value would indicate that the favorable rent is part of the consideration for the fee title.

If the leaseback is for less than 30 years and the selling price represents fair market value, gain or loss on the sale usually is recognized. The fact that the lease contains options permitting extensions beyond 30 years usually will not cause the transaction to be treated as a like kind exchange.

Recharacterization as mortgage loan

A second line of attack by the Service on the sale and leaseback transaction is the recharacterization of the transaction as a mortgage loan. This approach is most likely to occur when the transaction looks like an alternative to conventional mortgage financing while the seller retains substantial control over the property. A purchase option in the leaseback for nominal consideration or for a price against which the rent is credited could cause the transaction to fail. If the Service prevails, the seller-lessor would not be entitled to deduct the entire rental payments, but only that portion which would have been interest on the intended mortgage. The seller, not the buyer-lessor, would be entitled to the cost recovery or depreciation deduction. The income to the lessor would not include all the rent payments, but only that portion credited to be interest on the hypothetical mortgage.

Economic substance test for tax classification

The Supreme Court has held that where there is a genuine multiple-party transaction with economic substance which is compelled or encouraged by business or regulatory realities, is imbued with tax-independent considerations, and is not shaped solely by tax-avoidance features that have meaningless labels attached, the government should honor the allocation of rights and duties put into effect by the parties. Looking to the economic substance of the transactions, the court also found that the lessee's option to purchase, though fixed, was for a reasonable amount, and that the lessor bore the risk that the lessee would not exercise that option if the price was more than the fair market value of the property.

For a further discussion of tax considerations in sale-leaseback transactions, see The Tax Background (TB) § 21.13, at the beginning of this chapter.

Sale and leaseback agreement

This form illustrates an agreement for the sale and leaseback of property which the seller is under contract to purchase. In effect, the seller is arranging to finance his acquisition of a leasehold by the sale-leaseback technique. The seller is primarily interested in this commercial property for the various subleases. The rent is a fixed annual amount, plus an amount equal to the buyer-lessor's annual payments on the mortgage, plus a percentage of gross rentals from subtenants in excess of a fixed amount. If the rentals received from the subtenants exceed the fixed amount, the owner and the lessee will share the excess.

Information reporting of real estate transactions

The attorney or title company responsible for closing title is required to report the real estate transaction to the IRS. In addition, a statement must be provided to the customer before January 31 of the year following the closing. If an attorney or title company is not involved in the closing, the information reporting is the responsibility of the mortgage lender. The information reporting requirements are discussed in TB § 21.02[4].

FORM

AGREEMENT made September 12, _____ [year], by and between Major Realty Corp., a New York corporation having an office at 100 East 42d Street, New York, New York ("Seller"), and Midwest Realty Investments Company, a partnership having its principal place of business at 1100 Main Street, Cleveland, Ohio ("Purchaser").

Recitals

Seller has entered into a contract to purchase a shopping center located in Broward County, Florida.

The parties desire that Seller, upon acquiring title to the shopping center, shall convey title to Purchaser and, that thereupon, Purchaser shall lease the premises back to Seller, all in accordance with the terms and conditions of this agreement.

Now, therefore, the parties agree as follows:

1. Sale of premises. Seller shall sell and convey, and Purchaser shall purchase, all that certain tract of land, together with the buildings and improvements erected thereon, lying and being in the County of Broward, State of Florida, commonly known as the Southern Shopping Plaza, and more particularly described in the annexed Exhibit A (the "Premises"). This sale shall include all of Seller's right, title, and interest in, to, and under all fixtures and articles of personal property attached or appurtenant to or used in connection with the Premises, excluding, however, any such fixtures or personal property belonging to tenants or subtenants.

2. Purchase price. The purchase price shall be $1.45 million over and above an existing first mortgage covering the Premises held by the Central Life Insurance Company in the original principal amount of $4.2 million and having an unpaid principal balance in the approximate amount of $4.16 million, payable as follows:

(a) $150,000 on the execution of this contract, by check subject to collection, payable to Wilson & Meredith, Esqs., as attorneys for Seller, to be held in escrow; and

(b) $1.3 million in cash or certified check or checks on delivery of the deed.

3. Liens and encumbrances and title policy. The Premises are to be sold and conveyed subject to the following:

(a) The first mortgage held by the Central Life Insurance Company.

(b) All current zoning and building laws, regulations, and requirements relating to the Premises;

(c) Any state of facts as shown on an accurate survey of the Premises, if the same does not render title unmarketable.

(d) Rights of tenants under and subject to existing leases, and vacancies, rentals, and leases in existence at the time of closing of title.

(e) Such state of facts as a personal inspection may disclose.

(f) Conditions, restrictions, and limitations of record none of which prohibit the use of the Premises for the operation of a shopping center or contain any reverter or forfeiture provisions.

Seller shall deliver to Purchaser at the closing, at Seller's expense, a title policy for $5.61 million insuring Purchaser's interest as fee owner of the Premises, subject, however, to the matters herein set forth and the usual standard exceptions of the title company issuing such policy. Seller shall use its best efforts to have such policy provide that there are no restrictions of record which contain reversions or forfeitures.

4. Representation by seller. The Seller warrants and represents, which representations and warranties shall survive the closing, as follows:

(a) The first mortgage held by the Central Life Insurance Company is repayable in constant monthly payments of $50,228 which include interest of 8 percent per annum, and is self-liquidating over a period of approximately 20 years.

(b) The attached Exhibit B is a true and correct list of tenants who have leased space in the Premises and the rentals provided for in their respective leases, all such leases having been exhibited to Purchaser and initialed by the parties. The tenants listed on Exhibit B are in possession and such leases are in full force and effect, except as otherwise noted thereon. Seller does not make any representations or covenants herein with respect to any vacancies which may occur between the date hereof and the closing date.

(c) The Premises are in full compliance with all environmental laws, rules and regulations, federal, state and local.

5. Additional documents at closing. At the closing Seller shall deliver to Purchaser:

(a) A certificate of occupancy issued by the applicable governmental authority (if any is issued under local regulations).

(b) A letter or receipt issued by the Central Life Insurance Company or its servicing agent certifying as to the amount of the unpaid principal and interest on the first mortgage, the date to which interest has been paid, and further certifying that the mortgage is in good standing and that the mortgagor is not in default. Such letter or receipt shall be deemed sufficient evidence of the reduction of the first mortgage.

(c) A letter from the present owner of the Premises stating that the first mortgage is in good standing and not in default and that all of the owner's obligations under the first mortgage have been performed.

6. Outstanding assessments, taxes, etc. In view of the leaseback provided in this agreement:

(a) If the Premises are affected by assessments at the time of Seller's delivery of the deed to Purchaser, Purchaser shall accept title subject to such assessments, and Purchaser shall not be entitled to any reduction of the cash to be paid at closing on account thereof. However, to the extent that Seller has received sufficient payment (or credit at closing) from the present owner of the Premises to discharge an assessment, Seller shall apply the amount in payment of such assessment.

(b) The existence of any violations or unpaid real estate taxes, utility charges, or like charges on the date of title closing shall not be deemed an objection to title.

(c) No closing adjustments shall be made between the parties at the closing.

7. Seller's contract to obtain title. It is understood that Seller is not the owner of the Premises, but Seller represents that it is the owner of a contract for the purchase of the Premises. It is further understood that all of the statements, conditions, representations, and agreements herein contained, in reference to the title to the Premises, the income, the rents, leases, other agreements, rent rolls, and other matters and things are made by Seller based not upon its own knowledge but upon information received from others and as contained in the contract of sale executed by the present owner. Seller shall use its best efforts to obtain title to the Premises from the present owner and convey the same to the Purchaser at the closing so as to vest title to the Premises in Purchaser. However, if for any reason (other than Purchaser's default) title is not conveyed in accordance with the terms hereof, or if any matter represented herein appears to be inaccurate, Purchaser shall be entitled to the return of the monies deposited on the execution hereof. Upon such payment, this contract shall terminate, and there shall be no further obligation or liability between the parties. If the present owner of the Premises defaults under its contract with Seller, Seller shall pay Purchaser one half of all amounts received by Seller as liquidated damages by reason of the owner's default. Seller shall not be required to incur any expense or commence any litigation in order to clear title or compel performance of the sales contract with the present owner.

8. Destruction of premises. Seller represents that the following provision is set forth in its contract with the present owner of the Premises: "Between the date hereof and the date of closing hereunder, Seller assumes the full risk for any damage or destruction by fire or the elements to the premises, including the buildings, structures, and other improvements comprising the shopping center, and Seller shall bear the full cost of the work of restoration, rebuilding, repairing, and replacement before the closing date. Such risk of loss or damage assumed by Seller shall continue until the actual delivery of the deed in accordance with the terms of this agreement."

9. Deed. The deed shall be the usual bargain and sale deed with covenant against grantor's acts in proper statutory form for recording, and shall be duly executed and acknowledged so as to convey to Purchaser the fee simple of the Premises free of all encumbrances except as herein provided.

10. Closing. The closing shall be held at the office of Burger & Kahn, Esqs., Plaza Office Building, Palm Beach, Florida, at 10 a.m. on October 3, ____ [year], or at any other place in Florida or New York City that Seller designates by notice to Purchaser. However, Seller reserves the right to cause title to be closed earlier than October 3, ____ [year] by giving Purchaser at least 48 hours prior written notice, in which event Purchaser shall close title on the earlier date designated by Seller. Purchaser shall not adjourn closing of title without Seller's prior written consent. Seller reserves the right to grant an adjournment of closing of title in connection with its contract for the purchase of the Premises, and Purchaser agrees to a similar adjournment of closing of title hereunder in order to provide for simultaneous closings.

11. Leaseback. At the closing, and immediately after Purchaser receives a deed to the Premises from Seller, Purchaser, as landlord, shall enter into a net lease of the Premises with Seller, as tenant. The lease shall be in the form of that annexed as Exhibit C, and shall provide, inter alia, as follows:

(a) The initial term shall be for 21 years, and there shall be three 21-year renewal options.

(b) The fixed rent shall be $159,500 plus the annual interest and amortization charges required to be paid in reduction of the first mortgage now held by the Central Life Insurance Company.

(c) The tenant shall pay the landlord 50 percent of gross rentals received by the tenant from sublessees in excess of $620,000, as reduced by 50 percent of any increase in real and personal property taxes and assessments against the Premises after the first lease year.

The form of lease attached hereto shall be completed at the closing as follows: the date of the lease shall be the date of the closing of title; the commencement date of the initial term of the lease shall be the date of title closing; and the dates of the renewal terms shall be set forth to comply with the foregoing.

12. Assignment and reassignment of leases. At the closing, Seller shall assign to Purchaser all of its right, title, and interest in and to all of the existing leases (or subleases) affecting the Premises; and, in turn, Purchaser shall reassign such leases (or subleases) to Seller as lessee under the foregoing leaseback. All securities and deposits paid over by the present owner of the Premises to Seller at the closing of title shall be retained by Seller as lessee under the foregoing leaseback.

13. Rental of space. Purchaser consents to the renting of any space in the Premises which is now vacant, or which may become vacant between the date hereof and the date of title closing, and agrees to take title subject to such leases.

14. Corporation as purchaser. If Purchaser takes title in the name of a corporation, such corporation shall be qualified to do business in the State of Florida before the closing date.

15. Escrow of deposit money. The down payment check of $150,000 delivered by Purchaser to Seller's attorneys on the execution hereof shall be deposited by the attorneys, and the proceeds therefrom shall be held in escrow upon the following conditions:

(a) If Purchaser fails or refuses to consummate this agreement in accordance with its terms, through no fault of Seller, Seller's attorneys shall deliver such proceeds to Seller, whereupon Seller's attorneys shall have performed their duties hereunder and will be relieved and discharged of any further obligations in connection therewith.

(b) If Seller defaults under this agreement, or is unable to convey title to Purchaser, Seller's attorneys shall return such proceeds to Purchaser, whereupon Seller's attorneys shall be relieved and discharged of any further obligations in connection therewith.

(c) If there is any dispute in respect of the above, Seller's attorneys may deposit the proceeds with any court of competent jurisdiction in New York City. In such event, they shall be relieved and discharged of any further obligations in connection therewith.

16. Broker. The parties agree that Parsons & Company of New York City brought about this sale and leaseback, and Seller agrees to pay a commission to Parsons & Company pursuant to separate agreement. Purchaser shall indemnify and hold Seller harmless from any claim made by any other broker in connection with this transaction. This agreement by Purchaser shall survive the closing of title.

17. Notices. All notices hereunder shall be in writing and delivered personally or mailed by certified or registered mail, postage prepaid, return receipt requested, addressed to the other party at its address set forth at the beginning of this agreement, or at any other address the party designates in writing.

18. Entire agreement; modification. This instrument constitutes the entire agreement between the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof. It may not be modified or terminated except by an agreement duly executed by both parties.

19. Nonwaiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise any right hereunder, and no partial or single exercise of such right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

20. Headings. Headings in this contract are for convenience and reference only and shall not be used to interpret or construe its provisions.

21. Governing law. This agreement shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of Florida.

22. Counterparts. This agreement may be executed in two or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

23. Time of essence. Time is of the essence of this agreement.

The parties have caused these presents to be executed on the day and year first above written.

Attest:

Major Realty Corp.

Secretary

By _____
President

Midwest Realty Investments Company

By _____
Partner

Receipt of the down payment made by the Purchaser is acknowledged by the undersigned to be held in escrow pursuant to the provisions of paragraph 15.

Wilson & Meredith, attorneys for seller

By _____

John Wilson

115 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms
G. SALES AND LEASEBACKS

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.79

FORM 21.79 Sale of land for shopping center--construction by developer--leaseback of store to seller

COMMENT

The seller in this form is a retailer who owns land suitable for a shopping center and is interested in operating a retail store in the center. He sells the land to a developer for cash and a purchase money mortgage. The developer is to construct a building to be occupied by the seller, in accordance with the seller's plans and specifications, and the building is to be leased back to the seller at the closing. The developer has investigated, and is satisfied with, the geological and environmental condition of the property. The remainder of the shopping center is to be constructed by the developer, subject to the approval of the seller, and is to be leased to others. The developer agrees to obtain commitments from lessees of specified types of establishments. For the tax considerations in a sale and leaseback situation, see The Tax Background § 21.13, at the beginning of this chapter.

FORM

AGREEMENT made May 10, ____ [year], between Metropolitan Realty Co., Inc., a New York corporation of 100 East 42d Street, New York, New York ("Seller"), and Fillmore Shopping Centers, Inc., a New York corporation of 525 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York ("Developer").

Recitals

Seller acquired real estate for development and use as a one-stop regional shopping center; and

Developer, having been fully informed of Seller's intent and desires with respect to the development and use of such real estate, on its own initiative proposed that if Seller would sell such real estate to Developer, Developer would cause the same to be developed and used in the manner below and in the accompanying documents and would give Seller the assurances to do so.

The parties, therefore, agree as follows:

Article I Sale of Center

Section 1.1. Sale. Seller shall sell and convey, and Developer shall purchase, that certain parcel of land situate, lying, and being in Rockland County, State of New York, described as follows:

(Insert description)

Section 1.2. Purchase price. The purchase price for the Center is $800,000, payable as follows:

(a) Upon the execution and delivery of this agreement, a down payment of $100,000 by check subject to collection (the "down payment"); and

(b) Upon the closing date, as defined below:

(1) by delivery to Seller of a check of Developer drawn to Seller's order upon a bank which is a member of the New York Clearing House and duly certified by such bank or official, or cashier's check of a New York City bank to Seller's order, for $200,000; and

(2) by Developer duly executing, acknowledging, and delivering to Seller a purchase money note and mortgage for $500,000 covering the Center in the form and substance annexed, completed as therein indicated.

Section 1.3. Deed. The deed conveying the Center to Developer shall be the usual bargain and sale deed with covenant against grantor's acts in proper short statutory form for recording; shall be duly executed and acknowledged so as to convey to Developer the fee simple to the Center, free of all encumbrances, except as herein stated; and shall also contain the covenant required by subdivision 5 of Section 13 of the Lien Law. All expenses in connection with the recording of the deed, including the recording charges, shall be paid on the closing date by Developer.

Section 1.4. Purchase money mortgage. The purchase money note and mortgage shall be drawn by Seller's attorneys at Seller's expense. Developer shall, on the closing date, pay the mortgage recording tax and recording fees.

Section 1.5. Prorations. All taxes, including town, village, and school taxes, and water charges for the Center, shall be apportioned as of the closing date. If the closing date occurs before the tax rate is fixed, the apportionment of taxes shall be based upon the tax rate for the next preceding year applied to the latest assessed valuation. If there is any water meter or meters on the Center, Seller shall furnish a reading to a date not more than 30 days before the closing date and the unfixed meter charge for the intervening time shall be apportioned on the basis of the last reading.

Section 1.6. Condition of property. Seller has not made and does not make any warranty or representations as to the quality or nature of the Center's ground or subsurface it being acknowledged that Developer (i) has investigated and tested the soil by test borings and other geological tests, and is satisfied with the suitability of the soil for construction purposes, and (ii) has had the land tested for compliance with all environmental laws, federal, state and local, and is satisfied with the environmental condition of the land..

Section 1.7. Right of entry. From and after the date hereof and so long as Developer is not in default under any provision of this agreement, Developer may, from time to time, at its sole cost, expense and risk, enter upon all or any part of the Center for the purpose of performing Developer's obligations hereunder.

Section 1.8. Title examination.

(a) Developer shall order an examination of title to, and survey of, the Center, and shall deliver a copy of the report and survey to Seller's attorneys, Sterne and Leeds, Esqs., 666 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York, no later than 20 days after the date hereof. If any defects, encumbrances, or encroachments appear upon such report or survey, other than those to which Developer has agreed to take subject to by the terms of this agreement, which render the title unmarketable, Developer shall send notice to Seller's attorneys within five days after the above-specified date. Developer shall take title subject to any defects, encumbrances, and encroachments set forth in such report or survey and not included in such notice. Within 20 days after receipt of such notice, Seller shall notify Developer either that it will cure the defects, encumbrances, and encroachments of which Developer notified Seller (other than those to which Developer has agreed to take subject), or that it elects to cancel this agreement. If Seller fails to notify Developer that it will cure such defects, encumbrances, and encroachments, this agreement shall be cancelled. In such event, neither party shall have any liability to the other hereunder; but Seller shall promptly thereafter refund to Developer the down payment and pay to Developer the cost of title examination, Developer's reasonable attorneys' fees, and the reasonable value of all work performed by architects and engineers, which Developer has paid or is obligated to pay, as provided in Article II of this agreement. The term "cost of title examination" is defined, for the purposes of this agreement, as the expense actually incurred by Developer for title examination, but in no event to exceed the charges fixed by the New York Board of Title Underwriters for title examination of the Center, without the issuance of a policy, plus the cost to Developer of any survey actually obtained.

(b) Developer shall also order a continuation of the examination of title and a survey of the Center, and deliver a copy of the report and survey to Seller's attorneys not less than ten or more than 20 days before the closing date.

(c) Seller shall be entitled to a 20-day adjournment of the closing date in order to eliminate the defects, encumbrances, and encroachments contained in the continuation report and survey.

Section 1.9. Failure of title. If Seller is unable to convey title to the Center to Developer in accordance with the terms of this agreement, Developer shall have only the following rights:

(a) to accept any title Seller is able to convey without any abatement of the purchase price or any other liability by Seller. However, if the title is encumbered by any lien dischargeable by the payment of money (except liens that Developer has agreed hereunder to take subject to), Seller shall either present a proper discharge to Developer at the closing and pay the cost of filing and recording such instruments, or deduct the amount thereof with costs of discharge from the purchase price; or

(b) to reject title.

Developer shall not have any other right or remedy. If Developer rejects title, neither party shall have any liability to the other hereunder, but Seller shall promptly refund the down payment to Developer and pay Developer for the cost of title examination and its reasonable attorneys' fees. If Developer rejects title because of any defect, encumbrance, or encroachment appearing on the report, continuation report, or surveys, which render title unmarketable, or if title is rejected under Section 1.14, Seller shall pay Developer, in addition to and at the time of the payments specified above, all related architects' and engineers' fees and other expenses which Developer has paid or is obligated to pay under Article II. If, however, the defects, encumbrances, or encroachments that render title unmarketable appear in the continuation report or survey but not in the original title report or survey, and such defects, encumbrances, or encroachments were in existence when the original title report was issued or the original survey was made and should have been disclosed therein, Seller shall not be required to pay Developer the architectural and engineering fees and expenses specified in this section.

Section 1.10. Test of good title. Seller shall give, and Developer shall accept, any title approved and insured by Home Guaranty Company, subject to any objection that Developer has agreed under this agreement to take subject to. If at the closing date the Center is subject to any liens that are the subject of litigation or negotiation or that have not been finally fixed (except those to which Developer is to take subject hereunder), such liens shall not be deemed an objection to title if Home Guaranty Company, upon delivery of the deed, issues or binds itself to issue a fee title policy which will insure Developer against the collection of such liens.

Section 1.11. Customs. Except as otherwise provided in this agreement, "the customs in respect of title closings" adopted by the Real Estate Board of New York, Inc., as amended, shall apply to the apportionments and other matters mentioned in this Article I.

Section 1.12. Fire and condemnation. The parties waive the provisions of Section 5-1311 of the New York General Obligations Law. If, before the closing date, all or any part of the Center is taken by eminent domain, neither party shall have the right to cancel this agreement, and Seller, upon the closing of title and the receipt of the purchase price, shall assign, transfer, and set over to Developer all of Seller's right, title, and interest in and to any awards made for such taking.

Section 1.13. Purchaser's lien. The cost of title examination and the $100,000 down payment by check subject to collection delivered by Developer simultaneously with the execution and delivery of this agreement shall, upon collection, become a lien upon the Center. Such lien shall not continue after default by Developer or payment to it of all the moneys provided for in Sections 1.8 or 1.9.

Section 1.14. Zoning and other restrictions.

(a) Developer shall take title subject to existing zoning and building laws, ordinances, restrictions, and regulations imposed by any public authority ("zoning laws") affecting the Center. If, between the date hereof and the closing date, such zoning laws are so changed as to prevent the construction, operation, maintenance, and use of the Center as a one-stop regional shopping center as described in this agreement, Developer shall have only the right to accept title and thereby waive any objections to such change in zoning laws or to reject title, in which case its only rights and remedies shall be as provided in Section 1.9.

(b) If any governmental authority having jurisdiction over the Center has obtained, at the closing date, any rights in and to any streets, roads, or avenues in, upon, or across the Center which may be plotted or laid out on any map or plan issued and filed by such authority, or has imposed any restrictions against building upon the bed of such streets, roads, or avenues, and if such rights or restrictions would prevent the construction, operation, maintenance, and use of the Center as a one-stop regional shopping center as described in this agreement, Developer shall have only the right to accept title and thereby waive any objections to such rights and restrictions or to reject title, in which case Developer's only rights and remedies shall be as provided in Section 1.9.

Article II Development of Center

Section 2.1. Outline plans. Seller has previously prepared and delivered to Developer, and each has approved and initialed, outline plans and specifications for the construction of Seller's building. As used in this agreement, the term "Seller's building" means the Tenant's building--including building equipment--to be erected and installed as provided in Article II of the lease. The plans and specifications for Seller's building shall be so drawn and written that it will be capable of supporting and servicing four stories, including a basement.

Section 2.2. Preliminary architectural and structural engineering plans. No later than 30 days after the date hereof, Developer shall, at no expense to Seller, prepare and deliver to Seller preliminary architectural and structural engineering plans and specifications for Seller's building, including building equipment. Such plans and specifications and those referred to in Section 2.3 shall be consistent with and reasonably inferable from both Seller's outline plans and specifications referred to in Section 2.1 and provide for first-class workmanship and materials. The parties contemplate that Seller's building will be of the same quality of workmanship and material as is contained in, but may otherwise differ substantially from, Seller's Yonkers, New York, store. Such preliminary plans and specifications and all other plans and specifications and drawings shall be prepared by architects and engineers selected by Developer from time to time, as provided in this section. Developer shall select only architects or engineers approved by Seller from time to time to perform services with respect to the leased premises. Before selecting an architect or engineer to perform services with respect to the remainder of the Center, excluding the premises, Developer shall deliver to Seller a list of one or more proposed architects or engineers. Within 20 days after receiving such list, Seller shall advise developer of any architect or engineer of which it disapproves, but Seller shall not unreasonably withhold its approval. After the 20-day period expires, Developer may select any architect or engineer named in the list to perform services with respect to the remainder of the Center, excluding the leased premises, except those specifically disapproved of by Seller. Developer shall pay all of the selected architects' and engineers' fees and expenses. Developer shall submit each unit or part of the preliminary architectural and structural engineering plans and specifications for Seller's building as soon as it completes the same. Developer shall complete and submit all of the preliminary plans and specifications to Seller on or before July 10, _____ [year]. Seller shall have full right and authority to object to, and require changes, modifications, and corrections which it deems necessary or desirable in the plans and specifications, if such objections and requirements are made in writing within 30 days after receipt of the preliminary plans and specifications and are consistent with and reasonably inferable from Seller's outline plans and specifications referred to in Section 2.1. Developer shall, at no cost to Seller, revise the preliminary plans and specifications and diligently make all changes, modifications, and corrections required by Seller promptly after it receives Seller's written request therefor. Seller's failure to make such request within the specified 30-day period shall be deemed to constitute its approval. Three copies of all revised and corrected preliminary plans and specifications shall promptly be supplied to Seller without charge after they are completed.

Section 2.3. Preliminary mechanical engineering plans. Developer shall diligently prepare, at no cost to Seller, preliminary mechanical engineering plans and specifications for Seller's building, and shall submit each unit or part thereof to Seller as it is completed, but in any event shall complete and submit all such plans and specifications no later than August 10, _____ [year]. Seller shall have the unconditional right to object to such plans and specifications and to require any change, modification, or correction it deems necessary or desirable, if the objections and requirements are made in writing within 30 days after the plans and specifications are received and are consistent with and reasonably inferable from Seller's outline plans and specifications referred to in Section 2.1. Promptly after receiving Seller's written request, Developer shall, at no cost to Seller, revise the preliminary plans and specifications and diligently make all required changes, modifications, and corrections. Seller's failure to make the request within the above 30-day period shall be deemed its approval of the preliminary plans and specifications. Copies of all revised and corrected preliminary plans and specifications shall promptly be supplied to Seller without charge.

Section 2.4 Final plans. No later than 30 days after (a) Seller approves Developer's preliminary plans and specifications originally submitted to Seller under Section 2.3, or (b) Developer makes all of the requested changes, modifications, and corrections and supplies the revised and corrected plans and specifications to Seller, as the case may be, Developer shall:

Commence to prepare and thereafter diligently prepare, without cost to Seller, and deliver to Seller detailed final architectural and engineering plans and specifications, including working drawings, for Seller's building. The final plans, specifications, and drawings shall be consistent with and reasonably inferable from the preliminary plans and specifications, as revised and corrected under Sections 2.2 and 2.3. Developer covenants that it will submit completed units or parts of the final plans, specifications, and working drawings for Seller's building as each unit or part is completed, and that it will complete all the plans, specifications, and drawings and deliver them to Seller within eight months after the applicable date provided in the first sentence of this section for Developer to commence their preparation. Seller shall have the unconditional right to object to the final plans, specifications, and drawings and to require any change, modification, or correction it deems necessary or desirable, if the objections and requirements are made in writing within 30 days after the plans, specifications, and drawings are received and are consistent with and reasonably inferable from the preliminary plans and specifications, as revised and corrected under Sections 2.2 and 2.3. Promptly after receiving Seller's written request, Developer shall, at no cost to Seller, revise the final plans, specifications, and drawings and diligently make all required changes, modifications, and corrections. Seller's failure to make the request within the above 30-day period shall be deemed to constitute its approval of the plans, specifications, and drawings. Copies of all revised and corrected final plans, specifications, and drawings shall promptly be supplied to Seller without charge.

Section 2.5. Costs in excess of items in seller's building. If the plans, specifications, and drawings for Seller's building, under Sections 2.2, 2.3, and 2.4, include any items of equipment or material which are more or less expensive than items that serve the corresponding functions in Seller's Yonkers, New York store, Developer shall advise Seller of any such net increase, as follows:

(a) Whenever Seller requests, Developer shall promptly cause to be prepared and submitted to Seller a bona fide written estimate by the architects or engineers responsible for the preparation of such plans, specifications, and working drawings of any increase or decrease in architects' and engineers' fees and in such construction costs that would result from any such request. Such estimate shall itemize separately the estimated cost of any item of material Seller so requested Developer to include.

(b) Any approval by Seller of the submitted estimate shall be in writing and returned to Developer within 15 days after the estimate is received. If Seller approves the estimate, it shall reimburse Developer under the attached lease for any aggregate net increase in architects' and engineers' fees and in construction costs shown on all the approved estimates promptly after a statement therefor is received following completion of the work involved. Alternatively, Seller may revise the submitted estimate by deducting from any stated increase in such fees and costs the difference between the estimated cost of any item of material included therein and the lower written bid for the identical item from a reliable supplier, if Seller submits the bid to Developer within 15 days after Seller receives the estimate. Any approval by Seller of the revised estimate shall be in writing and returned to Developer within 15 days after it is received. If Seller approves the revised estimate, it shall reimburse Developer under the attached lease for any aggregate net increase in architects' and engineers' fees and in construction costs shown on all the approved estimates, as so revised, promptly after a statement therefor is received following completion of the work involved. If Seller does not approve of the estimate, whether or not revised, and return it to Developer within the above 15-day period, Seller shall be deemed to have withdrawn the request, but it shall reimburse Developer for reasonable architects' and engineers' fees for preparing the estimate.

Section 2.6. Preliminary plans for other buildings. No later than 30 days after the date hereof, Developer shall commence to prepare and thereafter diligently prepare, at no cost to Seller, and deliver to Seller, preliminary architectural plans and outline specifications, including isometric drawings and elevations, for the construction of at least 200,000, but not more than 400,000, square feet of building floor area of the buildings, other than Seller's building, and the other improvements. Such plans, specifications, drawings, and elevations shall provide for good quality workmanship and materials, that all vehicular and pedestrian traffic ways be hard-surfaced, and that all parking areas be finished with a permanent surface at least equal in quality to blacktop. Developer covenants to complete and submit to Seller without charge copies of such plans, specifications, drawings, and elevations no later than 90 days after the date hereof. If Seller, within 30 days after receiving such plans, specifications, drawings, or elevations, gives written notice to Developer that any of them do not comply with this section, Developer shall, promptly after receipt of such notice, and at no cost to Seller, diligently make any change, modification, or correction to make them so comply. Seller's failure to give Developer notice within the above 30-day period shall be deemed to constitute Seller's approval of the plans, specifications, drawings, and elevations. Copies of the revised and corrected plans, etc., shall be promptly supplied to Seller without charge after their completion.

Section 2.7. Plans for service areas. Developer covenants to prepare, without cost to Seller, and deliver to Seller no later than 60 days before the closing date, preliminary architectural plans for screened service courts for all buildings other than Seller's building, unless before the delivery date the parties agree on a substitute arrangement to replace such courts.

Section 2.8. Other leases. Developer guarantees that on or before June 30, ____ [year], tenants other than Seller will have entered into commitments to lease stores aggregating at least 200,000 square feet of floor area in the Center. Such tenants will be obliged to open for business on or before the date that Seller opens for business in its building, or May 10, ____ [year], whichever is later. Developer shall deliver a true copy of each lease commitment to Seller on or before June 30, ____ [year]. Each commitment shall include a commitment for lease of at least: (a) 5,000 square feet of floor area to a drugstore for an initial term of at least ten years; (b) 15,000 square feet of floor area to a supermarket for an initial term of at least 15 years; (c) 20,000 square feet of floor area to one or more variety of stores for initial terms of at least 20 years each; and (d) 40,000 square feet to apparel stores for initial terms of at least 15 years each. Developer shall deliver to Seller a true copy of each lease or commitment to lease space in the Center within ten days after its execution.

Article III Closing

Section 3.1. Place of closing. All matters to be performed under this agreement on the closing date shall be done at the office of Sterne and Leeds, Esqs., 666 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York, at 11 a.m. on the closing date.

Section 3.2. Date of closing. The closing date shall be September 11, ____ [year]. However, Developer may accelerate the closing date if (1) it is not in default hereunder, (2) all matters to be performed hereunder before the closing date, except those required of Seller, have been performed, and (3) Developer gives 20-days' prior written notice to Seller of the earlier closing date. The closing date may be extended as provided in Section 1.8 or 3.3.

Section 3.3 Default by developer. Seller may cancel this agreement and retain the down payment if Developer defaults under any provision hereof and shall fail to cure the same within 20 days after Seller's written notice specifying the nature of the default. Seller's cancellation shall not prejudice any of its other rights or remedies hereunder, in any other instrument, or at law.

Section 3.4 Completion bond. On the closing date, Developer shall deliver a bond to Seller in which the general contractor to be employed by Developer to construct Seller's building and Developer shall be the Principals, Seller shall be the Obligee, and any surety company shall be the Surety. The bond shall be for $700,000, unless the amount is changed as provided below, and shall guarantee the construction and completion of Seller's building, fully paid for. If either party believes that the cost of such construction and completion will be more or less than $700,000, it may request that the amount be changed by giving the other party written notice between 60 and 90 days before the closing date. If the parties cannot agree upon a mutually satisfactory amount within ten days after notice is given, either party may refer the dispute to the architect selected to perform services for the leased premises, as provided in Section 2.2, not later than 45 days before the closing date. The architect shall, not later than 15 days before the closing date, advise the parties of the amount required by a responsible contractor to construct and complete Seller's building, and the bond shall be in that amount.

Section 3.5. Authority of seller. On the closing date, Seller shall deliver to Developer: (1) certified resolutions of Seller's Board of Directors authorizing the execution of this agreement and performance of its obligations, and (2) an opinion of Sterne & Leeds, Esqs., Seller's attorneys, to the effect that the execution and delivery of this agreement and of the deed and lease have been duly authorized by Seller, have been duly executed and delivered on behalf of Seller by a duly authorized officer or officers, and are legal, valid, and enforceable under their terms.

Section 3.6. Authority of developer. On the closing date, Developer shall deliver to Seller: (1) certified resolutions of Developer's Board of Directors authorizing the execution of this agreement and performance of its obligations, (2) an opinion of James Cooper, Esq., Developer's attorney, to the effect that the execution and delivery of this agreement and of the purchase money mortgage, purchase money note, the bond, and the lease have been duly authorized by Developer, have been duly executed and delivered on behalf of Developer by a duly authorized officer or officers, and that all the above documents are legal, valid, and enforceable in accordance with their terms, and (3) a certificate, executed by Developer's chief executive officer, to the effect that all leases or written commitments to lease any part of the Center entered into by or on behalf of Developer conform with this agreement and the accompanying documents.

Section 3.7. Documents. On the closing date, provided that all matters required to be performed hereunder by both parties prior thereto have been duly performed:

- (a) Seller shall deliver the required deed to Developer;
- (b) Concurrently, Seller and Developer shall duly execute, acknowledge, and deliver, as Tenant and Landlord, respectively, the lease in the attached form (the "lease").

On the closing date, before the parties execute such lease:

- (a) Both parties shall approve, date, and initial the final plans, specifications, and drawings, as revised and corrected under Section 2.4, and the preliminary plans, specifications, drawings, and elevations, as revised and corrected under Section 2.6.
- (b) The lease in form attached shall be completed as indicated therein.

Article IV Miscellaneous

Section 4.1. Notices. Unless otherwise expressly provided herein, all notices hereunder shall, be in writing and be deemed to have been given when mailed by registered or certified mail, postage prepaid, to the other party at the address stated below, or at the last changed address given by the other party:

If to Developer, at:	Fillmore Shopping Centers, Inc. 525 Fifth Avenue New York, New York 10017
If to Seller, at:	Metropolitan Realty Co., Inc. 100 East 42nd Street New York, N.Y. 10017

Either party, however, may at any time change its address for notification purposes by mailing a notice to the other party, as provided above, stating the change and setting forth the new address.

Section 4.2. Assignment; binding effect. All references herein to Developer shall be deemed to mean Fillmore Shopping Centers, Inc. If, however, Developer assigns all of its right, title, and interest under this agreement to any person, firm, or corporation, Developer shall be deemed to mean that person, firm, or corporation. If this agreement is assigned, the assignee shall expressly assume, in writing, all of Developer's obligations hereunder, and a duplicate original of the assignment and assumption shall be delivered to Seller no later than five days before the closing date. The duplicate original shall state the assignee's business address and, if the assignee is a corporation, the state of its incorporation. Except as otherwise expressly provided herein, this agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of both parties and their respective legal representatives, successors, and assigns.

Section 4.3. Relationship between parties. The relationship between the parties is solely that of Vendor and Purchaser. Nothing contained herein shall be construed to make the parties partners or joint venturers, or to render either party liable for the other party's debts or obligations. The provisions of Sections 1.6, 4.3, and 4.5 and of Article II shall survive the delivery of the deed and lease.

Section 4.4. Nonwaiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise any right hereunder, and no partial or single exercise of such right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

Section 4.5. Broker. The parties agree that Rossman Realty Associates, 600 Third Avenue, New York, New York, brought about this agreement as broker. Developer shall pay all commissions or brokerage with respect to this agreement and its negotiation, including the attached lease and extensions or renewals thereof and all additions to Seller's building.

Section 4.6. Headings. Headings in this contract are for convenience and reference only and shall not be used to interpret or construe its provisions.

Section 4.7. Governing law. This agreement shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of New York.

Section 4.8. Entire agreement; modification. This instrument constitutes the entire agreement between the parties. It may not be changed or terminated except by an agreement duly executed by the parties.

Section 4.9 Short forms for recording. For recordation purposes, Developer shall execute and deliver a short form of this agreement, in the form requested by Seller, in order to record its provisions. Each party shall execute, in recordable form, any certificate reasonably requested by the other party concerning the parties' rights and obligations hereunder.

Section 4.10. Counterparts. This agreement may be executed in two or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original and all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

Section 4.11. Time of essence. Time is of the essence of this agreement.

The parties have duly executed this agreement as of the day and year first above mentioned.

Attest:

Secretary

Attest:

Secretary

Metropolitan Realty Co., Inc.

By _____
President

Fillmore Shopping Centers, Inc.

By _____
President

116 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms
G. SALES AND LEASEBACKS

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.80

FORM 21.80 Sale and leaseback of single-purpose property improved by seller to his own specifications

COMMENT

This form illustrates the use of the sale-leaseback technique as a method of releasing working capital for a business organization. Here, the owner is planning to construct an office and research building to its own specifications for use in its own business. The owner has arranged to sell the property for cash upon the completion of the improvements, and simultaneously to take back a long-term lease from the new owner. The owner is required to comply with all municipal codes prior to closing, and to represent compliance with all environmental laws. For the tax considerations in a sale and leaseback, see The Tax Background (TB) § 21.13, at the beginning of this chapter. For a discussion of the cost recovery of leasehold improvements by the lessee and amortization of leasehold acquisition costs, see TB § 21.02[4].

Tax aspects on termination

If the lease is cancelled before the end of its term, the unamortized portion of the cost of the lessee's improvements is deductible in the year of cancellation. The lessor is not entitled to depreciation upon a building or other improvements constructed by the lessee. The value of improvements made by the lessee does not constitute income to the lessor either during the lease term or when the lessor acquires the improvements upon the termination of the lease.

FORM

AGREEMENT made January 2, _____ [year], between Jason Products, Inc., a New York corporation, having its principal office at 100 White Plains Road, White Plains, New York ("Seller"), and Realty Holding Corp., a New York corporation, having its principal office at 600 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York ("Purchaser").

1. Sale. Seller agrees to sell and convey, and Purchaser agrees to purchase, the premises situated on Central Avenue, in the City of White Plains, County of Westchester, State of New York, together with the buildings and improvements to be completed and constructed by the Seller, such premises being more particularly described in the annexed Schedule A initialed by the parties (the "Premises").

2. Liens and encumbrances. The premises are being sold subject to the encumbrances, liens, and exceptions to title enumerated in Schedule A.

3. Purchase price. The purchase price is $600,000, payable as follows:

$60,000 on the signing of this agreement, receipt of which, by check, is acknowledged, subject to collection; and

$540,000 either by check drawn by the grantee named in the deed, on a bank or trust company which is a member of the New York Clearing House, to the direct order of Seller as payee, and duly certified by such bank or trust company, or by an official check of such a bank or trust company to the direct order of Seller, to be delivered against receipt of the deed.

4. Satisfaction of liens at closing. If, at closing of title, the premises are affected by any lien which Seller is required hereunder to discharge or satisfy, Seller shall not be required to discharge or satisfy the lien of record if proper instruments of satisfaction or discharge are delivered to Purchaser at the closing and proper allowance is made to Purchaser for recording charges.

5. Construction of improvement by Seller. Seller shall, at its expense, complete and construct a two-story and basement office and research building on the premises in accordance with the plans and specifications of Jones & Harrison, Architects, which have been initialed by the parties. Such construction shall include all improvements shown on the plans and specifications, and the installation of all fixtures and articles of personal property shown thereon. Seller shall perform the construction and installation with diligence and continuity until completion. All construction and installations, and the buildings and improvements when completed, shall comply with all federal, state, and local laws and regulations, including the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 and all rules and regulations issued thereunder, as well as the orders, rules, and regulations of the New York Board of Fire Underwriters or any other body exercising similar functions. All construction and installation shall be under the supervision of Jones & Harrison, Architects. Construction and installation shall not be deemed completed until the following are delivered to Purchaser:

(a) a certificate of completion by Jones & Harrison, Architects, certifying that the work has been completed in accordance with such plans and specifications, and with all applicable laws, ordinances, orders, rules, regulations, and requirements, and

(b) a Certificate of Occupancy issued by the governmental authorities having jurisdiction over the premises, a certificate of the New York Board of Fire Underwriters, and any other certificate required or customarily issued by any other governmental authority or agency having jurisdiction over the premises.

If the construction and installation is not completed on July 10, ____ [year], Purchaser may either:

(a) Cancel this agreement by giving written notice to Seller. If Purchaser cancels, Seller shall immediately refund to Purchaser the amount paid on account of the purchase price, without interest, and pay Purchaser's net cost of examining the title. This agreement shall then terminate, and neither party shall have any further claim against the other by reason thereof; or

(b) Extend Seller's time for completing the construction and installation, by giving it written notice of the extension. If the construction and installation is not completed at the end of the extended time, Purchaser may either cancel as provided in subdivision (a) or further extend as provided in this subdivision (b).

Seller warrants and represents that the building and improvements on the premises, when completed, their sale to Purchaser, and Seller's use thereof as tenant under the lease will not violate any applicable zoning restrictions or ordinances.

6. Personalty, fixtures, and equipment. No part of the personal property, fixtures, machinery, or equipment used or procured for use in connection with the operation of Seller's business, whether now or later placed on the premises, is included in this sale, regardless of whether such property, etc., can be removed without material damages to the freehold. It is expressly understood and agreed that all the above property, including movable partitions, shall be and remain Seller's property. However, all fixtures and articles of personal property, machinery, and equipment used or procured for use in connection with the operation of the building, now or hereafter placed on the premises, and the heating, lighting, ventilating, plumbing, and any air conditioning systems are represented to be owned by Seller free from all liens and encumbrances and are included in this sale as a part of the realty.

7. Leaseback. Upon closing of title, Seller, as tenant, and Purchaser, or the person or corporation taking title to the premises, as landlord, shall enter into a lease of the premises in the form and containing the same provisions as those set forth in the annexed Schedule B, initialed by the parties, and a short form memorandum of such lease for recording in the form set forth in the annexed Schedule C, initialed by the parties.

8. Street rights. This sale includes all of Seller's right, title, and interest in and to any land lying in the bed of any street, road, or avenue opened or proposed, in front of or adjoining the premises, and in and to any award made or to be made in lieu thereof. Seller will execute and deliver to Purchaser on closing of the title, or thereafter, on demand, all proper instruments for the conveyance of such title and the assignment and collection of any such award. The proceeds of any such award shall, however, be dealt with by Purchaser pursuant to the terms of the lease in the same manner and to the same extent as though Purchaser were now the owner, and Seller the tenant from Purchaser, of the premises under the lease.

9. Deed. Seller shall, upon receipt of the amounts specified in paragraph 3, make, execute, and deliver a good and sufficient deed to convey to Purchaser, or Purchaser's assigns, the fee of the premises, free from all encumbrances, except as herein stated. Such deed shall be a bargain and sale deed in statutory short form for record, and, except as hereinafter stated, shall contain no covenants or warranties, and shall be duly executed and acknowledged by Seller, at Seller's expense. Such deed shall contain the covenant required by subdivision 5 of Section 13 of the Lien Law.

10. Closing. The closing of title shall take place and the deed shall be delivered and the price paid on the 24th day of July, _____ [year] at 11 a.m. at the office of the Seller's attorneys, Messrs. Smith & Ryan, 100 Wall Street, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York. Purchaser may have the title closing advanced to an earlier date if it notifies Seller's attorneys at least five days before such date.

11. Objections to title. Purchaser shall deliver to Seller's attorneys, at least five days before title closing, a statement of all defects, encumbrances, and objections to title, except those to which by the terms of this agreement the premises are to be conveyed subject or which may be expressly waived herein. Seller shall pay all taxes or assessments that are assessed, levied, confirmed, imposed, or become a lien upon the premises or that are due and payable at or before title closing, and shall cure or remove all encumbrances or objections to title arising from Seller's own acts. Seller, however, shall not be under any duty or obligation to cure or remove, or incur any expense to cure or remove, any other defects, encumbrances, or objections to title.

12. Seller's inability to convey good title. If Seller is unable to convey a good and marketable title under this agreement, its sole liability shall be to refund to Purchaser the amount paid on account of the purchase price, without interest, and to pay Purchaser's net cost of examining the title. Upon the Seller's making the refund and payment, this agreement shall terminate, neither party shall have any claim against the other, and any lien of Purchaser against the premises shall wholly cease. Seller shall not be required to bring any action or proceeding, or otherwise to incur any expense or take any steps, to render the title to the premises marketable, except as provided in paragraph 11. Purchaser may, however, accept any title that Seller is able to convey, without reduction of the purchase price or any credit or allowance against the same, and without any other liability of Seller. Purchaser's acceptance of a deed shall be deemed full performance and discharge of all Seller's agreements and obligations hereunder, except those specifically stated herein to survive delivery of the deed. All of Seller's obligations as tenant under the lease shall survive delivery of the deed.

13. Lien for deposit and title expense. All sums paid on account of this agreement and the reasonable cost of title examination are made a lien against the premises. The lien, however, shall not continue after Purchaser's default hereunder or after any termination of this agreement as provided herein.

14. Brokers. The parties agree that Messrs. Gordon & Roth, of 400 Lexington Avenue, New York, New York, are the brokers who brought about this sale. Seller shall pay the brokerage commission, but only upon the conditions and in the amount, with which Purchaser is fully familiar, agreed upon between Seller and Messrs. Gordon and Roth.

15. Notices. All notices under this agreement shall, unless otherwise expressly provided herein, be in writing and be deemed to have been given when mailed by registered or certified mail, postage prepaid, to the other party at the address set forth above, or at the last changed address given by the other party.

16. Departmental violations; Environmental Laws. Seller shall, at or before title closing, comply with all applicable state, local, or municipal laws affecting the premises at the closing date, including zoning ordinances, health codes, multiple dwelling laws, building codes, fire ordinances, and the like. This provision shall survive delivery of the deed. Seller shall furnish Purchaser, at its request, with an authorization to make the necessary searches for the above violations.

Seller warrants that the Premises are in full compliance with all environmental laws, rules and regulations, federal, state and local. Such warranty shall survive the closing and transfer of title.

17. Unpaid assessments for improvements. If, upon delivery of the deed, all or part of the premises are or have been affected by any one or more assessments which are or may become payable in annual installments, of which the first installment is then a lien or charge, or has been paid, for the purposes of this agreement all the unpaid installments of any such assessment, including those that are to become due and payable after the delivery of the deed, shall, if required by the mortgagee from whom Purchaser or its assigns borrows part of the purchase price, be deemed to be due and payable and to be liens upon the premises affected thereby. Seller shall pay and discharge such assessments at or before delivery of the deed. The Westchester County Sewer System taxes shall be excluded from the provisions of this paragraph, and the installments of such taxes not due and payable upon delivery of the deed shall not be assumed by Seller as tenant under the lease.

18. Taxes, assessments, and insurance. The parties shall not apportion any taxes, assessments, or insurance premiums. At or before title closing, Seller shall pay and discharge all taxes, assessments, water charges, and sewer rents that are assessed, levied, confirmed, imposed, or become liens upon the premises or that become due and payable on or before the closing date. In addition, Seller, as tenant under the lease, shall pay all taxes and assessments, water charges, and sewer rents that become liens on or after the closing date. At title closing, Seller shall have in force and deliver to Purchaser all insurance policies required under such lease, and shall cause such policies to be bound for the benefit of the landlord and tenant and the holder of any mortgage upon the premises, as their respective interests appear, in the manner required by the provisions of such lease.

19. Survival of certain provisions. The provisions of paragraphs 5, 8, 16, 17, and 18 shall survive delivery of the deed.

20. Entire agreement; modification. This instrument constitutes the entire agreement between the parties. It may not be changed or terminated except by an agreement duly executed by the parties.

21. Nonwaiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise any right hereunder, and no partial or single exercise of such right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

22. Headings. Headings in this contract are for convenience and reference only and shall not be used to interpret or construe its provisions.

23. Governing law. This agreement shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of New York.

24. Counterparts. This agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

25. Time of essence. Time is of the essence of this agreement.

The parties have caused these presents to be executed in their names and on their behalf by their respective officers the day and year first above written.

Corporate Seal

Attest:

Secretary

Corporate Seal

Attest:

Secretary

Jason Products, Inc.

By _____

President

Realty Holding Corp.

By _____

President

[Acknowledgments]

117 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms
G. SALES AND LEASEBACKS

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.81

FORM 21.81 Sale and leaseback of professional building prior to construction--buyer to participate in construction financing

COMMENT

The sale and leaseback in this form is used as a method of obtaining construction financing. The seller is the developer of the property on which a professional building is to be constructed. The buyer plans to organize a limited partnership to own the fee and will obtain a mortgage for the excess of the purchase price over the assets of the partnership. The buyer will periodically advance sums to the seller in order to finance the construction. The agreement also provides for a long-term leaseback to the seller calling for a minimum rent plus a percentage of the net rentals. The same result is obtained as in a mortgage transaction but the developer-lessee can deduct all of his rental payments and the buyer-lessor, unlike a mortgage lender, can depreciate the building and share in the profits. The nonrecourse obligation under the mortgage to be obtained by the buyer is limited to recourse against the property, the buyer not being personally liable on the mortgage debt. If the mortgage cannot be obtained, the deal will be cancelled and the deposit returned. If the sale is not consummated because of the buyer's fault, the deposit is retained as liquidated damages. If the sale is not consummated because the seller cannot convey good title or complete the construction in time, the buyer may terminate and the seller will be obligated to honor the promissory notes issued by him for the construction advances made by the buyer and is required to return the deposit. If a mortgage is unobtainable or if the seller is unable to obtain a surety bond, the sums advanced by the buyer are to be returned. Interest paid by the seller on the deposit and notes is income to the buyer. For the tax considerations in a sale and leaseback, see The Tax Background § 21.13.

FORM

AGREEMENT made June 1, ____ [year], by and between Benjamin Stone, of 90 Parkside Drive, Stamford, Connecticut ("Seller"), and Alexander Courtney, of 800 Redding Road, Hamden, Connecticut ("Buyer").

Recitals

Seller is the owner of a certain parcel of real property (the "Property"), located in Stamford, Connecticut, adjacent to U.S. Highway 1, containing approximately four acres, as described in the annexed Exhibit A.

Seller intends to erect on the Property a ten-story professional building together with all appurtenances, including parking facilities at a cost of approximately $4 million ("the Building").

Buyer desires to purchase the Property and Building when completed but before its occupancy.

Seller desires to lease the Building from Buyer.

Buyer is willing to participate in the financing of the construction of the Building.

Now therefore, it is mutually agreed as follows:

1. Construction of building; Environmental compliance. Seller will erect or cause the Building to be erected on the Property in accordance with the plans and specifications prepared by Jacobs Associates, Architects, and in full compliance with all applicable building and zoning codes, and with the requirements of the Americans With Disabilities Act of 1990, and all rules and regulations thereunder. The plans and specifications, initialed by the parties and marked Exhibit B, are annexed.

Seller warrants that the Property and Building are in full compliance with all environmental laws, federal, state and local. This warranty shall survive the closing and transfer of title.

2. Sale. The total purchase price for the Property and Building shall be $6 million. Buyer's obligation to purchase is conditioned upon him or his nominees obtaining a first mortgage commitment on the Property and completed Building. The mortgage shall be in the amount of at least $5 million, bearing interest of not more than 8 percent per annum, with the principal and interest payable on a 20-year amortizing basis. Buyer shall pay Seller the balance of the purchase price, $1,000,000, at the times and in the manner set forth below. The Property and Building shall be the only security for the mortgage debt, and neither Buyer nor his nominees or assigns shall have any personal liability for payment of such debt in the event of foreclosure.

3. Failure to obtain mortgage. Buyer shall make all reasonable efforts to obtain the first mortgage described in paragraph 2 upon terms and conditions satisfactory to him, within the limitations of that paragraph. If Buyer is unable to obtain the mortgage by September 29, ____ [year], he may demand that Seller return all monies advanced or paid by Buyer or his nominees under this agreement. Upon such return, this agreement shall terminate and the parties shall be released from all further obligations hereunder.

4. Lease to seller. If Buyer purchases the Property and Building, a lease of both shall be entered into by Buyer or his nominees, as Landlord, and Seller, as Tenant. A copy of the lease, marked Exhibit C, is annexed. The original term of the lease shall be for 20 years, with a renewal option for an additional ten years, at an annual minimum rental of $300,000, payable in advance monthly installments of $25,000 on the first day of each month, commencing on the first day of the month following the date when this sale is consummated. The minimum rental is to be a net rental, and Seller will pay in addition: (a) all taxes and assessments levied against the Property and Building; (b) premiums for fire and extended coverage insurance in an amount sufficient to insure the Building for its value; (c) premiums for comprehensive liability insurance with limits of not less than $500,000/$1,000,000, with Buyer as named insured; (d) the cost of all repairs, replacements, maintenance, decoration, and management of the Property and the Building including the parking area; and (e) all other costs and expenses connected with the Property and Building other than the principal and interest payable on the mortgage. The intent of the parties is that the minimum rental payable by Seller as Tenant shall be net to Buyer or his nominees as Landlord. If Seller designates a nominee as Tenant, Seller shall unconditionally guarantee the faithful performance by such nominee of all the Tenant's obligations under the lease.

5. Additional rent

(a) The lease provides that, in addition to the minimum rent and other charges as set forth in Paragraph 4, Seller as Tenant shall pay to Buyer or his nominees as Landlord, as additional rent, an amount equal to 5 percent of net rentals realized by Seller as prime tenant of the property. The term "net rental" for the purpose of determining the additional rent shall mean "gross rentals" derived from the Building less the amount paid by Seller for the following:

- (1) Leasing commissions, not to exceed 5 percent for offices and 10 percent for stores.
- (2) State, county, local, and school real estate taxes.
- (3) Water and sewer assessments and taxes.
- (4) Assessments for streets, sidewalks, curbs, gutters, or other special improvements, excluding those made on account of the original construction.
- (5) Premiums for any insurance deemed necessary by Seller or required by Buyer or his nominees, but not including insurance covering the operations of Seller or his nominee as occupants of the Building.
- (6) Repairs and maintenance of the exterior of the Building, as well as the cost of lighting, policing, and maintaining of the parking area.
- (7) Repairs and redecoration of vacant offices and stores.

(b) The additional rent provided for in subparagraph (a) above shall be payable on an annual basis within 60 days following the end of each calendar year, the first payment to cover the first complete calendar year plus the months during which the lease was effective before such year. Simultaneously, Seller shall furnish a certified statement to Buyer or his nominees showing the basis for the payment. Seller shall make his books and records available to Buyer, his nominees, or duly authorized representatives at all reasonable hours for the purpose of auditing and verifying the statements submitted by Seller.

6. Deposit and liquidated damages. Upon the execution of this agreement, Buyer will pay $200,000 as a deposit on account of the purchase price of the property, and Seller will pay Buyer interest on such deposit at the rate of 6 percent per annum, payable monthly until the sale is consummated or the deposit is returned. If Buyer refuses or fails to consummate the sale through no fault of Seller, the deposit and any accrued unpaid interest shall be considered as fixed and liquidated damages to be retained by Seller, and thereupon neither party shall have any further liability to the other party. The parties acknowledge that Seller's actual damages would be difficult to ascertain, and that such deposit represents their best estimate of what the actual damages would be upon such default.

7. Advances and escrow

(a) Upon receipt by Buyer of satisfactory evidence that Seller has obtained all necessary licenses and permits to construct the Building, as well as valid and binding bonds issued by sureties acceptable to Buyer guaranteeing completion of construction of the Building and payment of all costs incurred in connection with such construction on or before December 31, ____ [year], Buyer shall deliver an advance of $100,000 to the Stamford National Bank at 11 Main Street, Stamford, Connecticut, as Escrow Agent, an additional advance of $100,000 within 30 days thereafter, and a further advance of $100,000 within 30 days from the second payment. The checks shall be made payable to Seller and delivered by the Escrow Agent to Seller when and as received. Simultaneously with the receipt of each check, Seller will deliver to the Escrow Agent, for transmittal to Buyer, his promissory note for the amount of the check payable to Buyer, bearing interest payable monthly at the rate of 14 percent per year, each of such notes to be dated as of the date of receipt of the check for which it is issued and to fully mature on or before December 31, ____ [year], the date scheduled for completion of the Building.

(b) The delivery of the checks to the Escrow Agent and the transfer to and acceptance by Seller shall constitute a performance guarantee that the construction of the Building will proceed within 30 days of their acceptance by Seller and also constitute a guarantee of the completion of the Building in accordance with the approved plans and specifications. A Builder's Completion Bond shall cover this guarantee and the Surety shall be responsible to Buyer for completion of the Building.

(c) If Seller is not able to obtain a surety bond or necessary permits and licenses as set forth in subparagraph (a) above, by December 31, ____ [year], all moneys advanced or paid by Buyer or its nominees under this agreement shall upon demand be returned to Buyer or its nominees. Upon such return, this agreement shall terminate and the parties be released from all further obligations hereunder.

8. Closing

(a) The closing of title under this agreement shall be on December 31, _____ [year], at 10 a.m. or at an earlier date if the Building has been fully completed.

(b) If for any reason the closing cannot be made by December 31, ____ [year], Seller, as Tenant, shall commence payments to Buyer or his nominees as Landlord, of the minimum rental to be paid under the lease to the same extent as if the lease became effective on January 1, ____ [year], if Buyer or his nominees submit satisfactory evidence to Seller that Buyer or his nominees are ready, willing, and able to consummate the transaction and that the balance of the purchase price is available.

(c) The closing is to be held at the offices of the Escrow Agent. Deposit will be made with the Escrow Agent of the purchase money, the deed of conveyance for execution, and all other documents required of either party under this agreement.

9. Payment of balance of purchase price. Upon the consummation of this sale by the closing of title, all funds advanced by Buyer under paragraph 7 shall be credited against the purchase price of $6 million, and the promissory notes issued by Seller to Buyer shall be cancelled and surrendered to Seller. The $500,000 balance of the purchase price over and above the mortgage, deposit, and advances shall be paid by Buyer or his nominees to Seller at closing. If the date of completion of the Building and closing date are before December 31, ____ [year], Seller shall give Buyer at least 60-days' prior written notice.

10. Title and closing costs. The costs of title examination, title insurance, recording fees, and all other costs, charges, and expenses involved in this transaction shall be borne by Seller.

11. Deed and title. The property is to be sold and conveyed to Buyer or his nominee by a good and valid special warranty deed, free of encumbrances, and title is to be good of record. Otherwise, all sums paid by Buyer or his nominees under this agreement are to be returned and the agreement declared null and void at Buyer's option unless the defects are of such nature as to be readily remediable by legal action. Such legal action must be taken promptly by Seller at his expense.

12. Adjustments at closing. At the closing, all taxes affecting the Property and Building shall be currently paid. There shall be no adjustments of taxes at the closing since Seller, as Tenant under the 20-year lease, has agreed to assume and pay all taxes and assessments.

13. Failure to transfer title. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this agreement, if Seller is unable to transfer title either because of inability to comply with the requirements of paragraph 11, or inability to complete the Building by December 31, ____ [year], and has not obtained a Builder's Completion Bond, Buyer or his nominees may terminate this agreement. Such termination will cancel Seller's lease from the date of termination, and Seller's only obligation will be the payment of the promissory notes given to the Escrow Agent plus any interest due on such notes and the return of the $200,000 deposit to Buyer. Upon notice of termination, the Escrow Agent must turn over the promissory notes to Buyer or his nominees. Seller, however, is not relieved of his obligation to pay all of the expenses enumerated in paragraph 10.

14. Broker. Seller agrees that the broker in this transaction is William Keef Associates, whose compensation Seller will pay under a separate agreement.

15. Risk of loss. The risk of loss or damage to the Building or other casualty is assumed by Seller until the closing.

16. Violations. Seller shall, at his expense, comply with all notices of violations of applicable municipal or other local laws against or affecting the Property or Building at the closing date, and both shall be conveyed free from such violations.

17. Investment by seller. Buyer intends to form a limited partnership which will be the purchaser of the Property and Building. If a limited partnership purchases both at the closing, Seller shall invest $100,000 in the partnership to obtain an interest therein. Such interest shall be of the same class of ownership as all other limited partner interests in the partnership.

18. Entire agreement; modification. This instrument constitutes the entire agreement between the parties. It may not be changed or terminated except by an agreement duly executed by the parties.

19. Nonwaiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise any right hereunder, and no partial or single exercise of such right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

20. Binding effect. This agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of both parties and their respective heirs, legal representatives, successors, and assigns.

21. Notices. All notices hereunder shall be in writing and delivered personally or mailed by certified mail, postage prepaid, addressed to the parties at their last known addresses.

22. Headings. Headings in this agreement are for convenience and reference only and shall not be used to interpret or construe its provisions.

23. Governing law. This agreement shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of Connecticut.

24. Counterparts. This agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

25. Time of essence. Time is of the essence of this agreement.

The parties have duly executed this agreement as of the day and year first above written.

Benjamin Stone

Alexander Courtney

118 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms
G. SALES AND LEASEBACKS

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.82

FORM 21.82 Sale of lease and subleaseback

COMMENT

This form illustrates the application of the sale and leaseback technique to a leasehold interest in improved property. The seller is the owner of a leasehold interest on property which is occupied by various tenants. This leasehold interest is sold to a new owner who in turn enters into a subleasehold with the seller. Thus, the seller (sublessee) will collect rent from the various tenants (as sub-sublessees); the seller will pay rent to the new owner of the leasehold interest (sublessor); and the new owner will pay ground rent to the owner of the fee interest (lessor).

FORM

AGREEMENT made March 28, ____ [year], between Webster-Fisher, Inc., a Delaware corporation, having its principal office in the State of New York at 500 Seventh Avenue, New York, New York ("Seller"), and Charles A. Jonas, residing at 150 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York ("Purchaser").

1. Sale of ground lease. Seller agrees to sell and assign and Purchaser agrees to purchase:

All of Seller's right, title, and interest as Tenant in and to that certain lease (and the leasehold estate created thereby) bearing date the 25th of July, ____ [year], made by Universal Building, Inc., as Landlord, to Seller, or Tenant, the "Ground Lease," which was recorded in the office of the Register of the City of New York in the County of New York on July 25, ____ [year], in Liber 12000 of Conveyances at Page 500.

The Ground Lease covers the following described property:

(Insert description)

Together with all right, title, and interest of Seller, if any, in and to any streets or avenues abutting the premises, and the easements appurtenant to the ownership of such premises.

Together also with all equipment and fixtures of every kind and nature whatsoever owned by Seller and used and procured for use in connection with the operation and maintenance of the building on the premises, including all machinery, engines, furnaces, heaters, boilers, elevators, refrigerators, air conditioning compressors, ducts, units and equipment, heating and hot water systems, pipes, plumbing, wiring, gas, steam, water and electrical fittings, tanks, motors, generators, switchboards, lifting, and ventilating equipment.

Together with all rights of Seller, if any, in and to the use of the name Universal Building.

2. Purchase price. The purchase price is $3,356,000, payable as follows:

(a) $200,000 on the signing of this contract, by check subject to collection, the receipt of which is acknowledged.

(b) $1.35 million by Purchaser taking the Ground Lease subject to the existing Indenture of Mortgage and Deed of Trust dated as of July 25, ____ [year], made by Seller to The National Bank of New York, as Trustee, the "Leasehold Mortgage," recorded in the office of the Register of the City of New York on July 25, ____ [year], in Liber 10512 of Mortgages at page 700 . The Leasehold Mortgage will be a lien on the Ground Lease in the amount of $1.35 million after the payment of principal to be made by Seller on or before July 1, ____ [year], the closing date.

(c) $1.8 million in cash, or good certified check drawn on a bank which is a member of the New York Clearing House Association or check of such a bank, on the execution and delivery of the assignment of the Ground Lease.

3. Liens and encumbrances on ground lease. The Ground Lease is sold subject to:

(a) City of New York zoning and building restrictions and regulations, and all other applicable local laws and regulations.

(b) State of facts shown on survey made by James Harvey dated July 26, ____ [year], and redated June 24, ____ [year], by Harold Walsh, a copy of which Purchaser has examined and initialed, and any subsequent changes in such facts that might be shown by an accurate survey if such changes do not render the title unmarketable.

(c) Franchise taxes, if any, against any corporation in the chain of title, if Title guaranty Company or Home Title Company is willing to insure Purchaser, in connection with any title insurance policy procured by Purchaser, against the collection of any such taxes out of the premises.

(d) All taxes, assessments, sewer rents, and water rents, rates and charges, and governmental impositions and charges, which become due and payable after the closing date.

(e) All notes or notices of violations of applicable municipal or other local laws, including zoning ordinances, health codes, multiple dwelling laws, building codes, fire ordinances, and the like, affecting the premises, or any proceeding relating thereto.

(f) The Leasehold Mortgage.

(g) Existing leases and tenancies.

4. Warranties of Seller. Seller hereby warrants, which warranty shall survive the conveyance of the Ground Lease, as follows:

(a) The Ground Lease and all improvements thereon are in full compliance with all applicable governmental laws, rules and regulations, including the Americans With Disabilities Act of 1990 and the Accessibility Guidelines and rules and regulations issued thereunder; and

(b) The Ground Lease and all improvements thereon are not in violation of any environmental laws, federal, state or local.

5. Sublease to seller. It is a condition of this sale that Purchaser or his assigns, as Tenant under the Ground Lease, and Seller shall enter into a Sublease of the premises in the form annexed as Exhibit 1. Seller, as sublessee, shall execute and deliver to the Trustee under the Leasehold Mortgage, in duplicate, either counterparts of the Sublease or any other instrument required by the Trustee to comply with the provisions of the Leasehold Mortgage.

6. Closing. The assignment of the Ground Lease, and the other instruments to be executed and delivered by Seller, shall be delivered upon receipt of the payment of $1.8 million specified above, at 10 a.m. on July 2, ____ [year], at the office of Webster-Fisher, Inc., 500 Seventh Avenue, New York, New York. Such closing shall be deemed to take place as of July 1, ____ [year], which date (or the first day of the month in which any adjourned closing shall take place, as the case may be) is the closing date. No apportionments or adjustments shall be made or required. Seller shall make on or before the closing date all payments of interest and principal amortization required under the Leasehold Mortgage to and including the closing date. Seller shall produce an estoppel letter from The National Bank of New York, as Trustee, or other satisfactory evidence of the making of all such payments, and showing the unpaid principal balance due under the Leasehold Mortgage as a result of having made such payments.

7. Adjournment of closing. Purchaser may adjourn the closing to August 1, ____ [year]. If the closing is adjourned, the purchase price shall be reduced by the amount Seller is required to pay in reduction of the unpaid principal balance due under the Leasehold Mortgage. In addition, the term of the Sublease shall commence on the adjourned closing date, the Sublease shall be dated as of such date, and the month or months preceding the commencement of the term and the rents stipulated therefore in Schedule A attached to the Sublease shall be eliminated from such schedule.

8. Form and condition of assignment of lease. The assignment of the Ground Lease shall be in the form annexed as Exhibit 2, or any variation required by the Trustee under the Leasehold Mortgage, and shall be duly executed and acknowledged in triplicate by both parties so as to transfer the Ground Lease to the assignee, free of all encumbrances, except as herein stated, and so as to impose on the assignee, the obligations of the Tenant under the Ground Lease and of the mortgagor under the Leasehold Mortgage to the extent required by such instruments. Seller will take all steps necessary under the Leasehold Mortgage to comply with its provisions relating to such assignment of the Ground Lease, and this provision shall survive the closing.

9. Fire or other casualty. The parties waive the provisions of Section 5-1311 of the General Obligations Law and agree that if, before the closing, the premises is damaged by fire or other casualty and the loss does not exceed $200,000, or is partially taken by eminent domain, the parties' rights shall be the same as if the casualty had occurred on the first day of the term of the Sublease. If the loss exceeds $200,000, Purchaser may terminate this contract by giving Seller written notice within 30 days after the casualty occurs. Upon such termination, Seller shall return to Purchaser the $200,000 paid to Seller on the signing hereof, this contract shall be null and void, and neither party shall have any further claim against the other hereunder. If Purchaser does not elect to cancel this contract, the parties' rights shall be the same as if the casualty had occurred on the first day of the term of the Sublease.

10. Insurance. Seller shall maintain in full force and effect until the closing all insurance carried by it as required by the terms of the Ground Lease.

11. Failure of good title. If Seller, because of unmarketability of title or otherwise, cannot deliver title to the Ground Lease in accordance with the terms of this contract, and Purchaser rejects whatever title Seller can give, Seller will return to Purchaser the $200,000 Purchaser paid on the execution and delivery hereof. In addition, Seller will reimburse Purchaser the reasonable expenses incurred for title examination, such expenses not to exceed the customary net charges of title companies which are members of The New York Board of Title Underwriters. Thereupon, this contract shall become null and void and neither party shall have any claim against the other hereunder.

12. Default by purchaser. In the event of a default by Purchaser or his assigns, Seller's rights and remedies shall be limited to the retention by Seller as liquidated damages of the $200,000 paid by Purchaser upon the execution hereof, and Purchaser shall be deemed released of any further obligation hereunder. The parties represent that said sum represents their best estimate of the actual damages to Seller which would be difficult to ascertain.

13. Representations as to broker. Each party represents to the other that no broker had any part in bringing about this transaction, or has been consulted by, or has approached such party in connection therewith.

14. Additional data. Seller shall make available to Purchaser all documents or copies thereof pertaining to the premises and its operation, including information as to income and expenses, required by the Securities and Exchange Commission in connection with any registration statement or prospectus that Purchaser desires to file with the Commission in connection with this transaction.

15. Seller's representation and warranty. Seller represents that, upon the execution and delivery of the assignment of the Ground Lease, the Ground Lease will be in full force and effect as a valid and subsisting lease. On the closing date, Seller will warrant that it has had no notice from the Landlord under the Ground Lease, nor is it aware, of any existing default by Tenant under the Ground Lease. The foregoing representation and warranty shall survive the closing of this transaction.

16. Modification of ground lease. So long as Purchaser is not in default hereunder, Seller shall not change, amend, or modify the Ground Lease or the Leasehold Mortgage without Purchaser's written consent.

17. Assignment. Purchaser may assign this contract provided that Seller is given written notice thereof at least five days prior to the closing date.

18. Entire agreement; modification. This contract constitutes the entire agreement between the parties. It may not be changed or terminated except by an agreement duly executed by the parties.

19. Notices. All notices hereunder shall, unless otherwise expressly provided herein, be in writing and be deemed to have been given when mailed by registered or certified mail, postage prepaid, if by Purchaser, to Seller at its address stated above, and if by Seller, to Purchaser, c/o James & Harrison, Esqs., 200 Madison Avenue, New York, New York.

20. Binding effect. This contract shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of both parties and their respective heirs, legal representatives, successors, and assigns.

21. Nonwaiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise any right hereunder, and no partial or single exercise of such right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

22. Headings. Headings in this contract are for convenience and reference only and shall not be used to interpret or construe its provisions.

23. Governing law. This agreement shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of New York.

24. Counterparts. This contract may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

25. Time of essence. Time is of the essence of this agreement.

The parties have duly executed this agreement the day and year first above written.

Corporate Seal

Attest:

Webster-Fisher, Inc.

Secretary

By _____
President

Purchaser

119 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms
G. SALES AND LEASEBACKS

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.83

FORM 21.83 Sale and leaseback with purchase money second mortgage--mortgage assigned by seller to purchaser as security for seller's obligations under lease

COMMENT

In this sale and leaseback transaction the new owner will pay the purchase price by taking title subject to an existing first mortgage, by cash, and by a promissory note secured by a purchase money second mortgage. As part of the transaction, however, the seller is required to assign the purchase money note and mortgage back to the purchaser as collateral security for the seller's obligations as tenant under the leaseback. In effect, therefore, the purchase money mortgage will serve as security for both parties. If the rent is paid by the seller, the purchaser will pay his mortgage debt. If the rent is not paid by the seller, the mortgage debt will serve to reduce the damages sustained by the purchaser as landlord under the lease to the seller.

FORM

AGREEMENT made October 6, ____ [year], by and between Graham Baker and Marian Baker, his wife, as joint tenants ("Sellers"), and David T. Cowin ("Buyer").

1. Sale. Sellers agree to sell to Buyer, and Buyer agrees to buy from Sellers, the following described real estate, commonly known and referred to as Garden City Apartments, 1000 Maple Avenue, West Sacramento, California, together with all improvements thereon and personal property owned by Sellers and now situated thereon, situate in Yolo County, State of California:

(Insert description)

The premises shall be conveyed subject to matters set forth in items one through eight in the preliminary title report for a policy of title insurance issued by the Mountain States Title Guaranty Company, Yolo County Division, and subject to existing leases and tenancies.

2. Purchase price. The purchase price for the premises shall be $2 million, which Buyer shall pay as follows:

(a) $30,000 at the signing of this agreement, which amount has been deposited with the Pacific Title Guaranty Company, Sacramento, California, Escrow Agent.

(b) $570,000 shall be deposited by Buyer with the Escrow Agent on or before the closing date.

(c) $930,000 by the acceptance of title by Buyer subject to a First Deed of Trust constituting a lien against the premises in such aggregate unpaid principal balance.

(d) The balance shall be paid by the delivery to Sellers of a promissory note in the amount of $470,000. The note shall bear interest, from the date of the payment and discharge of the presently existing First Deed of Trust, of 8 percent per annum and shall provide for quarter-annual amortization payments of $35,623.20 per annum, the first quarter-annual installment of amortization becoming due 90 days after the payment and discharge of the presently existing First Deed of Trust. Interest shall be payable quarter-annually with each installment of amortization, computed on unpaid balances of principal. The promissory note shall be secured by a Second Deed of Trust against the premises and such note and Second Deed of Trust shall be in the forms annexed as Schedule A.

3. Consent of trust holder to sale. Sellers shall deliver to Buyer within ten days of the date hereof a consent from the holder of the First Deed of Trust to the sale of the premises to Buyer or his assigns. Such consent shall waive all rights of the holder of such deed of trust to accelerate the unpaid principal balance upon any sale of the premises. Sellers shall also secure within such period the removal of the matters listed as items nine and ten on the preliminary title report issued by the Mountain States Title Guaranty Company.

4. Sellers' representations. To induce Buyer to enter into this agreement, Sellers make the following representations, covenants, and warranties, all of which shall be true at and survive the closing:

(a) The attached Schedule B is a true and accurate schedule of leases, tenancies, and rentals presently being collected by Sellers; there are no rents prepaid for more than one month in advance; and no tenant has been granted any rent-free occupancy. All decorating and alteration work which Sellers are obligated on or before the closing date to perform for any tenant has been performed or will be performed before the closing date.

(b) The attached Schedule C is a true and accurate schedule of insurance carried on the premises. Such insurance shall not be increased between the date hereof and the closing date. Sellers have complied with all notices and requests from the insurance companies issuing such policies. Sellers shall comply with all such notices and requests received before the closing date or, in the alternative, will obviate the need for compliance.

(c) The attached Schedule D is a true and accurate payroll record of Sellers for the period indicated.

(d) All maintenance or other contracts (exclusive of leases and tenancy agreements) affecting the premises are either terminable at will or on not more than 60 days' notice.

(e) Sellers have performed all work with respect to the premises required by the holder of the First Deed of Trust at the date hereof.

(f) The buildings located upon the premises conformed at the date of construction to all of the requirements of applicable zoning ordinances, and a permit for the construction of such buildings was duly granted, and are in full compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 ("ADA") and the Accessibility Guidelines and rules and regulations issued thereunder. No changes or alterations have been made to such buildings since their completion which would render them in violation of the applicable zoning ordinances. Sellers have no knowledge of any violation or alleged violation of any applicable building code, fire regulation, or other governmental order or regulation, including the ADA and all rules and regulations issued thereunder, and Sellers will cure before the closing date (or as soon thereafter as the same reasonably can be cured, and the closing date shall be adjourned until the same is cured) all violations of which Sellers receive written notice before the closing date from any competent governmental authority.

(g) All apartments contained in the premises are furnished with the items of personal property listed on the annexed Schedule E, and all of such personal property is included in this sale. All of such personal property is owned by Sellers free and clear of all liens other than the liens of the existing First Deed of Trust and the Security Interests given by Sellers in connection with such First Deed of Trust.

(h) There is no existing default under the First Deed of Trust or the Security Interests given in connection with such First Deed of Trust. The attached Schedule F is a true and accurate schedule showing the balance of principal due on the First Deed of Trust as of October 1, ____ [year], the interest rate, the monthly payments of interest and amortization, and the maturity date.

(i) The cost of all utilities (gas, electric, water, and sewer service) incurred in the operation of the premises for the calendar year ____ [year] did not exceed $44,500. The cost of real and personal property taxes and licenses for such calendar year did not exceed $40,100.

(j) All of the lots which comprise the premises make up one contiguous parcel. The streets on which the premises abut are legally dedicated public streets. All utilities which enter the premises enter through publicly dedicated streets or if over private lands, enter by virtue of valid easements. Each of the buildings erected on the premises is totally within the boundary lines of the lands being conveyed and do not violate any restrictions. There are no encroachments upon the premises.

(k) The premises, land and building are in full compliance with all environmental laws, federal, state and local.

5. Deed. Title shall be conveyed by Sellers on the closing date by general warranty deed duly executed and acknowledged conveying to Buyer a fee simple title to the premises free and clear of all liens and encumbrances except as herein provided. The purchase money promissory note and the accompanying Second Deed of Trust properly executed shall be delivered to the Escrow Agent concurrently with the deposit by Buyer of the portion of the purchase price due on or before the closing date. Title to the personal property shall be conveyed by bill of sale with affidavit of title, subject only to the Security Interests referred to herein.

6. Title policy. Sellers shall deliver to Buyer a standard form Owner's Title Insurance Policy in ATA form, in the amount of $2 million from the Mountain States Title Insurance Company insuring a good and marketable fee simple title in Buyer, except only as herein set forth. Sellers and Buyer shall each pay one half of the cost of such policy.

7. Leaseback. This transaction is subject to the condition that upon the closing of title Buyer shall grant to Sellers a lease of the entire premises in the form annexed as Schedule G and Sellers shall execute such lease as tenants. The execution and delivery of such lease shall take place at the offices of the Escrow Agent and duplicate originals of such executed lease shall be delivered to the Escrow Agent for redelivery to Sellers and Buyer after recordation of the deed and Second Deed of Trust.

8. Fire or other casualty. If before delivery of the deed, damage occurs to the improvements on the premises by fire or any other casualty which would cost more than $30,000 to repair, and such repair is not completed on or before the closing date, Buyer may cancel this agreement, in which event all moneys deposited hereunder shall be returned by Sellers to Buyer.

9. Purchase money deed of trust as collateral under leaseback. Notwithstanding any contrary provision herein, Sellers shall at the closing of title assign to Buyer as landlord under the lease referred to in paragraph 7 the purchase money promissory note and the accompanying Second Deed of Trust which are to be held by Buyer as landlord as security for the performance of Sellers' obligations as tenants under such lease, all as provided for in paragraph 21 of such lease.

10. Closing. The closing of title shall take place on December 6, ____ [year], at 10 a.m., or on any other date the parties agree upon. Such closing shall be held at the offices of the Mountain States Title Guaranty Company, Sacramento, California.

11. Broker. Sellers shall pay a brokerage commission to Grayson & Company, Sacramento, California, in accordance with a separate agreement. Buyer represents that no other broker was responsible for this transaction.

12. Entire agreement; modification. This instrument constitutes the entire agreement between the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof. Buyer acknowledges that Sellers have made no representations or warranties concerning this agreement or its subject matter, or the condition of the improvements upon the premises, except to the extent expressly set forth herein. This agreement may not be changed or terminated except by an agreement duly executed by both parties.

13. Notices. All notices hereunder shall be in writing and be deemed to have been delivered for all purposes upon the second business day following the date upon which such notice was deposited in the United States mail in the State of California, by registered or certified mail, postage prepaid, if to Buyer, c/o Harris & Patton, 200 Park Avenue, Sacramento, California, and if to Sellers, c/o Boone & Smith, 100 H Street, Sacramento, California.

14. Default by buyer. If Buyer defaults in making any payment or performing any other covenant hereunder, all monies previously paid or deposited hereunder by Buyer shall be paid over to and retained by Sellers as liquidated damages, the agreement shall be deemed cancelled, and neither party shall have any further claim against the other.

15. Assignment. Buyer may assign this agreement. Upon Sellers' receipt of written notification of such assignment, Buyer shall be relieved of all future liability hereunder, and the assignee shall execute the purchase money promissory note and the accompanying Second Deed of Trust to be given at the closing, as well as all other closing documents.

16. Binding effect. This agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of both parties and their respective heirs, legal representatives, and assigns.

17. Nonwaiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise any right hereunder, and no partial or single exercise of any such right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

18. Headings. Headings in this agreement are for convenience and reference only and shall not be used to interpret or construe its provisions.

19. Governing law. This agreement shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of California.

20. Counterparts. This agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

21. Time of essence. Time is of the essence of this agreement.

The parties have caused the execution hereof on the day and year first above written.

Sellers:

Graham Baker

Marian Baker

Buyer:

David T. Cowin

[Acknowledgments]

120 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms
G. SALES AND LEASEBACKS

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.84

FORM 21.84 Sale of property acquired in sale and leaseback transaction--second mortgage as security for rental obligations of lessee

COMMENT

In this form the property was originally acquired by the present owner in a sale and leaseback transaction. In the earlier transaction, the purchase money second mortgage given by the present owner as part consideration for the acquisition was also set up as collateral security by the former owner for the lease given to him. In this transaction, the present owner is selling his interest in the fee for cash, subject to the lease to the former owner, subject to a first mortgage, and subject to the purchase money second mortgage previously given by the present owner. The new purchaser as owner of the fee will, of course, have the benefit of the special provision in the second mortgage which states that no owner need make any payments of principal or interest unless the rent and other charges due under the lease are paid. Thus, the lessee (the original seller in the sale and leaseback transaction) will continue to receive payments on the mortgage debt only if the lease requirements are fulfilled.

As to the tax considerations in a sale and leaseback, see The Tax Background § 21.13.

FORM

AGREEMENT made March 26, ____ [year], between Garden City Corporation, a New York corporation, having its office at 500 Fifth Avenue, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York ("Seller"), and Dawson Realty Company, a New York limited partnership, having an office at 100 Fourth Avenue, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York ("Purchaser").

1. Sale. Seller agrees to sell and convey to Purchaser, and Purchaser agrees to purchase all those certain pieces or parcels of land, with the buildings and improvements thereon, in Bayshore, County of Suffolk, State of New York, as more particularly bounded and described in Schedule A annexed hereto.

2. Purchase price. The purchase price is $4 million, payable as follows:

(a) $1.2 million by the Purchaser taking title subject to a first mortgage in that amount. The mortgage shall be for a term of 15 years and four months from the date of closing, and shall provide for constant monthly installments of principal and interest, each for $10,000, commencing one month from the date of closing, and continuing each and every month thereafter until the entire principal sum of $1.2 million has been fully paid. Each payment shall be applied first to interest at the rate of 8 percent per annum and the balance against the principal amount. Such mortgage may require that the lease to General Products Corporation, as tenant, be assigned to the mortgagee as further collateral security.

(b) $1.15 million by Purchaser taking title subject to a second mortgage in that amount. The mortgage shall provide for constant monthly installments of principal and interest, each for $6,000, until fully paid. Each payment shall be applied and paid first to interest accrued on the principal sum outstanding to the date of payment at the rate of 10 percent per annum and the balance to reduction of the principal amount. Copies of such mortgage and the note it secures have been exhibited to Purchaser which agrees to take title subject to all the terms and conditions thereof.

(c) $1.65 million, of which $200,000 has previously been paid by Purchaser, receipt of which is acknowledged by Seller, the balance of $1.45 million to be paid in cash or by good certified check, drawn on a New York City Clearing House bank, on the delivery of the deed.

3. Liens and encumbrances. The premises are sold subject to:

(a) The net lease between the Garden City Corporation, as the Landlord, and the General Products Corporation, as the Tenant, the "Lease," as set forth in Exhibit 1 annexed hereto. Seller warrants and represents that the Lease is in full force and effect and has not been modified or changed and will not be modified or changed by Seller.

(b) The state of facts shown on a survey made by Payson T. Williams, Licensed Professional Engineer and Land Surveyor, dated November 10, 1990, and to any change in the physical condition since the date thereof, provided any such change does not render title unmarketable.

(c) Covenants and restrictions of record.

(d) Unpaid license fees and franchise tax due by the General Products Corporation, if the Guarantee Title Insurance Company will insure against collection of the same out of the premises described in Schedule A.

(e) Zoning regulations and ordinances of the city, town, or village in which the premises lie which are not violated by existing structures or the use thereof.

(f) All taxes, water charges, and other assessments, ordinary or extraordinary, owing and unpaid as of the date of the closing of title, but subject, nevertheless, to the obligations of the General Products Corporation, as the Tenant, under the Lease, to pay the same.

(g) All notes or notices of violations of applicable municipal or other local laws, including zoning ordinances, health codes, multiple dwelling laws, building codes, fire ordinances, and the like, against or affecting the premises described in Schedule A as of the date of the delivery of the deed, but subject, nevertheless, to the obligation of the General

Products Corporation to comply with the same under the Lease.

4. Warranties of Seller. Seller warrants that the premises are in compliance with all applicable environmental laws, rules and regulations, federal, state and local, and with the Americans With Disabilities Act of 1990 and all rules and regulations issued thereunder.

5. Placing first mortgage. Seller has advised Purchaser that the first mortgage described in paragraph 2(a) of this contract is not in existence at the date hereof. Seller undertakes and agrees that at the time of the closing of this transaction such mortgage will be in existence, and that it will bear all costs and expenses incurred in connection with placing such mortgage.

6. Limitation in second mortgage. Seller warrants and represents to Purchaser that the second mortgage described in paragraph 2(b) of this contract includes the following provision: "The parties agree that neither the mortgagor nor any subsequent owner of the premises shall be required to pay any installment of principal and interest due under this mortgage, or the note which it secures, unless the rent and other charges due under the Lease for the corresponding month or months have been paid to the Landlord. If the Lease is terminated because of the Tenant's default, this mortgage, and the note that it secures, shall be deemed cancelled. In that event, General Products Corporation, or any subsequent owner and holder of this mortgage and the note that it secures, shall execute and deliver all further instruments necessary to carry out the provisions hereof, including the discharge, cancellation, or release of this mortgage. The cancellation of the mortgage referred to herein shall be self-operative and the owner and holder of this mortgage, and the note secured by it, covenants and agrees to appoint the mortgagor or any subsequent owner of the mortgaged premises its attorney-in-fact to execute the satisfaction, cancellation, discharge, or release of this mortgage if the same is required. The foregoing shall not be deemed in derogation of any other rights or remedies permitted the mortgagor by law."

7. Documents to be delivered by seller. At the time of the closing, Seller shall deliver to Purchaser the following documents:

(a) The net Lease between the Garden City Corporation, as the Landlord, and the General Products Corporation, as the Tenant, as set forth in Exhibit 1 annexed hereto, together with an assignment of such Lease to Purchaser.

(b) A certified copy of the resolution adopted by the General Products Corporation authorizing, among other things, the execution and delivery of the Lease.

(c) Opinion letter of Harris, Walker & Simpson, counsel for General Products Corporation, in respect of the execution and delivery of the Lease by General Products Corporation.

The originals of the instruments referred to in (a) to (c) inclusive have been exhibited to and initialed by Purchaser.

8. Prorations. There shall be no adjustments or apportionments between the parties at the time of the closing, except:

(a) Rent under the Lease shall be adjusted as of the date of the closing for the month of such closing.

(b) Interest on the second mortgage described in paragraph 2(b) of this contract shall be adjusted as of the date of the closing.

9. Default by seller. If Seller defaults under this contract, it shall refund to Purchaser all monies paid by Purchaser, after which neither party shall have any further claim against the other hereunder.

10. Default by purchaser. If Purchaser defaults under this contract, Seller may cancel it by giving written notice to Purchaser and refunding all payments received from Purchaser, whereupon neither party shall have any further claim against the other hereunder.

11. Deed. The deed shall be the usual bargain and sale deed, with covenants against grantor's acts, in proper statutory form for record, and shall be duly executed and acknowledged and have revenue stamps in the proper amount affixed thereto by Seller, at Seller's expense, so as to convey to Purchaser the fee simple of the premises described in Schedule A, free from all encumbrances except as herein stated, and shall also contain the covenant required by Subdivision 5 of Section 13 of the Lien Law.

12. Closing. The deed shall be delivered, upon receipt of the payments provided for herein, at the office of Bailey & Dawes, 100 Main Street, Bayshore, Long Island, at 10 a.m., on June 15, ____ [year], or at any earlier date agreed upon by the parties.

13. Broker. Both parties represent that no broker brought about this sale, and that this sale was negotiated solely between the principals without the intervention of any broker.

14. Entire agreement; modification. This instrument constitutes the entire agreement between the parties. It may not be changed or terminated except by an agreement duly executed by both parties.

15. Notices. All notices hereunder shall, unless otherwise expressly provided herein, be in writing and be deemed to have been given when mailed by registered or certified mail, postage prepaid, to the other party at the address set forth above, or at the last changed address given by the other party.

16. Binding effect. This contract shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of both parties and their respective heirs, legal representatives, successors, and assigns.

17. Nonwaiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise any right hereunder, and no partial or single exercise of any such right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

18. Governing law. This contract shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of New York.

19. Counterparts. This contract may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

20. Time of essence. Time is of the essence of this contract.

The parties have duly executed this contract.

Attest:

Secretary

Dawson Realty Company

By _____
General Partner

Garden City Corporation

By _____
President

[Acknowledgments]

121 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms
G. SALES AND LEASEBACKS

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.85

FORM 21.85 Sale and leaseback with purchase money second mortgage--mortgage as security for seller's obligations under lease--provision for division between purchaser and seller of proceeds of refinancing first mortgage

COMMENT

In this agreement payment of that part of the purchase price represented by a purchase money second mortgage is conditioned upon the fulfillment by the seller of his obligations under the leaseback. In this case, the note and purchase money second mortgage and a blank assignment are to be held in escrow by one of the attorneys. Interest payments on the note are to be made to the seller while the note is on deposit with the escrow agent. If the seller is evicted from the premises by reason of his default under the lease, the purchaser may elect to declare the mortgage debt satisfied or may sell the note. In the latter case the seller will receive the proceeds in excess of the amount necessary to satisfy delinquencies under the lease.

The leaseback in this form requires the payment not only of a fixed rent, but also of a percentage of gross rentals received from tenants in excess of a specified amount. Thus, the purchaser has an interest in any possible increase in rental values during the lease term. On the other hand, the seller has retained an interest in the equity in the property, because the agreement permits either purchaser or seller to arrange for the refinancing of the first mortgage. The proceeds from such a refinancing will first be paid to the seller in satisfaction of the second mortgage obligation. Any excess amounts are to be divided between the seller and the purchaser. Proceeds from the refinancing received by the seller in excess of the tax basis of the mortgage would be reportable as income in the year received, with the same character as capital gain or ordinary income as the gain reported upon the original sale. The purchaser's tax basis would not be affected by the mortgage refinancing, except to the extent of the amount paid to the seller in excess of the amount of the purchase money mortgage.

FORM

AGREEMENT made December 15, _____ [year], between 185 Broadway Corporation, a New York corporation, with its principal place of business at 100 William Street, New York, New York ("Seller"), and Berrens Realty Corp., a New York corporation, with its principal office at 10 West 40th Street, New York, New York ("Purchaser").

1. Sale. Seller agrees to sell and convey, and Purchaser agrees to purchase,

ALL that certain plot, piece or parcel of land, with the buildings and improvements thereon erected, situate, lying, and being in the Borough of Manhattan, City, County, and State of New York, bounded and described as follows:

(Insert description)

The sale includes all of the following:

(a) Strips and gores of land adjoining or abutting the premises.

(b) Any agreement, privilege, and rights of way contiguous or adjacent to the premises, and all the easements, if any, inuring to the benefit of the fee owners thereof.

(c) Appurtenances belonging to or in any way relating to the premises, and right, title, and interest in and to vaults, if any, under the sidewalks or streets abutting the premises.

2. Survey, restrictions, and tenancies. The premises are sold subject to the following:

(a) Any state of facts shown by an accurate survey, if such facts do not render title unmarketable.

(b) Covenants, easements, and restrictions of record, if they do not prohibit the maintenance of the present structure on the premises and the use thereof. Seller represents that it has not created any covenants, easements, or restrictions which may now or hereafter affect the premises.

(c) Zoning regulations and ordinances of the city, town, or village in which the premises lie which are not violated by existing structures.

(d) Rights under existing leases and tenancies as per attached schedule, and under any new leases or extensions of old leases made between the date hereof and the date of title closing, if such new leases or extensions are made at the established market rentals.

3. Purchase price. The purchase price is $3.25 million, payable as follows:

(a) $70,000 on the signing of this contract, by check subject to collection, receipt of which is acknowledged.

(b) $560,000 by bank, cashier's, or good certified check to the direct order of Seller, as payee, on a New York City clearing house bank, on delivery of the deed.

(c) $1.82 million by taking title subject to a first mortgage now a lien on the premises in that reduced amount, bearing interest at the rate of 8 percent per annum, and payable in quarter annual installments of $48,750 on the 1st days of February, May, August, and November in each and every year, to and including August 1, ____ [year]; and in quarter annual installments of $52,500 on November 1, ____ [year], and quarter-annually thereafter on the 1st days of February, May, August, and November in each and every year to and including May 1, ____ [year]; and the balance on August 1, ____ [year]. Each such quarter-annual payment shall be applied first towards the payment of interest on the unpaid principal amount, computed at the rate of 8 percent per annum and the balance in reduction of the principal of such mortgage. Purchaser's attorney has examined and initialed a copy of the mortgage. Seller shall make all amortization payments required by such mortgage and accompanying note to the date title closing without credit or allowance. All such payments shall have the effect of reducing the purchase price for the premises to the extent of such reduction. Seller represents and warrants that it is not in default under this mortgage, and that it has complied with each term and provision thereof.

(d) $800,000 by Purchaser or its assigns executing, acknowledging, and delivering to Seller, a note satisfactory to Seller, secured by a purchase money second mortgage, on the premises, in that amount, which shall become due 25 years from the date of title closing, together with interest at the rate of 10 percent per annum. Interest shall be payable one month from the date of the closing of title and monthly thereafter to maturity. The mortgagor, or any owner of the premises, may prepay all or any part of the principal in multiples of $1,000, on any interest payment date, upon giving to the holder of the mortgage at least 30-days' prior written notice. Such mortgage shall contain the following provision:

"The mortgagee will look solely to the property covered by this mortgage for the payment and satisfaction of the principal amount and the interest and will seek no personal or deficiency judgment against the mortgagor. Nothing herein contained, however, shall in any way affect or impair the lien of this mortgage."

Such note and mortgage shall be drawn on the standard forms of the New York Board of Title Underwriters for mortgages of like lien; and shall be drawn by Seller's attorney at the expense of Purchaser, who shall also pay the mortgage recording tax and recording fees. Such mortgage shall also contain the additional provisions set forth below.

4. Apportionments. The following are to be apportioned as of the closing date:

- (a) Interest on the first mortgage.
- (b) All rents, as per attached rent roll.
- (c) Premiums on existing transferable insurance policies, as per attached schedule.
- (d) Taxes, sewer rents, electricity, submeters, and water charges. If title closing occurs before the tax rate is fixed, the apportionment of taxes shall be upon the basis of the tax rate for the next preceding year applied to the latest assessed valuation.
- (e) Fuel, if any.
- (f) Supplies unopened and unused.
- (g) Union benefits, vacation pay, and employees' salaries, as per attached schedule.
- (h) Service contracts, as per attached schedule.
- (i) All other items customarily apportioned in transactions of this type.

5. Assessments. If, when the deed is delivered, all or part of the premises is or has been affected by an assessment or assessments which are or may become payable in annual installments, of which the first installment is then a charge or lien, or has been paid, for the purposes of this contract all the unpaid installments of any such assessment, including those which are to become due and payable after delivery of the deed, shall be deemed to be due and payable and to be liens upon the premises affected thereby and shall be paid and discharged by Seller, upon delivery of the deed.

6. Leaseback. It is a condition of this contract and sale that at the time of title closing Purchaser, as landlord, and Seller, as tenant, will enter into a lease of the premises upon terms and conditions set forth herein and in the form of the proposed annexed lease. The provisions of this contract and such proposed lease are intended to operate so that they shall form and be read as a single agreement.

7. Departmental violations. Purchaser shall take title subject to all governmental violations against the premises, if Seller, as tenant under the lease to be executed contemporaneously with the closing of title, complies with the provisions of such lease governing the violations and, in addition, deposits with Purchaser at the closing any amount required to insure that the violations are removed within a reasonable time thereafter. Seller warrants that it has no knowledge of any violations that cannot be removed by the expenditure of nominal amounts of money, including violations of environmental laws, rules and regulations and with the Americans With Disabilities Act of 1990, and all rules and regulations issued thereunder. This provision and warranty shall survive delivery of the deed.

8. Fixtures and personal property. All plumbing, heating, lighting, and other fixtures and articles of personal property (except portable lamps and other articles and fixtures belonging to tenants) attached or appurtenant to, or used in connection with the operation of the premises, are represented to be owned by Seller, and to the extent that the same are located on the premises at the time of delivery of the deed, are included in this sale. Seller shall not remove any such articles of personal property unless such removal is due to obsolescence or for the purpose of making repairs. All articles of personal property owned by Seller are free and clear of liens and encumbrances. This provision shall survive delivery of the deed.

9. Unpaid franchise taxes. Unpaid franchise taxes or unfiled reports of Seller or any other corporation in the chain of title shall be no objection to title if Seller leaves a reasonable deposit with its attorney or the title company, in escrow, to secure the filing of reports, the payment of any unpaid franchise taxes, and the issuance of necessary releases within 90 days from date of closing title, and the title company insures against the collection of such items from the premises. This provision shall survive delivery of the deed.

10. Condition of premises. Seller has not made and does not make any warranties or representations as to the physical condition, income, expenses, or other matter or thing affecting or relating to the premises, except as herein specifically set forth. Purchaser shall take the premises "as is." Seller is not liable or bound in any manner by any verbal or written statements, representations, real estate brokers' "set-ups," or information pertaining to the premises, furnished by any real estate broker, agent, employee, or other person, unless the same are specifically set forth herein.

11. Defects in title. Not less than ten days before the closing date, Purchaser shall give written notice to Seller's attorney of any defects or objections to marketability of title, or objections of any kind, separately specifying and setting forth in detail each such defect or objection. If Seller is unable to convey a good and marketable title, in accordance with this contract, Purchaser may either accept any title Seller is able to convey without any reduction or abatement of the purchase price, or rescind this contract. If Purchaser elects to rescind, Seller's sole obligation shall be to refund any deposits made by Purchaser, together with the cost of any survey made by Purchaser and the net cost of title examination. (The term "net cost of title examination" means the expenses actually incurred by Purchaser for title examination, but in no event to exceed the net amount that a title company in the City of New York would charge without issuance of policy.) As soon as such refund and reimbursement is made, this contract shall terminate, neither party shall have any further claim against the other, and any lien of Purchaser against the premises shall wholly cease. Nothing contained herein, however, shall require Seller to bring any action or proceeding, or otherwise to incur any expense, in order to render title to the premises marketable. Acceptance of a deed by Purchaser shall be deemed a full performance and discharge of all of Seller's agreements and obligations hereunder, except those stated to survive delivery of the deed.

12. Deed. The deed shall be a bargain and sale deed with covenants against grantor's acts in proper statutory short form for record, be duly executed and acknowledged, and contain the covenant required by subdivision (5) of Section 13 of the Lien Law, so as to convey to Purchaser the fee simple of the premises free from any encumbrances except as herein stated. Seller shall pay the New York City real property transfer tax by delivering a certified check in that amount to the title company representative at the time of closing.

13. Default by purchaser. In consideration of Purchaser depositing $70,000 with Seller upon the execution and delivery of this contract, Seller shall, if Purchaser defaults in complying with the terms hereof, look solely to such amount, which will be deemed to be the liquidated damages to Seller caused by such default. Said sum represents their best estimate of what the actual damages would be if Purchaser defaults, which damages would be difficult to ascertain. Purchaser shall not look to Seller, by specific performance or otherwise, for any damages or other claim with respect to any such default.

14. Broker. Purchaser warrants and represents, and the price of the premises has been adjusted by reason of this warranty and representation, that no broker brought about this transaction or participated in it in any way. This provision shall survive delivery of the deed.

15. Leaseback provisions and purchase money mortgage. The parties shall at title closing make provision, either by separate agreement, or by inclusion in the lease referred to in paragraph 6, or in the note and purchase money mortgage referred to in paragraph 3(d), as required by their respective attorneys, for the following covenants and agreements:

(a) The net annual rent under such lease shall be $482,500, payable in equal monthly installments in advance on the rent day until November 1, ____ [year], on which date the net annual rent shall be increased to $492,500, similarly payable in equal monthly installments in advance.

(b) In addition to the net annual rent under subparagraph (a), the lessee shall pay to the landlord, as additional rent, a sum equal to 15 percent of any excess of the gross rent paid by the tenants, subtenants, and other occupants of the premises, during each year of the term of such lease over and above $1 million per annum, the first year to commence as of date of execution of the lease. Payment of such additional rent shall be made annually as set forth below.

(c) The term "gross rent" as used in subparagraph (b) shall mean all rent received from the tenants, subtenants, and other occupants of the premises exclusive of income or so-called "additional rent" derived from the sale of electricity, hot or cold water, steam, tax escalator clauses, or from any items other than ordinary rental for occupancy of space.

(d) On the 15th day of the 14th month following the commencement of the term of such lease, and annually thereafter, the lessee shall furnish to the landlord a true and correct verified statement showing the gross rent collected from the premises for the preceding year, and pay to the landlord any sum shown to be due to the landlord as such additional rent. The same procedure shall be followed throughout the term of such lease and any renewals.

(e) Seller shall deposit the note and purchase money mortgage referred to in of paragraph 3(d) with the landlord as collateral security for the faithful performance by the lessee of the terms, covenants, and conditions of the lease. Such deposit shall be made by an appropriate assignment of the note and purchase money mortgage to the landlord which shall, among other things, recite that the assignment is only security for the obligations under the lease. Such original note and mortgage and a duly executed reassignment in blank to be executed by the landlord shall be held in escrow by Purchaser's attorney and shall not be surrendered by the escrow agent to the landlord except upon an affidavit by the landlord that the lessee is in default and has been evicted from the premises. The escrow agent shall not be liable for any act except fraud or malfeasance in the exercise of the escrow obligations.

(f) Upon the lessee's default and eviction from the premises, the landlord may either: (1) sell the security (consisting of such note and purchase money mortgage) in accordance with the provisions of the Lien Law of the State of New York, on due notice to the mortgagee or any other owner of such mortgage who has notified the landlord in writing of his ownership, and the moneys realized on sale shall be applied to cure any default existing under the terms of the lease and any balance remaining shall be paid to the mortgagee or other owner thereof; or (2) declare such note and purchase money mortgage, by its terms, satisfied and cancelled, in which event all obligations thereunder shall cease and terminate, the landlord may execute a formal satisfaction and cause the note and purchase money mortgage to be delivered to the appropriate authority for cancellation, and such satisfaction and cancellation shall be deemed a reduction in the purchase price of the premises not a penalty.

(g) The mortgagee may assign the note and purchase money mortgage subject, however, to the rights of the lessor under the lease. The note and purchase money mortgage shall remain as security under the lease until the last of the principal due has been paid.

(h) During the period in which the note and purchase money mortgage are held as security, all payments of interest on the mortgage shall be paid to the mortgagee or other owner thereof. If there is a default in the payment of interest for 20 days after written notice thereof, by registered or certified mail, to the landlord, the escrow holder shall deliver the note and purchase money mortgage and the assignment thereof to the mortgagee or other owner thereof. In such event, the note and purchase money mortgage shall cease to be security for the performance of the terms, covenants, and conditions of the lease.

16. Refinancing first mortgage. The parties shall at title closing make provision, either by separate agreement, or by inclusion in the lease referred to in paragraph 6, or in the note and purchase money mortgage referred to in paragraph 3(d), or by or in all or some of these documents, as required by their respective counsel, for the following covenants and agreements:

(a) Such note and purchase money mortgage shall be and remain subject and subordinate to the lien of the existing first mortgage, to any modification or extension thereof, and to any new or consolidated mortgage which is placed on the premises in lieu or in substitution thereof.

(b) The owner of such note and purchase money mortgage shall have the right, equal with the owner of the premises, to cause any existing first mortgage to be refinanced by a new mortgage (which may be a modification, extension, or consolidation of the existing mortgage).

(c) Such new mortgage shall be for a term of not less than five years and be obtained only from a "lending institution." For the purposes hereof, the term "lending institution" shall mean only a savings or commercial bank licensed to do business in the State of New York and under the supervision and jurisdiction of the Superintendent of Banking of the State of New York, or a life insurance company authorized to do business in the State of New York and under the supervision and jurisdiction of the Superintendent of Insurance of the State of New York, or a pension or union fund under the supervision and jurisdiction of either the Superintendent of Banking or the Superintendent of Insurance of the State of New York.

(d) The combined payments for principal and interest on such new mortgage and the interest on such note and purchase money mortgage shall not exceed the "mortgage debt service," as hereafter defined, but this limitation (except as provided in such lease) shall not apply to any such new mortgage obtained solely by the then owner of the premises. For the purposes hereof, the term "mortgage debt service" shall mean all sums payable by the owner of the premises for principal and interest on the existing first mortgage and on such note and purchase money mortgage. The present mortgage debt service is $170,000 per annum, representing $130,000 per annum payable for principal and interest under the existing first mortgage until August 1, _____ [year], and $40,000 per annum payable for interest under such note and purchase money mortgage. The mortgage debt service will increase to $180,000 per annum beginning November 1, _____ [year], by reason of a $10,000 annual increase payable under the existing first mortgage.

(e) If the amount of such new mortgage exceeds the principal then due on the existing first mortgage, any excess, less amounts paid by the mortgagor for mortgage recording tax, title insurance, recording fees, brokerage commissions not in excess of 4 percent of the principal amount of such new mortgage, and reasonable appraisal and attorney's fees, shall be paid to the owner of such note and purchase money mortgage and to the then owner of the premises as follows: The first amount up to $500,000 shall be paid to the owner of such note and purchase money mortgage, in reduction of the principal sum thereof; the next amount up to $500,000 shall be paid to the then owner of the premises, if there is no default in any term, covenant, or condition of such note and purchase money mortgage; the next amount up to $300,000 shall be paid to the owner of such note and purchase money mortgage, in further reduction of the principal sum thereof, or in full payment thereof; and any balance remaining shall be distributed by paying 25 percent to the then lessee under such lease and 75 percent to the then owner of the premises.

17. Procedure for refinancing first mortgage. The following procedure shall be followed by the owner of the note and purchase money mortgage and the owner of the premises in refinancing any existing first mortgage and to the extent deemed necessary by the respective counsel of the parties shall be incorporated in a separate agreement, or shall be included in the lease referred to in paragraph 6, or in the note and purchase money mortgage referred to in paragraph 3(d), or by or in all or some of these documents:

(a) At least 30 days before either party desires to obtain refinancing, a notice to this effect shall be sent to the other party by registered or certified mail. If the owner of the note and mortgage obtains a prospective commitment from a lending institution which complies with the requirements of a new mortgage as above set forth, which shall result in excess cash, notice thereof shall be given to the then owner of the premises.

(b) The then owner of the premises shall have 30 days from the date of receiving such notice either to accept such prospective commitment or to notify the owner of the note and mortgage, by certified or registered mail, that it has obtained a commitment for a new mortgage which it considers more suitable.

(c) If the then owner of the premises fails to accept the prospective commitment or to notify the then owner of such note and mortgage of its own new mortgage commitment within such 30-day period, such failure shall be deemed an acceptance of the terms of the prospective commitment. If thereafter the then owner of the premises fails or refuses to execute the necessary instruments for the purpose of carrying out the terms of such prospective commitment, the same shall be deemed a default under the terms and conditions of the note and mortgage, and the owner thereof may declare the entire unpaid balance of the principal sum to be immediately due and payable.

(d) If during such 30-day period the owner of the note and mortgage receives notice from the then owner of the premises of its first mortgage commitment, the former shall, within five days after receiving such notice, notify the latter whether its proffered commitment is acceptable. If not acceptable, the matter shall be determined by arbitration in accordance with the rules of the American Arbitration Association. If either commitment is accepted as above set forth, immediate preparation shall be made for the prompt closing of the transaction. If the holder of such note and purchase money mortgage, within such five-day period, fails to accept or reject the commitment submitted by the then owner of the premises, the same shall be deemed to have been accepted.

18. Assignment. Purchaser may assign this contract to any person, firm, or corporation. Upon such assignment, Purchaser shall be relieved of all obligations under the contract which accrue after the effective date of the assignment, but not before, if the assignee assumes the performance of all the terms and conditions thereof.

19. Closing. The deed shall be delivered and title shall close upon the receipt of all payments and the execution and delivery of all instruments at the office of Frank Herbert, 80 Broadway, New York, New York, at 10 a.m. on the 15th day of March, _____ [year].

