(g) Notwithstanding the provisions of subparagraphs (c), (d), and (e) above, if at any time during the term of this lease, proceedings in bankruptcy, insolvency, or similar proceedings are instituted by or against Lessee, whether or not they result in an adjudication against Lessee, or if a receiver of Lessee's business or assets is appointed, the proceedings or adjudications shall not affect the validity of this lease so long as rent and additional rent reserved under it continues to be paid to Lessor and Lessee performs all its other terms, covenants, and conditions under this lease. In that event, this lease shall continue to remain in full force and in accordance with its terms.

24.2 Remedies. If there is any default under the above Section 24.1, the following shall occur: (a) the rent shall immediately become due and be paid up to the time of reentry, expiration, and/or dispossession; (b) Lessor may relet the Property or any part or parts of it, either in Lessor's name or otherwise, for a term or terms which may, at Lessor's option, be less than or exceed the then remaining term of this lease; and (c) Lessee shall also pay to Lessor, as liquidated damages for Lessee's failure to observe and perform its covenants under this lease, any deficiency between the Basic Rent hereby reserved and/or agreed to be paid and the net amount, if any, of the rents collected on account of the Property's lease or leases for each month of the period which would otherwise have constituted the balance of the term of this Lease. However, any such deficiency shall be paid as the Basic Rent becomes due and payable in monthly installments. In computing the liquidated damages, there shall be added to the deficiency all reasonable expenses that Lessor may incur in connection with reletting, such as brokerage and preparation for reletting. Lessee shall pay any such liquidated damages in monthly installments on the Rent Payment Dates specified in the lease. Any suit brought to collect the deficiency for any month shall not prejudice in any way Lessor's rights to collect the deficiency for any subsequent month by a similar proceeding. Lessor may make all alterations, repairs, replacements, and decorations in the Property that it, in its sole judgment, considers advisable and necessary for the purpose of reletting the premises. Such action by Lessor shall not operate or be construed to release Lessee from its liability under this lease. Lessor shall use its best effort to mitigate all damages and to relet the Property if there is any Event of Default by Lessee.

25.1. All notices, demands, requests, consents, approvals, offers, statements, and other instruments or communications required or permitted to be given hereunder shall be in writing and be deemed to have been given when delivered, or when mailed by first class registered or certified mail, postage prepaid, addressed, (a) if to Lessee, at its address set forth above, Attention: Corporate Counsel, with a copy addressed to Guarantor, Attention: Corporate Counsel, at the address specified in the guarantee instrument, or at any other address that Lessee or the Guarantor may furnish in writing to Lessor, or (b) if to Lessor, at the address set forth above.

Article 26 Amendments

26.1. This Lease may not be amended, modified, or terminated, nor may any obligation under it be waived orally. No amendment, modification, termination, or waiver shall be effective for any purpose unless it is in writing and signed by the party against whom enforcement thereof is sought.

Article 27 Lessor's Negative Covenants

27.1. Restaurant leases. During the term, Lessor shall not, without Lessee's prior written consent, directly or indirectly engage in, or acquire any financial or beneficial interest in, or grant a lease to any Person to operate a restaurant business for the sale or furnishing of food, excluding only ethnic type establishments.

27.2. Application of restriction. The provisions of subsection 27.1 shall apply to all officers, directors, subsidiaries, and affiliates of Lessor, shall be covenants running with any land owned by Lessor, and shall be binding upon its successors and assigns.

Article 28 Miscellaneous

28.1. Severability. If any provision of this Lease or any application thereof shall be invalid or unenforceable, the remainder of this Lease and any other application of such provision shall not be affected thereby.

28.2. Binding effect. The provisions of this Lease shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of both parties and their respective successors and assigns.

28.3. Quiet Enjoyment. Upon due performance by Lessee of its covenants and agreements under this Lease, Lessor covenants that Lessee shall and may at all times peaceably and quietly have, hold, and enjoy the Property during the Lease term. If this covenant of quiet enjoyment is breached and Lessee is made a party to any legal proceedings affecting its right of possession, Lessor shall reimburse Lessee for all reasonable attorneys' fees or other expenses incurred by it in defending its right to this Lease. Lessee may apply all such expenses to rent due or to become due.

28.4. Headings. The table of contents, Article, and Section headings are for convenience and reference only and shall not be used to limit or otherwise affect the meaning of any provision of this Lease.

28.5 Counterparts. This Lease will be simultaneously executed in two or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed a fully enforceable original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

28.6 Governing law. This Lease shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of California.

28.7. Relationship of parties. Lessor and Lessee shall not be considered or deemed to be joint venturers or partners and neither shall have the power to bind or obligate the other except as set forth herein.

28.8. Default of Lessor's Trustee. If Lessee is unable to use the Property for the use intended because Lessor is involved in a bankruptcy or insolvency proceeding and Lessor's Trustee fails to perform any of Lessor's obligations under this Lease, Lessee may terminate the Lease.

28.9. Construction. All terms used in this Lease, regardless of the number or gender in which they are used, shall be deemed and construed to include any other number, singular or plural, and by other gender, masculine, feminine, or neuter, as the context or sense of this Lease or any section, subsection, or clause herein may require as if such terms had been fully and properly written in such number or gender.

28.10. Investment tax credit. It is the parties intent that Lessee shall at all times be considered the owner and original user of all fixtures, trade fixtures, equipment, and other property upon or used in connection with the Property and that Lessee shall be entitled to and may claim an investment tax credit in accordance with Sections 38 and 46 through 48 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 or corresponding provisions of subsequent law. Lessor shall at no time take any action or file any document which is inconsistent with the foregoing intent and Lessor shall take such action and execute all documents that may be lawful, reasonable, and necessary to facilitate accomplishment of this intent.

28.11. Modification. No changes, additions, or interlineations made to this Lease shall be binding unless initialed by both parties.

28.12. Non-waiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise any right under this Lease, and no partial or single exercise of that right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

28.13. Time of essence. Time is expressly declared to be of the essence of this Lease.

28.14. Entire Agreement. This Lease supersedes all agreements previously made between the parties relating to its subject matter. There are no other understandings or agreements between them.

Article 29 Definitions

29.1. As used in this Lease, the following terms have the following respective meanings:

(a) Basic rent: defined in Article 3.

(b) Basic rent payment date: the fifteenth day of each consecutive month during the term.

(c) Basic term: defined in Article 2.

(d) Commencement date: the date on which the Lessee takes possession of the premises.

If the Commencement Date falls on other than the first day of a month, Lessee shall pay a prorated rent for the partial month and the Commencement Date for the Basic Term of the Lease shall be adjusted to be the first day of the following month.

(e) Date of this Lease: the date of acknowledgment of the signatures of the Lessee's officers executing this Lease.

(f) Default: an event or condition the occurrence of which would, with the lapse of time or the giving of notice or both, become an Event of Default.

(g) Depository: any bank, savings institution, trust company, or national banking associations located in the jurisdiction in which the Property is located.

(h) Event of default: defined in Article 24.

(i) Fair market value: The Fair Market Value of the Property shall be the amount a willing buyer would pay to a willing seller (neither party being forced to buy or sell) if such property were being used for its highest and best use. If Lessor and Lessee are unable to agree on the Fair Market Value of the Property, it shall be determined by two appraisers, one appointed by Lessor and the other by Lessee. If the two appraisers are unable to agree upon a Fair Market Value, it shall be determined by a third appraiser to be selected by them. If the two appraisers are unable to agree on a third appraiser, the appraiser shall be appointed by a federal district court, acting in a nonjudicial capacity, for the district in which the Property is located.

(j) Full insurable value: actual replacement costs, including the costs of debris removal, less physical depreciation, but not including the costs of soil tests, trenches, foundations, and other improvements below ground which are not ordinarily insurable.

(k) Guarantor: Greenwood, Inc., a California corporation, together with any successor thereto by way of merger, consolidation, or acquisition of all or substantially all its assets.

(l) Impositions: all taxes, assessments (including all assessments for public improvements or benefits), water, sewer, or other rents, rates and charges, excises, levies, license fees, permit fees, inspection fees, and other authorization fees and charges, in each case whether general or special (including all interest and penalties thereon), which at any time during or in respect of the term hereof may be assessed, levied, confirmed, or imposed on or in respect of or be a lien upon the Property or any part thereof.

(m) Insurance requirements: all terms of any insurance policy required to be maintained by Lessee under section 9.1 hereof, and all requirements of the National Board of Fire Underwriters (or any other body exercising similar function) applicable to or affecting all or any part of the Property.

(n) Lease year: the period between the Commencement Date for the Basic Term and the first anniversary of the Commencement Date and each successive annual period thereafter during the term.

(o) Legal requirements: all statutes, codes, ordinances, rules, regulations, orders, judgments, or decrees of governments, authorities, agencies, officials, and officers, which now or at any time hereafter may be applicable to the Property of any part of it.

(p) Lessee: the party defined as such in the first paragraph of this Lease together with any successor thereto by way of merger, consolidation, or acquisition of all or substantially all of its assets.

(q) Lessor: the party defined as such in the first paragraph of this Lease, together with any successor or successors to its rights and obligations as Lessor hereunder, including at any time after the date hereof, the then owner of Lessor's interest in the Property.

(r) Net award: any insurance proceeds or condemnation award payable in connection with any damage, destruction, or Taking, less the costs, fees, and expenses incurred in the collection thereof.

(s) Person: any individual, partnership, corporation, trust, unincorporated association, or joint venture, a government or any department or agency thereof, or any other entity.

(t) Property: the parcel of land described in Exhibit "A," together with all improvements at any time existing thereon, all fixtures at any time affixed thereto and all easements, rights, and appurtenances at any time relating thereto but not including trade fixtures, machinery, and equipment which remains the property of Lessee under section 7.3.

(u) Restoration: the restoration, replacement, or rebuilding of the Property or any portion thereof as nearly as practicable to its value, condition, and character immediately prior to damage, destruction, or Taking.

(v) Subsidiary: any corporation which is at least 50% owned or controlled by Guarantor.

(w) Taking: a taking of all or any part of the Property, or any interest therein or right accruing thereto, as a result of or in lieu of or in anticipation of the exercise of the right of condemnation or eminent domain pursuant to any law, general or special, or by reason of the temporary requisition of the use or occupancy of the Property or any part thereof, by any governmental authority, civil or military.

(x) Termination date: the fifth anniversary after the Commencement Date.

In witness whereof the parties have executed this Lease as of the date first above written.

FORM 23.03 Commercial lease--recreational or leisure facilities--leasehold mortgage provisions

COMMENT

This lease of recreational or leisure time facilities contains clauses which could be used in other commercial leases. In addition to the leasehold mortgage and real estate tax provisions, discussed below, this lease covers many areas of common concern to the landlord and tenant of other types of commercial space. For example, the lease requires the landlord to obtain a variance for the use, as well as construction permits (§ 2.1). The landlord is to construct the facilities to be leased (§ 2.2). The rent payable on renewal is a specified amount for the first three renewal terms, but is based on an indexed formula for the second three renewal terms (§§ 3.2, 3.3). The tenant is given a right of first refusal (§ 1.6). The elevator in the building is to allow access to the tenant's facilities by disabled persons (§ 1.2).

Real estate tax abatement program:

This lease anticipates a special tax abatement program benefitting the building in which the leased premises are located. Under the municipal tax abatement program, real estate taxes are not due on the residential portion of the building for a specified number of years. Taxes are due, however, on the commercial parts of the building. The tenant agrees to pay two-thirds of any increase in the real estate taxes resulting from the commercial parts of the building, and 7% when the tax abatement program expires (§ 3.4(a), (b)). Apparently, this allocation is based on the tenant's floor area or some other allocation formula previously agreed to by the parties.

Tenant's leasehold mortgage provisions:

Article 8 of this lease covers the tenant's right to mortgage the tenant's interest in the lease, and the rights of the prospective holder of the leasehold mortgage. These provisions are drafted to encourage a lender to take a mortgage or lien in the tenant's lease. If possible, the prospective leasehold mortgagee, or its attorney, should be consulted as to their particular requirements. If this is not feasible, the parties might include a provision in the lease to the effect that the lease will be amended to comply with the requirements of a leasehold mortgagee. This lease requires the landlord to give notice of the tenant's default to the leasehold mortgage holder as well as to the tenant, and permits the leasehold mortgage lender to cure the default (§ 8.3(a), (b)). The landlord agrees not to terminate the lease without giving the leasehold mortgagee the opportunity to foreclose on the tenant's interest in the lease (§ 8.3(d)). If the lease is terminated, the landlord is to offer a new lease to the leasehold mortgagee (§ 8.3(e)). The Article of the lease contains other provisions dealing with the interests of the leasehold mortgagee.

Agreement of Lease, made [date], between Cornerstone, Inc. ("Landlord"), a New York corporation having its office at 145 East 44 Street, New York, New York 10017, and Leisure Time, Inc. ("Tenant"), a New York corporation having its office at 250 Park Avenue, New York, New York 10017,

Witnesseth:

Article 1 Premises and Term

§ 1.1. Demised premises. Landlord leases to Tenant and Tenant takes from Landlord the following:

(a) the space shown and described in the Plans and Drawings annexed hereto as Exhibit A, in the building being erected at and to be known by the street address 1199 Second Avenue, in the Borough of Manhattan, County, City, and State of New York; and

(b) all the equipment, fixtures, furnishings, design, decor, decorations, installations, appurtenances, and personal property to be placed, installed, and erected in said space by Landlord in accordance with said Plans and Drawings annexed hereto as Exhibit A and the Specifications also part of Exhibit A; and

(c) a storage room in the basement or cellar of said building for the exclusive use of Tenant; all of the foregoing being the "demised premises," except that the stained glass mural to be installed in the lobby is and shall remain the sole property of the artist who shall be entitled to remove the same. Tenant shall repair any damage caused by such removal.

§ 1.2. Commencement and term. The term of this lease shall commence on the first day of the calendar month after the issuance of a temporary or permanent Certificate of Occupancy for the demised premises providing for the use thereof, without time limitation or other than minor condition, as a recreational and entertainment facility having a capacity of 500 persons (sometimes hereinafter the "Facility") and permitting the use of the building elevator to bring disabled persons to the Facility. However, if the Facility cannot be opened for business and is not ready for Tenant's use because the equipment, fixtures, furnishings, installations, appurtenances, and personal property for the Facility or the design, decoration, and decor work set forth in the Plans, Drawings, and Specifications in Exhibit A (marked for identification with this lease) are not completed, installed, and operational on or before said first day, the term shall commence on the first day of the calendar month after the Facility is opened for business. The later of such first days is hereinafter called the "Commencement Date." The term of this lease shall end 15 years after the Commencement Date.

§ 1.3. Fixed commencement date. Upon the issuance of the Certificate of Occupancy referred to in § 1.2, Landlord and Tenant shall execute and deliver an instrument fixing the Commencement Date and the last day of the 15-year term. If the Certificate of Occupancy referred to in § 1.2 is not issued on or before [date], Tenant may cancel this agreement of lease, and upon such cancellation Landlord shall refund to Tenant any rent paid by Tenant.

§ 1.4. Renewal option. Tenant may renew this lease for six successive renewal terms of five years each. Each of the renewal terms shall be upon the same terms, covenants, and conditions hereof, except (a) there shall be no further renewal right after the expiration of the sixth and last renewal term, and (b) the annual rental shall be as provided in Article 3. Tenant may, at any time or times, exercise the renewal options in any single instance with respect to one or more of the renewal terms, in consecutive order. Each exercise by Tenant of any renewal option or options shall be evidenced and effected by Tenant giving to Landlord, not less than 90 days prior to the expiration of the then current term, written notice of Tenant's election to renew this lease for the renewal term or terms specified in the notice.

§ 1.5. Term defined. The terms "term" or "term of this lease" shall mean the term set forth in § 1.2 and any renewal thereof pursuant to § 1.4.

§ 1.6. Right of first refusal. If at any time during the term of this lease Landlord shall receive a bona fide offer to purchase or lease the entire land and building of which the demised premises forms a part, it shall furnish to Tenant a true and correct copy of the proposed lease or purchase agreement which the offeror is ready, willing, and able to sign and notify Tenant that Landlord is ready, willing, and able to sign it. Tenant may, by giving notice to Landlord within 30 days after Tenant's receipt of the proposed lease or purchase agreement, lease or purchase the land and building, upon the terms, covenants, and conditions set forth therein. If Tenant does not so elect within the 30-day period, Landlord may enter into the proposed lease or purchase agreement with the offeror. If the proposed agreement with the offeror is not consummated, Tenant's right to first refusal shall remain in effect. Neither the making of the proposed agreement by Landlord nor anything provided in this § 1.6 shall be construed or deemed to terminate or extinguish any renewal option of Tenant provided for in § 1.4 or the exercise thereof.

Article 2 Construction of the Facility

§ 2.1. Variance, permits. Promptly, after the execution and delivery of this lease, Landlord shall, at its sole expense, take all steps, including application for a variance permitting the Facility in the building, necessary to obtain the permits required for the construction of the Facility.

§ 2.2. Construction by landlord. Promptly, after obtaining the necessary permits, Landlord shall, at its sole expense, commence, and diligently proceed with, the construction of the Facility and the furnishing, placing, erection, and installation of the equipment, fixtures, furnishings, design, decorations, installations, and personal property therefor, and complete the same, all in accordance with the Plans, Drawings, and Specifications annexed as Exhibit A. Landlord shall prepare, at its sole expense, all further plans, drawings, and specifications (which shall require Tenant's approval) that may be reasonably necessary. Landlord shall complete all of the foregoing and deliver possession of the demised premises to Tenant on or before [date]. Tenant may inspect the work at reasonable times during the construction period.

§ 2.3. Construction standards. All work provided and called for by the above Plans, Drawings, and Specifications shall be done in a good and workmanlike manner and in compliance with all applicable laws, ordinances, regulations, orders, and requirements of governmental authority and the Board of Fire Underwriters and the reasonable requirements of the building's insurers.

Article 3 Rent

§ 3.1. Annual rent. Tenant shall pay to Landlord, without deduction or set-off except as otherwise provided in this lease, at Landlord's address first above set forth or at such other place as Landlord may designate in writing, an annual rental of $50,000 in equal monthly installments, in advance, on the first day of each calendar month during the original fifteen year term.

§ 3.2. Fixed renewal rent. Tenant's annual rental during the first three renewal terms provided for in § 1.4 shall be as follows: $55,000 during the first renewal term; $60,500 during the second renewal term; and $66,550 during the third renewal term, all in the same manner as provided in § 3.1.

(a) Index. As used in this § 3.3 "Index" shall mean the "Consumer Price Index for Urban Wage Earners and Clerical Workers" "(1986=100)" specified for "All Items," relating to New York and issued by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the United States Department of Labor. If the Index is subsequently converted to a different standard reference base or otherwise revised, the determination of the Percentage Increase (as used below) shall be made by using the conversion factor, formula, or table for converting the Index as published by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, or, in its absence, by using the conversion factor, formula, or table as published by any nationally recognized publisher of similar statistical information. If the Index ceases to be published, then, for the purposes of this § 3.3, there shall be substituted for it any other index that the Landlord and Tenant shall agree upon. If the parties are unable to agree within 90 days after the Index ceases to be published, the matter shall be determined by arbitration in New York City in accordance with the rules of the American Arbitration Association.

(b) Renewal terms. The annual rental to be paid by Tenant to Landlord, all in the same manner as provided in § 3.1, during the last three renewal terms provided for in § 1.4 shall be as follows: (i) during the fourth renewal term, the greater of $73,205 or $66,550 plus a Percentage Increase, if any, equal to a fraction of $66,550, the numerator of which shall be the Index on the last day of the third renewal term less the Index on the first day of the third renewal term, and the denominator of which shall be the Index on the first day of the third renewal term; (ii) during the fifth renewal term, the greater of the annual rental payable during the fourth renewal term plus 10% thereof, or the annual rental payable during the fourth renewal term plus a Percentage Increase, if any, equal to a fraction of the annual rental payable during the fourth renewal term, the numerator of which shall be the Index on the last day of the fourth renewal term less the Index on the first day of the fourth renewal term, and the denominator of which shall be the Index on the first day of the fourth renewal term; and (iii) during the sixth renewal term, the greater of the annual rental payable during the fifth renewal term plus 10% thereof, or the annual rental payable during the fifth renewal term plus a Percentage Increase, if any, equal to a fraction of the annual rental payable during the fifth renewal term, the numerator of which shall be the Index on the last day of the fifth renewal term less the Index on the first day of the fifth renewal term, and the denominator of which shall be the Index on the first day of the fifth renewal term.

(a) Commercial real estate tax increases. In each and every real estate fiscal tax year during the term of this lease, Tenant shall pay to Landlord, as additional rent, 662/3 % of any increase in each such real estate fiscal tax year in the amount of real estate taxes separately assessed, levied and billed to Landlord on the commercial portion (that is, the facility and the store to be included in the building) of the property of which the demised premises form a part, over and above the real estate taxes separately assessed and billed thereon for the first real estate fiscal tax year following the Commencement Date for which said commercial portion is fully assessed as completed for real estate tax purposes. The term "real estate taxes" as used in this § 3.4 shall be deemed to include all items included in the Municipal real estate tax bill, and the term "real estate fiscal tax year" shall be deemed to mean the fiscal tax year of the Municipality.

(b) Land and building tax increases. If real estate taxes are assessed and levied on the whole land and building of which the demised premises form a part, without exemption or abatement, Tenant shall pay to Landlord, as additional rent in lieu of the additional rent provided for in paragraph (a) of this § 3.4, 7% of any increase in each real estate fiscal tax year in the amount of real estate taxes on said land and building, over and above the real estate taxes thereon for the first real estate fiscal tax year that real estate taxes are assessed and levied on the whole of said land and building including the commercial portion.

(c) Pro rata taxes. If this lease expires or otherwise terminates on a date different than the last day of the real estate fiscal tax year, the additional rent under this § 3.4 shall be prorated on a daily basis.

(d) Quarterly payments. Such additional rent shall be paid in four equal quarterly installments commencing within ten days after written demand therefor by Landlord. Each such demand shall be accompanied by a copy of the applicable tax bills. These bills shall be sufficient evidence of the amount of the taxes and for determination of the amount to be paid by Tenant.

Article 4 Use and Signs

§ 4.1. Use. Tenant shall use and occupy the demised premises for the following purposes only: (a) as a recreational and entertainment facility; (b) for the incidental retail sale of food, cigarettes, cigars, tobacco, candy, confectionery, ice cream, telephone and weighing services, beverages, refreshments, all for on-premises consumption and use, and all other items which now are and hereafter may be customarily and generally sold and used in facilities of similar types from time to time; and (c) for the incidental retail sale of records, tapes, books, magazines, toys, and novelties in connection with any particular presentation or entertainment. Landlord warrants and represents that the demised premises may lawfully be used for said purposes during the term of this lease. Tenant shall, in its use of the demised premises, comply with all applicable laws, rules and regulations, federal, state and local, including all environmental laws, rules and regulations.

§ 4.2. Signs. Tenant may place on and in the demised premises and the building of which they form a part all signs that Tenant deems necessary and proper in the conduct of its business, subject to the following conditions: (a) Tenant must obtain, at its sole expense, all permits and licenses required for the erection and maintenance of the signs; and (b) the erection and maintenance of the signs must be permitted by law. Tenant shall indemnify and hold harmless Landlord against and from any and all losses, damages, claims, suits, or actions for any injury or damage to person or property caused by the erection and maintenance of the signs, and insurance coverage therefor shall be included in the public liability policy which Tenant is required to furnish under this lease.

Article 5 Care and Repair of Demised Premises

§ 5.1. Maintenance. Tenant shall commit no waste and shall take good care of the demised premises and make all repairs necessitated by Tenant's misuse of the demised premises. Tenant shall maintain and keep in repair the plumbing equipment, fixtures, and appurtenances located within the demised premises and, after the first year of the Term, the air conditioning system, equipment, fixtures, and appurtenances (but not the heating element) serving the demised premises. Landlord shall maintain and keep in repair (and shall put into repair where necessary) the walls, structure, foundation, and roof of the building of which the demised premises form a part and the sidewalks in front thereof; and, except as aforesaid, the plumbing, electrical and heating, ventilation and air conditioning systems and the equipment, fixtures, and appurtenances to said systems, and other installations serving more than one tenant of the building; and shall make all other repairs except those required to be made by Tenant.

§ 5.2. Water seepage. Landlord has informed Tenant that there is an underground flow or source of water under a portion of the building, which may seep into that portion of the demised premises located in the building's basement. Landlord shall use its best efforts to prevent such seepage, but if seepage occurs, Landlord shall not be liable for any damage (except to the extent occasioned by the negligence of Landlord or its employees, servants, or agents) to property of Tenant or of Tenant's employees, customers, agents, or invitees.

§ 5.3. Tenant property. All improvements made by Tenant to the demised premises which are so attached that they cannot be removed without material injury to the demised premises shall become the property of Landlord upon installation. Not later than the last day of the term Tenant may, nevertheless, remove all its personal property. The demised premises shall be surrendered to Landlord at the end of the term in as good condition as they were at the beginning of the term, except for reasonable wear, and damage by fire, the elements, casualty, or other cause not due to the misuse or neglect by Tenant or Tenant's agents, servants, customers, visitors, or licensees.

Article 6 Alterations

§ 6.1. Tenant may, at its expense, without Landlord's consent, redecorate the demised premises, and make all non-structural alterations, changes, installations, additions, or improvements (collectively "changes") in, on, to, or about the parts of the premises that it deems expedient or necessary for its purposes and those of its subtenants, licensees, and concessionaires. Tenant may, for such purposes, make all reasonably necessary structural changes in, on, to, or about the demised premises if it first obtains Landlord's written consent, which Landlord shall not unreasonably withhold or delay. No such changes shall adversely affect the safety of the structure or diminish its value. All work shall be done in a good and workman-like manner, and in accordance with all applicable laws, including without limitation, the accessibility or other requirements of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, or the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder. Landlord shall, upon Tenant's request, execute and deliver all instruments embodying Landlord's approval required by any public or quasi-public authority for the purpose of obtaining any license or permit for the making of these changes. Tenant shall pay for all necessary licenses and permits.

Article 7 Assignment and Subletting

§ 7.1. Concessions. Tenant may, without Landlord's consent, grant concessions or licenses for the sale of any or all of the merchandise, products, and items referred to in § 4.1 within the demised premises.

§ 7.2. Related corporations. Tenant may, without Landlord's consent, assign this lease or sublet the demised premises or any part thereof to the parent or any subsidiary of Tenant or to any entity resulting from Tenant's consolidation or merger.

§ 7.3. Assignment, sublease. Tenant may, without Landlord's consent, assign this lease or sublet the demised premises or any part thereof for the uses herein specified if the assignee or sublessee of the entire demised premises deposits as security with Landlord a sum of money equal to two months rent.

§ 7.4. Assumption of lease. If this lease is assigned or if the demised premises or any part thereof is sublet, the assignment or subletting shall be upon and subject to all of the terms, covenants, and conditions contained in this lease, and Tenant shall continue to remain liable thereunder. Upon any subsequent assignment, each subsequent assignee shall continue to be and remain liable hereunder. Within 30 days after the execution and delivery of any such assignment, Tenant shall furnish to Landlord a duplicate original of the assignment which shall contain an assumption by the assignee of all of Tenant's obligations under this lease.

Article 8 Mortgages of Tenant's Interest

§ 8.1. Subordinated leasehold mortgage. Tenant, and its successors and assigns, may, without restriction, mortgage and pledge this lease, subject, however, to the limitations of this Article. Any such mortgage or pledge shall be subject and subordinate to Landlord's rights hereunder.

§ 8.2. Notice to landlord. No holder of a mortgage on this lease shall have the rights or benefits mentioned in this Article, nor shall the provisions of this Article be binding upon Landlord, unless and until the name and address of the mortgagee has been delivered to Landlord, notwithstanding any other form of actual or constructive notice.

§ 8.3. If Tenant or its successors or assigns mortgage this lease in compliance with the provisions of this Article, then so long as any such mortgage remains unsatisfied of record, the following provisions shall apply:

(a) Notice of tenant's default. Landlord, upon serving upon Tenant any notice of default pursuant to the provision of Article 14 hereof, or any other notice under the provisions of or with respect to this lease, shall also serve a copy of the notice upon the holder of such mortgage, at the address provided for in paragraph (g) of this § 8.3. No notice by Landlord to Tenant hereunder shall be deemed to have been duly given unless and until a copy thereof has been so served.

(b) Cure by mortgagee. Any holder of such mortgage, if Tenant is in default hereunder, may, within the period and otherwise as herein provided, remedy the default or cause it to be remedied. Landlord shall accept such performance by or at the instance of the holder as if it had been made by Tenant.

(c) Commencement of cure. For the purposes of this Article, no event of default shall be deemed to exist under Article 14 hereof in respect of the performance of work required to be performed, of acts to be done, or of conditions to be remedied, if good faith steps have been commenced within the time permitted to rectify the default and prosecuted to completion with diligence and continuity as provided in Article 14.

(d) Forbearance of landlord. Anything herein contained to the contrary notwithstanding, upon the occurrence of an event of default other than in the payment of money, Landlord shall take no action to effect a termination of this lease without first giving to the holder of such mortgage written notice thereof and a reasonable time thereafter within which either (i) to obtain possession of the mortgaged property (including possession by a receiver) or (ii) to institute, prosecute, and complete foreclosure proceedings or otherwise acquire Tenant's interest under this lease with diligence.

The holder, upon obtaining possession or acquiring Tenant's interest under this lease, shall promptly cure all defaults that are then reasonably susceptible of being cured by it, subject to the following conditions and exceptions: (i) the holder shall not be obligated to continue possession or foreclosure proceedings after the defaults have been cured; (ii) nothing contained herein shall preclude Landlord, subject to the provisions of this Article, from exercising any right or remedy under this lease with respect to any other default by Tenant during the pendency of the foreclosure proceedings; and (iii) the holder shall agree with Landlord in writing to comply during the period of forbearance with all terms, conditions, and covenants of the lease that are reasonably susceptible of being complied with by the holder. Any default by Tenant that is not reasonably susceptible of being cured by the holder shall be deemed to have been waived by Landlord upon completion of the foreclosure proceedings or upon acquisition of Tenant's interest in this lease. However, any event of default that is reasonably susceptible of being cured after completion and acquisition shall then be cured with reasonable diligence. The holder, or his designee, or other purchaser in foreclosure proceedings may become the legal owner and holder of this lease through such foreclosure proceedings or by assignment of this lease in lieu of foreclosure.

(e) Termination; new lease. If this lease terminates before its term expires, except by eminent domain (as provided in Article 12), Landlord shall serve upon the holder of the mortgage written notice of that fact, together with a statement of all sums which would at that time be due under this lease but for the termination, and of all other defaults under this lease then known to Landlord. The holder may then obtain a new lease in accordance with and upon the following terms and conditions: (i) Upon the written request of the mortgage holder, within 30 days after service of notice that the lease has been terminated, Landlord shall enter into a new lease of the demised premises with the holder, or his designee, as follows; (ii) The new lease shall (A) be entered into at the reasonable cost of the new tenant, (B) be effective as of the date of termination of this lease, (C) be for the remainder of the term of this lease, and (D) be at the rent and upon all the agreements, terms, covenants, and conditions hereof, including all applicable rights of renewal. The new lease shall require the tenant to perform all of Tenant's unfulfilled obligations under this lease that are reasonably susceptible of being performed by the Tenant. Upon execution of the new lease, the new tenant shall pay all sums that would then be due under this lease but for the termination, as well as all expenses, including reasonable counsel fees, court costs, and disbursements incurred by Landlord in connection with the defaults and termination, the recovery of possession of the premises, and the preparation, execution, and delivery of the new lease. Upon execution of the new lease, Landlord shall allow to the new tenant, and the new tenant shall be entitled to, an adjustment equal to the net income derived by Landlord from the demised premises during the period from the date of termination of this lease to the date of execution of the new lease.

(f) Renewal option, new lease. If by reason of its failure either to exercise any renewal option under § 1.4 hereof, or for any other reason whatsoever, Tenant does not become entitled to renew this lease for any renewal term provided for in § 1.4, Landlord shall serve upon the holder of the mortgage written notice of that fact. The holder may then, by serving written request upon Landlord, obtain from it a new lease of the demised premises for the renewal term in accordance with and upon the following terms and conditions: The written request shall be served upon Landlord not later than 60 days after service of the above notice by Landlord on the holder. Within 30 days after service of the written request, Landlord and the holder of the mortgage (or his designee) shall enter into a new lease of the demised premises, as follows: The new lease shall (A) be entered into at the new tenant's reasonable expense, (B) be effective as at the date of termination or expiration of the then current term of the lease, (C) be for the renewal term succeeding the then current term of this lease, and (D) be at the rent and upon all the agreements, terms, covenants, and conditions hereof, including all applicable rights of renewals. The new lease shall require the tenant to perform all of Tenant's unfulfilled obligations under this lease that are reasonably susceptible of being performed by the tenant. Upon execution of the new lease, the new tenant shall pay all sums remaining unpaid under the expiring lease, plus the reasonable expenses incurred by Landlord in connection with the preparation, execution, and delivery of the new lease.

(g) Notices. Any notice or other communication which Landlord shall desire or is required to give to or serve upon the holder of a mortgage on this lease shall be in writing and served by registered or certified mail, addressed to the holder at his address as set forth in the mortgage, or in the last assignment of it delivered to Landlord under § 8.2, or at any other address that the holder designates by written notice given to Landlord by registered or certified mail. Any notice or other communication which the holder of a mortgage on this lease shall desire or is required to give to or serve upon Landlord shall be deemed to have been duly given or served if sent in duplicate by registered or certified mail addressed to Landlord at its addresses as set forth in Article 15 of this lease or at any other address that the Landlord designates by written notice given to the holder by registered or certified mail.

(h) Assignment of subleases. Effective upon the commencement of the term of any new lease executed under paragraph (e) or paragraph (f) of this § 8.3, any subleases shall be assigned and transferred without recourse by Landlord to the tenant under the new lease. All moneys on deposit with Landlord which Tenant would have been entitled to use but for the termination or expiration of this lease may be used by the tenant under the new lease for the purposes of and in accordance with its provisions.

(i) Priority for new lease. Anything herein contained to the contrary notwithstanding, the provisions of this Article 8 shall enure only to the benefit of the holders of leasehold mortgages which shall be, respectively, a first, second, and third lien. If the holders of more than one such leasehold mortgage shall make written requests upon Landlord for a new lease in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (e) or paragraph (f) of this Section, the new lease shall be entered into pursuant to the request of the holder whose leasehold mortgage shall be prior in lien thereto. Thereupon the written requests for a new lease of each holder of a leasehold mortgage junior in lien shall be and be deemed to be void and of no force or effect.

(j) Possession. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to obligate Landlord to deliver possession of the demised premises to the tenant under any new lease entered into under paragraph (e) or paragraph (f) of this § 8.3.

(k) Prior consent. No agreement between Landlord and Tenant modifying, cancelling, or surrendering this lease shall be effective without the leasehold mortgagee's prior written consent.

(l) Nonmerger. No union of the interests of Landlord and Tenant herein shall result in a merger of this lease in the fee interest.

§ 8.4. Lease assignment by mortgagee. If any leasehold mortgagee acquires title to Tenant's interest in this lease, by foreclosure of a mortgage thereon, by assignment in lieu of foreclosure, by assignment from a designee or wholly owned subsidiary corporation of the mortgagee, or under a new lease pursuant to this Article 8, the mortgagee may assign the lease. Upon assignment, the mortgagee shall be released from all liability for the performance or observance of the covenants and conditions in the lease contained on tenant's part to be performed and observed from and after the date of assignment, provided that the mortgagee's assignee has assumed the lease in accordance with, and otherwise complied with, § 7.4 of this lease.

Article 9 Services

§ 9.1. Landlord services. Landlord shall, at its expense, furnish the following services to the demised premises:

(a) Heat. Heat when and as required by law, during the hours when the demised premises are open for business.

(b) Water. Hot and cold water for lavatory and drinking purposes. However, Landlord may, at its expense, install and maintain a water meter to register such consumption, and Tenant shall pay, as additional rent, when and as bills are rendered by the supplier, for water consumed and for sewer rent based upon such consumption of water.

(c) Air conditioning. Air conditioning during the hours when the demised premises are open for business to maintain Tenant's temperature requirements for the uses referred to in Article 4.

(a) Adequate supply. Landlord warrants and represents that the electrical system and equipment, appliances, and fixtures to be installed in the building and in the demised premises will at all times be adequate for the furnishing by Landlord and the public utility company of electric current to the demised premises sufficient for Tenant's requirements for lighting and for the operation of the demised premises for Tenant's uses and purposes. Landlord shall furnish and supply the electric current and services, which Tenant shall pay for as provided below.

(b) Metered electric bills. The quantity of electric current consumed by Tenant shall be measured by a meter or meters furnished and installed by Landlord, at Landlord's expense. The meter or meters shall be read monthly by Landlord and Tenant jointly or by an agent designated by both of them. Bills therefor shall be rendered by Landlord, and the amounts thereof, as computed from such meter at the same rates paid by Landlord to the public utility, shall be deemed to be and shall be paid by Tenant as additional rent, within 20 days after the bills are rendered. If any municipal, state, or federal agency imposes a tax upon Landlord with respect to the purchase, sale, or resale of electric energy supplied by it to Tenant, Tenant's pro rata share of the tax shall, when permitted by law, be passed on to and included in its bill, and be paid by Tenant to Landlord.

(c) Discontinuance. If Landlord is required by law to discontinue the furnishing of electric energy and service to Tenant, it shall give Tenant 60 days prior notice of discontinuance. Landlord shall also permit Tenant to receive electric energy and service direct from the public utility, permit Landlord's wires and conduits to be used for that purpose, and make all necessary alterations and additions thereto. Discontinuance of services and Landlord's compliance with the above terms shall not be deemed to be a lessening or diminution of services within the meaning of any existing or future law, rule, or regulation.

(a) Compactor. Tenant may use the building compactor, without charge, to dispose of its rubbish and garbage so long as the Municipality does not prohibit such use. If such use is prohibited, Tenant shall properly dispose of its rubbish and garbage at its expense.

(b) Security system. Landlord may install and keep in the facility the television receivers that are part of the building security closed circuit television system. Tenant shall not be responsible for the repair, maintenance, or replacement of the equipment or for its operation or use. Landlord shall pay the cost of arranging for any of Tenant's employees to watch the receivers for it.

(c) Exhaust fan. Landlord may install and keep in the facility the building exhaust fan control panel. Tenant shall not be responsible for the operation, repair, maintenance, or replacement of the panel.

Article 10 Indemnity-Liability Insurance

§ 10.1. Indemnity. After the Commencement Date, Tenant shall indemnify and hold harmless Landlord against and from any and all liabilities, fines, suits, claims, demands, and actions, and costs and reasonable expenses of any kind or nature or by anyone whomsoever, due to or arising out of (a) any default in observing, violation, or nonperformance of any term, covenant, or condition of this lease on the part of Tenant to be observed and performed, (b) any damage to person or property occasioned by Tenant's use and occupancy of the demised premises or to any use or occupancy which Tenant may permit or suffer to be made of the demised premises, or (c) any injury to person or persons, including death resulting at any time therefrom, occurring in or about the demised premises. Tenant's liability under this § 10.1 shall be reduced by the net proceeds actually collected on any insurance effected by Tenant on the risks in question for Landlord's benefit.

§ 10.2. Liability insurance. During the term of this lease, Tenant, at its sole expense and for the mutual benefit of Landlord and Tenant, shall carry and maintain comprehensive public liability insurance, including property damage, insuring Landlord and Tenant against liability for injury to persons or property occurring in or about the demised premises or arising out of its ownership, maintenance, use or occupancy. The insurance shall have a limit of not less than $300,000 for any one accident or occurrence, and so-called "umbrella" or "excess" coverage therefor to the limit of not less than $2,000,000. On the Commencement Date, Tenant shall furnish to Landlord copies or certificates of the policies together with proof of payment of the premium therefor, and shall, upon the expiration of the term of any such policy, similarly furnish to Landlord a copy or certificate of each such renewal policy together with proof of payment of the premium therefor. The policy and each renewal thereof shall provide that it may not be cancelled by the insurer without ten days' prior written notice to Landlord and to Tenant.

§ 10.3. Waiver of subrogation. Notwithstanding any provision of this lease to the contrary, in the event of loss or damage to the building, the demised premises and/or any contents, each party shall look first to any insurance in its favor before making any claim against the other party. To the extent possible, without additional cost, each party shall obtain, for each policy of such insurance, provisions permitting waiver of any claim against the other party for loss or damage within the scope of the insurance, and each party, to such extent permitted, for itself and its insurers, waives all such insured claims against the other party.

Article 11 Damage by Fire or Other Casualty

§ 11.1. Substantial casualty. If the demised premises are materially damaged or rendered materially untenable by fire or other casualty (whether occurring in the demised premises alone or in the building of which they form a part), or are so damaged or so rendered untenable by fire or other casualty (whether occurring in the demised premises alone or in the building of which they form a part) that their repair, restoration, or rebuilding would require more than 60 days for completion, Tenant may, by giving written notice to Landlord within 15 days after the fire or other casualty occurs, terminate this lease upon a date specified in the notice. This date shall not be less than five nor more than ten days after the notice is given. In such event, the term of this lease shall expire in the same manner as if the date specified in the notice were the date herein originally specified for the expiration of the term. If Tenant does not give the required notice, Landlord shall immediately proceed to repair, restore, and rebuild the demised premises and building to their former condition at Landlord's sole expense, and complete the same with reasonable promptness. The rent and additional rent shall abate from the date of the fire or other casualty until the repairs, restoration, and rebuilding are completed. If this lease is terminated pursuant to notice as provided above, Tenant shall pay no rent or additional rent for any period after the date of the fire or other casualty. The rent or additional rent shall be apportioned as of that date, and Tenant shall be repaid all rent or additional rent paid for any subsequent period.

§ 11.2. Casualty insurance. Landlord shall insure the building of which the demised premises form a part against damage and destruction by fire, including extended coverage, and other perils a lending institution holding a mortgage on the property would require, to the full replacement cost of the building and shall maintain such insurance during the term of this lease. Tenant shall not be liable to Landlord for any loss or damage to the building or the demised premises by fire or any other cause, and in the event of any such loss or damage, Landlord will look solely to the insurer or any third party against which it may have a claim. Landlord shall cause such insurance to be written so as to provide that insurers waive all right of recovery by way of subrogation against Tenant.

§ 11.3. Contents insurance. During the term of this lease, Tenant shall, at its expense and for the benefit of Landlord and any mortgagee of the property, insure the property described in § 1.1(b) against damage and destruction by fire, including extended coverage and other perils a lending institution holding a mortgage on the property would require, to the full replacement cost or other maximum insurable value thereof. On the Commencement Date, Tenant shall furnish to Landlord the insurance policy together with proof of payment of the premium therefor, and shall upon the expiration of the term of any such policy similarly furnish to Landlord each renewal policy together with proof of payment of the premium therefor. The policy and each renewal thereof shall provide that it may not be cancelled by the insurer without ten days' prior written notice to Landlord and any named insured.

Article 12 Eminent Domain

§ 12.1. Material condemnation. If the demised premises or any part thereof or any estate therein, or any other part of the building of which the demised premises form a part materially affecting Tenant's use of the demised premises, are taken by virtue of eminent domain, this lease shall terminate on the date title vests pursuant to the taking. In such case the rent and additional rent shall be apportioned as of that date and Tenant shall be repaid all rent and additional rent paid for any subsequent period.

§ 12.2. Landlord's award, tenant's share. Tenant shall not be entitled to any part of the award. However, Landlord shall pay to Lessee from the award when received any amount by which it is increased by reason of the following: the taking of fixtures and equipment which Tenant is entitled to remove; alterations and improvements paid for by Tenant; or the cost to Tenant of moving from the demised premises and relocating.

§ 12.3. Tenant's award. Nothing in this Article 12 to the contrary shall be construed or deemed to affect Tenant's right, or to deprive Tenant or its right to make and prosecute a claim against the condemning authority for, and to recover damages to or for, the taking of Tenant's fixtures and equipment, as well as alterations, decorations, installations, additions, and improvements in and to the demised premises made at its sole expense, and for moving and relocation expenses, resulting from the taking.

Article 13 Subordination

§ 13.1. Subordination, nondisturbance agreement. This lease shall be subject and subordinate to mortgages which now affect the real property of which the demised premises form a part and to all renewals, modifications, consolidations, and replacements of the presently existing mortgages. Landlord shall use its best efforts to obtain and cause to be delivered to Tenant, within a reasonable time after the Commencement Date, an agreement from the holder of each such mortgage, which Tenant shall promptly execute if so requested, providing, in effect, that so long as no event of default on Tenant's part, as set forth in this lease, has occurred and is continuing, it shall not be joined as a party defendant in any foreclosure action or proceeding which may be taken or instituted by the then holder of the mortgage by reason of any default under the mortgage, and that Tenant shall not be evicted from the demised premises or its leasehold estate hereunder be terminated or disturbed by reason of any default under the mortgage.

§ 13.2. Future mortgages. This lease shall also be subject and subordinate to any first mortgage held by a lending institution, which may hereafter affect the real property and to all renewals, modifications, consolidations, and replacements thereof provided the holder of the first mortgage executes and delivers to Tenant an agreement similar in effect to that referred to in § 13.1.

§ 13.3. Subordination agreement. Although no instrument or act by Tenant shall be necessary to effect the above subordination, Tenant will, nevertheless, execute and deliver all further instruments that the mortgage holders may desire to confirm subordination of this lease on the above terms. Tenant hereby irrevocably appoints Landlord attorney in fact to execute and deliver all such instruments for Tenant if it fails or refuses within a reasonable time after request to do so.

Article 14 Default--Remedies

§ 14.1. Default, notice, termination. If Tenant defaults in the payment of rent or additional rent or in the performance of any term, covenant, or condition of this lease, Landlord may give Tenant written notice of default. If Tenant does not cure any rent or additional rent default within 15 days, or other default within 30 days (or, if the default is of such nature that it cannot be completely cured within 30 days, if Tenant does not commence the curing within 30 days and thereafter proceed with reasonable diligence and in good faith to cure the default), after notice of default is given, Landlord may terminate this lease by giving seven days' written notice to Tenant. This lease then shall terminate on the date specified in the notice, and Tenant shall quit and surrender the demised premises to Landlord. However, Tenant shall remain liable as provided below. If this lease is so terminated by Landlord, it may at any time thereafter resume possession of the demised premises by any lawful means and remove Tenant and other occupants and their effects.

§ 14.2. Repossession, reletting. Whenever Landlord has recovered possession of the demised premises by reason of Tenant's default Landlord may occupy the demised premises or cause them to be redecorated, altered, divided, consolidated with other adjoining premises, or otherwise changed or prepared for reletting. Landlord may also relet the demised premises or any part thereof as Tenant's agent or otherwise for a term or terms to expire prior to, at the same time as, or subsequent to, the original expiration date of this lease, and receive the rent therefor. Landlord shall apply such rent as follows: first to the payment of any expenses it has incurred in connection with the recovery of possession, redecorating, altering, dividing, consolidating with other adjoining premises, or otherwise changing or preparing for reletting, and the reletting, including brokerage and reasonable legal fees; and then to the payment of damages equal to the rent hereunder and the expense of performance of the other covenants of Tenant as provided herein. Tenant shall, whether or not Landlord has relet, pay to Landlord damages equal to the rent and other sums that Tenant has agreed herein to pay, less any net proceeds of the reletting, as ascertained from time to time. Tenant shall pay these damages on the several rent days specified above. In reletting the demised premises as provided above, Landlord may grant rent concessions, for which Tenant shall not be credited. No such reletting shall constitute a surrender and acceptance or be deemed evidence thereof. If Landlord elects, pursuant hereto, actually to occupy and use the demised premises or any part thereof during any part of the balance of the term as originally fixed or since extended, there shall be allowed against Tenant's obligation for rent or damages as herein defined, during the period of Landlord's occupancy, the reasonable value of the occupancy, not to exceed in any event the rent herein reserved. The occupancy shall not be construed as a release of Tenant's liability hereunder.

§ 14.3. Waiver of right of redemption. Tenant waives all right of redemption to which it or any person claiming under it may be entitled by any existing or future law.

§ 14.4. Cumulative remedies. Landlord's remedies hereunder are in addition to any remedy allowed by law.

§ 14.5. Landlord's cure of tenant's default. If Tenant breaches any term, covenant, or condition of this lease, Landlord may, by giving reasonable notice to Tenant (except that no notice need be given in case of emergency), cure the breach at Tenant's expense. All reasonable expenses, including legal fees, incurred by Landlord in curing Tenant's breach shall be deemed additional rent payable on demand.

Article 15 Notices

§ 15.1. Any notice, demand, request, or other communication given hereunder or made by either party to the other shall be in writing and mailed by registered or certified mail in a postpaid envelope addressed as follows:

(a) if to Tenant, at its address set forth above, with a copy at the demised premises,

(b) if to Landlord, at its address set forth above, or at any other address that Tenant or Landlord, respectively, may designate by written notice under this § 15.1.

Article 16 Broker

§ 16.1. The parties agree that this lease was brought about by Collins & Associates, Inc., 439 East 49th Street, New York, New York, as broker. Landlord shall pay the broker its commission under separate agreement. Tenant represents that Tenant dealt with no other broker in connection with this lease.

Article 17 Quiet Enjoyment

§ 17.1. Quiet enjoyment. Landlord covenants that if and so long as Tenant pays the rent and additional rent and performs the terms, covenants, and conditions applicable to it, Tenant shall peaceably and quietly have, hold, and enjoy the demised premises for the term of this lease, subject to its provisions.

§ 17.2. Title warranty. Landlord warrants and represents that it has good and marketable title to the real property of which the demised premises form a part, free and clear of all liens and encumbrances except mortgages.

Article 18 Miscellaneous Provisions

§ 18.1. Non-waiver. The failure of either party to insist on strict performance of any term, covenant, or condition hereof, or to exercise any option herein contained (other than the options provided for in § 1.4), shall not be construed as a waiver of such term, covenant, condition, or option in any other instance.

§ 18.2. Written modification. This lease cannot be changed or terminated orally, but only by an instrument signed by both parties.

§ 18.3. Mechanic's liens. Tenant shall within 30 days after notice from Landlord discharge any mechanic's lien for materials or labor claimed to have been furnished to the demised premises on Tenant's behalf, except liens that may be filed in connection with Landlord's construction of the facility provided for in § 2.2.

§ 18.4. Access to premises. Landlord may enter the demised premises at any reasonable time on reasonable notice to Tenant for the purpose of inspection and to show the premises to prospective mortgagees or purchasers.

§ 18.5. Interruption of services. Interruption or curtailment of any service maintained in the building of which the demised premises form a part, or furnished to the demised premises, if caused by strikes, mechanical difficulties, or any causes beyond Landlord's control whether similar or dissimilar to those enumerated, shall not entitle Tenant to any claim against Landlord or to any abatement in rent, nor shall the same constitute constructive or partial eviction, unless Landlord fails to take all reasonable measures under the circumstances to restore the service without undue delay. If the demised premises are rendered wholly or partially unfit for the uses specified in this lease, for a period of more than three days, by the making of repairs, replacements or additions, other than those made with Tenant's consent or caused by misuse or neglect by Tenant or its agents, servants, customers, visitors or licensees, there shall be a proportionate abatement of rent during the period of such unfitness.

§ 18.6. No representations. Neither party has made any representations or promises, except as contained in this lease.

§ 18.7. Tenant estoppel certificates. Tenant shall from time to time, upon not less than ten days prior written request by Landlord, execute, acknowledge, and deliver to Landlord a written statement certifying that this lease is unmodified and in full force and effect (or that it is in full force and effect as modified, listing the instruments of modification), the dates to which the rent and other charges have been paid, and whether or not to the best of Tenant's knowledge Landlord is in default hereunder (and if so, specifying the nature of each default).

§ 18.8. Landlord estoppel certificates. Landlord shall from time to time, upon not less than ten days prior written request by Tenant, execute, acknowledge, and deliver to Tenant a written statement certifying as to the matters set forth in § 18.7, except that it shall certify whether or not to the best of Landlord's knowledge Tenant is in default hereunder, and if so, specifying the nature of each default.

§ 18.9. Memorandum of lease. At the request of either party, the other party will execute, acknowledge and deliver to the requesting party a short form or memorandum of this lease in form for recording.

§ 18.10. Headings. Headings in this lease are for convenience and reference only and shall not be used to interpret or construe its provisions.

§ 18.11. Binding effect. The provisions of this lease shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of Landlord and Tenant and their respective successors, legal representatives, and assigns. The term "Landlord," as used in this lease, shall mean only the owner, the mortgagee in possession, or the ground lessee for the time being of the real property of which the demised premises form a part. Thus, if there is any sale or sales or ground lease of the real property, or if the mortgagee takes possession thereof, Landlord shall be entirely freed and relieved of all its covenants and obligations under this lease accruing thereafter. In addition, the purchaser, the ground lessee, or the mortgagee in possession shall be deemed to assume and agree to carry out all of Landlord's covenants and obligations hereunder.

§ 18.13. Counterparts. This lease may be executed in two or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

§ 18.14. Time of essence. Time is expressly declared to be the essence of this lease.

§ 18.15. Entire agreement. This lease supersedes all agreements previously made between the parties relating to its subject matter. There are no other understandings or agreements between them.

In witness whereof Landlord and Tenant have duly executed this lease the day and year first above written.

FORM 23.04 Ground lease--shopping center

COMMENT

This form of ground lease contains several features which are favorable to the lessee that are not always found in long-term leases. The lease contemplates that the lessee will build a shopping center or other commercial buildings upon the leased premises, and that in addition to a fixed minimum rent which the lessee is to pay to the lessor (yearly, and in advance) the lessee will also pay percentage rent which is based upon percentage rent that the lessee will receive from its subtenants. It should be noted, however, that the lessee is not required to construct any improvements, as discussed below.

Construction of improvements:

Although the lease contemplates that a shopping center is to be built, Article XIII of the lease specifically provides that the lessee is under no obligation to do so. The lessee is not permitted to construct any improvements on the premises unless they are in the nature of a commercial building or shopping center. However, should the lessee elect to do so, he may continue the lease in effect merely by paying the minimum rent and the lessor would never receive the anticipated percentage rent. As a practical matter, it is doubtful that the lessee would continue to pay rent indefinitely for bare land which produces no income and, upon failure to pay rent, the lessor could terminate the lease. In this respect, it should be noted that the fixed minimum rent increases by more than 100% within a period of five years (see Article III). It is more common, however, to provide that the lessor may terminate the lease in the event that the lessee fails to commence and complete construction of the improvements by specified dates.

Mortgage financing:

Another feature contained in this lease, which should be useful to the lessee, is the requirement that the lessor mortgage his fee ownership in the land in order to help the lessee obtain temporary and permanent financing to construct the desired improvements (see Article XIV).

Nonrecourse mortgage as to lessor:

If the lessor is willing to go along with the basic concept of mortgaging his fee ownership, he will generally insist on additional provisions (similar to those contained in Article XIV below) which are designed to protect him from personal liability for the mortgage debt and offer some assurance that, although it is possible for him to lose his land in a mortgage foreclosure action, it is not probable. Nevertheless, the lessor must be made aware of the fact that if the lessor is unwilling or unable to cure a possible default of the developer (which may involve the payment of substantial sums) the lessor runs the risk of losing his land in a mortgage foreclosure action.

If the lessor is a "sophisticated" landowner who is unwilling to mortgage his fee ownership, he will generally permit the lessee to mortgage his leasehold interest in the land on terms and conditions that an institutional lender would require in order to make the leasehold mortgage acceptable security for temporary and permanent construction financing.

Table of contents:

Long-term leases are inherently lengthy documents due to the fact that they provide, as a matter of contract, for the rights and obligations of the lessor and the lessee with respect to a wide variety of matters, under varying circumstances, over a long period of time. Accordingly, a table of contents frequently precedes the agreement in order to give interested parties quick access to various contractual matters that are generally covered by all leases. These tables of contents are reproduced for two basic reasons. First, they serve as a basic checklist for broad problems that are normally covered in most leases. They also enable counsel to compare the manner in which the same problem receives comparable or different treatment in other leases provided in this section.

THIS LEASE made and entered into at Bel Air, Harford County, State of Maryland, on [date], by and between James Hackney Enterprises (the "Lessor") and Hebditch Holders, Inc., a Maryland corporation (the "Lessee");

The Lessor and the Lessee, for and in consideration of the keeping by the parties of their respective obligations hereinafter contained agree as follows:

Article I Demised Premises

1. Lessor's demise. Upon the terms and conditions hereinafter set forth, and in consideration of the payment of the rents and the prompt performance by the Lessee of the covenants and agreements, to be kept and performed by the Lessee, the Lessor does lease, let, and demise to the Lessee and the Lessee hereby leases from the Lessor, the following described premises, situate, lying, and being in Harford County, State of Maryland:

[Insert legal description or refer to attached exhibit]

2. Conditions. The demise is likewise made subject to the following:

- (a) All conditions, restrictions, and limitations now appearing of record;
- (b) Zoning ordinances of any municipality, the County of Harford, State of Maryland, and any other competent governmental body now existing or which may hereafter exist during the life of this Lease;
- (c) Any questions of survey, the Lessee having satisfied itself as to the boundary lines and contents of the above described premises as well as with the sufficiency of the Lessor's present title; and
- (d) The Lessee's proper performance of all the terms and conditions contained in this Lease.

Article II Term

To have and to hold the demised premises for a term commencing [date] and ending [date], inclusive, unless terminated sooner as provided below.

Article III Rent

1. Annual rentals. The Lessee shall pay the Lessor the following rent:

1st year	$11,000
2nd year	17,500
3rd year	20,000
4th year	22,500
5th year	25,000
6-50th year	25,000

All rent payments shall be paid annually and in advance.

2. Cost of fill; offset. The Lessee shall pay the first $35,000 of the cost of filling the subject property to the specifications of its subtenants, state and local building codes, and all other applicable authorities. The cost of fill shall be determined by three qualified bidders, approved by the Lessor and Lessee. If the cost exceeds $35,000, all excess amounts shall be deducted from the minimum rent payment at the rate of 10% per annum between the sixth and fifteenth years of this Lease.

3. Supplementary rent. (a) The Lessee shall pay Supplementary Rent to the Lessor. Supplementary Rent shall be 10% of the net amount of "Percentage Rent" (as hereinafter defined) paid to the Lessee during the preceding calendar year by all subtenants of portions of the demised premises used for retail or other shopping center purposes, plus 5% of "Gross Rents" (as hereinafter defined) received by the Lessee during the preceding calendar year from subtenants of portions of the shopping center used for other purposes. If the premises leased to a subtenant are used principally or primarily for retail or other shopping center purposes, and the applicable lease provides for the payment of Percentage Rent, for the purpose of computing Supplementary Rent it shall be deemed that all thereof are used for retail or shopping center purposes. The operation of the following businesses shall be deemed to be shopping center uses (without limitation thereto): bank, finance company office, insurance company office, barber shop and beauty parlor, launderette, supermarket, dry cleaning store, variety store, department store, restaurant, discount store, or real estate office. Supplementary Rent shall be paid on July 1 of each year during the term.

(b) After the receipt of such statements of Gross Sales (as defined in the applicable sublease) and payments of Percentage Rent and Gross Rent from subtenants, the Lessee shall compile a schedule thereof and furnish a copy to Lessor on or before July 1 of each year.

(c) In lieu of Article III, Section 3(a), above, the Lessor may compute Percentage Rent as follows:

The sixth year that the Shopping Center is in operation will be considered the Base Year. Rental Incomes attributed to stores that were in operation during that year may increase, the amount of such increase to be deemed Percentage Rent, whether by having the stores in operation pay additional rent or procuring new tenants to replace such stores. The Lessor will receive 10% of these increases. On any new building the Base Year will be the first year's rental.

4. Due date. All rental payments shall be made on the anniversary of the payment of the first rental.

5. Place of payment. Rent shall be payable at such place as the Lessor may specify, in writing, from time to time.

6. Net lease. All rent shall be absolutely net to Lessor, so that this Lease shall, except as hereinafter provided to the contrary, yield net to Lessor the rent, to be paid in each year during the term of this Lease. Accordingly, the Lessee shall pay all costs, expenses, and obligations of every kind or nature, relating to the demised premises, or any improvements thereon, which may arise or become due during the term of this Lease, and shall indemnify and hold harmless the Lessor from and against the same. Nothing in this Lease shall be deemed to require the Lessee to pay or discharge any liens or mortgages of any character which may later be placed upon the demised premises by the Lessor's affirmative acts. However, the Lessee shall pay and discharge temporary and permanent mortgages referred to in Article XIV hereof.

Article IV Definitions

As used in this Lease, the following terms have the following definitions:

1. "Percentage Rent" shall mean rent payable by a subtenant of a part of the demised premises to the Lessee, computed in the following or similar manner:

(a) As the extent to which a specified percentage of certain sales (subject to exclusions and deductions) exceeds a fixed minimum rent and possibly other charges payable under the applicable sublease; or

(b) As a percentage of the extent to which certain sales (subject to exclusions and deductions) made in such premises exceeds a specified minimum sales figure; or the difference between such percentage and other charges payable by the subtenant.

If any subtenants are permitted to deduct sums or are entitled to refunds from the percentage rents, the amounts shall be deductible from the Percentage Rent referred to herein.

2. "Gross Rent" shall mean all rent payable to Lessee by subtenants minus Subtractions, as follows:

(a) The utility charges segregated in any sublease from the rent payable thereunder and paid to Lessee as a reimbursement for the supplying of utilities to such subtenant; and

(b) Such subtenant's pro rata share of the cost to Lessee of maintaining, repairing and operating common areas of the demised premises.

3. "Pro Rata Share" shall mean the proportion that the floor area of the premises leased to a subtenant bears to the square foot area of all of the space of the buildings (excluding any covered mall or any buildings used as common facilities) situated in the demised premises. For purposes of this formula, the floor area shall be computed on the basis of exterior dimensions.

Article V Payment of Taxes

1. Lessee's obligations. The Lessee shall pay, before any fine, penalty, interest, or cost may be added, become due, or be imposed for nonpayment thereof, the following: all taxes, assessments, water and sewer rents, rates and charges, transit taxes, charges for public utilities, excises, levies, licenses and permit fees and other governmental charges, general and special, ordinary and extraordinary, unforeseen and foreseen, of any kind and nature, which at any time during the term of this Lease may be assessed, levied, confirmed, imposed upon, or grow or become due and payable out of or in respect of, or become a lien on, the demised premises, or any improvements thereon, or any part thereof or any appurtenance thereto, or otherwise arising out of the rent and income received by the Lessee from subtenants, any use or occupation of the demised premises, and such franchises as may be appurtenant to the use of the demised premises, or any document (to which the Lessee is a party) creating or transferring an interest or estate in the demised premises.