20. Entire agreement; modification. This instrument constitutes the entire agreement between the parties. It may not be changed or terminated except by an agreement duly executed by both parties.

21. Binding effect. This contract shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the respective parties hereto and their successors and assigns.

22. Nonwaiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise any right hereunder, and no partial or single exercise of any such right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

23. Notices. All notices under this contract shall, unless otherwise expressly provided herein, be in writing and be deemed to have been given when mailed by registered or certified mail, postage prepaid, to the other party at the address set forth above, or at the last changed address given by the other party.

24. Headings. Headings in this contract are for convenience and reference only and shall not be used to interpret or construe its provisions.

25. Governing law. This contract shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of New York.

26. Counterparts. This contract may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

27. Time of essence. Time is of the essence of this contract.

In witness whereof this contract has been duly executed by the parties.

Attest:

Secretary

Attest:

185 Broadway Corporation

By _____
President

Berrens Realty Corp.

By _____
President

[Acknowledgments]

122 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms
G. SALES AND LEASEBACKS

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.86

FORM 21.86 Sale and leaseback of apartment building under construction--warranties by seller--inclusion of fixtures, equipment and personalty--apartment form lease preapproval--nonassignable

COMMENT

This agreement provides that upon completion of construction of the apartment building, evidenced by a certificate of occupancy, the insurance company purchaser will buy the property and net lease it back to the seller. There is no mortgage contingency provided in this agreement, thereby indicating that the insurance company, which would otherwise be a source of mortgage funds, prefers to take fee title to the project rather than a permanent long-term mortgage. By net leasing the building, land and equipment back to the seller, the insurance company relieves itself of the responsibility of managing the complex. Although under this arrangement, the seller does not have to find a permanent mortgage lender or a buyer for the project, the insurance company receives the benefit of appreciation of value in the real estate as well as its rental payments.

During the period of construction, conventional construction financing is utilized by the seller. The agreement requires compliance with the construction loan documents under threat of termination. There is no obligation of the buyer to advance construction funds, nor is the buyer under any obligation until a certificate of occupancy is issued and other conditions are met.

A substantial portion of the contract contains clauses which would otherwise be found in a conventional real estate purchase agreement, including certain warranties from the seller relating to the condition of the property and its construction. The buyer's performance is contingent upon the seller's ability to convey title unencumbered by encroachments, mechanic's liens, violations of local laws and ordinances or special assessments.

The conveyance specifically will include fixtures and equipment used in connection with the apartment. The conveyance of these items will be by bill of sale. The representation is made that the respective systems will be structurally sound and in good condition, including: the roof, foundation, walls, heating and cooling, plumbing, water and electrical systems. Any guarantees or warranties with respect to fixtures or equipment are to be transferred at closing.

Apartment leases will be in a preapproved form, to be assigned to the buyer on closing.

The contract calls for the seller to pay expenses related to the transfer, including the cost of title examination and insurance, surveys, recording and filing fees, taxes, broker and counsel fees. This may reflect the negotiating positions of the parties rather than local custom. From this perspective, the insurance company may view the transaction as it would a mortgage loan, and require the party receiving the funds to pay all the expenses incurred in the closing.

FORMS

(1) Land purchase and leaseback agreement

THIS LAND PURCHASE AND LEASE AGREEMENT is made March 1, _____ [year], by and between Admiral Life Insurance Company, a Delaware corporation having an office at 500 East 53rd Street, New York, New York ("Purchaser"), and Novel Land Company, an Ohio corporation having its principal place of business at 200 Center Street, Springfield, Ohio ("Seller").

Recitals

Seller is engaged in the construction of a high rise apartment building upon a parcel of land located at 6125 Mars Lane, High Mills, Ohio, more particularly described as follows:

[Insert land description]

and

Seller has executed a construction loan agreement, note and mortgage with Apex Loan and Trust Company (the "Construction Loan Documents"), for funds necessary to complete such construction.

The parties desire that upon completion of such construction Seller shall sell the aforementioned land, together with said apartment building and all fixtures, improvements, equipment and other personal property attached or appurtenant thereto described as follows:

_____ [Insert description of fixtures and personalty], which land, building and other property is hereinafter called the "Premises," to Purchaser, and Purchaser shall lease the Premises back to Seller in accordance with the terms and conditions hereof.

Now, therefore, the parties agree as follows:

1. Sale. Seller agrees to sell and convey to Purchaser and Purchaser agrees to purchase from Seller the Premises.
2. Purchase price. The purchase price is $1.3 million, to be deposited by Purchaser into escrow with the Escrow Agent, designated below, on or before the Closing Date.

3. Title. Seller shall convey fee simple title to the Premises to Purchaser by good and sufficient general warranty deed, warranting title to be free and clear of all liens, charges and encumbrances, clouds and defects, except any restrictions, reservations, limitations, easements and conditions of record which are approved in writing by Purchaser, and leases to prospective tenants, whether of record or not, entered into by Seller in accordance with the terms and conditions hereof, zoning ordinances and taxes and assessments, both general and special, which are a lien but not yet due and payable. The deed shall be deposited in escrow on or before the Closing Date. Prior to such deposit, a copy of the deed shall be submitted to Purchaser's counsel for approval.

Seller shall convey marketable title to all personal property described above by good sufficient bill of sale in form approved by counsel for Purchaser. The bill of sale shall be deposited into escrow on or before the Closing Date. Prior to such deposit, a copy of the bill of sale shall be submitted to Purchaser's counsel for approval.

4. Title insurance. Seller shall accompany Seller's deed with a title insurance policy in the amount of the purchase price issued by the Apex Title & Guarantee Company of St. Louis, Missouri ("title company"), in its customary form, insuring marketable title to the Premises to be good in Purchaser, subject only to the exceptions to be contained in the deed described above.

5. Escrow agent. This transaction shall be placed in escrow with American Title and Guarantee Company of Springfield, Ohio. An executed counterpart of this Agreement shall be deposited with the Escrow Agent by Seller, and the Agreement shall serve as the escrow instructions. The Escrow Agent may attach its standard conditions of acceptance thereto, but if such conditions are inconsistent with or in conflict with the terms of this Agreement, the Agreement shall control.

6. Closing date. The Closing Date shall be June 1, _____ [year]. Seller, however, may select the first day of any prior month for the closing by giving Purchaser and the Escrow Agent at least 30-days' advance written notice. All instruments, evidences, papers, information and other material pertinent to the closing of this transaction shall be furnished to Purchaser for its approval on or before the closing date. The Escrow Agent shall charge Seller with all expenses incident to this purchase and lease transaction, including charges for the payment and cancellation of the construction loan mortgage, title examination and insurance, survey, recordings and filing fees, taxes, brokerage or finder fees, and all counsel fees and costs. There shall be no apportionment of taxes, insurance, or other charges at the Closing, since Seller will pay all such items, whether due before or after the Closing, pursuant to the Lease.

7. Seller warrants, such warranty to be effective as of the Closing Date and to survive the transfer of title to Purchaser, as follows:

(a) All improvements now on the Premises are entirely within the boundary lines of the land described on the attached Exhibit A, and no other adjoining property encroaches upon said land;

(b) All work and labor performed and all materials furnished with respect to any improvements or repairs to the Premises have been paid in full, and there will be no mechanic's liens or the possibility thereof in connection with any such work, labor, and materials;

(c) There are no outstanding notices or orders from any governmental authority with respect to the condition of the Premises or its repair, or to any claim of a violation of any laws, ordinances, zoning codes, building codes or orders applicable thereto including without limitation, the violation of any environmental laws, rules or regulations, federal, state or local;

(d) The personal property included as a part of this transaction and the improvements on the Premises are structurally sound and in good condition and repair, including the roof, foundation, walls, heating and cooling system, plumbing, water and electrical systems;

(e) All improvements made by the local governmental authority that now benefit or will benefit the Premises upon completion have been assessed against the Premises as of the execution date of this Agreement;

(f) No actions, suits, proceedings, or investigations, whether at law or in equity, exist with respect to the Premises, and none are threatened or pending that would adversely affect this transaction or the Premises being sold;

(g) Seller will assign to Purchaser on or before the Closing Date, by delivering into escrow all guarantees or warranties with respect to the condition of the Premises, including all improvements, fixtures, equipment, and personal property being conveyed that remain in effect and are assignable;

(h) All documents delivered or required to be delivered to Purchaser and all warranties herein made by Seller are accurate and complete, and there has been no material change in any of the facts, circumstances, or subject matter of this transaction of which Purchaser has not been informed;

(i) The above sale and transfer of the Premises is or shall be, before the Closing Date, duly authorized in accordance with law, and within the scope of authority of the party or parties conveying the Premises, and evidence of such authority shall be presented to Purchaser before the closing of this transaction;

(j) All leases entered into by Seller with respect to the premises conform to and are in compliance with the terms and conditions of the form lease exhibited by Seller to Purchaser;

(k) The construction of the building and improvements constituting the Premises shall be in compliance with plans and specifications approved by Purchaser and that Seller is not in violation of any of the Construction Loan Documents; and

(l) The building shall be completed in compliance with all applicable building codes and ordinances, and in compliance with the Americans With Disabilities Act of 1990, and the Accessibility Guidelines and rules and regulations issued thereunder.

8. Leaseback. On or before the date of Closing there shall be deposited with the Escrow Agent a net lease of the Premises executed by Purchaser, as Lessor, and Seller, as Lessee, a copy of which has been executed by the parties. The lease shall be in full force and effect immediately upon the closing of the within transaction by the recording of the deed and a memorandum short form of lease.

9. Conditions of closing. The Closing of this transaction shall be conditioned upon delivery by Purchaser to the Escrow Agent on or before the Closing Date of written notice of compliance with the following:

(a) Delivery to Purchaser of a survey of the Premises satisfactory to it showing all final improvements and other physical conditions affecting the title and use thereof.

(b) Delivery to Purchaser in form satisfactory to it of an assignment of any leases and agreements pertaining to the Premises, the existing or proposed improvements, utility facilities and services, together with all easements essential to the proper functioning thereof.

(c) A favorable opinion or opinions issued to Purchaser from counsel satisfactory to it, dated the Closing Date, and satisfactory to Purchaser in form and substance, as to: (i) the organization, good standing and corporate authority of Seller; (ii) the due authorization, execution and delivery of this Agreement, the deed, and the lease; (iii) the validity and enforceability of the lease; (iv) the due conveyance of title in fee simple to the land, subject only to permitted exceptions approved by Purchaser; (v) the recordation and filing of the instruments of conveyance and, if required, the lease; (vi) the absence of any violation (or notice of violation) of any zoning, building or other statute, ordinance or regulation with respect to the Premises; (vii) the absence of any action, proceeding, or investigation which questions the validity of this Agreement or the lease; and (viii) the absence of any restriction on Seller to convey the land to Purchaser and to enter into the lease.

(d) Receipt by Purchaser of evidence of the issuance of a certificate of occupancy issued by the appropriate governmental authority, or evidence satisfactory to Purchaser that none is required under local regulations.

Prior to closing, Purchaser shall not acquire or assume any equitable ownership of or title to the Premises or become liable in respect thereof, and Seller hereby indemnifies Purchaser and shall hold it harmless from any such liability.

10. Assignability and termination. This Agreement shall not be assignable, by operation of law or otherwise. It may be terminated by Purchaser in any manner Purchaser determines, if either:

(a) Seller fails to comply with any applicable term or condition with respect to the Construction Loan Documents or the construction of the Premises; or

(b) any of the following events occur: a petition in bankruptcy or insolvency, or for reorganization or the appointment of a receiver or trustee, is filed by or against Seller; Seller makes an assignment for the benefit of creditors; or Seller files a petition for arrangement which is not withdrawn, dismissed, cancelled, or terminated within 60 days after being filed or entered into, or which exists at any time established, whether now or later, for the closing of the transaction.

11. Closing. When the Escrow Agent is in possession of all funds and documents necessary to close this transaction, and upon compliance with all conditions precedent to closing in accordance herewith, the Escrow Agent shall cause first the deed, described in paragraph 3, and then the memorandum short form of lease, described in paragraph 8, to be duly and properly recorded, and then deliver to each party the funds and documents in accordance with the provisions hereof.

12. Memorandum. Purchaser and Seller each agree to execute and cause to be recorded on this date a certain form entitled: "Memorandum of Agreement of Land Purchase and Lease Agreement." The cost of recording shall be paid by Purchaser.

13. Notices. Unless otherwise expressly provided herein, all notices hereunder shall be in writing and be deemed to have been given when mailed by registered or certified mail, postage prepaid, to the other party at the address set forth above, or to any other address designated in writing by such party.

14. Entire agreement; modification. This instrument constitutes the entire agreement between the parties. It may not be changed or terminated except by an agreement duly executed by both parties.

15. Binding effect. This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties and their respective successors and assigns.

16. Nonwaiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise any right hereunder, and no partial or single exercise of any such right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

17. Headings. Headings in this Agreement are for convenience and reference only and shall not be used to interpret or construe its provisions.

18. Governing law. This Agreement shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of Ohio.

19. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

20. Time of essence. Time is of the essence of this Agreement.

The parties have caused this instrument to be executed by their authorized officers and to have affixed their corporate seals as of the date first above written.

Admiral Life Insurance Company

By _____

And _____

Novel Land Company

By _____

And _____

(2) Memorandum of agreement

This MEMORANDUM OF AGREEMENT OF LAND PURCHASE AND LEASE AGREEMENT, dated as of March 1, ____ [year], between NOVEL LAND COMPANY, an Ohio corporation having its principal place of business at 200 Center Street, Springfield, Ohio ("Seller"), and ADMIRAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY, a Delaware corporation having an office at 500 East 53rd Street, New York, New York ("Purchaser").

Subject to the terms and conditions referred to below, Purchaser agrees to purchase from Seller the land (the "Land") located in the City of High Mills, Cuyahoga County, Ohio, described in Schedule A attached hereto, together with all buildings and improvements thereon, and Seller guarantees to see that the Land is acquired by Purchaser within the time and on the terms and conditions referred to below.

The terms and conditions (including the purchase price to be paid by Purchaser) of such agreement are set forth in the Land Purchase and Lease Agreement, dated March 1, ____ [year], between Seller and Purchaser and are incorporated herein by reference with the same force and effect as though fully set forth herein. Title to the Land will be conveyed to Purchaser on or before June 1, ____ [year].

The purpose of this Memorandum of Agreement of Land Purchase and Lease Agreement is to give notice of the existence of such Land Purchase and Lease Agreement, which, together with this Memorandum, constitute the agreement between Seller and Purchaser.

Seller and Purchaser have respectively executed this Memorandum of Agreement of Land Purchase and Lease Agreement as of the date and year first above written.

Novel Land Company

By _____

And _____

Admiral Life Insurance Company

By _____

And _____

[Acknowledgments]

123 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms

H. SALES OF STOCK IN REAL ESTATE CORPORATIONS

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.87

FORM 21.87 Sale of stock of corporation--rental property principal asset--corporate and real estate warranties and representations

COMMENT

This form is an agreement for the sale of the stock of a corporation, the principal asset of which is rental property. This contract contains the representations and warranties which are usually included in contracts for the sale of stock, i.e., corporate organization, good standing, solvency, outstanding shares, etc. In addition this contract contains representations and warranties which are included in a contract for the sale of real estate, i.e., marketable title, current mortgage, rent rolls, etc. (paragraph 2). The purchase price is adjusted at closing for real estate items, such as taxes, insurance, rent, and mortgage interest (paragraph 3). Documents to be delivered at closing include not only the shares and corporate books and records, but also mortgage documentation, leases, and the resignation of the managing agent (paragraph 4). In the event of unsatisfactory title or damage to the real property, the agreement for the sale of the shares can be cancelled (paragraph 6). An additional feature of this agreement is the establishment of an escrow as security for the seller's representations and warranties (paragraph 9).

Sale of stock or asset alternatives

The owner of the shares of a real estate corporation essentially has two alternative methods of sale available to him. The shareholder may sell his shares in the corporation which owns the real estate, or the corporation itself may sell the real estate.

Sale by corporation followed by liquidation

Under the general rule, a sale of corporate assets followed by a liquidation distributing the proceeds of sale may result in double taxation. The corporation is taxed on any gain realized in its sale, and the shareholder is taxed on the gain from the liquidation.

Sales of shares in real estate corporation

The sale of corporation shares does offer certain advantages. Assuming that the "collapsible corporation" provisions are not applicable, the shareholder will generally realize capital gain or loss on the sale of his shares. A sale of shares may be arranged as an installment sale, with the benefit of deferred taxation of capital gain. Finally, there may be some slight advantage in a sale of shares for a taxpayer who is concerned with the problem of ordinary income realized as a dealer in real estate. Of course, if the sale by the corporation will produce a taxable loss, and possibly a loss as well to the shareholder on liquidation, the taxpayer should not forego the tax benefits of these losses.

Particularly where real estate is the primary asset owned by the corporation, even though title to the real property is not being conveyed in a stock deal, it is prudent for the purchaser to obtain a title insurance policy insuring good marketable title to the asset in the corporation as of the closing date of the acquisition of the stock. Receipt of such title insurance can be made a condition for purchaser closing. In the absence of obtaining title insurance, the purchaser of the stock should at least obtain a representation that title to the real property assets is marketable.

In addition, the purchaser of the shares should do the same due diligence type of investigations that would be done in a straight purchase of real estate assets. This includes an environmental audit or inspection of the real property, and investigation whether the property is in compliance with governmental laws such as the Americans With Disabilities Act of 1990 and its Accessibility Guidelines. If an inspection is not done, the purchaser should attempt to obtain warranties from the seller (or its principals) regarding such matters.

Acquisition of corporate shares

If the purchaser of the shares will continue the real estate operation in its original corporate form, no unusual tax problems should arise. The basis of the property to the corporation is unchanged by the sale, and the purchaser's basis for his shares is his cost.

Purchase of shares followed by liquidation

In many cases, the purchaser may have good business reasons for not continuing the business in the original corporate form. If the purchase price for the shares took into account an appreciation of values above the corporation's adjusted basis for its real estate and other assets, the purchaser may want the benefit of his higher cost in the computation of cost recovery or depreciation. In that case, a prompt liquidation of the corporation will produce a tax basis for the assets received in liquidation "stepped-up" to the cost of the shares. When the purchaser is an individual, this is accomplished by treating the share purchase and the liquidation as a direct purchase of the corporate assets. However, the liquidation will cause the recapture of excess accelerated depreciation or accelerated cost recovery as ordinary income to the corporation. The benefits of cost basis may be lost to the individual if the individual transfers the assets acquired in the liquidation to a new corporation. In addition, the individual would likely be subject to loss deduction limitations under the passive activity loss limitation and the at risk rules. The liquidation and the transfer to the new corporation may be in effect an indirect transfer from the old corporation to the new corporation. If such a transfer would constitute a nontaxable reorganization if made directly, the assets may have the same basis in the hands of the new corporation as they had in the hands of the old corporation.

Corporate election to treat stock purchase as asset purchase

As an alternative to the actual liquidation of a newly acquired corporation, a corporation may elect to treat the stock acquisition as an asset purchase if certain requirements are met. Generally, the acquiring corporation must purchase at least 80 percent of the stock of the "target corporation," i.e., acquired corporation. The irrevocable election is made within 75 days after the qualifying acquisition. The target corporation is treated as if it sold its assets, in a generally taxable liquidation, as of the date of the qualified stock acquisition by the acquiring corporation. On the day following the acquisition, the target corporation is treated as if it purchased those assets.

The purchasing corporation's basis in the assets would be generally equal to its basis in the target's stock, subject to adjustment for target company liabilities and other relevant items, as provided by regulation. Target corporation recapture items (e.g., accelerated cost recovery, investment credit, etc.) are reported separately by the target corporation, and cannot be offset by losses of the acquiring corporation or its affiliates. The election automatically applies to any other stock or assets purchased by the acquiring corporation (or an affiliate) from the target corporation (or an affiliate) made during a "consistency period." This period extends from at least one year preceding the acquisition to one year after the acquisition.

This rule severely restricts the ability of the acquiring corporation to structure a transaction as a combination of asset purchases and stock acquisitions for maximum tax benefit. Under the "consistency" requirement, one election to treat a stock acquisition as an asset purchase applies, as well, to other asset or stock purchases.

Transfer of stock under UCC, transfer restrictions

The validity and effect of a transfer of stock are dealt with in Article 8 of the Uniform Commercial Code. Proper transfer or negotiation of the stock requires compliance with the applicable rules for indorsement, delivery, and other considerations. Although generally, restrictions on transfers of securities are ineffective unless they are conspicuously noted on the security (UCC Section 8-204), they are effective against a person with actual knowledge of the restriction. Local interpretations of the term "actual knowledge" should be examined to determine if a purchaser is responsible for restrictions which could have been discovered with due diligence. Frequently, restrictions on stock transfers are found in shareholder agreements and mortgage loan documents.

Liabilities of acquired corporation

One of the significant differences between a purchase of real estate from a corporation and the purchase of its stock is the purchaser's involvement in the acquired corporation's debt and other obligations. In a real estate sale, the purchaser generally does not incur the liabilities of the selling corporation. (This is subject to certain exceptions, ranging from a contractual assumption of liabilities to the more complex transferee liability rules applicable under inventory bulk sale and other state laws.) In a stock sale, on the other hand, the corporation's assets and liabilities remain unchanged. These liabilities include not only those which are known, but also all other claims, whether absolute, contingent, or otherwise. The seller's indemnification, if any, does not eliminate these existing and potential liabilities, but only provides a possible redress for the purchaser. Therefore a careful examination of the corporation's liabilities, and potential liabilities, is advisable.

FORM

AGREEMENT made June 14, _____ [year], between Harvey Brown, residing at 18 East 41st Street, New York, New York ("Seller"), and Jay Realty Corp., a New York corporation, having its principal office at 300 Madison Avenue, New York, New York ("Purchaser").

Recitals

Harvey Brown Realty Corp. (the "Corporation") is the owner of certain improved property.

Seller is the owner of all the outstanding shares of the Corporation and is willing to sell them to Purchaser, and Purchaser has agreed to purchase them.

It is therefore agreed as follows:

1. Sale of shares. Seller shall sell to Purchaser, and Purchaser shall purchase from Seller, without recourse except as hereinafter provided, all of the Corporation's issued and outstanding shares, consisting of 100 no par value common shares.

2. Seller's representations, warranties, and covenants. In order to induce Purchaser to enter into this agreement, Seller warrants and represents to Purchaser as follows:

2.1. Valid corporation. The Corporation is a business corporation duly organized and validly existing under the laws of the State of New York; it has no subsidiaries; it is authorized to own and operate real property; and since its incorporation, it has exercised and continues to exercise its functions as a business corporation under the laws of the State of New York.

2.2. Good standing. The Corporation is in good standing; there is no action or proceeding pending to dissolve the Corporation, or to declare any or all of its corporate rights, powers, franchises, or privileges to be null and void.

2.3. Solvency. The Corporation is solvent; it is not in the hands of a receiver nor is any application for receivership pending; it is a going business and has never suspended its operations; it does not contemplate insolvency; no proceedings are pending by or against it in bankruptcy or reorganization in any state or federal court, nor has it filed any petition in bankruptcy.

2.4. Certificate of incorporation. The Corporation's certificate of incorporation has never been amended; no proceeding has been instituted or authorized for the purpose of any such amendment.

2.5. Shares. The aggregate number of shares which the Corporation has authority to issue is 100 no par value common shares all fully paid and nonassessable, all of which have been duly issued for full consideration and are now validly outstanding. Seller is the owner of all of such common shares.

2.6. Authority. Seller has full power and right to enter into this agreement and to sell such shares free and clear of any option, commitment, lien, or encumbrance; no other person has any right in or to such shares or any part thereof or the certificate or certificates representing the same; such shares have not been pledged or hypothecated nor has a security interest been created in them.

2.7. Real property. The Corporation is, and will be at the date of the closing, the owner in fee of the following property (the "Property"):

(Insert description)

2.8. Personal property. All of the personal property used directly or indirectly in connection with the Property is free and clear of all liens, claims, or encumbrances, and is or shall be fully paid for on or before the closing date.

2.9. Title exceptions. The Corporation has good and marketable title to the Property, subject only to the following:

- (1) Existing building and zoning restrictions, regulations, and ordinances of the City of New Rochelle.
- (2) Encroachments of stoops, areas, cellar steps, trim, and cornices, if any, upon any street or highway.
- (3) Consents by the owner or any former owner of such property for the erection of any structure or structures on, under, or above any street or streets.
- (4) Any fact or facts an accurate survey would show which do not render the title unmarketable.
- (5) Covenants and restrictions contained in any deeds of record which do not prohibit the use and maintenance of the present building.
- (6) Rights of tenants and lessees in possession, as set forth in Schedule A attached.
- (7) A mortgage, held by Central Savings Bank, in the present unpaid principal amount, as of the date hereof, in the sum of $600,000. The mortgage provides for constant payments of $12,000 on the first days of March, June, September, and December, in each year, from which interest is first applied at the rate of 10 percent per annum and the balance in reduction of the principal. Mortgage matures on _____ [date].

2.10. Mortgage. There has been no default in the terms and provisions of the mortgage held by Central Savings Bank; and there will be no default at the closing date.

2.11. Rent rolls. The rentals from the Property listed on Schedule A attached, are true, accurate, and complete; such rentals are those being actually and currently collected from the tenants of the Property; none of such rentals violate existing rent regulations; to Seller's knowledge there are no proceedings pending to reduce any of such rentals; all apartments on the Property have been rented unfurnished; no tenant has been granted any allowance or concession in connection with such rentals; only those tenants indicated as lease tenants have leases; no written agreements, except such leases, have been entered into with any tenants relating to or connected with their occupancy of the Property; all work provided to be done or equipment furnished by the landlord under such leases has been done or furnished; and there are no deposits by any tenants of the Property either as security for or prepayment of rent.

2.12. Violations. Seller, for the benefit of the Corporation, shall comply with all notes or notices of violations of applicable state or municipal laws and regulations affecting the Property at the closing date. However, the Corporation's failure to remove an existing violation before the closing date shall not be the basis for cancellation of this agreement or be deemed a breach hereunder by Seller, if Seller either deposits in escrow with his attorney a sufficient sum to pay for the removal of the violation or makes a sufficient allowance to Purchaser to pay for such removal.

2.13. Appliances. Every apartment in the Property is presently equipped with a refrigerator and electric range in good working order, which are owned and fully paid for by the Corporation.

2.14. Assessments. If at the closing date all or any part of the Property is or has been affected by any one or more assessments which are or may become payable in annual installments of which the first installment is then a charge or lien, or has been paid, for the purpose of this agreement all of the unpaid installments of any such assessment, including those that are due and payable after the closing date, shall be deemed to be due and payable and shall be paid and discharged by Seller at the closing date.

2.15. Contracts. The Corporation, at the closing date, will not have any commitments, agreements, or contracts outstanding, except the following:

(1) The mortgage on the Property held by the Central Savings Bank.

(2) Elevator service contract with Otman Elevator Company dated January 1, _____ [year], running to December 31, _____ [year].

(3) Laundry equipment contract with White Machine Corp. covering washing machines in such property, and expiring May 1, _____ [year].

2.16. Litigation. No suit, proceeding, or litigation is pending, or to the best of Seller's knowledge threatened, against or relating to the Corporation or its property or business, nor does Seller know, or have reasonable grounds to know, of any basis for such suit, proceeding, or litigation. No judgments of any nature exist against the Corporation.

2.17. Mortgage and taxes. The Corporation will have no unpaid bills or creditors of any kind or nature at the closing date, except for the following, for which Seller shall not be liable:

(1) The mortgage on the Property held by the Central Savings Bank.

(2) All amounts hereafter assessed against the Corporation by New York State or the United States for state franchise taxes or federal income taxes for taxable years beginning after December 31, _____ [year].

2.18. Tax returns. All required tax reports and returns have been duly filed. All payments reported on such reports and returns as due have been paid in full or will be allowed to Purchaser as a deduction from the purchase price at the closing. The Internal Revenue Service has audited the Corporation's federal income tax returns up through the fiscal year ended December 31, _____ [year].

2.19. Employees and wages. Schedule B annexed is a true and complete list of all the Corporation's present employees, together with their actual wages or salaries:

(List of employees and salaries)

2.20. Status quo. Schedule C annexed is a balance sheet of the Corporation as of December 31, _____ [year], prepared by the Corporation's accountants. Such balance sheet completely and accurately reflects, as of that date, the Corporation's financial condition and of all the Corporation's assets and liabilities of every nature and kind, whether accrued, absolute, contingent, or otherwise. There has been no change in the Corporation's financial condition between December 31, _____ [year] and the date of this agreement, except as the result of the ordinary and regular conduct of its business.

2.21. Status quo. Between the date of this agreement and of the closing:

- (1) There will be no change in the financial condition of the Corporation as set forth in Schedule C, except as has and may occur in the ordinary and regular conduct of its business.
- (2) There will be no change in the corporate legal structure of the Corporation or of its directors or officers.
- (3) The Corporation will not enter into any contracts, agreements, or commitments or incur any expenses, except for those necessary in the ordinary and regular conduct of its business.
- (4) There will be no increase in the compensation paid or payable by the Corporation to any of its employees or agents.

2.22. Books and records. If Purchaser or the Corporation, or the representatives of either, at any time within three years after the closing, require the aid or assistance of, or consultation with, the Corporation's present accountants in connection with its books, records, tax returns and reports, or financial transactions before the closing date, Seller shall make available the services of its accountants for such purposes at no cost to Purchaser or the Corporation.

2.23. Survival. All of the above warranties and representations shall be true at the closing date.

3. Purchase price. Purchaser shall pay Seller for the stock to be sold and purchased under this agreement, the following:

3.1. Deposit. $20,000 upon the execution of this agreement, receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged.

3.2. Cash at closing. $300,000 in cash or good certified check on the closing date.

3.3. Additional charges. A sum calculated by charging to Purchaser the following items, adjusted as of the close of business of the day immediately before the closing date:

- (1) Cash on hand or on deposit to the order of the Corporation (which is expected to be approximately $20,000).
- (2) With reference to the Property: (a) the following prepaid items: real estate taxes; fire, rent, liability, boiler, and compensation insurance premiums; water frontage charges; wages; and service contract installments; and (b) the reasonable value of the oil on hand.

3.4. Allowances. From the above purchase price there shall be deducted a sum calculated by making allowances of the following items, adjusted as of the close of business of the day immediately before the closing date:

- (1) With reference to the Property: (a) the following accrued items: sewer tax; interest on the mortgage; employees' vacation pay; and withholding, social security, unemployment, disability, and other payroll taxes; and (b) prepaid rentals from any tenants.
- (2) All unpaid assessments of taxes due, or to become due, in accordance with tax reports already filed.
- (3) Any other obligations or debts of the Corporation, whether accrued, absolute, contingent, or otherwise, other than the items set forth in subdivisions (1) and (2) of paragraph 2.17.

4. Documents at closing. At the closing Seller shall deliver to Purchaser the following:

- 4.1. The certificate, or certificates, representing the 100 common shares of the Corporation, endorsed to Purchaser.
- 4.2. The minute books of the Corporation, with a complete and accurate record of all meetings and transactions of its shareholders and Board of Directors from its inception to the closing date.
- 4.3. The Corporation's share certificate and share transfer books.
- 4.4. The Corporation's corporate seal.
- 4.5. A balance sheet of the Corporation as of June 30, _____ [year], prepared and certified by its accountants, which Seller will represent to be a true and complete statement as of that date of the Corporation's financial condition and of all its assets and liabilities, accrued, absolute, contingent, or otherwise.
- 4.6. A copy of the bond and mortgage executed and delivered by the Corporation to the Central Savings Bank.
- 4.7. A letter from the Central Savings Bank, certifying the present status of its mortgage and the absence of any default by the Corporation under the terms thereof.
- 4.8. All leases with the tenants of the Property.
- 4.9. A letter from Harris & Co. agreeing to its discharge as managing agent of the Property as of the closing date, and stating that it has been paid in full for all services rendered through that date.
- 4.10. The written resignations of each officer and director of the Corporation, effective as of the closing date, together with a general release to the Corporation from Seller and each director and each officer.
- 4.11. A written call and waiver of notice of a special meeting of the Corporation's board of directors to be held at the time and place of the closing.
- 4.12. All certificates of insurance or fire insurance policies in the Corporation's name.
- 4.13. The elevator service contract with Otman Elevator Company.
- 4.14. The laundry equipment contract with White Machine Corp.
- 4.15. Copies of all tax returns and reports filed by the Corporation in the past three years.
- 4.16. All of the Corporation's books, records, documents, instruments, invoices, bills, vouchers, cancelled checks, bank books and check books.
- 4.17. All assets of the Corporation, tangible and intangible.

5. Physical condition of property. Purchaser represents that it has inspected the Property for compliance with all governmental laws, rules and regulations, including without limitation, all environmental laws (federal, state and local) and with the Americans With Disabilities Act of 1990, and all rules and regulations issued thereunder. Purchaser agrees that the Corporation shall have no obligation to make any repairs, alterations, or restoration of the Property, except for ordinary repairs required between the date of this agreement and the closing date. Purchaser also agrees that it will accept the Property in its present physical condition, without any claim or allowance by reason thereof, except for those as may be required hereunder.

6. Failure of good title. If, as of the closing date, title to the Property is not as represented in this agreement, or if the Property has in the meantime been destroyed or substantially damaged by fire or other elements, Purchaser's sole and exclusive remedy against Seller shall be to cancel this agreement and to recover from Seller only the amount deposited by Purchaser hereunder, together with the net cost of examination of title of the Property. Upon Seller's tendering such sums to Purchaser, this agreement shall terminate and both parties shall be released from all further obligations hereunder.

7. Brokerage. The parties agree that James Baker & Co. of 100 West 12th Street, New York, New York, is the sole broker in this transaction and that no other broker has any interest herein. The brokerage commission is $10,000, to be paid by Seller's check to the order of such broker when, as, and if the shares are actually transferred and the consideration fully paid under this agreement. If for any reason such sale of the shares does not close, except for Seller's willful refusal to transfer and assign them, no commission shall become due, earned, or payable to such broker.

8. Equitable remedy. The Corporation's common shares are not readily marketable and are unique. If Seller fails or refuses to sell such shares, Purchaser, in addition to any other remedy available, shall be entitled to a suit for specific performance.

9. Survival of warranties and indemnity. To induce Purchaser to enter into and perform this agreement, Seller agrees as follows:

9.1. Survival past closing. All warranties, representations, covenants, and agreements made by Seller in this agreement or pursuant thereto shall be deemed continuing warranties, representations, covenants, and agreements, which shall survive the closing and the execution and delivery of all instruments and documents and any investigation at any time made by or on behalf of Purchaser.

9.2. Title to shares. Seller forever warrants his title in and to the common shares of the Corporation and will forever indemnify and hold harmless Purchaser, its successors and assigns, against all claims and demands that may be made to, under, or against any of such common shares, or against any lien or attachment upon such common shares by any creditor of Seller or any other person claiming to hold any interest therein by or through Seller.

9.3. Indemnification. Seller will forever indemnify and hold harmless Purchaser and the Corporation, or both, against and in respect of:

(1) Any tax or assessment imposed upon the Corporation resulting from a final determination by the tax authorities that the Corporation has realized gross income, rents, interest, dividends, or gains on the sale of any of its assets, other than as reflected on its franchise and income tax returns previously filed.

(2) All liabilities of the Corporation of any nature, whether accrued, absolute, contingent or otherwise, existing on June 30, _____ [year], to the extent not reflected or reserved against in full in the Corporation's balance sheet as of that date, except for any amount that is hereafter assessed against the Corporation by New York State or the United States for state franchise or federal income taxes, unless such taxes fall within the provisions of subdivision (1) hereof.

(3) All liabilities of or claims against the Corporation arising out of the conduct of its business between the date of this agreement and the closing date, other than in the ordinary course of business.

(4) All liabilities of or claims against the Corporation arising out of any presently existing contract or commitment not specifically set forth in this agreement, or made or entered into by the Corporation between the date hereof and the closing date.

(5) All liability, damage, cost, deficiency, or expense resulting from any misrepresentation, material omission, breach of warranty, or nonfulfillment of any covenant or agreement by Seller under or relating to this agreement.

(6) All actions, suits, proceedings, demands, assessments, judgments, costs, legal and accounting fees, and other expenses incident to any of the foregoing.

9.4. Reimbursement. Seller will reimburse Purchaser or the Corporation, or both, on demand, in respect of any liability, damage, cost, deficiency, or expense to which the indemnities set forth in paragraph 9.3 relate.

9.5. Notice. If any claim made against Purchaser or the Corporation causes Seller to be liable as a result of the above indemnities, Purchaser shall promptly give Seller notice of such claim. Seller shall be afforded a reasonable opportunity to examine the Corporation's books and records to determine the merits of the claim and either to defend the claim at his cost or to join in its defense. None of the indemnities hereunder shall be binding on Seller if Purchaser causes the Corporation to settle, adjust, or admit liability of any claim referred to herein without first giving notice thereof to Seller and affording him sufficient time to defend or settle the claim.

9.6. Security escrow. As collateral security for Seller's compliance with its obligations hereunder, Seller shall deposit $30,000 with George Nathan, Esq., as Escrow Agent, at the closing. The Escrow Agent shall hold this sum for a period of one year under the terms of an escrow agreement in the form annexed, to be executed by the Corporation, Purchaser, Seller, and the Escrow Agent at the closing. The respective rights of Purchaser and the Corporation thereunder shall be in addition to all other rights or remedies of Purchaser under this agreement.

10. Closing. The closing of this transaction shall take place at the office of Seller's attorney, George Nathan, Esq., at 280 Center Street, New York, New York, on July 15, _____ [year], at 2 p.m.

11. Binding effect. This agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of both parties and their respective legal representatives, successors, and assigns.

12. Notices. All notices under this agreement shall be in writing and deemed to have been given when mailed by registered or certified mail, postage prepaid, to the other party at the address set forth above, or to any other address designated in writing by such party.

13. Entire agreement; modification. This instrument constitutes the entire agreement between the parties. It may not be changed or terminated except by an agreement duly executed and signed by both parties.

14. Non-waiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise any right hereunder, and no partial or single exercise of such right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

15. Headings. Headings in this agreement are for convenience and reference only and shall not be used to interpret or construe its provisions.

16. Governing law. This agreement shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of New York.

17. Counterparts. This agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

18. Time of essence. Time is of the essence of this agreement.

The parties have duly executed this agreement

Attest:

Harvey Brown

Secretary

Jay Realty Corp.

By: _____
President

124 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms

H. SALES OF STOCK IN REAL ESTATE CORPORATIONS

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.88

FORM 21.88 Sale of stock of corporation--operating motel principal asset--seller protected against personal liability for corporate debt--buyer indemnified against undisclosed debts

COMMENT

This is a contract for the sale of stock of a corporation with an operating motel as its principal asset. The indemnifications in this agreement are to protect the purchaser not only against the risks involved in buying real estate, but also against the risks in buying a going business.

Indemnification of buyer

In this form, the indemnity includes all undisclosed debts of the business, all claims arising out of the seller's warranties, all deficiencies in taxes which may arise with respect to returns which have been filed, and all tax deficiencies for operations up to the closing in excess of those provided for in the agreement. A sum of money is to be set up by the seller in escrow as security for the indemnification provision.

Indemnification of seller

The seller under this agreement is protected by indemnification. During the course of his operation of the business of the corporation, the seller has personally guaranteed some of the corporate debts. To insure that these debts will be paid and that no liability will be asserted against the seller, the purchaser is obligated at the closing to make a cash loan to the corporation which is to be used to discharge all of its debts except specified mortgage loans, leases and certain contracts. In this agreement, the purchaser indemnifies the seller against liability for these obligations. The purchaser's loan to the corporation will not be taken into account either for determining gain or loss to the seller or the cost basis of the purchaser.

Collapsible corporation ordinary income risk

When stock of a real estate corporation is sold, the seller must consider whether, under the "collapsible corporation" provisions of the Code (IRC § 341), ordinary income, rather than capital gain, is realized on the sale.

FORM

AGREEMENT entered into between Herbert Lenore, a person of full age and majority and a resident of the Parish of Orleans, State of Louisiana ("Seller"), and J. & M. Corporation, a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Delaware, herein represented by its President, James Murray, duly authorized ("Purchaser").

Recitals

Seller is the owner of all of the outstanding capital stock of Bayside Hotels Corporation, and is its President.

Bayside Hotels Corporation operates and has operated the Bayside Motel at 100 University Avenue, New Orleans, Louisiana, and Purchaser has inspected the premises of the Bayside Motel. Purchaser desires to purchase Seller's shares in Bayside Hotels Corporation, and intends to continue to operate the business of the Bayside Motel and its attendant facilities.

Now, therefore, the parties agree as follows:

1. Sale of stock. Seller shall sell and deliver to Purchaser, and Purchaser shall purchase from Seller, 6,000 shares of the no par value common capital stock of Bayside Hotels Corporation, a Louisiana corporation ("Bayside").

2. Price. The purchase price for this sale shall be $1.5 million cash, payable at the closing.

3. Loan to corporation as additional consideration. Purchaser acknowledges that Seller has guaranteed certain of Bayside's obligations and has required that Purchaser make available to Bayside, in the form of a loan, at closing, the sum of $250,000. Bayside shall use this amount, at closing, to pay all of its outstanding debts and obligations, except those which the parties have agreed will remain outstanding after the closing, as provided in paragraphs 4 and 5.

4. Outstanding mortgages. Purchaser acknowledges that the outstanding mortgages and debts due by Bayside as listed on the attached Exhibit A will not be paid at the closing but will remain as Bayside's obligations and shall survive the closing. To the extent that Seller has personally obligated himself in connection with any of such mortgages or debts as an indemnitor, endorser, or guarantor for the benefit of Bayside, Purchaser shall hold Seller harmless in connection with any liability which may be enforced against Seller by virtue of the nonpayment of any such obligations.

5. Outstanding leases and contracts. Purchaser further acknowledges that the leases and contracts made by Bayside as listed on the attached Exhibit B will not be satisfied or cancelled at the closing. Purchaser shall indemnify and hold Seller harmless in connection with any personal obligation or responsibility Seller may have in connection with such leases and contracts as the same may be enforced against Seller by virtue of any default by Bayside after the date of closing.

6. Seller's representations and warranties. Seller represents, covenants, and warrants (all of which shall survive the closing of this transaction) that as of the closing:

(a) Corporate status. Bayside is a corporation duly incorporated and validly existing under the laws of the State of Louisiana and is in good standing in such state; Bayside has filed all required returns with respect to state and federal income, franchise, and corporation taxes, for all previous years since incorporation up to the present fiscal year which commenced January 1, _____ [year]; Bayside has paid all taxes shown to be due on such returns.

(b) Shares. The 6,000 shares of Bayside are owned by Seller free and clear of all liens and encumbrances; Seller has the unrestricted and unlimited right and authority to sell, transfer, and deliver such shares; the total authorized capital of Bayside consists of 6,000 shares of no par value common stock; and all such shares have been fully paid for, duly issued.

(c) Property. Bayside is the owner of the furniture, fixtures, equipment, carpeting, draperies, air conditioning units, kitchen equipment, utensils, cleaning equipment and materials at the Bayside Motel, consisting of 200 motel units and 210 hotel units, dining facilities, and public spaces. All of the above personal property is owned free and clear of all liens, encumbrances, and claims for payment, except for any debts relating to items listed in paragraph 4.

Seller represents and warrants that the premises is in compliance with all applicable governmental laws, rules and regulations, federal, state and local, including without limitation, environmental laws, and the Americans With Disabilities Act of 1990, and its Accessibility Guidelines.

(d) Debts. All of Bayside's debts are or will be paid and satisfied prior to or concurrently with the closing contemplated by this agreement, except the debts, obligations, and contractual arrangements referred to in paragraphs 4 and 5 and listed in the attached Exhibits A and B.

(e) Status quo. There will be no material adverse changes in Bayside's assets, liabilities or financial condition, nor shall any contractual arrangement or obligation, other than those in the usual course of business, be undertaken before the closing except as is otherwise listed and provided for in this agreement. All wages, salaries, commissions, indebtedness, and obligations of Bayside to its shareholders, officers, directors, employees, and agents have been or will be discharged at the closing, except the debts, obligations, and contractual arrangements referred to in paragraphs 4 and 5 and listed in the attached Exhibits A and B.

(f) Litigation. No actions, suits, or proceedings are pending, or to Seller's knowledge are threatened, against or affecting Bayside or its property, except the following:

(1) Jones Construction Co., Inc. vs. Bayside Hotels Corporation. No. 300-602, Civil District Court for the Parish of Orleans, State of Louisiana--Suit for $20,800, together with legal interest from May 20, _____ [year], until paid, and court costs.

(2) Robins, Inc. vs. Bayside Hotels Corporation. No. 304-702, Civil District Court for the Parish of Orleans, State of Louisiana--Suit for $15,784, with interest from May 8, _____ [year], until paid, and court costs.

At or before the closing, Seller will obtain a receipt and release for full settlement and cancellation of each of the foregoing suits. If the suits are not so settled, compromised, or paid before the closing, Seller shall deposit with Price and Winters, Attorneys at Law, all sums deemed necessary to pay the amount of each claim in full, plus 5 percent of the total of such claims remaining unpaid as a contingent amount. Seller shall deliver to Purchaser a consent from Price and Winters that such funds were deposited in escrow with them, that such funds will not be disbursed to any person, firm, or corporation except in settlement or payment of such suits, and if such suits are not paid or settled within two years from the closing date, that the escrow funds will be turned over to Purchaser, or its successors or assigns, and that thereupon Price and Winters and Seller shall be relieved of further responsibility therefor. It is the intention of this agreement that Purchaser will not be responsible for the payment of such claims. The consent of Price and Winters shall be to the effect that in the event of any adverse judgment on either of such claims, Price and Winters will either pay such judgments out of the funds deposited with them or will cause to be filed a suspensive appeal bond preventing the execution of any such judgment against the property of Bayside.

7. Documents at closing. Seller shall deliver or cause to be delivered to Purchaser at the closing the following:

(a) Secretary's certificate. A certificate from the Secretary of Bayside, certified by Seller, listing all shareholders of Bayside and setting forth the number of shares owned by each and the names of all officers and directors of Bayside.

(b) Charter, books and records. The original or a copy of the Charter of Bayside, minute books, stock books, and all books, records, and documents pertaining to Bayside and its affairs.

(c) Shares. 6,000 shares of the capital stock of Bayside, duly endorsed by Seller to Purchaser with the signature of Seller guaranteed by an officer of a national bank, or notarized by a Notary Public, duly qualified in and for the Parish where such signature is sworn to.

(d) Certificate of no default. A certificate from Seller that no default exists as to any items warranted by Seller in paragraph 4 of this agreement.

(e) Resignations. The written resignation of all of the officers and directors of Bayside, to be effective as of the closing date.

(f) Estoppel certificates. A statement from the appropriate creditor as of the closing date reflecting the balance due from Bayside to the various creditors listed on the attached Exhibit C.

8. Indemnification by seller

(a) Indemnification. Seller shall indemnify and hold harmless Purchaser and Bayside and its successors from and against all damages, liabilities, and claims which might exist on account of failure or default of any of Seller's covenants, agreements, or warranties hereunder, all debts of Bayside (known or unknown) and which are not disclosed or set forth in this agreement, and all amounts which might be claimed, asserted, or established for or as deficiencies with respect to federal or state income taxes, or franchise and other taxes including city taxes and charges against Bayside arising out of or related to the returns herein represented to have been filed, and the operations of Bayside during all fiscal years of Bayside, with the exception of the current fiscal year of ____ [year], and all such deficiencies with respect to operations and business of Bayside during such current fiscal year up to the date of the closing in excess of any amounts which have otherwise been herein provided for.

(b) Survival. All of Seller's covenants, agreements, and warranties hereunder are and shall remain in effect after the closing and sale of this purchase.

(c) Claims. If any claim for which Seller is obligated to Purchaser under the above provisions is asserted against Bayside or Purchaser, Seller shall, within ten days after receiving written notice thereof, notify Purchaser in writing whether he has any objection to the payment of such claim. Seller shall not object to such payment unless he promptly initiates proper proceedings to contest it (or undertakes the appropriate defense), at his expense, in a manner that will be effective fully to protect against any liability and expense in connection therewith.

(d) Claim payment. If Seller does not object to the payment of the claim within the ten-day notice period, Seller shall be required to pay the same within five days after the period expires. Seller's failure to pay such claim and obtain a full release of Bayside and Purchaser shall constitute full authority either to contest the claim or to pay the claim and obtain a release of Bayside and both parties. In that event, Purchaser may immediately receive from Seller the amount paid, plus interest of 9 percent per annum from the date of payment. Seller may not, in such event, contest the validity of the creditor's claim against Bayside or Purchaser, as the case may be. If Seller objects in writing to the payment of any such claim within the above ten-day period, and promptly initiates proper proceedings to contest it (or undertakes the appropriate defense thereof), Purchaser shall not pay the claim as provided above, unless and until all or any part of the claim is finally determined to be due and owing. In such event, the parties shall be bound by the above provisions with respect to the payment of claims.

9. Security for indemnification by seller. In order to secure contingent liabilities for the warranties and indemnities herein granted by Seller, Seller shall deposit, at the closing, the sum of $250,000 with Price and Winters, Attorneys at Law, for a period of nine months from the closing date. These funds may be invested by Price and Winters on instructions from Seller in any obligations of or guaranteed by the United States Government, or any obligations of any state of the United States or municipal subdivision, or in any bank or savings and loan association, the deposits of which are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or the Federal Savings & Loan Insurance Corporation. Such deposits shall not exceed in any one institution the amount which would be insured by such agencies. Price and Winters shall not be responsible for the failure or suspension of any bank wherein the deposits are made nor for the uncollectibility of any obligations purchased hereunder. These funds shall be held by Price and Winters, and receipted for by them, subject to the terms of this paragraph, and shall be paid to Seller upon the expiration of the term of this escrow deposit without claim of any person, firm, or corporation thereto, including Purchaser. If any claims or obligations arise for which Seller is obligated, Seller shall either pay or obtain a release of Bayside and Purchaser from such claims in accordance with the procedure established in paragraph 8, and upon Seller's failure so to do within the time limits therein provided, Price and Winters shall use portions of the funds deposited with them to pay and settle such claims and to obtain a release of Bayside and Purchaser. Price and Winters shall in no event be responsible for the payment of any funds over and above the amount so deposited. If such funds are not sufficient to pay or satisfy any claims arising within the period of the escrow deposit, the placing of this escrow deposit shall not relieve and release Seller from his hold harmless and indemnity for the full amount of such claims as otherwise provided in this agreement.

10. Deposit by purchaser. Purchaser has, concurrently with the execution of this agreement, deposited with Blaine and Smith, Inc., 100 Hillside Street, New Orleans, Louisiana, the sum of $250,000 cash, to be applied against the $1.5 million cash to be paid Seller under the provisions of paragraph 2. If Purchaser fails or refuses to close this sale for any reason, other than Seller's refusal or failure to comply with or perform any of his covenants and agreements, the $250,000 shall be forfeited and paid to Seller as full liquidated damages without further formality, beyond the tender of title by Seller in accordance herewith. The responsibility of Blaine and Smith, Inc., who by their intervention herein acknowledge receipt of the $250,000 deposit, shall be only to hold such funds so deposited in safe keeping and to disburse and pay them as herein provided.

11. Brokerage and commission. The parties agree that there are no broker's fees or commissions, or finder's fees, or otherwise, due as a result of the consummation of this transaction other than the payment of a $25,000 commission to Blaine and Smith, Inc., which Seller agrees to pay. Blaine and Smith, Inc., by its intervention herein, agree that it shall not be entitled to any commission unless this sale and purchase is closed and the consideration paid by Purchaser. Purchaser further agrees with Seller that if there is any brokerage, finder's fee, or commission due to any other person, firm, or corporation, then, and in the event of any such claim, Purchaser shall defend or pay such claim and hold Seller harmless in connection with any liability or responsibility in connection therewith.

12. Closing. The sale and purchase under this agreement shall be closed at the law office of Price and Winters, 100 Bankers Building, New Orleans, Louisiana, at 10 a.m. on November 1, ____ [year], or at any other time the parties shall designate. Purchaser may close this transaction before the above date by giving Seller 10 days' prior written notice of its intention and fixing the exact date and time of the proposed closing, which, in any event, shall be at the office of Price and Winters. In no event shall the sale and purchase be closed later than November 1, ____ [year], unless Purchaser requests a 30-day extension to December 1, ____ [year]. Purchaser shall be entitled to such 30-day extension only if it places an additional $100,000 deposit with Blaine and Smith, Inc. This additional deposit shall be subject to the same terms, conditions, and provisions as the initial $250,000 deposit provided for in paragraph 10.

13. Assignment. Purchaser may assign this agreement to any person, firm, or corporation if the assignee assumes all of Purchaser's obligations hereunder. Seller's rights in and to the deposit shall not be affected by any such assignment. If an assignment is made, Purchaser shall indemnify Seller by separate indemnity agreement with respect to Purchaser's obligations herein to hold Seller harmless in connection with Bayside's mortgages and debts as listed in the attached Exhibit A.

14. Notices. All notices hereunder shall be deemed properly given if sent by United States mail, postage prepaid, registered or certified mail, to either party, at the following addresses:

Seller: Herbert Lenore
400 Commercial Building
New Orleans, Louisiana

Purchaser: J. & M. Corporation
500 Fifth Avenue
New York, New York

The parties may change their respective addresses by written notice, as provided above.

15. Governing law. This agreement shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of Louisiana.

16. Entire agreement; modification. This instrument constitutes the entire agreement between the parties. It may not be changed or terminated except by an agreement duly executed and signed by both parties.

17. Binding effect. This agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of both parties and their respective legal representatives, heirs, successors, and assigns.

18. Non-waiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise any right hereunder, and no partial or single exercise of such right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

19. Headings. Headings in this agreement are for convenience and reference only and shall not be used to interpret or construe its provisions.

20. Counterparts. This agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

21. Time of essence. Time is of the essence of this agreement.

Thus done and signed by the respective parties in New Orleans, Louisiana, on September 1, ____ [year].

Corporate Seal

Attest:

Secretary

J. & M. Corporation

By: _____
President

Herbert Lenore

Intervention

Now comes and appears, John Blaine, President of Blaine and Smith, Inc., who does by these presents intervene, take cognizance of, and agree to any of the above and foregoing provisions of this agreement of purchase and sale, and particularly paragraphs 10 and 11, as same may affect Blaine and Smith, Inc., regarding commission, brokerage and the placing of the deposit, and John Blaine does for and on behalf of himself and Blaine and Smith, Inc., acknowledge receipt of a deposit of $250,000 in accordance with the provisions of paragraph 10 of this agreement.

John Blaine for and on behalf of himself and Blaine and Smith, Inc.

125 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms

H. SALES OF STOCK IN REAL ESTATE CORPORATIONS

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.89

FORM 21.89 Sale of stock of corporation--operating hotel principal asset--nonrecourse installment note secured by stock being sold--separate security agreement

COMMENT

In this transaction, a substantial part of the purchase price is deferred by a nonrecourse promissory note of the purchaser. To secure the payment of this promissory note, the purchaser deposits as collateral, under a separate security agreement, all the shares of the corporation. Under this security agreement, the purchaser may liquidate the corporation and substitute a second mortgage as security for the promissory note.

Tax aspects

This transaction may qualify as an installment sale transaction, so that the gain is deferred and is not reported until each deferred payment is actually made. Furthermore, the seller indemnifies the purchaser against all unknown claims, but reserves the right to defend specific tax claims through his own counsel. Special provisions are incorporated to take care of pending claims for the refund of federal taxes.

FORMS

(1) Contract of sale

AGREEMENT made in New York, New York, October 15, _____ [year], between Harold Smith, of New Haven, Connecticut ("Seller"), and James Wilson, of New York, New York ("Purchaser").

Recitals

Seller is the owner of all the authorized and outstanding shares of Smith Hotel Corporation, a New York corporation (the "Company"), consisting of 200 common shares.

Seller desires to sell, and Purchaser desires to purchase, all the common shares of the Company.

It is therefore agreed:

1. Representations. Seller makes the following warranties and representations to Buyer:

1.1. Corporation status and shares. The Company is a business corporation duly organized and validly existing under the laws of the State of New York; the Company is authorized to issue an aggregate of 200 common shares.

1.2. Authority to sell. Seller is the owner of all the Company's shares; he has full right to sell and transfer such shares; such shares are free and clear of all liens, security interests, debts, or other encumbrances, and are fully paid and nonassessable.

1.3. Property and title. The Company is the owner of, and has a good and marketable title in fee simple to, the following described property (the "Property"):

(Insert description)

subject only to the following encumbrances:

(1) A first mortgage made by the Company to National Mortgage Corporation, dated March 5, _____ [year], recorded in the office of the Register of the County of New York in Liber 15278 of mortgages, page 400, originally given to secure a bond of $1.5 million upon which there remains unpaid as of this date the sum of $1.35 million, with interest at 8 percent per annum from October 1, [date], and upon which interest is payable on January 1, _____ [year], and quarter-annually thereafter, and principal is payable $6,000 on January 1, _____ [year], and $6,000 on the first days of every third month thereafter until April 1, _____ [year], when the entire balance of principal becomes due;

(2) A security interest on the furniture, furnishings, equipment, and other personal property belonging to the Company and used in the operation of the property, given as additional collateral security for the payment of the mortgage indebtedness due to National Mortgage Corporation;

(3) Any state of facts which an accurate survey would show, and which does not render title to the property unmarketable; and

(4) Leases, tenancies, and occupancies of the various stores, offices, and apartments in the building on the property, with all of which Purchaser is familiar.

1.4. Financial statement. The annexed balance sheet as of September 30, _____ [year] is a true and correct balance sheet of the Company as of that date; there are no liabilities or obligations, actual or contingent, of the Company as of that date except those therein set forth (except that no reserve has been set up for the Company's federal and state income and franchise taxes for the period from and after June 1, _____ [year]).

1.5. Financial statement changes. The Company has not, between September 30, _____ [year], and the date hereof, entered into any contract or incurred any obligation of any kind, except those in the regular course of its business.

1.6. Employment contracts. There is no contract of employment with any officer, director, or employee of the Company which is not terminable at will.

1.7. Tax returns. The Company has filed all necessary state and federal income and franchise tax returns, and all necessary reports and returns for all other taxes due to the federal, state, and city governments, and it has set up an adequate reserve for, or has fully paid and discharged, all such taxes accrued up to May 31, _____ [year].

1.8. Litigation. No litigation, reassessment, or audit of taxes, wage negotiation, or other proceeding now is pending against the Company, except possible tort claims covered by insurance.

1.9. Contracts. There are no service contracts or other contracts of more than one year's duration, except leases, the union contract, or contract that may be cancelled on 30 days notice.

1.10. Condition of Real Property. The Property is in compliance with all governmental laws, rules and regulations, federal, state and local, including without limitation all environmental laws, and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, and its Accessibility Guidelines.

2. Purchase price. Seller shall sell and Purchaser shall purchase the entire capital stock of the Company for $1.8 million, subject to the adjustments of purchase price set forth below.

3. Additions to purchase price. To the purchase price referred to in paragraph 2, there shall be added an amount equivalent to the total of the following assets of the Company, as of November 1, _____ [year]: (a) cash on hand and in banks; (b) accounts receivable; (c) the value of the inventories of merchantable food and beverages at the cost stated on the Company's books; (d) the prorated value of all existing policies of insurance; (e) prepaid real estate taxes, apportioned on the basis of the real estate tax year; (f) prepaid rates for licenses, telephone equipment, and telephone rental; (g) prepaid water rates; (h) fuel on hand; and (i) the value at cost of the linens, china, glass, silverware, carpets, curtains, draperies, and materials in reserve not required for normal replacements.

4. Reductions in purchase price. There shall be deducted from the purchase price an amount equivalent to the total of the following items, as of November 1, _____ [year]: (a) interest earned and unpaid on the first mortgage referred to in paragraph 1.3; (b) accounts payable; (c) taxes of the Company, determined on the basis that the Company ceased business on that date, including federal and state income tax, New York State franchise tax, federal, state, and city income tax on wages withheld at the source, federal and state payroll taxes, state and city utility taxes, New York City sales tax and water charges, and real estate taxes apportioned on the basis of the real estate tax year; (d) salaries and wages of employees apportioned on the basis of time; (e) charges to be accrued for electricity, water, steam, gas, telephone, and compensation insurance; (f) rents received in advance for any period after October 31, _____ [year]; (g) accrued real estate assessments which become liens before November 1, _____ [year]; and (h) any other liabilities shown on the balance sheet to be prepared in accordance with paragraph 5, except the first mortgage referred to in paragraph 1.3.

5. Determination of purchase price. The purchase price, adjusted as provided in paragraphs 3 and 4, be determined by the accounting firm of Jones & Jones, which shall take all necessary inventories and shall prepare the necessary statements, computations, and balance sheet, all to be made as of midnight, October 31, _____ [year]. Such determination of the adjusted purchase price shall be conclusive on the parties, when submitted in written form at the closing. Within 30 days after the date of closing, the firm of Jones & Jones shall audit and certify their computation of the adjusted purchase price, and if it appears from such audited and completed statement that the computation was inaccurately made, adjustment shall be promptly made between the parties, so that Purchaser shall be reimbursed for any overpayment made or shall pay Seller the amount of any underpayment.

6. Payment of purchase price. The adjusted purchase price shall be payable as follows:

(a) $150,000 by check, subject to collection, upon the execution and delivery of this agreement, receipt acknowledged.

(b) $300,000 at the time of closing, by certified check or checks drawn to the order of Seller, upon a bank or trust company which is a member of the New York Clearing House Association or the Federal Reserve Bank.

(c) The balance, with interest from November 1, _____ [year], at 7 percent per annum, in installments, as follows: $9,000 on January 10, _____ [year], and $9,000 on the tenth day of every month thereafter, to be applied, first, on account of interest upon the unpaid balances of purchase price at 7 percent per annum, and then in reduction of the unpaid balances of purchase price, until November 10, _____ [year], when the entire balance of the purchase price shall be due and payable.

7. Promissory note for balance of purchase price. The unpaid balance of the purchase price due at the closing shall be evidenced by the execution and delivery by Purchaser to Seller, upon the closing, of a nonnegotiable promissory note, dated as of November 1, _____ [year], bearing interest of 7 percent per annum, and payable in the manner above provided. The promissory note may be prepaid in whole or in part in multiples of $1,000, at any time prior to maturity, and shall provide that if the maker defaults in the payment of any installment of principal or interest upon such note, and such default continues for 15 days, then, at the option of the holder of such note, the entire unpaid principal balance with accrued interest shall forthwith become due and payable. The promissory note shall further provide that if any of the following events occur, it shall, at the holder's option, immediately become due and payable, notwithstanding any other provision therein contained: if the Company, its successors or assigns, or any owner of the property, defaults in paying any installment of principal or interest upon the first mortgage referred to in paragraph 1.3, or upon any mortgages which are placed upon its real or personal property in place thereof, and the default continues for ten days; if the Company, its successors or assigns, or any owner of the property, defaults in performing any other term of the first mortgage, or of any mortgage or security interest placed upon its real or personal property, and the default continues for ten days; if the Company, its successors or assigns, or any owner of the property, fails to pay promptly any tax or assessment levied against the property, and the default continues for 30 days; or if Purchaser otherwise defaults in performing any term in the security agreement to be executed and delivered at the closing in the form annexed and made a part hereof.

8. Escrow of shares to secure promissory note. To secure the payment of the promissory note referred to in paragraph 7, Purchaser shall, at the closing, deposit with Seller all the shares of the Company purchased by Purchaser, duly endorsed for transfer, and Seller shall hold such shares as security for the payment of the promissory note, and for the Purchaser's performance of the terms of the promissory note and the accompanying security agreement. In case of any default in the performance of the terms of the promissory note or the security agreement, Seller may sell such shares or any part thereof, at public or private sale, at which Seller may bid and purchase, on 30 days' notice in writing to Purchaser. Seller shall apply the proceeds to the expenses of such sale, including counsel fees, and to the payment of the principal and interest due upon the promissory note to the date of payment. Any surplus shall be paid over to Purchaser.

9. Limitation on purchaser's liability. Notwithstanding the above, Purchaser's liability to pay the promissory note is limited to the security held by Seller. In no event shall Purchaser be personally liable for any deficiency resulting from the sale of such shares, or of any security deposited in substitution, nor shall any action or proceeding in any event be brought by Seller against Purchaser to recover a personal judgment against him upon the promissory note or upon the security agreement.

10. Accounts receivable unpaid. If any of the accounts receivable included in the determination of the adjusted purchase price are not paid within 30 days after the closing Seller, upon receiving an assignment thereof, shall pay the Company their then unpaid face amount. The Company shall not be required to institute any suit or other proceeding for the collection of such accounts receivable. However, Purchaser agrees that the Company shall, at Seller's request and expense, assist in the collection of any accounts receivable so assigned to Seller, and shall make its facilities available to him. If Seller institutes any suit to collect the accounts receivable, Purchaser shall refrain from doing anything that might affect such collection.

11. Additional taxes. If the amount referred to in paragraph 1.7 as having been set aside for the Company's federal, state, and city taxes for fiscal years ended before June 1, _____ [year], is found to be insufficient, Seller shall pay Purchaser the amount of such deficiency. If at any time hereafter, by reason of any examination or audit made by the federal, state, or city governments, any additional taxes or assessments with interest or penalties (other than those now set forth in the reserve account), are levied or assessed against the Company for any fiscal year or period ended before June 1, _____ [year], Seller shall forthwith pay such amounts to Purchaser. If the federal, state, or city government makes or asserts any claim for additional taxes or assessments against the Company for any fiscal year or period ended before June 1, _____ [year], Seller may employ his own counsel to contest such claims, and to litigate them at his expense. In such case, however, Seller shall indemnify the Company and Purchaser against any damage resulting from the failure to pay such claims while such litigation is pending, and shall pay or discharge such assessment or assessments, with interest and penalties, as finally fixed and determined.

12. Indemnification against unknown claims. If at any time after the closing of this transaction, it appears that there are any suits, claims, demands, or obligations of the Company of any kind or nature (not including claims for which the Company is adequately insured against loss or damage), not appearing upon the balance sheet of October 31, _____ [year], to be prepared in accordance with paragraph 5, or not herein specifically referred to, Seller shall, upon receipt of written notice thereof within six years from the closing date, make payment thereof, or indemnify the Company and Purchaser against the collection thereof, defend, at his expense, any action brought thereon, and pay and discharge any judgment obtained against the Company or Purchaser by reason thereof.

13. No recourse against seller on seller's obligations. Notwithstanding any contrary provision herein, Seller personally does not obligate himself to perform any obligation set forth in paragraphs 10, 11, and 12, or to make any payment referred to in those paragraphs. If Seller fails to make any such payment as it becomes due and payable, Purchaser's sole remedy shall be to deduct the amount or amounts as they become payable from the next ensuing installments on the promissory note evidencing the balance of the purchase price. The mere assertion of a claim or demand, or the institution of any action, shall not authorize any offset against Purchaser's obligations under the promissory note, unless such claim or demand is either reduced to final judgment or admitted in writing by Seller. Reference to this provision shall be inserted in the promissory note evidencing the balance of the purchase price.

14. Pending tax refund. The Company has filed claims for refund of federal income taxes for the fiscal years ended May 31, _____ [year], and May 31, _____ [year]. Purchaser shall take no step to interfere with the prosecution of these refund claims, and shall permit any attorney selected by Seller to prosecute such claims upon terms determined by Seller. If the Company receives any refunds of these taxes for any period before June 1, _____ [year], Purchaser, by way of addition to the purchase price, shall pay to Seller, as such refunds are received, a sum equal to their amount, less attorneys' fees paid or agreed to be paid by the Company, and less any disbursements incurred in connection with any proceedings instituted for such refunds.

15. Examination of books. Purchaser, or his agents and accountants, shall have full and complete access to all of the Company's books, records, and accounts, and may make any examination and take any excerpts he or they deems necessary or desirable.

16. Conduct of business. Seller covenants that, between the date of this agreement and the date of closing, the Company shall not:

16.1. Make any changes in its corporate structure, or its certificate of incorporation, or in the amount of its authorized or issued shares.

16.2. Enter into any transaction other than in the ordinary course of business.

16.3. Make any lease for any period later than one year from December 1, _____ [year].

16.4. Enter into any agreement altering or modifying the terms of the first mortgage and security interest referred to in paragraph 1.3.

16.5. Increase the rate of compensation payable to any officer or director of the Company, or enter into any new contract of employment with any officer or director.

16.6. Make any agreement of employment other than in the normal course of its business.

16.7. Default on the first mortgage and security interest referred to in paragraph 1.3, or in the maintenance of all policies of insurance now in effect, including workmen's compensation and liability insurance.

16.8. Sell, assign, or otherwise dispose of its trade name.

16.9. Default in the filing of any reports or returns due to any federal, state, or municipal authority.

17. Fire or condemnation. If before November 1, _____ [year], the Property owned by the Company, which is its principal asset, is condemned in whole or in part, or partly destroyed by fire, and such damage exceeds $300,000, in either such event this agreement shall become null and void, Seller shall return to Purchaser the money paid on account, and the parties shall release and discharge each other from any further obligations. If such damage does not exceed $300,000, this agreement shall nevertheless be performed; but, for the purpose only of determining the adjusted purchase price, the money realized by the Company from the fire insurance or condemnation shall not be deemed an asset of the Company, nor shall the cost of repairing the loss or damage be deemed a liability.

18. Closing documents. At the closing, Seller shall deliver to Purchaser:

18.1 Shares. Certificates for 200 common shares of the Company, duly endorsed for transfer, subject to Purchaser's obligation to deposit the shares with Seller in accordance with the provisions of paragraph 8.

18.2 Resignations. The resignations of each officer and director of the Company. Seller shall cause to be elected in their place the officers and directors designated by Purchaser.

18.3 Replacement officers and directors. Certificates of the Company's resigning secretary, duly certified by the resigning president and each resigning director, certifying that at a meeting of the Company's directors, duly called and held and at which a quorum was present, the resignation of the officers and directors thereof was accepted, and that there were duly elected in their place, as officers and directors, the persons Purchaser designated in writing.

18.4 Documents. A copy of the Certificate of Incorporation of the Company; its Bylaws, minute book, share book, and seal; the deed or deeds to the Property; the title policy issued by the Title guaranty and Trust Company, and all other papers relating to the title to the Property; copies of the first mortgage and security agreement referred to in paragraph 1.3; any bills, vouchers, and records showing the ownership of the furniture, furnishings, and equipment, and other personal property used in the operation of the Company; and all other of the Company's books of account, records, and contracts.

18.5 Estoppel letter. A letter or memorandum from the National Mortgage Company showing the amount due, as of November 1, _____ [year], for principal and interest on the first mortgage and security agreement referred to in paragraph 1.3.

19. Misrepresentation by seller. If any of Seller's representations are untrue, inaccurate or misleading in any material respect, Purchaser's sole remedy shall be to rescind this agreement. If Purchaser rescinds, Seller shall immediately pay Purchaser the $150,000 paid upon the execution hereof, whereupon Purchaser shall have no further claims against Seller. If the effect of any false, inaccurate, or misleading representation may be remedied by a reduction in the purchase price, Purchaser shall close this transaction, accept delivery of the common shares, and pay the purchase price provided for herein, less such reduction or adjustments.

20. Default by purchaser. If on the date set for the closing, Seller is ready, willing, and able to carry out and perform this agreement, and Purchaser refuses or is unwilling to perform his obligations, Seller shall retain the amount paid on account of the purchase price as liquidated damages, this agreement shall thereupon become void, and neither party shall have any further rights against the other. The parties acknowledge that said sum represents their best estimate of what the actual damages would be, which are difficult to ascertain.

21. Closing. The closing of this transaction shall take place at the office of Howard T. Brown, Esq., 10 Madison Square, New York, New York, on November 2, _____ [year], at 10 a.m.

22. Releases. At the closing, Purchaser shall cause the new directors of the Company to adopt a resolution releasing and discharging Seller, and all of the Company's present and former officers and directors, from the date of its incorporation to the date of such closing, from any claim or demand existing against them, or any of them, in favor of the Company, by reason of any act or thing done by them, or any of them, and shall cause the Company to execute and deliver such general release to Seller and the Company's present and former officers and directors. Seller and the Company's resigning officers and directors shall execute and deliver to Purchaser similar releases in favor of the Company, except that Seller's release shall exclude obligations of the Company which, under this agreement, Purchaser undertakes to have fulfilled.

23. Broker. Thomas Burke is the broker who brought about this transaction. Seller shall pay for the services of such broker, in accordance with a separate agreement made between them. Purchaser represents and warrants that he has had no dealings or negotiations with respect to this transaction with any person, firm, or corporation other than such broker.

24. Entire agreement; modification. This instrument constitutes the entire agreement between the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof. All representations herein made by Seller shall expire on the closing of this transaction, and none shall survive the closing. This agreement may not be modified except by an instrument duly executed by both parties.

25. Non-waiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise any right hereunder, and no partial or single exercise of such right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

26. Binding effect. This agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of both parties and their respective legal representatives and assigns.

27. Notices. All notices hereunder shall be in writing and delivered personally or mailed by certified mail, postage prepaid, addressed to the parties at their last known addresses.

28. Headings. Headings in this agreement are for convenience and reference only and shall not be used to interpret or construe its provisions.

29. Governing law. This agreement shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of New York.

30. Counterparts. This agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

31. Time of essence. Time is of the essence of this agreement.

The parties have signed and sealed this agreement.

(L.S.)

Harold Smith

(L.S.)

James Wilson

(2) Security agreement

SECURITY AGREEMENT made November 2, _____ [year], between James Wilson, Purchaser, and Harold Smith, Seller.

Recitals

Pursuant to an agreement of sale and purchase between the parties on October 15, _____ [year], Purchaser has simultaneously herewith delivered his promissory note to Seller, dated November 1, _____ [year], evidencing the balance of the purchase price for 200 common shares of Smith Hotel Corporation, (the "Company").

Purchaser, by the terms of the agreement dated October 15, _____ [year], has agreed to secure the payment of his promissory note in the manner hereinafter set forth,

It is therefore agreed:

1. Deposit of collateral. Purchaser hereby deposits with Seller certificates for 200 of the Company's common shares, duly endorsed for transfer. Such share certificates shall be held by Seller subject to the terms and conditions of this agreement; and, upon the payment in full of the promissory note, shall be returned to Purchaser.

2. Substitution of collateral. Purchaser may at any time, so long as there is no default in the promissory note, or in the performance of the terms, covenants, and conditions of this security agreement, substitute other collateral for the 200 Company shares, and obtain the release of such shares. Other collateral may consist of shares of a corporation owning a hotel of approximately the same size, age, character, and value as the hotel now owned by the Company, if the net worth of such corporation is at least as great as the then net worth of the Company; or such other collateral may consist of a mortgage, in the face amount of the unpaid portion of the promissory note, upon hotel property the equity value of which is at least three times such amount.

3. Deposit of resignations. Purchaser hereby deposits with Seller the undated resignations of James Wilson, Harold Wilson, and John Wilson, as officers and directors of the Company. Such resignations, however, shall not be used or acted upon unless the Company's shares are sold at public or private sale, by reason of a default by Purchaser. Following every meeting of the shareholders or directors of the Company at which new directors or officers are elected, the resignation of the new directors and the new officers shall immediately be deposited with Seller. If Purchaser fails to deposit any such resignation, and if such default continues for a period of ten days after the election of a director or officer, the promissory note, together with interest thereon, shall forthwith become due and payable.

4. Dividends and voting rights. All dividends upon the deposited shares or on any securities deposited in substitution, and, if the securities are interest bearing, the interest thereon, shall belong to Purchaser but shall be paid to Seller to be applied in reduction of the promissory note. All voting rights incident to such shares shall be vested absolutely in Seller, except that Purchaser or his nominee, so long as Purchaser is not in default in the performance of any term of the promissory note or of this security agreement, is irrevocably authorized to vote the shares for the election of any directors Purchaser designates, and also for the dissolution of the Company at any time after February 1, _____ [year]. All other voting rights incident to the shares shall remain vested absolutely in Seller. Seller may keep the shares in street name or in the name of his nominee.

5. Dissolution of company and substitution of collateral. If the Company is dissolved, Purchaser may promptly: (a) substitute other collateral security in character and amount satisfactory to Seller; (b) convey and deliver to Seller all of the assets received by Purchaser upon such dissolution or liquidation, to be held as security in place of the shares deposited with Seller; or (c) cause to be executed and delivered to Seller a second mortgage upon the real property of the Company, and a security interest subordinate to a prior perfected security interest on all of its personal property of every kind used in the operation of the property, including all after-acquired personal property, except property belonging to the tenants or occupants of the stores, offices, or apartments, and except food, beverages, and merchandise inventories used in the operation of the property, to be held as security in place of the shares deposited with Seller. If Purchaser elects alternative (c), the second mortgage and subordinate security interest shall be substantially in the forms annexed hereto as exhibits, and shall be executed in conformity with all applicable provisions of law, so that they shall constitute an effective second mortgage lien and security interest on the property and the chattels described therein. Purchaser will pay any tax, including the mortgage tax incident to such second mortgage and subordinate security interest, and the recording fees. Upon the execution and delivery of such second mortgage and subordinate security interest to Seller, he shall return the deposited shares to Purchaser, and shall cancel this collateral agreement, and will thereafter hold such second mortgage and subordinate security interest as security for the payment of the balance of the principal and interest due upon the promissory note.

6. Covenants of purchaser. Purchaser covenants that while this agreement is in full force, the Company:

(a) Shall not execute or deliver to anyone other than Seller a second mortgage upon all or any of its real property, or a security interest subordinate to the prior perfected security interest upon all or any of its personal property.

(b) Shall not engage in any business other than the operation of its property as a hotel.

(c) Shall not purchase any real property, or purchase any other property except in the regular course of its business.

(d) Shall deliver to Seller monthly audit reports, prepared by the Company's regular accountants, and a copy of each annual report, certified by independent certified public accountants.

(e) Shall carry complete insurance, in insurance companies authorized to do business in the State of New York, covering the real and personal property to the extent of their full insurable value.

(f) Shall not pay salaries or compensation aggregating more than $90,000 annually to all its officers and directors.

7. Default. (a) Seller may forthwith declare the promissory note due and payable, anything in the promissory note and in this agreement to the contrary notwithstanding, in any of the following events: (i) if Purchaser defaults in the payment of any installment of principal or interest due on the promissory note, and such default continues for 15 days; (ii) if the Company, its successors or assigns, or any owner of the property, defaults in the payment of any installment of principal or interest upon the first mortgages or security interests now owned by National Mortgage Corporation covering the real or personal property owned by the Company, or upon any mortgages or security interests which are placed upon its real or personal property in place thereof, and such default continues for ten days; (iii) if the Company, its successors or assigns, or any owner of the property, defaults in the performance of any other terms or covenants of such first mortgages, or security interests, or of any mortgages or security interests which are placed upon its real or personal property in place thereof, and such default continues for ten days; (iv) if the Company, its successors or assigns, or any owner of the property, fails to pay promptly any tax or assessment levied against its property, and such default continues for 30 days; or (v) if Purchaser defaults in performing any term or covenant of this security agreement for which no grace period is provided, and such default continues for 30 days.

(b) In such event, Seller may sell all or any part of the deposited shares, or any security which is substituted in place of the deposited shares (except the second mortgages and security interests referred to in paragraph 5, which when executed, delivered, and accepted in accordance with the provisions hereof shall result in the extinguishment of this security agreement), at public or private sale, on 30 days' written notice to Purchaser of the time and place of such sale; and Seller shall apply the proceeds of such sale to the payment of the expenses incident thereto, including counsel fees, and to the payment of the principal and interest upon the promissory note, and any surplus shall be paid over to Purchaser. At any sale of the collateral deposited hereunder, Seller may purchase all, but not part, of the collateral sold, and receive title thereto free from any claim or demand of Purchaser.

8. No recourse against purchaser. Purchaser's personal liability is limited to the value of the stock deposited with Seller, or any substituted collateral which is given and accepted in place thereof, and the amount realized thereon. In no event shall Purchaser be liable for any deficiency resulting from the sale of the deposited shares or of any security deposited in substitution therefor, irrespective of the amount realized. Upon such sale and the distribution of the proceeds, the Purchaser's personal liability and obligations on the promissory note and under this agreement shall be deemed fully paid and discharged. No action or proceeding of any kind shall in any event be brought against Purchaser to recover a personal judgment against him upon the promissory note or under this security agreement.

9. Insolvency. If the Company voluntarily files a petition in bankruptcy, or institutes insolvency or reorganization proceedings in the state or federal courts, or is adjudicated a bankrupt or insolvent in any state or federal court, Seller may immediately declare the full amount unpaid on the promissory note, with interest thereon, forthwith due and payable without any grace period, and may give notice to Purchaser that within seven days from the date of such notice the collateral held by Seller shall be sold as above provided.

10. Certificate of validity. Purchaser represents that the promissory note held by Seller is a valid and subsisting obligation of Purchaser for the full face amount, with interest, except to the extent of any offsets set forth in the promissory note. Purchaser covenants that he will at any time and from time to time, at the Seller's request, execute and deliver a certificate or certificates attesting to the validity of the promissory note, and attesting further that it is a valid and subsisting obligation of Purchaser, subject to the limitations of liability therein expressly set forth, and that there are no offsets or defenses against it except as set forth in the promissory note. Failure to execute and deliver such certificate or certificates within ten days after such demand shall be deemed a default for which Seller may forthwith declare the promissory note due and payable.

11. Delays and waivers. Any extension, modification, or indulgence at any time granted by Seller to Purchaser shall not affect or prejudice Seller's rights and remedies. No delay or omission in exercising any right, power, or remedy accruing to Seller shall be construed as a waiver of any default hereunder, nor shall any waiver of any single breach or default hereunder be deemed a waiver of any breach or default thereafter occurring. All waivers, consents, and notices of approval hereunder must be in writing.

12. Notice. Notices to Purchaser shall be sent by registered or certified mail, addressed to him at 700 Park Avenue, New York, New York. Notices to Seller shall be sent by registered or certified mail, addressed to him at 120 Main Street, New Haven, Connecticut.

13. Binding effect. This agreement is binding upon and shall inure to the benefit of both parties and their respective legal representatives and assigns.

14. Entire agreement; modification. This instrument constitutes the entire agreement between the parties, and may be modified only by an instrument duly executed by such parties.

15. Headings. Headings in this agreement are for convenience and reference only and shall not be used to interpret or construe its provisions.

16. Governing law. This agreement shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of New York.

17. Counterparts. This agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

18. Time of essence. Time is of the essence of this agreement.

The parties have signed and sealed this agreement.

(L.S.)

James Wilson

(L.S.)

Harold Smith

Approved: _____ [date]

Corporate Seal

Attest:

Secretary

Smith Hotel Corporation

By _____
President

126 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms

H. SALES OF STOCK IN REAL ESTATE CORPORATIONS

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.90

FORM 21.90 Sale of stock by parent of subsidiary corporation--residential rental buildings principal assets--extensive seller representations survive closing--principal of seller party to agreement

COMMENT

This form illustrates a contract for the sale by a parent corporation of all the common stock of five subsidiary real estate corporations. Each of the five corporations is the owner of one unit in a development consisting of five multiple dwellings. The purchase price for all of the stock is a fixed amount, adjusted for various assets and liabilities of the corporations and for various real estate prorations. There is a representation by the seller that the cash assets of the corporation will increase by a specific amount for each month between the date of the contract and the date of the closing. No adjustment in purchase price is to be made by reason of this projected increase in cash assets.

The contract contains comprehensive representations and warranties by the seller, as well as a list of documents required to be delivered to the purchaser at the closing. Since the properties are occupied by various tenants, the facts relating to these tenancies are spelled out in detail. In addition, representations are included relating to the construction of the properties, permits for their use, and their present physical condition. As security for these and other representations, the seller is obligated to set up an amount in cash in escrow. As further protection for the purchaser, the principal shareholder of the selling corporation personally guarantees the faithful performance of the seller's obligations.

FORM

AGREEMENT made July 16, _____ [year], by and among Bayes Construction Corp. ("Seller"), a corporation organized under the laws of South Carolina, John J. Bayes ("Principal"), and William Harris ("Purchaser").

The parties agree as follows:

1. Sale. Seller shall sell and deliver and Purchaser shall purchase all the common shares (the "Shares") of the five corporations (the "Corporations") listed in the attached schedule Exhibit 1. This sale is made upon all of the agreements, terms, and conditions herein contained, each and all of which shall be deemed material and substantial inducements to the payment of the purchase price by Purchaser.

2. Purchase price. The purchase price (the "Price") for all of the Shares and the certificates representing them shall be the amount by which the total of the items stated in subparagraph (a) exceeds the total of the items stated in subparagraph (b) on the Closing Date.

(a) Gross price. The first such total shall be the aggregate of the following items (taken, if subject to adjustment, as of the Closing Date):

(1) Price. $2.25 million.

(2) Cash. An amount equal to all the cash of the Corporations on hand and in banks on May 31, _____ [year] (other than security deposits, if any), but not including any cash receipts after that date.

(3) Insurance. An amount equal to the sum of prepaid hazard insurance and mortgage insurance, or deposits made with the banks or agents named in the mortgages to receive such deposits, provided such deposits are held for the purpose of paying such insurance premiums in advance for the account of the Corporations.

(4) Taxes. An amount equal to the apportioned amount of prepaid real estate taxes, or deposits paid in advance on account of such taxes, provided such deposits are held by such banks or agents under such mortgages for the purpose of paying such taxes for the account of the Corporations.

(b) Price reductions. The second such total shall be the aggregate of the following items (taken, if subject to adjustment, as of the Closing Date):

(1) Interest. An amount equal to the accrued unpaid interest on such mortgages.

(2) Taxes. An amount equal to the accrued unpaid real estate taxes on the properties owned by the Corporations.

(3) Rents. An amount equal to the apportioned, prepaid rents received by the Corporations.

(4) Deposits. An amount equal to the deposits made by tenants under leases or lease-options affecting the properties owned by the Corporations.

(5) Refunds. An amount equal to all items carried by the Corporations, or which any of them should properly carry, for rent refunds.

(6) Corporate taxes. An amount equal to the sum of all unpaid United States income taxes, unpaid Puerto Rico income or franchise taxes, unpaid South Carolina income taxes, and all other unpaid taxes (other than real estate taxes) of the Corporations for any fiscal year up to and including their respective fiscal years ended May 31, _____ [year], together with the amount of each of such taxes, if any, accrued for the elapsed part of the fiscal year of the respective Corporations commencing June 1, _____ [year], and ending on the Closing Date. Such apportionment, however, shall not be deemed conclusive upon Purchaser or prejudice any of his rights or claims in respect of the Corporations' unpaid taxes or liabilities.

(7) Operating expenses. An amount equal to the sum of operating expenses, insurance, and water charges unpaid and accrued as of the Closing Date, exclusive of water charges, if any, payable by tenants. The term "operating expenses" shall be deemed to include (but not limited to) employees' salaries and wages, and apportioned vacation pay.

(8) Transfer taxes. An amount equal to the total of all transfer taxes payable in connection with the transfer of the Shares by Seller to Purchaser. Such amount shall be applied to the payment of the transfer taxes.

3. Adjustments in price subsequent to closing. The following additional adjustments shall be made to the Price:

(a) Reserve overpayments. With respect to the reserve items on the combined Balance Sheet of the Corporations attached as Exhibit 2, which are entitled, respectively, "Reserve for Replacements," "Reserve for Hazard Insurance," and "Reserve for Mortgage Insurance," if overpayment of any of such reserves are duly established for any periods before May 31, _____ [year], and if credits for such overpayments are allowed to the Corporations in reduction of payments required subsequent to the Closing Date on account of such reserves under any of such mortgages, then at such times and to such extent, Purchaser shall make additional payments to Seller up to the amount of such overpayments (reduced, however, by any tax liabilities of the Corporations incurred by reason of such overpayments). Except as herein stated, no payment or credit shall be made or allowed to Seller with respect to such reserves.

(b) Reserve deficits. With respect to the reserve items referred to in subparagraph (a), if any deficit is established in payments made with respect to any of such reserves, Seller shall promptly pay Purchaser the amounts of such deficits.

(c) Limitation. No payments or credits shall be allowed to Seller on account of any other item on such Balance Sheet.

(d) Delinquent rent. If any Corporation collects from tenants any delinquent rents due for periods before the Closing Date, Purchaser shall promptly pay the net proceeds thereof to Seller.

(e) Unpaid taxes. If any income or franchise taxes for any period before the Closing Date, or any penalties or interest thereon cause any reduction in the assets of any Corporation, the amount of the purchase price shall be reduced accordingly. If any such taxes or penalties or interest give rise to any lien upon the assets of any Corporation, Seller shall remove the lien at Seller's expense and without cost to the Corporations.

(f) Price. Even if after the Closing Date revisions are made in the Price on account of the matters provided in this paragraph, the Price, as computed on the Closing Date, in accordance with the provisions of paragraph 2, shall be paid by Purchaser on that date in the manner provided.

4. Payment of price and escrow amount. The Price shall be paid by Purchaser on the Closing Date as follows: After all applicable adjustments, the amount of the Price, as computed on the Closing Date, shall be paid to Seller at San Juan, Puerto Rico, by certified or cashier's check, against and concurrent with the deliveries to be made by Seller. Concurrent with such payment Seller shall pay The National City Bank of the City of New York (the "Bank") at its San Juan office, in escrow the sum of $750,000 (the "Escrow Amount"). The Bank shall transfer the Escrow Amount to its main New York City office there to be held in escrow.

5. Delivery by seller at closing. Concurrent with the payment of the Price, and at the same place, Seller shall deliver or cause to be delivered to Purchaser the following:

(a) Shares. Certificates representing all the Shares duly endorsed in blank or as Purchaser directs, with Seller's signature guaranteed by a Bank or a New York stock exchange member firm.

(b) Corporate records. The minute books, share certificate books, share transfer ledger, and corporate seals of each Corporation; the written resignations of every officer and director of each Corporation, providing that they shall be immediately effective upon acceptance by the respective Board of Directors; written waivers of notice of a special meeting of the respective Board of Directors of each Corporation, to be held at the time and place of the Closing, or, as Purchaser directs written waivers of notice of a special meeting of the shareholders of each Corporation to be held at the same time and place. Each of such waiver of directors' meetings and of the shareholders' meetings shall be duly executed by all of the directors or shareholders, as the case may be.

(c) Books and records. All other records and papers of each Corporation, including, all leases and lease-options made by the Corporations; all existing agreements of any kind made by the Corporations; all books of account, bank books, check books, and all books of original account and entry of each Corporation.

(d) Access to records. Purchaser shall cause the Corporations to retain all books, papers, and records for a period of not less than three years from the Closing Date, and permit Seller access thereto (insofar as they relate to matters before the Closing Date) upon written request during reasonable business hours at any place that Purchaser determines either in Puerto Rico or in New York City.

(e) Certificates of occupancy. All certificates of occupancy for the buildings owned by the Corporations.

(f) Business certificates. Copies of the papers filed by each Corporation with respect to its qualification to carry on business in the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

(g) Special documents. The present officers and directors of the Corporations shall properly execute all required papers on behalf of the Corporations in relation to all matters occurring before the Closing Date, including the execution, at Purchaser's request, of all related tax reports and returns. Without limitation, Seller and the Corporations' present officers and directors will furnish to Purchaser, and to the officers and directors elected after delivery of the Shares to Purchaser, all information reasonably requested by Purchaser or such officers and directors in relation to any matters affecting the Corporations before the Closing Date.

(h) General releases. General releases, each in proper form and duly executed and acknowledged by each officer and director of each Corporation, and also by Seller and by the Principal, each release running in favor of all of the Corporations.

6. Other acts of seller. On the Closing Date, concurrent with the deliveries provided for in paragraph 5, Seller shall do and cause to be done all things required of it that are necessary and proper to cause the Corporations to elect as new officers and directors the persons designated by Purchaser, and to cause the Corporations to register in the name of and issue to Purchaser, or any persons Purchaser designates, new certificates for the Shares of each Corporation. Seller shall cause the members of the respective Boards of Directors of the Corporations to be present in person at the times and places of the holdings of the special meetings of the Boards of Directors of the Corporations herein provided for and, at such meetings, to cause them in due course to accept the resignations of the members of the Boards in rotation, and, upon such acceptances, to cause the remaining members to elect as directors to the vacancies so created, in rotation, all persons nominated by Purchaser.

7. Closing. The closing shall take place at the main office of the National City Bank of the City of New York, in the City of San Juan, Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, at 11 a.m. on the Closing Date. The Closing Date shall be the date designated by Purchaser in a notice served upon Seller, but no later than September 20, _____ [year].

All things required to be done on the Closing Date shall be deemed conditions concurrent and shall be performed concurrently or in immediate succession to each other.

8. Representations and warranties to purchaser. As an inducement to Purchaser to enter into this agreement and to purchase and pay for the Shares, Seller and the Principal jointly and severally represent and warrant:

(a) Shares. The Shares constitute all of the issued and outstanding shares of the Corporations with the exception of 100 preferred shares of each Corporation (comprising in all 500 preferred shares) issued to and held by the Housing and Urban Development Department. All of the Shares are fully paid and nonassessable. Seller has good and valid title to all of the Shares, free and clear of all liens, claims, and encumbrances; and has the right to sell, assign, and transfer the Shares, free from all liens, claims, and encumbrances. Prior to the Closing Seller will not encumber the Shares in any manner.

(b) Property. Attached as Exhibit 3 is a schedule correctly showing the properties owned by each Corporation. Each Corporation owns good, marketable, and insurable title in fee simple to each of the properties mentioned under its name, including all the buildings and appurtenances and all personal property used in connection therewith, free and clear of all liens, encumbrances, and encroachments with the exception of one mortgage with respect to each Corporation (as shown on Exhibit 3) and current Puerto Rican property taxes.

(c) Building construction. In the construction of all such buildings, all applicable laws, ordinances, rules, and regulations (including all applicable zoning laws, ordinances, or regulations) of the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico and the City of San Juan and of the United States and of every other competent governmental or quasi-governmental authority have been fully and faithfully complied with, including without limitation the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 ("ADA") and the Accessibility Guidelines and rules and regulations issued thereunder. Prior to construction of such buildings, plans therefor and all other requisite data were duly filed with all competent governmental and quasi-governmental authorities. Prior to and in the course of the construction of such buildings, all permits needed from any governmental or quasi-governmental authorities were duly issued and procured by the Corporation respectively owning the property and the building and by Seller, as the builder. Certificates of occupancy were duly issued for each such building, and all of such certificates of occupancy are in full force and effect.

(d) Building condition. All of such buildings are in good condition and currently comply and at the Closing Date will comply in all respects with the ADA and all rules and regulations thereunder, all applicable laws, ordinances, rules and regulations (including all applicable zoning laws, ordinances, or regulations) of the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico and the City of San Juan and of the United States, and of all competent governmental or quasi-governmental authorities.

(e) Violations. There are not currently, and on the Closing Date there will not be, any violations of any of the foregoing, nor with any violations of environmental laws, federal, state or local, with respect to the buildings and improvements and properties on which they are located. Neither Seller, the Principal, nor any of the Corporations has received any notice or claim, or has any knowledge or information as to any notice or claim, of any violation of such laws, ordinances, rules, or regulations including without limitation, environmental laws, ordinances, rules or regulations.

(f) Mortgages. The names of the mortgagees, and the payment dates and amounts, interest rates, and maturity dates of the mortgages affecting the property owned by each Corporation are correctly and fully set forth in Exhibit 3. Seller has delivered to Purchaser a full and true copy of each such mortgage, initialed by Seller. All of such mortgages are in the usual form of an F.H.A. mortgage, and none of them contains any unusual clauses. Prior to the Closing, the Corporations will not do or omit to do any act or thing which would be in violation of the terms or conditions of any such mortgage, or which would permit the existence of or create a default under any such mortgage.

(g) Charter, bylaws. Seller has delivered to Purchaser a full and true copy of the forms of Charter and Bylaws of one of the Corporations, initialed by Seller for identification. The Charter and Bylaws of all the Corporations correspond to such forms in all respects except for changes in identifying details, not affecting the substance. None of the Charters has ever been amended or altered, and no proceedings have been initiated or authorized for the purpose of amending or altering any of them.

(h) Corporate status. Each Corporation is a business corporation duly organized and existing under the laws of the State of South Carolina. Each Corporation was incorporated on the date stated in Exhibit 1. Each Corporation is in good standing and is now duly exercising its functions as a corporation. The place of business of each Corporation is as stated in Exhibit 1. The officers and directors of each Corporation are as set forth in the schedule attached as Exhibit 4. Each Corporation has been duly qualified to carry on business in the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

(i) Leases, options. Attached as Exhibit 5 is a list of all leases and options to purchase, herein sometimes called "lease-options," affecting any space or buildings in the properties owned by the Corporations. Exhibit 5 fully and correctly states the name of each tenant, the identification of the unit of occupancy, whether the lease is accompanied by an option to purchase by the tenant, the date of the lease or lease-option, the rate of rent, and in the case of each lease-option, the total sales price, the amount thereof still unpaid as at May 31, _____ [year], and the amount payable monthly. There are no leases or lease-options affecting the properties owned by the Corporations or any portions thereof except as stated in Exhibit 5.

(j) Rent, vacancies. Seller has separately delivered to Purchaser a full and true copy of a form of lease and of a form of lease-option. Each of these forms has been initialed by Seller for identification. All of the leases and lease-options referred to in Exhibit 5 correspond in all respects to such forms except for identifying details. There are no agreements for the allowance of rent or any other special agreements, oral or written, with any tenant or tenant-optionee. The rents payable by tenants and tenant-optionees are not in any instance in excess of the respective rents permissible by law and by applicable regulations. None of the tenants or tenant-optionees has made any claim to the contrary. There are no vacancies in any of the buildings owned by the Corporations. During the fiscal year ended May 31, _____ [year], there were not at any one time more than three vacancies in such dwelling units. During the fiscal year ended May 31, _____ [year], all payments of rents and deposits under leases and lease-options were made promptly by the respective tenants, except only for 50 delinquencies running at an average rate of not exceeding 50 late payments per month.

(k) Contracts. Attached as Exhibit 6 is a list of all contracts of each Corporation, whether written or oral. All of the Corporations' contracts of employment are terminable at will.

(l) Insurance. Attached as Exhibit 7 is a list of all insurance of every nature procured by the Corporations and now in force. All such insurance, or its equivalent, will be in effect and in good standing on the Closing Date. In the event of damage to or destruction of the properties, appurtenances, or personal property of any Corporation, Seller shall make good such damage at its expense, and if such damage is insured against, Seller shall be entitled to reimbursement for such expense out of the net amount of the insurance proceeds.

(m) Defaults. Each Corporation has fully performed and observed all terms and provisions of each lease and lease-option affecting its properties, and all of the mortgages affecting its properties. No notice or claim of any default has been received by any Corporation from a mortgagee or any tenant under a lease or lease-option. No tenant has any offsets or defenses to the full and faithful performance of his respective lease or lease-option.

(n) Corporate books. The books and records of each Corporation, including its minute books and books of account, fully, correctly, and fairly reflect its affairs. There are no minutes other than those contained in the minute books of the Corporations. There have been no meetings of directors or shareholders except as reflected in the minutes books of the Corporations.

(o) Taxes. All income tax reports and other reports and returns required by any law or regulation of the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, of the United States, of the State of South Carolina, or of the City of San Juan, or by any other competent governmental body have been duly and properly filed and reported by each Corporation. All taxes of every nature believed by the Corporations or shown in any such report or return to be due, together with all applicable interest and penalties, have been paid except such parts thereof as are payable in installments not yet due. On June 10, _____ [year], Seller and each Corporation requested the Treasurer of Puerto Rico to audit the books of each Corporation and to make a determination of all taxes due or payable. Such determination has been made and all claims for taxes asserted by the Treasurer of Puerto Rico have been paid in full, including all penalties and interest.

(p) Financial statements. Attached as Exhibits 8 and 9, respectively, are a copy of the combined Balance Sheet of the Corporations as at May 31, _____ [year], and a copy of the combined Statement of Profit and Loss of the Corporations for the fiscal year ended May 31, _____ [year]. Both Exhibits have been certified as correct by Seller's Certified Public Accountants. The Balance Sheet fully and fairly reflects the assets, liabilities, and financial condition of the Corporations as at May 31, _____ [year]; and the Statement of Profit and Loss fully and fairly reflects the combined operations of the Corporations for the year ended May 31, _____ [year]. At the Closing Date none of the Corporations will have any contingent liabilities of any kind.

(q) Cash assets. At the Closing Date, the assets and liabilities will not be different in any material respect from those reflected in Exhibit 8, except that the net quick assets of the Corporations in excess of all liabilities (without deducting depreciation) shall be increased, from May 31, _____ [year], to the Closing Date, at the rate of approximately $14,000 per month. No adjustment or credit or increase in the Price is to be allowed to Seller on account of such increase. During the fiscal year ended May 31, _____ [year], the excess of cash income of the Corporations over the total of all operating expenses plus all mortgage amortization payments was at the rate of approximately $14,000 per month, which is the approximate rate of monthly increase in combined cash position of the Corporations. Seller does not know of any unusual liabilities, obligations, or contingencies which would in any way diminish such monthly increase in cash position.

(r) Liabilities. Prior to the Closing Date, Seller will cause all outstanding liabilities of the Corporations to be extinguished with the exception of:

- (1) The amounts due on the real estate mortgages.
- (2) The liability for prepaid rents and deposits made by tenants (the amount of which Seller will cause to be deposited to the credit of the respective Corporations).
- (3) Any accrued real estate taxes which are not payable (the amount of which Seller will cause to be deposited to the credit of the respective Corporations).
- (4) The common shares and preferred shares carried as capital liabilities in the balance sheets of the Corporations.

(s) Liens, claims. There are no security interests or other encumbrances against any personal property or fixtures appurtenant to the properties owned by the Corporations, except only for such security interests or other encumbrances, if any, as may have been made by tenant-occupants upon articles of personal property installed by them and not belonging to any of the Corporations. Except for the mortgages listed on Exhibit 3 and the leases and lease-options listed on Exhibit 5, there are no claims of any kind against any of the Corporations. No suits are pending against any of the Corporations. There is no litigation in which any of the Corporations is involved, except only for eviction proceedings brought by such Corporations against tenants or tenant-optionees, not exceeding five in number.

(t) Sale resolutions. Attached as Exhibits 11 and 12, respectively, are true copies of the resolutions authorizing the sale of the Shares, duly and unanimously adopted by Seller's Board of Directors at a special meeting at which all members of the Board were present; and of the resolutions authorizing the sale of the Shares, duly and unanimously adopted by Seller's stockholders at a special meeting at which all shareholders were present.

(u) H.U.D. correspondence. Attached as Exhibit 13 are copies of all correspondence on behalf of the Corporations with the Department of Housing and Urban Development. Such attached copies are full and true copies and constitute the only correspondence between the Corporations and such Department.

(v) Lease renewals. Prior to the Closing Date, the Corporations will not make any agreements or commitments of any kind which would not be in the ordinary course of business or which would be operative after the Closing Date, except only leases and lease-options covering the vacancies created by cancellations or surrender of leases or lease-options. Any such lease or lease-option shall be made only in the usual form, corresponding to the forms delivered by Seller to Purchaser under this agreement and only for the maximum lawful rental; and in the case of a lease-option, for not less than the same purchase price under which the unit is presently optioned, without allowance for any deposits paid by tenants under a previously existing lease-option.

(w) Status quo. Prior to the Closing Date, the Corporations will not in any manner sell or encumber the respective properties or appurtenances owned by them; change, modify, or amend in any manner their respective certificates of incorporation or bylaws; declare or pay any dividends; pay or make any commitment for compensation for services to any of their officers or directors; or pay or withdraw any money from the funds of any Corporation, except in the regular and usual course of the operation of their respective properties and in the regular and ordinary amounts. No salary or compensation shall be paid to Principal for any periods up to and including the Closing Date; nor shall any commitments be made for the payment of such salary. No salaries shall be paid or payable to any employees for any periods before the Closing Date, except in ordinary course of business and at rates not greater than those paid in the past.

9. Exceptions to warranties. The following claims only shall be excluded from the claims in respect of which the warranties set forth in paragraph 8 shall operate:

(a) Any claim in respect of which the Corporations have been completely insured under a policy of insurance in effect when the claim accrued.

(b) Any claim for an item taken as an adjustment in the computation of the Price.

(c) Any claim relating to expenses incurred in the regular, ordinary, and actual operation of the properties owned by the Corporations.

10. Representations as of closing date. Seller and Principal jointly and severally represent and warrant:

(a) Representations. All of the matters stated or represented in paragraph 8 will be true, and are warranted, as of both the Closing Date and the date of this agreement.

(b) Taxes. On the Closing Date, there will be no tax claims of any kind against any Corporation.

(c) Claims. On the Closing Date, there will be no claims of any kind against any Corporation other than those not required to be eliminated by reason of the of paragraph 8(r).

(d) Business conduct. Between May 31, _____ [year], and the Closing Date, there will be no change in the condition of any Corporation, except for changes in its financial condition that are due to the conduct of its business in the regular, ordinary, and usual course during such period.

(e) Financial items. On the Closing Date, the assets and liabilities of the Corporations will not be different than those shown on Exhibit 8 except for:

- (1) The elimination of liabilities as provided for in paragraph 8(r).
- (2) The reduction in the amount of the mortgages by payments made pursuant to the terms thereof.
- (3) Improvement in the excess of assets over liabilities (without deducting depreciation) at the rate of approximately $14,000 per month between May 31, _____ [year], and the Closing Date.
- (4) Possible reduction in book deficit.

(f) Survival. All of Seller's representations and warranties under this agreement shall survive the Closing, the transfer of title, and the payment of the Price hereunder, and shall continue to inure in favor of Purchaser and each Corporations.

11. Affidavit on closing. At the Closing, Seller shall deliver to Purchaser an affidavit sworn to on that date by Principal, deposing, representing, and warranting that all of the matters and things represented and warranted in and under this agreement are true on the Closing Date, except as therein otherwise specifically stated.

12. Guarantee by principal. Principal, as Seller's president and principal shareholder, represents that it is to his financial interest that the sale of the Shares be completed. Principal joins in all of the representations and warranties made by Seller under this agreement, and guarantees the full and faithful performance by Seller of all terms, provisions, and conditions herein, and the fulfillment of all of Seller's obligations and liabilities, present and future, hereunder. Principal agrees to be fully bound and obligated in respect of all such terms, provisions, and conditions in favor of Purchaser and of the Corporations with the same force and effect as if jointly and severally named with Seller in all of the provisions of this agreement. Principal's liabilities and obligations hereunder shall be those of a surety. Principal agrees that Purchaser, his successors or assigns, may enter into any extension, modification, or indulgence with Seller relating to the subject matter of this agreement, or may waive in any one or more instances any provision thereunder, and that despite any such extension, modification, or indulgence, or any such waivers, Principal's liabilities and obligations under this agreement shall not be deemed released, waived, or abated in any respect, but shall continue in full force and effect.

13. Purchaser's right of rescission. If, as of the Closing Date, the Corporation has liabilities, whether known or unknown, other than those permitted under paragraphs 8(r) and 9, and the total of such liabilities exceed, or are reasonably expected by Purchaser to exceed, $225,000, Purchaser may rescind this agreement, in addition to all other rights and remedies which it may have. If Purchaser rescinds, he may immediately recover the Price paid to Seller, in addition to any damages incurred by him hereunder. Upon recovering the Price and damages, Purchaser shall return all shares which he shall have received hereunder.

14. Escrow amount. The Bank shall hold and dispose of the Escrow Amount, as escrowee, as follows:

(a) Notice of claim. Six months after the Closing Date, the Bank shall pay the Escrow Amount to Seller in San Juan, Puerto Rico, unless before that date Purchaser has served written notice upon the Bank, either by personal delivery or by registered or certified mail, that Purchaser has reasonable grounds to believe that an unsatisfied claim exists against one or more of the Corporations, other than claims and liabilities permitted under paragraphs 8(r) and 9. Such notice shall identify the claim involved and contain a statement of its amount so far as known to Purchaser.

(b) Amount of claim. Upon the service of such notice, Purchaser, Seller, and the affected Corporation or Corporations shall forthwith take all appropriate steps by suit, or, if such claim is a tax claim, by request for review or audit by the appropriate tax authorities, to determine with finality the amount of such claim.

(c) Payment. Upon the determination of the amount of such claim, the Bank shall, upon Purchaser's written request (except as otherwise provided in subparagraph (e) of this paragraph), pay to Purchaser the amount thereof out of the Escrow Amount, and thereafter (unless other such claims exist) pay the balance of the Escrow Amount to Seller.

(d) No waiver. Neither Purchaser's failure to ascertain any claim or claims within the six-month period nor the Bank's payment to Seller of any part of the Escrow Amount shall in any way be deemed to waive, modify, or prejudice Purchaser's rights or claims against Seller on account of any present or future claim.

(e) Objection. If, upon the service of any notice of claim upon the Bank (as permitted under subparagraph (a) above), Seller within 20 days files with the Bank a written objection to its payment of such claim to Purchaser, the Bank shall not make such payment until Seller's and Purchaser's contentions with respect thereto are finally determined by litigation, arbitration, or agreement. Thereupon, the Bank shall make any payment as so determined.

(f) Counsel fees. If any claim arises for which Purchaser is entitled to be reimbursed or indemnified by Seller, the amount thereof shall be increased to include Seller's or the Corporations' reasonable counsel fees in defending against such claim, regardless of whether its existence or amount is finally established.

(g) Limitation of liability. The Bank shall be entitled to rely on any instrument it reasonably believes to be genuine and signed by the proper party. In any event, the Bank shall have no liability as Escrowee on account of any mistake of law or fact or error of judgment or anything except its gross negligence or bad faith.

(h) Expenses. Seller shall pay all of the Bank's fees and expenses.

15. Information relating to liabilities. Seller shall, upon Purchaser's request, request the mortgagees and holders of security interests under the respective mortgages and security agreements covering the properties of the Corporations, the Department of Housing and Urban Development, and all taxing authorities having jurisdiction in the premises to furnish to Purchaser, or his representatives, all records and information requested by Purchaser in relation to the Corporations.

16. Notices. All notices under this agreement shall, be in writing and sent by United States registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, addressed as follows:

(a) If intended for Seller or Principal, or both, addressed to John J. Bayes, Lee Building, Charleston, South Carolina.

(b) If intended for Purchaser, addressed to William Harris, 111 Broadway, New York, New York.

Any changes in names and addresses shall be made by giving notice as provided above.

17. Governing law. This agreement shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of New York.

18. Binding effect. This agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective legal representatives, successors, and assigns.

19. Entire agreement; modification. This instrument constitutes the entire agreement between the parties, and may not be modified except by an instrument duly executed by such parties.

20. Non-waiver. No delay or failure by any party to exercise any right hereunder, and no partial or single exercise of such right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

21. Headings. Headings in this agreement are for convenience and reference only and shall not be used to interpret or construe its provisions.

22. Counterparts. This agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

23. Time of essence. Time is of the essence of this agreement.

The parties have duly executed this agreement and caused it to be sealed as of the day and year first above written.

Bayes Construction Corp.

By _____
President

[SEAL]

Secretary

Seller

John J. Bayes

Surety

William Harris

Purchaser

127 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms

H. SALES OF STOCK IN REAL ESTATE CORPORATIONS

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.91

FORM 21.91 Sale of stock by parent of subsidiary corporation--shopping center construction, ownership, and management business--purchase money note secured by stock sold--security agreement--promissory notes--guaranty--management contract--asset appraisal letter

COMMENT

This is an agreement by a parent corporation for the sale of stock of one of its subsidiary corporations. Prior to the sale, two other subsidiary corporations of the parent are to be merged into the subsidiary corporation whose shares are being sold. The subsidiary being sold will continue to own its own subsidiary corporation and a minority interest in a limited partnership. The purchaser is a joint venture consisting of a partnership and individuals. The principal businesses of the subsidiaries involved in this transaction are the ownership and management of shopping centers and malls, and construction. Some of the principal assets, as shown in a separate appraisal or valuation letter, include developed and undeveloped shopping center sites, management contracts for shopping centers and malls owned or leased by third parties, and options and bids for new sites and construction projects. The valuation letter, prepared by a disinterested third party, is appended to the sale agreement because the principals of the joint venture acquiring the stock are also directors, officers, and principal shareholders of the parent corporation selling the subsidiary's stock. The independent appraisal or valuation supports the arm's-length nature of the transactions.

Continued business operation covered by contract

A number of provisions in this contract deal with specific business projects of the subsidiary corporations. For example, the price will be adjusted if negotiations for a certain construction contract do not result in a contract (paragraph 3(b)), or if a joint venture for another construction project is abandoned (paragraph 3(c)). One of the conditions to the sale is the continuation of construction projects already in progress (paragraph 13(e)). In addition, the selling corporation is required to obtain for the subsidiary being sold certain management contracts for a number of shopping centers and malls (paragraph 18).

Purchase money note and security agreement

A substantial part of the price for the shares is paid by a purchase money note, bearing interest at a floating rate based on the prime rate of a specified bank. The security agreement, appended to the contract, secures not only the purchase money note, but also the buyer's guarantee of certain debts owed by the subsidiary being sold to the selling parent corporation. Under the security agreement, any cash or stock dividends are turned over to the secured party as additional security, but the debtor can vote the shares so long as the debtor is not in default. The purchase money note, the obligation of the subsidiary to the parent, and the guarantee by the purchaser are also appended to the contract.

Shopping center management contract

The management contract that the subsidiary corporation is to enter into before the stock is sold is also appended to the contract of sale. The same management contract form is to be used for each of the shopping centers or malls to be managed by the corporation. Under this management agreement, the management fee is a percentage of the property's gross income, which is defined in the contract. The management contract also specifies the duties of the managing agent in detail.

FORMS

(1) Stock purchase agreement

THIS STOCK PURCHASE AGREEMENT, made and entered into this March 30, _____ [year], by and between K. W. Corporation, a Delaware corporation (Seller), and Lowest, a joint venture composed of Low Brothers (a partnership composed of John D. Low and C. W. Low, Jr.) of Atlanta, Georgia, and Robert Levy, of Scarsdale, New York, and Ralph Green, of Summit, New Jersey (Purchaser).

Martin Realty Corporation (Martin), New York K. W. Corporation (NYKW), and K. W. Florida Corporation (KW Florida), are subsidiaries of Seller; Jo-Dee, Inc. (Jo-Dee) is a subsidiary (subject to an outstanding option to acquire 20 percent of the stock of Jo-Dee) of KW Florida; and Cross, Ltd. (Cross) is a limited partnership in which KW Florida owns a limited partnership interest. Prior to the Closing Date Martin and NYKW shall be merged (the Merger) into KW Florida, the latter being the surviving corporation.

In consideration of the premises and of the mutual agreements hereinafter set forth, the parties hereto, intending to be bound hereby, agree as follows:

Section 1. Sale of stock. Seller agrees to sell to Purchaser on the Closing Date, free and clear of all liens, pledges, and encumbrances of every kind, character and description whatsoever, other than the security interest created under the Security Agreement, and Purchaser agrees to purchase from Seller on the said date, all of the issued and outstanding shares of capital stock of K. W. Corporation ("KW Florida"), a Florida corporation.

Section 2. Closing and closing date

(a) The sale and purchase provided for in this agreement shall be closed (the Closing) at the offices of Weiss & Bishop, 45 Park Avenue, New York, New York, at the date and time designated by Seller to Purchaser by written notice not less than 20 days nor more than 30 days after all conditions precedent to the closing have been satisfied, or at any other date, time, or place mutually agreed upon by the parties (the Closing Date).

(b) At the Closing, Seller shall deliver to Purchaser certificates evidencing and representing all of the issued and outstanding capital stock of KW Florida, all of which is being sold hereunder, duly endorsed in blank or accompanied by stock powers duly executed in blank in proper form for transfer; subject, however, to the terms and provisions of the Security Agreement (Security Agreement) covering said capital stock, substantially in the form of the Security Agreement attached as Annex I.

Section 3. Consideration and its payment

(a) Purchaser shall pay Seller $3,155,000, subject to adjustments as provided in subsection (b) below, for all of KW Florida's issued and outstanding capital stock. The purchase price shall be paid at the Closing as follows:

- (1) $500,000 by a bank cashier's or certified check drawn on a New York City bank, in New York Clearing House funds, payable to the order of Seller;
- (2) $2,655,000 by promissory note (Note), dated the Closing Date, made by Purchaser, payable to Seller within six months after the Closing Date, bearing interest at the highest rate of annual interest paid by Seller on its major bank borrowings, but not to exceed two percent per annum above the floating prime rate of interest at Merchants Bank, New York, New York (the applicable rate of interest being adjusted as of the start of the day following the effective date of any change in the highest rate of interest paid by Seller or charged by said bank, as the case may be), and secured by a security interest in the capital stock of KW Florida pursuant to the Security Agreement, substantially in the form of the note attached as Annex II.

(b) The purchase price of $3,155,000 is subject to being decreased by $560,500 by reason of the following:

- (1) Jo-Dee has been in negotiations with the University of Georgia with respect to contracts for proposed construction projects to be undertaken by Jo-Dee for the University;
- (2) Although the proposed terms and conditions of the contracts apparently have been settled, the contracts have not been finally approved and executed;
- (3) The purchase price of $3,155,000 includes a value of $560,500 for the contracts ($279,921 for the University of Georgia at Macon, and $280,579 for the University of Georgia at Atlanta);
- (4) If the contracts are not finally executed, the purchase price will be reduced by up to $560,500, as follows:
 - (A) At the Closing, or as long as practicable prior thereto, Seller shall notify Purchaser whether the negotiations with the University of Georgia with regard to the two contracts have been terminated unsuccessfully. In such case, the Note shall be in the face amount shown above at Section 3(a)(2), as adjusted under Section 3(c), less $279,921 if the University at Georgia at Macon contract (the "Macon" contract) has been terminated, and less $280,579 if the University of Georgia at Atlanta contract (the "Atlanta" contract) has been terminated (for a total reduction of $560,500 if both contracts have been terminated);

(B) If the eventuality described in (A) does not occur and if, after the closing, the negotiations with the University of Georgia as to either or both of such contracts terminates unsuccessfully within six months from the Closing Date, Seller shall return the Note to Purchaser in exchange for a new Note having the same terms as the Note, except that the face amount shall be reduced by $279,921 if the Macon contract has been terminated, and by $280,579 if the Atlanta contract has been terminated (for a total reduction of $560,500 if both contracts have been terminated). In such event, all references in this agreement and in the Security Agreement to the "Note" shall be deemed to be references to the new Note, or if the Note has previously been paid, Seller shall refund to Purchaser $279,921 if the Macon contract has been terminated, and $280,579 if the Atlanta contract has been terminated (for a total reduction of $560,500 if both contracts have been terminated). In either case, an equitable adjustment of interest accrued or paid on the Note will be made.

(C) If the negotiations with the University of Georgia terminate unsuccessfully more than six months after the Closing Date, no reduction in the purchase price shall be made and, if the Note has been paid, no refund shall be due to Purchaser.

(c) The purchase price of $3,155,000 is subject to being decreased by $250,000 by reason of the following:

- (1) On or about January 31, _____ [year], KW Florida gave up the option it held on certain real estate in Raleigh, North Carolina; and
- (2) In connection with the release of the option, KW Florida received $80,625 from Mondi Development Company and thereupon entered into an agreement with such Company contemplating the erection of a regional shopping center with it on certain property in Raleigh, North Carolina (other than the property as to which KW Florida had in such option); and
- (3) In accordance with the Joint Venture Agreement between KW Florida and Mondi Development Company, KW Florida has the right to terminate its joint venture relationship if a renegotiation of the present lease for the 93.77 acres on which the contemplated shopping center is to be developed is not renegotiated in a way satisfactory to KW Florida within six months of January 31, _____ [year]; and
- (4) The purchase price of $3,155,000 includes a value of $250,000 for KW Florida's interest in the joint venture; and
- (5) If KW Florida in fact withdraws from the joint venture, the purchase price will be reduced by the above $250,000, as follows:
 - (A) At, or as long as practicable before, the Closing, Seller shall notify Purchaser whether the lease for such acreage has been successfully renegotiated so that KW Florida will not withdraw from the joint venture, or whether KW Florida has withdrawn from the joint venture. In the latter case, the Note shall be in the face amount shown at Section 3(a)(2), as adjusted under Section 3(b), less $250,000.

(B) If, after the Closing, KW Florida withdraws (such withdrawal shall be deemed to occur on the date on which KW Florida gives notice of withdrawal under its Joint Venture Agreement with Mondi Development Company) from such joint venture within six months from the Closing Date, Seller shall return the Note to Purchaser in exchange for a new Note having the same terms as the Note, except that the face amount shall be reduced by $250,000. In such event, all references in this agreement and the Security Agreement to the "Note" shall be deemed to be references to the new Note, or, if the Note has previously been paid, Seller shall refund $250,000 to Purchaser. In either case, an equitable adjustment of interest accrued or paid on the Note will be paid.

(C) If KW Florida does not withdraw from the joint venture within six months from the Closing Date, no reduction in the purchase price shall be made and, if the Note has been paid, no refund shall be due Purchaser.

Section 4. Transfer of stock and management of KW Florida

(a) Seller agrees to cause duly authorized representatives of KW Florida to be present at the Closing on the Closing Date so that the stock of KW Florida being sold may be immediately transferred to and reissued in the name of Purchaser, or otherwise to provide appropriately for such stock, registered in Purchaser's name, to be delivered to Purchaser at the Closing.

(b) At the Closing on the Closing Date, Seller shall cause to be delivered to Purchaser written resignations of the officers and directors of KW Florida whose resignations were requested by Purchaser. Such requests to Seller shall be made by written notice a reasonable time before the Closing Date.

Section 5. Access to properties and records of seller, et al. From and after the date of this agreement, Seller shall afford, and cause KW Florida, Martin, NYKW, Jo-Dee, and Cross to afford, to Purchaser's officers, attorneys, accountants, and other authorized representatives, free and full access to the plants, properties, books and records of each such entity, so that Purchaser may have full opportunity to make any desired investigation of each one's affairs. Such investigation, however, shall not unreasonably interfere with the operations of any entity.

Section 6. Representations and warranties of seller. Seller represents and warrants to Purchaser that:

(a) Corporate status. KW Florida, Martin, and NYKW are corporations duly organized and existing in good standing under the laws of the States of Florida, Georgia, and New York, respectively. Each Corporation has the corporate power to own its properties and assets and to carry on its business as now being conducted, and is duly qualified to do business and is in good standing in every jurisdiction in which the nature of its business makes such qualification necessary.

(b) Shares. Pursuant to its Articles of Incorporation, as amended, KW Florida is authorized to issue 200 shares of Common Stock, no par value, 200 shares of which are issued and outstanding, fully paid and nonassessable. KW Florida does not have any treasury stock, any other authorized or outstanding equity securities of any class or of any kind or character, or any outstanding subscriptions, options, or rights with respect thereto, or any securities convertible into any shares of stock of any class.

(c) Subsidiaries. Martin, NYKW, and Jo-Dee, respectively, have no subsidiaries. Jo-Dee is the sole subsidiary of KW Florida.

(d) Financial statements. Seller has delivered to Purchaser a pro forma consolidated balance sheet of KW Florida as at November 30, _____ [year], reflecting the Merger and a pro forma statement of profit and loss for the period commencing on March 1, _____ [year] and ending on November 30, _____ [year] (the Financial Statements). The Financial Statements (including the related notes and schedules) were prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting practices consistently applied throughout the periods involved, are correct and complete and fairly present the consolidated financial condition of KW Florida, on a pro forma basis as aforesaid, as at the date thereof and the results of operations for the periods covered.

(e) Title to properties. KW Florida, Martin, NYKW, Jo-Dee, and Cross, respectively, have good and marketable title to all of their respective properties and assets as reflected in the Financial Statements (other than properties or assets disposed of since the date of the Financial Statements in the ordinary course of business); all subject to no liens or encumbrances of any kind except those listed on the Financial Statements, and such other liens and encumbrances that may arise or be created after the date thereof, that are incidental to the conduct of their respective business or the ownership of their respective properties or assets.

(f) Litigation. No actions, suits or proceedings are pending or threatened against or affecting KW Florida, Martin, NYKW, Jo-Dee, or Cross, at law or in equity, which may result in any material adverse change in their respective business, financial condition, operations, properties, or assets, except as otherwise set forth in prior written notice to Purchaser.

(g) Compliance. There exists no default under the provisions of any instrument evidencing any indebtedness or obligations of KW Florida, Martin, NYKW, Jo-Dee, and Cross, respectively, that would materially adversely affect any of them.

This agreement does not violate or constitute a default under any law, requirement or restriction imposed by any judicial, arbitral or governmental instrumentality, the charter, bylaws or declaration, as applicable, of Seller or any of such entities, or any agreement, contract or instrument by which Seller or any of such entities or any of their property may be bound or affected.

(h) Seller's title to shares. Seller has good and marketable title to all of the issued and outstanding capital stock of KW Florida, and the absolute right and necessary authority to sell, assign, and transfer all of such stock to Purchaser, free and clear of all liens, pledges and encumbrances of any kind, subject, however, to stockholders' approval as set forth in Section 10.

(i) Compliance with laws. All shopping centers and other properties (land and improvements thereon) are in full compliance with all applicable governmental laws, rules and regulations, federal, state and local, including without limitation, all environmental laws and the Americans With Disabilities Act of 1990, and the Accessibility Guidelines and rules and regulations issued thereunder.

Section 7. Representations and warranties of purchaser. Purchaser represents and warrants to Seller that it is a joint venture existing under the laws of Georgia, that it has full power, in accordance with law, to execute and perform this agreement, and that such execution and performance does not conflict with the joint venture agreement establishing Purchaser or with any agreement, contract or instrument to which Purchaser or any joint venturer of Purchaser is a party or to which it or any of them is subject. Purchaser and each joint venturer has duly authorized this agreement, the Note, the Security Agreement, the Guaranty, the transactions contemplated hereby and therein, and the execution and delivery hereof by Purchaser. Purchaser further represents and warrants to Seller that each joint venturer of Purchaser is jointly and severally liable for the Purchaser's obligations.

Section 8. Survival of representations and warranties. The representations and warranties set forth in Section 6 shall not survive the Closing. The representations and warranties set forth in Section 7 shall survive the Closing for a period of two years from the Closing Date.

Section 9. Actions prior to closing date. Prior to the Closing Date, Seller will not, except with Purchaser's prior written consent, permit KW Florida, Martin, NYKW, Jo-Dee, or Cross to declare or pay any dividend, issue or authorize the issuance of any stock, other security convertible into stock or any warranty or option or right for the purchase of any stock, sell or otherwise dispose of any asset, except in the ordinary course of business, or borrow any money or incur any debt or other obligation, except in the ordinary course of business and except for the Merger, will not permit any of such corporations to be a party to any merger, consolidation, reorganization, or recapitalization, Seller will cause KW Florida, Martin, NYKW, Jo-Dee, and Cross to conduct their affairs in the usual and ordinary course of business.

Section 10. Corporate action of seller. Prior to the Closing Date, in accordance with, and in the opinion of its counsel, as required by, applicable corporate and securities laws, Seller's Board of Directors shall submit this agreement or the substance thereof and the transactions contemplated hereby to Seller's stockholders for their approval at a special stockholders' meeting called for such purpose.

Section 11. Approval of regulatory agencies. If Seller is advised by its counsel that any approval (including an SEC Rule 144 opinion or a so-called "No Action" letter) is or might be required from any federal or state regulatory agency for the sale of the capital stock of KW Florida or for the other transactions contemplated hereby, Seller shall diligently request and seek to obtain the necessary approval.

Section 12. Investment representations of purchaser and stock legend

(a) Purchaser represents and warrants to Seller that it is acquiring all of the issued and outstanding shares of capital stock of KW Florida for its own account and for operation of KW Florida with no present intention of reselling or otherwise distributing the same except pursuant to an offering of shares duly registered under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the Act), or under other circumstances which in the opinion of counsel for KW Florida at the time would not require registration of such stock under the Act. Purchaser acknowledges that it has been advised and is aware that (i) Seller is relying upon an exemption under the Act predicated upon Purchaser's representations and warranties contained in this Section 12 in connection with the offer and sale of KW Florida stock pursuant to this agreement, and (ii) said capital stock in the hands of Purchaser will be restricted stock within the meaning of Rule 144 promulgated by the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) pursuant to the Act and unless, and until, registered under the Act, may be subject to limitations upon its resale (including, among others, pertinent requirements of Rule 144 and limitations on the amount of stock that can be resold and the time of resale) set forth in Rule 144 or in administrative interpretations by the SEC of the Act, or in other rules and regulations promulgated thereunder by the SEC, in effect at the time of the proposed sale or other disposition of the Stock.

(b) Purchaser consents to the endorsement of the following legend upon the certificate(s) representing the KW Florida capital stock (and any certificate(s) representing shares of KW Florida stock for which such stock may be exchanged) to be issued to Purchaser under this agreement:

The shares of stock of K. W. Florida Corporation (the "Company") represented by this certificate have not been registered under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, (the "Act"), or under the securities laws of any state, and the holder hereof cannot make any sale, assignment, or other transfer of any shares of such stock except pursuant to an offering of such shares duly registered under the Act and the applicable state securities laws or under such other circumstances which in the opinion of counsel for the Company, at the time, do not require, registration under the Act and any state securities laws.

Section 13. Conditions to obligations of purchaser. Purchaser's obligations under this agreement are, at its option, subject to the conditions precedent that, at or before the Closing Date or as otherwise designated herein:

(a) Corporate approvals. All corporate action, and necessary approval required pursuant to the terms and provisions of this agreement and the applicable corporation and securities laws for the closing of this transaction shall have been taken, and given, as appropriate, by Seller's directors and stockholders, respectively.

(b) Governmental approvals. The approval of any federal or state regulatory agency requested pursuant to Section 11 and reasonably deemed necessary by Purchaser for the closing of this transaction and the Rulings (defined in Section 14(a)) shall have been obtained, all on or before April 30, _____ [year], and that the Closing Date shall have been designated by Seller, as provided in Section 2(a), for a date no later than May 30, _____ [year].

(c) Seller's performance. At or before the Closing Date, Seller shall have complied with and performed all of its terms, covenants, and conditions under this agreement.

(d) Status quo. There shall have been no material adverse change in the financial condition, operations, properties, and assets of KW Florida, Martin and NYKW, other than changes contemplated by the Merger; and Seller's representations and warranties set forth in Section 6 shall be true on and as of the Closing Date with the same force and effect as if then made.

(e) Construction projects. Any construction project in process by KW Florida, Martin, and NYKW as of the date of this Assignment shall have continued through the Closing Date substantially on schedule.

(f) Merger. The Merger shall have occurred and Seller shall be the sole stockholder of all of the issued and outstanding capital stock of KW Florida, the surviving corporation.

(g) Venture interests. KW Florida shall be the owner of 100 percent (subject to the right of James Jones, a resident of Tampa, Florida, to acquire, the "Right of Acquisition," 20 percent of said capital stock of Jo-Dee) or 80 percent (not subject to the Right of Acquisition) of the issued and outstanding capital stock of Jo-Dee and of a 49 percent limited partnership interest in Cross.

(h) Opinion of counsel. Purchaser shall have received, at Seller's expense, an opinion of Messrs. Weiss and Bishop of New York, New York, Seller's counsel, dated the Closing Date, in form and substance satisfactory to Purchaser and its counsel, to the effect that:

(1) KW Florida is a corporation duly organized and existing and in good standing under the laws of the State of Florida.

(2) The authorized, issued, and outstanding capital stock of KW Florida is as set forth in of Section 6(b), except for any changes resulting from the Merger, and all such issued and outstanding stock is fully paid and nonassessable.

(3) This agreement has been duly authorized, executed, and delivered by Seller and to the best of its knowledge, Seller has good and marketable title to and full power and authority to transfer to Purchaser the issued and outstanding capital stock of KW Florida to be sold by it as provided in this agreement, and upon receipt of the certificates, Purchaser will have good, marketable, and indefeasible title to such common stock of KW Florida free and clear of all liens, charges, and encumbrances of any kind, except for the security interest created under the Security Agreement.

(4) No authorization, approval or consent of the SEC is necessary in connection with the sale and transfer of the issued and outstanding capital stock of KW Florida to Purchaser or for the continued operation of the business of KW Florida in the manner in which it is now conducted after such transfer, or, in the alternative, a statement of the nature of such authorization, approval or consent, that such authorization, approval or consent has been obtained, and that a copy of the evidence thereof is attached to such opinion.

(5) The Merger has been effected in accordance with the applicable laws, KW Florida being the surviving Corporation.

In rendering such opinion such counsel may rely on the opinion of local counsel as to matters of law in states other than in the State of New York.

(i) Management contracts. At or before the Closing, the Management Contracts referred to in Section 18 shall have been executed and delivered.

(j) Approval of counsel. All legal proceedings in connection with the closing of this transaction, including the forms of all documents of transfer and assignment, other documents, legal matters, opinions, and procedures in connection therewith, shall have been approved in form and substance by Messrs. Jenkins & Gilchrist, of Atlanta, Georgia, counsel for Purchaser. Such approval shall not be unreasonably withheld.

Section 14. Conditions to obligations of seller. Seller's obligations under this agreement are, at its option, subject to the conditions precedent that, at or before the Closing Date:

(a) Tax ruling. Seller shall have received rulings (Rulings) from the Commissioner of Internal Revenue (Commissioner), in scope and content acceptable to Seller, and its special tax counsel, Messrs. Jenkins & Gilchrist of Atlanta, Georgia, pursuant to the application for tax rulings filed on behalf of Seller with the Commissioner on November 21, _____ [year], or other modifications or other applications for tax rulings that Seller and such counsel reasonably deem necessary for the closing of this transaction.

(b) Stockholder approval. Seller's stockholders shall have given all approval required under the terms and provisions of this agreement and the applicable corporation and securities laws for the closing of this transaction.

(c) Governmental approval. The approval of the federal or state regulatory agencies described in Section 11 shall have been obtained or Seller shall have received reasonable assurance, orally or in writing, from such agencies that no such approval is necessary.

(d) Note and guaranty. KW Florida shall have executed an unsecured promissory note evidencing certain open account intercompany debt of KW Florida to Seller, in the principal amount outstanding at the Closing Date (the principal amount of which, at the date hereof, being approximately $2,186,000), and bearing interest at the same rate of interest as is provided in Section 3 with respect to the Note therein provided for on the principal balance from time to time remaining unpaid, and Purchaser shall have given its written guaranty (Guaranty) of the payment of such promissory note, the note and the Guaranty to be substantially in the form attached as Annex III and IV, respectively.

(e) Opinion of counsel. Seller shall have received, at Purchaser's expense, an opinion of Messrs. Jenkins & Gilchrist, of Atlanta, Georgia, Purchaser's counsel, dated the Closing Date, in form and substance satisfactory to Seller and its counsel, to the effect that:

(1) The Note, Security Agreement and Guaranty have been duly authorized, executed, and delivered by Purchaser, and each constitutes a legal, valid, and binding obligation of Purchaser, enforceable in accordance with its terms, except as such enforcement may be limited, delayed or otherwise affected from time to time by existing insolvency, bankruptcy, or other debtor relief laws.

(2) This agreement has been duly authorized, executed and delivered by Purchaser, and its purchase of all of the issued and outstanding capital stock of KW Florida constitutes a legal and valid transaction binding upon Purchaser.

(f) Purchaser's performance. At or before the Closing Date, Purchaser shall have complied with and performed all of its terms, covenants, and conditions under this agreement, and shall have taken all action required under the applicable partnership and securities laws for the consummation of the transactions contemplated herein.

(g) Management contract. At or before the Closing, the Management Contracts referred to in Section 18 shall have been executed and delivered.

(h) Approval of counsel. All legal proceedings in connection with the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this agreement, including the forms of all documents of transfer and assignment, other documents, legal matters, opinions, and procedures in connection therewith, other than the tax matters referred to in Section 14(a), shall have been approved in form and substance by Weiss and Bishop of New York, New York, counsel for Seller. Such approval shall not be unreasonably withheld.

(i) Guaranty releases. At or before the Closing, Seller shall have received written releases of all guarantees given by it or of its subsidiaries (other than Martin, NYKW, and KW Florida) for any debts, obligations, or performances whatever by Martin, NYKW, KW Florida, Jo-Dee, Cross Ltd., and/or Winston Mall--Tampa Venture.

Section 15. Expenses. Each party shall pay its own expenses (including counsel fees) in connection with this agreement and the transactions contemplated herein. Each party, however, shall pay one half of the expenses (including counsel fees) arising in connection with the Rulings, the appraisals by independent appraisal engineers of the assets of KW Florida and Martin, and the valuation of other assets of KW Florida, Martin, and NYKW, which appraisals and valuation shall be made in connection with the transactions under this agreement.

Section 16. Broker's and finder's commissions. The parties acknowledge and agree that neither has incurred any obligation to pay any brokerage commission or finder's fee with regard to the transactions under this agreement. Purchaser shall indemnify Seller and Seller shall indemnify Purchaser from and against all liability (including counsel fees, and other costs of defending any such liability or enforcing this indemnification) for payment of any commission, fee, or other compensation in the nature of a brokerage commission or finder's fee to any person, firm, or corporation claiming to have acted on behalf of such indemnifying party in connection with the transactions contemplated by this agreement.

Section 17. Litigation indemnification. Seller shall indemnify and hold Purchaser harmless from and against all claims, costs, expenses, losses, damages, or liability of any nature or kind, including reasonable counsel fees and other costs of defending any such liabilities or enforcing this indemnification, arising out of or in connection with that certain legal proceeding entitled Stylish Suits, Inc. v. K. W. Corporation, et al. (E.D.N.Y. 83 Civ. 447).

Section 18. Management contracts. At or before the Closing, Seller, or its appropriate subsidiaries, shall enter into separate Management Contracts with KW Florida with respect to the following shopping centers:

Shopping Center and Location	Owner or Lessee
Shaw Mall	Shaw Management, Inc.
Tucson, Arizona
Passaic Mall	Passaic Management, Inc.
Passaic, New Jersey
Walt Roosevelt Shopping Center	Walt Roosevelt Management, Inc.
St. Petersburg, Florida

Westfield Mall
Westfield, New Jersey

Westfield Development Co., Inc.

The Management Contracts for each of the above shopping centers shall be substantially in the form of the Management Contract attached and marked Annex V.

Section 19. Miscellaneous

(a) Additional documents. Seller, at any time and from time to time after the Closing Date, upon Purchaser's request, will, at Purchaser's expense, do, execute, acknowledge, and deliver all such further acts, deeds, assignments, transfers, conveyances, powers of attorney, and assurances required to convey and transfer to and vest in Purchaser and to protect the right, title and interest in and enjoyment of the capital stock of KW Florida, intended to be assigned, transferred, and conveyed under this agreement.

(b) Binding effect. This agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties and their respective successors and assigns. However, Purchaser shall not assign or otherwise transfer any right or privilege hereunder without Seller's prior written consent.

(c) Notices. All notices under this agreement shall be in writing and delivered personally or mailed by registered or certified mail, postage prepaid, to the parties at their addresses listed below. Notice shall be deemed to have been received, in the case of personal delivery, when it is received by the addressee, and in the case of registered or certified mail, when the letter is deposited in the United States mail. All notices shall be given to the parties at their following addresses:

If to Seller:	K. W. Corporation 7 Park Avenue New York, New York Attention: Messrs. Green and Levy
with a copy to:	Weiss & Bishop 45 Park Avenue New York, New York 10022 Attention: Messrs. Shapiro and McCoy
If to Purchaser:	LOWEST 300 First National Bank Bldg. Atlanta, Georgia Attention: Mr. C. W. Low, Jr.
with a copy to:	Jenkins & Gilchrist 200 First National Bank Bldg. Atlanta, Georgia Attention: Messrs. Gilchrist and Husing

Either party may designate a different address for receiving notices by giving the other party at least ten days' prior written notice.

(d) Entire agreement; modification. This instrument constitutes the entire agreement between the parties. It may not be changed or terminated except by an instrument duly executed by both parties.

(e) Governing law. This agreement shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of Georgia.

(f) Headings. Headings in this agreement are inserted for convenience and reference only and shall not be deemed to be a part thereof.

(g) Non-waiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise any right hereunder, and no partial or single exercise of such right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

(h) Counterparts. This agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

(i) Time of essence. Time is of the essence of this agreement.

The parties have caused this agreement to be duly executed as of the day and year first above written.

Purchaser:

Lowest

(a joint venture)

By _____

Robert Levy

By _____

Ralph Green

by Low Brothers

By _____

C.W. Low, Partner
(Members of Joint Venture)

Seller:

K. W. Corporation

By _____

Robert Levy, President

LIST OF ANNEXES

Annex I -- Security Agreement

Annex II -- LOWEST Note

Annex III -- KW Florida Note

Annex IV -- Guaranty

Annex V -- Management Contract

(2) Security agreement

ANNEX I

This Security Agreement, made and entered into this March 30, _____ [year], by Lowest (Debtor), a joint venture composed of Low Brothers (a partnership composed of John D. Low and C. W. Low, Jr.) of Atlanta, Georgia, Robert Levy of Scarsdale, New York, and Ralph Green of Summit, New Jersey:

Recitals

Debtor has, concurrently with the execution and delivery hereof, issued to K. W. Corporation (Secured Party), a Delaware corporation, (a) a certain promissory note (the Note) of Debtor in the principal amount of $2,655,000, payable to the order of Secured Party on or before six months after date, and with interest, which represents a portion of the purchase price paid by Debtor to Secured Party for all the shares of the issued and outstanding common stock (the KW Florida Stock) of K. W. Florida Corporation (KW Florida), a Florida corporation, and (b) a guaranty (the Guaranty) of a note of KW Florida payable to the order of Secured Party, evidencing certain open account intercompany debt that existed on the date hereof between KW Florida and Secured Party.

Debtor has agreed to grant to Secured Party a security interest in the KW Florida Stock and other collateral as security for the payment of the Note, and for performance of the Guaranty, among other things, in accordance with their respective terms and provisions.

Now, therefore, Debtor does grant Secured Party a security interest in the KW Florida Stock and any and all other property which may from time to time be pledged hereunder, the KW Florida Stock and such other property being the Collateral. Certificates representing the KW Florida Stock, accompanied by properly endorsed stock powers, are being contemporaneously herewith deposited with Secured Party.

1. Secured obligations. The security interest shall secure the payment and performance of (i) the Note, together with all of its renewals and extensions, or any part thereof, (ii) the Guaranty, and (iii) Debtor's obligations under this agreement.

2. Possession of collateral. Debtor covenants and agrees that so long as the Note or the note as to which the Guaranty applies, or any portion thereof, and Debtor's obligations herein, shall remain outstanding and unpaid or undischarged, the Collateral shall be held by and in the custody of Secured Party and Debtor shall not have the right to procure the release of any Collateral from the security interest except upon and in compliance with the terms and conditions herein set forth.

3. Stock

(a) Endorsed certificates. All stock certificates and other instruments which may constitute at any time or from time to time a part of the Collateral shall be endorsed in blank for transfer or be accompanied by proper instruments of assignment and transfer in blank, in a manner satisfactory to Secured Party. Until the happening of an event of default specified in paragraph 9, and its continuation beyond the applicable period of grace, all stock and securities pledged hereunder, as applicable, shall remain registered in the name of Debtor, with the address stated as "c/o K. W. Corporation, 7 Park Avenue, New York, N.Y."

(b) Dividends. If cash or any shares of stock or other securities issued by way of any distribution, dividend, stock split up or spin off in respect of any of the shares of the KW Florida Stock or other stock or securities issued by way of any dividend, distribution, stock split up or spin off in respect of any of the pledged securities, then and in any such case, the cash or the shares of stock or other securities thus issued shall be delivered directly to Secured Party as additional security for the Note and other obligations of Debtor under this agreement, and immediately upon issue thereof Debtor will deliver to and deposit with the Secured Party, as appropriate, such proper instruments of assignment and transfer endorsed in blank, satisfactory to Secured Party. Debtor may, however, designate that any such case be used to prepay all or part of the Note in accordance with the terms thereof.

4. Undertaking. Debtor covenants and agrees to pay and discharge promptly the Note and the Guaranty and all other debts, obligations, or liabilities, including expenses and reasonable attorneys' fees incurred or paid by Secured Party in exercising or protecting its interests, rights and remedies hereunder, on the part of Debtor at any time hereby secured, as and when the same become due and payable, either by their own terms or by the exercise by Secured Party of any right or option which it may ever have to accelerate the maturity thereof; provided, nevertheless, that if Debtor pays to Secured Party all amounts due upon the Note and satisfies all its obligations under the Guaranty and also pays to Secured Party all other sums payable hereunder by Debtor, and all amounts due under the note as to which the Guaranty applies have been paid by KW Florida or by Debtor, this agreement and the security interest hereby granted shall cease, terminate and become void; and immediately thereafter the Secured Party shall deliver to Debtor the Collateral and, on demand of Debtor, shall also execute, acknowledge, and deliver to Debtor appropriate instruments of release and/or transfer in respect of the Collateral; otherwise, this Security Agreement shall remain in full force.

5. Voting rights. Until an event of default occurs, Debtor shall have the exclusive right to vote any and all shares of stock constituting a part or all of the Collateral, at any and all meetings of the shareholders of each corporation, for any and all purposes not inconsistent with the covenants of Debtor contained in this Security Agreement.

6. Warranties. Debtor represents and warrants that: (i) it has authority to execute and deliver this Security Agreement; (ii) no other security agreement covering the Collateral, or any part thereof, has been made and no security interests, other than the one herein created, have attached or been perfected in the Collateral or in any part thereof; and (iii) it is the owner of the Collateral now in existence.

7. Additional documents and duties. Debtor covenants and agrees to: (i) execute and deliver promptly from time to time to Secured Party all such other assignments, certificates, supplemental writing and financing statements, and do all such other acts and things, that Secured Party reasonably requests in order more fully to evidence and perfect the security interest; and (ii) promptly perform all of Debtor's covenants and duties under any security agreement, deed of trust, collateral pledge agreement, or contract of any kind now or hereafter existing as security for or in connection with payment of the Note, or any part thereof, or any other obligation of Debtor hereunder.

8. Limited liability. Secured Party shall have no duty to fix or preserve rights against prior parties to the Collateral, and shall never be liable for its failure to use diligence to collect any amount payable in respect of the Collateral, but shall be liable only to account to Debtor for what it may actually collect or receive thereon.

9. Default. The term "default" means the occurrence of any of the following events: (i) Debtor's failure to pay principal and interest due under the Note, or any part thereof, as it becomes due in accordance with its terms or when accelerated pursuant to any power to accelerate; (ii) Debtor's failure to perform its obligations punctually under the Guaranty; (iii) Debtor's failure to perform any covenant, agreement or condition contained herein or in any other security agreement, mortgage, deed of trust, assignment or contract of any kind securing or assuring payment of the Note, or any part thereof, or any obligation of Debtor hereunder; (iv) Debtor's dissolution; (v) the levy against all or any part of the Collateral, of any execution, attachment, sequestration or other writ; (vi) the appointment of a receiver of all or any part of the Collateral; (vii) the adjudication of any joint venturer of Debtor as a bankrupt; or (viii) the filing, by way of petition or other pleading seeking adjudication of any joint venturer of the Debtor, or an assignment for the benefit of creditors or other adjustment of any such joint venturer's or partner's debts, or any other relief under any present or future bankruptcy, reorganization, debtor's relief, or insolvency laws.

10. Remedies and proceeds

(a) Remedies. Upon the occurrence of a default, in addition to all other Secured Party rights and remedies hereunder, under the Uniform Commercial Code of the State of Georgia (Code), or otherwise, Secured Party may: (i) declare the entire unpaid balance of principal of and all accrued interest on the Note immediately due and payable, without notice of dishonor, notice of any kind, demand, or presentment, which are waived; (ii) reduce its claim to judgment, foreclosure or otherwise enforce its security interest in all or any part of the Collateral by any available judicial procedure; (iii) after any notification provided for in paragraph 11, sell or otherwise dispose of, at its office, or elsewhere, as chosen by Secured Party, all or any part of the Collateral, and any such sale or other disposition may be as a unit or in parcels, by public or private proceedings, and by way of one or more contracts (it being agreed that the sale of any part of the Collateral shall not exhaust Secured Party's power of sale, but sales may be made from time to time until all of the Collateral has been sold or the Note and other obligations of Debtor hereunder have been paid or discharged in full), and at any such sale it shall not be necessary to exhibit the Collateral; (iv) at its discretion, retain the Collateral in satisfaction of the unpaid balance of principal of and interest upon the Note, the note as to which the Guaranty applies if the default in paragraph 9(ii) has occurred, and Debtor's other obligations hereunder whenever the circumstances are such that Secured Party is entitled to do so under the Code; (v) apply by appropriate judicial proceedings for appointment of a receiver for all or any part of the Collateral, and Debtor consents to any such appointment; or (vi) buy the Collateral at any public or private sale.

(b) Proceeds. Secured Party shall be entitled to apply the proceeds of any sale or other disposition of the Collateral in the following order: first, to the payment of all of its reasonable expenses, including attorneys' fees and other legal expenses, incurred in holding and preparing all or any part of the Collateral, for sale(s) or other disposition, in arranging for such sale(s) or other disposition, and in actually selling the same; and next, toward payment of the unpaid balance of principal of and interest upon the Note and other obligations of Debtor hereunder in such order and manner as Secured Party, in its discretion, deems advisable. Secured Party shall account for any surplus in accordance with the provisions of the Code. If the proceeds are not sufficient to pay the Note and, if applicable, the note as to which the Guaranty applies in full, Debtor shall remain liable for any deficiency.

11. Notice of sale. Reasonable notification of the time and place of any public sale of the Collateral, or of the time after which any private sale or other intended disposition of the Collateral is to be made, shall be sent to Debtor and to any other person entitled under the Code to notice. If, however, the Collateral threatens to decline speedily in value, Secured Party may sell or otherwise dispose of it without notification, advertisement or other notice of any kind. It is agreed that notice sent or given not less than five calendar days before the taking of the action to which the notice relates is reasonable notification and notice for the purpose of this paragraph.

12. Cumulative remedies. All rights and remedies of Secured Party are cumulative of each other and of every other right or remedy that it may otherwise have at law or in equity or under any other contract or other writing for the enforcement of the security interest or the collection of the indebtedness evidenced by the Note. The exercise of one or more rights or remedies shall not prejudice or impair the concurrent or subsequent exercise of other rights or remedies.

13. Assignment. Secured Party may transfer and assign all or any part of its rights, powers, and interests hereunder, together with the Collateral, at any time and upon any terms it deems advisable.

14. Waiver. The acceptance by Secured Party at any time and from time to time of part payment of the aggregate amount of the Note, or other obligations of Debtor, then matured shall not be deemed to be a waiver of any other subsequent default, nor shall any such waiver by Secured Party be deemed to be a continuing waiver. No delay or omission by Secured Party in exercising any right or power hereunder, or under any other writings executed by Debtor as security for or in connection with the Note, the Guaranty or the note as to which the Guaranty applies, shall impair any such right or power or be construed as a waiver thereof or any acquiescence therein, nor shall any single or partial exercise of any such right or power preclude other or further exercise thereof, or the exercise of any other right or power of Secured Party hereunder.

15. Governing law. This agreement is executed under and shall be construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Georgia.

16. Binding effect. This agreement shall be binding on Debtor and its successors and assigns, and shall inure to the benefit of Secured Party and its successors and assigns.

Executed as of the day and year first above written.

Lowest

(a joint venture), Debtor

by: Low Brothers

By: _____

Partner

By: _____

Ralph Green

Accepted:

K.W. Corporation

Secured Party

By: _____

Robert Levy, President

(3) Promissory note of buyer

ANNEX II

$2,655,000

Atlanta, Georgia

March 30, _____ [year]

For value received, Lowest, a joint venture composed of Low Brothers (a partnership composed of John D. Low and C. W. Low, Jr.), of Atlanta, Georgia, and Robert Levy of Scarsdale, New York, and Ralph Green of Summit, New Jersey, ("Maker"), promises to pay to the order of K. W. Corporation, a Delaware corporation, ("Payee"), at its office in New York, New York, or at any other place that the holder designates in writing, on or before six months after the date the principal sum of $2,655,000 by a bank cashier's check or certified check drawn on a New York City bank, in New York Clearing House funds, together with interest from date hereof, in like funds, on the principal balance from time to time remaining unpaid prior to maturity, at the highest rate of annual interest paid by Payee on its major bank borrowings, but not to exceed a rate of 2 percent per annum above the floating prime rate of interest at Merchants Bank, New York, N.Y. (the applicable rate of interest being adjusted as of the start of the day following the effective date of any change in the highest rate of interest paid by Payee or charged by said bank, as the case may be). The interest hereon shall never be charged or collected at a rate in excess of the maximum permitted by law. All past due principal and interest shall bear interest at the rate of 10 percent per annum.

Any full or partial prepayment of this Note shall be applied first to the interest accrued to the date of such payment, and the balance of such payment shall then be applied to the unpaid principal balance.

This note is secured by that certain Security Agreement, executed by Maker, dated the date hereof, covering certain collateral, which includes, among other things, all of the issued and outstanding capital stock of K. W. Florida Corporation, a Florida corporation. If a default occurs the holder(s) hereof shall have the right to exercise all of the rights and remedies created or otherwise referred to therein.

Maker and any guarantor or endorser of this Note waive demand, presentment for payment, notice of nonpayment or dishonor filing of suit and diligence in collecting this Note.

If this Note is collected by an attorney or by legal proceedings, Maker agrees to pay a reasonable sum not to exceed 10 percent of all unpaid principal and accrued interest as attorneys' or collection fees.

All of the covenants and agreements in this Note by or on behalf of Maker shall bind its successors and assigns.

The undersigned by each of its joint venturers has signed this Note as of the date and year first above written.

Lowest

(a joint venture)

by: Low Brothers

By _____

Partner

By: _____

Ralph Green

By _____

Robert Levy

(4) Promissory note: corporation to former parent

ANNEX III

$2,186,000

March 30, _____ [year]

For value received, K. W. Florida Corporation, a Florida corporation, the Maker, promises to pay to the order of K. W. Corporation, a Delaware corporation, the Payee, at its office in New York, New York, or at any other place the holder designates in writing, on or before 13 months after date the principal sum of $2,186,000 by a bank cashier's check or certified check drawn on a New York City bank, in New York Clearing House funds, together with interest from date hereof, in like funds, on the principal balance from time to time remaining unpaid prior to maturity, at the highest rate of annual interest paid by the Payee on its major bank borrowings, but not to exceed a rate of 2 percent per annum above the floating prime rate of interest at Merchants Bank, New York, New York (the applicable rate of interest being adjusted as of the start of the day following the effective date of any change in the highest rate of interest paid by the Payee or charged by said bank, as the case may be); and in the event the Payee ceases to exist or this Note is assigned, at the rate of 7 percent per annum. The interest hereon shall never be charged or collected at a rate in excess of the maximum permitted by law. All past due principal and interest shall bear interest at the rate of 10 percent per annum.

Any full or partial prepayment of this Note shall be applied first to the interest accrued to the date of such payment, and the balance of such payment shall then be applied to the unpaid principal balance.

If the principal of or interest on this Note is not paid in accordance with the terms hereof, the holder of this Note may declare immediately due and payable the entire unpaid principal balance of, and all accrued interest on, this Note and exercise any right or remedy provided by law or in equity.

The Maker and any guarantor or endorser of this Note waive demand, presentment for payment, notice of nonpayment or dishonor, filing of suit and diligence in collecting this Note.

If this Note is collected by an attorney or by legal proceedings, the Maker agrees to pay a reasonable sum not to exceed 10 percent of all unpaid principal and accrued interest as attorneys' or collection fees.

All of the covenants and agreements in this Note by or on behalf of the Maker shall bind its successors and assigns.

The Maker has caused this Note to be signed in its name by its duly authorized officer and to be dated as of the date and year first above written.

K. W. Florida Corporation

By _____

President

Attest:

Secretary

(5) Guaranty of subsidiary's promissory note by parent

ANNEX IV

The undersigned, ("Guarantor"), guarantees to K. W. Corporation, ("Creditor"), a Delaware corporation, the prompt payment at maturity of the Guaranteed Indebtedness upon the following terms and conditions:

1. Indebtedness. "Guaranteed Indebtedness" shall mean that certain unsecured promissory note in the original principal amount of $2,186,000, dated the date hereof, made by K. W. Florida Corporation, the Debtor, payable to the order of the Creditor, and bearing interest and being payable as set forth therein, together with all renewals or extensions of all or part of such indebtedness, with or without notice to or consent of Guarantor.

2. Cumulative remedies. Creditor's rights hereunder shall be cumulative of all other rights that the Creditor may ever have against Guarantor. Creditor's exercise of any right or remedy hereunder or under any other instrument, or at law or in equity, shall not preclude the concurrent or subsequent exercise of any other right or remedy.

3. Guaranty of payment. If Debtor defaults in paying or performing all or part of the Guaranteed Indebtedness, when such Indebtedness becomes due, either by its terms or as the result of the exercise of any power to accelerate, Guarantor shall, on demand and without further notice of dishonor, pay the amount due thereon to Creditor, at its office in New York, New York. It shall not be necessary for Creditor, in order to enforce such payment by Guarantor, first, to institute suit or exhaust its remedies against Debtor. Guarantor shall pay reasonable attorneys' fees if this Guaranty is placed with an attorney for collection or collected through court or other legal proceedings.

4. Notice waiver. Guarantor waives notice to it of the acceptance of this Guaranty and of the making, renewing, extending, or assignment of all or part of the Guaranteed Indebtedness.

5. Security. This Guaranty is secured by that certain Security Agreement, executed by the Guarantor, dated the date hereof, covering certain collateral, which includes, among other things, all of Debtor's issued and outstanding capital stock. If a default occurs, as defined herein or therein, Creditor may exercise any and all of the rights and remedies created or otherwise referred to herein or therein. Guarantor hereby waives presentment, notice of nonpayment or dishonor, protest, or any other notice hereunder or under the Guaranteed Indebtedness.

6. Liability. If, for any reason, the Guaranteed Indebtedness cannot be enforced against Debtor, or any payments thereon must be refunded by Creditor to any party for any reason, including bankruptcy, such fact shall not affect Guarantor's liability and Guarantor shall be liable to the same extent as if the Guaranteed Indebtedness had been enforceable against Debtor or such payments had not been made to Creditor.

7. Assignment. This Guaranty is for the benefit of Creditor, its successors and assigns, and in the event of any assignment by the Creditor, its successors or assigns, of all or part of the Guaranteed Indebtedness, the applicable rights and benefits hereunder may be transferred with such indebtedness; provided, however, Creditor's rights hereunder shall retain priority. This Guaranty is binding on Guarantor and its successors and assigns.

Executed this March 30, _____ [year].

Lowest

(a joint venturer), Guarantor

by: Low Brothers

By _____

Partner

By _____

Ralph Green

By: _____

Robert Levy

(6) Management contract

ANNEX V

Agreement, made May 31, _____ [year], between K. W. Corporation, a Delaware corporation, having an office at 7 Park Avenue, New York, New York (Owner), and Passaic Management, Inc., a New Jersey corporation, having an office at 20 East Boulevard, East Paterson, New Jersey (Agent).

Owner and Agent agree as follows:

Article I Appointment

Owner appoints Agent as the sole and exclusive rental, operation and management agent of a certain shopping center, known as Passaic Mall Shopping Center, located in Passaic, State of New Jersey, the Shopping Center. Owner grants Agent the sole and exclusive right to lease all parts of the Shopping Center. Agent accepts the appointment.

Article II Term

The term of this agreement shall commence on June 1, _____ [year] and shall continue until midnight on June 1, _____ [year], unless this agreement is terminated and the obligations of the parties sooner cease and terminate.

Article III Management Fee

1. Percentage. Owner shall pay Agent, as its entire compensation for the services to be rendered hereunder, a management fee equal to 2 percent of the Gross Income of the Shopping Center.
2. Gross income. The term "Gross Income" shall mean all revenues of any kind and nature, whether ordinary or extraordinary, foreseen or unforeseen, received or accrued from the use and/or occupancy of the Improvements constituting the Shopping Center or any part thereof, exclusive of money received or accrued from any occupants or users of any part of such Improvements for real estate taxes, as provided in the space leases for space tenants.
3. Percentage rent. If any such space leases provide that the tenant has the right to offset its obligations for the payment of real estate taxes as against overage or percentage rents, such rents shall be included in "Gross Income" although all or part of them are applied to or utilized for the payment of such real estate taxes.
4. Outside brokers. Agent will use its best efforts not to use independent outside brokers in renting vacant space in the Improvements constituting the Shopping Center. If Agent utilizes the services of any independent outside broker, all fees, charges, or commissions paid to such broker shall be at Owner's expense, and shall not be deducted from Agent's management fee as provided in Section 1, Article III, except to the extent that such fees, charges, or commissions exceed those usually charged by brokers in the same locale or area of the Shopping Center for the renting of space in Shopping Centers.

Article IV Management

Agent agrees to do the following, which shall be at Owner's expense, and which Agent shall have the sole and exclusive right to do without Owner's further consent.

1. Management. Agent shall use due diligence in the renting, operating and managing of the Shopping Center, and in collecting all rents and other income therefrom.

2. Maintenance. Agent shall use due diligence in the repairing, making replacements and maintaining the Shopping Center in order that it shall be caused to be and remain in a good, sound and clean condition, and to make all improvements, construction, changes, and additions to the Shopping Center (including capital improvements) that Agent deems advisable.

3. Owner approval. Agent shall secure Owner's approval for all expenditures or the incurring of any obligation involving a sum in excess of $25,000 for any one item, except for expenditures made and obligations incurred (i) pursuant to and set forth in a Budget prepared under this Agreement, theretofore approved by Owner and/or (ii) for emergency repairs in excess of $25,000 if, in Agent's opinion, such repairs are necessary to protect the Improvements constituting all or part of the Shopping Center from damage, or (iii) to maintain services to the tenants as called for by their tenancy. Agent shall notify Owner promptly whenever emergency repairs have been ordered.

4. Additional compensation. If Owner's approval is required by the provisions of paragraph, 3 above, or, Owner decides to enlarge, remodel, or extensively refurbish all or part of the Shopping Center Agent shall be entitled to receive additional compensation for services it is required to render for such items as supervision of construction, initial space leasing in the event of the enlargement of the Shopping Center, and overhead allocation expense.

5. Expenses. Except for the foregoing, all expenses incurred by Agent shall be charged at net cost. Owner shall receive credit for all rebates, discounts, and allowances.

6. Employees. Agent shall hire, discharge, and supervise the work of all supervisory, maintenance, and service employees, including the Center Manager and security personnel, in order to discharge Agent's responsibilities hereunder. All such employees shall be employed and paid by Owner.

7. Insurance. Agent shall procure and maintain adequate insurance coverage with respect to employer's liability and workmen's compensation.

8. Accounting. Agent shall provide all general bookkeeping and accounting services required by paragraphs 17(a) and (b) of this Article IV, at Agent's expense. All clerical services performed at the Shopping Center Site, including the maintenance of payroll records incident to the efficient operation and maintenance of the Shopping Center, shall be performed at Owner's expense.

9. Service contracts. Agent shall enter into contracts for the furnishing to the Shopping Center of all services and utilities, including electricity, gas, water, steam, telephone, cleaning, security, vermin extermination, elevator, escalator, and boiler maintenance, and all other utilities or service Agent deems advisable to assure that the Shopping Center shall be caused to be and remain in a good, sound, and clean condition and properly operating.

10. Supplies. Agent shall purchase all material and supplies it deems necessary to properly repair, maintain and operate the Shopping Center.

11. Rent and disbursements. Agent shall demand, receive, and collect all rents, income, and other revenues, which it shall deposit in a special bank account or accounts maintained by it for the deposit of moneys in regard to the Shopping

Center. Agent shall disburse, deduct, and pay from all rents, etc., all amounts required to be disbursed or paid in connection with the repair, maintenance, and operation of the Shopping Center and in the carrying out of Agent's duties. Such disbursements and payments shall include the following items:

(a) all assessments and charges of every kind imposed by any competent governmental authority (including real estate taxes, assessments, sewer rents, and water charges), and interest and penalties thereon. Agent, however, shall reimburse Owner for all interest or penalty payments imposed by reason of delay in payment caused by Agent's negligence.

If any mortgage covering the Shopping Center requires Owner to escrow payments for real estate taxes and assessments, Owner and not Agent shall make such payments. Moreover, the provisions of this subsection (a) shall not apply as to the disbursement and deduction of such escrowed taxes and assessments.

(b) license fees, permit fees, insurance appraisal fees, fines, penalties, legal fees, accounting fees incurred in the auditing of tenants' books and records to establish and collect overage or percentage rents, and all disbursements incurred in connection with the ownership, management or operation of the Shopping Center. Agent, however, shall reimburse Owner for all such fines and penalties imposed by reason of delay in payment caused by Agent's negligence.

(c) premiums on all policies of insurance.

(d) service contracts, utilities, repairs, replacements, salaries and wages, bonuses, fringe benefits and administration expenses, including Agent's compensation.

(e) contributions to Merchants Association, as required by outstanding agreement and advertisement and public relations costs for Center promotional activities.

(f) all other expenses or costs customarily disbursed by managing agents of comparable buildings and property or required in order for Agent to perform its duties.

12. Agent advances. If at any time the funds in Agent's custody from the current collections, rents, income, or other revenues from the Shopping Center are insufficient to pay such expenses, Owner shall, on five days' written notice, immediately furnish Agent with the required funds to make such payments. Owner shall promptly reimburse Agent, with interest at the rate of three percent above the prime rate being charged by the Manhattan Bank of New York City, for all disbursements advanced by Agent of its own money for Owner when funds are insufficient. Nothing contained herein, however, shall be construed to obligate Agent to make any such advances. If the interest above mentioned exceeds the maximum applicable legal rate, the rate of interest shall be the applicable legal maximum rate.

13. Trust funds. All amounts on deposit in the special bank account in a member bank of the Federal Reserve System shall be held by Agent, in its name, as trust funds for Owner to be devoted to the purposes herein provided.

14. Insurance. Agent shall procure, renew and at all times keep in force insurance covering the Shopping Center and its contents which Owner is required to maintain, including all insurance required under tenants' leases of the Shopping Center and by any mortgage on the Shopping Center. All policies of insurance shall be procured from carriers and through brokers to be selected by Agent. Agent shall also obtain any other insurance which may, from time to time during the term of this agreement, be advisable or be customarily or usually carried in connection with comparable properties or buildings in the area. All liability policies shall insure both Owner and Agent. All casualty policies shall insure Owner and any mortgagee of the Shopping Center when so required by any mortgage. If requested by Owner, a certificate of each policy issued shall be delivered to it by Agent. Agent shall adjust and settle all losses with the insurance companies.

15. Claims. Agent shall give Owner notice of any claims made against either. Owner and Agent shall cooperate fully with each other and with any insurance carrier to the end that all such claims will be properly investigated and defended. Agent may hire its own attorney, but at Owner's expense, to defend any such claim in any instance when insurance policies do not provide complete coverage.

16. Compliance with laws. Agent shall cause, at Owner's expense, all such acts and things to be done in or about the Shopping Center as are necessary to comply with all applicable governmental statutes, ordinances, laws, rules, regulations, orders and determinations, ordinary or extraordinary, foreseen or unforeseen, of every kind or nature affecting or issued in connection with the Shopping Center, as well as with all such orders and requirements of the Board of Fire Underwriters, Fire Insurance Exchange, or any other body which may hereafter exercise similar functions. Agent may contest such statutes, ordinances, laws, regulations, orders, determinations or requirements, and pending the final determination of the contest, may withhold compliance.

17. Statements and payments. Agent shall render statements and make payments to Owner as follows:

(a) on or before the 20th day of each month in which rental income is received from the Shopping Center, Agent will render to Owner a statement as to the preceding calendar month, which shall set forth all receipts and disbursements handled by Agent.

The statements shall include at least the following information:

(i) the name of each tenant, identification of the space occupied by such tenant, and the rental payable by each tenant;

(ii) breakdown of the gross rental income into stores, offices, warehouse, and open storage areas;

(iii) breakdown of income from any sources other than the rental of space; and

(iv) breakdown of all expenses, including real estate taxes and all other taxes, water rents, steam, lighting, power, insurance, repairs, materials and supplies, labor, and improvements.

(b) within 15 days after the end of each month, Agent will remit to Owner the amount collected by Agent during the said preceding calendar month, less fees, disbursements, and advances made on behalf of and for the account of Owner as authorized by this agreement, less all reasonable sums that Agent deems necessary or appropriate, as reserves to meet obligations which will or may become due thereafter, taking into account estimated future income.

(c) once annually, within 45 days after January 1st of each year, Agent will furnish to Owner, at Owner's expense, an audited, detailed statement of cash receipts and disbursements covering the 12 month period immediately preceding said January 1st, prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting practices consistently applied.

18. Actions against tenants. Agent shall institute, in its own name or in the name of Owner, but in any event at Owner's expense, all legal actions or proceedings to collect rent or other income from the Shopping Center or to oust or dispossess tenants or other persons therefrom, or to cancel or terminate any lease for the breach thereof or default thereunder by the tenant, and to hold all security deposits posted by tenants and occupants and to apply the same against defaults by the tenant or occupant.

19. Tax reduction actions. Agent shall file applications in its own name or in the name of Owner, but in any event at Owner's expense, for the reduction of real estate tax assessments and/or water charges and sewer rents, and/or for the cancellation or reduction of any other taxes, assessments, duties, imposts or other obligations of any nature imposed by law and to institute all legal actions or proceedings in connection therewith; and to file, settle, try, appeal, or otherwise dispose of all such applications and/or proceedings, upon any terms and conditions Agent deems appropriate.

20. Violations actions. Agent shall take, at Owner's expense, all appropriate steps to protest and/or litigate to final decision in any appropriate court or forum any violation, order, rule, or regulation affecting the Shopping Center.

21. Attorneys. Agent shall, at Owner's expense, engage counsel, selected by Agent, and pay counsel fees and court costs and disbursements in connection with any proceedings involving the Shopping Center.

22. Contract compliance. Agent shall comply with all the terms, conditions, and obligations of any lease, mortgage, or other agreement on behalf of Owner which relate to any matters in connection with the rental, operation, or management of the Shopping Center, unless prevented or delayed by strikes, riot, civil commotion, war, inability to obtain materials because of governmental restrictions or acts of God or the public enemy, administrative or statutory rules or judicial decisions, or any other cause beyond Agent's control.

23. Leasing. Agent shall conduct all negotiations connected with any leases or renewal agreements (and renting commission agreements and other documents in connection therewith) in any part of the Shopping Center, and enter into and execute, in its name or in the name of and as agent for Owner, all such leases (and renting commission agreements with brokers and other documents in connection therewith).

24. Outside brokers. Agent shall enlist the services of outside brokers, who shall be compensated at the rates referred to in Section 4 of Article III.

25. Budget. Not less often than once each fiscal year, Agent shall prepare and submit to Owner, for its consideration and approval, a Budget setting forth the estimated receipts and expenditures (Capital, Operating and other) of the Shopping Center and a reasonable contingency allowance for the period covered by the Budget. When approved by Owner, Agent shall implement the Budget and be authorized to make the expenditures and incur the obligations provided therein. If Owner fails to disapprove the Budget, by giving Agent written notice within ten days after its submission, the Budget shall be deemed approved. If Owner disapproves as above provided, Agent shall operate under the previous Budget with an increase based upon (i) any increase over the first day of the previous year to the date of submission of the Budget in question in the Consumer Price Index for Urban Wage Earners and Clerical Workers (1982-1984=100) applicable to the locality where the Shopping Center is situated, and (ii) any increase of the previous Budget made necessary by existing union wage contracts. Nothing contained herein, however, shall render Agent liable for the making of any expenditures or incurring any obligation not contained in the Budget, if such expenditures or obligations are necessarily incurred by Agent in performing its duties under this agreement.

Article V Agency

Owner covenants and agrees that:

1. Ratification. Whenever a provision in this agreement allows Agent to take action in the name of or on behalf of Owner, Owner will promptly execute all required documents to enable Agent to carry out its prescribed functions. Agent is appointed as Owner's attorney-in-fact for the purpose of making all payments that Agent is authorized to make hereunder for or on behalf of Owner.

2. Prospects. Owner shall refer to Agent all inquiries for any leases or renewal agreements for the rental of all or any part of the Shopping Center.

3. Advertising. Agent, at Owner's expense, is authorized to advertise the premises or portions thereof for rent, and to prepare and secure renting signs, renting plans, circular matter, and other forms of advertising.

Article VI Assignment

Neither Owner (except in connection with a transfer of its interest in the Shopping Center) nor Agent shall assign this agreement or any of its rights hereunder. If Owner's interest in the Shopping Center is transferred, all of its obligations under this agreement shall be binding on the transferee, who shall assume all of Owner's obligations, if Agent elects to continue hereunder. This agreement shall be noncancellable, except as otherwise permitted herein.

Article VII Termination

1. Breach, arbitration. If either party commits, or is alleged to have committed, a material breach of this agreement (the breaching party), the party alleging the breach (the other party) shall serve written notice upon the breaching party, setting forth the details of the alleged breach. The breaching party shall cure the breach within 30 days after receiving the notice, unless it disputes the claim as set forth below. If the breach cannot be cured within the 30-day period, the breaching party shall, within such time, commence and diligently proceed with all necessary acts to cure the breach. If the breaching party fails to cure the breach within the 30-day period, the other party may terminate this agreement by sending a second written notice to the breaching party, termination to be effective as of the date specified in the second notice. If, however, the breaching party, within 15 days after receiving the first notice, sends the other party a written notice disputing the claim of material breach and demanding arbitration, the parties shall promptly submit the dispute to the American Arbitration Association in the City of New York for determination in accordance with its rules. Such determination shall be binding upon both parties. While the arbitration is pending, Agent shall continue to perform all its obligations under this agreement. If it is determined that a breach was committed, the breaching party shall cure the breach within ten days after it is served with a copy of the award or determination. If the breach is not timely cured, the agreement shall be terminated.

2. Insolvency. Either party may terminate this agreement if either of the following events occur during the term thereof: a petition in bankruptcy or insolvency, for reorganization, or for the appointment of a receiver or trustee of all or a portion of the other party's property is filed against such party in any court, under any federal or state statute, and the petition is not discharged within 30 days after filing; or either party makes an assignment for the benefit of creditors, petitions for or enters into an arrangement, or permits this agreement to be taken under a writ of execution or attachment. In either event, the other party may terminate this agreement, by giving written notice by certified mail, effective as of the date specified in the notice.

3. Termination. Either party may terminate this agreement at any time during its term by giving the other party at least 12 months' written notice of termination. Such notice, however, may not be given during the first three years of the agreement. Upon such termination, each party's obligations to the other shall terminate immediately, except for Owner's payment to Agent of all fees earned to the date of expiration of the notice and Agent's accounting and payment to Owner of all net collections made by it to the date of such expiration.

Article VIII Relationship

Nothing contained herein shall be deemed to have created, or be construed as having created, any joint venture or partnership relationship between parties. At all times during the performance of its duties and obligations arising hereunder, Agent shall be deemed to be acting as an independent contractor.

Article X Miscellaneous

1. Notices. All notices under this agreement shall be sent by registered or certified mail, postage prepaid, return receipt requested, addressed to the other party at its address set forth at the beginning hereof. Either party, however, may designate a different address by serving written notice of change of address on the other party, in the manner provided above.

2. Entire agreement; modification. This instrument constitutes the entire agreement between the parties in connection with the agency created herein. It may not be modified except by an instrument duly executed by both parties.

3. Governing law. This agreement shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of New York.

4. Binding effect. This agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of both parties and their respective successors and assigns.

5. Headings. Headings in this agreement are for convenience and reference only and are not deemed to be a part thereof.

6. Non-waiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise any right hereunder, and no partial or single exercise of such right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

7. Counterparts. This agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

8. Time of essence. Time is of the essence of this agreement.

The parties have set their hands and seals the day and year first above written.

(7) Appraisal letter

EXHIBIT B

SMITH REAL ESTATE CORPORATION
One Fifth Avenue
New York, N.Y.
(212) 000-0000

K. W. Corporation
7 Park Avenue
New York, New York 10022

January 24, _____ [year]

Attention: Mr. Ralph Green
Vice President for Finance

Gentlemen:

At your request, we have completed a valuation study to determine the fair market value of certain stock proposed to be sold by K. W. Corporation ("KW"). This letter identifies the stock which you are proposing to sell, the source materials provided by KW for our examination, the assumptions which we have made, our valuation techniques, and on the basis of the foregoing, presents our conclusions regarding its fair market value.

We understand that this letter may be relied upon by the Board of Directors and stockholders of KW, and may be referred to or reproduced in proxy or other material submitted to the SEC and the stockholders of KW in connection with the proposed sale.

We acknowledge receipt of the letter from KW's counsel, Weiss & Bishop, dated January 23, _____ [year], which outlines the terms of the proposed merger of Martin Realty Corporation and NYKW Corporation, wholly owned subsidiaries of KW, into a third wholly owned subsidiary of KW, K. W. Florida Corporation ("Florida Corporation"), and the sale by KW of its shares in Florida Corporation to a joint venture consisting of parties who are described as directors, officers or substantial stockholders of KW. In view of the relationship to KW of the members of the purchasing joint venture, you have indicated to us that the purchase price for the stock of Florida Corporation will be substantially based on the valuation presented herein.

To enable us to complete this valuation study, you have supplied us with a schedule, annexed as Schedule 1, identifying the principal assets which will be owned by Florida Corporation at the time of the contemplated sale of its stock.

You have also supplied us with various information and documentation (including appraisals, copies of relevant agreements, and written responses to certain inquiries by us) pertinent to this valuation, is identified by Schedule 2.

We have inspected the two properties at Los Angeles, California owned by Martin Realty Corporation, as well as the Passaic, New Jersey property which is the subject of a letter agreement between NYKW Corporation and Giant Stores. With respect to Florida Corporation, we have inspected the option sites located in Raleigh, North Carolina and Rutland, Vermont, as well as the Cross County Mall and adjacent lands in Tampa, Florida.

In addition, we have reviewed the two proposed contracts of Jo-Dee, Inc., and valued them at $560,496. If formal negotiations with the University of Georgia prove unsuccessful, our valuation should be reduced by this amount.

We have also reviewed and valued the management contracts to be entered into by Florida Corporation regarding the following shopping centers: Shaw, Passaic, Roosevelt, Palm Beach, and Westfield. If each such contract provides for no more than 2 percent management fee, we would regard each contract to be without value; our valuation has assumed a 2 percent management fee in each of the above listed instances.

Our valuation assumes the timely, scheduled completion of the Cross County Mall Shopping Center in Tampa, Florida, now under construction, substantially in accordance with the plans and specifications; the operation of this asset and the other assets comprising the holdings of the three corporations in accordance with contractual arrangements as presented to us in documents received from you and in interviews with various of your operating personnel; and that the net intercompany receivables (which was $1,885,525 as of November 30, _____ [year]) owed to KW will be guaranteed by the joint venture which will purchase the stock of Florida Corporation.

Utilizing information provided by you from your files, inclusive of independent appraisals, information derived from conversations with your operating personnel, and facts determined by our examination and analysis of local market conditions, we developed a market value for each property.

In each case, we calculated the cash flow, adjusted as appropriate on the basis of estimated income and expenses, and then capitalized such cash flow at appropriate rates. We consider our estimates substantially correct after considering the supporting data, the balance sheets of the corporations as of November 30, _____ [year], and the appraisals which were made available to us and are identified on Schedule 2. We are therefore of the opinion that the proposed sales price for the three corporations should be $2,849,000, if the sales agreement is executed before or not substantially later than March 30, _____ [year], and if there has been prior to such execution no material change in the assets or the financial condition of the corporations in question.

The values of the component corporations are as follows:

K.W. Corporation	$4,489,880
Martin Realty Corporation	(482,674)

NYKW Corporation	(1,158,049)
.....
TOTAL	$2,849,157
SAY	$2,849,000

We believe that our investigation and valuation procedures have recognized all of the relevant considerations and that the resulting opinion of value is demonstrable, reasonable, supportable and warranted under the circumstances.

We certify that neither Smith Real Estate Corporation nor any of its officers, directors or employees has any present or contemplated interest in the assets which are valued.

Very truly yours,

John L. Sullivan, Executive Vice President

Bernard Greenberg, Vice President

(8) Valuation letter update

EXHIBIT C

SMITH REAL ESTATE CORPORATION
One Fifth Avenue
New York, N. Y.
(212) 000-0000

February 21, _____ [year]

Mr. Ralph Green

Vice President for Finance
K. W. Corporation
7 Park Avenue New York New York 10022

Dear Mr. Green:

In your letter of February 12, _____ [year], you asked that we update our valuation letter of January 24, _____ [year], to take cognizance of various circumstances which have changed relative to your dropping your option on the Raleigh, North Carolina, proposed shopping center site and entering into a partnership with Mondri Development Company for the purpose of developing a shopping center at another site in Raleigh.

It is our opinion that at this time, the market value of your position in the Raleigh shopping center partnership would be approximately $250,000.

This figure, when integrated into the balance sheet, would increase the value of K. W. Florida Corporation by approximately $155,000, which amount represents the excess over cost or carrying value of this asset.

Very truly yours,

John L. Sullivan, Executive Vice President

128 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms

H. SALES OF STOCK IN REAL ESTATE CORPORATIONS

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.92

FORM 21.92 Option to purchase majority of stock--minority holders can sell under same option terms--nonrecourse purchase money note secured by acquired stock or first mortgage upon liquidation

COMMENT

This form has three special features. First, the contract is set up as an option rather than a sale. Second, the option applies only to a majority, rather than all of the stock. Third, payment of the nonrecourse purchase money note is secured by the acquired stock. If the corporation is liquidated, a first mortgage may be substituted as security. Other provisions of this agreement relate to these three principal features.

Option price based on adjusted net worth

To protect the optionees against significant dilution in the value of the assets of the corporation between the date of the grant of the option and the date of its exercise, the optionors guarantee that the adjusted net worth of the corporation will not decline below a fixed amount. Adjusted net worth is adjusted primarily for market values substituted for land, building, building improvements, furniture, and equipment. Other adjustments apply to such items as supplies, taxes, capital expenditures for tenants, and other closing adjustments. The purchase price for the optioned stock is to be measured by the adjusted net worth.

Option tax aspects

The tax consequences of granting and exercising an option to purchase stock are similar to those applicable to an option to purchase real estate. No income is realized by the optionor upon the granting of the option. The consideration for the option constitutes part of the purchase price for the optioned property, and as such is reportable in the year of sale. Gain or loss resulting from the exercise or failure to exercise an option has the same character as gain or loss from the sale or exchange of the property to which the option relates. For a discussion of the tax aspects of options, see The Tax Background § 21.03 at the beginning of this chapter.

Majority and minority shares benefit from option

In this agreement, the optionors own only a majority of the outstanding stock, and can obviously grant an option only as to their stock. Nevertheless, the optionees are obligated to purchase the stock of any minority shareholder who tenders it before the closing date, provided the option is exercised as to the majority stock. All purchases are to be made on the same terms. Thus, the benefits of the optionors who sell their stock under the option contract are made available to all other shareholders of the corporation.

Deferred payment security

The third special feature of this form relates to the security device for the deferred portion of the purchase price. This portion of the purchase price is to be paid in negotiable nonrecourse notes, and, as security for payment, the purchased stock is to be deposited with an escrowee under a pledge agreement. However, the optionees are granted proxies to vote the pledged stock, with certain limitations. These limitations do not prevent the optionee from voting a liquidation of the corporation, provided they substitute as security a first mortgage on the property itself.

FORM

OPTION given by the undersigned, James Baker, William Harris, George Loomis, and Benjamin Butler, of Detroit, Michigan ("Optionors"), to Harold Black and Joseph Warren of New York, New York ("Optionees").

1. Definitions. The following words shall have the following meanings, for the purpose of this Option:

(a) "Optioned Stock" shall mean the common capital stock of Central Building Corporation, a Michigan corporation ("Corporation") owned by Optionors, as listed on the attached Exhibit A.

(b) "Date of Closing" shall mean the date upon which Optionees actually exercise the Option, but only if they fully comply with the conditions and method provided herein for such exercise, including the payment of the down payment, and the complete execution of the notes and Pledge Agreement by Optionees and the other parties.

(c) "Fractional Portion" shall mean that portion represented by a fraction, the numerator of is the number of shares of the Optioned Stock, and the denominator of which is the then total outstanding and issued shares of the Corporation's common stock, exclusive of treasury stock.

(d) "Purchase Price Addition" shall mean an addition to the purchase price arrived at by determining what in dollars would have been the interest on the adjusted Purchase Price of the Optioned Stock at the rate of 6 percent per annum for the period from the first day of the month in which Date of Closing occurs, and the actual Date of Closing, if interest were collected for such period.

(e) "Instrument Approved by James Baker" shall mean an instrument drawn in any form and substance that James Baker reasonably deems necessary or appropriate to protect and preserve Optionors' security, to insure payment to Optionors of the balance of the Purchase Price, and to carry out the terms of such instrument, as provided for in this Option, or of any other instrument executed or to be executed pursuant thereto. Such instrument, however, shall not contain any terms that are inconsistent with the express provisions of this Option. If James Baker is unable, unwilling, or incapacitated to so act, another attorney appointed by a majority in interest of Optionors shall act as a substitute in his place, and with the same powers and responsibilities.

2. Option and time of exercise. Optionors, for and in consideration of the sum of $100,000 in hand paid to them by Optionees, receipt of which is acknowledged, give and grant to Optionees, an irrevocable option to purchase the Optioned Stock at the Purchase Price, terms, time, and method of exercise provided below. This Option shall only be exercised between the 15th and 31st of any months, and must be exercised if at all on or before December 20, _____ [year]. Time is the essence hereof. No modification of this Option shall be binding on Optionors unless the modification (a) is in writing, (b) is either (i) personally signed by all Optionors, or (ii) similarly signed by James Baker on behalf of all Optionors, and (c) does not materially and adversely affect Optionors. No modification of this option shall be binding on Optionees unless the modification (a) is in writing, (b) is either (i) personally signed by all Optionees, or (ii) similarly signed by Harold Black on behalf of all Optionees, and (c) does not materially and adversely affect Optionees.

3. Purchase price. The Purchase Price of the Optioned Stock shall be its adjusted book value, as shown by the Balance Sheet (as adjusted as herein provided) of the Corporation, as of the close of business on the last day of the month preceding the Date of Closing, as prepared and duly certified to by Bernard Baron and Company, the Corporation's Certified Public Accountants. To arrive at such Purchase Price, the Balance Sheet shall be adjusted in the following manner for the purpose of computing such adjusted book value of the Optioned Stock:

(a) The dollar amount for fixed assets shall be $50,000 for the land and shall be changed to $2,000,000 for the building, building improvements, furniture, fixtures, and equipment, net after depreciation.

(b) The dollar amount for supplies shall be changed to a figure as established by a physical count at the Date of Closing at cost, less reasonable depreciation, if any. Any supplies not reasonably needed in the operation of the Central Building shall be eliminated.

(c) Prepaid property taxes and accrued property taxes shall be eliminated, and instead property taxes shall be included in such adjusted Balance Sheet only on a pro rata basis, based upon the fiscal year of the property taxing authority, thus including such property taxes in such adjusted Balance Sheet, just as current taxes are ordinarily adjusted in connection with the sale of real estate where it is agreed that current taxes are to be adjusted.

(d) The Purchase Price shall be increased by the Fractional Portion of capital expenditures made by the Corporation, made necessary in connection with new leases or renewing existing leases, from and after May 1, _____ [year], to the date of exercising the Option not exceeding $25,000, if such expenditure was reasonably advisable and beneficial to the Corporation's operation.

(e) The Purchase Price shall be increased by the Purchase Price Addition.

(f) Optionors warrant and guarantee that such adjusted Balance Sheet as of the end of the month preceding the Date of Closing, shall show a net worth of $2.06 million.

4. Time, place and method of exercising option. Optionees shall give Optionors written notice of exercise of this Option at least 30 days before the closing date, which shall be designated in the notice of exercise. However, if such notice is given and the Option is not closed on the day specified in the notice, Optionees shall pay Optionors all costs or expenses reasonably incurred by them on account thereof, and Optionees may give a new 30-day notice if the actual closing of the Option occurs on or before December 20, _____ [year]. The place of closing this Option shall be at the office of James Baker at 1500 Central Building, Detroit, Michigan. This Option shall be closed on the Date of

Closing only in the following manner:

(a) Optionees shall tender and pay 25 percent of the Purchase Price of the Optioned Stock to its owners, as the down payment. The amount paid by Optionees on the date hereof for this Option shall apply against the down payment, as more fully stated in paragraph 10.

(b) Optionees shall execute and deliver notes prepared by Optionors, in negotiable form, to the payees designated by Optionors, and in such principal denominations and amounts so that the total principal equals the balance of the Purchase Price of the Optioned Stock. Such notes shall be Instruments Approved by James Baker, and shall be payable as follows: 1.5 percent of the total Purchase Price of the Optioned Stock shall be payable on January 2, _____ [year], and an additional 1.5 percent shall be payable quarter-annually thereafter until the entire unpaid balance of the Purchase Price is paid, together with interest, payable on January 2, _____ [year], and quarter-annually thereafter, at 8 percent per annum while not in default, and at 10 percent per annum while in default.

(c) Such notes shall provide that the entire unpaid balance shall become due and payable immediately upon default in making payments for 30 days after notice of such default, or upon default in the undertakings of the Pledge Agreement as set forth in paragraph 5 or the Trust Mortgage as set forth in paragraph 6 to be performed by Optionees for a period of 30 days after notice of such default it is not cured within such 30-day period. The makers of such notes shall not be personally liable upon them, either in a direct action at law against the makers, or for deficiency after foreclosure or realization of the value of the pledged or mortgaged security given to secure the notes, except for waste or depletion of value of any security given for payment of the notes in violation of the provisions of any pledge or mortgage undertaking of Optionees.

(d) All of such notes shall be payable at and registered by the Central Bank, a national banking corporation of Detroit, Michigan, and all installments of principal or interest may be paid by the makers of such notes to the Central Bank, as Agent for the payees, in one aggregate lump sum as each principal or interest installment matures, to be distributed to payees of such notes by the Central Bank. By written notice approved by persons holding a majority in amount of such notes, any other bank in the City of Detroit may be substituted as Agent for the payees, in the place and stead of Central Bank, for the purpose of receiving payment from the makers of such notes.

(e) There shall be no right to prepay any installments of principal or interest on such notes during the calendar year _____ [year], but commencing in _____ [year] last maturing installments on such notes may be prepaid without premium.

5. Pledge agreement. Optionees shall execute and deliver a Pledge Agreement prepared by Optionors, pledging the Optioned Stock as security for the payment of the notes described in paragraph 4, and contemporaneously therewith Optionors shall deliver to the Escrowee for Optionees' account the Optioned Stock with revenue stamps attached and appropriate assignment and powers by the registered holders of such Optioned Stock in blank or street form, and the Escrowee shall deliver a receipt therefor to Optionors and Optionees. Such Pledge Agreement shall be an Instrument Approved by James Baker, and shall include the following provisions:

(a) The stock certificates of common stock which are the Optioned Stock, together with blank powers and assignments in street form signed by the registered holders of such certificates, shall be deposited with the Central Bank, as Escrowee, but the registration of such certificates shall not be changed until the notes described in paragraph 4 have been fully paid, or until such certificates and powers are delivered by the Escrowee to Optionees upon a substitution of securities as hereinafter provided.

(b) Irrevocable proxies to vote such stock shall be given by Optionors to James Baker or William Harris or George Loomis, or The State Bank, a Michigan corporation, in that order, and Optionors and such persons so designated as proxies, so long as Optionees are not then in default in the payment of the notes described in paragraph 4, or in the terms of such Escrow Agreement, agree to vote such stock as directed by Optionees, except that they shall not follow such directions which violate any of the following provisions or safeguards so long as such stock certificates are so pledged to Optionors:

(1) James Baker, William Harris, or George Loomis, shall at all times be a Director of the Corporation, of which there shall be five Directors.

(2) No unreasonable executive salaries shall be paid, and in no event shall executive salaries, in addition to those paid to the Building Manager and his Assistant, exceed $80,000 per annum.

(3) None of the following transactions shall be made without the written consent of the Director appointed by Optionors under subdivision (1), such consent not to be unreasonably withheld: the sale, exchange, gift, or mortgage of any fixed asset, consisting of land, building, or building improvements; the purchase of property not needed for operating and maintaining the Central Building; the purchase of any real estate; any other transaction not in the ordinary course of business; or the execution of any contract covering a period of more than two months (except leases as provided below).

(4) Unless approved in writing over the written signature of James Baker, no lease shall be entered into covering space in Central Building for more than a period of five years, and if the lease covers ground floor space, shall be for a rate of not less than $15 per annum per square foot, and if for space above the ground floor, at a rate of not less than $12 per annum per square foot.

(5) No dividends shall be declared, and no distributions of money or property shall be made to shareholders.

(c) Optionees shall not violate any provision of subdivisions (1) through (5) of subparagraph (b) above, and will see to it that the Corporation shall likewise not violate any such provisions.

(d) Optionees may cause the Corporation to adopt a plan of liquidation. It is further agreed that Optionees may cause the Corporation to consummate such plan of liquidation including a distribution, sale, exchange, or other disposition of its property, if provided contemporaneously therewith a Trust Mortgage Substitute Security for the Pledge is consummated pursuant to and in compliance with the provisions of paragraph 6.

(e) If Optionees violate any provision of the Pledge Agreement, and fail to cure the default within 30 days after being notified thereof by one or more of Optionors, the entire unpaid balance upon the notes described in paragraph 4, secured by such Pledge Agreement, shall become due and payable immediately, but not before January 2, _____ [year].

(f) If Optionees fail to perform any term of the Pledge Agreement, and the default continues for 30 days after they receive notice of such default, or if Optionees fail to pay any installment of principal or interest on the notes secured by the Pledge agreement for 30 days after such notice, the Escrowee shall deliver the pledged certificates of common stock, together with the blank powers and assignments, to Optionors or their representatives. Optionors may thereupon, after giving notice required by law, as well as 15 days' notice to Optionees of the time and place of sale, sell the stock so delivered at private or public sale, and apply the sales proceeds, after paying the costs and expenses thereof, to pay the indebtedness secured by the pledged stock.

6. Substituted security. The Pledge Agreement shall also contain a provision giving Optionees the right to substitute for the Optioned Stock as deposited in escrow under such Pledge Agreement, other security consisting of Certificates of Beneficial Interest in a First Trust Mortgage complying with the provisions, conditions, qualifications, and restrictions set forth in this paragraph. Upon substitution of the First Trust Mortgage security and Certificates of Beneficial Interest, the certificates of common stock in the hands of the Escrow under such Pledge Agreement, together with the blank assignments and powers in street form, shall be delivered by the Escrowee to Optionees. The First Trust Mortgage which Optionors agree to accept as substituted security for the pledged stock shall meet and comply with the following provisions, conditions, qualifications, and restrictions:

(a) Such First Trust Mortgage shall run to the Central Bank, a national banking corporation, shall be a first lien upon the premises described in the attached Exhibit B, initialed by James Baker, and shall be subject to no prior mortgage, lien, or encumbrance except rights of tenants in possession holding under leases executed before the Date of Closing, or leases executed after the Date of Closing but which comply with the provisions of the Pledge Agreement.

(b) The principal amount of such First Trust Mortgage shall be in an amount equal to the aggregate of the principal then unpaid on all the notes described in paragraph 4.

(c) Such First Trust Mortgage shall be an Instrument Approved by James Baker, and shall follow the form, so far as reasonably possible, in the reasonable judgment of James Baker, the form of Trust Mortgage and Certificates of Beneficial Interest with one unit representing unpaid purchase money balance on one share of stock and with total units being the total of Optioned Stock, contained in a certain Trust Mortgage wherein National Construction Corporation is Mortgagor, and The Lakeside Bank and Trust Company is Mortgagee, recorded in Liber 15001, Page 100 et seq., Wayne County Register of Deeds Records, a copy of which has been furnished to Optionees, and shall likewise contain security agreement provisions and be in form recordable likewise as a security agreement.

(d) Payments of principal and interest on such First Trust Mortgage shall equal the payments provided for by the notes executed by Optionees, described in paragraph 4.

(e) Monthly deposits with the Mortgagee under such First Trust Mortgage in a Sinking Fund shall be in amounts sufficient to liquidate installments of property taxes and normal insurance premiums, as they become due.

(f) There shall be included in the transaction substituting security an assignment of rents. Such First Trust Mortgage shall provide that in the event of a default in the payment of principal or interest, or Sinking Fund, for a period of 30 days after written notice of such default, or in the event of default in failing to comply with any other provision of such First Trust Mortgage within 30 days after written notice of such default, the entire unpaid balance of the mortgage indebtedness and the notes referred to in paragraph 4 shall become due and payable, and the Mortgagee shall have the right to take immediate possession of the mortgaged premises, to collect the rentals, and to appoint a receiver to apply the net rents upon the mortgage indebtedness during foreclosure.

(g) The Mortgagor under such First Trust Mortgage shall be required to furnish annual Profit and Loss Statements of the operation of the mortgaged premises, in any reasonable detail that the Mortgagee requests, duly certified by a certified public accountant. The Mortgagee may inspect the mortgaged premises in such manner so as to determine whether the provisions of the First Trust Mortgage, so far as the maintenance of the mortgaged premises and the other obligations of the Mortgagor under such First Trust Mortgage are concerned, have been complied with. If additional statements of Profit and Loss are required by any lending institution giving a commitment or being substituted as Mortgagee, Optionees will furnish such required statements.

(h) Such First Trust Mortgage shall also provide that the Mortgagee, or Optionors, may at any time furnish to the Mortgagor a 45-day commitment for a new first mortgage from a responsible lender in the usual form of such lender, under which the unpaid balance on such First Trust Mortgage can be refinanced by a new mortgage which shall contain the provisions of such First Trust Mortgage and also provide for payments of principal which do not exceed the payments under such First Trust Mortgage, the mortgage to mature in 15 years or more, the interest rate not to exceed 8 percent per annum while not in default and 10 percent while in default, and also contain such prohibitions, provision for premiums, and restrictions on prepayments of the mortgage indebtedness as are then the current bona fide practice of such representative lending institutions. Optionees shall pay in full the notes secured by such First Trust Mortgage within six months after such commitment is tendered. In addition thereto (but only if such commitment for a mortgage is obtained more than five years after the Date of Closing), Optionees agree to pay to the lender whatever premium is demanded by the lender giving such commitment to secure the mortgage, provided such premium does not exceed 4 percent of the principal of the mortgage provided for in such commitment. If such new mortgage requires title insurance, and Optionors did not furnish Optionees a title policy on the Date of Closing, Optionors will pay for such mortgage title insurance.

7. Agreements of optionors on closing

(a) Not less than 15 days before the Date of Closing, Optionors shall furnish Optionees with either a commitment for a title insurance policy by a Title Insurance Company, insuring marketable title to the land described in the attached Exhibit B, to be in the Corporation, free and clear of all encumbrances with the following exceptions: (1) use restrictions of record (other than use restrictions preventing the premises from being used for office building purposes), (2) the usual exceptions currently included in such policies where physical inspection of the premises is not applied for, and (3) leases to occupants of such property, or an abstract of title thereto certified to date, showing such marketable title, with such exceptions as herein stated. If commitment for a title policy has been furnished, the title policy will be furnished on the Date of Closing.

(b) If Optionors furnish an abstract of title and objection to the title is made, based upon a written opinion of Optionees' attorney, that the title is not in the condition as required for performance hereunder, Optionors shall have 30 days from the date they are notified in writing of the particular defects claimed, either (1) to remedy the title, or (2) to obtain title insurance as provided in subparagraph (a) of this paragraph.

(c) Effective on this Option being validly exercised, Optionors jointly and severally guarantee the Balance Sheet as of the close of business on the last day of the month immediately preceding the Date of Closing used to compute the Purchase Price, the Balance Sheet to be signed by the parties, including a guarantee that at such date there were no liabilities, actual or contingent, not reflected in such Balance Sheet, and that no income taxes or other taxes had accrued as of that date except as shown on such Balance Sheet which formed the basis of the computation of the Purchase Price, the "Certified Balance Sheet;" and if it later develops that there were such additional liabilities or taxes not reflected in such Certified Balance Sheet, Optionors agree that upon such indebtedness being finally established, they jointly and severally will pay their Fractional Share of the same, together with interest and penalties, if any, from the Date of Closing.

(d) Optionors jointly and severally agree and warrant that no change will have been made from the date hereof to the Date of Closing in the Corporation's capital structure, and that the Corporation will not have in such period sold, mortgaged, or otherwise disposed of treasury stock owned at the date hereof and while this Option was in force and effect.

(e) Optionors jointly and severally guarantee the Fractional Share of accounts receivable on such Certified Balance Sheet, less the reserve for bad debts, will be collected, and if not collected Optionors shall pay Optionees such uncollected amounts upon reassignment of such accounts receivable to Optionors, and if a portion of such reserve for bad debts is likewise collected, Optionees will pay Optionors their Fractional Share of such reserve so collected, such guarantee to be fulfilled and such payment to be made one year after the Date of Closing.

(f) Optionors represent and warrant that the buildings and the land owned by the Corporation are in compliance with all building codes, federal, state and local, and with all environmental laws, federal, state and local. Optionors further agree that if any notice of building or environmental violations is received by the Corporation before the first day of the month of the Date of Closing, Optionors will cause the Corporation to pay for the cost of rectifying same. Optionors and the Corporation shall be given reasonable notice and afforded the right to defend any liability asserted and for which Optionees claim the Corporation is required to satisfy in whole or in part, and shall receive Optionees' cooperation in connection therewith to resist the legality of any such claim or any such building violation asserted by the Department of Buildings of the City of Detroit or any environmental agency.

(g) Optionors shall likewise agree that from and after the close of business of the last day of the month immediately preceding the date of execution of this Option to the Date of Closing, all business conducted by the Corporation was in the usual course of business, no extraordinary transactions were entered into during such period, nor any extraordinary liabilities assumed during such period, and no compensation or other disbursements substantially in excess of those made or paid during comparable previous periods have been made during such period.

(h) The undertakings in this paragraph 7 shall survive the Closing.

8. Additional stock. Optionees agree to purchase at the Date of Closing any common capital stock of the Corporation, "Additional Stock," from shareholders of the Corporation who are not parties to this Option and who elect to become parties hereto between the giving by Optionees of the notice of intention to exercise this Option and the Date of Closing. Optionees will not be obligated to make such purchase of Additional Stock unless the purchase of the Optioned Stock has actually been closed on the Date of Closing. Such purchase shall be made on the Date of Closing and not afterwards, upon the same terms and subject to the same obligations and conditions, and for the same Purchase Price per share as provided by this Option. For the purpose of the meaning of Optioned Stock as used in this Option, and for all other purposes of this Option, all Additional Stock shall be included in the number of shares of Optioned Stock and shall be deemed to be part of the Optioned Stock with the same force and effect as if the owners of such Additional Stock had been original parties to this Option and such Additional Stock had been listed on the attached Exhibit A, and all provisions of this Option shall be construed to include such Additional Stock as Optioned Stock and the owners thereof as Optionors. Thus, the rights inuring to Optionors herein upon exercise of this Option shall inure for the benefit of all other shareholders of the Corporation who elect to take advantage thereof within the period provided, except that if Optionees fail to exercise this Option the $100,000 Option money shall belong solely to the Optionors who have signed this Option.

9. Optionors to furnish proposed documents. Optionors shall cause to be delivered to Darwin, McLean & Brady, attorneys for Optionees, a proposed draft of the notes, Pledge and Escrow Agreement, Trust Mortgage, and Certificate of Beneficial Interest within 90 days from the date hereof, or to any other attorneys that Optionees designate by prior written notice.

10. Consideration paid for option. The consideration paid for this Option is $100,000. If the Option is exercised within the time and in the manner provided, the amount so paid shall apply upon the monies required to be paid upon its exercise. Optionors shall distribute the $100,000 payment among themselves as follows:

James Baker	$45,000
William Harris	$25,000
George Loomis	$15,000
Benjamin Butler	$15,000

Upon Optionees' exercise of this Option, each of the above Optionors shall individually account for the moneys so distributed to him, to apply pro tanto upon the down payment on the Purchase Price for common capital stock of the Corporation owned by him. If this Option is not exercised, such consideration for the Option so paid shall belong to the Optionors who have signed this Option, and Optionees shall have no right to obtain the all or any part thereof.

11. Notices. All notices under this agreement shall be sent by registered or certified mail, postage prepaid, return receipt requested, addressed as follows: if to Optionors, c/o James Baker, 2000 Central Building, Detroit, Michigan; and if to Optionees, c/o Harold Black, 1000 Connecticut Avenue, Washington, D.C.

12. Authority of representatives. In the absence of written notice to the adverse party, James Baker shall have authority to bind Optionors by written agreement signed by him, and in like manner to make a modification of this Option, or any instrument executed pursuant thereto, which does not materially and adversely affect Optionors; and Harold Black shall have like authority to bind Optionees, and in like manner to make a modification of this Option, or any instrument executed pursuant thereto, which does not materially and adversely affect Optionees.

13. Complete agreement. Optionees, in accepting this Option, agree that it contains all of the undertakings made by Optionors, and that Optionees have paid for this Option, after making a proper and appropriate investigation.

14. Damages on failure of title. If Optionors are unable to deliver an abstract or title policy in conformity with the requirements herein provided, they shall return the $100,000 paid by Optionees together with interest of 8 percent per annum.

15. Assignment by optionees. No assignment or conveyance by Optionee, other than by operation of law, shall create any liability against Optionors unless a duplicate original of an assignment, duly witnessed and acknowledged containing a substitute address for sending notices to Optionees' assignee, is delivered to Optionors and receipt thereof endorsed thereon. Upon complying with the above, Optionees may assign their interest in the within Option.

16. Compensation to and expense of optionors. Optionors may use funds paid to them or to receive from funds paid for the benefit of the owners of Optioned Stock to apply on the Purchase Price, an amount in cash sufficient to reimburse them for all their costs, expenses, and liabilities, and reasonable compensation for their services, in connection with the closing of the sale, the administration of the Pledge Agreement and the Trust Mortgage, including Escrow fees and attorneys' fees, but such items shall not be chargeable to Optionees. Such amounts so used or received shall be reported to the owners of the Optioned Stock with reasonable promptness. If Optionors incur liability under paragraph 7, such liability shall be satisfied by deducting the amount thereof from the next maturing installments on the notes.

17. Governing law. This agreement shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of Michigan.

18. Binding effect. This agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of both parties and their respective legal representatives, successors, and assigns.

19. Headings. Headings in this agreement are for convenience and reference only and are not deemed to be a part thereof.

20. Non-waiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise any right hereunder, and no partial or single exercise of such right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

21. Counterparts. This Option may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

22. Time of essence. Time is of the essence of this agreement.

The Optionors have set their hands this 9th day of May _____ [year].

James Baker

William Harris

George Loomis

Benjamin Butler

129 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms

I. SPECIAL CLOSING AGREEMENTS AND DOCUMENTS

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.93

FORM 21.93 Escrow agreement--lien against title

COMMENT

Escrow agreements may be used when a problem cannot be resolved prior to or at closing, but is not of sufficient severity or cost to cause an adjournment of the closing or breach of contract due to failure to timely close. Escrows have been used when the premises contain an insubstantial defect and the seller agrees to correct the defect by a specified date. The money held in escrow secures the seller's performance. In other instances, an escrow can be taken when there is an insubstantial title problem, which, based upon practical experience, appears to be readily resolvable within a reasonable time after closing.

Escrow to cure title defect

The escrow agreement here deals with a title lien. It is generally the seller's obligation to deliver title clear of any defects, unless otherwise specified in the contract. Here, the purchaser will accept the deed, with the readily curable defect, provided an escrow is taken. The escrow funds, withheld from the purchase money due under the contract, are deposited with the title insurance company which will insure title. Part of the escrow funds, withheld from the seller and otherwise due to the seller under the contract, will be used to discharge the lien. The balance, if any, will be paid over to the seller. Meanwhile, pursuant to the escrow agreement, the title company undertakes to insure title as if the defect did not exist at closing or after. The risk of loss, due to the lien, is thus assumed by the title company at the seller's expense.

Parties to escrow

This agreement is essentially between the seller, who has the primary responsibility to deliver title free of defect, except as otherwise provided, and the title company, which will insure that the buyer took title free of the defect. The third party beneficiary of the contract is the buyer, who accepts title in reliance upon the escrow.

FORM

To: John Roberts, Esq., Title Officer for Encumbrance Title Insurance Corporation, Devon, New Jersey, as Escrow Agent

Re: Alfred Bean, Seller to David J. Lacey and Anita C.
Lacey, Purchasers
195 John Street, Devon, New Jersey
Your Title No. D-60903

1. Escrow deposit. Seller deposits in escrow the following sum, representing one half of the net proceeds from the sale of premises known and designated as Lot 25, Block 76 on the Tax Map of the Borough of Devon, New Jersey: $45,000 (the "Escrow Amount").

2. Disbursement to cure title. You are authorized to deliver or disburse the Escrow Amount as directed by the State of New Jersey through Robert Johnson, Esq., Devon County Adjuster, in full and final settlement of Institutional Lien No. 999 set forth in Schedule B, Section 1, Item M of the preliminary title binder No. D-60903 effective March 21, _____ [year].

3. Title policy. By accepting the Escrow Amount, the escrow agent agrees to deliver a fee title insurance policy to the purchasers and a mortgagee title insurance policy to Devon Savings and Loan Association, subject only to the usual exceptions and stipulations contained in the policy and free of the exception contained in Schedule B, Section 1, Item M.

4. Seller's cooperation. Seller agrees to deliver to the escrow agent all documents and do or cause to be done all other things necessary to enable the escrow agent to comply with this agreement, and to enable Encumbrance Title Insurance Corporation to issue said policies of title insurance.

5. Exculpation. Escrow agent shall not be liable for any error of judgment or any act done or omitted by him in good faith, or for anything he may in good faith do or refrain from doing in connection with this agreement.

6. Documents. Escrow agent is authorized to act on any document he believes to be genuine and to be signed by the proper parties or party, and will incur no liability in so acting.

7. Writings required. No rescission of this escrow agreement or modification of its terms or any notice or demand shall be of any effect without the written consent of the undersigned and the escrow agent.

Michael L. Long, Esq.

Attorney for Seller, pursuant to power of Attorney

Encumbrance Title Insurance Corporation

By _____

John Roberts, Esq.

Escrow Agent

130 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms

I. SPECIAL CLOSING AGREEMENTS AND DOCUMENTS

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.94

FORM 21.94 Escrow agreement--seller to repair premises--buyer to accept title

COMMENT

The escrow agreement here specifies that the seller is to repair certain defects in the property before receiving the escrow funds. These funds were deposited in escrow by the purchaser from moneys which would otherwise have been paid to seller at the settlement. The purchaser will accept title, and make settlement, in reliance upon the seller's obligation to correct the defects. The seller's performance is secured by the escrow funds and escrow agreement.

If the seller does not make the repairs, either personally or through his agent, within the prescribed time, the funds are to be paid over to the purchaser. The purchaser is then free to make the repairs using the funds formerly in escrow, or to retain the funds. Whether the funds are paid to the purchaser or, upon performance, to the seller, the escrow agent is released and discharged when he pays the funds, according to this agreement. The buyer and seller agree to look to each other only for any damages which they may incur by reason of the escrow.

FORM

Escrow Agreement

AGREEMENT made August 1, ____ [year], between John L. Lewis and Martha B. Lewis, husband and wife ("Purchaser"), and J. Clarence Stewart, Executor under the last will and testament of Sally B. Stewart, deceased, and J. Clarence Stewart, individually ("Seller"):

Recitals

Purchaser and Seller have entered into a contract, dated June 27, ____ [year], for the purchase and sale, respectively, of certain premises known as 235 East Elm Street, Elmira, New York, more particularly described in the contract.

Purchaser has conducted a pre-closing inspection of the premises, pursuant to the contract, and has complained of certain defects in and unsatisfactory conditions of the premises.

Seller is ready, willing and able to deliver title to Purchaser as required by the contract.

Agreement

Now, therefore, the parties agree as follows:

1. Escrow funds. Purchaser's attorney is appointed escrow agent, and as escrow agent shall hold, in a separate escrow account, the sum of $2,000.

2. Deposit in escrow. Purchaser shall deposit with his attorney, the escrow agent, the sum of $2,000, which would have otherwise been due Seller, and which shall be deducted from the amount due Seller. Seller consents to the escrow deposit and deduction, subject to the terms and conditions of this escrow agreement.

3. Security. The escrow agent shall hold the deposit money for the benefit of Purchaser and to secure Seller's performance under this agreement. If Seller fails to perform by the date set forth in Paragraph 4 below in a manner approved by Purchaser, who shall not unreasonably withhold approval, the escrow agent shall pay over the escrow funds to Purchaser. Seller releases the escrow agent from all liability incurred by him by reason of the payment of funds to Purchaser. Seller shall look solely to Purchaser for any money due Seller under this agreement.

4. Seller's performance. Seller shall, on or before August 7, ____ [year], correct the following defects and unsatisfactory conditions, solely at his expense:

(a) Repair or replace banister between first and second floors to a condition similar to the condition that existed prior to its breaking;

(b) Replace chandelier in dining room;

(c) Restore or replace shrubbery on north side of dwelling located on premises.

5. Entry. Purchaser grants a license to Seller and its authorized agents to enter the premises, solely for the purpose of making such repairs and replacements, except that any entry shall take place only during weekday business hours, unless otherwise consented to, in writing, by Purchaser. Seller releases Purchaser from all liability incurred by Purchaser by reason of Seller's entry; and Seller shall indemnify and hold Purchaser harmless for all liability incurred by Purchaser by reason of entry of Seller's authorized agents.

6. Reliance. Purchaser has accepted title to the premises from Seller in reliance upon Seller's representation that he will comply with the conditions of this escrow agreement. Purchaser's remedy for Seller's breach is not limited to the remedies provided in this agreement.

7. Payment. Upon satisfactory completion of Seller's performance, the escrow agent shall pay over the escrow money to Seller. The fact of satisfactory completion shall be evidenced by Purchaser's written approval, which shall not be unreasonably withheld, of Seller's performance. Upon delivery of such written approval and payment of funds to Seller, the escrow agent shall be discharged and released of all obligations arising by reason of this agreement.

The parties have hereunto set their hands on the date and year first above written.

John L. Lewis, Purchaser

Martha B. Lewis, Purchaser

J. Clarence Stewart

As Executor under the Last Will and Testament of Sally B. Stewart, Seller

J. Clarence Stewart, Individually

Brian C. Connelly, Escrow Agent

131 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms

I. SPECIAL CLOSING AGREEMENTS AND DOCUMENTS

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.95

FORM 21.95 Escrow agreement--funded by part of mortgage proceeds--completion of building

COMMENT

A lender is usually not required to disburse the mortgage proceeds until the terms and conditions of its mortgage commitment are satisfied. These conditions usually include such matters as title, insurable first lien, fire insurance, survey, and premises that are approved for occupancy. Occasionally, a loan will be made prior to complete satisfaction of the conditions of the commitment letter if the lender determines that the loan will otherwise comply with its lending restrictions and the unsatisfied matters are reasonably certain of being cleared within a short time. As a protective measure, the lender may withhold a part of the mortgage proceeds, in escrow, until the unsatisfied matters are resolved. Such matters might include the obtaining of an administrative certification, clearing a relatively minor title defect or removal of an undesirable exception to the title insurance.

Here the purpose of the escrow is the completion of a building to the point where the local authorities will issue various certifications. The escrow provides the lender with funds which it considers to be adequate to complete the building if the builder fails to do so by a specified date.

FORM

ESCROW RECEIPT

Dated: _____
Amount of Escrow: $9,000

Re: Mortgage No. 99999
Premises: 571 Watterbury-Stamford Road

Georgetown, Connecticut

Depositor of Escrow: New England River Homes, Inc.

In connection with the above premises, Hartford National Bank and Trust Company ("Hartford") acknowledges receipt of the above identified escrow deposit, to be held in escrow until completion of the "escrow purposes" hereafter defined.

If the escrow purposes are not completed on or before the completion date hereafter set forth to Hartford's sole and exclusive satisfaction, Hartford, without notice to anyone, may cause the escrow purposes to be completed and fulfilled, and may deduct from the escrow deposit the full costs, disbursements, and expenses deemed necessary by Hartford and actually incurred in the furtherance of the escrow purposes, regardless of whether the escrow purposes are in fact completed.

The costs, disbursements, and expenses shall include, work, labor, materials, general and subcontractor charges, official permit, license, filing and recording fees, legal fees, and fees of architects and other professionals and specialists.

The escrow sum shall not bear interest. Any balance remaining shall be returned to the depositor of the above escrow.

Hartford shall have no liability in completing any escrow purposes beyond the amount of the escrow deposit.

If the escrow purposes are completed on or before the completion date to Hartford's sole and exclusive satisfaction, the escrow shall be returned to the depositor of the escrow.

The escrow sum is not assignable by the depositor of the escrow.

Depositor of Escrow: New England River Homes, Inc.

Completion Date: May 24, ____ [year]

Escrow Purposes: Issuance of and exhibition to Hartford of a Certificate of Occupancy providing for a one-family dwelling; also Connecticut Electrical Inspection Certificate and Fire Underwriter's Certificate. Upon issuance of Certificate of Occupancy, $9,000 will be released to the escrow depositor.

Hartford Bank and Trust Company

By: _____

The above terms accepted by:

New England River Homes, Inc.

By:_____

132 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms

I. SPECIAL CLOSING AGREEMENTS AND DOCUMENTS

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.96

FORM 21.96 Escrow instructions to title company for transfer of title in escrow

COMMENT

In some states, it is customary for an escrow agent to accomplish the transfer of title to real property in escrow, without the physical presence of the parties. In these states, the parties give the escrow agent, usually a title company, instructions to be followed in transferring title. All of the necessary documents and payments are sent to the escrow agent, who will close the sale when all of the escrow closing instructions have been complied with by the escrow agent.

FORM

ESCROW INSTRUCTIONS

_____, [date]
City of _____
State of _____

_____ Title Company

Re: Escrow No. _____

Dear _____:

The undersigned, _____ (Seller) and _____ (Purchaser), hereby authorize you to act as Escrow Agent on their behalf in connection with the sale by Seller to Purchaser of the real property commonly known as _____ Street, City of _____, State of _____, pursuant to the Contract of Sale between Seller and Purchaser, a copy of which is attached, and pursuant to the following instructions:

1. Escrow shall close within _____ business days after your receipt of these instructions. Time is of the essence in this transaction and in the implementation of these instructions. Escrow shall be deemed closed on the day papers are filed for record. If you cannot close this escrow within _____ business days after your receipt of these instructions, any party who has already fully complied with his or her instructions may demand in writing the return of his or her money and/or property. If no party has fully complied, no demand for return of money or property shall be recognized until _____ days after you have mailed copies of such demand to all other parties at their respective addresses shown in the escrow instructions. If no such demand is made, close this escrow as soon as possible.

2. On or before the closing date, Seller shall deposit or cause to be deposited in escrow a bargain and sale deed, without warranties, duly executed and acknowledged by Seller, conveying the property to Purchaser, as well as any other documents reasonably requested by you or Purchaser as necessary to consummate the closing.

3. On or before the closing date, Purchaser shall deposit or cause to be deposited in escrow: (a) $_____ as an earnest money deposit; (b) $_____ as the cash portion of the total purchase price for the property due from Purchaser, reduced by the amount of the earnest money deposit and by the amount of a loan from a third party to Purchaser; and (c) any additional amount of cash necessary to satisfy Purchaser's share of closing costs and prorations; (d) a promissory note executed by Purchaser in favor of a lender yet to be named in the face amount of $_____; (e) a mortgage duly executed and acknowledged by Purchaser in favor of a lender yet to be named; (f) a certificate evidencing hazard and liability insurance covering the property, in an amount no less than $_____, naming the lender as an additional insured; (g) any other documents reasonably requested by you, Seller or lender as necessary to consummate the closing.

4. On or before the closing date, you should receive from a bank, trust company, insurance company, or building and loan or savings and loan association yet to be named the amount of $_____ pursuant to separate escrow instructions to be delivered by the lender. Any commitment made in writing to _____ Title Company by such lender to deliver its check or funds into this escrow may, in the sole discretion of _____ Title Company, be treated as the equivalent of a deposit in escrow of the amount thereof.

5. All funds received in this escrow shall be deposited in a general escrow account or accounts for _____ Title Company with any state or national bank. All disbursements shall be made by check of _____ Title Company.