2. Obligations altered. Nothing herein shall require the Lessee to pay municipal, state, or federal income taxes assessed against the Lessor, the Lessor's municipal, state, or federal capital levy, estate, succession, inheritance, or transfer taxes, or corporate franchise taxes imposed upon any corporate owner of the fee of the demised premises. However, if at any time during the term of this Lease the methods of taxation prevailing at the commencement of its term are altered so as to cause the whole or any part of the taxes, assessments, levies, impositions, or charges now levied, assessed and imposed, wholly or partially as a capital levy, or otherwise, on the rents received therefrom, or of any tax, corporation franchise tax, assessments, levy (including, but not limited to any municipal, state, or federal levy), imposition or charge, or any part thereof, are measured by or based in whole or in part upon the demised premises and are imposed upon the Lessor, then all such taxes, assessments, levies, impositions, or charges, or the part thereof so measured or based, shall be paid and discharged by the Lessee.

3. Mode of payment. The Lessee shall pay the taxes and other charges enumerated in this Article and deliver to the Lessor official receipts evidencing payment, at least 30 days before the tax itself would become delinquent in accordance with the then applicable law governing such payments. If, however, the Lessee desires to contest the validity of any tax or tax claim, it may do so without being in default hereunder, provided it gives the Lessor written notice of its intention to contest the tax or claim, and also furnishes the Lessor with a bond with a surety made by a surety company qualified to do business in the State of Maryland, or pays cash to a recognized Escrow Agent in Hartford County equal to 150 percent of the amount of the tax item or items it intends to contest, conditioned to pay the tax or tax items when their validity has been determined. The Lessee shall give the Lessor the notice and bond (or cash equivalent) not later than 60 days before the tax item or items it proposes to contest would otherwise become delinquent.

4. Lessee's default. If the Lessee fails, refuses, or neglects to make any payment required in this Article, the Lessor may do so. In that event, the Lessee shall, upon the Lessor's demand, repay to it the amounts so paid, including reasonable attorneys' fees and all other expenses reasonably incurred because of or in connection with the payments, together with interest thereon at the rate of 10 percent per annum. The Lessor may collect or enforce any payment in the same manner as though it were an installment of rent specifically required by the terms of the Lease to be paid by the Lessee, on the day when the Lessor demands repayment of or reimbursement therefor. However, the Lessor's election to pay the taxes shall not waive the Lessee's default.

5. Proration. Notwithstanding the above, the taxes for the first and last years of this Lease shall be prorated proportionately between Lessor and Lessee.

Article VI Mechanics' Liens

1. No lien. The Lessee shall not subject the Lessor's interest in the premises to any mechanics' or materialmen's liens or other lien of any kind, except to the extent that the creation of such lien or liens is specifically authorized by a provision in this Lease.

2. Release of lien. The Lessee shall not allow a lien or claim of any kind (except for the mortgage referred to in Article XIV) to be filed or claimed against the Lessor's interest in the demised premises during the continuance of this Lease. If such lien is claimed or filed, the Lessee shall cause the premises to be released from the claim within 30 days after the Lessor is given written notice that a claim has been filed, or within 30 days after the Lessor is given written notice of the claim and transmits written notice of its receipt to the Lessee, whichever 30-day period expires earlier. The Lessee will cause such release either by paying to the court the amount necessary to relieve and release the premises from the claim, or in any other manner which, as a matter of law, will result, within the 30-day period, in releasing the Lessor and its title from the claim.

Article VII Governing Law, Cumulative Remedies

1. Governing law. All of the rights and remedies of the parties shall be governed by the provisions of this instrument and by the laws of the State of Maryland.

2. Cumulative remedies. During the continuance of the Lease, the Lessor shall have all rights and remedies which this Lease and the laws of the State of Maryland assure to it. All rights and remedies accruing to the Lessor shall be cumulative; that is, the Lessor may pursue all rights that the law and this Lease afford to it, in whatever order the Lessor desires and the law permits without being compelled to resort to any one remedy in advance of any other.

Article VIII Indemnification of Lessor

1. Indemnification by Lessee. During the entire term of the Lease, the Lessee will indemnify and hold harmless the Lessor against any and all claims, debts, demands, or obligations which may be made against the Lessor or against its title in the premises, arising out of, or in connection with, any alleged act or omission of the Lessee or any person claiming under, by, or through the Lessee. If it becomes necessary for the Lessor to defend any action seeking to impose any such liability, the Lessee will pay the Lessor all costs of court and attorneys' fees incurred by the Lessor in effecting such defense in addition to all other sums that the Lessor may be called upon to pay by reason of the entry of a judgment against it in the litigation in which such claim is asserted.

2. Insurance. As soon as the Lessee commences construction on the demised premises or any part of it, or from and after any earlier date when the Lessee makes actual use of and occupies the demised premises or any part of it, the Lessee shall cause to be written a policy or policies of insurance in the form generally known as public liability policies. In addition, if any boilers or elevators are included in improvements located on the demised premises, the Lessee shall cause to be written boiler insurance and elevator insurance policies. The policies shall insure the Lessee against all claims and demands made by any person or persons for injuries received in connection with the operation and maintenance of the premises, improvements, and buildings located on the demised premises and for any other risk insured against by such policies. Each class of policies shall be written within limits of not less than $500,000 for damages incurred or claimed by any one person for bodily injury, or otherwise, plus $100,000 for damages to property, and for not less than $1,000,000 for damages incurred or claimed by more than one person for bodily injury, or otherwise, plus $100,000 for damages to property. All such policies shall name the Lessee and the Lessor, as their respective interests may appear, as the insured persons. Lessee shall promptly deliver the original or a duplicate original of each policy or policies to the Lessor as soon as they are written, together with adequate evidence of the fact that the premiums are paid.

Article IX Insurance

1. Lessee's obligation. From and after the time the Lease commences, the Lessee will keep insured any and all buildings and improvements upon the premises against all loss or damage by fire and windstorm, together with "extended coverage." The amount of insurance shall at all times be sufficient to prevent any party in interest from being or becoming a co-insurer on any part of the risk, and shall not be less than 80 percent of the full insurable value. All of the insurance policies shall include the Lessor as one of the insured parties and shall fully protect both the Lessor and the Lessee, as their respective interests may appear. All insurance received by the Lessor and the Lessee for the destruction of buildings or improvements by fire, windstorm, or other casualty shall be deposited in a joint account in a bank designated by the Lessee in the County in which the demised premises are located. These funds shall be made available to the Lessee for the construction or repair, as the case may be, of any building or buildings damaged or destroyed by fire, windstorm, or other casualty for which insurance is payable. The Lessor and the Lessee shall periodically pay out these funds from the joint account on the estimate of any reliable and authorized architect licensed in the State of Maryland, who must certify that the amount of the estimate is reasonable and is being applied to the payment of the reconstruction or repair. However, the Lessee shall provide the total amount of money necessary for the reconstruction or repair of any destroyed or damaged building or buildings and shall assure the application of the money for such purpose. The Lessee shall rebuild and repair any buildings and improvements, or any part thereof, that are destroyed or damaged by fire, windstorm, or other casualty. The rebuilt or repaired building or improvement, or the replaced or repaired personal property on the demised premises, shall be of the same or higher value as prior to the damage or destruction, and shall be rebuilt and ready for occupancy within 15 months from the time of the loss or destruction. The 15-month period for reconstruction shall be extended by delays caused without the Lessee's fault or neglect by Act of God, strikes, lockouts, or other conditions (other than matters of finance) beyond the Lessee's control.

2. Delivery of policies. The Lessee shall deliver to the Lessor the originals of all such policies along with the receipted bills evidencing payment of the premiums for them. However, nothing contained herein shall prohibit the Lessee from financing the premiums when the terms of the policies are for three years or more. In that event, the receipts shall evidence that the installment premium payment or payments are paid at or before their respective maturities. If, however, there is a mortgage on the premises created pursuant to the provisions contained in Article XIV of this Lease ("Mortgage Financing"), and if the terms of that mortgage require the Lessee to cause the originals of the policies to be delivered to the mortgagee, the Lessee shall deliver to the Lessor duplicate certificates of the policies. The Lessee shall deliver to the Lessor the policies (or duplicate certificates thereof) at least 10 days before their effective date.

3. Proceeds payable to mortgagee. Any mortgagee holding a mortgage created under the provisions of Article XIV may, in accordance with its terms, require that the insurance proceeds be paid to it. However, even if the mortgagee so elects, the Lessee shall still be required to create the complete fund in the manner set forth in this Article to assure and complete the payment for the reconstruction and repair work.

4. Damages; insurance proceeds; joint bank account. If the Lessee is not in default, it shall be paid any excess money received from insurance remaining in the joint bank account after the building or buildings are reconstructed or repaired. If, after damage or destruction caused by fire, windstorm, or other cause, the Lessee does not commence reconstruction or repair within 6 months from the date of payment of the loss and prosecute the reconstruction or repair so that it will be completed within 15 months after the damage or destruction occurs, it shall pay to the Lessor the amount collected, or the balance thereof remaining in the joint account. If the Lessee fails promptly, within the time specified, to complete the reconstruction and repair work, the Lessor may terminate this Lease and retain the amount as liquidated and agreed upon damages. The 15-month period for reconstruction shall be extended by delays caused without the Lessee's fault or neglect by Act of God, strikes, lockouts, or other conditions (other than matters of finance) beyond the Lessee's control.

5. Direct repayment. Notwithstanding the above, if the insurance proceeds are $25,000 or less, no joint bank account shall be created but the proceeds shall be paid directly to the Lessee, who shall use the funds to make the necessary replacements or repairs.

Article X Insurance Premiums

The Lessee shall pay premiums for all of the insurance policies it is required to carry under the terms of this Lease, and shall deliver to the Lessor evidence of such payment before the payment of any premiums become in default. The Lessee shall also cause renewals of expiring policies to be written and the policies or copies thereof, as required by the Lease, to be delivered to the Lessor at least 10 days before the policies' expiration dates.

Article XI Assignment

1. Written assignment; filing. This Lease is freely assignable, but no assignment or transfer shall be valid unless the assignee expressly assumes and agrees to perform every covenant of this Lease which, by its terms, the Lessee agrees to keep and perform. The assignee's assumption shall be evidenced by a recordable instrument, either by joinder in the assignment itself or by separate instrument. The assignment shall not be deemed valid unless it and the assumption agreement are promptly filed for record in the appropriate office, and an executed original thereof delivered to the Lessor.

2. Estoppel certificates. Both the Lessor and Lessee shall, within 20 days after written notice that the status of the Lease is required, give a written statement showing that the Lease is in good standing, and, if it is not, the particulars thereof. Failure within the 20-day period to give a written reply shall constitute a representation, which any person may rely upon as being true and correct, that the Lease is in good standing. Notice and the subsequent reply shall be deemed given, and time shall begin to run, when they are deposited in the United States Registered or Certified Mails, with sufficient prepaid postage to deliver them to their addressed destinations. The notice and reply shall be addressed to the parties at the required places and in the required manner for giving notice. The notice shall contain the exact language set forth in this Section 2.

3. Lessee's primary liability. If the Lessee's interest in and to this Lease Agreement is assigned, its liability for the performance of every term, condition, covenant, or agreement contained herein shall remain in full force and effect.

Article XII Condemnation

1. Eminent domain; cancellation. If, at any time during the continuance of this Lease, all or any portion of the demised real estate or the improvement of any building located thereon is taken, appropriated or condemned by reason of eminent domain, the Lessor and Lessee shall divide the proceeds and awards in the condemnation proceedings, abate the rent, and make other adjustments in a just and equitable manner under the circumstances. If the parties cannot agree on a just and equitable division, annual abatement of rent, or other adjustments within 30 days after the award has been made, the disputed matters shall, by appropriate proceedings, be submitted to a court having jurisdiction of the subject matter for its decision and determination. If legal title to the entire premises is wholly taken by condemnation, the Lease shall be cancelled.

2. Apportionment. Although title to the building and improvements placed by the Lessee upon the demised premises will pass to the Lessor, for purpose of condemnation, the fact that the Lessee placed the buildings on the demised premises shall be taken into account. The deprivation of the Lessee's use of the buildings and improvements shall, together with the remaining term of the lease, be an item of damage in determining the Lessee's portion of the condemnation award. It is the general intent of this Section that, upon condemnation, the parties shall share in their awards to the extent that their respective interests are depreciated, damaged, or destroyed by the exercise of the right of eminent domain. If the condemnation is total, the condemnation award shall be allocated so that the then value of the property, as if it were unimproved property, is allocated to the Lessor, and the then value of the building or buildings thereon is allocated between the Lessor and Lessee after giving due consideration to the number of years remaining in the term of this lease and the condition of the buildings at the time of condemnation.

Article XIII Construction

1. Building not mandatory. This Lease is executed with the understanding and agreement that the Lessee is not obligated to construct buildings or improvements on the demised premises that will be commercial buildings or a shopping center. If Lessee does elect to construct a building, all construction shall be done in a good and workmanlike manner, and in accordance with all applicable building and zoning codes and laws, including without limitation, the accessibility and other requirements of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, and its rules and regulations.

2. Lessee to bear expenses. The Lessee shall pay the entire cost of all buildings constructed by it on the demised premises.

3. Financial commitment. Before commencing the building or buildings, the Lessee shall arrange for sufficient financing to pay for the entire construction.

Article XIV Mortgage Financing

1. Construction mortgages. Upon the circumstances and subject to the terms contained in this Article, the Lessee may, in conjunction with the construction work on the property and permanent financing, require the Lessor to join with it in executing a mortgage or mortgages to provide temporary and permanent financing for a shopping center or commercial buildings to be erected on the demised premises.

2. Institutional lender. Any such mortgage will be in favor of an institutional lender as mortgagee. As used herein, "institutional lender" means any bank, trust company, savings and loan association, insurance company, pension fund or title insurance company, real estate investment trust (REIT), or similar organization, authorized to make mortgage loans in Harford County, Maryland.

3. Nonrecourse. Any such mortgage must contain a provision that the mortgagee recognizes that the Lessor's joinder in the mortgage is primarily for the purpose of creating a mortgage lien against the property encumbered by it and that no personal liability shall ever attach to or personal judgment be sought or obtained against the Lessor by reason of the Lessor's joinder in the mortgage. Similarly, if any mortgagee requires the Lessor's joinder in the note or notes secured by the respective mortgages referred to in this Lease, no personal liability shall attach to, and no personal judgment shall be sought or obtained against, the Lessor by reason of its joinder in the note or notes.

4. Debt service. The Lessee shall submit satisfactory evidence to the Lessor that the total base rental to be due each month from all major credit tenants in the shopping center under signed leases will not be less than 100% of the debt service on a permanent loan in an amount then committed to be advanced under such mortgage or deed of trust. As used herein, "Debt Service" means the monthly installment of principal and interest necessary to amortize the loan; and "Major Credit Tenant" means a tenant having a net worth of not less than $10,000,000, established by generally accepted accounting practices as of the end of its last official year as shown by an audit by an independent certified public accountant. The net worth of all such tenants and all guarantors executing a single lease shall be combined for the purpose of determining whether the group collectively constitutes a "Major Credit Tenant." A prospective tenant who does not meet these requirements will still be deemed a Major Credit Tenant if it can obtain lease insurance or a guaranty by a surety company with assets of at least $50 million.

5. Expenses. Before and during construction the Lessee shall draw Demised Premises Expenses from a Construction and Development Loan. As used in this lease the term "Demised Premises Expenses" means expenses incurred in connection with the demised premises or their development; the construction, reconstruction, and/or alteration of buildings, structures, and improvements thereto; allowances which may be paid to subtenants required by their respective subleases; development costs, including site preparation, site investigation, off-site improvements, temporary improvements, maintenance of off-site improvements, test borings, piling, filling, compacting, dredging, excavation, and demolition; bringing utilities to the demised premises; customary and reasonable related professional fees and disbursements, including those of attorneys, architects, brokers, surveyors, and engineers; contractors' overhead and profit; fees, charges, and expenses of the applicable Mortgagee; commitment fees and other charges with respect to all mortgage loans; interest charges with respect to construction loans; real estate taxes; and insurance premiums incurred before the consummation of the loan secured by the first Permanent Mortgage executed by the Lessor. This loan may be obtained from a noninstitutional source as long as it complies with Paragraph 3, above.

6. Conditions of construction loan. The Construction Loan shall be subject to the following restrictions:

(a) Amount. The amount of the Construction Loan shall not exceed that on the Permanent Mortgage Commitment.

(b) Bid amount. If construction is to be started before a Permanent Mortgage Commitment is obtained, the Construction Loan can only be for the amount bid for the construction of the Proposed Shopping Center. If the successful bidder is an organization owned by the Lessee, this bid must be less than the amount of bids obtained from outside general contractors presently working in Arundel and Harford Counties, Maryland.

(c) Guarantee. In addition to the requirements of subparagraph (b) above, during the period of construction there must be a Performance Guarantee to Lessee from Tydings Factors, a Maryland corporation, or a substitute corporation or individual having a net worth of at least $2,200,000, or the total projected value of the Shopping Center, which shall be authenticated by a Certified Financial Statement 60 days prior to commencement of construction.

This Guarantee will be waived if a Permanent Mortgage Commitment is obtained and the successful bidder for the construction of the Shopping Center is bonded in full by a bonding company authorized to do business in the State of Maryland.

7. Proceeds of loan application. The Lessor hereby directs any lender to pay the proceeds of the loan directly to the Lessee. The Lessor shall execute all appropriate documents required by the lender for that purpose. If the lender refuses to pay the loan proceeds to any person other than the Lessor or to the Lessor and Lessee jointly, the Lessor shall pay over the proceeds to the Lessee immediately on receipt, and endorse and deliver to the Lessee any check made payable jointly to the Lessee and Lessor.

8. Power of attorney. The Lessor shall give the Lessee a General Power of Attorney so that the Lessee may sign on behalf of the Lessor all Mortgages, Consent Agreements, Subordination Agreements, and other necessary documents for the leasing or financing of the demised premises. Any mortgage must comply with the above provisions. The Lessor must approve all documents or instruments executed under the General Power of Attorney before their execution thereunder.

9. Refinancing. The Lessee may refinance the permanent mortgage periodically provided that the following conditions are met:

(a) The new permanent mortgage must provide for a sufficient principal amount to pay all the expenses of the refinancing and the unpaid principal balance of the then existing permanent mortgage;

(b) The holder or mortgagee of the new permanent mortgage must be an institutional lender as defined in Section 2, Article XIV of this Lease; and

(c) The new permanent mortgage shall provide for self-liquidation by its maturity date as a result of the application of the amortization payments provided for therein, shall not have a term longer than 25 years, and shall not bear interest at a rate in excess of the then prevailing rate of interest on similar institutional financing.

If the Shopping Center is refinanced, all excess funds received by the Lessee after paying off the original mortgage in full, and if there is new construction, all items covered in Sections 1 through 6 of Article XIV, shall be distributed equally between the Lessee and Lessor. If the new permanent mortgage complies with the above conditions, the Lessor and Lessee shall join in the execution, acknowledgment, and delivery of the new first mortgage for the purpose of subjecting their respective interests in the demised premises to the lien thereof, and the permanent mortgage shall cover and be a lien on the entire premises. Each shall also execute, acknowledge, and deliver all other agreements, certificates, and papers that are necessary or desirable in order to accomplish the replacement or refinancing of the existing permanent mortgage. However, the Lessor shall incur no personal liability for the payment of any portion of the principal amount secured by any permanent mortgage or the interest thereon, or the payment of any other sum that may be secured or required thereby, or for the performance of any term, agreement, covenant, condition, or provision thereof. Moreover, each mortgage shall provide that it be paid in full before the last five years of the term of this Lease.

(d) Any such mortgage given for refinancing shall comply with the provisions of Section 1, Article XIV of this Lease.

Article XV Default

1. Effect of default by lessee. If at any time the Lessee defaults in the payment of any rent on the day it is due and payable, or if the Lessee fails to perform any other covenant under this Lease, the Lessor may declare the lease term ended. In that event, the Lessor may re-enter upon any part of the premises and the building or buildings and improvements situated on it, either with or without process of law, the Lessee waiving any demand for possession of the premises and all buildings and improvements situated thereon. The Lessor shall also have all other remedies provided by law and this instrument. Immediately upon termination of the demised term, at the Lessor's election or in any other way, the Lessee shall peaceably surrender and deliver up the demised premises and all real and personal property to the Lessor, or its agent or attorney. If the Lessee, or its agent, attorney, or tenants, holds the premises, or any part thereof, one day after the date for their surrender, according to the terms of this Lease, the Lessee shall be deemed guilty of forcible detainer of the premises under the statutes and shall be subject to eviction or removal, forcibly or otherwise, with or without process of law.

2. Landlord-tenant relationship only. The relationship between the parties is that of Landlord and Tenant. The Lessee specifically acknowledges that all statutory proceedings regulating the relationship of Landlord and Tenant respecting collection of rent or possession of the premises, accrue to the Landlord.

3. Lessor's remedies. Nothing herein shall be construed as authorizing the Lessor to declare this Lease in default, however, unless the default is for the nonpayment of rent, security, insurance premiums, or taxes in violation of the terms of this Lease and the nonpayment continues for 30 days after the respective due dates for payment of these items. If the alleged default consists of any other violation, the Lessor may not declare this Lease in default until the violation continues for 30 days after the Lessor gives the Lessee written notice thereof. However, nothing contained herein shall be construed as precluding the Lessor from having any other remedy that may be necessary to preserve its right and its interest in the premises and this Lease, even before expiration of the grace or notice periods provided for in this Section, if under the then existing circumstances, the allowance of the grace or the giving of the notice would prejudice or endanger the Lessor's rights and estate in this Lease and the demised premises.

4. Default period. All default and grace periods shall be deemed to run concurrently and not consecutively.

5. Legal costs; receiver. Subject to the rights of the holder of any first mortgage to which this Lease has been subordinated, the Lessee pledges with, and assigns to, the Lessor all rents, issues, and profits that might otherwise accrue to the Lessee for the use, enjoyment, and operation of the demised premises. In connection with such pledging of the rents, the Lessee covenants and agrees with the Lessor that if the Lessor, upon the Lessee's default, elects to file suit in chancery to enforce the Lease and protect its rights, the Lessor may, as ancillary to such suit, apply to any court of competent jurisdiction for the appointment of a receiver of all and singular the demised premises, and the improvements and buildings located thereon. Thereupon, the parties expressly covenant and agree that the court shall immediately appoint a receiver with the usual powers and duties of receivers in like cases. The court shall make the appointment as a matter of strict right to the Lessor, without reference to the adequacy or inadequacy of the value of the property subject to the Lessor's lien, to the Lessee's solvency or insolvency, or to the commission of waste. Nothing contained in this Section shall be construed as empowering the Lessor to collect rents accruing from the premises, unless and until the Lessee is in default.

Article XVI Repair Obligations

During the continuance of this Lease the Lessee shall keep in good state of repair and in first class condition all buildings, furnishings, fixtures, and equipment which Lessee brings, constructs, or places upon the demised premises. The Lessee shall not suffer or permit any strip, waste, or neglect of any building or other property to be committed. The Lessee shall repair, replace, and renovate the property as often as necessary to keep the buildings and other property subject to this Lease in first class repair and condition.

Article XVII Demolition

1. Conditions precedent to demolition by lessee. Although it is the Lessee's duty under the terms hereof to keep and maintain all buildings and improvements on the demised premises in good repair, this shall not be construed as empowering the Lessee to demolish any buildings on the demised premises or any substantial part thereof or to cause any item of major repair and construction to be made unless and until the Lessee:

(a) Causes plans for the new buildings or the new construction to be prepared in full accordance with all applicable laws, building codes, and zoning ordinances, and delivers the plans to the Lessor for its approval (which the Lessor shall not unreasonably withhold) at least 30 days before the proposed work is actually commenced;

(b) Furnishes the Lessor with a performance and payment bond with corporate surety, guaranteeing the doing and completion of the work; or, in lieu of furnishing such bond; and

(c) Creates an escrow fund with any bank or trust company selected by the Lessee, into which it shall pay the full cost of the repair and replacement. The cost shall be evidenced by the bona fide bid of a responsible general contractor or the aggregate of the bona fide estimates of reliable subcontractors and materialmen. The Lessee shall submit all the evidence to the Lessor not later than 30 days before the work starts. The escrow fund shall be utilized to pay for the work as it progresses upon the requisition of the contractor and the certificate of an architect supervising the work, but disbursements from the escrow fund shall be made by written order of the Lessor and Lessee. If the Lessor elects to exercise joint control over the escrow fund, it shall promptly approve or cause to be approved progress payments so long as the balance remaining in the fund is sufficient to cause the work to be carried through to completion and paid for, and full and final waivers and releases are procured from all persons who furnish work, labor, services, or materials to the job.

2. Replacement value. The value of the reconstruction, repair, and replacement must not be less than the value of the building or buildings, or portion thereof, then being demolished, replaced, and repaired.

3. Demolition defined. For the purposes of this Article, no work shall be deemed a "demolition" or a major repair so as to bring it within the terms of this Section of the Lease unless it constitutes either the actual destruction of all or a substantial part of a building or a remodeling which, in substance, requires the tearing down of a substantial part of a building. The changing of openings or the removal and/or relocating of partition walls, or other work inside the building designed to accommodate itself to better occupancy, shall not be deemed major repair and construction within the meaning of this Article. The provisions of this Article shall not be applicable to the removal of any building or structure on the premises at the time of execution of this Lease.

Article XVIII Additional Covenants of Lessee

1. Legal use. The premises shall be used for legal purposes only, including without limitation, all environmental laws, rules and regulations, federal, state and local.

2. Insurance claims. No damage or destruction to any building or improvements by fire, windstorm, or any other casualty shall be deemed to entitle the Lessee to surrender possession of the premises, to terminate this Lease, to violate any of its provisions, or to cause any rebate or reduction in the rent when due or thereafter becoming due under its terms. If the Lease is cancelled because of the Lessee's default while any obligation from an insurance company to pay for all or any part of the damage remains outstanding, the claim against the insurance company shall, upon cancellation of the Lease, be deemed immediately to become the absolute and unconditional property of the Lessor.

3. Termination. Upon termination of this Lease, the Lessee shall peaceably and quietly deliver to the Lessor possession of the premises and all improvements, including all furnishings, fixtures, and equipment which the Lessee has brought, placed, or constructed upon the premises, under the provisions of Article XIII of this Lease.

4. Costs of suits. If, at any time, the Lessor is required to enforce this Lease or to defend any action arising out of the facts connected with or caused by reason of the Lessee's ownership of this Lease or occupancy of the leased premises, the Lessee shall owe and pay to the Lessor all court costs and reasonable attorneys' fees incurred or expended by Lessor in conducting the defense or in enforcing the terms of this Lease. The Lessor may collect the amount of costs and fees as though it was rent then maturing and coming due.

Article XIX Quiet Enjoyment

So long as the Lessee keeps and performs all of its covenants and conditions under this Lease, it shall have quiet, undisturbed, and continued possession of the premises, free from all claims against the Lessor and all persons claiming under, by, or through the Lessor.

Article XX Right of Entry

The Lessor and its agents may enter upon the premises at all reasonable times to examine their condition and use, so long as that right is exercised in a manner that does not interfere with the Lessee in the conduct of its business on the premises. If the premises are damaged by fire, windstorm, or other casualty which causes them to be exposed to the elements, the Lessor may enter upon them to make emergency repairs. However, if it does so, the act or acts shall not be deemed to excuse the Lessee from its obligation to keep the premises in repair, and the Lessee shall, upon the Lessor's demand, immediately reimburse it for the cost of the emergency repairs.

Article XXI Separate Parcels

1. Multiple leases. (a) It is contemplated that, from time to time, Lessee may find it desirable to develop, transfer, use, sublet, and/or mortgage the demised premises in separate portions. If Lessee so requests in writing, the Lessor shall execute four Leases for portions of the demised premises containing all the provisions hereunder, with the following exceptions: the applicable rent for each lease shall be as set forth below; and each lease may contain additional provisions which provide, in effect, that the respective lessees and persons designated by them may use certain portions of the premises designated by the lessees in common with each other.

(b) The portions of the demised premises may be two areas ("Front Parcels"). Neither Parcel shall front more than 250 feet on State Route 192 nor exceed one acre and another parcel in the shopping center of one 21/2 acre ("Interior Parcel") and the balance of the demised premises ("Balance Parcel"). In that event, the annual basic rent shall be $2,500 for each Front Parcel, $1,000 for the Interior Parcel, and the balance of rent then due for the Balance Parcel. The Lease for the Balance Parcel shall provide that if a default occurs with respect to the Front Parcels or Interior Parcel, the lessee of the Balance Parcel shall be required to cure the default.

2. Single lease. If some or all of the lessees under the new leases ("Multiple Leases") give written notice to the Lessor that they desire the premises demised under their respective leases to be governed by a single lease, and the Lessor agrees that it will execute a single lease of the premises containing all the provisions of this Lease (except that the applicable "Basic Rent" shall be the sum of the applicable basic rents provided in each such lease), the applicable multiple leases shall be cancelled.

3. Performance. If a subtenant performs any of the Lessee's obligations under this Lease for the Lessee's account or on its behalf in accordance with the subtenant's authority to do so under its sublease, the Lessor shall accept the performance as if it were performed by the Lessee.

Article XXII Miscellaneous

1. Force majeure. If the Lessor or Lessee is delayed, hindered, or prevented from performing any act required hereunder by reason of strikes, lockouts, labor troubles, inability to procure materials, failure of power, restrictive government laws or regulations, riots, insurrection, the act, failure to act or default of the other party, war, or other reason beyond its control, then performance of the act shall be excused for the period of the delay. In that event, the period for the performance of the act shall be extended for a period equivalent to the period of the delay.

2. Estoppel certificates. Either party shall, without charge, at any time and from time to time hereafter, within ten days after the others' written request of the other, certify by instrument duly executed and acknowledged to any mortgagee or purchaser or proposed mortgagee or proposed purchaser, or any other person, firm, or corporation specified in the request as to:

(a) Whether this Lease has been supplemented or amended, and, if so, the substance and manner of the supplement or amendment;

(b) The validity and force and effect of this Lease, in accordance with its tenor as then constituted;

(c) The existence of any default thereunder;

(d) The existence of all offsets, counterclaims, or defenses thereto on the part of the other party;

(e) The commencement and expiration dates of the term of this Lease; and

(f) All other matters that may reasonably be so requested.

Any such certificate may be relied upon by the party who requested it and any other person, firm, or corporation to whom it may be exhibited or delivered, and the contents of the certificate shall be binding on the party executing it.

3. Duplicates; recordation. Either party shall, at any time, at the other's request, promptly execute duplicate originals of an instrument, in recordable form, which shall constitute a short form of lease. This will set forth a description of the demised premises, the term of this Lease, and any other portion thereof, except for the rental provisions, requested by either party.

4. No recourse. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary, the Lessor shall look solely to the interest of the Lessee hereunder for the satisfaction of any remedy it may have hereunder or in connection herewith and shall not look to any other assets of the Lessee or of any other person, firm or corporation. If the Lessee is a corporation, no personal liability shall attach to any of its present or future shareholders, officers, or directors, or its successors or assigns, for any obligation hereunder or in connection herewith. If the Lessee is a firm, partnership, joint venture, or association, it shall have no personal liability for any obligation hereunder or in connection herewith. If the Lessee assigns its Leasehold Interest to Lessor, it shall be completely relieved of all liability hereunder or in connection herewith, regardless whether accrued at the time of assignment and whether a cause of action exists at such time or arises thereafter.

5. Consent not to be unreasonably withheld. The Lessor shall not unreasonably withhold its consent, permission, or approval for any act which may be required or desired by the Lessee under the provisions of this Lease. Such consent, permission, or approval shall be deemed to have been granted if, within 45 days after the Lessor receives the request, it fails to notify the Lessee of its express disapproval and the reasons therefor.

6. Right of first refusal to purchase. The Lessor shall not sell or grant options with respect to, or otherwise dispose of, the demised premises unless it has first (i) received a bona fide arm's-length offer from an unaffiliated party for the sale or disposition, (ii) notified the Lessee in writing of the offeror's identity and address all of the provisions of the offer, and (iii) afforded the Lessee the prior option to purchase or otherwise acquire the demised premises on the same terms and provisions as those contained in the offer.

7. Option procedure. The Lessee shall exercise its option by giving written notice to the Lessor within 30 days after it receives the Lessor's notice of the offer. The Lessor shall give such notice within 10 days after it receives the offer. If the Lessee fails to exercise its option and the Lessor does not subsequently sell or dispose of the demised premises under the provisions of the offer, the above prohibition against the Lessor's sale or other disposition shall continue in full force and effect. In that event, the Lessee's option to purchase shall apply to any subsequent offer on the same terms as set forth above.

8. Notice of exercise of option. The notice provided in Section 7 shall set forth the time and place of closing (which may not be more than 50 miles from the demised premises unless the Lessor so consents). The time of closing shall be designated in the notice of exercise but not later than 60 days after the notice is given.

9. Closing. At such closing conference; (i) the Lessee shall pay to Lessor (by good certified check or an official check of a bank or trust company) the applicable purchase price; (ii) the Lessor shall convey good and marketable title of the demised premises to the Lessee free and clear of all encumbrances and title defects other than those which arose at the Lessee's request or by virtue of the its tenancy; and (iii) the Lessor and Lessee shall execute all documents which may be necessary to effectuate the closing and the transfer of title contemplated hereunder.

10. Related transactions; inapplicability. The foregoing provisions of this Section shall not apply to the sale, transfer, or other disposition of the demised premises to (i) any parent, sibling, child, or grandchild of the Lessor, or (ii) a corporation or other entity owned or controlled by any or all of them.

11. Income tax deductions and credits. Only the Lessee may take deductions and credits on its tax returns for the buildings, structures, improvements, changes, alterations, repairs, additions, and installations, and for their depreciation or cost recovery.

12. Covenants running with land; binding effect. All covenants, conditions, and obligations contained herein or implied by law are covenants running with the land and shall attach and bind and inure to the benefit of the Lessor and Lessee and their respective heirs, legal representatives, successors, and assigns, except as otherwise provided herein.

13. Non-waiver. No waiver of a breach of any covenant in this Lease shall be construed to be a waiver of any succeeding breach of the same covenant. No delay or failure by either party to exercise any right under this Lease, and no partial or single exercise of that right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

14. Arrears. All arrearages in the payment of rent shall bear interest from the date when due and payable at the then prime rate of CitiBank, New York, New York per annum until paid.

15. Written modifications. No modification, release, discharge, or waiver of any provision hereof shall be of any force, effect, or value unless signed in writing by the Lessor, or its duly authorized agent or attorney.

16. Entire agreement. This instrument contains the entire agreement between parties as of this date. The execution hereof has not been induced by either party by representations, promises, or understandings not expressed herein. There are no collateral agreements, stipulations, promises, or undertakings whatsoever upon the respective parties in any way touching the subject matter of this instrument which are not expressly contained in it.

17. Notices. All notices between the parties in connection with this Lease shall be in accordance with its terms. Notice shall be given by registered or certified mail, deposited in the United States mails with postage prepaid. The notices shall be addressed as follows:

For the Lessor:

For the Lessee:

Either party may change the place for giving notice by written notice in the manner set forth in this Section.

18. Joint liability. If the parties upon either side (Lessor and Lessee) consist of more than one person, such persons shall be jointly and severally liable on the covenants of this Lease.

19. Liability continued. All references to the Lessor and Lessee mean the persons who, from time to time, occupy the positions, respectively, of Lessor and Lessee. However, this shall not be construed as relieving a person of any liability incurred by them by reason of or in connection with it having been Lessor or Lessee at one time.

20. Broker. The parties recognize Allman Brothers, Havre de Grace, Maryland, as the Broker in this transaction. The Lessor shall pay the Broker its commission as per the parties' separate agreement.

21. Headings. Headings in this Lease are for convenience and reference only and shall not be used to interpret or construe its provisions.

22. Time of essence. Time is expressly declared to be of the essence of this Lease.

In witness whereof the Lessor and the Lessee have hereunto set their hands and seals, the day and year above written.

FORM 23.05 Long-term sublease--shopping center

COMMENT

Although this instrument is characterized as a "lease" and the parties are referred to as "landlord" and "tenant," it is clear from all of the provisions of the instrument that the landlord's interest in the shopping center is a leasehold estate which the landlord acquired as lessee under a ground lease. Thus, the lease is a sublease in reality and the tenant is a sublessee. See article XVIII, section 18.4 below. The terms "lease," "landlord," and "tenant" are used in lieu of "sublease," "sublessor," and "sublessee" primarily for clarity of style. Article XVIII, section 18.9 permits the tenant to cure any default of landlord which would have the effect of terminating the tenant's interests under the lease and, accordingly, is of paramount importance in this agreement.

THIS INDENTURE OF LEASE is made [date], between Pierce Real Estate Company, a New York partnership, having its office at 320 Park Avenue, Suite 2160, New York, New York 10017 ("Landlord") and Douglas Stores, Inc., a Delaware corporation, having a principal office at 540 Madison Avenue, Suite 1205, New York, New York 10017 ("Tenant").

Article I Demised Premises

Section 1.1. Landlord, in consideration of the rents to be paid and the covenants and agreements to be performed by Tenant, leases to Tenant, and Tenant does lease and take from Landlord, certain premises located in a Shopping Center at U.S. Highway No. 6 (Euclid Avenue, in the City of Des Moines, County of Polk and State of Iowa, containing approximately 145,875 square feet of land, together with a one-story building containing 145,875 square feet of gross floor area outlined in red on Exhibit "A" attached (the "Demised Premises"). The legal description of the Shopping Center of which the Demised Premises is a part is attached as Exhibit "B." During the term hereof Tenant in common with other tenants (and their respective employees, concessionaires, licensees, customers, and invitees) of the land outlined in blue on Exhibit "A" (the "Shopping Center") may use all parking and other common facilities and the like presently designated on Exhibit "A" and which may hereafter from time to time be delineated, segregated, allocated, and set aside for use as common facilities and built on the Shopping Center, subject to the provisions of this lease. The Landlord reserves the right to place and maintain and repair all utility lines, pipes, tunneling and the like, over, under or around the Demised Premises that may be reasonably necessary or advisable for the servicing of other portions of the Shopping Center at its sole expense.

Article II Term of Lease; Inspection

Section 2.1. Term. The term of this lease shall begin on [date] (the "Commencement Date") and shall end on [date], unless extended.

The "First Lease Year" of the term shall be from the Commencement Date to the 31st day of January immediately subsequent to the Commencement Date.

Each lease year thereafter shall run for a period of 12 consecutive calendar months from the expiration of the First Lease Year or preceding lease year, as the case may be.

Section 2.2. Recordable memorandum. Promptly, after the execution hereof, Landlord and Tenant shall execute instruments in recordable form, setting forth a description of the Demised Premises, the term of this lease, any right of extension, and all other information, excepting the rent reserved hereunder, reasonably requested by either party. Either party may record the instrument, and shall pay the full recording fee.

Section 2.3. Condition of premises. Tenant acknowledges that it has inspected, and is fully satisfied with the physical condition of, the Demised Premises. Tenant shall accept the Demised Premises in its present "as is" condition. Neither Landlord nor any of its representatives has made any warranties or representations as to the physical condition of the Demised Premises upon which Tenant relies, except for the provisions of Section 5.2 (Article V) of this lease. The Demised Premises, however, shall be delivered to Tenant vacant and broom clean (except for trade fixtures and equipment which shall remain in the Demised Premises and be Tenant's property).

Article III Right to Extend

Section 3.1. Tenant may extend the original term, when it expires, for three successive periods of five years, five years, and ten years, respectively. The extensions shall be on the same terms, covenants, and conditions as are contained herein. Tenant shall exercise the right to extend by giving written notice to Landlord at least nine months before the expiration of the original term or any extension thereof, as the case may be. As soon as notice is given, and without any further instrument, lease, or agreement, this lease shall be so extended or further extended.

Article IV Rent

Tenant shall pay rent to Landlord, at any place or places Landlord directs from time to time by written notice to Tenant, at the following rates and times:

Section 4.1. Minimum rent. Minimum rent per year of $226,060, payable in equal monthly installments of $18,838.34 in advance on the first day of each calendar month during the term of this lease, and pro rata for the fraction of any month. Also, on the first rent day Tenant shall pay rent at the above rate for any portion of the preceding calendar month included in the term.

Section 4.2. Percentage rent. Percentage rental per year of 11/2 percent of all gross sales (as defined in Section 4.4 below) exceeding $13,920,000 made by the Tenant in, on, or from the Demised Premises during the preceding lease year, less the sum of (i) all impositions paid under Section 18.17 (Article XVIII), and (ii) all insurance premiums paid by Tenant under the provisions of Article XIV. The above amount--additional rental less stated deductions--is the percentage rental payable under this lease.

Section 4.3. Payment and statements. The percentage rental shall be paid within 60 days after the end of each lease year. Each payment shall be accompanied by a written statement, certified by one of Tenant's financial officers or duly authorized representatives, setting forth the gross sales. Tenant shall also deliver to Landlord, within 15 days after the end of each three-month period during the term, a written statement, in duplicate and signed by a financial officer of Tenant, setting forth the gross sales for the preceding three-month period. Each lease year shall constitute a separate accounting period. The computation of percentage rental due for any one lease year shall be based on the gross sales for that year without reference to or adjustment for the gross receipts of any other lease year.

Section 4.4. Gross sales defined. For the purpose of determining the percentage rental, "gross sales" are defined as the total of all sales or business, including internet sales if the sale was of goods sold from the Demised Premises, conducted and the charges for all services rendered in, at, on and from the Demised Premises by Tenant or any subtenant, concessionaires or licensees at retail or wholesale, for cash or for credit, less the selling price of all goods returned by any customer, if the selling price of the returned goods has been included, and less merchandise trade-ins, expressly excluding the following:

(a) Income from the sale of stamps, money orders, express checks, bank checks and check-cashing receipts (unless Tenant or any subtenant, concessionaire, or licensee operates such a business or concession, in which case the charges for such items shall be a part of gross sales), lockers and public toilets, operation of any sub-post office, telephone revenues, sales to Tenant's or subtenant's employees, income from weighing and automatic vending machines dispensing items such as chewing gum or cigarettes and similar items which are not handled by Tenant or any of Tenant's subtenants or concessionaires or licensees as part of Tenant's regular course of business, of the type presently used in any store operated by Tenant or any subtenant incidental to its business, from the sale of federal, state or municipal savings bonds and tax certificates, all sums received as charges for delivery to customers for products sold from the Demised Premises by Tenant or any subtenant, all sums received from the sale of tickets of admission to theatrical, circus, church, and sport events, and that portion of the sales price of merchandise which is paid for by the trading in of other merchandise of the customer (but the proceeds from the subsequent sale of such trade-in merchandise shall be includable in the gross sales hereunder).

(b) All sums representing the so-called sales tax, based upon present and future federal, state, and local laws, and collected by Tenant or any subtenant in the operation of its business on the Demised Premises, any tax, excise, or duty which is levied or assessed against Tenant or any subtenant by any federal, state, municipal or local authority based on sales of specific merchandise sold on, or the privilege or license to sell or distribute specific merchandise on the Demised Premises, all of which are paid to the taxing authority by the Tenant or any subtenant, concessionaire, or licensee, regardless of whether the amount is passed on to or collected by Tenant or any subtenant from any purchaser thereof.

(c) The transfer of merchandise by Tenant, or a subsidiary or subtenant, from the Demised Premises to another store or place of business owned or operated by any one of them shall not constitute a sale if made solely for the convenient operation of the business of Tenant or its subtenants, rather than for the purpose either of consummating a sale which has previously been made at, in, on, or from the Demised Premises or of depriving Landlord of the benefit of a sale which otherwise would have been made at, in, on, or from the Demised Premises.

(d) Provided that Tenant, at the Demised Premises or at any other location operated as a "Douglas Store," shall make use of gift certificates or like vouchers in a manner not calculated to reduce the gross sales of Tenant, its subtenants, concessionaires, and licensees, only the avails of the redemption thereof at the Demised Premises shall be included in gross sales.

(e) All proceeds from the sale of Tenant's used trade fixtures, machinery and equipment and proceeds from insurance covering any casualty to them.

Section 4.5. Records. Tenant shall keep at its executive offices in the City and State of New York, where now or hereafter located, a true and accurate account of all information necessary in order to determine gross sales.

Landlord or its agents may inspect Tenant's records of sales made in the Demised Premises at reasonable times, but not more than once in any lease year, at Tenant's executive office. However, the inspection must be made within one year after Tenant mails or delivers the statement of sales to Landlord, and it is limited to the period covered by the statement.

Any claim by Landlord for revision of a statement of sales or for percentage rent shall be deemed waived if the claim is not made to Tenant within 30 days after the one-year period expires. Landlord shall hold in confidence all sales figures and other information obtained from Tenant's records. Tenant makes no representation or warranty as to expected sales in the Demised Premises.

Article V Contractor's Warranties; Utilities

Section 5.1. Warranty assignments. Landlord shall, at Tenant's request, assign to Tenant all warranties in effect received from contractors, subcontractors, mechanics, materialmen and suppliers covering the Demised Premises.

Section 5.2. Utilities. Landlord represents that it has provided to the building constructed on the Demised Premises, all sewer facilities and utility facilities that are located up to and on the exterior of the buildings (including but not limited to water, electric current, and gas) as provided in plans of the Demised Premises, copies of which have been delivered to Tenant. Tenant shall, as herein elsewhere provided for, maintain all such facilities.

Article VI Parking Areas

Section 6.1. Parking and other common areas. The buildings, parking areas, all approaches, entrances, exits, sidewalks and roadways, loading areas, service roads and means of ingress and egress to and from the adjoining public roads shall be substantially as shown on Exhibit "A." Tenant, its customers, employees and all those having business with it, may use the parking areas and all approaches, entrances, exits, sidewalks, roadways, loading areas, service roads, and means of ingress and egress to and from the adjoining public roads, in common with others having business in the buildings or Shopping Center. There shall, at all times, be included in the foregoing parking facilities, parking areas designated for Tenant's employees and employees of other tenants and occupants of the Shopping Center. Landlord and Tenant shall use reasonable diligence to cause all such employees to park their motor vehicles within areas designated by Landlord from time to time subject, however, to Tenant's reasonable approval. Landlord covenants and agrees as follows:

(a) Loading areas are provided adjacent to Tenant's loading doors and shall be connected to a service roadway.

(b) All such common facilities and loading areas are of cement and concrete, or so called hot topping, and are provided with an adequate drainage system; and the parking areas are striped. All sidewalks in the Demised Premises are of cement and concrete construction. Landlord shall keep and maintain the foregoing in good repair and condition and reasonably free of snow, ice, refuse and other obstructions. All of the parking areas and the Demised Premises shall, at all times, have the right of ingress and egress to and from Euclid Avenue.

(c) All parking areas and common facilities shall be reasonably illuminated by Landlord during all of Tenant's business hours and for one-half (1/2) hour thereafter by floodlighting installations presently constructed, and maintained by Landlord in good repair and condition.

(d) No charge shall be made to customers and invitees for the parking of vehicles in the Shopping Center.

Section 6.2. Common area expenses. (a) In addition to all payments required herein to be paid by Tenant, and as part of the total rent to be paid, Tenant shall pay to Landlord its pro rata share (as defined below) of the cost for services to be rendered by it as provided for in Section 6.1(b) and (c) above, as well as its share of the cost of sewage and disposal during the term hereof and premiums on public liability insurance maintained by Landlord. Tenant's pro rata share shall be equal to a fraction, the numerator of which is the gross square feet ground floor area of the Demised Premises and the denominator of which is the gross square feet ground area of all buildings then occupied within the Shopping Center. Landlord shall submit quarterly statements showing the total expense and its apportionment. Tenant shall pay the amount shown on the statement within 30 days after its receipt. Tenant or its agents may inspect, annually, Landlord's records of the expense at Landlord's executive office, provided that inspection is made within six months after Landlord submits the annual statement to Tenant and is limited to the period covered by the statement. Cost of maintenance, as referred to in this and the preceding Section, shall not be deemed to include taxes or assessments, if Tenant otherwise pays them under the provision of Section 18.17. An annual adjustment between Landlord and Tenant shall be made at the same time Landlord provides the required annual statements. Landlord shall operate the parking and common areas, and facilities, in a reasonably economical manner.

(b) If Landlord fails to commence clearing of snow from the parking area within 12 hours after the snow ends, Tenant may do so at Landlord's expense. In that event, Tenant may bill Landlord for the entire cost of snow removal, less Tenant's proportionate share determined in the manner provided above.

(c) Tenant's payments hereunder shall be paid as rent, together with the monthly rental then falling due for the first calendar month following ten days after Tenant's receipt of a statement of such charge.

(d) Subject to Tenant's payment of the pro rata cost under the provisions of Section 6.2, paragraph (a), Landlord shall maintain throughout the term of this lease public liability and property damage insurance under which the insurer shall indemnify Tenant from and against all costs and liability arising out of or based upon all claims, accidents, and injuries occurring on, within, or about the parking areas and common facilities. Each policy shall be in a company that is reasonably approved by Tenant and that is then authorized to issue it by the state in which the Demised Premises are located. The policy shall be noncancellable as to Tenant and its designees unless ten days' written notice of cancellation is given to them. A duplicate original or certificate of the policy shall be delivered to Tenant. The insurance shall have minimum limits of liability of $500,000 for injury (or death) to any one person, $1,000,000 for injury (or death) to more than one person, and $100,000 for damage to property.

Section 6.3. Injunction. In addition to its usual remedies at law or equity, Tenant may enforce the provisions of this Article by injunction.

Section 6.4. Parking regulations. Tenant's use of the parking area and common areas shall be subject to all reasonable nondiscriminatory rules and regulations imposed by Landlord. Tenant shall abide by these rules and regulations and use its best efforts to cause its subtenants, licensees, concessionaires, officers, agents, and employees to do likewise.

Article VII Use

Section 7.1. Use. Tenant may use the Demised Premises for all lawful purposes.

Section 7.2. Injunction. In addition to all other remedies at law or equity, Landlord and Tenant may enforce the provisions of this Article by injunction.

Section 7.3. Mortgagee protection. Notwithstanding any contrary provision of this lease or Articles VI and VII hereof, so long as the holder, or its successors or assigns, of any mortgage or deed of trust has an interest in the Demised Premises, either as holder of the note secured by a deed of trust or mortgage, or as owner of the legal title in the mortgaged premises, by purchase at a sale foreclosing the deed of trust or mortgage, or by acceptance of a deed or an assignment of lease in lieu of foreclosure, no default in any of Landlord's obligations set forth in Article VI shall create the right in Tenant to: terminate this lease; any reduction in the rent payable hereunder, or to offset against the rent by reason of any damages resulting from the default; any cause of action for damages against the holder of any mortgage or deed of trust.

Article VIII Repairs and Alterations

Section 8.1. Landlord structural repairs. Landlord shall repair and maintain in good order and condition, the structural portions of the Demised Premises only, including the outside and inside of exterior walls (but not interior decoration, painting, or other interior repairs), foundations, structural portions of the canopy and structural members, the roof, gutters, and down spouts. Not included is any other portion of the demised Premises, except as specifically set forth above. Moreover, Tenant shall make, at its own expense, all repairs otherwise required to be made by Landlord if they are necessitated by a default or negligence of Tenant, or its subtenants, concessionaires, licensees, servants, or employees.

Section 8.2. Tenant interior maintenance. Except as provided in Section 8.1, Tenant shall, during the term hereof and all extensions, keep and maintain in good order, condition and repair, the interior and each part of the Demised Premises. Included, without limitation, are: all utilities, hookups and connections serving the Demised Premises (except as otherwise provided herein). Also included are the exterior and interior portions of all doors, windows, plate glass, showcases, and other things in and about the Demised Premises, including, without limitation, all wiring, plumbing, sewage, heating and air conditioning systems, pipes, conduits, and all other utility and sprinkler fixtures and equipment within (and without the Demised Premises to the extent that they serve the Premises), fixtures and interior walls, floors, ceilings, signs and all interior and exterior building appliances, appurtenances, and similar equipment. The Tenant further shall keep the interior of the Demised Premises at all times in good order, condition, and repair as aforesaid, reasonable wear and tear, fire, and other casualty excepted.

Section 8.3. Landlord interior repairs; mortgagee protection. Landlord shall make all interior repairs to the building on the Demised Premises throughout the term of the lease when required because of the settling of the building of which the Demised Premises are a part, or the act, default, or negligence of Landlord, its employees, agents, licensees, or contractors. However, Tenant shall notify Landlord that such repairs are required within five days after Tenant has knowledge of that fact, and Landlord shall diligently proceed to make the repairs within a reasonable time. If the repair work is caused because of defective or faulty installation or construction by any contractor, subcontractor, or materialman other than Landlord, Tenant shall cooperate (at no cost to it) with Landlord in any action or proceeding which Landlord takes against such other party. Notwithstanding the above, this Section shall not be applicable to or enforceable against the Mortgagee. Further, if Tenant has any right to offset against rent payable under the lease by reason of this Section, it may not offset against any monthly installment of rent then due and payable more than the amount that would cause the rent to be reduced below the amount required to pay the monthly installment of principal and interest next due and payable on the note secured by the Mortgage, and to pay the monthly installment of ground rent next due and payable under the Ground Lease.

8.4. Repair of violations. If any federal, state, county, or municipal government, or its department or division, at any time condemns all or a part of the Demised Premises as unsafe or as not in conformity with the laws and regulations relating to its use, occupation, and construction (except as to requirements necessitated by a nonretail use of all or part of the Premises), or orders or requires any building, alteration, or repair thereof or installations therein, (except as to any requirement necessitated by a nonretail use of all or part of the Demised Premises), Landlord shall, at its expense, rebuild or make all necessary alterations, installations, and repairs. If the effect of such laws, orders, or requirements, or the work done by Landlord in connection with them, is to deprive Tenant of the use of the Demised Premises, rent shall abate during that period. If Tenant is deprived of part of the Demised Premises, rent shall abate proportionately. All rebuilding, alteration, installing, and repairing shall be done in accordance with the appropriate governmental requirements, subject to Tenant's approval, which it shall not unreasonably withhold. However, if the condemnation order or requirement is the result of some unusual use, including, but not limited to, any affirmative act by Tenant which results in the condemnation order or requirement, or from Tenant's nonretail use of the Demised Premises, Tenant shall comply with that order or requirement at its expense and no abatement of rent shall be granted.

Section 8.5. Tenant alterations. Tenant may, at its expense, redecorate the interior of the Demised Premises and make all nonstructural alterations and changes in the interior parts that it deems expedient or necessary for its purposes. However, the alterations and changes shall not injure the safety of the structure of the Demised Premises or diminish its value, and shall be done in a good and workmanlike manner. Tenant may make interior structural alterations and additions to the Demised Premises if they do not injure the safety of the structure or diminish its value and if Tenant first obtains Landlord's written consent, which it shall not unreasonably withhold. Landlord shall, at Tenant's request, execute and deliver all instruments embodying Landlord's approval required by a public or quasi-public authority in order to obtain a license or permit for the making of the alterations, changes, and additions in, to, or upon the Demised Premises. Tenant shall pay for the license or permit, and also shall be responsible for all repairs and damages resulting from the alterations, changes, and installations, including compliance with the provisions of Section 8.3. In making any such alterations hereunder, if the accessibility or other requirements of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 ("ADA") are applicable, Tenant shall fully comply with the same.

Article IX Tenant's Covenants

Tenant covenants and agrees as follows:

Section 9.1. Rent payments. To pay when due rent and percentage rent, and all other required charges, at the times and in the manner provided in this lease.

Section 9.2. Licenses; surrender. To procure all licenses and permits required for any use by it of the Demised Premises. Also, upon the expiration or termination of this lease, to remove its goods and effects and those of all persons claiming under it, and to yield up peaceably to Landlord the Demised Premises in good order, repair, and condition in all respects, excepting only damage by fire, taking, casualty, structural defects required to be made by Landlord, and reasonable wear and tear.

Section 9.3. Mechanic's liens. That it shall not do or allow anything to be done by which the land and the building of which the Demised Premises are a part, are encumbered by any notice of intention to file, mechanic's lien, or otherwise, and shall, whenever any such notice or lien is filed purporting to be for labor or materials furnished or to be furnished to Tenant or any of its subtenants, licensees, or concessionaires, discharge same of record within ten days after the date of filing, by bonding or otherwise. Landlord shall not be liable for any labor or materials furnished or to be furnished to Tenant, its subtenants, licensees, or concessionaires and no mechanic's or other liens for any such labor or materials shall attach to or affect Landlord's reversionary or other estate or interest in and to the land and building of which the Demised Premises are a part. Tenant shall pay promptly when due the entire cost of any work to the Demised Premises which shall at all times be free of liens for labor and materials; to procure all necessary permits before undertaking such work; to do all of such work in a good and workmanlike manner, employing materials of good quality and complying with all governmental requirements; and to save Landlord harmless and indemnify it against all injury, loss, claims, costs, liabilities, suits, penalties, demands, or damage, including reasonable counsel fees, to any person or property occasioned by or growing out of such work.

Section 9.4. Landlord's access. To permit Landlord and its agents to examine the Demised Premises at reasonable times and to show the Demised Premises to prospective purchasers and tenants, but only during the last six months of this lease term and only if Landlord does not thereby interfere with the conduct of Tenant's business; to permit Landlord to enter the Demised Premises to make all repairs, improvements, alterations, and additions thereto that are required to comply with the requirements of a public authority having jurisdiction of the Demised Premises or are required by Landlord under this lease, but only if such entry does not unreasonably interfere with the conduct of Tenant's business.

Section 9.5. Compliance with law and insurance requirements. To the extent required solely as a result of the use by Tenant or its subtenants, licensees, or concessionaires of the Demised Premises, Tenant shall promptly comply with all laws, ordinances, and lawful orders and regulations affecting the Demised Premises (other than condemnation and repairs required to be made by Landlord) and their cleanliness, safety, occupation, and use, including without limitation all environmental laws, rules and regulations, federal, state and local. Tenant shall also promptly comply with and execute all rules, orders and regulations of the Board of Fire Underwriters, Rating Bureaus, and Fire Insurance Companies, organizations and associations for the prevention of fires, at its expense. Tenant shall not permit or commit any waste.

Section 9.6. Deliveries; parking. In addition to the above, Tenant shall, at all times during the term of this lease: (a) cause all goods and merchandise to be delivered and removed, and all removal to be made only by way of the rear of the Demised Premises; and (b) furnish to Landlord, at its written request, the license numbers of the vehicles of Tenant and of its employees, officers and agents, subtenants, concessionaires, and licenses, if such approval is required of other Tenants.

Article X Indemnity and Public Liability

Section 10.1. Indemnification. Tenant shall indemnify and save harmless Landlord from and against all liability, damage, penalties, judgments, or claims of whatever nature arising from injury to person or property sustained by anyone in or about the Demised Premises (except for the common areas, as defined in Section 10.3), except for Landlord's willful acts. Tenant shall, at its expense, defend all suits or actions which may be brought against Landlord or in which Landlord may be impleaded with others upon any such above-mentioned matter, claim, or claims. This Section 10.1 shall not apply if the liability arises from Landlord's willful failure to perform any of its covenants under this lease, but nothing herein contained shall be deemed to limit Tenant's obligation to maintain liability insurance for the benefit of Landlord and its designees as provided in Section 10.2. This indemnity and hold harmless agreement shall include indemnity against all costs, expenses and liabilities incurred in or in connection with any such claim or proceeding brought thereon and the defense thereof.

Section 10.2. Liability insurance. Tenant shall maintain in full force during the term hereof a policy of public liability and property damage insurance, under which the insurer agrees to indemnify and hold Landlord and its designees harmless from and against all cost, expense, and liability arising out of or based upon all claims, accidents, injuries, and damages referred to in Section 10.1. Each policy may be in blanket form covering other locations of Tenant as well as the Demised Premises, and shall be in any company that is reasonably approved by Landlord and authorized by the state in which the Demised Premises are located. Each policy shall be noncancellable with respect to Landlord and its designees unless Tenant gives each 30 days' prior written notice before (i) policy expiration and (ii) commencement of this lease term. The insurance shall have minimum limits of liability of $500,000 for injury (or death) to any one person, $1,000,000 for injury (or death) to more than one person in any one accident or other occurrence, and $100,000 for the damage of property.

Section 10.3. Common area release. Except as otherwise provided in this lease (including Article VI), all permitted use and occupancy by Tenant of the Demised Premises and use of all other portions of the common areas of the Shopping Center (defined herein to mean all parking areas, roadways, malls, means of ingress and egress, and landscaped areas within the Shopping Center) shall be at its own risk. Tenant shall release Landlord, and its agents, servants, contractors, and employees, from all claims and demands resulting from any accident, damage, or injury occurring therein, unless due to their wilful acts or Landlord's wilful failure to perform any covenant under this lease. Landlord shall not be liable for any loss of or damage to Tenant's fixtures or other personal property, unless caused by the wilful acts of Landlord, or its agents, servants, or employees.

Article XI Assignment

Section 11.1. Assignment; subletting. Tenant may, without limitation, transfer and assign this lease or sublet all or any portion of the Demised Premises for the uses set forth in this lease, provided that an otherwise permitted use by Tenant's assignees or sublessees does not conflict with any exclusive privilege that Landlord may have granted heretofore in an existing lease of stores situated in other parts of the Shopping Center of which the Demised Premises are a part. If Tenant assigns or sublets as provided above, it shall remain fully liable for the payment of rent and the fulfillment of all terms, covenants, and conditions under this lease. Landlord shall provide Tenant, within ten days after it receives written request, with a certificate setting forth all exclusive privileges then in force and effect with other tenants of the Shopping Center. Tenant shall furnish to Landlord, at least ten days before the effective date, a duly executed copy of the assignment in recordable form, together with an assumption agreement by the assignee under which the assignee assumes all of Tenant's terms, covenants, and conditions under this lease.

Section 11.2. Discontinued use. Tenant shall give Landlord at least 90 days' written notice before any of the following acts of intended vacating, assigning or subletting, nonretail use, or subdividing, occur: Tenant intends to vacate the Demised Premises with the intention of discontinuing its business therein; Tenant intends before or after the vacating to assign this lease or sublet the Demised Premises to someone other than a successor, subsidiary, affiliate, parent, merged, consolidated, controlled, or controlling corporation; Tenant intends before or after the vacating, or its assignee intends after the assignment, to use the Demised Premises for a nonretail use; or Tenant intends before or after the vacating, or its assignee intends before or after the assignment, to subdivide the Demised Premises into smaller stores to be sublet by Tenant or its assignee or subtenant. In any such event, Tenant shall specify in the notice the date of the proposed vacating, assigning or subletting, nonretail use, or subdividing. Moreover, it is expressly understood that:

(a) If Tenant gives notice of intention to vacate under the above provisions, without assigning the lease or subletting the Demised Premises, Landlord may, by giving notice to Tenant within 90 days after receipt of notice, cancel and terminate the lease, effective as of the date set forth in the notice for vacating the Demised Premises. Tenant shall have, in any event, at least 30 days after notice from Landlord within which to vacate the Demised Premises.

(b) If Tenant gives notice of intention to assign or sublet to someone other than a successor, subsidiary, affiliate, parent, merged, consolidated, or controlling corporation, or to use or assign the Demised Premises for nonretail use, in either case as provided above, Landlord may, by giving notice to Tenant within 90 days after it receives Tenant's notice, cancel and terminate the lease, effective as of the later of the assigning or subletting or the nonretail use, or the last day of the 90-day notice period provided in this paragraph (b).

(c) If Tenant gives notice of intention to subdivide the Demised Premises, Landlord may, by giving notice to Tenant within 90 days after it receives Tenant's notice, cancel and terminate this lease, effective as of the date specified in the notice by Tenant for the subdivision.

(d) Upon Landlord's termination of this lease as provided in paragraphs (a) through (c) of this Section, all further obligations of the parties hereto shall abate. In that event, Tenant shall be refunded all sums prepaid by it as rent under the lease or otherwise, and neither party shall have any further obligation to the other.

Article XII Fixtures

Section 12.1. The following shall remain the property of Tenant: all counters, shelving, refrigerating, and other equipment, and other trade and light fixtures, installed by or at Tenant's expense or owned by it; and all other erections, additions, and improvements made to, in, or on the Demised Premises by and at Tenant's expense and susceptible of being removed without substantial injury to the Premises. Tenant may remove all or any part of the above property at any time during the term of this lease. Tenant shall promptly cause, at its expense, the prompt repair in a good and workman-like manner of any injury to the Demised Premises caused by such removal.

Article XIII Signs

Section 13.1. Exterior signs. Tenant may, at its expense and in conformity with and subject to all applicable laws and ordinances, erect and thereafter replace the following:

(a) All signs on the Demised Premises not extending above the parapet, and, if permitted by governing authorities, all signs on the roof and the marquee. Tenant's installation of a roof sign shall be made in a manner that does not affect the rights of Landlord or its assignees, under any roofing bond then in force, and that does not overload the roof or any other structural portion of the Demised Premises. Tenant shall repair all damages caused by the installation or removal;

(b) A sign of reasonable size designating its parcel pickup station;

(c) Illuminated signs at or near the entrances to the parking areas stating "in" and "out"; and

(d) Tenant's usual pylon sign at the perimeter of the Shopping Center.

Section 13.2. Interior signs. Tenant may also erect, maintain, place, and install its usual and customary signs and fixtures in the interior of the Demised Premises, including, without limitation, flat paper signs.

Article XIV Casualty Insurance

Section 14.1. Insurance requirements. Tenant, at its expense, shall keep, or cause to be kept, all the Demised Premises, the appurtenances thereto, and equipment and facilities in and upon and used in connection therewith (other than any furniture, fixtures, machinery and trade fixtures, and equipment and merchandise owned by Tenant or its subtenants, concessionaires, and licensees) insured for the benefit of Landlord, the Ground Owner, and the holder of any mortgage covering all or part of the Demised Premises (the "Mortgage"), as their respective interests may appear during the term of this lease. The insurance shall be against loss or damage by fire and by other reasons covered by endorsements commonly known as "extended coverage" to the full extent of the replacement value (exclusive of the cost of excavations, foundations, and footings below the lowest basement floor). However, in no event shall the amount of insurance be less than that reasonably required by the holder of any mortgage. The full replacement value shall be determined by Tenant at its expense (but not more frequently than once in any 24-month calendar period) at Landlord's request, given to Tenant, by the Engineering Department of the insurance company issuing the insurance, or determined by application of appropriate cost indices reasonably acceptable to Landlord, its Mortgagee, and Tenant. No omission by Landlord to request any such determination shall relieve Tenant of its obligations under this Article. Tenant's obligations to furnish the insurance referred to in this Article shall be deemed complied with if it is furnished by any subtenant, licensee, or concessionaire for Landlord's account and benefit and the insurance otherwise complies with all the applicable requirements of this lease.

Notwithstanding the above, Tenant shall only carry builder's risk insurance, with extended coverage endorsement, on the building, insuring any construction, repairs, maintenance, or alterations performed by Tenant under the terms of this lease. The policy shall name not only Landlord, the Ground Owner, and the holder of any mortgage, but also the contractor and builder of the building. Whenever any portion of the building being reconstructed, repaired, or maintained is completed, Tenant shall substitute permanent insurance as required hereunder for builder's risk insurance on that portion. As used in this lease the term "Mortgage" includes a Mortgage and a Deed of Trust or similar security instrument, the Ground Lease, and a sale leaseback lease; and the term "holder" includes the holders of any of these instruments.

Section 14.2. Adverse additional insurance. Tenant shall not carry any additional insurance which shall have the effect of reducing the insurance coverage for the benefit of Landlord or the holder of any Mortgage under the provisions of this Article, or of causing Landlord to become a co-insurer under policies required to be carried by Tenant under this Article.

Section 14.3. Premium payments, original policies. All insurance provided for in this Article shall be effected under valid and enforceable policies (which may cover the Demised Premises and other locations) in form reasonably satisfactory to Landlord. The insurance shall be issued by insurers of recognized responsibility, which are licensed to do business under the laws of the United States and the state in which the Demised Premises are located.

Upon the execution of this lease, and thereafter not less than 15 days before the expiration dates of the expiring policies previously furnished under this Article, Tenant shall deliver to Landlord originals of the policies, bearing notations evidencing the payment of premiums or accompanied by other evidence satisfactory to Landlord of such payment. Alternatively, at Landlord's request, the original policy shall be delivered to the holder of any Mortgage on the Demised Premises or any part thereof. If the original policies are delivered to other than Landlord as provided above, duplicate originals of the policies, or certificates or memoranda of them, shall simultaneously be delivered to Landlord. Tenant may provide any required insurance by blanket insurance covering the Demised Premises and other locations if the following conditions are met: Tenant furnishes Landlord or its designees a certificate of the insurance (in lieu of the original policy); the blanket insurance complies with all other requirements of this lease with respect to the insurance involved and also is reasonably acceptable to all Mortgagees; and the insurance certificate separately states the amount of coverage and other coverage applicable to the Demised Premises.

Section 14.4. Named insureds. All policies of insurance provided for in this Article shall name Landlord, the Ground Owner, the holder of any Mortgage on the Demised Premises or any part thereof, and, in the event of a sale and leaseback of Tenant's leasehold estate, the lessor under the sale-leaseback lease, as the insureds. At Landlord's request the policies shall be payable to the holder of any Mortgage, or jointly to Landlord and the Mortgage holder and/or the lessor under any sale-leaseback lease.

Section 14.5. Collection notice. Each policy or certificate therefor issued by the insurer shall contain its agreement not to cancel the policy unless it gives at least 30 days' prior written notice to Landlord and to the holder of any Mortgage or lessor in any sale-leaseback transaction to whom a loss thereunder may be payable.

Section 14.6. Waiver of subrogation. Landlord and Tenant hereby release each other from any and all liability or responsibility (to either or anyone claiming through or under them by way of subrogation or otherwise) for any loss or damage to property caused by fire or any of the extended coverage or supplementary contract casualties even if caused by the fault or negligence of Landlord or Tenant, or anyone for whom either may have been responsible. Landlord's and Tenant's policies shall include appropriate clauses, to the extent they are not prohibited, waiving all rights of subrogation against the respective parties with respect to losses payable under the policies, and/or agreeing that the policies shall not be invalidated if the insured waives in writing prior to a loss all rights of recovery against either party for losses covered by the policies. The policies shall include such clauses so long as they are obtainable without extra cost, or if either party pays for the extra cost. Either party shall advise the other as to the amount of extra cost, and the other party may pay it. Tenant shall, at its expense, cooperate fully with Landlord in obtaining recovery and shall execute all consents and other instruments and take all other actions necessary or desirable to effectuate them and to cause the proceeds to be paid as provided above. Landlord and Tenant shall not carry any insurance concurrent in coverage and contributing in the event of loss with any insurance required to be furnished by either party hereunder if the separate insurance has the effect of reducing the protection or payment to be made under either's insurance. Nothing contained in this lease shall prohibit Tenant's use of reasonable insurance deductibles consistent with sound insurance practices and subject to the approval of the holder of any Mortgage.

Article XV Fire or Other Casualty

Section 15.1. Rent adjustment. This lease is made on condition that if all or any part of the Demised Premises are destroyed or damaged by fire or other casualty while this lease is in effect, the minimum rent reserved in Article IV, Section 4.1, and any additional rent and other charges, or a just and proportionate part thereof, according to the nature and extent to which the Demised Premises are rendered unfit for use and occupancy, shall be suspended and abate. Suspension and abatement shall continue until the buildings on the Demised Premises are put, by Landlord and at its expense, in the same condition they were immediately before the destruction or damage. However, Landlord's work shall be limited to the available insurance proceeds.

Section 15.2. Restoration; termination option. Subject to the provisions of Article XIV and the availability to Landlord of the insurance proceeds from the policies enumerated therein, Landlord shall proceed, immediately after such destruction and damage, to repair and restore the Demised Premises to their prior condition. If the insurance proceeds are not sufficient to fully repair or restore the Demised Premises, Tenant shall provide the necessary funds to make up the difference. However, if the restoration or repairs are not completed within eight months after the damage or destruction (subject to extension of not more than four months under Section 18.15 of Article XVIII), Tenant may, by mailing written notice to Landlord within 60 days of the expiration of the eight-month period (subject to the above extension), terminate this lease on the 14th day following the mailing of the notice. Moreover, either Landlord or

Tenant may terminate this lease, except as provided in Section 15.3, below, if the Demised Premises are damaged or destroyed by fire or other casualty and the destruction or damage occurs:

- (a) During the third year next preceding the expiration or any extension of the original term, and amounts to 35 percent or more of the insurable value of the Demised Premises (exclusive of the land and foundations);
- (b) During the second year next preceding the expiration or any extension of the original term, and amounts to 25 percent or more of the insurable value of the Demised Premises (exclusive of the land and foundations); or
- (c) During the last year of the original term, or any extension of it, and amounts to 15 percent or more of the insurable value of the Demised Premises (exclusive of the land and foundations). In any such event, Landlord or Tenant shall send written notice to the other party of its election to terminate within 30 days after the destruction or damage.

Upon termination by either party, as provided above, this lease shall terminate and all unearned rent and other charges paid in advance shall be refunded to Tenant. If the destruction or damage to the Demised Premises is such that neither Landlord nor Tenant has the right to terminate the lease under this Section, or if either party has that right but fails to exercise it, Landlord shall immediately repair and restore the Demised Premises as provided above, except that it shall have an additional 30 days in which to complete its work.

Section 15.3. Restoration upon extension of lease. If, at the time of the destruction or damage, Tenant has the right to extend or further extend the term of this lease, as provided in Article III, it may exercise that right within 20 days after it receives Landlord's notice of termination. In that case, the notice shall be void and of no effect, and Landlord shall repair and restore the Demised Premises as provided above.

Article XVI Eminent Domain

Section 16.1. Complete condemnation. If, during the term of this lease, the Demised Premises are completely taken by a public or private authority under its power of eminent domain, this lease shall terminate as of the date of taking. In that event, Tenant may continue to occupy the Demised Premises, subject to the terms of this lease, for all or any part of the period between the date of taking and the date when the condemning authority takes possession, and all unearned rent and other charges paid in advance shall be refunded to Tenant. If required, Tenant shall procure from the applicable governmental authority, at Tenant's expense, all necessary consents and authorizations to continue to occupy the Demised Premises from and after the date of taking.

Section 16.2. Partial condemnation. If, during the term of this lease, the Demised Premises are partly taken, as described below, by a public or private authority under its power of eminent domain, Tenant may terminate this lease. A partial condemnation, for this purpose, shall include a taking that results in one of the following:

- (a) The reduction of the ground floor area of the building on the Demised Premises by more than 15 percent; or
- (b) The reduction of the parking area shown within the area outlined in green on Exhibit "A" by 15 percent or more.

In either event, Tenant may terminate this lease by giving Landlord notice of its election to do so within 20 days of the date notice is given to Tenant of the taking (or purchase). In that event the term of this lease shall terminate as of the last day of the calendar month in which Tenant gives notice of its election to terminate, and all unearned rent and other charges paid in advance shall be refunded to it. Notwithstanding (b), above, any termination rights granted herein to Tenant shall be null and void if Landlord supplies additional parking (including parking area made available by cross-easements) on contiguous property or constructs parking area contiguous to existing parking area, which together with the remaining parking area after the taking, is equal to at least 85 percent of all such parking areas before the taking.

Section 16.3. Rent adjustment. If Tenant does not exercise its right to terminate, or if Landlord constructs additional parking, this lease shall continue in full force and effect. In that event, Landlord shall, at its expense, immediately restore any remaining portion of the Demised Premises including all improvements previously made, the parking areas, and the Demised Premises, to substantially their same condition before the taking. (The scope of Landlord's work, however, shall be limited to its original work in constructing the Demised Premises, and its cost shall be limited to the net available proceeds available to it.) Moreover, a just proportion of the minimum rent reserved in Section 4.1 of Article IV, and all other charges payable by Tenant under this lease, according to the nature and extent of the injury to the Demised Premises and Tenant's business, shall be suspended or abated until the remaining portion of the Demised Premises and the parking areas are restored as provided above. Thereafter, a just proportion of minimum rent and all such other charges, according to the nature and extent of the taking and resulting injury to the Demised Premises and Tenant's business shall be permanently abated for the balance of the term of this lease. In computing the amount of proportionate rent reduction as herein provided, due consideration shall be given to the value of the portion of the floor area so taken in condemnation with relation to the remaining floor area insofar as its use for Tenant's business is concerned, and to the effect of such taking on Tenant's business, and the amount of parking area and the value of what remains insofar as its use for Tenant's business is concerned.

16.4. Minimum rent; mortgage payments. Rent reduction shall not exceed the amount of any reduction in the constant monthly payments then payable under any Mortgage resulting from the holder's recasting of the payments upon the application of all or any portion of the proceeds of the taking to the entire or partial prepayment of the Mortgage. Notwithstanding the above (but only during the initial term or any extensions of this lease which are within the original term of the Mortgage), if any Mortgage holder refuses to recast the then payable constant monthly Mortgage payments to the extent of any application by it of the proceeds of any taking to repayment of the Mortgage principal due, then, in that event only, when the proceeds are applied to fully prepay the Mortgage before its normal payment date, Tenant shall, during the remaining period of this lease (including any extensions of it during the period before the Mortgage should have been fully paid according to its terms), be entitled to a monthly reduction in the basic monthly rent due hereunder. The monthly reduction shall equal the lesser of:

- (a) The constant monthly payments of principal and interest which would otherwise have been normally payable to the holder for the remaining period of the Mortgage; or
- (b) The reduction in annual minimum rental provided for in Section 16.3, subject to this Section, together with interest thereon from the date of the physical reduction of the Demised Premises at the then per annum prime rate of CitiBank, State and City of New York.

Section 16.5. Condemnation award. All damages awarded for a taking under the power of eminent domain as provided in this Article XVI, whether for the whole or a part of the Demised Premises, and whether as compensation for diminution in value to the leasehold or to the fee of the Demised Premises, shall belong to and be the property of Landlord. Tenant may file a claim and prove, collect, and retain all damages awarded for its fixtures and all leasehold improvements made by Tenant at its expense, to the extent that the improvements are not replacements or substitutions of prior improvements made by Landlord at its expense. Tenant shall be entitled to all awards recoverable from the condemning authority for damage to its business conducted in the Demised Premises, and to all damages suffered by it as a result of the partial or complete cancellation of this lease, and moving expenses, which are compensable by the condemning authority. Neither award shall reduce or affect the award payable to Landlord or the Lessor under the Ground Lease. However, the damage or claims by Tenant shall not include a claim by it for the value of the unexpired term of this lease.

Article XVII Defaults

Section 17.1. Default and termination. This lease shall wholly terminate if any one or more of the following defaults or events occur:

(a) If Tenant defaults in the payment of all or part of the rent reserved herein or any item of additional rent mentioned herein, or in making any other payment provided herein, and the default continues for more than 15 days after Landlord gives Tenant written notice specifying the default;

(b) If Tenant defaults in the observance of any other term, covenant, or condition of this lease and the default continues for more than 30 days after Landlord gives written notice specifying the default; if this lease passes to or devolves upon a person other than Tenant (other than by merger or consolidation, except as provided herein); or if the entire Demised Premises are occupied by a person other than Tenant, or its successors, assigns, licensees, or sublessees (except as provided herein); or

(c) If Tenant makes any assignment for the benefit of creditors, files a voluntary petition in bankruptcy, is adjudicated a bankrupt by any court, or voluntarily or involuntarily takes the benefit of any insolvency act or is dissolved under it; or if a receiver or Trustee of Tenant and/or its property is appointed in any non-bankruptcy proceeding and the appointment, petition for an arrangement, or reorganization, if made in proceedings instituted by Tenant, is not vacated within 30 days after it is made, or if made in proceedings instituted by any other person, is not vacated within 120 days after it is made (if during the respective 30-day and 120-day periods Tenant continues to perform all its covenants under this lease, including the payment of rent).

Upon the happening of any one or more of the above defaults or events, this lease and the term hereof shall, upon a date specified by Landlord to Tenant in a notice by registered or certified mail, wholly cease and terminate with the same force and effect as if the date so specified were the date set forth above as the date of the expiration of the original term of this lease. At that or any later time, Landlord may re-enter the Demised Premises by force or otherwise, and have the same possession as of its former estate, and may recover possession thereof in the manner prescribed by the statute governing summary proceedings, or similar statutes (but Tenant shall remain liable to Landlord as provided below). Landlord may recover such possession without having to make any demand for the rent, any re-entry for condition broken, or any notice to quit possession or other notice prescribed by statute, and Tenant expressly waives all rights to any such demand, re-entry, or notice to quit possession or other statutory notices or prerequisites.

17.2. Cure of default. Tenant's failure to observe any term, covenant, or condition of the lease other than the payment of rent shall not be deemed a default within the meaning of Section 17.1 of Article XVII, so long as Tenant, after receiving any notice as specified herein, proceeds to cure the default as soon as reasonably possible and continues to take all steps necessary to complete the curing of such default within a reasonable period of time under all prevailing circumstances. No default shall be deemed to continue if and so long as Tenant proceeds to cure it in good faith or is delayed in or prevented from curing it by facts or circumstances beyond Tenant's control.

Section 17.3. Reletting, deficiency. In case of such re-entry, termination of lease, and/or dispossession by summary proceedings or otherwise:

(a) The rent shall become due thereupon and be paid up to the time of re-entry, dispossession, and/or termination of lease, together with all reasonable expenses Landlord may incur for legal expenses, attorneys' fees, brokerage, and putting the Demised Premises in such condition as the Tenant under the provisions hereof is required to maintain, or for preparing the same for re-rental;

(b) Landlord may re-let all or any part of the Demised Premises, either in its name or otherwise, for a term or terms which may at its option be less than or exceed the period which would otherwise have constituted the balance of the term of this lease and may grant concession or free rent if reasonably required; and

(c) Tenant or its legal representatives shall also pay Landlord as liquidated damages for Tenant's failure to perform, any deficiency between the rent hereby reserved and/or covenanted to be paid and the net amount, if any, of the rents collected on account of the lease or leases of the Demised Premises for each month of the period which would otherwise have constituted the balance of this lease term. In computing the liquidated damages there shall be added to the deficiency all expenses incurred by Landlord in connection with re-letting, such as legal expenses, attorneys' fees, and brokerage, in preparing the Demised Premises for re-letting, and for keeping them in the same condition as is required of Tenant. Tenant shall pay all liquidated damages in monthly installments on the rent day specified in this lease. Any suit brought to collect a deficiency for any month shall not prejudice in any way Landlord's rights to collect the deficiency for any subsequent month by a similar proceeding. Landlord may make all alterations, repairs, replacements, and decorations in the Demised Premises that it reasonably considers advisable and necessary for the purpose of re-letting them, and the making of any alteration or decoration shall not operate or be construed to release Tenant from its above liability. Landlord shall not be liable in any way for failure to re-let the Demised Premises, or, if they are re-let, for failure to collect the rent under the re-letting, subject to the provisions of Section 18.19 of Article XVIII.

Section 17.4. Cumulative remedies; waiver of redemption. Mention in this lease of any particular remedy shall not preclude Landlord from any other remedy, in law or in equity. Tenant hereby expressly waives all rights of redemption granted by or under any present or future law if it is lawfully evicted or dispossessed for any cause provided herein or if Landlord lawfully obtains possession of the Demised Premises as provided herein, by reason of Tenant's violation of any covenant or condition of this lease.

Section 17.5. Insolvency. If this lease is terminated under Section 17.1(c), Landlord may immediately (notwithstanding any other provision of this lease) recover from Tenant, as liquidated damages, in lieu of the liquidated damages provided for in Section 17.3, and in addition to any unpaid rent and additional rent accrued to the date of termination, the difference, for the unexpired portion of the lease term, between the rent and additional rent reserved hereunder and the then fair and reasonable rental value of the Demised Premises, both discounted at the rate of 8 percent per annum to present worth. However, nothing contained herein shall limit or prejudice Landlord's right to prove for and obtain as liquidated damages by reason of the termination the maximum amount then allowed by any applicable statute or rule of law, regardless of whether that amount is greater, equal to, or less than the difference referred to above. The rental realized by any re-letting, if it is accomplished within a reasonable time after termination of this lease, shall be deemed prima facie to be the rental value of the Demised Premises.

Article XVIII Miscellaneous Provisions

Section 18.1. Subordination. Tenant shall, upon Landlord's written request, subordinate this lease to the lien of any present or future first Mortgage (as defined above) upon the Demised Premises regardless of when the lien is executed or the first Mortgage is recorded, if the Mortgage holder enters into a written agreement with Tenant to the effect that:

- (a) If the holder takes foreclosure or other action under the Mortgage, this lease and Tenant's rights under it shall not be disturbed, but they shall continue in full force and effect so long as this lease is not terminated by Landlord by reason of Tenant's default;
- (b) The holder shall permit insurance proceeds to be used for any restoration and repair required by the provisions of Article XV; and
- (c) The holder shall agree that if it or any successor or assign is in possession of the Demised Premises, so long as Tenant observes and performs all of its obligations under this lease, the mortgagee will perform all of Landlord's obligations under this lease.

Section 18.2. Cure of default; reimbursement. If Landlord or Tenant defaults in the performance or observance of any agreement, condition, or other provision in this lease, and does not cure the default within the notice period provided for under the applicable lease provisions, or if no notice is provided for within 30 days after the other party gives notice specifying the default (or does not within that period commence to cure the default and thereafter prosecute its curing, to completion with due diligence), either party may, without waiving any claim for breach of agreement, at any time thereafter cure the default for the account of the defaulting party. In that case, the defaulting party shall reimburse the other for any amount paid and any expense or contractual liability so incurred. Tenant may deduct any such amount due it from the next rental payments accruing if it simultaneously notifies the holder of any Mortgage of which it had written notification that a default existed, and Landlord may add any such amount due it to the next rental payment accruing. However, Landlord or Tenant may cure any default before the expiration of the waiting period, but after notice to the other party, if necessary to protect the real estate or their respective interests therein or to prevent injury or damage to persons or property.

Section 18.3. Quiet enjoyment. If Tenant pays the rent and observes and performs all of its terms, covenants, and conditions under this lease, Tenant may peaceably and quietly have, hold, occupy, and enjoy the Demised Premises, including the common facilities, without hindrance or molestation. This covenant and all other covenants of Landlord under this lease shall be binding upon Landlord and its successors or assigns only with respect to breaches occurring during its and their respective ownership of Landlord's interest hereunder, and only if the successor or assign assumes Landlord's obligations under this lease when it acquires Landlord's interest. The aggregate personal liability of Landlord, and its successors and assigns, under this Section and all other provisions of this lease shall be limited to its equity in the premises of which the Demised Premises form a part. This limitation shall run in favor of the members of Landlord as individuals or either of them, who succeed to the interests of Landlord after its liquidation and dissolution and to their heirs, representatives, successors, and assigns.

Section 18.4. Landlord's title. Landlord is not the owner of the fee interest in the Demised Premises. Rather, it has acquired a leasehold interest in a larger premises of which the Demised Premises forms a part by virtue of a certain Indenture of Lease dated [date], between Stanley Baker and Harriet Baker, his wife, as Landlord, and the Landlord under this lease, as tenant under the Indenture of Lease. A short form of the Ground Lease was recorded in the Office of the Recorder of Polk County, Iowa, on [date], in Book 2395, Page 953, as Instrument No. 22883. Accordingly, this lease is a sublease and the demise under it is a portion of Landlord's leasehold interest under the Ground Lease. Tenant accepts such demise with reference to all of the terms, covenants, and conditions of the Ground Lease and to all of its extensions, renewals, and amendments. Further, Tenant has examined the Ground Lease and is fully familiar with all its provisions. Also, Tenant is entering into the lease with full knowledge of the state and condition of the lessor's fee interest under the Ground Lease as disclosed in a title report received by Tenant. Both parties have entered into this lease in reliance upon the acknowledgments, agreements, representations, and indemnities contained in it. Landlord has full right and authority to enter into the Ground Lease for the full term thereof, and also to perform its obligations under this lease for the full term and all extensions provided herein. The Ground Lease is in full force and effect and in good standing, and Landlord has a good leasehold estate in the Demised Premises by virtue of the Ground Lease (subject, however, to all exceptions and other title defects set forth in the Ground Lease and title report delivered to Tenant) for the term and all extensions set forth therein. This lease shall be a first lien on the Demised Premises, subject only to any mortgage to which this lease may be subordinated (as provided above) and the Ground Lease. Subject to such state of the title, Landlord may execute this lease for the term, in the manner, and upon the conditions and provisions contained herein. There is no legal impediment to prevent the Demised Premises from being used as a department store building. The Demised Premises is zoned for retail purposes by valid and binding decision of appropriate authorities, or is available for that use, together with the parking of motor vehicles associated therewith.

Section 18.5. Lease termination. Upon the expiration or termination of this lease, Tenant shall remove all of its property. If it fails to do so, Landlord may cause the removal at Tenant's expense, and Tenant shall pay all reasonably necessary expenses incurred by the removal. If, as the sole result of the removal, any portion of the Demised Premises or of the building of which it is a part is damaged, Tenant shall pay to Landlord the reasonable cost of repairs unless due to negligence of Landlord, or its agents, servants, employees, or contractors. Tenant's obligation to observe or perform this covenant shall survive the expiration or other termination of this lease term. If Tenant continues in occupancy of the Demised Premises after the term expires, the occupancy shall not be deemed to extend or renew this lease term. Rather,

Tenant shall be deemed to be occupying the Demised Premises as a tenant from month to month, subject to all the covenants, provisions, and conditions of this lease applicable to a month-to-month tenancy, at the rental in effect during the last lease year of the term, prorated and payable for the period of the occupancy.

Section 18.6. Non-waiver. Failure of one party to complain of any act or omission by the other, no matter how long the act or omission continues, shall not be deemed a waiver by the party of any right under this lease. No express or implied waiver by either party, at any time, of a breach of any provision of this lease shall be deemed a waiver of a breach of any other provision or a consent to a subsequent breach of the same or other provision. If an action by either party requires consent or approval on any one occasion, this shall not be deemed a consent to or approval of the action on any subsequent occasion or of any other action on the same or a subsequent occasion. All rights and remedies which either party may have under this lease or by operation of law, at law or in equity, upon a breach, shall be distinct, separate, and cumulative, and shall not be deemed inconsistent with each other. No one remedy, regardless of whether it is exercised by a party, shall be deemed to exclude any other. Any two or more of the rights and remedies may be exercised simultaneously.

Section 18.7. Disputes. If, at any time, a dispute arises as to the amount of money either party must pay to the other under this lease, the party against whom the obligation is asserted (the "paying party") may make payment "under protest." In that case, the payment shall not be regarded as voluntary, and the paying party may institute suit for its recovery. If it is later adjudged that the paying party had no obligation to make the payment or any part thereof, such party may recover the payment or portion. If, at any time, a dispute arises between the parties as to the work to be performed by either under this lease, the party against whom the claim is asserted (the "performing party") may perform the work and pay the cost "under protest." In that case, the performance of the work shall not be regarded as voluntary, and the performing party may institute suit for recovery of the cost. If it is later adjudged that the performing party had no obligation to perform the work or any part thereof, the party may recover the entire or partial cost. In any case, Tenant may withhold or deduct its payment from any rent reserved herein.

Section 18.8. Emergency repairs. Notwithstanding any contrary provision herein, if the lease requires Landlord to make repairs promptly, Tenant may proceed immediately to have the repairs made and pay their cost. In that case, Landlord shall, on Tenant's demand, reimburse it for the cost. If no payment is made to Tenant within 30 days after it gives written notice to Landlord and a copy thereof is simultaneously given to the holder of any first Mortgage (provided that the holder gives Tenant written notice of its interest as holder and the address for sending a copy of the notice), Tenant may deduct its cost from present or future rent. If Tenant does not make the repairs, it shall promptly notify Landlord of the need for repairs. Notwithstanding the above, Tenant shall use its best efforts to notify Landlord of the need for emergency repairs, by telephone, telegraph, or any other available means. In any event, Tenant shall notify Landlord, as soon as possible after the repairs are made, of the fact that they were made, as well as of their nature, their cost, and the reason for making them.

Section 18.9. Landlord's defaults. If Landlord fails, refuses, or neglects to pay any rent, taxes, assessments, or other charges that are not Tenant's obligation under this lease, or any Mortgage, lien, or encumbrance the judicial sale of which might affect Tenant's interest hereunder, or to pay the interest due or payable on the Mortgage, lien, or encumbrance, and if Landlord fails to pay or arrange for deferment of the rent and charges within ten days after Tenant gives written notice to it of nonpayment, Tenant may pay the above items or perform the above conditions in accordance with the provisions of Section 18.2. In that case, Tenant may charge the payments to Landlord and withhold them from any rent reserved herein, and Landlord shall pay to Tenant the amount by which Tenant's payments exceed the reserved rent.

Notwithstanding any contrary provision in this Section or elsewhere in this lease, Landlord's failure at any time to make a payment of a Mortgage or the note secured by it shall not be a default under this lease. Tenant shall have no rights with reference to the failure except the specific right set forth in this Section to pay the Mortgage or note and to withhold and deduct the payment from any rent reserved herein.

Section 18.10. Notices. All notices and other communications authorized or required under this lease shall be in writing and given by mailing them by certified or registered mail, postage prepaid. The notice or other communication shall be deemed to be given when received by the party to whom it is addressed. If intended for Landlord, it shall be mailed to 320 Park Avenue, Suite 2160, New York, New York 10017, or at any other address Landlord designates by notice to Tenant; and if intended for Tenant, it shall be mailed to 540 Madison Avenue, Suite 1205, New York, New York 10017, or any other address Tenant designates by notice to Landlord. Any notice of default shall specify the nature of the default.

Section 18.11. Partial validity. If any term or provision of this lease or its application to any person or circumstance is, to any extent, invalid or unenforceable, the remainder of the lease or of the application to other persons or circumstances shall not be affected thereby, and each term and provision shall be valid and enforced to the fullest extent permitted by law.

Section 18.12. Headings; definitions. The headings in this lease are for convenience and reference only. They are not a part of this lease and do not in any way limit or amplify its terms and provisions.

The term "building," whenever used in this lease, is intended to include any building or structure that is now or that may later be erected on the Demised Premises or on the premises of which the Demised Premises are a part.

The term "Landlord," subject to the provisions of Section 18.3, and the pronouns referred thereto, shall mean, when the context so admits or requires, the persons, firm, or corporation named herein as Landlord, and the holder of the Mortgage then in possession of the land and building demised herein. If there is more than one landlord, Landlord's covenants shall be the joint and several obligations of each. If Landlord is a partnership, its covenants shall be the joint and several obligations of each partner and the obligations of the firm. Any pronoun shall be read in the singular or plural number and in the gender required by the context. If there is an underlying lease of the entire Shopping Center (or an underlying lease or leases of part or parts of the Shopping Center to or from the fee owner of the balance thereof), the lessee under that lease, if it is liable for the performance of Landlord's obligations under this lease, shall be deemed the "Landlord," and not the owner or owners in fee of the Shopping Center or portions thereof covered by the underlying lease or leases.

Section 18.13. Entire agreement. This instrument contains the entire and only agreement between the parties respecting its subject matter. No oral statements or representations, or prior written matter not contained herein, shall have any force or effect. This instrument shall not be modified in any way except by the parties' written agreement.

Section 18.14. Short form of lease. The parties shall, concurrently with the execution of this lease, execute a short form lease for recording. This lease and the short form shall be construed together as one instrument.

Section 18.15. Force majeure. Neither party shall be liable for failure to furnish a service or perform a repair that is required of it during the term of this lease when it is so prevented by any cause beyond its reasonable control, such as strike, lockout, breakdown, accident, or order of or regulation by any governmental authority. Moreover, neither party shall be liable because of the following: its inability, due to failure of supply or, despite the exercise of reasonable diligence, for any other cause, to obtain the necessary supplies, parts, or employees for furnishing the services; war or other emergency; or for any other cause due to any act or neglect of the other party or of its servants, agents, employees, assignees, sublessees, or successors in interest. The time for performing the services or repairs shall be extended for a period equal to the delay from such cause.

Section 18.16. Waiver of trial by jury. Landlord and Tenant shall waive trial by jury in any action, proceeding, or counterclaim brought by one against the other, or any matters arising out of or in any way connected with this lease, the relationship of Landlord and Tenant, Tenant's use or occupancy of the Demised Premises, or any claim of injury or damage.

Section 18.17. Taxes and utility expenses. (a) (1) Tenant shall, during the term of this lease, pay and discharge punctually, as additional rent, as and when it becomes due and payable, prior to the imposition of any penalty, its pro rata share (as defined in Section 6.2(a)) of the following items: all taxes, including special, area, and general assessments, water rents, and rates and charges of every kind and nature, whether ordinary or extraordinary ("Taxes"); all installments that are charged, levied, laid, assessed, imposed, and become due and payable; liens upon, for, or with respect to the Shopping Center or any part of it, or buildings, appurtenances, and equipment thereon or therein, or part thereof, together with interest thereon, under or by virtue of all present or future federal, state, and local laws, ordinances, requirements, orders, directives, rules, and regulations (all of which shall also be included in the term "taxes," as defined above); and all water rents, rates and charges, sewer rents, and charges for water, steam, gas, hot water, electricity, light and power, and other services furnished to the Demised Premises or the occupants during this lease term ("Utility Expenses").

(2) To the extent permitted by law, Tenant may pay any assessment for improvements assessed during the term of this lease in annual installments, and it shall pay and discharge the installments punctually as they become due and payable during the term.

(3) Tenant shall be deemed to have complied with the above provisions if it pays the Taxes either within any period allowed by law or by the imposing governmental authority for making payment without penalty or interest or before the Taxes become a lien on the Demised Premises, and it produces satisfactory evidence of the payment to Landlord upon Landlord's written request.

(4) Taxes due and payable in the year in which this lease commences or terminates shall be apportioned at the date they are determined, regardless of whether the Taxes have become liens upon the Demised Premises.

(b) (1) Tenant may contest or review all Taxes by legal proceedings or in any other manner it deems suitable. If Tenant institutes proceedings, it shall conduct them promptly at its expense, and, if necessary, in the name of and with the cooperation of Landlord, and Landlord shall execute all necessary documents to accomplish the above. Notwithstanding the above, Tenant shall promptly pay all required Taxes, but it may do so under protest.

(2) The legal proceedings referred to in the preceding paragraph (1) shall include appropriate certiorari proceedings, appeals from orders therein, and appeals from all judgments, decrees, or orders.

(c) All refunds or rebates on account of the Taxes paid by Tenant under the provisions of this lease shall belong to it. All refunds received by Landlord shall be deemed trust funds and as such shall be received by it in trust and immediately paid to Tenant. Landlord shall, at Tenant's request, sign all necessary receipts to secure the payment of any refund or rebate, and pay over to Tenant any refund or rebate it receives. Landlord shall, at Tenant's request at any one or more time but at Tenant's expense, make application, individually (if legally required), or join in Tenant's application (if legally required), for separate tax assessments for all portions of the Demised Premises that Tenant at any one or more time designates. However, the above shall not relieve Tenant of its obligations to pay the required Taxes and assessments.

(d) Nothing contained in this lease shall require or be construed to require Tenant to pay any inheritance, estate, succession, transfer, gift, franchise, income, or profit tax that is or may be imposed upon Landlord or its successors or assigns.

Section 18.18. Estoppel certificate. Each party shall, at any one or more times, upon not less than ten days' prior request by the other, execute, acknowledge, and deliver to it a written statement certifying the following: that this lease and/or the Ground Lease is unmodified and in full force and effect (or if there have been modifications, stating them and that the lease or Ground Lease as modified is in full force and effect); and that, if the lease or Ground Lease is in fact unmodified, there are no known defaults under either, or, if there are defaults, specifying them and all offsets, counterclaims, and defenses being claimed and the dates to which the rent and other charges have been paid. It is intended that any such statement delivered under this Article may be relied upon by all prospective purchasers of Landlord's interest in the Demised Premises or of a Mortgage, and by all other properly interested parties. However, the execution, acknowledgment, and delivery of the statement shall not affect any claim or right of action of the party executing, acknowledging, or delivering it as against the other party or any other person, firm, or corporation, and the statement may contain a reservation that the claim or right of action is not waived or released thereby.

Section 18.19. Mitigation of damages. Notwithstanding any contrary term or provision above, Landlord and Tenant shall each have the obligation to mitigate, in every reasonable manner, all damages that may or shall be caused or suffered by virtue of the other's defaults under or violation of any term or provision of this lease.

Section 18.20. Governing law. This lease shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of Iowa.

Section 18.21. Binding effect. Except as otherwise provided above, the provisions of this lease shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of both parties and their respective heirs, executors, administrators, successors, and assigns.

Section 18.22. Counterparts. This lease may be executed in two or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF the parties have set their hands and seal as of the day and year first written above.

FORM 23.06 Shopping center lease

COMMENT

A shopping center lease provides not only (1) for the lease of store space by a tenant from a landlord, but also (2) for the use of common facilities with other tenants and customers, as well as (3) for the rules regulating the relationship among the tenants and the landlord for the success of their cooperative merchandising venture. Another significant factor affecting the shopping center lease is the prospective assignment of the lease as additional collateral security for the landlord's mortgage lender. The realities of the bargaining powers of the tenants vis-a-vis the landlord will also affect the shopping center lease. A large desirable department store, which would draw a large number of customers will be better able to obtain concessions from the shopping center owner than will a smaller "satellite" or "line" tenant.

Minimum and percentage rent:

Shopping center leases, as many store leases, generally require the tenant to pay not only a monthly installment of rent, in a minimum amount, but in addition, a percentage rental. The percentage rental is generally based on gross sales from the tenant's premises, and may be adjusted by subtracting the minimum rental, returned merchandise, credits, or similar items. Clear delineation of what amounts received by the tenant are included in "gross sales" is advisable. For example, gross sales may not include:

-- delivery and installation charges

- mail order or catalogue purchases
- finance charges on credit sales
- sales, use or excise taxes
- receipts from vending machine, snack bar, or amusement devices installed for the tenant's employees sole use
- internet sales, unless somehow specifically traceable to the premises

Common areas:

Common areas in a shopping center generally include the malls, promenades, parking facilities, loading docks and area, landscaping and similar areas. A tenant should receive a right to the use of and access to common areas as an appurtenance to the lease.

Regulation of the use of the common elements is usually a right reserved by the landlord. This provides for uniformity for all tenants. Such regulations would include matters such as prohibition against "sidewalk" sales by tenants and restrictions of parking by tenant employees to areas further away from the shopping center.

Although maintenance of the common areas is most often the landlord's responsibility, the common area maintenance costs are generally shared proportionately among tenants and the owner. Maintenance may include the landlord's overhead and management expenses, as well as depreciation of maintenance equipment and overall insurance premiums.

Merchants' association:

A merchants association is a useful organization for considering planning, promotional, and operating functions within the shopping center. Tenant voting rights and the method of membership fee assessment are points to consider here.

Use restrictions and exclusives:

Use restrictions in a shopping center lease requires extreme care. Not only does a landlord seek a good tenant mix by carefully defining each tenant's use, but he must also avoid breach of "exclusives" or clauses barring competing product lines contained in other tenant leases. This can be a problem area. Rather than entering into a lease prohibiting another tenant from selling, for example, men's hats, a landlord may avoid future problems by agreeing not to lease to a tenant whose main business is selling men's hats, or even men's clothing.

Restrictions against competition:

In addition to tenant leases containing "exclusives" (whereby the landlord agrees not to lease to a tenant selling the same product as, or engaged in a business similar to, the subject tenant), a lease may also restrict a tenant from opening a store within a specified radius of the shopping center. If a tenant, prior to entering the shopping center lease, already maintains a store within the proposed radius, he should seek a specific exception. Such restrictions are aimed at preventing the diversion of business from the shopping center and diminishing the amount of the landlord's percentage rent.

Any restriction which involves restraints on trade should not be so strict as to be in violation of the federal or local anti-trust laws. A review of the current state of the anti-trust law should be made to avoid violation and insure enforceability.

Store hours:

A landlord, as well as most tenants, seeks to keep the shopping center in continuous operation, six to seven days a week including evenings. Many leases may therefore contain a clause requiring the tenant to be open at specified times or at such times as may be set by the merchants' association.

Signs:

In the interest of overall appearance of the shopping center, a landlord will generally retain control over the design and appearance of individual tenant signs. Usually a tenant and landlord should agree on both interior and exterior sign design and appearance before signing the lease.

Mortgage lender protection:

If a tenant enters and records its lease prior to the recording of the landlord's mortgage, the lease will not be subject, generally, to termination by foreclosure. A lender, on the other hand, may be restricted by government regulation to first lien priority on its loans. A tenant does not usually want to lose its lease because of a foreclosure against a landlord. A resolution of this conflict is found in this lease. In exchange for subordination of its lease to the mortgage, the tenant should receive a side agreement from the mortgage lender to honor the lease (despite the landlord's default in the mortgage) so long as the tenant is not in default under the lease, i.e., a nondisturbance agreement.

Mortgage lenders who maintain a substantial interest in upholding the value of the shopping center as a whole by assuring a steady flow of rental income, disfavor, generally, certain types of clauses. Included would be a clause giving the tenant the right to repair defects which the landlord failed to repair, and deduct the cost of such repairs from rent and a clause giving the tenant the right to terminate for breach of its "exclusive" right to sell a particular item or line.

THIS LEASE is entered into on [date], by and between the Landlord and the Tenant named below.

Article I Definitions and Contract Basic Provisions

1.1. Definitions.

- (a) "Landlord:" Center Associates, a Texas Limited Partnership.
- (b) Landlord's address: 1020 Marshall Tower, Dallas, Texas
- (c) "Tenant:" Big Star Clothes, Inc., a Texas corporation.
- (d) Tenant's address: 224 King's Court, Center, Dallas, Texas.
- (e) Tenant's trade name: Big Star Clothes Store.
- (f) "Agent:" Marshall Real Estate Company, 1020 Marshall Tower, Dallas, Texas.
- (g) "Cooperating Agent:" Lone Star Country Real Estate, Inc.

(h) "Demised Premises:" King's Court Shopping Center (the "Shopping Center") in the City of Dallas, Dallas County, Texas. The store is approximately 9,198 square feet in area (outlined in red on Exhibit A attached hereto and made a part hereof) measured to the exterior of outside walls and to the center of interior walls, and the premises are known as 224 King's Court Center.

(i) Lease term: Commencing on [date], except as may be modified by exhibits which will be attached to this lease if a building is to be constructed for Tenant (the "Commencement Date"), and continuing for ten years. However, if the Commencement Date is not the first day of a calendar month, the 10-year lease term shall be extended by adding the remainder of the calendar month following the Commencement Date.

(j) Minimum guaranteed rental: Minimum guaranteed rental shall be $1,336.29 per month during the first five years of the term hereof. Minimum guaranteed rental during the second five years of the term shall be $1,336.29 per month adjusted by the percentage increase in the Consumer Price Index for the last full month of the first five years of the term as compared to the last full month prior to the Commencement Date. The term "Consumer Price Index" shall, for the purpose of this lease, be the "Consumer Price Index for all Urban Consumers" specified for "All Items," (United States City Average, 1967 + 100) and issued by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the United States Department of Labor. If the price index is in the future compiled upon a different basis, a proper adjustment shall be made therein, for the purposes of this paragraph, to reflect the change in the cost of living that has occurred since the date of this lease. If, at the time of the computation, the United States Department of Labor no longer compiles and publishes a price index, the index for "All Items" compiled and published by any other branch or department of the federal government shall be used for the purpose of this paragraph. If there is no such index, the basis for the adjustments shall be the statistics reflecting cost of living increases as compiled by any institution, organization, or individual generally recognized as an authority by financial and insurance institutions. The minimum guaranteed rental during the second five years of the lease term shall not be less than that during the first five years.

(k) Percentage rental rate: 21/2 percent of all gross sales over $400,000 per year.

(l) Common area maintenance charge: A minimum of $268.28 per month, payable in advance.

(m) Prepaid rental: $_____ as rent for the _____ month(s) of the lease term.

(n) Security deposit: $_____

(o) Permitted use: Operation of a men's, women's, boys' and girls' department or specialty store.

1.2. Interpretation. Each of the above definitions and basic provisions shall be construed in conjunction with and limited to the references thereto in the other provisions of this lease.

Article II Granting Clause

2.1. In consideration of Tenant's obligation to pay rent and of the other terms, covenants, and conditions hereof, Landlord leases to Tenant, and Tenant takes from Landlord, the Demised Premises as described in Section 1.1(h), TO HAVE AND TO HOLD the premises for the lease term specified in Section 1.1(i), all upon the terms and conditions set forth in this lease. If Tenant performs all of its covenants and agreements herein, it shall, subject to the terms of this lease, at all times during the continuance thereof, have peaceful and quiet possession of the Demised Premises. [NOTE: If this lease provides for construction prior to occupancy, refer to the appropriate exhibits attached hereto. In such case Article II shall be deemed modified to the extent inconsistent with such exhibits.]

Article III Construction and Acceptance of Premises

3.1. Occupancy deemed compliance. By occupying the Demised Premises, Tenant shall be deemed to have accepted them and to have acknowledged that they comply fully with Landlord's covenants and obligations hereunder.

3.2. Holdover of prior tenant. If this lease is executed before the Demised Premises become vacant, or if any present tenant or occupant of the premises holds over, the Landlord cannot acquire possession of the Demised Premises before the Commencement Date (as defined in Section 1.1(i)), it shall not be deemed to be in default under the lease, and Tenant shall accept possession of the Demised Premises whenever Landlord is able to tender them. Landlord waives the payment of rent covering any period before possession is tendered to Tenant.

3.3. Recordable lease memorandum. Landlord and Tenant, at either's request, shall execute and deliver a short form lease in recordable form containing the basic provision of this agreement, acknowledging that Tenant has accepted possession and reciting the exact Commencement Date and termination date of this lease.

Article IV Rent

4.1. Payment of rent. Rental shall accrue hereunder from the Commencement Date, and shall be payable to Landlord in care of Agent at the address specified in Section 1.1(f).

4.2. Minimum rent. Tenant shall pay to Landlord minimum guaranteed rental in monthly installments in the amounts specified in Section 1.1(j). The first monthly installment shall be due and payable on or before the Commencement Date, and subsequent installments shall be due and payable on or before the first day of each succeeding calendar month during the demised term. However, if the Commencement Date is not the first day of a calendar month, Tenant shall, on or before that date, pay as minimum guaranteed rental for the balance of that month a percentage of the rent specified for the first full calendar month. This percentage shall be determined by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of days from the Commencement Date to the end of the calendar month within which that date falls, and the denominator of which is the total number of days in the month.

4.3. Percentage rent. (a) In addition to the minimum guaranteed rental, Tenant shall pay to Landlord, for each year during the term of this lease, percentage rental determined by (i) multiplying the total gross sales made in or from the Demised Premises during the particular calendar year by the percentage rental rate stated in Section 1.1(k), and (ii) subtracting from the resulting product the minimum guaranteed rental paid by Tenant to Landlord for the calendar year. The percentage rental shall be paid in monthly installments as follows: On or before the 10th day of each calendar month during the term of this lease, Tenant shall pay to Landlord, after deducting therefrom the minimum guaranteed rental paid for the preceding calendar month, an amount equal to the product of the specified percentage rental rate multiplied by the total gross sales made in or from the Demised Premises during that month. If the total monthly payments of percentage rental for any calendar year do not equal the annual percentage rental computed on the amount of gross sales for the calendar year in accordance with the specified rate, Tenant shall pay the deficiency to Landlord, or Landlord shall refund the overpayment to Tenant, as the case may be, within 60 days after the end of the calendar year. The rent to be paid by Tenant and retained by Landlord for any calendar year shall not be less than the annual minimum guaranteed rental specified above.

(b) If the designation of a percentage rental rate in Section 1.1(k) includes a breakpoint of gross sales (e.g., "5 percent of gross sales over $100,000"), then: (a) subsection (ii) in the first sentence of this Section 4.3 shall be deemed to have been deleted and all other formula references in this Article IV adjusted accordingly, (b) the breakpoint shall be divided by 12 for purposes of computing monthly percentage rental installments in the second sentence of Section 4.3, and (c) during all periods when minimum guaranteed rentals are reduced (e.g., under Section 15.4 or Section 16.2) the breakpoint shall be reduced proportionately.

4.4. Partial calendar years. If this lease commences on a date other than the first day of a calendar year or terminates on a date other than the last day of a calendar year, percentage rental for the fractional part of the calendar year following the Commencement Date or preceding the termination date, as the case may be, shall be paid at the specified rate for all sales made during the fractional part that, after deducting from the percentage rental all payments of minimum guaranteed rental for the fractional period. The percentage rental shall be paid in monthly installments as provided above with respect to full calendar years.

4.5. Gross sales. The term "gross sales" as used herein shall be construed to include the entire amount of the sales price whether for cash or otherwise, of all sales of merchandise (including gift and merchandise certificates), services and other receipts whatsoever of all business conducted in or from the Demised Premises, including internet, mail or telephone orders received or filled at the Demised Premises, deposits not refunded to purchasers, orders taken (even if they are filled elsewhere), sales to employees, sales through vending machines or other devices, and sales by any sublease, concessionaire or licensee or otherwise in the premises. Each sale upon installment or credit shall be treated as a sale for the full price in the month during which the sale was made, regardless of when the Tenant receives payment from its customer. No deduction shall be allowed for uncollected or uncollectible credit accounts. Gross sales shall not, however, include the following: amounts collected and paid out for any sales or excise tax imposed by a duly constituted governmental authority; the exchange of merchandise between Tenant's stores if made solely for the convenient operation of its business, and not for the purpose of consummating a previous sale, or of depriving Landlord of the benefit of a sale which would otherwise be made, in or from the Demised Premises; returns to shippers or manufacturers; cash or credit refunds on sales if all or part of the merchandise is later returned by the purchaser and accepted by Tenant; and sales of Tenant's fixtures.

4.6. Late payment penalty. The minimum guaranteed rental shall be payable on or before the first day of the month (in accordance with Section 4.2). Percentage rental shall be payable on or before the 10th day of each calendar month, without any offset or deduction. If either rental is not received within 10 days after its due date for any reason, the amount due shall bear interest at the maximum contractual rate that could legally be charged if a loan of the rental were made to Tenant in the state where the Demised Premises are located (but not to exceed 11/2 percent per month). This interest shall accrue continuously on any unpaid balance due to Landlord by Tenant during the period commencing with the above due date and terminating with the date on which Tenant makes full payment of all amounts owing to Landlord at the time of payment. Any such increase shall be payable as additional rent hereunder, shall not be considered as a deduction from percentage rental, and shall be payable immediately on demand.

4.7. Partial acceleration. If Tenant fails in two consecutive months to make rental payments within ten days after due, Landlord, in order to reduce its administrative costs, may require, by giving written notice to Tenant, that minimum guaranteed rentals be paid in advance quarterly instead of monthly, that all future rental payments be made on or before the due date by cash, cashier's check, or money order, and that delivery of Tenant's personal or corporate check no longer constitutes a payment of rental under this lease. (The above rights are in addition to Landlord's right under Section 4.6 to receive accrued interest, as well as its other rights and remedies accruing under other terms, provisions, and covenants (including Articles XIX and XX) of this lease). Any subsequent acceptance by Landlord of a monthly rental payment or a personal or corporate check shall not be construed as a waiver of its rights.

Article V Sales Reports and Records

5.1. Certified sales statements. On or before the tenth day of each calendar month during the term of this lease, Tenant shall prepare and deliver to Landlord at the place where rental is then payable a certified statement of gross sales made during the preceding calendar month. In addition, within 60 days after the expiration of each calendar year, and within 60 days after the termination of this lease if it does not terminate at the end of a calendar year, Tenant shall prepare and deliver to Landlord at the place rental is then payable a statement of gross sales during the preceding calendar (or partial calendar) year, certified to be correct by an independent certified public accountant. Tenant shall furnish similar statements for its licensees, concessionaires, and subtenants. All statements shall be in the form required by Landlord.

5.2. Books and records. Tenant shall keep in the Demised Premises or at some other location in the city where they are located a permanent, accurate set of books and records of all sales of merchandise and revenue derived from business conducted in the Demised Premises, and all supporting records such as tax reports and banking records. All books and records shall be retained and preserved for at least 24 months after the end of the calendar year to which they relate and be subject to inspection and audit by Landlord and its agents at all reasonable times.

5.3. Audit; adjustments. If Landlord is not satisfied with the statements of gross sales submitted by Tenant, Landlord may have its auditors make a special audit of all books and records wherever located pertaining to sales made in or from the Demised Premises. If the statements are found to be incorrect by more than 2 percent over the figures submitted by Tenant, it shall pay promptly to Landlord any deficiency, or Landlord shall promptly refund to it any overpayment, as the case may be, established by the audit. In either case, however, Tenant shall pay for the audit.

Article VI Common Areas

6.1. Common area; parking. The term "Common area" is defined for all purposes of this lease as that part of the Shopping Center, including applicable facilities, that are intended for the common use of all tenants. For purposes of this definition, facilities include the parking area, private streets and alleys, landscaping, curbs, loading area, sidewalks, malls and promenades (enclosed or otherwise), lighting facilities, drinking fountains, meeting rooms, public toilets, and the like. Not included, however, are space in existing or future buildings designed for commercial rental purposes and streets and alleys maintained by a public authority. Landlord may from time to time change the dimensions and locations of the Common Area, as well as the dimensions, identity, and type of all buildings in the Shopping Center. Tenant, and its employees and customers, when duly authorized under the provisions of this lease, its subtenants, licensees, and concessionaires, shall have the nonexclusive right to use the Common Area as constituted from time to time. The use shall be in common with Landlord, other tenants to the Shopping Center, and other persons permitted by Landlord to use the Shopping Center. The use shall be subject to all reasonable rules and regulations prescribed by Landlord, including the designation of specific areas within the Shopping Center or in reasonable proximity to it for parking automobiles owned by Tenant and its employees, subtenants, licensees, and concessionaires. In this regard, Tenant shall furnish to Landlord, at its request, a complete list of the license numbers of all automobiles operated by Tenant and its employees, subtenants, licensees, and concessionaires. If automobiles or other vehicles owned or operated by Tenant or the above persons are at any time parked in a part of the Shopping Center that is not specifically designated for employee parking, Tenant shall pay to Landlord, as additional rent, an amount equal to the daily or hourly charge established by Landlord for each automobile or other vehicle so parked. Tenant shall not solicit business within the Common Area or take any action that would interfere with the rights of other persons to use it. Landlord may temporarily close any part of the Common Area for any period necessary to make repairs or alterations or to prevent the public from obtaining prescriptive rights.

6.2. Substitute parking. Landlord may from time to time substitute for any parking areas other areas, whether elevated, surface, or underground, reasonably accessible to tenants of the Shopping Center.

6.3. Management and maintenance. Landlord shall be responsible for the operation, management, and maintenance of the Common area. The manner of and expenditures for maintenance shall be in Landlord's sole discretion.

6.4. Common area charges. In addition to rentals and other charges prescribed in this lease, Tenant shall pay to Landlord Tenant's proportionate share of the cost incurred by Landlord of operating and maintaining the Common Area, including costs for lighting, painting, cleaning, policing, inspecting, repairing, and replacing, and for heating and cooling any enclosed mall or promenade in the Shopping Center, as well as a reasonable allowance for Landlord's overhead costs, for depreciation of maintenance equipment, and the cost of hazard insurance. However, such costs shall not include general real estate taxes, assessments, and depreciation of Landlord's original investment. Tenant's proportionate share of the cost of operating and maintaining the Common Area shall be computed on the ratio that the total ground floor area of the Demised Premises bears to the total ground floor area of all buildings within the Shopping Area. However, Tenant's share shall not be less than the amount specified in Section 1.1(l), above. Tenant shall make the payments to Landlord on demand, at monthly or longer intervals. Landlord may require Tenant to pay in advance monthly or other periodic charges based upon the estimated annual cost of operating and maintaining the Common Area. However, such charges shall be subject to adjustment after the end of the year on the basis of the actual cost for that year.

Article VII Use and Care of Premises

7.1. Use; name; continuous operation. The Demised Premises may be used only for the purpose or purposes specified in Section 1.1(o) unless Landlord gives prior written consent. In transacting business in the Demised Premises Tenant shall use only the trade name specified in Section 1.1(e) unless Landlord gives prior written consent. Tenant shall not at any time leave the Demised Premises vacant, but shall in good faith continuously throughout the term of this lease conduct and carry on the type of business for which the Demised Premises are leased. Tenant shall operate its business in an efficient, high class, and reputable manner so as to produce maximum sales from the premises. Tenant shall also, except during reasonable periods for repairing, cleaning, and decorating, keep the premises open to the public for business and have adequate personnel in attendance on all days and during all hours (including evenings) established by Landlord as store hours for the Shopping Center, and during all other hours the Center is open to the public for business, except when Tenant is prohibited from being open for business by applicable law, ordinance, or governmental regulation.

7.2. Compliance with insurance requirements. Tenant shall not, without Landlord's prior written consent, keep anything within the premises or use the premises for any purpose which increases the insurance premium cost or invalidates any insurance policy carried on the Demised Premises or other parts of the Shopping Center. All property kept, stored or maintained within the premises by Tenant shall be at its sole risk.

7.3. Discount sales; nuisance. Tenant shall not do any of the following acts: conduct within the Demised Premises any fire, auction, bankruptcy, "going-out-of-business," "lost-our-lease," or similar sales or operate within the Demised Premises a "wholesale" or "factory outlet" store, a cooperative store, a "second hand" store, a "surplus" store or a store commonly referred to as a "discount house"; advertise that it sells its products or services at "discount," "cut price," or "cut-rate" prices; permit any objectionable or unpleasant odors to emanate from the premises; place or permit any radio, television, loudspeaker or amplifier on the roof or outside the Demised Premises or where it can be seen or heard from outside the building; place any antenna, awning or other projection on the exterior of the Demised Premises; take any other action that would constitute a nuisance or would disturb or endanger other tenants of the Shopping Center or unreasonably interfere with their use of their respective premises; or do anything that would tend to injure the reputation of the Shopping Center.

7.4. Rubbish. Tenants shall take good care of the Demised Premises and keep them free from waste at all times. Tenants shall keep the Demised Premises and sidewalks, serviceways and loading areas adjacent to the premises neat, clean and free from dirt or rubbish at all times, and shall store all trash and garbage within the premises, arranging for the regular pick up of such trash and garbage at Tenant's expense. Receiving and delivery of goods and merchandise and removal of garbage and trash shall be made only in the manner and areas prescribed by Landlord. Tenant shall not operate an incinerator or burn trash or garbage within the Shopping Center area.

7.5. Display windows. Tenant shall maintain all display windows in a neat, attractive condition, and shall keep all display windows, exterior electric signs and exterior lighting under any canopy in front of the Demised Premises lighted from dusk until 11:00 p.m. every day, including Sundays and holidays.

7.6. Address in advertising. Tenant shall include the address and identity of its business activities in the Demised Premises in all advertisements made by Tenant in which the address and identity of any similar local business activity of Tenant is mentioned.

7.7. Licenses. Tenant shall procure at its expense all permits and licenses required for the transaction of business in the Demised Premises and otherwise comply with all applicable laws, ordinances, and governmental regulations.

Article VIII Maintenance and Repair of Premises

8.1. Landlord obligations. Landlord shall keep the foundation, the exterior walls (except plate glass windows, doors, door closure devices and other exterior openings; window and door frames, molding, locks, and hardware; special store fronts; lighting, heating, air-conditioning, plumbing and other electrical, mechanical and electromotive installation, equipment and fixtures, signs, placards, decorations or advertising media of any type; and interior painting or other treatment of exterior walls) and roof of the Demised Premises in good repair. Landlord, however, shall not be required to make any repairs caused by the act or negligence of Tenant or of its agents, employees, subtenants, licensees, or concessionaires, subject, however, to the provisions of Articles XV and XVI of this lease. Tenant shall give Landlord immediate written notice of all repairs that Landlord is required to make on or in the Demised Premises, but it shall have a reasonable time after receipt of the notice to make the necessary repairs.

8.2. Tenant obligations. Tenant shall keep the Demised Premises in good, clean, and habitable condition and at its expense free of insects, rodents, vermin, and other pests. Tenant shall also make all needed repairs and replacements (including replacement of cracked or broken glass), except for those required of Landlord under Section 8.1 and Articles XV and XVI. Without limiting the foregoing, Tenant shall repair and replace all lighting, heating, air-conditioning, plumbing, and other electrical, mechanical, and electromotive installation, equipment, and fixtures, make all utility repairs in ducts, conduits, pipes, and wiring, and clear up any sewer stoppage located in, under, and above the Demised Premises. If Tenant does not make a required repair within 10 days after it receives Landlord's written notice, Landlord may make the repair without liability to Tenant for resulting loss or damage to Tenant's stock or business. In that case, Tenant shall pay to Landlord upon demand, as additional rent under this lease, the cost of repairs plus the maximum contractual interest (not to exceed 11/2 percent per month) that Landlord could charge to Tenant for a comparable loan in the state where the Demised Premises are located. Such interest shall accrue continuously from the date of payment by Landlord until repayment by Tenant. Upon expiration of the lease, Tenant shall surrender the Demised Premises in good condition, excepting reasonable wear and tear and losses required to be restored by Landlord under Section 8.1 and Articles XV and XVI.