6. All adjustments, allocations and prorations shall be made on the basis of a thirty-day month, as follows:

- a. Current installment of taxes shall be prorated as of the close of escrow;
- b. Delinquent taxes shall be charged to Seller;

- c. Interest on any assessment shall be prorated as of the close of escrow;
 - d. Transfer taxes shall be charged to Seller;
 - e. Any loan points and fees payable to the lender shall be charged to Purchaser;
 - f. The brokerage commission of $_____, payable to _____ Realty Company, shall be charged to Seller, and is contingent upon the closing of escrow;
 - g. Insurance premiums on insurance to be assumed by Purchaser, if any, shall be prorated as of the close of escrow;
 - h. The premium on the owner's policy of title insurance shall be charged to Purchaser;
 - i. Recording fees shall be charged to Purchaser;
 - j. The escrow fee shall be charged one-half to Seller and one-half to Purchaser.
7. Escrow Agent shall not close this transaction unless and until you are prepared to issue a standard owner's policy of title insurance in the amount of $_____, showing title to the property in Purchaser, and subject to no exceptions to title other than those listed in paragraph _____ of the attached Contract of Sale.
8. Escrow Agent shall record deeds, mortgages, and any other instruments delivered through this escrow, if necessary or proper in the issuance of a title insurance policy.
9. Escrow Agent shall execute, on behalf of Seller and Purchaser, form assignments of interest in any insurance policies (other than title insurance) required for the closing of this transaction and forward them upon close of escrow to the insurance agent and/or insurance company insuring, with the request, first, that insurer consent to such transfer or attach loss payable clause or make such other additions or corrections as may have been specifically required herein, and second, that the agent thereafter return such policies to you for delivery to the party entitled to them.
10. If Purchaser applies for or obtains a loan on the property during the pendency of this escrow, you are authorized to furnish the lender, or anyone operating on its behalf, any information concerning this escrow, including, but not limited to, a certified copy of the escrow instructions and any amendments thereto.
11. Escrow Agent shall have no liability with respect to any personal property which is the subject of this escrow.
12. Any amendment of or supplements to any instructions must be in writing and signed by Seller and Purchaser, and accepted by _____ Title Company.

Seller

Street

City of _____, State of _____

Purchaser

_____ Street

City of _____, State of _____

Accepted by:

_____ Title Company

Escrow Officer

133 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms

I. SPECIAL CLOSING AGREEMENTS AND DOCUMENTS

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.97

FORM 21.97 Standard conditions of acceptance of escrow by title company-- transfer of title in escrow

COMMENT

In a some states, it is customary for an escrow agent to accomplish the transfer of title to real property in escrow, without the physical presence of the parties. In these states, the parties give the escrow agent, usually a title company, instructions to be followed in transferring title. All of the necessary documents and payments are sent to the escrow agent, who will close the sale when all of the escrow closing instructions have been complied with. The escrow agent's standard conditions of acceptance of escrow become the escrow instructions to the extent that the standard conditions do not conflict with the parties' written escrow instructions or the contract of sale.

FORM

STANDARD CONDITIONS OF ACCEPTANCE OF ESCROW

In the matter of the sale of premises known as _____ Street, City of _____, State of _____, by _____ ("Seller") to _____ ("Purchaser"), instructions for escrow have been deposited by _____ Title Company in the form of a contract of sale and/or escrow instructions dated _____ [date], under which _____ Title Company is appointed to act as "Escrow Agent."

In consideration of the acceptance of escrow by Escrow Agent, all of the parties agree that the escrow instructions and any modifications thereof are subject to the following conditions:

1. Escrow Agent shall be liable only for funds and instruments actually deposited with it and received by it for the escrow transaction. Escrow Agent shall have a lien on all funds and instruments deposited with it to secure payment of fees and costs incurred while performing the escrow function.
2. Any funds, instruments or other property deposited with Escrow Agent by anyone other than Seller and Purchaser shall be subject to the instructions of such depositing party.
3. Escrow Agent may deposit any funds received by it under the terms of the escrow instructions in Escrow Agent's escrow account in any depository selected by Escrow Agent. Funds deposited in escrow shall not bear interest. Escrow Agent may invest such deposited funds and may keep all interest and profits derived from such investments for its own account. The parties hereby agree to waive any claim for interest or profits from the funds deposited in escrow. Escrow Agent shall not be liable for the payment of any funds in the event of the insolvency or suspension of payments by any depository selected by it. All disbursements shall be made by the issuance of checks on Escrow Agent's escrow account.
4. If any party gives Escrow Agent written notice of a default, non-performance or dispute, Escrow Agent will promptly give all other parties written notice of such claim. After giving such notice, Escrow Agent may refuse to disburse funds or deliver any instruments unless Escrow Agent receives a written agreement, signed by all parties, authorizing such disbursement or delivery, or unless such disbursement or delivery is ordered by a court.
5. Escrow Agent may terminate the escrow if any party fails to deposit additional funds or documents necessary for Escrow Agent to perform according to the escrow instructions within ____ days after written notice from Escrow Agent. After such termination of escrow, Escrow Agent will return all documents and property to the party who deposited them.
6. All parties to the transaction jointly and severally promise to save Escrow Agent harmless for all damages or losses resulting from the termination of escrow and agree to indemnify Escrow Agent from any and all amounts Escrow Agent may be required to pay on account of such termination, including, but not limited to costs, expenses and attorneys' fees.
7. Upon the termination of escrow, Escrow Agent may deduct all expenses and charges incurred in the escrow from the funds deposited with Escrow Agent, and the parties hereby agree that such expenses and charges may be apportioned among them in any manner which Escrow Agent considers equitable. Escrow Agent's apportionment of expenses and charges shall be binding and conclusive upon all of the parties.
8. Escrow Agent assumes no responsibility for, and shall not be liable for any loss or damage resulting from, the following:
 - a. The existence, condition or identity of any buildings, fixtures or improvements located or presumed to be located on the premises;
 - b. The condition, title or delivery of any personal property and the existence, sufficiency or transfer of any insurance thereon;
 - c. Any mechanics' liens which may be filed against the property;
 - d. The rights of any parties in possession whose interests do not appear of record;
 - e. Any restrictions upon the use of the premises created by zoning or other governmental law, statute, code, ordinance, rule, regulation or the like;

- f. The identity of parties or the sufficiency of any agency;
 - g. Any agency created at the direction of a party to this escrow concerning anything required to be done for its completion by anyone other than Escrow Agent;
 - h. Possession being given to the premises which are the subject of the escrow;
 - i. The existence or location of highways or improvements on or adjacent to the premises;
 - j. Any conditions or quantity of acreage which an accurate survey would disclose;
 - k. The validity, collectibility, genuineness of signature, negotiability or marketability of any stocks, bonds, currency, passbooks, checks, documents or negotiable instruments deposited in escrow;
 - l. Delay of escrow due to fires, forces of nature, governmental acts, strikes, or any other cause beyond Escrow Agent's control;
 - m. Any examination, adjustment or payment of special taxes or assessments, unless specifically instructed;
 - n. Any good faith act or forbearance by Escrow Agent;
 - o. The legal effect or desirability of any instrument exchanged by the parties or deposited by the parties.
9. Phrases such as "to date of transfer," "as of date of filing," and the like shall be construed to mean to and including the date that the title documents are filed for record. For the purposes of prorations, Seller shall be considered the owner through the day of title transfer.
10. Adjustments shall be made on a thirty (30) day month basis. Escrow Agent will not make adjustments for any charges for gas, electricity, heat, sewer and other utility charges, if any, unless the parties furnish in writing a mutually agreed upon exact amount for the adjustment prior to the filing of documents for record. If the final water bill has not been paid, Escrow Agent may hold $_____ in escrow until proof of payment of the final water bill has been furnished to Escrow Agent, unless the parties agree to the contrary or agree to have a greater amount held in escrow. Information secured by Escrow Agent regarding taxes, assessments, insurance, rents, interest, and balance due on other encumbrances or mortgages, including prepayment penalties, if any, may be relied upon in making payments or adjustments and shall be conclusive against the parties. Taxes and assessments shall be prorated on a thirty (30) day month basis, using the amount shown on the last available County Treasurer's tax duplicate that has been certified by the County Auditor as of the date of title transfer.
11. Escrow Agent is not responsible for proration of insurance premiums or for the transfer of insurance policies, unless specifically required by the instructions. Escrow Agent may rely upon any information provided to Escrow Agent on any loan questionnaire or on original or memorandum insurance policies delivered into escrow before the transfer of title, and any errors or omissions in such information shall be adjusted between the parties outside of escrow.
12. If the consent of the holder of an existing mortgage to the Purchaser's assumption of that mortgage is required, the parties agree to obtain the mortgagee's consent and to hold Escrow Agent harmless if the consent is not obtained, or if there is any breach of mortgage conditions by such assumption or by Purchaser taking title subject to a mortgage.
13. Escrow Agent is not required to commence any title examination until all funds and documents necessary for the completion of this transaction have been deposited in escrow. Unless specifically instructed, Escrow Agent shall not be obligated to order a special tax search, survey or location service.

14. Unless otherwise specified in the instructions, Seller shall be chargeable with the cost of the following items:

- a. Examination of title and title evidence;
- b. Transfer tax;
- c. One-half escrow fee;
- d. All taxes and assessments due and payable to the County Treasurer at the date of filing the instruments for record in the within escrow;
- e. Costs of satisfying the record liens or encumbrances not specifically assumed by Purchaser according to instructions.

15. Unless otherwise specified in the instruction, Purchaser shall be chargeable with the cost of the following items:

- a. One-half escrow fee;
- b. Cost of recording deed;
- c. Cost of recording Purchaser's mortgage;
- d. Additional expenses required by Purchaser or Purchaser's mortgagee.

16. The cost of any extraordinary services or expenses shall be borne by the party benefitted thereby.

17. Escrow Agent shall not file the deed or disburse any funds until it receives a mechanics' lien affidavit from Seller or the original contractor, and until Purchaser of a newly constructed home has acknowledged completion of the home's construction and has deposited an acceptance letter in escrow.

18. These standard conditions of acceptance of escrow will apply only if there are no specific escrow instructions to the contrary. In case of conflicts, the written escrow instruction or the terms of the contract of sale shall prevail.

19. The parties understand that this document represents a binding and enforceable agreement, and they have carefully read and examined it before signing.

Seller

Purchaser

Title Company

By _____
Escrow Officer

134 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms

I. SPECIAL CLOSING AGREEMENTS AND DOCUMENTS

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.98

FORM 21.98 Occupancy agreement--occupancy by purchaser prior to settlement--owner's form

COMMENT

An occupancy agreement is useful when the right of possession is transferred at a time before or after settlement. If the buyer wishes to occupy the building before settlement, possession would be given prior to closing by the seller. If, on the other hand, the seller wishes to remain in possession for a limited time after the transfer of title, the buyer, as the new owner, would let the seller retain possession for the limited time. The terms of the agreement depend upon the negotiating strength of each party. Matters to be negotiated include the occupancy fee, risk of loss, liability insurance, settlement adjustments, and surrender of possession if necessary.

Occupancy fee

Generally, the owner will require a fee from the party to occupy the property. Although the occupancy fee can be any amount agreed to by the parties, some practitioners believe it should have some relationship to the owner's expenses. These expenses include the monthly amortization due on the owner's mortgage, the proportionate amount of real estate and other taxes, insurance, and other charges incurred by the owner by reason of having title to the property. The owner may add a premium to this amount and establish the occupancy fee. If the party taking possession does not assume the utility charges for gas, electric, water, etc., these should be included in the occupancy fee. However, since the occupying party has control over the extent of use of utility services, it is often provided that the occupant assume such charges.

Risk of loss

The risk of loss to the premises is usually assumed by the party in possession. The party in possession maintains the most control over the premises, so the occupier is better able to protect against loss. If the buyer is to take possession prior to settlement, then the risk of loss should, by agreement, shift to the buyer upon occupancy. If the seller is to remain in possession after closing, the risk of loss should remain with the seller until possession is surrendered.

Liability and insurance

Both the party in possession and the owner have insurable interests in the property and liability risks. Each should maintain insurance for their own protection. Usually an owner will have insurance from the date of ownership to the date of transfer. However, the party in occupancy may overlook this risk. The owner may wish to have a fund to recover against in the event the occupant is liable to the owner. Therefore the agreement should provide that the party in occupancy maintain satisfactory insurance coverage.

Settlement adjustments

Customarily, expenses incurred in occupying property are borne by the party in possession. Therefore, settlement adjustment associated with possession should correspond to the time when possession changes hands, rather than the date title changes hands. Such items would include fuel, utilities, real estate, water or other taxes, and maintenance expenses. Personal obligations of the parties, however, would be adjusted as of settlement, and would include such items as insurance, mortgage payments, and mortgage insurance, if any. (Part or all of these personal expenses can be recovered, however, in the occupancy fee.)

Surrender of possession

If all does not go as planned, the owner will want some assurance that possession will be surrendered or returned. This can be handled by a number of different methods. One method may require liquidated damages in a prescribed monthly amount. Another approach would prescribe an increased monthly occupancy fee, which could be secured by an adequate cash deposit. Another approach, used separately or in conjunction with the other methods, would be an express submission to the court having jurisdiction over summary eviction proceedings.

Inspection of the property

In some locations it is customary for the purchaser to conduct an inspection of the property prior to closing. This may be specifically allowed in the contract, or may be part of the practice in the locality. In order to avoid a situation where the seller is held responsible for damages to the property between the time the buyer takes possession and the settlement date, the pre-closing inspection should be moved up to a time just prior to the purchaser's taking possession. Any objections can be raised and resolved before possession or closing. Any unsatisfactory conditions not objected to by purchaser, or occurring during purchaser's occupancy, would be the purchaser's responsibility.

FORM

USE AND OCCUPANCY AGREEMENT

AGREEMENT made September 23, _____ [year], by and between John P. La Costa and Mildred O. La Costa, husband and wife, residing at 449 Windsor Street, Round Valley, Pennsylvania ("Seller"), and Charles W. Long and Alice B. Long, husband and wife, residing at 213 Craig Drive, Chattanooga, Tennessee ("Buyer").

Recitals

By a certain contract of sale between the parties, dated August 11, _____ [year], Seller agreed to sell and Buyer agreed to purchase the premises known as 449 Windsor Street, Round Valley, Monongahela County, Pennsylvania ("the premises").

Buyer is desirous of taking possession of the premises before the anticipated closing of title on October 31, _____ [year], and Seller is willing to allow such possession of the premises subject to certain conditions:

Now, therefore, the parties agree as follows:

1. Possession; fee. Seller will on September 27, _____ [year], at 4:00 p.m., deliver to Buyer the full possession of the premises as if the conveyance thereof had been executed, and Buyer shall pay Seller an occupancy fee of $1,000 per month commencing with this agreement, prorated if necessary for months less than 30 days.

2. Disclaimer. Buyer acknowledges and agrees that the use and occupation of the premises contemplated by this agreement is on an AS IS basis. SELLER HAS NOT INSPECTED THE PREMISES TO DETERMINE ITS PRESENT CONDITION. SELLER MAKES NO WARRANTIES OR REPRESENTATIONS, EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, ABOUT THE PREMISES EXCEPT AS SPECIFICALLY SET FORTH IN THE CONTRACT OF SALE. SELLER HAS ENTERED INTO THIS AGREEMENT IN RELIANCE UPON THESE LIMITATIONS OF SELLER'S LIABILITIES AND WOULD NOT HAVE ENTERED INTO THIS AGREEMENT WITHOUT SUCH LIMITATIONS.

3. Liability. Buyer assumes all risks of and responsibility and liability for all losses, damages, and personal injuries or damage to property, including damage to the premises, incurred by Buyer or any other persons during Buyer's use and occupancy of the premises, regardless of whether they are caused by Buyer's use and occupancy thereof. Buyer shall indemnify and hold Seller harmless from all claims, actions, suits, proceedings, costs, expenses, damages, and liabilities, including attorneys' fees, arising out of, connected with, or resulting, directly or indirectly, from or during Buyer's use and occupancy of the premises. Buyer shall defend, at his expense, all suits brought against Seller, either alone or in conjunction with others, upon any such liabilities or claims, and shall promptly satisfy, pay, and discharge all judgments and fines recovered against Seller in all such actions.

4. Adjustments. All adjustments for taxes, water charges, and utility charges shall be determined as of September 27, _____ [year], and Buyer shall thereupon be solely liable for their payment.

5. Insurance. Buyer shall secure hazard and liability insurance covering the premises to protect against any loss or damage occurring, or liability incurred, during Buyer's use and occupancy of same. Prior to delivery of possession, Buyer shall provide satisfactory evidence of such insurance to Seller's attorney. Such evidence shall include a copy of the insurance policy issued and a premium paid receipt.

6. Surrender of possession. If the closing of title does not take place by October 31, _____ [year], through no fault of Seller, Buyer shall pay $1,300 per month to Seller commencing on November 1, _____ [year], prorated if necessary for occupancy that is less than a full calendar month. In no event, however, shall Buyer's use and occupancy of the premises at any time be considered a tenancy in any form. Buyer shall vacate the premises immediately following Seller's demand in the event of a breach by Buyer of any term or conditions of this agreement. Buyer further agrees that, failing such voluntary vacation, Buyer may be dispossessed on three days' notice by summary proceedings.

7. Maintenance and compliance. During Buyer's use and occupancy of the premises, Buyer shall keep the premises in good condition and repair at his expense and shall comply with all governmental ordinances and regulations concerning the premises.

8. Deposit. Prior to delivery of possession, Buyer shall deposit $3,000 with Seller's attorney to be held in escrow. This sum may be applied to: (a) the $1,000 per month occupancy fee agreed to by and between the parties; (b) the repair of any damages to the premises incurred after the date of delivery of possession; (c) the payment of any taxes, water charges, or utility charges incurred after that date; or (d) the payment of any other amounts which are Buyer's responsibility under the terms and conditions of this agreement, following Buyer's failure to pay for any of the above items upon demand. Any balance remaining shall be repaid to Buyer at title closing.

9. Assignability. Neither this agreement, nor any right or obligation hereunder, is assignable by Buyer.

10. Contract of sale. Neither this agreement, nor Buyer's taking of possession of the premises, shall be deemed a waiver of the contract of sale, but shall be considered as being conditional upon, and without prejudice to, the due performance of the contract of sale in all respects.

11. Inspection of premises. Buyer acknowledges that he has conducted an inspection of the premises prior to taking occupancy thereof, and waives all rights to such an inspection prior to settlement, which may arise by custom or contract. Buyer shall accept the premises in the condition found upon their taking occupancy, and acknowledges that any personal property included in the sale is properly located in the premises and is in good working order.

12. Entire agreement; modification. This instrument constitutes the entire agreement between the parties in connection with Buyer's use and occupancy of the premises. No modification of this agreement shall be effective unless in writing and signed by both parties.

13. Governing law. This agreement shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of Pennsylvania.

14. Notices. All notices hereunder shall be sent by registered or certified mail, postage prepaid, return receipt requested, addressed to the other party at its address set forth at the beginning hereof. Either party, however, may designate a different address by serving written notice of change of address on the other party, in the manner provided above.

15. Binding effect. This agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective legal representatives, successors, and assigns.

16. Headings. Headings in this agreement are for convenience and reference only and are not deemed to be a part thereof.

17. Non-waiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise any right hereunder, and no partial or single exercise of such right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

18. Counterparts. This agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

19. Time of essence. Time is of the essence of this agreement.

The parties have set their hands and seals the day and year first above written.

135 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms

I. SPECIAL CLOSING AGREEMENTS AND DOCUMENTS

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.99

FORM 21.99 Occupancy agreement--occupancy by seller subsequent to closing--letter agreement

COMMENT

This form reflects the buyer's agreement to permit the seller to remain in occupancy after settlement. The seller is usually required to surrender possession of the property, along with title, at closing. This agreement not only permits the seller to remain in possession for the specified time, but also deals with closing adjustments, utilities, failure to surrender possession, buyers' right of inspection, indemnification and insurance.

Closing adjustments

Settlement adjustments are made as of the date the seller is to vacate the property. The seller will enjoy the benefits of possession until such date, and should bear the expenses related to possession. Such adjustments would include real estate taxes, utilities, and fuel.

Possession deposit

At closing, the seller, under the agreement, deposits a sum of money with the buyer's attorney to secure the surrender of possession by the seller. The deposit also secures the payment of the monthly occupancy charge, as well as expenses incurred to obtain possession from the seller. A specified $100 per diem liquidated damages provision is also secured by the deposit. The seller will be obligated to pay the buyer an additional $100 per day for each day beyond the date the seller is supposed to vacate the property. This is in addition to the other accruing charges and expenses.

Right of inspection

The purchaser's right to inspect the property just prior to closing will not give the buyer an opportunity to object to any defects or unsatisfactory conditions in the premises after the seller vacates. Therefore, this agreement provides for the inspection to take place after the property is vacated by the seller. All representations and warranties contained in the contract are extended past settlement, so that, upon inspection, the buyer has the same rights as he had prior to closing. This provision should prevent non-title representations being deemed waived or merged with delivery of the deed, by expressly providing that the parties intend such representations and warranties to survive settlement and delivery of the deed.

Indemnification and insurance

By reason of ownership of the property, the buyer may be subject to liability and law suits. This agreement provides that the seller will indemnify the buyer for any liability incurred by reason of the seller's continued occupancy. To back up this indemnity, the seller is obligated to continue his insurance on the property.

FORMS

(1) Letter agreement form

May 16, _____ [year]

Mr. and Mrs. Mark C. Witkowski
c/o Dolan, Levine and Camprice
Attorneys at Law
1030 First Street
Bridgeport, Connecticut

Re: 195 Centerville Road
Hamden
New Haven County
Connecticut

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Witkowski:

As sellers of the above premises pursuant to our contract dated May 1, _____ [year], we are not entitled to remain in possession of the premises after closing. However, at our request, you agreed to our continued possession.

1. Adjustments. We agree at the closing, all adjustments will be as of June 30, _____ [year]. During the time of extended possession, we will pay all the expenses of running the premises, including fuel oil, water, electricity, gas, and repairs.

2. Relationship. The relationship between us in this transaction is that of licensee and licensor, and not that of landlord and tenant.

3. Surrender of possession. If we do not surrender possession to you for any reason by July 1, _____ [year], we agree upon three days' written notice from you or your attorney, to vacate the premises and deliver it to you in broom clean and good condition. In addition, we shall make full payment of the amount then due at the monthly rate of $1,112, as apportioned from June 30, _____ [year] to such date. Furthermore, if we refuse to remove ourselves and possessions on the date set forth in such notice, we shall reimburse you for all reasonable costs incurred in recovering possession of the property, including reasonable attorney's fees and an additional $100 per day for each day we continue in possession after the date of such revocation of license. You are authorized to deduct such sums from the $4,000 deposited at closing with your attorney before returning the balance to us.

4. Inspection. We acknowledge that you have the right to inspect the house after our vacation therefrom. We agree that your closing of title, in reliance upon this letter agreement, shall not constitute an acceptance of the house in its present state and condition. Any representations, covenants, promises, or obligations made by us as set forth in such contract shall survive the closing of title and delivery and acceptance of the deed. Further, we agree that all of the personal property set forth in the contract as included in the sale, shall be present in the house upon surrender of our license.

5. Occupancy. While we are in possession of the house, after the closing of title, we shall take good care of the premises, make all necessary and reasonable repairs, and be responsible for any damage.

6. Indemnification. We further agree to indemnify you and hold you harmless from all damages caused by our occupancy of the house, and the money deposited at closing with your attorney shall be held by him also as a fund out of which you shall be reimbursed for such damages, after the assessment of same. We agree to continue our insurance on the premises until we turn over possession to you.

Very truly yours,

Roger V. Rustic

Jane C. Rustic

Agreed and Accepted:

Mark C. Witkowski

Barbara J. Witkowski

(2) Contract form

THIS AGREEMENT, made this 1st day of August, _____ [year] between Roger V. Rustic and Jane C. Rustic, husband and wife ("Sellers"), and Mark C. Witkowski and Barbara J. Witkowski, husband and wife ("Purchasers"), each of whom is a party to the following agreement and to that certain contract to sell and purchase premises located at 12 Elm Street, Hempstead, Nassau County, New York dated June 2, _____ [year].

Recitals

The closing of title has been negotiated and took place on August 27, _____ [year], in accordance with the terms of the sale contract.

Sellers are unable to vacate the premises on the date of closing of title and desire to continue to reside within the premises until September 15, _____ [year].

Purchasers are willing to grant Sellers continued occupancy until the September 15, _____ [year], and not longer.

It is understood and agreed that:

1. Purchasers and Sellers have made their adjustments as of September 1, _____ [year]. If Sellers remove themselves and their personal property from occupancy by such date, no additional charges shall be made or payable by them except as set forth below. If, however, Sellers remain beyond September 1, _____ [year], they shall pay a charge of $77 for each day until removal, or such amount shall be deducted from any deposit or escrow held herein and given to Purchasers.
2. Sellers will deposit in the trust account of Purchasers' attorney the sum of $4,000 as a good faith deposit to insure the performance of this agreement. The deposit will be returned to Sellers when they vacate the premises.
3. Sellers shall be responsible for the cost of any repairs, maintenance, or damage with respect to the premises resulting from their occupancy during the above period of time.
4. Sellers shall be responsible for all public and private utility charges, inclusive of oil, gas, electricity and water, for the period during their occupancy.
5. Sellers shall suffer all risk of loss or damage to their property stored or located on the premises, and shall hold Purchasers harmless from all claims or liabilities arising from their occupancy of the premises.
6. Sellers agree that if they fail to vacate the premises on or before September 15, _____ [year], a penalty of $200 per day shall be charged against them until they vacate the premises.
7. It is expressly understood and agreed that no landlord-tenant relationship is implied or created by this agreement, except that this agreement may be enforced in the landlord-tenant court or in any other court of the state and Seller may be put out of the premises on and after September 15, _____ [year] by Purchaser's physical act if Purchaser so desires, without any further liability to Purchaser.
8. Seller waives any defense it may have with respect to any matter contained in this agreement.

The parties have duly executed this agreement, the day and year first above written.

Roger V. Rustic, Seller

Mark C. Witkowski, Purchaser

Jane C. Rustic, Seller

Barbara J. Witkowski, Purchaser

136 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms

I. SPECIAL CLOSING AGREEMENTS AND DOCUMENTS

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.100

FORM 21.100 Party driveway agreement--adjoining land owners

COMMENT

Where two adjoining land owners share one driveway, a party driveway agreement may be desirable. In some situations, a mortgage lender may require that such an agreement be made and recorded prior to advancing the mortgage funds.

Easements

Generally, such agreements provide that each party will grant the other a right of way over that part of the driveway which lies on their respective properties. This use easement is occasionally coupled with a maintenance agreement, where the two parties agree to share the cost of maintaining the driveway.

Protection of mortgage lender

A mortgage lender or insurer often will require a joint driveway agreement. The principal purpose of such a requirement is to assure unimpeded access to the property in the event of possession subsequent to foreclosure. The market value of the property may be diminished if the adjoining neighbor determines that he no longer wishes to permit access over his part of the driveway.

FORM

AGREEMENT made July 26, _____ [year], by and between Harold F. Daws and Joan C. Daws, husband and wife, each residing at 349 Colonial Way, Fairview Mews, Farmingdale, Massachusetts ("The Daws"), and Albert C. Barnstable and Margaret F. Barnstable, husband and wife, each residing at 351 Colonial Way, Fairview Mews, Farmingdale, Massachusetts ("The Barnstables").

Recitals

The Daws own certain real property commonly known as 349 Colonial Way, Fairview Mews, Farmingdale, Birmingham County, Massachusetts, said premises also being known as and by Lot 3 in Block 240C on the Tax Map of the Township of Farmingdale, and more particularly described in the deed recorded in the Birmingham County Clerk's Office in Book 2034 at Page 236; said property being improved by part of a driveway running along its northerly line.

The Barnstables own certain real property known as 351 Colonial Way, Fairview Mews, Farmingdale, Birmingham County, Massachusetts, said premises also being known as and by Lot 4 in Block 240C on the Tax Map of the Township of Farmingdale, and more particularly described in the deed recorded in the Birmingham County Clerk's Office in Book 1956 at Page 215; said property being improved by a part of a driveway running along its southerly line.

The driveway improvements on the respective properties adjoin and abut each other along the common property line between the two properties, and neither driveway improvement alone is sufficient to accommodate the vehicular traffic relating to the use of the respective properties; but both driveway improvements, together, are sufficient and adequate for the vehicular traffic of both properties.

The parties wish to provide for the unobstructed use of the driveway improvements for ingress and egress and for the maintenance of the driveway improvements for their mutual benefit.

Agreement

Now, therefore, in consideration of the mutual covenants and easements herein contained, it is agreed as follows:

1. Mutual easements. The Daws grant to The Barnstables, for the benefit of the parcel on which their house is located, and The Barnstables grant to The Daws for the benefit of the parcel on which their house is located, an easement of ingress and egress over so much of their respective property as is presently improved as part of a driveway for use of vehicular traffic used in connection with their respective properties. A legal description of both such easement premises is set forth on Exhibit A, attached hereto.

2. Obstructions. The parties shall not obstruct, impede, or interfere, either with the other, in the reasonable use of such driveway improvements for the purpose of ingress and egress to and from the respective properties.

3. Maintenance. The parties shall maintain their respective driveway improvements in a usable, neat, and uniform manner, so that the overall appearance of the said driveway improvements is that of one driveway. The parties shall share the cost of tri-annual protective coating and sealing of said driveway improvements. Any extraordinary cost of repair and rebuilding said driveway improvements shall also be shared equally; except that any damage due to the negligence of any third person who uses or has used the driveway improvement pursuant to authority of either party hereto, in which case, the party granting such authority to use shall be liable for such damages.

4. Effective term. This agreement shall be effective only so long as the mortgagee of the persons taking title from The Daws has an interest in the property presently owned by The Daws, and shall remain effective so long as any successor or assign of said mortgagee has an interest in said property, whether such interest arose by reason of an assignment of such mortgage, acceptance of a deed in lieu of foreclosure or by reason of foreclosure, or otherwise. This agreement shall automatically terminate upon the termination, satisfaction, or expiration of said interest or interests.

5. Binding effect. This agreement shall be binding upon the parties hereto, and their respective heirs, executors, administrators, and assigns.

6. Superior mortgage. This agreement is subordinate and subject to a certain mortgage given by The Barnstables to Farmingdale Savings and Loan Association, dated July 24, _____ [year], and recorded in the Birmingham County Clerk's Office in Book 1345 at Page 501; provided, however, that nothing contained in this clause shall preclude said mortgagee from benefitting from this agreement if it so elects, upon said mortgagee, its successor, or assigns obtaining possession of the property of The Barnstables.

7. Indemnity. The Daws hereby agree to indemnify, defend and save The Barnstables and their heirs and assigns, harmless from and against any claims and liabilities on account of bodily injury, death, and property damage, or any of them, arising in connection with The Daws' exercise of any of their rights hereunder and occasioned by any act or omission on The Daws' part or the part of its agents, contractors, employees, tenants, visitors, or licensees, and not attributable to the negligence of, or failure to comply with the terms and conditions of this agreement by The Barnstables, their heirs or assigns, or their respective agents, contractors, or employees.

The Barnstables hereby agree to indemnify and save The Daws, their heirs and assigns, harmless from and against any claims or liabilities on account of bodily injury, death, and property damage, or any of them, arising in connection with The Barnstables' exercise of any of their rights hereunder and occasioned by any act or omission on The Barnstables' part or the part of their agents, contractors, employees, tenants, visitors, or licensees, and not attributable to the negligence of, or failure to comply with the terms and conditions of this agreement by The Daws, their heirs or assigns, or their respective agents, contractors, or employees.

The parties have set their hands and seals the day and year first above written.

Harold F. Daws

Joan C. Daws

Albert C. Barnstable

Margaret F. Barnstable

[Acknowledgments]

137 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms

I. SPECIAL CLOSING AGREEMENTS AND DOCUMENTS

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.101

FORM 21.101 Smoke alarm affidavit

COMMENT

Some states now provide by statute that all transferred residences be equipped with a functioning smoke alarm. Based on this requirement, many lenders require proof of the existence of a smoke alarm. To satisfy this requirement, the seller generally executes an affidavit at closing stating that an approved and functioning smoke alarm exists. In some states, the deed will not be recorded until such an affidavit is filed.

FORM

STATE OF _____

COUNTY OF _____

_____, being sworn, states that an operable single station smoke detecting alarm device has been installed in the dwelling located at _____ Street, City of _____, State of _____, in compliance with Section _____ of the _____ Laws of the State of _____.

(Print name below signature)

Sworn to before me this _____ day of _____ [date]

Notary Public

138 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms

I. SPECIAL CLOSING AGREEMENTS AND DOCUMENTS

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.102

FORM 21.102 FIRPTA Affidavit

COMMENT

In the case of the disposition of a United States Real Property Interest ("USRPI"), which is very broadly defined to include almost all interests in real property located in the United States, if the seller is a "foreign person," the purchaser is generally required to deduct and withhold a tax equal to 10% of the amount realized on the disposition under Section 1445(a) of the Internal Revenue Code. The withholding is to insure compliance with U.S. income tax laws on the disposition of such real property. In general, a "foreign person" is a nonresident alien individual, foreign corporation, foreign partnership, foreign trust or foreign estate, but not a resident alien individual.

Withholding generally is not required by the purchaser if the seller furnishes the purchaser with a non-foreign affidavit. The affidavit, made under penalties of perjury, states that the seller is not a "foreign person" and furnishes the seller's taxpayer identification number. The certification by the seller in the affidavit must be obtained prior to or at the time of transfer. The affidavit must also contain the address of the seller. Many residential transactions are exempted from this withholding requirement by a price threshold. Withholding is not required if the property is acquired by the purchaser for use as a residence and the amount realized does not exceed $300,000. If the purchaser fails to deduct and withhold the correct amount of tax on a non-exempt sale, the purchaser will be liable to the Internal Revenue Service for that tax.

The form of affidavit is adopted by use by an individual or by an entity.

FORM

FIRPTA AFFIDAVIT

State of _____)
 County of _____) ss:

Section 1445 of the Internal Revenue Code provides that a transferee of a U.S. real property interest must withhold tax if the transferor (seller) is a foreign person. To inform the transferee that withholding of tax is not required upon a disposition of a U.S. real property interest by _____, with respect to the property located at _____, the undersigned hereby certifies the following:

1. The names, addresses and United States taxpayer identification numbers of all of the owners of the above property are as follows:

Seller's Name	U.S. Tax I.D. No. (or SSN) (Or, Social Security Number)	Address (if the seller is an individual, the in- dividual's home address must be used)
_____	_____	_____
_____	_____	_____
_____	_____	_____

There is no other person or entity who has an ownership interest in the Property.

(2) None of the owners of the Property are non-resident aliens for purposes of U.S. income taxation or, if seller is an entity, it is not a foreign corporation, foreign partnership, foreign trust, or foreign estate, as such terms are defined in the Internal Revenue Code and regulations thereto.

(3) I(we) understand that the purchaser of the Property intends to rely on the foregoing representations in connection with the Foreign Investment in Real Property Tax Act and that this certification may be disclosed to the Internal Revenue Service.

The undersigned hereby declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.

Seller: _____

Purchaser: _____

By: _____

By: _____

Title: _____

Title: _____

Date: _____

Date: _____

(The original of this certificate is to be delivered to the purchaser, or the closing agent, if any, on or before the closing).

139 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms
J. MORTGAGE FINANCING

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.103

FORM 21.103 Installment note and deed of trust--escrow for taxes--assignment of rents--mortgage insurance and escrow--trustee's power of sale--California

COMMENT

The terms of this installment note and deed of trust are substantially similar to those found in a mortgage note and mortgage, since either a mortgage or a deed of trust may be used for loans secured by real property, depending upon state law. Some states recognize encumbrances that utilize either concept.

Real estate tax escrow

This deed of trust provides for the borrowers' payment of an additional monthly charge toward the annual real estate taxes assessed against the property. These advances are accumulated by the lender in a separate account and are used to pay the real estate tax bills, usually due quarterly. Although the monthly payment toward principal and interest remains constant under this note and deed of trust, the additional payments required for taxes increase or decrease depending upon the amount of taxes assessed each year against the property and the amount of surplus or deficiency in the escrow account. The homeowner, on his federal income tax return, may deduct the amount of taxes paid to the local taxing authority through the escrow account. Some states require the institution maintaining the escrow to accrue interest in favor of the borrower on the amounts held in escrow. However, other states do not have this requirement and local law should be consulted.

Assignment of rents

As additional security for loans, mortgages and deeds of trust may provide for an assignment to the lender of all rentals realized from the property that is subject to the mortgage. This assignment usually takes effect only upon the default of the borrower to make the required payment under the note, or upon some other prescribed default. As a practical matter, only property which generates rental income, from either residential or commercial tenants, rather than property occupied solely by the borrower, will be affected by the assignment of rents provision. The clause is often included in strictly residential deeds of trust for the lender's protection in the event that the borrower does lease his former residence.

Mortgage financing

Banks and savings and loan associations are limited in the amount of money they may lend on a specific piece of real estate. For example, the limitation may be that the loan amount cannot exceed 80 percent of the appraised value or market value of the property. This may require the borrower to provide at least the remaining 20 percent of the purchase price in cash, if we assume that the purchase price is the same as the market value. If the buyer puts down only 10 percent of the purchase price, a lending institution subject to the 80 percent limitation nevertheless may lend the remaining 90 percent of the purchase price if repayment of the additional 10 percent is insured by a private mortgage insurer. If the borrower defaults before the loan is reduced to the 80 percent limitation (i.e., 80 percent of the purchase price) the insurer will pay the lender the difference between the permitted amount and the total unpaid principal amount. If the loan is reduced to the 80 percent limitation amount, the insurer is no longer liable. Variations of this formula may occur with different insurers. The private insurer will charge a premium for the insurance which is usually calculated as a percentage of the monthly amortization payments. This premium is in addition to the principal and interest paid to amortize the loan.

Trustee's title and powers

In a deed of trust arrangement, the owner or buyer of the property, who borrows the funds secured by the real estate (the "trustor"), conveys limited title to the property to a trustee for the benefit (i.e., security) of the lender. As a matter of practice, the trustee is usually a responsible institution, such as a financial institution or title insurance company. Although express conveyance language similar to that found in a deed is used, it is generally held, in states where the deed of trust is used as a security device, that the title conveyed to the trustee is limited to the extent necessary to secure the loan and carry out the terms of the deed of trust. As a practical result, the deed of trust has substantially the same effect as a mortgage, with some additional benefits to the lender. These additional benefits may include the trustee's power to sell the property after the statute of limitations on a mortgage would have run, or to sell without prior court proceedings, depending upon the laws of the state in which the property securing the loan is located.

Satisfaction of loan

Upon payment of the deed of trust, the interest of the trustee in the property is reconveyed to the owner. This procedure differs from satisfaction of a mortgage, where the mortgage is cancelled or discharged of record without any conveyance by the lender to the owner.

The promissory note must not be destroyed upon payment. When paid, the note, together with the deed of trust, must be surrendered to the trustee for cancellation and retention before there is a reconveyance.

Model disclosure forms and clauses

The Truth in Lending Act authorized the Federal Reserve Board to issue model disclosure forms and clauses. The model forms and clauses have been published in an appendix to Regulation Z. A creditor is not required to use the models; however, a creditor who uses a model form or clause is deemed to be in compliance with the disclosure requirements of the Act with respect to that form or clause (but not as to the correctness of the figures inserted in the forms).

A creditor may still be deemed to be in compliance if the model form or clause is changed by either deleting unrequired information, or rearranging the format, provided the deletion or rearrangement does not affect the substance, clarity, or meaningful sequence of the disclosure. The disclosure form under (3) "Model disclosure form," which follows, is taken directly from Regulation Z, and does not reflect the transactions in the note (1) and deed of trust (2). However, the model should be useful as a guide in completing the disclosure form on a level payment mortgage loan.

FORM

(1) Installment note

$175,000

Menlo Park, California

November 7, _____ [year]

For value received, I promise to pay to California American First National Bank, or order, at 100 Locust Street, San Francisco, California, the sum of $175,000, with interest from December 1, _____ [year], on unpaid principal at the rate of 10 percent per annum; principal and interest payable in installments of $1,535.76 or more on the first day of each month, beginning on January 1, _____ [year], and continuing until the principal and interest have been paid.

The Deed of Trust securing the within note contains the following provision:

In the event the herein described property or any part thereof, or any interest therein is sold, agreed to be sold, conveyed or alienated by the Trustor, or by the operation of law or otherwise, all obligations secured by this instrument, irrespective of the maturity dates expressed therein, at the option of the holder hereof and without demand or notice shall immediately become due and payable.

If interest is not so paid it shall thereafter bear like interest as the principal, but such unpaid interest so compounded shall not exceed an amount equal to simple interest on the unpaid principal at the maximum rate permitted by law.

If default is made in payment of any installment of principal or interest when due the whole sum of principal and interest shall become immediately due at the option of the holder of this note. Principal and interest are payable only in lawful money of the United States. If action be instituted on this note I promise to pay such sum as the court may fix as attorney's fees.

This note is secured by a Deed of Trust to Fidelity Title Insurance Company, a California corporation, as Trustee.

NOTICE TO BORROWER

Do not sign this Note if it contains blank spaces. All spaces should be completed before you sign.

James Alan Carson

(2) Deed of trust

DEED OF TRUST
With Assignment of Rents

DEED OF TRUST, made November 7, _____ [year], between James Alan Carson, as Trustor, whose address is 123 Redwood Road, Menlo Park, California, Fidelity Title Insurance Company, as Trustee, and California American First National Bank, as Beneficiary.

The Trustor irrevocably grants, transfers, and assigns to Trustee in trust, with power of sale, the property in Menlo Park, San Mateo County, California, described as:

[Insert Description]

Together with the rents, issues, and profits, subject, however, to the right, power, and authority hereinafter given to and conferred upon Beneficiary to collect and apply such rents, issues, and profits;

For the purpose of securing performance of each agreement of Trustor herein contained and payment of the sum of $175,000 with interest according to the terms of a promissory note of even date herewith, payable to Beneficiary or order and made by Trustor.

1. Prepayment. Privilege is reserved to pay the debt secured hereby in whole or in an amount equal to one or more principal payments next due on the note, on the first day of any month prior to maturity, provided written notice of intention so to do is given at least 30 days prior to prepayment and provided that if the debt is fully paid prior to final maturity, all other charges be paid also.

2. Additional monthly payments. Trustor shall pay to Beneficiary in addition to the monthly payments of principal and interest payable under the terms of said note, on the first day of each month until said note is fully paid, the following sums:

(a) Mortgage insurance premium. An amount sufficient to provide the holder of this instrument with funds to pay the next mortgage insurance premium if this instrument and the note secured hereby are insured, or any part thereof.

(b) Ground rent, taxes, insurance. An installment of the ground rents, if any, and of the taxes and special assessments levied or to be levied against the premises covered by this Deed of Trust; and an installment of the premium or premiums that will become due and payable to renew the insurance on the premises covered hereby against loss by fire or such other hazard as may be required by Beneficiary in amounts and in a company or companies satisfactory to Beneficiary; trustor agreeing to deliver promptly to Beneficiary all bills and notices therefor. Such installments shall be equal respectively to 1/12 of the annual ground rent, if any, plus the estimated premium or premiums for such insurance, and taxes and assessments next due (as estimated by Beneficiary) less all installments already paid therefor, divided by the number of months that are to elapse before one month prior to the date when such premium or premiums and taxes and assessments will become delinquent. Beneficiary shall hold such monthly payments in trust to pay such ground rents, premium or premiums and taxes and special assessments before the same become delinquent; and

(c) Allocation. All payments mentioned in the two preceding subsections of this paragraph and all payments to be made under the note secured hereby shall be added together and the aggregate amount thereof shall be paid each month in a single payment to be applied by Beneficiary to the following items in the order set forth:

- (1) Premium charges under the contract of mortgage insurance;
- (2) Ground rents, taxes, special assessments, fire and other hazard insurance premiums;
- (3) Interest on the note secured hereby; and
- (4) Amortization of the principal of said note.

Any deficiency in the amount of any such aggregate monthly payment shall, unless made good prior to the due date of the next such payment, constitute an event of default under this Deed of Trust.

3. Overpayments and deficiencies. If the total of the payments made under (b) of paragraph 2 preceding shall exceed the amount of payments actually made by Beneficiary for ground rents, taxes or assessments, or insurance premiums, as the case may be, such excess may be released, applied on any indebtedness secured hereby, or be credited by Beneficiary on subsequent payments to be made by Trustor. If, however, the monthly payments made under (b) of paragraph 2 preceding shall not be sufficient to pay ground rents, taxes, and assessments, and insurance premiums, as the case may be, when the same shall become due and payable, then Trustor shall pay to Beneficiary any amount necessary to make up the deficiency on or before the date when payment of such ground rents, taxes, assessments, or insurance premiums shall be due. If at any time Trustor shall tender to Beneficiary, in accordance with the provisions hereof, full payment of the entire indebtedness secured hereby, Beneficiary shall, in computing the amount of indebtedness, credit to the account of Trustor all payments made under the provisions of (a) of paragraph 2, which the Beneficiary has not become obligated to pay and any balance remaining in the funds accumulated under the provisions of (b) of paragraph 2 hereof. If there shall be a default under any of the provisions of this Deed of Trust and thereafter a sale of the premises in accordance with the provisions hereof, or if the Beneficiary acquires the property otherwise after default, Beneficiary shall apply, at the time of the commencement of such proceedings, or at the time the property is otherwise acquired, the balance then remaining in the funds accumulated under (b) of paragraph 2 preceding, as a credit against the amount of principal then remaining unpaid under said note and shall properly adjust any payments which shall have been made under (a) of paragraph 2.

4. Late charge. If any payment or portion thereof is not paid within 15 days from the date the same is due, Trustor shall pay a "late charge" of two cents for each dollar so overdue, if charged by Beneficiary.

To protect the security of this Deed of Trust, Trustor shall:

5. Preservation of premises. Protect and preserve the property and maintain it in good condition and repair, and in compliance with all environmental laws.

6. Nondemolition. Not remove or demolish any building or improvement on the property.

7. Reconstruction and construction. Complete or restore promptly and in good and workmanlike manner any building or improvement on the property which may be constructed, damaged, or destroyed, and pay when due all costs incurred therefor. If the loan secured hereby or any part thereof is being obtained for the purpose of financing construction of improvements on said property, Trustor shall:

(a) Commencement. Commence construction promptly and in any event within 30 days from the date of this Deed of Trust, and complete same in accordance with plans and specifications satisfactory to beneficiary,

(b) Inspection. Allow Beneficiary to inspect said property at all times during construction,

(c) Replacement. Replace any work or materials unsatisfactory to Beneficiary, within 15 calendar days after written notice from Beneficiary of such fact, which notice may be given to the Trustor by registered or certified mail, sent to his last known address, or by personal service of the same,

(d) Continuation. Not discontinue the construction of such improvements for any reason whatsoever for any period of 15 consecutive days.

The Trustee, upon presentation to it of an affidavit signed by Beneficiary, setting forth facts showing a default by Trustor under this numbered paragraph, is authorized to accept as true and conclusive all facts and statements therein, and to act thereon hereunder.

8. Waste. Not commit or permit waste of said property.

9. Compliance. Comply with all laws, ordinances, regulations, covenants, conditions, and restrictions affecting the property.

10. Vegetation. Cultivate, irrigate, fertilize, fumigate, prune, and do all other acts which, from the character and use of said property, may be reasonably proper or necessary, the specific enumerations herein not excluding the general.

11. Insurance. Provide and maintain insurance against loss by fire and other hazards, casualties, and contingencies including war damage as may be required from time to time by the Beneficiary in such amounts and for such periods as may be required by the Beneficiary, with loss payable solely to Beneficiary, and shall deliver all policies to Beneficiary, which delivery shall constitute an assignment to Beneficiary of all return premiums.

12. Legal actions. Appear in and defend any action or proceeding purporting to affect the security hereof or the rights or powers of Beneficiary or Trustee. If Beneficiary or Trustee elects to also appear in or defend any such action or proceeding, Trustor shall pay all costs and expenses, including cost of evidence of title and attorney's fees in a reasonable sum incurred by Beneficiary or Trustee.

If any environmental claims, violations, citations or assessments are made, Trustor shall indemnify, defend and hold harmless Trustee and Beneficiary therefrom.

13. Water. Pay at least 10 days before delinquency all assessments upon water company stock, and all rents, assessments and charges for water, appurtenant to or used in connection with said property. Trustor shall pay, when due, all encumbrances, charges, and liens with interest, on said property or any part thereof, which at any time appear to be prior or superior to this instrument.

14. Trust fees. Pay all costs, fees, and expenses of this Trust.

15. Cure. If Trustor shall fail to make any payment or to do any act as herein provided, then Beneficiary or Trustee without notice to or demand upon Trustor and without releasing Trustor from any obligation hereof, may: make or do the same in such manner and to such extent as either may deem necessary to protect the security hereof, Beneficiary or Trustee being authorized to enter upon the property for such purposes; commence, appear in and defend any action or proceeding purporting to affect the security hereof or the rights or powers of Beneficiary or Trustee; pay, purchase, contest, or compromise any encumbrance, charge or lien which in the judgment of either appears to be prior or superior to this instrument; and in exercising any such powers, incur any liability, expend whatever amounts in its absolute discretion it may deem necessary therefor, including cost of evidence of title, employ counsel, and pay his reasonable fees.

16. Repayment of advances. Pay immediately and without demand all sums expended hereunder by Beneficiary or Trustee, with interest from date of expenditure at the rate provided on the principal debt, and the repayment thereof shall be secured by this instrument.

It is mutually agreed that:

17. Condemnation or destruction. If the property or any part thereof is taken or damaged by reason of any public improvement or condemnation proceeding, or damaged by fire, or earthquake, or in any other manner, Beneficiary shall be entitled to all compensation, awards, and other payments or relief therefor, and shall be entitled at its option to commence, appear in and prosecute in its own name, any action or proceedings, or to make any compromise or settlement, in connection with such taking or damage. All such compensation, awards, damages, rights of action and proceeds, including the proceeds or any policies of fire and other insurance affecting said property, are assigned to Beneficiary, who may after deducting all its expenses, including attorney's fees, release any moneys so received by it or apply the same on any indebtedness secured hereby. Trustor shall execute such further assignments of any compensation, award, damage, and rights of action and proceeds as Beneficiary or Trustee may require.

18. Nonwaiver. By accepting payment of any sum secured hereby after its due date, Beneficiary does not waive its right either to require prompt payment when due of all other sums so secured or to declare default for failure so to pay.

19. Title registration. If proceedings are instituted to register title of said property under any Land Title Law, Trustor will pay upon demand all sums expended by Trustee or Beneficiary, including attorney's fees, and forthwith deliver to Beneficiary all evidence of title.

20. Encumbrances and conveyances. At any time and from time to time upon written request of Beneficiary, payment of its fees and presentation of this Deed and the note for endorsement (in case of full reconveyance, for cancellation and retention), without affecting the liability of any person for the payment of the indebtedness, Trustee may (a) consent to the making of any map or plat of said property; (b) join in granting any easement or creating any restriction; (c) join in any subordination or other agreement affecting this Deed or the lien or charge thereof; (d) reconvey, without warranty, all or any part of the property.

The grantee in any reconveyance may be described as the "person or persons legally entitled thereto," and the recitals therein of any matters or facts shall be conclusive proof of the truthfulness thereof. Trustee's fees for any of the services mentioned in this paragraph shall be $25.

21. Assignment of rents. As additional security, Trustor assigns to Beneficiary during the continuance of these trusts, all rents, issues, royalties, and profits of the property affected by this Deed and of any personal property located thereon. Until Trustor shall default in the payment of any indebtedness secured hereby or in the performance of any agreement hereunder, Trustor shall have the right to collect all such rents, issues, royalties, and profits earned prior to default as they become due and payable, save and excepting rents, issues, royalties, and profits arising or accruing by reason of any oil, gas, or mineral lease of said property. If Trustor shall default as aforesaid, Trustor's right to collect any of such moneys shall cease and Beneficiary shall have the right, with or without taking possession of the property affected hereby, to collect all rents, royalties, issues, and profits. Failure or discontinuance of Beneficiary at any time, or from time to time, to collect any such moneys shall not in any manner affect the subsequent enforcement by Beneficiary of the right, power, and authority to collect the same. Nothing contained herein, nor the exercise of the right by Beneficiary to collect, shall be, or be construed to be, an affirmation by Beneficiary of any tenancy, lease or option, nor an assumption of liability under, nor a subordination of the lien or charge of this Deed to any such tenancy, lease or option.

22. Possession upon default. Upon any default by Trustor, Beneficiary may, at any time without notice, either in person, by agent, or by a receiver to be appointed by a court, and without regard to the adequacy of any security for the indebtedness hereby secured, enter upon and take possession of said property or any part thereof, in its own name and sue for or otherwise collect said rents, issues, and profits, including those past due and unpaid, and apply the same, less costs and expenses of operation and collection, including reasonable attorney's fees, upon any indebtedness secured hereby, and in such order as Beneficiary may determine.

23. Effect of possession by beneficiary. The entering upon and taking possession of said property, the collection of such rents, issues, and profits, or the proceeds of fire and other insurance policies, or compensation or awards for any taking or damage of the property, and the application or release thereof as aforesaid, shall not cure or waive any default or notice of default hereunder or invalidate any act done pursuant to such notice.

24. Notice of default and sale. Upon Trustor's breach of or default in any of the provisions of this Agreement, after the lapse of such time as may then be required by law following the recordation of said notice of default, and notice of sale having been given as then required by law, Trustee, without demand on Trustor, shall sell said property at the time and place fixed by it in said notice of sale, either as a whole or in separate parcels, and in such order as it may determine (but subject to any statutory right of Trustor to direct the order in which such property, if consisting of several known lots or parcels, shall be sold), at public auction to the highest bidder for cash in lawful money of the United States, payable at time of sale. Trustee may postpone sale of all or any portion of said property by public announcement at the time and place of sale, and from time to time thereafter may postpone the sale by public announcement at the time fixed by the preceding postponement. Trustee shall deliver to the purchaser its Deed conveying the property so sold, but without any covenant or warranty, express or implied. The recitals in the Deed of any matters or facts shall be conclusive proof of the truthfulness thereof. Any person, including Trustor, Trustee, or Beneficiary, may purchase at the sale. Trustee shall apply the proceeds of sale to payment of (1) the expenses of such sale, together with the reasonable expenses of this Trust, including therein Trustee's fees in the following amounts based upon the amount secured hereby and remaining unpaid: 6 2/3 percent on the first $1,000 thereof, 2 percent on the next $7,000 thereof, and 1 1/3 percent on the balance thereof, said sum to include counsel fees if any are incurred; (2) cost of any evidence of title procured in connection with such sale; (3) all sums expended under the terms hereof, not then repaid, with accrued interest at the rate provided on the principal debt; (4) all other sums then secured hereby; and (5) the remainder, if any, to the person or persons legally entitled thereto.

25. Sale upon default. Beneficiary may declare all sums secured hereby immediately due and payable by delivery to Trustee of a written declaration of default and demand for sale, and of a written notice of default and of election to cause the property to be sold, which notice Trustee shall cause to be duly filed for record. Beneficiary shall also deposit with Trustee this Deed, the note and all documents evidencing expenditures secured hereby.

26. Successor trustees. Beneficiary may from time to time substitute a successor or successors to any Trustee named herein or acting hereunder to execute this Trust. Upon such appointment, and without conveyance to the successor trustee, the latter shall be vested with all title, powers, and duties conferred upon any Trustee herein named or acting hereunder. Each such appointment and substitution shall be made by written instrument executed by Beneficiary, containing reference to this Deed and its place of record, which, when recorded in the office of the County Recorder of the county or counties in which the property is situated, shall be conclusive proof of proper appointment of the successor trustee.

27. Waiver of statute of limitations. The pleading of any statute of limitations as a defense to any and all obligations secured by this Deed is waived, to the full extent permissible by law.

28. Additional recourse. Any Trustor who is a married woman agrees that recourse may be had against her separate property, but without hereby creating a present or any lien or charge thereon, for any deficiency after sale of the property hereunder.

29. Parties. This Deed shall inure to and bind the heirs, legatees, devisees, administrators, executors, successors, and assigns of the parties hereto. All obligations of Trustor hereunder are joint and several. The term "Beneficiary" shall mean the owner and holder, including pledgees, of the note secured hereby, whether or not named as Beneficiary herein.

30. Acceptance. Trustee accepts this Trust when this Deed, duly executed and acknowledged, is made a public record as provided by law. Trustee is not obligated to notify any party hereto of pending sale under any other Deed of Trust or of any action or proceeding in which Trustor, Beneficiary, or Trustee shall be a party, unless brought by Trustee.

31. Trustor's charges. Trustor shall pay to Beneficiary or to the authorized loan servicing representative of the Beneficiary a charge not to exceed $60 for providing a statement regarding the obligation secured by this deed of trust as provided by Section 2954 of the Civil Code of the State of California.

32. Governing law. This Deed shall be construed according to the laws of the State of California.

33. Notices. The Trustor requests that a copy of any notice of default and of any notice of sale hereunder be mailed to him at the address above set forth.

James Alan Carson, Trustor

*(3) Model Truth in Lending disclosure form

Click here to view image.

140 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms
J. MORTGAGE FINANCING

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.104

FORM 21.104 Commercial building note and mortgage--building equipment included as collateral--parties' rights regarding rent defined--no recourse against borrower--New York

COMMENT

This is a note secured by a mortgage on a commercial building which the seller of the building accepts from the purchaser as part of the purchase price.

Building equipment and fixtures as collateral

As additional collateral for the payment of this note and mortgage, the mortgage covers "any and all articles of personal property attached to or used in any way in connection with the operation or renting of the premises." In the event of default, the mortgagee may take possession of the building or request the court to appoint a receiver to collect rents and operate the building. The right to possession of not only the building itself, but also the fixtures, equipment and furnishings necessary or desirable for the continued operation of the building and the collection of rent, can have significant economic effects. A substantial factor in the valuation of a commercial building is the amount of rent generated. Upon possession, the mortgagee is concerned not only with receiving sufficient cash flow to pay operating expenses but also maintaining rent-paying tenants in the building. The fixtures, equipment and furnishings for the operation of the building are therefore important security for the loan. Although fixtures, permanently attached to the building, are generally covered by the mortgage on the real estate, it may be advisable to take additional steps, under Article 9 of the Uniform Commercial Code, to perfect a security interest in personal property used in the operation of the building. Some practitioners take the additional step of perfecting a UCC security interest in fixtures as well.

Rent provisions

Specific and detailed provisions dealing with rent are included in this mortgage. The building owner is prohibited from accepting rent prepayments from tenants (paragraph 28), and rents are assigned to the mortgagee effective on default (paragraph 18). Upon default, the owner of the building is also required to pay rent, if it is an occupant in the building (paragraph 19).

No recourse

The mortgagee agrees not to sue on the note, but to resort solely to the security of the mortgage to recover any money due on the note. If, after foreclosure, there is a deficiency, the mortgagee may not seek a judgment against the mortgagor (note and paragraph 27 of the mortgage). However, the lender has required certain exceptions to the nonrecourse provision that makes the mortgagor personally liable for certain events that could otherwise result in damages to the lender, such as liability for environmental violations.

FORM

(1) Nonrecourse note

$3,150,000

New York, New York
July 28, [year]

FOR VALUE RECEIVED, Central Offices, Inc., a New York corporation, having its principal place of business at 250 East 57th Street, New York, New York ("Maker"), promises to pay to 236 West 32nd Street Corporation of 926 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York ("Payee"), or order, at 926 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York, or at any other place designated in writing by the holder of this note, the principal sum of $3,150,000, as follows: $126,000 on November 1, _____ [year], and a like amount of $126,000 on the first days of February, May, August, and November in each year thereafter, to be applied first to interest at the rate of 8 percent per annum computed from the date hereof, and the balance in reduction of the principal of this note, until August 1, _____ [year], when the entire unpaid principal balance, together with accrued interest on this note, shall become due and payable. The Maker of this note may prepay it in whole at any time after August 1, _____ [year], upon giving 30 days' prior written notice to the holder, without penalty or premium.

1. Default. The principal sum secured by this note shall become due at the holder's option on the happening of any default or event by which, under the terms of the mortgage securing this note, the principal sum may or shall become due and payable. All of the covenants, conditions, and agreements contained in the mortgage are made part of this instrument.

2. No recourse. This is a nonrecourse note and, anything herein to the contrary notwithstanding, Payee agrees for itself, its representatives, successors, endorsees, and assigns that (a) neither Maker nor its representatives, successors or assigns shall be personally liable on this note, it being intended that Maker's obligation to pay the principal of this note with interest thereon is included for the sole purpose of establishing the existence of the indebtedness represented hereby, and (b) in the event of default, Payee (and any such representative, successor, endorsee, or assign) shall look for payment solely to the security of the property which is the subject of the mortgage and will not make any claim or institute any action or proceeding against Maker (or any representative, successor or assign of Maker) for payment of this note (or for any deficiency remaining after application of the property which is the subject of the mortgage). Nothing contained herein, however, shall be construed to release or impair the indebtedness evidenced by this note, or of the lien upon the property mortgaged to secure it, or preclude the application of said mortgaged property to the payment hereof in accordance with the terms of the mortgage.

Notwithstanding the aforesaid, Mortgagee may look to Maker and any principal of Maker for (i) misapplication of insurance proceeds, condemnation proceeds, tenant's security deposits, (ii) rent revenue and other income collected more than one month in advance (iii) rental revenue and other income collected after an event of default under the loan documents not applied to the debt service or operating expenses of the business, (iv) intentional damage to the mortgage premises, (v) failure to pay (or deposit into reserves held by Mortgagee) funds sufficient to pay taxes or other liens with priority over Mortgagee's loan documents, (vi) damages arising from any fraud or misrepresentation of Maker or any of its principals, and (vii) damages arising from the existence of hazardous or toxic substances or the failure of the mortgage premises to comply with environmental laws.

3. Waiver. Presentment for payment, notice of dishonor, protest, and notice of protest are waived.

4. Mortgage. This note is secured by a mortgage made by Maker to Payee of even date herewith, on property situate at 236 West 32nd Street, in the Borough of Manhattan, City and State of New York.

5. Amendment. This note may not be changed or terminated orally.

Central Offices, Inc.

By _____

Conrad Johnson, President

(2) Commercial building mortgage

THIS MORTGAGE made July 28, _____ [year], between Central Offices, Inc., a New York corporation, having its office and principal place of business at 250 East 57th Street, Borough of Manhattan, City and State of New York, the mortgagor, and 236 West 32nd Street Corporation, a New York corporation, having its office and principal place of business at 926 Fifth Avenue, Borough of Manhattan, City and State of New York, the mortgagee.

Witnesseth, that to secure payment of an indebtedness in the sum of $3,150,000, lawful money of the United States, to be paid with interest thereon, according to a certain note or obligation bearing even date herewith, the mortgagor hereby mortgages to the mortgagee

All that certain plot, piece or parcel of land, situate, lying and being in the Borough of Manhattan, City, County and State of New York, bounded and described as follows:

[Insert Description of Property]

This mortgage and the accompanying note have been executed and delivered by authority of the mortgagor's Board of Directors.

Together with any and all articles of personal property attached to or used in any way in connection with the operation or renting of the premises, including all partitions, elevators, engines, motors, dynamos, boilers, furnaces, fuel oil, coal; heating, refrigerating, air-conditioning, plumbing, gas and electric light equipment; vacuum cleaning system, sprinkler system or other fire preventing or extinguishing equipment and materials; stoves, ranges, refrigerators, ice boxes, awnings, screens, window shades; furniture and furnishings for the common halls and lobbies; hotel, theatre, meeting hall, club and lodge furnishings and equipment; also all other articles constituting a part of, or used in connection with the operation of, the plant of the mortgaged premises, to all of which the mortgagor represents that the mortgagor has title free from any prior liens or encumbrances, and all buildings, structures, improvements, fixtures and articles of personal property at any time hereafter constructed, affixed to or placed upon said premises or used in connection with the operation thereof. This provision shall apply to any personalty or fixtures, now or hereafter in the premises, even though any fixture or article of personal property may not form a part of the realty as a matter of law, or may not be essential to the support of the realty. It is intended that such fixtures and articles of personal property shall become a part of the mortgaged realty and be covered by the lien of the mortgage. If any security agreement is executed simultaneously with the execution hereof, the security agreement shall be deemed to be given by the mortgagor and accepted by the mortgagee as additional security and shall be in confirmation of the foregoing. The execution or delivery of such other security agreement shall not render the security interest or mortgage herein contained ineffective or without force, regardless of whether any financing statement or mortgage is filed or refiled, the security interest herein being, notwithstanding the execution and delivery of such security agreement, fully effective and operative. If any of the personal property or fixtures are placed in the premises by the mortgagor or any successor in interest subject to any conditional bill of sale, or subject to a security interest, the lien of this mortgage shall be deemed to include the equity and interest of the mortgagor or any such successor in interest in any of such personal property. In the event of any default hereunder, all the right, title and interest of the mortgagor or of any such successor in interest in and to any and all personal property is assigned to the mortgagee, together with any benefits of any deposits or payments theretofore made thereon by the mortgagor or any such successor in interest. The mortgagor grants to the mortgagee a security interest in all fixtures and personal property to the extent provided herein.

Together also with all awards made by any municipal, county, state, federal or other governmental authority to the present and all subsequent owners of the premises, including awards for any changes of grade of streets affecting the premises. All such awards are assigned to the mortgagee, and its legal representatives, successors and assigns. The mortgagee, for itself and its legal representatives, successors and assigns (at its or their option) is authorized, directed, and empowered to collect and receive the proceeds of all such awards from the authorities making the same and to give proper receipts and acquittances therefor, and to apply the proceeds toward the payment of the amount owing on account of this mortgage and its accompanying note, even though the amount owing on account of the mortgage and note is not then due and payable. The mortgagor, for itself and its legal representatives, successors, and assigns, agrees to and with the mortgagee and its legal representatives, successors, and assigns, upon demand by the holder, to make, execute, and deliver all assignments and other instruments sufficient for the purpose of assigning the awards to the holder of this mortgage, free, clear, and discharged of all encumbrances of any kind or nature.

And the mortgagor covenants with the mortgagee as follows:

1. Payment of debt. The mortgagor will pay the indebtedness as above provided.
2. Insurance on real property. The mortgagor will keep the buildings on the premises insured against loss by fire and all other hazards and casualties against which the mortgagee, from time to time, deems it advisable to be insured for its behalf. The mortgagor will assign and deliver to the mortgagee fully prepaid, unassigned, unpledged, and unencumbered policies of insurance required by the mortgagee. The unexpired premiums on such policies shall at all times likewise be unassigned, unpledged, and unencumbered, except that in the event of any default hereunder, any unearned premium on any policy of insurance for fire or any other insurance required by the mortgagee, is assigned to the mortgagee. The mortgagor will reimburse the mortgagee for any premiums paid for insurance by the mortgagee on the mortgagor's default in so insuring the buildings or in so assigning and delivering said policies. The provisions of subdivision 4 of Section 254 of the Real Property Law applying to insurance against loss by fire shall apply, so far as possible, to any other insurance required by the mortgagee hereunder.
3. Insurance on personal property. The mortgagor will insure and keep insured all of the articles of personal property, referred to above, against loss by fire or any other casualty or hazard against which the mortgagee from time to time deems it advisable to be insured, for the mortgagee's benefit. This provision shall be construed in the same manner as the foregoing provision for the keeping of the buildings on the premises insured against loss by fire and any other casualty or hazard.

4. Maintenance of building. The mortgagor will maintain the buildings on the premises in good repair. If all or any portion thereof is rented or adopted for renting, the mortgagor will maintain same in good rentable condition at all times, whether or not occupied.

5. Structural changes. No structural changes shall be made to the building on the premises, and no building on the premises shall be removed or demolished, without the mortgagees' prior written consent.

6. Payment defaults. The entire principal sum, and the interest thereon, shall become due, at the mortgagee's option, after default in any of the following: in the payment of any installment of principal when due, or of interest for ten days; in the payment of any taxes, including corporate franchise taxes payable by any corporate owner of the premises, water rates, or assessments for 30 days; either in assigning or delivering the policies insuring the buildings against loss by fire, or any other hazard or casualty referred to in paragraph 2 hereof, or in reimbursing the mortgagee for premiums paid on such insurance; or upon request, in furnishing a statement setting forth the amount due on the mortgage and whether any offsets or defenses exist against the mortgage debt.

7. Receiver. The holder of this mortgage shall be entitled to the appointment of a receiver in any action to foreclose the same.

8. Taxes. The mortgagor shall pay all taxes, including corporate franchise taxes, assessments, and water rates, and, on demand, shall submit receipted bills therefor to the mortgagee. If the mortgagor fails to pay such taxes and assessments, the mortgagee may do so. If any duplication of payment results from the mortgagor's failure to submit receipted bills, mortgagor shall bear the costs of procuring a refund of duplicate payments.

9. Debt statement. The mortgagor, within six days upon request in person or within 15 days upon request by mail, will furnish a written statement, duly acknowledged, setting forth the amount due on this mortgage and whether any offsets or defenses exist against the mortgage debt.

10. Notice. All notices and demands or requests under this mortgage shall be served either in person or by registered or certified mail, postage prepaid, return receipt requested, addressed to the other party at its address set forth at the beginning hereof. Either party, however, may designate a different address by serving written notice of change of address on the other party, in the same manner.

11. Warranty of title. The mortgagor warrants the title to the premises.

12. One parcel. In case of a sale, the premises, or so much thereof as may be affected by this mortgage, may be sold in one parcel.

13. Defaults. The principal shall become due, at the mortgagee's option, upon the occurrence of any of the following events of default: (a) after default for 30 days, after notice and demand, in the payment of any installment of any present or future assessment for local improvement, which is, or may become, payable in installments, and which has affected, now affects, or may hereafter affect the premises, even if the installments are not due and payable when the notice and demand is made; (b) immediately after any structural change is made, or upon the actual or threatened demolition or removal of any present or future building on the premises, without the mortgagee's prior written consent. In such event, interest on the indebtedness secured by this mortgage shall be 12 percent per annum from the date that the unauthorized structural change, demolition, or removal commenced, but only if such interest rate is then less than 12 percent per annum; (c) upon any default in keeping the building and contents on the premises insured against loss by fire or any other casualty or hazard, as required by paragraphs 2 and 3; or (d) if the buildings on the premises are not maintained in reasonably good repair or good rentable condition.

14. Real estate and mortgage taxes. If, after the date of this mortgage, the State of New York enacts any law that deducts the lien on land from the value of the land for tax purposes, or changes in any way the laws of taxation of mortgages, or debts secured thereby, for state or local purposes, or the manner of collecting such taxes, so as to affect such mortgage, the holder of the mortgage and of the debt secured thereby may, by giving 30 days' written notice, require the owner of the land to pay the mortgage debt. If such notice is given, the debt shall become due, payable, and collectible when the 30-day period expires.

15. Mortgage foreclosure moratorium laws. If this mortgage is now or hereafter protected or affected by moratorium laws, or by any other statutes preventing the mortgagee from foreclosing for nonpayment of the principal at the expiration date hereof, the mortgagor shall continue to pay amortization to the mortgagee (if the mortgagee so elects, and only so long as such laws or statutes protect the mortgagee from foreclosure for nonpayment of the balance of the principal debt), at the same rate existing during the last year of this mortgage, on its maturity date, and, thereafter, on the same days of the months provided for herein. If, however, the laws of New York State require, in connection with mortgages so protected or affected, that installment payments to the mortgagee amortizing such debt be greater, in aggregate per annum, than the aggregate per annum of the payments that would be due if based on such last year's payments, the mortgagee may elect, as soon as permitted after the debt matures, that the installments payable, after the installment required by this paragraph to be paid on the maturity date hereof, shall be at the rate and as provided for in such laws. If the mortgagor defaults in paying any such amortization installment on its due date, the mortgagee may foreclose solely by reason of such default.

16. Litigation expenses. If any action or proceeding is commenced (except an action to foreclose this mortgage, or to collect the debt secured thereby) and to which the holder of this mortgage is made a party, or in which it becomes necessary to defend or uphold the lien there of, all sums paid by the holder for the expense of any litigation to prosecute or defend the rights and lien created by this mortgage (including reasonable counsel fees), shall be paid by the mortgagor, together with interest thereon at 10 percent per annum. Any such sum, and the interest thereon, shall be a lien on the premises before any right or title to, interest in, or claim upon the premises attaches or accrues, subsequent to the lien of this mortgage, and shall be deemed to be secured by this mortgage and by the note secured thereby. In any action or proceeding to foreclose this mortgage, or recover or collect the debt secured thereby, the provisions of law respecting the recovery of costs, disbursements, and allowances shall not be affected by this covenant.

17. Violations. If the premises, as they exist or are used, or because of changes in their physical condition or use, are or may become in violation of any New York State statute, or any other applicable local or municipal law, including zoning ordinances, labor laws, multiple dwelling laws, building codes, fire ordinances, and the like, or if the premises may become in violation of any environmental law, federal, state or local, the mortgagor shall take immediate steps to alter the premises to comply with such laws or to remediate such environmental condition. In any such event, (a) the alteration, repair, or remediation shall proceed with all due diligence and be completed within a reasonable time, and (b) there shall be submitted to the mortgagee, upon completion (i) receipted bills evidencing the payment of the cost of such work, and (ii) satisfactory proof that no liens or encumbrances have been, or will be, filed on account thereof. If the alterations or repairs require filing and approval of plans or specifications by a governmental department, the plans and specifications must first be approved by the mortgagee. The mortgagor, on completion, shall procure and exhibit to the mortgagee a Certificate of Occupancy issued by such governmental department, and a Notice of Dismissal of all violations, or No Further Action letter. If the alterations do not require filing and approval of plans, the mortgagor shall produce, on completion, a Notice of Dismissal of all violations or other evidence of its remediation. For the purpose of this mortgage, any attempted compliance with the above by the partial, or total, vacating of the premises, shall not be considered compliance with the requirements hereof. On any occasion, when the premises are deemed to be in violation of any law, order, decree, code, violation or requirement, it shall be deemed so to be on the assumption that the premises are, or will be, fully occupied. The repairs and alterations to be made, in order to comply with the foregoing, shall include all unoccupied portions of the premises with like effect as though they were fully occupied.

18. Assignment of rents. In the event of any default hereunder, by the mortgagor or any subsequent owner of the premises, the rents and profits of the mortgaged premises are assigned to the holder of the mortgage as further security for the payment of the indebtedness. Immediately upon the occurrence of any default or breach, the mortgagee may immediately, with the irrevocable consent of the mortgagor, or any subsequent owner or person then in possession, given and evidenced by the execution of this mortgage, enter upon and take possession of the premises, including any portion occupied by the mortgagor or any subsequent owner. At the option of the mortgagee, such entry and taking of possession shall be accomplished either by actual physical entry and taking of possession or by written notice given personally or by mail addressed to the owner at his address as it then appears on the mortgagee's records. Such entry and taking of possession may be so accomplished irrespective of the pendency of any action of foreclosure by the mortgagee or any junior lienor. Simultaneously with such actual physical entry and taking of possession or the giving of written notice, the rents, issues, profits and all other amounts accrued, and accruing, to the owner by reason of the ownership of the premises, including deposits held as security under leases, thereupon shall be deemed to be assigned as security to the mortgagee, together with the leases and all other documents evidencing such rents, issues, profits and other amounts, including deposits held as security under leases. For the purpose of giving immediate effect to such assignment, no other or further instrument of assignment or other document shall be necessary or requisite. The mortgagee may then let all or any part of the premises, collect and receive all the rents, issues, profits, and other amounts past due, due, or to become due to the mortgagor or any subsequent owner of the premises by reason of such ownership, and apply the same after payment of all necessary charges and expenses in connection with the operation of the premises, including any managing agent's commission, at the mortgagee's option, on account of the interest, amortization, taxes, water charges and assessments, insurance premiums, and any advance made by the mortgagee for the account of the mortgagor, or on account of the debt hereby secured.

19. Rent upon possession. In the event of entry, of taking of possession by the mortgagee pursuant to the above provisions, or of the appointment of a receiver of rents or profits in any action brought by the mortgagee under this mortgage, the mortgagor or any subsequent owner, if in possession of any portion of the mortgaged premises, shall be obligated to pay to the mortgagee or to the receiver of rents, a reasonable rental monthly in advance for the portion of the premises so occupied. If a receiver is appointed by reason of such default or breach, the amount of rent payable shall be determined upon an application to be made by the receiver to the court for a determination of the reasonable rental value payable by the mortgagor, or any subsequent owner. In the event of a default in the payment of any advance monthly rent, to be determined as above stated, the mortgagor, or any subsequent owner, may be dispossessed by the usual summary proceedings in the same manner that any defaulting tenant may likewise be dispossessed.

20. Assignment. The mortgagor shall not assign, pledge, or otherwise alienate any rents, issues, or profits from the premises without the mortgagee's prior written consent and any such attempted assignment, pledge, or alienation shall be subject and subordinate to the rights of the mortgagee.

21. Proportionate income payments. If, at any time, the income of the property is any criterion of the amount of interest, or amortization, payable by the owner, either by operation of any law, or otherwise, the portion of the mortgaged premises occupied by the owner shall be treated as income producing and the reasonable rental value thereof shall be treated as additional income from the mortgaged premises.

22. Books and records. If by law, or the provisions hereof, the amount of income from the premises is any basis for a determination of the amounts payable to the mortgagee, the mortgagor shall make its books, records and vouchers of income and disbursements available for inspection by the mortgagee at any time, upon the mortgagee giving mortgagor five days' prior written notice.

23. Accounting. The mortgagor, or any subsequent owner of the premises, upon demand, shall furnish to the mortgagee or any subsequent holder of this mortgage, a full and complete statement of all income and expenses incurred in the operation and maintenance of the premises.

24. Trust funds. In compliance with Section 13 of the Lien Law, the mortgagor shall receive the advances secured by this mortgage, and hold the right to receive such advances, as a trust fund to be applied first for the purpose of paying the cost of the improvement, and the mortgagor shall apply the advances first to the payment of the cost of the improvement before using any part of them for any other purpose.

25. Acceleration. Upon the breach of any covenant hereof, at the option of the mortgagee, or any subsequent holder of this mortgage, the entire principal sum secured hereby shall become due and payable, and the mortgagee, or any subsequent holder hereof, may foreclose this mortgage.

26. Sundays and holidays. If the date for payment of all or any part of the principal sum secured by the note to which this mortgage is collateral falls on a Sunday or any public holiday other than a half holiday, it is understood and agreed that interest thereon at the rate provided for therein shall be paid to the actual date of payment of such principal sum.

27. No recourse. The mortgagee shall not exercise its right to institute any action at law against the mortgagor for the payment of any sum of money which is or may be payable under the note secured hereby, other than the right to foreclose, which is specifically reserved; nor shall it seek against the mortgagor any judgment for a deficiency in any action to foreclose this mortgage, provided, however, that nothing shall be, or be deemed to be, a release or impairment of the indebtedness, or of the lien thereof upon the Premises, or preclude the holder of the note secured by the mortgagee from foreclosing the mortgage in case of any default, or from enforcing any and all rights under and by virtue of the mortgage.

Notwithstanding the aforesaid, the mortgagee may look to mortgagor and any principal of mortgagor for (i) misapplication of insurance proceeds, condemnation proceeds, tenant's security deposits, (ii) rent revenue and other income collected more than one month in advance (iii) rental revenue and other income collected after an event of default under the loan documents not applied to the debt service or operating expenses of the business, (iv) intentional damage to the mortgage premises, (v) failure to pay (or deposit into reserves held by mortgagee) funds sufficient to pay taxes or other liens with priority over mortgagee's loan documents, (vi) damages arising from any fraud or misrepresentation of mortgagor or any of its principals, and (vii) damages arising from the existence of hazardous or toxic substances or the failure of the mortgage premises to comply with environmental laws.

28. Rent prepayment. The mortgagor shall not accept the prepayment of rent under any leases for a period of more than one month.

29. Purchase money. This is a Purchase Money Mortgage given to secure a portion of the purchase price of the mortgaged premises conveyed this day from the mortgagee, as seller, to the mortgagor, as purchaser.

30. Late payment penalty. If default is made in the payment of the indebtedness when due, pursuant to the terms hereof, the mortgagee shall be entitled to receive interest on the entire unpaid principal sum at the legal rate of interest at the time of such default, at 10 percent, or at the highest rate of interest set forth herein or in the obligation secured by the mortgage, whichever is the greater, to be computed from the due date and until the actual receipt and collection of the entire indebtedness. This charge shall be added to and be deemed secured by the mortgage. The within clause, however, shall not be construed as an agreement or privilege to extend the mortgage, nor as a waiver of any other right or remedy accruing to the mortgagee by reason of any such default.

31. Collection fees. If the mortgage is referred to attorneys for collection or foreclosure, the mortgagor shall pay all sums, including reasonable attorney's fees, incurred by the mortgagee, together with all statutory costs, disbursements and allowances, with or without the institution of an action or proceeding. All such sums with interest thereon at the rate set forth herein shall be deemed to be secured by the mortgage and collectible out of the mortgaged premises.

32. Late charge. If any payment provided for herein is made more than 15 days after the due date thereof, a "late charge" of four cents for each $1 of such payment shall become immediately due to the mortgagee as liquidated damages for failure to make prompt payment. Such charge shall be payable not later than the due date of the next payment, and shall be secured by such mortgage.

33. Condemnation. In the event of condemnation, the mortgagee shall not be limited to the interest paid on the award by the condemning authority but shall be entitled to receive out of the award interest on the entire unpaid principal sum at the rate herein provided. The mortgagor assigns to the mortgagee so much of the balance of the award payable by the condemning authority as is required to pay such total interest.

34. Ownership change fee. For recording on its records a change of ownership of the mortgaged property, the mortgagee shall be entitled to receive a fee of $50, except that in no event shall this fee be payable if it would render the loan usurious under the laws of the jurisdiction where the property is situated.

35. Prepayment. The mortgagor may prepay this mortgage in whole without penalty or premium after eight years from the date hereof, by giving the holder of the mortgage 30 days' prior written notice.

36. Rent roll statement. The mortgagor shall furnish to the mortgagee, within 15 days after the mailing by the mortgagee of a written request therefor, a detailed certified statement in writing, duly sworn, showing all income derived from the operation of the premises, and all disbursements made in connection therewith, and containing a list of the names of all tenants of the premises and all occupants other than those claiming possession through such tenants, the portion or portions of the premises occupied by each such tenant and occupant, the rent and other charges payable under the terms of their leases or other agreements, and the periods covered by such leases or other agreements. Such statement shall cover the period of time specified in the request.

37. Corporate authority. The execution and delivery of this mortgage has been duly authorized by the mortgagor's Board of Directors, and the mortgagor's certificate of incorporation does not require any vote or consent of the shareholders to authorize the making of this mortgage.

38. Insurance proceeds. If the buildings on the mortgaged premises are damaged by fire or other insured casualty, the mortgagee shall deliver to the owner of the premises the loss proceeds, if any, received from the insurance companies by appropriate progress payments if the work or repair and rehabilitation progresses to full restoration to the reasonable satisfaction of the mortgagee. Any excess of moneys over the cost of restoration of the damaged buildings is to be applied toward reduction of the mortgage principal or returned to the owner at the mortgagee's discretion. No moneys shall be delivered to the owner if the mortgage is in arrears or under foreclosure, and any loss under the fire insurance policies, as stated in the loss payable clause, shall be payable to the mortgagee.

39. Undisclosed principals. The covenants to pay the indebtedness contained herein shall be binding only upon the mortgagor, and not upon any disclosed or undisclosed principal or any other person or corporation.

40. Entire agreement; modification. This instrument constitutes the entire agreement between the parties. No modification or discharge of this mortgage shall be effective unless it is in writing and signed by the party, or by its duly authorized agent, against whom enforcement of the change or discharge is sought.

41. Binding effect. This instrument shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of both parties and their respective heirs, legal representatives, successors, and assigns.

42. Governing law. This mortgage shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of New York.

43. Headings. Headings in this instrument are for convenience and reference only and are not deemed to be a part thereof.

44. Non-waiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise any right under this mortgage, and no partial or single exercise of such right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

45. Counterparts. This instrument may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

This mortgage has been duly executed by the mortgagor.

[Corporate Seal]

Central Offices, Inc.

Attest:

Barbara Smith, Secretary

By: _____
Conrad Johnson, President

[Acknowledgment]

141 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms
J. MORTGAGE FINANCING

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.105

FORM 21.105 Wraparound mortgage--loan evidenced by promissory note and secured by second mortgage

COMMENT

A wraparound mortgage is a form of second mortgage and is subordinate to an existing first mortgage or other prior mortgages, on the real property involved. The first mortgage remains outstanding and unsatisfied but the face of a wraparound mortgage restates the actual indebtedness by adding in the unpaid balance of the first mortgage to raise the total. The wraparound contains a special provision for payment of the debt service on the first mortgage. The loan is otherwise evidenced and secured by the usual form of promissory note and a second or junior mortgage. The annual debt service is figured on the over-stated face amount so the wraparound mortgage interest rate is always greater than the interest rate on the first mortgage alone.

Prior mortgage payments

The wraparound lender agrees, when he receives his interest payments on the wraparound mortgage, to deduct and remit directly to the first mortgagee the required debt service on the first mortgage. If the wraparound lender does not receive the debt service on the wraparound mortgage, he has no obligation to remit the payments on the first mortgage. Failure to pay debt service on a wraparound mortgage constitutes a default under that mortgage. In addition, the borrower expressly agrees not to make any further payments to the first mortgagee on account of the first mortgage.

Borrower's obligations

The wraparound mortgage usually contains covenants by the borrower identical with those in the first mortgage, including escrow of taxes and insurance premiums which, on receipt by the wraparound lender, will be remitted to the first mortgagee. The first mortgage must not contain covenants personal to the borrower and which cannot be cured or complied with by the wraparound mortgagee. The wraparound borrower agrees to comply with all nonmoney covenants in the first mortgage and a default in the first mortgage is deemed a default in the wraparound mortgage.

The borrower also has the following obligations:

- (1) Notification to the first mortgagee that payments of debt service, as well as any prepayment or payment after acceleration, are to be received from the wraparound mortgagee, in his behalf;
- (2) Authorization of acceptance of such payments by the first mortgagee or prior mortgagees;
- (3) Direction of due delivery to the wraparound lender of all notices by the lender under the first mortgage.

Economic advantages

A hybrid mortgage of this type permits a lender to advance funds to a borrower in excess of an existing first mortgage, or to enable the borrower to obtain terms different from those of the existing first mortgage, without requiring the discharge of the existing mortgage. Usually, the wraparound mortgagee advances the difference between the amount due on the existing mortgage and the amount of the wraparound mortgage to the mortgagor. However, the wraparound mortgagee may instead give the borrower terms that are considerably different from those of the existing mortgage. In either case, the wraparound mortgagee takes over the obligations in connection with the existing mortgage. The borrower need no longer deal with the original mortgagee.

FORM

This Mortgage Agreement, made this June 29, _____ [year], between John Gigante & Sons, Inc., a New York corporation, having its office at 370 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York ("Mortgagor"), and Panadyne Corporation, a New York corporation, having its office at 37 Park Avenue, New York, New York ("Mortgagee").

Recitals

Mortgagor is the owner of the fee simple title to the real estate and the buildings and improvements thereon, situated and being in the County of Westchester, State of New York (collectively, the "Mortgaged Premises"), more particularly described in Exhibit A attached to this agreement.

The consideration for this mortgage is $680,166.03, representing cash advanced by Panadyne Corporation, and $1,769,833.97 representing the assumption, by Panadyne Corporation of the interest and principal payments under the First Mortgage (the "Wraparound Mortgage").

The Mortgaged Premises are subject to, and the Wraparound Mortgage is subordinate to, a certain mortgage note and mortgage securing such note (collectively, the "First Mortgage"). The note by its terms matures on January 1, _____ [year]. The mortgage and the mortgage note, both of which are dated August 3, _____ [year], were originally made between Morris Management Corporation, as mortgagor, and Merchants Bank of New York Trust Company, as mortgagee. The mortgage was recorded in the Clerk's Office of the County of Westchester on August 5, _____ [year], in Liber 6862 of Mortgages on Page 6. The mortgage and mortgage note were subsequently assigned by Merchants Bank of New York Trust Company to Massachusetts General Life Insurance Company by assignment dated June 24, _____ [year] and recorded in the Clerk's Office of the County of Westchester on January 5, _____ [year], in Liber 6994 on Page 44. The mortgage constitutes a first mortgage lien upon the Mortgaged Premises described in Exhibit A attached hereto, the principal balance of which is $1,769,833.97 as of the date of this agreement, the Mortgagor on the date hereof having made the principal payment coming due on July 1, _____ [year].

Now, therefore, the parties agree as follows:

1. Wraparound mortgage. The principal amount due to the mortgagee by the mortgagor is $2.45 million. This sum represents $680,166.03, the amount advanced by the mortgagor to the mortgagee upon the execution of this agreement, plus $1,769,833.97, representing the mortgagee's assumption of the interest and principal payments under the First Mortgage.

2. Interest. The interest rate payable on the principal sum of the Wraparound Mortgage shall be 10 percent per annum. Such interest shall commence to accrue on June 29, _____ [year].

3. Payments. The principal sum of the Wraparound Mortgage, together with interest thereon at 10 percent per annum, shall be payable as follows: Constant equal monthly payments of $34,166.66 each shall be paid on the 15th of each calendar month, starting on July 15, _____ [year], and ending on January 15, _____ [year], at which date the entire unpaid principal balance of the Wraparound Mortgage, together with accrued interest, shall be due and payable. Each constant monthly payment when received shall be applied first in payment of interest on the unpaid balance, and the balance in reduction of the unpaid principal sum.

4. Payments on first mortgage

(a) Payment. Mortgagee shall pay to the holder of the First Mortgage, the $1,769,833.97 unpaid principal balance of the First Mortgage, together with all interest thereon accruing thereunder from and after June 29, _____ [year], as and when required by the terms of the First Mortgage, that is, by paying the constant monthly installments of principal of $14,333.33 before the expiration of the applicable grace periods provided for such payments as contained in the First Mortgage.

(b) Other obligations. With the sole exception of the payments of principal, and of the interest due thereon after June 29, _____ [year], Mortgagee does not assume any of Mortgagor's obligations under the First Mortgage. Mortgagee's obligation to make the above payments of principal and interest under the First Mortgage shall be solely for the benefit of Mortgagor hereunder or any subsequent owner of the Mortgaged Premises, and shall not inure to the benefit of, or be enforceable by, any third person or party, and specifically not the holder of the First Mortgage.

5. Prepayments of first mortgage. Mortgagee shall not make any prepayments of principal or of interest under the First Mortgage, without Mortgagor's prior written consent. Mortgagee, however, may prepay all or any part of the First Mortgage if Mortgagor commits a default under either the First Mortgage or the Wraparound Mortgage, or in any other instance in which this agreement grants Mortgagee the express or implied right to make prepayments of the First Mortgage. Such implied right shall arise whenever a prepayment right is necessary or appropriate for Mortgagee to have the benefit of some other right granted to it under the Wraparound Mortgage (for example, Refinancing mentioned in paragraph 35).

6. Modification of first mortgage. Mortgagor shall not exercise any right or privilege of prepayment (in whole or in part) of principal or interest under the First Mortgage, and shall not enter into any agreement with the holder of the First Mortgage modifying or amending any of its provisions, including the provisions dealing with payment of principal or interest, without Mortgagee's prior written consent.

7. Obligations of mortgagor--first mortgage

(a) Performance. Mortgagor shall comply with all of the terms, covenants, and conditions of the First Mortgage, other than with respect to the payment of the monthly constant payments of principal and interest due under the First Mortgage.

(b) Default. If Mortgagor shall fail to comply with any term, provision, or condition of the First Mortgage within five days before the expiration of any applicable grace period provided for in the First Mortgage, and Mortgagor's noncompliance results in a default thereunder (other than with respect to payment of the constant monthly payments), such failure shall automatically constitute a default under the Wraparound MORTGAGE. Such deemed default shall, in turn, entitle Mortgagee to exercise any or all of the same rights and remedies given to it in the Wraparound Mortgage in the event of a default in the payment of principal or interest thereunder.

8. Principal reductions. If the unpaid principal balance of the First Mortgage is reduced either by application by the holder of the First Mortgage of insurance proceeds or condemnation proceeds in reduction of the principal balance, or by prepayments made by Mortgagor with Mortgagee's prior written consent, so that in either event Mortgagee's obligation under the Wraparound Mortgage to pay the holder the unpaid principal balance of the First Mortgage is similarly reduced, Mortgagee agrees that Mortgagor's obligation to pay the principal indebtedness to Mortgagee under the Wraparound Mortgage, shall be likewise reduced by an equivalent amount, which shall be deducted from the payment Mortgagor is to make to Mortgagee under the Wraparound Mortgage at maturity. Such deduction, however, shall not operate to reduce Mortgagor's obligation to make the constant monthly payments (of principal and interest) due and payable under the Wraparound Mortgage.

9. Grace period. If Mortgagee defaults in making any required constant payment (of principal interest) under the First Mortgage, at least five days before the expiration of the applicable grace period therefor, Mortgagor may advance the necessary funds to cure such default. All funds so advanced by Mortgagor, together with interest thereon at the rate of 10 percent per annum, shall be credited against the next installment(s) of the interest and principal due under the Wraparound Mortgage.

10. Title searches and defects. Each month hereafter, Mortgagor shall furnish or cause to be furnished, at its expense, a continuation title search issued by The Urban Title Guaranty Company (the "Title Company"), showing the status of the title records in the Office of the County Clerk of Westchester County, respecting any liens or encumbrances which are filed against the Mortgaged Premises except the lien of the First Mortgage, the Wraparound Mortgage, and any other liens or encumbrances which were recorded at the date of this agreement. If a Title Company search discloses the entry of any liens or encumbrances, other than liens upon personal property created by occupancy tenants, Mortgagor shall cause the liens or encumbrances to be forthwith discharged of record by bonding or otherwise. If Mortgagor fails to do so within ten days after receiving written notice from Mortgagee, such failure shall constitute a default under the Wraparound Mortgage and entitle the Mortgagee to accelerate the maturity date thereof immediately, and Mortgagee may advance funds necessary to effect a discharge of such liens or encumbrances. All funds so advanced, together with interest thereon at the rate of 12 percent per annum (or lesser percentage, not exceeding the maximum rate legally collectible if 12 percent exceeds the maximum legal rate), shall be payable by Mortgagor to Mortgagee on demand, and shall be recoverable by Mortgagee in addition to all principal and interest then due on the Wraparound Mortgage, and shall be treated as part of the principal debt thereon for which the Wraparound Mortgage shall stand as security.

11. Casualty and condemnation. Notwithstanding any contrary provision above:

(a) Casualty. In case of casualty to any portion of the Mortgaged Premises resulting in damage or destruction, all insurance moneys paid to Mortgagee, less any actual costs, fees and expenses incurred in connection with the adjustment of the loss, and provided no default exists under the terms of the Wraparound Mortgage, shall be made available to Mortgagor from time to time towards the cost of restoring the Mortgaged Premises, as the work of restoration progresses. Such payments shall be made on the certification of an independent, reputable licensed architect of the Mortgagor or of the then owner of the Mortgaged Premises, showing the amounts actually expended or incurred in connection with such restoration. This provision shall be further conditioned on proof satisfactory to Mortgagee being submitted to Mortgagee in writing before the request for release of any proceeds, that the cost of such restoration will not exceed the net amount of the insurance proceeds actually collected. If it is determined that the cost of restoration will exceed the net amount of such proceeds, Mortgagor shall deposit with Mortgagee sufficient funds (or security therefor reasonably acceptable to Mortgagee) which, when added to the net insurance proceeds collected, shall be adequate to pay for the complete restoration. If the amount of the net insurance proceeds received by Mortgagee from the insurance carrier, plus any additional funds paid by Mortgagor, exceeds the actual amount necessary to effect such restoration, then after the completion of such restoration, any balance remaining in Mortgagee's hands shall be applied by Mortgagee to the payment of principal due under the Wraparound Mortgage at maturity. However, no such principal payments shall operate to reduce Mortgagor's obligation to make the constant monthly payments (of principal and interest) due and payable under the Wraparound Mortgage. The provisions of this subparagraph (a) are subject to the rights of the holder of the First Mortgage. Prior to release of funds under this subparagraph (a) or subparagraph (b), Mortgagor shall submit proof satisfactory to Mortgagee that there are no claims for mechanics liens.

(b) Eminent domain. In the event of any partial taking of the Mortgaged Premises in condemnation or by right of eminent domain, Mortgagee shall, if Mortgagor is not in default in performing any covenant or agreement contained herein, make the net award paid to Mortgagee, less all expenses incurred in effecting collection thereof, available from time to time as work progresses to Mortgagor or the then owner of the Mortgaged Premises for the purpose of restoring the improvements thereon to a complete architectural unit. Such award shall be made available to Mortgagor or the then owner of the Mortgaged Premises in the same manner and under the same conditions as required in the case of fire insurance proceeds under subparagraph (a) of this paragraph. The preceding provision shall apply only if Mortgagor or the then owner of the premises proceeds, with reasonable diligence, to so restore the improvements. The provisions of this subparagraph (b) are subject to the rights of the holder of the First Mortgage.

12. Reimbursement. If Mortgagor defaults in performing any covenant or condition hereof, Mortgagee may perform such covenant or condition. In such case, the expense thereof, together with interest at 12 percent per annum (or lesser percentage, not exceeding the maximum rate legally collectible, if 12 percent exceeds the maximum legal rate) from the date the expense is incurred until the date Mortgagor reimburses Mortgagee, shall immediately be due and payable from Mortgagor to Mortgagee, and be secured by the Wraparound Mortgage.

13. Financial and operating reports. Mortgagor shall furnish Mortgagee, within 30 days after Mortgagee mails a written request (but not more than once in any year), a detailed statement, signed by Mortgagor (or by one of its duly authorized officers if it is a corporation, or by a general partner if it is a partnership), covering the period specified in such request. The statement shall show all income derived from the operation of the Mortgaged Premises and all disbursements made in connection therewith, and a rent roll listing all tenants (which may be by apartment or office numbers instead of names) of the Mortgaged Premises, the rent and other charges payable under the terms of their leases or other agreements, and the expiration dates of their leases. The Mortgagee and its authorized representatives shall have the right to enter and inspect the Mortgaged Premises at all reasonable times.

14. Covenants run with land. The covenants contained in this agreement shall run with the land and bind Mortgagor, its successors and assigns, and all subsequent owners, encumbrancers, tenants, and subtenants of Mortgaged Premises, and shall inure to the benefit of the Mortgagee, its personal representatives, successors, and assigns, and all subsequent holders of the Wraparound Mortgage.

15. Attorneys' fees; defenses waived. Mortgagor shall pay Mortgagee its reasonable attorneys' fees if (a) any mortgage secured by the Wraparound Mortgage is placed in the hands of an attorney for collection, either after maturity or upon Mortgagor's default; (b) legal proceedings are instituted for the recovery of all or part of such note, or for interest thereon; or (c) such note is placed in the hands of an attorney to protect the rights of the holder or to enforce any agreement contained in the Wraparound Mortgage. Mortgagor waives any defense, setoff, or counterclaim (except those resulting from Mortgagee's failure to make the constant monthly payments under the First Mortgage, as provided in paragraph 4(a)) in any action or proceeding to enforce payment or any other provision of the Wraparound Mortgage.

16. Condemnation; application of proceeds. If all or part of the Mortgaged Premises are taken in condemnation by any governmental authority, the Wraparound Mortgage and the notes secured by it, after vesting of title in such condemnation and until paid, shall nevertheless continue to bear interest at the rate of 10 percent per annum (or lesser percentage not exceeding the maximum rate legally collectible if 10 percent exceeds the maximum legal rate). If the rate of interest on the condemnation award is less than the 10 percent rate, Mortgagor covenants to pay to Mortgagee the difference between the 10 percent interest and the interest paid by the government or condemning authority, computed upon the unpaid principal from the date to which interest on the Wraparound Mortgage has been paid to the date of payment of the award to the Mortgagee. Mortgagor assigns to Mortgagee so much of the award in such condemnation as is required to pay the difference in interest. The foregoing assignment of the award is in addition to, and not in derogation or limitation of, the rights in and claim to any condemnation award for the taking of the whole or part of the Mortgaged Premises which, by virtue of the Wraparound Mortgage or by operation of law, Mortgagee may have for the principal and interest under the Wraparound Mortgage unpaid and accrued on the date of the vesting of title in such condemnation.

17. Leases. Mortgagor shall not cancel, abridge, or otherwise modify existing or future tenancies, sub-tenancies, leases, or sub-leases of the Mortgaged Premises, or accept prepayment of installments of rent without Mortgagee's prior written consent, which it shall not unreasonably withhold or delay. However, Mortgagor may cancel any lease, without Mortgagee's consent, if simultaneously therewith Mortgagor enters into a new lease with a replacement tenant, and (a) the new tenant has a net worth equal to or greater than the net worth of the tenant under the cancelled lease; (b) the annual rental payable under the new lease is not less than the annual rental payable under the cancelled lease; and (c) the new lease is for a term not less than the term remaining of the cancelled lease.

18. Notices and payments. Mortgagor shall promptly send to Mortgagee copies of all notices received by it from the holder of the First Mortgage. Mortgagee shall send to Mortgagor, at the time the Mortgagee makes each monthly constant payment to the holder of the First Mortgage, an advice that each such payment has been made. (A copy of Mortgagee's transmittal letter, if any, will suffice).

19. Continuing obligations. Mortgagor's obligations under the Wraparound Mortgage, and the mortgage notes which it is given to secure, shall continue until the entire debt is paid, notwithstanding any action or actions of partial foreclosure which are brought to recover any amount or amounts for installments of principal, interest, taxes, assessments, water rates, vault taxes or fire insurance premiums, or other payments due and payable under the provisions of the Wraparound Mortgage.

20. Mortgage tax. If it is determined by any competent governmental authority that United States or New York State mortgage taxes are due on any mortgage note secured by the Wraparound Mortgage, Mortgagor shall pay such taxes, together with any accrued penalty.

21. Waiver. No delay or omission by Mortgagee to exercise any right, power, or remedy accruing under the Wraparound Mortgage shall be construed to be a waiver of any default or acquiescence. A waiver in one or more instances to exercise any right, power, or remedy shall apply only to the particular instance or instances, and at the particular time or times only. No such waiver shall be deemed a continuing waiver, but every term, covenant, provision, or condition establishing such right, power, or remedy shall survive and continue to remain in full force and effect.

22. UCC documents. At Mortgagor's request, the Mortgagor shall execute and deliver Uniform Commercial Code Financing Statements, in duplicate, covering the fixtures, chattels, and articles of personal property subject to the lien of the Wraparound Mortgage.

23. Municipal requirements. Mortgagor shall promptly pay and discharge all license fees or similar charges, with penalties and interest, which are imposed by the municipality in which the Mortgaged Premises are situated, for the use of vaults, chutes, areas and other space beyond the lot line and under or abutting the public sidewalks in front of or adjoining the Mortgaged Premises. Mortgagor shall promptly cure any violation of law and comply with any order of the municipality in which the Mortgaged Premises are situated respecting the repair, replacement, or condition of the sidewalk or curb in front of or adjoining the Mortgaged Premises. If Mortgagor defaults in any of the above, Mortgagee may pay any or all of the license fees or similar charges with penalties and interest, and the municipality's charges for such repair or replacement. In such event, Mortgagor shall, on demand, repay Mortgagee for all amounts expended, with interest thereon at 12 percent per annum (or lesser percentage, not exceeding the maximum rate legally collectible, if 12 percent exceeds the maximum legal rate) from the date the expenses are incurred until the date Mortgagor reimburses Mortgagee. Such amounts shall thereupon be liens on the Mortgaged Premises and secured by the Second Mortgage.

24. Further instruments. The Wraparound Mortgage is a security agreement which covers, and the Mortgaged Premises includes, both real and personal property and all other of Mortgagor's rights and interests, whether tangible or intangible in nature, in the Mortgaged Premises. Mortgagor shall, at Mortgagee's request deliver to Mortgagee all further instruments required by Mortgagee in order to further secure and perfect the lien of the Wraparound Mortgage.

25. Severability. If any term, covenant, or condition of the Wraparound Mortgage is held to be invalid, illegal, or unenforceable in any respect, the Wraparound Mortgage shall be construed without such provision.

26. Governing law; cumulative rights. The terms of the Wraparound Mortgage shall be construed under the laws of the State of New York. The rights of Mortgagee shall be separate, distinct, and cumulative, and none shall be given effect to the exclusion of the others. No act of Mortgagee shall be construed as an election to proceed under any one provision herein to the exclusion of any other provision.

27. Prepayment penalty. Mortgagor may prepay in full the unpaid balance of the indebtedness under the Wraparound Mortgage at any time by giving Mortgagee at least 90 days prior written notice, by paying the principal and interest due plus a prepayment fee as follows: During the first loan year, 3 percent of the then principal amount; thereafter the prepayment fee will reduce by one half of 1 percent each loan year until the prepayment fee is reduced to 1 percent, the 1 percent to prevail during the remaining term of the loan. A "loan year" shall be any one year beginning on the date of this agreement or any anniversary hereof. If Mortgagor prepays the entire unpaid principal balance of the indebtedness under the Wraparound Mortgage, such amount shall include all prepayment charges due under the First Mortgage. In addition, if Mortgagee makes all prepayment of the First Mortgage, either in whole or in part, and pays to the holder of the First Mortgage a prepayment fee, the amount of the prepayment fee shall be added to and become part of the principal of the Wraparound Mortgage, and shall bear interest of 10 percent per annum (or lesser percentage not exceeding the maximum rate collectible, if 10 percent exceeds the maximum legal rate).

28. Subsequent liens. No further mortgage may be placed by Mortgagor against all or any part of the Mortgaged Premises unless such mortgage contains express language satisfactory to Mortgagee subordinating the mortgage to the lien of the Wraparound Mortgage and to all the provisions thereof, including the full principal indebtedness of the Wraparound Mortgage as such indebtedness may be reduced by the application of a portion of the constant monthly payments thereunder in amortization of the principal indebtedness and all past and future advances made or to be made by Mortgagee. The placing, by Mortgagor, or by any subsequent fee owner of all or any portion of the Mortgaged Premises, of any such mortgage not containing the subordination provisions herein required shall make such mortgage null and void and of no force and effect, and such act shall be a default under the Wraparound Mortgage, entitling Mortgagee to the same rights and remedies given it in the Wraparound Mortgage for nonpayment of interest or principal.

29. Subrogation. Mortgagor agrees that Mortgagee is subrogated to all of the rights, remedies, and liens held by the holders of the First Mortgage to the extent of all amounts paid out or advanced by Mortgagee which are used directly or indirectly to reduce, pay-off, discharge, or satisfy in whole or in part any part of the indebtedness secured by the First Mortgage, or to cure any default thereunder.

30. First mortgage. Mortgagor shall, immediately at Mortgagee's request from time to time, notify and confirm to the holder of the First Mortgage, by signed notice sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, with a counterpart delivered to Mortgagee, that: (i) Mortgagor has entered into the Wraparound Mortgage, describing the essence of the Wraparound Mortgage so that the holder of the First Mortgage will understand the same as it affects said holder, (ii) payment of the constant monthly payments under the First Mortgage as well as deposits for taxes, assessments, and similar charges which are mentioned in the First Mortgage, as well as any prepayment under the First Mortgage, or payment after acceleration of the First Mortgage, shall be made by the holder of Wraparound Mortgage upon receipt of the same from Mortgagor, (iii) authorizing and directing the holder of the First Mortgage to accept the aforesaid payments, as well as the payment or performance of any other obligation contained in the First Mortgage to be performed by Mortgagor's thereunder, with same effect as if paid or performed by Mortgagor itself, (iv) directing the holder of the First Mortgage to send and deliver to the holder of the Wraparound Mortgage counterpart copies of all demands, notices and communications of defaults, payments due, or otherwise, required to be given or actually given to Mortgagor, and (v) requesting the holder of the First Mortgage to enter into an agreement with the holder of the Wraparound Mortgage whereby the holder of the Wraparound Mortgage is given notice of and opportunity to cure any default by Mortgagor under the First Mortgage.

31. First mortgage due dates. Notwithstanding any contrary provision in the Wraparound Mortgage, all payments required to be made by Mortgagor, whether to Mortgagee or to any other person, by the provisions of the First Mortgage (except the constant payments of principal and interest under the First Mortgage, which Mortgagee has agreed to pay) shall be due and payable at least 15 days before such payments are required to be made by the provisions of the First Mortgage, except if a period of time more than 15 days is required expressly by the Wraparound Mortgage, the longer period shall be effective.

The whole of the principal sum and interest on the Wraparound Mortgage shall become due at Mortgagee's option after default in the payment of any installment of principal or of interest for five days. The preceding sentence shall supersede any contrary provision contained elsewhere in the Wraparound Mortgage.

32. Purchase-money mortgage. The Wraparound Mortgage constitutes a purchase-money mortgage given to secure a portion of the purchase price paid by Mortgagor in acquiring the fee title to the Mortgaged Premises.

33. Representations of mortgagor. Mortgagor covenants, represents, and warrants that on the date of the agreement it is not default under the First Mortgage, and there are no outstanding claims of indebtedness for labor or materials furnished in connection with the construction, improvements, alteration or repair of any building or other improvements on the Mortgaged Premises.

34. Assignment of first mortgage. If Mortgagee pays or satisfies the First Mortgage at any time, it may obtain from the holder thereof, instead of satisfaction piece, an assignment to it of the First Mortgage.

35. Refinancing. The First Mortgage or the Wraparound Mortgage, or both, may, at Mortgagee's option, be extended, replaced, increased, modified, or consolidated ("Refinancing"), including a consolidation with the Wraparound Mortgage. Any mortgage so extended, replaced, increased, modified or consolidated, is referred to as "New Mortgage(s)."

The conditions of the Refinancing are as follows:

- (1) All proceeds, if any, in excess of the then unpaid principal amount of the First Mortgage and/or the Wraparound Mortgage being refinanced shall be the property of Mortgagee and shall not be deemed to reduce the principal amount of the Wraparound Mortgage plus interest and other charges secured by the Wraparound Mortgage. Notwithstanding any Refinancing, nothing shall be deemed to reduce, abridge, or postpone Mortgagor's obligation to make the regular payments of principal or interest or other payments required by the Wraparound Mortgage;
- (2) The aggregate annual charges payable for interest and amortization on the New Mortgage(s) shall not at any time exceed the annual charges then payable for interest and amortization under the Wraparound Mortgage;
- (3) The maturity date of any New Mortgage(s) shall not be later than the maturity date of the Wraparound Mortgage;
- (4) If the proceeds of any New Mortgage(s) are insufficient to pay the unpaid principal amount then due to the holder of the mortgage being refinanced, the deficiency shall be paid by Mortgagee;
- (5) Mortgagee shall pay all expenses necessary to consummate the closing of the New Mortgage(s);
- (6) The aggregate unpaid principal amount of the New Mortgage(s) shall not at any time exceed the unpaid principal amount of the Wraparound Mortgage plus interest and other charges secured by the Wraparound Mortgage;
- (7) In Refinancing, the forms customarily utilized by the holder of the New Mortgage for similar properties shall be used, and if the holder of the New Mortgage has no forms which are customarily used for such property, the customary forms of an institutional lender who makes loans on similar properties shall be used;
- (8) The New Mortgage(s) may provide for a prepayment penalty not to exceed 3 percent of the amount being prepaid;
- (9) Mortgagee shall request the holder of the New Mortgage(s) to utilize provisions equivalent to those contained herein for insurance and condemnation proceeds.
- (10) The New Mortgage(s) shall not prohibit the sale of the Mortgaged Premises.
- (11) The New Mortgage(s) shall not be cross-collateralized with any other mortgage or loan, and shall cover only the Mortgaged Premises. The maturity date of the Wraparound Mortgage for the purpose of this paragraph shall be deemed to be the maturity date when, pursuant to the terms of the Wraparound Mortgage, the unpaid principal amount thereof is stated therein to become due and payable.