Article IX Alterations

9.1. Tenant installations. Tenant shall not make any alterations, additions or improvements, to the Demised Premises without Landlord's prior written consent, except for the installation of unattached, movable trade fixtures, which may be installed without drilling, cutting or otherwise defacing the premises. All alterations, additions, improvements and fixtures (other than Tenant's unattached, readily movable furniture and office equipment) made or installed by either party upon the Demised Premises shall remain upon and be surrendered with the premises and become Landlord's property upon the termination of this lease. However, if Landlord requests removal of the above installations, Tenant shall at its expense do so and restore the premises to their original condition.

9.2. Construction work. All construction work done by Tenant within the Demised Premises shall be performed in a good and workmanlike manner, in compliance with all governmental requirements, including without limitation, the American with Disabilities Act of 1990 ("ADA") and the accessibility guidelines issued thereunder, and in a manner that causes a minimum of interference with other construction in progress and with the transaction of business in the Shopping Center. Tenant shall indemnify Landlord and hold it harmless from and against all loss, liability, or damage resulting from Tenant's work, and shall, if requested by Landlord, furnish satisfactory bond or other security against such loss, liability, or damage.

Article X Landlord's Right of Access, Use of Roof

10.1. Access. Landlord may enter upon the Demised Premises at any time for the purposes of inspection, repairs, alterations, or additions to adjacent premises, or to show the Demised Premises to prospective purchasers, lessees, or lenders.

10.2. "For Sale" or "For Lease" signs. Landlord may place and maintain "For Rent" or "For Lease" signs on the Demised Premises during the last 90 days of the lease term. The signs shall not affect Tenant's obligations under Section 7.3, Article XI, or any other provision of this lease.

10.3. Roof. Landlord shall have exclusive use of the roof above the Demised Premises.

Article XI Signs, Store Fronts

11.1. Tenant shall not, without Landlord's prior written consent, (a) make any changes to the store front, (b) install any exterior lighting decorations, paintings, awnings, canopies, or the like, or (c) erect or install any signs, window or door lettering, placards, decorations or advertising media of a type which can be viewed from the exterior of the Demised Premises, excepting only dignified displays of customary type for its display windows. All signs, lettering, placards, decorations and advertising media shall conform in all respects to the sign criteria established by Landlord for the Shopping Center, from time to time, and be subject to its prior written approval as to construction, method of attachment, size, shape, height, lighting, color and general appearance. All signs shall be kept in good condition and in proper operating order at all times.

Article XII Utilities

12.1. Utility conduits. Landlord shall cause to be provided and maintained all necessary mains, conduits, and other facilities for the supply of water, gas, electricity, telephone service, and sewerage service to the Demised Premises.

12.2. Tenant expense. Tenant shall promptly pay all charges for electricity, water, gas, telephone service, sewerage service, and other utilities furnished to the Demised Premises. Landlord may furnish one or more utility services to Tenant. In such event, Tenant shall purchase the use of all such services and pay on demand as additional rent the rates established for them by Landlord. The rates shall not exceed those that local public utility companies would charge for directly furnishing the same services. Landlord may at any time discontinue a service without obligation to Tenant other than to connect the Demised Premises to the public utility furnishing such service.

12.3. Interrupted service. Landlord shall not be liable for any interruption in utility services not furnished by it, or for interruptions in utility services furnished by it that are due to fire, accident, strike, Acts of God, or other causes beyond its control or are necessary to make alterations, repairs, or improvements.

Article XIII Indemnity and Public Liability Insurance

13.1. Release and indemnity. Landlord shall not be liable to Tenant, its employees, agents, or visitors, or any other person for injury to person or damage to property on or about the Demised Premises or the Common Area, if: caused by the negligence or misconduct of Tenant, its employees, subtenants, licensees, or concessionaires, or any other person entering the Shopping Center under Tenant's express or implied invitation; arising out of Tenant's use of the premises and the conduct of its business therein; or arising out of a breach or default by Tenant in performing its obligations under this lease. Tenant shall indemnify Landlord and hold it harmless from and against all losses, expenses, or claims arising out of such damage or injury.

13.2. Public liability insurance. Tenant shall procure and maintain throughout the term of this lease a policy or policies of insurance, at its expense, insuring both Landlord and Tenant against all claims, demands, or actions arising out of or in connection with Tenant's use or occupancy of the Demised Premises or by the condition of the Demised Premises.

Each policy shall have a limit of at least $200,000 for injuries to or death of any one person, $500,000 for any one accident or disaster, and $100,000 for damage or destruction to property, and shall be written by an insurance company satisfactory to Landlord. Tenant shall obtain a written obligation from each insurance company that it will notify Landlord at least 10 days before the insurance is cancelled. The policies or duly executed certificates of insurance shall be promptly delivered to Landlord, and all required renewals thereof shall be delivered to Landlord at least 30 days before the respective policy terms expire. If Tenant fails to comply with the above requirements, Landlord may obtain the insurance. In that case, Tenant shall pay to Landlord on demand, as additional rent under this lease, the premium cost of the insurance plus interest at the maximum contractual rate (not to exceed 11/2 percent per month) from the date of payment by Landlord until repayment by Tenant.

Article XIV Nonliability for Certain Damages

14.1. Neither Landlord nor its agents or employees shall be liable to Tenant for any injury to person or damage to property caused by the Demised Premises or other portions of the Shopping Center becoming out of repair, by defect or failure of any structural element of the Demised Premises or of any equipment, pipes, or wiring, by broken glass, by the backing up of drains, or by gas, water, steam, electricity, or oil leaking, escaping, or flowing into the Demised Premises, except when due to Landlord's wilful failure to make required repairs within a reasonable time after it receives written notice that repairs are needed. Landlord also shall not be liable to Tenant for any loss or damage occasioned by or through the acts or omissions of other tenants of the Shopping Center or of other persons, other than Landlord's duly authorized employees and agents.

Article XV Damages by Casualty

15.1. Notice. Tenant shall give immediate written notice to Landlord of any damage caused to the Demised Premises by fire or other casualty.

15.2. Repair or termination. If the Demised Premises are damaged or destroyed by fire or other casualty insurable under standard fire and extended coverage insurance and Landlord does not elect to terminate this lease (as provided below), it shall proceed with reasonable diligence and at its expense to repair or rebuild the Demised Premises. Landlord may either terminate this lease or proceed to repair or rebuild the Demised Premises if: (a) the building in which the Demised Premises are located is destroyed or substantially damaged by a casualty not covered by Landlord's insurance; (b) the building is destroyed or made untenable to the extent of over 50 percent of the first floor area by a casualty covered by Landlord's insurance; or (c) the holder of a mortgage, deed of trust, or other lien on the Demised Premises at the time of the casualty elects, under such particular lien, that all or part of Landlord's insurance proceeds be used in satisfaction of all or part of the indebtedness secured by the lien. Landlord shall give written notice to Tenant of the election within 60 days after the casualty occurs. If Landlord elects to rebuild or repair it shall proceed to do so with reasonable diligence and at its expense.

15.3. Restoration work. Landlord's above obligation to rebuild or repair shall be limited to restoring (a) the Demised Premises to substantially the same condition as before the casualty, exclusive of any alterations, additions, improvements, fixtures, and equipment installed by Tenant; or (b) Landlord's work (if any) to substantially the same condition as before the casualty, as the case may be. Promptly after Landlord completes the work, Tenant shall proceed with reasonable diligence and at its expense to restore, repair, and replace all alterations, additions, improvements, fixtures, signs, and equipment installed by or belonging to Tenant.

15.4. Store operation; rent abatement. During any period of reconstruction or repair, Tenant shall continue to operate its business within the Demised Premises to the extent practicable. During the period from occurrence of the casualty until Landlord's completion of the repairs, the minimum guaranteed rental shall be reduced by an amount that is fair and reasonable under the circumstances. However, there shall be no abatement of the percentage rental or other charges provided for in this lease.

Article XVI Eminent Domain

16.1. Substantial taking. This lease shall terminate if more than 30 percent of the floor area of the Demised Premises is taken for any public or quasi-public use under a governmental law, ordinance, or regulation, or by right of eminent domain or by private purchase in lieu thereof. In any such case, the rent shall be abated during the unexpired portion of the lease, effective on the date the condemning authority takes physical possession.

16.2. Partial taking. This lease shall not terminate if less than 30 percent of the floor area of the Demised Premises is taken as provided in Section 16.1. However, the minimum guaranteed rental (but not percentage rental) payable during the unexpired portion of this lease shall be reduced in proportion to the area taken, effective on the date the condemning authority takes physical possession. Following the partial taking, Landlord shall make all necessary repairs or alterations to the remaining premises or within the scope of its work, as the case may be, to make the remaining portions of the Demised Premises an architectural whole.

16.3. Common area. If any part of the Common Area is taken as provided above, this lease shall not terminate and the rent payable hereunder shall not be reduced. However, either Landlord or Tenant may terminate this lease if the area of the Common Area following the taking plus any additional parking area provided by Landlord in reasonable proximity to the Shopping Center is less than 70 percent of the area of the Common Area immediately before the taking. Either party may evidence its election to terminate this lease by delivering written notice of termination to the other within 30 days after the condemning authority takes physical possession.

16.4. Condemnation proceeds. All compensation awarded for any taking (or the proceeds of private sale in lieu thereof) of the Demised Premises or Common Area shall be the property of Landlord, and Tenant hereby assigns its interest in any such award to Landlord. However, Landlord shall have no interest in any separate award made to Tenant for its moving and relocation expenses or for the loss of its fixtures and other tangible personal property.

Article XVII Assignment and Subletting

17.1. Consent required; non-waiver. Tenant shall not assign or in any other manner transfer this lease or any estate or interest therein, sublet all or part of the Demised Premises, or grant a license, concession, or other right of occupancy of any portion of the Demised Premises without Landlord's prior written consent. Landlord's consent to one or more assignments or sublettings shall not operate as a waiver of its rights as to any subsequent assignment or subletting.

17.2. Corporate stock transfers. If Tenant is a corporation and at any time during the primary term (or any renewal or extension) of this lease the majority owner or owners of either the outstanding voting shares or all outstanding shares of Tenant's capital stock at the time of execution of this lease cease to own a majority of the shares (except as the result of transfers by devise or descent), the loss of majority status shall be deemed an assignment of this lease by Tenant and therefore subject in all respects to the provisions of Section 17.1. The previous sentence shall not apply, however, if at the time of execution of this lease the outstanding voting shares of Tenant's capital stock are listed on a recognized security exchange or over the counter market.

17.3. No release; excess rent. Notwithstanding any assignment or subletting, Tenant and any guarantor of its obligations under this lease shall remain fully responsible and liable for the payment of rent and compliance with all of its obligations hereunder (even if future assignments and sublettings occur after the assignment or subletting by Tenant, and regardless of whether Tenant's approval has been approved for them). Moreover, Tenant shall be bound and obligated to pay Landlord the following excess amounts: if the rental due and payable by a sublessee for both the sublease rental and any bonus or other consideration for or incident to it exceeds the rental payable under this lease; or, if respect to an assignment, license, or other transfer by Tenant permitted by Landlord, the consideration payable to Tenant by the assignee, licensee, or other transferee exceeds the rental payable under this lease. Tenant shall pay Landlord the excess rental and other excess consideration within 10 days after its receipt from the sublessee, assignee, licensee, or other transferee. If there is any assignment or subletting, Tenant shall receive all rentals paid to it by the assignee or sublessee in trust for Landlord, and shall forward the amounts immediately to Landlord without offset or reduction of any kind. Landlord may require Tenant to pay such rentals directly to it as specified in Section 4.1, in which case they shall be applied as a credit and offset to Tenant's rental obligations.

17.4. Leasehold mortgages. Tenant shall not mortgage, pledge, or otherwise encumber its interest in this lease or in the Demised Premises.

17.5. Landlord assignment. If Landlord assigns and transfers its interest in this lease and in the building containing the Demised Premises to a person expressly assuming its obligations under the lease, Landlord shall thereby be released from all further obligations hereunder, and Tenant shall look solely to Landlord's successor in interest for performance of the obligations. Landlord may assign and transfer to the successor in interest any security given by Tenant to secure performance of its obligations under this lease, and Landlord shall thereby be discharged of all further related obligations.

Article XVIII Taxes and Insurance

18.1. Personal property taxes. Tenant shall be liable for all taxes levied against personal property and trade fixtures placed by it in the Demised Premises. If the taxes are levied against Landlord or its property and it elects to pay them, or if the assessed value of Landlord's property is increased by inclusion of personal property and trade fixtures placed by Tenant in the Demised Premises and Landlord elects to pay the taxes based on the increase, Tenant shall pay to Landlord upon demand that part of the taxes for which Tenant is primarily liable under this lease.

18.2. Real estate and general tax increases. Except as provided in Sections 18.1 and 18.3, Landlord shall pay or cause to be paid all general real estate taxes, general and special assessments, parking surcharges, and other governmental charges (collectively "the general taxes") levied against the Shopping Center for each real estate tax year. However, if during any real estate tax year of the primary term (or its renewal or extension) of this lease the general taxes levied against the Shopping Center (or against the Demised Premises, if separately assessed) for that year exceed the general real estate taxes levied against the Shopping Center (or the Demised Premises) for the base real estate tax year, Tenant shall pay to Landlord upon demand, and in addition to the rentals and other charges prescribed in this lease, the entire increase attributable to the Demised Premises. The term "base real estate tax year" means the real estate tax year during which the Demised Premises were originally occupied by Tenant under this lease or any other property. However, if this lease requires Tenant to construct a new building, and Landlord's work on the building is completed more than 60 days after the initial date of a real estate tax year, "base real estate tax year" means the real estate tax year immediately following the one in which Landlord completes its work. The term "increase attributable to the Demised Premises" is defined in Section 18.5, except that if the Demised Premises are separately assessed in either the base real estate tax year or the subsequent year in question, or both, the computations in Section 18.5 shall be modified accordingly. Tenant's payment for the real estate tax year in which this lease terminates shall bear the same ratio to payment which would be required to be made for the full tax year as the number of days of the tax year which elapsed prior to termination of this lease bears to a full tax year.

18.3. Rent or other taxes. If, at any time during the primary term of this lease or any renewal or extension thereof, a tax or excise on rents or other tax however described (except any franchise, estate, inheritance, capital stock, income or excess profits tax imposed upon Landlord) is levied or assessed against Landlord by any lawful taxing authority on account of Landlord's interest in this lease or the rents or other charges reserved hereunder, as a substitute in whole or in part, or in addition to the general taxes described in Section 18.2, Tenant shall pay to Landlord upon demand, and in addition to the rentals and other charges prescribed in this lease, the amount of the tax or excise. If the tax or excise is levied or assessed directly against Tenant, it shall be responsible for and pay the tax or excise whenever and in the manner required by the taxing authority.

18.4. Increases in insurance premiums. If at any time during the primary term of this lease or its renewal or extension the premiums for liability insurance, fire and extended coverage insurance, or both, carried by Landlord covering the Shopping Center (the "insurance premiums") exceed the insurance premiums for the base insurance term, Tenant shall pay to Landlord upon demand, and in addition to the rentals and other charges prescribed in this lease, the entire increase attributable to the Demised Premises. The term "base insurance term" means the period commencing with the date the Demised Premises were originally occupied by Tenant under this lease or any prior lease (or, if later the date on which Landlord commenced to carry insurance on the Shopping Center) and ending on the date at which the amount of insurance premiums is increased from the amount at the commencement of the term. The term "increase attributable to the Demised Premises" is defined in Section 18.5 below. Tenant's payment for the insurance term in which this lease terminates shall bear the same ratio to the payment that would be required for the full insurance term as the number of days of the term that elapsed prior to termination of this lease bears to the full term.

18.5. Formula for increase. The amount of any increase of general taxes or insurance premiums attributable to the Demised Premises shall be computed in accordance with the following formula:

$$*I = (A \times B + C \times D) \times F$$

"I" equals the dollar amount of any increase which is attributable to the Demised Premises; "A" equals the amount of general taxes or insurance premiums accruing during the period in question (prorated, if necessary, to provide a period of like duration to the base real estate tax year or base insurance term, as the case may be; "B" equals the total leasable ground floor area of all buildings in the Shopping Center at the commencement of the period in question; "C" equals the amount of general real estate taxes or insurance premiums which accrued during the base real estate tax year or base insurance term; "D" equals the total leasable ground floor area of all buildings in the Shopping Center either at the beginning of the base real estate tax year or base insurance term, or, if later, when Tenant originally occupied the Demised Premises; and "F" equals the total square feet included in the Demised Premises.

18.6. Prepayment. If at any time during the primary term of this lease or its renewal or existence Landlord has reason to believe that at some time within the immediately succeeding taxable month period, Tenant will owe Landlord a payment pursuant to one or more of the preceding sections of this Article XVIII, Landlord may direct that Tenant prepay monthly a pro rata portion of the prospective future payment (i.e., the prospective future payment divided by the number of months before the prospective future payment will be due). Any prepayment directed by Landlord shall be due and payable monthly on the same day that minimum guaranteed rental is due.

Article XIX Default by Tenant and Remedies

19.1. Default and remedies. The following events shall be deemed to be events of default by Tenant under this lease:

- (1) Tenant fails to pay any installment of rent or other obligation hereunder involving the payment of money and the failure continues for ten days after the date due.
- (2) Tenant fails to comply with any term, provision or covenant of this lease, other than as described in subsection (1), above, and does not cure the failure within 15 days after written notice thereof to Tenant.
- (3) Tenant or any guarantor of its obligations under this lease becomes insolvent, makes a transfer in fraud of creditors, or makes an assignment for the benefit of creditors.
- (4) Tenant or any guarantor of its obligations under this lease files a petition under any section or chapter of the National Bankruptcy Act, as amended, or under any similar federal or state law or statute, or Tenant or any guarantor of its obligations under this lease is adjudged bankrupt or insolvent in proceedings filed against Tenant or any guarantor of its obligations under this lease.

(5) A receiver or Trustee is appointed for the Demised Premises or for all or substantially all of the assets of Tenant or of any guarantor of its obligations under this lease.

(6) Tenant deserts or vacates, or commences to desert or vacate, all or a substantial portion of the Demised Premises, or removes or attempts to remove, without Landlord's prior written consent, all or a substantial portion of Tenant's goods, wares, equipment, fixtures, furniture, or other personal property.

(7) Tenant does or permits to be done anything that creates a lien upon the premises.

If any of the above events of default occur, Landlord may pursue either of the following alternative remedies:

A. Without any notice or demand, Landlord may take any action or actions permissible at law to insure performance by Tenant of its covenants and obligations under this lease. If Tenant deserts or vacates the Demised Premises, Landlord may enter upon and take possession in order to protect them from deterioration and continue to demand from Tenant the monthly rentals and other charges provided in this lease, without any obligation to relet. Moreover, if Landlord elects to relet the Demised Premises, that action shall not be deemed an acceptance of Tenant's surrender of them unless Landlord expressly notifies Tenant otherwise in writing pursuant to subsection B below. Landlord shall otherwise be reletting as Tenant's agent. Tenant shall pay Landlord on demand any deficiency between the monthly rentals and other charges provided in this lease that are actually collected by Landlord. If there is any default described in subsection (2) of this Section, Landlord may enter upon the Demised Premises, by force if necessary, without being liable for prosecution or any claim for damages, and do whatever Tenant is obligated to do under this lease. Tenant shall reimburse Landlord on demand for all expenses incurred by it in effecting compliance with Tenant's obligations hereunder, and Landlord shall not be liable for resulting damages to Tenant.

B. Landlord may terminate this lease by giving written notice to Tenant. In such event, Tenant shall immediately surrender the Demised Premises to Landlord. If Tenant fails to do so, Landlord may, without prejudice to any other remedy it may have for possession or arrearages in rent (including any accrued interest under Section 4.6), enter upon and take possession of the Demised Premises and expel or remove, by force if necessary, Tenant and any other person who is occupying all or a portion of the premises without being liable for prosecution or any claim for damages. Tenant hereby waives any statutory requirement of prior written notice for filing eviction or damage suits for nonpayment of rent. In addition, Tenant shall pay to Landlord on demand all loss and damage suffered by it by reason of any termination effected under this subsection B. The loss or damage shall be determined by either of the following alternative measures of damages:

(i) Until Landlord is able, through reasonable efforts the nature of which shall be at its sole discretion, to relet the Demised Premises, Tenant shall pay to it, on or before the first day of each calendar month, the monthly rentals and other charges specified in this lease. After Landlord relets the Demised Premises, Tenant shall pay to it, on the 20th day of each calendar month, the difference between the monthly rentals and other charges for the preceding calendar month and the amount actually collected by Landlord for that month. If Landlord is required to bring suit in order to collect a deficiency, it may allow the deficiency to accumulate and bring an action on several or all of the accrued deficiencies at one time. Such suit shall not prejudice in any way Landlord's right to bring a similar action for subsequent deficiencies. If the amount collected by Landlord from subsequent tenants for a calendar month exceeds the monthly rentals and other charges, the excess shall be credited to Tenant in reduction of its liability for any calendar month for which the amount collected is less than the monthly rentals and other charges. However, Tenant's right to the excess is limited to the above described credit.

(ii) Landlord may demand a final settlement at any time. Upon such demand, Tenant shall pay the difference between the monthly rentals and other charges provided in this lease for the remainder of the term and the reasonable rental value of the Demised Premises for that period. The difference shall be discounted to present value at the rate of interest agreed on by the parties, or, if there is no such agreement, at the rate allowed by law in the state designated by Section 28.9 (or, if there is no such law, at the rate of 12 percent per annum).

Landlord's election to exercise the remedy prescribed above in subsection A shall in no way prejudice its right at any later time to cancel the election in favor of the remedy provided in subsection B, if at the time of cancellation Tenant is still in default. Similarly, Landlord's election to compute damages in the manner prescribed above by subsection B(i) shall in no way prejudice its right at any later time to demand a final settlement in accordance with subsection B(ii). Pursuit of any of the above remedies shall not preclude pursuit of any other remedy provided elsewhere in this lease or by law. Landlord's forbearance to enforce any remedy provided herein upon an event of default shall not be deemed to constitute a waiver of the default.

19.2. Other charges. In determining "the monthly rentals and other charges provided in this lease," as that term is used in subsections A and B of Section 19.1, the minimum guaranteed rental (as specified in Section 1.1(j)) shall include the following: charges for maintenance of the Common Area (as specified in Section 6.4); charges for taxes and insurance (as specified in Article XVIII); and 1/2 percent of all percentage rentals required to be paid by Tenant (under Sections 4.3 and 4.4) because of gross sales during the two full calendar years immediately preceding the date Landlord initiated action under subsections A and B (or, if two full calendar years have not then elapsed, the minimum guaranteed rental shall include the corresponding fraction of all percentage rentals required to be paid because of gross sales during the period from the Commencement Date of this lease to the date on which Landlord initiated the action).

19.3. Landlord expenses. In addition to the payments required by subsections A and B of Section 19.1, Tenant shall compensate Landlord for the following: all expenses incurred by Landlord in repossession (including any increase in insurance premiums caused by the vacancy of the Demised Premises), and in reletting (including repairs, remodeling, replacements, advertisements, and brokerage fees); all concessions granted to a new tenant upon reletting (including renewal options); all leases incurred by Landlord as a direct or indirect result of Tenant's default (including any adverse reaction by Landlord's mortgagee or by other tenants or potential tenants of the Shopping Center); and a reasonable allowance for Landlord's administrative efforts, salaries, and overhead attributable directly or indirectly to Tenant's default and Landlord's pursuing the rights and remedies provided under this lease and applicable law.

19.4. Injunction; cumulative remedies. Landlord may restrain or enjoin any breach or threatened breach of Tenant's covenants, duties, and obligations under this lease without having to prove the inadequacy of any legal remedy or irreparable harm. Landlord's remedies under this lease shall be deemed cumulative and not exclusive.

19.5. Attorney's fees. If Landlord is required, on account of a breach or default by Tenant in any obligation under this lease, to hire an attorney to present, enforce, or defend Landlord's rights or remedies under the lease, Tenant shall pay all reasonable attorney's fees incurred by Landlord in that connection.

19.6. Security deposit. Landlord hereby acknowledges receipt from Tenant of the sum stated in Section 1.1(m) (prepaid rental), to be applied to the first accruing installments of rent. Landlord further acknowledges receipt from Tenant of the sum stated in Section 1.1(n) (security deposit), to be held without interest as security for Tenant's performance of its covenants and obligations under this lease. The security deposit may be comingled with Landlord's other funds; it is not an advance payment of rental or a measure of Landlord's damages in case of Tenant's default. Whenever an event of default by Tenant occurs, Landlord may, without prejudice to any other remedy provided in this lease or by law, use the fund to the extent necessary to make good all arrears of rentals and other damage, injury, expense, or liability caused to it by the event of default. Tenant shall pay to Landlord on demand the amount so applied in order to restore the security deposit to its original amount. If Tenant is not then in default, Landlord shall return to Tenant the remaining balance of the deposit upon termination of this lease (subject to the provisions of Section 17.5).

20.1. In addition to the statutory Landlord's lien, Landlord shall have at all times a valid security interest to secure payment of all rentals and other sums of money becoming due from Tenant under this lease, as well as all damages or loss which Landlord may suffer by reason of Tenant's breach of any covenant, agreement, or condition. Landlord's security interest shall be upon all of Tenant's goods, wares, equipment, fixtures, furniture, improvements, and other personal property presently or subsequently situated on the Demised Premises. Tenant shall not remove the property without Landlord's consent until it pays and discharges all arrearages in rent and other sums of money then due or to become due to Landlord and fully complies with and performs all of its covenants, agreements, and conditions. Whenever an event of default by Tenant occurs, Landlord may, in addition to any other remedy provided herein, enter upon the Demised Premises and take possession of all of Tenant's goods, wares, equipment, fixtures, furniture, improvements, and other personal property situated on the premises, without liability for trespass or conversion. Landlord may sell the property at public or private sale, regardless of whether it has the property there, after it gives Tenant reasonable notice of the time and place of sale. Landlord or its assigns may, unless otherwise prohibited by law, purchase any property at the sale. Unless otherwise provided by law, and without intending to exclude any other manner of giving Tenant reasonable notice, the requirement of reasonable notice shall be met if notice is given in the manner prescribed in this lease at least seven days before the time of sale. Any sale made under this paragraph shall be deemed to be a public sale conducted in a commercially reasonable manner if held in the above-described premises or where the property is located after the time, place, and method of sale and a general description of the types of property to be sold are advertised in a daily newspaper published in the county in which the property is located, for five consecutive days before the date of sale. The proceeds of the sale, less all expenses connected with the taking of possession, holding, and selling of the property (including reasonable attorney's fees and legal expenses), shall be applied as a credit against the indebtedness secured by the security interest granted in this paragraph. Any surplus shall be paid to Tenant or as otherwise required by law, and Tenant shall immediately pay all deficiencies. At Landlord's request, Tenant shall execute and deliver to it a financing statement in form sufficient to perfect Landlord's security interest in the above property and sales proceeds under the applicable provisions of the Uniform Commercial Code (or corresponding state statute) in the state in which the property is located, as well as under any other state law that Landlord considers to be applicable.

Article XXI Holding Over

21.1. If Tenant remains in possession of the Demised Premises after this lease expires and without executing a new lease, it shall be deemed to be occupying them as a tenant from month to month at a rental equal to 150 percent of the rental (including percentage rental) provided herein. Tenant shall also be subject to all the conditions, provisions, and obligations of this lease to the extent they are applicable to a month to month tenancy.

Article XXII Subordination

22.1. Subordination. Tenant accepts this lease subject and subordinate to any existing or subsequent mortgage, deed of trust, or other lien, or its renewal or extension, upon the Demised Premises or the Shopping Center as a whole. The mortgagee may at any time subordinate the mortgage, deed of trust, or other lien to this lease. However, notwithstanding that this lease may be (or made to be) superior to the mortgage, deed of trust, or other lien, the provisions of that lien relative to the mortgagee's rights with respect to proceeds arising from an eminent domain taking (including a voluntary conveyance by Landlord) or insurance payable by reason of damage to or destruction of the Demised Premises shall be prior and superior to contrary provisions in this instrument regarding the payment or usage thereof. Landlord shall have full and irrevocable power and authority to subordinate this lease to any future mortgage, deed of trust, or other lien placed upon the Demised Premises or the Shopping Center as a whole, and Tenant shall upon demand execute all further instruments requested by Landlord subordinating this lease. However, Landlord shall, upon Tenant's written request and notice to it, use good faith efforts to obtain the mortgagee's written agreement that Tenant's rights shall remain in full force and effect during the term of this lease so long as Tenant continues to recognize and perform all of its covenants and conditions.

22.2. Tenant remedies. Whenever the holder of an indebtedness secured by an outstanding mortgage, deed of trust, or other lien covering Landlord's interest in the Demised Premises gives Tenant written notice of its interest in this lease, Tenant may not exercise any remedies for Landlord's default until the holder receives written notice of the default and a reasonable time for curing the default has elapsed.

Article XXIII Merchants Association

23.1. If Landlord organizes a merchants association composed of tenants in the Shopping Center, Tenant shall join and maintain membership in the association, pay all dues and assessments fixed and determined by it, and comply with all its other bylaws, rules, and regulations.

Article XXIV Radius Restriction

24.1. Tenant acknowledges that its monetary contribution to Landlord (in the form of rentals) and its general contribution to commerce within the Shopping Center (also important in Landlord's determination to execute this Lease with Tenant) will be substantially reduced if, during the term of this lease, either Tenant or any other person, firm, or corporation directly or indirectly controlling, controlled by, or under common control with it directly or indirectly operates, manages, conducts, or has any interest in any establishment within commercial proximity of the Shopping Center. Accordingly, during the term of this lease, neither Tenant nor any of the above persons (and also, if Tenant is a corporation, any officer or director or shareholder owning more than 10 percent of its outstanding stock, or any parent, subsidiary, related, or affiliated corporation) shall directly or indirectly operate, manage, conduct, or have any interest in any commercial establishment within three miles of the Shopping Center. However, any commercial establishment existing at the date of this lease may continue to be operated, managed, conducted, and owned in the same manner as at that date, if there is no change in its size or trade name.

Article XXV Notices

25.1. Written notice. Any notice required or permitted under this lease shall be in writing. The notice, or any other required or permitted document, shall be deemed to be delivered when actually received by the designated addressee, or, if earlier (and regardless of whether actually received), when deposited in the United States Mail, postage prepaid, Certified Mail, Return Receipt Requested. The notice or document shall be addressed to the parties at their respective addresses set forth in Section 1.1 (or, if Landlord so elects, to Tenant at the Demised Premises), or at any other address previously specified by them by written notice.

25.2. Agent for notice purposes. Whenever the term "Landlord" or "Tenant" is used in this instrument to include more than one person, firm, or corporation, all such parties shall arrange for the joint execution of the notice and specify an individual and address for the receipt of notices and payments to Landlord or Tenant, as the case may be. All parties included within the terms "Landlord" and "Tenant," respectively, shall be bound by notices and payments given in accordance with the provisions of this Article to the same effect as if each had received the notice or payment.

Article XXVI Commissions

26.1. Landlord shall pay its Agent, Marshall Development Associates ("Agent"), a commission for negotiating this lease. Agent's right to receive the commission (and rentals as provided in Section 4.1 for deduction of applicable commissions before forwarding to Landlord) shall irrevocably vest upon the execution of this lease, notwithstanding any subsequent default by Landlord or Tenant or any amendment, modification, or termination of this lease. Landlord also shall pay Agent additional commissions on all renewals, extensions, holdovers, new leases, or rental agreements (as long as Tenant continues to occupy all or a portion of the Demised Premises), as well as expansions or substitutions of lease space within the Shopping Center, made by Landlord with Tenant or its subtenants or assignees. Landlord shall pay all of the commissions to Agent at its principal office in Dallas, Texas. The commissions shall be six percent of guaranteed minimum and percentage rental, as well as other fees and charges due over the term of this lease. In addition, if Tenant or any assignee or subtenant purchases the Demised Premises (separately or together with all or a portion of the Shopping Center) under a contract entered into at any time before the tenth year of this lease, Landlord shall pay to Agent an additional sales commission of six percent of the gross sales price for the property purchased. Agent shall be granted a lien against Landlord's entire interest in the Shopping Center property to secure payment of the commissions (including not only the original commission payable hereunder, but also all additional commissions that may later become payable by reason of renewals, new leases, rental agreements, sales, or otherwise). Agent's lien shall be subordinate to Tenant's rights under this lease (except for Agent's rights as provided in the preceding sentence), but shall be prior and superior, except as provided in the following sentence, to subsequent liens created against the Shopping Center. Agent's lien shall be subordinate and inferior to all liens in favor of banks, insurance companies, building and loan associations, and similar regulated financial institutions ("institutions") securing indebtedness incurred for the purpose of acquiring the Shopping Center or constructing, repairing, rebuilding, or remodeling buildings and other improvements on it, if the institutions recognize Agent's rights under this lease and acknowledge that the rights will be preserved in any foreclosure or similar proceeding. The above provisions shall be binding upon Landlord and its heirs, personal representatives, assigns, and successors in interest, and inure to the benefit of Agent and its successors in interest. If Landlord makes an assignment of this lease or there is a sale of all or a portion of the Demised Premises, Landlord and the assignee or purchaser, and their respective assigns and successors, shall be jointly and severally liable for all commissions due or to become due under this lease. However, if Landlord causes the assignee or purchaser to assume and agree to perform, in writing delivered to Agent before the transfer, Landlord's covenants, duties, and obligations under this section, Landlord shall be released whenever the assignee or purchaser commences performance under the assumption. If Agent employs an attorney to present, enforce, or defend its rights hereunder, the party against whom the rights are presented, enforced, or defended shall pay all reasonable attorney's fees incurred by Agent in that connection.

Article XXVII Government Regulations

27.1. Government regulations. Landlord and Tenant acknowledge that there are in effect federal, state, county, and municipal laws, orders, rules, directives, and regulations (collectively the "Regulations") and that additional Regulations may hereafter be enacted or go into effect, relating to or affecting the Demised Premises or the Shopping Center, and concerning the impact on the environment of construction, land use, maintenance and operation of structures, and conduct of business. Subject to the express rights granted to Tenant under the terms of this lease, Tenant will not cause, or permit to be caused, any act or practice, by negligence, omission, or otherwise, that would adversely affect the environment, or do anything or permit anything to be done that would violate any of the laws, regulations, or guidelines. Moreover, Tenant shall have no claim against Landlord by reason of any changes Landlord may make in the Shopping Center or the Demised Premises or any charges imposed upon customers or other invitees under the Regulations.

27.2. Rent freeze. If the payment to, or collection by, Landlord of any rental or other charge (collectively "Lease Payments") payable by Tenant under the provisions of this lease exceeds the amount (the "Maximum Charge") permitted by any federal, state, county or municipal law, order, rule, directive, or regulation (collectively the "Regulations"), then while the Regulations are in force and effect (the "Freeze Period"), Tenant shall not be required to pay, and Landlord shall not be permitted to collect, any sum in excess of the Maximum Charge." Upon the earlier of (i) the expiration of the Freeze Period, or (ii) the issuance of a final order or judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction declaring the Regulations to be invalid or not applicable to the provisions of this lease, Tenant, to the extent not then proscribed by law and commencing with the first day of the next month, shall pay to Landlord as additional rental, in equal monthly installments during the balance of the lease term, an amount equal to the cumulative difference between the Maximum Charges and the Lease Payments during the Freeze Period. If any provision of this lease, or its application, is to any extent declared to be invalid and unenforceable, that shall not be deemed to affect any other provision of this section or lease; the remaining provisions shall be deemed valid and enforceable to the fullest extent permitted by law.

Article XXVIII Miscellaneous

28.1. Relationship of parties. Nothing contained in this lease shall be deemed or construed by the parties, or by a third party, to create the relationship of principal and agent, of partnership, or of joint venture between them. No provision contained herein, including the method of computation of rent, and no acts of the parties shall be deemed to create any relationship between them other than the relationship of landlord and tenant.

28.2. Separate rent obligation. Tenant shall not for any reason withhold or reduce its required payments of rentals and other charges. Landlord's obligations under this lease are independent of Tenant's obligations, except as expressly provided otherwise. In this regard, if Landlord commences proceedings against Tenant for nonpayment of rentals or any other sum due and payable under this lease, Tenant shall not interpose any counterclaim or other claim against Landlord. If Tenant does so, Landlord may, in addition to its other lawful remedies, move to have the counterclaim or other claim severed out of the proceedings. The proceedings may then proceed to final judgment separately and apart from, and without consolidation with or reference to, the status of the counterclaim or other claim.

28.3. No recourse. Landlord's liability to Tenant for any default under this lease shall be limited to the sale proceeds on execution of Landlord's interest in the Demised Premises. Landlord shall not be personally liable for any deficiency, except that it shall, subject to the provisions of Section 17.5, remain personally liable to account to Tenant for any security deposited hereunder. This clause shall not be deemed to limit or deny any remedy, which does not involve Landlord's personal liability, that Tenant may have in case of Landlord's default.

28.4. Consent discretionary. Except as otherwise provided in this lease, whenever prior consent or permission of Landlord or Tenant ("first party") is required before the other party ("second party") is authorized to take a particular type of action, the decision to do so shall be within the sole discretion of the first party. This decision shall not constitute a breach under the lease, or a defense by the second party to its performance of any covenant, duty, or obligation hereunder that the first party delayed or withheld the granting of consent or permission, whether or not the decision to do so was, in the second party's opinion, prudent, reasonable, or based on good cause.

28.5. Non-waiver. A waiver by either party of one or more covenants, terms, or conditions of this lease shall not be construed as a waiver of a subsequent breach of the same covenant, term, or condition. The first party's consent to or approval of any act by the second party shall not be deemed to waive or render unnecessary consent to or approval of any subsequent similar act.

28.6. Delays beyond Landlord's control. Whenever a provision of this lease prescribes a time period for Landlord to take action, it shall not be liable or responsible for, and there shall be excluded from the computation of that period, all delays due to strikes, riots, Acts of God, shortages of labor or materials, war, governmental laws, regulations, restrictions, or other causes that are beyond Landlord's reasonable control.

28.7. Estoppel certificate. Tenant shall, at Landlord's request, execute and deliver to it a statement in recordable form certifying that the lease is unmodified and in full force and effect (or if there have been modifications, that they are in full force and effect).

28.8. Sublease obligations. If this lease is in fact a sublease, Tenant accepts it subject to all of the terms and conditions of the underlying lease under which Landlord holds the Shopping Center as lessee. Tenant shall do no act or thing that would constitute a violation by Landlord of its obligation under the underlying lease. However, Tenant's agreement in this regard is premised on Landlord's assurances that the terms of this lease do not violate the underlying lease.

28.9. Governing law; partial validity; venue. The interpretation, validity, performance, and enforcement of this lease shall be governed by the laws of the State of Texas. If any provision is held to be invalid or unenforceable, the validity and enforceability of the remaining provisions shall not be affected thereby. Venue for any action under this lease shall be in the county in which rentals are due under Sections 4.1 and 4.4.

28.10. Headings. Headings in this lease are for convenience and reference only and shall not be used to limit, amplify, or otherwise construe its provisions.

28.11. Number; gender. Whenever used in this lease, the singular number shall include the plural, and words of any gender shall include each other gender.

28.12. Binding effect. The terms, provisions, and covenants of this lease shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of both parties and their respective heirs, successors in interest, and legal representatives, except as otherwise expressly provided herein.

28.13. Modification; entire agreement. This lease contains the entire agreement between the parties. No other agreements shall be effective to change, modify, or terminate this lease, in whole or in part, unless in writing and duly signed by both parties. Each party acknowledges that it is not relying on any representation or promise of the other, or of the Agent or Cooperating Agent, except as expressly set forth herein.

28.14. Counterparts. This lease may be executed in two or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

28.15. Contents. This lease consists of 28 Articles and _____ attached pages, including Exhibit A through _____ (any space left blank will be deemed to have been completed with the word "none"). Except for Article VI, if any provision of an exhibit or other attached page is inconsistent with a provision in the body of the lease, the provision in the exhibit shall be deemed to control.

FORM 23.07 Restaurant lease in shopping center--tenant franchisee--tenant's right to use premises conditioned on obtaining liquor permit--percentage rent

COMMENT

This lease of space in a shopping center for use as a restaurant contains many clauses which can be used in commercial and shopping center leases generally. For example, as in most shopping center leases, this lease provides for the use of common facilities with other tenants, standard rules and regulations for all of the shopping center tenants, and a merchants' association. The lease also contains provisions dealing with store hours, advertising and signs. In addition, because the tenant is a franchisee restaurant, the lease provides for a liquor permit and franchisor rights.

Liquor permit:

This lease conditions the tenant's right to use the premises as a restaurant upon the tenant obtaining and maintaining required liquor permits. Such a clause protects the landlord from the possibility that the tenant will attempt to operate a restaurant that does not serve liquor if the tenant cannot obtain a liquor license. The landlord needs such protection because the tenant will be paying percentage rent based upon gross sales, and such gross sales amounts will be substantially lower if the tenant is not selling liquor.

A tenant might desire a clause conditioning the effectiveness of the entire lease on the tenant's ability to obtain a liquor license. Such a clause will give the tenant an option to cancel the lease if a liquor license is not obtained.

Franchisor's rights:

The tenant in this lease intends to operate its restaurant business under a franchise agreement with the franchisor. The lease provides that the franchisor has the right to cure any default on the part of the tenant. Furthermore, the landlord agrees to permit the franchisor to take possession of the lease premises if the tenant defaults under the franchise agreement, if the franchisor assumes the tenant's interest under the lease in writing, cures any defaults on the part of the tenant, and indemnifies the landlord from liability, loss or damage. If the franchisor assumes the tenant's interest in the lease, then the franchisor may sublet the premises to another franchisee without the landlord's consent. By granting such rights to the franchisor, the landlord protects itself from the possibility that the tenant's business will suffer if it loses its franchise, and at the same time the franchisor is assured that it can maintain its franchise even if its franchisee defaults.

Percentage rent:

This lease requires the tenant to pay percentage rent as well as a minimum base rent. The percentage rent here is based on the tenant's gross sales. Percentage rent arrangements also can be based on income or receipts; however, in a service business such as a restaurant, accounting complexities make it desirable to base the percentage rent on gross receipts. Percentage rent arrangements allow the landlord and the tenant to share the risks and benefits of fluctuations in property value or business income. This lease does not require the tenant to pay percentage rent in the first year of the lease.

The lease defines "gross sales" in detail, specifying the amounts which the parties intend to include in or exclude from "gross sales" for the purpose of determining the percentage rent. Among other things, this lease includes in "gross sales" the actual sales price of goods, the actual charges for services, and receipts of subtenants, licensees or concessionaires. Also included are all sales and services arising out of the use of the leased premises, no matter how or where made or delivered, including sales and services made by mail, telephone, telegraph, the internet, or mechanical vending devices.

Radius restrictions:

In order to prevent the tenant from diverting sales from this location to another, and thereby lowering percentage rent payments, this lease contains a radius restriction. The radius restriction prohibits the tenant, or any parent, subsidiary, affiliate, franchisee, officer, director or shareholder of the tenant, from owning, operating or having a financial interest in a similar business within a specified distance of the landlord's shopping center. The restriction further bars the tenant from permitting a similar business within the specified distance to be operated under a name similar to the tenant's trade name without the landlord's approval. The lease provides that, if the tenant violates the radius restriction, in addition to the landlord's other remedies for default, the landlord may include the gross sales from such other business in the determination of percentage rent.

Records and audits:

The collection of percentage rent depends to a large extent upon the records maintained and supplied by the tenant. This lease requires the tenant to deliver to the landlord a monthly accounting of gross sales and an annual gross sales statement accompanied by the certificate of a certified public accountant. Furthermore, the tenant must keep financial information needed to determine gross sales for a period of at least four years. Such records include tax returns, cash register tapes, and various transaction reports.

The landlord has the right to examine and audit the tenant's books and records. If an audit discloses that the tenant has underpaid the percentage rent by two percent or more, the tenant must pay the cost of the audit, as well as interest on the additional rent due from the time it should have been paid. If the underpayment exceeds three percent, the landlord may terminate the lease.

THIS LEASE ("Lease") is made on [date], by and between _____ Associates, a State of _____ general partnership ("Landlord"), and _____ Corp., a corporation incorporated under the laws of the State of _____ ("Tenant").

In consideration of the mutual covenants and agreements herein contained, and intending to be legally bound, the parties hereby covenant and agree as follows:

Article I Demise

1.01 Leased Premises. Landlord hereby leases to Tenant and Tenant hereby takes from Landlord, the Leased Premises for the Term (as defined in Section 1.04) and at the Rent (as defined in Section 2.01) and upon the provisions and conditions hereinafter set forth. "Leased Premises" and/or "Premises" mean that portion of the Landlord's Building (as defined in Section 1.03) outlined in red on Exhibit A, and described as follows: (insert description of leased premises). The Leased Premises shall not include the roof over the Premises or the land lying under the Leased Premises.

1.02 Common Areas. Tenant shall have the right to use, in common with other tenants of the Shopping Center, the Common Areas and Facilities; subject, however, to the terms and conditions of this Lease, to the right of Landlord to alter such areas from time to time and to establish from time to time uniform rules and regulations for the use thereof.

1.03 "Shopping Center" and "Landlord's Building" Defined. "Shopping Center" means that certain parcel of land, situated in the City of _____, City of _____, State of _____, and more particularly described in Exhibit B attached hereto (as the same may be altered or reduced from time to time) and any other parcel(s) of land at any time designated by Landlord to be added thereto (but only so long as such designation remains unrevoked), which are or are to be used for Shopping Center related purposes, including but not limited to, expansion area, employee parking, or the furnishing to the Shopping Center of any utility or other service, for any office and/or professional building or for any other improvement appropriate or related to the operation or functioning of the Shopping Center, together with all buildings on and improvements to any such parcel(s) of land. Landlord shall have the right to exclude in its discretion, any of the foregoing parcels, whether or not such parcels shall be used for Shopping Center or related purposes. "Landlord's Building" means the structure or structures and other improvements now or hereafter constructed on the parcel of land described in the attached Exhibit B, as the same may be altered, reduced or expanded from time to time.

1.04 Term and Commencement Date. The Term shall commence on the Commencement Date and, unless sooner terminated or extended in accordance with the terms of this Lease, shall expire on the last day of the last month of the fifth (5th) Lease Year. As used in this Lease, "Term" shall include any extensions of the period specified in this Article.

The "Commencement Date" means the earlier of one hundred twenty (120) days from the date that possession of the Lease Premises is delivered to Tenant or the date Tenant opens for business in the Leased Premises. Landlord and Tenant shall, upon demand of the other, execute a declaration expressing the Commencement Date. The term "Lease Year" shall mean a period of twelve (12) consecutive full calendar months. The first Lease Year shall begin on the Commencement Date, if the Commencement Date occurs on the first day of a calendar month, otherwise, the first Lease Year shall begin on the first day of the first full calendar month after the Commencement Date. Each succeeding Lease Year shall begin on the anniversary of the first lease Year. The first Lease Year shall include the period of time, if any, between the Commencement Date and the first day of the first Lease Year.

1.05 Option to Renew. Tenant may, at its option, renew this Lease for three (3) renewal terms of five (5) years each. The term of each renewal period shall commence immediately upon the conclusion of the original term of this lease or the preceding renewal period, as the case may be. This option(s) to renew may be exercised only by written notice in the manner provided in Section 22.05 hereof no later than one (1) year prior to the expiration date of the original term of this Lease or the preceding renewal period, as the case may be. This shall be the exclusive and only method of exercising this renewal option(s) and any other method shall not constitute an exercise thereof. The renewal term(s), granted pursuant to this option(s) to renew, shall be on the same terms and conditions as are to be in effect during the original terms of this Lease except that: (i) Tenant shall have no further option to renew this Lease beyond the expiration of the third renewal period created by this Section; (ii) the Minimum Rent for the first renewal period shall be $_____ per Lease Year and annual Percentage Base shall be $_____; (iii) the Minimum Rent for the second renewal period shall be $_____ per Lease Year and annual Percentage Base shall be $_____; and (iv) the Minimum Rent for the third renewal period shall be

If Tenant exercises its second option to renew in accordance with the terms and conditions of this Section 1.05 and if Tenant is not in default under this Lease, Landlord shall expend the sum of $_____ toward the cost of refurbishing the Premises.

If: (i) Tenant shall fail to exercise this renewal option(s) during the period(s) in which it is available and in the manner required hereby, or (ii) this Lease is no longer in full force and effect for any reason, or (iii) Tenant is in default under this lease, at the time of such exercise, this renewal option(s) shall terminate, be void and of no further force or effect.

Unless otherwise herein expressly provided, any reference in this Lease to the "term of this Lease" shall mean the original term hereof and such renewal period(s), if validly exercised by Tenant pursuant to its option(s) to renew set forth in this Section, except to the extent that the original term or any renewal period may be sooner terminated or canceled under any provisions of this Lease.

1.06 Failure of Tenant to Open. In the event that the Landlord notifies the Tenant that the Leased Premises are available for occupancy and the Tenant fails to take possession and to open the Leased premises for business fully fixtured, stocked and staffed within one hundred twenty (120) days thereafter, then the Landlord shall have, in addition to any and all remedies herein provided, the right at its option to collect not only the Minimum Rent, but also Additional Rent at the rate of $_____ per day for each and every day that the Tenant shall fail to commence to do business as herein provided. Such Additional Rent shall be deemed to be in lieu of any Annual Percentage Rent that might have been earned during such period of the Tenant's failure to open.

1.07 Cancellation Option. The obligations of both Tenant and Landlord under this Lease are expressly conditioned upon Tenant determining within thirty (30) days after the date of this Lease that the utilities servicing the premises are sufficient for Tenant's Permitted Use. If Tenant determines within such thirty (30) day period that the utilities servicing the Premises are insufficient for Tenant's Permitted use, then Tenant may cancel this Lease, in which event, both parties shall be released of any further liability under this Lease. Failure of Tenant to exercise this option to terminate within that thirty (30) day period shall constitute Tenant's waiver of its right to do so.

Article II Rent

2.01 Rent Payable. Tenant shall pay to Landlord as rent (sometimes collectively referred to as "Rent") for the Leased Premises, the following:

A. "Advance Rent," as defined in Section 2.08, means the sum of $_____;

B. "Minimum Rent," as defined in Section 2.02, means $_____ per Lease Year;

C. "Annual Percentage Rent" means the applicable percent (the "Annual Percentage"), as set forth in Section 2.03, of all Gross Sales (as defined in Section 2.04) in excess of the applicable Percentage Base as set forth in Section 2.03;

D. Tenant's proportionate share of Operating Costs as defined in Section 6.04 and as the same may be from time to time adjusted. The first month's charge shall be due and payable in advance on the Commencement Date and monthly on the first day of each month thereafter;

E. Tenant's proportionate share of Taxes, as defined in Section 3.01, and Insurance Premiums, as defined in Section 9.02, as the same may be from time to time adjusted, the first installment of which shall be due and payable in advance on the Commencement Date and monthly on the first day of each month thereafter;

F. "Security Deposit" means $_____ to be paid pursuant to Section 2.09 hereof;

G. Merchants' Association Dues in the amount of $_____ per month due and payable on the first day of each and every month of the Term; and

H. In addition to Minimum Rent and Annual Percentage Rent, all additional sums, charges or amounts of whatever nature to be paid by Tenant to Landlord in accordance with the provisions of this Lease, shall be considered "Additional Rent" whether or not such sums, charges or amounts are referred to as such.

2.02 Minimum Rent. Tenant hereby covenants and agrees to pay to Landlord, at its office or at such other place as Landlord may from time to time designate, as "Minimum Rent" for the Leased premises during the original Term of this Lease, without deduction or setoff, the sum of $_____ per Lease Year, in equal monthly installments of $_____ each, in advance on the first day of each and every calendar month during the Term. Minimum Rent and any other charges required to be paid by Tenant

If the Commencement Date of this Lease is on or before ninety (90) days after the date Landlord delivers possession of the Premises to tenant, then, in that event, no Minimum Rent shall be payable by Tenant for thirty (30) days after the Commencement Date, but Tenant is obligated to pay all other charges under the Lease.

2.03 Annual Percentage Rent. Tenant shall pay, as Annual Percentage Rent, for each of Lease Years two (2) through five (5), an amount equal to the product of (i) _____ percent (_____%) (the "Annual Percent") multiplied by (ii) the amount, if any by which Gross Sales (as defined in Section 2.04) for such Lease Year exceeds $_____ ("Percentage Base"), or as it may be from time to time adjusted in accordance herewith. Annual Percentage Rent shall be due and payable on the tenth (10th) day of the month immediately following the month in which Gross Sales for the Lease Year exceeds the Percentage Base. Thereafter, Annual Percentage Rent shall be due and payable monthly on or before the tenth (10th) day of each month on all additional Gross Sales during the remainder of the Lease Year. Within ninety (90) days after the end of each Lease Year, the Annual Percentage Rent paid or payable for such Lease Year shall be adjusted between Landlord and Tenant so as to reflect the actual Annual Percentage Rent due for such Lease Year, and Tenant shall promptly pay Landlord or Landlord shall promptly credit to Tenant's account as the case may be, the amount necessary to effect such adjustment. If the Minimum Rent is prorated, reduced or abated for any reason, then the Percentage Base shall be proportionately prorated, reduced or abated for the same period. Tenant shall not be obligated to pay Annual Percentage Rent for the first Lease Year of the original Term of this Lease.

2.04 "Gross Sales" Defined.

(a) "Gross Sales" means the actual sales price of all goods, wares and merchandise sold, leased, licensed or delivered, and the actual charges for all services performed by Tenant or by any person, firm or corporation on its behalf, or by any subtenant, licensee, or concessionaire in, at, from, or arising out of the use of the Leased Premises, whether for wholesale or retail, and whether for cash or credit, including the value of all consideration other than money received, without reserve or deduction for inability or failure to collect. Gross Sales shall include, without limitation, sales and services: (i) where the orders therefor originate in, at, from, or arising out of the use of the Leased Premises, whether delivery or performance is made from the Lease Premises or from some other place; (ii) made or performed by internet, mail, telephone or telegraph orders; (iii) made or performed by means of mechanical or other vending devices in the Leased Premises; and (iv) which Tenant or any subtenant, licensee, concessionaire or other person in the normal and customary course of its business would credit or attribute to its operations at the Leased premises or any part thereof. Any deposit not refunded shall be included in Gross Sales. Each installment or credit sale shall be treated as a sale for the full price in the month during which such sale is made, regardless of the time, if ever, that Tenant receives payment therefor. No franchise or capital stock tax and no income or similar tax based on income or profits shall be deducted from Gross Sales. Nothing contained herein shall imply any consent by Landlord to any sublease, license or concession in violation of any other term of this Lease.

(b) The following shall not be included in Gross Sales: (i) any exchange of merchandise between stores of Tenant where such exchange is made solely for the convenient operation of Tenant's business and not for the purpose of consummating a sale made in, at or from the leased premises, or for the purpose of depriving Landlord of the benefit of a sale which would otherwise be made in or at the Lease Premises; (ii) returns to shippers or manufacturers; (iii) cash or credit refunds to customers on transactions (not to exceed the actual selling price of the item returned) previously included in Gross Sales; (iv) sales of trade fixtures, machinery and equipment after use thereof in the conduct of Tenant's business; (v) amounts collected and paid by Tenant to any governmental authority for any sales or excise tax; (vi) amounts collected from vending machines and pool tables; and (vii) bad debts not exceeding _____ percent (_____%) of Gross Sales written off by Tenant for income tax purposes may be deducted from Gross Sales in the Lease Year in which they are written off, however, if any account receivable previously written off as a bad debt is later collected, that amount shall be included in the amount of Gross Sales in the Lease Year in which collected.

(c) Radius Clause: During the Term of this Lease, neither Tenant, nor any parent, subsidiary, affiliate, franchisee, officer, director or shareholder of Tenant, will within a radius of _____ miles of the perimeter of the Shopping Center, either directly or indirectly, own, operate or be financially interested in, with or without others, a business like or similar to the business permitted to be conducted pursuant to this Lease, nor will Tenant permit any like or similar business within such radius to be operated under a name which shall be the same or similar to the Tenant trade name without prior written approval of Landlord. Without limiting Landlord's remedies, if this Section is not complied with, in addition to any other rights or remedies available to Landlord, Landlord shall have the right to include the gross sales of such other business in the Gross Sales from the Leased Premises for the purpose of computing Annual Percentage rent due under this Lease. The provisions of this Section shall survive the termination of this lease or the re-entry into the Leased Premises by Landlord resulting from a breach of this Lease by Tenant.

2.05 Statements of Gross Sales. Tenant shall deliver to Landlord: (a) within fifteen (15) days after the end of each calendar month of the Term a written report signed by Tenant's accountant or by an authorized executive officer or authorized agent of Tenant and certified by such person to be complete and accurate, setting forth the Gross Sales made in the preceding calendar month; and (b) within sixty (60) days after the end of each Lease Year and within sixty (60) days after the expiration or earlier termination of this Lease, a statement of Gross Sales for the preceding Lease Year or other period preceding the termination of this Lease. The annual statement shall be accompanied by the signed certificate of Tenant's certified public accountant stating specifically that: (i) he or she has examined the report of Gross Sales for the preceding Lease Year; (ii) such examination included such tests of Tenant's books and records as such certified public accountant considered necessary or appropriate under the circumstances; (iii) such report presents fairly the Gross Sales of the preceding Lease Year; and (iv) such Gross Sales conform with and are computed in compliance with the definition of Gross Sales contained in Section 2.04 hereof. If Tenant shall fail to deliver the monthly report or the annual statement and certificate to Landlord within the time required, then, in addition to any other rights of Landlord, Landlord shall have the right thereafter to employ, at Tenant's expense, an independent certified public accountant to examine such books and records as may be necessary to determine the amount of Tenant's Gross Sales for such month or Lease Year, as the case may be. Both the monthly report and the annual statement shall be in the form and style and contain such detail as Landlord shall reasonably require.

2.06 Tenant's Records. For the purpose of permitting verification by Landlord of any amounts due as Annual Percentage Rent, Tenant will keep and preserve for at least four (4) years, and during the Term shall keep at the Tenant Notice Address, original or duplicate books and records which shall disclose all information required to determine Gross Sales, including: (i) federal, state and local gross income, sales and occupation tax returns; (ii) daily, dated cash register tapes, including tapes from temporary registers; (iii) settlement report sheets of transactions with subtenants, concessionaires and licensees; (iv) daily and/or weekly transaction reports; and (v) such other records, if any, which would normally be examined by an independent accountant pursuant to generally accepted auditing standards in performing an audit of Tenant's sales. At any time or from time to time after at least ten (10) business days' advance notice to Tenant, Landlord and any mortgagee and/or their respective agents and accountants, shall have the right to make any examination or audit of Tenant's books and records which Landlord or such mortgagee may desire to verify or ascertain Gross Sales. If such audit shall disclose a liability in any Lease Year for Annual Percentage Rent in excess of the Annual Percentage Rent therefore paid by Tenant for such period, then Tenant shall promptly pay such excess. Should any such liability for Annual Percentage Rent equal or exceed two percent (2%) of the Annual Percentage Rent previously paid for such Lease Year, Tenant shall, in addition promptly pay the cost of the audit and interest at the Default Rate on all additional Annual Percentage Rent then payable, from the date such additional Annual Percentage Rent should have been paid. Should any such liability for Annual Percentage Rent equal or exceed three percent (3%) of the Annual Percentage Rent previously paid for such Lease Year, Landlord may, in addition to any right or remedy available to Landlord, terminate this Lease by notifying Tenant in writing within ninety (90) days after Landlord discovers such liability, and the Term of this Lease shall expire on the last day of the second full calendar month after the date of such notice.

2.07 Payment of Rent. Tenant shall pay all Rent when due and payable, without any setoff, deduction or prior demand therefor whatsoever. Any Rent which is not paid when due shall bear interest from the original due date at the Default Rate, which is hereby defined as being fifteen percent (15%) per annum or the maximum rate of interest for which Tenant may lawfully contract in the State of _____, whichever is less. Any Additional Rent which shall become due shall be payable, unless otherwise provided herein, on the first day of each month during the Term. Rent and statements required of Tenant shall be paid and delivered to Landlord at _____ Street, City of _____, State of _____. Any payment by Tenant or acceptance by Landlord of a lesser amount than shall be due from Tenant to Landlord shall be treated as payment on account. The acceptance by Landlord of a check for a lesser amount with an endorsement or statement thereon, or upon any letter accompanying such check, that such lesser amount is payment in full, shall be given no effect, and Landlord may accept such check without prejudice to any other rights or remedies which Landlord may have against Tenant.

2.08 Advance Rent. Concurrently with the execution of this Lease, Tenant shall deposit with the Landlord the Advance Rent as described in Section 2.01 hereof. The Advance Rent shall be applied by Landlord against the first installment of Rent due hereunder. No interest shall be payable to Tenant on account of the Advance Rent.

2.09 Security Deposit. Concurrently with the execution of this Lease, Tenant shall deposit the Security Deposit with Landlord and thereafter, during the continuance of this Lease, shall maintain the Security Deposit with Landlord. The Security Deposit shall be security for the full, prompt and faithful performance by Tenant of all of its obligations hereunder. Landlord shall have the right, but not the obligation, to apply the Security Deposit of any part thereof toward the cost and expense (including Landlord's attorneys' and other professional fees, if any) of curing any default on the part of Tenant; in which event, Tenant shall restore the Security Deposit to its original amount within ten (10) days after receipt of Landlord's written request to do so. Upon expiration of this Lease and vacation of the Premises in the manner required by this Lease, the Security Deposit, or the portion thereof remaining unapplied after the curing of every default by Tenant, shall be returned to Tenant. No interest shall be payable to Tenant on account of the Security Deposit.

Article III Taxes

3.01 Tenant to Pay Proportionate Share of Taxes. Tenant shall pay for each calendar year (or portion thereof) during the Term, as Additional Rent, a proportionate share of all real estate taxes, ad valorem taxes and assessments, general and special assessments, or any other tax imposed upon or levied against real estate and/or improvements or upon owners of real estate and/or improvements as such, rather than levied upon persons generally, payable with respect to or allocable to the Shopping Center and/or Landlord's Building, together with the reasonable cost (including fees of attorneys, consultants, accountants and appraisers) of any negotiation, contest or appeal pursued by Landlord in an effort to reduce or lower the amount of any increase in any such tax, assessment or charge, the same being collectively referred to herein as "Taxes." Tenant's proportionate share of Taxes for any calendar year shall be computed by multiplying the amount of Taxes for such year by a fraction, the numerator of which shall be Tenant's Floor Area and the denominator of which shall be the Floor Area of Landlord's Building. For the calendar year in which the Term commences or terminates, Tenant's liability for its proportionate share of any Taxes for such year shall be subject to a pro rata adjustment based upon the number of days of such calendar year falling within the Term.

3.02 Payment of Proportionate Share of Taxes. Tenant's proportionate share of Taxes shall be paid by Tenant in equal monthly installments in such amounts as are estimated and billed for each year by Landlord in its sole discretion at the commencement of the Term or as a result of revised assessments during the Term and at the beginning of each successive year during the Term, each such installment being due and payable on the first day of each calendar month. The first monthly payment shall include a prorated portion of Tenant's proportionate share of Taxes for the period from the Commencement Date to the first day of the first full calendar month of the Term. Within a reasonable time after Landlord's receipt of tax bills for a particular year, Landlord will notify Tenant of the amount of Taxes for the year in question and the amount of Tenant's proportionate share thereof. The proportionate share paid or payable for each year shall be adjusted between Landlord and Tenant, and Tenant shall pay Landlord or Landlord shall credit to Tenant's account (or, if such adjustment is at the end of the Term, pay Tenant), as the case may be, within ten (10) days of the aforesaid notice, the amount necessary to effect such adjustment. The failure of Landlord timely to provide the aforesaid notice shall not relieve Tenant of its obligations to pay its proportionate share of Taxes generally or for the specific year in which any such failure occurs.

3.03 Taxes on Rent. In addition to Tenant's proportionate share of Taxes, Tenant shall pay to the appropriate agency any and all sales, income and excise taxes (not including, however, Landlord's income taxes) levied, imposed or assessed by the State of _____ or any political subdivision thereof or other taxing authority upon any Rent payable hereunder.

3.04 Tenant's Municipal, County, State or Federal Taxes. Tenant shall be responsible for and shall pay, before delinquency, all municipal, county, state or federal taxes assessed against: (i) the income or gross receipts of Tenant; and/or (ii) any leasehold interest or any fixtures, furnishings, equipment, stock-in-trade or other personal property of any kind owned, installed or used in or on the Premises.

3.05 "Floor Area" Defined. "Floor Area," with respect to Landlord's Building, means the average number of square feet of leasable area in Landlord's Building(s) from time to time designated by Landlord for the exclusive use and occupancy of rent-paying tenants. Any change in the Floor Area of Landlord's Building(s) shall be deemed in effect on the first day of the month following such change. For purposes of calculating Additional Rent, the Floor Area of the Leased Premises ("Tenant's Floor Area") shall be the area specified in Article I.

Article IV Improvements

4.01 Improvements.

(a) Landlord has no obligation to alter, remodel or improve the Premises in any way. Tenant agrees to accept the Premises in an "as is" condition.

(b) Tenant shall submit to Landlord, on or before thirty (30) days after the date of this Lease, drawings for the renovation of the Premises.

(c) Within ten (10) days after the receipt of the Tenant's drawings, Landlord, by notice in writing addressed to Tenant, shall indicate Landlord's approval of them or clearly specify any objections to them, the objections in all events to be reasonable. Tenant will, within ten (10) days after receipt of a notice of disapproval, as aforesaid, appropriately amend and modify the drawings so as to reflect all changes, modifications and corrections that Landlord reasonably requests. The revisions and resubmissions shall continue until Landlord approves in writing the drawings. The work to be performed by Tenant as described in the drawings therefore, approved by Landlord as provided above, are herein referred to as "Tenant's Work."

(d) The drawings for Tenant's Work shall be prepared by licensed architects in the employ of Tenant. Tenant shall bear all costs of preparing the drawings. Landlord's approval of the drawings shall not constitute an opinion or agreement that they are in compliance with law (it being agreed that such compliance is solely Tenant's responsibility) nor shall such approval impose any present or future liability on Landlord or waive any of Landlord's rights under this Lease. Tenant shall provide Landlord with two (2) sets of the drawings.

(e) Tenant shall, to the reasonable satisfaction of Landlord, commence, construct, perform and complete all Tenant's Work in a good and workmanlike manner, in complete accordance with the drawings approved by Landlord.

(f) At all times prior to the Commencement Date, all the provisions, covenants and conditions of the Lease shall be applicable to the Premises other than those requiring payment of rent relating solely to the Premises.

(g) Prior to the commencement of construction of Tenant's Work, Tenant shall obtain, at its sole cost and expense, all permits and licenses and other consents and approvals of all governmental authorities as may be required in connection with Tenant's Work and shall deliver copies thereof to Landlord. Tenant shall, at its sole cost and expense, furnish to Landlord all certificates and approvals with respect to work done by Tenant or on Tenant's behalf that may be required from any governmental authority for the issuance of a certificate of occupancy for the Premises and shall obtain such certificate and furnish Landlord with a copy of such certificate prior to the Commencement Date.

(h) Tenant's Work and all of Tenant's trade fixtures and equipment shall be performed, constructed and installed in accordance and in full compliance with all applicable governmental requirements, including without limitation the accessibility and other requirements of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 ("ADA"), and all applicable laws, statutes, codes, ordinances and governmental rules, regulations and orders, as well as reasonable rules and regulations established by Landlord. Tenant's Work shall be performed without interference and disruption to Landlord or other tenants.

(i) Any contractor used by Tenant to perform Tenant's Work pursuant to this Section, must first be approved in writing by Landlord, which approval shall not be unreasonably withheld. Such approval shall be in Landlord's sole discretion based on the proposed contractor's financial condition, reputation and workmanship, but no such approval shall relieve Tenant of any of its other obligations hereunder or impose any liability upon Landlord. Tenant hereby acknowledges and agrees that Tenant must use _____ Roofing Company for any roof cuts in connection with the installation of the heating, ventilating and air conditioning system on the roof of the Premises. In connection with the performance of Tenant's Work or the use and occupancy of the Premises, Tenant shall not permit anything to occur which directly or indirectly interferes in any way with the use and occupancy of any tenant or the normal operations of the Shopping Center.

(j) Landlord shall provide to Tenant an allowance in the sum of $_____ which shall be used by Tenant toward the cost of construction of Tenant's Work ("Tenant's Allowance"). The Tenant's Allowance may only be used for leasehold improvements that become part of the Leased Premises; it being specifically understood and agreed that no portion of the Tenant's Allowance may be used for removable trade fixtures, equipment, furniture or other personal property. All improvements constructed with Tenant's Allowance dollars shall become part of the Leased Premises and title thereto shall vest in Landlord upon installation free and clear of all liens and encumbrances. All costs of Tenant's Work that exceed Tenant's Allowance shall be paid by Tenant. Tenant hereby expressly grants Landlord an offset and deduction against Tenant's Allowance for all delinquent costs, payments and expenses Tenant is obligated to pay Landlord pursuant to the Lease or otherwise due and owing to Landlord.

Tenant's Allowance shall be due and payable if and when: (i) Tenant shall have completed the installation of the heating, ventilating and air conditioning system in accordance with the approved drawings and other provisions of this

Lease; (ii) Tenant shall have furnished evidence satisfactory to Landlord that all work for the heating, ventilating and air conditioning system contracted for by Tenant in and about the Premises has been paid for, including without limitation, mechanic's lien affidavits and lien waivers in accordance with the mechanic's lien laws of the State of _____; (iii) Tenant shall have executed such certificates as shall be reasonably required by Landlord or any mortgagee of Landlord; (iv) Tenant shall have furnished Landlord with a written certificate of the actual cost of the heating, ventilating and air conditioning system with cost must be at least $ _____; then, when and if each condition contained in the foregoing items (i) through (iv) inclusive hereof shall have been complied with in full, Landlord shall pay to Tenant the Tenant Allowance.

4.01 Alterations. Tenant covenants and agrees that it will not make or permit any structural or nonstructural alterations of the Leased premises except by and with the prior written consent of the plans and specification therefor by Landlord. All alterations and other improvements made by Tenant shall be made in a good and workmanlike manner in accordance with all applicable laws, including without limitation, the ADA and all rules and regulations issued thereunder, shall become the immediate property of Landlord and shall remain for the benefit of Landlord unless otherwise provided in the written consent mentioned above. Tenant shall obtain and furnish Landlord with all permits, licenses and other consents and approvals of all governmental authorities as may be required prior to the commencement of such work. Tenant further agrees in the event of making such alterations as herein provided, fully and promptly to pay for same and to indemnify and save Landlord and the Shopping Center harmless from and against any loss, cost, expense or lien in connection therewith. In the event any such alterations are removed by Tenant (without hereby implying Landlord's consent to such removal), Tenant shall, at its sole cost and expense, repair any damage to the Leased Premises occasioned by such removal.

4.03 Changes and Additions to Buildings. The Landlord hereby reserves the right at any time and from time to time to make additions or alterations to any buildings in the Shopping Center. The Landlord also reserves the right to construct other buildings or improvements in the Shopping Center from time to time and to make alterations thereof or additions thereto and to build additional stories on any building or buildings or to build adjoining same or to construct double-deck or elevated parking facilities.

4.04 Remodeling of Buildings. In the event Landlord determines, in its sole judgment, to remodel, reface or alter the exterior front portion of the Leased Premises and the exterior front portions of the other storerooms in Landlord's Building, Tenant shall pay to Landlord, as Additional Rent, its proportionate share (based on the ratio which the front footage of the Leased Premises bears to the front footage of all storerooms in Landlord's Building) of the cost of such remodeling, refacing or alteration. In addition to the foregoing payment, Tenant agrees that notwithstanding anything to the contrary in Article VII hereof, in the event of any such remodeling, refacing or alteration, Tenant shall, upon the demand of Landlord, remove its existing sign(s) from the exterior of the Leased Premises and Tenant may replace such sign(s) with a uniform sign to be designated by Landlord or Landlord's architect so as to blend harmoniously with the signs of all other lessees in the building.

4.05 Mechanic's Liens. The interest of Landlord in the Shopping Center and the Premises shall not be subject to liens for improvements made by Tenant.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in the statutes of the State of _____ or in this Lease, Tenant shall not be deemed to be a partner, joint venturer or agent of Landlord; and in no event shall any lien resulting from Tenant's improvements to the Premises encumber Landlord's underlying fee simple estate. Tenant agrees that it shall not enter into any contract for improvements to the Premises unless the following language is included in such contract:

"Notwithstanding anything herein contained to the contrary, the contractor acknowledges that _____ Corp. holds only a leasehold interest in the property which is the subject of this contract. _____ Corp. is not the agent of the owner of the property, and no lien resulting from work performed under this contract shall attach to the interest of such owner."

Tenant shall not permit any work to be commenced until such time as Tenant has provided Landlord with a fully executed copy of the construction contract evidencing incorporation of the aforesaid language. In addition, prior to the commencement of the work, Tenant shall post the following notice in a conspicuous place on the Premises, and shall assure that such notice is maintained throughout the entire course of construction:

"NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS, SUBCONTRACTORS, MATERIALMEN AND LABORERS

is hereby given that work on _____ Corp., located at _____ Avenue, City of _____, State of _____, is being performed for _____ Corp. _____ Corp. is not the agent of the owner of this property, and any lien rights shall be limited to the leasehold estate of _____ Corp. and shall in no event attach to the interest of the owner."

If, for whatever reason, any mechanic's or other lien shall be filed against the Premises, or the Shopping Center, purporting to be for labor or material furnished or to be furnished at the request of Tenant, then Tenant shall, at its expense, cause such lien to be discharged of record by payment, bond or otherwise as allowed by law, within ten (10) days after the filing thereof. If Tenant shall fail to cause such lien to be discharged of record within such ten (10) day period, Landlord, in addition to any other rights and remedies, may, but shall not be obligated to, cause such lien to be discharged by payment, bond or otherwise, without investigation as to the validity thereof or as to any offsets or defenses thereto, and Tenant shall, upon demand, promptly within ten (10) days, reimburse Landlord for all amounts paid and costs incurred, including attorneys' fees and interest thereon at the maximum legal rate from the respective dates of Landlord's payments therefor, in having such lien discharged of record, and, further, Tenant also shall otherwise indemnify, protect, defend and save Landlord harmless from any claim or damage resulting therefrom.

Article V Conduct of Business by Tenant

5.01 Use of premises. Tenant shall use the Leased Premises solely to operate a _____ restaurant franchise serving liquor, beer, wine and food (the "Permitted Use") and for no other purpose whatsoever. Tenant's right to use the Premises for the Permitted Use is expressly conditioned upon Tenant obtaining all required liquor permits from the Department of Liquor Control of the State of _____ and maintaining such liquor permits in full force and effect throughout the Term of this Lease in full compliance with all laws, rules and regulations in connection therewith. From and after the Commencement Date, Tenant shall occupy the Leased Premises and shall conduct continuously in the Leased premises the business above stated. Tenant will not use or permit, or suffer the use of, the Leased Premises for any other business or purpose or any purpose contrary to law or the rules and regulations of any public authority or in any manner deemed extra hazardous on account of fire or otherwise nor in any manner so as to increase the cost of fire and extended coverage insurance of the Leased Premises.

5.02 Operation of Business. Tenant shall operate continuously one hundred percent (100%) of the Leased Premises for the Permitted Use during the entire Term under the trade name "_____", with due diligence and efficiency so as to produce the maximum amount of Gross Sales which may be produced by such manner of operation. Tenant shall carry at all times in the Leased Premises a stock of merchandise of such size, character and quality as shall be reasonably designed to produce the maximum amount of Gross Sales. Tenant agrees to keep the Premises open for business from at least 12:00 p.m. to 12:00 a.m., seven days per week; provided, however, (i) Tenant may open for business with the public as early as 11:00 a.m. and may remain open past 2:30 a.m. (however, Tenant shall not serve liquor, beer or wine past 2:30 a.m.); (ii) Tenant shall provide a doorman between the hours of 11:00 p.m. through the time of closing; (iii) the above hours are not in conflict with any law, ordinance or union contract provisions; (iv)

Tenant shall be relieved of such obligation to operate during such hours to the extent it may be necessary that the Premises be closed on account of the order of any duly constituted authority, or for the purpose of making repairs or improvements, or during the period of any strikes, lockouts, emergencies or other causes beyond Tenant's control, so long as Tenant shall make all reasonable efforts to shorten such periods; and (v) Tenant is permitted to close on the following holidays: New Year's Day, Easter Sunday, Fourth of July, Thanksgiving and Christmas Day. Tenant shall keep the display windows and signs, if any, in the Leased Premises well lighted during the hours from sundown to 11:00 p.m., unless prevented by causes beyond the control of Tenant.

5.03 Storage, Office Space. Tenant shall warehouse, store and/or stock in the Leased Premises only such goods, wares and merchandise as Tenant intends to offer for sale at retail at, in, from or upon the Leased Premises. This shall not preclude occasional emergency transfers of merchandise to the other stores of Tenant, if any, not located in the Shopping Center. Tenant shall use for office, clerical or other non-selling purposes only such space in the Leased Premises as is from time to time reasonably required for Tenant's business in the Leased Premises.

5.04 Deliveries. All deliveries to the Leased Premises shall be made through the rear entrance to the Leased Premises.

Article VI Parking and Common Areas and Facilities

6.01 Common Areas and Facilities. "Common Areas and Facilities" means the portions of the Shopping Center, whether owned or ground leased by Landlord or made available for use by other owners or ground lessors of parcels within the Shopping Center, which have, at the time in question, been designated and improved for common use by or for the benefit of more than one retail occupant of the Shopping Center; including, without limitation (if and to the extent facilities therefor are provided by the Landlord at the time in question), the land and facilities utilized as: parking lots; access and perimeter roads; landscaped areas; exterior walks, arcades, stairways and ramps; underground storm and sanitary sewers, utility lines and the like installed at the cost of Landlord; but excluding all portions of the Shopping Center which are (i) used or intended for use by one occupant only; or (ii) designated by Landlord for the exclusive use of office tenants, including without limitation all interior corridors and public lavatories. Any portion of the Shopping Center so included within Common Areas and Facilities shall be excluded therefrom when designated by Landlord for a non-common use, and any portion thereof not theretofore included within Common Areas and Facilities shall be included when so designated and improved for common use.

6.02 Control of Common Areas and Facilities by Landlord. All Common Areas and Facilities shall at all times be subject to the exclusive control and management of the Landlord, and the Landlord shall have the right from time to time to establish, modify and enforce reasonable rules and regulations with respect to all facilities and areas mentioned in this Article. The Landlord shall have the right to construct, maintain and operate lighting facilities on all such areas and improvements; to police the same; from time to time to change the size area, level, location and arrangement of parking areas and other facilities referred to above; to restrict parking by tenants, their officers, agents and employees to employee parking areas; to enforce parking charges (by operation of meters or otherwise); to close all or any portion of such areas or facilities to such extent as may, in the opinion of Landlord's counsel, be legally sufficient to prevent a dedication thereof or the accrual of any rights to any person or the public therein; to close temporarily all or any portion of the parking areas or facilities; to discourage non-customer parking; and to do and perform such other acts in and to such areas and improvements as, in the use of good business judgment, the Landlord shall determine to be advisable with a view to the improvement of the convenience and use thereof by Tenant, other tenants and their officers, agents, employees and customers. The Landlord will operate and maintain the Common Areas and Facilities in such manner as the Landlord, in its sole discretion, shall determine from time to time. Without limiting the scope of such discretion, the Landlord shall have the full right and authority to employ all personnel and to make all rules and regulations pertaining to and necessary for the operation and maintenance of the Common Areas and Facilities.

6.03 License. All Common Areas and Facilities, which the Tenant may be permitted to use and occupy, are to be used and occupied under a revocable license, and if the amount of such areas be diminished, the Landlord shall not be subject to any liability nor shall the Tenant be entitled to any compensation or diminution or abatement of Rent, nor shall such diminution of such areas be deemed constructive or actual eviction.

6.04 Tenant to Share Expense of Common Areas and Facilities.

(a) Tenant shall pay during the Term as Additional Rent its proportionate share of Landlord's Operating Costs. Tenant's proportionate share of Landlord's Operating Costs shall be computed by multiplying the operating costs for the period then being billed by a fraction, the numerator of which is the Floor Area of the Leased Premises and the denominator of which is the Floor Area of Landlord's Building(s). Such proportionate share shall be paid by Tenant in equal monthly installments in such amounts as are estimated and billed by Landlord at the commencement of the Term and at the beginning of each successive calendar year, each such installment being due on the first day of each calendar month. The first monthly payment shall include a prorated portion of Landlord's Operating Costs for the period from the Commencement Date to the first day of the first full calendar month of the Term. For the calendar year in which the Term commences or terminates, Tenant's liability for its proportionate share of Landlord's Operating Costs shall be subject to a pro rata adjustment based upon the number of days of such calendar year falling within the Term. Within a reasonable time after the end of each calendar year, Landlord shall deliver to Tenant a statement of Landlord's Operating Costs for such calendar year, and the monthly installments paid or payable shall be adjusted between Landlord and Tenant, and Tenant shall pay Landlord or Landlord shall credit to Tenant's account (or, if such adjustment is at the end of the Term, pay Tenant), as the case may be, within fifteen (15) days of receipt of such statement, such amounts as may be necessary to effect such adjustment for such calendar year. Upon reasonable notice, Landlord shall make available for Tenant's inspection at Landlord's office, during normal business hours, Landlord's records relating to Landlord's Operating Costs for the preceding calendar year. Failure of Landlord to provide the statement called for hereunder within the time prescribed shall not relieve Tenant of its obligations hereunder.

(b) Tenant's proportionate share of any increase in Operating Costs for Lease Years two (2) through five (5) shall not exceed one hundred four percent (104%) of Tenant's proportionate share of those expenses for the preceding Lease Year (the "Cap"), unless Tenant's proportionate share percentage increase of those expenses for any preceding Lease Year was less than the Cap, in which event the difference between the Cap and the lesser percentage increase shall be carried forward and added to the Cap for the current Lease Year and future Lease Years until completely consumed.

6.05 "Landlord's Operating Costs" Defined. "Landlord's Operating Costs" means the costs and expenses of every kind and nature paid or incurred in operating, maintaining and preserving Landlord's Building, and the Common Areas and Facilities, including, without limitation, all costs and expenses of: (i) installation, maintenance, repair, replacement, improvement, operation, lighting, signing, cleaning, painting, striping, policing and security (including cost of uniforms, equipment and employment taxes); (ii) alarm systems; (iii) insurance, including liability insurance for personal injury, death and property damage, insurance against fire, extended coverage, theft or other casualties, worker's compensation insurance covering personnel, fidelity bonds for personnel, insurance against liability for defamation and claims of false arrest, and plate glass insurance for glass exclusively serving the Common Areas and Facilities; (iv) maintenance of sprinkler systems serving the Leased Premises, and the Common Areas or Facilities; (v) removal of snow, ice, trash and debris; (vi) regulation of traffic; (vii) inspection and depreciation of machinery and equipment used in the operation and maintenance of the Shopping Center, together with personal property taxes, rent and other charges incurred in connection with such equipment; (viii) fire protection and fire hydrant charges; (ix) paving, curbs, walkways, landscaping, guardrails, bumpers, fences, screens, flagpoles, bicycle racks, traffic signals, markers and signs, drainage, pipes, ducts, conduits and similar items, and lighting facilities; (x) planting, replanting and replacing flowers, shrubbery and planters; (xi) rental of music program services and loudspeaker systems, including furnishing electricity therefor; (xii) providing energy to heat, ventilate and air-condition the Common Areas and Facilities; (xiii) maintenance, repair, installation, replacement and amortization of the equipment and systems which provide heating, ventilation and air conditioning; (xiv) reasonable capital cost reserves for Landlord's Building's heating, ventilating, air conditioning and parking lots; (xv) water; (xvi) sewage charges; (xvii) services, if any, furnished by Landlord for nonexclusive use of all tenants; (xviii) parcel pick-up and delivery services; (xix) floors, floor coverings, ceilings, walls, roof and roof flashings, canopies, sky lights, signs, planters, benches, fountains, elevators, escalators and stairs, fire exits, doors and hardware, windows, glass and glazing of the Common Areas and Facilities; (xx) all license and permit fees, and all parking surcharges that may result from any environmental or other laws, rules, regulations guidelines or orders; (xxi) obtaining and operating public transportation or shuttle bus systems used in connection with bringing customers to Landlord's Building or if required by any environmental or other laws, rules, regulations, guidelines or orders; (xxii) rent or other costs or charges payable by Landlord with respect to any rights, privileges and easements now or hereafter benefitting the Shopping Center; (xxiii) personnel, including, without limitation, security and maintenance people of Landlord's Building, the Building Manager and Assistant Building Manager, secretaries and Building management bookkeepers (including, without limitation, payroll, taxes and employee benefits of such personnel); and (xxiv) an allowance for administrative costs equal to fifteen percent (15%) of the total of the foregoing costs and expenses. Such costs and expenses shall not include depreciation (other than depreciation as above specified). The costs and expenses referred to above are for definition only and are not to be construed so as to impose any obligation or obligations on Landlord or to indicate that any particular service or item is required to be furnished by Landlord.

Article VII Signs, Awnings and Canopies

7.01 Signs, Awnings and Canopies. Tenant shall at its sole cost erect and maintain a sign, advertising Tenant's business, on the exterior front of the Leased Premises and on the pylon sign for the Shopping Center in the space presently displaying "Space for Lease." If required by Landlord, Tenant shall pay for and install an additional sign advertising Tenant's business in the covered walkway adjoining Landlord's Building, if any. Tenant's sign(s) shall conform to Landlord's standard sign criteria. Tenant shall not install any sign(s) facing on the parking areas or elsewhere on the Lease Premises or in the Shopping Center, or place on the roof or any exterior wall (including both the interior and exterior surfaces of windows and doors) of the Leased Premises any sign, symbol, advertisement, neon or other light, shade, or any other object or thing visible to public view outside of the Leased Premises, without first obtaining Landlord's approval as to whether the same shall be so installed or placed and, if so, as to the location, number, type and appearance of each thereof.

Article VIII Condition and Maintenance of Leased Premises

8.01 Condition of Leased Premises. Tenant acknowledges that neither Landlord nor its agents have made any representations as to the condition or repair of the Leased Premises except those specified in this Lease.

8.02 Maintenance by Tenant. The Tenant shall, at all times, keep the Leased Premises (including maintenance of exterior entrances, all glass, show window moldings and frames, delivery doors and loading docks) and all partitions, doors, fixtures, equipment and appurtenances thereof (including lighting, heating and plumbing fixtures and equipment, sewer systems and any air-conditioning system exclusively serving the Leased Premises whether located inside or outside the Leased Premises) in good order, condition and repair (including reasonable periodic painting as determined by the Landlord), damage by unavoidable casualty excepted, except for structural portions of the Leased Premises, which shall be maintained by the Landlord. The Tenant further agrees to keep the inside and outside of all glass in doors and windows of the Leased Premises cleaned; to replace promptly at its own expense with glass of a like kind and quality any plate glass or window glass of the Leased Premises which may become cracked or broken; not to place or maintain any merchandise or other articles on the foot walk adjacent thereto or elsewhere on the exterior thereof; to maintain the Leased Premises in a clean, orderly and sanitary condition and free of insects, rodents, vermin and other pests; not to permit accumulations of garbage, trash, rubbish, litter and other refuse in the Leased Premises and the immediately adjacent portion of the Shopping Center, to remove the same at its own expense, and to keep such refuse in proper containers (or in trash room maintained by Tenant) on the exterior of the Leased Premises until called for it to be removed; if Landlord provides a common area for a trash dumpster or compactor, then Tenant shall remove to and place its trash in the trash removal containers furnished by Landlord, and Tenant shall prior to doing so break down all boxes and other shipping containers; to keep all mechanical apparatus free of vibration and noise which may be transmitted beyond the confines of the Leased Premises; not to cause or permit objectionable odors to emanate or be dispelled from the Leased Premises; to comply with all laws and ordinances and all valid rules and regulations of any federal, state, municipal or public authority having jurisdiction with respect to the Leased Premises, and to conduct its business in the Leased Premises in all respects in a dignified manner in accordance with high standards of store operation. In the event the Landlord is required to make repairs: (i) to structural portions of the Leased Premises by reason of Tenant's negligent acts or omissions to act, or (ii) to the Common Areas and Facilities of the Shopping Center by reason of the acts of Tenant, its employees or agents, the Landlord may add the cost of such repairs to the Rent.

8.03 Snow and Ice. Tenant shall provide for the removal of all snow and ice from the Leased Premises, the sidewalk in front of the Leased Premises if any, and the customer exits and delivery entrances at the rear of the Leased Premises, if any. Landlord shall provide for the removal of snow and ice from the parking areas and driveways of the Shopping Center.

8.04 Landlord's Maintenance and Repairs. Subject to the provisions of Articles XV and XVI hereof, and except for repairs, maintenance or replacements made necessary by the acts of Tenant, its employees, agents, customers or persons making deliveries to the Leased Premises (which repairs, maintenance or replacements shall be the responsibility of Tenant), Landlord covenants and agrees:

(a) to maintain in good order, condition replacement and repair the foundation, roof and exterior walls of the Leased Premises; and

(b) to maintain in good order, condition, replacement and repair, the conduits providing utility services for gas, electricity, sewer and water up to the Leased Premises.

8.05 Surrender of Premises. At the expiration of the tenancy hereby created, the Tenant shall surrender the Leased Premises in the same condition as the Leased Premises were upon delivery of possession thereto under this Lease and as thereafter improved, reasonable wear and tear excepted, and damage by unavoidable casualty excepted, and shall surrender all keys for the Leased Premises to the Landlord at the place then fixed for the payment of Rent and shall inform the Landlord of all combinations on locks and vaults, if any, in the Leased Premises. The Tenant shall, if requested by the Landlord, remove all of its trade fixtures and other improvements before surrendering the Leased Premises as aforesaid, shall repair any damage to the Leased Premises caused thereby, and shall restore the Leased Premises to their original condition. The Tenant's obligation to observe or perform this covenant shall survive the expiration or earlier termination of the Term of this Lease.

Article IX Insurance and Indemnity

9.01 Liability Insurance. The Tenant shall, during the entire Term hereof, keep in full force and effect a policy of public liability and property damage insurance with respect to the Leased Premises, and the business operated by Tenant and any subtenants, concessionaires and licensees of the Tenant in the Leased Premises in which the limits of public liability shall be not less than $_____ per person and $_____ per accident and in which the property damage liability shall not be less than $_____. The policies shall name the Landlord, any person, firms or corporations designated by the Landlord, and the Tenant as insured, and shall contain a clause that the insurer will not cancel or change the insurance without first giving the Landlord thirty (30) days prior written notice. The policies shall be written to provide that such coverage shall be primary and that any insurance maintained by Landlord shall be excess insurance only. All such insurance shall provide for severability of interests; shall provide that an act or omission of one of the named insureds shall not reduce or avoid coverage to the other named insureds; and shall afford coverage for all claims based on acts, omissions, injury and damage, which claims occurred or arose (or the onset of which occurred or arose) in whole or in part during the policy period. Any deductible amounts under any insurance policies required hereunder shall be subject to Landlord's prior written approval. Such insurance shall be in an insurance company approved by the Landlord and a copy of the policy or a certificate of insurance shall be delivered to the Landlord prior to the Commencement Date.

9.02 Landlord's Insurance. (a) Tenant will pay Landlord, as Additional Rent, a proportionate share of the cost of all insurance as Landlord may from time to time maintain with respect to the Shopping Center (including, but without limitation, comprehensive general liability insurance, fire, extended coverage, vandalism and malicious mischief and all-risk insurance and boiler and sprinkler insurance). Such insurance may include Landlord's interest in the improvements and betterments installed in the Premises by Tenant (except inventory, trade fixtures, wall and floor coverings, furniture and other personal property of Tenant removable by Tenant under the provisions of this Lease), whether the same have been paid for entirely or partially by Tenant.

(b) Tenant's proportionate share of the cost of the insurance described in subparagraph (a) shall be computed by multiplying Landlord's total expense (excluding the amount thereof attributable to insuring the Common Areas and Facilities and which are included in Landlord's Operating Costs) ("Insurance Premiums") for the billing period in question by a fraction, the numerator of which is Tenant's Floor Area and the denominator of which is the Floor Area of Landlord's Building. Such proportionate share shall be paid by Tenant in twelve (12) consecutive equal monthly installments in such amounts as are estimated and billed by Landlord at the commencement of the Term and at the beginning of each successive billing period, each installment being due on the first day of each calendar month. The first monthly payment shall include a prorated portion of Insurance Premiums for the period from the Commencement Date to the first day of the first full calendar month of the Term of this Lease. Within a reasonable time after the end of each calendar year, Landlord shall deliver to Tenant a statement of Insurance Premiums for the previous year, and the monthly installments paid or payable shall be adjusted between Landlord and Tenant, and Tenant shall pay Landlord or Landlord shall credit Tenant's account (or, if such adjustment is at the end of the Term, pay Tenant), as the case may be, within fifteen (15) days of receipt of such statement, such amounts as may be necessary to effect such adjustment for such year.

(c) Tenant shall have no rights in any policy or policies maintained by Landlord and shall not, by reason of the reimbursement required by this Section, be entitled to be a named insured thereunder.

(d) Tenant shall furnish Landlord, within thirty (30) days after the Commencement Date, a written statement, certified by Tenant or an executive officer of Tenant, of the actual cost incurred by Tenant in making all improvements and betterments to the Leased Premises, in order to assist Landlord in providing adequate insurance coverage.

9.03 Mutual Waiver of Subrogation. Landlord and Tenant hereby release each other to the extent of their respective insurance coverage, from any and all liability to the other or anyone claiming through or under it by way of subrogation or otherwise, for any loss or damage to property covered by the fire or extended coverage insurance policies carried by Landlord and Tenant, respectively, even if such damage shall have been caused by the fault or negligence of the other party, or anyone claiming through or under it, provided however, that this release shall be applicable and in force and effect only with respect to loss or damage occurring during such time as such policies shall contain a clause or endorsement to the effect that any such release shall not adversely affect nor impair such policies or prejudice the right to recover thereunder. Each party agrees that its policies of insurance will include such a clause or endorsement so long as the same shall be obtainable.

9.04 Indemnification of Landlord. The Tenant will indemnify the Landlord and save it harmless from and against any and all claims, actions, damages, liability, suits and expense in connection with the loss of life, personal injury and damage to property arising from or out of any occurrence in, upon, or at the Leased Premises, or the occupancy or use by the Tenant of the Leased Premises or any part thereof, or the conduct by Tenant of its business therein, thereon and therefrom, or occasioned wholly or in part by any act or omission of the Tenant, its agents, contractors, employees, servants, lessees or concessionaires or the sale of merchandise by Tenant in, on or from the Leased Premises. In case the Landlord shall be made a party to any litigation commenced by or against the Tenant, then the Tenant shall protect and hold the Landlord harmless and shall pay all costs, expenses and reasonable attorneys' fees incurred or paid by Landlord in connection with such litigation. The Tenant shall also pay all costs, expenses and reasonable attorneys' fees that may be incurred or paid by the Landlord in the enforcing of the covenants and agreements of this Lease.

9.05 Increases in Fire Insurance Premiums Attributable to Tenant. Tenant shall not keep, use, sell or offer for sale in or upon the Premises any article which may be prohibited by the standard form of fire insurance policy. Tenant agrees to pay one hundred percent (100%) of any increase in premiums for fire and extended coverage insurance that may be charged during the Term on the amount of such insurance which may be carried by Landlord on Landlord's Building, resulting from the type of merchandise sold by Tenant in the Premises, whether or not Landlord has consented to the same. In determining whether increased premiums are the result of Tenant's use of the Premises, a schedule, issued by the organization making the insurance rate on the Premises, showing the various components of such rate, shall be conclusive evidence of the several items and charges which make up the fire insurance rate on the premises.

In the event Tenant's occupancy causes any increase of premium for the fire, and/or casualty rates on Landlord's Building, Tenant shall pay the additional premium on the fire and/or casualty insurance policies by reason thereof. The Tenant also shall pay, in such event, any additional premium on the rent insurance policy that may be carried by the Landlord for its protection against rent loss through fire. Bills for such additional premiums shall be rendered by Landlord to Tenant at such times as Landlord may elect, and shall be due from, and payable by, Tenant when rendered, and the amount thereof shall be deemed to be, and be paid as, Additional Rent.

Article X Utilities

10.01 Utility Charges. The Tenant shall be solely responsible for and promptly pay all charges for heat, water, sewer, gas, oil, electricity and any other utility used or consumed in the Leased Premises. Should the Landlord elect to supply any utility used or consumed in the Leased Premises, the Tenant agrees to purchase and pay the same as Additional Rent at the applicable rates filed by the Landlord with the proper regulatory authority, if any, or absent such filing, at a rate equal to Tenant's proportionate share of such utility service determined by taking the ratio that the total number of square feet of the Leased Premises bears to the total number of square feet of that rented portion of the Shopping Center buildings included under the common meter for such service. In no event shall the Landlord be liable for an interruption of or failure in the supply of, or for the quantity or quality of, any of such utilities to the Leased Premises and no such interruption or failure shall ever be deemed to be an actual or constructive eviction.

Article XI Subordination, Estoppel Certificate

11.01 Mortgage Subordination. Tenant agrees that, within ten (10) days after written request of Landlord, it will subordinate this lease to the lien of any present or future mortgage to a bank, savings and loan association, insurance company, real estate investment trust or similar institution, irrespective of the time of execution or time of recording of any such mortgage. Tenant agrees that if the mortgagee or any person claiming under the mortgage shall succeed to the interest of Landlord in this Lease, it will recognize such mortgagee or person as its landlord under the terms of this Lease. Tenant hereby irrevocably appoints Landlord its attorney-in-fact to execute and deliver any necessary or appropriate instrument or instruments of subordination, for and in the name of Tenant. It is expressly acknowledged that the foregoing power of attorney is coupled with an interest. The word "mortgage" as used herein includes mortgages, deeds of trust or other similar instruments and modifications, consolidations, extensions, renewals, replacements and substitutes thereof.

11.02 Estoppel Certificates. At any time and from time to time Landlord and Tenant each agree, within ten (10) days after request in writing from the other, to execute, acknowledge and deliver to the other or to any person designated by the other a statement in writing certifying that the Lease is unmodified and in full force and effect (or if there have been modifications, that the same is in full force and effect as modified and stating the modifications), that the other party is not in default in the performance of its covenants hereunder (or if there are such defaults, specifying the same), and the dates to which the rent and other charges have been paid.

Article XII Assignments and Subletting

12.01 Landlord's Consent Required. Tenant will not mortgage, pledge, encumber, assign or in any manner transfer this lease, in whole or in part, nor sublet all or any part of the Leased Premises, nor license concessions or lease departments therein, without, in each instance, first obtaining the written consent of Landlord. The within prohibition against transfer without the Landlord's prior written consent includes any subletting or assignment which would otherwise occur by operation of law, merger, consolidation, reorganization, transfer or other change of Tenant's corporate or proprietary structure, or an assignment, subletting to or by a receiver or trustee in any federal or state bankruptcy, insolvency, or other proceedings. The consent by Landlord to any assignment, subletting or other transfer shall not constitute a waiver of the requirement for such consent to any subsequent assignment, subletting or other transfer. Any assignment, subletting or other transfer, even with the consent of Landlord, shall not relieve Tenant from primary liability for the payment of Rent or from the primary obligation to keep and be bound by the terms, conditions and covenants of this Lease. If, at any time, Tenant shall request Landlord's consent to assign or otherwise transfer this Lease or to sublet all or any portion of the Leased premises, then Landlord shall have the right, by notifying Tenant in writing within thirty (30) days after receipt of such request, to terminate this Lease as of the date specified in such notice from Landlord to Tenant, which effective date shall be not more than ninety (90) nor less than thirty (30) days from the date of such notice. In the event of such termination, all Rent (other than any Rent or Additional Rent due Landlord resulting from Tenant's failure to perform any of its obligations under this Lease) shall be adjusted as of the date of such termination. Landlord's failure or refusal to so terminate this Lease shall not constitute a consent to the proposed assignment, subletting or other transfer. In the event Tenant shall assign or sublet the Leased Premises or request the consent of Landlord for any act that Tenant proposes to do, then Tenant shall pay Landlord's reasonable attorneys' fees incurred in connection therewith. Should Tenant assign, sublet or otherwise dispose of the Leased Premises, whether with or without Landlord's consent, any and all sums payable by virtue of such assignment, sublease or other demise shall be due and payable solely to Landlord. Tenant does hereby appoint Landlord as its attorney-in-fact to bill and collect any and all such sums for the use and benefit of Landlord without liability whatsoever to Tenant.

12.02 Corporate, Partnership or Limited Liability Company Ownership. If Tenant is a corporation, then any change in ownership or power to vote of a majority of its outstanding voting stock shall constitute an assignment for the purpose of this Lease and shall require Landlord's prior written consent. If Tenant is a partnership, general or limited, or is a limited liability company, and if at any time during the term hereof or any extension or renewal thereof, the person or persons who at the time of the execution of this Lease owns or own the general partner's interest in a general or limited partnership, or owns a majority of the voting interest in the limited liability company, ceases to own such interest, such cessation of ownership shall constitute an assignment of this Lease for all purposes of this Article.

12.03 Acceptance of Rent from Transferee. The acceptance by Landlord of the payment of Rent following any assignment, subletting or other transfer restricted or prohibited by this Article shall not be deemed to be a consent by Landlord to any such assignment or other transfer nor shall the same be deemed to be a waiver of any right or remedy of Landlord hereunder.

Article XIII Waste, Governmental Regulations

13.01 Waste or Nuisance. The Tenant shall not commit or suffer to be committed any waste upon the Leased Premises or any nuisance or other act or thing which may disturb the quiet enjoyment of any other tenant in Landlord's Building or in the Shopping Center.

13.02 Governmental Regulations. The Tenant shall, at Tenant's sole cost and expense, comply with all of the requirements of all county, municipal, state, federal and other applicable governmental authorities, now in force, or which may hereafter be in force, pertaining to the Leased Premises, including without limitation, the requirements of all applicable environmental authorities, and shall faithfully observe in the use of the Leased Premises and the Shopping Center all municipal and county ordinances and state and federal statutes now in force or which may hereinafter be in force.

Article XIV Advertising, Merchants' Association

14.01 Solicitation of Business. The Tenant and Tenant's employees and agents shall not solicit business or place any signs or advertising devices in the Common Areas and Facilities, nor shall the Tenant distribute any handbills or other advertising matter to automobiles parked in the parking areas or in other Common Areas and Facilities without permission from the Landlord.

14.02 Merchants' Association. Tenant shall join and be a member of the Shopping Center's Merchants' Association and shall pay dues and abide by all reasonable regulations adopted by such Association, its successors and assigns.

14.03 Advertised Name. Tenant agrees not to change its trade name or the advertised name of the business operated in the Leased Premises without Landlord's prior written consent.

14.04 Promotional Activities. Tenant shall not use any portion of the Common Areas and Facilities of the Shopping Center for promotional or advertising activities without the prior written approval of the Landlord.

14.05 Special Sales, Conduct of Business. No auction, fire removal, closing, going-out-of-business or bankruptcy sales may be conducted in or from the Leased Premises without the prior written consent of Landlord. Tenant will not use the sidewalk or mall area adjacent to the Leased Premises for sale or display of merchandise or wares, nor will it use any loudspeaker, phonograph, radio or television for advertising in the Shopping Center in such manner that it may be heard or seen outside the Leased Premises without first securing Landlord's written consent.

Article XV Damage or Destruction

15.01 Damage to Leased Premises Repairable Quickly. If the Leased Premises shall be damaged or destroyed by any cause so as to be unfit for occupancy and such damage or destruction could reasonably be repaired or rebuilt within one hundred eighty (180) days from the happening of such damage or destruction, then Tenant shall not be entitled to surrender possession of the Leased Premises nor shall Tenant's liability to pay Rent under this Lease cease, but in the case of any such damage or destruction Landlord shall repair or rebuild the same with all reasonable speed, and substantially complete such repairs or rebuilding within one hundred eighty (180) days from the happening of such damage or destruction, subject to delays beyond its control. If Tenant shall be deprived of the occupancy of any portion of the Leased Premises because of any such damage or destruction, but can nevertheless reasonably continue to engage in its business, a proportionate allowance shall be made to Tenant from the Minimum Rent and Additional Rent corresponding to the time during which and to the portion of the Leased Premises of which Tenant shall be deprived on account of such damage or destruction and the making of such repairs. No Minimum Rent or Additional Rent shall be payable during such period as Tenant shall be deprived of the occupancy of all portions of the Leased Premises because of such damage or destruction or the effecting of such rebuilding.

15.02 Non Repairable Quickly. If such damage or destruction cannot reasonably be repaired or rebuilt within one hundred eighty (180) days from the happening thereof, Landlord shall notify Tenant within sixty (60) days after the happening of such damage or destruction whether or not Landlord will repair or rebuild. If Landlord elects not to repair or rebuild, this Lease shall be terminated, in which event the parties shall be relieved from their respective obligations which would otherwise thereafter accrue. If Landlord shall elect to repair or rebuild, Landlord shall specify the time within which such repairs or rebuilding will be completed, and Tenant shall have the option within thirty (30) days after receipt of such notice, to elect either to terminate this Lease or to extend the term of the Lease by a period of time equivalent to the time from the happening of such damage or destruction until the Leased Premises are restored to their former condition. In the event Tenant elects to extend the Term of the Lease, or shall fail to terminate this Lease within the time specified, Landlord shall repair or rebuild the Leased Premises to their former condition within the time specified in the notice (excluding Tenant's personal property or leasehold improvements, changes or betterments to the Leased Premises made by or for Tenant) subject to delays beyond its control, and Tenant shall be entitled to an abatement of Minimum Rent and Additional Rent in the manner hereinbefore set forth and this Lease shall continue in full force and effect.

15.03 Damage to Shopping Center or Building. If more than forty percent (40%) of the rentable square footage of the Shopping Center or of Landlord's Building is destroyed or damaged by any cause (whether or not the Leased Premises are destroyed or damaged), Landlord shall have the option, upon giving notice to Tenant within sixty (60) days after the happening of such damage or destruction to cancel this Lease as of a date sixty (60) days after the giving of such notice.

15.04 Uninsured Damage; Loss Near End of Term. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event that damage or destruction of the Leased Premises shall not result from any of the causes covered by Landlord's policies of fire and extended coverage insurance as now or hereafter constituted, or if Landlord's mortgagee does not make the applicable insurance proceeds available to Landlord, or if such damage or destruction shall occur during the last two (2) years of the original term or any extended term of this Lease, Landlord shall have the election of repairing or rebuilding, in which event Tenant shall remain liable under the Lease, or of terminating this Lease, in which event the parties shall be relieved from their respective obligations which would otherwise thereafter accrue. Landlord shall give Tenant notice within thirty (30) days after such damage or destruction of its election.

Article XVI Eminent Domain

16.01 Taking. If, as a result of the taking by way of appropriation or right of eminent domain (a "Taking") of any part of the Leased Premises, Tenant's use of the Leased premises for the conduct of its business therein is materially adversely impaired, either party may terminate this Lease, in which event the parties shall be relieved of all obligations hereunder thereafter accruing. Tenant's use of the Leased Premises for the conduct of its business shall not be deemed to be "materially adversely impaired" if less than twenty-five percent (25%) of the Leased Premises is taken.

16.02 Award. All compensation awarded for any Taking, whether for the whole or a portion of the Leased Premises or the Shopping Center, shall be the sole property of Landlord, whether such compensation shall be awarded for diminution in the value of, or loss of, the leasehold or for diminution in the value of, or loss of, the fee in the premises, or otherwise, and Tenant hereby assigns to Landlord all of Tenant's right, title and interest in any and to any and all such compensation.

16.03 Non-Termination. If there is a Taking of the Leased Premises and the Lease does not terminate, the Minimum Rent and Additional Rent will be reduced by that proportion which the number of square feet of the Leased Premises of which Tenant is thereby deprived bears to the total square feet encompassed within the entire Leased Premises immediately prior to such Taking.

Article XVII Default

17.01 Events of Default and Remedies. In the event that any installment of Minimum Rent or Additional Rent shall be and remain unpaid for a period of ten (10) days; or in the event Tenant shall at any time be in default in the observance or performance of any of the other covenants, obligations, terms, or conditions assumed by or imposed upon Tenant hereunder and such default continues for a period of fifteen (15) days after written notice to Tenant of such default; or if any waste be committed or unnecessary damage done upon or to the Leased Premises; or if Tenant shall fail to remain open for business for five (5) consecutive business days; or if any audit of Tenant's books and records shall disclose a liability for Annual Percentage Rent to the extent of three percent (3%) or more in excess of the rentals theretofore computed and paid by Tenant for any period (whether or not Tenant thereafter reimburses Landlord for such deficiency); or if a temporary or permanent receiver or trustee of Tenant's property or the property of any guarantor of this Lease ("Guarantor") be appointed by any court; or if Tenant or any Guarantor shall make any assignment for the benefit of creditors; or if any execution or attachment shall be issued against Tenant or any Guarantor or Tenant's leasehold interest hereunder and shall not be discharged within forty-five (45) days; or if Tenant shall commence proceedings in a court of bankruptcy or insolvency; or if Tenant or any Guarantor shall be declared or adjudicated bankrupt or insolvent according to law; or if any proceedings are commenced against Tenant or Guarantor in a court of bankruptcy or insolvency, which shall not be discharged within forty-five (45) days; then, and in any one or more of such events, Landlord shall be entitled, at its election, to exercise concurrently or successively, any one or more or all of the following rights and remedies:

(a) Without waiving such default, Landlord may pay any sum required to be paid by Tenant to third parties other than Landlord and which Tenant has failed to pay, and may perform any obligation required to be performed by Tenant for the account of Tenant, and any amount so paid by Landlord shall bear interest thereon at the Default Rate. Any amount or amounts paid by Landlord for the account of Tenant for the performance of any obligations required to be performed by Tenant shall be treated as Additional Rent due hereunder and Landlord may exercise concurrently or successively any one or more of the rights and remedies contained in this Lease for the enforcement of the payment of Rent;

(b) Landlord may enjoin any breach or threatened breach by Tenant of the covenants hereof;

(c) Landlord may bring suit for the collection of the Rent or other amounts for which Tenant may be in default, or for the performance of any other covenant devolving upon Tenant for performance, or damages therefor, all without entering into possession or terminating this Lease;

(d) Landlord may re-enter the Leased Premises by summary proceedings or otherwise, and take possession thereof, without terminating this Lease, and thereupon, to expel all persons and remove all property therefrom, either peaceably or by force, without becoming liable to prosecution therefor, and relet the Leased Premises making reasonable efforts therefor, for such periods and upon such terms according to Landlord's sole discretion, and receive the rent therefrom. Such rent shall be applied first to the payment of the reasonable expenses of such re-entry and the cost of such reletting, including but not limited to the expense of such decorations, alterations and remodeling as shall be incident to such reletting, and then to the payment of the Rent and other sums accruing hereunder, the balance, if any, to be retained by Landlord as a security deposit against Tenant's defaults during the remainder of the Term of this Lease. Tenant, whether or not the Leased Premises are relet, shall remain liable for any deficiency, which deficiency shall be paid by Tenant to Landlord, periodically, upon the successive days upon which the Rent hereunder is payable.

It is agreed that the commencement and prosecution of any action by Landlord in forcible entry and detainer, ejectment or otherwise, or the appointment of a receiver, or any execution of any decree obtained in any action to recover possession of the Leased Premises, or any re-entry, shall not be construed as an election to terminate this Lease unless Landlord shall, in writing, expressly exercise its election to declare the term hereunder ended and to terminate this Lease, and such re-entry or entry by Landlord, whether taken under summary proceedings, or otherwise, shall not be deemed to have absolved or discharged Tenant from any of its obligations and liabilities for the remainder of the term of this Lease.

(e) Landlord may terminate this Lease, re-enter the Leased Premises and take possession thereof, wholly discharged from this Lease. In the event Landlord shall elect to terminate this Lease, as aforesaid, all rights and obligations of Tenant shall cease, except that Landlord shall have and retain full right to sue for and collect all Rent and other amounts for the payment of which Tenant shall then be in default and all damages to Landlord by reason of such breach, and Tenant shall surrender and deliver up the Leased Premises to Landlord, together with all improvements and additions thereto, and upon any default by Tenant in so doing, Landlord shall have the right to recover possession by summary proceedings or otherwise, and to obtain a receiver and other ancillary relief in such action, and again to have and enjoy the Leased premises, fully and completely, as if this Lease had never been made. Tenant hereby expressly waives any and all rights of redemption granted by or under any present or future laws in the event of Tenant being evicted or dispossessed for any cause, or in the event Landlord obtains possession of the Leased Premises by reason of the breach or violation by Tenant of any of the covenants and conditions in this Lease contained or otherwise. No such expiration or termination of this Lease, or summary proceedings, abandonment or vacancy, shall relieve Tenant of its liability and obligation under this Lease, whether or not the Leased Premises shall be relet. In any such event, Tenant shall pay Landlord the Rent and all other charges required to be paid by Tenant up to the time of such event. Thereafter:

(1) Tenant, until the end of the term of this Lease, or what would have been such term in the absence of any such event, shall be liable to Landlord as damages for Tenant's default, the equivalent of the amount of the Rent, and the other charges which would be payable under this Lease by Tenant if this Lease were still in effect, less the net proceeds of any reletting, effected pursuant to the provisions of this Section, after deducting all Landlord's expenses in connection with such reletting, including, without limitation, all repossession costs, brokerage and management commissions, operating expenses, legal expenses, reasonably attorneys' fees, alterations, costs and expenses of preparation for such reletting.

(2) Tenant shall pay such current damages (herein called "deficiency") to Landlord monthly on the days on which the Rent would have been payable under this Lease if this Lease were still in effect, and Landlord shall be entitled to recover from Tenant each monthly deficiency as the same shall arise.

(3) At any time after the expiration or termination of this Lease or abandonment or vacating of the Leased Premises by Tenant, in lieu of collecting any further monthly deficiencies as aforesaid, Landlord shall be entitled to recover from Tenant, and Tenant shall pay to Landlord, on demand, as damages, (minus any such monthly deficiencies previously recovered from Tenant) an amount equal to the difference between the Rent, and other charges reserved in this Lease from the date of such breach to the date of the expiration of the original term demised and the then fair and reasonable rental value of the Leased Premises for the same period. Such damages shall become due and payable to Landlord immediately upon such breach of this Lease and without regard to whether this lease be terminated or not, and if this lease be terminated, without regard to the manner in which it is terminated. In the computation of such damages, the difference between any installment of rent thereafter becoming due and the fair and reasonable rental value of the premises for the period for which such installment was payable shall be discounted to the date of such breach at the rate of not more than seven percent (7%) per annum.

(f) If Tenant shall at any time during the term hereof be adjudged bankrupt, then this Lease, at the option of Landlord, shall terminate. Landlord, in the event it exercises such option to terminate, shall be entitled to receive, as liquidated damages, the difference between the Rent provided for hereunder and the then rental value of the Leased Premises, which liquidated damages shall, however, in no event be less than any sums or allowances to which Landlord may be entitled at that time under any then existing statutes of the State of _____ or of the United States of America.

(g) All rights and remedies granted Landlord herein and any other rights or remedies which Landlord may have at law or in equity are cumulative and not exclusive, and the fact that Landlord may have exercised any remedy without terminating this Lease shall not impair Landlord's rights thereafter to terminate or to exercise any other remedy herein granted or to which it may be otherwise entitled.

(h) For purposes of this Article, the Annual Percentage Rent for any period when Tenant is out of possession following any event to which the provisions of this Article are applicable shall be deemed, for each Lease year during such period, to be at the rate equal to the greatest amount of Gross Sales for any one Lease year prior to such time multiplied by the Annual Percent that would be applicable under this Lease if Tenant was still in possession. If this Article becomes applicable prior to the expiration of the first Lease Year, then Tenant's average Gross Sales for the months prior to the invocation of this Article shall be annualized for the purpose of determining "the greatest amount of Gross Sales for any one Lease Year."

17.02 Laches. No waiver of any covenant or condition or the breach of any covenant or condition of this Lease shall be taken to constitute a waiver of any subsequent breach of such covenant or condition, nor to justify or authorize the non-observance on any other occasion of the same, or any other covenant or condition hereof, nor shall the acceptance of Rent by Landlord at any time when Tenant is in default under any covenant or condition hereof be construed as a waiver of such default, nor shall any waiver or indulgence granted by Landlord to Tenant be taken as an estoppel against Landlord. It is expressly understood that if, at any time, Tenant shall be in default in any of the covenants or conditions hereunder, an acceptance by Landlord of Rent during the continuance of such default, or of the failure on the part of Landlord promptly to avail itself of such other rights or remedies as Landlord may have, shall not be construed as a waiver of such default; but Landlord may at any time thereafter, if such default continues, take action is deems necessary on account of such default, in the manner provided in this Article XVII. Every demand for rent due wherever and whenever made, or demand for the performance or observance of any of the other obligations devolving upon Tenant hereunder, shall have the same effect as if made at the time it falls due and at the place of payment; and after the service of any notice of commencement of any suit or final judgment therein, Landlord may receive and collect any rent due, and such collection or receipt shall not operate as a waiver of nor affect such notice, suit or judgment.

17.03 Self-help. If Tenant shall default in the performance or observance of any agreement or condition in this Lease contained on its part to be performed or observed and shall not cure such default within fifteen (15) days after notice from Landlord specifying the default, or if such default shall reasonably take more than fifteen (15) days to cure, shall not have commenced the same within the fifteen (15) days and diligently prosecuted the same to completion, Landlord may, at its option, in addition to any other remedy specified herein, without waiving any claim for damages for breach of agreement, at any time thereafter cure such default for the account of Tenant and any amount paid or any contractual liability incurred by Landlord in so doing shall be deemed paid or incurred for the account of Tenant and Tenant agrees to reimburse promptly Landlord therefor and save Landlord harmless therefrom; provided that Landlord may, however, cure any such default as aforesaid prior to the expiration of such waiting period, if the curing of such default prior to the expiration of such waiting period is reasonably necessary to protect the Leased premises or the Shopping Center or to prevent injury or damage to persons or property. If Tenant shall fail promptly to reimburse Landlord for any amount paid for the account of Tenant hereunder, such failure shall constitute an additional default by Tenant under this Lease and such amount shall be added to and become due as a part of the next payment of Rent due hereunder.

17.04 Bankruptcy. If Landlord shall not be permitted to terminate this Lease as provided above because of the provisions of Title 11 of the United States Code relating to Bankruptcy, as amended ("Bankruptcy Code"), then Tenant as a debtor-in-possession or any trustee for Tenant agrees promptly, within no more than fifteen (15) days upon request by Landlord to the Bankruptcy court, to assume or reject this lease and Tenant on behalf of itself, and any trustee agrees not to seek or request any extension or adjournment of any application to assume or reject this Lease by Landlord with such Court. In such event, Tenant or any trustee for Tenant may only assume this Lease if (A) it cures or provides adequate assurance that the trustees will promptly cure any default hereunder, (B) compensates or provides adequate assurance that Tenant will promptly compensate Landlord for any actual pecuniary loss to Landlord resulting from Tenant's defaults, and (C) provides adequate assurance of performance during the fully stated term hereof of all of the terms, covenants, and provisions of this Lease to be performed by Tenant. In no event after the assumption of this Lease shall any then-existing default remain uncured for a period in excess of the earlier of ten (10) days or the time period set forth therein. Adequate assurance of performance of this lease, as set forth above, shall include, without limitation, adequate assurance (1) of the source of rent reserved hereunder, (2) that any Annual Percentage Rent due hereunder will not decline from the levels anticipated, and (3) the assumption of this lease will not breach any provision hereunder. In the event of a filing of a petition under the Bankruptcy Code, Landlord shall have no obligation to provide Tenant with any services or utilities as herein required, unless Tenant shall have paid and be current in all payments of Landlord's Operating Costs, utilities or other charges therefor.

17.05 Franchisor Rights. Tenant operates its business at the Premises under a franchise from _____ Franchise Corp., whose address for notice purposes is _____ Road, City of _____, State of _____, (the "Franchisor"). Landlord shall forward to Franchisor, at Franchisor's notice address referred to above, any default notice that Landlord serves on Tenant. Franchisor is afforded the right to cure any default on the part of Tenant under this Lease within the same period of time that Tenant has in which to cure that default. Moreover, if under the terms of the franchise agreement between Tenant and Franchisor with respect to the Premises, Franchisor is entitled to take possession of the Premises because of any default by Tenant under that franchise agreement, then Landlord shall recognize Franchisor's right to take possession of the Premises, but only if before this Lease is terminated pursuant to Article XVII of this Lease all of the following conditions are satisfied:

- (a) Franchisor assumes Tenant's interest under this Lease pursuant to a document in form and substance satisfactory to Landlord, and Franchisor unconditionally delivers that document to Landlord;
- (b) Franchisor cures all defaults on the part of Tenant under this lease; and
- (c) Franchisor unconditionally agrees to protect, indemnify, defend and hold harmless Landlord from and against all liability, loss, cost or damage, including reasonable fees of attorneys, arising out of or in connection with its franchise agreement, with Tenant, its taking possession of the Premises, and any dispute relating to the Premises or this Lease.

If Franchisor assumes the Tenant's interest under this Lease and satisfies each of the conditions described in subparagraphs (a), (b) and (c) above, then so long as Franchisor is not in default under this Lease, Franchisor may later elect to sublet the entire Premises without Landlord's consent to another of its franchisees who agrees to operate the Premises as a _____ franchise subject to all of the terms and conditions of this Lease.

Article XVIII Access by Landlord

18.01 Right of Entry; For Lease Signs. The Landlord or the Landlord's agents shall have the right to enter the Leased Premises upon reasonable notice (except in the case of an emergency where no prior notice will be required), to examine the same, and to show them to prospective purchasers or lessees of the Leased Premises or the Shopping Center, to make such repairs, alterations, improvements or additions as the Landlord may deem necessary or desirable, and the Landlord shall be allowed to take all material into and upon such Leased Premises that may be required therefor without the same constituting an eviction of the Tenant in whole or in part and the Rent reserved shall be in no wise abated while such repairs, alterations, improvements or additions are being made, by reason of loss or interruption of business of the Tenant or otherwise. During the six (6) months prior to the expiration of the Term of this Lease or any renewal term, or at any time during which Tenant has ceased to conduct its business with the public, the Landlord may place upon the Leased Premises the usual notices "For Rent" or "For Sale," which Tenant shall permit to remain thereon without molestation. If the Tenant shall not be personally present to open and permit an entry into the Premises, at any time, when for any reason an entry therein shall be necessary or permissible, the Landlord or the Landlord's agents may enter the same peaceably or by force, without rendering the Landlord or such agents liable therefor, and without in any manner affecting the obligations and covenants of this lease. Nothing herein contained, however, shall be deemed to impose upon the Landlord any responsibility or liability whatsoever, for the care, maintenance or repair of the Leased Premises, Landlord's Building or any part thereof, except as otherwise herein specifically provided.

18.02 Excavation. If an excavation shall be made upon land adjacent to the Leased Premises, or shall be authorized to be made, the Tenant shall afford to the person causing or authorized to cause such excavation, license to enter upon the Leased Premises for the purpose of doing such work as the Landlord shall deem necessary to preserve the wall or walls of Landlord's Building from injury or damage and to support the same by proper foundations, without any claim for damages or indemnification against the Landlord or diminution or abatement of Rent.

Article XIX Tenant's Property

19.01 Loss and Damage. The Landlord shall not be responsible for any damage to the property of the Tenant or of others located on the Leased Premises, nor for the loss of or damage to any property of the Tenant or of others by theft or otherwise. The Landlord shall not be liable for any injury or damage to persons or property resulting from fire, explosion, falling plaster, steam, gas, electricity, water, rain or snow, or leaks from any part of the Leased Premises, or from the pipes, appliances or plumbing works, or from the roof, street or sub-surface, or from any other place, or by any other cause whatsoever of any nature. The Landlord shall not be liable for any such damage caused by other tenants or persons who are occupants of adjacent property, or of the Shopping Center, or the public, or caused by operations in construction of any private, public or quasi-public work. The Landlord shall not be liable for any latent defects in the Leased Premises or in Landlord's Building. All property of the Tenant kept or stored on the Leased Premises shall be so kept or stored at the risk of the Tenant only, and the Tenant shall hold the Landlord harmless from any claims arising out of damage to the same.

19.02 Notice by Tenant. The Tenant shall give immediate notice to the Landlord in case of fire or accidents in the Leased Premises or in the Landlord's Building and of defects therein or in any fixtures or equipment.

Article XX Holding Over, Successors

20.01 Holding Over. Should Tenant, with Landlord's written consent, hold over at the end of the Term of this Lease, Tenant shall become a Tenant at will and any such holding over shall not constitute an extension of this Lease. During such holding over, Tenant shall pay Rent and other charges at the highest monthly rate provided for herein. If Tenant holds over at the end of the Term without Landlord's written consent, Tenant shall pay Landlord as liquidated damages, a sum equal to twice the Rent to be paid by Tenant to Landlord for all the time Tenant shall so retain possession of the Premises; provided that the exercise of the Landlord's rights under this clause shall not be interpreted as a grant of permission to Tenant to continue in possession.

20.02 Successors. All rights, duties and liabilities herein given to, or imposed upon, the respective parties hereto, shall extend to and bind the several respective heirs, executors, administrators, successors, and assigns of the said parties; and if there shall be more than one tenant, they shall all be bound jointly and severally by the terms, covenants and agreements herein. No rights, however, shall inure to the benefit of any assignee of the Tenant unless the assignment to such assignee has been approved by the Landlord in writing as provided in Section 12.01 hereof.