Mortgagor shall execute all documents that are necessary to effectuate such Refinancing, provided such documents provide for an exculpation of Mortgagor from personal liability. Upon Mortgagor's failure to execute such documents within ten days of Mortgagee's written request, the unpaid principal balance due on the Wraparound Mortgage and interest, shall become due, at Mortgagee's option in the same manner as Mortgagor's failure to pay interest or principal under the Wraparound Mortgage. Any additional mortgage placed by Mortgagor on the Mortgaged Premises or any part thereof shall be expressly subordinate to Mortgagee's right of Refinancing.

36. Default in note. Any default under the terms of any notes secured by the Wraparound Mortgage shall be deemed a default under the Wraparound Mortgage, and each of the terms, covenants, and conditions of such notes are incorporated in and made a part of this agreement.

37. Ground leases. No owner of the Mortgaged Premises shall enter into a ground or master lease covering all or a material part thereof unless: (a) a true copy is delivered to Mortgagee, by registered or certified mail not more than ten days after the execution thereof; and (b) such ground or master lease provides (i) that it is subject and subordinate to the Wraparound Mortgage and all advances, past or future, which are made thereunder and the Refinancing, and (ii) that all occupancy subleases shall provide that in case of termination of the ground or master lease, the sublessee will attorn to and recognize the lessor under such ground or master lease or the owner of the demised premises as sublessee's landlord unless such sublease has terminated in any dispossession or foreclosure proceedings.

38. No usury. Notwithstanding any contrary provision herein, Mortgagee shall not at any time charge, and Mortgagor shall not be required to pay, interest which exceeds the maximum rate of interest applicable to this agreement that is permissible under the laws of the State of New York.

If any interpretation of the provisions of this agreement would require Mortgagor to pay interest or other fees or sums the payment of which would, in the opinion of Mortgagee or its counsel, constitute a violation of the above-stated intention of the parties, Mortgagee shall advise Mortgagor in writing as to what reduced amount of interest or other charges or fees shall be paid. Thereupon, this agreement shall be deemed to be interpreted and intended to read as set forth herein as the true intention of the parties.

39. Entire agreement; modification. This instrument constitutes the entire agreement between the parties. It may not be modified, amended, or terminated unless such modification, amendment, or termination is in writing and signed by both parties.

40. Binding effect. This agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of both parties and their respective legal representatives, successors, and assigns.

41. Notices. All notices under this agreement shall be sent by registered or certified mail, postage prepaid, return receipt requested, addressed to the other party at its address set forth at the beginning hereof. Either party, however, may designate a different address by serving written notice of change of address on the other party, in like manner.

42. Headings. Headings in this agreement are for convenience and reference only and are not deemed to be a part hereof.

43. Non-waiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise any right hereunder, and no partial or single exercise of such right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

44. Counterparts. This agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

The parties have duly executed this instrument as of the date first above written.

Panadyne Corporation

By: _____

John Gigante & Sons, Inc.

[Acknowledgments]

142 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms
J. MORTGAGE FINANCING

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.106

FORM 21.106 Variable interest rate mortgage note--annual adjustment--adjustment limitations

COMMENT

Variable rate mechanism

This variable rate note provides for a periodic review of interest rates once a year, with the possibility of a modest change either up or down, as indicated by the cost of money at the time of each review. The interest rate changes are legally regulated and are based on a prescribed standard or "index" which reflects the cost of money.

(1) No adjustment may be made more often than each annual period thereafter, and twelve months must elapse between any changes.

(2) No adjustment can be made unless the latest index, compared with the loan's base index, has a cumulative increase or decrease of 0.1 percent or more.

(3) No adjustment up or down may exceed 0.25 percent per annum in any semiannual period and shall not result in an interest rate more than a specified percentage greater than the initial interest rate.

Mortgagor protection

There is "downside" protection for the borrower as evidenced by the following aspects:

(1) Decrease. The note provides for mandatory decreases of rate when applicable, and there is no percentage limitation on decreases.

(2) Constant payment. On single family (one to four unit property) loans, under certain circumstances, regulations permit the term of the loan to be extended, not to exceed 40 years, to keep the monthly payment constant in the event of interest rate increases.

(3) Prepayment. Within 90 days from the date of a notice of increase of rate, the borrower has the right to pay all, or part of the loan, without a prepayment charge.

(4) Notice. A notice must be mailed to the mortgagor at least 30 days before any change. The change is effective with the payment due in the second month following the notice.

FORMS

(1) Variable rate promissory note

Promissory Note

NOTICE TO BORROWER:

THIS DOCUMENT CONTAINS PROVISIONS FOR A
VARIABLE INTEREST RATE

$44,000

Loan No. 210802-47

Ventura, California

May 7, _____ [year]

1. Promise to pay. For value received, I promise to pay to State Savings and Loan Association, a corporation, or order, at its offices in the City of Ventura, State of California, or at any other offices that the holder of this note may from time to time designate, the principal sum of $44,000, with interest from the date hereof on the unpaid principal balance at the initial rate of 15 percent per annum (the "Initial Interest Rate"), principal and interest payable in monthly installments of $558.77 each, beginning on June 1, _____ [year] and continuing on the first day of each and every month thereafter until May 1, _____ [year], when the principal and interest shall have been paid in full.

Each payment shall be credited first on interest then due and the remainder on principal; and interest thereupon ceases upon the principal so credited.

2. Variable rate; standard. I agree that the Initial Interest Rate shall be increased and decreased from time to time in accordance with increases and decreases in the prime rate of State Savings and Loan Associations (the "Standard"), or any other Standard that may be approved by the California Savings and Loan Commissioner. Subject to the following provisions, the increases and decreases shall be effected in such manner as to maintain the same margin above or below the Initial Interest Rate as the last published Standard is above or below the last published Standard on the date of this

Note:

(a) Maximum for term. Any change in the interest rate shall not exceed 1 percent per annum in any annual period, and shall not result in an interest rate more than 4.75 percentage points greater than the Initial Interest Rate.

(b) Maximum per year. No increase or decrease in the interest rate in any annual period shall be less than 1/10 of 1 percent per annum, except for increases or decreases not previously invoked in full by reason of the 1 percent per annum maximum limitation set forth above.

(c) Annual changes. No change in the rate of interest shall be made during the first annual period; after the first annual period there shall be only one change in any one annual period and at least 12 months shall elapse between each change. As used in this Note, "annual period" means each of the successive periods of 12 calendar months commencing with the first day of the calendar month in which this Note is dated.

(d) Effective date of change. Each change in the interest rate shall become effective commencing on the date the monthly installment becomes due during the second month following the first publication of the Standard in each annual period, provided, however, that the first change in interest rate (if there has then been a sufficient change in the Standard) shall become effective with the first loan installment falling due more than 30 days after the first publication of the Standard following expiration of the first annual period of the loan.

(e) Decreases. Decreases in the interest rate shall be mandatory and increases shall be optional with the holder. The fact, however, that the holder may not have invoked a permissible increase, in whole or in part, shall not be deemed a waiver of the holder's right to invoke such increase at any time thereafter within the limits herein provided.

(f) Monthly installments, term. When there is a change in the interest rate, at the option of the holder of this Note, (1) the amount of each monthly installment may be decreased or increased to an amount which, when paid in equal monthly installments rounded to the next highest dollar amount, would result in full payment of the then unpaid principal balance together with interest thereon at the changed rate by the end of the amortization period in effect just prior to such change, or (2) with the consent of the undersigned, such amortization period may be reduced or extended, or (3) a combination of (1) or (2) may be made. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if the purpose of the loan evidenced by this Note is to finance the purchase or construction of real property containing four or fewer residential units, then upon any increase in the interest rate, at the option of the undersigned the amortization period of this Note may be extended for the additional period required to amortize this Note without increasing the then existing monthly installment, but not to exceed a maximum amortization period of 40 years from the due date of the first installment; provided that when there is a subsequent reduction in the interest rate, at the option of the holder such amortization period may be reduced to the degree that it was extended pursuant to the provisions of this sentence.

(g) Notices. Notices of any change in interest rate or amount of the monthly installment shall be deemed given by the holder when deposited in the United States mail, postage prepaid, addressed to the current owner of the property described in the Deed of Trust securing this Note and any other person personally liable on this Note, as those persons' names and addresses appear on the holder's records at the time of giving notice.

3. The last published standard on the date of this Note is April 30, ____ [year].

*(2) Variable rate disclosure form

Click here to view image.

143 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms
J. MORTGAGE FINANCING

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.107

FORM 21.107 Graduated payment rider to mortgage--increase in principal for interest deficiency--constant payment after fifth year--mortgage insurance premium payment

COMMENT

The purpose of this rider is to add a graduated payment provision to a mortgage. Alternatively, the terms of the rider may be incorporated into the mortgage itself as a repayment clause. The payments increase each year until the sixth year. Since the initial payments are not sufficient to pay accrued interest, the unpaid interest is added to the principal amount. The constant payments, after the fifth year of the mortgage, should be sufficient to pay the interest on the increased principal amount and reduce principal to zero or near zero with the last payment.

Mortgage insurance premiums ("MIP") are also paid monthly under the rider.

The graduated payment mortgage differs from the variable rate mortgage. The amount of each payment in a graduated payment mortgage is established at the time the note and mortgage are executed. With a variable rate mortgage, the exact amount of the future payments is not known until time arrives for establishing the new amount based on the prescribed variables.

FORMS

(1) Graduated payment rider

June 1, _____ [year]

THIS SCHEDULE ANNEXED TO AND REFERRED TO IN THE MORTGAGE BOND AND MORTGAGE, WHICH BOND IS DATED JUNE 1, _____ [year], EXECUTED BY MICHAEL T. JONES AND ALICE B. JONES, HIS WIFE, WHICH BOND IS SECURED BY THE SAID MORTGAGE OF EVEN DATE WITH THE BOND, SAID BOND AND MORTGAGE BEING MADE TO CONVENIENT SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION OF DELAWARE.

We certify that we fully understand the obligation we are undertaking, that our mortgage payment including principal, interest and mortgage insurance premium will start at $446.62 and payments to interest and/or principal and Mortgage Insurance Premium (MIP) will increase each year for five years to a maximum varying from $637.68 to $627.37 and the mortgage balance will increase to $59,219.91 at the end of the fourth year.

Monthly installments of principal, interest and MIP shall be due according to the following schedule:

PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST		MIP	TOTAL
$423.35	First Bond year	$23.27	$446.62
$455.87	Second Bond year	$23.80	$479.67
$490.88	Third Bond year	$24.23	$515.11
$528.60	Fourth Bond year	$24.53	$553.13
$569.31	Fifth Bond year	$24.66	$593.91
$613.08	Sixth Bond year and there- after	$24.60	$637.68

Deferred interest shall be added to the principal balance monthly and shall increase the principal balance to not more than $59,219.91.

Witnessed by:

Michael T. Jones (L.S.)

Alice B. Jones (L.S.)

(2) Graduated payment disclosure form*

Click here to view image.

144 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms
J. MORTGAGE FINANCING

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.108

FORM 21.108 Condominium mortgage note and mortgage--assignable to institutional lender

COMMENT

These forms may be used if the sponsor of a condominium project is unwilling or unable to sell the units for cash. In such case, the sponsor may decide to accept the purchaser's agreement to pay the unpaid balance of the purchase price over a period of time, evidenced by the purchaser's promissory note, and a mortgage on the unit sold to the purchaser as security for payment.

These forms have two distinguishing features. First, the promissory note is acquired by an institutional lender, and the purchaser agrees to pay additional amounts into a sinking fund which is used to discharge taxes and other amounts assessed against the condominium unit. Second, the forms presuppose that the unit is sold on a furnished basis and, accordingly, the furnishings within the unit are also covered under the mortgage. Since the furnishings constitute personal property, a security agreement and filed financing statements that comply with Article 9 of the UCC. are required. The "further assurance" clause contained in paragraph 22 of the mortgage only provides for situations which may arise subsequent to initial compliance with the UCC. For example, a financing statement will generally expire after five years and accordingly the security interest in the furnishings will not be perfected at that time unless another financing statement is obtained and filed.

Condominium owners may deduct mortgage interest and real estate taxes paid with respect to the unit to the same extent as other homeowners.

These forms may be adapted for use by any owner of a condominium unit who desires to sell to a subsequent purchaser on the purchaser's credit.

FORMS(1) Mortgage note

New York, New York

November 3, _____ [year]

1. Promise to pay. For value received, I, Henry Phillips, promise to pay to West House Condominium Corporation, or order, at 700 Central Park South, New York, New York, or at any other place designated in writing by the holder of this note, the principal sum of $200,000, with interest thereon to be computed from the date hereof at the rate of 10 percent per annum, in constant monthly installments of $1,755.16 each, commencing on the first day of the calendar month after the date hereof and on the first day of each succeeding calendar month until September 1, _____ [year], when the entire unpaid balance of principal, together with accrued interest, shall become due and payable. Each constant monthly installment shall be applied first to the payment of interest accrued on the unpaid principal, and the balance on account of the principal sum.

2. Total amount due. The principal sum evidenced by this note and all accrued and unpaid interest shall become due at the option of the holder on the happening of any default or event by which, under the terms of the mortgage securing this note, such principal sum and interest may or shall become due and payable. All of the covenants, conditions, and agreements contained in the mortgage are made part of this instrument.

3. Extensions. If time is extended for the payment of the principal sum because the due date falls on a Sunday or a public holiday, the extended time shall be included in the computation of interest.

4. Prepayment right. The principal sum may be prepaid in its entirety, or in part, on the first day of any calendar month without penalty. If partial prepayment of principal is made, the amount of each regular monthly installment of principal and interest thereafter shall not be reduced, and any such partial prepayments shall be applied to the regular monthly payments in the inverse order of their maturity.

5. Tax escrow payments. If the holder at any time is a bank, trust company, savings and loan association, insurance company, union, pension, welfare, or retirement fund or other institutional lender (the "Institutional Lender"), the maker agrees to deposit with the holder, at the holder's election, as and when each payment of a monthly installment becomes due during the period of 12 calendar months commencing on the first monthly installment payment date after the Institutional Lender becomes the holder and during each period of 12 calendar months thereafter, one twelfth of the amount, as estimated from time to time by the Institutional Lender, of the taxes, and assessments if any, becoming due with respect to the premises during the respective periods of 12 calendar months. It is intended that not later than one month before the respective due dates for such taxes, or assessments if any, sufficient amounts shall be deposited with the holder to pay the same. Such amounts shall be held by the Institutional Lender without interest, and applied to the payment of the items in respect of which such amounts were deposited, or, at the option of the Institutional Lender, to the payment of the items in any order of priority determined by such holder, on or before the respective dates on which the same or any of them would become delinquent. If one month before the due date of any of the aforesaid items, the amount then on deposit is insufficient for the payment of the item in full, the maker, within ten days after demand, shall deposit the amount of the deficiency with such holder. Nothing contained in this paragraph shall be deemed to affect any right or remedy of the holder under any provision of the mortgage or of any statute or rule of law to pay any such tax or assessment and to add the amount so paid, together with interest at the legal rate, to the indebtedness owing hereon which shall thereupon be secured by the lien of the mortgage.

6. Joint and several liability. If the maker consists of two or more parties, such parties shall be jointly and severally liable on all obligations of this note.

7. Waiver of presentment. Presentment for payment, notice of dishonor, protest, and notice of protest are waived.

8. Security of note. This note is secured by a mortgage made by the maker to the payee of even date herewith on the premises, including furnishings, designated as Unit No. 17W in the Declaration establishing a Plan for Condominium Ownership of the property known as and by the street number 700 Central Park South, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York.

In the Presence of:

Mark Davis

Henry Phillips

[Acknowledgment]

(2) Mortgage

THIS MORTGAGE, made November 3, _____ [year], between Henry Phillips, residing at 980 Riverside Drive, New York, New York (Mortgagor), and West House Condominium Corporation, having an office at 700 Central Park South, New York, New York (Mortgagee).

Recitals

To secure the payment of an indebtedness in the sum of $200,000, lawful money of the United States, to be paid with interest thereon according to a certain note or obligation bearing even date herewith (the "note"), Mortgagor does mortgage to Mortgagee the unit known as Unit No. 17W in the property known as the West House Condominium located at 700 Central Park South, Borough of Manhattan, City, County and State of New York, such unit being designated and described as Unit No. 17W in the Declaration establishing a plan for condominium ownership of such property under Article 9-B (the "Condominium Act"), of the Real Property Law of the State of New York dated _____ [date], and recorded in the office of the City Register in the County of New York on _____ [date], in Reel 1975, page 1201 and also designated as Tax Lot 874 in Block 7518 of the Borough of Manhattan on the Tax Map of the Real Property Assessment Department of the City of New York and on the Floor Plans of the building, certified by Hans Hartmann, Architect, on June 15, _____ [year], and filed in the office of the City Register in the County of New York on September 27, _____ [year], as Condominium Plan No. 5018.

Together with the appurtenances and all the estate and rights of Mortgagor, including the appurtenant common interest, in and to the above-described unit conveyed or intended to be conveyed to Mortgagor by deed bearing even date herewith delivered and intended to be recorded simultaneously herewith. This mortgage is a purchase money mortgage.

Together also with all fixtures and equipment used or useful in connection with the above-described unit and now or hereafter attached to or installed therein.

Together also with all furnishings included within the above-described unit and now or hereafter attached to or installed therein, including furniture, rugs, carpeting, lighting fixtures, electrical appliances, cabinets, shelving, wall covering, pictures, decorative objects, draperies, window shades or blinds, and all other like furnishings used or useful within the unit.

Together also with the rents, issues, and profits of the above-described unit, including Mortgagor's right, title, and interest in the common profits.

Together also with all right, title, and interest hereafter acquired by Mortgagor in and to the property and in and to the net proceeds of sale thereof pursuant to provision of law or otherwise, not including, however, any other unit or any appurtenant common interest thereto hereafter acquired by Mortgagor or by the Board of Managers or their designee on Mortgagor's behalf.

The above-described unit is referred to in this mortgage as the Unit. The Unit together with the appurtenances and all the estate and rights of Mortgagor therein and all fixtures, furnishings, and equipment used or useful in connection with the Unit and now or hereafter attached to or installed therein, such rents, issues, and profits and such right, title, and interest of Mortgagor hereafter acquired in the property, and the net proceeds of sale pursuant to any provision of law are sometimes collectively referred to in this mortgage as the Mortgaged Premises.

Together with all awards heretofore and hereafter made for taking by eminent domain the whole or any part of the Mortgaged Premises or any easement, including any awards for changes of grade of streets, such awards being assigned to Mortgagee, which is authorized, subject to the provisions of Article VIII of the Condominium Bylaws, to collect and receive the proceeds of such awards and to give proper receipts and acquittances therefor, and to apply the same toward the payment of the mortgage debt, even if the amount owing thereon is not then due and payable.

The property in which the Unit is situated is bounded and described as follows:

All that certain plot, piece, or parcel of land, with the building and improvements thereon erected, situate, lying, and being in the Borough of Manhattan, City, County and State of New York, bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a point on the southerly side of Central Park South, distance 200 feet easterly from the corner formed by the intersection of the easterly side of Apex Avenue with the southerly side of Central Park South; running thence southerly and parallel with Apex Avenue, 10 feet to the northerly side of 58th Street; thence easterly, along the northerly side of 58th Street, 270 feet 8 inches; thence northerly and again parallel with Apex Avenue, 310 feet to the southerly side of Central Park South; thence westerly along the southerly side of Central Park South, 270 feet 8 inches to the point or place of Beginning.

Together with an undivided 1.02 percent interest in the Common Elements of the Property, hereinafter called the Common Elements;

For the purposes of this mortgage, unless the context otherwise requires, the terms used herein shall have the meanings set forth in the Condominium Act.

Mortgagor covenants with Mortgagee as follows:

1. Promise to pay. Mortgagor will pay the indebtedness provided as in this mortgage and the note.
2. Use of deposit. If Mortgagee exercises any right under this mortgage to declare the principal sum and interest due, it may, at any time thereafter, apply the whole or any part of the amount then on deposit pursuant to the note on account of any accrued interest, and/or on account of the principal sum and/or any costs and expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees) paid or incurred by Mortgagee in connection with the exercise of any remedies hereunder. If this mortgage is assigned, the assignor shall transfer to the assignee the amount then on deposit with the assignor pursuant to the note, and upon each such assignment and transfer the assignor shall be under no further obligation to Mortgagor with respect to such amount.

3. Late charges. To cover the additional expense incurred by Mortgagee in handling delinquent payments, Mortgagor will pay on demand a "late charge" not exceeding 5 cents for each dollar of principal, interest and other sum required to be paid or deposited pursuant to the note or this mortgage if any such payment or deposit is received more than 15 days after its due date. Such late charge shall be payable on each event of delinquency, and payment or tender thereof shall not preclude the exercise by Mortgagee of any remedies herein provided upon Mortgagor's default.

4. Warranty of title. Mortgagor warrants the title to the Mortgaged Premises.

5. Payment of taxes. To the extent provision has not otherwise been made for the payment under the note, Mortgagor will pay all taxes and assessments affecting the Mortgaged Premises and in default thereof, Mortgagee may pay the same.

6. Alterations. No structural alteration or improvement shall be made to the Mortgaged Premises without Mortgagee's prior written consent.

7. Estoppel certificate, tax receipts. Mortgagor, within five days upon request in person or within ten days upon request by mail, will furnish a written statement duly acknowledged of the amount due on this mortgage and whether any offsets or defenses exist against the mortgage debt and that after a similar request Mortgagor will exhibit receipts showing payment of all taxes and assessments affecting the Mortgaged Premises, unless paid by Mortgagee pursuant to the note.

8. Appointment of receiver. The holder of this mortgage, in any action to foreclose it, shall be entitled to the appointment of a receiver.

9. Foreclosure sale. In case of a foreclosure sale, the Mortgaged Premises may be sold in one parcel.

10. Defense of rights or lien. If any action or proceeding is commenced to which Mortgagee is made a party, or in which it becomes necessary to defend or uphold the lien of this mortgage, all sums paid by Mortgagee for the expense of any litigation to prosecute or defend the rights and lien created by this Mortgage (including reasonable counsel fees), shall be paid by Mortgagor within 15 days after written demand, together with interest thereon at the legal rate. Any such sum and the interest thereon shall be a lien on the Mortgaged Premises, prior to any right, or title to, interest in or claim upon the Mortgaged Premises attaching or accruing subsequent to the lien of this mortgage, and shall be deemed to be secured by this mortgage. In any action or proceeding to foreclose this mortgage, or to recover or collect the debt secured hereby, the provisions of law respecting the recovery of costs, disbursements and allowances shall prevail unaffected by this covenant.

11. Advance rent. Mortgagor will not, without Mortgagee's written consent, receive or collect rent from any tenant of the Mortgaged Premises for a period of more than two months in advance.

12. Use of advances. Mortgagor will, in compliance with Section 13 of the Lien Law, receive the advances secured hereby and will hold the right to receive such advances as a trust fund to be applied first for the purpose of paying the cost of the Mortgaged Premises before using any part of the same for any other purpose.

13. Rental payments in event of default. In the event of any default under this mortgage, Mortgagor will pay monthly in advance to Mortgagee, or to any receiver appointed to collect the rents, issues, and profits of the Mortgaged Premises the fair and reasonable rental value for the use and occupancy of the Mortgaged Premises if the same are in Mortgagor's possession. Upon default in any such payment Mortgagor will vacate and surrender the possession of the Mortgaged Premises to Mortgagee or to such receiver, and in default thereof may be evicted by any appropriate legal proceeding.

14. Joint and several liability. If Mortgagor consists of more than one party, such mortgagors shall be jointly and severally liable under all of Mortgagor's obligations, covenants, and agreements contained herein.

15. Payment of common charges. Mortgagor will pay all assessments for common charges, service charges, and expenses made against the Mortgaged Premises as and when they become due and payable.

16. Condition of premises. Mortgagor shall keep the Mortgaged Premises (other than the Common Elements) in reasonably good repair, working order and condition, and shall make all repairs, renewals, and replacements that Mortgagee deems reasonably necessary. Mortgagor shall keep the Mortgaged Premises in compliance with all environmental laws, federal, state and local.

17. Compliance with rules. Mortgagor shall observe, perform and keep all of the terms, provisions, covenants, and conditions required by it to be kept, observed and performed under the Declaration, Bylaws, and Rules and Regulations, as the same shall exist from time to time.

18. Default. At Mortgagee's option, the entire principal amount and interest accrued thereon, as evidenced by the mortgage and the note secured thereby, shall immediately become due and payable if one or more of the following "Events of Default" shall occur and be continuing:

(a) Default is made in the payment of any installment of interest, or of principal and interest, or in the making of any deposit under the note when all or any part thereof becomes due and payable, and such default continues for 15 days;

(b) Default is made in the payment of any tax or assessment when the same becomes due and payable, and the default continues for 30 days, unless provision for payment thereof has been made pursuant to the note;

(c) Default is made in the performance of any covenant in paragraph 3, 4, 6, 7, 10, 11, 12, 13, or 20 of this mortgage within the time provided, or in the performance of the covenant in paragraph 15, and the default continues for 30 days;

(d) Default is made in the performance of any covenant in paragraph 16 or 17, and the default continues for 30 days after written notice is given to Mortgagor, which specifies the nature of such default and requires the same to be remedied;

(e) Mortgagor sells or otherwise conveys the Mortgaged Premises without having simultaneously paid the note in full plus all interest accrued thereon to the date of the sale or conveyance;

(f) Withdrawal of the property from the Condominium Act is authorized as provided in Section 339-t of the Act, or 75 percent or more of the building is destroyed or substantially damaged and 75 percent or more of the Unit owners do not duly and promptly resolve to proceed with repair or restoration;

(g) Any provision of the Condominium Act, or its application, in any circumstances is held invalid, and such invalidity affects the lien of this mortgage or Mortgagee's rights;

(h) Mortgagor assigns the rents, issues, or profits (including the common profits) of all or part of the Mortgaged Premises without Mortgagee's prior written consent;

(i) Any fixtures, furniture, or equipment constituting a part of the Mortgaged Premises are removed from such premises unless, before or concurrently with such removal, the fixtures, furniture, or equipment are promptly replaced by other fixtures or equipment not necessarily of the same character but of a value at least equal to the removed items, which shall immediately become subject to the lien of this mortgage;

(j) Any law is passed that deducts from the value of the property for tax purposes any lien thereon, or that changes in any way the taxation of mortgages or debts secured thereby for state or local purposes so as to affect this mortgage; or

(k) A petition in bankruptcy is filed by or against Mortgagor, or Mortgagor makes an assignment for the benefit of creditors or receives the benefit of any insolvency or reorganization act.

19. Waiver of provisions. Any failure by Mortgagee to insist upon the strict performance by Mortgagor of any term or provision hereof shall not be deemed to be a waiver of that or any other term or provision. Notwithstanding such failure, Mortgagee may thereafter insist upon strict performance by Mortgagor of any or all of the terms and provisions of this mortgage. All clauses and covenants in this agreement that are similar to those construed under Section 254 of the Real Property Law shall also be construed under that section. The additional clauses and covenants herein shall afford rights that are supplemental to, and not exclusive of, the rights conferred by the clauses and covenants construed by Section 254. Such additional clauses and covenants shall not impair, modify, alter, or defeat such rights even though they relate to the same subject matter or provide for different or additional rights in the same or similar contingencies as clauses and covenants construed by Section 254. Mortgagee's rights hereunder shall be separate, distinctive, and cumulative, and none of them shall be exclusive of any other. Moreover, no act of Mortgagee shall be construed as an election to proceed under any one provision hereof to the exclusion of any other provision.

20. Eminent domain. Notwithstanding any contrary provisions of existing or future law, Mortgagor shall continue to pay interest on the entire principal sum secured as such principal is reduced from time to time at the rate specified in the note, until any award or payment made by any public or quasi-public authority or corporation for taking by eminent domain of the entire or part of the Mortgaged Premises, or any easement therein, has actually been received by Mortgagee. Any reduction in the principal sum resulting from the application by Mortgagee of such award or payment shall be deemed to take effect only on the date of such receipt.

21. Inspection of premises. Mortgagee and all persons authorized by it may enter and inspect the Mortgaged Premises at all reasonable times.

22. Further assurances. Promptly upon request, Mortgagor shall execute and deliver to Mortgagee all additional instruments or assurances that are reasonably necessary or desirable to further secure the lien of this mortgage, including the execution and delivery of one or more financing statements on Form UCC-1 under the Uniform Commercial Code.

23. Definitions. Wherever used in this mortgage, unless the text clearly indicates a contrary intent or otherwise specifically provided herein, the word "Mortgagor" shall be construed to mean the "Mortgagor and/or any subsequent owner or owners of the Mortgaged Premises," and the word "Mortgagee" shall be construed to mean "Mortgagee or any subsequent holder or holders of the mortgage." Other terms used herein shall be defined as follows: "Declaration" means the instrument recorded, as provided above, in the office of the City Register in New York County submitting the property to the provisions of the Condominium Act; "Bylaws" means the instrument required by Section 339-u of the Condominium Act providing for the operation of the property, a true copy of which is annexed to the Declaration; and

"Rules and Regulations" mean the instrument referred to in clause (i) of Section 339-v of the Condominium Act, relating to restrictions and requirements respecting the use and maintenance of the Unit and the common elements of the property.

This mortgage cannot be changed or terminated orally.

In witness whereof this mortgage has been duly executed by Mortgagor.

_____ (L.S.)

Henry Phillips

[Acknowledgment]

145 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms
J. MORTGAGE FINANCING

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.109

FORM 21.109 Cooperative apartment loan security agreement

COMMENT

This is a form for an agreement giving a creditor a security interest in the shares of stock and proprietary lease allocated to a cooperative apartment, as a part of the financing of the debtor's purchase of the apartment. Although similar to the financing of a purchase of real property, the financing of the purchase of a cooperative apartment must be structured differently because the purchaser is buying an interest in the cooperative corporation and a lease, rather than an interest in real property. Unlike a mortgage, a security interest in shares of stock of a cooperative corporation, or in a proprietary lease from such a corporation, is subject to the provisions of U.C.C. Article 9. This form provides for the execution and filing of a financing statement as provided by the Uniform Commercial Code for secured transactions.

Truth in Lending

A cooperative apartment loan security agreement must comply with the requirements of the Truth in Lending Act. The Federal Reserve Board has issued model disclosure forms and clauses which are published in an appendix to Regulation Z. A creditor is not required to use the model disclosure forms; however, they are a useful guide in drafting such forms.

FORM

Loan Security Agreement

THIS AGREEMENT made _____ [date], between _____, residing at _____ Street, City of _____, State of _____ ("Debtor"), and _____ Bank Corp., a corporation incorporated under the laws of the State of _____, having its principal office _____ Avenue, City of _____, State of _____ ("Secured Party").

WHEREAS:

A. Debtor has executed, or is about to execute, a Purchase Agreement for the purchase of _____ shares of capital stock of _____ Cooperative Apartment Corp. ("Corporation") allocated to Apartment No. _____ in premises known as _____ Road, City of _____, State of _____, and the acquisition of the accompanying proprietary lease at the purchase price of $_____.

B. Pursuant to the Purchase Agreement, Debtor has made or is about to make the down payment of $_____, leaving the remainder of the purchase price in the amount of $_____ to be furnished by the Secured Party, for the account of and as a loan to the Debtor.

C. Debtor desires to borrow from the Secured Party, and the Secured Party is willing to lend to Debtor the remainder of the purchase price, namely $_____, all upon the terms and conditions set forth below.

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of their mutual promises, it is hereby covenanted and agreed as follows:

1. The Debtor hereby agrees to borrow from the Secured Party the sum of $_____, and, provided that Debtor makes the payment required to be made by Debtor pursuant to the Purchase Agreement, Secured Party shall lend Debtor the sum of $_____. The sum borrowed by Debtor from Secured Party shall be paid to the Corporation/Seller on behalf of and for the account of the Debtor.

2. Simultaneously herewith, Debtor shall execute the following documents: (a) a promissory note in form annexed hereto, (b) a stock power in form annexed hereto, (c) an assignment of proprietary lease in form annexed hereto, and (d) a pledge of the shares in the cooperative corporation. Debtor agrees that provided that the Secured Party makes the loan provided for herein and advances to the Corporation/Seller on behalf of and for the account of Debtor the sum borrowed, then when the certificate of shares being purchased by Debtor and the proprietary lease are issued, such certificate and proprietary lease shall be delivered to Secured Party, and Debtor hereby authorizes the Corporation to deliver the certificate and lease to Secured Party. The certificate and lease are herein sometimes collectively referred to as "collateral" or "security."

3. Debtor hereby grants to Secured Party, as collateral security for the payment of the note, a continuing security interest in and to all of Debtor's right, title and interest in and to the shares of the Corporation to be evidenced by the certificate issued to Debtor and the proprietary lease entered into between Debtor and the Corporation for Apartment No. _____, together with the proceeds thereof. Upon repayment in full of the entire balance of the indebtedness hereby secured, together with accrued interest, the documents referred to in paragraph 2 above held by Secured Party, or its assignee or designee, shall forthwith be returned to Debtor, the security interest created herein shall cease and terminate, and this agreement shall be deemed terminated without further liability on the part of any party to the other. Debtor shall execute a Financing Statement and hereby authorize the Secured Party to file it.

4. In case any one or more of the following events ("Events of Default") shall occur, then, at the option of Secured Party, the note shall immediately become due and payable, together with accrued interest, without presentation, demand, protest or notice of any kind, all of which are hereby expressly waived:

- a. Nonpayment continued for thirty (30) days after the due date of any payment of interest and/or principal, or
- b. A default in the payment of maintenance charges and/or any other charges or payments required to be made pursuant to terms of the proprietary lease, which default is not cured within the time and in the manner provided for in the proprietary lease, or
- c. A default in performance of and/or a breach of any of the terms, covenants and conditions of the proprietary lease on the part of Debtor to be performed which is not cured within the time and in the manner provided for in the proprietary lease, or
- d. A termination and/or cancellation of the proprietary lease by the Corporation, or
- e. In the event Debtor shall become insolvent, or shall file a petition in bankruptcy, or take advantage of the Bankruptcy Act and/or any other law for the relief of debtors, or shall make an assignment for the benefit of creditors, or if a receiver, trustee or liquidator, whether temporary or permanent, shall be appointed for the property of Debtor, or if an involuntary proceeding under any bankruptcy law or insolvency act shall be instituted against Debtor and such proceedings and/or appointments shall not be dismissed or vacated within thirty (30) days after such institution or appointment, or if Debtor admits in writing Debtor's inability to pay his or her debts as they become due, or if Debtor becomes insolvent howsoever otherwise evidenced, or
- f. In the event Debtor shall transfer, sell, assign or grant a further security interest in the shares and/or proprietary lease without Debtor having paid Secured Party the entire remaining balance of Debtor's indebtedness, with interest, in or before the date of Debtor's transfer, sale, assignment or granting of a further security interest, or
- g. In the event Debtor sublets, or offers to sublet, or assigns, or offers to assign the proprietary lease for Apartment No. _____ without the prior written consent of Secured Party, which consent will not be unreasonably withheld if the Corporation's Board of Directors shall consent thereto.

Without limiting any of the terms and provisions contained in the Note, it is agreed that a default by Debtor in the performance of any of the terms or provisions on Debtor's part to be performed under the proprietary lease for Apartment No. _____, or the giving of any notice of surrender, cancellation or expiration of the proprietary lease (which notice the obligor represents shall not be given), shall constitute a default under the Note and entitle the holder of the Note, at its option, to exercise any and all of the rights under the Note and this Agreement.

5. In the event of the occurrence of any one or more of the Events of Default, and if the Secured Party elects to accelerate the Note, then written notice of such election and acceleration (which notice shall specify the amount of principal and accrued interest due) shall be given by Secured Party to the Debtor by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested; and, if Debtor shall fail to pay such principal and accrued interest within five (5) days of receipt (it being understood that if Debtor shall refuse to accept delivery of such notice, the date of refusal shall be deemed to be the date of receipt), of such notice, then Secured Party in addition to any and all rights which it might have pursuant to the Uniform Commercial Code, may, but shall not be obligated to, sell, assign and deliver the security at public or private sale, for cash, upon credit or for future delivery with or without advertisement of the time, place, or terms of sale except that if the sale be a private sale, five (5) days' notice in writing from Secured Party of the time and place of sale and the terms of sale shall be given to Debtor. In case of any sale on credit or for future delivery, the security sold shall be retained by Secured Party until the sale price is paid, but Secured Party shall incur no liability if the purchaser fails to take up and pay for the security sold. In case of any such failure, the security may be again sold. At any sale, Secured Party, if Secured Party is an individual or individuals, may purchase the security sold, free from all right of redemption of the Debtor which is hereby waived and released. In case of any sale, Secured Party may first deduct all expenses of collections, sale and delivery of the security sold and any expenses incidental thereto, including, but not limited to, reasonable attorneys' fees, brokerage commissions and transfer taxes, and may then apply the residue to any liability of the undersigned under the Note, and shall return the surplus, if any, to Debtor. Any sale conducted upon the foregoing terms shall be deemed commercially reasonable. Debtor agrees that the Secured Party shall have the right to continue to retain the security until such time that Secured Party in its reasonable judgment believes that an advantageous price can be secured for the security, and Secured Party shall not be liable to Debtor for any loss in the value of the security by reason of any such retention of the security by Secured Party. If Secured Party shall not commence to dispose of the security within ninety (90) days after the right to dispose of the security shall have accrued, then Debtor shall have the right, at any time thereafter, and prior to the time that Secured Party shall commence to dispose of the security, to request of Secured Party that it dispose of the security, or Debtor himself or herself, at Debtor's own cost and expense, shall have the right to dispose of the security; provided however, that in the case of the former, Secured Party shall not be obligated to dispose of the security unless the net proceeds to be received therefrom shall be sufficient to satisfy in full the then obligations of Debtor to Secured Party, and that in the case of the latter, any disposition of the security by Debtor must be upon terms and conditions consented to by Secured Party. Secured Party shall be obligated to give consent to such terms and conditions if the net proceeds to be received from such disposition shall be sufficient to satisfy in full the then obligations of Debtor to Secured Party. Secured Party shall not be liable to Debtor for any agents' or brokers' fees in the event Debtor disposes of the security. Secured Party shall have the right to retain the security in partial discharge of Debtor's obligations to Secured Party. If Secured Party elects to retain the security, notice thereof by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested shall be given to Debtor, and if Debtor objects in writing within thirty (30) days after receipt of notification (it being understood that if Debtor shall refuse to accept delivery of the notice, the date of refusal shall be deemed to be the date of receipt) then and in such event Secured Party shall commence to dispose of the security in the manner hereinbefore set forth. In connection with any sale or disposition of the security, Secured Party shall have the absolute right to complete the incomplete stock power and assignment for the purpose of transferring the shares and proprietary lease.

6. Debtor agrees that until the Note together with accrued interest is paid in full, Debtor will not avail himself or herself of his or her rights under the proprietary lease to cancel and terminate the proprietary lease. A breach hereof shall be deemed an Event of Default entitling Secured Party to the rights provided for in paragraphs 5 and 6 hereof.

7. Debtor agrees that Debtor will not, and may not, assert against Secured Party or against the collateral security any claim, demand, offset or counterclaim arising out of the Purchase Agreement; and Debtor agrees that Debtor's sole remedies as a subscriber to the shares, as a shareholder and as a proprietary lessee are those afforded to all subscribers, shareholders and proprietary lessees in the Purchase Agreement and the proprietary lease. In an action on the Note or Security Agreement, Debtor will not interpose any defense or counterclaim which does not arise from this Loan Transaction.

8. Debtor agrees that the Corporation, its officers, agents, servants, employees and/or attorneys shall have no responsibility to Debtor hereunder other than to deliver the collateral security to Secured Party, or to return the collateral security to Debtor, all in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement.

9. Secured Party may, at its option, make any payments for Debtor's account, or do any acts required to be done in order to prevent a default in or breach of the proprietary lease, but Secured Party under no circumstances shall be obligated to do so. In the event Secured Party makes any of such payments or does any of such acts, the payments and the costs of such acts, together with interest thereon shall be added to the indebtedness hereby secured and the principal amount of the note shall be deemed increased accordingly; and the provisions thereof relating to no personal liability on the part of Debtor shall apply with equal force and effect to any such payments and/or costs.

10. In the event of a default as aforesaid, Debtor shall immediately remove himself or herself from the premises and give possession thereof to Secured Party. In the event that proceedings to evict Debtor become necessary, the cost of removal shall be borne by Debtor and the cost of the same may be added to the total indebtedness, evidenced by Debtor's Note.

11. The term "Secured Party" as used in this Agreement, includes the Secured Party named herein, its successors, assigns, heirs, executors, administrators and legal representatives.

12. The pronouns used herein shall be male, female or neuter and in the singular or plural, whichever the sense requires.

13. The term "Debtor" shall be read "Debtors" if more than one person is the Debtor, and in such event, the obligation of the Debtor shall be joint and several.

14. The Debtor shall not assign this Agreement without the prior written consent of Secured Party. Secured Party shall have the right to assign this Loan-Security Agreement and the collateral held as security hereunder and all of its right, title and interest hereunder and in said collateral without Debtor's consent.

15. Except as prohibited by statute, the respective parties hereto shall and they hereby do waive trial by jury in an action, proceeding or counterclaim brought by any of the parties hereto against the other on any matter whatsoever arising out of or in any way connected with this Agreement, the collateral security and/or the relationship created thereby and with respect to any matter for which a jury trial cannot be waived, the parties hereto agree not to assert any such claim as a counterclaim in nor move to consolidated same with any action or proceeding in which a jury trial is waived.

16. Secured Party agrees that until there has been an Event of Default and Secured Party has elected to accelerate the indebtedness, Debtor shall have the exclusive right to vote the shares as a shareholder at any meeting of shareholders of the Corporation, shall be entitled to receive and retain dividends, if any, from the Corporation, shall be exclusively entitled to the benefits of income tax deductions available to all shareholders of the Corporation, shall have the right to occupy the apartment as proprietary lessee and shall have all other rights and privileges of a shareholder and proprietary lessee. Debtor agrees that Debtor shall have the exclusive responsibility to the Corporation for payment of all maintenance charges and other charges to become due under the proprietary lease, shall be exclusively responsible for the performance of all of the terms, covenants and conditions of the proprietary lease on the part of the lessee to be performed and that Secured Party shall have no responsibility whatsoever under the proprietary lease and shall under no circumstances be deemed the lessee of the apartment for any purpose. Secured Party shall be entitled to receive distributions of capital, if any, from the Corporation, to be applied in reduction of the indebtedness in inverse order.

17. This Agreement contains the full understanding of the parties and may not be amended, altered, discharged or terminated, except by another instrument in writing signed by the party sought to be charged therewith, or by his, her or its duly authorized agent.

The parties hereto have set their hands and seals this ____ day of _____ [date].

Debtor

Bank Corp.,

By _____

146 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms
J. MORTGAGE FINANCING

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.110

FORM 21.110 Junior lien note and deed of trust--plain language note--right of rescission

The purpose of this note and deed of trust is to secure a loan for home improvement, or any other purpose where the funds are not used to purchase the property subject to the deed of trust. The borrower may use proceeds of the loan for purposes totally unrelated to the property used as security for the loan. The property may be subject to a first mortgage or deed of trust (usually a purchase money mortgage) and any other mortgage or lien which does not affect the lender's authority or inclination to make the loan.

Plain language note

This note is another example of a plain language note that is intended to comply with state plain language laws applicable, generally, to consumer transactions. The note uses everyday business terms, rather than words usually understood only by attorneys, experienced mortgage lenders, or other professionals. The note is written in the first and second person, rather than the usual third person syntax common to the majority of legal documents.

Prior mortgages

The deed of trust contains provisions dealing with prior mortgages or deeds of trust. Although the lender may require a monthly payment to cover real estate taxes and assessments, the borrower is not required to make these additional payments to the extent they are made to a senior lender (paragraph 2 of the deed of trust). The borrower is required, by the junior deed of trust, to perform all of the borrower's obligations under the senior mortgage or any other security instrument which is a superior lien (paragraph 4 of the deed of trust). A breach of this covenant, as well as any other covenant of the borrower in the junior deed of trust, is a breach of the agreement and a basis for acceleration (paragraph 16 of the deed of trust). If the borrower fails to make payments under prior security agreements, the lender may make such payments, add the amounts paid to the principal amount of the loan and accrue interest (paragraph 7 of the deed of trust).

Assumption of junior lien

The deed of trust contains relatively detailed provisions for assumption of the lien of the deed of trust by a transferee of the borrower. Common practice results in the inclusion of a provision that permits the lender to accelerate the loan upon any transfer of title by the borrower. Here the right to accelerate is limited. The borrower is permitted, without risk of acceleration, to place liens on the property provided that they are subordinate to the deed of trust, or rent the property for a period of three years or less. Transfer by reason of death is also excluded as grounds for acceleration. The lender's election to accelerate upon a transfer of title to a new owner must be based upon an evaluation of the transferee's creditworthiness and its effect on the lender's security, or the likelihood of a breach of the deed of trust terms. (Paragraph 15 of deed of trust.)

Truth in Lending right of rescission

In a consumer credit transaction which will result in a mortgage, deed of trust, or security interest on the consumer's principal dwelling, the Truth in Lending Act (15 USC 1601 et seq.) permits the consumer to rescind the transaction within three days. The purpose of the provision is to give the consumer the opportunity to reconsider the transaction which would have the serious consequence of encumbering his title to his home. The right to rescind extends until the end of the third day following the later of consummation of the transaction or the delivery of the required information and rescission forms together with the material disclosure statement.

The Truth in Lending Act requires the creditor to provide the consumer with a statement regarding the right to rescind together with an appropriate form for the consumer to exercise the right to rescind. The term "material disclosure" refers to the disclosure required under the Act for such items as the annual percentage rate, finance charge, etc. The Federal Reserve Board, in Appendix H to Regulation Z (12 CFR 226), has published both model information and rescission forms and disclosure forms. A creditor who uses the model forms is deemed to meet the disclosure requirements of the Act (except for the correctness of the figures used). One of the model information and rescission forms is used in this form.

of right to rescind

The creditor is required, under Regulation Z, to provide two copies of the notice of the right to rescind to each consumer entitled to rescind. If more than one consumer has the right to rescind, the exercise of the right by one consumer is effective as to all of them. The notice must be contained in a separate document which identifies the transaction. The notice must clearly and conspicuously disclose:

- (1) The retention or acquisition of a security interest in the consumer's principal dwelling;
- (2) The consumer's right to rescind the transaction;
- (3) How to exercise the right to rescind, with a form for that purpose, designating the address of the creditor's place of business;
- (4) The effect of rescission; and

(5) The date the rescission period expires.

If the required notice or material disclosure is not given, the consumer's right to rescind extends for three years. The Truth in Lending Act allows 20 days within which the creditor must refund the consumer's money and take possession of the property sold after the consumer exercises the right to rescind.

Transactions exempt from the right of rescission

There are several consumer credit transactions in which the right of rescission does not apply. If the transaction does not result in a lien on the consumer's dwelling, there is no right of rescission. It does not apply to a transaction in which a mortgage, deed of trust, purchase money security interest arising under an installment sales contract (e.g., purchase of mobile home), or an equivalent consensual security interest is created or retained against the consumer's dwelling to finance the acquisition or initial construction of the dwelling. It does not apply to a refinancing or consolidation of the principal balance of an existing extension of credit, provided no new advances are made, nor to advances under a preexisting open-end credit plan within the previously established credit limit. Although these transactions are exempt from the three-day right of rescission rule, the Truth in Lending disclosure requirements, i.e., annual percentage rate, finance charge, etc., may still apply.

FORMS(1) Note*JUNIOR LIEN NOTE

U.S. $20,000

Newport Beach, California

November 3, _____ [year]

1. Borrower's promise to pay. In return for a loan that I have received, I promise to pay $20,000 (this amount will be called "principal"), plus interest, to the order of the Lender. The Lender is San Bernardino Federal Savings and Loan Association. I understand that the Lender may transfer this Note. The Lender or anyone who takes this Note by transfer and who is entitled to receive payments under this Note will be called the "Note holder."

2. Interest. I will pay interest at a rate of 10 percent per year. Interest will be charged on that part of principal which has not been paid. Interest will be charged beginning on the date of this Note and continuing until the full amount of principal has been paid.

3. Payments. I will pay principal and interest by making payments each month. Each of my monthly payments will be in the amount of $264.31.

I will make my monthly payments on the 15th day of each month beginning on December 15, _____ [year]. I will make these payments every month until I have paid all of the principal and interest and any other charges, described below, that I may owe under this Note. If, on November 15, _____ [year] I still owe amounts under this Note, I will pay all those amounts, in full, on that date.

I will make my monthly payments at 20 West Second Street, San Bernardino, California, or at a different place if required by the Note holder.

4. Failure to make payment.

(a) Late charge for overdue payments. If the Note holder has not received the full amount of any of my monthly payments by the end of ten calendar days after the date it is due, I will pay a late charge to the Note holder. The amount of the charge will be 5 percent of my overdue payment, but not less than U.S. $14 and not more than U.S. $28. I will pay this late charge only once on any late payment.

(b) Notice from note holder. If I do not pay the full amount of each monthly payment on time, the Note holder may send me a written notice telling me that if I do not pay the overdue amount by a certain date I will be in default. That date must be at least ten days after the date on which the notice is mailed to me or, if it is not mailed, ten days after the date on which it is delivered to me.

(c) Default. If I do not pay the overdue amount by the date stated in the notice described in (b) above, I will be in default. If I am in default, the Note holder may require me to pay immediately the full amount of principal which has not been paid and all the interest that I owe on that amount.

Even if, at a time when I am in default, the Note holder does not require me to pay immediately in full as described above, the Note holder will still have the right to do so if, at a later time, I am in default again.

(d) Payment of note holder's costs and expenses. If the Note holder has required me to pay immediately in full as described above, the Note holder will have the right to be paid back for all of its reasonable costs and expenses. Those expenses include, for example, reasonable attorney's fees.

5. Borrower's payments before they are due. I have the right to make payments of principal at any time before they are due. Any payment made before it is due is known as a "prepayment." A prepayment of all of the unpaid principal is known as a "full prepayment." A prepayment of only part of the unpaid principal is known as a "partial prepayment." I may make a full prepayment or a partial prepayment without paying any penalty. The Note holder will use all of my prepayments to reduce the amount of principal that I owe under this Note. If I make a partial prepayment, there will be no delays in the due dates or changes in the amounts of my monthly payments unless the Note holder agrees in writing to those delays or changes. I may make a full prepayment at any time. If I choose to make a partial prepayment, the Note holder may require me to make the prepayment on the same days that one of my monthly payments is due. The Note holder may also require that the amount of my partial prepayment be equal to the amount of principal that would have been part of my next one or more monthly payments.

6. Borrower's waivers. I waive my rights to require the Note holder to do certain things. Those things are: (a) to demand payment of amounts due (known as "presentment"); (b) to give notice that amounts due have not been paid (known as "notice of dishonor"); and (c) to obtain an official certification of nonpayment (known as a "protest"). Anyone else (i) who agrees to keep the promises made in this Note, (ii) who agrees to make payments to the Note holder if I fail to keep my promises under this Note, or (iii) who signs this Note to transfer it to someone else (known as "guarantors, sureties, and endorsers"), also waives these rights.

7. Giving of notices. Any notice that must be given to me under this Note will be given by delivering it or by mailing it by certified mail addressed to me at the Property Address below. A notice will be delivered or mailed to me at a different address if I give the Note holder a notice of my different address.

Any notice that must be given to the Note holder under this Note will be given by mailing it by certified mail, return receipt requested, to the Note holder at the address stated in Section 3 above. A notice will be mailed to the Note holder at a different address if I am given a notice of that different address.

8. This note covered by deed of trust. A Deed of Trust, dated November 3, _____ [year], protects the Note holder from possible losses which might result if I do not keep the promises which I make in this Note. That Deed of Trust describes how and under what conditions I may be required to make immediate payment in full of all amounts that I owe under this Note.

9. Responsibility of persons under this note. If more than one person signs this Note, each of us is fully and personally obligated to pay the full amount owed and to keep all of the promises made in this Note. Any guarantor, surety, or endorser of this Note (as described in Section 6 above) is also obligated to do these things. The Note holder may enforce its rights under this Note against each of us individually or against all of us together. This means that any one of us may be required to pay all of the amounts owed under this Note. Any person who takes over my rights or obligations under this Note will have all of my rights and must keep all of my promises made in this Note. Any person who takes over the rights or obligations of a guarantor, surety, or endorser of this Note (as described in Section 6 above) is also obligated to keep all of the promises made in this Note.

NOTICE TO BORROWER

Do not sign this Note if it contains blank spaces. All spaces should be completed before you sign.

1036 Cleveland Avenue

Peter A. Morrison

Newport Beach, Orange County, CA

Ann B. Morrison

(2) Deed of trust

JUNIOR LIEN DEED OF TRUST

THIS DEED OF TRUST is made November 3, _____ [year], among the Trustor, Peter A. Morrison and Ann B. Morrison, married to each other ("Borrower"), Pacific American National Title and Guarantee Insurance Company of California ("Trustee"), and the Beneficiary, San Bernardino Federal Savings and Loan Association, a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the United States of America, whose address is 20 West Second Street, San Bernardino, California ("Lender").

Borrower, in consideration of the indebtedness herein recited and the trust herein created, irrevocably grants and conveys to Trustee, in trust, with power of sale, the following described property located in the County of Orange, State of California:

[Insert Property Description]

which has the address of 1036 Cleveland Avenue, Newport Beach, California 99909 ("Property Address");

Together with all the improvements now or hereafter erected on the property, and all easements, rights, appurtenances, and rents (subject however to the rights and authorities given herein to Lender to collect and apply such rents), all of which shall be deemed to be and remain a part of the property covered by this Deed of Trust; and all of the foregoing, together with said property (or the leasehold estate if this Deed of Trust is on a leasehold) are hereinafter referred to as the "Property";

To secure to Lender the repayment of the indebtedness of principal and interest evidenced by Borrower's note dated November 3, _____ [year] ("Note"), which is in the face amount of $20,000, and which provides for monthly payments with the balance of the indebtedness, if not sooner paid, due and payable on November 15, _____ [year]; the payment of all other sums, with interest, advanced in accordance herewith to protect the security of this Deed of Trust; and the performance of the covenants and agreements of Borrower herein contained.

Borrower covenants that Borrower is lawfully seized of the estate hereby conveyed and has the right to grant and convey the Property, and that the Property is unencumbered, except for a mortgage or deed of trust dated June 23, _____ [year], and recorded at Book 1095, Page 316, on June 25, _____ [year], as Instrument No. 178239 of Official Records in the Office of the Recorder of the County of Orange, State of California (herein "Senior Mortgage") and other encumbrances of record. Borrower covenants that Borrower will warrant and defend generally the title to the Property against all claims and demands, subject to encumbrances of record.

Borrower and Lender covenant and agree as follows:

1. Payment of principal and interest. Borrower shall promptly pay when due the principal and interest indebtedness evidenced by the Note and late charges as provided in the Note.

2. Funds for taxes and insurance. Subject to applicable law or a written waiver by Lender, Borrower shall pay to Lender on the day monthly payments of principal and interest are payable under the Note, until the Note is paid in full, a sum ("Funds") equal to one twelfth of the yearly taxes and assessments which may attain priority over this Deed of Trust, and ground rents on the Property, if any, plus one twelfth of yearly premium installments for hazard insurance, plus one twelfth of yearly premium installments for mortgage insurance, if any, all as reasonably estimated initially and from time to time by Lender on the basis of assessments and bills and reasonable estimates thereof. Borrower shall not be obligated to make such payments of Funds to Lender to the extent that Borrower makes such payments to the holder of the Senior Mortgage.

If Borrower pays Funds to Lender, the Funds shall be held in an institution the deposits or accounts of which are insured or guaranteed by a federal or state agency (including Lender if it is such an institution). Lender shall apply the Funds to pay said taxes, assessments, insurance premiums and ground rents. Lender may not charge for so holding and applying the Funds, analyzing said account or verifying and compiling said assessments and bills, unless Lender pays Borrower interest on the Funds and applicable law permits Lender to make such a charge. Borrower and Lender may agree in writing at the time of execution of this Deed of Trust that interest on the Funds shall be paid to Borrower, and unless such agreement is made or applicable law requires such interest to be paid, Lender shall not be required to pay Borrower any interest or earnings on the Funds. Lender shall give to Borrower, without charge, an annual accounting of the Funds showing credits and debits to the Funds and the purpose for which each debit to the Funds was made. The Funds are pledged as additional security for the sums secured by this Deed of Trust.

If the amount of the Funds held by Lender, together with the future monthly installments of Funds payable before the due dates of taxes, assessments, insurance premiums and ground rents, exceeds the amount required to pay said taxes, assessments, insurance premiums and ground rents as they fall due, such excess shall be, at Borrower's option, either promptly repaid to Borrower or credited to Borrower on monthly installments of Funds. If the amount of the Funds held by Lender is not sufficient to pay taxes, assessments, insurance premiums and ground rents as they fall due, Borrower shall pay to Lender any amount necessary to make up the deficiency within 30 days from the date notice is mailed by Lender to Borrower requesting payment thereof.

Upon payment in full of all sums secured by this Deed of Trust, Lender shall promptly refund to Borrower all Funds held by Lender. If under paragraph 16 the Property is sold or is otherwise acquired by Lender, Lender shall apply, no later than immediately before the sale of the Property or its acquisition by Lender, any Funds held by Lender at the time of application as a credit against the sums secured by this Deed of Trust.

3. Application of payments. Unless applicable law provides otherwise, all payments received by Lender under the Note and paragraphs 1 and 2 shall be applied by Lender first in payment of amounts, if any, payable to Lender by Borrower under paragraph 2, then to interest payable on the Note, and then to the principal of the Note.

4. Prior mortgages and deeds of trust; charges; liens. Borrower shall perform all of Borrower's obligations under the Senior Mortgage or any other security agreement with a lien which has priority over this Deed of Trust, including Borrower's covenants to make payments when due and to keep the Property in compliance with all environmental laws, federal, state and local. Borrower shall pay all taxes, assessments and other charges, fines and impositions attributable to the Property which may attain a priority over this Deed of Trust, and leasehold payments or ground rents, if any.

5. Hazard insurance. Borrower shall keep all existing or future improvements on the Property insured against loss by fire, hazards included within the term "extended coverage," and all other hazards Lender may require and in such amounts and for such periods as Lender may require.

The insurance carrier providing the insurance shall be chosen by Borrower subject to Lender's approval, which shall not be unreasonably withheld. All insurance policies and renewals shall be in form acceptable to Lender and include a standard mortgage clause in favor of and in form acceptable to Lender. Lender shall have the right to hold the policies and renewals.

In the event of loss, Borrower shall give prompt notice to the insurance carrier and Lender. Lender may make proof of loss if not made promptly by Borrower.

If the Property is abandoned by Borrower, or if Borrower fails to respond to Lender within 30 days from the date notice is mailed by Lender to Borrower that the insurance carrier offers to settle a claim for insurance benefits, Lender is authorized to collect and apply the insurance proceeds either to restoration or repair of the Property or to the sums secured by this Deed of Trust.

6. Preservation and maintenance of property; leaseholds; condominiums; planned unit developments. Borrower shall keep the Property in good repair, shall not commit waste or permit impairment or deterioration of the Property, shall use the property in compliance with all environmental laws, federal, state and local, and shall comply with the provisions of any lease if this Deed of Trust is on a leasehold. If this Deed of Trust is on a unit in a condominium or a planned unit development, Borrower shall perform all of Borrower's obligations under the declaration or covenants creating or governing the condominium or planned unit development, the Bylaws and regulations of the condominium or planned unit development, and constituent documents.

7. Protection of lender's security. If Borrower fails to perform the covenants and agreements contained in this Deed of Trust, or if any action or proceeding is commenced which materially affects Lender's interest in the Property, then Lender, upon notice to Borrower, may make such appearances, disburse such sums, and take all action necessary to protect Lender's interest. If Lender required mortgage insurance as a condition of making the loan secured by this Deed of Trust, Borrower shall pay the premiums required to maintain such insurance in effect until the requirement for such insurance terminates in accordance with Borrower's and Lender's written agreement or applicable law.

Any amounts disbursed by Lender under this paragraph 7, with interest, at the Note rate, shall become additional indebtedness of Borrower secured by this Deed of Trust. Unless Borrower and Lender agree to other terms of payment, such amounts shall be payable upon notice from Lender to Borrower requesting payment thereof. Nothing contained in this paragraph 7 shall require Lender to incur any expense or take any action.

8. Inspection. Lender may make or cause to be made reasonable entries upon and inspections of the Property, provided that Lender gives Borrower prior notice of any such inspection specifying reasonable cause therefor related to Lender's interest in the Property.

9. Borrower not released; forbearance by lender not waiver. Extension of the time for payment or modification of amortization of the sums secured by this Deed of Trust granted by Lender to any successor in interest of Borrower shall not operate to release, in any manner, the liability of the original Borrower and Borrower's successors in interest. Lender shall not be required to commence proceedings against such successor or refuse to extend time for payment or otherwise modify amortization of the sums secured by this Deed of Trust by reason of any demand made by the original Borrower and Borrower's successors in interest. Any forbearance by Lender in exercising any right or remedy hereunder, or otherwise afforded by applicable law, shall not be a waiver of or preclude the exercise of any such right or remedy.

10. Successors and assigns bound; joint and several liability; co-signers. The covenants and agreements herein contained shall bind, and the rights hereunder shall inure to, the respective successors and assigns of Lender and Borrower, subject to the provisions of paragraph 15. All covenants and agreements of Borrower shall be joint and several. Any Borrower who co-signs this Deed of Trust, but does not execute the Note, (a) is co-signing this Deed of Trust only to grant and convey that Borrower's interest in the Property to Trustee under the terms of this Deed of Trust, (b) is not personally liable on the Note or under this Deed of Trust, and (c) agrees that Lender and any other Borrower hereunder may agree to extend, modify, forbear, or make any other accommodations with regard to the terms of this Deed of Trust or the Note without that Borrower's consent and without releasing that Borrower or modifying this Deed of Trust as to that Borrower's interest in the Property.

11. Notice. Unless otherwise provided by applicable law, (a) any notice to Borrower under this Deed of Trust shall be given by certified mail, addressed to Borrower at the Property Address or at any other address Borrower designates by notice to Lender, and (b) any notice to Lender shall be given by certified mail, return receipt requested, to Lender's address stated herein or to any other address Lender designates by notice to Borrower. Any notice under this Deed of Trust shall be deemed to have been given to Borrower or Lender when given in the manner designated above.

12. Governing law; severability. This Deed of Trust shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the state of California, as well as by the local laws of the jurisdiction in which the Property is located. The preceding sentence shall not limit the applicability of federal law to this Deed of Trust. If any provision or clause of this Deed of Trust or the Note conflicts with applicable law, such conflict shall not affect other provisions of either instrument if the provisions can be given effect without the conflicting provision. To this end the provisions of this Deed of Trust and the Note are declared to be severable.

13. Borrower's copy. Borrower shall be furnished a conformed copy of the Note and of this Deed of Trust at the time of execution or after recordation.

14. Rehabilitation loan agreement. Borrower shall fulfill all of Borrower's obligations under any home rehabilitation, improvement, repair or other loan agreement which Borrower enters into with Lender. Lender may require Borrower to execute and deliver to Lender in a form acceptable to Lender, an assignment of any rights, claims or defenses which Borrower may have against parties who supply labor, materials or services in connection with improvements made to the Property.

15. Transfer of property; assumption. If all or any part of the Property or an interest therein is sold or transferred by Borrower, excluding (a) the creation of a lien or encumbrance subordinate to this Deed of Trust, (b) a transfer by devise, descent or by operation of law upon the death of a joint tenant, or (c) the grant of any leasehold interest of three years or less not containing an option to purchase, Borrower shall, upon Lender's request, submit information required to enable Lender to evaluate the transferee's creditworthiness as if a new loan were being made to the transferee. If Lender, on the basis of a review of the creditworthiness of the transferee and the value of the Property, reasonably determines that, as a result of the sale or transfer, Lender's security may be impaired, or that there is an increased likelihood of a breach of any covenant or agreement in this Deed of Trust, Lender may declare all of the sums secured by this Deed of Trust to be immediately due and payable.

If Lender exercises such option to accelerate, it shall mail Borrower notice of acceleration in accordance with paragraph 11. Such notice shall provide a period of not less than ten days from the date the notice is mailed within which Borrower may pay the sums declared due. If Borrower fails to pay such sums before the ten-day period expires, Lender may, without further notice or demand on Borrower, invoke any remedies permitted by paragraph 16.

16. Acceleration; remedies. Except as provided in paragraph 15, upon Borrower's breach of any covenant or agreement in this Deed of Trust, including the covenants to pay when due any sums secured by this Deed of Trust, Lender prior to acceleration shall mail notice to Borrower as provided in paragraph 11 specifying: (1) the breach; (2) the action required to cure such breach; (3) a date, not less than ten days from the date the notice is mailed to Borrower, by which such breach must be cured; and (4) that failure to cure such breach on or before the date specified in the notice may result in acceleration of the sums secured by this Deed of Trust and sale of the Property. The notice shall further inform Borrower of the right to reinstate after acceleration and the right to bring a court action to assert the nonexistence of a default or any other defense of Borrower to acceleration and sale. If the breach is not cured on or before the date specified in the notice, Lender may declare all of the sums secured by this Deed of Trust to be immediately due and payable without further demand and may invoke the power of sale and all other remedies permitted by applicable law. Lender shall be entitled to collect all reasonable costs and expenses incurred in pursuing the remedies provided in this paragraph 16, including reasonable attorney's fees.

If Lender invokes the power of sale, it shall execute or cause Trustee to execute a written notice of the occurrence of an event of default and of Lender's election to cause the Property to be sold, and shall cause such notice to be recorded in each county in which the Property or some part thereof is located. Lender or Trustee shall mail copies of such notice in the manner prescribed by applicable law. Trustee shall give public notice of sale to the persons and in the manner prescribed by applicable law. After the lapse of time required by applicable law, Trustee, without demand on Borrower, shall sell the Property at public auction to the highest bidder at the time and place and under the terms designated in the notice of sale in one or more parcels and in any order Trustee determines. Trustee may postpone sale of all or any parcel of the Property by public announcement at the time and place of any previously scheduled sale. Lender or its designee may purchase the Property at any sale.

Trustee shall deliver to the purchaser a Trustee's deed conveying the Property so sold without any covenant or warranty, expressed or implied. The recitals in the Trustee's deed shall be prima facie evidence of the truth of the statements made therein. Trustee shall apply the proceeds of the sale in the following order: (a) to all reasonable costs and expenses of the sale, including reasonable Trustee's and attorney's fees and costs of title evidence; (b) to all sums secured by this Deed of Trust; and (c) the excess, if any, to the person or persons legally entitled thereto.

17. Borrower's right to reinstate. Notwithstanding Lender's acceleration of the sums secured by this Deed of Trust due to Borrower's breach, Borrower may have any proceedings begun by Lender to enforce this Deed of Trust discontinued at any time prior to five days before sale of the Property pursuant to the power of sale contained in this Deed of Trust or at any time prior to entry of a judgment enforcing this Deed of Trust if: (a) Borrower pays Lender all sums which would be then due under this Deed of Trust and the Note had no acceleration occurred; (b) Borrower cures all breaches of any other of Borrower's covenants or agreements contained in this Deed of Trust; (c) Borrower pays all reasonable expenses incurred by Lender and Trustee in enforcing Borrower's covenants and agreements contained in this Deed of Trust, and in enforcing Lender's and Trustee's remedies as provided in paragraph 16, including reasonable attorney's fees; and (d) Borrower takes all action that Lender reasonably requires to assure that the lien of this Deed of Trust, Lender's interest in the Property and Borrower's obligation to pay the sums secured by this Deed of Trust shall continue unimpaired. Upon such payment and cure by Borrower, this Deed of Trust and the obligations secured hereby shall remain in full force and effect as if no acceleration had occurred.

18. Assignment of rents; appointment of receiver; lender in possession. As additional security hereunder, Borrower assigns to Lender the rents of the Property, except that Borrower may, before acceleration under paragraph 16 or abandonment of the Property, collect and retain such rents as they become due and payable.

Upon acceleration under paragraph 16 or abandonment of the Property, Lender, in person, by agent or by judicially appointed receiver may enter upon, take possession of and manage the Property, and collect the rents of the Property including those past due. All rents collected by Lender or the receiver shall be applied first to payment of the costs of management of the Property and collection of rents, including receiver's fees, premiums on receiver's bonds, and reasonable attorney's fees, and then to the sums secured by this Deed of Trust. Lender and the receiver shall be liable to account only for those rents actually received.

19. Reconveyance. Upon payment of all sums secured by this Deed of Trust, Lender shall request Trustee to reconvey the Property and shall surrender this Deed of Trust and all notes evidencing indebtedness secured by it to Trustee. Trustee shall reconvey the Property without warranty and without charge to the person or persons legally entitled thereto. Such person or persons shall pay all costs of recordation, if any.

20. Substitute trustee. Lender may, from time to time, remove Trustee or any trustee appointed hereunder and appoint a successor trustee. Without conveyance of the Property, the successor trustee shall succeed to all the title, power and duties conferred upon the Trustee herein and by applicable law.

21. Requests for notices. Borrower requests that copies of the notice of default and notice of sale be sent to Borrower's address, which is the Property Address. Lender requests that copies of notices of foreclosure from the holder of the Senior Mortgage and any other lien which has priority over this Deed of Trust be sent to Lender's address, as set forth on page one of this Deed of Trust, as provided by Section 2924b of the Civil Code of California.

22. Beneficiary or payoff demand statement. Lender may collect a fee not to exceed $60 for furnishing a beneficiary statement or a payoff demand statement as provided by Section 2943 of the Civil Code of California.

Borrower has executed this Deed of Trust.

Peter A. Morrison, Borrower

Ann B. Morrison, Borrower

[Acknowledgments]

REQUEST FOR RECONVEYANCE

To Trustee:

The undersigned is the holder of the note or notes secured by this Deed of Trust. Said note or notes, together with all other indebtedness secured by this Deed of Trust, have been paid in full. You are directed to cancel said note or notes and this Deed of Trust, which are delivered hereby, and to reconvey, without warranty, all the estate now held by you under this Deed of Trust to the person or persons legally entitled thereto.

Dated _____

(3) Notice of right to cancel

Your Right to Cancel

You are entering into a transaction that will result in a deed of trust which will be a lien on your home. You have the legal right under federal law to cancel this transaction, without cost, within three business days from whichever of the following events occurs last:

(1) the date of the transaction, which is _____ [date];

(2) the date you received your Truth in Lending disclosures; or

(3) the date you received this notice of your right to cancel.

If you cancel the transaction, the deed of trust is also cancelled. Within 20 calendar days after we receive your notice, we must take the steps necessary to reflect the fact that the deed of trust on your home has been cancelled, and we must return to you any money or property you have given to us or to anyone else in connection with this transaction.

You may keep any money or property we have given you until we have done the things mentioned above, but you must then offer to return the money or property. If it is impractical or unfair for you to return the property, you must offer its reasonable value. You may offer to return the property at your home or at the location of the property. Money must be returned to the address below. If we do not take possession of the money or property within 20 calendar days of your offer, you may keep it without further obligation.

How to Cancel

If you decide to cancel this transaction, you may do so by notifying us in writing at: San Bernardino Federal Savings and Loan Association, 195 Main Street, Newport Beach, California 00000. You may use any written statement that is signed and dated by you and states your intention to cancel, or you may use this notice by dating and signing below. Keep one copy of this notice because it contains important information about your rights.

If you cancel by mail or telegram, you must send the notice no later than midnight of (date) (or midnight of the third business day following the latest of the three events listed above). If you send or deliver your written notice to cancel some other way, it must be delivered to the above address no later than that time.

I WISH TO CANCEL

Consumer's Signature

Date _____

147 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms
J. MORTGAGE FINANCING

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.111

FORM 21.111 Plain language note and mortgage--residential mortgage loan

COMMENT

The note, and the mortgage following this note, are drafted to comply with New York's "plain language" law. This law is a reflection of the increasing number of state laws enacted to protect consumers from deceptive trade practices.

"Consumer transactions"

Consumer transactions are purchases or leases by individuals of goods, equipment, or real estate for their personal, family, or household use. This typically includes automobile sales or leases, apartment leases, appliance, or furniture installment sales as well as purchase money loans on the purchase of a personal residence secured by a mortgage. One area of abuse, which consumer protection laws are aimed at correcting, is the use of complicated language incomprehensible to consumers. In some situations, the consumer contract language is in direct contradiction to the oral representations of the seller, lessor, or creditor, or not a true expression of the agreement which the consumer believes was made.

Consumer protection laws

Some states have enacted all or parts of the Uniform Deceptive Trade Practices Act (UDTPA), including Georgia, Nebraska, New Mexico, and Hawaii. Other jurisdictions have enacted their own version of consumer protection laws. The various consumer protection laws and UDTPA prohibit persons selling, leasing, or lending to individuals in consumer transactions from using unfair or deceitful practices. Enforcement of the act may be solely in the hands of the state's highest law enforcement official, such as an attorney general, or consumers themselves may be allowed to bring a direct individual or class action. In addition to recovery of damages, consumers may be entitled to also recover attorney's fees and penalties. The Texas Deceptive Trade Practice-Consumer Protection Act goes so far as to permit the consumer to enjoin deceptive practices and obtain, in specified circumstances, treble damages. These statutory remedies are usually in addition to any remedies at common law or in equity which the individual may otherwise have.

Legal document language

Some courts have interpreted their jurisdiction's consumer protection law to proscribe the use of complicated, unclear, or deceptive language in consumer transaction legal documents. For example, the Pennsylvania courts have held that the Commonwealth's Consumer Protection Law forbids the use of incomprehensible language in a printed form of residential lease.

Plain language law

The New York "plain language" statute specifically addresses the use of "legalese" in consumer agreements. The act affirmatively requires (1) the use of common and every-day words in a clear and coherent manner, and (2) appropriately divided and captioned sections. The law applies to residential leases and every other written agreement where a consumer is a party and the subject matter, i.e., money, property, or services, is primarily for personal, family, or household use. A loan used by a consumer to purchase a principal residence, second home, or vacation home which is secured by a note and mortgage is a covered transaction.

Protection is given to sellers, creditors, and lessors under New York's law by a penalty limitation of $50 per consumer and $10,000 in class action situations. The penalty is in addition to actual damages which the consumer may be able to prove. No action can be brought by a consumer under the "plain language" law after both parties have fully performed their obligations. Good faith in attempting to comply with the law on the part of the seller, creditor, or lessor is a complete defense. Agreements involving amounts over $50,000 are specifically excluded from the provision's protection. The use of language required by federal law, rule, or regulation or by a governmental instrumentality is allowed without penalty or liability.

FORMS

(1) Plain language note

NOTE

U.S. $45,000

Newburgh, New York
November, 1, _____ [year]

1 . BORROWER'S PROMISE TO PAY

In return for a loan that I have received, I promise to pay $45,000 (this amount will be called "principal"), plus interest, to the order of the Lender. The Lender is Fifth National Bank of Ulster County. I understand that the Lender may transfer this Note. The Lender or anyone who takes this Note by transfer and who is entitled to receive payments under this Note will be called the "Note holder."

2 . INTEREST

I will pay interest at a rate of 10 percent per year. Interest will be charged on that part of principal which has not been paid. Interest will be charged beginning on the date of this Note and continuing until the full amount of principal has been paid.

3 . PAYMENTS

I will pay principal and interest by making payments every month. Each of my monthly payments will be in the amount of U.S. $394.91.

I will make my monthly payments on the first day of each month beginning on December 1, _____ [year]. I will make these payments every month until I have paid all of the principal and interest and any other charges, described below, that I may owe under this Note. If, on November 1, _____ [year], I still owe amounts under this Note, I will pay all those amounts, in full, on that date.

I will make my monthly payments at 50 West Main Street, Kingston, New York, or at a different place if required by the Note holder.

4 . BORROWER'S FAILURE TO PAY AS REQUIRED

(A) Late Charge for Overdue Payments

If the Note holder has not received the full amount of any of my monthly payments by the end of 15 calendar days after the date it is due, I will pay a late charge to the Note holder. The amount of the charge will be 1 percent of my overdue payment of principal and interest.

(B) Notice from Note Holder

If I do not pay the full amount of each monthly payment on time, the Note holder may send me a written notice telling me that if I do not pay the overdue amount by a certain date I will be in default. That date must be at least 30 days after the date on which the notice is mailed to me or, if it is not mailed, 30 days after the date on which it is delivered to me.

(C) Default

If I do not pay the overdue amount by the date stated in the notice described in (B) above, I will be in default. If I am in default, the Note holder may require me to pay immediately the full amount of principal which has not been paid and all the interest that I owe on that amount.

Even if, at a time when I am in default, the Note holder does not require me to pay immediately in full as described above, the Note holder will still have the right to do so if, at a later time, I am in default again.

(D) Payment of Note Holder's Costs and Expenses

If the Note holder has required me to pay immediately in full as described above, the Note holder will have the right to be paid back for all of its reasonable costs and expenses. Those expenses include, for example, reasonable attorney's fees.

5 . BORROWER'S PAYMENTS BEFORE THEY ARE DUE

(A) Borrower's Right to Make Prepayments

I have the right to make payments of principal before they are due. Any payment made before it is due is known as a "prepayment." A prepayment of only part of the unpaid principal is known as a "partial prepayment."

If I choose to make a partial prepayment, the Note holder may require me to make the prepayment on the same day that one of my monthly payments is due. The Note holder may also require that the amount of my partial prepayment be equal to the amount of principal that would have been part of my next one or more monthly payments. If I make a partial prepayment, there will be no delays in the due dates or changes in the amounts of my monthly payments unless the Note holder agrees in writing to those delays or changes. The Note holder will use all of my prepayments to reduce the amount of principal that I owe under this Note.

(B) Prepayment Charge

I will pay a prepayment charge to the Note holder only if a percentage and a date are filled in below and if I make the prepayment using money lent to me by a lender other than the Note holder. [Strike italics if not applicable.]

During any 12-month period ending on an anniversary of the date of this Note, I may make partial prepayments of up to $5,000 without charge. This amount will be called the "free prepayment amount."

I will pay a prepayment charge if the total of my prepayments during any such 12-month period is greater than the free prepayment amount. The prepayment charge will be a percentage of the amount by which my prepayments in any such 12-month period are greater than the free prepayment amount. That percentage will be 3 percent until November 1, _____ [year]; it will change to 2 percent on that date until November 1, _____ [year]; and it will change to 1 percent on that date until November 1, _____ [year]. After the last date filled in above, there will be no prepayment charge.

6 . BORROWER'S WAIVERS

I waive my rights to require the Note holder to do the following things: (A) to demand payment of amounts due (known as "presentment"); (B) to give notice that amounts due have not been paid (known as "notice of dishonor"); (C) to obtain an official certification of nonpayment (known as a "protest"). Anyone else (i) who agrees to keep the promises made in this Note, (ii) who agrees to make payments to Lender if I fail to keep my promises under this Note, or (iii) who signs this Note to transfer it to someone else (known as "guarantors, sureties, and endorsers"), also waives these rights.

7 . GIVING OF NOTICES

Any notice that must be given to me under this Note will be given by delivering it or by mailing it addressed to me at the Property Address below. A notice will be delivered or mailed to me at a different address if I give the Note holder a notice of my different address.

Any notice that must be given to the Note holder under this Note will be given by mailing it to the Note holder at the address stated in Section 3 above. A notice will be mailed to the Note holder at a different address if I am given a notice of that different address.

8 . THIS NOTE COVERED BY A MORTGAGE

A Mortgage, dated November 1, _____ [year], protects the Note holder from possible losses which might result if I do not keep the promises which I make in this Note. That Mortgage describes how and under what conditions I may be required to make immediate payment in full of all amounts that I owe under this Note.

9 . RESPONSIBILITY OF PERSONS UNDER THIS NOTE

If more than one person signs this Note, each of us is fully and personally obligated to pay the full amount owed and to keep all of the promises made in this Note. Any guarantor, surety, or endorser of this Note (as described in Section 6 above) is also obligated to do these things. The Note holder may enforce its rights under this Note against each of us individually or against all of us together. This means that any one of us may be required to pay all of the amounts owed under this Note.

Any person who takes over my rights or obligations under this Note will have all of my rights and must keep all of my promises made in this Note. Any person who takes over the rights or obligations of a guarantor, surety, or endorser of this Note (as described in Section 6 above) is also obligated to keep all of the promises made in this Note.

(SIGN ORIGINAL ONLY)

235 North Elm Street

Charles T. Conroy

Little Britan, New York
[property address]

Ellen C. Conroy

(2) Plain language mortgage

MORTGAGE

WORDS USED OFTEN IN THIS DOCUMENT

(A) "Mortgage." This document, which is dated November 1, _____ [year], will be called the "Mortgage."

(B) "Borrower." Charles T. Conroy and Ellen C. Conroy, husband and wife will sometimes be called the "Borrower" and sometimes simply "I."

(C) "Lender." Fifth National Bank of Ulster County will be called the "Lender." Lender is a corporation or association which was formed and which exists under the laws of the United States of America. Lender's address is 50 West Main Street, Kingston, New York.

(D) "Note." The note signed by Borrower and dated November 1, _____ [year], will be called the "Note." The Note shows that I owe Lender Forty Five Thousand and no/100 Dollars ($45,000) plus interest, which I have promised to pay in monthly payments of principal and interest and to pay in full by November 1, _____ [year].

(E) "Property." The property that is described below in the section titled "Description of the Property," will be called the "Property."

BORROWER'S TRANSFER TO LENDER OF RIGHTS IN THE PROPERTY

I mortgage, grant and convey the Property to Lender subject to the terms of this Mortgage. This means that, by signing this Mortgage, I am giving Lender those rights that are stated in this Mortgage and also those rights that the law gives to lenders who hold mortgages on real property. I am giving Lender these rights to protect Lender from possible losses that might result if I do not:

- (A) Pay all the amounts that I owe Lender as stated in the Note;
- (B) Pay, with interest, any amounts that Lender spends under this Mortgage, to protect the value of the Property and Lender's rights in the Property;
- (C) Pay, with interest, any other amounts that Lender lends to me as Future Advances under Paragraph 23 below; and
- (D) Keep all of my promises and agreements under this Mortgage.

DESCRIPTION OF THE PROPERTY

I give Lender rights in the following Property:

- (A) The property which is located at 235 North Elm Street, Little Britan, New York. This property is in Orange County in the State of New York. It has the following legal description:

[Insert Description]

If this property is a condominium, the following must be completed: This property is part of a condominium project known as Great Britan Gardens (called the "Condominium Project"). This property includes my unit and all of my rights in the common elements of the Condominium Project.

If this property is in a planned unit development, the following must be completed: This property is in a development which is a planned unit development known as _____ (called the "PUD"). The PUD was created by _____;

- (B) All buildings, structures and other improvements that are located on the property described in paragraph (A) of this section;
- (C) All rights in other property that I have as owner of the property described in paragraph (A) of this section. These rights are known as "easements, rights and appurtenances attached to the property;"
- (D) All rents or royalties from the property described in paragraph (A) of this section;
- (E) All mineral, oil and gas rights and profits, water, water rights and water stock that are part of the property described is paragraph (A) of this section;
- (F) All rights that I have in the land which lies in the streets or roads in front of, or next to, the property described in paragraph (A) of this section;
- (G) All fixtures on the property described in paragraphs (A) and (B) of this section. Usually, fixtures are items that are physically attached to buildings, such as hot water heaters;

(H) All of the property described in paragraphs (B) through (F) of this section that I acquire in the future, and all rights described in paragraphs (B) through (F) of this section that I acquire in the future;

(I) All replacements of or additions to the property described in paragraphs (B) through (F) and paragraph (H) of this section;

(J) All fixtures that: (i) are on the property described in paragraphs (A) and (B) of this section, and (ii) I acquire in the future, except for those fixtures that under the law are "consumer goods" and that I acquire more than ten days after the date of the Note; and

(K) All replacements of or additions to the fixtures that are on the property described in paragraphs (A) and (B) of this section, except for those replacements and additions that are: (i) made to fixtures that under the law are "consumer goods," and (ii) made more than ten days after the date of the Note.

It may be that I do not own the Property but am a tenant under a lease. In that case, the rights I am giving to Lender by this Mortgage are rights in my tenancy.

BORROWER'S RIGHT TO MORTGAGE THE PROPERTY AND BORROWER'S OBLIGATION TO DEFEND OWNERSHIP OF THE PROPERTY

I promise that except for the "exceptions" listed in any title insurance policy which insures Lender's rights in the Property: (A) I lawfully own the Property; (B) I have the right to mortgage, grant and convey the Property to Lender; and (C) there are no outstanding claims or charges against the Property.

I give a general warranty of title to Lender. This means that I will be fully responsible for any losses which Lender suffers because someone other than myself has some of the rights in the Property which I promise that I have. I promise that I will defend my ownership of the Property against any claims of such rights.

UNIFORM PROMISES

I promise and I agree with Lender as follows:

1 . BORROWER'S PROMISE TO PAY PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST UNDER THE NOTE AND TO FULFILL OTHER PAYMENT OBLIGATIONS

I will promptly pay to Lender when due: principal and interest under the Note; late charges and prepayment charges as stated in the Note; and principal and interest on Future Advances that I may receive under Paragraph 23 below.

2 . AGREEMENTS ABOUT MONTHLY PAYMENTS FOR TAXES AND INSURANCE

(A) Borrower's Obligation to Make Monthly Payments to Lender for Taxes and Insurance

I will pay to Lender all amounts necessary to pay for taxes, assessments, ground rents (if any), and hazard insurance on the Property and mortgage insurance (if any). I will pay those amounts to Lender unless Lender tells me, in writing, that I do not have to do so, or unless the law requires otherwise. I will make those payments on the same day that my monthly payments of principal and interest are due under the Note.

The amount of each of my payments under this Paragraph 2 will be the sum of the following:

- (i) One twelfth of the estimated yearly taxes, assessments and ground rents (if any) on the Property which under the law may be superior to this Mortgage; plus
- (ii) One twelfth of the estimated yearly premium for hazard insurance covering the Property; plus
- (iii) One twelfth of the estimated yearly premium for mortgage insurance (if any).

Lender will determine from time to time my estimated yearly taxes, assessments, ground rents and insurance premiums based upon existing assessments and bills, and reasonable estimates of future assessments and bills. (Taxes, assessments, ground rents and insurance premiums will be called "taxes and insurance.")

The amounts that I pay to Lender for taxes and insurance under this Paragraph 2 will be called the "Funds." The Funds are additional protection for Lender in case I do not fulfill my obligations under the Note and under this Mortgage.

(B) Lender's Obligations Concerning Borrower's Monthly Payments for Taxes and Insurance

Lender will keep the Funds in a savings or banking institution the deposits or accounts of which are insured or guaranteed by a federal or state agency. If Lender is such an institution then Lender may hold the Funds. Except as described in this Paragraph 2, Lender will use the Funds to pay taxes and insurance. Lender will give to me, without charge, an annual accounting of the Funds. That accounting must show all additions to and deductions from the Funds and the reason for each deduction.

Lender may not charge me for holding or keeping the Funds on deposit, for using the Funds to pay taxes and insurance, for analyzing my payments of Funds, or for receiving, verifying and totaling assessments and bills. However, Lender may charge me for these services if Lender pays me interest on the Funds and if the law permits Lender to make such a charge. Lender will not be required to pay me any interest or earnings on the Funds unless either (i) Lender and I agree in writing, at the time I sign this Mortgage, that Lender will pay interest on the Funds; or (ii) the law requires Lender to pay interest on the Funds.

If Lender's estimates are too high or if taxes and insurance rates go down, the amounts that I pay under this Paragraph 2 will be too large. If this happens at a time when I am keeping all of my promises and agreements made in this Mortgage, I will have the right to have the excess amount either promptly repaid to me as a direct refund or credited to my future monthly payments of Funds. There will be excess amounts if, at any time, the sum of (a) the amount of Funds which Lender is holding or keeping on deposit, plus (b) the amount of the monthly payments of Funds which I still must pay between that time and the due dates of taxes and insurance, is greater than the amount necessary to pay the taxes and insurance when they are due.

If, when payments of taxes and insurance are due, Lender has not received enough Funds from me to make those payments, I will pay to Lender whatever additional amount is necessary to pay the taxes and insurance in full. I must pay that additional amount in one or more payments as Lender may require.

When I have paid all of the amounts due under the Note and under this Mortgage, Lender will promptly refund to me any Funds that are then being held or kept on deposit by Lender. If, under Paragraph 20 below, either Lender acquires the Property or the Property is sold, then immediately before the acquisition or sale, Lender will use any Funds which Lender is holding or has on deposit at that time to reduce the amount that I owe to Lender under the Note and under this Mortgage.

3 . LENDER'S APPLICATION OF BORROWER'S PAYMENTS

Unless the law requires otherwise, Lender will apply each of my payments under the Note and under Paragraphs 1 and 2 above in the following order and for the following purposes:

- (A) First, to pay the amounts then due to Lender under Paragraph 2 above;
- (B) Next, to pay interest then due under the Note;
- (C) Next, to pay principal then due under the Note; and
- (D) Next, to pay interest and principal on any Future Advances that I may have received from Lender under Paragraph 23 below.

4 . BORROWER'S OBLIGATION TO PAY CHARGES AND ASSESSMENTS AND TO SATISFY CLAIMS AGAINST THE PROPERTY

I will pay all taxes, assessments, and any other charges and fines that may be imposed on the Property and that may be superior to this Mortgage. I will also make payments due under my lease if I am a tenant on the Property and I will pay ground rents (if any) due on the Property. I will do this either by making the payments to Lender that are described in Paragraph 2 above or, if I am not required to make payments under Paragraph 2, by making payments, when they are due, directly to the persons entitled to them. (In this Mortgage, the word "person" means any person, organization, governmental authority, or other party.) If I make direct payments, then promptly after making any of those payments I will give Lender a receipt which shows that I have done so. If I make payment to Lender under Paragraph 2, I will give Lender all notices or bills that I receive for the amounts due under this Paragraph 4.

If the Property includes a unit in a Condominium Project or in a PUD, I will promptly pay, when they are due, all assessments imposed by the owners association or other organization that governs the Condominium Project or PUD. That association or organization will be called the "Owners Association."

Any claim, demand or charge that is made against property because an obligation has not been fulfilled is known as a "lien." I will promptly pay or satisfy all liens against the Property that may be superior to this Mortgage. However, this Mortgage does not require me to satisfy a superior lien if: (A) I agree, in writing, to pay the obligation which gave rise to the superior lien and Lender approves the way in which I agree to pay that obligation; or (B) I, in good faith, argue or defend against the superior lien in a lawsuit so that, during the lawsuit, the superior lien may not be enforced and no part of the Property must be given up.

5 . BORROWER'S OBLIGATION TO OBTAIN AND TO KEEP HAZARD INSURANCE ON THE PROPERTY

(A) Generally

I will obtain hazard insurance to cover all buildings, structures and other improvements that now are or in the future will be located on the Property. The insurance must cover loss or damage caused by fire, hazards normally covered by "extended coverage" hazard insurance policies, and other hazards for which Lender requires coverage. The insurance must be in the amounts and for the periods of time required by Lender. It is possible that the insurance policy will have provisions that may limit the insurance company's obligation to pay claims if the amount of coverage is too low. Those provisions are known as "co-insurance requirements." Lender may not require me to obtain an amount of coverage that is more than the larger of the following two amounts: either (i) the amount that I owe to Lender under the Note and under this Mortgage; or (ii) the amount necessary to satisfy the co-insurance requirements.

I may choose the insurance company, but my choice is subject to Lender's approval. Lender may not refuse to approve my choice unless the refusal is reasonable. All of the insurance policies and renewals of those policies must include what is known as a "standard mortgage clause" to protect Lender. The form of all policies and the form of all renewals must be acceptable to Lender. Lender will have the right to hold the policies and renewals.

I will pay the premiums on the insurance policies either by making payments to Lender, as described in Paragraph 2 above, or by paying the insurance company directly when the premium payments are due. If Lender requires, I will promptly give Lender all receipts of paid premiums and all renewal notices that I receive.

If there is a loss or damage to the Property, I will promptly notify the insurance company and Lender. If I do not promptly prove to the insurance company that the loss or damage occurred, then Lender may do so.

The amount paid by the insurance company is called "proceeds." The proceeds will be used to repair or to restore the damaged Property unless: (a) it is not economically possible to make the repairs or restoration; or (b) the use of the proceeds for that purpose would lessen the protection given to Lender by this Mortgage; or (c) Lender and I have agreed in writing not to use the proceeds for that purpose. If the repair or restoration is not economically possible or if it would lessen Lender's protection under this Mortgage, then the proceeds will be used to reduce the amount that I owe to Lender under the Note and under this Mortgage. If any of the proceeds remain after the amount that I owe to Lender has been paid in full, the remaining proceeds will be paid to me. The use of proceeds to reduce the amount that I owe to Lender will not be a prepayment that is subject to the prepayment charge provisions, if any, under the Note.

If I abandon the Property, or if I do not answer, within 30 days, a notice from Lender stating that the insurance company has offered to settle a claim for insurance benefits, then Lender has the authority to collect the proceeds. Lender may then use the proceeds to repair or restore the Property or to reduce the amount that I owe to Lender under the Note and under this Mortgage. The 30-day period will begin on the date the notice is mailed or, if it is not mailed, on the date the notice is delivered.

If any proceeds are used to reduce the amount of principal which I owe to Lender under the Note, that use will not delay the due date or change the amount of any of my monthly payments under the Note and under Paragraphs 1 and 2 above. However, Lender and I may agree in writing to those delays or changes.

If Lender acquires the Property under Paragraph 20 below, all of my rights in the insurance policies will belong to Lender. Also, all of my rights in any proceeds which are paid because of damage that occurred before the Property is acquired by Lender or sold will belong to Lender. However, Lender's rights in those proceeds will not be greater than the amount that I owe to Lender under the Note and under this Mortgage immediately before the Property is acquired by Lender or sold.

(B) Agreements that Apply to Condominiums and PUDs

(i) If the Property includes a unit in a Condominium Project, the Owners Association may maintain a hazard insurance policy which covers the entire Condominium Project. That policy will be called the "master policy." So long as the master policy remains in effect and meets the requirements stated in this Paragraph 5: (a) my obligation to obtain and to keep hazard insurance on the Property is satisfied; (b) I will not be required to include an amount for hazard insurance premiums in my monthly payment of Funds to Lender under Paragraph 2 above; and (c) if there is a conflict, concerning the use of proceeds, between (1) the terms of this Paragraph 5, and (2) the law or the terms of the declaration, by-laws, regulations or other documents creating or governing the Condominium Project, then that law or the terms of those documents will govern the use of proceeds. I will promptly give Lender notice if the master policy is interrupted or terminated. During any time that the master policy is not in effect the terms of (a), (b) and (c) of this subparagraph 5(B)(i) will not apply.

(ii) If the Property includes a unit in a Condominium Project, it is possible that proceeds will be paid to me instead of being used to repair or to restore the Property. I give Lender my rights to those proceeds. If the Property includes a unit in a PUD, it is possible that proceeds will be paid to me instead of being used to repair or to restore the common areas or facilities of the PUD. I give Lender my rights to those proceeds. All of the proceeds described in this subparagraph 5(B)(ii) will be paid to Lender and will be used to reduce the amount that I owe to Lender under the Note and under this Mortgage. If any of those proceeds remain after the amount that I owe to Lender has been paid in full, the remaining proceeds will be paid to me. The use of proceeds to reduce the amount that I owe to Lender will not be a prepayment that is subject to the prepayment charge provisions, if any, under the Note.

6 . BORROWER'S OBLIGATION TO MAINTAIN THE PROPERTY AND TO FULFILL OBLIGATIONS IN LEASE, AND AGREEMENTS ABOUT CONDOMINIUMS AND PUDs

I will keep the Property in good repair. I will not destroy, damage or substantially change the Property, and I will not allow the Property to deteriorate. If I do not own but am a tenant on the Property, I will fulfill my obligations under my lease.

If the Property is a unit in a Condominium Project or in a PUD, I will fulfill all of my obligations under the declaration, by-laws, regulations and other documents that create or govern the Condominium Project or PUD. Also, I will not divide the Property into smaller parts that may be owned separately (known as "partition or subdivision"), and I will not consent to any of the following unless I have first given Lender notice and obtained Lender's consent in writing:

(A) The abandonment or termination of the Condominium Project or PUD, unless, in the case of a condominium, the abandonment or termination is required by law;

(B) Any significant change to the declaration, by-laws or regulations of the Owners Association, trust agreement, articles of incorporation, or other documents that create or govern the Condominium Project or PUD, including, for example, a change in the percentage of ownership rights, held by unit owners, in the Condominium Project or in the common areas or facilities of the PUD;

(C) A decision by the Owners Association to terminate professional management and to begin self-management of the Condominium Project or PUD; and

(D) The transfer, release, creation of liens, partition or subdivision of all or part of the common areas and facilities of the PUD. (However, this provision does not apply to the transfer by the Owners Association of rights to use those common areas and facilities for utilities and other similar or related purposes.)

7 . LENDER'S RIGHT TO TAKE ACTION TO PROTECT THE PROPERTY

If: (A) I do not keep my promises and agreements made in this Mortgage, or (B) someone, including me, begins a legal proceeding that may significantly affect Lender's rights in the Property (such as, for example, a legal proceeding in bankruptcy, in probate, for condemnation, or to enforce laws or regulations), then Lender may do and pay for whatever is necessary to protect the value of the Property and Lender's rights in the Property. Lender's actions under this Paragraph 7 may include, for example, appearing in court, paying reasonable attorney's fees, and entering on the Property to make repairs. Lender must give me notice before Lender may take any of these actions.

I will pay to Lender any amounts, with interest, which Lender spends under this Paragraph 7. This Mortgage will protect Lender in case I do not keep this promise to pay those amounts with interest.

I will pay those amounts to Lender when Lender sends me a notice requesting that I do so. I will also pay interest on those amounts at the same rate stated in the Note. However, if payment of interest at that rate would violate the law, I will pay interest on the amounts spent by Lender under this Paragraph 7 at the highest rate that the law allows. Interest on each amount will begin on the date that the amount is spent by Lender. However, Lender and I may agree in writing to terms of payment that are different from those in this paragraph.

Although Lender may take action under this Paragraph 7, Lender does not have to do so.

8 . LENDER'S RIGHT TO INSPECT THE PROPERTY

Lender, and others authorized by Lender, may enter on and inspect the Property. They must do so in a reasonable manner and at reasonable times. However, before one of those inspections is made, Lender must give me notice stating a reasonable purpose for the inspection. That purpose must be related to Lender's rights in the Property.

9 . AGREEMENTS ABOUT CONDEMNATION OF THE PROPERTY

A taking of property by any governmental authority by eminent domain is known as "condemnation." I give to Lender my right: (A) to proceeds of all awards or claims for damages resulting from condemnation or other governmental taking of the Property (or, if the Property includes a unit in a PUD, of the common areas and facilities of the PUD); and (B) to proceeds from a sale of the Property (or, if the Property includes a unit in a PUD, of the common areas and facilities of the PUD) that is made to avoid condemnation. All of those proceeds will be paid to Lender.

If all of the Property is taken, the proceeds will be used to reduce the amount that I owe to Lender under the Note and under this Mortgage. If any of the proceeds remain after the amount that I owe to Lender has been paid in full, the remaining proceeds will be paid to me. Unless Lender and I agree otherwise in writing, if only a part of the Property is taken, (or, if the Property is a unit in a PUD, if all or part of the common areas or facilities of the PUD are taken), the amount that I owe to Lender will only be reduced by the amount of proceeds multiplied by the following amount: (i) the total amount that I owe to Lender under the Note and under this Mortgage immediately before the taking, divided by (ii) the fair market value of the Property immediately before the taking. The remainder of the proceeds will be paid to me. The use of proceeds to reduce the amount that I owe to Lender will not be a prepayment that is subject to the prepayment charge provisions, if any, under the Note.

If I abandon the Property, or if I do not answer, within 30 days, a notice from Lender stating that a governmental authority has offered to make a payment or to settle a claim for damages, then Lender has the authority to collect the proceeds. Lender may then use the proceeds to repair or restore the Property or to reduce the amount that I owe to Lender under the Note and under this Mortgage. The 30-day period will begin on the date the notice is mailed or, if it is not mailed, on the date the notice is delivered.

If any proceeds are used to reduce the amount of principal which I owe to Lender under the Note, that use will not delay the due date or change the amount of any of my monthly payments under the Note and under Paragraphs 1 and 2 above. However, Lender and I may agree in writing to those delays or changes.

10 . CONTINUATION OF BORROWER'S OBLIGATIONS

Lender may allow a person who takes over my rights and obligations to delay or to change the amount of the monthly payments of principal and interest due under the Note or under this Mortgage. Even if Lender does this, however, that person and I will both still be fully obligated under the Note and under this Mortgage unless the conditions stated in Paragraph 19 below have been met.

Lender may allow those delays or changes for a person who takes over my rights and obligations, even if Lender is requested not to do so. Lender will not be required to bring a lawsuit against such a person for not fulfilling obligations under the Note or under this Mortgage, even if Lender is requested to do so.

11 . CONTINUATION OF LENDER'S RIGHTS

Even if Lender does not exercise or enforce any right of Lender under this Mortgage or under the law, Lender will still have all of those rights and may exercise and enforce them in the future. Even if Lender obtains insurance, pays taxes, or pays other claims, charges or liens against the Property, Lender will still have the right, under Paragraph 20 below, to demand that I make Immediate Payment In Full (see Paragraph 20 for a definition of this phrase) of the amount that I owe to Lender under the Note and under this Mortgage.

12 . LENDER'S ABILITY TO ENFORCE MORE THAN ONE OF LENDER'S RIGHTS

Each of Lender's rights under this Mortgage is separate. Lender may exercise and enforce one or more of those rights, as well as any of Lender's other rights under the law, one at a time or all at once.

13 . OBLIGATIONS OF BORROWERS AND OF PERSONS TAKING OVER BORROWER'S RIGHTS OR OBLIGATIONS; AGREEMENTS CONCERNING CAPTIONS

Subject to the terms of Paragraph 19 below, any person who takes over my rights or obligations under this Mortgage will have all of my rights and will be obligated to keep all of my promises and agreements made in this Mortgage. Similarly, any person who takes over Lender's rights or obligations under this Mortgage will have all of Lender's rights and will be obligated to keep all of Lender's agreements made in this Mortgage.

If more than one person signs this Mortgage as Borrower, each of us is fully obligated to keep all of Borrower's promises and obligations contained in this Mortgage. Lender may enforce Lender's rights under this Mortgage against each of us individually or against all of us together. This means that any one of us may be required to pay all of the amounts owed under the Note and under this Mortgage. However, if one of us does not sign the Note, then: (A) that person is signing this Mortgage only to give that person's rights in the Property to Lender under the terms of this Mortgage; and (B) that person is not personally obligated to make payments or to act under the Note or under this Mortgage.

The captions and titles of this Mortgage are for convenience only. They may not be used to interpret or to define the terms of this Mortgage.

14 . AGREEMENTS ABOUT GIVING NOTICES REQUIRED UNDER THIS MORTGAGE

Unless the law requires otherwise, any notice that must be given to me under this Mortgage will be given by delivering it or by mailing it addressed to me at the address stated in the section above titled "Description of the Property." A notice will be delivered or mailed to me at a different address if I give Lender a notice of my different address. Any notice that must be given to Lender under this Mortgage will be given by mailing it to Lender's address stated in paragraph (C) of the section above titled "Words Used Often In This Document." A notice will be mailed to Lender at a different address if Lender gives me a notice of the different address. A notice required by this Mortgage is given when it is mailed or when it is delivered according to the requirements of this Paragraph 14.

15 . AGREEMENTS ABOUT UNIFORM MORTGAGE AND LAW THAT GOVERNS THIS MORTGAGE

This is a "Uniform Mortgage." It contains "uniform promises" that are in mortgages used all over the country and also "non-uniform promises" that vary, to a limited extent, in different parts of the country.

The law that applies in the place that the Property is located will govern this Mortgage. If any term of this Mortgage or of the Note conflicts with the law, all other terms of this Mortgage and of the Note will still remain in effect if they can be given effect without the conflicting term. This means that any terms of this Mortgage and of the Note which conflict with the law can be separated from the remaining terms, and the remaining terms will still be enforced.

16 . BORROWER'S COPY OF THE NOTE AND OF THIS MORTGAGE

I will be given a copy of the Note and of this Mortgage. Those copies must show that the original Note and Mortgage have been signed. I will be given those copies either when I sign the Note and this Mortgage or after this Mortgage has been recorded in the proper official records.

17 . AGREEMENTS THAT APPLY TO VA LOANS

A loan that is guaranteed or insured by the United States Veterans Administration is known as a "VA loan." If the loan that I promise to pay in the Note is a VA loan, then my rights and obligations, as well as those of Lender, are governed by that law which is known as Title 38 of the United States Code and the Regulations made under that Title (called the "Title and Regulations"). It is possible that one or more terms of this Mortgage, or of other documents that are signed in connection with my VA loan, conflict with the Title and Regulations. For example, it is possible that the prepayment terms in the Note or Paragraph 19 of this Mortgage conflict with the Title and Regulations. Lender and I agree that if there is a conflict, the conflicting terms of this Mortgage or other documents are modified or eliminated as much as is necessary to make all of the conflicting terms agree with the Title and Regulations.

18 . BORROWER'S OBLIGATION TO PAY MORTGAGE INSURANCE PREMIUMS

If Lender required mortgage insurance as a condition of making the loan that I promise to pay under the Note, then I will pay the premiums for that mortgage insurance. I will pay the premiums until the requirement for mortgage insurance ends according to my written agreement with Lender or according to law. Lender may require me to pay the premiums in the manner described in Paragraph 2 above.

NON-UNIFORM PROMISES

I also promise and agree with Lender as follows:

19 . AGREEMENTS ABOUT ASSUMPTION OF THIS MORTGAGE AND ABOUT LENDER'S RIGHTS IF BORROWER TRANSFERS THE PROPERTY WITHOUT MEETING CERTAIN CONDITIONS

If I sell or transfer all or part of the Property or any rights in the Property, any person to whom I sell or transfer the Property may take over all of my rights and obligations under this Mortgage (known as an "assumption of the Mortgage") if: (A) I give Lender notice of the sale or transfer; (B) Lender agrees that the person's credit is satisfactory; (C) the person agrees to pay interest on the amount owed to Lender under the Note and under this Mortgage at whatever rate Lender requires; and (D) the person signs an assumption agreement that is acceptable to Lender and that obligates the person to keep all of the promises and agreements made in the Note and in this Mortgage. If I sell or transfer the Property and each of the conditions in (A), (B), (C) and (D) of this Paragraph 19 are satisfied, Lender will release me from all of my obligations under the Note and under this Mortgage.

However, if I sell or transfer the Property and the conditions in (A), (B), (C) and (D) of this Paragraph 19 are not satisfied, I will still be fully obligated under the Note and under this Mortgage and Lender may require Immediate Payment in Full, as that phrase is defined in Paragraph 20 below. However, Lender will not have the right to require Immediate Payment In Full as a result of any of the following: (i) the creation of liens or other claims against the Property that are inferior to this Mortgage; (ii) a transfer of rights in household appliances, to a person who provides me with the money to buy those appliances, in order to protect that person against possible losses; (iii) a transfer of the Property to surviving co-owners, following the death of a co-owner, when the transfer is automatic according to law; or (iv) leasing the Property for a term of three years or less, as long as the lease does not include an option to buy.

If Lender requires Immediate Payment In Full under this Paragraph 19, Lender will send me a notice, in the manner described in Paragraph 14 above, which states this requirement. The notice will give me at least 30 days to make the required payment. The 30-day period will begin on the date the notice is mailed or, if it is not mailed, on the date the notice is delivered. If I do not make the required payment during that period, Lender may bring a lawsuit for "foreclosure and sale" under Paragraph 20 below without giving me any further notice or demand for payment. (See Paragraph 20 for a definition of "foreclosure and sale.")

20 . LENDER'S RIGHTS IF BORROWER FAILS TO KEEP PROMISES AND AGREEMENTS

If all of the conditions stated in subparagraphs (A), (B), and (C) of this Paragraph 20 are satisfied, Lender may require that I pay immediately the entire amount then remaining unpaid under the Note and under this Mortgage. Lender may do this without making any further demand for payment. This requirement will be called "Immediate Payment In Full."

If Lender requires Immediate Payment In Full, Lender may bring a lawsuit to take away all of my remaining rights in the Property and to have the Property sold. At this sale, Lender or another person may acquire the Property. This is known as "foreclosure and sale." In any lawsuit for foreclosure and sale, Lender will have the right to collect all costs allowed by law.

Lender may require Immediate Payment In Full under this Paragraph 20 only if all of the following conditions are satisfied:

(A) I fail to keep any promise or agreement made in this Mortgage, including the promises to pay when due the amounts that I owe to Lender under the Note and under this Mortgage; and

(B) Lender sends to me, in the manner described in Paragraph 14 above, a notice that states:

(i) The promise or agreement that I failed to keep;

(ii) The action that I must take to correct that failure;

(iii) A date by which I must correct the failure. That date must be at least 30 days from the date on which the notice is mailed to me, or, if it is not mailed, from the date on which it is delivered to me;

(iv) That if I do not correct the failure by the date stated in the notice, I will be in default and Lender may require Immediate Payment In Full, and Lender or another person may acquire the Property by means of foreclosure and sale;

(v) That I may speak with a named representative of Lender to discuss any questions which I have about the things stated in the notice;

(vi) That if I meet the conditions stated in Paragraph 21 below, I will have the right to have any lawsuit for foreclosure and sale discontinued and to have the Note and this Mortgage remain in full force and effect as if Immediate Payment In Full had never been required; and

(vii) That I have the right in any lawsuit for foreclosure and sale to argue that I did not fail to keep any of my promises or agreements under the Note or under this Mortgage, and to present any other defenses that I may have; and

(C) I do not correct the failure stated in the notice from Lender by the date stated in that notice.