Article XXI Quiet Enjoyment

21.01 Landlord's Covenant. Landlord covenants and agrees that if Tenant shall perform all of the covenants and agreements herein stipulated to be performed on Tenant's part, Tenant shall at all times during the Term hereof have the peaceable and quiet enjoyment and possession of the Leased Premises and the appurtenances thereto without any manner of hindrance from Landlord or any persons lawfully claiming through Landlord, and it is understood and agreed that this covenant and all other covenants of Landlord contained in this Lease shall be binding solely upon Landlord and not any partner thereof and its successors in interest only with respect to breach occurring during its and their respective ownership of the Landlord's interest hereunder.

21.02 Landlord's Liability. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Lease, it is specifically agreed that the monetary liability of any Landlord hereunder in the event of a breach by the Landlord of any of the terms, covenants and conditions of this Lease to be performed by Landlord or in the event of any other claim by Tenant against Landlord, whether under this Lease, imposed by statute, or existing at common law, in respect of any matter related to, arising out of or occurring in connection with this Lease, the Leased Premises, the Shopping Center or their relationship to each other as landlord and tenant, shall be limited to and enforceable solely against the Landlord's interest in the Shopping Center and that no personal or other money judgment shall be sought or obtained against Landlord or any partners or shareholders thereof.

Article XXII Miscellaneous

22.01 Entire Agreement. This Lease and the Exhibits attached hereto and forming a part hereof, set forth all the covenants, promises, agreements, conditions and understandings between the Landlord and Tenant, concerning the Leased Premises and there are no covenants, promises, agreements, conditions or understandings, either oral or written, between them other than are herein set forth. Except as herein otherwise provided, no subsequent alteration, amendment, change or addition to this Lease shall be binding upon the Landlord or Tenant unless reduced to writing and signed by them.

22.02 No Partnership. The Landlord does not, by virtue of this Lease, in any way or for any purpose, become a partner of the Tenant in the conduct of its business, or otherwise, or joint venturer or a member of a joint enterprise with the Tenant. The provisions of this Lease relating to the Annual Percentage Rent payable hereunder are included solely for the purpose of providing a method whereby rent is to be measured and ascertained.

22.03 Cost and Expense. Whenever this Lease provides for the doing of any act by any party, such act shall be done by such party at its sole cost and expense unless a contrary intent is expressed.

22.04 Force Majeure. In the event that Landlord shall be delayed or hindered in or prevented from the performance of any act required hereunder by reason of strikes, lock-outs, labor troubles, inability to procure materials, failure of power, restrictive governmental laws or regulations, riots, insurrection, war or other reason of a like nature not the fault of the Landlord in performing work or doing acts required under the terms of this lease, then performance of such act shall be excused for the period of delay and the period for the performance of any such act shall be extended for a period equivalent to the period of such delay.

22.05 Notices. Any notice, demand, request or other instrument which may be or are required to be given under this Lease shall be in writing and delivered in person or sent by United States certified mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid, and shall be addressed to the Landlord at _____ Street, City of _____, State of _____, or at such other address as the Landlord may designate by written notice, and if to Tenant prior to the Commencement Date of the Lease at _____ Road, City of _____, State of _____, and after the Commencement Date of this Lease at _____ Avenue, City of _____, State of _____, or at such other address as the tenant shall designate by written notice (the "Tenant Notice Address"). Notices shall be effective upon delivery unless delivery is refused or cannot be made in which event notice shall be effective upon mailing.

22.06 Captions and Section Numbers. The captions, section numbers, article numbers, and table of contents appearing in this lease are inserted only as a matter of convenience and in no way define, limit construe, or describe the scope or intent of such sections or articles or this lease nor in any way affect this Lease.

22.07 Tenant Defined, Use of Pronoun. The word "Tenant" shall be deemed and taken to mean each and every person or party mentioned as a Tenant hereunder, be the same one or more, and if there be more than one Tenant, any notice required or permitted by the terms of this Lease may be given by or to any one thereof, and shall have the same force and effect as if given by or to all thereof. The use of the neuter, singular pronoun to refer to the Landlord or to the Tenant shall be deemed a proper reference even though the Landlord or the Tenant may be an individual, a partnership, a corporation, or a group of two or more individuals or corporations. The necessary grammatical changes required to make the provisions of this Lease apply to the plural sense where there is more than one Landlord or Tenant and to either corporations, associations, partnerships, or individuals, males or females, shall, in all instances, be assumed as though in each case fully expressed.

22.08 Broker's Commission. Each of the parties represents and warrants that there are no claims for brokerage commissions or finder's fees in connection with this Lease, except a commission payable to _____, which fee shall be paid by the Landlord pursuant to a separate agreement between Landlord and _____; and each of the parties agrees to indemnify the other against and hold it harmless from all liabilities arising from any breach of its respective warranty (including, without limitation, the cost of counsel fees in connection therewith).

22.09 Partial Invalidity. If any term, covenant or condition of this Lease or the application thereof to any person or circumstance shall, to any extent, be invalid or unenforceable, the remainder of this Lease, or the application of such term, covenant or condition to persons or circumstances other than those to which it is held invalid or unenforceable, shall not be affected thereby, and each term, covenant and condition of this Lease shall be valid, and be enforced, to the fullest extent permitted by law.

22.10 No Option. The submission of this Lease for examination does not constitute a reservation of or option for the Leased Premises and this Lease becomes effective as a Lease only upon the execution and delivery thereof by both the Landlord and the Tenant.

22.11 Recording. The Tenant shall not record this Lease without the written consent of the Landlord. However, upon the request of either party hereto, the other party shall join in the execution of a memorandum or so-called "short form" of this Lease to the purpose of recordation. Such memorandum or short form of this Lease shall describe the parties, the Leased Premises and the Term of this Lease and shall incorporate this Lease by reference. The party requesting such short form lease shall pay all recording fees.

22.12 Joint and Several Liability. If Tenant is a partnership or other business organization the members of which are subject to personal liability, the liability for each such member shall be deemed to be joint and several. If Tenant is individual persons, then the individual persons comprising Tenant shall be liable for all obligations of Tenant under this Lease.

22.13 Confidentiality. Tenant shall keep the contents of this Lease confidential and shall not disclose the contents of this Lease in any manner whatsoever, except that (i) Tenant may make any disclosure of information contained in this Lease to which Landlord gives its prior written consent, and (ii) any information contained in this Lease may be disclosed to Tenant's Representatives who need to know that information for the purpose of assisting Tenant in connection with its business at the Premises and who agree in writing to keep that information confidential. Tenant shall be responsible for any breach of the provisions of this Section by any of its Representatives. The term "Representatives" as used in this Section of the Lease means Tenant's directors, officers, partners, employees, attorneys, accountants and bankers.

If Tenant or its Representatives receive a request to disclose all or any part of the contents of this Lease under the terms of a subpoena or other order issued by a court of competent jurisdiction or by a government agency, Tenant shall: (i) promptly notify Landlord of the existence, terms and circumstances surrounding such request; (ii) consult with Landlord on the advisability of taking steps to resist or narrow that request; (iii) if disclosure of any portion of this Lease is required, furnish only such portion of this Lease as Tenant is advised by counsel is legally required to be disclosed; and (iv) cooperate with Landlord in its efforts to obtain and order or other reliable assurance that confidential treatment will be accorded to that portion of the Lease that is required to be disclosed.

Tenant agrees to protect, indemnify, defend and hold harmless Landlord from any damages or other adverse consequences that Landlord may incur or suffer as a result of a breach of the covenants contained in this Section of the Lease. In addition, Tenant understands, acknowledges and agrees that any breach of the provisions of this Section on the part of Tenant or its Representatives shall constitute a default under this Lease. The provisions of this Section shall survive the expiration or earlier termination of the Term of this Lease.

22.14 Exhibits. The exhibits enumerated in this Section and attached hereto are incorporated herein by reference and made a part hereof.

FORM 23.08 Medical office space lease--tenant obligated to dispose of infectious medical waste

COMMENT

Medical office space:

This lease of space in an office building for use as a medical office contains many clauses which can be used in office leases generally. The lease also contains a provision dealing with the disposal of infectious medical waste by the tenant. The tenant physician is responsible for segregating, packaging, treating, transporting and disposing of all infectious waste generated by the tenant. The lease requires that such waste be identified, segregated, measured, stored and disposed of by the tenant in compliance with applicable laws, and in a manner that complies with all federal state and local laws or regulations applicable to infectious waste. Infectious waste may not be stored in common areas. This lease also contains a death or disability clause for the protection of the tenant.

FORM

LEASE AGREEMENT

THIS INDENTURE OF LEASE is made and entered into at the City of _____, State of _____, this _____ day of [date], by and between _____ Realty Associates, a limited partnership in business in the State of _____ (hereinafter called "Landlord"), with its mailing address at _____ Avenue, City of _____, State of _____, and _____ (hereinafter called "Tenant"), with its mailing address at _____ Street, City of _____, State of _____.

WITNESSETH:

1. Demise. Landlord leases to Tenant and Tenant leases from Landlord the premises identified as Suite No. _____, consisting of approximately _____ square feet (hereinafter called the "Premises") in the building known as _____ Medical Office Building (hereinafter called the "Building"), located at _____ Street, City of _____, State of _____, for a term of _____ years commencing on [date], and ending on [date], unless sooner terminated as hereinafter provided. Landlord excepts and reserves hallways, stairways, shaftways, and other common areas and facilities, and the rights to maintain, use, repair and replace pipes, ducts, wires, meters and any other equipment, machinery, apparatus and fixtures serving other parts of the Building, including such of them as may occur above the finished ceiling of the Premises.

2. Use of premises. The Premises shall be used solely for medical offices, all in accordance with this Lease. Tenant shall not use or occupy, or permit the use or occupancy of, the Demised Premises, or any part thereof, in any unlawful manner or for any illegal purpose or in such manner as to constitute a nuisance or violate the terms and conditions of any certificate of occupancy applicable to the Premises, or for any purpose or in a manner liable to cause structural injury, and shall not use or occupy, or permit the use or occupancy of the Premises, for other than purposes of the nature and to the extent permitted by the laws, rules, regulations, and ordinances of the applicable governmental authorities, including without limitation all environmental laws, rules and regulations, federal, state and local. Tenant shall not affix or permit to be affixed any advertising signs or notices upon the outside of the Building in which the Premises is located, or on the inside of such Building, except for signs to be located beside the door to the suite leased by the Tenant and on the Directory Board in the Building, such signs to be bought and installed by the Landlord. Landlord shall have the right to remove all other signs without notice to the Tenant, and at Tenant's expense.

3. Annual base rent. In consideration thereof, Tenant covenants to pay Landlord without demand an Annual Base Rent for the Premises at the rate of $ _____ per year in equal monthly installments of $ _____ in advance on the first day of each and every calendar month throughout the term of this Lease at Landlord's offices or such other places as Landlord may from time to time designate.

4. Definitions. As used in this Lease, the following terms shall have the following respective meanings:

(a) "Annual Base Rent:" The annual rent to be paid by Tenant to Landlord pursuant to the provisions of Paragraph 3.

(b) "Base Year:" The full calendar year, commencing [date] and ending [date].

(c) "Comparison Term:" The first full calendar year, or fraction thereof, of the Tenant's tenancy, and each subsequent full calendar year, or fraction thereof, at the termination of the Lease, during which this Lease shall continue in effect.

(d) "Tenant's Share:" Tenant's premises contains _____ square feet of space which is agreed upon as being _____ % of the total net rentable area of the Building.

(e) "Operating Expenses:" All expenses, costs and disbursements (but not replacements of capital investment items or specific costs billed to specific tenants) of every kind and nature relating to or incurred or paid in connection with the ownership, operation and management of the Building during the year, whether the Base Year or a Comparison Term, including but not limited to, the following:

(i) Wages and salaries of all persons directly engaged in the operation, maintenance or access control for the Building, including taxes, insurance and benefits relating thereto.

(ii) All supplies, tools, equipment and materials used in the operation and maintenance of the Building.

(iii) Cost of all utilities for the Building, including but not limited to the cost of gas, water and power for heating, lighting, air conditioning and ventilating (excluding those costs billed to specific tenants).

(iv) Costs of all maintenance and service agreements for the Building and the equipment therein, including but not limited to security service, window cleaning, elevator maintenance, HVAC maintenance and janitorial service.

(v) Costs of repairs and general maintenance (excluding repairs and general maintenance paid by proceeds of insurance or by Tenant or other third parties, and alterations attributable solely to tenants of the Building other than Tenant).

(vi) Amortization of the cost of installation of capital investment items which are installed for the purpose of reducing operating expenses or which may be required by governmental authority. All such costs which relate to the installation of capital investment items required by governmental authority shall be amortized over the reasonable life of the capital investment item, with the reasonable life and amortization schedule being determined in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles and in no event to extend beyond the reasonable life of the Building.

(vii) The cost of all insurance relating to the Building, including, but not limited to, the cost of casualty, rental abatement and liability insurance applicable to the Building and Landlord's personal property used in connection therewith.

(f) "Taxes:" The taxes and assessments, special or otherwise and sewer charges, if any, including expenses incurred in connection with disputing or contesting the amount thereof levied, or assessed for the year in question, whether the Base Year or Comparison Term, or a partial year, upon or with respect to the Building and the Land upon which it is located, by federal, state, or local government. Should any governmental authority having jurisdiction impose a tax and/or assessment (other than an income or franchise tax) upon or against the rentals payable hereunder or on the privilege of renting, leasing, or letting real property, either by way of substitution for the taxes and assessment levied or assessed against such land and such buildings, or in addition thereto, such tax and/or assessments shall be deemed to constitute a tax and/or assessment against such land and improvements for the purposes of this paragraph 4(f).

5. Rent adjustment. The Annual Base Rent shall be adjusted for each Comparison Term by Tenant's share of the increase in the amount of Operating Expenses for the Comparison Term over those for the Base Year. The Annual Base Rent shall also be adjusted for each Comparison Term by Tenant's share of the increase in the amount of taxes for the Comparison Term over those for the Base Year. In no event shall the adjusted annual rent be less than the amount stipulated in Paragraph 3. The adjustment to the Annual Base Rent for each Comparison Term shall be paid by Tenant to Landlord in one lump sum within ten (10) days of the presentation to Tenant of statement reflecting such adjustment. The adjustment shall be made and billed annually or, at the option of the Landlord, semiannually.

Landlord shall keep and make available to Tenant for a period of sixty (60) days after statements for Rent Adjustment payments are rendered to Tenant, records in reasonable detail of Taxes and Operating Expenses for the period covered by such Rent Adjustment statement or statements, and shall permit Tenant and the representatives of Tenant to examine such statements at any reasonable time during business hours. If Tenant disputes any item included by Landlord in determining Taxes or Operating Expenses for the Base Year or any Comparison Term, and such dispute is not amicably settled between Landlord and Tenant within thirty (30) days after any statement for adjusted Annual Rent has been rendered or after the date for settling the Adjusted Rent payable for any Comparison Term, either Landlord or Tenant may, during the twenty (20) days next following the expiration of the thirty (30) day period, notify the other of its election to arbitrate the dispute and may then refer such disputed item or items to a reputable firm of certified public accountants selected by Landlord for decision, and the decision of such firm shall be conclusive and binding upon Landlord and Tenant. The expense involved in such determination shall be borne by the party against whom a decision is rendered by the accountants; provided that, if more than one item is disputed and the decision is against each party in respect to any item or number of items so disputed, then the expenses shall be apportioned according to the dollar amount of the items decided against each party. Pending a decision, Tenant shall pay on the basis of Adjusted Annual Rent subject to a proper adjustment upon rendition of the decision. If Tenant does not dispute any item or items of any such statement within thirty (30) days after such statement has been rendered, Tenant shall be deemed to have approved such statement.

6. Payment of rental. Tenant shall pay all Rental when due and payable, without any setoff, deduction or prior demand therefor whatsoever. Any Rental, or other sum due Landlord under the terms of this Lease, not paid when due shall bear interest from the original due date at the rate of not less than _____% per annum until paid.

7. Security deposit. Concurrently with the execution of this Lease, Tenant shall deposit with Landlord the sum of $_____ as security for the punctual performance by Tenant of each and every obligation of Tenant under this Lease. In the event of any default by Tenant, in addition to and without prejudice to any other rights and remedies available to Landlord, Landlord may apply or retain all or any part of such security to cure the default or to reimburse Landlord for any sum which Landlord may spend by reason of the default. In the case of every such application or retention, Tenant shall, on demand, pay to Landlord the sum applied or retained which shall be added to the security deposit so that the same shall be restored to its original amount. If, at the end of the lease term, Tenant is not in default under this Lease, but not otherwise, the security deposit, or any balance thereof, shall be returned to Tenant, without interest. It is expressly understood and agreed that the within security deposit is not an advance payment of or on account of the rent herein reserved or any part or installment thereof or a measure of Landlord's damages.

8. Building services. Provided that Tenant is not in default under any of the covenants and agreements of this Lease, Landlord shall furnish Tenant the following services:

(a) individually controlled heat and air conditioning necessary to maintain the Premises at comfortable temperatures on such working days and hours as are reasonably consistent with Tenant's intended use and occupancy;

(b) janitorial and cleaning services, including such services to the common washrooms and common areas (such janitorial and cleaning services shall be furnished not more than five (5) days per week);

(c) window washing service on the exterior of windows as reasonably required but not in excess of once per year;

(d) parking spaces for the use, in common, with the other tenants of the Building, and their employees and invitees. The use of such parking spaces shall be gratuitous and Tenant agrees not to unreasonably interfere with the use thereof;

(e) snow removal service for the aforementioned parking lot area and for all approaches thereto;

(f) during business hours, reasonable illumination for all parking areas and footways appurtenant to the Building in which the Demised Premises is situated;

(g) a directory in the lobby of the Building which will list Tenant in the same, and a sign at the door to the Demised Premises, which will identify the suite number and the identity of the Tenant (the signs shall be of uniform appearance and design throughout the Building, as determined by Landlord);

(h) all keys needed by Tenant for entry to the Demised Premises. Tenant will not permit any duplicate keys to be made, and will not permit additional locks to be put on the Demised Premises, without the consent of the Landlord. All such keys should remain the property of the Landlord, and, upon termination of this Lease, Tenant will surrender to Landlord all of the aforementioned keys;

(i) property management and maintenance service for the building;

(j) Landlord shall provide gas and water consumed by Tenant. Electricity for illumination, office and medical equipment, together with all light bulbs and ballasts requested by the Tenant, shall be Tenant's responsibility.

Landlord, while not warranting that any of the Building services stipulated in this Paragraph 8 shall be free from interruptions or suspensions caused by repairs, renewals, improvements, alterations, strikes, lockouts, accidents, inability of Landlord to procure such service, or to obtain fuel or supplies or for other cause or causes beyond Landlord's reasonable control, shall nevertheless diligently attempt to make such repairs or renewals to Building distribution lines and facilities as may be required to restore any such service so interrupted or suspended. An interruption or suspension of, or fluctuation in, any Building service (resulting from any such cause or causes) shall never be deemed a constructive eviction or evictions or disturbance of Tenant's use and possession of the Premises or any part thereof, nor render Landlord liable to Tenant for damages to person(s) or property, nor relieve Tenant from performance of Tenant's covenants and agreements hereunder.

9. Rights reserved by landlord. In addition to all remedies which are allowed to the Landlord by law and equity and without limitation on any of them, Landlord reserves the following rights:

(a) to designate all sources furnishing sign painting, lettering, coffee service, vending machines of all types, towel or toilet supplies, or other similar services required in the Premises;

(b) to enter during the last ninety (90) days of the term for the purpose of altering, remodeling, repairing, renovating, or otherwise preparing the Premises for retenanting, using reasonable means not to disturb Tenant's use of the Premises;

(c) to enter the Premises at all reasonable times (i) for the making of such inspections, repairs, alterations, improvements or additions of or to the Premises or the Building as Landlord, in its sole discretion, may deem necessary or desirable; (ii) to exhibit the Premises to others during the last six (6) months of the term hereunder; and (iii) for any purpose whatsoever, related to the safety, protection, preservation or improvement of the Premises or of the Building or of Landlord's interest;

(d) At any time or times, Landlord, either voluntarily or pursuant to governmental requirements, may at Landlord's expense, make repairs, alterations or improvements in or to the Building or any part thereof, and during such times may temporarily close entrances, doors, corridors, elevators or other public facilities;

(e) to charge Tenant any expense (including overtime, or premium costs incurred by Landlord) resulting from repairs, alterations, decorating or other work performed in the Premises or the Building at Tenant's request made at other than business hours;

(f) from and after the commencement date of this Lease and throughout the term of this Lease and any extension thereof, to require the Tenant to protect, indemnify and save harmless the Landlord from and against any and all liability to third parties incurred by any act or neglect of Tenant, or any of its agents, servants or employees, in, on or about the Demised Premises; and Tenant at all times shall, at its own cost, protect the Landlord with public liability insurance and property damage insurance in a responsible insurance company or companies authorized to do business in the State of _____ in the amount no less than $_____ for injury to one person and no less than $_____ for injury to two or more persons and $_____ for damages to property, provided that Tenant shall carry such greater limits of coverage as Landlord may reasonably request from time to time. Landlord shall be named as an additional insured under such policy for the Premises. The Tenant shall within ten (10) days of the commencement date of this Lease, or as soon thereafter as made available by the insurance company, deposit with the Landlord a copy of all such policies or certificates showing such insurance to be then in force.

(g) require Tenant, at its own expense but subject to its right to contest the validity thereof, promptly to comply with the requirements of every applicable statute, law, ordinance, fire regulation, and with every applicable lawful regulation and order with respect to the condition and maintenance of the Demised premises to the extent that Tenant is obligated to repair and maintain the same and with respect to Tenant's use or occupation of the Demised Premises.

The rights granted to Landlord pursuant to this paragraph shall not require Landlord to make any repairs to the Demised Premises other than those herein specifically agreed to be made by Landlord nor otherwise extend any of Landlord's other obligations. Landlord may exercise all or any of the forgoing rights hereby reserved without being deemed guilty of an eviction or a constructive eviction or disturbance of Tenant's use and possession, without being liable in any manner to Tenant, and without elimination or abatement of rent, or payment of other compensation, and such acts shall in no way affect the Lease.

10. Casualty insurance. Landlord shall maintain standard fire and extended coverage insurance on the Building (excluding leasehold improvements) and on all Building standard leasehold improvements. Such insurance shall be maintained with an insurance company authorized to do business in the State of _____, in amounts desired by Landlord and at the expense of Landlord (but with the same to be included in the operating expenses of the Building as described herein) and payments for losses thereunder shall be made solely to Landlord. Tenant shall maintain at its expense standard fire and extended coverage insurance on all of its personal property, including removable trade fixtures, located in the leased premises and on its non-Building standard leasehold improvements and all other additions and improvements (including fixtures) made by Tenant and not required to be insured by Landlord above. If the annual premiums to be paid by Landlord shall exceed the standard rates because of Tenant's operations within or contents of the leased premises, Tenant shall promptly pay the excess amount of the premium upon request by Landlord (and, if necessary, Landlord may allocate the insurance costs of the Building to give effect to this sentence).

Anything in this Lease to the contrary notwithstanding, Landlord and Tenant each hereby waives any and all rights of recovery, claim, action or cause of action, against the other, its agents, servants, partners, shareholder, officers, or employees, for any loss or damage that may occur to the leased premises or the Building, or any improvements thereto, or any personal property of such party therein, by reason of fire, the elements, or any other cause which could be insured against under the terms of the standard fire and extended coverage insurance policies referred to herein regardless of cause or origin, including negligence of the other party hereto, its agents, officers, partners, shareholders, servants, or employees, and covenants that no insurer shall hold any right of subrogation against such other party. Tenant shall not knowingly permit any article to be brought upon, or any act to be done upon or about, the Demised Premises that shall cause the cancellation of any policy of insurance thereon or cause an increase in the rate of premium of any such insurance.

11. Possession. Landlord, at its own expense, shall construct that portion of the Premises pursuant to Landlord's "Work Letter" signed on behalf of Landlord and Tenant, and such changes thereto as shall be necessary and appropriate. All other construction or installations necessary to complete the Premises, and not shown as Landlord's work on the Work Letter shall be the sole obligation of Tenant and shall be performed at Tenant's expense. All plans and specifications for Tenant's work shall be approved by Landlord prior to Tenant's construction. Installation of any equipment (having substantial weight) shall be approved by Landlord, before mounting on walls, ceiling or floor.

Tenant shall indemnify and hold harmless Landlord from and against all costs (including attorneys fees and costs of suit), losses, liabilities, or causes of action arising out of or relating to any alterations, additions or improvements made by Tenant to the leased premises, including but not limited to any mechanics' or materialmen's liens asserted in connection therewith.

Should any mechanic's or other liens be filed against any portion of the Building by reason of Tenant's acts or omissions or because of a claim against Tenant, Tenant shall cause the same to be canceled or discharged of record by bond or otherwise within ten (10) days after notice by Landlord. If Tenant fails to cancel or discharge the lien or liens within such ten-day period, Landlord may, at its sole option, cancel or discharge the same and upon Landlord's demand, Tenant shall promptly reimburse Landlord for all costs incurred in canceling or discharging such liens.

The taking of possession of the Premises by the Tenant shall be conclusive evidence of Tenant's acceptance thereof and approval of all construction.

Nothing contained in this Lease shall be deemed or construed in any way as constituting the consent or request of Landlord, express or implied, by inference or otherwise, to any contractor, subcontractor, laborer, or materialman for the performance of any labor or the furnishing of any materials for any specific improvement, alteration to or repair of the Demised Premises or any part hereof, and the personal property hereby leased, nor as giving Tenant any right, power or authority to contract for or permit the rendering of any services or furnishing of any materials that would give rise to the filing of any lien against the Premises or the Building, or against any personal property leased.

Landlord shall complete the Premises with reasonable diligence subject to delays caused by reason of fire, tornado, or other casualty, adverse or unfavorable weather conditions or other Acts of God, or any strike, lockout, insurrection, war embargo, any governmental requirement now existing or later imposed or by reason of any cause beyond Landlord's reasonable control.

In the event Landlord is unable to deliver possession of the Premises to Tenant on any specified date or the date of the commencement of the term as a result of any delay in commencing construction or completing construction of the Premises or for a total failure to complete the Premises, or because of the holding over of any Tenant or Tenants, or for any other cause as hereinbefore stated, the rent reserved shall not commence until the date that possession of the Premises is available to Tenant. Tenant agrees to accept such allowances and abatement of rent as liquidated damage, in full satisfaction for the failure of Landlord so to deliver possession on the date of commencement, and to the exclusion of all claims and rights which Tenant otherwise may have by reason of delivery of possession not being made on such date or any time thereafter and no failure to so deliver possession shall in any event extend, or be deemed to extend, the term of this Lease.

12. Loss or damage to property. All personal property belonging to Tenant or to any other person located in or about the Premises or the Building shall be there at the sole risk of Tenant or such other person, and neither Landlord nor Landlord's agents or employees shall be liable for the theft or misappropriation thereof, nor for any damage or injury thereto, nor for death or injury of Tenant or any other persons or damage to property caused by but not limited to the following: water, snow, frost, steam, heat, cold, dampness, falling plaster, explosions, sewers or sewerage, gas, odors, noise, the bursting or leaking of pipes, plumbing, electrical wiring and equipment and fixtures of all kinds or by any act or neglect of other tenants or occupants of the Building, or of any other person, or caused in any other manner whatsoever. Tenant shall protect, indemnify and save harmless, Landlord, from all losses, costs, including attorney fees, or damages sustained by reason of any act or other occurrence or failure to act causing death or injury to any person or damage to property whosoever or whatsoever due directly or indirectly to the use or occupancy of the Premises or any part thereof by Tenant, or due directly or indirectly to any breach or default on the part of Tenant in the performance of any covenant or agreement, on the part of Tenant to be performed.

Tenant covenants, upon notice from Landlord, to resist or defend, at Tenant's expense, such action or proceeding by counsel reasonably satisfactory to Landlord.

Landlord shall not be liable to anyone for cessation of any of the services that Landlord is required to provide under this Lease, including but not limited to public utility services and air conditioning, due to inability to obtain fuel, electricity, service or supplies from the sources from which they are usually obtained, due to failures in the equipment used to provide such services, or for any other reason beyond the control of the Landlord. Any such interruption of any of the above services shall never be deemed an eviction or disturbance of the Tenant's use of the Demised Premises or any part thereof, or render the Landlord liable to the Tenant for damages, or relieve the Tenant from performance of the Tenant's obligations under this Lease. Landlord, however, shall promptly take the necessary steps to terminate such interruptions as expeditiously as possible under the circumstances.

13. Holding over. Should Tenant withhold possession of the Premises after the termination of this Lease, whether by expiration of the terms of the demise or otherwise, the damages for which Tenant shall be liable to the Landlord for such detention, shall be and hereby are liquidated at a sum equal to double the rental stipulated herein for a period equal to the period of such detention, together with any Adjusted Rent due for such detention period. Should Tenant occupy the Premises after the termination of this Lease for any cause whatsoever, Tenant shall be considered a tenant at will and by sufferance of Landlord and no such occupancy shall operate as a renewal of the Lease or any part thereof.

14. Renewal term. Tenant may, at its option, renew the term of this Lease for one (1) renewal term of five (5) years. The term of the renewal period shall commence immediately upon the conclusion of the original term of this Lease. The option to renew may be exercised only by written notice in the manner provided in Section 21 hereof no later than one (1) year prior to the expiration date of the original term of this Lease. This shall be the exclusive and only method of exercising the renewal option and any other method shall not constitute an exercise thereof. The renewal term, granted pursuant to such option to renew, shall be on the same terms and conditions as are to be in effect during the original term of this Lease, except that the Base Rent shall be in an amount to be agreed upon by Landlord and Tenant, and Tenant shall have no further option to renew this Lease beyond the expiration of the renewal period created by this Section. If an agreement on the amount of the Base Rent to be paid during the renewal period has not been reached and evidenced by an appropriate amendment to this Lease within six (6) months prior to the expiration of the original term of this Lease, then notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, the foregoing option to renew shall lapse and be void and this Lease shall expire no later than the expiration date of the original term hereof.

If (i) Tenant fails to exercise the renewal option during the period in which it is available and in the manner required hereby, or (ii) if this Lease is no longer in full force and effect for any reason, or (iii) if Tenant is in default under this Lease, at the time of such exercise, or (iv) if Tenant and Landlord are unable to agree upon the amount of the Base Rent for such renewal period no later than six (6) months prior to the expiration of the original term of this Lease and evidence such agreement as hereinbefore provided, the renewal option shall terminate, be void and of no further force or effect.

Unless otherwise herein expressly provided, any reference in this Lease to the "term of this Lease" shall mean the original term hereof and the renewal period, if exercised by Tenant pursuant to its option to renew set forth in this Section, except to the extent that the original term or renewal period may be sooner terminated or canceled under any provisions of this Lease.

15. Assignment or sublease by tenant. Tenant shall not mortgage, pledge, encumber, assign or in any manner transfer this Lease, in whole or in part, nor sublet all or any part of the Premises without, in each instance, first obtaining the written consent of Landlord. The within prohibition against transfer without the Landlord's prior written consent includes any subletting or assignment which would otherwise occur by operation of law, merger, consolidation, reorganization, transfer or other change of Tenant's corporate or proprietary structure, or an assignment, subletting to or by a receiver or trustee in any federal or state bankruptcy, insolvency, or other proceedings. Any attempted assignment or sublease by Tenant in violation of the terms and covenants of this Section shall be void. The consent by Landlord to any assignment, subletting or other transfer above described shall not constitute a waiver of the requirement for such consent to any subsequent assignment, subletting or other transfer. It shall be a condition to any consent by Landlord that Tenant shall reimburse Landlord for any and all cost and expense, including, but not limited to, reasonable attorneys' fees for the review and preparation of documents, which may be incurred by Landlord in connection with any of the foregoing, which sum shall be deemed additional rental due and payable in accordance with the terms of this Lease. Any assignment, subletting or other transfer, even with the consent of Landlord, shall not relieve Tenant from primary liability for the payment of Rental or from the primary obligation to keep and be bound by the terms, conditions and covenants of this Lease. Should Tenant assign, sublet or otherwise dispose of the Premises, whether with or without Landlord's consent, any and all sums payable by virtue of such assignment, sublease or other demise shall be due and payable solely to Landlord. Tenant hereby appoints Landlord as its attorney-in-fact to bill and collect any and all such sums for the use and benefit of Landlord without liability or accountability whatsoever to Tenant.

16. Alterations personal property. Tenant shall make no alterations in, or additions or improvement to, the Demised Premises without the written consent of Landlord first had and obtained, which consent will not be unreasonably withheld. In making any alterations, Tenant shall comply with the accessibility guidelines of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, and the rules and regulations issues thereunder. Any addition, alterations or improvements made by Tenant shall become and remain a part of the Premises, and be and remain the property of Landlord upon the termination of this Lease or Tenant's occupancy of the Premises; notwithstanding the above, the Landlord may, by giving written notice to the Tenant, require Tenant to restore the Premises to the same condition they were in at the commencement of this Lease. Tenant shall indemnify and save harmless Landlord from and against all expenses, liens, claims or damages to either property or person which may or might arise by reason of such repairs, alterations, improvements or additions.

17. Use and repair of premises by tenant. Throughout the term of this Lease, Tenant will keep and maintain the interior of the Premises in a good state of repair, ordinary wear and tear and damage by the elements or by Acts of God only excepted. Landlord shall make the required repairs and maintenance for which the Tenant is responsible with material of the same quality as that originally used, and Tenant agrees to reimburse the Landlord for the expense incurred by the Landlord in connection therewith. Tenant will be liable for replacement of all broken glass of the same size and quality as that broken through the negligence of Tenant, its agents, guests or invitees, and will keep the entire Premises in a clean, safe and healthy condition according to the city ordinances and the direction of the proper public officers. Tenant further agrees to deliver up and surrender to Landlord possession of the Premises upon the expiration of this Lease in as good condition as when taken, ordinary wear and tear and damage from the above specified causes excepted.

18. Untenantability. In the event the Premises, or any part thereof, shall be destroyed or damaged, and such destruction or damage may be reasonably repaired within one hundred twenty (120) days from the happening of such destruction or damage, Tenant shall not be entitled to surrender possession of the Premises, or any part thereof, nor shall Tenant's liability to pay rent under this Lease cease; but in case of any such destruction or damage, Landlord shall repair the same with all reasonable speed and shall complete such repairs within one hundred twenty (120) days from the happening of such destruction or damage, subject to delays beyond Landlord's reasonable control. If Tenant shall thereby be deprived of the occupancy of any part of the Premises, a proportionate allowance shall be made to Tenant from the rent, corresponding to the time during which and to the part of the Premises of which Tenant shall be so deprived on account of such destruction or injury of or the making of such repairs. In the event that any destruction or damage cannot reasonably be repaired within one hundred twenty (120) days from the happening of such destruction or damage, either Landlord or Tenant shall have the right to terminate this Lease by giving written notice within thirty (30) days from the happening of such destruction or damage.

19. Lien for rent. In consideration of the mutual benefits arising under this Lease, Tenant hereby grants to Landlord a lien and security interest on all property of Tenant now or hereafter placed in or upon the leased Premises, and such property shall be and remain subject to such lien and security interest of Landlord for payment of all rent and other sums agreed to be paid by Tenant herein. The provisions of this Section relating to such lien and security interest shall constitute a security agreement under the Uniform Commercial Code (UCC) so that Landlord shall have and may enforce a security interest on all property of Tenant now or hereafter placed in or on the leased Premises, including but not limited to all fixtures, machinery, equipment, furnishings and other articles of personal property now or hereafter placed in or upon the leased Premises by Tenant. Tenant agrees to execute as debtor such financing statement or statements as Landlord may now or hereafter reasonably request in order that such security interest or interests may be protected pursuant to the UCC. Landlord may, at its election, at any time, file a copy of this lease as a financing statement. Landlord, as secured party, shall be entitled to all of the rights and remedies afforded a secured party under the UCC in addition to and cumulative of the Landlord's liens and rights provided by law or by the other terms and provisions of this Lease. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Landlord hereby agrees to subordinate its liens herein retained to any lien securing bona fide financing of Tenant's movable personal property placed in the leased Premises or the construction of Tenant's initial non-Building standard leasehold improvements to the leased Premises.

20. Infectious waste. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in the Lease, Tenant, rather than Landlord, shall be responsible and shall pay for all costs of segregating, packaging, treating, transporting and disposing of all Infectious Waste generated by Tenant at or from the Building. All Infectious Waste shall be identified, segregated, measured, stored and disposed of by Tenant in a manner that complies with all federal state and local laws or regulations applicable to Infectious Waste. None of the common areas may be used by Tenant for the storage or disposal of Infectious Waste.

As used herein, the term "Infectious Waste" means any infectious waste as defined in the infectious waste regulations of the State of _____, including without limitation Section _____ of the _____ Code of the State of _____, as amended from time to time. Tenant hereby agrees that it shall be fully liable for all costs and expenses related to the use, storage and disposal of Infectious Waste generated from the Premises by Tenant.

21. Remedies of landlord. All rights and remedies of Landlord herein set forth are in addition to any and all rights and remedies allowed by law and equity.

(a) This Lease is made upon the condition that Tenant shall punctually perform all of its covenants and agreements as herein set forth and if:

(i) Tenant defaults in payment of rent, or additional rent, or any additional charge or amount of money, to be paid by Tenant as provided in this Lease, and such default shall continue uncorrected for a period of ten (10) days after written notice to the Tenant thereof; or

(ii) Tenant defaults in the prompt and full performance and observance of any of the terms and conditions of this Lease to be performed or observed by Tenant or the Code of Regulations and not relating to the payment of money, and any such default shall continue uncorrected for a period of thirty (30) days after written notice to the Tenant thereof, or if any such last mentioned default cannot be reasonably corrected within such thirty (30) day period, then if Tenant shall not within such period have commenced in good faith to correct such default; or

(iii) Tenant abandons the Premises; or

(iv) Any execution, attachment or other order of court shall be issued upon or against the interest of Tenant in this Lease and shall continue for a period of thirty (30) days after notice, then in any such event, in addition to any and all rights and remedies allowed by law and equity, Landlord may, with or without further notice, forthwith, terminate this Lease and Tenant's right to possession of the Premises, or Landlord may, without terminating this Lease, terminate Tenant's right to possession of the Premises; or

(v) If any voluntary or involuntary petition or similar pleading under any act of Congress relating to bankruptcy shall be filed by or against Tenant, or if any voluntary or involuntary proceedings in any court or tribunal shall be instituted by or against Tenant to declare Tenant insolvent or unable to pay Tenant's debts, then in any such event Landlord may if Landlord so elects, with or without notice of such election and with or without entry or other action by Landlord, forthwith terminate this Lease and Tenant's right to possession of the Premises, and notwithstanding any other provision hereof, Landlord shall forthwith upon such termination be entitled to recover damages in an amount equal to the then present value of the rent reserved in this Lease for the entire residue of the stated term hereof.

In addition to, but without limitation or qualification of, any other right or remedy of the Landlord, herein provided, if the Tenant defaults in the performance of any covenant, condition or stipulation contained in this Lease, the Landlord may, after thirty (30) days written notice to the Tenant, or without notice if in the Landlord's reasonable opinion an emergency exists, perform the same for the account and at the expense of the Tenant, and the amount of any payments made or other expenses incurred by the Landlord for such purpose shall be forthwith repaid by the Tenant with interest thereon at the highest per annum rate allowed by law. Should the Tenant, pursuant to this paragraph, or any other provision of this Lease, become obligated to reimburse or otherwise pay Landlord any one or more sums of money in addition to the fixed rent, the amount thereof shall be deemed additional rent and may, at the option of Landlord, be added to any subsequent installment of the fixed rent due and payable under the Lease, in which event the Landlord shall have the remedies for default in termination of this Lease. The provisions of this paragraph shall survive the termination of this Lease. Nothing in the paragraph shall in any manner increase Landlord's liability to Tenant or to any others. The rights granted to Landlord under this paragraph shall be permissive only and shall not be construed as requiring Landlord to perform any such condition of covenant or to correct any such default.

(b) Upon the termination of this Lease, or upon the termination of Tenant's right to possession without termination of this Lease:

(i) Tenant shall surrender possession and vacate the Premises immediately, and Landlord may enter into and repossess the Premises without or with process of law, and remove all persons and property therefrom in the same manner and with the same right as if this Lease had not been made, and for the purpose of such entry and repossession Tenant waives any notice provided by law or otherwise to be given in connection therewith; and

(ii) Landlord may remove from the Premises any and all property found therein and such repossession shall not release Tenant from Tenant's obligation to pay the rents herein provided.

(c) In the event of termination of this Lease as provided in this paragraph, Landlord, in addition to any and all rights and remedies allowed by law and equity, upon termination, shall be entitled to recover damages in the amount equal to the then present value of the rent reserved in this Lease for the entire residue of the stated term hereof.

(d) Any and all property which may be removed from the Premises by Landlord may be handled, removed, stored or otherwise disposed of by Landlord at the risk and expense of Tenant, and Landlord shall in no event be responsible for the preservation or the safekeeping thereof. Tenant shall pay to Landlord, upon demand, any and all expenses incurred in such removal and all storage charges against such property, so long as the same shall be in Landlord's possession or under Landlord's control. If any property shall remain in the Premises or in the possession of Landlord, and shall not be retaken by Tenant within a period of ten (10) days from and after the time when the Premises are either abandoned by Tenant or repossessed by Landlord under the terms of this Lease, such property shall be deemed conclusively to have been forever abandoned by Tenant.

The parties hereto shall and they hereby do waive trial by jury in any action, proceeding or counterclaim brought by either of the parties hereto against the other on any matters whatsoever arising out of or in any way connected with this Lease, the relationship of Landlord and Tenant, Tenant's use or occupancy of the Premises, and/or any claim of injury or damage. In the event Landlord commences any proceedings for nonpayment of Rental or for recovering of possession of the Premises, Tenant will not interpose any counterclaim of whatever nature or description in any such proceeding. This shall not, however, be construed as a waiver of the Tenant's right to assert such claims in any separate action or actions brought by Tenant.

22. Subordination. The Tenant understands that Landlord may have or hereafter desire to place a mortgage upon the land described herein and the Building constructed thereon. It is further understood that the mortgagee may require that the within Lease be subordinated to such mortgage, in which event, Tenant agrees to execute any document required by such mortgagee to evidence such subordination; provided however, that the mortgagee of any such mortgage shall covenant that the Tenant's leasehold interest hereunder shall not be foreclosed in any action brought under such mortgage if at the time of bringing of any action to foreclose, the Tenant is not in default in the payment of Rental or in the performance of any other obligation under this Lease, with due allowance to be given for the payment of any past due Rental or for the correction of any other default by Tenant within the period of any notice given or required to be given by the terms hereof. It is further understood that the mortgagee of such mortgage may instead require that the Tenant agree to attorn to any purchaser of the property in the event that the same should be sold through foreclosure proceedings, and that the Tenant agrees to waive any and all rights to treat any such foreclosure proceedings as a breach of the Lease by Landlord, in which event Tenant agrees to execute any document required by such mortgagee to evidence such agreements.

23. Notices. Whenever Landlord shall make any demand or serve any notice which is required to be in writing under the terms of this Lease upon Tenant, the same shall be in writing and shall be sufficiently given if sent, postage prepaid, by United States registered or certified mail, addressed to Tenant at the address as set forth herein, or at such other address as Tenant may theretofore by written notice to Landlord have designated for the service of such notice. Notice shall be sufficiently given or served by Tenant upon Landlord if sent, postage prepaid, by United States registered or certified mail, addressed to Landlord at _____ Avenue, City of _____, State of _____, or at such other address as Landlord may theretofore by written notice to Tenant have designated for the service of such notice.

24. Common areas. Tenant and Tenant's agents, employees, licensees, and invitees shall have the right to use, in common with Landlord and Landlord's tenants and the agents, employees, licensees, and invitees of each, of the public sidewalks, entrances, lobbies, vestibules, stairways, corridors, passenger and freight elevators, public toilets and other public areas of the Building, subject, however, to applicable Building rules, regulations and security measures. Tenant and Tenant's agents, employees, licensees and invitees shall not obstruct or litter, or use for storage (temporary or otherwise) or for the display of merchandise or services or for any purpose other than the intended and normal purpose, any of the public sidewalks, entrances, lobbies, vestibules, stairways, corridors, passenger and freight elevators, public toilets and other public areas of the Building, and no floor mats or runners shall be placed by Tenant in any Building corridor, lobby or vestibule.

25. Eminent domain. Tenant agrees with Landlord that if the whole or any part of the Premises is appropriated, condemned, taken or otherwise acquired by any public or quasi-public authority under the power of eminent domain, condemnation or other proceedings, this Lease and the estate hereby created shall terminate and wholly expire on the date title shall vest in the acquiring authority, and all rent shall be prorated and adjusted as of that date. In no event whatsoever shall Tenant have any claim against Landlord by reason of any appropriation, condemnation or taking of the whole or any part of the Premises or of the Building, nor shall Tenant have any claim to the amount, or any portion thereof, that may be awarded as damages or paid as a result of such appropriation and taking. Tenant hereby assigns to Landlord all of Tenant's right, title and interest in and to any and all amounts awarded or paid by reason of such appropriation, condemnation and taking; provided however, that none of the foregoing is meant to deprive the Tenant from claiming moving expenses, displacement expenses or the like solely from the acquiring authority.

26. No waiver. Any demand for rent upon the Tenant after the same shall have become due and payable, or for the performance or observation of any covenant or condition of this Lease after the same is required to be performed or observed under the provisions hereof, shall have the same effect as though made at the time and place such rent became due or such obligation should have been performed or observed, any law to the contrary notwithstanding.

(a) The receipt of money by Landlord from Tenant with knowledge of the breach of any covenants of this Lease, or after the termination hereof, or after the service of any notice or after the commencement of such suit, or after final judgment for possession of the Premises shall not be deemed a waiver of such breach, nor shall it reinstate, continue, or extend the term of this Lease or affect any such notice, demand or suit.

(b) No delay on the part of Landlord in exercising any right, power or privilege hereunder shall operate as a waiver thereof, nor shall any single or partial exercise of any right, power or privilege preclude any other, or further, exercise thereof or the exercise of any other right, power or privilege.

(c) No act done or thing said by Landlord or Landlord's agents or employees shall constitute a cancellation, termination or modification of this Lease, or a waiver of any covenant, agreement or condition hereof, nor relieve Tenant from Tenant's obligation to pay the rents reserved or other charges to be paid hereunder, or the acts required to be done herein. Any waiver or release by Landlord and any cancellation, termination or modification of this Lease must be in writing signed by Landlord.

27. Limitation of landlord's personal liability. Tenant specifically agrees to look solely to Landlord's interest in the Building and the Land for the recovery of any judgment against Landlord, it being agreed that Landlord (and its partners and shareholders) shall never be personally liable for any such judgment. The provision contained in the foregoing sentence is not intended to, and shall not, limit any right that Tenant might otherwise have to obtain injunctive relief against Landlord or Landlord's successors in interest or any suit or action in connection with enforcement or collection of amounts which may become owing or payable under or on account of insurance maintained by Landlord.

28. Rules and regulations. Tenant and Tenant's agents, employees and invitees shall faithfully observe and strictly comply with the Rules and Regulations appearing at the end of the Lease and made a part hereof, and with such further reasonable Rules and Regulations as Landlord may, after notice to Tenant, from time to time adopt. Nothing contained in this Lease shall be construed to impose upon Landlord any duty or obligation to enforce the Rules and Regulations in any other Lease as against any other Tenant, and Landlord shall not be liable to Tenant for violation of the same by any other Tenant or the agents, employees, licensees or invitees of such other Tenant.

29. Death or disability. The heirs, executors, administrators or personal representatives of a deceased tenant or a tenant who is disabled by illness or injury to the extent that the Tenant cannot reasonably conduct his business as defined in Paragraph 2 of this Lease for a period of one hundred eighty (180) consecutive days, shall have the right for a period of one hundred eighty (180) days following his death, or the termination of the one hundred eighty (180) day period in the event of disability, to assign the Tenant's rights in this Lease in connection with a bona fide sale of the Tenant's business to another tenant who will occupy the Premises for the business purpose as stated herein and for no other purpose; provided, however, that such assignment shall be valid only if written consent thereto shall first be obtained from Landlord and any cotenant of Tenant, which consent Landlord and the cotenant, if any, agree not to unreasonably withhold, and provided further, that the assignee of Tenant's rights shall, in writing satisfactory to the Landlord, assume and agree to pay and perform all of the rent, terms and provisions of this Lease. During the one hundred eighty (180) day period, the Tenant or the estate of the Tenant shall continue to be obligated for and to pay the Rental due hereunder from Tenant.

If no such bona fide sale of Tenant's business and assignment of Tenant's interests in this Lease takes place during the one hundred eighty (180) day period described, then all rights and obligations of Tenant and his estate in and to this Lease shall terminate on the one hundred eightieth (180th) day following his death or the termination of the one hundred eighty (180) day period in the event of disability.

30. Entire agreement. This Lease contains the entire agreement between the parties hereto and shall not be modified in any manner except by an instrument in writing executed by the parties or their respective successors in interest. If more than one person or entity or a combination thereof comprise "Tenant," their liability hereunder shall be joint and several. Landlord has made no representations or warranties with respect to the Premises, except as herein expressly set forth.

31. Paragraph headings. The paragraph headings appearing in this Lease are inserted only as a matter of convenience and for reference purposes, and in no way define, limit or describe the scope and intent of this Lease, or any paragraph hereof, nor in any way affect it.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, Tenant and Landlord have executed triplicate counterparts of this LEASE AGREEMENT as of the day, month and year first above shown.

FORM 23.09 Office space lease--building under construction--procedure for tenant work

COMMENT

Although this lease contains special provisions which are specifically applicable to the lease of office space in a building that is under construction, leases generally provide that occupancy of the premises is not to commence until a future date, for a variety of reasons. Thus, the premises may be occupied by an existing tenant who is not required to move until a future date, or the premises may have to be redesigned in order to meet the specific requirements of the new tenant, etc. Accordingly, the comprehensive nature of this lease renders it suitable as a basic model for an office lease which must provide for these common occurrences.

THIS INDENTURE OF LEASE is made this _____ day of _____, [date] between Melville Building Company, a New York limited partnership, having its office at 20 Victor Place, New York, New York 10004 ("Landlord"), and Page & Company, Inc., a Delaware corporation duly qualified to do business in the State of New York, and having its principal office at One Trafalgar Plaza, New York, New York 10005 ("Tenant").

Article I Premises; Term

Section 1.01. Landlord leases to Tenant and Tenant hires from Landlord the following space in the building to be constructed substantially in accordance with plans, as modified to this date, on file in Landlord's office and available for inspection by Tenant, in the Borough of Manhattan, City, County and State of New York, known as Melville Plaza (the "Building"):

The 19th, 20th, 21st, and 22nd Floors,

As set forth in the floor plan annexed hereto as "Exhibit A" (the "Demised Premises").

The Demised Premises are leased together with the appurtenances, including the right to use in common with others the lobby, public entrances, public stairways, public elevators (except elevators specifically assigned for the exclusive use of other tenants of the Building), and other public portions of the Building.

To Have and to Hold the Demised Premises unto Tenant for the term of 16 years. If the Commencement Date (defined in Section 2.01) is not the first day of a month, the term shall include the number of days from the Commencement Date to the last day of the month. The term shall commence on the Commencement Date and end, unless terminated sooner, on the last day of the month which includes the 16th anniversary of the Commencement Date. This Lease shall yield and pay the rents and additional rents set forth below, all on the covenants, conditions, and agreements stated therein. Promptly after the Commencement Date, Landlord and Tenant shall execute an agreement in recordable form (the "Commencement Date Agreement"), stating among other things the commencement and termination dates of this Lease.

Article II Commencement of Term

Section 2.01. Commencement date. The term of this Lease and the payment of rent hereunder shall commence on the date the Demised Premises are substantially completed ("Commencement Date"). The Demised Premises or any Occupancy Unit (as defined below) shall be deemed substantially completed when the following are done: Landlord procures either a temporary or permanent Certificate of Occupancy permitting occupancy of the Demised Premises or Occupancy Unit for the purposes provided herein; Landlord substantially performs the work and additional work required of it in Exhibit "B;" Landlord puts in operating condition for Tenant's permitted use under Article IV the Building's service facilities and systems serving the Demised Premises or the Occupancy Unit, including the elevators, air-conditioning, heating, lighting, water supply, and sewage systems; the exterior of the Building is substantially completed and enclosed; the lobby of the Building is substantially completed and reasonably free of debris and construction materials so as to be reasonably usable for egress and ingress; reasonable access is available to the Demised Premises or Occupancy Unit; and Landlord cleans the Demised Premises or Occupancy Unit and otherwise renders them in new and reasonably unblemished condition, excluding anything caused by Tenant, or its agents, servants, contractors, or employees. This work shall include but not be limited to the following:

- (i) Tile floors wet mopped, waxed, and buffed;
 - (ii) Walls and partitions cleaned and all damaged places filled and touched up;
 - (iii) All glass cleaned both sides;
 - (iv) Toilet fixtures cleaned and polished;
 - (v) Trash, dirt, and leftover materials removed from the Demised Premises, excluding anything caused by Tenant.
- "Operating condition," as applicable to air-conditioning and heating, shall include balancing, but Landlord shall only be required, at such time, to balance the system necessary for the then season.

Section 2.02. Notice of completion. Landlord shall give Tenant at least 30 days' prior written notice of the anticipated date of substantial completion of the work to be performed in the Demised Premises in Landlord. Tenant may enter the premises as provided in Exhibit "B," but nothing contained herein shall impose any liability upon Landlord for the care, maintenance, or preservation of Tenant's property. Landlord shall notify Tenant promptly if the substantial completion date is delayed after Landlord gives notice. In that case Landlord shall give Tenant at least five days' prior written notice of the anticipated postponed date of substantial completion. Further postponements shall also require at least five days' prior written notice.

Section 2.03. Staggered completion. (a) The parties recognize that the work to be performed by Landlord will be completed in stages. Accordingly, it is the parties' intention that Tenant will take occupancy of various portions of the Demised Premises at different times before the Commencement Date. Tenant shall, on or before [date], give notice to Landlord:

(1) Advising it which floor or floors (but not exceeding three full floors in any Occupancy Unit) of the Demised Premises Tenant desires to occupy at or about the same time as the Commencement Date (collectively, an "Occupancy Unit"), and which full floor or floors Tenant does not desire to occupy before that date; and

(2) Setting forth a practicable sequence for the completion of Landlord's work with respect to the various Occupancy Units. The sequence shall be subject to Landlord's approval, which it shall not unreasonably withhold. Nothing in this subsection shall be deemed to obligate Landlord to complete its work with respect to any one or more Occupancy Units by any fixed date before the Commencement Date.

(b) Tenant may use and occupy each Occupancy Unit on a date (the "Earlier Completion Date") fixed by Landlord in a notice to Tenant. This date shall be at least 30 days after the date of Landlord's notice. Landlord's notice shall state that:

(1) The New York City Department of Buildings has or will have issued a temporary or permanent Certificate (or Certificates) covering the Occupancy Unit; and

(2) Landlord has, or before the Earlier Completion Date fixed in the notice will have, substantially completed Landlord's work with respect to the Occupancy Unit.

Any such use or occupancy shall be deemed to be under all the terms, covenants, and conditions of this Lease, except as provided below in this subsection. Tenant shall pay rent for each Occupancy Unit for the period starting with the Earlier Completion Date for that Unit (or from any earlier date on which Tenant uses or occupies the Occupancy Unit to conduct its business) and ending with the date immediately preceding the Commencement Date. Rent for that period shall be equitably apportioned on the basis of the rentable area of the Occupancy Unit and the rent for the Demised Premises as set forth in Article III, Section 3.01. Rent for each Occupancy Unit shall be payable at the end of each month following the Unit's respective Completion Date (or any earlier date on which Tenant uses or occupies the Occupancy Unit to conduct its business) until the Commencement Date.

Section 2.04. Possession; substantial completion. If Tenant takes possession of any Occupancy Unit or of the entire Demised Premises, either fact shall be conclusive evidence, as against Tenant, that, at the time of taking, Landlord substantially completed its work on the Occupancy Unit or the Demised Premises, as the case may be, as required in Exhibit "B." Within 10 business after the Commencement Date, a representative of both parties shall survey the Demised Premises for the purpose of determining which items of Landlord's work remain to be completed, which they shall reduce to an itemized agreed "punch" list. Landlord shall complete these items within a reasonable time thereafter.

Section 2.05. Site representatives. Landlord and Tenant will each give full cooperation in having available at the job all persons who are necessary to settle problems arising out of job conditions.

Section 2.06. Contractor's office, plans. Landlord or its general contractors shall maintain an office in or near the Building. They shall at all times during the construction of the Building and the finishing of the Demised Premises have available in the office for Tenant's use a complete set of plans, drawings (including shop drawings), specifications pertaining to the work, and construction schedules. Moreover, they shall furnish to Tenant at its request copies of the plans, drawings, specifications, and construction schedules for the Demised Premises.

Section 2.07. Tenant-caused delay. If the occurrence of any condition specified in Section 2.01 is delayed due to any act or omission of Tenant, or of its agents, employees, or contractors, the Demised Premises shall be deemed ready for occupancy on the day they would have been ready but for the delay. For this purpose, a delay shall include:

(a) Delay in submission of Tenant's plans or specifications or giving authorizations or approvals required for the preparations for or execution of Landlord's work;

(b) Delay due to:

(1) Changes made by or on behalf of Tenant in its plans or in Landlord's work;

(2) Postponement by Landlord of any work, either at Tenant's request or because Tenant must perform work on a particular item or items before Landlord does so (and Landlord agrees to give Tenant notice of the delay and all additional costs resulting from it before commencing or postponing the work);

(3) Any other interference by Tenant or its agents, servants, or employees, with Landlord's work in the Demised Premises or the building.

Section 2.08. Delay expenses. If Landlord sustains additional costs or damages as a result of any delay by Tenant under this Article, Tenant shall pay to Landlord (in addition to the rent payable as a result of the acceleration of the Commencement Date, as provided above) all reasonable costs and damages sustained by Landlord as a result of the delay.

Section 2.09. Completion deadline. If neither the Commencement Date nor any Earlier Completion Date occurs by [date], or an extended date as provided in this Section, Tenant may cancel and terminate this Lease and the Demised Term. It shall do so by giving notice of cancellation and termination within 30 days after [date], or the extended date. Upon giving of notice, this Lease and the Demised Term shall expire and come to an end, and both parties shall be released and discharged of and from all further liability under the Lease. However, Tenant shall remain liable for the cost of any work performed by Landlord at Tenant's request. Time is expressly declared to be of the essence with respect to any such notice of cancellation and termination. Tenant may not give any notice after expiration of the above 30-day period, and any such notice shall have no force or effect. If Tenant fails to give the required timely notice, or if it uses or occupies any part of the Demised Premises to conduct its business, the Demised Term shall commence in accordance with the provisions of Section 2.01, and Tenant shall have no further right under this Section to cancel and terminate this Lease. Landlord may extend the [date] date, set forth in this Section, by a period equal to the total of:

(a) The number of days which have elapsed between the date on which Tenant is required to submit a plan to Landlord under the provisions of Exhibit "B," and the date on which Tenant submits the plan; plus

(b) The number of days of delay (or delays) in substantial completion of Landlord's work due to Tenant's delay (or delays) in submitting any other plans or specifications, in supplying information, in approving plans, specifications, or estimates, or in giving authorizations; by reason of any additional Work, as defined in Exhibit "B," designated by Tenant, or any changes by Tenant in designations previously made by it, under Exhibit "B;" or by reason of any other similar act or omission of Tenant.

Article III Rent

Section 3.01. Rent payments. During the term of this Lease, Tenant shall pay to Landlord a fixed annual minimum rent of $900,000. Rent shall be payable in equal monthly installments, in advance on the first day of each month during this Lease term, at Landlord's office or any other place designated by it, without any set-off or deduction. Tenant shall pay the rent and all other payments deemed under this Lease to be additional rent by check drawn on any bank which is a member of the New York Clearing House. The check shall be payable in lawful money of the United States which, at the time of payment, is legal tender for the payment of public and private debts (Landlord to accept the check subject to collection). If the Commencement Date is not the first day of a calendar month, Tenant shall pay to Landlord, on the Commencement Date, a fraction of the equal monthly installment, the numerator of which is the number of days from the Commencement Date to the end of the calendar month in which that date occurs, and the denominator of which is the total number of days in the calendar month. This payment shall represent the pro rata rent from the Commencement Date to the end of the calendar month.

Section 3.02. Additional rent. All costs, charges, and expenses that Tenant assumes, agrees to, or is obligated to Landlord under this Lease and the annexed schedules, shall be deemed additional rent. In the event of nonpayment, Landlord shall have the same rights and remedies with respect to the additional rent as is provided for herein in case of nonpayment of rent. Tenant shall pay Landlord the rent, additional rent, and adjustments of rent provided for in this Lease, when due and without notice or demand, at the time and in the manner specified herein.

Article IV Use

Section 4.01. Office use; density. Tenant shall use and occupy the Demised Premises for the general office activities (excluding, however, a cafeteria, computer operations, general records storage, or operations of similar scope) of its executive, administrative, and sales personnel, or those of its assignees or subtenants, permitted under Article XI. The Demised Premises shall not be used for any other purpose. The number of persons per floor shall not exceed one person for each 100 square feet.

Section 4.02. Adverse use. Tenant shall not suffer or permit the Demised Premises or any part of them to be used in any manner, anything to be done in them, or anything to be brought into or kept in them, that would in any way:

- (i) violate any public law or requirement;
- (ii) cause structural injury to the Building or any part of it;
- (iii) interfere with the normal operations of the Building's heating, air-conditioning, ventilating, plumbing, or other mechanical or electrical systems, or of its elevators;
- (iv) constitute a public or private nuisance; or
- (v) alter the appearance of the Building's exterior or of any portion of its interior other than the Demised Premises.

Section 4.03. Prohibited uses. The use of the Demised Premises for the purposes specified in Section 4.01 shall not in any event be deemed to include, and Tenant shall not use, or permit the use of, the Demised Premises or any part thereof for:

- (a) Sale at retail of any products or materials (except for sale of beverages or food to Tenant's employees, only, through vending machines);
- (b) The conduct of a public auction of any kind;
- (c) The conduct of a commercial bank, trust company, savings bank, safe deposit, savings and loan association or bank, or any branches of any of the foregoing or a loan company business (except for the conduct of a credit union or benefit plan for Tenant's employees and except as incident to Tenant's business);

(d) The issuance and sale of traveler's checks, foreign drafts, letters of credit, foreign exchange or domestic money orders (except as incidental to Tenant's business);

(e) The receipt of money for transmission (except as incidental to Tenant's business).

Section 4.04. Continued occupancy. (a) Tenant acknowledges that the continued occupancy of the Demised Premises by Tenant or its assignees or subtenants permitted under Article XI, and the regular conduct of business therein by Tenant or its assignees or subtenants are of the utmost importance to the Landlord in the renewal of other leases of portions of the Building, in the renting of vacant space in the Building, in the providing of electricity, air-conditioning, steam, and other services to the Building's tenants, and in the maintenance of the character and quality of the Building's tenants. Tenant, therefore, except as otherwise provided in this Section or in Articles VI, X, XI, XIV, and XV, or when prevented by strikes or other labor troubles or generally applicable laws or public regulations, shall occupy the entire Demised Premises and conduct its business therein in the regular and usual manner, throughout the term of this Lease. Tenant acknowledges that Landlord is executing this Lease in reliance upon these covenants, and that they are a material element of consideration in inducing Landlord to execute it. If, at any time during this Lease term Tenant vacates the entire Demised Premises, except in the case of constructive eviction or as otherwise permitted by law, or fails to so conduct its business therein, without Landlord's prior written consent, except as permitted by Articles VI, X, XI, XIV, and XV, or when prevented by strikes or other labor troubles or generally applicable laws or public regulations, all rent and additional rent reserved in this Lease from the date of the breach to its expiration date shall become immediately due and payable to Landlord.

(b) The parties recognize and agree that the damage to Landlord resulting from any breach of the covenants in paragraph (a) of this Section will be extremely substantial, and will be impossible of accurate measurement. The parties therefore agree as follows:

(1) If there is a breach or threatened breach of the above covenants, Landlord shall, in addition to all of its other rights and remedies at law, in equity, or otherwise, have the right of injunction to preserve Tenant's occupancy and use. The words "become vacant or deserted," as used elsewhere in this Lease, shall include Tenant's failure to occupy or use as required by this Section. Cessation of the use or occupancy other than as provided in paragraph (a) of this Section for a period not exceeding 60 days shall not be deemed a breach by Tenant.

(2) If this Lease is terminated because Tenant breaches either covenant in paragraph (a) of this Section, Landlord may, notwithstanding any contrary provision in this Lease, re-enter the Demised Premises to alter, reconstruct, and rent all or any part of them, at any rental agreed to by Landlord, for any portion of or beyond the original Lease term. Any income received by Landlord on such re-rental shall be its property, as compensation for the expenses incurred in preparing and re-renting all or any part of the Demised Premises. This income, together with the above rents and additional rents, shall constitute liquidated damages for Tenant's breach. Tenant shall not receive any portion of the proceeds from the re-letting except for any payment made by or due from it to Landlord under paragraph (a) of this Section.

(c) If any provision of this Section or its application to any person or circumstance is, to any extent, invalid or unenforceable, the remainder of this Section, or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances, shall not be affected thereby. Each provision of this Section and this Lease shall be valid and enforced to the fullest extent permitted by law.

Article V Construction of Building

Section 5.01. Building. Landlord shall, subject to delays by causes beyond its reasonable control, proceed to build the Building as a modern, fully air-conditioned office building on the land herein described in Exhibit "C" (the "Land").

Section 5.02. Landlord work. Landlord, prior to the Commencement Date, shall install and furnish in the Demised Premises all of the work, additional work, and installations substantially in accordance with Exhibit "B" annexed hereto.

Article VI Repairs; Alterations; Fixtures

Section 6.01. Landlord maintenance. If Landlord knows that structural repairs are needed, it shall, at its expense, make them and maintain the exterior and public areas of the Demised Premises and the public areas of the Building in good order and repair. Landlord shall also maintain in good condition and make (a) all repairs to the structure in the Demised Premises, (b) all repairs to all electric wiring, risers, plumbing, heating and air-conditioning facilities serving the Demised Premises (other than any of the above installed by Tenant), and (c) all other repairs necessary to correct any latent defects for one year after the Commencement Date in the Demised Premises (other than defects connected with, or related to, any alterations made or performed by or on behalf of Tenant by persons other than Landlord or its contractors). However, Landlord shall not be required to make any repairs referred to in subdivisions (a) or (b) if Tenant is obligated to make them under Section 6.02. Tenant shall promptly notify Landlord of the necessity of any repairs of which Tenant has knowledge and for which Landlord may be responsible under this Section.

Section 6.02. Tenant maintenance. Tenant shall take good care of the Demised Premises, and the fixtures, equipment and appurtenances therein, except those repairs required to be made by Landlord under Section 6.01. Tenant shall, at its own expense, make all repairs to the Demised Premises when needed to preserve them in good working order and condition. All damage or injury to the Demised Premises and its fixtures, glass, appurtenances, and equipment or to the Building or its fixtures, glass, appurtenances, and equipment caused by Tenant moving property in or out of the Building or by installation or removal of furniture, fixtures, or other property, or resulting from fire, explosion, short circuits, flow or leakage of water, steam, illuminating gas, sewer gas, sewerage, or by frost or by bursting or by leaking of pipes or plumbing or from any other cause of any other kind or nature whatsoever, due to carelessness, omission, neglect, improper conduct, or other cause of Tenant, its servants, employees, agents, visitors, or licensees, shall be repaired, restored, or replaced promptly by Tenant to the reasonable satisfaction of Landlord at Tenant's expense except to the extent that the cost and expense is covered by insurance proceeds recovered by Landlord. All repairs and restorations or replacements required in connection therewith shall be of quality and class at least equal to the original work or installations and done in a good and workmanlike manner.

Section 6.03. Obstructions. Tenant shall not store or place any materials of whatsoever kind or nature or any obstructions in the lobby, passageways, stairs, on the sidewalks or plaza abutting the Building or in any of its public portions.

Section 6.04. Additional alterations. Except as provided for in Exhibit B, Tenant shall make no alterations, decorations, installations, additions, or improvements in or to the Demised Premises, including but not limited to water coolers, air-conditioning or cooling system, unit or part thereof or other apparatus of other or like nature without Landlord's prior written consent and then only by contractors or mechanics approved in writing by Landlord. However, Landlord shall at all times authorize at least three contractors or mechanics in each trade to perform such alterations, decorations, installations, additions, or improvements in and about the Demised Premises. Landlord shall not unreasonably withhold its consent to any nonstructural alterations, decorations, installations, additions, or improvements proposed by Tenant to adapt the Demised Premises for Tenant's business purposes. Landlord hereby consents to all nonstructural alterations, decorations, installations, additions, or improvements proposed by Tenant to adapt the Demised Premises for Tenant's business purposes if they not interfere with furnishing services to other Tenants and if the aggregate estimated cost, in Landlord's reasonable judgment, of all proposed alterations, decorations, installations, additions, or improvements in any successive 12-month period does not exceed $50,000. However, if the alterations, decorations, installations, or improvements interfere with or affect Landlord's ability to provide the services in the Demised Premises prescribed in Article XXI, Landlord shall be relieved from such obligation to the extent of such interference. All work, alterations, decorations, installations, additions, or improvements shall be done at Tenant's expense and at such times and in such manner as Landlord may from time to time designate and in full compliance with all applicable laws, rules, regulations, and requirements of all governmental bureaus and bodies having jurisdiction thereover, including without limitation, the accessibility requirements of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 ("ADA") and the regulations issued thereunder. All alterations, decorations, installations, additions, or improvements (other than communications equipment, quotation devices, or equipment leased by Tenant) shall, at Landlord's election (which it shall make by notice as provided in Article XXX not less than 30 days before this Lease expires or is renewed or extended, or, if it is terminated before then, not later than 60 days after termination), become Landlord's property and shall remain upon and be surrendered with the Demised Premises as a part of them at the end of the term or renewal term, or the term's prior expiration, as the case may be. If Landlord elects otherwise, all alterations, decorations, installations, additions or improvements made by Tenant upon the Demised Premises as the Landlord may select (as well as any communications equipment, quotation devices, or equipment leased by Tenant) shall be removed by Tenant and it shall restore the premises to their original condition (except with respect to those items which Landlord has elected to remain) at Tenant's expense at or prior to the expiration of the term. As a condition precedent to Landlord's consent to the making by Tenant of alterations, decorations, installations, additions, or improvements to the Demised Premises in addition to other requirements as provided in this Lease or elsewhere, Tenant shall obtain and deliver to Landlord written and conditional waivers of mechanics' liens upon the property of which the Demised Premises are a part for all work, labor and services to be performed and materials to be furnished in connection with such work in the form approved by Landlord's attorneys, signed by all contractors, subcontractors, material-men, laborers, and workmen to become involved in such work. Notwithstanding the above, if any mechanic's lien is filed against the Demised Premises or the Building for work claimed to have been done for, or materials claimed to have been furnished to Tenant, it shall be discharged by Tenant within ten days thereafter, at Tenant's expense, by filing the bond required by law or payment or otherwise. Landlord shall not be liable for any failure or any Building facilities or services including but not limited to the air-conditioning and ventilating equipment in the Demised Premises installed by Landlord caused by alterations, installations, and/or additions by Tenant, and Tenant shall correct any faulty installation. Upon Tenant's failure to correct same, Landlord may make the correction and charge Tenant for its cost. The sum due Landlord shall be deemed additional rent and shall be paid by Tenant promptly upon being billed therefor. Tenant shall keep full and accurate records of the cost of all alterations, installations, and improvements in and to the Demised Premises made by it and shall, if requested by Landlord, make them available to Landlord for use in connection with any proceeding to review the Assessed Valuation of the Building or to acquire the Land and Building for public or quasi public use. If any of Tenant's property remains in the Demised Premises after expiration of the term (or the earlier termination of this Lease) and Tenant's removal, the property may be deemed by Landlord to have been abandoned. In that case, Landlord may either retain the property or dispose of it at Tenant's expense and without accountability in whatever manner Landlord may see fit. If Landlord causes the property to be removed, any damage caused by the removal and any other damage to the Demised Premises caused by Tenant's removal may be repaired at Tenant's expense and Tenant shall pay to Landlord upon demand all such expenses. The above provisions shall survive the expiration or termination of this Lease.

Section 6.05. Permits; insurance. With the exception of Tenant's work performed under Exhibit "B," prior to commencing any work under the provisions of Section 6.04, Tenant shall furnish to Landlord:

- (a) Copies of all governmental permits and authorizations which may be required in connection with the work.
- (b) A certificate evidencing that Tenant (or its contractors) has (have) procured workmen's compensation insurance covering all persons employed in connection with the work who might assert claims for death or bodily injury against any Over-Landlord, Tenant, or the Building.
- (c) All additional personal injury and property damage insurance (over and above the insurance required to be carried by Tenant under Section 9.03) that Landlord may require because of the nature of the work to be done by Tenant.

Article VII Floor Load; Noise

Section 7.01. Tenant shall not place a load upon any floor of the Demised Premises which exceeds the load per square foot which the floor is then designed to carry and which is then allowed by law. All business machines and equipment and all other mechanical equipment installed and used by Tenant in the Demised Premises shall be properly shielded and be so placed, equipped, installed, and maintained by Tenant at its expense in settings of cork, rubber, or spring-type vibration-eliminators or in such other manner as Landlord may reasonably direct so as to be sufficient to eliminate the transmission of noise, vibration or electrical, or other interference from the Demised Premises to any other area of the Building. Landlord shall include a sentence of equivalent purport to the preceding sentence in other leases of space for adjacent floors in the Building, and shall exercise reasonable efforts to require compliance therewith with respect to such transmissions affecting the Demised Premises.

Tenant shall not move any safe, heavy equipment or bulky matter in or out of the Building without Landlord's written consent, which it shall not unreasonably withhold or delay. If the movement of such items requires special handling, Tenant shall employ only persons holding a Master Rigger's License to do the work and all such work shall be done in full compliance with the Administrative Code of the City of New York and other municipal requirements. All such movements shall be made during hours which will least interfere with the normal operations of the Building, and all damage caused by such movement shall be promptly repaired by Tenant at its expense.

Article VIII Laws, Ordinances, Requirements of Public Authorities

Section 8.01. Tenant compliance. Tenant shall, at its expense, comply with all federal, state, county, and municipal laws, orders, ordinances and regulations including without limitation, those relating to environmental matters, and those relating to the accessibility requirements of the ADA, and with any lawful direction of any public officer or officers which shall, with respect to the occupancy, use or manner of use of the Demised Premises or to any abatement of nuisance caused by Tenant, impose any violation, order, or duty upon Landlord or Tenant arising from Tenant's occupancy, use, or manner of use of the Demised Premises or any installations made therein by or at Tenant's request or required by reason of a breach of any of Tenant's covenants or agreements hereunder.

Section 8.02. Notice of violations. Tenant shall promptly notify Landlord if it receives notice of any violation of law, ordinance, rule, order, or regulation applicable to the Demised Premises. Landlord shall promptly notify Tenant if it receives notice of any violation of any such law, order, ordinance, or regulation applicable to the Demised Premises or services, access or other appurtenances to the Demised Premises, especially, but not limited to, any creating an obligation of Tenant under Section 8.01.

Section 8.03. Landlord compliance. Except as provided above, Landlord shall, at its expense, comply with or cause to be complied with, all federal, state, county, and municipal laws, orders, ordinances, and regulations and any direction made pursuant to law of any public officer or officers which shall, with respect to the public portions of the Building, or which affect Tenant's access to the Demised Premises, impose any violation, order or duty upon Landlord or Tenant and with respect to which Tenant is not obligated by Section 8.01 to comply. Landlord may at its expense contest the validity of any such law, ordinance, rule, order, or regulation.

Section 8.04. Window cleaning. Tenant shall not clean, nor require, permit, suffer or allow any window in the Demised Premises to be cleaned, from the outside in violation of Section 202 of the Labor Law or of the rules of the Board of Standards and Appeals or of any other board or body having or asserting jurisdiction.

Section 8.05. Rent control laws. Landlord may cancel this Lease and its term, by giving Tenant 30 days' notice, if at any time hereafter a law or ordinance which is of a nature commonly referred to as "rent control laws" is enacted. For this purpose, a rent control law is any law or ordinance which limits, reduces, or suspends in whole or in part or otherwise affects the rents or revenues from the Demised Premises or the Building or which makes it illegal to pay or prohibit or restrict the payment to, or receipt by, Landlord of the minimum fixed rent, additional rent, or adjustment of rent or any part or portion of any thereof or as a result of which the Landlord may not, or may not be entitled to receive when due, the full and entire fixed minimum rent, additional rent, and adjustments of rent, or which permits Tenant to seek the return of all or any part of the rent, additional rent, or adjustments of rent. If Landlord elects to terminate and serves upon Tenant a 30-day notice of cancellation of this Lease, upon the expiration of the 30-day period this Lease and its term shall end and expire as fully and completely as if the date of expiration of the 30-day period were the day herein definitely fixed for the end and expiration of this Lease and its term and Tenant shall then quit and surrender the Demised Premises to Landlord.

Article IX Insurance

Section 9.01. Compliance with insurance regulations. Tenant shall not do or permit to be done any act or thing in or upon the Demised Premises which will invalidate or be in conflict with the Certificate of Occupancy or the terms of the New York State standard form of fire, boiler, sprinkler, water damage, or other insurance policies covering the Building and/or the fixtures, equipment, and property therein. Tenant shall, at its expense, comply with all rules, orders, regulations, or requirements of the New York Board of Fire Underwriters or any other similar body having jurisdiction, that relate to its use or occupancy of the Demised Premises, and shall not knowingly do or permit anything to be done in or upon the Demised Premises or bring or keep anything therein or use them in a manner which increases the rate of insurance upon the Building or on any property or equipment located therein over the rate in effect at the commencement of the term of this Lease.

Section 9.02. Tenant caused increases. If, because of anything done, caused, or permitted to be done, permitted, or omitted by Tenant, the rate of liability, fire, boiler, sprinkler, water damage or other insurance (with all extended coverage) on the Building or on the property and equipment of Landlord or any other tenant or subtenant in the Building is higher than it otherwise would be, Tenant shall reimburse Landlord and the other tenants and subtenants in the Building for the additional insurance premiums thereafter paid by any of them. Tenant shall make the reimbursement on the first day of the month following the payment by Landlord or the other tenants or subtenants. In any action or proceeding in which Landlord and Tenant are parties, a schedule or "make up" of any insurance rate for the Building or Demised Premises issued by the New York Fire Insurance Exchange, or other body establishing fire insurance rates for the Building, shall be conclusive evidence of the facts therein stated and of the several items and charges in the insurance rates then applicable to the Building or Demised Premises.

Section 9.03. Liability insurance. Tenant, at its expense, shall maintain insurance protecting and indemnifying Landlord, Tenant and any Overlandlord against all claims for injury or damage to persons or property or for the loss of life or of property occurring upon, in or about the Demised Premises, the public portions of the Building used by Tenant, its employees, agents, contractors, customers, and invitees. The insurance shall afford minimum protection during the term of this Lease, of not less than $1,000,000 for bodily injury or death to any one person and not less than $3,000,000 for any one occurrence or accident, and not less than $100,000 for property damage.

All such insurance shall be effected under valid and enforceable policies (which may cover the Demised Premises and other locations), shall be issued by insurers of recognized responsibility acceptable by Landlord, and shall contain a provision under which the insurer agrees not to cancel the insurance without 20 days' prior written notice to Landlord.

On or before the Commencement Date, Tenant shall furnish Landlord with a certificate evidencing the aforesaid insurance coverage. Renewal certificates shall be furnished to Landlord at least 30 days prior to the expiration date of each policy for which a certificate was furnished.

Section 9.04. Waiver of subrogation. Landlord's insurance policies shall insure the Building and its property therein against loss, damage, or destruction by fire or other casualty and the rental value thereof. Tenant's policies shall insure its property in the Demised Premises against loss, damage, or destruction by fire or other casualty. Both parties shall use their best efforts to include in their respective insurance policies: (a) a waiver of the insurer's right of subrogation against the other party; (b) an express agreement that the policy will not be invalidated if the assured waives the right of recovery against any party responsible for a casualty covered by the policy before the casualty; or (c) any other form of permission for the other party's release. If the waiver or permission is not, or ceases to be, obtainable, with or without additional charge, the insured party shall, upon learning that, promptly so notify the other party. In that case, if the other party so elects and pays the insurer's additional charge therefor, the waiver or permission shall be included in the policy. Each party hereby releases the other party with respect to any claim (including a claim for negligence) which it might otherwise have against the other party for loss, damages, or destruction with respect to its property by fire or other casualty (including rental value or business interest, as the case may be) occurring during the term of this Lease and with respect and to the extent to which it is not prohibited under a policy or policies containing a waiver of subrogation or permission to release liability or naming the other party as an additional assured, as provided above. If such waiver is not obtainable for any reason there shall be no release of the other party. The waiver of subrogation or permission for release referred to herein shall extend to the agents of each party and its and their employees and shall be coextensive therewith, and, in the case of Tenant, shall also extend to all other persons and entities occupying or using the Demised Premises in accordance with the terms of this Lease, but only if and to the extent that such waiver or permission can be obtained without additional charge (unless such party pays the charge). If Tenant does not carry insurance, Landlord shall be released co-extensively and to the same extent as though Tenant's property were insured for fire insurance with extended coverage.

Article X Damage by Fire or Other Cause

Section 10.01. Damage. If the Demised Premises are partially damaged by fire or other cause without the fault or neglect of Tenant, or of its servants, employees, agents, visitors, or licensees, the damage shall be repaired by and at Landlord's expense and the fixed minimum rent until the repairs are made shall be apportioned according to the part of the Demised Premises which is usable by Tenant. But if such partial damage is due to the fault or neglect of Tenant, or of its servants, employees, agents, visitors, or licensees, without prejudice to any other rights and remedies of Landlord and, except as provided in Section 9.04, without prejudice to the rights of subrogation of Landlord's insurer, the damage shall be repaired by Landlord but there shall be no apportionment or abatement of rent. No penalty shall accrue for any delay which may arise by reason of adjustment of insurance by Landlord and for any delay on account of "labor troubles," or any other similar or dissimilar cause, beyond Landlord's control. Tenant shall give immediate notice to Landlord in case of fire in the Demised Premises. If the Demised Premises are totally or substantially damaged or are rendered wholly or substantially untenable by fire or other cause, and Landlord decides not to restore or rebuild them, or if the Building is substantially damaged and Landlord decides to demolish, rebuild, or remodel it (regardless of whether the Demised Premises have been damaged), Landlord may, within 90 days after the fire or other cause, give Tenant written notice (as provided in Article XXX) of its decision. Thereupon, the term of this Lease shall expire by lapse of time on the third day after notice is given, and Tenant shall vacate the Demised Premises and surrender them to Landlord. If Tenant is not in default under this Lease, upon its termination under the conditions provided for in the immediately preceding sentence, Tenant's liability for rent shall cease as of the day following the casualty. Tenant hereby expressly waives the provisions of Section 227 of the Real Property Law or any like law which may hereafter be enacted and agrees that the foregoing provisions of this Article shall govern and control in lieu thereof, this Article being an express agreement.

Section 10.02. Limitation. No damages, compensation, or claims shall be payable by Landlord for inconvenience, loss of business or annoyance arising from any repair or restoration of any portion of the Demised Premises or of the Building, except for rent abatement as provided in Section 10.01.

Article XI Assignment, Subletting, Mortgaging

Section 11.01. Conditions, requirements. Tenant shall not, by operation of law or otherwise, assign, mortgage, or encumber this Lease, or sublet or permit the Demised Premises or any part thereof to be used by others, without Landlord's prior written consent. Landlord's consent to any assignment or subletting shall not in any manner be construed to relieve Tenant from obtaining Landlord's express written consent to any other or further assignment or subletting. Tenant may permit portions of the Demised Premises to be used by, or sublet portions of the Demised Premises without profit to any wholly owned subsidiaries or affiliates of Tenant (i.e., corporations at least 50% of whose stock is owned by Tenant), if, and so long as, Tenant's ownership of them continue to be not less than 20% of their stock. Tenant shall give prompt notice to Landlord of any such use or subletting by or to the subsidiaries or affiliates. Tenant may, without Landlord's consent, assign its interest in this Lease to any corporation which succeeds to the assets, business, and goodwill of Tenant (either by merger or consolidation) or of any wholly owned subsidiary or affiliate (i.e., corporations of which Tenant owns at least 50 percent of the stock), if, and for so long as, the subsidiaries or affiliates continue to be owned by Tenant. However, the assignment shall not be valid unless, within 10 days after its execution, Tenant delivers to Landlord (i) a duplicate original instrument of assignment, in form and substance satisfactory to Landlord, duly executed by Tenant, and (ii) an instrument, in form and substance satisfactory to Landlord, duly executed by the assignee, in which such assignee shall assume observance and performances of, and agree to be personally bound by, all of the terms, covenants, and conditions of this Lease on Tenant's part to be observed and performed. Tenant shall, in no event, be released from liability under this Lease.

With the express exceptions set forth in the preceding paragraph, if Tenant desires to assign or sublet all or any portion of the Demised Premises, it shall use Landlord as its exclusive rental agent for such purpose and notify Landlord of its desire to assign this Lease or sublet the premises. Before obtaining a proposed assignee or sublessee, upon terms satisfactory to Tenant, Tenant shall submit to Landlord in writing the terms and conditions of the proposed assignment or subletting and any other information reasonably requested by Landlord.

Landlord shall have the following options, to be exercised within 90 business days from submission of Tenant's request:

(a) If the proposed assignment or subletting is for all or substantially all of the Demised Premises, Landlord may, within the above 90-day period, cancel and terminate this Lease as of the date proposed by Tenant for the assignment or subletting.

(b) If the proposed sublease is for less than all or substantially all of the Demised Premises or for less than the balance of the term granted hereunder, Landlord may, within the above 90-day period, cancel and terminate this Lease only as to the portion of the premises and of the term of the proposed sublease that takes effect as of the effective date thereof. If Landlord exercises its option under this paragraph (b), the rent and all other charges payable hereunder shall be equitably apportioned.

If Landlord does not exercise either option within the time set forth above, Tenant may list the proposed space with any other brokers. Landlord shall not unreasonably withhold consent to any proposed assignment or subletting if it is upon the same or better terms than those submitted to Landlord. Landlord shall give Tenant notice as to giving or withholding such consent within 30 days after Tenant furnishes Landlord, in writing, in addition to the information set forth above, (1) the name of the proposed assignee or sublessee and (2) the nature and character of the business of the proposed assignee or sublessee. However, if Landlord does not exercise either of the above options and Tenant assigns this Lease or sublets all or any portion of the Demised Premises, other than a sublease in lieu of temporary condemnation as provided in Article XIV, Section 14.03, Tenant shall pay to Landlord, as additional rent, any difference between the fixed minimum rent plus additional rent allocable to that part of the Demised Premises affected by such assignment or sublease under the provisions of this Lease, and the fixed minimum rent and additional rent payable by the assignee or sublessee to Tenant, less a single brokerage commission payable by Tenant with respect to such assignment or sublease. The additional payments shall be made monthly within five days after their receipt by Tenant.

Section 11.02. Rent collection. If this Lease is assigned, or all or a part of the Demised Premises is sublet or occupied by any person or persons other than Tenant, Landlord may, after default by Tenant, collect rent from the assignee, subtenant or occupant and apply the net amount collected to the rent herein reserved. However, no such assignment, subletting, occupancy or collection of rent shall be deemed a waiver of the covenants in this Article, nor shall it be deemed acceptable of the assignee subtenant or occupant as a tenant, or a release of Tenant from the full performance by Tenant of all the terms, conditions and covenants of this Lease.

Section 11.03. Lease obligations. Each permitted assignee or transferee shall assume and be deemed to have assumed this Lease and shall be and remain liable jointly and severally with Tenant for the payment of the rent, additional rent, and adjustments of rent, and for the due performance of all of Tenant's terms, covenants, conditions, and agreements for the term of this Lease. No assignment shall be binding on Landlord unless the assignee or Tenant delivers to Landlord a duplicate original of the instrument of assignment which contains a covenant of assumption by the assignee of all of the above obligations and obtains from Landlord the above written consent prior thereto.

Article XII No Liability on Landlord's Part

Section 12.01. Landlord and its agents shall not be liable for any damage to property of Tenant or of others entrusted to employees of the Building, or for the loss of or damage to any property of Tenant by theft or otherwise. Landlord and its agents shall not be liable for any injury or damage to persons or property resulting from fire, explosion, falling plaster, steam, gas, electricity, water, rain or snow, or leaks from any part of the Building, from the pipes, appliances or plumbing works, from the roof, street or sub-surface, or from any other place or by dampness or by any other cause of whatsoever nature, unless caused by or due to the negligence of Landlord, its agents, servants, or employees. Moreover, Landlord and its agents shall not be liable for any such damage caused by other tenants or persons in the Building or caused by operations in construction of any private, public, or quasi-public work. Landlord shall not be liable for damages for injury to the person or property of Tenant or others, except to the extent of its obligation, if any, under Section 6.01 for any latent defect in the Demised Premises or in the Building. If, at any time, any windows of the Demised Premises are temporarily closed, darkened, or bricked up for any reason including, but not limited to, Landlord's own acts, Landlord shall not be liable for any resulting damage to Tenant, and Tenant shall not be entitled to any compensation therefor or abatement of rent; moreover, such actions shall not release Tenant from its obligations hereunder or constitute an eviction. (Reference above to Landlord shall for all purposes be deemed to include any Overlandlord.) Tenant shall reimburse and compensate Landlord as additional rent within five days after rendition of a statement for all expenditures made by or damages or fines sustained or incurred by Landlord due to nonperformance or noncompliance with or breach or failure to observe any term, covenant, or condition of this Lease upon Tenant's part to be kept, observed, performed, or complied with. Tenant shall give immediate notice to Landlord in case of accidents in the Demised Premises or in the Building or of defects therein or in any fixtures or equipment. Landlord shall give immediate notice to Tenant of its knowledge of accidents in the Demised Premises or accidents affecting services, access or other appurtenances to the Demised Premises, or (to the extent caused or claimed to arise from or be related to, Tenant's use or occupancy under this Lease) in the Building or of defects therein or in any fixtures or equipment.

Article XIII Name of Building

Section 13.01. The Building will be known as "Melville Plaza," but Landlord may from time to time change the name or designation, without Tenant's consent. So long as Tenant occupies the Demised Premises, Landlord shall not designate, as the name by which the Building is commonly known, the name of any firm whose principal line of business is the same as or related to Tenant's business, except as provided above.

Article XIV Condemnation

Section 14.01. Condemnation. If all or a material part of the Building is condemned or taken in any manner for any public or quasi-public use, this Lease shall cease and terminate as of the date of vesting of title. If only a part of the Demised Premises is so condemned or taken, then, effective thereafter as of the date Tenant vacates and removes from the part of the Demised Premises so taken, the fixed minimum rent and the Tenant's Proportionate Share shall be proportionately reduced, and this Lease shall continue as to the remaining part. If only a nonmaterial part of the Building is so condemned or taken, then (a) if substantial structural alteration or reconstruction of the Building is, in Landlord's opinion, necessary or appropriate as a result of the condemnation or taking (regardless of whether the Demised Premises are affected), Landlord may terminate this Lease as of the date of vesting of title by giving Tenant, within 60 days after it receives notice thereof, written notification of termination, or (b) if Landlord does not elect to terminate this Lease, this Lease shall be and remain unaffected by such condemnation or taking, except that the rent shall be abated to the extent, if any, hereinbefore provided. If only a part of the Demised Premises is so condemned or taken and this Lease and the term and estate hereby granted are not terminated as provided above, Landlord shall, at its expense, restore with reasonable diligence the remaining structural portions of the Demised Premises as nearly as practicable to their same condition as prior to the condemnation or taking. In the event of termination in any of the cases provided above this Lease and the term and estate hereby granted shall expire as of the date of the termination with the same effect as if that were the date hereinbefore set for the expiration of the term of this Lease, and the rent hereunder shall be apportioned as of that date.

Section 14.02. Condemnation award. If there is any condemnation or taking, as provided above, of all or part of the Building (regardless of whether the Demised Premises are affected), Landlord shall receive the entire award in the condemnation proceeding, including any award made for the value of the estate vested by this Lease in Tenant. Tenant hereby expressly assigns to Landlord all of its right, title and interest now or hereafter arising in or to any such award or any part thereof, and Tenant shall not be entitled to receive any part of the award. Notwithstanding the above, Tenant shall be entitled to any award for loss or taking of its fixtures, or its relocation expenses.

Section 14.03. Temporary condemnation. (a) If the whole or any part of the Demised Premises is acquired or condemned for any temporary public or quasi-public use or purpose, for any period ending prior to the end of the term, then, except as otherwise provided in this Section, this Lease and the Demised Term shall continue in force and effect and Tenant shall continue to pay in full the rent, additional rent, and other charges herein reserved without deduction or abatement. Tenant shall be entitled, subject to the provisions of this Section, to all awards or payments made for such temporary use, except that they shall be paid to and held by Landlord as a fund which Landlord shall apply, from time to time, to the extent that such fund avails, to the payment of rent, additional rent and other charges due to Landlord from Tenant under the terms of this Lease provided Tenant is not otherwise in default hereunder beyond any applicable grace period for the curing of such default (if such use is for only a part of the Demised Premises, the awards or payments shall only be applied in payment of the rent, additional rent, and other charges allocable to such part of the Demised Premises). If required by Landlord, Tenant shall restore the Demised Premises to its condition prior to the temporary taking.

(b) If all of the Demised Premises are acquired or condemned for any temporary public or quasi-public use or purpose for a period extending beyond the end of the term, this Lease and the Demised Term shall end as of the Date of such taking with the same effect as if that Date were the end of the term.

(c) If any part, rather than all, of the Demised Premises is acquired or condemned for any temporary public or quasi-public use or purpose for a period extending beyond the end of the term, that part of the Demised Premises (the "Eliminated Condemnation Space") shall be eliminated from the Demises Premises from and after the date (the "Elimination Condemnation Date") immediately prior to the commencement of such temporary use, and

(1) From and after that date, the Eliminated Condemnation Space shall be eliminated from the Demised Premises for all purposes;

(2) Tenant shall surrender the Eliminated Condemnation Space on or before the Elimination Condemnation Date in the same manner as if that date were the end of the term but Tenant shall not be required to remove its property or restore the Demised Premises as required by Section 6.04;

(3) From and after the Elimination Condemnation Date,

(A) The rent, and any electric charge, escalation, or additional rent computed on a Floor area basis shall be equitably reduced on the basis of the area of the Eliminated Condemnation Space, and any pre-paid portion of rent or additional rent for any period after that Date allocable to the Space shall be refunded by Landlord to Tenant; and

(B) The Demised Premises Area shall be reduced in the proportion which the area of the Eliminated Condemnation Space bears to the total area of the Demised Premises immediately before the Elimination Condemnation Date.

Article XV Entry, Right to Change Public Portions of the Building

Section 15.01. Access. Landlord may erect, use, and maintain pipes and conduits in and through the Demised Premises, which shall be, to the extent possible, concealed. Landlord and its agents and designees may enter the Demised Premises for the purpose of making any repairs or alterations that it desires, is required, or has the right, to make under this Lease. Subject to the above, Landlord may enter the Demised Premises for the purpose of inspecting them or exhibiting them to prospective purchasers or lessees of the Building, to prospective mortgagees, or to the mortgagees' prospective assignees. Except in cases of emergency, Tenant may require Landlord or its representative, agent, or employee to be accompanied, while in the Demised Premises, by Tenant's representative, agent, or employee if Tenant furnishes such person promptly after Landlord gives notice to Tenant that it is exercising its right of entry. Landlord may take all material into and upon the Demised Premises that is required for the above repairs or alterations, and such act shall not constitute an eviction or partial eviction of Tenant. Moreover, the rent reserved shall not abate, except as otherwise provided in this Lease, while the repairs or alterations are being made. However, the repairs shall be made as expeditiously as reasonably possible, and be conducted in such a manner, and on such notice, as to minimize as far as reasonably possible any unreasonable interference with Tenant's use and occupancy of the Demised Premises for the purposes specified in Article IV, Section 4.01.

Section 15.02. Changes to public areas. Landlord may, at any time, without thereby creating any actual or constructive eviction or incurring any liability to Tenant therefor, and without abatement in rent, change the arrangement or location of entrances, passageways, doors, doorways, corridors, stairs, toilets, and other like portions of the Building, as well as the designated express or local stops of elevators servicing the Demised Premises. However, such changes shall be designed to avoid any material obstruction or reduction in Tenant's access to the Demised Premises, and other appurtenances. Landlord may, if necessary to comply with laws, rules, or requirements of any governmental bureau or agency, move any wall or partition in or dividing the Demised Premises.

Article XVI Bankruptcy

16.01. Prior to term. This Lease shall ipso facto be cancelled and terminated if at any time before the date fixed above as the Commencement Date a petition in bankruptcy or insolvency, for reorganization, or for the appointment of a receiver or trustee of all or a portion of Tenant's property is filed by or against it in any court under any federal or state statute, and within 90 days thereafter Tenant fails to secure a discharge thereof, or if Tenant makes an assignment for the benefit of creditors, or petitions for or enters into an arrangement. In any such event, neither Tenant nor any person claiming through or under it or by virtue of any statute or court order shall be entitled to possession of the Demised Premises and Landlord, in addition to the other rights and remedies given by Section 16.03 and by virtue of any other provision contained in this Lease or any statute or rule of law, may retain as liquidated damages any rent, security, deposit or moneys received by it from Tenant or others in Tenant's behalf upon the execution thereof.

16.02. During term. Landlord may cancel and terminate this Lease if at the date fixed as the Commencement Date or any time during the term hereby demised a petition in bankruptcy or insolvency, for reorganization, or for the appointment of a receiver or trustee of all or a portion of Tenant's property is filed by or against Tenant in any court under any federal or state statute, and within 90 days thereafter Tenant fails to secure a discharge thereof, or if Tenant makes an assignment for the benefit of creditors or petitions for or enters into an arrangement. Landlord shall exercise its right to cancel and terminate within a reasonable time after it receives notice that any of the above events have occurred. If Landlord exercises such right, neither Tenant nor any person claiming through or under it by virtue of any statute or court order shall be entitled to possession or to remain in possession of the Demised Premises but shall forthwith quit and surrender the premises, and Landlord, in addition to the other rights and remedies it has by virtue of any other provision contained in this Lease or any statute or rule of law, may retain as liquidated damages any rent, security, deposit or monies received by it from Tenant or others in Tenant's behalf.

16.03. Landlord's damages. In the event of the termination of this Lease under Sections 16.01 and 16.02, Landlord may immediately, notwithstanding any contrary provision of this Lease, recover from Tenant as and for liquidated damages the difference between the rent reserved hereunder for the unexpired portion of the term demised and the then fair and reasonable rental value of the Demised Premises for the same period. In computing such damages the differences between any installment of rent becoming due hereunder after the date of termination and the fair and reasonable rental value of the Demised Premises for the period for which such installment was payable shall be discounted to the date of termination at the rate of 10% per annum. If all or any part of the premises are re-let by Landlord for the unexpired term of this Lease or any part thereof, before proof of such liquidated damages is presented to any court, commission or tribunal, the amount of rent reserved upon such reletting shall be deemed prima facie to be the fair and reasonable rental value for the part or the whole of the premises so re-let during the term of the re-letting. Nothing contained herein shall limit or prejudice Landlord's right to prove for and obtain as liquidated damages by reason of such termination, an amount equal to the maximum allowed by any statute or rule of law in effect at the time, and governing the proceedings in which, such damages are to be proved, regardless of whether that amount is greater than, equal to, or less than the amount of the difference referred to above.

Article XVII Defaults, Remedies and Waiver of Redemption

Section 17.01. Default and remedies. (a) If Tenant (1) defaults in fulfilling any covenant of this Lease, requiring the payment of fixed minimum rent or additional rent, (2) defaults in complying with any other term, condition, or provision of this Lease, or (3) except as provided in Articles VI, X, XI, XIV, or XV, or where prevented by strikes or other labor troubles, or generally applicable laws or public regulations, ceases to conduct its business in the Demised Premises or leaves them completely vacant, then, in the case of the nonpayment of fixed minimum rent or additional rent which continues for ten days after Landlord serves a written notice upon Tenant specifying such default, or if Tenant defaults in any one or more of the events referred to in (2) or (3) above, then upon Landlord serving a written 15-days' notice upon Tenant specifying the nature of the default and upon the expiration of said 15 days, if Tenant has failed to comply with or remedy such default, or if the default or omission complained of is of such a nature that it cannot be completely cured or remedied within the 15-day period, and if Tenant has not diligently commenced curing the default within such 15-day period, and does not thereafter with reasonable diligence and in good faith proceed to remedy or cure default, then Landlord may serve a written 15-days' notice of cancellation of this Lease upon Tenant, and upon the expiration of the 15 days, this Lease and the term hereunder shall end and expire as fully and completely as if the date of expiration of the 15-day period were the day herein definitely fixed for the end and expiration of this Lease and the term thereof. Tenant shall then quit and surrender the Demised Premises to Landlord but Tenant shall remain liable as provided below.

(b) If the 15-day notice of cancellation provided for in subparagraph (a), above, is not given, and the term expires as provided above; or (1) if Tenant defaults after ten-days' notice in the payment of the fixed minimum rent reserved herein or any item of additional rent herein mentioned or any part of either or in making any other payment herein provided; or (2) if any execution or attachment is issued against Tenant or any of its property whereupon the Demised Premises are taken or occupied by someone other than Tenant, Landlord may, without notice, re-enter the Demised Premises by force or otherwise and dispossess Tenant, its legal representative, or other occupant by summary proceedings or otherwise, remove their effects, and hold the premises as if this Lease had not been made. However,

Tenant shall remain liable hereunder as hereinafter provided, and it hereby waives the service of notice of intention to re-enter or to institute legal proceedings to that end.

Section 17.02. Rent deficiency. In case of any such default, re-entry, expiration and/or dispossession by summary proceedings or otherwise, (a) the fixed minimum rent and additional rent shall become due thereupon and be paid up to the time of re-entry, dispossession and/or expiration, together with all expenses incurred by Landlord for legal expenses, attorneys' fees, brokerage, and/or putting the Demised Premises in good order, or for preparing them for re-rental; (b) Landlord may re-let all or part of the premises, either in its name or otherwise, for a term or terms, which may be less than or exceed the period which would otherwise have constituted the balance of the term of this Lease, and may grant concessions or free rent; and/or (c) Tenant or its legal representatives shall also pay Landlord as liquidated damages for Tenant's failure to observe and perform its covenants contained herein, any deficiency between the rents and additional rents hereby reserved and/or covenanted to be paid and the net amount, if any, of the rents collected or to be collected on account of the lease or leases of the Demised Premises for each month of the period which would otherwise have constituted the balance of this Lease term. Landlord's failure or refusal to re-let all or part of the premises shall not release or affect Tenant's liability for damages. In computing such damages there shall be added to the deficiency all expenses incurred by Landlord in connection with re-letting, such as legal expenses, attorneys' fees, brokerage, and for keeping the Demised Premises in good order or for preparing them for re-letting. Any such damages shall be paid in monthly installments by Tenant on the rent days specified in this Lease. Any suit brought to collect the deficiency for any month or months shall not prejudice in any way Landlord's rights to collect the deficiency for any subsequent month or months by a similar proceeding. Landlord may make all alterations, repairs, replacements and/or decorations in the Demised Premises that it considers advisable and necessary for the purpose of re-letting them. The making of such alterations and/or decorations shall not operate or be construed to release Tenant from its above liability. Landlord shall in no event be liable in any way for failure to re-let the Demised Premises, or if the Demised Premises are re-let, for failure to collect the rent thereof under such reletting. Any such action may be for the full amounts of all rents and damages suffered or to be suffered by Landlord. If Tenant breaches or threatens to breach any covenant or provision of this Lease, Landlord shall have the right of injunction and the right to invoke any remedy allowed at law or in equity as if re-entry, summary proceedings and other remedies were not provided for herein. Mention in this Lease of any particular remedy shall not preclude Landlord from any other remedy, in law or in equity. Landlord's above remedies and rights are cumulative. Tenant hereby expressly waives all rights of redemption granted by or under any present or future laws if it is evicted or dispossessed for any cause, or if Landlord obtains possession of the Demised Premises, by reason of Tenant's violation of any covenant or condition of this Lease, or otherwise.

Article XVIII Landlord's Right to Perform Tenant's Obligations

Section 18.01. Tenant obligations. If Tenant defaults in the observance or performance of any term or covenant under this Lease, Landlord may, without thereby waiving the default, remedy the default for Tenant's account and at Tenant's expense. If in connection therewith Landlord makes any expenditures or incurs any obligations for the payment of money or in instituting, prosecuting, or defending any action or proceedings commenced before or during the term of this Lease or after the expiration or termination of the term, including but not limited to legal expenses and attorneys' fees, Tenant shall pay to Landlord on demand the sums paid or obligations incurred, together with legal interest and costs. If not paid, Landlord, in addition to any other remedy, may deem the due payments to be additional rent.

Section 18.02. Additional rent. All amounts over the fixed minimum rent payable by Tenant to Landlord under the terms of this Lease shall be deemed additional rent hereunder. Tenant shall pay these amounts in the same manner as an installment of the fixed minimum rent within a reasonable time after they become payable unless provision is made in this Lease for their payment on a specific date or within a specified time and, in default of payment may, if the Landlord desires, be added to the next or any other installment of fixed minimum rent subsequently becoming due. Landlord shall have all the rights and remedies in the event of their nonpayment as it would have had in the event of the nonpayment of any installment of fixed minimum rent. Tenant's obligation to pay any additional rent which has theretofore become due and payable shall survive the expiration or earlier termination of this Lease.

Article XIX Covenant of Quiet Enjoyment

Section 19.01. Landlord warrants and represents that it has full authority to execute this Lease for the above term. Landlord covenants that upon Tenant's paying the rent and additional rent and performing its covenants, Tenant may peaceably and quietly have, hold, and enjoy the Demised Premises, subject, nevertheless, to the terms and conditions of this Lease. This covenant shall bind Landlord only so long as it is the owner of the premises.

Article XX Excavation

Section 20.01. If any excavation or construction is made or authorized for building or other purposes upon land adjacent to the Building, Tenant shall, if necessary, afford to the person or persons causing or authorizing the work a license to enter upon the Demised Premises for the purpose of doing all work that is reasonably necessary to protect or preserve the Building or its walls from injury or damage and to support them by proper foundations, pinning and/or underpinning, or otherwise.

Article XXI Services and Equipment

Section 21.01. Landlord services. So long as Tenant is not in default under any provision of this Lease, Landlord, at its expense, shall:

(a) Provide elevator service in accordance with Building Plans from 8:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m., Mondays through Fridays, holidays excepted, and at least one elevator serving the Demised Premises on Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays and after regular hours on other days. Landlord intends to install operatorless elevators in the Building. Landlord may designate local and express stops for elevators and change the designation of express and local stops from time to time, as provided in Article XV, Section 15.02.

(b) Landlord, at its expense, shall supply heat during the heating seasons, air-conditioning during the cooling seasons, and ventilation from the system installed by it from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Mondays through Fridays, holidays excepted, which the parties agree are the hours of normal occupancy. Landlord shall have no responsibility or liability for the ventilating conditions and/or temperature of the Demised Premises during the hours or days it is not required to furnish heat, ventilation, or air-conditioning under this paragraph. Landlord has informed Tenant that the windows of the Demised Premises and the Building may be sealed, and that the Demised Premises may become uninhabitable and the air therein may become unbreathable during the hours or days when Landlord is not required to furnish heat, ventilation, or air-conditioning except as provided in this Section 21.01(e). Any use or occupancy of the Demised Premises authorized by Tenant, other than by Landlord's employees, agents, or contractors, acting under this Lease, during the hours or days Landlord is not so required to furnish heat, ventilation, or air-conditioning to the Demised Premises shall be at Tenant's sole risk, responsibility and hazard. Such condition of the Demised Premises shall not constitute nor be deemed to be a breach or a violation of this Lease or of any provision thereof, nor shall it be deemed any eviction, nor shall Tenant claim or be entitled to claim any abatement of rent nor make any claim for any damages or compensation by reason of such condition.

The heating seasons shall be the periods between September 15th and the following May 15th and the cooling seasons shall be the periods between May 15th and the following September 15th. Tenant shall in any event cause and keep entirely unobstructed all of the vents, intakes, outlets, and grilles, at all times and shall comply with and observe all regulations and requirements prescribed by Landlord for the proper functioning of the heating, ventilating, and air-conditioning system.

(c) Provide Building standard cleaning services in the Demised Premises and public portions of the Building except on Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays, similar to first-class office buildings in the area.

(d) Furnish hot and cold water for lavatory and drinking and office cleaning purposes. If Tenant requires, uses, or consumes water for any other purposes, Landlord may install a meter or meters or other means to measure Tenant's water consumption. Tenant shall reimburse Landlord for the cost of all meters and their installation, and pay for the maintenance of the meter equipment and/or pay Landlord's cost of other means of measuring the water consumption by Tenant. Tenant shall reimburse Landlord for the cost of all water consumed as measured by the meter or meters or as otherwise measured, including sewer rents, and all other charges imposed by any authority, on, or measured by, the use of water.

(e) Landlord also shall furnish air-conditioning (heating, ventilating, and cooling) beyond the above stated hours if it is given notice of the need for such service before noon on a business day when required for use in the evening, and by noon of the preceding business day when such service is to be provided for Saturday, Sunday, or holiday use. Tenant shall pay Landlord's charge, as agreed upon from time to time, for supplying additional services under this Section 21.01.

Section 21.02. Holidays. Holidays shall be deemed to mean all those dates designated as holidays by the Board of Governors of the New York Stock Exchange, in addition to dates designated as holidays by the City of New York, State of New York and/or the United States, other than Columbus Day and Lincoln's Birthday, unless the Board of Governors designates them as holidays.

Section 21.03. Interruptions. Landlord may interrupt, curtail, or suspend its services under this Article when such action is necessary because of accident, emergency, or mechanical breakdown, or is required by any federal, state, county, or municipal law, order, or regulation, or for any other cause beyond Landlord's reasonable control. Landlord shall use reasonable diligence to complete all required repairs or other necessary work as quickly as reasonably possible so that Tenant's inconvenience resulting therefrom may be for as short a period as circumstances will reasonably permit. Tenant shall not claim any diminution or abatement of rent or other compensation as a result of such interruptions, curtailment, or suspension, nor shall this Lease or any of Tenant's obligations be affected or reduced by reason of them.

Section 21.04. Reimbursement. Tenant shall reimburse Landlord for its cost of removing from the Demised Premises and the Building any of Tenant's refuse and rubbish in excess of normal office waste and Tenant shall pay all bills therefor when rendered.

Section 21.05. Lobby directory. Tenant shall be entitled to its proportionate share of listing spaces on a directory to be maintained by Landlord in the lobby of the Building for the listing of the names of Tenant, its officers and employees and of all other permitted occupants of the Demised Premises, their officers and employees. Tenant shall pay all charges for such listings.

Article XXII Adjustment of Rent

Section 22.01. Wage adjustments. In addition to the fixed minimum rent reserved above, Tenant shall pay to Landlord, as additional rental, sums computed in accordance with the following provisions:

(a) "Wage Rate" shall mean one-half of the combined total of the minimum regular hourly wage rate plus all other sums required to be paid to or for the benefit of (1) porters, and (2) female cleaners engaged in the general maintenance and operation of office buildings of the type and in the vicinity of the Building under a collective bargaining agreement between Realty Labor Relations, Inc. (or any of its successors) and Local 45 of the Employees International Union (or any of its successors). The Wage Rate shall include but not be limited to sums paid for pensions, welfare funds, vacations, bonuses, social security, unemployment, disability benefits, health, life, accident, and other type of insurance. If any such agreement is not entered into or the parties or their successors cease to bargain collectively, the Wage Rate shall be one-half the combined total of the minimum regular hourly wage rate and above other sums payable to or for the benefit of porters and female cleaners engaged in the maintenance and operation of the Building and payable by either Landlord or the contractor furnishing such services. However, the Wage Rate shall not exceed the hourly minimum rate of wages and other sums for porters and female cleaners engaged in the general maintenance and operation of buildings of the same type as the Building.

(c) For purposes of this article, the number of square feet of rentable area contained in the Demised Premises is hereby fixed at 89,428 square feet.

If the Wage Rate is changed at any time during the term of this Lease and is greater than the Base Wage Rate, Tenant shall pay to Landlord as additional rent an annual sum equal to 1.50 times the product obtained by multiplying (i) the number of cents (including any fraction of a cent), by which the Wage Rate exceeds the Base Wage Rate by (ii) the number of square feet of rentable area in the Demised Premises. Such amounts shall be payable in equal monthly installments commencing with the first monthly installment of fixed rent falling due hereunder after the effective date of such change in the Wage Rate and continuing thereafter until a new adjustment in the additional rent is established and become effective in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph, except that notwithstanding any change in the Wage Rate downwards the fixed minimum annual rental shall not be reduced. If any change in the Wage Rate is made retroactive, Tenant shall pay Landlord the amount of the retroactive adjustment within ten days after being billed for it.

Section 22.02. Tax adjustments. Tenant further shall pay to Landlord, as additional rent, sums computed as follows:

(a) "Taxes" shall mean all real estate taxes, assessments, governmental levies, county taxes or any other governmental charge, whether general or special, ordinary or extraordinary, foreseen or unforeseen, or of any kind or nature, which are or may be assessed or imposed upon the Land, any leasehold of air rights or Landlord's share thereof, the Building and the sidewalks, plazas or streets in front of or adjacent thereto, including any tax, excise or fee measured by or payable with respect to any rent, and levied against Landlord and/or the Land and/or Building, under the laws of the United States, the State of New York or any political subdivision thereof or by the City of New York, as a substitute or addition in whole or in part for taxes presently or hereafter imposed on the Land and Building or resulting from or due to any change in the method of taxation, provided that the substitute tax on rent is considered as if the rent were Landlord's only income, but excluding any income, franchise, corporate, estate, inheritance, succession, capital stock, or transfer tax levied on Landlord. The term "Land," when used in this Lease, shall, unless the context otherwise indicates, include air rights, by lease or deed over adjoining property.

(b) "Tax Year" shall mean every 12-month consecutive period commencing each July 1 during the term of this Lease.

(c) "First Tax Year" shall mean that period of 12 months commencing July 1 for which the Building is first assessed for tax purposes, as a completed building.

(d) "Tenant's Proportionate Share" shall be deemed to be 13.625%.

(e) "Basic Tax" shall mean the agreed amount of $762,500.

If the taxes for any Tax Year including the First Tax Year are greater than the Basic Tax, Tenant shall pay to Landlord as additional rent an amount equal to Tenant's Proportionate Share of the increase over the Basic Tax. If the Commencement Date of this Lease occurs during any Tax Year, or if the term of this Lease expires or is terminated during any Tax Year, the amount shall be prorated.

After the applicable governmental authority issues tax bills for real estate taxes assessed, levied and/or imposed upon the Land and Building, Landlord shall submit to Tenant a copy of the bill or bills. Thereafter, on or about each respective anniversary date, Landlord shall submit a copy of the tax bill or bills for the Taxes assessed, levied or imposed upon the Land and Building for Tax Year, together with a statement which indicates any amount required to be paid by Tenant as additional rent as under this Section.

Within 30 days after the issuance of the statement, Tenant shall pay any additional rent set forth on the statement.

If Landlord receives a reduction of taxes for any Tax Year for which Tenant has paid any additional rent under this Section, the proceeds of such reduction less legal fees and other expenses incurred in collecting them, shall be applied and allocated to the period for which the reduction was obtained and proper adjustment shall be made between Landlord and Tenant.

All payments or refunds due hereunder for any period of less than a full Tax Year at the commencement or end of the term of this Lease, or because of any change in the area of the Demised Premises, shall be equitably pro-rated to reflect such event.

Section 22.03. Rent tax. Tenant shall pay to Landlord all present and future occupancy and rent taxes payable by Landlord. The tax shall be paid to Landlord as additional rent upon demand.

Article XXIII Electric Inclusion

Section 23.01. Electric service. Landlord shall furnish the electric energy required by Tenant in the Demised Premises on a rent inclusion basis. That is, there shall be no charge to Tenant for the electric energy by way of measuring it on any meter or otherwise, but it shall be included in Landlord's services which are covered by the fixed minimum rent. The amount included in the fixed minimum rent was based upon the normal use of electrical energy between the hours of 8:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. on Mondays through Fridays, except holidays, for lighting and for the operation of the machinery, appliances and equipment normally used in Tenant's business. Landlord shall not be liable in any way to Tenant for any failure or defect in the supply or character of electric energy furnished to the Demised Premises by reason of any requirement, act or omission of the public utility serving the Building with electricity or for any other reason not attributable to Landlord. Tenant shall furnish and install all lighting tubes, lamps, bulbs, and ballasts required in the Demised Premises, at its expense, or shall pay Landlord's reasonable charges therefor on demand.

Section 23.02. Tenant electric use. Subject to the provisions of Section 23.05, Tenant's use of electric energy in the Demised Premises shall not at any time exceed the capacity of any of the electrical conductors, machinery, and equipment in or otherwise serving the Demised Premises. In order to insure that such capacity is not exceeded and to avert possible adverse effect upon the Building electric service, Tenant shall not, without Landlord's prior written consent in each instance, connect any additional fixtures, machinery, appliances, or equipment to the Building electric distribution system or make any alteration or addition to Tenant's machinery, appliances, or equipment (other than an insubstantial number of electric typewriters, small computers, calculators, electric office equipment, or equipment of equivalent nature and immaterial consumption of electric energy), or the electric system of the Demised Premises existing on the Commencement Date. If Landlord grants consent, it shall provide all additional risers or other equipment required therefor and Tenant shall pay the cost thereof upon Landlord's demand. As a condition to granting consent, Landlord may require Tenant to agree to an increase in the fixed minimum rent by an amount that will reflect the values to Tenant of the additional service to be furnished by Landlord, that is, the potential additional electrical energy to be made available to Tenant based upon the estimated additional capacity of the additional risers or other equipment. If Landlord and Tenant cannot agree thereon, the amount shall be determined by an independent electrical engineer, based on standard practices, to be selected by Landlord and paid by Tenant. When the amount of the increase is so determined, the parties shall execute a supplementary agreement to reflect the increase in the amount of fixed minimum rent stated in this Lease and in the amount set forth in Section 23.04, effective from the date the additional service is made available to Tenant; but the increase shall be effective from such date even if the supplementary agreement is not executed.

Section 23.03. Utility rate adjustment. A utility rate adjustment shall be made (as provided below) if any one or more of the following events occur: the public utility rate schedule for the supply of electric current to the Building is increased or decreased during the term of this Lease; there is a change in taxes; additional taxes are imposed upon the sale or furnishing of the electric current; there is a change in the space constituting the Demised Premises; if Tenant's failure to maintain its machinery and equipment in good order and repair causes greater consumption of electrical current; if Tenant uses electricity on days or hours other than those specified in the third sentence of Section 23.01; or if Tenant adds any machinery, appliances or equipment. In any such event, the fixed minimum rent herein reserved shall be equitably adjusted to reflect the resulting increase in use, and the amount set forth in Section 23.04 shall also be adjusted accordingly. If Landlord and Tenant cannot agree thereon, the amounts of the adjustments shall be determined, based on standard practices, by an independent electrical engineer, to be selected by Landlord and paid by Tenant. When the amounts are so determined, the parties shall execute a supplementary agreement to reflect such adjustments in the amount of the fixed minimum rent stated in this Lease and in the amount set forth in Section 23.04. The adjustments shall be effective from the date of the increase or decrease of such usage as determined by the electrical engineer, or, if applicable, from the effective date of such increase or decrease in the public utility rate schedule. However, the adjustments shall be effective from such date regardless of whether a supplementary agreement is executed.

Section 23.04. Discontinued service. If required by law or public regulation or the tariff of the applicable public utility, or if Landlord wishes to discontinue service to the balance of the Building, Landlord may discontinue furnishing electric energy to Tenant in the Demised Premises at any time by giving it not less than 90 days' notice. If Landlord exercises such right to termination, this Lease shall continue in full force and effect and shall be unaffected thereby. However, from and after the effective date of termination, Landlord shall not be obligated to furnish electric energy to Tenant and the fixed minimum rent payable under this Lease shall be reduced by $44,714 per annum, plus or minus the amount of any change under Sections 23.02 and 23.03. If Landlord so discontinues furnishing electric energy to Tenant, Tenant shall arrange to obtain electric energy directly from the public utility company furnishing electric service to the Building. Such electric energy may be furnished to Tenant by means of the then existing building system feeders, risers, and wiring to the extent that they are available, suitable and safe for such purposes. Tenant shall install and maintain, at its expense, all meters and additional panel boards, feeders, risers, wiring, and other conductors and equipment which may be required to obtain electric energy directly from the public utility company.

Section 23.05. Electric load limitation. At no time will the average connected electrical load in each floor of the Demised Premises exceed 5 watts per square foot. Subject only to any limiting requirement, act or omission of the public utility serving the Building with electricity referred to in Section 23.01, as well as the provisions of Section 23.04, Landlord shall furnish sufficient electric energy to each floor of the Demised Premises to supply an average connected electrical load of 5 watts per square foot.

Section 23.06. Electric tax. If any tax is imposed upon Landlord with respect to electrical energy furnished as a service to Tenant by any federal, state, or municipal authority, Tenant shall, if permitted by law or applicable regulations, reimburse its pro rata share of the taxes to Landlord.

Section 23.07. Electrical survey. Although the charge for the service of redistributing and furnishing electrical energy is included in the fixed minimum rent on a so-called "rent inclusion" basis, Landlord shall, at tenant's expense, select an independent electrical engineer or electrical consulting firm doing solely such work to make a determination within one year next following the commencement of Tenant's normal business activities in all of the Demised Premises, of the charge for the electrical service supplied by the Landlord and used by Tenant annually in the Demised Premises. If Tenant disputes the determination of such engineer or consultant, Tenant may have a survey made by an independent electrical engineer or electrical consulting firm doing solely such work. If the two consultants so chosen do not agree upon the rent inclusion charges, they shall pick a third similar consultant, and the opinion of two of them shall be binding upon the parties. If it is finally determined that the charge exceeds or is less than $44,714, the parties shall enter into a written supplementary agreement, in form satisfactory to Landlord, modifying this Lease by adjusting the fixed minimum rent by an amount equal to the difference. In that event, the $44,714 figure set forth in Section 23.04 shall be changed in a like amount.

Article XXIV Broker

Section 24.01. The sole broker who negotiated and brought about this transaction was Stanley & Drake, Inc. Landlord shall pay it a broker's commission as per separate agreement.

Article XXV Subordination

Section 25.01. Subordination. This Lease is and shall be subject and subordinate to any ground or underlying lease and any lease of air rights which may now or hereafter affect the Building, the Land, or both, and to any amendment, modification, renewal, or extension of the ground or underlying lease or lease of air rights. This Lease is also subject and subordinate to all mortgages which may now or hereafter affect any lease of air rights or ground or underlying lease or the Land and/or Building and to all renewals, modifications, amendments, consolidations, replacements, or extensions thereof. The Landlord or Lessor under any ground or underlying lease is referred to in this Lease as "Overlandlord." This clause shall be self-operative and no further instrument of subordination shall be required by any Overlandlord or Mortgagee. In confirmation of such subordination, Tenant without cost or charge to Landlord, shall execute promptly any certificate or instrument of subordination requested by Landlord. If Tenant fails upon reasonable request to execute the certificate or instrument, Tenant hereby constitutes and appoints Landlord its attorney-in-fact to execute all such certificates or instruments for and on behalf of Tenant.

Section 25.02. Notice of mortgagees. If there is any act or omission by Landlord which would or may give Tenant the right to terminate this Lease or to claim a partial or total eviction, Tenant will not exercise the right until:

- (a) It has given written notice of any such act or omission to the holder of any leasehold mortgage or of any fee mortgage and to the Landlord or Landlords of any ground or underlying lease or leases whose names and addresses previously have been furnished to Tenant by giving such notice, addressed to the holders and the Landlord or Landlords at the last addresses so furnished; and
- (b) A reasonable period of time for remedying such act or omission has elapsed following the giving of notice, during which any of the parties to whom notice was given has not commenced with reasonable diligence to remedy, or cause to be remedied, the act or omission.

Section 25.03. Mortgage modification. If, in connection with obtaining temporary or permanent financing for the Land and/or Building or of any ground or underlying lease, any lender requests reasonable modifications of this Lease as a condition to such financing, Tenant shall not unreasonably withhold, delay, or defer the execution of an agreement of modification of this Lease if such modifications do not increase Tenant's financial obligations hereunder or materially adversely affect the leasehold interest hereby created or Tenant's reasonable use and enjoyment of the premises. If Tenant refuses to execute and deliver any such modification agreement within ten days after its request by Landlord, Landlord may cancel and terminate this Lease. Upon such cancellation and termination neither party shall have any further right or obligation to the other arising out of the execution and delivery of this Lease.