21. BORROWER'S RIGHT TO HAVE LENDER'S LAWSUIT FOR FORECLOSURE AND SALE DISCONTINUED

Even if Lender has required Immediate Payment In Full, I may have the right to have discontinued any lawsuit brought by Lender for foreclosure and sale or for other enforcement of this Mortgage. I will have this right at any time before a judgment has been entered enforcing this Mortgage if I meet the following conditions:

(A) I pay to Lender the full amount that would have been due under this Mortgage, the Note, and any notes for Future Advances under Paragraph 23 below if Lender had not required Immediate Payment In Full; and

(B) I correct my failure to keep any of my other promises or agreements made in this Mortgage; and

(C) I pay all of Lender's reasonable expenses in enforcing this Mortgage including, for example, reasonable attorney's fees; and

(D) I do whatever Lender reasonably requires to assure that Lender's rights in the Property. Lender's rights under this Mortgage, and my obligations under the Note and under this Mortgage continue unchanged.

If I fulfill all of the conditions in this Paragraph 21, then the Note and this Mortgage will remain in full force and effect as if Immediate Payment In Full had never been required.

22. LENDER'S RIGHTS TO RENTAL PAYMENTS FROM THE PROPERTY AND TO TAKE POSSESSION OF THE PROPERTY

As additional protection for Lender, I give to Lender all of my rights to any rental payments from the Property. However, until Lender requires Immediate Payment In Full under Paragraphs 19 or 20 above, or until I abandon the Property, I have the right to collect and keep those rental payments as they become due. I have not given any of my rights to rental payments from the Property to anyone else, and I will not do so without Lender's consent in writing.

If Lender requires Immediate Payment In Full under Paragraphs 19 or 20 above, or if I abandon the Property, then Lender, persons authorized by Lender, or a receiver appointed by a court at Lender's request may: (A) collect the rental payments, including overdue rental payments, directly from the tenants; (B) enter on and take possession of the Property; (C) manage the Property; and (D) sign, cancel and change leases. I agree that if Lender notifies the tenants that Lender has the right to collect rental payments directly from them under this Paragraph 22, the tenants may make those rental payments to Lender without having to ask whether I have failed to keep my promises and agreements under this Mortgage.

If there is a judgment for Lender in a lawsuit for foreclosure and sale, I will pay to Lender reasonable rent from the date the judgment is entered for as long as I occupy the Property. However, this does not give me the right to be a tenant on the Property.

All rental payments collected by Lender or by a receiver, other than the rent paid by me under this Paragraph 22, will be used first to pay the costs of collecting rental payments and of managing the Property. If any part of the rental payments remains after those costs have been paid in full, the remaining part will be used to reduce the amount that I owe to Lender under the Note and under this Mortgage. The costs of managing the Property may include the receiver's fees, reasonable attorney's fees, and the cost of any necessary bonds. Lender and the receiver will be obligated to account only for those rental payments that they actually receive.

23 . AGREEMENTS ABOUT FUTURE ADVANCES

I may ask Lender to make one or more loans to me in addition to the loan that I promise to pay under the Note. Lender may, before this Mortgage is discharged, make those additional loans to me. This Mortgage will protect Lender from possible losses that might result from my failure to fulfill my obligation to pay the amounts of any of those additional loans plus interest, only if the notes which contain my promises to pay those additional loans state that this Mortgage will give Lender such protection. Additional loans made by Lender that are protected by this Mortgage will be called "Future Advances." The principal amount that I owe to Lender under the Note and under all notes for Future Advances, not including the amounts spent by Lender to protect the value of the Property and Lender's rights in the Property, may not be greater than the original amount of the Note plus U.S. $_____.

24 . LENDER'S OBLIGATION TO DISCHARGE THIS MORTGAGE WHEN THE NOTE AND THIS MORTGAGE ARE PAID IN FULL

When Lender has been paid all amounts due under the Note, under this Mortgage and under any notes for Future Advances, Lender will discharge this Mortgage by delivering a certificate stating that this Mortgage has been satisfied. I will not be required to pay Lender for the discharge, but I will pay all costs of recording the discharge in the proper official records.

25 . AGREEMENTS ABOUT NEW YORK LIEN LAW

I will receive all amounts lent to me by Lender subject to the trust fund provisions of Section 13 of the New York Lien Law. This means that if, on the date this Mortgage is recorded in the proper official records, construction or other work on any building, structure, or other improvements located on the Property has not been completed for at least four months, I will: (A) hold all amounts, which I receive and which I have a right to receive from Lender under the Note and as Future Advances, as a "trust fund," and (B) use those amounts to pay for that construction or work before I use them for any other purpose. The fact that I am holding those amounts as a "trust fund" means that I have a special responsibility under the law to use the amounts in the manner described in this Paragraph 25.

By signing this Mortgage I agree to all of the above.

Witnesses:

Charles T. Conroy, Borrower

Ellen C. Conroy, Borrower

State of New York
Orange County

)

)

)

ss:

on this first day of November, _____ [year], before me personally came Charles T. Conroy and Ellen C. Conroy, husband and wife, to me known and known to me to be the individuals described in and who executed the foregoing instrument, and they duly acknowledged to me that they executed the same.

Notary Public

148 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms
J. MORTGAGE FINANCING

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.112

FORM 21.112 Plain language mortgage assumption agreement--release of seller by lender--prepayment penalty

COMMENT

Under a mortgage assumption agreement the buyer of property accepts title subject to the seller's preexisting mortgage and, in addition, assumes all of its obligations including the obligation to make all payments that become due under the mortgage. The holder of the mortgage may or may not release the seller from liability on the mortgage note or bond. If the mortgage holder does not release the seller, it can proceed against the seller if the buyer fails to make payment or otherwise defaults under the terms of the assumption agreement and mortgage.

Lender consent

In this form, the lender releases the sellers from their obligations under the mortgage that is assumed by the purchasers of the property (paragraph 8). Because a substantial number of mortgages permit the lender to accelerate the mortgage upon transfer of title by the seller, an assumption agreement, accepted and signed by the lender, is often necessary to protect the parties from the possibility that the lender may "call" the mortgage. The lender's consent may be conditioned upon the buyer accepting certain changes in the underlying mortgage. For example, this agreement provides for an increased rate of interest on the loan (paragraph 6), in addition to requiring that the buyer pay the loan (paragraph 7), thus making the buyer personally liable for the payment of the preexisting mortgage.

Prepayment

Most mortgages expressly permit prepayment of the loan. The prepayment may be permitted with or without payment of additional interest or premium (a "penalty"). The right to prepay may be limited to prepayment in full, in part, or in prescribed partial amounts. This agreement provides that the loan may be prepaid in an amount up to 20 percent of the original loan in any one year without penalty. If payment is made in excess of the 20 percent limitation, a prepayment penalty of six months' interest on the excess amount is imposed (paragraph 10). Some states restrict prepayment penalties, and any penalties may be subject to state usury laws or the federal truth-in-lending laws.

FORM

ASSUMPTION AGREEMENT

1. Words used often in this agreement.

- (a) Buyer. Martin L. Arkin and Joan B. Arkin, his wife, will be called the "Buyer."
- (b) Seller. Arthur C. Traynor and Barbara M. Traynor, his wife, will be called the "Seller."
- (c) Lender. Northeast Federal Savings and Loan Association will be called the "Lender." Lender is an Association which was formed and which exists under the laws of the United States of America. Lender's address is 1095 Merrick Road, Baldwin, New York 11510.
- (d) Property. The property described in the mortgage in the Section titled "Description of the property" will be called the "Property." This includes land and any buildings built on the land located at 560 Millburn Creek Road, Baldwin Harbor, New York, in Nassau County in the State of New York. This land and buildings have the legal description contained in the mortgage given by the Seller to Lender and recorded in the Nassau County Clerk's Office on March 15, _____ [year], in Book 1362, page 395. The "property" also includes other property and other kinds of property, as explained on page 2 of the mortgage in the First and Second paragraphs on that page.

2. Seller has given Lender a mortgage. The Buyer understands that:

- (a) On March 13, _____ [year], Seller borrowed $49,700 from Lender. To show that Seller owed Lender this money, Seller signed a Note or Bond. To protect Lender from any losses which might possibly result if Seller did not
 - (1) Pay all the amounts that Seller owed Lender as stated in the Note;
 - (2) Pay, with interest, any amounts that Lender spends under this Mortgage, to protect the value of the Property and Lender's rights in the Property;
 - (3) Pay, with interest, any other amounts that Lender might lend to Seller or to me as Future Advances, and
 - (4) Keep all of the other promises and agreements under the Mortgage,

Seller gave Lender a Mortgage. This means that by signing the Mortgage, Seller gave Lender those rights that are stated in the Mortgage and also those rights that the law gives to Lenders who hold Mortgages on real property.

(b) The Seller now owes $48,785.26, with interest at the rate of 11.5 percent per year. This amount will be called "the amount owed by Seller" in this Agreement.

(c) The Buyer has bought the property, and now owns it. The Seller wishes to be released from any liability for the repayment of the amount borrowed. The Lender has given permission for this sale and has agreed to release the Seller.

3. Lender extends payment of amount borrowed. Therefore, because the Buyer has agreed to take over payments on the mortgage and keep all of the promises contained in this Agreement, in the Mortgage, and in the Bond or Note, the Buyer, Seller, and Lender agree as provided in this Agreement.

4. Extension. The Lender extends the payment of the amount owed by Seller. This means, that although the Lender could require immediate payment in full because of this sale, it will not do so.

5. Promise to pay. The Buyer agrees to repay the amount owed by the Seller to the Lender or any person who takes the Mortgage and Note or Bond by transfer, at the Lender's address printed in the section called "words often used in this Agreement" or at another address if the Lender or person who takes the Mortgage and Note or Bond by transfer tells the Buyer to do so in writing.

6. Interest. The Buyer agrees to pay interest on the unpaid balance the amount owed by Seller at the rate of 11 percent per year.

7. Payments. The Buyer agrees to make payments for principal and interest each month. The first payment will be due on January 1, _____ [year]. Each payment will be in the amount of $476.17. The payments will be applied to interest and principal in the way the Mortgage explains. Payments in the above amount will be made until all the principal and interest are paid.

8. Release. The Lender by this Agreement releases and discharges the Seller of any and all liability, claim, or demand of any kind on account of the Mortgage and Bond or Note.

9. Additional promises. Regardless of anything to the contrary contained in the Mortgage and Bond or Note, the Lender and Buyer agree to the following paragraphs 10 through and including 14.

10. Prepayment. The Buyer may prepay the amount owed under the Bond or Note at any time during any one year. The Buyer may prepay up to 20 percent of the amount originally borrowed by the Seller without any penalty. This 20 percent will be called the free prepayment amount.

If the amount the Buyer prepays exceeds the free prepayment amount, the Buyer will pay a prepayment charge. The charge Buyer will pay is six months interest on the amount by which the amount of the prepayment exceeds the free prepayment amount. The Lender may require that any prepayment the Buyer makes, be at least $500.

11. Late charges. If the Lender has not received the full amount of any of Buyer's monthly payments by the end of 15 calendar days after the date it is due, Buyer will pay a late charge to the Lender. The amount of the charge will be 5 percent of Buyer's overdue payment of principal and interest.

12. Penalty interest. Buyer agrees that if Buyer is in default in keeping any of the promises contained in the Mortgage, the Bond or Note, or this Agreement, Buyer will pay interest on the amount Buyer owes under this Agreement at the maximum legal rate of interest as established by the Banking Board of the State of New York, or any other authority having the power to regulate the maximum legal rate of interest or at the rate of interest provided in paragraph 6 of this Agreement, whichever is greater. Buyer will pay at this rate of interest as long as Buyer is in default and until Buyer has paid all the principal and interest Buyer owes.

13. Insurance. The Buyer agrees to keep the buildings on the land insured for the benefit of the Lender in any amount at least equal to the balance of the Mortgage and at least sufficient to satisfy any co-insurance clause in the policy. The Buyer also agrees to transfer title to any insurance policies to the Lender and to deliver the original insurance policies to the Lender if the Lender requires that the Buyer do so. If the Buyer does not assign or deliver the policies within 15 days after the Lender gives him notice that he requires him to assign and/or deliver the policies, the Lender may require Immediate Payment in Full.

14. Default. Regardless of anything to the contrary contained in the Mortgage and Bond or Note, Buyer agrees that if Buyer does not pay any monthly payment by the 15th day of the month in which payment is due on the Mortgage and Bond or Note, or if Buyer does not pay any taxes, water rates, assessments, insurance premiums, or similar charges affecting the property within 15 days after they become due, or if anything else happens which, under the Mortgage, puts Buyer in default, the Lender may require Immediate Payment in Full. This means that the Lender may require Buyer, if Buyer is in default, to pay back all of the money Buyer owes under this Agreement at once.

Buyer, Seller, and Lender agree to all of the above items.

In the presence of:

Arthur C. Traynor, Seller

Barbara M. Traynor, Seller

Northeast Federal Savings and Loan Association

By _____

Accepted:

Martin L. Arkin, Buyer

Joan B. Arkin, Buyer

149 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms
J. MORTGAGE FINANCING

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.113

FORM 21.113 Mortgagee-in-possession agreement--delivery of possession--assignment of leases and equipment

COMMENT

A mortgagee-in-possession agreement is used when the owner of a mortgaged building is in default on the mortgage, and the lender takes possession of the property, in lieu of foreclosure. Generally, the lender will use the rent proceeds to bring the mortgage payments current, after the payment of operating expenses, taxes and other costs. If the mortgage is brought current the owner may be restored to possession, and continue payment of the mortgage. If the proceeds of the building are inadequate to reinstate the mortgage, the alternatives of a deed in lieu of foreclosure or foreclosure itself may be pursued.

Assignments and possession

This agreement provides for the assignment of leases, equipment, outstanding contracts, rents, claims and other items necessary or desirable for the lender's operation of the building. The lender is given possession of the building and many of the owner's rights and discretion in the operation of the building.

Foreclosure and rent

The lender reserves the right to commence foreclosure proceedings at any time, but upon 30 days' notice to the owner. The owner is given the right to cure defaults in the mortgage within that 30-day period. Although the lender agrees to be chargeable for rents actually received, it is not liable for the application of those rents to expenses, its mortgage or any other items which it deems appropriate.

FORM

AGREEMENT, made February 20, _____ [year], between 1036 Nineteenth Avenue Corporation, 1136 Tenth Avenue, New York, New York ("Debtor") and East Side National Bank and Guarantee Company, 925 East 89th Street, New York, New York ("Bank").

Recitals

a. Note, mortgage, property. Bank is the owner and holder of certain notes and mortgages as follows:

(1) Note dated December 31, _____ [year] in the principal amount of $460,000, made by 1036 Nineteenth Avenue Corporation to East Side National Bank and Guarantee Company and a mortgage, securing said note, of even date with the note, in favor of East Side National Bank and Guarantee Company, in the principal amount of $460,000. The mortgage was recorded on January 3, _____ [year] in the Office of the Register, County of New York, State of New York, in Reel 6523 at page 236; and

(2) Note dated July 26, _____ [year] in the principal amount of $300,000, made by 1036 Nineteenth Avenue Corporation to East Side National Bank and Guarantee Company and a mortgage securing the note, of even date with the note, in favor of East Side National Bank and Guarantee Company, in the principal amount of $300,000. The mortgage was recorded in the Office of the Register, County of New York in Reel 7936 at page 152 on August 1, _____ [year]; and

(3) Modification and extension agreement between 1036 Nineteenth Avenue Corporation and East Side National Bank and Guarantee Company, extending and modifying the terms and conditions of the two mortgages, and the respective notes. The agreement is dated July 26, _____ [year], and was recorded in the Register's Office in Reel 7936 at page 160 on August 1, _____ [year].

Which notes and mortgages, as modified by the consolidation and extension agreements, being herein designated as the "note" and "mortgage," and which note and mortgage covers premises known as and by 1039 19th Avenue, New York, New York (the "property").

b. Ownership. Debtor is now the owner of the property.

c. Amounts due. Debtor is now in default under the terms of the note and mortgage. There is now unpaid, among other things, the principal amount of $760,000, interest accrued and unpaid, as of the date hereof, in the amount of $13,590.50, and the attorney's fees, collection charges, late charges, and other amounts due in the amount of $7,890.70. By reason of such default the note and mortgage, by its terms, is subject to immediate foreclosure.

d. Mortgage-in-Possession. The parties have agreed that the property shall be placed in the possession of the Bank as mortgagee-in-possession, subject to the obligations and duties of applicable law.

e. Representations. To induce Bank to enter into this agreement and to take possession of the property as mortgagee, Debtor represents that it has not previously assigned, mortgaged, pledged, or otherwise encumbered in any manner whatsoever the assigned rents, issue, income and profits of the property, except as appears by the terms contained in any mortgage covering the property and now of record. Debtor further represents and warrants that no rents have been collected from the property, or any part thereof, in respect to any period of time subsequent to the date hereof, and that no installment or payment of any part of the rent has been waived, released, discharged or compromised. Debtor further represents and warrants that the property is in full compliance with all environmental laws, rules and regulations, federal, state and local.

Now, therefore, it is agreed as follows:

1. Delivery of possession. Debtor does deliver, transfer, and assign to Bank possession of the property, with full power and authority, either directly or through agents, to manage same, rent and lease the whole or any part thereof, execute and deliver leases in the name of Bank as mortgagee-in-possession, modify and/or cancel leases and adjust rents, effect insurances, pay taxes and assessments, water rates, interest, and any other sums due on the note and mortgage, agents' commissions and other charges; make all alterations and repairs that Bank deems necessary and advisable for the preservation of the property; make such alterations as Bank deems advisable for the purpose of promoting the renting of the property or any part thereof; and generally to perform all acts that Debtor might legally do or perform as the holder of the legal title in fee of the property.

2. Assignment of leases. Debtor does also deliver, transfer and assign to Bank all the leases of the property and the rents past due, now due and becoming due thereon, together with all deposits made as security for the payment of the rent reserved under the leases; and all fire, rent, liability, casualty, workmen's compensation (in so far as the same affect or may affect the property) plate glass, boiler and all other insurances, if any. At Bank's option, the proceeds of loss under any policy, whether endorsed payable to Bank or another person or not, may be applied in payment of the principal, interest, or any other sum secured by the mortgage whether due or not; or to the restoration or replacement of any building or improvement on the property without in any way affecting the lien of the mortgage or the obligation of Debtor or any other person or corporation for the payment of the indebtedness secured by the mortgage, regardless of whether Debtor is the then owner of the property.

3. Rent collection. Bank is given full powers and authority, either directly or through agents, to proceed as mortgagee-in-possession against any and all tenants now or hereafter in default under any lease of the property, or the terms of any letting of the property or any part thereof, by action, summary proceedings, or otherwise.

4. Equipment and contracts. In addition to the lien of the mortgage, Debtor assigns to Bank all additional right, title, and interest it may have, in and to any contract for the purchase of any personal property or fixture, appurtenant to or used in the operation of the property, together with the benefits of any deposits and/or payments now or hereafter made thereon by Debtor. Debtor further irrevocably authorizes and empowers Bank to continue, modify, extend, or cancel any incompleated contracts for repairs, maintenance or other service or for the purchase of refrigerators, gas ranges, heating equipment, elevators, electrical or other equipment, furnishings or supplies for the property and to pay therefor out of rents, issues and income or profits of the property. Debtor declares and agrees that all the personal property and fixtures, if any, which may not be included in and covered by the mortgage shall be and remain and form part of the realty and shall be covered by the lien of the mortgage and grants a security interest therein to Bank.

5. Continuation of possession. Bank may elect to continue in possession of the property as long as any advances which it has previously made or may subsequently make, and any delinquencies under the note and mortgage remain unpaid; and until rents, issues and profits of the property are sufficient to pay operating expenses, taxes, assessments and water rates, insurance premiums, agents' commissions, brokerage, attorney's fees, interest and installments of principal on the note and mortgage, and all other carrying charges whatsoever.

6. Expenses. Bank may in its sole discretion advance money for the payment of taxes, assessments, water rates, insurance premiums, cost of maintenance and repairs, agents' commissions, brokerage and for all other purposes that may be reasonably necessary or desirable in the management and operation of the property, and repay itself from the income of the property for any money so advanced with interest at the rate of 10 percent per annum.

7. Foreclosure. This agreement is not for any definite term, nor does Bank agree to withhold foreclosure for any definite period but expressly reserves the right to foreclose at any time. As part of the consideration for the execution and delivery of this agreement and the surrender of possession of the property by Debtor, Bank agrees to give in writing by mail addressed to Debtor at the address shown at the beginning of this agreement, 30 days' notice of its intention to foreclose. During such 30-day period, Debtor shall have the right to make good all defaults and make all payments necessary to place the mortgage in good financial standing in every way, whereupon Bank will immediately cancel this agreement.

8. Possession upon foreclosure. If Bank decides to foreclose the mortgage, it shall be entitled to remain in possession, under the terms of this agreement, during the pendency of the foreclosure action or proceeding and until such time as possession under the foreclosure deed is delivered; any provision of the law or anything herein contained to the contrary notwithstanding.

9. Reinstatement of mortgage. If at any time before the institution of the foreclosure action, the loan secured by the note and mortgage is placed in good financial standing in every way, Bank will immediately cancel this agreement; otherwise this agreement is to remain in full force and effect until the delivery of the foreclosure deed.

10. Application of funds. Debtor agrees that, in the operation of the property, Bank may at all times exercise its own judgment and discretion and shall not be accountable to Debtor for the application of any of the funds received from the property provided that they are applied in accordance with the terms of this agreement. Bank shall not be liable or responsible for any act or omission except for its own actual wrong-doing, nor for any act, omission, or wrong-doing by any agent appointed at Debtor's request.

11. Entire agreement; modification. This instrument contains the entire agreement of the parties. It may not be amended, modified, or cancelled without both parties' written consent.

12. No waiver. Except as modified by this agreement, the terms and conditions of the note and mortgage shall remain in full force and effect. Nothing contained herein shall be construed to be a waiver of any present or future default under the note or mortgage, or a waiver of any term or condition of the note or mortgage.

13. Bank's accountability. Bank shall only be chargeable for rents and profits actually received.

14. Further assignment. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, Debtor does also deliver, transfer and assign all other issues, profits and income of and from the property, past due and now payable or hereafter to accrue or become due from the property or from any part or parts thereof, and also all of Debtor's claims for rents, issues, profits and income, or damages against any lessee, sub-lessee or tenant or against the estate of any deceased, insolvent or bankrupt lessee, sub-lessee or tenant, whether such rents, issues, profits and income, or claims have been reduced to judgment or otherwise.

15. Tax refunds. If one or more refunds are made by the city, town, county, village, school, or other taxing authority, on account of taxes paid before or after this agreement, the refunds shall be assigned by Debtor, and shall be payable only to Bank. Bank is deemed the party aggrieved within the meaning of the Tax Law for the purpose of obtaining and retaining the refunds regardless of whether the taxes refunded were paid from the income of the property. Debtor agrees to execute all necessary assignments, consents, and other papers to have the refunds paid to Bank. Debtor irrevocably constitutes and appoints Bank its attorney in fact to execute and deliver all such assignments, consents, or other papers for and on behalf of Debtor.

16. Binding effect. This agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of both parties and their respective legal representatives, successors, and assigns.

17. Governing law. This agreement shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of New York.

18. Notices. All notices hereunder to be given by a party shall be sent by registered or certified mail, postage prepaid, return receipt requested, addressed to the other party at its address set forth at the beginning hereof. Either party may designate a different address by serving written notice of change of address on the other party, in the same manner.

19. Headings. Headings in this agreement are for convenience and reference only and are not deemed to be a part thereof.

This agreement has been duly executed by the parties.

East Side National Bank and Guaranty Company

By _____

1036 Nineteenth Avenue Corporation

By _____

[Acknowledgments]

150 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms
J. MORTGAGE FINANCING

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.114

FORM 21.114 Home Equity Conversion Mortgage

COMMENT

Home equity conversion mortgages, also referred to as "reverse" mortgages, allow homeowners who have paid off their home mortgages or have small mortgage balances to borrow against the equity in their homes. These mortgages are popular among older homeowners who need funds but prefer to stay in their homes rather than sell their homes and then move into a smaller home or an apartment. Reverse mortgages are often insured by the Department of Housing and Urban Development through the Fair Housing Administration. Unlike ordinary home equity loans, reverse mortgages do not require repayment as long as the home remains the borrower's principal residence, i.e., until the death of the homeowner or the sale of the home. Lenders recover the principal and interest when the home is sold. The remaining proceeds from the sale are paid to the homeowner or his or her survivors. The form below contains typical reverse mortgage provisions. If the reverse mortgage is HUD-insured, HUD may require the inclusion of additional provisions.

FORM

HOME EQUITY CONVERSION MORTGAGE

THIS HOME EQUITY CONVERSION MORTGAGE ("Mortgage") is given on _____ by _____, whose address is _____ ("Borrower"), to _____, whose address is _____ ("Lender").

Under an Adjustable Rate Promissory Note executed by Borrower concurrently herewith (the "Note"), Borrower has agreed to repay to Lender all amounts that Lender has advanced or will advance under a Loan Agreement of even date herewith ("Loan Agreement"). This Mortgage secures (a) the repayment of the debt evidenced by the Note, with interest at a rate subject to adjustment, and all renewals, extensions and modifications thereof, up to a maximum principal amount of _____ ($_____); (b) the payment of all other sums, with interest, advanced hereunder to protect the security of this Mortgage or otherwise due under the terms of this Mortgage; and (c) the performance of Borrower's covenants and agreements under this Mortgage and the Note. The full debt, including amounts described in (a), (b) and (c) above, if not paid earlier, is due and payable on _____, _____. Borrower does hereby mortgage, grant and convey to Lender the following described property located in and being the same Property conveyed to Borrower by that certain _____ recorded in Volume _____, Page _____, of the _____ Office in _____ County, Ohio:

which has the address of

_____, _____,
[Street][City]
 _____, _____ ("Property Address");
 [State][Zip Code]

TOGETHER WITH all the improvements now or hereafter erected on the property, and all easements, rights, appurtenances, and fixtures now or hereafter a part of the property. All replacements and additions shall also be covered by this Mortgage. All of the foregoing is referred to in this Mortgage as the "Property."

BORROWER COVENANTS that Borrower is lawfully seized of the estate hereby conveyed and has the right to mortgage, grant and convey the Property and that the Property is unencumbered. Borrower warrants and will defend generally the title to the Property against all claims and demands, subject to any encumbrances of record.

THIS SECURITY INSTRUMENT combines uniform covenants for national use and non-uniform covenants with limited variations by jurisdiction to constitute a uniform security instrument covering real property.

UNIFORM COVENANTS. Borrower and Lender covenant and agree as follows:

1. Payment of Principal and Interest. Borrower shall pay when due the principal of, and interest on, the debt evidenced by the Note.

2. Payment of Property Charges. Borrower shall pay all property charges consisting of taxes, ground rents, flood and hazard insurance premiums, and special assessments in a timely manner, and shall provide evidence of payment to Lender, unless Lender pays property charges by withholding funds from monthly payments due to the Borrower or by charging such payments to a line of credit as provided for in the Loan Agreement.

3. Fire, Flood and Other Hazard Insurance. Borrower shall insure all improvements on the Property, whether now in existence or subsequently erected, against any hazards, casualties, and contingencies, including fire. Borrower shall also insure all improvements on the Property, whether now in existence or subsequently erected, against loss by floods. All insurance shall be carried with companies approved by Lender. The insurance policies and any renewals shall be held by Lender and shall include loss payable clauses in favor of, and in a form acceptable to Lender.

In the event of loss, Borrower shall give Lender immediate notice by mail. Lender may make proof of loss if not made promptly by Borrower. Each insurance company concerned is hereby authorized and directed to make payment for such loss to Lender instead of to Borrower and to Lender jointly. Insurance proceeds shall be applied to restoration or repair of the damaged Property, if the restoration or repair is economically feasible and Lender's security is not lessened. If the restoration or repair is not economically feasible or Lender's security would be lessened, the insurance proceeds shall be applied to the reduction of the indebtedness under the Note and this Mortgage.

In the event of foreclosure of this Mortgage or other transfer of title to the Property that extinguishes the indebtedness, all right, title and interest of Borrower in and to insurance policies in force shall pass to the purchaser.

4. Occupancy, Preservation, Maintenance and Protection of the Property; Borrower's Loan Application;

Leaseholds. Borrower shall occupy, establish, and use the Property as Borrower's principal residence after the execution of this Mortgage, and Borrower (or at least one Borrower, if initially more than one person are Borrowers) shall continue to occupy the Property as Borrower's principal residence for the term of the Mortgage. "Principal residence" shall have the same meaning as in the Loan Agreement.

Borrower shall not commit waste or destroy, damage or substantially change the Property or allow the Property to deteriorate, reasonable wear and tear excepted. Borrower shall also be in default if Borrower, during the loan application process, gave materially false or inaccurate information or statements to Lender (or failed to provide Lender with any material information) in connection with the loan evidenced by the Note, including, but not limited to, representations concerning Borrower's occupancy of the Property as a principal residence. If this Mortgage is on a leasehold, Borrower shall comply with the provisions of the lease. If Borrower acquires fee title to the Property, the leasehold fee title shall not be merged unless Lender agrees to the merger in writing.

5. Charges to Borrower and Protection of Lender's Rights in the Property. Borrower shall pay all governmental or municipal charges, fines and impositions that are not included in Paragraph 2. Borrower shall pay these obligations on time directly to the entity which is owed the payment. If failure to pay would adversely affect Lender's interest in the Property, upon Lender's request Borrower shall promptly furnish to Lender receipts evidencing these payments. Borrower shall promptly discharge any lien which has priority over this Mortgage in the manner provided in Paragraph 12(c).

If Borrower fails to make these payments or the property charges required by Paragraph 2, or fails to perform any other covenants and agreements contained in this Mortgage, or there is a legal proceeding that may significantly affect Lender's rights in the Property (such as a proceeding in bankruptcy, for condemnation or to enforce laws or regulations), then Lender may do and pay whatever is necessary to protect the value of the Property and Lender's rights in the Property, including payment of taxes, hazard insurance and other items mentioned in Paragraph 2.

6. Inspection. Lender or its agent may enter on, inspect or make appraisals of the Property in a reasonable manner and at reasonable times provided that Lender shall give the Borrower notice prior to any inspection or appraisal specifying a purpose for the inspection or appraisal which must be related to Lender's interest in the Property. If the Property is vacant or abandoned or the loan is in default, Lender may take reasonable action to protect and preserve such vacant or abandoned Property without notice to the Borrower.

7. Condemnation. The proceeds of any award or claim for damages, direct or consequential, in connection with any condemnation or other taking of any part of the Property, or for conveyance in place of condemnation shall be paid to Lender. The proceeds shall be applied to the reduction of the indebtedness under the Note and this Mortgage. Any excess proceeds over an amount required to pay all outstanding indebtedness under the Note and this Mortgage shall be paid to the entity legally entitled thereto.

8. Fees. Lender may collect fees and charges authorized by the Loan Agreement.

9. Grounds for Acceleration of Debt.

a. Due and Payable. Lender may require immediate payment in full of all sums secured by this Mortgage if:

- (i) A Borrower dies and the Property is not the principal residence of at least one surviving Borrower, or
- (ii) All of a Borrower's title in the Property (or his or her beneficial interest in a trust owning all or part of the Property) is sold or otherwise transferred and no other Borrower retains title to the Property in fee simple or retains a leasehold under a lease for less than 99 years which is renewable or a lease having a remaining period of not less than 50 years beyond the date of the 100th birthday of the youngest Borrower or retains a life estate (or retaining a beneficial interest in a trust with such an interest in the Property).

b. Due and Payable. Lender may require immediate payment in full of all sums secured by this Mortgage if:

- (i) The Property ceases to be the principal residence of a Borrower for reasons other than death and the Property is not the principal residence of at least one other Borrower, or
- (ii) For a period of longer than twelve (12) consecutive months, a Borrower fails to occupy the Property because of physical or mental illness and the property is not the principal residence of at least one other Borrower, or
- (iii) An obligation of the Borrower under this Mortgage is not performed.

c. Notice to Lender. Borrower shall notify Lender whenever any of the events listed in this Paragraph (a)(ii) or (b) occur.

d. Notice to Borrower. Lender shall notify Borrower whenever the loan becomes due and payable under Paragraph 9(a)(ii) or (b). Lender shall not have the right to commence foreclosure until Borrower has had thirty (30) days after notice to either:

- (i) Correct the matter which resulted in the Mortgage coming due and payable; or
- (ii) Pay the balance in full; or
- (iii) Sell the Property for the lesser of the balance or 95% of the appraised value and apply the net proceeds of the sale toward the balance; or
- (iv) Provide the Lender with a deed in lieu of foreclosure.

e. Trusts. Conveyance of a Borrower's interest in the Property to a trust which meets the requirements specified in the Loan Agreement or conveyance of a trust's interests in the Property to a Borrower, shall not be considered a conveyance for purposes of this Paragraph 9. A trust shall not be considered an occupant or be considered as having a principal residence for purposes of this Paragraph 9.

10. No Deficiency Judgments. Borrower shall have no personal liability for payment of the debt secured by this Mortgage. Lender may enforce the debt only through sale of the Property. Lender shall not be permitted to obtain a deficiency judgment against Borrower if the Mortgage is foreclosed. Borrower shall not be liable for any difference between the mortgage insurance benefits paid to Lender and the outstanding indebtedness, including accrued interest, owed by Borrower at the time of the assignment.

11. Reinstatement. Borrower has a right to be reinstated if Lender has required immediate payment in full. This right applies even after foreclosure proceedings are instituted. To reinstate this Mortgage, Borrower shall correct the condition which resulted in the requirement for immediate payment in full. Foreclosure costs and reasonable and customary attorneys' fees and expenses properly associated with the foreclosure proceeding shall be added to the principal balance. Upon reinstatement by Borrower, this Mortgage and the obligations that it secures shall remain in effect as if Lender had not required immediate payment in full. However, Lender is not required to permit reinstatement if: (i) Lender has accepted reinstatement after the commencement of foreclosure proceedings within two years immediately preceding the commencement of a current foreclosure proceeding, (ii) reinstatement will preclude foreclosure on different grounds in the future, or (iii) reinstatement will adversely affect the priority of the Mortgage.

12. Lien Status

a. Modification. Borrower agrees to extend this Mortgage in accordance with this Paragraph 12(a). If Lender determines that the original lien status of the Mortgage is jeopardized under state law (including but not limited to situations where the amount secured by the Mortgage equals or exceeds the maximum principal amount stated or the maximum period under which loan advances retain the same lien priority initially granted to loan advances has expired) and state law permits the original lien status to be maintained for future loan advances through the execution and recordation of one or more documents, then Lender shall obtain title evidence at Borrower's expense. If the title evidence indicates that the Property is not encumbered by any liens, Lender shall request the Borrower to execute any documents necessary to protect the lien status of future loan advances. Borrower agrees to execute such documents. If state law does not permit the original lien status to be extended to future loan advances, Borrower will be deemed to have failed to have performed an obligation under this Mortgage.

b. Tax Deferral Programs. Borrower shall not participate in a real estate tax deferral program, if any liens created by the tax deferral are not subordinate to this Mortgage.

c. Prior Liens. Borrower shall promptly discharge any lien which has priority over this Mortgage unless Borrower: (a) agrees in writing to the payment of the obligation secured by the lien in a manner acceptable to Lender; (b) contests in good faith the lien by, or defends against enforcement of the lien in, legal proceedings which in the Lender's opinion operate to prevent the enforcement of the lien or forfeiture of any part of the Property; or (c) secures from the holder of the lien an agreement satisfactory to Lender subordinating the lien to all amounts secured by this Mortgage. If Lender determines that any part of the Property is subject to a lien which may attain priority over this Mortgage, Lender may give Borrower a notice identifying the lien. Borrower shall satisfy the lien or take one or more of the actions set forth above within 10 days of the giving of notice.

13. Forbearance by Lender Not a Waiver. Any forbearance by Lender in exercising any right or remedy shall not be a waiver of or preclude the exercise of any right or remedy.

14. Successors and Assigns Bound; Joint and Several Liability. The covenants and agreements of this Mortgage shall bind and benefit the successors and assigns of Lender. Borrower may not assign any rights or obligations under this Mortgage or under the Note, except to a trust that meets the requirements set forth in the Loan Agreement. Borrower's covenants and agreements shall be joint and several.

15. Notices. Any notice to Borrower provided for in this Mortgage shall be given by delivering it or by mailing it by first class mail unless applicable law requires use of another method. The notice shall be directed to the Property Address or any other address all Borrowers jointly designate. Any notice to Lender shall be given by first class mail to Lender's address stated herein or any address Lender designates by notice to Borrower. Any notice provided for in this Mortgage shall be deemed to have been given to Borrower or Lender when given as provided in this Paragraph 16.

16. Governing Law; Severability. This Mortgage shall be governed by Federal law and the law of the jurisdiction in which the Property is located. In the event that any provision or clause of this Mortgage or the Note conflicts with applicable law, such conflict shall not affect other provisions of this Mortgage or the Note which can be given effect without the conflicting provision. To this end, the provisions of this Mortgage and the Note are declared to be severable.

17. Borrower's Copy. Borrower shall be given one conformed copy of the Note and this Mortgage.

18. Assignment of Rents. Borrower unconditionally assigns and transfers to Lender all the rents and revenues of the Property. This assignment of rents constitutes an absolute assignment and not an assignment for additional security only. This assignment of rents of the Property shall terminate when the debt secured by this Mortgage is paid in full.

19. Foreclosure Procedure. If Lender requires immediate payment in full under Paragraph 9, Lender at its option may require immediate payment in full of all sums secured by this Mortgage without further demand and may foreclose this Mortgage by judicial proceeding. Lender shall be entitled to collect all expenses incurred in pursuing the remedies provided in this Paragraph 20, including, but not limited to, reasonable attorneys' fees and costs of title evidence.

20. Release. Upon payment of all sums secured by this Mortgage, Lender shall discharge this Mortgage without charge to Borrower. Borrower shall pay any recordation costs.

21. Advances to Protect Security. This Mortgage shall secure the unpaid balance of advances made by Lender, with respect to the Property, for the payment of taxes, assessments, insurance premiums and costs incurred for the protection of the Property.

BY SIGNING BELOW, Borrower accepts and agrees to the terms contained in this Mortgage and in any rider(s) executed by Borrower and recorded with it.

Witnesses:

Borrower

Borrower

STATE OF _____

COUNTY OF _____

)

)

)

SS

The foregoing instrument was acknowledged before me this _____ day of _____,
_____.

Notary Public

This instrument prepared by:

151 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms
J. MORTGAGE FINANCING

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.114A

FORM 21.114A Short Sale Agreement with Mortgage Lender

COMMENT

As a result of the decline in residential property values nationally, clients have recently been told, and inquired, about the possibility of negotiating a "short sale" of a residence. Because of the cooling of the residential real estate market and tightening of the lending industry's requirements, many borrowers/homeowners are finding themselves without the requisite equity needed to sell their homes and avoid foreclosure. In a short sale, the lender allows a property to be sold for less than the amount owed on the mortgage, and the lender takes the loss. If successful, it allows the seller to avoid foreclosure, the buyer often obtains an attractive price, the lender may walk away with a better return than it would at the end of a long, expensive foreclosure procedure, and the lender also gets the loan off of its books at a much earlier date. It is basically a loan workout program.

For those considering a short sale there are certain things to keep in mind:

1. The Loss Mitigation Department of the lender will require a lot of information from the borrower. In effect, the process includes pre-qualifying the potential short sale candidate by presenting a qualified proposal with supporting documentation and negotiating for the best possible results. It is advisable for the borrower to start early before it gets too far down the road and a foreclosure has been started. Lenders will have a laundry list of items required, for example, a copy of the Listing Agreement, a hardship letter, and financial information backing up the hardship letter, before they make a decision.
2. The lender will not consider a short sale unless there is a solid contract from the buyer out there which has been executed and which they will want to review. The lender may allow the sale, but may still look to the borrower to collect the shortfall. Obviously, from the buyer's point of view, it is preferable to negotiate as part of the short sale a favorable release and to get the lender to accept the payment in full, without pursuit of any deficiency or responsibility as to the "short sale loss." In this form, a provision is provided for such a release.

3. A short sale is usually listed at the credit bureaus as a "settled debt" which is less destructive to the borrower's credit score than a foreclosure. There are many ways for the lender to report a short sale, therefore, part of the negotiations should be to try to get the lender to report it as a "settled debt." The seller's goal is to get the most favorable reporting possible. Some have even been successful getting the lender to report the short sale favorably as "paid in full."

4. Whatever is worked out with the lender, the borrower or the borrower's attorney must get the agreement in writing, preferably agreed to by an officer and/or supervisor with authority to execute the short sale agreement, and keep that paperwork.

5. It is important for both the borrower/seller and the buyer to have an experienced title company closing the short sale transaction. Often there are several layers of lien holders to work with, and the title exam will disclose all of the borrower's/seller's liens, and the escrow agent will have to address them all satisfactorily prior to closing.

There used to be adverse tax consequences resulting from a short sale in that in most cases the difference between the amount for which the property was sold and the mortgage loan amount was treated as forgiveness of debt income and taxed as ordinary income to the borrower/seller. Fortunately, the Mortgage Forgiveness Debt Relief Act of 2007 added a new exception for mortgage indebtedness on a principal residence. The new law excludes from taxation, discharges of up to $2 million of indebtedness ($1 million for a married taxpayer filing a separate return) which are secured by a principal residence and which are incurred in the acquisition, construction, or substantial improvement of the principal residence. Congress included this break in connection with actual foreclosures and for mortgage workouts such as the short sale. This provision applies to debt forgiven in 2007, 2008 and 2009. The amount excluded reduces the taxpayer's basis in the home. In addition, a loss on the sale of a personal residence is not deductible by the seller/homeowner.

FORM

SHORT SALE AGREEMENT

THIS SHORT SALE AGREEMENT ("Agreement") is entered into this ____ day of _____, 20____, by and between JOSEPH SMITH and MICHELLE SMITH ("Borrowers"), and FRANKLIN NATIONAL BANK ("Lender").

WHEREAS, Borrowers have entered into a legally binding Contract of Sale to sell the residence located at 11025 Francis Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio (the "Residence"); and

WHEREAS, the Lender holds a first mortgage deed against the Residence securing a loan balance in the principal amount of One Hundred Thousand and 00/100 Dollars ($100,000.00), hereinafter referred to as the "Loan Balance;" and

WHEREAS, under the terms of the Contract of Sale, the net sales proceeds payable to the Lender will not be sufficient to pay off in full the Loan Balance, but Lender has agreed to accept such short sale, subject to the following terms and conditions:

1. Borrowers agree to use its best efforts to close the Contract for the sale of the Residence as soon reasonably possible, and in no event later than _____, 20____. In the event such sale is not closed by the aforesaid date, this Agreement shall be terminated without further liability to Lender.
2. Upon the closing of the Contract of Sale, Lender agrees and shall instruct the escrow agent to forward the entire net sales proceeds resulting from the transaction to the Lender, at the following address:

(Address of Lender)

3. In consideration of the closing of the Contract of Sale and payment of the net sales proceeds to Lender, Lender agrees to accept such payment in full satisfaction of the Loan Balance and agrees to file a release of its mortgage lien with the escrow agent upon receipt of the net sales proceeds. The escrow agent shall then be authorized to file the mortgage lien release with the _____ County Recorder to release the lien of such mortgage against the residence.
4. Notwithstanding that the net sales proceeds will not equal the amount of the Loan Balance, Lender agrees to release the Borrowers from any deficiency between the Loan Balance and the net sales proceeds, and to waive any rights to enforce payment of the deficiency. As evidence thereof, Lender shall deliver to Borrowers the original Promissory Note executed by the Borrowers marked "Paid in Full."
5. Until the net sales proceeds are paid to the Lender, Borrowers agree that all of the terms and conditions of the Promissory Note and Mortgage Deed securing the Promissory Note, shall be complied with by the Borrowers, including without limitation the payment of any interest accruing thereon. In the event the Contract of Sale is not consummated in accordance with the terms of this Agreement, the Promissory Note and Mortgage Deed shall remain in full force and effect and shall be binding upon the Borrowers, their heirs, legal representatives and permitted assigns.
6. The parties hereby agree that a copy of this Agreement shall be deposited with the escrow agent within three (3) days of the date of its execution, which Agreement shall serve as instructions to the escrow agent in connection with the payoff and cancellation of the above-described mortgage loan. The escrow agent shall join in the execution of this Agreement to evidence its acceptance of the terms of this Agreement.
7. This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto, their respective heirs, legal representatives, successors and assigns.

Executed by the parties hereto as of the date first above written.

BORROWERS:

Joseph Smith

Michelle Smith

LENDER:

FRANKLIN NATIONAL BANK

By: _____

Title: _____

The undersigned escrow agent hereby accepts the terms and provisions set forth in this Agreement and agrees to be bound thereby.

CITY TITLE COMPANY

By: _____

Title: _____

152 of 152 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 21 SALES AND EXCHANGES
Part IV. Forms

K. MORTGAGE CLAUSES AND PROVISIONS

25-21 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 21.115

FORM 21.115 Mortgage clauses and provisions

COMMENT

The following clauses and provisions cover the principal terms of mortgages, as well as many of the more specialized situations. In addition to numerous examples of plain language and other residential clauses, there are more specialized clauses covering matters such as nonrecourse mortgages (1), commercial leases and assignment of rents ((86) to (89)), extension of the mortgage lien to fixtures and other personal property ((6) and (90)), and a reduced interest rate for an employee-borrower (78).

These provisions have been arranged under general categories in the following order (with corresponding clause numbers):

Mortgage and mortgaged property: (1) through (9)

Transfer of title and title warranties: (10) through (17)

Payment, satisfaction, and release of lien: (18) through (24)

Interest and late charges: (25) through (29)

Insurance, taxes, and escrow: (30) through (42)

Default and remedies: (43) through (54)

Reimbursement, waiver, notice, and amendment: (55) through (65)

Maintenance, use, and compliance: (66) through (74)

Condemnation awards: (75) through (77)

Parties and successors: (78) through (85)

Assignment of rents, security interest, estoppel: (86) through (94)

Subordination and other liens: (95) through (97)

Interpretation: (98) through (103)

FORMS

(1) Nonrecourse mortgage with carveouts

No recourse against mortgagor. Mortgagee shall not look to Mortgagor or any principal of Mortgagor with respect to the indebtedness evidenced by this Mortgage. In enforcing its rights and remedies under this Mortgage, Mortgagee shall look solely to the mortgaged premises for the payment of the indebtedness secured hereby and for the performance of the provisions hereof. Mortgagee shall not seek a deficiency or other money judgment against Mortgagor or any principal of Mortgagor and shall not institute any separate action against Mortgagor by reason of any default which may occur in the performance of any term or condition of this Mortgage or the Note. This agreement by Mortgagee shall not be construed in any way so as to affect or impair the lien of this Mortgage or Mortgagee's right to foreclose hereunder as provided by law, or to limit or restrict any of Mortgagee's rights or remedies in any foreclosure proceedings or other enforcement of payment of the indebtedness secured hereby out of and from the security given therefor.

Notwithstanding the aforesaid, Mortgagee may look to Mortgagor and any principal of Mortgagor for (i) misapplication of insurance proceeds, condemnation proceeds, tenant's security deposits, (ii) rent revenue and other income collected more than one month in advance (iii) rental revenue and other income collected after an event of default under the Loan Documents not applied to the debt service or operating expenses of the business, (iv) intentional damage to the property, (v) failure to pay (or deposit into reserves held by Mortgagee) funds sufficient to pay taxes or other liens with priority over Mortgagee's Loan Documents, (vi) damages arising from any fraud or misrepresentation of Mortgagor or any of its principals, and (vii) damages arising from the existence of hazardous or toxic substances or the failure of the property to comply with environmental laws.

(2) Purchase money mortgage

Purchase money. This is a purchase money mortgage used to secure the repayment of funds used by Mortgagor to purchase the above described property.

(3) Purchase money mortgage: plain language

Nature of this agreement. This Agreement is a purchase money mortgage. I am signing this Agreement in exchange for the loan which you have given me for the purpose of purchasing the premises.

(4) Mortgaged premises, including all right, title and interest

The mortgaged premises includes all of Mortgagor's right, title, and interest in and to the streets abutting the premises to the center line thereof.

The mortgaged premises are the same premises conveyed to Mortgagor by deed delivered and intended to be recorded simultaneously with this mortgage. This mortgage is a purchase money mortgage.

The mortgaged premises includes all and singular the tenements, hereditaments, and appurtenances belonging or appertaining, and the reversion or reversions, remainder and remainders, rents, issues, and profits; also all the estate, right, title, interest, property, possession, claim, and demand whatsoever, in law and in equity, of Mortgagor, and every part and parcel with the appurtenances; and also all the right, title, and interest of Mortgagor in and to all equipment and fixtures now used or hereafter to be used in connection with the operation or enjoyment of the buildings on the premises or any part thereof.

(5) Mortgaged premises, including condemnation award

Now, therefore, in consideration of the indebtedness and for better securing the payment of the same, Mortgagor does hereby grant, convey, and mortgage unto Mortgagee, the real property described in Exhibit "A" attached (the "Land").

TOGETHER with any and all buildings and improvements erected or hereafter erected thereon.

TOGETHER with all of Mortgagor's right, title, and interest, now owned or hereafter acquired, in and to any land lying in the bed of any street, road, or avenue, open or proposed, in front of or adjoining said Land.

TOGETHER with all of Mortgagor's right, title and interest, now owned or hereafter acquired, in and to all sidewalks and alleys, and all strips and gores of land, adjacent to or used in connection with said Land.

TOGETHER with all awards, damages, payments and other compensation and all claims therefor and rights thereto which may result from taking or injury by virtue of the exercise of the power of eminent domain of or to, or any damage, injury, or destruction in any manner caused to the Premises, or any part thereof, or from any change of grade or vacation of any street abutting thereon. All of such awards, damages, payments, compensation, claims, and rights are hereby assigned, transferred, and set over to Mortgagee to the fullest extent that Mortgagor may under the law so do. Mortgagee is irrevocably appointed attorney-in-fact for Mortgagor to settle for, collect and receive any such awards, damages, payments, and compensation from the authorities making the same, to appear in and prosecute any proceeding therefor, and to give receipts and acquittances therefor.

(6) Fixtures and personal property included in mortgage: commercial property

TOGETHER with all fixtures, and all machinery, equipment, chattels, goods, and other articles of property, whether real estate or not, now or at any time hereafter attached to or situated in or upon, and used or useful in the operation of, the Land or the buildings and improvements erected or hereafter erected thereon, or of any business now or hereafter operated by the owner or any occupant of the Premises, or any part thereof, including:

All gas and electric fixtures, radiators, heaters, engines and machinery, boilers, ranges, ovens, elevators and motors, bathtubs, sinks, toilets, basins, pipes, faucets, air-conditioning equipment, plumbing fixtures, heating fixtures, mirrors, mantels, refrigerating plant, refrigerators, dishwashers, carpeting, furniture, laundry equipment, cooking apparatus, and appurtenances, and all building material and equipment now or hereafter delivered to the Premises and intended to be installed therein; and all renewals or replacements thereof, all additions or articles in substitution and all of the estate, right, title, and interest of Mortgagor in and to all property of any nature whatsoever, now or hereafter situate on the Premises or intended to be used in connection with its operation shall be deemed to be fixtures and an accession to the freehold and a part of the realty as between the parties hereto and all persons claiming by, through or under them and shall be deemed to be a portion of the security for the indebtedness secured by this Mortgage.

(7) Miscellaneous property interests included in mortgage

TOGETHER with all and singular the tenements, hereditaments and appurtenances belonging to the mortgaged Land or any part thereof, or the buildings and improvements thereon, or in anyway appertaining, including but not limited to all income, rents, issues and profits arising therefrom, all streets, alleys, passages, ways, watercourses, easements, all other rights, liberties, and privileges of whatsoever kind or character, the reversions and remainders, and all the estate, right, title, interest, property, possession, claim, and demand whatsoever, as well at law as in equity, of Mortgagor, in and to all the foregoing or any or every part thereof. The Land, buildings, improvements, fixtures, machinery, equipment, tenements, and other property interests described and enumerated above are collectively referred to in this mortgage as the "Premises."

(8) Mortgaged property and fixtures--short form

TOGETHER with all of Mortgagor's right, title, and interest to the land located in the streets and roads in front of and adjoining the premises, and

TOGETHER with all fixtures, and articles of personal property which now or in the future are attached to or used in the operation of any building on the premises together with any replacements thereof or additions thereto (but excluding the furniture of Mortgagor); and

TOGETHER with all awards or payments made to Mortgagor in the event of a taking of all or part of the premises by eminent domain ("condemnation"), including awards or payments for changes of the grades of streets and awards and payments made in the event of any other injury to or decrease in the value of the premises.

(9) Mortgaged premises: plain language

Mortgaged property. I give you a mortgage on my property at _____ (address or location) and all the buildings and improvements on it. This is the legal description of my property for the official records:

A. Legal description of property and improvements. ALL that certain tract or parcel of land and premises, hereinafter particularly described, situate, lying and being

[insert legal description]

B. Streets. I also give you a mortgage on any right that I may have in the land in the streets or roads in front of or alongside my property.

C. Fixtures. I also give you a mortgage on the property now or later attached to my land and buildings, and on all replacements of this property. These are called "fixtures." (Some examples of fixtures: furnaces, radiators, plumbing and heating pipes, bathroom fixtures, kitchen cabinets, stoves, shrubbery, and trees).

D. Condemnation awards. I also give you a mortgage on any money I am entitled to receive if all or part of my property or my right to use it is taken from me by a government agency or other lawful authority. You are authorized to collect this money, give receipts for it, and use it to reduce my debt to you. I agree to give you a written assignment or any other document you may need to obtain this money. If for a time after the property is taken the agency or authority delays making payment but instead pays you interest, I agree to pay you the difference between the interest you receive and the interest I would owe you under the Mortgage Note.

E. Additional security. As additional security for this loan, I also give you what is known as a security interest on any accounts maintained by me and in any securities of mine in your possession at any time while this loan remains unpaid.

(10) Acceleration on sale or transfer, except to spouse

Nonassumability. Upon the sale or transfer of all or part of the premises, Mortgagee may declare the entire principal sum and accrued interest thereon to be immediately due and payable. This paragraph, however, shall not apply to any sale or transfer between Mortgagor and his spouse.

(11) Acceleration on sale or transfer: plain language (residence)

Sale or transfer of premises. If I sell or transfer ownership of my property, I agree to repay what I owe you in full with interest up to the date of the sale or transfer, unless you have agreed in writing in advance to allow the new owner to take over my obligations under this Mortgage and the Mortgage Note.

(12) Title warranty

Mortgagor warrants and covenants with Mortgagee, that Mortgagor is seized of an indefeasible estate in fee simple in the premises, its appurtenances, equipment and fixtures, and will warrant and forever defend the title unto Mortgagee against all lawful claims.

(13) Title guaranty: plain language (residence)

Warranty. I guarantee to you that I am the sole owner of this property and that I have the legal right to give you a first mortgage on it. I guarantee to you title to the premises.

(14) Title warranty: plain language

I covenant ("agree") with you as follows:

Title. I warrant the title to the premises.

(15) Title warranty and covenant to defend

Warranty of title. Mortgagor warrants that it is lawfully seized of the Premises, that it has full right and is lawfully authorized to sell, convey, or encumber the same, and that the Premises are free and clear of all liens and encumbrances except as provided herein. Mortgagor further covenants to warrant and forever defend, all and singular, the Premises unto the Mortgagee forever from and against the Mortgagor and all persons whomsoever lawfully claiming the same or any part thereof.

(16) Further instruments to continue or preserve lien

Further assurances. At any time, and from time to time, upon Mortgagee's request, Mortgagor will make, execute, acknowledge, and deliver or cause to be made, executed, acknowledged, and delivered to Mortgagee, all other or further instruments, mortgages, conveyances, deeds, certificates, and documents that Mortgagee deems necessary, or desirable in order to effect, complete, confirm, enlarge, or perfect or to continue and preserve Mortgagor's obligation under the Note and the lien of this Mortgage. Upon any failure by Mortgagor to do so, Mortgagee may make, execute, and record any and all such instruments, certificates, and documents for and in the name of Mortgagor, and Mortgagor irrevocably appoints Mortgagee its agent and attorney-in-fact of Mortgagor to do so. Mortgagor agrees to pay all filing, registration, and recording fees and all federal, state, county, and municipal fee, taxes or other duties, imposts, assessments, and charges on all such instruments, certificates, and documents.

(17) Warranty of corporate or partnership status

Good standing. If Mortgagor purports to be a partnership or a corporation, it warrants and covenants that:

- (i) it is duly organized, validly existing, and in good standing under the laws of the state in which it is organized or incorporated,
- (ii) it is duly qualified and in good standing in the state in which the Premises is located,
- (iii) it has full power, authority, and legal right to carry on the business now being conducted by it and to engaged in the transactions contemplated by this Mortgage and the Note, and
- (iv) the execution and delivery of and the carrying out of the transaction contemplated by this Mortgage, the execution and delivery of the Note and this Mortgage, and the performance and observance of the terms, covenants, agreements, and provisions of all of the foregoing, have been duly authorized by all necessary actions of Mortgagor and will not conflict with or result in a breach of the terms or provisions of any other agreement or of any existing law or any existing rule, regulation, or order of any court or governmental body or of the Certificate of Partnership or Certificate of Incorporation or the Partnership Agreement or the By-laws of Mortgagor.

(18) Payment without deduction for taxes or assessments

This mortgage is granted upon this express condition, that if Mortgagor pays to Mortgagee all moneys secured hereby when due and payable, and the interest, without deduction or credit for any amount for taxes, assessments or other impositions, then this mortgage, and the estate hereby granted shall cease, terminate, and be void, otherwise to remain in full force and effect.

And Mortgagor covenants and agrees to pay to Mortgagee the principal and interest owing on the note or obligation, without any deduction or credit for any amount paid for taxes, assessments, or other impositions assessed or to be assessed upon the mortgaged premises.

(19) Repayment without deductions or credits: plain language (residence)

This grant is made upon the express condition, that if Mortgagor repays to Mortgagee the principal sum specified in the note bearing today's date along with all interest due on such sum without deductions or credits of any kind according to the terms of the note, this grant shall be void and of no legal effect whatsoever.

(20) Payment of debt: plain language

Payment. I will pay the indebtedness as provided by the Mortgage Note.

(21) Payment and performance of all terms by borrower

Payment of sums secured. Mortgagor shall pay to Mortgagee the principal of and interest upon the Note according to the terms of the Note, reasonable charges fixed by Mortgagee to satisfy and discharge this Mortgage of record, and all other sums hereby secured. Mortgagor shall keep and perform every other term, provision, covenant, and agreement of the Note and this Mortgage.

(22) Timely payment, satisfaction of mortgage

Satisfaction of this mortgage. If Mortgagor complies with all of the provisions of this Mortgage and pays to Mortgagee the principal sum, and all other sums payable by Mortgagor to Mortgagee as are hereby secured, in accordance with the provisions of the Note and in the manner and at the times therein set forth, without credit for taxes, deduction, fraud, or delay, then and from thenceforth this Mortgage, and the estate hereby granted, shall cease and become void, otherwise to remain in full force and effect.

(23) Medium and place of payment

Medium of payment. All payments of principal, interest and all other payments required or provided for herein shall be paid in lawful money of the United States of America which shall be legal tender in payment of all debts and dues, public and private, at the time of payment, at the office of Mortgagee or at any other place either within or without the State of _____ that Mortgagee may from time to time designate.

(24) Partial release of lien, continued liability

Right of release. Mortgagee may allow Mortgagor any indulgences or forbearances, or extensions of any kind, respecting payment of the indebtedness secured hereby, or may release portions of the Premises without affecting the personal liability of any person, corporation or other entity for the payment of the indebtedness, or the lien of this Mortgage upon the remainder of the Premises for the full amount of the indebtedness then remaining unpaid. In the event of the sale or transfer by operation of law or otherwise, of all or any part of, or interest in, the Premises described in this Mortgage, Mortgagee is authorized and empowered to deal with the buyer or transferee with reference to the Premises and/or the debt secured hereby, or with reference to any of the terms and/or conditions hereof, as fully and to the same extent as it might deal with the original parties and without in any way releasing or discharging any of the liabilities or undertakings hereunder all of which shall remain in full force and effect notwithstanding any such action.

(25) Mortgage security for adjustable interest note: plain language

By signing this Mortgage document, I give you a mortgage on the property described below, as security for your loan to me of $40,000, plus interest, as specified by the Mortgage Note signed the same day as this Mortgage. The Mortgage Note which this Mortgage secures provides for an adjustable interest rate. The interest rate may be increased or decreased at three-year intervals according to the formula which is fully described in the Mortgage Note. (The terms of the Note must be considered included in the terms of this Mortgage.)

NOTICE:

THE MORTGAGE SECURES A NOTE WHICH CONTAINS A PROVISION ALLOWING FOR CHANGES IN THE INTEREST RATE. INCREASES IN THE INTEREST RATE WILL RESULT IN HIGHER PAYMENTS. DECREASES IN THE INTEREST RATE WILL RESULT IN LOWER PAYMENTS.

In addition to the covenants and agreements made in the Mortgage, I and you further covenant and agree as follows:

A. INTEREST RATE AND MONTHLY PAYMENT CHANGES

The Note has an "Initial Interest Rate" of _____ percent. The Note interest rate may be increased or decreased on each Change Date, as described in the Note. Changes in the interest rate are governed by changes in the " _____ " made available by the _____ (the "Index"). The interest rate cannot be changed to more than _____ percentage points higher or lower than the Initial Interest Rate.

If the interest rate changes, the amount of my monthly payments will change as provided in the Note. Increases in the interest rate will result in higher payments. Decreases in the interest rate will result in lower payments.

B. LOAN CHARGES

It could be that the loan secured by the Mortgage is subject to a law which sets maximum loan charges and that law is interpreted so that the interest or other loan charges collected or to be collected in connection with the loan would exceed permitted limits. If this is the case, then: (A) any such loan charge shall be reduced by the amount necessary to reduce the charge to the permitted limit; and (B) any sums already collected from me which exceeded permitted limits will be refunded to me. You may choose to make this refund by reducing the principal owed under the Note or by making a direct payment to me.

C. TRANSFER OF THE PROPERTY

If there is a transfer of the Property subject to paragraph _____ of this mortgage, you may require either an increase in the current Note interest rate or an increase in the Base Index figure, or both, as a condition of your waiving the option to accelerate provided in paragraph _____.

By signing this, I agree to all of the above.

(26) Repayment with interest, late charges: plain language (residence)

When this mortgage becomes void. When the loan secured by this Mortgage has been paid in full with all interest due, this Mortgage shall become void.

Payments and late charge. I promise to repay this loan according to the terms of this Mortgage and the Mortgage Note. For each payment that reaches you more than 15 days late, I will pay you a late charge of two cents ($.02) for each dollar of the late payment. This charge covers the extra cost to you of handling late payments.

(27) Late payment charge for handling expenses

Late charge. Mortgagor shall pay to Mortgagee a "late charge" of five cents for each $1.00 of each monthly payment or interest and amortization more than 15 days in arrears to cover the extra expense involved in handling delinquent payments.

(28) Late charge in addition to other charges

Late charges. If any installment of principal, interest, principal and interest or escrow deposit becomes overdue for a period in excess of 15 days, Mortgagee may charge Mortgagor a "late charge" of four cents for each dollar ($1.00), or part thereof, so overdue, for the purpose of defraying Mortgagee's expenses incident to handling the delinquent payment. This charge shall be in addition to, and not in lieu of, any other remedy Mortgagee may have, and is in addition to any reasonable fees and charges of any agents or attorneys which Mortgagee is entitled to employ on any default hereunder, whether authorized herein, or by law. The "late charges" if not previously paid, shall, if Mortgagee so desires, be added to and become part of the next monthly payment to be made under the Note.

(29) Late charge: plain language

Late charges. If I fail to pay any mortgage installment within 15 days after its due date, I will pay a late charge in addition to the installment. This late charge cannot exceed 3 percent of the amount of the late installment and will cover your expenses in handling my late payment.

(30) Insurance requirement

Insurance. Mortgagor shall keep the buildings erected or to be erected upon the mortgaged premises insured against loss or damage by fire, and all other hazards specified by Mortgagee, for Mortgagee's benefit, and by insurers and in amounts approved by Mortgagee, and deliver such insurance policy or policies to Mortgagee. The policies shall have attached to them loss payable clauses in favor of and in form acceptable to Mortgagee, and the fire insurance policies shall contain the usual extended coverage endorsement. In default of this insurance requirement, Mortgagee may effect such insurance, and the premium or premiums paid shall be a lien on the mortgaged premises; added to the amount of the note or obligation and secured by this mortgage payable on demand with interest at the highest legal rate from the time of such payment. In case of loss, any insurance monies payable to Mortgagor and/or Mortgagee are, to the extent of Mortgagor's interest, assigned to Mortgagee to the end and with the right to so employ such monies as to preserve and protect Mortgagee's rights under this mortgage and the accompanying note or obligation; or to secure repayment of its indebtedness; or to rebuild or restore the damaged building or improvements, as Mortgagee in its absolute discretion may deem best; provided, however, that if Mortgagor is not in default and further provided that if such insurance proceeds alone or together with Mortgagor's own funds are sufficient to rebuild and restore the building and improvements, then Mortgagee agrees that Mortgagee shall have the right to use such proceeds for such purpose. Mortgagee shall have the absolute right to settle and compromise, without Mortgagor's consent, all claims under the policies of insurance.

(31) Insurance requirement, commercial building

Insurance

(a) Policies. Mortgagor shall keep the Premises continuously insured against loss by fire, with extended coverage and against any other hazards reasonably required by Mortgagee, in any total amount Mortgagee may require from time to time. In no event, however, shall the amount on the buildings and improvements on the Land be less than the greater of: (i) 100 percent of the full replacement cost of such buildings and improvements, without deduction for depreciation; (ii) an amount sufficient to prevent Mortgagee or Mortgagor from becoming a co-insurer within the terms of the applicable policies; or (3) the principal amount of the Mortgage. Mortgagor shall also maintain rent insurance on the Premises in an amount equal to at least one year's gross rent from the buildings and improvements on the Land. The policy or policies for all such insurance shall contain replacement cost endorsements and shall be maintained in full force and effect until the secured indebtedness is fully repaid. All policies, and any renewals, including policies for any amounts carried in excess of the minimum and policies not specifically required by Mortgagee, shall be with an insurance company or companies, and in form and substance satisfactory to Mortgagee, and shall be deposited, premiums paid, with Mortgagee.

(b) Loss proceeds. Any loss shall be payable to Mortgagee according to the terms of a standard mortgagee clause, not subject to contribution, or of such other form of mortgagee or loss payment clause as is satisfactory to Mortgagee. Mortgagee may adjust or compromise any loss claims under the insurance, and collect and receive the proceeds and apply them either to reduce the secured indebtedness or to restore the Premises. However, if the insurance proceeds do not exceed $5,000, Mortgagor may use the proceeds to repair and reconstruct the Premises. In such event, Mortgagee may not retain the proceeds or apply them to the secured indebtedness. Mortgagor shall deliver all renewal policies, premiums paid, to Mortgagee at least ten days before the policies expire. Each policy shall provide Mortgagee with 20 days' prior written notice before any termination or cancellation becomes effective. If Mortgagee becomes the owner of all or any part of the Premises by foreclosure or otherwise, the policies shall become Mortgagee's absolute property. In the event of damage by fire, other casualty or catastrophe, Mortgagor shall forthwith restore the Premises to their prior condition, irrespective of adequacy or availability of insurance proceeds.

(c) Separate insurance. Mortgagor shall not take out separate insurance concurrent in form or contributing in the event of loss with that required to be maintained under this Mortgage unless Mortgagee is included thereon as a named insured with loss payable to Mortgagee under a standard mortgage endorsement of the character above described. Mortgagor shall immediately notify Mortgagee whenever any such separate insurance is taken out, and shall promptly deliver to Mortgagee the policy or policies of such insurance.

(32) Insurance requirement: homeowner's and flood insurance

Insurance. I agree to keep the buildings on my property insured at all times against loss by fire and any other risks you may require. All policies shall be for at least the amounts and time periods that you specify. Each policy will contain the usual extended coverage endorsement. (A "Homeowner's Policy" will satisfy the extended-coverage requirement). If the property is located in an area with a high risk of flooding, I will insure it against flood damage if insurance is available under the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968. All policies will name you as the Mortgagee, which means you will receive payment made on any insurance claims. I agree to show you any of these policies whenever you ask to see them. I agree to pay all insurance premiums when due. If I do not, you may make the payment for me, and I will repay you immediately. If you receive payment of a claim, you may choose to let me use the money to repair the damage, or you may use the money to reduce what I owe you.

(33) Insurance requirement: plain language

Insurance. I will keep the buildings on the premises insured for your benefit against loss or damage by fire, flood, and any other hazards. I will purchase insurance in the amounts and for the time periods which you require, and will assign and deliver the policies to you. All insurance policies shall contain the usual extended coverage endorsements and the standard mortgagee endorsements. If you do not require payments for insurance premiums to be paid in escrow, I will make all premium payments according to the terms of the policies. If I default on the payment of premiums under such policies, you may pay the premiums and I shall repay you upon demand. If I default on any of my obligations under this Agreement, all insurance policies which I have purchased in connection with the premises and the unearned premiums on such policies shall be assigned to you as further security for my mortgage debt. If you collect on any of the insurance policies for loss or damage to the premises, you may apply such money towards the payment of my mortgage debt or you may turn over all or part of the money to me; provided, however, if I am not in default, I shall have the right to use the proceeds if I can rebuild and restore the buildings to the condition they were in prior to their damage. If you apply the insurance money which you collect towards the payment of my mortgage debt, the amount of your mortgage lien shall only be reduced by the amount of the insurance money which you collect and keep.

(34) Flood insurance requirement

Flood insurance. Mortgagor covenants and agrees that if, at any time during the term or any extensions of the Mortgage, the area in which all or part of the Premises is located is designated a "flood prone" area under the Flood Disaster Protection Act, as amended, Mortgagor shall obtain flood insurance in whatever amount Mortgagee requires from time to time, and shall otherwise comply with the National Flood Insurance Program as set forth in such Act. Mortgagor further agrees to fully comply with the requirements of the National Flood Insurance Act and the Flood Disaster Protection Act, as amended, and any other law, order, rule, ordinance, or regulation concerning flood insurance, to the extent that such law applies to all or any part of the Premises.

(35) Taxes paid by borrower

Taxes. Mortgagor shall pay all taxes, assessments, water rents, and other governmental charges levied upon the premises, within 15 days after they become due and payable, and will deliver proper receipts therefor to Mortgagee. If Mortgagor fails to make such payments, Mortgagee may pay the charges, in which case its payments shall be a lien on the mortgaged premises, added to the amount of the debt, and secured by this mortgage, and shall be due and payable on demand, with interest at the highest legal rate from the time of such payment.

(36) Taxes and utility charges

Taxes and other charges. Mortgagor shall pay all real estate taxes, water and sewer rents, fines, impositions, and other similar claims and liens now or later assessed against all or any part of the Premises, without any deduction, defalcation, or abatement, not later than ten days before the dates on which such taxes and other charges start to bear interest or penalties, and shall produce to Mortgagee receipts for the payment thereof in full by not later than such dates. Mortgagor shall pay every other tax, assessment, claim, fine, imposition, lien, or encumbrance which may at any time be or become a lien upon the Premises prior to, or on a parity with, the lien of this Mortgage. If Mortgagor, in good faith and by proper legal action, contests the validity or amount of any taxes, assessments, fines, impositions, claims, liens, encumbrances, or other charges, and establishes on its books or by deposit of cash with Mortgagee (as Mortgagee may elect) a reserve for payment in such amount as Mortgagee shall require, Mortgagor shall not be required to pay such taxes or charges, or to produce such receipts, during the maintenance of the reserve and for so long as such contest operates to prevent collections, is maintained and prosecuted with diligence, and is not terminated or discontinued adversely to Mortgagor. Mortgagor shall pay all charges for public or private utilities with respect to the Premises when such charges are due, and shall not allow them to remain outstanding.

(37) No credit for tax payments: plain language

Taxes. No owner of the mortgaged property shall be entitled to any credit by reason of the payment of any tax thereon.

(38) Future mortgage or other tax

Future mortgage or other taxes. If any future federal, state, or local law, rule, regulation, or ordinance imposes a tax on Mortgagee either with respect to the Premises, the value of Mortgagor's equity, the amount of the secured indebtedness, the Note, or this Mortgage, Mortgagee may from time to time give Mortgagor 60 days' written notice to pay the secured indebtedness. The indebtedness shall then become due, payable, and collectible at the end of the 60-day period unless before such time Mortgagor has lawfully, without violation of any usury or other law, paid any such tax in full as it becomes due and payable. In such event, the notice shall be deemed rescinded with respect to any of Mortgagee's rights arising by reason of the tax so paid. No prepayment charge or premium shall apply to any payment of the secured indebtedness pursuant to any such notice, if the payment is made before the expiration of the 60-day period.

(39) No credit for taxes assessed

No credit for taxes. Mortgagor will not claim, demand, or be entitled to receive, any credit or credits on the principal indebtedness, or on the interest, for so much of the taxes assessed against the Premises as is equal to the tax rate applied to the principal indebtedness due on this Mortgage or any part thereof, and no deduction shall be claimed from the taxable value of the Premises by reason of this Mortgage.

(40) Escrow for taxes and insurance, without interest

Escrow funds. At Mortgagee's request, Mortgagor shall pay to Mortgagee monthly at the time when the monthly installment of principal, interest or principal and interest, is payable, an amount equal to one twelfth of the annual premium for fire and extended coverage insurance, other hazard insurance and the annual real estate taxes, water rents, sewer rents, special assessments, and any other tax, assessment, claim, lien, or encumbrance which may at any time be or become a lien upon the Premises prior to, or on a parity with, the lien of this Mortgage to enable Mortgagee to pay same at least 30 days before they become due, and on demand from time to time shall pay to Mortgagee additional sums necessary to pay the premiums and other payments, all as estimated by Mortgagee, the amounts so paid to be security for the premiums and other payments and to be used in payment thereof. No amounts so paid shall be deemed to be trust funds but may be commingled with Mortgagee's general funds, and no interest shall be payable thereon. If, pursuant to any provision of this Mortgage, the entire principal debt remaining or any installment of interest, principal, or principal and interest becomes due and payable, Mortgagee may apply any amounts so held against all or any part of the secured indebtedness, any interest thereon, or in payment of the premiums or payments for which the amounts were deposited.

(41) Escrow payments and account: plain language (residence)

A. Escrow Account. At the time of the signing of this Mortgage, I will deposit with you a sum of money to establish an escrow account, from which you will pay future private mortgage insurance premiums, if any, real estate taxes, municipal water charges, sewer rents and special assessments on the property (together called "the Charges"). There must be enough money in the escrow account at all times to pay the Charges one month before they become due. I will make a new deposit to this account every month along with my monthly payment of the loan principal and interest as specified in the Mortgage Note. My monthly deposits shall be one twelfth of the annual Charges as estimated by you. I agree that your estimates may allow for possible future increases in the Charges. Whenever you decide the amount in the escrow account will be too small to pay the Charges when they become due, I agree to make whatever lump sum payment you request and/or to increase my monthly deposit. If I am in default (see Paragraph _____) and you become owner of my property or sell it at public sale, you may use the balance left in the escrow account to pay the Charges, or you may use this Balance to reduce what I owe you. When I have paid what I owe you in full, you will refund to me whatever money is in the escrow account at that time.

B. Charges not paid from escrow account. I agree to pay when due all Charges (See Paragraph A) that are not being paid by you from my escrow account. I will promptly show you receipts for these payments if you request it. If I do not pay these Charges when they are due, you may do so and I will repay you immediately. Even though I may be given the choice of paying an assessment in installments, you can demand that I pay the full assessment when the first installment is due.

(42) Monthly escrow payments: plain language

Monthly escrow deposits. Upon your request, I will pay you, in addition to my monthly installments of principal and interest, an amount equal to one twelfth of the taxes, municipal water rates, sewer rents, and assessments levied or to be levied against the premises, together with fire and other hazard insurance premiums, which you estimate will be due during a 1-year period. These amounts are called "escrow deposits." I will continue to make such monthly escrow deposits until my mortgage debt is fully paid so that you will have enough money to pay taxes, municipal water rates, sewer rents, assessments, and insurance premiums on the first day of the month preceding the month in which such payments become due. If at any time you decide that my monthly escrow deposits are not sufficient to make any of these payments as they become due, at your request I shall deposit the amount which you need in order to make payments when due. Should I default on any of the terms of this Agreement and (a) a public sale of the premises is conducted, or (b) if you otherwise acquire the premises after my default, you will have the right to use my escrow deposit funds to pay any taxes, municipal water rates, sewer rents, assessments, and insurance premiums or to apply my escrow deposit funds to the balance remaining on the mortgage. If you should do this, you will not be obligated to account to me for it. My escrow deposit funds may be kept with your general funds. You shall pay interest on my monthly escrow deposits only to the extent required by law. You may at any time decide to discontinue or reinstate my monthly escrow deposit requirements.

(43) Immediate acceleration for specified defaults

Default. The whole of the principal sum and the interest shall become due, at Mortgagee's option: (a) after failure to exhibit to Mortgagee, within ten days after demand, receipts showing payment of all taxes, water rates, sewer rents, and assessments; (b) after the actual or threatened alteration, demolition or removal of any building on the premises without Mortgagee's written consent; (c) after the assignment of the rents of the premises or any part thereof without Mortgagee's written consent; (d) if the buildings on said premises are not maintained in reasonably good repair; (e) after failure to comply with any requirement or order or notice of violation of law or ordinance issued by any governmental department claiming jurisdiction over the premises within three months from the issuance thereof; (f) if on Mortgagee's application two or more fire insurance companies lawfully doing business in the state refuse to issue policies insuring the buildings on the premises; or (g) if Mortgagor fails to keep, observe, and perform any other covenant, condition, or agreement in this mortgage.

(44) Delayed acceleration for late payment, other defaults

Acceleration. The entire unpaid principal sum and accrued interest shall become due, at Mortgagee's option: (a) after default for 15 days in the payment of all or part of any installment of principal or interest; (b) after default in the payment of any tax, water rate, sewer rent, or assessment for 15 days after notice and demand; (c) after default after notice and demand either in delivering the policies insuring the buildings against loss by fire or in reimbursing Mortgagee for premiums paid on such insurance, as provided in this mortgage; or (d) after default upon request in furnishing a statement of the amount due on the mortgage and whether any offsets or defenses exist against the mortgage debt, as provided in this mortgage.

(45) Immediate default for nonpayment or other specified event

Events of default. The following shall constitute events of default under this Mortgage ("Events of Default"):

- (a) Mortgagor's failure to pay any installment of principal, interest or principal and interest, or any escrow deposit, when due and payable;
- (b) Mortgagor's failure to pay any other required sum in the Note or in this Mortgage when the same is due and payable;
- (c) Mortgagor's failure to perform or observe any other term, provision, covenant, or agreement in the Note or this Mortgage within 15 days after same is to be performed;
- (d) The filing by Mortgagor of a voluntary petition in Bankruptcy; Mortgagor's application as a bankrupt or insolvent; the filing by Mortgagor of any petition or answer seeking or acquiescing in any reorganization arrangement, composition, readjustment, liquidation, dissolution, or similar relief for itself under any present or future federal, state or other statute, law or regulation relating to bankruptcy, insolvency, or other relief for debtors; Mortgagor's seeking or consenting to or acquiescence in the appointment of any trustee, receiver, or liquidator of Mortgagor or of all or any substantial part of the Premises or of any or all of the rents, revenues, issues, earnings, profits, or income thereof; the making of any general assignment for the benefit of creditors; or the admission in writing of Mortgagor's inability to pay its debts generally as they become due; or
- (e) The occurrence of any event of default under the Note.

(46) Default: plain language (residence)

Default. I will be in default if I do not make any payment required by this Mortgage or the Mortgage Note within 15 days after the date it is due. I will also be in default if I violate any other terms and conditions of the Mortgage and Mortgage Note. If, in your opinion, my property is threatened with destruction or demolition, you may consider me to be in default. If I am in default for any reason, you have the right to demand payment of the entire amount I owe you, with interest up to the day you receive payment. I agree to repay you for your reasonable legal expenses, if any, in collecting what I owe you.

(47) Default: plain language

Default. The entire amount of the mortgage debt, including principal and interest, shall become due and payable at your option:

If I fail to pay any installment of principal or interest, late charge or escrow deposit required under this Agreement within ten days of the date on which such amount is due.

If I fail to pay any tax, municipal water rate, sewer rent, assessment, or insurance premium which I am required to pay within 30 days of the date on which such amount is due.

If I fail to show you the receipts evidencing payment of all taxes, water rates, sewer rents, and assessments within ten days after you ask me to do so.

If I fail to assign and deliver to you the insurance policies insuring the premises against loss or other hazards after you have asked me to do so.

If I fail to repay you for those insurance premiums which you pay in connection with any insurance policies as herein provided.

If I fail to give you a statement which sets forth the amount due on the mortgage debt and any defenses or offsets which exist against the debt, after you ask me to do so.

If I have structurally altered, demolished, or removed any building on the premises or threatened to do so without your written consent.

If I do not keep any building on the premises in reasonably good repair.

If any of the fixtures or articles of personal property on the premises are removed, or totally or partly destroyed, and I fail to replace them promptly with similar items of at least equal quality which are free from any other security interests.

If an action is started to foreclose any lien affecting the premises.

If I fail to remove any federal tax lien on the premises within 30 days of your request that I do so.

If the premises are sold or transferred without your written consent.

If I fail to comply with any requirement, order, or notice issued by a governmental department claiming to have jurisdiction over the premises within three months after such requirement, order, or notice is issued, or within such shorter period of time as may be allowed by the governmental department.

If two or more fire insurance companies lawfully doing business in this state refuse to issue policies insuring any building(s) on the premises after you have applied for it.

If there are any changes in the way in which mortgages are to be taxed for state or local purposes. (You must give me 30 days' written notice that you intend to demand that I repay my entire mortgage debt under this circumstance of default.)

If I assign the rents or profits received from the premises without your written consent.

If there is any subordinate financing of the premises.

If the premises are no longer my domicile ("principal residence").

If I fail to honor any of my promises under this Agreement.

(48) Remedies: possession, rents, receiver

Mortgagee's remedies. If Mortgagor shall fail to observe, perform and keep all of the terms, provisions, covenants and conditions required by it to be kept, observed, and performed hereunder, Mortgagee may immediately enter upon, take possession of, and let the mortgaged premises, receive the rents, issues, and profits thereof, and apply such proceeds, after paying all necessary charges and expenses, on account of the amount secured hereby. In the event of any such default, all rents and profits shall thereupon be deemed assigned to Mortgagee, who may immediately, upon commencing proceedings for the foreclosure of this mortgage, apply for the appointment of a receiver of the rents and profits of the premises. Mortgagee shall be entitled to the appointment of such receiver as a matter of right, as security for the amounts due Mortgagee, without consideration of the value of the mortgaged premises or solvency of any person or persons liable for the payment of such amounts.

(49) Remedies: acceleration, foreclosure, entry, receiver

Remedies. Upon the happening of any one or more of the Events of Default, the entire unpaid balance of the principal, the accrued interest, and all other sums secured by this Mortgage shall, at Mortgagee's option, become immediately due and payable without notice or demand, and in any Event of Default Mortgagee may forthwith undertake any one or more of the following:

(a) Foreclosure. Institute an action of mortgage foreclosure, or take any other action allowed at law or in equity, for the enforcement and realization on the mortgage security or any other security which is herein or elsewhere provided for, and proceed to final judgment and execution for the entire unpaid balance of the principal sum, with interest at the rate stipulated in the Note to the date of default and thereafter at the rate stipulated in the Note, together with all other sums secured by this Mortgage, all costs of suit, interest at the rate stipulated in the Note on any judgment obtained by Mortgagee from and after the date of any foreclosure sale of the Premises (which may be sold in one parcel or in such parcels, manner or order as Mortgagee shall elect) until actual payment is made by the selling authority of the full amount due Mortgagee, and reasonable attorney's fees, without further stay, any law, usage or custom to the contrary notwithstanding;

(b) Entry. Enter into possession of the Premises, with or without legal action, and by force if necessary; lease the same, collect all rents, issues, and profits therefrom and, after deducting all costs of collection and administration expense, apply the net rents, issues, and profits to the payment of taxes, water and sewer rents, charges and claims, insurance premiums, and all other carrying charges (including agents' compensation and fees and costs of counsel and receivers) and to the maintenance, repair, and restoration of the Premises, or on account and in reduction of the secured principal or interest, in such order and amounts as Mortgagee in its sole discretion elects;

(c) Receivership. Have a receiver appointed to enter into possession of the Premises, collect the rents, issues, and profits therefrom and apply the same as the court directs. Mortgagee shall be entitled to the appointment of a receiver without having to prove either the inadequacy of the security or the insolvency of Mortgagor or any other person who may be legally or equitably liable to pay moneys secured hereby, and Mortgagor and each such person shall be deemed to have waived such proof and to have consented to the appointment of a receiver. If Mortgagee or any receiver collects rents, issues, or profits from the Premises, the moneys so collected shall not be substituted for payment of the debt or used to cure the default, without Mortgagee's prior written consent. Mortgagee shall be liable to account only for rents, issues, and profits actually received by it.

(50) Cumulative rights and remedies

Cumulative rights and remedies. The rights and remedies of Mortgagee as provided in this Mortgage, or in the Note, shall be cumulative and concurrent, but not exclusive, and may be pursued singly, successively, or together at Mortgagee's sole discretion, and may be exercised as often as necessary. The failure to exercise any such right or remedy shall in no event be construed as a waiver or release thereof.

(51) Borrower's waiver of defenses and notices

Waiver of defenses and certain notices. To the full extent permitted by law, Mortgagor waives and releases (a) all errors, defects, and imperfections in any proceedings instituted by Mortgagee under this Mortgage, (b) all benefits that might accrue to Mortgagor by virtue of any present or future laws exempting the Premises, or any part of the proceeds arising from any sale thereof, from attachment, levy, or sale under execution, or providing for any stay of execution, exemption from civil process, or extension of time for payment, and (c) all notices, not specifically required by the Note and this Mortgage, of Mortgagor's default or of Mortgagee's exercise, or election to exercise, any option under this Mortgage.

(52) Tenancy of borrower after default

Use of premises after default. On or after any event of default in the payment of any sum secured by this mortgage, Mortgagor or anyone claiming by, through, or under it, shall, upon Mortgagor's demand, become a month to month tenant of Mortgagee, and shall pay as monthly rental for the portion of the Premises occupied by Mortgagor, the respective sums agreed to be paid as monthly payments in this Mortgage in advance on the dates and in the manner provided for such payment in the Note. In default of so doing, Mortgagor and anyone claiming by, through, or under it, may be dispossessed by proceeding under the Landlord and Tenant Act, any appropriate summary proceedings, or any other law and this covenant shall be effective either with or without any action being brought to foreclose this Mortgage and without applying for a receiver to collect rents.

(53) Foreclosure proceeds, deficiency and surplus: residence

Foreclosure. If I am in default and do not pay what I owe you when you demand payment, you will have the right to sell my property. This is called foreclosing the mortgage. You may use what you receive from the sale to repay what I owe you, after first paying the foreclosure expenses and your reasonable attorney's fees. If what you receive is not enough to pay off the entire amount I owe you, I will still have to pay you the difference. If the sale brings in more money than is needed to pay your expenses and my debt to you, the surplus will be available to pay any other of my debts which are secured by my property and which may be paid at that time. Any money left over will be paid to me. If you foreclose, you may have a receiver appointed to take care of my property for you until the sale. At the foreclosure sale, you may sell my property as one parcel.

(54) Foreclosure and receiver: plain language

Foreclosure. If I default in my obligations under this Agreement and a foreclosure sale is held, the premises may be sold in one parcel.

You or any other holder of this mortgage shall be entitled to the appointment of a receiver in any action to foreclose this mortgage without notice to me and without regard to the adequacy of the security for the debt.

(55) Legal expense reimbursement

Counsel fees. If Mortgagee becomes a party (by intervention or otherwise) to any action or proceeding affecting the Premises, the title, or Mortgagee's interest under this Mortgage, or employs an attorney to collect any of the indebtedness or to enforce performance of the obligations, covenants and agreements secured hereby, Mortgagor shall reimburse Mortgagee, forthwith upon written notice and without further demand, for all reasonable costs, charges, and counsel fees incurred by Mortgagee, in any such case, regardless of whether suit is commenced, and the same shall be added to the secured principal sum as a further charge and lien upon the Premises and bear interest at the rate provided for in the Note.

(56) Lender's right to cure borrower's defaults

Right to remedy defects. If Mortgagor fails to pay any tax, claim, lien, or encumbrance which shall be or become prior to, or on a parity with, the lien of this Mortgage, or to pay any insurance premium as aforesaid, or to pay any utility bill for services rendered to the Premises or to keep the Premises in repair, as aforesaid, or commits or permits waste or fails to perform or observe any term, agreement, provision, covenant, or condition under this Mortgage, Mortgagee, may pay such claim, lien, encumbrance, tax, assessment, or premium, with right of subrogation thereunder, may make any repairs and take any steps it deems advisable to prevent or cure such waste, and may appear in any action or proceeding with respect to any of the foregoing and retain counsel therein, and take such action therein as Mortgagee deems advisable. Mortgagee is empowered to enter and to authorize others to enter upon the Premises for the purpose of performing or observing any such defaulted covenant or condition without becoming liable to Mortgagor or any person in possession under Mortgagor. For any of such purposes, Mortgagee may advance any sums of money it deems necessary. Mortgagor will pay to Mortgagee, immediately and without demand, all sums of money advanced by Mortgagee pursuant to this paragraph and until paid, all such sums shall be added to the secured principal and bear interest at the rate provided for in the Note secured by this Mortgage.

(57) Legal expense reimbursement: plain language (residence)

Suits. If you are sued in any legal action which concerns this Mortgage or if you have to defend your rights to my property, I agree to repay your expenses (including reasonable lawyers' fees) with interest at _____ percent a year. This Mortgage is your security for these expenses, plus interest, as if they were part of my original debt to you.

(58) Legal expense reimbursement: plain language

Legal expenses. If you become involved in a lawsuit or legal proceeding to foreclose this mortgage or to recover or collect my mortgage debt, applicable provisions of law will govern your recovery of costs, disbursements and allowances.

If you become a party to any other lawsuit or legal proceeding concerning this mortgage, or if it becomes necessary for you to uphold or defend the lien of this mortgage, it will be my responsibility to pay for your legal expenses (including reasonable attorney's fees) which you reasonably spend in connection with such action. The sum of your legal expenses, plus interest, shall become a lien on the premises, superior to any right, title to, interest in, or claim upon the premises arising after the creation of your lien under this Agreement.

(59) Interest on lender's expenses and advances: plain language

Interest. If you ever incur any expenses or advance any money in connection with this Agreement or as required by law, I will pay you interest on that amount which you have spent. This interest will be figured at the interest rate provided for in the Mortgage Note which I have signed in connection with this Agreement.

(60) Waiver of default not waiver of subsequent defaults

Waiver. This mortgage, the note secured hereby, Mortgagees rights hereunder or thereunder, and Mortgagor's obligations and liabilities hereunder or thereunder, shall not in any way be affected by Mortgagee's (a) granting Mortgagor any extension of time to pay this mortgage (b) taking other or additional security for the payment hereof or thereof (c) releasing any security (d) changing any term of this mortgage or of the note secured hereby, or (e) waiver of, or failure to exercise, any right to accelerate the mortgage indebtedness under any covenant or stipulation contained herein.

(61) Notice to borrower and lender

Notice. Notice shall be deemed to have been properly given under this Mortgage if in writing and sent by certified mail, return receipt requested, addressed to Mortgagor or to the persons who are then the owners of the Premises, at the Premises, or to any other address designated in writing to Mortgagee, or if sent to Mortgagee, to its address stated above, by certified mail, return receipt requested.

(62) Notice requirement: plain language

Notices, demands, and request. All notices, demands, and requests to me with regard to this Agreement may be in writing and delivered in person or by mail.

(63) No oral amendments

Amendment. This mortgage may not be changed or terminated orally but only by an instrument signed by all affected parties.

(64) Amendment only by written agreement: plain language (residence)

Change of terms. The terms of this Mortgage may be changed only by written agreement signed by you and me.

(65) Amendment by written statement only: plain language

Changes to or the termination of this agreement. This Agreement may not be modified or terminated orally. Any modification or termination must be effected by an instrument signed by the party against whom the enforcement of such modification or termination is sought.

(66) Maintenance of property, inspection

Maintain improvements. Mortgagor shall maintain the buildings on the mortgaged premises, and all equipment and fixtures used in connection with the operation and enjoyment of the buildings, in reasonably good repair, and shall not remove or demolish, or permit the same to be removed or demolished, or make such alteration therein or such change in the use thereof, as to create a fire or other hazard not existing on the date hereof. Mortgagor or the then owner of the premises shall, at all reasonable hours, permit Mortgagee or its representatives to inspect the buildings.

(67) Maintenance of property, compliance with laws

Waste, maintenance, compliance and inspection. Mortgagor shall abstain from and not permit the commission of waste in or about the Premises; shall not remove or demolish, or alter in any substantial manner, the structure or character of any building at any time erected on the Land without Mortgagee's prior written consent; shall maintain the Premises in good condition and repair, reasonable wear and tear excepted; shall not remove, sell, or otherwise dispose of any fixture or personal property without Mortgagee's prior written consent unless the same is replaced or substituted by fixtures or personal property of like character and equivalent value and not subject to any encumbrance or security interest. Mortgagor shall comply with any present or future municipal, city, county, state, federal, or other governmental law, order, rule, ordinance, or regulation affecting the Premises. However, if Mortgagor, in good faith and without cost or liability of any kind to Mortgagee, contests by proper legal proceedings any such law or regulation and furnishes satisfactory security to Mortgagee against any loss, injury, or damage to it by reason of such contest, Mortgagor shall not be required to comply therewith as long as the contest operates to prevent enforcement, is maintained and prosecuted with diligence, and is not terminated or discontinued adversely to Mortgagor. Mortgagee may enter upon the Premises at any reasonable hour to inspect the same. If all or any part of the Premises is damaged by fire or other cause, Mortgagor shall immediately notify Mortgagee thereof by written notice.

(68) Maintenance of building in good repair: residence

Repairs and alterations. I will keep the building on the property in good repair, and will not make major changes in them, tear them down, or move them without first getting your written consent. If any of the fixtures are destroyed or removed, I will replace them with other fixtures of the same quality and condition which are free of any mortgages.

(69) Permitted use, general

Use. Mortgagor shall use and occupy the Premises as general office space, and for all purposes related thereto and for no other use or purpose, unless Mortgagee's written consent is first obtained.

(70) Office and laboratory use by lessees

Use. Mortgagor's present lessees shall use and occupy the Premises for office and laboratory uses and for any purpose related thereto. Mortgagor's present and future lessees shall not use the Premises for any other use or purpose without Mortgagee's prior written consent, which Mortgagee shall not unreasonably withhold or delay.

(71) Compliance with environmental laws

Compliance with environmental laws. Mortgagor hereby represents and warrants to Mortgagee that as of the date hereof to the best of Mortgagor's knowledge, the property is not in direct or indirect violation of any local, state or federal law, rule or regulation pertaining to environmental regulation, contamination or cleanup (collectively, "Environmental Laws"), including without limitation the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation and Liability Act of 1980 ("CERCLA"), the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act of 1976 ("RCRA"), the Federal Water Pollution Control Act, the Hazardous Materials Transportation Act, and other regulations promulgated pursuant to said laws. Mortgagor shall keep or cause the Property to be kept free from hazardous substances (except those substances used by Mortgagor in the ordinary course of its business and in compliance with all Environmental Laws) and in compliance with all Environmental Laws, shall not install or use any underground storage tanks, shall expressly prohibit the use, generation, handling, storage, production, processing and disposal of hazardous substances by all tenants of space in the Property, and without limiting the generality of the foregoing, during the term of this Mortgage, shall not install any improvements or permit to be installed any improvements of asbestos or any substance containing asbestos.

Mortgagor covenants and agrees, at Mortgagor's sole cost and expense, to indemnify, defend and hold harmless Mortgagee from and against any and all liens, damages, losses, liabilities, obligations, penalties, assessments, citations, directives, claims, litigation, demands, defenses, judgments, suits, proceedings, costs, disbursements or expenses of any kind or of any nature whatsoever which may at any time be imposed upon, incurred by or asserted or awarded against Mortgagee or the Property, and arising directly or indirectly from or out of: (i) the presence, release or threat of release of any hazardous substances on, in, under or affecting all or any portion of the Property or any surrounding areas, whether or not caused by or under the control of Mortgagor; (ii) the violation of any Environmental Laws relating to or affecting the Property, whether or not caused by or within the control of Mortgagor; (iii) the failure by Mortgagor to comply fully with the terms and conditions of this paragraph; (iv) the breach of any representation or warranty contained in this paragraph; or (v) the enforcement of the provisions of this paragraph including, without limitation, the costs of assessment, containment and/or removal of any and all hazardous substances from all or any portion of the Property or any surrounding areas.

(72) Borrower to maintain exemption from specific law

Exemption. Mortgagor warrants that it is an exempt person within the meaning of Section _____ of the _____ Act, commonly known as the _____. Mortgagor shall not do any act or thing which would make this Mortgage subject to such _____ Act as amended. If this Mortgage at any time becomes subject thereto, all sums secured by this Mortgage without any deduction shall at Mortgagee's option become immediately due and payable.

(73) Compliance with government regulations: plain language (residence)

Government regulations. If any government authority issues regulations, orders, or notices of violation about the use or condition of my property, I understand I must correct the violations and comply with the orders or regulations within a reasonable time.

(74) No alteration or removal of building: plain language

Alterations, removal or demolition of buildings. I will not make any structural alterations to any building on the premises and will not remove or demolish any building on the premises without first receiving your written consent.

(75) Condemnation award

Condemnation. If all or any part of the premises is taken or condemned for public or quasi public purposes by the proper authorities, Mortgagor shall have no claim against the award for damages superior to that of Mortgagee, or be entitled to any portion of the award until the secured indebtedness is paid. All rights of Mortgagor to such damages, or such awards are assigned to Mortgagee to the extent of any indebtedness that then remains unpaid. Mortgagor, however, may appeal the award to any court of competent jurisdiction.

(76) Condemnation award, legal proceedings

Condemnation. If all or any part of the Premises is damaged or taken through condemnation, temporarily or permanently, except as hereinafter provided in this paragraph, all proceeds, at Mortgagee's option, shall be applied first to pay the secured indebtedness. Mortgagee is authorized to commence, appear in and prosecute, in its own or Mortgagor's name, any action or proceeding relating to any such condemnation, and to settle or compromise any claim in connection therewith. Mortgagee shall not settle or compromise any claim in connection with any damage or taking through condemnation without Mortgagor's prior written consent, which it shall not unreasonably withhold. Mortgagor shall not make any settlement for the damages sustained thereby without Mortgagee's prior written approval. If the amount of an initial award of damages for the condemnation is insufficient to pay the amount of the secured indebtedness in full with interest and costs, Mortgagee may file an appeal or other legal proceedings as its legal counsel may advise to be appropriate under the circumstances in the name of Mortgagor or of Mortgagee (for which action Mortgagee or any counsel it chooses is irrevocably appointed attorney in fact for Mortgagor) and to prosecute same to final conclusion or otherwise dispose thereof. In such event, the expenses of the appeal or other appropriate legal proceedings, including counsel fees, shall be first paid out of the proceeds, and no credit shall be given on account of the Mortgage debt other than a credit for the amount, if any, whereby the final proceeds exceed all such expenses. Nothing in this covenant or elsewhere in this Mortgage shall limit rights otherwise available at law or in equity to Mortgagee, including rights to intervene as a party to any condemnation proceeding. All compensation, awards, damages, claims, rights of action, and proceeds hereunder are assigned by Mortgagor to Mortgagee, to be applied as herein provided. Mortgagor agrees to execute any assignment agreements that Mortgagee may require in furtherance thereof. In the case of any taking covered by the provisions of this Paragraph, Mortgagor and Mortgagee (to the extent that Mortgagee has not been reimbursed therefor by Mortgagor) shall be entitled as a first priority to reimbursement out of any award or awards for all reasonable costs, fees, reimbursements to Mortgagee, and expenses incurred in the determination and collection of any such awards.

(77) Condemnation award: plain language

Effect of eminent domain, injury to, or decrease in the value of the premises by a public or quasi-public authority or corporation. If the premises are taken by eminent domain ("condemnation") or if any public or quasi-public authority or corporation injures or decreases the value of the premises, I shall continue to pay interest on the whole principal due under this Agreement at the rate set forth in the Mortgage Note, until you have actually received the money from an award or payment compensating you for the injury to or decrease in value or taking of the premises. You may choose to keep such money and apply it to reduce the principal sum of my mortgage debt after you have received it or you may pay part or all of the money to me. If the premises are sold on the foreclosure of this mortgage before you receive the money from the award or payment and there remains a difference between what I owe you and what you receive after such foreclosure sale (called "deficiency"), you may retain that amount of the award or payment which is necessary to cure such deficiency, including legal interest on the amount of the deficiency. You may do so regardless of whether a deficiency judgment on this mortgage has been sought, recovered or denied. The award or payment may also be used to pay any expenses which you incur in connection with the collection of the award or payment (including reasonable attorney's fees, costs and disbursements). Upon your request, I will make, sign, and deliver an instrument which will assign the awards or payments discussed in this section to you, free of any encumbrances of any kind.

(78) Employee-borrower reduced interest rate

Employee interest rate. Since the interest rate on the loan secured by this Mortgage is less than that available to persons not employed by Mortgagee, the interest rate as stated in this Mortgage will remain in effect only so long as Mortgagor remains in the employ of Mortgagee. If Mortgagor leaves Mortgagee's employ for any reason other than death or retirement, the interest rate shall increase to _____ percent. Similarly, if Mortgagor no longer occupies the mortgaged premises as his principal residence, the interest rate shall increase to _____ percent.

Any increase in the interest rate, which occurs as provided for by this paragraph, will take effect six months after the happening of any of the events recited in this paragraph.

(79) Joint and several liability

Liability. If Mortgagor consists of more than one party, Mortgagors shall be jointly and severally liable under all of Mortgagor's obligations, covenants, and agreements contained in this Mortgage.

(80) Joint and several liability: plain language

Effect of two or more borrowers. If I sign this Agreement together with another person or other persons, I will be jointly and individually responsible with the other person(s) for repaying the entire mortgage debt. If you are not paid when any mortgage installment is due, I will be responsible for the payment of the entire installment upon receiving notice from you that you have not received payment. I will remain responsible for repaying the mortgage debt even if changes are made in the terms of this Agreement and even if you release any or all of the security given in connection with this Agreement.

(81) Binding effect on successors, assigns, subsequent owners

Binding effect. The covenants contained in this mortgage shall run with the land and bind Mortgagor, his heirs, personal representatives, successors and assigns, and all subsequent owners, encumbrancers, tenants, and subtenants of the premises, and shall enure to the benefit of Mortgagee, its successor and assigns, and to all subsequent holders of this mortgage.

(82) Binding effect on successors and assigns

Successors and assigns. All of the grants, covenants, terms, provisions and conditions herein shall run with the Land and shall apply to, bind, and inure to the benefit of, the successors and assigns of Mortgagor and of Mortgagee.

(83) Binding effect on heirs, agents and future owners: plain language (residence)

Who is covered by this mortgage. Until I have satisfied all my obligation under this Mortgage and the Mortgage Note, the terms of this Mortgage will be binding on me, my heirs, and all those acting for me, and on all future owners and tenants of my property. The Mortgage is for your benefit, and for the benefit of anyone to whom you may assign it.

(84) Binding effect on personal representatives: plain language

Effect of covenants. The covenants contained in this Agreement are for your benefit and for the benefit of your successors and assigns. They must be honored by me, as well as by my heirs, personal representatives, successors, and assigns. All subsequent owners and tenants of the premises must also honor the covenants contained in this Agreement.

(85) Number and gender

Number and gender. Whenever the singular and plural number, masculine or feminine or neuter gender is used herein, it shall equally include the other.

(86) Leases, borrower's duties as landlord

Leases. Mortgagor will comply with and observe its obligation as landlord under all leases affecting the Premises or any part or parts thereof. No existing or future lease which covers all or any part of the Premises, or any facilities or business located or operated thereon or therefrom, shall be cancelled, surrendered, or modified without Mortgagee's prior written consent if the lease is for a term in excess of two years, is at an annual rent of over $5,000, or affects more than 10 percent of the gross income of the Premises. Mortgagor shall notify Mortgagee immediately of any default asserted against Mortgagor by any tenant under such lease. If Mortgagor fails to cure such default, as landlord under any such lease, Mortgagee is authorized to cure such default in order to prevent the tenant's termination of the lease. All such leases shall set forth the above provisions. If, by reason of Mortgagor's default in the performance of any such lease, the tenant has the right to cancel the same or to claim any diminution of or offset against future rents, Mortgagee may elect to have the default deemed a default under the Note and this Mortgage. Mortgagor upon request, from time to time, but not more often than annually unless a default has occurred and is continuing under this Mortgage, will furnish to Mortgagee in such reasonable detail as Mortgagee may request, certified by Mortgagor, copies of all leases relating to the Premises; and on demand, Mortgagor will furnish to Mortgagee executed counterparts of all such leases. Further, Mortgagor, upon request, will furnish to Mortgagee information relative to the occupancy and vacancy rates of the Premises.

Mortgagor agrees that it will not, without Mortgagee's written consent, assign the rents, issues, or profits, or any part thereof, from the Premises, receive or collect rents from any tenant, subtenant, undertenant, or other occupant of any part of the Premises for a period of more than one month in advance, or grant any concessions to any of the foregoing persons or parties which will in any way reduce the monthly rentals as stated in any lease, and further that all leases on said Premises shall not be modified so as to in any way reduce the rental without Mortgagee's written consent.

The Mortgagor authorizes Mortgagee at its option to foreclose this Mortgage subject to the rights of any tenants of the Premises. The failure to make any such tenants parties defendant to any such foreclosure proceeding and to foreclose their rights will not be asserted by Mortgagor as a defense to any proceeding instituted by Mortgagee to collect the secured indebtedness, or any deficiency remaining unpaid after the foreclosure sale of the Premises. It is expressly understood and agreed, however, that nothing herein contained shall prevent Mortgagor from asserting in any proceeding disputing the amount of the deficiency or the sufficiency of any bid at such foreclosure sale, that any such tenancies adversely affect the value of the Premises.

(87) Leases and rents assigned as security, commercial property

Assignment of leases and rents after default. As further security for payment of all indebtedness and performance of all obligations, covenants and agreements secured hereby, Mortgagor assigns to Mortgagee all existing and future leases, together with all rents to become due under such leases. This assignment, however, shall be operative only in the event of the occurrence of an Event of Default hereunder, or under the Note or any other instrument given as collateral security for the secured obligation, remaining uncured at the expiration of the grace period, if any, for the Event of Default. In any such case, Mortgagor confers on Mortgagee the exclusive power, to be used or not in its sole discretion, to act as agent, or to appoint a third person to act as agent for Mortgagor, with power to take possession of, and collect all rents arising from the Premises and apply such rents, at Mortgagee's option, to the payments of the mortgage debt, taxes, costs of maintenance, repairs, expenses incident to managing, and other expenses, in any order of priority Mortgagee determines, and to turn over to Mortgagor any remaining balance. Such collection of rents, however, shall not operate as an affirmation of the tenant or lease in the event Mortgagee acquires Mortgagor's title to the Premises. Mortgagee shall be liable to account only for rents and profits which it actually receives. In exercising any of its powers contained in this paragraph, Mortgagee may also take possession of, and for these purposes use, all personal property contained in or on the Premises and used by Mortgagor in the rental or leasing thereof or any part thereof.

(88) Records and certified rental statements, commercial building

Books, records and accounts. Mortgagor will keep and maintain, or will cause to be kept and maintained, proper and accurate books, records and accounts reflecting all items of income and expense in connection with the operation of the Premises or any services, equipment, or furnishings provided in connection with such operation, whether such income or expenses are realized by Mortgagor or by any other person or entity, excepting sublessors unrelated to and unaffiliated with Mortgagor, and who leased from Mortgagor portions of the Premises for the purposes of occupying the same. Mortgagee may, from time to time at all times during normal business hours, examine the books, records, and accounts at the office of Mortgagor, or other person or entity maintaining the books, records and accounts and make copies or extracts requested by Mortgagee. Mortgagor will furnish to Mortgagee, within 90 days after the end of each calendar year, a balance sheet and an income and expense statement both in detail satisfactory to Mortgagee and certified by a Certified Public Accountant. The balance sheet and income and expense statement shall include income from all sources in addition to rental and other income from the Premises.

(89) Assignment of rents: plain language (residence)

Right to collect rents and profits. I assign to you all rents and profits received from the premises as additional security for this debt. I grant you the right to enter the premises for the purpose of collecting rents and profits until my entire mortgage debt has been paid. You may rent or lease the premises and apply any rents or profits earned by the rental or lease to reduce my mortgage debt, after payment of all necessary charges and expenses. However, you agree to waive ("give up") the right to enter the premises for the purpose of collecting rents and profits and I am entitled to collect the rents and profits. I agree to use the rents and profits towards the payment of principal and interest becoming due under my monthly mortgage installments and towards the payment of my monthly escrow deposits. However, you may revoke my right to collect rents and profits should I default on any of the terms or obligations of this Agreement, but you must give me five days' written notice that you intend to revoke this right.

I will not receive or collect any rent from any tenant of the premises for a period of more than one month in advance without your prior written consent.

If I default under the terms of this Agreement, I will pay over to you or to a receiver appointed to collect these rents, all rent security deposits. In addition, I agree that I will pay you or the receiver every month, 30 days in advance, the fair and reasonable rental value of that portion of the premises which is in my possession. Upon my default in making such payments, I will vacate the premises and surrender the possession of the premises to you or to the receiver. If I fail to do this, I may be evicted from the premises by summary proceedings.

(90) Fixtures security interest

Security agreement: fixtures. This Mortgage creates a security interest in the property included in Premises and constitutes a security agreement under the Uniform Commercial Code. Mortgagor shall execute, file, and refile all financing statements or other security agreements required by Mortgagee from time to time with respect to property included in Premises. However, all such financing statements may be filed only with the signature of Mortgagee, or else signed by Mortgagee on behalf of Mortgagor, to the extent the same is permitted by the applicable provisions of the Uniform Commercial Code.

It is understood and agreed that, to protect Mortgagee against the effect of UCC 9-313, in the event that (a) any fixture on the Premises is replaced or added to, or any new fixture is installed or substituted by Mortgagor, and (b) such fixture is or may be subject to a security interest held by a seller or any other party:

A. Mortgagor or any owner, occupant or tenant shall, before the replacement, addition, installation, or substitution of any such fixture, obtain Mortgagee's written approval, and give Mortgagee written notice that a security agreement with respect to such fixture has been or will be consummated. Such notice shall contain the following information:

- (1) A description of the fixtures to be replaced, added to, installed, or substituted;
- (2) A recital of the address at which the fixtures will be replaced, added to, installed, or substituted;
- (3) A statement of the name and address of the holder and amount of the security interest; and
- (4) The date of the purchase of such fixtures.

Mortgagor's failure to give such notice shall be a material breach of its covenants under this Mortgage, and shall, at Mortgagee's option, constitute a default hereunder, entitling Mortgagee to all rights and remedies provided for herein on default of any term, covenant, agreement, or provision of this Mortgage and the Note.

B. Mortgagee may, at any time, pay the balance due under said security agreement, and the amount so paid shall be (1) a lien on the Premises, (2) added to the amount of the Note or other secured obligation, and (3) payable on demand with interest at the rate specified in the Note from the time of such payment as aforesaid. If Mortgagor is in default thereof for ten days after demand, the principal sum secured hereby with all interest, shall, at the option of Mortgagee, its successors or assigns, become due and payable immediately thereafter, notwithstanding any provision in this Mortgage or the Note to the contrary. Or, Mortgagee shall have the right to acquire by assignment from the holder of such security interest all contract rights, accounts receivable, chattel paper, negotiable or nonnegotiable instruments, or other evidence of Mortgagor's indebtedness for such fixtures, and, upon acquiring such security interest, may enforce it as assignee, in accordance with the terms and provisions of the Uniform Commercial Code in effect in the State of _____, as amended or supplemented, and in accordance with law.

C. Regardless of whether Mortgagee has paid or taken an assignment of such security interest, if at any time Mortgagor is in default for a period of ten days under the security agreement covering such fixtures, such default shall be a material breach of Mortgagor's covenants under this Mortgage, and shall, at Mortgagee's option, constitute a default under this Mortgage, and the secured principal sum, with all interest, shall, at Mortgagee's option, become and be due and payable immediately, notwithstanding any contrary provision in this Mortgage or the Note.

(91) UCC financing statements signed by borrower: plain language

Financing statements. If at any time you ask me to sign a financing statement with respect to any fixtures or personal property covered by this Agreement, I will honor your request. However, you have the right to sign and file financing statements on my behalf at any time. I agree to pay all filing fees and will repay any money which you spend in connection with such financing statements.

(92) Estoppel statement by borrower on demand

Accounting. Mortgagor, within five days after request in person or within ten days after request by mail, will furnish a written statement duly acknowledged of the amount due on this mortgage and whether any offsets or defenses exist against the mortgage debt. Such notice and demand or request may be in writing and may be served in person or by mail.

(93) Estoppel statement on written demand

Estoppel affidavits. Mortgagor, within ten days after Mortgagee's written request, shall furnish a written statement, duly acknowledged, setting forth the unpaid principal of, and interest on, the Note and whether any offsets or defenses exist against such principal and interest.

(94) Acknowledgment of debt: plain language

Acknowledgment of my mortgage debt. Upon your request, I will provide you with a written and notarized statement stating (a) the amount which I owe on my mortgage debt, and (b) whether any offsets or defenses exist in connection with my mortgage debt. I will deliver my statement to you within five days if you deliver the request in person, or within ten days if you deliver it by mail.

(95) Wrap around financing barred

Wrap around financing. Mortgagor agrees that if the Premises at any time are or become subject to the lien of any mortgage or deed of trust in connection with which payments on account of the indebtedness secured hereby are to be made directly or indirectly by or through the mortgagee or beneficiary thereunder, regardless of such mortgagee or beneficiary, the whole of the principal and interest and other sums hereby secured, at the Mortgagee's option, shall immediately become due and payable.

(96) Subordinate lien limitations

Subordinate financing. Mortgagor covenants and agrees that it will not further encumber or mortgage the Premises, or any part thereof, or any interest therein, and will not execute, deliver, or take back any mortgage or mortgages ("Subordinate Mortgage"), unless the Subordinate Mortgage contains provisions to the effect that upon its foreclosure: (i) no tenants under leases of space in the Premises will be made parties defendant, nor will any other action be taken with respect to such tenants which would result in the termination of their leases or tenancies without Mortgagee's prior written consent; (ii) the rents, income, receipts, revenues, issues, and profits issuing from the Premises, or from any lease of space therein, shall not be collected, except through a Receiver appointed by a court after notice of application for such appointment has been given to Mortgagee. The money collected by the Receiver shall be first applied and used for the payment of interest and principal due and owing under this Mortgage and the indebtedness secured hereby, real estate taxes, water rates, sewer rents, assessments, or other governmental charges affecting the Premises and all other maintenance and operation charges and disbursements incurred in connection with the operation and maintenance of the Premises. If during the pendency of any such mortgage foreclosure proceeding, action is instituted for the foreclosure of this Mortgage, and an application is made by Mortgagee for an extension of such Receivership for its benefit, all funds collected by the Receiver prior to the date of such application shall be held by the Receiver and applied solely for the benefit of Mortgagee hereunder, and the holder of such Subordinate Mortgage shall not be entitled to any part thereof, unless there is a surplus remaining after all of the aforesaid payments and any other necessary payments; and (iii) immediate notice of the institution of such foreclosure proceeding shall be given to Mortgagee, and true copies of all papers served or entered in such foreclosure proceeding shall be served upon Mortgagee.

Mortgagor shall deliver to Mortgagee an executed counterpart of each Subordinate Mortgage within ten days after Mortgagor's execution and delivery thereof to the subordinated mortgagee.

Any Subordinate Mortgage shall contain an express covenant to the effect that it is in all respects subject and subordinate to this Mortgage and that the mortgagee thereunder will upon demand further subordinate said Mortgage to the lien and terms, covenants and conditions of this Mortgage as hereinafter extended, renewed, modified, or consolidated.

(97) Compliance with recorded instruments

Recorded instruments. Mortgagor will promptly perform and observe, or cause to be performed or observed, all of the terms, covenants, and conditions of all instruments of record affecting the Premises, noncompliance with which may affect the security of this Mortgage, or which may impose any duty or obligation upon Mortgagor or any sublessee or other occupant of the Premises or any part thereof. Mortgagor shall do or cause to be done all things necessary to preserve intact and unimpaired all easements, appurtenances, and other interest and rights in favor of or constituting any portion of the Premises.

(98) Invalid provisions to affect no others

Invalid provisions. If any one or more of the covenants, agreements, terms, or provisions in this Mortgage or the Note are invalid, illegal, or unenforceable in any respect, the validity of the remaining covenants, agreements, terms, or provisions contained herein and in the Note shall be in no way affected, prejudiced, or disturbed thereby.

(99) Captions for convenience only

Captions. The captions in this Mortgage are inserted only for convenience of reference and in no way define, limit, or describe the scope, intent, or proper construction of this Mortgage or any particular paragraph or section hereof.

(100) Joint and several liability, successors and assigns

Construction. The term Mortgagor as used in every instance shall include Mortgagor's heirs, executors, administrators, successors, legal representatives, and assigns, either voluntary by act of the parties or involuntary by operation of law and shall denote the singular and/or plural, and the masculine and/or feminine and natural and/or artificial persons, whenever and wherever the context so requires or admits. If more than one party is named as Mortgagor, the obligation hereunder of each such party shall be deemed to be joint and several. The term Mortgagee as used in every instance shall include Mortgagee's successors, legal representatives, and assigns, including all subsequent assignees, either voluntary or by act of the parties, or involuntary by operation of law.

(101) Governing law

Governing law. This Mortgage and the Note secured hereby are to be construed according to and shall be entitled to the benefits of the laws of the State of _____.

(102) "Mortgagor" and "Mortgagee" includes plural

"Mortgagor," "Mortgagee." The word "Mortgagor" shall be construed as if it read "Mortgagors" and the word "Mortgagee" shall be construed as if it read "Mortgagees" whenever the sense of this mortgage so requires.

(103) "I" and "you": plain language

The words "I," "me" and "my" represent every individual person who signs this Mortgage Agreement. The words "you" and "your" represent _____.

or

In this Agreement, the words I, me and mine mean each person whose name appears at the top of this page. The words you, your and yours mean _____.

1 of 181 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 22 DEVELOPMENT AND SUBDIVISION

26-22 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate 22.syn

§ 22.syn Synopsis to Chapter 22: DEVELOPMENT AND SUBDIVISION

§ 22.01 Summary of the Tax Background

§ 22.02 Introduction

§ 22.03 The Developer as a Dealer or An Investor

[1] Importance of Distinguishing Between Dealer and Investor Status

[2] Dealer and Investor Status Distinguished: General Guidelines

[3] Dealer and Investor Status Distinguished: Subdivision and Development of Property

[a] Inherited Property

[b] Business Necessity Liquidations

[c] Sales of Property Clearly Held for Investment Purposes

[4] Dealer and Investor Status Distinguished: Housing Developments

[5] Capital Gain Treatment for Noncorporate Sellers

[a] When Capital Gain Treatment Applies

[b] Factors that Overcome Presumption of Investment

[c] Improvements that Substantially Enhance Value

[d] Necessary Improvements

[e] Sale of More than Five Lots

§ 22.04 Basis Rules: Apportionment of Basis to Subdivided Parcels

[1] Basis of Subdivided Lots

[2] Easements, Utilities, and Development Costs

§ 22.05 Capitalization of Construction Costs; Uniform Capitalization Rules

[1] Application of Uniform Capitalization Rules

[2] Kinds of Property Affected

[a] Property Produced by Taxpayer

[b] Property Acquired by Taxpayer for Resale

[3] Capitalization of Direct Costs

[4] Capitalization of Indirect Costs

[a] Includable Indirect Costs

[b] Excludable Indirect Costs

[5] Allocation of Costs to Property

[a] Allocation Methods

[b] Direct Labor Costs

[c] Direct Material Costs

[d] Indirect Costs

[e] Administrative, Service, or Support Costs

[f] Interest Expense

[g] Costs Attributable to Related Parties

[6] Borrowing and Financing Costs

§ 22.06 Elective Capitalization of Taxes and Carrying Charges

[1] Application of Elective Capitalization Rules

[2] Items to Which Election Applies

[a] Unimproved and Unproductive Real Property

[b] Other Real Property

[3] How Election is Made and Revoked; Effective Period; Selective Use of Election with Multiple Items

§ 22.07 Demolition of Structures

§ 22.08 Accounting for Short-Term Construction Contracts

[1] Accounting Methods Generally

[2] Cash Method

[3] Accrual Method

§ 22.09 Accounting for Long--Term Contracts: Overview

§ 22.10 Accounting for Long--Term Contracts: Determining Which Contracts are Affected

[1] Term of Contract

[2] Segregation and Aggregation of Long-Term Contracts

[a] Treatment for Accounting Purposes

[b] Factors

[3] Building, Installation, or Construction

[a] What is Covered

[b] Exclusion of Services and Maintenance

[4] When Activities of Related Parties Constitute Long--Term Contract

§ 22.11 Accounting for Long--Term Contracts: Percentage of Completion Method

[1] Application of Method

[a] What Portion of Total Price Is Included in Gross Income in Tax Year

[2] Computing Percentage of Contract Completion

[a] Simplified Cost-to-Cost Method

[b] Allocation of Actual and Estimated Costs and Revenues

[3] When All Income Must Be Accounted For

[4] Election to Use 10-Percent Method

§ 22.12 Exemption from Long-term Accounting Rules for Certain Small Construction Contracts

§ 22.13 Accounting for Long-Term Contracts: Look-Back Interest Adjustment

§ 22.14 Accounting for Long-Term Contracts: Allocation of Costs

[1] Application of Allocation Rules

[2] Extended Period Long-Term Contracts Under Regulations

[a] Classification of Contract

[3] Methods of Allocation

[a] Direct and Indirect Costs

[b] Administrative Costs

[c] Inventories

§ 22.15 Amortization of Construction Costs by Lessor or Lessee

[1] Amortization of Lessor and Lessee Costs

[2] Requirement for Lessee's Restoration of Property

§ 22.16 Rehabilitation Tax Credit

[1] Application of Credit

[2] Amount of Credit

[a] Property Placed in Service After 1986

[b] Property Placed in Service Before 1987

[3] Qualifying Buildings

[a] Moved Buildings

[b] Buildings with Added Parts

[c] Mixed-Use Buildings

[4] Qualified Rehabilitation Expenditures

[5] Substantial Rehabilitation

[6] Rehabilitations of Historic Structures

[a] Certified Historic Structure

[b] Registered Historic District

[c] Certified Rehabilitation

[7] Transitional Rules

§ 22.17 Passive Activity Limitation Rules

[1] Effect of Passive Activity Rules on Development and Subdivision

[2] Exception for Losses and Credits from Rental Real Estate Activities

§§ 22.18 through 22.25 [Reserved]

§ 22.26 Introduction and Scope of Practice Background

§ 22.27 Pre-acquisition Phase

[1] Nature and Scope of the Project

[2] Feasibility

[a] Location of the Project

[i] Access to Utilities

[ii] Access to Roadways

[iii] Need for the Development Project and Proximity to Population Center

[b] Traffic

[c] Taxes

[d] Schools

[3] Acquisition Financing

[4] Option Agreement

[a] Environmental Site Assessment

[b] Obtaining Government Approval of the Project

[c] Consideration for the Option Agreement

[d] Negotiating the Purchase Price of the Land in Case the Option Is Exercised

[e] Time Limits in Exercising the Option

[f] Exercising the Option

[g] Assignment of the Option

[5] Contract of Sale and Purchase

[a] Contingencies

[b] Assignment of Contract of Sale and Purchase

[6] Form of Ownership

[a] Sole Proprietorship

[b] General Partnership

[c] Limited Partnership

[d] Corporate Ownership

[e] Limited Liability Company

[f] Conclusion

§ 22.28 Planning Phase

[1] Development Team

[a] Surveyor

[i] Role

[ii] Qualifications

[iii] Compensation

[b] Engineer

[i] Role

[ii] Qualifications

[iii] Compensation

[c] Architect

[i] Role

[ii] Qualifications

[iii] Compensation

[d] Lawyer

[i] Role

[ii] Qualifications

[iii] Compensation

[e] Financial Advisor

[i] Role

[ii] Qualifications

[iii] Compensation

[f] Other Advisors

[2] Development Plan

[a] Design

[i] Infrastructure

[ii] Unit Density and Green Space

[iii] Solid Waste Disposal

[iv] Waste Water and Sewage

[v] Recreational Facilities

[b] Financial Considerations

[c] Identifying Potential Problems

[i] Environmental Problems

[ii] Municipal Problems

[iii] Neighborhood Problems

[3] Types of Ownership

[4] Covenants, Restrictions and Easements

[5] Property Management

§ 22.29 Subdivision Regulation

- [1] Purposes of Subdivision Controls
- [2] Sources and Scope of Authority
- [3] What Is a Subdivision?
- [4] Procedures for Subdivision Approval
 - [a] In General
 - [b] Preapplication Conference
 - [c] Preliminary Plat
 - [d] Appeals Process

§ 22.30 Financing

- [1] Acquisition Financing
- [2] Construction Financing
- [3] Permanent Financing

§ 22.31 Construction Phase

- [1] General Contractor
 - [a] Selection
 - [b] Contract
 - [c] Insurance
 - [d] Bonds

[2] Subcontractors

- [a] Selection
- [b] Contracts

§ 22.32 Marketing Phase

- [1] Marketing Agent
- [2] Revision of Marketing Strategy

§§ 22.33through 22.41 [Reserved]

§ 22.42 Research Checklist

[A] Model Acts

[B] Annotations

[C] Law Reviews and Periodicals

§ 22.43 Overview of Drafting Guidelines

§ 22.44 Purchase Agreement for Property with Purchase Price to be Determined by Survey with a Temporary Lease Provision

Scope

§ 22.45 Analysis of Construction Contract for a Building

Scope

§ 22.46 Easement, Restriction and Operating Agreement between Developer and Big Box Retailer

Easement, Restriction and Operating Agreement between Developer and Big Box Retailer

§§ 22.47through 22.55 [Reserved]

§ 22.56 Checklist for Sale/Purchase of Real Estate

Scope

§ 22.57 Checklist for Real Estate Development

Scope

§ 22.58 Checklist for Purchaser of Development

§ 22.59 Checklist for Construction Loan

Scope

FORM 22.01 Option to purchase land for development--provision for partial releases from purchase money mortgage

FORM 22.02 Option to purchase land for subdivision development--partial releases by acre or by homesite

FORM 22.03 Option with purchase agreement attached--provision for releases from purchase money mortgage and prior mortgage

FORM 22.04 Options to purchase land for development--separate options exercisable progressively

FORM 22.05 Option to purchase land for long-term development program--basic option and successive suboptions--temporary rights in land reserved by seller

FORM 22.06 Option to purchase land for construction of motel and office building--purchaser to submit architect's plans and guaranty completion of project

FORM 22.07 Offer to purchase land for subdivision--purchase price secured by deed of trust--subordination and partial release provisions

FORM 22.08 Contract of sale--commercial property--tract of vacant land--sale is made contingent upon results of environmental site assessment--seller to take back a purchase money mortgage--release provisions for subdivision development

FORM 22.09 Contract of sale--progressive options to purchase additional parcels--purchaser to undertake prescribed development--disposition of existing improvements

FORM 22.10 Contract of sale--progressive options to purchase additional parcels--another form

FORM 22.11 Contract of sale--apartment complex to be constructed

FORM 22.12 Contract of sale--office building to be constructed by seller on turnkey basis

FORM 22.13 Contract of sale of land for development--specified acreage excluded from mortgage--remainder subject to partial releases

FORM 22.14 Contract of sale of land for development--use of trustee--general release provisions--special release provisions

FORM 22.15 Contract of sale and leaseback of land for development--trustee holds property--seller as beneficiary--installment payments of purchase price

FORM 22.16 Contract of sale of land--seller obligated to plat and improve building lots--sites for commercial development and amenities to be selected--force majeure clause

FORM 22.17 Contract of sale of land for subdivision--purchase price designated as specified amount per usable acre--deed of trust--subordination and release provisions--allocation of expenses

FORM 22.18 Contract of sale of subdivided lots to a builder--option to buy additional lots from seller

FORM 22.19 Modification agreement for a real estate development contract

FORM 22.20 Release agreement terminating existing real estate contract

FORM 22.21 Mutual easement agreement between purchaser and seller of land--each party may travel across other party's land in order to gain access to its own land and to public roadway

FORM 22.22 Agreement for acquisition of property as tenants in common--transfer restrictions--waiver of partition--three owners

FORM 22.23 Tenancy in common--ownership by two entities--income--producing property

FORM 22.24 Agreement between current fee owner and purchaser of half interest including provision for buy--out

FORM 22.25 Tenancy in common--equal ownership by two individuals--unimproved property

FORM 22.26 Tenancy in common--acquisition of leasehold by a group--operation of property--provisions for sale by owner

FORM 22.27 Joint venture--simple agreement

FORM 22.28 Joint venture between land owner and real estate developer

FORM 22.29 Joint venture between two corporations--acquisition of land and buildings--additional capital to be furnished by one venturer

FORM 22.30 Joint venture for property development--funds and financing by one party--development by other party

FORM 22.31 Joint venture for Property development--finances by one party--development by other party

FORM 22.32 Pre--incorporation Agreement

FORM 22.33 Joint venture for development of private water system

FORM 22.34 Sale of undivided interest in joint tenancy--property

FORM 22.35 Partnership for land development--land contributed to partnership by owners--construction and financing assumed by developers--provision for admitting new partners for additional equity money

FORM 22.36 Contract to prepare and implement master plan for subdivision of property

FORM 22.37 Contract with engineer to plan, map, and supervise development of subdivision--compensation based upon professional fee plus multiple of direct expenses

FORM 22.38 Contract with engineering firm to obtain its services in connection with real estate development project--services include surveying and mapping work necessary to prepare preliminary subdivision map, preparing applications for site plan approval and subdivision approval, etc.

FORM 22.39 Proposal for Phase I Environmental Site Assessment

FORM 22.40 Contract between consulting firm and non-profit corporation which supplies housing for low-income senior citizens--consulting firm to assist corporation in locating potential sites for construction of housing development--firm will also negotiate purchase agreement on behalf of corporation, locate government financing for project, and recruit architect, surveyor, engineer and attorney for project

FORM 22.41 Contract to locate and negotiate funding for real estate development project

FORM 22.42 Contract to plat and subdivide land and construct housing development--terms favorable to contractor--contractor's work furnished at cost

FORM 22.43 Contract to plat and subdivide land and construct homes and other buildings--separate categories for contractor's cost plus percentage compensation--owner to pay construction costs

FORM 22.44 Contract between real estate developer and construction company--developer plans to build residential development--construction company will build houses within development--developer will be responsible for creation of infrastructure

FORM 22.45 Demolition agreement--insurance and performance bond provided by contractor

FORM 22.46 Contract do to site work for new building

FORM 22.47 Long-term contract to construct building to specifications--terms favorable to owner

FORM 22.48 Contract to construct a manufacturing building to specifications of tenant--option in tenant to purchase outright or to lease and acquire title upon expiration of lease

FORM 22.49 Lease and contract to construct building to specifications of tenant--loan for construction made to landlord by tenant--percentage rent on restaurant receipts

FORM 22.50 Contract by lessee to construct building--lessor to approve plans and construction--demolition by lessee

FORM 22.51 Urban renewal project--sale of land by municipal agency--improvement by purchaser in accordance with redevelopment plan

FORM 22.52 Contract to clear land and construct roads and similar improvements--compensation on cost-plus basis--contractor's individual services required

FORM 22.53 Contract to construct a warehouse-office building on a cost plus basis but with a not to exceed price limit

FORM 22.54 Contract for services with a construction manager

FORM 22.55 Contract for sale of on-site water and sewage facilities--purchaser to erect off-site water supply and sewage disposal plants

FORM 22.56 Trust agreement for water and sewage facilities--trustee to provide temporary facilities and arrange for central facilities

FORM 22.57 Contract through which municipality acquires private water company presently serving residential real estate development

FORM 22.58 Preservation covenants and easements--historic property

FORM 22.59 Lease in shopping center to be constructed by lessor--tenant's building requirement to be satisfied--minimum and percentage rentals

FORM 22.60 Commercial lease--shopping center--common area maintenance charges imposed on tenants

FORM 22.61 Memorandum of lease

FORM 22.62 Lease in shopping center to be constructed by lessor--minimum and percentage rental--proportionate share of maintenance of common areas and tax increases borne by lessee

FORM 22.63 Lease to developer for purpose of constructing shopping center--construction in three stages--fixed and percentage rentals

FORM 22.64 Contract for sale of land to be developed by purchaser as shopping center--provision for leaseback of part of space to seller--control of seller over building plans

FORM 22.65 Joint venture between developer and retailer to develop and operate shopping center

FORM 22.66 Operating and Easement Agreement for strip shopping center where big box retailer acquires its own parcel

FORM 22.67 Shopping center with enclosed mall--reciprocal easement grant--multiple owners

FORM 22.68 Bylaws of shopping center association

FORM 22.69 Mandatory merchants' association--constitution and by-laws

FORM 22.70 Contract for sale of land to be developed by purchaser as industrial park, and for office or commercial purposes--parcels sold for different prices and at different times

FORM 22.71 Lease option agreement with ground lease attached containing option to purchase upon death of lessor.

FORM 22.72 Sale of land for office and warehouse facility after construction of the improvements by seller's general contractor

FORM 22.73 Restrictions on use and appearance of buildings in office park

FORM 22.74 Statement of restrictions--industrial property

FORM 22.75 Master declaration of covenants, conditions, easements and restrictions--residential golf community

FORM 22.76 Policies and guidelines for design review committee

FORM 22.77 Statement of reservations and restrictive covenants--single family residential development

FORM 22.78 Statement of reservations and restrictive covenants--residential subdivision--limiting style of home

FORM 22.79 Statement of reservations and restrictive covenants--club style residential development

FORM 22.80 Statement of restrictions and covenants--ocean-front residential property--assessments--owners' membership corporation

FORM 22.81 Declaration of residential homeowners' association--simple form

FORM 22.82 Statement of restrictions--mixed use subdivision with both residential and commercial property

FORM 22.83 Sublot Purchase Agreement With Builder

FORM 22.83A Sublot Purchase Agreement With Homeowner

FORM 22.84 Contract between real estate developer and purchaser of housing development which developer will build--project will provide housing for low-income persons--purchaser of housing project is non-profit corporation--funds to purchase housing project will be provided by government program--developer will transfer housing project to non-profit corporation, which will own and operate project

FORM 22.85 Contract between real estate developer and purchaser of housing development which developer will build--project will provide housing for low-income persons--purchaser of housing project is non-profit corporation--funds to purchase housing project will be provided by government program--developer will transfer housing project to non-profit corporation, which will own and operate it--alternate form

FORM 22.86 Declaration of expandable condominium-housing for older persons

FORM 22.87 Typical disclosure statement

FORM 22.88 Townhouse/condominium disclosure statement

- FORM 22.89 Agreement for Sale of Condominium
- FORM 22.90 Plan of organization for cooperative apartment house
- FORM 22.91 Purchase agreement for status in a cooperative
- FORM 22.92 Declaration for time share project
- FORM 22.93 Purchase agreement for time share
- FORM 22.94 Management Agreement--Basic Agreement (I)
- FORM 22.95 Management Agreement--Basic Agreement (II)
- FORM 22.96 Management Agreement--Termination at will--related parties
- FORM 22.97 Management agreement between owner of retail strip center under construction and real estate agent--agent to manage center once it is built
- FORM 22.98 Exclusive agency--shopping center--varying commissions--payment on early termination
- FORM 22.99 Exclusive agency--office building--agent's office on premises--mutual termination rights--commission upon sale of property
- FORM 22.100 Hotel management--general services
- FORM 22.101 Motel management--employment before construction of motel--national management organization
- FORM 22.102 Multiple Properties--agent as "independent contractor"
- FORM 22.103 Supervisory management agreement
- FORM 22.104 Managing agent account--real estate--apartments--Fair Housing Law compliance
- FORM 22.105 Management Agreement--condominium association
- FORM 22.106 Cooperative apartment management agreement
- FORM 22.107 Management agreement--time share resort
- FORM 22.108 Construction loan and security agreement financing for subdivision of single family lots
- FORM 22.109 Building loan agreement to fund construction of residential structure--proceeds to be periodically disbursed as construction progresses
- FORM 22.110 Construction loan security agreement--commercial construction--loan predicated upon commitment for long-term financing--security interest to cover personal property
- FORM 22.111 Long-term resort development loan agreement--multiple creditors and multiple debtors--outside United States
- FORM 22.112 Open-End Mortgage, Assignment of Rents and Leases and Security Agreement (Maximum Amount Unpaid Indebtedness Exclusive of Interest:] (Construction Loan)
- FORM 22.113 Purchase money mortgage--arrangement for partial release of portions of mortgaged property

FORM 22.114 Mortgage

FORM 22.115 Deed of Trust

FORM 22.116 Construction loan deed of trust

FORM 22.117 Consent of mortgagee to declaration

FORM 22.118 Assignment of Mortgage

FORM 22.119 Partial Release of Mortgage

FORM 22.120 Complete Release of Mortgage

FORM 22.121 Commercial note

FORM 22.122 Mortgage Note (Construction Loan)

FORM 22.123 Note--arrangement for partial release of portions of mortgaged property

FORM 22.124 Transaction Guaranty--individual

FORM 22.125 Personal guaranty of down payment--guaranty is made by principal of real estate development corporation--guaranty is granted to home buyer who makes substantial down payment on home that development corporation has yet to build--down payment reduces amount of money that development corporation will need to borrow from bank to finance construction

FORM 22.126 Guaranty of building loan agreement--borrower is real estate development corporation--guarantors are principal shareholders of corporation

FORM 22.127 Stock pledge to secure guaranty--borrower is real estate development corporation--pledgors/guarantors are principal shareholders of corporation

FORM 22.128 Land development loan commitment--subordination of first mortgage

FORM 22.129 Construction loan--commitment between construction lender and long-term lender

FORM 22.130 Commitment for long-term financing--land mortgage technique--construction in progressive stages

FORM 22.131 Commitment for long-term financing--loan to be closed upon completion of construction--provision for interest contingent upon earnings--liquidated damages

FORM 22.132 Loan commitment letter from lender to borrower--infrastructure loan for real estate developer

FORM 22.133 Commitment for permanent real estate loan--offer by a mortgage broker--includes prepayment penalty

FORM 22.134 Consolidation agreement--merger first mortgage with second mortgage

FORM 22.135 Agreement to make annual payments to municipality in lieu of paying real property taxes--development is owned by not-for-profit corporation--development offers low-cost housing to elderly or handicapped

FORM 22.136 Letter of credit agreement between real estate developer and bank granting letter of credit--letter of credit may be needed to cover cost of building infrastructure for development

FORM 22.137 Rent Roll Certificate

FORM 22.138 Borrower's certificate

FORM 22.139 Escrow Agreement

FORM 22.140 Environmental indemnity agreement

FORM 22.141 Assignment of construction contract

FORM 22.142 Participation agreement

FORM 22.143 Legal opinion--attorney opinion for construction loan

2 of 181 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 22 DEVELOPMENT AND SUBDIVISION
Part I. The Tax Background

26-22 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate § 22.01

§ 22.01 Summary of the Tax Background

§ 22.02 Introduction. Real estate development and subdivision activities raise special tax problems. Those problems include whether seller is dealer or investor, apportionment of basis to subdivided parcels, application of uniform capitalization rules to construction costs, elective capitalization of taxes and carrying charges, demolition of structures, accounting methods for short-term and long-term construction contracts, amortization of construction costs by lessor or lessee, rehabilitation tax credit, and passive activity loss limitation rules.

§ 22.03 The Developer As a Dealer or an Investor. Whether developer is a "dealer" or an "investor" generally depends on the facts of each case. Sale of "dealer property" results in ordinary income or loss. Sale of "investment property" is subject to capital gain treatment.

§ 22.04 Basis Rules: Apportionment of Basis to Subdivided Parcels. Basis of property that is subdivided and improved for resale must be equitably apportioned among lots or parcels to be sold in order to determine gain or loss upon sale of each. Allocation is based upon fair market value of lots or parcels at time of acquisition. Basis allocated to various parcels is increased by capitalized expenses, apportioned in same manner as basis.

§ 22.05 Capitalization of Construction Costs; Uniform Capitalization Rules. Uniform capitalization rules require capitalization of direct and indirect costs of real property produced by taxpayer and real property acquired for resale. Costs are allocated to property under various allocation methods.

§ 22.06 Elective Capitalization of Taxes and Carrying Charges. Taxpayers may elect either to deduct currently or capitalize taxes and carrying charges that are chargeable to capital account with respect to property. Election to capitalize taxes and other carrying charges may be made only for specific expenses that are otherwise deductible.

§ 22.07 Demolition of Structures. Owner or lessee cannot take current deduction for costs or other loss incurred in demolition of any real property structure. Deduction is disallowed even if taxpayer did not intend to demolish structure at time of purchase. Demolition cost or loss must be charged to capital account and added to basis of land on which demolished building was located.

§ 22.08 Accounting for Short-Term Construction Contracts. Taxpayers may elect to use cash or accrual method to account for income and expenses attributable to short-term construction contracts. Both methods are generally available to all taxpayers for income tax purposes, except that cash method may not be used by C corporations, partnerships and limited liability companies which have a C corporation as a partner, and tax shelters.

§ 22.09 Accounting for Long-Term Contracts: Overview. Taxpayers engaged in production of property must account for items of income from and costs allocable to long-term contracts under percentage of completion method.

§ 22.10 Accounting for Long-Term Contracts: What Are Long-Term Contracts. Long-term contracts are contracts for building, installation, or construction of property, which are not completed within same tax year they are made, even if term of contract is less than one year. Agreement for related services is not considered long-term contract.

§ 22.11 Accounting for Long-Term Contracts: Percentage of Completion Method. Under percentage of completion accounting method, taxpayer determines portion of long-term contract completed during tax year and reports gross income for that percentage of entire contract. All allocable costs must be deducted in tax year incurred. Method is available for small construction contracts and long-term contracts entered into prior to March 1, 1986.

§ 22.12 Exemption from Long-Term Accounting Rules for Certain Small Construction Contracts. Certain small construction contracts, including home construction contracts, are exempt from the long-term contract accounting rules. Such contracts may be accounted for using the completed contract method, under which the gross contract price is included in income for the tax year in which the contract is completed.

§ 22.13 Accounting for Long-Term Contracts: Look-Back Interest Adjustment. Under the percentage of completion method for long-term contracts the taxpayer must make adjustments for underpayments or overpayments of tax. On completion of contract, taxpayer must pay interest on underpayments or may receive interest on overpayments.

§ 22.14 Accounting for Long-Term Contracts: Allocation of Costs. Income and costs may be accounted for under long-term contract methods only if allocable to the long-term contract. Rules applicable to allocation of direct and indirect costs depend on whether long-term contract is for regular or extended period. Different methods are available to account for direct and indirect costs required to be allocated to long-term contracts.

§ 22.15 Amortization of Construction Costs by Lessor or Lessee. Lessor generally may recover costs of constructing buildings or making improvements on leased property through cost recovery allowance. Depreciation rate is based upon life of property even though lease is for longer period. Cost recovery is based on property's recovery period. Lessee may recover costs of leasehold construction or improvements under cost recovery rules, without regard to lease term.

§ 22.16 Rehabilitation Tax Credit. Taxpayers are entitled to rehabilitation credit for portion of investment in qualified rehabilitated building attributable to qualified rehabilitation expenditures. Credit available for qualified rehabilitation expenditures on existing buildings that are substantially rehabilitated.

§ 22.17 Passive Activity Limitation Rules. Development and subdivision of real property is generally subject to passive activity limitation rules, which limit deduction of passive activity losses and credits for most taxpayers.

Legal Topics:

For related research and practice materials, see the following legal topics:

Real Property Law Subdivisions General Overview Tax Law Federal Income Tax Computation Deductions for Losses Passive Activity Loss (IRC sec. 469) Tax Law Federal Income Tax Computation Ordinary Income (IRC sec. 64) Tax Law Federal Income Tax Computation Sales & Exchanges Business Property (IRC secs. 1031, 1221, 1231)Property Held for Productive Use & InvestmentTax LawFederal Income Tax ComputationSales &

ExchangesBusiness Property (IRC secs. 1031, 1221, 1231)Property Used in Trade or BusinessTax LawFederal Income Tax ComputationSales & ExchangesCapital Gains & Losses (IRC secs. 1201-1202, 1211-1212, 1221-1223, 1231-1260, 1271-1278, 1281-1288, 1291-1298)Long Term & Short Term Gains & LossesTax LawFederal Income Tax ComputationSales & ExchangesCapital Gains & Losses (IRC secs. 1201-1202, 1211-1212, 1221-1223, 1231-1260, 1271-1278, 1281-1288, 1291-1298)Real Property Subdivided for Sale

3 of 181 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 22 DEVELOPMENT AND SUBDIVISION
Part I. The Tax Background

26-22 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate § 22.02

§ 22.02 Introduction

Real estate development and subdivision activities raise special tax problems. They include whether seller is dealer or investor, apportionment of basis to subdivided parcels, application of uniform capitalization rules to construction costs, elective capitalization of taxes and carrying charges, demolition of structures, accounting methods for short--term and long--term construction contracts, amortization of construction costs by lessor or lessee, rehabilitation tax credit, and effect of passive activity loss limitation rules.

The discussion in this chapter covers special tax problems and rules that commonly arise in connection with the development and subdivision of real estate. Those problems and rules include:

- (1) Determination of whether the seller of real property is a "dealer," who realizes ordinary income, or an investor, who reports capital gain (or loss) from the sale of a capital asset. This distinction is important for federal income tax purposes. See § 22.03.
- (2) Determination of basis, including how basis is apportioned to subdivided property and how easements, utilities, and development costs are taken into account in computing adjusted basis. See § 22.04.
- (3) Application of the uniform capitalization rules to construction costs for real property. See § 22.05.
- (4) Election to capitalize taxes and carrying charges. See § 22.06.
- (5) Effect of demolition of existing structures. See § 22.07.
- (6) Accounting for short-term construction contracts. See § 22.08.
- (7) Specific accounting methods that may be used to account for income and expenses attributable to long-term construction contracts. See §§ 22.09 through 22.14.

(8) Right of a lessor or lessee to amortize its construction costs. See § 22.15.

(9) Availability of the rehabilitation tax credit. See § 22.16.

(10) Application of the passive activity limitation rules to real estate subdivision and development activities. See § 22.17.

Several other tax questions relating to real estate development are dealt with in The Tax Background to Chapters 20 and 21, in Volumes 24 and 25, respectively. The considerations involved in selecting the form of a development venture are discussed in The Tax Background to Chapter 20. The calculation of adjusted basis, gain or loss upon a sale or other disposition, general criteria for determining the seller's status as a dealer, and tax accounting on installment or deferred payment sales are examined in The Tax Background to Chapter 21.

Legal Topics:

For related research and practice materials, see the following legal topics:

Real Property LawSubdivisionsGeneral OverviewTax LawFederal Income Tax ComputationDeductions for LossesPassive Activity Loss (IRC sec. 469)Tax LawFederal Income Tax ComputationOrdinary Income (IRC sec. 64)Tax LawFederal Income Tax ComputationSales & ExchangesBusiness Property (IRC secs. 1031, 1221, 1231)Property Held for Productive Use & InvestmentTax LawFederal Income Tax ComputationSales & ExchangesBusiness Property (IRC secs. 1031, 1221, 1231)Property Used in Trade or BusinessTax LawFederal Income Tax ComputationSales & ExchangesCapital Gains & Losses (IRC secs. 1201-1202, 1211-1212, 1221-1223, 1231-1260, 1271-1278, 1281-1288, 1291-1298)Long Term & Short Term Gains & LossesTax LawFederal Income Tax ComputationSales & ExchangesCapital Gains & Losses (IRC secs. 1201-1202, 1211-1212, 1221-1223, 1231-1260, 1271-1278, 1281-1288, 1291-1298)Real Property Subdivided for Sale

4 of 181 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 22 DEVELOPMENT AND SUBDIVISION
Part I. The Tax Background

26-22 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate § 22.03

§ 22.03 The Developer as a Dealer or An Investor

Whether developer is a "dealer" or an "investor" generally depends on the facts of each case. Sale of "dealer property" results in ordinary income or loss. Sale of "investment property" is subject to capital gain treatment.

[1] Importance of Distinguishing Between Dealer and Investor Status

An important issue in the area of real estate development and subdivision is whether a taxpayer holds real property as a "dealer," i.e., primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of business, so that the taxpayer will realize ordinary income upon its sale, or as an investor, so that the property will be a capital asset in the taxpayer's hands that qualifies for capital gain treatment upon its sale or exchange.ⁿ¹ Individual taxpayers (as well as estates and trusts) receive preferential tax treatment for capital gains. The maximum tax rate for the net capital gain portion of taxable income of individuals is 15 percent.ⁿ² By contrast, the tax rates applied to the ordinary income of individuals who are married and filing jointly range from 15 percent to 39.6 percent.ⁿ³

The favorable tax treatment for capital gains is important because the Code allows a noncorporate taxpayer to sell real estate from a single tract held for investment without having the gain treated as ordinary income merely because the taxpayer subdivides and improves the tract and actively attempts to sell it (see below).ⁿ⁴ However, that portion of gain that constitutes depreciation recapture is treated as ordinary income.ⁿ⁵

Noncorporate taxpayers may offset losses from the sale or exchange of capital assets (capital losses) against gains from the sale or exchange of capital assets (capital gains). If capital losses exceed capital gains, a noncorporate taxpayer may deduct up to $3,000 of the excess loss against ordinary income for the tax year. Capital losses that cannot be used in a particular year because of the above limitations may be carried over to and used in future years.ⁿ⁶

For the above reasons, it is important to determine in a given case whether a taxpayer holds real estate as a dealer or as an investor.

[2] Dealer and Investor Status Distinguished: General Guidelines

The distinction between investor and dealer status is often a difficult factual question that must be resolved on a case-by-case basis. The courts have listed a number of criteria to assist them in making that determination. These include:

- (1) the nature and purpose of the acquisition;
- (2) the duration of ownership;
- (3) the extent and nature of sales efforts;
- (4) the number, frequency, continuity, and substantiality of sales;
- (5) the extent of subdividing, developing, and advertising to increase sales;
- (6) the use of a business office for sales;
- (7) the taxpayer's control over sales representatives;
- (8) the time and effort habitually devoted to the sales; and
- (9) the seller's main business or profession.ⁿ¹

Example:

In Year 1, Jones acquires 22 parcels of real estate, which he sells at a profit in Years 2, 3, and 4. Jones, who is not a real estate broker, makes no personal effort to initiate the sales (he did not advertise the property, have a sales office, hire brokers, or develop or improve the properties) and devoted minimal time and effort to the sales. The sales are of investment properties, on which Jones realizes capital gain, rather than dealer properties, on which he would report ordinary income.ⁿ²

Other factors occasionally are taken into account. For example, capital gain treatment applies if the taxpayer does not actively engage in a subdivision business but merely sells extensive long-term holdings because of advancing age and ill health and because he needs the cash.ⁿ³ On the other hand, an owner of a rental mobile home park who subdivides the property and sells it as lots is considered a dealer, and therefore is denied capital gain treatment, if the sales are frequent and substantial even if he attempts to sell the entire park in bulk on the advice of his physician.ⁿ⁴

There is no dealer status unless the property is held "primarily" for sale to customers.ⁿ⁵ The Supreme Court interpreted "primarily" in this connection to mean "of first importance" or "principally."ⁿ⁶ Thus, real property is a capital asset if investment is the taxpayer's principal reason for holding it, even if sale to customers is a "substantial" (but not singly dominant) purpose.ⁿ⁷

[3] Dealer and Investor Status Distinguished: Subdivision and Development of Property

A taxpayer who plans to liquidate an investment in land may have to determine the extent to which he may undertake subdivision and development activities without being classified a dealer. The Service takes the strict position that real estate automatically becomes "dealer" property when subdivision activity is undertaken in order to effect a disposition, regardless of the presence or absence of other circumstances normally taken into account.ⁿ¹ There is considerable judicial support for the Service's position.ⁿ²

- (1) A taxpayer who abandoned farming, subdivided his property, and engaged in large scale sale of the lots was found to be a dealer in real estate. The court rejected the taxpayer's contention that the sales represented the liquidation of a capital asset acquired in the business of farming.ⁿ³

(2) An owner of an inherited tract of land who acquired adjoining tracts in an attempt to liquidate the inherited tract advantageously was held to be a dealer with respect to lots sold from the tracts because of extensive subdivision activity.ⁿ⁴

(3) Property reacquired by the taxpayer upon the buyer's default was held primarily for sale to customers even though it was originally held for investment and sold in one tract to a subdivision company. The taxpayer continued in the subdivision business after the reacquisition.ⁿ⁵

(4) It was determined that a taxpayer was a dealer because he engaged in active and continuous selling of property. It was immaterial that the taxpayer had held the property for a long time in the hope of making a single sale, and that the sales were induced by high property taxes.ⁿ⁶

(5) A taxpayer was found to be in the real estate business even though liquidation of his farm was forced by the mortgagee. Appreciation in the property's value was caused by the taxpayer's subdivision activity, so that the profit arose from the "everyday operation" of business rather than the "realization of appreciation in value accrued over a substantial period of time."ⁿ⁷

Considerable litigation has resulted from taxpayers' efforts to assert special exceptions to the Service's rigid rule. In some instances, the courts allowed capital gain treatment despite subdivision activity when the facts strongly demonstrated an intention to liquidate an investment rather than to engage in continuous selling. This result is most likely to occur in situations involving inherited property (see Section 22.03[3][a] below), business necessity dispositions (see Section 22.03[3][b] below), and property clearly held for investment only (see Section 22.03[3][c] below).

[a] Inherited Property

The courts are more likely to allow capital gain treatment if the subdivision and sale is of property acquired by inheritance or gift. This is particularly so if the taxpayer is engaged in another business or the subdivision activity is conducted by a broker or independent real estate company. Thus, capital gain was allowed in the following cases:

(1) When the taxpayer, who sold a large number of subdivided lots on inherited property, was exclusively engaged in another business, and a broker was retained to supervise the subdivision, fix selling prices, and make all selling arrangements.ⁿ⁸

(2) When the taxpayer sold inherited property to a real estate company for subdivision and sale in lots, under an agreement to reimburse the company for development costs and to pay a percentage commission on sales. The owner did not retain any control over the company's activities and did not actually participate in the development or sale of the property.ⁿ⁹

(3) When, in order to dispose of inherited land advantageously, the taxpayer had to subdivide it, build access roads, and authorize a real estate dealer to make sales.ⁿ¹⁰

[b] Business Necessity Liquidations

The presumption of dealership status arising from subdivision activity may be overcome if the taxpayer is primarily engaged in another business and circumstances connected with that business require him to dispose of the subdivided property. For example, the taxpayer was allowed capital gain treatment in the following cases:

(1) When a dairy farmer sold his land, even though he engaged in extensive selling activity, because changes in the neighborhood made it uneconomical for him to maintain the property and forced him to liquidate it.ⁿ¹¹

(2) When a sugar producer purchased and subdivided an adjoining sugar plantation and sold houses and lots on the property. The taxpayer purchased the plantation for use in its business and engaged in the sales primarily to provide housing for its employees.ⁿ¹²

(3) When a lawyer, who purchased a single tract from a trust of which he was the trustee, platted and improved the tract for subdivision and sale and sold the lots. The unimproved tract could not be sold profitably, improvements were necessary to put the land in a saleable condition, and they were largely initiated by a lumber company and a contractor. Sales were not substantial, and the taxpayer did not make any other purchases.ⁿ¹³

[c] Sales of Property Clearly Held for Investment Purposes

Another situation that may justify capital gain treatment upon the sale of subdivided property is when the property is clearly held as an investment for several years and the taxpayer engages in only infrequent or minimal sales or makes no active efforts to solicit sales. In fact, the frequency and substantiality of sales is frequently cited as the most important factor to indicate whether the taxpayer intends to hold the property for sale or as an investment.ⁿ¹⁴

[4] Dealer and Investor Status Distinguished: Housing Developments

Determination of whether property is held for sale or for investment may become complicated if the property consists of housing developments which are rented prior to sale. A developer who purchases property for the purpose of subdividing it and constructing homes for immediate sale generally falls within the definition of a dealer.ⁿ¹ If housing units are rented before their sale, however, a question may arise whether the property was held "primarily" for sale (see Section 22.03[2] above).ⁿ²

Housing units are not treated as capital assets solely because they are rented for short periods or are subject to temporary sales restrictions. Other factors that are taken into account include the taxpayer's purpose in acquiring the property, the number of individual sales, the intensity of the selling program, and the reason for the liquidation.ⁿ³ For example, property is a capital asset if the units are constructed for rent and their sales, although frequent, are the most economical method for liquidating the taxpayer's investment,ⁿ⁴ or if the sale was made to tenants because of a poor return from the rental business.ⁿ⁵

Infrequent sales or an absence of active efforts to sell may justify capital gain treatment. Moreover, the taxpayer's sales activities in other projects are not controlling, at least if those activities and related records are segregated.ⁿ⁶ Even a real estate dealer may hold housing projects for investment if there is a "continuity of interest to acquire and hold rental investment property extending over a period of many years."ⁿ⁷ Conversely, an individual who holds numerous rental properties for investment may hold one project for sale.ⁿ⁸ Also, a sale of vacant land within a rental development may create ordinary income.ⁿ⁹

A taxpayer is a dealer if he intends to rent when the rental market is high and to sell when the sales market is high.ⁿ¹⁰ However, the mere decision to sell houses constructed for rent does not in itself change the business from renting to selling. Capital gain treatment may be allowed if the taxpayer does not engage in a selling campaign or in active solicitation,ⁿ¹¹ if there is "inactive liquidation" through a brokerⁿ¹² or there are frequent but passive sales.ⁿ¹³

By contrast, extensive solicitation of sales through advertising, or purchase, improvement, and resale activities of employees and brokers, may override the liquidating purpose.ⁿ¹⁴ Purchases of additional units during the sales period also may indicate that the sales are not intended as a liquidation.ⁿ¹⁵

When multiple unit houses are built for sale, the taxpayer does not change its ultimate selling purpose even if its policy is to rent the property for short periods prior to the sale.ⁿ¹⁶ But when units are built for rent, a decision to sell after sales restrictions are removed does not change the taxpayer's status as an investor even though it uses its own staff for selling activities, if this is the most economical method for liquidating its operation and the units are sold "as is," with no attempt to make them more saleable.ⁿ¹⁷

[5] Capital Gain Treatment for Noncorporate Sellers

In drafting the 1954 Code, Congress recognized that an individual who subdivided real property held for investment was likely to be considered a dealer by the courts and therefore subject to ordinary income tax rates on the entire long-term gain, even if it was unusual for the taxpayer to be engaged in those activities.ⁿ¹ In order to prevent what Congress thought was an anomalous result, it enacted a provision which, under special circumstances, affords noncorporate sellers an opportunity to treat gain realized on the sale of certain subdivided real property as capital gain.ⁿ²

[a] When Capital Gain Treatment Applies

A special provision allows an individual or other noncorporate taxpayer to sell real estate from a single tract held for investment and not have the gain treated as ordinary income, even if the taxpayer subdivides and improves the tract or makes active efforts to sell it.ⁿ³ In order to qualify for this statutory treatment, the taxpayer:ⁿ⁴

- (1) Cannot previously have held the tract, or any part of it, primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of his trade or business (except under circumstances which would qualify for the same relief), nor in the year of sale held any other real property primarily for sale to customers.ⁿ⁵ In other words, the taxpayer cannot be a real estate dealer.ⁿ⁶
- (2) Cannot make, or agree with the buyer to make, substantial improvements that substantially enhance the value of the lot or parcel sold. For this purpose, an improvement is deemed to be made by the taxpayer if made by a member of his family (as defined in IRC Section 267(c)(4)), by a controlled corporation, by a partnership in which the taxpayer is a member, by a lessee if the improvement constitutes income to the taxpayer, or by a government or political subdivision if the improvement constitutes an addition to the taxpayer's basis.ⁿ⁷
- (3) Must have owned the lots or parcels for at least five years. This holding period requirement does not apply if the property was acquired by inheritance or devise. (However, any other applicable holding period required by the Code, such as IRC Section 1222, is applicable.)ⁿ⁸

If the above requirements are met, the taxpayer may sell real estate from a single tract held for investment without the income being treated as ordinary income merely because he subdivides the tract or makes active efforts to sell it.ⁿ⁹ Thus, if there is no other substantial evidence that the taxpayer holds the property primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of business, the taxpayer does not lose his status as an investor solely because he subdivides the tract for purposes of sale, engages in related advertising, promotion or selling activities, or uses sales agents in connection with the sales.ⁿ¹⁰

Even if all of those requirements are satisfied, however, a special rule provides for limited recognition of ordinary income if the taxpayer sells more than five lots or parcels in the same tract. Up to five percent of the selling price of each lot or parcel sold is treated as ordinary income in and after the year in which the sixth lot or parcel is sold (see Section 22.03[5][e] below).ⁿ¹¹

A tract of real property, for purposes of the special subdivision rule, must be a single piece of real property, except that two or more pieces are considered to be a tract if at any time they were contiguous in the taxpayer's hands or if they are divided only by a road, street, railroad, stream, or similar property.ⁿ¹² If, following the sale of any lot or parcel from a tract, the taxpayer makes no further sales for a period of five years, the remainder of the original tract is considered a single tract.ⁿ¹³ The effect of this provision is to allow a taxpayer to start counting the sales of the first five lots before the special five percent income rule becomes operative.ⁿ¹⁴

[b] Factors that Overcome Presumption of Investment

Subdivision and sales activities may overcome the presumption of investment if other substantial evidence tends to show that the property was held for sale to customers. Such evidence may consist of the taxpayer's:

- (1) selling activities in connection with other property in prior years during which he was engaged in subdividing or selling activities with respect to the subdivided tract;
- (2) intention in prior years (or at the time of acquiring the subdivided property) to hold the tract primarily for sale in his business;
- (3) subdivision of other tracts in the same year;
- (4) holding other real property for sale to customers in the same year; or
- (5) construction of a permanent real estate office which can be used in selling other real property.ⁿ¹⁵

Conversely, the following activities are not taken into account as "substantial other evidence" if the taxpayer does no more than one of them in the year in question:

- (1) holding a real estate dealer's license;
- (2) selling other real property which was clearly investment property;
- (3) acting as a salesperson for a real estate dealer but without any financial interest in the business; or
- (4) mere ownership of other vacant real property without engaging in any selling activity with respect to it.

If more than one of these factors exists, the circumstances may or may not constitute substantial evidence that the taxpayer held real property for sale in his business, depending upon the particular facts in each case.ⁿ¹⁶

[c] Improvements that Substantially Enhance Value

As previously noted, a condition of the statutory capital gain presumption is that the taxpayer does not make any substantial improvement that substantially enhances the value of the lot or parcel sold.ⁿ¹⁷ Certain improvements are not substantial, for purposes of this requirement, if they are necessary to make the lot marketable at the prevailing local price and if they meet the other conditions for a necessary improvement (see Section 22.03[5][d], below).ⁿ¹⁸

Among the improvements considered substantial are shopping centers, other commercial or residential buildings, and the installation of hard surface roads or utilities (such as sewers, water, gas, or electric lines). Substantial improvements do not include temporary structures used as a field office, surveying and clearing operations, and construction of minimum all-weather access roads.ⁿ¹⁹

Whether substantial improvements "substantially enhance" the value of the lots sold depends upon the circumstances in each case. If the improvements increase the value of a lot by 10 percent or less, that increase is not considered to be substantial. If, however, the value of the lot is increased by more than 10 percent, all relevant factors are considered to determine whether, under the circumstances, the increase is substantial.ⁿ²⁰ For example, if the installation of curbs, culverts, a paved street, and water lines on lots results in approximately a 100 percent increase in the lots' value, the improvements are both substantial and substantially enhance the value of the property.ⁿ²¹

[d] Necessary Improvements

An improvement is not deemed substantial, so as to preclude capital gain treatment under the special subdivision provision, if it constitutes a "necessary improvement."ⁿ²² An improvement is necessary under the following conditions:

- (1) The taxpayer holds the property for at least ten years. The holding period begins when the taxpayer acquires the property, rather than when the subdivision is made.ⁿ²³
- (2) The improvement is the building or installation of a water, sewer, or drainage facility, or a road (if the improvement otherwise would be deemed substantial).ⁿ²⁴
- (3) The Service is satisfied that, without the improvement, the lot or parcel is not otherwise marketable at the prevailing local price for similar building sites.ⁿ²⁵
- (4) The taxpayer elects not to adjust the basis of the lot or parcel sold, or of any other property held by him, for any part of the cost of the improvement attributable to the lot, and not to deduct any part of that cost as an expense.ⁿ²⁶

[e] Sale of More than Five Lots

If there is no substantial evidence other than subdivision and related selling activities that real property is held in the ordinary course of the taxpayer's business (i.e., as dealer property), the taxpayer qualifies for capital gain treatment. However, a special rule for computing capital gain applies if the taxpayer sells more than five lots or parcels from the tract. In the year in which the sixth lot is sold, and in all subsequent years, the taxpayer's gain on all lots sold during those years (including the first five lots sold during those years) is reportable as ordinary income to the extent of five percent of the selling price of each lot.ⁿ²⁷

Example:

Martin buys a single tract of real estate, which he subdivides into lots A, B, C, and D. In Year 1, he sells all four lots to four different (and unrelated) buyers. In the same year, he buys three adjacent lots, E, F, and G, which he sells to three other buyers in January, June, and July, respectively, of Year 2. Assuming that the lots qualify as investment property, all of the Year 1 sales create capital gain (since Martin did not sell more than five lots in that year). However, all of the Year 2 sales, including that of Lot E, are subject to the five percent ordinary income treatment. Even though Lot E was only the fifth lot that Martin sold, the sale occurred in the same year (Year 2) as that of the sixth lot.ⁿ²⁸

Expenses of the sale are first taken as deductions from gross income to the extent that gain is reported as ordinary income. All remaining selling expenses are used in determining the amount realized on the sale of a capital asset.ⁿ²⁹

The above rules are illustrated as follows:ⁿ³⁰

Example (1):

Taxpayer Smith divides a tract of real estate into six lots. Smith sells five of the lots in the Year 1 and the sixth lot in Year 2. The lots all qualify for capital gain treatment as investment property. The sixth lot, which has a basis to Smith of $5,000, is sold for $10,000, and the expenses of sale are $750. Smith realizes no ordinary income, and $4,250 as capital gain, computed as follows:

Sales price.....	$10,000

Basis.....	(5,000)
Sales price in excess of basis.....	5,000
5 percent of sales price.....	$500
Expenses of sale.....	(750)
Gain realized as ordinary income	-0-
Sales price in excess of basis.....	$5,000
5 percent of sales price.....	$500
Excess of expenses over 5 percent of sales price	250	(750)
Gain treated as capital gain.....		$4,250

Example (2):

Assume the same facts as in Example (1), except that the expenses of sale of the sixth lot are $300. Smith realizes $200 as ordinary income, and $4,500 as capital gain, computed as follows:

Sales price.....	$10,000
Basis.....	(5,000)
Sales price in excess of basis.....	5,000
5 percent of sales price.....	$500
Expenses of sale.....	(300)
Gain realized as ordinary income	$200
Sales price in excess of basis.....	$5,000
5 percent of sales price.....	$500
Excess of expenses over 5 percent of sales price	-0-	(500)
Gain treated as capital gain.....		$4,500

Planning Notes

Try to Establish Investment Motive. A taxpayer who decides to liquidate his real estate holdings is usually faced with the problem of how far he may engage in development activities without being treated as a dealer subject to ordinary income tax on his sales. Although the Service takes the strict view that almost any subdivision activity results in ordinary income when the property is sold, the courts may allow capital gain treatment if the facts clearly indicate an investment motive. Moreover, the Service cannot classify subdivided lots or parcels as dealer property unless they are held "primarily" for sale to customers.

Taxpayer May be Both Dealer and Investor. Under certain conditions, an individual taxpayer may have the dual status of dealer and investor. For example, if a taxpayer sells some of his housing units immediately upon completion but rents the remaining units for several years before they are sold in liquidation of the business, he may be treated as holding houses from the first sale as dealer property, but houses from the later sale as investment property.ⁿ³¹

Special Treatment Not Available for Losses. The special capital gain presumption for sales of realty from subdivided property by noncorporate taxpayers applies only to gains; it does not apply to sales that result in a loss.ⁿ³² This distinction is important because of the statutory limitations on capital losses by noncorporate taxpayers.ⁿ³³ Note, however, that the Code provides for "recapture" of net ordinary losses claimed under IRC Section 1231 upon the subsequent sale of trade or business property at a capital gain, i.e., net gains from the sale are treated as ordinary income to the extent of unrecaptured net losses.ⁿ³⁴

Legal Topics:

For related research and practice materials, see the following legal topics:

Real Property LawSubdivisionsGeneral OverviewTax LawFederal Income Tax ComputationDeductions for LossesGeneral Losses (IRC sec. 165)General OverviewTax LawFederal Income Tax ComputationDeductions for Nonbusiness ExpensesRelated Taxpayers (IRC sec. 267)Tax LawFederal Income Tax ComputationOrdinary Income (IRC sec. 64)Tax LawFederal Income Tax ComputationSales & ExchangesBusiness Property (IRC secs. 1031, 1221, 1231)Property Held for Productive Use & InvestmentTax LawFederal Income Tax ComputationSales & ExchangesCapital Gains & Losses (IRC secs. 1201-1202, 1211-1212, 1221-1223, 1231-1260, 1271-1278, 1281-1288, 1291-1298)Capital AssetsTax LawFederal Income Tax ComputationSales & ExchangesCapital Gains & Losses (IRC secs. 1201-1202, 1211-1212, 1221-1223, 1231-1260, 1271-1278, 1281-1288, 1291-1298)Long Term & Short Term Gains & LossesTax LawFederal Income Tax ComputationSales & ExchangesCapital Gains & Losses (IRC secs. 1201-1202, 1211-1212, 1221-1223, 1231-1260, 1271-1278, 1281-1288, 1291-1298)Real Property Subdivided for SaleTax LawFederal Income Tax ComputationSales & ExchangesCapital Gains & Losses (IRC secs. 1201-1202, 1211-1212, 1221-1223, 1231-1260, 1271-1278, 1281-1288, 1291-1298)Treatment of GainsTax LawFederal Income Tax ComputationSales & ExchangesCapital Gains & Losses (IRC secs. 1201-1202, 1211-1212, 1221-1223, 1231-1260, 1271-1278, 1281-1288, 1291-1298)Treatment of LossesTax LawFederal Income Tax ComputationSales & ExchangesRecapture of Depreciation (IRC secs. 1245, 1250)

FOOTNOTES:

(n1)Footnote 1. IRC § 1221(1); Treas. Reg. § 1.1221-1(b).

(n2)Footnote 2. IRC § 1(h).

(n3)Footnote 3. IRC § 1(a).

(n4)Footnote 4. IRC § 1237.

(n5)Footnote 5. IRC §§ 1245, 1250.

(n6)Footnote 6. IRC §§ 1211(b), 1212(b); Treas. Reg. § 1.1211-1(b)(1).

(n7)Footnote 1. U.S. v. Winthrop, 417 F.2d 905 (5th Cir. 1969) ; Byram v. U.S., 705 F.2d 1418 (5th Cir. 1983) ; Harris v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1983-774 ; Davis v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1955-230 ; Bramblett v. Comm'r, 960 F.2d 526 (5th Cir. 1992) .

(n8)Footnote 2. Byram v. U.S., 705 F.2d 1418 (5th Cir. 1983) ; see also Pritchett v. Comm'r, 63 T.C. 149 (1974) .

(n9)Footnote 3. Mackall Est. v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo, CCH 14,044, P-H P 44,231; see Winding River Ranch, Inc. v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1966-260 ; see also Herndon v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1968-135 .

(n10)Footnote 4. Vanbibber v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1985-344 .

(n11)Footnote 5. IRC §§ 1221(1), 1231(b)(1)(B).

(n12)Footnote 6. Malat v. Riddell, 383 U.S. 569 (1966) , on remanded, 347 F.2d 23 (9th Cir. 1965) ; Phelan v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 2004-206 .

(n13)Footnote 7. Municipal Bond Corp. v. Comm'r, 341 F.2d 683 (8th Cir. 1965) , on remand, 41 T.C. 20 (1963) 46 T.C. 219 (1966) , rev'd 382 F.2d 184 (8th Cir. 1967) ; Gates v. Comm'r, 52 T.C. 898 (1969) ; Olivieri v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1966-177 ; Phelan v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 2004-206 .

(n14)Footnote 1. Rev. Rul. 59-91, 1959-1 C.B. 15 .

(n15)Footnote 2. Boeing v. U.S., 168 F. Supp. 762 (Ct. Cl. 1958) ; Kaltreider v. Comm'r, 28 T.C. 121 (1957) , aff'd, 255 F.2d 833 (3d Cir. 1958) ; Longfellow v. Comm'r 31 T.C. 11 (1958) ; Patrick v. Comm'r, 31 T.C. 1175 (1959) , aff'd, 275 F.2d 437 (7th Cir. 1960) ; Riley v. Comm'r, 37 T.C. 932 (1962) , aff'd, 328 F.2d 428 (5th Cir. 1964) ; Buono v. Comm'r, 74 T.C. 187 (1980) ; Gates v. Comm'r, 52 T.C. 898 (1969) .

(n16)Footnote 3. Oliver v. Comm'r, TC Memo, CCH 13,198, P-H P 43,229, aff'd per curiam 138 F.2d 910 (4th Cir. 1943) ; Sanders v. U.S., 740 F.2d 886 (11th Cir. 1984) .

(n17)Footnote 4. Cornish v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1957-61 ; but see Frank H. Taylor & Son Inc. v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1973-82 .

(n18)Footnote 5. Ehrman v. Comm'r, 41 BTA 652 (1940) , aff'd 120 F.2d 607 (9th Cir. 1941) , cert. denied 314 U.S. 668 ; Boeing v. U.S., 168 F. Supp. 762, 144 Ct. Cl. 75 (1958) .

(n19)Footnote 6. Palos Verdes Corp. v. U.S., 201 F.2d 256 (9th Cir. 1952) ; Nadalin v. U.S., 364 F.2d 431 (Ct. Cl. 1966) .

(n20)Footnote 7. Bynum v. Comm'r, 46 T.C. 295 (1966) ; Nadeau v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1996-427 .

(n21)Footnote 8. Smith v. Dunn, 224 F.2d 353 (5th Cir. 1955) ; Riedel v. Comm'r, 261 F.2d 371 (5th Cir. 1958) , rev'g T.C. Memo 1957-210 ; Voss v. U.S., 329 F.2d 164 (7th Cir. 1964) .

(n22)Footnote 9. Mundy Estate v. Comm'r, 36 T.C. 703 (1961) ; see Walton Estate v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1962-63 ; Simpson Estate v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1962-71 ; Hall v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1968-175 .

(n23)Footnote 10. Yunker v. Comm'r, 256 F.2d 130 (6th Cir. 1958) , rev'g 26 T.C. 161 (1956) ; see also Camp v. Murray, 226 F.2d 931 (4th Cir. 1955) ; but see Cornish v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1957-61 ; Simpson Estate v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1962-71 .

(n24)Footnote 11. Gudgel v. Comm'r, 273 F.2d 206 (6th Cir. 1959) , rev'g T.C. Memo 1958-83 ; see Clark v. U.S., 200 F. Supp. 668 (E.D. Tenn. 1961) ; see also Parmer v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1971-320 .

(n25)Footnote 12. Oahu Sugar Co. v. U.S., 300 F.2d 773 (Ct. Cl. 1962) .

(n26)Footnote 13. Boomhower v. U.S., 74 F. Supp. 997 (D. Iowa 1947) ; see also Fahs v. Crawford, 161 F.2d 315 (5th Cir. 1947) ; Riddell v. Scales, 406 F.2d 210 (9th Cir. 1969) ; cf. Grove v. Comm'r, 54 T.C. 799 (1970) ; Podell v. Comm'r, 55 T.C. 429 (1970) ; see also Wilson & Fields v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1962-200 .

(n27)Footnote 14. See Suburban Realty Co. v. U.S., 615 F.2d 171 (5th Cir. 1980) , cert. denied, 449 U.S. 920 ; Beidenharn Realty Co. v. U.S., 526 F.2d 409 (5th Cir. 1976) ; Bramblett v. Comm'r, 960 F.2d 526 (5th Cir. 1992) .

(n28)Footnote 1. IRC § 1221(1).

(n29)Footnote 2. Malat v. Riddell, 383 U.S. 569 (1966) ; see also Scottwood Devel Co. v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1967-175 .

(n30)Footnote 3. U.S. v. Winthrop, 417 F.2d 905 (5th Cir. 1969) ; Crabtree v. Comm'r, 20 T.C. 841 (1953) ; Wood v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 2004-200 .

(n31)Footnote 4. Ross v. Comm'r, 227 F.2d 265 (5th Cir. 1955) ; Heller Trust v. Comm'r, 382 F.2d 675 (9th Cir. 1967) .

(n32)Footnote 5. Goldberg v. Comm'r, 223 F.2d 709 (5th Cir. 1955) , rev'g 22 T.C. 533 (1954) ; Heller Trust v. Comm'r, 382 F.2d 675 (9th Cir. 1967) .

(n33)Footnote 6. Delsing v. U.S., 186 F.2d 59 (5th Cir. 1951) ; Smith v. Comm'r, 232 F.2d 142 (5th Cir. 1956) .

(n34)Footnote 7. Crabtree v. Comm'r, 20 T.C. 841, 848 (1953) ; see also Murray v. Comm'r, 370 F.2d 568 (4th Cir. 1967) , cert. denied, 389 U.S. 834 (1967) .

(n35)Footnote 8. King v. Comm'r, 189 F.2d 122 (5th Cir. 1951) , cert. denied, 342 U.S. 829 ; Rockwell v. Comm'r, 512 F.2d 882 (9th Cir. 1975) , aff'g T.C. Memo 1972-133 , cert. denied 423 U.S. 1015 (1975) .

(n36)Footnote 9. Phillips v. Comm'r, 24 T.C. 435 (1955) ; see also Grant v. Comm'r, 333 F.2d 603 (4th Cir. 1964) .

(n37)Footnote 10. Rollingwood Corp. v. Comm'r, 190 F.2d 263 (9th Cir. 1951) ; but cf. Cole v. U.S., 141 F. Supp. 558 (D. Wyo. 1956) ; Malat v. Riddell, 383 U.S. 569 (1966) .

(n38)Footnote 11. Victory Housing No. 2, Inc. v. Comm'r, 205 F.2d 371 (10th Cir. 1953) , rev'g 18 T.C. 466 (1952) ; see also Voss v. U.S., 329 F.2d 164 (7th Cir. 1964) .

(n39)Footnote 12. Dillon v. Comm'r, 213 F.2d 218 (8th Cir. 1954) ; see also Voss v. U.S., 329 F.2d 164 (7th Cir. 1964) .

(n40)Footnote 13. Phillips v. Comm'r, 24 T.C. 435 (1955) ; see also Planned Communities, Inc. v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1980-555 ; see also Rouse v. Comm'r, 39 T.C. 70 (1962) , overruled in part by Macabe Co. v. Comm'r, 42 T.C. 1105 (1964) .

(n41)Footnote 14. Galena Oaks Corp. v. Scofield, 218 F.2d 217 (5th Cir. 1954) ; Carlson v. Comm'r, 288 F.2d 228 (7th Cir. 1961) ; Home Co., Inc. v. Comm'r, 212 F.2d 637 (10th Cir. 1954) ; Pool v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1956-64 , aff'd 251 F.2d 233 (9th Cir. 1957) , cert. denied 356 U.S. 938 .

(n42)Footnote 15. Monday v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1957-1 , aff'd per curiam 252 F.2d 789 (6th Cir. 1958) , cert. denied 358 U.S. 883 .

(n43)Footnote 16. Cohn v. Comm'r, 21 T.C. 90 (1953) , aff'd, 226 F.2d 22 (9th Cir. 1955) ; see also DeBuys v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1956-128 .

(n44)Footnote 17. Curtis v. Comm'r, 232 F.2d 167 (3d Cir. 1956) , rev'g and rem'g 23 T.C. 740 (1955) ; see also Dillon v. Comm'r, 213 F.2d 218 (8th Cir. 1954) , rev'g 12 T.C.M. (CCH) 338 (1953) .

(n45)Footnote 1. S. Rep. No. 1622, 83d Cong., 2d Sess. 115 (1954).

(n46)Footnote 2. IRC § 1237.

(n47)Footnote 3. Id.; Treas. Reg. § 1.1237-1(a)(1).

(n48)Footnote 4. IRC § 1237(a); Treas. Reg. 1.1237-1(a)(5).

(n49)Footnote 5. IRC § 1237(a)(1); Treas. Reg. § 1.1237-1(b).

(n50)Footnote 6. Treas. Reg. § 1.1237-1(a)(1); Gault v. Comm'r, 332 F.2d 94 (2d Cir. 1964) ; Smith v. Dept. of Revenue, 1998 Ore. Tax LEXIS 48 (Oregon Tax Court) .

(n51)Footnote 7. IRC § 1237(a)(2); Treas. Reg. § 1.1237-1(c).

(n52)Footnote 8. IRC § 1237(a)(3); Treas. Reg. § 1.1237-1(d).

(n53)Footnote 9. IRC § 1237(a); Treas. Reg. § 1.1237-1(a).

(n54)Footnote 10. Treas. Reg. § 1.1237-1(a)(2), (e)(1).

(n55)Footnote 11. IRC § 1237(b)(1).

(n56)Footnote 12. IRC § 1237(c); Treas. Reg. § 1.1237-1(g)(1).

(n57)Footnote 13. IRC § 1237(c); Treas. Reg. § 1.1237-1(g)(2).

(n58)Footnote 14. Estate of Finder v. Comm'r, 37 T.C. 411 (1961) , appeal dismissed CA 7; see also Treas. Reg. § 1.1237-1(g)(2).

(n59)Footnote 15. Treas. Reg. § 1.1237-1(a)(3).

(n60)Footnote 16. Id.

(n61)Footnote 17. IRC § 1237(a)(2).

(n62)Footnote 18. Treas. Reg. § 1.1237-1(c)(1).

(n63)Footnote 19. Treas. Reg. § 1.1237-1(c)(4).

(n64)Footnote 20. Treas. Reg. § 1.1237-1(c)(3).

(n65)Footnote 21. Pointer v. Comm'r, 48 T.C. 906 (1967) , aff'd, 419 F.2d 213 (9th Cir. 1969) ; English v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1993-111 .

(n66)Footnote 22. IRC § 1237(b)(3).

(n67)Footnote 23. Id.; Treas. Reg. § 1.1237-1(c)(5)(i)(a).

(n68)Footnote 24. IRC § 1237(b)(3)(A).

(n69)Footnote 25. IRC § 1237(b)(3)(B).

(n70)Footnote 26. IRC § 1237(b)(3)(c); Treas. Reg. § 1.1237-1(c)(5)(i)(d), (c)(5)(iii).

(n71)Footnote 27. IRC § 1237(b)(1).

(n72)Footnote 28. Treas. Reg. § 1.1237-1(e)(2)(i).

(n73)Footnote 29. IRC § 1237(b)(2).

(n74)Footnote 30. Treas. Reg. § 1.1237-1(e)(2)(ii), Examples (1) and (2).

(n75)Footnote 31. See, e.g., Bradley v. Comm'r, 26 T.C. 970 (1956) ; McKinney v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1981-181 .

(n76)Footnote 32. IRC § 1237; Treas. Reg. § 1.1237-1(a)(4)(i).

(n77)Footnote 33. IRC §§ 165(c), 1211(b), 1212(b), 1221(1), and 1231; see Treas. Reg. § 1.1221-1(b).

(n78)Footnote 34. IRC § 1231(c).

5 of 181 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 22 DEVELOPMENT AND SUBDIVISION
Part I. The Tax Background

26-22 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate § 22.04

§ 22.04 Basis Rules: Apportionment of Basis to Subdivided Parcels

Basis of property that is subdivided and improved for resale must be equitably apportioned among lots or parcels to be sold in order to determine gain or loss upon sale of each. Allocation is based upon fair market value of lots or parcels at time of acquisition. Basis allocated to various parcels is increased by capitalized expenses, apportioned in same manner as basis.

[1] Basis of Subdivided Lots

The tax basis of an entire tract of land, like that of other real property, includes cash payments of the purchase price, the amount of any purchase money mortgage, and the amount of any other mortgage (or other liability) assumed or to which the property was subject when acquired.ⁿ¹ Gain or loss is recognized on the sale of each lot or parcel, so a portion of basis of the entire tract must be "equitably apportioned" to any parcel or lot which is sold by the developer. The developer cannot postpone the realization of gain or loss until he disposes of the entire property on the ground that he is first entitled to a tax-free recovery of its basis.ⁿ²

Example:

Mary, a dealer in real estate, acquires a 10-acre tract for $10,000, which she divides into 20 lots of equal value. The $10,000 cost must be equitably apportioned among the lots so that on the sale of each Mary can determine her taxable gain or deductible loss. Each lot, therefore, has a basis of $500 ($10,000 divided by 20). Assuming that one lot is sold for $800 and another for $300, Mary would have a $300 gain and a $200 loss, respectively. The transactions do not result in a "net gain" of $100, and Mary cannot postpone recognition of gain until she realizes more than $10,000 from the aggregated sale of the 20 lots.ⁿ³

Allocation of costs among the various lots may result in higher tax for the taxpayer. For example, if a condominium developer allocates a portion of its improvement costs to the surrounding land which it subsequently leases to the condominium owners, this results in a lower allocation of cost to the units sold and thus increases the developer's gain on their sale.ⁿ⁴

Equitable apportionment or allocation of a developer's tax basis among the various tracts or parcels is based upon their relative fair market value at the time of acquisition. The portion of the total basis allocated to any specific lot is measured by the ratio of the fair market value of that lot to the fair market value of the entire tract.ⁿ⁵ If the parcels or lots are indistinguishable, e.g., they all have the same value, their basis may be allocated uniformly by area (e.g., on a square foot basis).ⁿ⁶ Absent evidence to the contrary, a per unit area basis of allocation may be used. For example, if the owner cannot prove that the value per acre of one tract has a greater value than the value per acre of a second tract on the date of purchase, an allocation on a per acre basis is considered reasonable.ⁿ⁷

An allocation problem may arise if some units are more valuable than others, e.g., they have more street or water frontage, so that the values of the parcels among which the basis is to be allocated may not equal their relative values.ⁿ⁸ In those cases, real estate tax or other assessment values may be used to determine the relative value of the parcels for allocation purposes.ⁿ⁹ Expert testimony may also be used to make this determination.ⁿ¹⁰

The basis allocated to the various parcels or tracts is increased by legal fees and other capitalized expenses, which are apportioned in the same manner as basis.ⁿ¹¹ Improvement, subdivision, and development costs for each tract may be allocated in accordance with either acreage (acreage allocation)ⁿ¹² or value (value allocation).ⁿ¹³ Improvement and development costs, for this purpose, include costs of surveying, installing roads and utilities, and improving adjacent property to facilitate sale of the property.ⁿ¹⁴

[2] Easements, Utilities, and Development Costs

The distinction between expenditures that are currently deductible and those that must be capitalized is a troublesome tax problem in determining apportionment of basis. The cost (or other basis) of property must be adjusted for expenses, receipts, losses or other items that are properly chargeable to capital account (except for certain taxes or other carrying charges (see Section 22.06) and circulation expenditures)ⁿ¹ and for depreciation.ⁿ² All costs in acquiring property, perfecting title, and erecting developments on the property generally are taken into account in computing the adjusted basis of a parcel of property.

The most common items of addition to cost basis are improvements and betterments.ⁿ³ Other additions to basis include the costs of surveys and geological opinions,ⁿ⁴ defending or perfecting title,ⁿ⁵ removing clouds on title,ⁿ⁶ commissions paid by the purchaser,ⁿ⁷ and similar expenses.ⁿ⁸ Items that must be deducted from basis are generally those which are allowed as losses, such as abandonment and destruction losses.ⁿ⁹

The cost of separate improvements that benefit all lots in a subdivision may in certain circumstances be allocated to the basis of each lot. Such apportionment is allowed for the costs of water and sewage facilities, gas lines, and recreational areas (such as a golf course). For example, charges paid to public utilities for the extension of gas, electric, and water lines may be allocated to the basis of the subdivided lots, even though the developer would be entitled to pro rata refunds if new customers were obtained.ⁿ¹⁰ Amounts paid by a developer to a public utility for the installation of underground, rather than less expensive above ground, electric and gas distribution systems for a new mobile home park are nonrecurring capital expenditures that are included in the developer's basis for the land.ⁿ¹¹

Allocation of utility costs to the basis of subdivided property is allowed only if the taxpayer relinquishes ownership and beneficial interest in the facility. For example, a developer who retains title to a water-pumping system which he constructed may not allocate any part of its cost to the properties sold.ⁿ¹² On the other hand, a subdivider who conveys to the new owners the "substantial beneficial property rights" in a sewage disposal plant that he constructed may include its cost in the basis of the lots sold.ⁿ¹³ Also, allocation is proper if a developer transfers water and sewage facilities to a new utility company wholly owned by an individual who owns 40 percent of stock in the developer, if the transfer is in consideration for the utility's agreement to furnish services to purchasers of houses in the subdivision.ⁿ¹⁴

The seller of undeveloped acreage, particularly in large long-range programs, may want to use the property temporarily for himself, or may choose to impose permanent restrictions on its use by the purchaser. The seller's motivation may be his ownership of adjacent land, a desire to continue farming, forestry or other business on the land, or an intention to exploit valuable interests. In these cases, the seller may impose conditions or limitations that survive the passage of title, such as covenants restricting the buyer's use, easements permitting the seller to use the land, reservations of mineral, timber, or other specific rights, or contractual provisions requiring the purchaser to meet a prescribed development program with respect to the property.

The principal tax question that arises when the seller retains an easement or other limited right with respect to the property sold is whether the right in itself constitutes a separate asset to which part of the basis of the entire property must be allocated. The consideration received for the grant of an easement constitutes the proceeds from the sale of an interest in real property and should be applied as a reduction of the cost or other basis of the underlying land.ⁿ¹⁵ If the easement affects only a specific portion of a tract of land, only the basis properly allocable to the affected portion is reduced by the consideration received.ⁿ¹⁶

A developer may include estimated development costs in the basis of lots sold even before the expenditures are made, but such estimates may be corrected in the light of actual experience.ⁿ¹⁷ The correcting adjustment should be made in and for the year the overestimate or underestimate is determined, rather than for the year the original estimate was made.ⁿ¹⁸

Planning Note

Taxpayer Has Burden of Proof on Cost Allocation. Whether the allocation of basis among parcels of property is made in proportion to their relative fair market value at the time of acquisition is a question of fact on which the taxpayer has the burden of proof.ⁿ¹⁹ The taxpayer may meet this burden by use of real estate tax or other assessment values, expert testimony, or both (see Section 22.04[1] above).

Legal Topics:

For related research and practice materials, see the following legal topics:

Real Property Law Subdivisions General Overview Tax Law Federal Income Tax Computation Sales & Exchanges Basis (IRC secs. 1011-1017, 1019, 1021, 1023) Adjustments to Basis Tax Law Federal Income Tax Computation Sales & Exchanges Basis (IRC secs. 1011-1017, 1019, 1021, 1023) Cost Basis of Property Tax Law Federal Income Tax Computation Sales & Exchanges Basis (IRC secs. 1011-1017, 1019, 1021, 1023) Real Property Tax Law Federal Income Tax Computation Sales & Exchanges Capital Gains & Losses (IRC secs. 1201-1202, 1211-1212, 1221-1223, 1231-1260, 1271-1278, 1281-1288, 1291-1298) Real Property Subdivided for Sale Tax Law State & Local Taxes Real Property Tax Assessment & Valuation Valuation

FOOTNOTES:

(n1)Footnote 1. IRC §§ 1011, 1012, and 1016; see Crane v. Comm'r, 331 U.S. 1 (1947) ; Comm'r v. Tufts, 461 U.S. 300 (1983) , rev'g 651 F.2d 1058 (5th Cir. 1981) , reinstating 70 T.C. 756 (1978) , on remand 712 F.2d 199 (5th Cir. 1983) ; Rev. Rul. 68-362, 1968-2 C.B. 334 ; Emmons v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1998-173 .

(n2)Footnote 2. Treas. Reg. § 1.61-6(a); see Fairfield Plaza, Inc. v. Comm'r, 39 T.C. 706 (1963) ; Fasken v. Comm'r, 71 T.C. 650 (1979) ; Cleveland-Sandusky Brewing Corp. v. Comm'r, 30 T.C. 539 (1958) ; Iske v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1980-61 .

Subdividers of real estate may request permission to add to the basis of their lots the estimated cost of future improvements that will benefit the lots if they are contractually obligated to make the improvements. Otherwise, the subdividers may not increase the basis until economic performance has occurred with respect to the improvements. 1991-1 C.B. 315, Notice 91-4 . Although subdividers can add some future improvements to basis, the total estimated common costs under the alternative cost method cannot exceed the amount treated as incurred under the economic performance rules at the end of the tax year. This cost limitation is applied on a project-by-project basis as defined by the developer using any reasonable method. Rev. Proc. 92-29, 1992-1 C.B. 748 .

(n3)Footnote 3. Treas. Reg. 1.61-6(a), and Example (1).

(n4)Footnote 4. Urbanek v. U.S., 2 Cl. Ct. 574 (Cl. Ct. 1983) ; Dahling v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1988-430 .

(n5)Footnote 5. Searles Real Estate Trust v. Comm'r, 25 BTA 1115 (1932) ; Alamo Broadcasting Co. v. Comm'r, 15 T.C. 534 (1950) ; Soelling v. Comm'r, 70 T.C. 1052 (1978) ; Von Hafften v. Comm'r, 76 T.C. 831 (1981) .

(n6)Footnote 6. Ayling v. Comm'r, 32 T.C. 704 (1959) ; Henning Corp. v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1960-90 .

(n7)Footnote 7. Byram v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1975-135 , aff'd, 555 F.2d 1234 (5th Cir. 1977) .

(n8)Footnote 8. See Luckey v. Comm'r, 334 F.2d 719 (9th Cir. 1964) , aff'd, 41 T.C. 1 (1963) ; see also Fairfield Plaza, Inc. v. Comm'r, 39 T.C. 706 (1963) ; Biscayne Bay Islands Co. v. Comm'r, 23 BTA 731 (1931) .

(n9)Footnote 9. Cullinan v. Comm'r, 5 BTA 996 (1927) ; Cullinan v. Comm'r, 19 BTA 930 (1930) ; Bowman v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1955-14 ; see generally 2554- 58 Creston Corp. v. Comm'r, 40 T.C. 932 (1963) .

(n10)Footnote 10. Hoven v. Comm'r, 56 T.C. 50 (1971) ; see Almac's, Inc. v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1961-13 ; see generally Burrows v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1970-80 .

(n11)Footnote 11. Soelling v. Comm'r, 70 T.C. 1052 (1978) ; Rev. Rul. 68-528, 1968-2 C.B. 331 .

(n12)Footnote 12. Hannibal Mo. Land Co. v. Comm'r, 9 B.T.A. 1072 (1928) , nonacq., 1928 C.B. 37 ; see also Ewing v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1958-115 .

(n13)Footnote 13. Fairfield Plaza, Inc. v. Comm'r, 39 T.C. 706 (1963) ; see generally 2554- 2554-58 Creston Corp. v. Comm'r, 40 T.C. 932 (1963) .

(n14)Footnote 14. Comm'r v. Laguna Land & Water Co., 118 F.2d 112 (9th Cir. 1941) ; Wilson v. U.S., 322 F. Supp. 1166 (N.D. Ala. 1971) .

(n15)Footnote 1. IRC § 1016(a)(1).

(n16)Footnote 2. IRC § 1016(a)(2)-(3).

(n17)Footnote 3. See Franklin Lumber & Power Co. v. Comm'r, 50 F.2d 1059 (4th Cir. 1931) ; Johnson v. Comm'r, 7 T.C. 465 (1946) , rev'd on other issue, 162 F.2d 844 (5th Cir. 1947) ; see also Treas. Reg. § 1.1016-2(a).

(n18)Footnote 4. Thompson v. Comm'r, 9 BTA 1342 (1928) ; see also Hannibal Mo. Land Co. v. Comm'r, 9 BTA 1072 (1928) , nonacq., 1928-1 CB 37 .

(n19)Footnote 5. Bermont Oil Co. v. Comm'r, 33 BTA 1061 (1936) , aff'd, 91 F.2d 710 (D.C. Cir. 1937) ; see also Johnson v. Comm'r, 162 F.2d 844 (5th Cir. 1947) .

(n20)Footnote 6. Est. of Jones v. Comm'r, 43 BTA 691 (1941) , aff'd, 127 F.2d 231 (5th Cir. 1942) ; see also Johnson v. Comm'r, 162 F.2d 844 (5th Cir. 1947) .

(n21)Footnote 7. Briarcliff Investment Co. v. Comm'r, 30 BTA 1269 (1934) ; Frick v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1976-343 (1976) .

(n22)Footnote 8. See, e.g., Warner Mountains Lumber Co. v. Comm'r, 9 T.C. 1171 (1947) ; see generally Kirschenmann v. Comm'r, 488 F.2d 270 (9th Cir. 1973) .

(n23)Footnote 9. See Carolina Light & Power Co. v. Comm'r, 23 BTA 140 (1931) ; see also Cleveland-Sandusky Brewing Corp. v. Comm'r, 30 T.C. 539 (1958) .

(n24)Footnote 10. Colony, Inc. v. Comm'r, 26 T.C. 30 (1956) , aff'd on other issue 244 F.2d 75 (6th Cir. 1957) , rev'd 357 U.S. 28 (1958) ; Gersten v. Comm'r, 28 T.C. 756 (1957) , rev'd on other grounds, 267 F.2d 195 (9th Cir. 1959) ; Rev. Rul. 60-3, 1960-1 C.B. 284 ; cf. Fairfield Plaza, Inc. v. Comm'r, 39 T.C. 706 (1963) ; Rev. Rul. 67-309, 1967-2 C.B. 263 ; see also C. H. Robinson Inc. v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1998-430 .

(n25)Footnote 11. Rev. Rul. 80-93, 1980-1 C.B. 50 .

(n26)Footnote 12. Colony, Inc. v. Comm'r, N. 10, supra; see also Bryce's Mountain Resort Inc. v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1985-293 .

(n27)Footnote 13. Collins Estate v. Comm'r, 31 T.C. 238 (1958) (divided Tax Court); see also Willow Terrace Devel Co. v. Comm'r, 345 F.2d 933 (5th Cir. 1965) , cert. denied, 382 U.S. 938 ; Derby Heights, Inc. v. Comm'r, 48 T.C. 900 (1967) ; Herzog Bldg. Corp. v. Comm'r, 44 T.C. 694 (1965) ; Montclair Devel. Co. v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1966-200 ; Norwest Corp. v. Comm'r, 111 T.C. 105 (1998) .

(n28)Footnote 14. Comm'r v. Offutt, 336 F.2d 483 (4th Cir. 1964) , aff'g T.C. Memo 1963-126 .

(n29)Footnote 15. Inaja Land Co. v. Comm'r, 9 T.C. 727 (1947) , acq., 1948-1 C.B. 2 ; Rev. Rul. 59-121, 1959-1 C.B. 212 ; cf. Nay v. Comm'r, 19 T.C. 114 (1952) ; Iske v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1980-61 (1980) ; Fasken v. Comm'r, 71 T.C. 650 (1979) .

(n30)Footnote 16. Rev. Rul. 68-291, 1968-1 C.B. 351 .

(n31)Footnote 17. Colony, Inc. v. Comm'r, 26 T.C. 30 (1956) , aff'd on other issue 244 F.2d 75 (6th Cir. 1957) , rev'd 357 U.S. 28 (1958) ; see Mount Vernon Gardens, Inc. v. Comm'r, 298 F.2d 712 (6th Cir. 1962) , rev'g, 34 T.C. 598 (1960) ; see generally Rev. Proc. 92-29, 1992-1 CB 748 .

(n32)Footnote 18. Rev. Proc. 78-25, 1978-2 C.B. 505 , amplifying Rev. Proc. 75-25, 1975-1 C.B. 720 ; obsolete in part Rev. Proc. 92-29, 1992-1 CB 748 .

(n33)Footnote 19. Fairfield Plaza, Inc. v. Comm'r, 39 T.C. 706 (1963) ; Scott v. Comm'r, 6 B.T.A. 761 (1927) ; Stonegate of Blacksburg, Inc. v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1974-213 ; cf. Walker v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1992-416 .

6 of 181 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 22 DEVELOPMENT AND SUBDIVISION
Part I. The Tax Background

26-22 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate § 22.05

§ 22.05 Capitalization of Construction Costs; Uniform Capitalization Rules

Uniform capitalization rules require capitalization of direct and indirect costs of real property produced by taxpayer and real property acquired for resale. Costs are allocated to property under various allocation methods.

[1] Application of Uniform Capitalization Rules

The uniform capitalization rules prescribe what costs associated with the production of property and the acquisition of property for resale must be capitalized, i.e., included in the property's basis.ⁿ¹ These rules also provide for allocating costs among various activities of the taxpayer.ⁿ² Capitalized costs are recovered when the taxpayer uses, sells, or otherwise disposes of the property. Recovery is through depreciation, amortization, cost of goods sold, adjustment to basis, or otherwise.ⁿ³

Note:

The uniform capitalization rules generally apply to all real or tangible personal property produced by the taxpayer, and to all inventory property or noninventory property acquired for resale as stock in trade. There is an exception for personal property acquired for resale by a taxpayer who has gross receipts of $10 million or less,ⁿ⁴ and several exceptions for certain property and activities.ⁿ⁵ The discussion in this section is limited to the application of the uniform capitalization rules to real property produced by the taxpayer, and to noninventory real property (real property may not be held as inventory) acquired by the taxpayer for resale.

To conform to the uniform capitalization rules, a taxpayer must determine: (1) what costs are includable in the basis of the property (see Sections 22.05[2]-[4] below)ⁿ⁶ and (2) the proper allocation of the includable costs (see Section 22.05[5] below).

[2] Kinds of Property Affected

[a] Property Produced by Taxpayer

The uniform capitalization rules apply to real property produced by the taxpayer, with certain exceptions noted below.ⁿ¹ Property is produced by the taxpayer if it is constructed, built, installed, manufactured, developed, or improved by him.ⁿ² The taxpayer is treated as producing property that is produced for him under a contract, except that only costs paid or incurred by the taxpayer (whether under the contract or otherwise) are taken into account in applying the uniform capitalization rules to him.ⁿ³

The uniform capitalization rules do not apply to personal use property, i.e., property produced by the taxpayer for his use other than in a trade or business or an activity conducted for profitⁿ⁴ or to property produced by the taxpayer pursuant to a long-term contract.ⁿ⁵

[b] Property Acquired by Taxpayer for Resale

The uniform capitalization rules apply to any noninventory real (or tangible personal) property that the taxpayer acquires for resale as stock in trade. This includes any real property held primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of the taxpayer's trade or business.ⁿ⁶

[3] Capitalization of Direct Costs

The uniform capitalization rules require that the direct costs of real property produced by the taxpayer or acquired by him for resale must be included in the basis of the property.ⁿ¹

The direct costs that must be capitalized are:ⁿ²

- (1) direct material costs, including the costs of materials that are integrated into the property produced or acquired as well as the costs of materials that are consumed in the ordinary course of producing or acquiring the property; and
- (2) direct labor costs, including the costs of labor that can be identified or associated with producing or acquiring the property. The following are elements of direct labor costs, to the extent paid or incurred on behalf of employees engaged in direct labor: basic compensation; overtime pay; vacation and holiday pay; sick-leave pay; shift differential; payroll taxes; and payments to a supplemental unemployment benefit plan.

[4] Capitalization of Indirect Costs

Indirect costs that must be allocated to the basis of property under the uniform capitalization rulesⁿ¹ are all costs that are not direct costs and are not exempt from the general requirement to capitalize costs. Costs that are not direct costs are all costs, except direct material costs and direct labor costs, that directly benefit, or are incurred by reason of, the taxpayer's production or acquisition of property. If these costs also benefit, or are incurred by reason of, other activities of the taxpayer, they must be reasonably allocated to the several activities.ⁿ² See Section 22.05[5] below.

[a] Includable Indirect Costs

Interest on debt incurred or continued by the taxpayer to finance the production of property must be capitalized to the extent of interest costs paid or incurred during the production period if the property is real property.ⁿ³ The production period, for this purpose, is the period beginning on the date on which production of the property begins, and ending on the date on which the property is ready to be placed in service or is ready to be held for sale.ⁿ⁴ In contrast, interest on debt incurred or continued to finance the acquisition and holding of property for resale need not be capitalized under the uniform capitalization rules.ⁿ⁵ Note, however, that the taxpayer may elect to capitalize interest (and other carrying charges) that, under regulations, are chargeable to the capital account with respect to the property, rather than deducting the interest currently.ⁿ⁶

Taxes other than state, local, and foreign income taxes are indirect costs that must be capitalized to the extent they are allowable as a deduction if either of the following applies:

- (1) they relate to labor, materials, supplies, equipment, land, or facilities; or
- (2) they are paid or accrued in connection with the acquisition of equipment or facilities, the equipment or facilities would qualify for depreciation, amortization, or cost-recovery allowance, and the taxes are treated as part of the cost of acquisition.ⁿ⁷

Certain other indirect costs, in addition to the above, must be capitalized with respect to the production or acquisition of property. They include: repair or maintenance of equipment or facilities;ⁿ⁸ utilities that relate to equipment or facilities;ⁿ⁹ rental of equipment, facilities, or land;ⁿ¹⁰ indirect labor and contract supervisory wages, including basic compensation, overtime, vacation, holiday, and sick-leave pay, shift differential, payroll taxes, and contributions to supplemental unemployment benefit plans;ⁿ¹¹ indirect materials and supplies;ⁿ¹² tools and equipment the costs of which are not otherwise capitalized;ⁿ¹³ depreciation, amortization, and cost-recovery allowance on equipment and facilities to the extent allowable as deductions;ⁿ¹⁴ compensation paid to officers that is attributable to services performed in connection with the production or acquisition of property (but excluding any cost of selling);ⁿ¹⁵ insurance on the property produced or acquired;ⁿ¹⁶ contributions paid to employee-benefit plans, and certain other employee-benefit expenses;ⁿ¹⁷ certain bidding expenses incurred in the solicitation of contracts that are ultimately awarded to the taxpayer;ⁿ¹⁸ engineering and design expenses to the extent that they do not qualify as deductible research and experimental expenses;ⁿ¹⁹ and certain other items, such as purchasing expenses, handling costs, and storage costs incurred with respect to the production or acquisition of property.ⁿ²⁰

[b] Excludable Indirect Costs

Indirect costs that need not be capitalized with respect to the production or acquisition of real property include amounts incurred for:

- (1) state, local, and foreign income taxes;ⁿ²¹
- (2) interest on debt incurred or continued to finance the acquisition and holding of property for resale need not be capitalized under the uniform capitalization rules.ⁿ²² However, interest on debt incurred or continued to finance the production of real property must be capitalized to the extent it is paid or incurred during the production period;ⁿ²³
- (3) research and experimental expenditures that are allowable as a deduction. To the extent that such costs may not be claimed as a deduction, they are subject to the uniform capitalization rules.ⁿ²⁴ Thus, expenditures for improvements to land that will be used for research and experimental purposes, which are not deductible, are subject to these rules.ⁿ²⁵ Depreciation or depletion deductions on property used for research or experimental purposes are considered deductible expenditures and are, therefore, not subject to the uniform capitalization rules;ⁿ²⁶ and
- (4) certain other specified indirect costs, including marketing, selling, advertising, and distribution expenses, bidding expenses incurred in the solicitation of contracts not awarded to the taxpayer, uncompensated losses, income taxes, costs attributable to strikes, warranty and product liability costs, and depreciation, amortization, and cost-recovery allowances on equipment and facilities that have been placed in service but that are temporarily idle.ⁿ²⁷

[5] Allocation of Costs to Property

[a] Allocation Methods

The taxpayer may use any one of several methods under the uniform capitalization rules to allocate direct and indirect costs, depending on the particular cost involved.ⁿ¹ These methods are:

(1) The specific-identification (tracing) method. Each separate cost, whether direct or indirect, is identified and assigned to particular property. No formulas or percentages are needed in using this method.ⁿ²

(2) The burden-rates method. This method allocates indirect costs through the use of predetermined rates that are intended to approximate the actual amount of indirect costs incurred.ⁿ³

(3) The standard-cost method. This method of allocating costs to property involves allocations based upon preestablished standard allowances, without regard to costs actually incurred during the taxable year, but then the taxpayer must reallocate to property a pro rata portion of any net negative or net positive overhead variances and direct-cost variances.ⁿ⁴

(4) The avoided-cost method. This method determines the amount of debt that is treated as incurred or continued to finance production, based on the amount of interest expense that would have been avoided if production expenditures had not been made and the amount of the expenditures had been used to reduce the taxpayer's indebtedness. This method must be used to allocate interest expense to produced property.ⁿ⁵

(5) Any other reasonable method. Any other reasonable method may be used to allocate costs to particular property. An allocation method is considered reasonable if it capitalizes all costs that directly benefit or are incurred by reason of the production or acquisition of property. If this condition is not met, an allocation method may still be used if it meets certain conditions.ⁿ⁶

A taxpayer may elect to use one of the following simplified methods for certain costs that must be capitalized:

(1) The simplified production method may be used only for property that is produced or manufactured by the taxpayer, except property produced under a long-term contract. It may not be used for property acquired for resale.ⁿ⁷

(2) A simplified service-cost method may be used to allocate administrative, support, and service costs that directly benefit or are incurred by reason of the production of property and also benefit other of the taxpayer's activities (mixed-service costs).ⁿ⁸

(3) A separate and distinct simplified resale method may be used to account for costs of property acquired for resale.ⁿ⁹

[b] Direct Labor Costs

Direct labor costs must be allocated using the specific-identification (tracing) method or any other method that reasonably allocates those costs to property. Elements of direct labor costs (other than basic compensation) may be grouped and allocated to property in proportion to the charge for the basic compensation. All direct labor costs must be capitalized. However, they may be treated as indirect costs if they are fully capitalized as required for indirect costs.ⁿ¹⁰

[c] Direct Material Costs

The direct material costs of producing or acquiring property generally must be allocated to the property for the particular year using the taxpayer's method of accounting for the property. However, these costs may be allocated using a tracing method or any other method that reasonably allocates them.ⁿ¹¹

[d] Indirect Costs

Indirect costs of producing or acquiring property must be allocated using the specific-identification (tracing) method, the standard-cost method, or a method using burden rates, such as ratios based on direct costs, hours, or other items, or similar formulas. Indirect costs may be allocated on the basis of direct labor costs and direct material costs, or direct labor hours, but any other basis that results in a reasonable allocation of the costs may be used.ⁿ¹²

[e] Administrative, Service, or Support Costs

The uniform capitalization rules require the allocation of administrative, support, and service costs that directly benefit production or acquisition of particular property. Also included are service costs that benefit both production or acquisition and also benefit other activities of the taxpayer (mixed-service costs). Costs incurred by a service department that do not directly benefit production or acquisition of particular property but instead benefit the taxpayer's overall management or policy-guidance functions are not included.ⁿ¹³

[f] Interest Expense

Interest on debt incurred or continued by the taxpayer to finance the production of real property (or certain tangible personal property) must be capitalized to the extent of interest costs paid or incurred during the production period.ⁿ¹⁴ Detailed rules are prescribed for the allocation of such interest expense.ⁿ¹⁵

The allocation rules for interest expense are applied to partnerships, S corporations, and other flow-through entities first at the entity level and then at the beneficiary level.ⁿ¹⁶ The rules do not apply to qualified residence interest (interest on debt secured by the taxpayer's residence or second home).ⁿ¹⁷

[g] Costs Attributable to Related Parties

Direct and indirect costs allocable to property must be capitalized even if the materials, labor, or services underlying the costs in question are provided to the taxpayer by a related person for a price that is less than the arm's-length charge.ⁿ¹⁸ For this purpose, related persons are any two or more organizations, trades, or businesses between or among which the Service may allocate income and deductions as necessary to prevent evasion of taxes or to reflect clearly the income of any of them.ⁿ¹⁹

Both the taxpayer and the related person generally must account for the transaction for tax purposes as though the taxpayer had paid the arm's-length price as a direct or indirect cost allocable to property, and the related person must include the same amount in gross income.ⁿ²⁰ This requirement does not apply, however, if the transaction is accounted for in such a manner that the costs are capitalized or deducted by the related person no earlier than they would have been if the costs had been capitalized or deducted by the taxpayer.ⁿ²¹

[6] Borrowing and Financing Costs

The costs of obtaining a loan to finance the acquisition or construction of capital assets are not subject to the uniform capitalization rules.ⁿ¹ However, these costs must be capitalized and amortized over the term of the loan.ⁿ² If a fee, or any part of a fee paid to obtain financing, is in fact an additional cost of the borrowed money, rather than a cost of services rendered to obtain the loan, the amount may be deducted as interest instead of capitalized.ⁿ³

Planning Notes

Construction Costs Subject to Strict Capitalization Rules. The uniform capitalization rules impose strict requirements on capitalization of construction costs. All direct and indirect construction period costs generally must be capitalized into the basis of the building and depreciated over the applicable recovery period. Interest on debt incurred or continued by the taxpayer to finance the construction of buildings or other real property must be capitalized to the extent of interest costs paid or incurred while the property is under construction and until it is ready to be placed in service or held for sale. Taxes other than state, local, and foreign income taxes may also have to be capitalized under certain conditions.

Interest Expense Deductions Generally Subject to Limitations on Passive Activity Losses and Nonbusiness Interest. Interest on debt incurred or continued to finance the acquisition and holding (rather than the construction) of real property for resale need not be capitalized under the uniform capitalization rules. However, interest expense deductions generally are subject to the same limitations on passive activity losses and nonbusiness interest that are applicable to the underlying debt. Specific rules allow interest and debt to be allocated by tracing the debt proceeds to specific expenditures. If interest cannot be traced under these rules, debt proceeds in cash are treated as used to make personal expenditures.ⁿ⁴

Legal Topics:

For related research and practice materials, see the following legal topics:

Real Property LawSubdivisionsGeneral OverviewTax LawFederal Income Tax ComputationDeductions for Business ExpensesGeneral OverviewTax LawFederal Income Tax ComputationDeductions for Business ExpensesCapital Expenditures (IRC secs. 263-263A)Tax LawFederal Income Tax ComputationDeductions for LossesPassive Activity Loss (IRC sec. 469)Tax LawFederal Income Tax ComputationSales & ExchangesBasis (IRC secs. 1011-1017, 1019, 1021, 1023)General Overview

FOOTNOTES:

(n1)Footnote 1. IRC § 263A(a); Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-1(a)(1).

(n2)Footnote 2. Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-1(a)(1).

(n3)Footnote 3. Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-1(c)(4); see also IRC §§ 167, 168, 1016. The inclusion of items in cost on a taxpayer's tax return is not a proper election to capitalize the items. Increasing the cost without explanation is not a statement indicating the item or items to be capitalized. Govier v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1990-611.

(n4)Footnote 4. IRC § 263A(b)(2)(B).

(n5)Footnote 5. IRC § 263A(c), (d), (h).

(n6)Footnote 6. See IRC § 263A(b), (c).

(n7)Footnote 1. IRC § 263A(b)(1).

(n8)Footnote 2. IRC § 263A(g)(1).

(n9)Footnote 3. IRC § 263A(g)(2); Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-2(a)(1)(ii)(B).

(n10)Footnote 4. IRC § 263A(c)(1).

(n11)Footnote 5. IRC § 263A(c)(4); see IRC § 460.

(n12)Footnote 6. IRC §§ 263A(b)(2)(A), 1221(1).

(n13)Footnote 1. IRC § 263A(a).

(n14)Footnote 2. Temp. Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-1(e)(2).

(n15)Footnote 1. See IRC § 263A(a).

(n16)Footnote 2. Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-1(e)(3).

(n17)Footnote 3. IRC § 263A(f); Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-8(a)(2).

(n18)Footnote 4. IRC § 263A(f)(4)(B).

(n19)Footnote 5. Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-8(b); see IRC § 263A(f)(1).

(n20)Footnote 6. IRC § 266.

(n21)Footnote 7. Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-1(e)(3)(ii)(L), (I).

(n22)Footnote 8. Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-1(e)(3)(ii)(O).

(n23)Footnote 9. Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-1(e)(3)(ii)(N).

(n24)Footnote 10. Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-1(e)(3)(ii)(K).

(n25)Footnote 11. Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-1(e)(3)(ii)(A), (B), (C).

(n26)Footnote 12. Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-1(e)(3)(ii)(E).

(n27)Footnote 13. Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-1(e)(3)(ii)(R).

(n28)Footnote 14. Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-1(e)(3)(ii)(I); see IRC §§ 167, 168.

(n29)Footnote 15. Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-1(e)(3)(ii)(B).

(n30)Footnote 16. Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-1(e)(3)(ii)(M).

(n31)Footnote 17. Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-1(e)(3)(ii)(C), (D).

(n32)Footnote 18. Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-1(e)(3)(ii)(T).

(n33)Footnote 19. Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-1(e)(3)(ii)(P).

(n34)Footnote 20. Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-1(e)(3)(ii)(F), (G), (H).

(n35)Footnote 21. Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-1(e)(3)(iii)(F); see also Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-1(e)(3)(ii)(L).

(n36)Footnote 22. Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-8(a), (b).

(n37)Footnote 23. Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-1(e)(3)(iii)(B).

(n38)Footnote 24. IRC § 263A(c)(2); see IRC § 174.

(n39)Footnote 25. See IRC §§ 174(c), 263A(b)(1), (g)(1).

(n40)Footnote 26. See IRC § 263A(c)(2); see also IRC § 174(c); Treas. Reg. § 1.174-2(b).

(n41)Footnote 27. Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-1(e)(3)(iii).

(n42)Footnote 1. See Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-1(f)(1).

(n43)Footnote 2. See Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-1(f)(2).

(n44)Footnote 3. Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-1(f)(3)(i).

(n45)Footnote 4. Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-1(f)(3)(ii).

(n46)Footnote 5. Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-9.

(n47)Footnote 6. Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-1(f)(4).

(n48)Footnote 7. Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-2(b)(2).

(n49)Footnote 8. See Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-1(h).

(n50)Footnote 9. See Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-3(d).

(n51)Footnote 10. Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-1(g)(2).

(n52)Footnote 11. Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-1(g)(1).

(n53)Footnote 12. Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-1(g)(3).

(n54)Footnote 13. Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-1(g)(4).

(n55)Footnote 14. IRC § 263A(f).

(n56)Footnote 15. Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-9.

(n57)Footnote 16. IRC § 263A(f)(2)(C); see Notice 88-99, 1988-36 IRB 29 ; Hutchinson v. Comm'r, 116 T.C. 172 (2001) .

(n58)Footnote 17. IRC § 263A(f)(2)(B); see IRC § 163(h).

(n59)Footnote 18. Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-1(j)((1)(i); see IRC § 263A(i)(1).

(n60)Footnote 19. IRC § 482; Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-1(j)(1)(i).

(n61)Footnote 20. Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-1(j)(1)(i).

(n62)Footnote 21. Treas. Reg. § 1.263A-1(j)(1)(ii)(B); see Treas. Reg. § 1.1502-13.

(n63)Footnote 1. See IRC § 263A(f).

(n64)Footnote 2. See, e.g., Detroit Consol. Theatres, Inc. v. Comm'r, 133 F.2d 200 (6th Cir. 1942) ; Buddy Schoellkopf Prods, Inc. v. Comm'r, 65 T.C. 640 (1975) , nonacq., 1981-2 C.B. 3 ; Rev. Rul. 75-172, 1975-1 C.B. 145 ; see Fort Howard Corp. v. Comm'r, 103 T.C. 345 (1994) .

(n65)Footnote 3. Cagle v. Comm'r, 63 T.C. 86 (1974) , aff'd, 539 F.2d 409 (5th Cir. 1976) ; Lychuk v. Comm'r, 116 T.C. 374 (2001) .

(n66)Footnote 4. Temp. Treas. Reg. § 1.163-8T.

7 of 181 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 22 DEVELOPMENT AND SUBDIVISION
Part I. The Tax Background

26-22 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate § 22.06

§ 22.06 Elective Capitalization of Taxes and Carrying Charges

Taxpayers may elect either to deduct currently or capitalize taxes and carrying charges that are chargeable to capital account with respect to property. Election to capitalize taxes and other carrying charges may be made only for specific expenses that are otherwise deductible.

[1] Application of Elective Capitalization Rules

Taxpayers may elect to capitalize otherwise currently deductible taxes and carrying charges with respect to specified property.ⁿ¹ The particular expenses for which the election is available vary, depending on the type of property to which the expense relates.ⁿ² The election to charge an expense to a capital account must be made in the manner prescribed by the regulations.ⁿ³

A taxpayer may charge specified expenses to a capital account even if they are otherwise expressly deductible. However, an expense may not be capitalized if it is not otherwise deductible.ⁿ⁴ In addition, expenses that are otherwise treated as capital expenses must continue to be treated as such.ⁿ⁵

If a tax or carrying charge with respect to property is only in part subject to the election to capitalize, a reasonable proportion of the tax or carrying charge must be allocated to each item, based on the facts and circumstances of the case.ⁿ⁶

Example:

Sound Builders Associates, the owner of a factory on which a new addition is under construction, pays Monroe, its general manager, a salary of $80,000, and also pays a state unemployment insurance tax of $320 on Monroe's salary. Monroe spends 75 percent of his time on the general business of the firm and 25 percent in supervising the construction work. Sound Builders treats as expenses $60,000 (75 percent) of Monroe's salary and charges the remaining $20,000 (25 percent) to a capital account. Sound Builders may elect to capitalize $80 (.25 x $320) of the unemployment insurance tax, because the tax is otherwise deductible.

The term carrying charges is not defined in the Code or regulations. However, examples in the regulations in connection with the construction of improvements refer to certain types of taxes and interest on loans. Any item properly includable as a carrying charge must consist of deductible, rather than capital, expenditures.ⁿ⁷ Advertising expenses on unproductive property and maintenance and upkeep costs attributable to improved and unimproved unproductive real property are not carrying charges chargeable to a capital account.ⁿ⁸

[2] Items to Which Election Applies

The election to capitalize taxes and carrying charges may be made only for specific expenses that are otherwise deductible. The particular expenses for which the election may be made varies, depending on whether the property is: (1) unimproved and unproductive real property; (2) other real property; or (3) personal property.ⁿ¹

In addition, for any property, an election to capitalize may be permitted for any other otherwise deductible taxes and carrying charges with respect to property which, in the Service's opinion, are under sound accounting practices chargeable to a capital account.ⁿ² Whether interest payments are chargeable to a capital account under sound accounting principles is a question of fact.ⁿ³

[a] Unimproved and Unproductive Real Property

For unimproved and unproductive real property, there are only three types of expenses that a taxpayer may elect to charge to a capital account: (1) annual taxes; (2) interest on mortgage; and (3) other carrying charges.ⁿ⁴

Example:

In Years 1 and 2, Martha pays annual taxes and interest on a mortgage on a piece of real property. During Year 1 the property is vacant and unproductive, but throughout Year 2 Martha uses the property as a parking lot. Martha may elect to capitalize the taxes and mortgage interest paid in Year 1 but not in Year 2.ⁿ⁵

The regulations do not make clear what is unimproved and unproductive real property. The Service has indicated that land covered by subdivision plats constitutes such property until the time that each plat is recorded.ⁿ⁶

[b] Other Real Property

For real property other than unimproved and nonproductive real property, a taxpayer may elect to capitalize specified expenses that are paid or incurred for the development of the real property or for the construction of an improvement or additional improvement to it. Expenses that are chargeable to a capital account are: interest on a loan (but not the theoretical interest of taxpayers using their own funds); taxes of the owner of real property that are measured by compensation paid to employees; taxes of the owner that are imposed on the purchase of materials or on the storage, use, or other consumption of materials; and other necessary expenditures. The election is available for these expenses only until the time the development or construction work is completed.ⁿ⁷

There is no requirement that the development or construction work with respect to which these expenses are incurred make the property income-producing. Thus, the election is available for qualifying expenses on improvements to property that is already improved or producing income, such as when those expenses relate to additions that are added to a plant or factory. The election also may be taken for costs incurred in constructing a personal residence.ⁿ⁸

[3] How Election is Made and Revoked; Effective Period; Selective Use of Election with Multiple Items

In order to capitalize expenses, the taxpayer must make a proper election.ⁿ¹ The election is made by filing a statement with the original return for the year for which the election is made. The statement must indicate the item or expenses (whether with respect to the same project or to different projects) that the taxpayer elects to treat as chargeable to a capital account.ⁿ² There is no provision for filing a retroactive provision. Thus, once the return is filed and the due date for filing it passes, the taxpayer cannot make an election by filing an amended return or filing a claim for refund.ⁿ³ An election may be made, however, on an amended return that is filed before the due date of the original return.ⁿ⁴ In addition, the Service may, on a showing of good cause by the taxpayer, grant an extension of time for making the election.ⁿ⁵

The regulations contain no provision for revoking an election to capitalize taxes and carrying charges.ⁿ⁶ However, the cases allow revocation if there is a mistake of a material fact that is inextricably connected with the election.ⁿ⁷ In addition, if no valid election was ever made but the taxpayer treated qualifying expenses as having been capitalized, the election can be revoked by filing an amended return and claiming a refund for the year the taxpayer improperly capitalized the expenses. This remedy used to be available only if the year for which the refund is claimed begins with the first year for which the expenses were incorrectly capitalized.ⁿ⁸ In many cases, the Commissioner's consent now will be required.ⁿ⁹

Planning Note

Election Available Only if Carrying Charges are Otherwise Deductible and Chargeable to Capital Account. Note that the election to capitalize taxes and carrying charges with respect to real property is available only for those items that are otherwise deductible and under regulations chargeable to capital account. Thus, if a particular carrying charge is not a deductible expenditure, or if it is not properly chargeable to a capital account, the taxpayer may not take advantage of the election.

Legal Topics:

For related research and practice materials, see the following legal topics:

Tax LawFederal Income Tax ComputationDeductions for Business ExpensesGeneral OverviewTax LawFederal Income Tax ComputationDeductions for Business ExpensesCapital Expenditures (IRC secs. 263-263A)Tax LawFederal Income Tax ComputationDeductions for Business ExpensesCarrying Charges (IRC sec. 266)

FOOTNOTES:

(n1)Footnote 1. IRC § 266; Treas. Reg. §§ 1.263(a)-3(b)(9), 1.266-1(a); see Treas. Reg. § 1.212-1(n).

(n2)Footnote 2. Treas. Reg. § 1.266-1(b)(1).

(n3)Footnote 3. Treas. Reg. § 1.266-1(c).

(n4)Footnote 4. Treas. Reg. § 1.266-1(b)(2).

(n5)Footnote 5. Treas. Reg. § 1.266-1(b)(3).

(n6)Footnote 6. Treas. Reg. § 1.266-1(e); see IRC § 164.

(n7)Footnote 7. Rev. Rul. 56-264, 1956-1 C.B. 153 ; see Treas. Reg. § 1.266-1(d).

(n8)Footnote 8. Rev. Rul. 71-475, 1971-2 C.B. 304 .

(n9)Footnote 1. Treas. Reg. § 1.266-1(b)(1).

(n10)Footnote 2. Treas. Reg. § 1.266-1(b)(1)(iv).

(n11)Footnote 3. See Purvis v. Comm'r, 65 T.C. 1165 (1976) .

(n12)Footnote 4. Treas. Reg. § 1.266-1(b)(1)(i).

(n13)Footnote 5. Treas. Reg. § 1.266-1(d), Ex. (1).

(n14)Footnote 6. Rev. Rul. 69-105, 1969-1 C.B. 88 .

(n15)Footnote 7. Treas. Reg. § 1.266-1(b)(1)(ii); see also Aboussie v. U.S., 779 F.2d 424 (8th Cir. 1985) ; Rev. Rul. 81-160, 1981-1 C.B. 312 ; Rev. Rul. 75-467, 1975-2 C.B. 93 ; Rev. Rul. 56-264, 1956-1 C.B. 153 .

(n16)Footnote 8. Treas. Reg. § 1.266-1(b)(1)(ii).

(n17)Footnote 1. Treas. Reg. § 1.266-1(c).

(n18)Footnote 2. Treas. Reg. § 1.266-1(c)(3).

(n19)Footnote 3. Parkland Place Co. v. U.S., 248 F. Supp. 974 (D. Tex. 1964) , aff'd, 354 F.2d 916 (5th Cir. 1966) ; Govier v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1990-611 .

(n20)Footnote 4. Rev. Rul. 56-264, 1956-1 C.B. 153 .

(n21)Footnote 5. Treas. Reg. § 1.9100-1; Rev. Proc. 79-63, 1979-2 C.B. 578 ; superseded by Rev. Proc. 92-85, 1992-2 CB 490 .

(n22)Footnote 6. See Treas. Reg. § 1.266-1(c).

(n23)Footnote 7. Parkland Place Co. v. U.S., 248 F. Supp. 974 (D. Tex. 1964) , aff'd per curiam, 354 F.2d 916 (5th Cir. 1966) ; Estate of Stamos v. Comm'r, 55 T.C. 468 (1970) ; Hodel v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1996-348 .

(n24)Footnote 8. Rev. Rul. 75-56, 1975-1 C.B. 98 , clarified by, Rev. Rul. 77-236, 1977-2 C.B. 84 ; revoked by Rev. Rul. 90-38, 1990-1 CB 57 .

(n25)Footnote 9. Rev. Rul. 90-38, 1990-1 CB 57 .

8 of 181 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 22 DEVELOPMENT AND SUBDIVISION
Part I. The Tax Background

26-22 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate § 22.07

§ 22.07 Demolition of Structures

Owner or lessee cannot take current deduction for costs or other loss incurred in demolition of any real property structure. Deduction is disallowed even if taxpayer did not intend to demolish structure at time of purchase. Demolition cost or loss must be charged to capital account and added to basis of land on which demolished building was located.

No deduction is allowed for any amount expended for the demolition of a structure or for any loss sustained on account of such demolition. This disallowance rule applies whether the taxpayer is the owner or the lessee of the structure. The costs of demolition and any associated loss generally must be charged to the capital account with respect to the land on which the demolished structure was located, i.e., the disallowed amounts are treated as an adjustment to the basis of the land.ⁿ¹

Previous law allowed the taxpayer to deduct otherwise allowable costs and associated losses in connection with the demolition of any real property structure, other than a certified historic structure, if demolition was not intended when the structure was acquired. If the taxpayer acquired the structure with an intent to demolish it, such as to raze it for new development, the demolition costs and losses were treated as under current law, i.e., they were treated as an adjustment to the basis of the land on which the structure was located.ⁿ²

The taxpayer's intent was determined from the particular circumstances of each case. Factors that suggested an intention to demolish included: a short interval between acquisition and demolition; prohibitive remodeling costs; governmental restrictions upon profitable use; unsuitability for the taxpayer's business; or inability to realize a reasonable income. Factors that suggested the intent was formed after acquisition were: substantial improvements to the property; prolonged use; suitability for investment; subsequent changes in economic or business conditions; subsequent damage or loss of useful value; discovery of latent defects; decline in the taxpayer's business; condemnation; or inability to obtain materials for improvement.ⁿ³

If the intention existed at the time of purchase, it was immaterial that actual demolition was subsequently postponed or abandoned. The entire basis of the property was allocated to the land only, and that basis was increased by the net cost of demolition or decreased by the net proceeds from demolition.ⁿ⁴ Moreover, the intent to demolish did not have to be absolute, no matter what circumstances developed, but only had to be the "dominant" intent. For example, the requisite intent existed, and the loss was disallowed, when demolition was certain except for the remote possibility that a negotiated lease would not be executed.ⁿ⁵

In determining intent in the case of an inherited residence which was later converted to business use prior to demolition, "acquisition" occurred at the time of conversion.ⁿ⁶

A taxpayer who intended at the time of acquisition to demolish the building, but temporarily used it in his business or held it for rent, was allowed to allocate part of his cost to the building. Such allocation had to take into account the intention to demolish, and could in no event exceed the present value of the right to receive rentals from the building over the period of its intended use. Depreciation could then be taken on that part of the cost over the period of intended use; if the building later was prematurely demolished, any undepreciated portion of that amount was deductible as a loss.ⁿ⁷

There was some conflict among the authorities as to proper treatment when the taxpayer had no intention to demolish the structure at the time of acquisition, but subsequently demolished it with the intention of erecting a new structure. In those cases, it was held that the remaining cost of the building was not deductible as a loss, but had to be added to the cost of the new building.ⁿ⁸ The Service, however, allowed a demolition loss, except in the case of certain leased property, when the demolition occurred as a result of a plan formed subsequent to the acquisition of the demolished buildings and the taxpayer at the time of acquisition had no intent to demolish.ⁿ⁹ For example, a taxpayer could deduct demolition loss on property which it had intended to renovate, but which it was forced to replace because of latent defects discovered after the purchase.ⁿ¹⁰

A demolition loss was disallowed even when a new building was not contemplated. For example, loss was disallowed when a contract of sale required demolition of a building on property to be used as a parking lot. The basis of the property sold was increased by the remaining basis of the building and the cost of demolition.ⁿ¹¹ But the cost of demolition was deductible, despite an express provision in the sale agreement, when the building was in the process of being torn down before commencement of negotiations for sale, and the taxpayer did not originally intend to raze it (the land and building were originally purchased for investment purposes).ⁿ¹²

Planning Note

Taxpayer's Intent No Longer Determinative. The taxpayer's intent is no longer relevant in determining whether a current deduction will be allowed for costs or other losses sustained in connection with the demolition of buildings or other real property structures. Under present law, the taxpayer must add all such costs to the basis of the land, even if he had no intent to demolish the structure when it was originally purchased.

Legal Topics:

For related research and practice materials, see the following legal topics:

Tax Law Federal Income Tax Computation Deductions for Losses General Overview Tax Law Federal Income Tax Computation Deductions for Losses General Losses (IRC sec. 165) Casualty Gains & Losses Tax Law Federal Income Tax Computation Sales & Exchanges Basis (IRC secs. 1011-1017, 1019, 1021, 1023) General Overview Tax Law Federal Income Tax Computation Sales & Exchanges Basis (IRC secs. 1011-1017, 1019, 1021, 1023) Adjustments to Basis

FOOTNOTES:

(n1)Footnote 1. IRC § 280B. If a structure is damaged or destroyed by a casualty, and the structure is then demolished, the cost of demolition and any loss sustained on account of the demolition must be capitalized. 1990-1 C.B. 332,

Notice 90-21 .

(n2)Footnote 2. IRC § 280B, prior to amendment by Deficit Reduction Act of 1984, Pub. L. No. 98-369 § 1063; IRC § 165(a); Treas. Reg. § 1.165-3.

(n3)Footnote 3. Treas. Reg. § 1.165-3(c); see U.S. v. Ivey, 294 F.2d 799 (5th Cir. 1961) , aff'g on this issue 60-1 U.S.T.C. P 9322 (N.D. Ga. 1960); Rider v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1971-43 .

(n4)Footnote 4. Treas. Reg. § 1.165-3(a)(1); Union Bed & Spring Co. v. Comm'r, 39 F.2d 383 (7th Cir. 1930) ; Nash v. Comm'r, 60 T.C. 503 (1973) ; Gilman v. Comm'r, 72 T.C. 730 (1979) .

(n5)Footnote 5. Meyer v. U.S., 247 F. Supp. 939 (D. Mass. 1965) , aff'd per curiam, 362 F.2d 264 (1st Cir. 1966) .

(n6)Footnote 6. McBride v. Comm'r, 50 T.C. 1 (1968) ; Clayton v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1981-433 .

(n7)Footnote 7. Treas. Reg. § 1.165-3(a)(2), (3); see Nash v. Comm'r, 60 T.C. 503 (1973) ; Mechanics & Merchants Bank v. U.S., 164 F. Supp. 246 (Ct. Cl. 1958) ; Lynchburg Nat'l Bank & Trust Co. v. Comm'r, 20 T.C. 670 (1953) , aff'd on other issue, 208 F.2d 757 (4th Cir. 1953) ; Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co. v. U.S., 6 Cl. Ct. 718 (1984) .

(n8)Footnote 8. Comm'r v. Appleby's Estate, 123 F.2d 700 (2d Cir. 1941) , aff'g, 41 B.T.A. 18 (1940) .

(n9)Footnote 9. Treas. Reg. § 1.165-3(b).

(n10)Footnote 10. Parma Co. v. Comm'r, 18 B.T.A. 429 (1929) ; Piedmont National Bank v. U.S., 162 F. Supp. 919 (W.D. S.C. 1958) .

(n11)Footnote 11. Standard Linen Serv., Inc. v. Comm'r, 33 T.C. 1 (1959) ; see Fox v. Comm'r, 50 T.C. 813 (1968) ; Simmons Mill & Lumber Co. v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1963-185 .

(n12)Footnote 12. Murray v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1965-148 , aff'd on other issue, 370 F.2d 568 (4th Cir. 1967) , cert. denied 389 U.S. 834 .

9 of 181 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 22 DEVELOPMENT AND SUBDIVISION
Part I. The Tax Background

26-22 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate § 22.08

§ 22.08 Accounting for Short-Term Construction Contracts

Taxpayers may elect to use cash or accrual method to account for income and expenses attributable to short-term construction contracts. Both methods are generally available to all taxpayers for income tax purposes, except that cash method may not be used by C corporations, partnerships and limited liability companies which have a C corporation as a partner, and tax shelters.

[1] Accounting Methods Generally

A taxpayer generally computes taxable income under the same method of accounting that he regularly uses to compute income in keeping his books.ⁿ¹ If no method of accounting has been regularly used, or if the method used does not clearly reflect income, taxable income must be computed under a method that, in the Service's opinion, clearly reflects income.ⁿ²

Subject to the above rules, a taxpayer may compute taxable income under the cash receipts and disbursements method (cash method), an accrual method, or any other method (or combination of methods) permitted by the Code or regulations.ⁿ³ A taxpayer engaged in more than one trade or business may, in computing taxable income, use a different method of accounting for each trade or business.ⁿ⁴ Once a method of accounting is selected, a change to a different method requires consent of the Service.ⁿ⁵

The cash and accrual methods are not available for taxpayers who enter into long-term contracts. A long-term contract is a contract for manufacturing, building, installing, or constructing property that is not completed within the same tax year in which it is made. Taxpayers must use one of several special accounting methods to report income from such contracts.ⁿ⁶ For a discussion of long-term contracts, including their definition, permissible accounting methods, and taxpayers eligible to use those methods, see Sections 22.09 through 22.16.

[2] Cash Method

Short-term construction contracts, i.e., those that are completed within the tax year in which the contract is entered into, generally do not create complications for cash basis taxpayers. Under the cash method, income is reported for the year in which it is actually or constructively received, and expenditures generally are deducted for the year in which they are actually made.ⁿ¹ Therefore, taxpayers who use the cash method to account for income and expenses for short-term construction contracts include payments in income when received (either before or after completion of the contract) and take deductions for expenses when actually paid.

Three types of taxpayers may not use the cash method of accounting:ⁿ²

- (1) C corporations;
- (2) partnerships and limited liability companies which have a C corporation as a partner; and
- (3) tax shelters.ⁿ³

The following taxpayers may elect to use the cash method of accounting:ⁿ⁴

- (1) individuals;
- (2) sole proprietorships;
- (3) qualifying partnerships and limited liability companies (i.e., partnerships and limited liability companies that do not have a corporate partner other than an S corporation);
- (4) S corporations;
- (5) certain farming businesses;
- (6) qualified personal service corporations; and
- (7) corporations or partnerships that meet a $5 million gross receipts test.ⁿ⁵

The use of a method of accounting that records some items on the cash method is considered the use of the cash method. Thus, a corporation (other than an S corporation) that uses a combination of accounting methods, including the cash method, is subject to the limitation on use of the cash method rules.ⁿ⁶

Notwithstanding the above rules, the Service may require the use of an accounting method that clearly reflects income, or that a taxpayer secure the Service's consent before changing its method of accounting (see Section 22.08[1] above). For example, a taxpayer using the cash method may be required to change to an accrual method of accounting because that method clearly reflects the taxpayer's income, even though the taxpayer is not otherwise prohibited from using the cash method. Similarly, a taxpayer using an accrual method may not change to the cash method, even though it is not otherwise prohibited from using that method, unless it first obtains the Service's consent and the Service believes that the use of the cash method clearly reflects the taxpayer's income.ⁿ⁷ The Service, however, may not change a taxpayer's accounting method to secure more tax if that method clearly reflects income and is used consistently and in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.ⁿ⁸

If a taxpayer is required by the above rules to change its method of accounting for any tax year, the change is treated as initiated by the taxpayer and made with the consent of the Service. Any adjustments required by this change in accounting methodⁿ⁹ must be included in income over a period of not more than four years.ⁿ¹⁰

[3] Accrual Method

Under an accrual method of accounting, income is generally reported when all events have occurred that fix the right to receive it and the amount can be determined with reasonable accuracy, regardless of when it is received.ⁿ¹ Any method used by the taxpayer in determining when income is to be accounted for is acceptable if that method accords with generally accepted accounting principles, is consistently used by the taxpayer from year to year, and is consistent with the regulations. For example, under an accrual method, a taxpayer engaged in manufacturing may account for the sale of an item when it is shipped, delivered, or accepted, or when title to it passes to the purchaser, whether or not billed, depending upon the method regularly employed in keeping the taxpayer's books.ⁿ² Different rules may apply, however, with respect to advance payments by taxpayers that use an accrual method of accounting for purchases and sales of goods or a long-term contract method of accounting (see Sections 22.09 through 22.16).ⁿ³

Deductions are allowed for the tax year in which all the events have occurred that establish the fact of the liability giving rise to the deduction and the amount can be determined with reasonable accuracy.ⁿ⁴ (However, any expenditure that results in the creation of an asset having a useful life which extends substantially beyond the close of the tax year may not be deductible, or may be deductible only in part, for the tax year in which it is incurred.ⁿ⁵) The "all events" test is not treated as met until "economic performance" occurs.ⁿ⁶ Economic performance requires the actual providing or use of property or services. Accordingly, if the taxpayer's liability arises out of the providing of property or services to him by another person, economic performance occurs as that person provides them. If the taxpayer's liability requires him to provide property or services, economic performance occurs as he provides them.ⁿ⁷ An exception to the economic performance requirement allows certain recurring items to be currently deductible. This exception applies if the all events test is otherwise met during the tax year, economic performance occurs within a reasonable time (not exceeding eight and one-half months) after the close of that year, the taxpayer consistently treats items of such kind as incurred in the year in which the all events test is otherwise met, and the recurring item is not a material item or it results in a better matching of income and deductions.ⁿ⁸

Some controversy exists as to the manner in which a taxpayer who is eligible to use an accrual method of accounting must report income received under cost-plus contracts and other similar arrangements. An unpaid amount under a cost-plus contract generally is not accrued income until there is final agreement on proper costs.ⁿ⁹ However, a contractor under a cost-plus contract is required to accrue the full construction fee when the work is completed if there is not a substantial contingency that a portion of the fee may later have to be repaid.ⁿ¹⁰ A contractor does not have to report in the year of receipt partial payments received under a cost-plus government contract if the payments are made before the items are inspected or approved and are not related to the progress made under the contract.ⁿ¹¹

An accrual basis taxpayer working on a "unit price contract" may, under his normal accounting method, report income from each unit as it is completed.ⁿ¹² However, even if the final contract price is based upon complete units, the contractor must accrue amounts received on the basis of agreed estimates during construction.ⁿ¹³

Planning Note

Cash and Accrual Methods Not Available for Long-Term Contracts. A taxpayer may use the cash or an accrual method of accounting for a construction contract only if the contract is completed within the tax year in which it is entered. Neither method is available if the contract is not completed within that year, even if the contract term is less than one year. Such a contract is considered to be a long-term contract, and items of income from and costs allocable to it can be taken into account only under one of several other special accounting methods.

Legal Topics:

For related research and practice materials, see the following legal topics:

Real Property Law Construction Law General Overview Real Property Law Construction Law Contracts Tax Law Federal Income Tax Computation Tax Accounting Accrual Method (IRC secs. 446, 447, 451, 461, 467) General Overview Tax

LawFederal Income Tax ComputationTax AccountingAccrual Method (IRC secs. 446, 447, 451, 461, 467)Constructive ReceiptTax LawFederal Income Tax ComputationTax AccountingAccrual Method (IRC secs. 446, 447, 451, 461, 467)Taxable Year of DeductionTax LawFederal Income Tax ComputationTax AccountingCash Basis Method (IRC secs. 446, 448, 451, 461)General OverviewTax LawFederal Income Tax ComputationTax AccountingCash Basis Method (IRC secs. 446, 448, 451, 461)LimitationsTax LawFederal Income Tax ComputationTax AccountingCash Basis Method (IRC secs. 446, 448, 451, 461)Taxable Year of Deduction

FOOTNOTES:

(n1)Footnote 1. IRC § 446(a); Treas. Reg. § 1.446-1(a)(1).

(n2)Footnote 2. IRC § 446(b); Treas. Reg. § 1.446-1(a), (b).

(n3)Footnote 3. IRC § 446(c); Treas. Reg. § 1.446-1(c).

(n4)Footnote 4. IRC § 446(d); Treas. Reg. § 1.446-1(d).

(n5)Footnote 5. IRC § 446(e); Treas. Reg. § 1.446-1(e).

(n6)Footnote 6. IRC § 460.

(n7)Footnote 1. IRC §§ 451(a), 461(a); Treas. Reg. §§ 1.446-1(c)(1)(i), 1.451-1(a), 1.451-2, 1.461-1(a)(1).

(n8)Footnote 2. IRC § 448(a), (d)(3).

(n9)Footnote 3. Temp. Treas. Reg. § 1.448-1T(a), (b).

(n10)Footnote 4. IRC § 448.

(n11)Footnote 5. Temp. Treas. Reg. § 1.448-1T(a), (d)-(f).

(n12)Footnote 6. Temp. Treas. Reg. § 1.448-1T(a)(4).

(n13)Footnote 7. Temp. Treas. Reg. § 1.448-1T(c).

(n14)Footnote 8. Kennedy v. Comm'r, 89 T.C. 98 (1987) ; Dayton Hudson Corp. v. Comm'r, 153 F.3d 660 (8th Cir. 1998) .

(n15)Footnote 9. See IRC § 481.

(n16)Footnote 10. IRC § 448(d)(7); Temp. Treas. Reg. § 1.448-1T(g), (h).

(n17)Footnote 1. Treas. Reg. §§ 1.446-1(c)(1)(ii), 1.451-1(a).

(n18)Footnote 2. Treas. Reg. § 1.446-1(c)(1)(ii).

(n19)Footnote 3. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-5.

(n20)Footnote 4. IRC § 461(h)(4); Treas. Reg. §§ 1.446-1(c)(1)(ii), 1.461-1(a)(2).

(n21)Footnote 5. Treas. Reg. § 1.461-1(a)(2).

(n22)Footnote 6. IRC § 461(h)(1).

(n23)Footnote 7. IRC § 461(h)(2).

(n24)Footnote 8. IRC § 461(h)(3).

(n25)Footnote 9. U.S. v. Harmon, 205 F.2d 919 (10th Cir. 1953) ; see Jones v. Comm'r, TC Memo 1960-115 , rev'd on other issue, 306 F.2d 292 (5th Cir. 1962) .

(n26)Footnote 10. Reed v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1963-173 .

(n27)Footnote 11. Consolidated-Hammer Dry Plate & Film Co. v. Comm'r, 317 F.2d 829 (7th Cir. 1963) , rev'd,
T.C. Memo 1962-97 .

(n28)Footnote 12. Anderson-Dougherty-Hargis Co. v. U.S., 96 F. Supp. 404 (N.D. Cal. 1950) .

(n29)Footnote 13. Dally v. Comm'r, 20 T.C. 894 (1953) , aff'd, 227 F.2d 724 (9th Cir. 1955) , cert. denied 351
U.S. 908 ; see Daley v. U.S., 243 F.2d 466 (9th Cir. 1957) , cert. denied, 355 U.S. 832 ; Marquardt Corp. v. Comm'r,
39 T.C. 443 (1962) ; Berger Engineering. Co. v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1961-292 ; see also Broadaway v. Comm'r, 111
F.3d 593 (8th Cir. 1997) .

10 of 181 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 22 DEVELOPMENT AND SUBDIVISION
Part I. The Tax Background

26-22 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate § 22.09

§ 22.09 Accounting for Long--Term Contracts: Overview

Taxpayers engaged in production of property must account for items of income from and costs allocable to long-term contracts under percentage of completion method.

The Code contains special accounting rules for long-term contracts.ⁿ¹ A long-term contract is a contract for the manufacture, building, installation, or construction of property, which is not completed within the same tax year in which it is entered. The term of the contract may be for less than one year. For a discussion of what are long-term contracts, see § 22.10.

Items of income from and costs allocable to long-term contracts generally must be taken into account under the percentage of completion method. Under the percentage of completion accounting method, a taxpayer determines the portion of the long-term contract that is completed during the tax year and reports gross income for that percentage of the entire contract. The taxpayer must deduct all allocable costs in the tax year they are incurred. For a discussion of the percentage of completion method, see § 22.11.

Certain small construction contracts, including home construction contracts, do not have to be accounted for using the long-term contract rules. For a discussion of the accounting methods that may be used for those contracts, see § 22.12.

Taxpayers that use the percentage of completion method of accounting for long-term contracts must make adjustments for overpayments or underpayments of tax. When the contract is completed, the taxpayer must pay interest on the underpayment, or is entitled to receive interest on the overpayment. The amount of interest is determined by a look-back adjustment. This look-back interest adjustment rule is examined in § 22.13.

Income and costs may be accounted for under the long-term contract methods only if those items are allocable to long-term contracts. Application of the cost allocation rule in accounting for direct and indirect costs is considered in § 22.14.

Legal Topics:

For related research and practice materials, see the following legal topics:

Contracts LawTypes of ContractsConstruction ContractsTax LawFederal Income Tax ComputationTax AccountingGeneral OverviewTax LawFederal Income Tax ComputationTax AccountingLong Term Contracts (IRC sec. 460)

FOOTNOTES:

(n1)Footnote 1. IRC § 460.

11 of 181 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 22 DEVELOPMENT AND SUBDIVISION
Part I. The Tax Background

26-22 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate § 22.10

§ 22.10 Accounting for Long--Term Contracts: Determining Which Contracts are Affected

Long-term contracts are contracts for building, installation, or construction of property, which are not completed within same tax year they are made, even if term of contract is less than one year. Agreement for related services is not considered long-term contract.

A long-term contract is any contract that (1) is for the building, installation, or construction of property, and (2) is not completed within the tax year in which the parties enter into it, regardless of its term.ⁿ¹ Special rules apply to activities between related parties, and in determining whether an agreement should be severed or whether several agreements should be aggregated in order to determine the completion date for accounting purposes.ⁿ²

The long-term contract accounting methods apply only to accounting for income and expenses attributable to long-term contracts. Other income and expense items must be accounted for another proper method of accounting.ⁿ³ See § 22.08.

[1] Term of Contract

Long-term contract accounting may be used for any contract that is not completed within the tax year in which it is entered.ⁿ¹ Such accounting may be used for contracts that span two years.ⁿ² The contract term may be less than one year, as long as performance begins in one tax year and ends in a subsequent tax year.ⁿ³

In determining whether a contract is completed in the tax year in which it is made, all activities of the taxpayer and any related parties in connection with the manufacture, building, installation, or construction must be taken into account.ⁿ⁴

A contract that satisfies the definition of a long-term contract is considered to be such even if the taxpayer reasonably believed at the time the contract was entered into that it would be completed within the same tax year. In other words, the key element in determining whether an agreement is a long-term contract is when the agreement is completed, not when the taxpayer expects it to be completed.ⁿ⁵

[2] Segregation and Aggregation of Long-Term Contracts

[a] Treatment for Accounting Purposes

Under segregation and aggregation of contract rules, an agreement may be treated as more than one contract ("severed"), and two or more agreements may be treated as a single contract ("aggregated") to determine the completion date of a long-term contract for accounting purposes.ⁿ¹ Although no regulations have been issued for the segregation or aggregation of long-term contracts, the pre- IRC Section 460 accounting regulations, which are comparable to current Code law, are generally controlling in this area.ⁿ²

Two or more contracts that are interdependent, due to pricing or otherwise, may be treated as one contract.ⁿ³ On the other hand, an agreement that is properly treated as an aggregation of separate contracts may be considered as two or more independent contracts.ⁿ⁴

Prior to the enactment of the long-term contract accounting provision, the Service alone was authorized to determine whether to treat interdependent agreements as one contract or an aggregated agreement as several contracts.ⁿ⁵ Under current law, however, a taxpayer is permitted and required to sever and aggregate contracts.ⁿ⁶ Future regulations may require any taxpayer that severs or aggregates contracts to attach a statement to its federal income tax return for the first year in which it has entered into two or more agreements that are properly treated as a single contract, or a single agreement that is properly treated as more than one contract. Such a statement may be required to describe the criteria used by the taxpayer in determining to sever or aggregate the agreements.ⁿ⁷

One means by which a party may alter the treatment of a single agreement is by agreeing to an increase in the number of items to be supplied under the initial contract. An agreement may be modified in this manner, for example, if the other party exercises an option or issues a change order for the delivery of additional items. The first party may then treat the agreement as several independent contracts for tax accounting purposes.ⁿ⁸

Example:

Marklin is a contractor who constructs office buildings pursuant to long-term contracts. He reports income on a calendar-year basis using a long-term contract accounting method. In Year 1, Marklin enters into a contract to build a ten-story office building for Amalgamated Bank. During Year 2, Marklin completes the building structure and finishes the first three floors, which Amalgamated then accepts and occupies to operate its banking business. Because the contract is primarily for completion of a single unit--the entire office building--the Service treats it as one agreement for accounting purposes.ⁿ⁹

Before the end of Year 2, Amalgamated informs Marklin that business conditions have changed and that Amalgamated will not require completion of the remaining seven floors for at least two years. Marklin substantially stops all work on the building, and the parties enter into a new agreement under which Marklin will complete the project at the times requested by Amalgamated. In reporting income from the contract, Marklin may now treat the original contract, as modified by the subsequent agreement, as two separate contracts: one for construction of a ten-story building and completion of the first three floors, and one for completion of the remaining floors.ⁿ¹⁰

The combination or severance of long-term contracts is allowed to determine a completion date for them that will ensure that the accounting method clearly reflects the income received. That is, certain contracts may be severed or aggregated to prevent the taxpayer from unreasonably deferring income or from prematurely claiming a deduction for loss.ⁿ¹¹ This treatment is not meant to be used as a means of separating elements of an agreement that are ineligible for long-term contract accounting from those that are eligible. The factors applicable in determining whether to combine or sever a contract are therefore distinct from those considered with respect to ineligibility.ⁿ¹²

[b] Factors

Although not specified in the Code,ⁿ¹³ under the regulations, which the Service generally applies to the Code aggregation rules, a decision to combine or sever long-term contracts depends on all of the facts and circumstances with regard to each contract.ⁿ¹⁴ The following factors are considered in making this determination: whether the parties have agreed to separately deliver or accept each of the units to be completed under the contract; whether the units are independently priced; whether there is a business purpose for entering into one agreement rather than several, or several contracts rather than one; whether the customary commercial practice is to make single or separate contracts; whether the parties have afforded similar treatment to any previous arrangements between themselves; whether the nature of the subject matter of the contract is such that the units to be completed are distinct from each other or interrelated; whether the parties subsequently increase the total number of units to be constructed, manufactured, or installed under the original contract; and whether the anticipated time lapse between the completion of each unit is brief or lengthy.ⁿ¹⁵ These factors need not all be present or absent for a contract to be combined or severed; the determination is made by balancing these factors with respect to each particular contract.ⁿ¹⁶

The Service generally will not sever aggregated agreements unless the contracts permit the separate delivery or acceptance of portions of the subject matter, or there is a business purpose for entering into several contracts but not for making a single agreement.ⁿ¹⁷ However, the existence of either factor does not automatically require that the agreement be severed when other contrary factors are present.ⁿ¹⁸

Example:

In Year 1, Collins, a contractor, executes an agreement with Lots, Inc., a real estate developer, to build three houses. The houses are different in design and are located in different suburbs of a large city. One house is to be completed and accepted each year, beginning in Year 2 and ending in Year 4. The portion of the total contract price attributable to each house can reasonably be determined. Because the agreement provides for the separate delivery and acceptance of three distinct units, the Service may sever the agreement and treat it as three individual contracts in applying the long-term contract accounting method.ⁿ¹⁹

With respect to the business purpose factor, the Service may consider whether the aggregated agreements concern two or more subject matters, none of which can be readily determined as the primary subject. The fact that a contract covers more than one item but has no primary subject matter is evidence that a reasonable business person would have entered into a single contract, not separate agreements.ⁿ²⁰ In this event, the Service will not sever the contract.ⁿ²¹ On the other hand, when there is a primary subject, the contract may be divided if at the end of the tax year the contract has been completed with respect to the primary subject but not the other item.ⁿ²²

Example:

In Year 1, Guaranteed Savings, a financial corporation, engages Solid Construction, Inc. to build a ten-story office building. In Year 2, Solid Construction finishes the building structure plus the first three floors. Guaranteed Savings accepts the completed floors and proceeds to move its offices into them. Construction is continued on the remaining floors and is completed and accepted in Year 3. Even though various portions of the building were accepted on different dates, the Service finds that the subject of the contract was to complete both the building structure and each floor; there is no primary and secondary subject matter. Moreover, the parties had a business purpose to enter into a single contract, rather than several agreements, i.e., the construction of an entire office building. Consequently, the Service will not sever the contract for tax accounting purposes.ⁿ²³

Several interdependent agreements are usually not combined unless there is a business purpose for entering into a single agreement, but not for making separate contracts.ⁿ²⁴ For example, a party who makes two related contracts is still deemed to have a business purpose to form a single contract if, under similar circumstances, a reasonable business person would not have made one agreement but for entering into the other. Thus, a party may agree to one contract despite its low profit margin if the party also makes a second agreement with the same person, but with more favorable terms that increase the overall potential profit. The Service may consider both agreements to be one contract for tax accounting purposes.ⁿ²⁵ However, interdependent contracts are not treated as a single agreement if the parties, after making one agreement, simply expect to execute a second contract. Thus, if a party would not have agreed to the terms of a contract but for a mere expectation that the parties would enter into further agreements, the Service will refuse to combine the contracts in determining the completion date.ⁿ²⁶

The pricing formula of an agreement may also determine whether it should be treated as one or several contracts.ⁿ²⁷ For example, if a single agreement provides for the delivery of several similar items, and the first units to be produced are priced under a cost-plus incentive fee arrangement, while subsequent ones are priced under a fixed-price arrangement, the difference in the pricing may indicate that the agreement should be severed.ⁿ²⁸

[3] Building, Installation, or Construction

[a] What is Covered

A long-term contract, for purposes of the long-term accounting rules, is any contract for the building, installation, or construction of property, if the contract is not completed in the tax year in which it is entered.ⁿ¹ Any contract for the production or installation of real property, or for any improvements to real property, is considered to meet this definition.

A contract may be considered to be for the building, installation, or construction of property even if it provides that the contractor is to retain title to, control over, and risk of loss with respect to the property until it is completed and accepted by the customer, and even if the parties characterize the contract as a contract for the sale of property. The building, installation, or construction of the subject matter of the contract must be necessary in order for the taxpayer's contractual obligations to be fulfilled, and the building, installation, or construction must not be completed at the time the contract is entered. If these conditions are met, it is immaterial whether the customer has title to, control over, or risk of loss with respect to the property, or whether the parties characterize their agreement as a contract for the sale of property.ⁿ²

Example 1

: Arvin Builders, Inc., a calendar year builder with average annual gross receipts of more than $10 million, begins construction of a house in October, Year 1, on speculation that it will find a buyer. One month later, Arvin enters into a contract with Bernice under which Bernice agrees to purchase the house upon completion of construction. The construction of the house is not complete on December 31, Year 1. Arvin's contract with Bernice is a contract for the building or construction of property for purposes of the long-term accounting rules, even if the parties characterize the contract as a contract for the sale of the house, since Arvin must build or construct property to comply with the contract.

Note, however, that if the contract is a "home construction contract" within the meaning of the long-term accounting rules, Arvin is not required to use the percentage of completion method of accounting for regular tax purposes. Arvin must account for the contract using the uniform capitalization rules (see Section 22.12 for home construction contracts and other small construction contracts).ⁿ³

Example 2

: Caldor, Inc., a calendar year home builder with average annual gross receipts of more than $10 million, enters into a contract with Davis on July 1, Year 1 to build a house for him. Davis has title to the underlying lot, provides Caldor, Inc. with all materials, and has title to the house while it is under construction. The contract is completed in February Year 2. The contract is one for the construction of property, even though Caldor, Inc. does not have title to the subject matter of the contract. It is, therefore, a long-term contract within the meaning of the statute.ⁿ⁴

[b] Exclusion of Services and Maintenance

The Service has consistently held that income from the provision of services cannot be reported under the long-term contract methods, even if it is related to building, installation, or construction methods. The Service's reasoning is that a contract for services does not require a contractor to build, install, or construct tangible property, and therefore there is not the same risk of loss from increased costs of materials during completion of the contract.ⁿ⁵

The Service has ruled that the following service providers are not entitled to use long-term contract accounting because they do not actually construct, build, or install property: engineers;ⁿ⁶ architects;ⁿ⁷ providers of engineering and construction management services;ⁿ⁸ and painting contractors involved in maintenance and repair.ⁿ⁹

The regulations include an express requirement for the allocation of income and expenses between service activities and long-term contract activities. Income and expenses from a service agreement must be excluded from a long-term contract and accounted for under another method, even if the service activities cannot be readily separated from the construction work.ⁿ¹⁰

Maintenance operations also are generally excluded from the long-term contract accounting rules. Thus, if a construction contract obligates the contractor to maintain the property for a period of time after construction has been completed, the contractor cannot account for the maintenance-related income under a long-term contract method.ⁿ¹¹ The Service informally indicated, however, that painting of a building during the initial construction, as opposed to subsequent maintenance and repair, may be sufficiently interrelated to construction work to qualify for long-term contract treatment.ⁿ¹²

[4] When Activities of Related Parties Constitute Long--Term Contract

Certain activities of related parties must be accounted for under the long-term accounting rules even though the activities do not, by themselves, constitute a long-term contract. If the related party enters into a long-term contract with a customer, and if the taxpayer performs any activities for or on behalf of the related person that benefit or are performed by reason of that contract, the taxpayer must account under the long-term contract methods for its income and costs attributable to those activities. Such activities include, for example, the production of items (such as components or subassemblies) that are reasonably expected to be used in the production of the subject matter of the related party's contract. The taxpayer must account for those activities under the long-term accounting rules regardless of whether the activities, considered by themselves, constitute manufacturing, building, construction, or installation of property, involve the manufacture of items that either are unique or require more than 12 months to complete, span the end of the taxpayer's tax year, or are performed under a contract with the related party.ⁿ¹

The taxpayer must treat as the total expected contract price the amount to be paid by the related party if that amount represents an arm's length charge. If not, the taxpayer must use an arm's length charge as the total expected contract price. This charge must reflect both the taxpayer's contribution to the long-term contract being performed by the related party, and the contract price to be received by that party. In addition, if the taxpayer treats as total expected contract price an arm's length charge that differs from the actual amount that the related party is obligated to pay, the related party must treat that charge as the cost it incurs with respect to the taxpayer's activities.ⁿ²

Planning Note

Requirements for Manufacturing Contracts Do Not Apply To Other Long-Term Contracts. The additional conditions used to determine whether a manufacturing contract for personal property is a long-term contract (i.e., that the property must be unique or normally require more than 12 months to complete) do not apply in determining whether a contract for the building, installation, or construction of real property is a long-term contract. For example, a contract to build a house or other building is a long-term contract if it is not completed in the tax year in which it is entered into, because the requirements applicable to manufacturing do not apply to building, construction, or installation contracts.ⁿ³ However, a long-term contract may also include a manufacturing contract, i.e., a contract for the production of personal property.

Legal Topics:

For related research and practice materials, see the following legal topics:

Real Property Law Construction Law General Overview Real Property Law Construction Law Contracts Tax Law Federal Income Tax Computation Tax Accounting General Overview Tax Law Federal Income Tax Computation Tax Accounting Long Term Contracts (IRC sec. 460)

FOOTNOTES:

(n1)Footnote 1. IRC § 460(f)(1).

(n2)Footnote 2. IRC § 460(f)(3).

(n3)Footnote 3. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(a)(3).

(n4)Footnote 1. IRC § 460(f)(1).

(n5)Footnote 2. Daley v. U.S., 243 F.2d 466 (9th Cir. 1957), cert. denied, 355 U.S. 832; Bent v. Comm'r, 56 F.2d 99 (9th Cir. 1932); Sam W. Emerson Co. v. Comm'r, 37 T.C. 1063 (1962); LA Wells Constr. Co. v. Comm'r, 46 B.T.A. 302 (1942), aff'd per curiam 134 F.2d 623 (6th Cir. 1943), cert. denied 319 U.S. 771; Notice 89-15, 1989-1 CB 634; Foothill Ranch Co. Pshp. v. Comm'r, 110 T.C. 94 (1998).

(n6)Footnote 3. IRC § 460(f)(1); Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(b)(1)(i).

(n7)Footnote 4.

Notice 89-15, 1989-7 IRB 9, Q & A-2.

(n8)Footnote 5.

Notice 89-15, 1989-7 IRB 9, Q & A-3. "Completion" means final completion and acceptance, so that the look-back method is generally applied no later than the year in which the subject matter of the long-term contract is available for use, even if the taxpayer expects to incur additional contract costs in a year subsequent to the completion year. Treas. Reg. § 1.460-6(c).

(n9)Footnote 1. IRC § 460(f)(3).

(n10)Footnote 2. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(e); Notice 89-15, 1989-7 IRB 9, Q & A-37.

(n11)Footnote 3. IRC § 460(f)(3)(A); Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(a)(4).

(n12)Footnote 4. IRC § 460(f)(3)(B); Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(a)(4).

(n13)Footnote 5. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(e)(1)(i)(c).

(n14)Footnote 6. IRC § 460(f)(3); Notice 89-15, 1989-7 IRB 9, Q & A-38.

(n15)Footnote 7.

Notice 89-15, 1989-7 IRB 9, Q & A-38.

(n16)Footnote 8. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(e)(1)(viii); see Notice 89-15, 1989-7 IRB 9, Q & A-11.

(n17)Footnote 9. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(e)(2), Ex (4).

(n18)Footnote 10. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(e)(2), Ex (5).

(n19)Footnote 11. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(e)(1)(i)(A).

(n20)Footnote 12. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(e)(1)(i)(B).

(n21)Footnote 13. See IRC § 460(f)(3).

(n22)Footnote 14. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(e)(1)(ii); Notice 89-15, 1989-7 IRB 9 , Q & A-37.

(n23)Footnote 15. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(e)(1)(ii).

(n24)Footnote 16. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(e)(1)(ii), (iii), (v); see Helvering v. Nat'l Contracting Co., 69 F.2d 252 (8th Cir. 1934) ; see also Sierracin Corp. v. Comm'r, 90 T.C. 341 (1988) .

(n25)Footnote 17. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(e)(1)(iii), (v); see S. Rep. 494, 97th Cong., 2d Sess. 200 (1982).

(n26)Footnote 18. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(e)(1)(ii), (iii), (v).

(n27)Footnote 19. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(e)(2), Ex. (1).

(n28)Footnote 20. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(e)(1)(v).

(n29)Footnote 21. See Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(e)(1)(v).

(n30)Footnote 22. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(b)(2)(ii), (e)(2), Ex. (7).

(n31)Footnote 23. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(e)(2), Ex. (4).

(n32)Footnote 24. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(e)(1)(vi).

(n33)Footnote 25. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(e)(1)(vii).

(n34)Footnote 26. Id.

(n35)Footnote 27. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(e)(1)(iv); see Helvering v. Nat'l Contracting Co., 69 F.2d 252 (8th Cir. 1934) ; see also Sierracin Corp. v. Comm'r, 90 T.C. 341 (1988) .

(n36)Footnote 28. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(e)(1)(iv); see S. Rep. 494, 97th Cong., 2d Sess. 200 (1982).

(n37)Footnote 1. IRC § 460(f)(1).

(n38)Footnote 2.

Notice 89- 15, 1989-7 IRB 9 , Q & A-4.

(n39)Footnote 3.

Notice 89- 15, 1989-7 IRB 9 , Q & A-4, Ex (2).

(n40)Footnote 4. Notice 89-15, 1989-7 IRB 9 , Q & A-4, Ex. (5).

(n41)Footnote 5. See, e.g., Deer Island Logging Co. v. Comm'r, 14 B.T.A. 1027 (1929) ; Rev. Rul. 84-32, 1984-1

C.B. 129 ; Rev. Rul. 82-134, 1982-2 C.B. 88 ; Rev. Rul. 80-18, 1980-1 C.B. 103 ; Rev. Rul. 70-67, 1970-1 C.B. 117 ; Point Comfort Venture v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 1990-574 ; Private Ruling 200001006, 1999 PRL LEXIS 1610 .

(n42)Footnote 6. Rev. Rul. 84-32, 1984-1 C.B. 129 ; Rev. Rul. 82-134, 1982-2 C.B. 88 ; see U.S. v. Howard, 855 F.2d 832 (11th Cir. 1988) .

(n43)Footnote 7. Rev. Rul. 70-67, 1970-1 C.B. 117 ; see U.S. v. Howard, 855 F.2d 832 (11th Cir. 1988) .

(n44)Footnote 8. Rev. Rul. 82-134, 1982-2 C.B. 88 .

(n45)Footnote 9. Rev. Rul. 84-32, 1984-1 C.B. 129 ; but see Ltr. Rul. 8623001 .

(n46)Footnote 10. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(a)(3).

(n47)Footnote 11. See, e.g., Harrison v. Heiner, 28 F.2d 985 (D. Pa. 1928) ; W. J. Scholl Co. v. Comm'r, 30 B.T.A. 993 (1934) .

(n48)Footnote 12. Cf. Ltr. Rul. 8623001 with Rev. Rul. 84-32, 1984-1 C.B. 129 .

(n49)Footnote 1.

Notice 89- 15, 1989-7 IRB 9 , Q & A-8.

(n50)Footnote 2. Id.

(n51)Footnote 3. Notice 89-15, 1989-7 IRB 9 , Q & A-6.

12 of 181 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 22 DEVELOPMENT AND SUBDIVISION
Part I. The Tax Background

26-22 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate § 22.11

§ 22.11 Accounting for Long--Term Contracts: Percentage of Completion Method

Under percentage of completion accounting method, taxpayer determines portion of long-term contract completed during tax year and reports gross income for that percentage of entire contract. All allocable costs must be deducted in tax year incurred.

[1] Application of Method

Taxable income from any long-term contract must generally be determined under the percentage of completion method.ⁿ¹ Under this method, the percentage of completion is determined by comparing costs allocated to the contract under the allocation of costs rules (see § 22.14) and incurred before the close of the tax year with the estimated total contract costs.ⁿ² The Service, however, may prescribe a simplified procedure for allocation of costs to a long-term contract in lieu of the method prescribed by the Code.ⁿ³ (See § 22.11[2][a] below)

After a long-term contract has been completed and the actual profits and costs are known, the taxpayer must use a "look-back" method to compute the interest on any overpayment or underpayment of the tax on the income from the contract.ⁿ⁴

[a] What Portion of Total Price Is Included in Gross Income in Tax Year

Under the percentage of completion method, a certain portion of the total price under a long-term contract must be included in gross income in a tax year. The taxpayer must include in gross income in each tax year ending after the date that the contract is entered into an amount equal to the excess of--

(1) the product of (a) the total amount of revenue that the taxpayer estimates it will receive with respect to the contract, multiplied by (b) the cumulative percentage of the contract that has been completed as of the end of the tax year, over

(2) the total cumulative amount of contract revenue required to be included in gross income in all preceding years.ⁿ⁵

If the total cumulative amount of contract revenue required to be included in gross income in all preceding years exceeds the product of total expected contract revenues for the tax year multiplied by the cumulative percentage of the contract completed as of the end of the tax year, the taxpayer may deduct the excess as a loss for the tax year. This may occur, for example, as a result of increases in total estimated contract costs occurring after the end of the tax year in which the contract is entered.ⁿ⁶

[2] Computing Percentage of Contract Completion

Unless the taxpayer uses the simplified method of accounting explained below, the percentage of the contract considered to be completed as of the end of the tax year is equal to the following ratio:

- (1) the total cumulative amount of costs allocable to the contract and incurred in the tax year and in all preceding tax years, to
- (2) the total amount of costs allocable to the contract that the taxpayer expects to incur.ⁿ¹

For the purpose of computing percentage of completion, nondeductible costs are not taken into account in determining expected total costs allocable to a contract, or costs allocable to a contract and incurred through the end of the tax year. This is so even if these costs are otherwise allocable to a contract under the allocation of costs provision. Thus, certain costs that are disallowed under the Code, such as payments for illegal bribes, kickbacks, and similar illegal activities,ⁿ² and costs of certain meals and entertainment,ⁿ³ are not taken into account in computing percentage of completion.ⁿ⁴

[a] Simplified Cost-to-Cost Method

The Service provides a simplified cost-to-cost method that may be elected by taxpayers who use the percentage of completion method under the Code's long-term accounting method rules.ⁿ⁵ Under this method, only certain costs are used in determining both costs allocated to the contract and incurred before the close of the tax year, and total estimated contract costs. These costs are (1) direct material costs and direct labor costs, and (2) depreciation, amortization, and cost recovery allowances on equipment and facilities directly used to construct or produce the subject matter of the long-term contract. Direct material costs include the costs of materials such as raw materials, land, equipment and components that become an integral part of the subject matter of a long-term contract, and the costs of those materials that are consumed in the ordinary course of building, constructing, installing, or manufacturing such subject matter.ⁿ⁶

The simplified method may be used by taxpayers using the percentage of completion method for all items under all long-term contracts in a particular trade or business.ⁿ⁷

Use of the simplified method is a method of accounting and may not be revoked without consent of the Service. The Service may, however, by revenue procedure or other administrative pronouncement, permit taxpayers to adopt the simplified method without obtaining consent.ⁿ⁸

[b] Allocation of Actual and Estimated Costs and Revenues

Taxpayers who properly use the cash method as their overall method of accounting do not treat a cost as incurred in the tax year in which it is paid for purposes of determining the total amount of costs allocable to the contract incurred in a particular tax year. This is because, in determining percentage of completion, costs are taken into account in the tax year that they are incurred, regardless of the taxpayer's overall method of accounting.ⁿ⁹ Similarly, under the percentage of completion method, costs allocable to the contract are deductible in the year incurred, regardless of the taxpayer's overall method of accounting. For this purpose, an item is treated as incurred when it would properly be taken into account under an accrual method of accounting, including the economic performance rules.ⁿ¹⁰

Costs of materials and supplies are deductible under the percentage of completion method for the first tax year in which the costs both are allocable to the contract and have been incurred.ⁿ¹¹ Two sets of rules determine when a cost that is allocable to a long-term contract is treated as incurred (and, therefore, as deductible and taken into account in computing percentage of completion for the tax year), and when costs of materials and supplies are treated as allocable to a contract under the percentage of completion method.

Regardless of the taxpayer's overall method of accounting, contract costs generally are treated as incurred in the tax year in which the "all events" test, as modified by the economic performance rule, is met. Thus, costs that are not treated as incurred as of the end of the tax year for failure to satisfy the economic performance rule are not deductible. Similarly, such costs are not treated as contract costs incurred through the end of the tax year in determining percentage of completion (although they are taken into account in determining total expected contract costs).ⁿ¹²

The costs of direct materials and supplies purchased specifically for a particular long-term contract are allocable to the contract in the tax year in which the costs are incurred. The costs of other direct materials and supplies (such as those previously held by the taxpayer) are allocable to the contract in the tax year in which the materials and supplies are dedicated to the contract. The cost that is allocated to a contract is determined by using the taxpayer's method of accounting for such materials or supplies (e.g., specific identification, FIFO, or LIFO) based on the tax year in which the items are dedicated to the contract.ⁿ¹³

Costs that are allocable to a long-term contract, but that are incurred prior to the date that the contract is entered into, are treated as allocated to the contract and are deductible in the tax year in which the contract is made. These costs include, for example, bidding and proposal costs allocable to the contract, raw land purchased before a construction contract was entered into, and labor costs incurred in anticipation that a contract will be awarded.ⁿ¹⁴

In determining percentage of completion for a particular tax year, estimates of total contract revenue and contract costs must be based on the facts and reasonable estimates as of the last day of the tax year. Events that occur after the end of the tax year that were not reasonably subject to estimate as of the last day of that year are not taken into account.ⁿ¹⁵

[3] When All Income Must Be Accounted For

Except for purposes of applying the look-back method, all of the income under a long-term contract, with respect to which the percentage of completion method is used, must be taken into account no later than the tax year following the tax year in which the contract is completed. This rule applies even though all of the estimated total contract costs have not been incurred as of the end of that tax year. Because this rule does not apply for purposes of the look-back method, a taxpayer may be entitled to receive interest under that method if costs properly allocable to the contract are actually incurred after the end of that tax year.ⁿ¹

[4] Election to Use 10-Percent Method

A taxpayer may elect for any tax year not to recognize income under a long-term contract, and not take into account any costs allocable to that contract, if as of the end of that year less than 10 percent of the estimated total contract costs have been incurred. For the first tax year in which the 10-percent threshold is satisfied, all costs that have been incurred as of the end of that year are taken into account in determining (1) the percentage of the contract that has been completed, and (2) the amount of allowable deductions under the contract.

The 10-percent threshold election applies to all long-term contracts that a taxpayer enters into during the tax year in which the election is made and any subsequent tax year. However, the election does not apply to any long-term contract for which the percentage of completion method is used only for a portion of the contract items. (For example, residential construction contracts that are not home construction contracts may continue to be accounted for under the percentage of completion-capitalized cost method and the 70-30 ratio, as in effect under prior law. (See § 22.12 below) The 10-percent threshold election does not apply to these contracts.) Neither does the election apply to a contract for which a simplified method of cost allocation is used.ⁿ¹

This 10-percent threshold election applies for purposes of the look-back method. Thus, in allocating income from the contract under the look-back method (i.e., on the basis of actual contract price and actual contract costs), costs are not taken into account for any tax year if, as of the end of that year, less than 10 percent of the actual total contract costs have been incurred. In addition, deductions under a contract are allocated to a different tax year for purposes of the look-back method if the first year in which 10 percent of the actual total contract costs were incurred differs from the first year in which 10 percent of the estimated total contract costs were incurred.

Planning Note

Documentation Required When There is Revision in Total Estimated Costs. If a taxpayer, in calculating the percentage of contract completed, revises the estimated total costs as of the end of the tax year, he must provide certificates of architects or engineers or other appropriate documentation showing the basis for that revision. The documentation must be available at the taxpayer's principal place of business for inspection in connection with an examination of the income tax return.ⁿ²

Legal Topics:

For related research and practice materials, see the following legal topics:

Real Property Law Construction Law General Overview Real Property Law Construction Law Contracts Tax Law Federal Income Tax Computation Deductions for Business Expenses Business, Entertainment & Trade Expenses (IRC secs. 162, 274) Tax Law Federal Income Tax Computation Tax Accounting Long Term Contracts (IRC sec. 460)

FOOTNOTES:

(n1)Footnote 1. IRC § 460(a).

(n2)Footnote 2. IRC § 460(b)(1)(A).

(n3)Footnote 3. IRC § 460(b)(3)(A).

(n4)Footnote 4. IRC § 460(b)(1)(B), (b)(2).

(n5)Footnote 5.

Notice 89- 15, 1989-7 IRB 9 , Q & A-19.

(n6)Footnote 6. Id.

(n7)Footnote 1.

Notice 89- 15, 1989-7 IRB 9 , Q & A-20.

(n8)Footnote 2. See IRC § 162(c).

(n9)Footnote 3. See IRC § 274.

(n10)Footnote 4.

Notice 89- 15, 1989-7 IRB 9 , Q & A-30.

(n11)Footnote 5. IRC § 460(b)(3)(A).

(n12)Footnote 6.

Notice 89- 15, 1989-7 IRB 9 , Q & A-22; see also 1987-2 C.B. 370, Notice 87-61 .

(n13)Footnote 7.

Notice 89- 15, 1989-7 IRB 9 , Q & A-23.

(n14)Footnote 8. See, e.g., 1987-2 C.B. 370, Notice 87-61 .

(n15)Footnote 9. IRC § 460.

(n16)Footnote 10.

Notice 89- 15, 1989-7 IRB 9 , Q & A-21. See IRC § 461(h).

(n17)Footnote 11.

Notice 89- 15, 1989-7 IRB 9 , Q & A-34.

(n18)Footnote 12.

Notice 89- 15, 1989-7 IRB 9 , Q & A-33.

(n19)Footnote 13.

Notice 89- 15, 1989-7 IRB 9 , Q & A-35.

(n20)Footnote 14.

Notice 89- 15, 1989-7 IRB 9 , Q & A-36.

(n21)Footnote 15.

Notice 89- 15, 1989-7 IRB 9 , Q & A-24.

(n22)Footnote 1. IRC § 460(b)(1).

(n23)Footnote 1. IRC § 460(b)(5).

(n24)Footnote 2. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(c)(2).

13 of 181 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 22 DEVELOPMENT AND SUBDIVISION
Part I. The Tax Background

26-22 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate § 22.12

§ 22.12 Exemption from Long-term Accounting Rules for Certain Small Construction Contracts

Certain small construction contracts, including home construction contracts, are exempt from the long-term contract accounting rules. Such contracts may be accounted for using the completed contract method, under which the gross contract price is included in income for the tax year in which the contract is completed.

Certain small construction contracts are exempt from the long-term accounting rules. Except for the interest capitalization requirements,ⁿ¹ the Code does not require use of the percentage of completion method of accounting for:

(1) any home construction contract entered into after June 20, 1988;ⁿ² or

(2) any other construction contract entered into by a taxpayer (a) who estimates at the time the contract is entered into that it will be completed within the two-year period beginning on the contract commencement date, and (b) whose average annual gross receipts for the three tax years preceding the year in which the contract is entered into do not exceed $10 million.ⁿ³

Thus, except for the interest capitalization requirements, the law in effect before enactment of the Code long-term accounting rules applies to any contract described in (2) above, regardless of whether the contract involves the construction of a home or of commercial property. That prior law prescribed the use of the completed contract method of accounting. In addition, in the case of a home construction contract that is not described in (2) above (i.e., a contract that is not expected to be completed within two years of the commencement date, or a contract entered into by a taxpayer whose average annual gross receipts exceed $10 million), the uniform capitalization rulesⁿ⁴ apply,ⁿ⁵ but the interest capitalization requirements also apply.ⁿ⁶

Under the completed contract method, the gross contract price for each long-term contract is included in gross income for the tax year in which the contract is completed.ⁿ⁷ Exceptions to this reporting requirement are provided for contracts that are subject to disputes with respect to the price or work performed.ⁿ⁸

All costs properly allocable to a long-term contract must be deducted from gross income for the tax year in which the contract is completed.ⁿ⁹

Example:

Best Builders constructs a building for another company under a long-term contract executed in Year 1. The gross contract price is $2 million, which is paid in quarterly payments over the term of the contract. Best Builders completes construction in Year 3. Its costs were $600,000 in Year 1, $700,000 in Year 2, and $600,000 in Year 3, for a total cost of $1.9 million. Best Builders uses the completed contract method of accounting to report the entire $100,000 profit from the contract in Year 3.

A similar rule applies to losses incurred in connection with the contract; they must be deferred until the contract is completed.ⁿ¹⁰ However, if an expense or loss is unexpectedly incurred in a tax year after contract completion, the taxpayer may deduct it in the tax year it is incurred.ⁿ¹¹

Planning Note

Uniform Capitalization Rules May Apply When Construction Activities Do Not Involve

Long-Term Contract. The uniform capitalization rules do not apply, except in the case of certain home construction contracts noted above, to property produced by the taxpayer under a long-term contract.ⁿ¹² However, if a builder has houses under construction as of the end of a tax year but does not enter into any contracts with customers for their sale, the builder is not considered to produce property under a long-term contract because no such contracts exist. In that event, the uniform capitalization rules may apply to the construction costs because these rules do not contain any exceptions for construction activities that do not involve long-term contracts.ⁿ¹³ See § 22.05 for discussion of uniform capitalization rules.

Legal Topics:

For related research and practice materials, see the following legal topics:

Real Property Law Construction Law General Overview Real Property Law Construction Law Contracts Tax Law Federal Income Tax Computation Deductions for Business Expenses Capital Expenditures (IRC secs. 263-263A) Tax Law Federal Income Tax Computation Tax Accounting Long Term Contracts (IRC sec. 460)

FOOTNOTES:

(n1)Footnote 1. IRC § 460(c)(3).

(n2)Footnote 2. IRC § 460(e)(1)(A).

(n3)Footnote 3. IRC § 460(e)(1)(B).

(n4)Footnote 4. IRC § 263A.

(n5)Footnote 5. IRC § 460(e)(1).

(n6)Footnote 6.

Notice 89- 15, 1989-7 IRB 9 , Q & A-42.

(n7)Footnote 7. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(d)(1); see LA Wells Constr. Co. v. Comm'r, 46 B.T.A. 302 (1942) , aff'd, 134 F.2d 623 (6th Cir. 1943) , cert. denied 319 U.S. 771 ; see also Rotolo v. Comm'r, 88 T.C. 1500 (1987) .

(n8)Footnote 8. See Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(d)(1)-(4).

(n9)Footnote 9. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(d)(1).

(n10)Footnote 10. Jones v. Smith, 193 F.2d 381 (10th Cir. 1951) , cert. denied, 343 U.S. 952 .

(n11)Footnote 11. Rev. Rul. 71-115, 1971-1 C.B. 144 .

(n12)Footnote 12. IRC §§ 263A(c)(4), 460(e)(1).

(n13)Footnote 13. See IRC § 263A.

14 of 181 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 22 DEVELOPMENT AND SUBDIVISION
Part I. The Tax Background

26-22 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate § 22.13

§ 22.13 Accounting for Long-Term Contracts: Look-Back Interest Adjustment

Under the percentage of completion method for long-term contracts the taxpayer must make adjustments for underpayments or overpayments of tax. On completion of contract, taxpayer must pay interest on underpayments or may receive interest on overpayments.

The Code provides a look-back interest adjustment for taxpayers who use the percentage of completion method of accounting for long-term contracts.ⁿ¹ After a long-term contract has been completed and the actual profits and costs are known, a taxpayer must use the look-back method to compute the interest on any underpayment or overpayment of the tax on income from the contract. The look-back computation is not required, however, for relatively short-term and small contracts.ⁿ²

Under the look-back method, when the long-term contract is completed the taxpayer must compute whether the amount of tax paid each year during performance of the contract was equal to the amount that would have been paid if gross income had been ascertained on the basis of the actual contract cost rather than the estimated cost. The taxpayer must determine whether an underpayment or overpayment of the tax has been made.ⁿ³ If there has been an underpayment, the taxpayer must remit the interest on the amount underpaid. If there has been an overpayment, the taxpayer is entitled to receive the interest on that amount.ⁿ⁴

The same look-back computations are made with respect to any amount received or accrued following contract completion.ⁿ⁵ That amount must be taken into account, unless the taxpayer elects otherwise, by discounting the amount to its value as of completion of the contract, i.e., the amount must be discounted to present value as of contract completion.ⁿ⁶

The look-back interest adjustment is not required in the case of any contract (1) under which the gross price (as of contract completion) does not exceed the lesser of (a) $1 million, or (b) 1 percent of the average annual gross receipts of the taxpayer for the three tax years preceding the tax year in which the contract was completed, and (2) that is completed within two years of the contract commencement date.ⁿ⁷ For purposes of (2), the contract commencement date is the first date on which any costs (other than bidding expenses or expenses incurred in connection with negotiating the contract) allocable to the contract are incurred.ⁿ⁸

Planning Note

Practical Effect of Look-Back Adjustment. The practical effect of the look-back adjustment is that a conservative taxpayer who overestimates the expected costs or underestimates the expected contract price will owe interest. This result is based on the assumption that tax was actually due in previous years on the basis of the actual contract costs.

Legal Topics:

For related research and practice materials, see the following legal topics:

Real Property Law Construction Law General Overview Real Property Law Construction Law Contracts Tax Law Federal Income Tax Computation Tax Accounting Long Term Contracts (IRC sec. 460)

FOOTNOTES:

(n1)Footnote 1. IRC § 460(b)(1)(B), (b)(2).

(n2)Footnote 2. IRC § 460(b)(3)(B).

(n3)Footnote 3. IRC § 460(b)(2).

(n4)Footnote 4. See IRC § 460(b)(1)(B).

(n5)Footnote 5. IRC § 460(b)(1)(B).

(n6)Footnote 6. IRC §§ 460(b)(2).

(n7)Footnote 7. IRC § 460(b)(3)(B).

(n8)Footnote 8. IRC § 460(g).

15 of 181 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 22 DEVELOPMENT AND SUBDIVISION
Part I. The Tax Background

26-22 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate § 22.14

§ 22.14 Accounting for Long-Term Contracts: Allocation of Costs

Income and costs may be accounted for under long-term contract methods only if allocable to the long-term contract. Rules applicable to allocation of direct and indirect costs depend on whether long-term contract is for regular or extended period. Different methods are available to account for direct and indirect costs required to be allocated to long-term contracts.

[1] Application of Allocation Rules

Long-term contract accounting methods may be applied only to income and expenses allocable to a long-term contract.ⁿ¹ The allocation of expenses is made in accordance with special rules that the Service first adopted as regulations,ⁿ² and that were subsequently codified, with modifications.ⁿ³ The determination of whether expenses are allocated affects the calculation of a taxpayer's taxable income because allocated expenses that are attributed to a contract may not necessarily be deducted in the tax year paid under the long-term accounting methods.ⁿ⁴

Under the regulations, direct and indirect costs may be treated as follows:ⁿ⁵

- (1) allocated by the regular long-term contract rules;
- (2) allocated by the extended period long-term contract rules; or
- (3) accounted for as period costs under another appropriate method, such as the cash or an accrual method, and therefore deducted in the year paid or incurred.

The regulations continue to apply with respect to:

- (1) small construction contracts;ⁿ⁶
- (2) long-term contracts entered into prior to March 1, 1986;ⁿ⁷ and

(3) long-term contracts accounted for under the capitalized cost method of accounting when the uncapitalized portion is accounted for by the completed contract method.ⁿ⁸

The Tax Reform Act of 1986ⁿ⁹ abolished the distinction between extended period and regular long-term contracts.ⁿ¹⁰ Thus, for long-term contracts entered into after February 28, 1986, there is a uniform set of rules for all contracts,ⁿ¹¹ except small construction contractsⁿ¹² and the uncapitalized portions of long-term contracts reported by a combination of the capitalized contract and the completed contract methods.ⁿ¹³ To allocate direct and indirect costs for all long-term contracts, the Code adopts the extended period contract rules provided in the regulations.ⁿ¹⁴ For that reason, the statutory rules are known as the super full absorption rules; they have expanded the deferral rules for extended period contracts to all long-term contracts.ⁿ¹⁵ The Code provides special rules for allocation of the following:

(1) direct and indirect costs of long-term contracts generally.ⁿ¹⁶ For allocation of costs under the simplified cost-to-cost method, see § 22.11[2][a];ⁿ¹⁷

(2) costs of cost-plus and federal long-term contracts;ⁿ¹⁸

(3) costs of production period interest;ⁿ¹⁹ and

(4) period costs not allocable to long-term contracts and therefore not subject to deferral.ⁿ²⁰

Different methods are available to account for the direct and indirect costs required to be allocated to long-term contracts.

[2] Extended Period Long-Term Contracts Under Regulations

The distinction between extended period and regular long-term contracts remains significant for contracts that continue to be subject to the regulations. Moreover, the regulations apply the rules for extended period contracts only to contracts accounted for under the completed contract method.ⁿ¹ For these purposes, an extended period long-term contract is any long-term contract that the taxpayer estimates, when the contract is made, will not be completed within the two-year period beginning on the contract commencement date.ⁿ² Because the classification of an extended period long-term contract is based on an estimation of the time for completion, it may be treated under the extended period rules even if it is not actually completed in accordance with the time permitted.ⁿ³ A regular long-term contract is any long-term contract that does not qualify for the extended period rules.ⁿ⁴

The contract commencement date is the first date that the taxpayer incurs any costs, other than bidding expenses or other costs incurred in connection with negotiating the contract, allocable to the contract. Thus, the commencement date is usually the first date on which one of the following activities occurs: the taxpayer incurs design or engineering costs allocable to the contract, other than those incurred solely for bidding on it; materials or equipment are shipped to the project site; or workers whose labor cost is allocable as direct costs are sent to the project site.ⁿ⁵ The commencement date is determined regardless of when the taxpayer records the costs for accounting purposes.ⁿ⁶

Certain construction contracts are exempt from the extended period allocation rules.ⁿ⁷ For purposes of these rules, a construction contract is a contract that meets the following requirements:ⁿ⁸

(1) The contract was entered into by either:

(a) a taxpayer who estimates, when the contract is made, that it will be completed within three years from the contract commencement date, or

(b) a taxpayer whose average annual gross receiptsⁿ⁹ do not exceed $25 million for the three tax years preceding the tax year in which the contract is made, or if the taxpayer has been in existence for less than three years, for the number of preceding tax years that the taxpayer has existed; and

(2) The contract is for the building, construction, erection, reconstruction, improvements to, installation of any integral component to, or rehabilitation of real property.ⁿ¹⁰

[a] Classification of Contract

Initially, at the time of making a contract, the taxpayer determines whether it is an extended period long-term contract. The taxpayer must estimate the time required for performance, providing reasonable allowances for delay, rework, change orders, technology or design considerations, and other anticipated problems. A contract generally need not be reclassified, and the income and expenses allocable to it need not be recomputed, merely because it was in fact completed other than in accordance with the times specified in the rules if the taxpayer's estimate was reasonable.ⁿ¹¹

If the Service finds that a taxpayer unreasonably estimated the time of completion and that the contract should have been classified as one for an extended period, the taxpayer must reclassify the contract. In this event, the taxpayer must account for the contract as an extended period long-term contract in the current tax year and all subsequent tax years. The taxpayer must additionally file amended returns for prior years in which costs were incurred for the contract, assuming that the period for assessment has not elapsed.ⁿ¹²

[3] Methods of Allocation

[a] Direct and Indirect Costs

For each long-term contract, a taxpayer is required to maintain a separate account. Direct costs and indirect costs incurred during a tax year and attributable to a particular long-term contract must be allocated to it for that tax year.ⁿ¹

Direct labor costs must be allocated to a particular long-term contract by a specific identification, or tracing, method.ⁿ² However, if direct labor costs are so intermingled that it is impractical to specifically identify the costs to a particular long-term contract, the taxpayer is required only to use a reasonable method of allocation. The method used must reasonably allocate the costs among those contracts completed during the tax year and those that have not yet been finished. To allocate elements of direct labor cost other than basic compensation, all such items may be combined and then attributed to particular contracts in proportion to the charge for basic compensation.ⁿ³

Direct material costs are allocated to the long-term contract for which the materials are dedicated in a tax year.ⁿ⁴ The cost allocated is determined on the basis of the inventory method the taxpayer uses, regardless of whether the materials are purchased specifically for a contract or were previously held and then dedicated to the contract. The dedication of materials includes, for example, a delivery of materials to a project site where a single contract is being performed; association of materials with a specific contract by purchase order, entry on records, or shipping instructions; and if not previously assigned, the physical incorporation of the materials in, or the consumption of the materials in the production of, the subject matter of the contract.ⁿ⁵

Indirect costs must be allocated to particular long-term contracts for the year in which the costs are incurred, using a specific identification (or tracing) method, the standard cost method, or a method using burden rates, so long as the method employed for such allocation reasonably allocates indirect costs among long-term contracts.ⁿ⁶ In employing a burden rate, for example, the allocation must reasonably attribute indirect costs among the completed and non-completed long-term contracts as of the end of the tax year. Burden rates are ratios based on direct labor and material costs, direct labor hours, or other items, or similar formulas.ⁿ⁷

The method used by a taxpayer to allocate a particular cost must be applied consistently with respect to all the taxpayer's long-term contracts. The Service will not consider an allocation method to be reasonable if it does not result in the allocation (and, to the extent applicable, the capitalization) of all costs that directly benefit or are incurred by reason of the performance of the taxpayer's long-term contract activities. The taxpayer must account for each long-term contract separately. Moreover, both the direct and indirect costs incurred during the tax year attributable to long-term contract activities must generally be allocated to particular long-term contracts for the tax year such costs are incurred.ⁿ⁸

[b] Administrative Costs

The allocation of administrative, service, or support costs to long-term contracts is subject to special rules. A taxpayer must allocate the total direct and indirect costs of a service department by applying a method that reasonably relates the cost incurred to the benefit received under the particular long-term contract.ⁿ⁹ Any reasonable method authorized by cost accounting principles may be used as long as the costs incurred reasonably relate to the benefits received from the contract.ⁿ¹⁰

For each tax year in which administrative costs are allocated to a long-term contract, the taxpayer must maintain the records used to make the allocation. These records must be available for verification by the Service.ⁿ¹¹ If the taxpayer can establish to the Service's satisfaction that all of a particular type of administrative, service, or support function was performed solely at the project site, he may allocate to the contract all direct and indirect costs of that function incurred at the project site. No further allocation of that type of cost is required.ⁿ¹²

A taxpayer who selects an allocation method or chooses to allocate costs not provided in the regulations is not required to change if, when all its long-term contracts are considered together, the taxpayer can show: one, that the total amount of costs incurred during the tax year of the allocation does not differ significantly from the total amount of costs that would be allocated to the contracts under the regulations; and, two, that his selections are consistently applied and do not result in any disproportionate allocation of costs to contracts expected to be completed in the future.ⁿ¹³

[c] Inventories

The use of an inventory method to determine the material costs attributable to a long-term contract has been the subject of considerable controversy. The regulations require the taxpayer to determine direct material costs by use of an inventory accounting method, such as specific identification, first-in, first-out (FIFO), or last-in, first-out (LIFO). Costs must be allocated in the year in which the materials are dedicated to the contract, even if the taxpayer uses the completed contract method to account for income and costs from the contract.ⁿ¹⁴ For indirect costs, the only inventory method expressly permitted is the specific identification method.ⁿ¹⁵

The judicial reasoning for extending inventory methods to the allocation of costs under a long-term contract is that contractors and manufacturers often inventory various materials used on multiple contracts as opposed to purchasing materials specifically for a single contract. The use of an inventory method to allocate costs is therefore a logical extension.ⁿ¹⁶

Planning Note

Allocation Rules Are Generally Same for Both Regular and Extended Period Long-Term Contracts. The Code generally requires allocation of all costs that directly benefit or are incurred because of regular long-term contracts to the contract in accordance with regulations that previously applied only to extended period long-term contracts. However, under the Code, some types of costs, such as independent research and development costs, expenses incurred in making unsuccessful bids and proposals, and marketing, selling, and advertising expenses, do not have to be capitalized; those types of costs may be currently deducted.

Legal Topics:

For related research and practice materials, see the following legal topics:

Real Property Law Construction Law General Overview Real Property Law Construction Law Contracts Tax Law Federal Income Tax Computation Tax Accounting General Overview Tax Law Federal Income Tax Computation Tax Accounting Long Term Contracts (IRC sec. 460)

FOOTNOTES:

(n1)Footnote 1. IRC § 460(c)(1); Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(a)(3).

(n2)Footnote 2. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(a)(3), (d).

(n3)Footnote 3. IRC § 460(c)(1).

(n4)Footnote 4. IRC § 460(a)(1), prior to amendment by the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1989 (OBRA), Pub. L. No. 101-239, 101st Cong., 1st Sess. § 7621(a) (Dec. 19, 1989); IRC § 460(b)(1), as redesignated by OBRA § 7621(c)(1); Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(a)(3), (d).

(n5)Footnote 5. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(a)(3).

(n6)Footnote 6. IRC § 460(e).

(n7)Footnote 7. Pub. L. No. 99-514, 99th Cong., 2d Sess. § 804(d)(1) (Oct. 22, 1986).

(n8)Footnote 8. See H.R. Conf. Rep. No. 99-841, 99th Cong., 2d Sess. II-311 (1986).

(n9)Footnote 9. Pub. L. No. 99-514, 99th Cong., 2d Sess. § 804(a) (Oct. 22, 1986).

(n10)Footnote 10. IRC § 460(c)(1).

(n11)Footnote 11. See IRC § 460(c); Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(d).

(n12)Footnote 12. IRC § 460 (e).

(n13)Footnote 13. See H.R. Conf. Rep. No. 99-841, 99th Cong., 2d Sess. II-311 (1986).

(n14)Footnote 14. IRC § 460(c)(1).

(n15)Footnote 15. See IRC § 460(c)(1); Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(b)(3).

(n16)Footnote 16. IRC § 460(c)(1).

(n17)Footnote 17. See 1987-2 C.B. 370, Notice 87-61 .

(n18)Footnote 18. IRC § 460(c)(2), (d).

(n19)Footnote 19. IRC § 460(c)(3).

(n20)Footnote 20. IRC § 460(c)(4), (5).

(n21)Footnote 1. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(b)(3)(i).

(n22)Footnote 2. Id.

(n23)Footnote 3. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(b)(3)(iv)(A).

(n24)Footnote 4. See Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(d)(5), (6).

(n25)Footnote 5. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(b)(3)(i).

(n26)Footnote 6. Id.

(n27)Footnote 7. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(b)(3)(ii).

(n28)Footnote 8. Id.

(n29)Footnote 9. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(b)(3)(iii)(A)-(C); see Treas. Reg. § 1.52-1(c), (d).

(n30)Footnote 10. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(b)(3)(ii).

(n31)Footnote 11. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(b)(3)(iv)(A).

(n32)Footnote 12. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(b)(3)(iv)(B).

(n33)Footnote 1. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(d)(8)(i).

(n34)Footnote 2. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(d)(8)(ii).

(n35)Footnote 3. Id.

(n36)Footnote 4. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(d)(8)(iii).

(n37)Footnote 5. Id.

(n38)Footnote 6. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(d)(8)(iv); Notice 89-15, 1989-7 IRB 9 , Q & A-40.

(n39)Footnote 7. Id.

(n40)Footnote 8.

Notice 89- 15, 1989-7 IRB 9 , Q & A-40.

(n41)Footnote 9. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(d)(9)(ii), (iii).

(n42)Footnote 10. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(d)(9)(ii)-(iv).

(n43)Footnote 11. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(d)(9)(iii)(A).

(n44)Footnote 12. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(d)(9)(iii)(B).

(n45)Footnote 13. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(d)(9)(i)(B).

(n46)Footnote 14. Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(d)(8)(iii).

(n47)Footnote 15. See Treas. Reg. § 1.451-3(d)(8)(iv).

(n48)Footnote 16. See Spang Indus., Inc. v. U.S., 6 Cl. Ct. 38 (1984), 84-2 , rev'd, 791 F.2d 906 (9th Cir. 1986) ; Peninsula Steel Prods & Equipment Co. v. Comm'r, 78 T.C. 1029 (1982) ; Reco Indus., Inc. v. Comm'r, 83 T.C. 912 (1984) .

16 of 181 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 22 DEVELOPMENT AND SUBDIVISION
Part I. The Tax Background

26-22 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate § 22.15

§ 22.15 Amortization of Construction Costs by Lessor or Lessee

Lessor generally may recover costs of constructing buildings or making improvements on leased property through cost recovery allowance. Depreciation rate is based upon life of property even though lease is for longer period. Cost recovery is based on property's recovery period. Lessee may recover costs of leasehold construction or improvements under cost recovery rules, without regard to lease term.

[1] Amortization of Lessor and Lessee Costs

Many construction projects are undertaken pursuant to leases that require either the lessor or the lessee to improve the property. If the lessor makes the improvements, he is generally entitled to recover his costs through the allowance for depreciation or cost recovery.ⁿ¹ Capital expenditures made by a lessor for the erection of buildings or other improvements, if subject to depreciation allowances, are recovered by him over their estimated life without regard to the period of the lease, i.e., the depreciation rate is based upon the life of the improvements even if the lease term is for a longer period.ⁿ²

Cost recovery is based on the property's recovery period prescribed by the Code: 27.5 years for residential rental property, and 39 years for nonresidential real estate.ⁿ³ Residential rental property is any building or structure if 80 percent or more of the gross rental income from it for the tax year is rental income from dwelling units.ⁿ⁴ Nonresidential real property is Section 1250 property, i.e., depreciable real property, which is not residential rental property or property with a class life of less than 27.5 years.ⁿ⁵ The lessor is not allowed a depreciation or cost recovery deduction for construction or improvements made by the lessee.ⁿ⁶ However, the lessor may exclude from gross income any income (other than rent) that is attributable, on termination of the lease, to buildings erected or other improvements made by the lessee on the leased property.ⁿ⁷

The lessee is entitled to depreciate or amortize the costs of property purchased, improved, or constructed by him. If the lessee erects a building or makes improvements on leased property and the building or improvement is property to which the cost recovery rules apply, the cost recovery deduction is determined under the cost recovery rules, regardless of the lease term.ⁿ⁸ When the lease terminates, a lessee who does not retain the improvement computes gain or loss by reference to the adjusted basis of the improvements at that time.ⁿ⁹

The costs incurred by a lessee in acquiring a lease, i.e., leasehold acquisition costs, are amortized. In determining the amortization period for this purpose, the lease term is treated as including all renewal options (and any other period for which the parties reasonably expect the lease to be renewed), if less than 75 percent of the lease acquisition cost is attributable to the period of the term of the lease remaining on the date of its acquisition. In determining the period of the lease term remaining on the lease acquisition date, any period of renewal, extension, or continuation under an option exercisable by the lessee is not taken into account.ⁿ¹⁰

[2] Requirement for Lessee's Restoration of Property

The courts and the Service are in some disagreement as to whether a lessor may take depreciation on property if the lease requires the lessee to restore the property at the end of the lease term in the same condition as at the beginning of that term. The courts, recognizing that the purpose of depreciation is to allow the property owner to recover an economic loss, hold that if a lease requires the lessee, upon lease termination, to return the property to the lessor in the same condition as at the beginning of the lease, or its equivalent in value, or otherwise fully protect the lessor from economic loss, then generally the lessor may not take a deduction for depreciation.ⁿ¹ The lessor is allowed a depreciation deduction, however, if the lease merely requires the lessee to make all necessary repairs and replacements and maintain the property in good condition during the lease term and if the lessor can show that it will suffer economic loss during the lease term.ⁿ²

The Service initially refused to allow the lessor to take a depreciation deduction in these cases, on the ground that the lessee's obligation to restore the property at the end of the lease term in as good a condition as at the beginning precluded any present loss.ⁿ³ The Service later modified its position in such cases to allow the lessor, upon a proper showing, to take a depreciation allowance on leased property if the lessee is not obligated to return the property or its equivalent in value to the lessor.ⁿ⁴

Planning Note

Lessee Must Amortize Leasehold Improvements Over Recovery Period. Prior to the Tax Reform Act of 1986,ⁿ⁵ a lessee of property could amortize the cost of improvements over the shorter of the ACRS recovery period or the remaining term of the lease. This was of particular importance in the case of leased real property, if the remaining lease term was shorter than either the recovery life or useful life of the property. The 1986 Act, however, eliminated this rule, so that the costs of the lessee's improvements are recovered just as they would have been in the hands of the property's owner, i.e., by looking to the recovery life of the improvement and not to the term of the lease.ⁿ⁶ For example, if a taxpayer has a 15-year lease on office space and makes structural changes to conform the space to his needs, he must recover the costs of the improvements over the 39-year-life for nonresidential real property. When the lease terminates, the taxpayer may deduct any remaining unrecovered costs.

Legal Topics:

For related research and practice materials, see the following legal topics:

Real Property LawConstruction LawGeneral OverviewReal Property LawConstruction LawContractsReal Property LawLandlord & TenantLease AgreementsCommercial LeasesGeneral OverviewTax LawFederal Income Tax ComputationDeductions for Amortization, Depletion & DepreciationGeneral OverviewTax LawFederal Income Tax ComputationDeductions for Amortization, Depletion & DepreciationAmortization, Cost Recovery & Depreciation (IRC secs. 167-169, 171, 178, 194-195, 197, 216, 248, 280F)General OverviewTax LawFederal Income Tax ComputationDeductions for Amortization, Depletion & DepreciationAmortization, Cost Recovery & Depreciation (IRC secs. 167-169, 171, 178, 194-195, 197, 216, 248, 280F)Accelerated Cost Recovery System

FOOTNOTES:

(n1)Footnote 1. See IRC §§ 167, 168; see also 76-2 U.S. Tax Cas. (CCH) P9698 (1976) .

(n2)Footnote 2. Treas. Reg. § 1.167(a)-4; Lamson Bldg. Co. v. Comm'r, 141 F.2d 408 (6th Cir. 1944) ; see also Watson Land Co. v. Comm'r, 799 F.2d 571 (9th Cir. 1986) .

(n3)Footnote 3. IRC § 168(c), (i)(8). It should be noted that the recovery period for nonresidential real property is 39 years for property placed in service by a taxpayer on or after May 13, 1993. IRC § 168(c)(1), as amended by the Revenue Reconciliation Act of 1993, Pub. L. No. 103-66, 103rd Cong., 1st Sess. § 13151(a) (Aug. 10, 1993). Prior to the 1993 Act, the recovery period was 31.5 years.

(n4)Footnote 4. IRC § 168(e)(2)(A)(i).

(n5)Footnote 5. IRC § 168(e)(2)(B).

(n6)Footnote 6. See Reisinger v. Comm'r, 144 F.2d 475 (2d Cir. 1944) ; see also McGrath v. Comm'r, T.C. Memo 2002-231 (2002) , aff'd, 2003 U.S. App. LEXIS 18669 (5th Cir. 2003) .

(n7)Footnote 7. IRC § 109.

(n8)Footnote 8. IRC § 168(i)(8).

(n9)Footnote 9. S. Rep. No. 99-313, 99th Cong., 2d Sess. 105 (1986).

(n10)Footnote 10. IRC § 178.

(n11)Footnote 1. Hibernia Nat'l Bank v. U.S., 740 F.2d 382 (5th Cir. 1984) ; Royal St. Louis Inc. v. U.S., 76-2 U.S. Tax Cas. (CCH) P9698 , aff'd, 578 F.2d 1017 (5th Cir. 1978) ; Georgia Ry & Elec. Co. v. Comm'r, 77 F.2d 897 (5th Cir. 1935) ; cf. Kem v. Comm'r, 432 F.2d 961 (9th Cir. 1970) .

(n12)Footnote 2. Alaska Realty Co. v. Comm'r, 141 F.2d 675 (6th Cir. 1944) ; Gulf M. & N.R. Co. v. Comm'r, 83 F.2d 788 (5th Cir. 1936) , cert. denied, 299 U.S. 574 ; North Carolina Midland Railway Co. v. U.S., 163 F. Supp. 610 (Ct. Cl. 1958) Terminal Realty Corp. v. Comm'r, 32 B.T.A. 623 (1935) ; see also Richmond Belt Ry v. Comm'r, 13 B.T.A. 1291 (1928) , nonacq., 1929-2 CB 70 (1929) .

(n13)Footnote 3. GCM 11933 (1933) , distinguished in Rev. Rul. 62-8, 1962-1 C.B. 31 ; see also A. Wilhelm Co. v. Comm'r, 6 B.T.A. 1 (1927) ; Terre Haute, Indianapolis & Eastern Traction Co. v. Comm'r, 24 B.T.A. 197 (1931) , rev'd, 67 F.2d 697 (7th Cir. 1933) , cert. denied 292 U.S. 624 .

(n14)Footnote 4. Rev. Rul. 62-8, 1962-1 C.B. 31 .

(n15)Footnote 5. Pub. L. No. 99-514, 99th Cong., 2d Sess. (Oct. 22, 1986).

(n16)Footnote 6. See IRC § 168(i)(8).

17 of 181 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 22 DEVELOPMENT AND SUBDIVISION
Part I. The Tax Background

26-22 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate § 22.16

§ 22.16 Rehabilitation Tax Credit

Taxpayers are entitled to rehabilitation credit for portion of investment in qualified rehabilitated building attributable to qualified rehabilitation expenditures. Credit available for qualified rehabilitation expenditures on existing buildings that are substantially rehabilitated.

[1] Application of Credit

Taxpayers are entitled to a separately computed rehabilitation investment credit for that portion of the basis of a qualified rehabilitated building that is attributable to qualified rehabilitation expenditures.ⁿ¹ See Section 22.16[2] below for the amount of the credit. The portion eligible for the rehabilitation credit is treated as new Section 38 property.ⁿ² However, the regular investment percentage and the energy percentage do not apply to the portion that qualifies for the rehabilitation investment credit.ⁿ³

Buildings leased for non-exempt purposes, such as to tax-exempt organizations, are not eligible for the rehabilitation credit. Also not qualifying for the credit are buildings used by the federal government, by a state or local government, or by a foreign person or entity.ⁿ⁴

After 1986, the at-risk limitations generally applicable to investment credit property apply to property entitled to the rehabilitation investment credit.ⁿ⁵

Recapture provisions are triggered by early disposition or if the qualified rehabilitation credit property ceases being Section 38 property.ⁿ⁶

[2] Amount of Credit

[a] Property Placed in Service After 1986

The rehabilitation investment credit for property placed in service after 1986, other than property subject to transitional rules, is computed at the following rates:ⁿ¹

(1) 10 percent of qualified rehabilitation expenditures for qualified rehabilitated buildings other than certified historic structures; and

(2) 20 percent of qualified rehabilitation expenditures for certified historic structures.

Transition property (see Section 22.16[7] below) placed in service after 1986 and prior to 1994 is entitled to a rehabilitation investment credit at the following rates:ⁿ²

(1) 10 percent for a 30-year building;

(2) 13 percent for a 40-year building; and

(3) 25 percent for a certified historic structure.

Special rules apply to buildings that have been moved and those to which additions have been made.

[b] Property Placed in Service Before 1987

Property placed in service prior to 1987 but after 1981 is subject to a three-tier percentage arrangement that yields a credit of at least 15 percent and as high as 25 percent.ⁿ³

[3] Qualifying Buildings

Buildings must satisfy the following requirements to qualify for the rehabilitation investment credit:ⁿ¹

(1) The building must be substantially rehabilitated.

(2) The building must have been placed in service before the beginning of the rehabilitation.

(3) Unless the building is a certified historic structure, it must have been first placed in service before 1936.

(4) Unless the building is a certified historic structure, during the rehabilitation process:

(a) at least 50 percent of the existing external walls of the building must be retained in place as external walls;

(b) at least 75 percent of the existing external walls of the building must be retained in place as internal or external walls; and

(c) at least 75 percent of the existing internal structural framework of the building--for example, load-bearing internal walls, columns, girders, beams, trusses, spandrels, and other components essential to the stability of the buildingⁿ² must be retained in place.

Completely gutted structures do not qualify for the rehabilitation investment credit.ⁿ³

[a] Moved Buildings

A building placed in service after 1986 is not a qualified rehabilitated building unless it has been at the location where it is being rehabilitated since January 1, 1986. A building placed in service prior to 1987 and that is transition property is not deemed a 30-year or a 40-year building, as the case may be, unless it has been at the location where it is being rehabilitated for the 30-year or 40-year period immediately preceding the start of rehabilitation.ⁿ⁴

[b] Buildings with Added Parts

An allocation is required for a building placed in service after 1986 if part of the building is a qualified rehabilitated building and part is not because that part was placed in service after 1935. In that case, the qualified rehabilitation expenses must be allocated to the pre-1936 and post-1935 parts. Qualified rehabilitation expenses attributable to the post-1935 addition do not qualify for the 10-percent rehabilitation percentage.ⁿ⁵

An allocation is also required for property placed in service before 1987 and transition property. If part of a building is a 40-year building and part was added and placed in service less than 40 years before the date on which rehabilitation work began but more than 30 years before that date, the qualified rehabilitation expenses must be allocated between the 40-year-old portion and the 30-year-old portion. In that case, a 20-percent rehabilitation percentage is applied to the 40-year portion and a 15-percent rehabilitation percentage is applied to the 30-year portion. If an allocation cannot be made between the expenses incurred for the two portions, the building is considered a 30-year building.ⁿ⁶

A building other than a certified historic structure is not a qualified rehabilitated building to the extent of the portion of it that is less than 30 years old. No rehabilitation percentage is applied to expenditures attributable to the rehabilitation of an addition that is not considered part of the qualified rehabilitated building if the addition does not meet the age requirements. In that case, it may be necessary to allocate rehabilitation expenses between the original portion of the building and the addition.ⁿ⁷

[c] Mixed-Use Buildings

An allocation of rehabilitation expenses must be made when they are incurred with respect to buildings that are partly Section 38 property and partly excluded from Section 38 property. An example is a building part of which is used for lodging.ⁿ⁸ This rule does not apply, however, to the basis of a certified historic structure that is attributable to qualified rehabilitation expenses, even if it is used as a place of lodging, because that basis is deemed Section 38 property.ⁿ⁹

In the mixed-use situation, an allocation is made between the expenditures that result in an addition to the basis of the Section 38 property portion of the building and those that pertain to the balance of the building. The rehabilitation percentage is then applied only to the Section 38 property portion of the rehabilitation expenditures.ⁿ¹⁰

[4] Qualified Rehabilitation Expenditures

A qualified rehabilitation expenditure is any amount incurred by the taxpayer after 1981 that is properly chargeable to capital account in connection with the rehabilitation of a qualified rehabilitated building, and that is for the following types of depreciable property:ⁿ¹

- (1) nonresidential real property;
- (2) residential rental property;
- (3) real property that has a class life of more than 12.5 years; or
- (4) an addition or improvement to property to the above listed property or housing.

The following do not constitute qualified rehabilitation expenditures:ⁿ²

- (1) expenditures for which a method of depreciation, other than the appropriate straight-line method, is used;
- (2) the cost of acquiring any building or interest in it;
- (3) any expenditure attributable to the enlargement of an existing building;
- (4) any rehabilitation expenditure related to a certified historic structure or a building in a registered historic district (except those buildings in such a district that are designated as not of historic significance to the district) unless the rehabilitation is certified;
- (5) any rehabilitation expenditure allocable to property that is tax-exempt use property;ⁿ³ or
- (6) any expenditure by the lessee of a building, unless on the day rehabilitation is completed the remaining lease term (determined without regard to any renewal periods) equals or exceeds the recovery period.ⁿ⁴

Qualified rehabilitation expenses are deemed incurred on the date they would be deemed incurred under an accrual method of accounting.ⁿ⁵ Rehabilitation expenses incurred by persons other than the taxpayer are treated as having been incurred by the taxpayer who is the transferee of the building if the building was not used after the expenses were incurred and before the date of acquisition and the credit is claimed only by the taxpayer.ⁿ⁶

Qualified rehabilitation expenditures are not limited to those expenses incurred during the measuring period used in determining whether substantial rehabilitation has occurred. For rehabilitated property placed in service in any particular tax year, if the building meets the test of a qualified rehabilitated building for that year, the taxpayer can claim qualified rehabilitation expenditures incurred in that year whether they were incurred before, during, or after the measuring period.ⁿ⁷

Lessee expenditures for a commercial office building do not qualify for the rehabilitation investment credit unless the lease term remaining at the end of the rehabilitation construction is at least equal to the 39-year recovery period for nonresidential real property.ⁿ⁸

[5] Substantial Rehabilitation

A building must be substantially rehabilitated to qualify for the rehabilitation investment credit.ⁿ¹ Rehabilitation, for purposes of the credit, includes reconstruction.ⁿ²

A building is substantially rehabilitated if the rehabilitation expenses during the 24-month period selected by the taxpayer, and ending with or within the tax year in issue, exceed the greater of the adjusted basis of the building and its structural components, or $5,000. The adjusted basis of the building and its structural components is determined as of the beginning of the later of the first date in the applicable 24-month period, or the first date of the taxpayer's holding period of the building, without regard to any reconstruction by the taxpayer in connection with the rehabilitation.ⁿ³

A taxpayer who reasonably expects to complete phases of a rehabilitation set forth in architectural plans and specifications completed before the rehabilitation begins may make the determination of whether substantial rehabilitation has occurred during a 60-month period instead of a 24-month period.ⁿ⁴

Expenditures attributable to the rehabilitation of property that is, or may reasonably be expected to be, used for a tax-exempt purpose are not taken into account in determining whether the building is substantially rehabilitated.ⁿ⁵

[6] Rehabilitations of Historic Structures

[a] Certified Historic Structure

A certified historic structure is any building (and its structural components) that is either listed in the National Register or located in a registered historic district and is certified by the Secretary of the Interior to the Treasury Secretary as being of historic significance to the district.ⁿ¹

The Service will consider a building to be a certified historic structure when it is placed in service if the taxpayer reasonably believes on that date that the Department of Interior will certify the building as such. However, the taxpayer must have requested a Department of Interior determination on or before the date on which the building is placed in service, and the Department must later certify the building.ⁿ²

[b] Registered Historic District

A registered historic district is any district listed in the National Register, or any district that is designated under a state or local statute that is certified by the Interior Secretary as containing criteria to substantially achieve the purpose of preserving and rehabilitating buildings of historic significance to the district, and certified by the Interior Secretary as meeting substantially all of the requirements for the listing of districts in the National Register.ⁿ³

[c] Certified Rehabilitation

Certified rehabilitation is any rehabilitation of a certified historic structure that the Interior Secretary has certified to the Service as being consistent with the historic character of the property or the district in which the property is located. Only certified rehabilitations on buildings in registered historic districts qualify for the rehabilitation investment credit. However, the taxpayer need not obtain certification in order to claim a credit for expenditures on buildings in registered districts if the building is not a certified historic structure, the Interior Secretary has certified to the Service that the building is not of historic significance to the district and that certification occurs after the beginning of the building's rehabilitation, and the taxpayer certifies to the Service that he was not aware of the requirement for such certification at the beginning of the rehabilitation.ⁿ⁴

[7] Transitional Rules

Under transition rules for buildings placed in service between December 31, 1986, and January 1, 1994, the buildings are entitled to the special percentage rates for the rehabilitation investment credit described above. Any rehabilitation that is completed under a written contract that was binding on March 1, 1986 is eligible under these rules.ⁿ¹

In addition, qualified rehabilitation expenditures for a building (other than a certified historic building) placed in service between 1986 and 1994 may qualify for the special transitional rehabilitation credit rates if the following requirements are met:ⁿ².

(1) The property (including leasehold interests) is acquired before March 2, 1986, or is acquired on or after that date under a written contract that was binding on March 1, 1986; and

(2) An amount equal to the lesser of $1 million, or 5 percent of the rehabilitation expenditures, was incurred before March 2, 1986, or had to be incurred under a written contract that was binding on March 1, 1986.

Planning Note

Basis of Rehabilitated Property is Reduced by Credit. The basis of rehabilitated property must be reduced by the amount of the rehabilitation expenditure credit taken. The effect is to reduce the amount of depreciation that the taxpayer can take in current and future years.ⁿ³

Legal Topics:

For related research and practice materials, see the following legal topics:

Real Property Law Zoning & Land Use Historic Preservation Tax Law Federal Income Tax Computation Deductions for Amortization, Depletion & Depreciation Investment Tax Credit (IRC secs. 38, 39, 46-50) Tax Law Federal Income Tax Computation Deductions for Business Expenses Business Credits (IRC secs. 38-54, 1396-1397) General Overview

FOOTNOTES:

(n1)Footnote 1. IRC § 48(a)(1)(E); see IRC § 48(o)(3).

(n2)Footnote 2. IRC § 48(g)(4); Treas. Reg. § 1.48-12(a)(1).

(n3)Footnote 3. IRC § 46(b)(4)(B); Treas. Reg. § 1.46-1(q)(3).

(n4)Footnote 4. IRC § 48(g)(2)(B)(v).

(n5)Footnote 5. IRC § 46(c)(8).

(n6)Footnote 6. IRC § 47(a)(5).

(n7)Footnote 1. IRC § 46(b)(4)(A); Treas. Reg. § 1.46-1(q)(1)(ii).

(n8)Footnote 2. Pub. L. No. 99-514, 99th Cong., 2d Sess. § 251(d)(5) (Oct. 22, 1986); Treas. Reg. §§ 1.46-1(q)(1)(iv), 1.48-12(a)(2)(iv)(B), (C).

(n9)Footnote 3. Treas. Reg. § 1.46-1(q)(1)(iii); see IRC § 46(b)(4)(A), prior to amendment by Pub. L. No. 99-514, 99th Cong., 2d Sess. § 251(a) (Oct. 22, 1986).

(n10)Footnote 1. IRC § 48(g)(1)(A), (B); Treas. Reg. § 1.48-12(b)(1).

(n11)Footnote 2. See S. Rep. No. 313, 99th Cong., 2d Sess. 754 (1986).

(n12)Footnote 3. Id.

(n13)Footnote 4. Treas. Reg. §§ 1.46-1(q)(2)(i), 1.48-12(b)(5).

(n14)Footnote 5. Treas. Reg. § 1.46-1(q)(2)(ii)(A); see Treas. Reg. § 1.48-12(c)(10)(ii).

(n15)Footnote 6. Treas. Reg. § 1.46-1(q)(2)(ii)(B); see Treas. Reg. § 1.48-12(c)(10)(ii).

(n16)Footnote 7. Treas. Reg. § 1.46-1(q)(2)(ii)(B).

(n17)Footnote 8. Treas. Reg. §§ 1.46-1(q)(2)(iii), 1.48-1(h)(1)(iii).

(n18)Footnote 9. Treas. Reg. § 1.48-1(h)(2)(iv).

(n19)Footnote 10. Treas. Reg. § 1.46-1(q)(2)(iii); see Treas. Reg. § 1.48-12(c)(10)(ii).

(n20)Footnote 1. IRC § 48(g)(2)(A); see Treas. Reg. § 1.48-12(c).

(n21)Footnote 2. IRC § 48(g)(2)(B).

(n22)Footnote 3. See IRC § 168(h).

(n23)Footnote 4. See Treas. Reg. § 1.48-12(c)(7)(v); see also IRC § 168(c).

(n24)Footnote 5. Treas. Reg. § 1.48-12(b)(3)(i).

(n25)Footnote 6. Treas. Reg. § 1.48-12(b)(3)(ii).

(n26)Footnote 7. Treas. Reg. § 1.48-12(c)(6).

(n27)Footnote 8. IRC § 48(g)(2)(B)(vi); see IRC § 168(c).

(n28)Footnote 1. IRC § 48(g)(1)(A)(i).

(n29)Footnote 2. IRC § 48(g)(1)(D).

(n30)Footnote 3. IRC § 48(g)(1)(C); see Treas. Reg. § 1.48-12(b)(2).

(n31)Footnote 4. IRC § 48(g)(1)(C)(ii).

(n32)Footnote 5. IRC § 48(g)(2)(B)(v)(II); see IRC § 168(h).

(n33)Footnote 1. IRC § 48(g)(3)(A); see Treas. Reg. § 1.48-12(d)(1).

(n34)Footnote 2. Treas. Reg. § 1.48-12(d)(1).

(n35)Footnote 3. IRC § 48(g)(3)(B).

(n36)Footnote 4. IRC § 48(g)(2)(B)(iv)(I)-(III).

(n37)Footnote 1. Pub. L. No. 99-514, 99th Cong., 2d Sess. § 251(d)(2)(B) (Oct. 22, 1986).

(n38)Footnote 2. Id.

(n39)Footnote 3. IRC § 48(q)(3).

18 of 181 DOCUMENTS

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate

Copyright 2010, Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group.

Current Legal Forms for Real Estate
Chapter 22 DEVELOPMENT AND SUBDIVISION
Part I. The Tax Background

26-22 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate § 22.17

§ 22.17 Passive Activity Limitation Rules

Development and subdivision of real property is generally subject to passive activity limitation rules, which limit deduction of passive activity losses and credits for most taxpayers.

[1] Effect of Passive Activity Rules on Development and Subdivision

Any discussion of development and subdivision of real property must take into account the passive activity limitation rules introduced by the Tax Reform Act of 1986.ⁿ¹ These rules generally limit the deduction of passive activity losses and credits of individuals, estates, trusts, closely held C corporations, and personal service corporations.ⁿ² (Closely held C corporations other than personal service corporations may offset passive activity losses and credits against active income but not against portfolio investment income.)ⁿ³ Although these limitations do not apply directly to partnerships, limited liability companies and S corporations, they are imposed at the taxpayer level so that the activities of such entities pass through to their owners, who are subject to the limits.

Passive activity losses generally are deductible only to the extent of income from passive activities. Similarly, credits from passive activities generally are limited to the tax allocable to passive activities. Passive activity losses and credits may not be deducted against other income, including wages, dividends, interest, and active business income.ⁿ⁴

Disallowed losses and credits may be carried forward and used against passive activity income in subsequent years.ⁿ⁵ All unused losses may be deducted in the year in which the taxpayer disposes of his entire interest in a passive activity.ⁿ⁶

For purposes of the above limitations, a passive activity is one that involves the conduct of any trade or business in which the taxpayer does not materially participate.ⁿ⁷ Material participation means the taxpayer's involvement in the activity on a regular, continuous, and substantial basis.ⁿ⁸ Thus, a taxpayer who invests in a business and whose only involvement consists of periodic consultation and general management decisions generally does not satisfy the material participation standard; direct involvement in the business operations is necessary. Except as provided in regulations, the interest of a limited partner in a limited partnership is not treated as an interest with respect to which the taxpayer materially participates.ⁿ⁹ A closely held C corporation or personal service corporation is treated as materially participating in an activity only if one or more shareholders holding stock representing more than 50 percent (by value) of the corporation's outstanding stock materially participate in the activity, or in the case of a closely held C corporation other than a personal service corporation, the corporation carries on a qualifying business under the at-risk rules with respect to the activity.ⁿ¹⁰

For an extensive discussion of the passive activity loss and credit limitation rules, including their application to rental real estate activities, see the Tax Background to Chapter 1, in Volume 1.

[2] Exception for Losses and Credits from Rental Real Estate Activities