Section 25.04. Nondisturbance of Tenant. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 25.01, the subordination of this Lease to any later executed superior lease or superior mortgage or to any later renewal, modification, replacement, or any extension of superior lease or superior mortgage, or to any existing or future consolidation or spreader of any superior mortgage, is subject to the express conditions that, so long as this Lease is in full force and effect and Tenant is not in default of the terms and provisions of this Lease beyond any applicable grace periods:

- (a) Tenant shall not be joined as a party defendant (1) in any action or proceeding which may be instituted or taken by the lessor of the superior lease for the purpose of terminating it by reason of any default thereunder, or (2) in any foreclosure action or proceeding which may be instituted or taken by the holder of the superior mortgage; and

(b) Tenant shall not be evicted from the Demised Premises, Tenant's leasehold estate under this Lease shall not be terminated or disturbed, nor shall any of Tenant's rights under this Lease be affected in any way, by reason of any default under the superior leasehold or superior mortgage.

Section 25.05. Attornment. If the lessor of a superior lease or the holder of a superior mortgage succeeds to Landlord's rights under this Lease, whether through possession or foreclosure action or delivery of a new lease or deed, then at the request of the successor party ("successor landlord") and upon such successor landlord's written agreement to accept Tenant's attornment, Tenant shall attorn to and recognize the successor landlord as Tenant's landlord under this Lease, and shall promptly execute and deliver any instrument requested by the successor landlord to evidence such attornment. If Tenant refuses or fails promptly upon reasonable request to execute such instrument, Tenant hereby irrevocably appoints Landlord or the successor landlord its attorney-in-fact to execute and deliver the instrument on its behalf. Upon such attornment this Lease shall continue in full force and effect as if it were a direct lease between the successor landlord and Tenant upon all of the terms, conditions, and covenants set forth in it and shall be applicable after such attornment. However, the successor landlord shall not:

(a) Have any liability for refusal or failure to perform or complete Landlord's work or otherwise to prepare the Demised Premises for occupancy in accordance with the provisions of Exhibit "B" of this Lease;

(b) Be obligated under Article X to repair, restore, replace, or rebuild the Building or the Demised Premises, in case of total or substantially total damage or destruction, beyond any repair, restoration, or rebuilding that can reasonably be accomplished with the net proceeds of insurance actually received by, or made available to, the successor landlord;

(c) Be liable for any of Landlord's previous acts or omissions under this Lease;

(d) Be subject to any offset, not expressly provided for in this Lease, which has previously accrued to Tenant against Landlord;

(e) Be bound by any previous modification of this Lease, except as expressly provided for in it, or in Article XIV, Section 14.03, by any previous prepayment of more than one month's rent, unless the modification or prepayment has been expressly approved in writing by the lessor of the superior lease or the holder of the superior mortgage through or by reason of which the successor landlord has succeeded to Landlord's rights under this Lease.

Article XXVI Legal Proceedings

Section 26.01. Waiver of jury trial. Landlord and Tenant hereby waive, to the extent not prohibited by law, the right to a jury trial in any action, summary proceeding, or legal proceeding between or among the parties or their successors arising out of this Lease, Tenant's occupancy of the Demised Premises, or Tenant's right to occupy the Demised Premises.

Section 26.02. Tenant counterclaims. Tenant hereby waives the right to interpose a counterclaim in any summary proceeding instituted by Landlord against Tenant or in any action instituted by Landlord for unpaid rent or additional rent under this Lease.

Section 26.03. Tenant's equitable remedies. If Tenant claims or asserts that Landlord has violated or failed to perform a covenant not to unreasonably withhold or delay Landlord's consent or approval, or whenever Landlord's reasonableness in exercising its judgment is in issue, Tenant's sole remedy shall be an action for specific performance, declaratory judgment, or injunction. Tenant shall not be entitled to any money damages for a breach of such covenant or to claim or assert any claims in any money damages in any action or by way of set off, defense, or counterclaim. Tenant hereby specifically waives the right to any money damages or other remedies.

Article XXVII Surrender of Premises

Section 27.01. Upon the expiration or other termination of the term of this Lease, Tenant shall quit and surrender the Demised Premises in good order and condition, ordinary wear and tear and damage by fire or other casualty, or the elements excepted, and shall remove all its property therefrom, except as otherwise provided in this Lease. Tenant's obligation to observe or perform this covenant shall survive the expiration or other termination of this Lease term.

Article XXVIII Rules and Regulations

Section 28.01. Rules and regulations. Tenant, its servants, employees, agents, visitors, and licensees shall observe faithfully and comply strictly with the rules and regulations set forth in Exhibit "D" attached hereto and made a part hereof. Landlord may from time to time during the term of this Lease make reasonable changes in and additions to the rules thus set forth if such changes and additions are applicable to all other office tenants in the Building.

Section 28.02. Enforcement. Landlord's failure to enforce any existing or future rules and regulations, either against Tenant or any other tenant in the Building, shall not constitute a breach hereunder or waiver of any such rules and regulations. However, any rule or regulation not generally enforced against other Tenants in the Building will not be discriminatorily enforced against Tenant.

Article XXIX Successors and Assigns

Section 29.01. Binding effect. The covenants, conditions, and agreements contained in this Lease shall bind and inure to the benefit of the parties and their respective heirs, legal representatives, successors and, except as otherwise provided herein, assigns.

Section 29.02. Landlord defined. The term "Landlord" whenever used in this Lease shall be limited to mean only the owner or owners at the time in question of the Building or the tenant under a ground or underlying lease affecting the Land and/or the Building, to whom this Lease may be assigned, or an overlandlord who enters into possession, or a mortgagee in possession, so that in the event of any sale, assignment or transfer of the Landlord and/or Building, or of the ground or underlying lease, such owner, tenant under the ground or underlying lease or overlandlord or mortgagee in possession shall thereupon be released and discharged from all of Landlord's covenants, conditions and agreements thereafter accruing. However, such covenants, conditions and agreements shall be binding upon each new owner, tenant under the ground or underlying lease, overlandlord or mortgagee in possession for the time being of the Building, until sold, assigned, or transferred.

Article XXX Notices

Section 30.01. Any notice, request, demand, or communication permitted or required to be given by this Lease, or by any law or governmental regulation, by one party to the other, shall be in writing. Unless otherwise required by law or regulation, the notice, request, or demand shall be given, and shall be deemed to have been served and given, by Landlord and received by Tenant when Landlord deposits it by certified or registered mail, return receipt requested, enclosed in a securely closed postpaid wrapper, in a United States Government general or branch post office, addressed to Tenant (1) at the Demised Premises, or (2) until Tenant shall have moved its offices to the Demised Premises, addressed to Tenant at its address as stated on the first page of this Lease. Such notice, request, or demand shall be given, and shall be deemed to have been served and given by Tenant and received by Landlord, when Tenant deposits it, by certified or registered mail, return receipt requested, enclosed in a securely closed postpaid wrapper in such post office addressed to Landlord at its address stated on the first page of this Lease. Either party may, by notice sent in the above manner, designate a different address or addresses for notices, requests, demands, or communications to it.

Article XXXI No Waiver; Entire Agreement

Section 31.01. Non-waiver. The failure of either party to seek redress for violation of, or to insist upon the strict performance of, any covenant or condition of this Lease, or of Landlord to enforce any Rule or Regulation set forth or hereafter adopted by it, shall not prevent a subsequent act, which would have originally constituted a violation, from having all the force and effect of an original violation. The receipt by Landlord of rent or payment of rent by Tenant with knowledge of the breach of any covenant of this Lease shall not be deemed a waiver of the breach. No provision of this Lease shall be deemed to have been waived by either party, unless it is in writing signed by such party. No payment by Tenant or receipt by Landlord of a lesser amount than the monthly rent herein stipulated shall be deemed to be other than on account of the earliest stipulated rent, nor shall any endorsement or statement on any check or any letter accompanying any check or payment as rent be deemed an accord and satisfaction. Landlord may accept the check or payment without prejudice to its right to recover the balance of the rent or pursue any other remedy provided in this Lease.

Section 31.02. Entire agreement. This Lease together with the annexed Exhibits contains the entire agreement between the parties. Any executory agreement hereafter made between them shall be ineffective to change, modify, waive, release, discharge, terminate, or effect an abandonment of this Lease, in whole or in part, unless the executory agreement is in writing and signed by the party against whom enforcement of the change, modification, waiver, release, discharge, termination, or effecting of the abandonment is sought.

Section 31.03. Severability. If any term or provision of this Lease is to any extent invalid or unenforceable, the remainder of this Lease shall not be affected thereby and the remaining terms and provisions shall be valid and enforceable to the fullest extent either hereunder or as permitted by law.

Article XXXII Index and Captions; Estoppel Certificate

Section 32.01. Headings. The index preceding this Lease and the headings of Articles in this Lease are inserted only as a matter of convenience and for reference. They in no way define, limit, or describe the scope of this Lease or of the intent of any provision thereof.

Section 32.02. Estoppel certificates. Each party shall, at any one or more times, upon not less than 10 days' prior notice by the other party, execute, acknowledge, and deliver to it a written statement. The statement shall certify that this Lease is unmodified and in full force and effect (or, if there have been modifications, that the same is in full force and effect as modified and stating the modifications), state the dates to which the fixed minimum rent, additional rent, and other charges have been paid, and state whether to the best knowledge of the signer of the certificate, there exists any default in the performance of any covenant, agreement, term, provision, or condition contained in this Lease, and, if so, specify each such default. The parties intend that any such statement may be relied upon by the other party, by any mortgagee or prospective mortgagee of any mortgage affecting the Building or the Building and the Land or Tenant's interest in this Lease, by any Landlord under a ground or underlying lease affecting the Land or Building, and by any subtenant or assignee of Tenant's interest in this Lease.

Article XXXIII Inability to Perform

Section 33.01. Landlord performance. This Lease and Tenant's obligation to pay rent or additional rent hereunder and perform and comply with all of its other covenants and agreements hereunder shall in no way be affected, impaired, or excused because of Landlord's delay or failure to perform or comply with any of its covenants or provisions hereunder; or because Landlord is unable to fulfill any of its obligations under this Lease or to supply or is delayed in supplying any service expressly or impliedly to be supplied or is unable to make; or is delayed in making any repair, additions, alterations or decorations; or is unable to supply or is delayed in supplying any equipment or fixtures if Landlord is prevented or delayed from so doing by reason of strike or labor troubles or any other cause including, but not limited to, governmental preemption in connection with a National Emergency or by reason of any rule, order or regulation of any governmental department, agency, or subdivision thereof or the conditions of supply and demand which have been or are affected by war or other emergency. The time given to Landlord to comply with any obligation under this Lease shall be extended for a period equal to any period of delay resulting from any of the above causes.

Section 33.02. Tenant performance. This Lease and Landlord's obligation to perform and comply with its covenants and agreements hereunder shall in no way be affected, impaired, or excused because of Tenant's delay or failure to perform or comply with any of its covenants or provisions hereunder; nor because Tenant is unable to fulfill any of its obligations under this Lease or to supply or is delayed in supplying any service expressly or impliedly to be supplied; or is unable to make, or is delayed in making any repair, additions, alterations, or decorations; or is unable to supply or is delayed in supplying any equipment or fixtures, if Tenant is prevented or delayed from so doing by reason of strike or labor troubles or any other cause including, but not limited to, governmental preemption in connection with a National Emergency or by reason of any rule, order or regulation of any governmental department or subdivision or the conditions of supply and demand which have been or are affected by war or other emergency. The time given to Tenant to comply with any obligation under this Lease shall be extended for a period equal to any period of delay resulting from any of the above causes.

Article XXXIV No Representations by Landlord

Section 34.01. Neither Landlord nor its agents have made any representations or promises with respect to the Building, the Land, or the Demised Premises except as expressly set forth herein. No rights, easements, or licenses are acquired by Tenant by implication or otherwise except as expressly set forth in the provisions of this Lease. The taking possession of the Demised Premises by Tenant shall be conclusive evidence as against it, that Tenant accepts the premises and the Building and that they were in good and satisfactory condition when possession was so taken.

Article XXXV Memorandum of Lease

Section 35.01. This Lease shall not be recorded. The parties shall, if Tenant requires, execute and deliver a memorandum of this Lease in proper form for the purpose of recording. However, the memorandum shall not in any circumstances be deemed to modify or change any provision of this Lease. The Lease provisions shall in all instances prevail.

In witness whereof Landlord and Tenant have respectively signed and sealed this Lease as of the day and year first above written.

Procedure for Tenant Work

1. Tenant's work

Tenant, at its expense, shall prepare a set of plans, which shall contain complete information and dimensions necessary for the construction and finishing of the premises. Tenant shall submit the plans to Landlord on or before the following dates:

(a) Partition layouts for A/C design: [date].

(b) Final detail drawings: [date].

In accordance with these plans, Landlord, at its expense, except as otherwise expressly specified in this Exhibit B and in the foregoing Lease, shall make and complete in and to the premises the following work and installations, all of which shall be of material, manufacture, design, capacity, finish, and color of the building-standard adopted by Landlord for the Building:

I. Partitions:

A. Furnish and install 21/2 "metal stud drywall partitions with one layer of 5/6 "sheetrock each side, spackled, taped and painted. One side of partitions shall extend to slab above hung ceiling.

B. At all points that any partition intersects the perimeter air conditioning enclosures, furnish and install sound baffles within these enclosures.

II. Doors, Bucks & Hardware:

A. Furnish and install ceiling high hollow metal doors in hollow metal bucks. Doors shall be a 3/4 "thick. All doors shall be installed in bucks in locations as specified on Tenant's plans.

B. Closets. Each closet, 5'-0' (nominal) in length, ceiling high, and flush bi-fold doors; two wood hat shelves (paint grade) and one metal chrome coat rod. One closet for up to each 3,000 square feet of net rentable area.

C. Furnish and install 11/2 pairs of ball bearing butts, a heavy duty latch set, and door stop on each door as designated on the Tenant's plans. All hardware shall be Schlage D-Line or equal in satin chrome finish. Locksets and door closers shall be furnished and installed on the basis of a maximum of two doors per floor. All locksets shall be masterkeyed to building system.

III. Ceilings:

Furnish and install a building standard mechanically suspended acoustic ceiling, concealed spline, mineral fissured.

IV. Floor Covering:

A. Furnish and install building standard 1/8' vinyl asbestos tile in all noncarpeted areas including 4' rubber or vinyl base (cove or straight edge) in accordance with Tenant's plans. Colors to be selected by Tenant from Landlord's building standards. (The expression "noncarpeted areas" shall not be deemed to include those areas in which rugs and/or carpets are used or initially planned to be used by the Tenant.)

V. Venetian Blinds:

Furnish and install building standard venetian blinds on all windows of office floors in color and type as selected by Landlord. (No substitutions)

VI. Lighting:

A. Furnish and install one fluorescent lighting fixture per every 90 square feet of rentable area in the demised premises. These fixtures shall be 2' x 4' recessed, designed to contain four 40-watt fluorescent lamps with rapid start ballasts and Arcylic plastic lens (without lamps).

B. Furnish and install all miscellaneous fixtures, either fluorescent or incandescent, for such areas as mechanical spaces, toilets, stairwells, exits, etc., in quantities to conform with the Building Code.

C. Furnish and install all quiet type single pole switches and associated wiring facilities required to service the aforementioned lighting fixtures, as required by municipal authorities, but in no event less than one per room.

VII. Electrical:

A. Furnish and install a cellular floor with active cells approximately 6'0' on center and a header duct system for power receptacles and telephone wiring system. Furnish and install, in locations designated on Tenant's plans, standard electrical duplex receptacles with the required associated wiring facilities in the quantity of one outlet per 100 square feet of rentable area in the demised area of which 25% can be floor outlets.

All floor outlets must be located directly above active floor cells.

B. Landlord shall provide adequate electrical power feeders to each floor not to exceed 6-watts per square foot rentable area for Tenant power and lighting requirements, exclusive of air conditioning and elevator power requirements.

C. Furnish and install one telephone outlet per 150 square feet of rentable area in the demised area of which 25% may be floor outlets. All floor outlets must be located directly above active floor cells.

VIII. Heating, Ventilating & Air Conditioning:

Year round air conditioning system except as otherwise provided in this lease, combining the use of periphery units and interior duct air distribution system. The periphery air conditioning system shall service that portion of the demised premises being approximately 15 ft. distant from the glass line of the Building. For periphery rooms, Landlord will furnish one thermostat for every two peripheral column bays. Interior duct distribution, including building standard ducts, grilles, etc., to accommodate Tenant's layout. The air conditioning system will maintain interior conditions of 78 [degrees] dry bulb and 50% relative humidity when outside conditions are 95 [degrees] dry bulb and 75 [degrees] wet bulb, and will provide fresh air in a quantity not less than 0.30 cu. ft. per minute per square foot of floor area provided that in any given room or area of the demised premises--the occupancy does not exceed one person for each 100 square feet of the Demised Premises and total connected electric load does not exceed 5 watts per sq. ft. of all purposes, including lighting and power. Duct distribution to accommodate Tenant's layout shall be designed only by Engineer in Landlord's employ.

IX. Plumbing:

Furnish and install rough plumbing for a reasonable amount of Tenant's electric water coolers but not to exceed an average of two per floor and said rough plumbing shall be located at a wet column. Connections and water coolers shall be at Tenant's expense.

X. Painting & Wall Coverings:

A. Paint all walls, vertical furring, nonacoustically treated ceilings, metal or wood doors and door bucks, convactor enclosures and all other masonry or metal surfaces. This painting shall consist of one prime coat and two coats of paint, flat or semi-gloss, stippled finish. Colors for this initial painting of all surfaces shall be selected by Tenant from 12 building standard colors, with no more than one color in any one room or open area.

B. Complete one coat repainting after the fifth and tenth years of the term of the Lease. Only those areas which were originally painted by Landlord at its expense are to be repainted, as called for above.

XI. Miscellaneous:

A. All work performed by the Landlord shall be performed in good and workmanlike manner and the quality of materials, equipment and fixtures shall be of good quality throughout the Building.

2. Substitutions and Credits

Tenant may select different new materials (except venetian blinds) in place of Building standard materials which would otherwise be initially furnished and installed by Landlord under the provisions of this Exhibit. If Tenant makes any such selection, or if different new materials are required because of any situation created by Tenant (by reason of subleasing or any other similar or dissimilar cause) wherein the Building Code prohibits the use of Landlord's Building standard materials, and if the Work Cost of the different new materials exceed Landlord's cost of its Building standard material thereby replaced, Tenant shall pay to Landlord, as provided below, the difference between the Work Cost and Landlord's Cost. Tenant may also indicate on its plans additional Building standard work and materials to be furnished and installed at its expense, and Tenant shall pay to Landlord, as provided below, the Work Cost of the additional work and materials. No different new materials shall be furnished and installed in replacement for any of Landlord's Building standard materials nor shall any additional work or additional materials be furnished and installed until Landlord has received Tenant's agreement to pay the difference between the Cost of the different new materials and Landlord's Cost of the replaced Landlord's Building standard materials, of the Cost of the additional work or additional materials, as the case may be. If within ten days after Landlord's notice to Tenant of such Costs Tenant fails to deliver to Landlord its agreement to pay them, Landlord may proceed with the installation of the Building standard materials which would otherwise have been initially furnished and installed by it under the provisions hereof. All amounts payable by Tenant to Landlord under this exhibit shall be paid as additional rent promptly after Landlord submits bills for them to Tenant. Landlord may submit bills while the work is being performed or while the materials for it are furnished and installed.

Tenant shall be allowed credit equal to Landlord's unit costs for the omission of Landlord's Building standard materials, but only within each trade.

The term "Work Cost," as used in this Exhibit, shall mean the actual cost (including the cost of applicable insurance premiums and the cost of additional engineering, if any, required by reason of the next preceding paragraph) to Landlord's contractor of furnishing and installing the different new materials or the additional work or additional materials including 21% of the actual costs for the contractor's overhead and profit. The term "Landlord's Cost," as used in this Exhibit, shall mean the estimated or actual cost to Landlord of furnishing and installing its Building standard materials thereby replaced.

3. Tenant's Installations

(a) Tenant may employ directly any finishing trades, such as carpeting, curtains, and interior furnishings. Landlord shall provide access to the Demised Premises for such trades and also for the purpose of permitting Tenant to install its furniture, furnishings, business machines, and other like movable property when, in Landlord's opinion, the basic work in the Building and Demised Premises has been completed to the point that the installations or the work of such trades can be made and installed without delaying or interfering with the performance of the work of Landlord's contractors or subcontractors in the Demised Premises or elsewhere in the Building.

(b) All employees of the above finishing trades and those who are employed in Tenant's Installations shall be of union affiliation acceptable to Landlord's contractors and subcontractors. Tenant shall cooperate fully in the maintenance of harmony between all trades. If at any time any entry in the Building causes disharmony, or in Landlord's opinion, interferes with or tends to delay completion of the work of Landlord's contractors or subcontractors in the Demised Premises or elsewhere in the Building, Landlord may immediately withdraw this license by giving Tenant oral or written notice. As soon as such notice is given all employees engaged in the finishing trades or installations shall immediately withdraw from the Building and thereafter have no further right of access in or to the Building.

(c) All work and installations to be done in the Demised Premises by Tenant shall be performed whenever, in the judgment of Landlord and its contractor, the work will not interfere with the performance of other work of Landlord's contractors or subcontractors in the Demised Premises or elsewhere in the Building. Tenant shall pay Landlord for all loss of rent under the Lease caused by delays in the substantial completion of any part of the Demised Premises or the Building resulting from any interference with or delay of other work of Landlord's contractors or subcontractors in the Demised Premises or the Building.

(d) Any installation or work by Tenant shall be at its sole risk and any loss or damage to any work or installations by or for Tenant shall be borne solely by it. Neither Landlord nor its contractors shall be responsible for the care or safety of Tenant's work or installations. Tenant shall promptly repair any damage resulting from its acts or those of its contractors, subcontractors, agents, or employees in the Demised Premises in advance of or subsequent to the Commencement Date.

(e) Any entry upon the Demised Premises or in the Building by Tenant or its agents, employees, contractors, and workmen shall be deemed to be under all of the terms, covenants and provisions of the Lease, except as to the covenant to pay rent.

(f) Tenant shall enter into a written contract or contracts with Landlord's contractor covering the installation of Tenant's Work if the contractor agrees to perform the work and installations at a cost to Tenant not exceeding the contractor's cost plus 21% for its overhead and profits.

4. Miscellaneous

(a) Tenant, at its expense, shall file all required Tenant plans with the Department of Buildings and obtain approvals of other applicable governmental authorities.

(b) The Building, and all facilities and equipment installed by Landlord as part of Landlord's Work, whether in the Demised Premises or elsewhere in the Building, shall be constructed, installed, and operated in such a manner that noise and vibration levels in the Demised Premises resulting from operation of the facilities and equipment shall not exceed the noise and vibration levels in buildings of similar nature, where good construction and operating practices prevail. Landlord shall not be liable for noise or vibrations, however caused, emanating from sources outside the Building.

(c) Landlord at its expense, shall cause the Demised Premises, including the exterior and interior of the peripheral windows, to be cleaned on completion of construction immediately prior to Tenant's occupancy.

(d) All plans, drawings, and specifications for the Demised Premises and required to be submitted by Tenant to Landlord, shall comply and conform with the Building plans filed with the Department of Buildings of the City of New York, and with all the rules, regulations, and other requirements of any governmental department having jurisdiction over the construction of the Building or the Demised Premises. In completing the Building and the Demised Premises, Landlord may make all changes required by any governmental department and all changes and variations in construction due to or in order to meet job conditions affecting their construction. The changes or variations shall not be deemed to be a violation of Tenant's plans or any provision of this Exhibit, and shall be accepted by Tenant.

(e) Notwithstanding any contrary provision herein, if Tenant fails to comply with the Submission Dates as set forth in this Exhibit, Landlord may proceed with all its work in accordance with plans and drawings last submitted by either party to the other and with the standard of the Building. The completion shall be deemed to be substantial completion of the Premises in accordance with the provisions of the Lease.

If, within 30 days after the Submission Dates, Tenant submits no plans, Landlord may complete the Demised Premises only in accordance with the minimum legal requirements necessary for occupancy as "open space." Completion in such manner shall be deemed full compliance with this Exhibit and Landlord shall be released of all further obligations under it.

(f) If substantial completion of the Demised Premises or substantial performance of Landlord's work under this Schedule or further agreements between the parties pertaining to the work is delayed by Tenant's failure to comply with its obligations under this Schedule or by Tenant's changes, the term of this Lease and the payment of rent under it shall commence on the date such term and payment would have commenced had Tenant not so delayed completion of the work. In addition, Tenant shall pay the costs and damages sustained by Landlord by reason of the changes or delay in submitting the layouts.

(g) All of Tenant's plans and drawings shall be subject to Landlord's approval, which it shall not unreasonably withhold. Except as otherwise permitted or required herein, each party shall give the other its required approval or disapproval within 10 days after written request therefor. Submissions of shop drawings, plans, layouts, etc., and requests for authorization to proceed with work at Tenant's expense that are not disapproved or corrected within ten days shall be deemed approved.

(h) The initial air conditioning duct distribution for the premises other than for special areas will be designed at Landlord's expense. If any engineering services are required for any other purposes or as a result of changes in any of Tenant's layout or its requirements for occupancy, Tenant shall reimburse Landlord for their cost. The engineering services shall be performed by Landlord's engineer only.

Exhibit "C"

Exhibit "D"
Rules and Regulations

1. The rights of tenants in the entrances, corridors, elevators, and escalators of the Building are limited to ingress to and egress from the tenants' premises for the tenants and their employees, licensees, and invitees. No tenant shall use, or permit the use of, the entrances, corridors, escalators, or elevators for any other purpose. No tenant shall invite to its premises, or permit the visit of, persons in such numbers or under such conditions as to interfere with the use and enjoyment of any plaza, entrance, corridor, escalator, elevator or other facility of the Building by other tenants. Tenant shall not use or permit its employees to use the elevators before 10:00 a.m. in a "Down" direction for purposes of taking a coffee break or similar activities. Fire exits and stairways are for emergency use only, and shall not be used for any other purposes by the tenants, their employees, licensees or invitees. No tenant shall encumber or obstruct, or permit the encumbrance or obstruction of any sidewalk, plaza, entrance, corridor, escalator, elevator, fire exit, or stairway of the Building. Landlord reserves the right to control and operate the public portions of the Building and the public facilities, as well as facilities, furnished for the common use of the tenants, in any manner it deems best for the benefit of the tenants generally.
2. The cost of repairing any damage to the public portions of the Building or the public facilities or to any facilities used in common with other tenants, caused by a tenant or its employees, licensees, or invitees, shall be paid by the tenant.
3. Landlord may refuse admission to the Building outside of ordinary business hours to any person not known to the watchman in charge or not having a pass issued by the Landlord or not properly identified, and may require all persons admitted to or leaving the Building outside of ordinary business hours to register. Tenant's employees, agents, and visitors shall be permitted to enter and leave the building whenever appropriate arrangements have been previously made between the Landlord and the Tenant with respect thereto. Each tenant shall be responsible for all persons for whom permission is requested and shall be liable to the Landlord for all acts of such persons. Any person whose presence in the Building at any time shall, in Landlord's judgment, be prejudicial to the safety, character, reputation, and interests of the Building or its tenants may be denied access to the Building or may be ejected from it. For the safety of the tenants and protection of property in the Building, Landlord may prevent all access to the Building, by closing the doors or otherwise, during any invasion, riot, public excitement, or other commotion. Landlord may require any person leaving the Building with any package or other object to exhibit a pass from the tenant from whose premises the package or object is being removed, but the establishment and enforcement of such requirement shall not impose any responsibility on Landlord for the protection of the tenant against the removal of such property. Landlord shall, in no way, be liable to any tenant for damages or loss arising from the admission, exclusion, or ejection of any person to or from the tenant's premises or the Building under this rule.
4. No tenant shall obtain or accept for use in its premises ice, drinking water, food, vending machines, beverage, towel, barbering, boot blacking, floor polishing, lighting maintenance, cleaning, or other similar services from any persons not authorized by the Landlord in writing to furnish such services, if Landlord authorizes a person or persons to provide services desired by Tenant, and the charges for services are not excessive. The services shall be furnished only at the hours, in the places within the tenant's premises, and under the regulations fixed by Landlord.
5. No tenant shall install any awnings or other projections over or around the windows. Only window blinds supplied or permitted by Landlord shall be used in a tenant's premises.
6. No hand trucks, except those equipped with rubber tires and side guards, shall be used by Tenant, jobbers, or others in delivering or receiving merchandise in any space or the public halls of the Building.
7. All entrance doors in each tenant's premises shall be left locked when the premises are not in use. Entrance doors shall not be left open at any time. All windows in each tenant's premises shall be kept closed at all times and all blinds therein above the ground floor shall be lowered when and as reasonably required because of the position of the sun, during the operation of the Building air conditioning system to cool or ventilate the tenants' premises.

8. No noise, including the playing of any musical instruments, radio, or television, which, in Landlord's judgment, might disturb other tenants in the Building shall be made or permitted by any tenant. No cooking shall be done in the tenant's premises, except as expressly approved by Landlord. Nothing shall be done or permitted in any tenant's premises, and nothing shall be brought into or kept in any tenant's premises, which would impair or interfere with any of the Building services, the proper and economic hearing, cleaning or other servicing of the Building or the premises, or the use or enjoyment by any other tenant of any other premises. No tenant shall install any ventilating air conditioning, electrical, or other equipment of any kind which might cause any such impairment or interference.

9. Tenant shall not permit any cooking or food odors emanating within the Demised Premises to seep into other portions of the Building.

10. No acids, vapors, or other materials shall be discharged or permitted to be discharged into the waste lines, vents, or flues of the Building which may damage them. The water and wash closets and other plumbing fixtures in or serving any tenant's premises shall not be used for any purpose other than that for which they were designed or constructed, and no sanitary napkins, paper towels, sweepings, rubbish, rags, acids, or other foreign substances shall be deposited therein. Each tenant shall be responsible for all damages resulting from any misuse of the fixtures by it or by its servants, employees, agents, visitors, or licensees.

11. No signs, advertisement, notice, or other lettering shall be exhibited, inscribed, painted, or affixed by any tenant on any part of the outside or inside the premises or the Building without Landlord's prior written consent. If any tenant violates the preceding rule, Landlord may remove the sign or other lettering without any liability and charge the tenant for the resulting expense. Interior signs and lettering on doors and elevators shall be inscribed, painted, or affixed for each tenant by Landlord at the Tenant's expense, and shall be of a size, color and style acceptable to Landlord. Landlord may prohibit any advertising by any tenant which impairs the reputation of the building or its desirability as a building for offices, and upon written notice from Landlord, Tenant shall refrain from or discontinue such advertising.

12. No additional locks or bolts of any kind shall be placed upon any door or window in any tenant's premises and no lock on any door therein shall be changed or altered in any respect. Duplicate keys for a tenant's premises and toilet rooms shall be procured only from Landlord, which may make a reasonable charge therefor. Upon the termination of a tenant's lease, all keys of the tenant's premises and toilet rooms shall be delivered to Landlord.

13. No tenant shall mark, paint, drill into, or in any way deface any part of the Building or the premises demised to him. No boring, cutting or stringing of wires shall be permitted, except with Landlord's prior written consent and as directed by Landlord. No tenant shall install any resilient tile or similar floor covering in the demised premises except in a matter approved by Landlord.

14. No tenant shall use or occupy, or permit any portion of the demised premises to be used or occupied, as an office for a public stenographer or typist, as a barber or manicure shop, or as an employment bureau. No tenant or occupant shall engage or pay any employees in the Building, except those actually working for such tenant or occupant in the Building, nor advertise for laborers giving an address at the Building.

15. No premises shall be used, or permitted to be used, at any time, as a store for the sale or display of goods, wares, or merchandise of any kind, as a restaurant, shop, booth, bootblack, or other stand, for the conduct of any business or occupation which predominantly involves direct patronage of the general public in the premises demised to such tenant, or for manufacturing or other similar purposes. However, nothing in the preceding sentence shall prohibit the conduct of the business and services of securities and commodities brokerage and investment banking.

16. The requirements of tenants will be attended to only upon application at the building office. Landlord's employees shall not perform any work or do anything outside of the regular duties, unless under special instructions from Landlord's office.

17. If Landlord is required to discontinue providing electric current to the premises demised to Tenant, each tenant shall, at its expense, provide artificial light in its demised premises for Landlord's agents, contractors, and employees while performing janitorial or other cleaning services and making repairs or alterations in such premises.

18. The tenant's employees shall not loiter around the hallways, stairways, elevators, front, roof, or any other part of the building used in common by the occupants thereof.

19. If the premises demised to any tenant become infested with vermin, such tenant, at its expense, shall cause its premises to be exterminated, from time to time, to Landlord's satisfaction, and shall employ only those exterminators approved by Landlord.

20. Tenant shall, at its expense, care for and clean all cuspidors or similar containers or receptacles used in any tenant's premises.

FORM 23.10 Amendment to office space lease providing for expansion of space--rent increase for added space--option for additional expansion space--right of first offer--renewal option

COMMENT

Lease amendments:

As with any contract, a lease may be amended in accordance with applicable requirements of law and the original requirement. Most leases provide that they can be amended, but only in a writing signed by both parties. Such a writing, the lease amendment, changes and becomes a part of the original lease. This lease amendment form specifically refers to, changes and deletes the various affected sections of the original lease.

Lease amendments are commonly needed to adjust the agreement of the parties to account for unanticipated changes in the premises or the business needs of one or both of the parties. This form amends a number of sections of the original lease in response to the unanticipated growth of the tenant. Among other things, the amendment provides for three separate office space expansions (including changes in rent to account for the additional space), an option to expand more in the future, a right of first refusal for certain nearby office space, and a renewal option.

Option to expand space:

If a tenant anticipates future growth, the tenant may want the option to expand the area of its premises in the landlord's facility. Expansion options may be achieved by giving the tenant the right of first refusal or the right of first offer for the desired space as it becomes available. Such a provision will give the tenant a right to lease the desired space that is superior to the right of any third party. Under such an arrangement, the tenant has no obligation to lease the additional space if and when it becomes available. Alternatively, surrounding tenants may be restricted to short-term leases of adjoining space, which are expressly subject to the right of the landlord to relocate them if the principal tenant seeks to expand.

Right of first offer:

This form accommodates the tenant's concerns about future expansion by granting the tenant a right of first offer. The landlord who gives a tenant a right of first offer is obligated to offer to lease the desired premises to the tenant before offering to lease the premises to any third parties. The tenant's right to lease is activated when the landlord offers the property to the tenant at a rental price and upon terms chosen by the landlord. The tenant may accept the landlord's terms for the lease, or, if not, the landlord may offer the premises to third parties at the same rental price and upon the same terms.

FORM

AMENDMENT TO LEASE

THIS AMENDMENT TO LEASE ("Amendment") is made on this _____ day of [date] by and between _____ Associates, a limited partnership in the State of _____ (Landlord), and _____ Corp., a corporation incorporated under the laws of the State of _____ (Tenant).

RECITALS:

A. Landlord and Tenant entered into a certain Lease dated [date], as amended by an Amendment to Lease dated [date] (collectively the "Lease"), for the lease of certain premises now containing approximately _____ useable square feet (the "Existing Premises"), as more particularly described in the Lease, which space is known as Suite _____ and is located on the eighth floor of the building known as The _____ Building, in the City of _____, State of _____.

B. Tenant desires to lease additional space on the eighth floor of The _____ Building, shown within the area outlined in red on Exhibit B, attached hereto and by this reference made a part hereof, containing approximately _____ useable square feet (the "First Expansion Space").

C. Tenant desires to lease additional space on the seventh floor of The _____ Building, shown within the area outlined in red on Exhibit C, attached hereto and by this reference made a part hereof, containing approximately _____ useable square feet (the "Second Expansion Space").

D. Tenant desires to lease additional space on the ninth floor of The _____ Building, shown within the area outlined in red on Exhibit D, attached hereto and by this reference made a part hereof, containing approximately _____ useable square feet (the "Third Expansion Space").

E. Landlord and Tenant desire to amend the Lease in order to provide for the terms of leasing the First Expansion Space, the Second Expansion Space and the Third Expansion Space and to memorialize other changes they have agreed to concerning the Lease by entering into this Third Amendment.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the premises, the terms, covenants and conditions set forth below and other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, Landlord and Tenant agree as follows:

1. Certain Definitions. Unless specifically defined herein or the context clearly requires a different meaning, the words and phrases used herein that are defined in the Lease and not otherwise defined in this Amendment shall have the meanings ascribed to them in the Lease. The term "First Effective Date" as used herein means the date that Landlord substantially completes and delivers the First Expansion Space to Tenant. The term "Second Effective Date" as used herein means the date that Landlord substantially completes and delivers the Second Expansion Space to Tenant. The term "Third Effective Date" as used herein means the date that Landlord substantially completes and delivers the Third Expansion Space to Tenant.

2. Term. The term of the Lease is hereby extended for a period of approximately seven (7) years beginning on the First Effective Date and ending seven (7) years after the last day of the month in which the First Effective Date occurs (the "Extended Term").

3. First expansion space. Effective as of the First Effective Date, Landlord leases to Tenant and Tenant hereby leases from Landlord the First Expansion Space. As of the First Effective Date, the Premises and all references thereto throughout the Lease shall include the First Expansion Space and the total square footage of the Premises shall contain _____ useable square feet and _____ rentable square feet.

As of the First Effective Date, the second sentence of Section _____ of the Lease is hereby deleted in its entirety and the following is substituted in lieu thereof:

"Tenant acknowledges, understands and agrees that the rentable square footage of the Premises (_____ square feet) rather than the usable square footage of the Premises (_____ square feet) is the basis for calculating rental increases for Real Estate Taxes and Building Operating Costs."

4. Second expansion space. Effective as of the Second Effective Date, Landlord leases to Tenant and Tenant hereby leases from Landlord the Second Expansion Space. As of the Second Effective Date, the Premises and all references thereto throughout the Lease shall include the Second Expansion Space and the total square footage of the Premises shall contain _____ useable square feet and _____ rentable square feet.

As of the Second Effective Date, the second sentence of Section _____ of the Lease is hereby deleted in its entirety and the following is substituted in lieu thereof:

"Tenant acknowledges, understands and agrees that the rentable square footage of the Premises (_____ square feet) rather than the usable square footage of the Premises (_____ square feet) is the basis for calculating rental increases for Real Estate Taxes and Building Operating Costs."

5. Third expansion space. Effective as of the Third Effective Date, Landlord leases to Tenant and Tenant hereby leases from Landlord the Third Expansion Space. As of the Third Effective Date, the Premises and all references thereto throughout the Lease shall include the Third Expansion Space and the total square footage of the Premises shall contain _____ useable square feet and _____ rentable square feet.

As of the Third Effective Date, the second sentence of Section _____ of the Lease is hereby deleted in its entirety and the following is substituted in lieu thereof:

"Tenant acknowledges, understands and agrees that the rentable square footage of the Premises (_____ square feet) rather than the usable square footage of the Premises (_____ square feet) is the basis for calculating rental increases for Real Estate Taxes and Building Operating Costs."

6. New Exhibit A. The Lease Data Sheet attached to the Lease as Exhibit A is deleted in its entirety and Exhibit A attached hereto is substituted as the new Lease Data Sheet.

7. Rent. During the Extended Term, Tenant covenants and agrees to pay to Landlord, at such place as Landlord may designate, without deduction or setoff, except as otherwise expressly provided in the Lease, rent for the Premises as follows:

(a) During the period beginning on the First Effective Date and ending on the date preceding the Second Effective Date, the sum of $_____ per annum, in equal monthly installments of $_____ each, in advance on the first day of each and every calendar month during said period;

(b) During the period beginning on the Second Effective Date and ending on the date preceding the Third Effective Date, the sum of $_____ per annum, in equal monthly installments of $_____ each, in advance on the first day of each and every calendar month during said period;

(c) During the period beginning on the Third Effective Date and ending [date], the sum of $_____ per annum, in equal monthly installments of $_____ each, in advance on the first day of each and every calendar month during said period;

(d) During the period beginning [date] and ending [date], the sum of $_____ per annum, in equal monthly installments of $_____ each, in advance on the first day of each and every calendar month during said period; and

(e) During the period beginning [date] and ending on the expiration date of the Extended Term, the sum of $_____ per annum, in equal monthly installments of $_____ each, in advance on the first day of each and every calendar month during said period.

8. Rent abatement. Effective as of the First Effective Date, Section _____ of the Lease, captioned "Rent Abatement," is hereby deleted in its entirety and the following is substituted in lieu thereof:

"Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in Section _____ of the Lease or the Lease Data Sheet, Tenant shall be entitled to a rent abatement at the rates and at the time set forth in the following schedule (collectively the "Rental Abatement"):

TIME PERIOD	RATE PER MONTH
Beginning on the Second Effective Date and ending _____ months thereafter.	$_____ per month.
Beginning on the Third Effective Date and ending _____ months thereafter.	$_____ per month.

The Rental Abatement provided for in this Section is applicable only during the Extended Term and is totally inoperable and without effect during any renewal period of the Lease.

9. Increases for taxes and building costs.

(a) Effective as of the First Effective Date, Second Effective Date and Third Effective Date, Tenant's pro rata share of Building Operating Costs and Real Estate Taxes shall be respectively increased as shown in Sections _____, _____, _____, and _____ of the Lease Data Sheet attached as Exhibit A.

(b) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in Section _____ of the Lease, Tenant's pro rata share of any increase for any comparison year in Building Operating Costs shall not exceed _____ percent of Tenant's pro rata share of those expenses for the preceding comparison year, or a _____ percent increase on a cumulative basis for the Extended Term.

10. Improvements. Landlord, at Landlord's expense, agrees to make the improvements to the First Expansion Space and the Existing Premises in accordance with the work letter and floor plan attached hereto as Exhibit E. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Tenant shall pay the sum of $ _____ toward the cost of the improvements for the First Expansion Space, which sum shall be paid by Tenant to Landlord on or before the First Effective Date. Landlord, at Landlord's expense, agrees to make the improvements to the Second Expansion Space in accordance with the work letter attached hereto as Exhibit F. Landlord, at Landlord's expense, agrees to remodel the Third Expansion Space in the same manner and style and on the same terms as provided for in the Existing Premises.

11. Storage area. Landlord shall relocate Tenant's storage area to another location of comparable size in The _____ Building.

12. Additional expansion space options.

(a) The first paragraph of Section _____ of the Lease is hereby deleted in its entirety and the following is substituted in lieu thereof:

Tenant shall have options to lease the respective additional amounts of rentable square feet shown at Sections _____ and _____ on the Lease Data Sheet located on the tenth floor of the Building by giving written notice to Landlord on or before the respective dates shown at Sections _____ and _____ on the Lease Data Sheet. Such options are given upon the following terms and conditions:

(b) The term "Expansion Space Effective Date" as used in Section _____ of the Lease shall mean the dates appearing in Section _____ and Section _____ of the Lease Data Sheet, whichever may be applicable at the time in question.

(c) The following is added to the end of Section _____ of the Lease as Subsection _____:

If the spaces identified in Sections _____ and _____ of the Lease Data Sheet become available prior to the respective times specified, then Landlord will notify Tenant of such availability and Tenant may elect to lease such space(s) on the same terms as provided above. Tenant must exercise such election within fifteen (15) business days after receipt of Landlord's notice. If Tenant fails to exercise such option(s), Landlord may lease that space to another tenant; however, Tenant shall again have the right to elect to lease such space(s) at the times originally stated.

(d) Section _____ of the Lease is deleted in its entirety and the following is substituted in lieu thereof:

The annual rent for the additional space shall be at the same rate per rentable square foot, including all applicable escalations, then being paid by Tenant for the Existing Premises as of the Expansion Space Effective Date, but subject to the rental increases for the Existing Premises in effect from time to time as provided in Sections 7 and 17 of this Amendment.

(e) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Amendment, the Lease Data Sheet or the Lease, Tenant's Second Expansion Option more fully described in Section _____ of the Lease Data Sheet, shall be null and void unless Tenant simultaneously exercises its renewal option in accordance with the provisions of Section 17 of this Amendment.

13. Right of first offer.

(a) During the Extended Term, Tenant shall have the right of first offer (the "Right of First Offer"), to lease space located on the tenth and eleventh floors of The _____ Building (the "Offer Space"), subject to Sections 13(b) through 13(f) of this Amendment, inclusive.

(b) At the time Tenant exercises a Right of First Offer:

(i) The Lease must be in full force and effect;

(ii) Tenant shall not be in Default; and

(iii) The commencement date of the lease for any Available First Offer Space must be at least three (3) years prior to the expiration date of the Extended Term unless Tenant simultaneously exercises its option to renew in accordance with the provisions of Section 17 of this Amendment.

(c) (i) Subject to the other terms of this Section 13, after any part of the Offer Space has or will "become available" (defined below), Landlord shall not, during the Extended Term, offer on the market or lease to another tenant that space within the Offer Space that has or will become available without first offering Tenant the right to lease that space.

(ii) Space shall be deemed to become available when the lease for the current occupant of the space expires or is otherwise terminated.

(iii) Notwithstanding Section 13(c)(ii) of this Amendment, Offer Space shall not be deemed to become available if the space is:

(1) Assigned or subleased by the current tenant of the space;

(2) Released by the current tenant of the space by renewal, extension, or renegotiation;

(3) Subject to a specific expansion right of another tenant in the Building existing as of the date of this Amendment unless and until such tenant(s) has (have) failed to timely exercise its (their) option(s) or right(s); or

(4) Not leased to a tenant as of the date of this Lease (until that space is leased, and then subsequently "becomes available").

(iv) Consistent with Section 13(c)(i) of this Amendment, Landlord shall not offer any such Offer Space on the open market unless and until Landlord has first notified Tenant in writing (the "First Offer Leasing Notice") that Landlord intends to offer the designated Offer Space to third parties, and until a period of fifteen (15) days has elapsed from the date that Landlord has delivered to Tenant the First Offer Leasing Notice without Tenant having notified Landlord in writing of Tenant's desire to lease all of the Available First Offer Space (defined below). The First Offer Leasing Notice shall:

- (1) Advise Tenant that Landlord intends to offer on the market the Available First Offer Space;
 - (2) Describe the amount and location of the First Offer Space that has or will become available (the "Available First Offer Space") and attach a floor plan showing the Available First Offer Space crosshatched; and
 - (3) Set forth the date on which the Available First Offer Space will be available for leasing by Tenant (which shall not be more than twelve (12) months and not less than three (3) months after the date of the First Offer Leasing Notice).
- (v) Subject to Section 13(b) of this Amendment, if Tenant delivers to Landlord written notice of Tenant's desire to lease all of the Available First Offer Space within the fifteen-day period, the Available First Offer Space shall be leased by Tenant on the terms and conditions set forth in this Section 13.
- (vi) If Tenant declines or fails to effectively exercise the Right of First Offer as provided herein or fails to meet the conditions set forth in Section 13(b) of this Amendment, Landlord shall thereafter be free to offer the particular Available First Offer Space previously identified in a First Offer Leasing Notice on the open market and to lease some or all of that Available First Offer Space previously offered to Tenant at any time without regard to the restrictions in this Section 13 and on whatever terms Landlord may decide in its sole discretion.
- (vii) If Landlord rejects Tenant's acceptance of any Offer Space because Tenant fails to meet the conditions in Section 13(b) or (c) of this Amendment, Landlord must provide to Tenant a written notice within ten (10) days after receiving Tenant's acceptance, which Landlord notice shall specify in detail how Tenant failed to meet the cited conditions.
- (d) If Tenant leases Available First Offer Space under this Section 13, all of the terms and conditions of the Lease shall apply to the Available First Offer Space except that:
- (i) The commencement date of the Lease for each particular Available First Offer Space shall be seven (7) days after the Available First Offer Space is delivered to Tenant broom clean, free of tenants or other occupants, and otherwise in the condition required by Section 13(d)(ii), and the termination date shall be the same as for the Existing Premises, including any extension or renewal terms (exercised or to be exercised).
 - (ii) Landlord shall build-out the Available First Offer Space in the same manner and style as for the Existing Premises or if the Available First Offer Space is already built out, then Landlord shall adapt the Available First Offer Space to conform with the style and layout of the Existing Premises.
 - (iii) The annual rent for the Available First Offer Space shall be at the same rate per rentable square foot, including all escalations, then being paid by Tenant for the Existing Premises as of the commencement of the lease for the Available First Offer Space, but subject to rental increases for the Existing Premises in effect from time-to-time as provided in Sections 7 and 17 of this Amendment.
 - (iv) As of the commencement date for the Available First Offer Space, Tenant's pro rata share shall be increased to an amount computed by dividing the total of the rentable square footage of the Existing Premises plus all Available First Offer Space leased by Tenant plus all other space becoming part of the Existing Premises after the date of this Amendment (the numerator) by the rentable square footage of The _____ Building (the denominator), and expressing the fraction as a percentage.
 - (v) Any Available First Offer Space taken by Tenant shall be deemed part of the Premises as of the commencement of the lease term for such Available First Offer Space taken by Tenant.

(e) Landlord shall use commercially reasonable efforts to remove any holdover tenants or other occupants from the Available First Offer Space Tenant leases under this Section 13. Although Landlord shall not be liable for any damages for any holdover Tenant or other occupant (unless Landlord is not using commercially reasonable efforts to remove the holdover tenant or other occupant), all of Tenant's obligations regarding the Available First Offer Space shall be abated until the holdover tenant or other occupant is removed, and the commencement date for the Available First Offer Space shall be delayed until the holdover tenant or other occupant is removed.

(f) The parties shall, within thirty (30) days after each time Tenant adds any Available First Offer Space, confirm in writing:

(i) The Commencement date for the Available First Offer Space;

(ii) The Available First Offer Space that was leased showing that space cross-hatched;

(iii) The additional rent to be paid for the Available First Offer Space;

(iv) The increased pro rata share allocated to the Available First Offer Space; and

(v) Any other terms related to the Available First Offer Space or this lease that either party reasonably requests to be confirmed.

14. Rental escalations -- operating expenses. Tenant shall have the right to audit Building Operating Costs payable as provided in Section _____ of the Lease upon thirty (30) days prior written notice to Landlord. Tenant's right to dispute any item pursuant to Section _____ of the Lease is subject to the condition that Tenant shall have paid to Landlord all amounts due from Tenant to Landlord on or before the time required therefor under the provisions of the Lease. In no event shall Tenant be entitled to withhold, deduct, or offset any monetary obligation of Tenant to Landlord under the Lease (including, without limitation, Tenant's obligation to make all rental payments and all payments for its pro rata share of real estate taxes and Building Operating Costs) pending the resolution of any disputed item. Tenant acknowledges that Landlord maintains its records for this property at its offices at _____ Street, City of _____, State of _____, and Tenant therefore agrees that any review of records under this Subsection shall occur at that location.

Tenant acknowledges and agrees that any records reviewed under Section _____ of the Lease constitute confidential information of Landlord, which shall not be disclosed to anyone other than the accountants performing the review, the principals of Tenant who receive the results of the review and Tenant's attorneys. Any dispute arising from any audit as provided in this Section 14 shall be subject to arbitration as provided in Section _____ of the Lease.

15. Right to relocate. Landlord reserves the right at any time to relocate Tenant from the Second Expansion Space to other space within the Building. Landlord shall give Tenant at least sixty (60) days' prior written notice of its intention to relocate Tenant from the Second Expansion Space to other space within the Building. Landlord shall make reasonable efforts to assure that the relocated premises are comparable in size and tenant finish with the Second Expansion Space; however, the relocated premises shall contain at least _____ percent of the number of useable square feet that are contained in the Second Expansion Space. The rent for the relocated premises will be calculated at the rate per rentable square foot of floor area as the rate from time to time in effect for the Second Expansion Space, but will not exceed the rent for the Second Expansion Space regardless of whether the relocated premises are larger than the Second Expansion Space. Landlord agrees to pay the reasonable costs of moving Tenant from the Second Expansion Space to the relocated premises and the cost of replacing Tenant's then existing stock of stationary and business cards bearing the Second Expansion Space suite number.

(a) During calendar year [date], Landlord shall afford Tenant the opportunity to lease at least _____ square feet of additional space in the Building for a term commencing on or about [date] and ending on the same termination date as for the Existing Premises including any extension or renewal term (exercised or to be exercised). Any additional space offered to Tenant during calendar year [date] as provided in Section _____ of the Lease and Section 13 of this Amendment shall be credited against that _____ square feet. Any additional space offered to Tenant other than pursuant to the provisions of Section _____ of the Lease or Section 13 of this Amendment shall be offered by Landlord to Tenant on the same terms and conditions as provided in Sections 13(b), (c)(iv)-(vii), (d), (e) and (f) of this Amendment. The additional space contemplated by this paragraph need not be a single block of space, but rather may comprise multiple areas of The _____ Building that together aggregate approximately _____ square feet.

(b) If Tenant exercises its renewal option in accordance with the provisions of Section 17 of this Amendment, then during calendar year [date], Landlord shall afford Tenant the opportunity to lease at least _____ square feet of additional space in The _____ Building for a term commencing on or about [date] and ending on the expiration date of the renewal option described in Section 17 of this Amendment. Any additional space offered to Tenant during calendar year [date], as provided in Section _____ of the Lease and Section 13 of this Amendment, shall be credited against the _____ square feet. Any additional space offered to Tenant, other than pursuant to the provisions of Section _____ of the Lease or Section 13 of this Amendment, shall be offered by Landlord to Tenant on the same terms and conditions as provided in Section 13(b), (c)(iv)-(vii), (d), (e) and (f) of this Amendment. The additional space contemplated by this paragraph need not be a single block of space, but rather may comprise multiple areas of The _____ Building that together aggregate approximately _____ square feet.

17. Renewal option. Section _____ of the Lease is deleted in its entirety and the following is substituted in lieu thereof:

(a) The Tenant shall, if it is not in default, have the option to extend this Lease for one (1) period (renewal period) as shown at Item _____ on the Lease Data Sheet for the number of years shown at Item _____ on the Lease Data Sheet by giving written notice of such renewal to Landlord no later than the date shown at Item _____ on the Lease Data Sheet.

(b) If such option to extend is exercised, all provisions and covenants of this Lease shall be in full force and effect during such extended term, except that the annual rental during the renewal period shall be the higher of (i) the annual rental payable by Tenant during the last year of the Extended Term of this Lease, or (ii) the product of the annual rental payable by Tenant during the last year of the Extended Term of this Lease multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which shall be the Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics Consumer Price Index for "All Urban Consumers" (CPI-U, 1982-84 Base = 100, the "Index") as of the first day of the renewal period and the denominator of which shall be the Index as of the Effective Date (i.e., [date]).

References to the Consumer Price Index applicable to any date means the Consumer Price Index published most recently prior to that date. If the Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics, ceases to publish the Index, the index that would most nearly accomplish the purpose and use thereof by the parties hereto with respect to the adjustment in rent herein contemplated shall be used in lieu of the Index. As soon as Landlord obtains the necessary data, it shall determine the annual rent payable during the renewal period and notify the Tenant of the adjustment in writing. Pending that determination, Tenant shall continue to pay the same monthly rent it was paying during the last year of the Extended Term. Should the monthly rent for the period following that adjustment date exceed the monthly rent previously paid by Tenant for such period, Tenant shall forthwith pay the difference to Landlord.

(c) If (i) Tenant shall fall to exercise the renewal option during the period in which it is available and in the manner required hereby, or (ii) this Lease is no longer in full force and effect for any reason, or (iii) Tenant is in default under this Lease, at the time of such exercise, said renewal option shall terminate, be void and of no further force or effect.

(d) Unless otherwise herein expressly provided, any reference in this Lease to the "term of this Lease" shall mean the original term hereof, the Extended Term and the renewal period, if exercised by Tenant pursuant to its option to renew set forth in this Section, except to the extent that the original term, the Extended Term or renewal period may be sooner terminated or canceled under any provisions of this Lease.

(e) The base year for rental escalation during the renewal period shall be the escalation base year as set out at Item _____ on the Lease Data Sheet."

18. Reaffirmation and conflicts. All of the terms, covenants and conditions of the Lease shall continue in full force and effect, and the same are hereby reaffirmed, remade and rewritten, except to the extent that any such terms, covenants or conditions have been nullified hereby or conflict or are inconsistent with the terms of this Amendment, in which event the terms of this Amendment shall, in all respects, govern and prevail. Tenant acknowledges that to the best of its knowledge, it has no claims, defenses, or offsets regarding the performance of any of its obligations under the Lease, nor any claims against Landlord or its agents.

19. Binding effect. This Amendment shall be binding upon and shall inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective successors and assigns. No reference in the preceding sentence to assigns shall be deemed to authorize any assignment or other transfer, in whole or in part, of the interest of Tenant in violation of any of the provisions of the Lease.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, Landlord and Tenant have executed this Amendment as of the date first above written.

FORM 23.11 Amendment to lease providing for extension of lease term--increase in base rent and security deposit--improvements in premises

COMMENT

This form is an amendment to a lease for the primary purpose of extending the lease term. The desire for such an amendment may arise where the tenant realizes that it wishes to secure its right to occupy the leased premises beyond the expiration date of the original lease and any renewal options. Such security may be very important to a tenant whose business is affected by location, and the tenant may be willing to accept a rent increase in exchange for the security. The amendment also increases the base rent and the security deposit, and provides for improvements in the premises.

Renewal or extension:

Whether a particular agreement is a renewal or an extension of a lease depends upon the interpretation given to those words under local law. In some states, the extension of a lease is regarded as a continuation of the original lease as if the original lease covered the entire term as extended. On the other hand, such states treat a renewal as involving a new lease for the additional period. Some states make no distinction between the two. Since this agreement expressly continues the original lease, it is a lease extension.

FORM

AMENDMENT TO LEASE

THIS FIRST AMENDMENT TO LEASE is made and entered into as of [date], between _____ Corp., a corporation incorporated under the law of the State of _____ ("Landlord") and _____ ("Tenant").

RECITALS:

A. Landlord and Tenant entered into a certain lease dated [date] (the "Lease"), for the lease of certain premises containing approximately _____ square feet of floor area (the "Premises") located at The _____ Towers (the "Building"), _____ Street, Suite _____, City of _____, State of _____.

B. Landlord and Tenant desire to extend the term of the Lease and otherwise amend the Lease in accordance with the following terms and conditions.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the premises, Landlord and Tenant hereby agree as follows:

1. Unless specifically defined herein or the context clearly requires a different meaning, the capitalized words and phrases used herein shall have the meanings ascribed to them in the Lease.
2. The term of the Lease is hereby extended for a period of five (5) years beginning on [date] and ending on [date].
3. Tenant hereby covenants and agrees to pay to Landlord, without deduction or setoff and without demand, at its office or at such other place as Landlord may from time to time designate, as Annual Base Rent for the Premises during the extended term of the Lease, the sum of $_____ per annum, in equal monthly installments of $_____ each, in advance on the first day of each and every calendar month during the extended term.
4. Concurrently with the execution of this Amendment to Lease, Tenant shall deposit with Landlord as additional security deposit the sum of $_____, so that the total security deposit under the Lease shall be $_____.
5. Landlord, at Landlord's expense, agrees to make the improvements to the Premises described in the workletter attached hereto as Exhibit A and by this reference made a part hereof.
6. If Landlord agrees to perform, at Tenant's request, any further additions or nonstandard work over and above that specified in Exhibit A hereof, such work shall be performed by Tenant, at Tenant's expense, as a Tenant's extra. Before commencing such work, Landlord will submit to Tenant written estimates of the cost thereof. Tenant shall pay Landlord, promptly upon being billed therefor, the cost of all such agreed work, plus ten percent (10%) for Landlord's overhead and five percent (5%) for Landlord's profit. If Tenant defaults in the payment thereof, Landlord shall (in addition to all other remedies) have the same rights as in case of default in rent.
7. All of the terms, covenants and conditions of the Lease as amended to date shall continue in full force and effect, and the same are hereby reaffirmed, remade and rewritten, except to the extent that any such terms, covenants or conditions have been nullified hereby or conflict or are inconsistent with the terms of this Amendment to Lease, in which event the terms of this Amendment to Lease shall, in all respects, govern and prevail.
8. This Amendment to Lease shall be binding upon and shall inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective successors and assigns. No reference in the preceding sentence to assigns shall be deemed to authorize any assignment or other transfer, in whole or in part, of the interest of Tenant in violation of any of the provisions of the Lease.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, Landlord and Tenant have executed this Amendment to Lease as of the date first written.

FORM 23.12 Industrial park lease--landlord's agent as lessor--absolute subordination of lease

COMMENT

This lease of space in an industrial park contains clauses and provisions which would be useful in other types of leases. Many of the rights and remedies of the landlord or the managing agent specified in this lease could be used in an office lease, a retail lease, or other type of lease agreement.

Landlord rights in tenant property:

If the tenant defaults in the payment of rent or other amounts, the landlord may seek recovery by distraint, a levy, or some other method of attachment against the tenant's property used in the leased premises. This may include the tenant's equipment, inventory, or other personal property. This lease expressly provides that the goods on the leased property, including goods leased rather than owned by the tenant, are not exempt from levy (paragraphs 5, 9(a)). While these provisions may benefit the landlord, they may hamper the tenant's ability to obtain financing using the equipment, inventory, or other assets as collateral. The landlord's potential claim may also interfere with the tenant's ability to lease equipment. If the provision is included in the lease, the landlord could resolve the situation by providing separate releases in the event of inventory financing, or equipment financing or leasing.

As an additional protection to the landlord, this lease provides that any attempt by the tenant to remove goods or property from the leased property, other than in the ordinary course of business, is deemed fraudulent, and the landlord would be entitled to distraint, i.e., take possession of the tenant's property (paragraph 9(b)). The lease also provides that any additions, alterations, or improvements to the premises by the tenant are the property of the landlord, but if the landlord elects, they must be removed at the tenant's expense upon termination of the lease (paragraph 21).

Managing agent commissions and provisions:

A number of provisions in this lease protect the interest of the managing agent of the property. The leasing brokerage fee is determined as a percentage of the "rental." The rental includes, however, not only money paid as rent, but other tenant payments as well. The broker is entitled, under this lease, to a leasing commission against any tenant payments for real estate and other taxes, insurance premiums, the value of tenant renovations or alterations in lieu of rent, and the amount of any rent allowance (paragraph 30). The lease provides that the leasing brokerage fee payment can be spread over the term of the lease if the agent is to collect the rent for the landlord (paragraph 31). The payment of the deferred commission is accelerated, and thereby payable in full, upon the happening of certain events. These include foreclosure, possession by an encumbrancer, bankruptcy, or assignment for the benefit of creditors by the lessor, or the lessor's use of another agent to lease or sell the property (paragraph 32). The agent is given a security interest in the lease, and a lien against the premises, to secure payment of the commission (paragraph 33). The lease also provides that the agent is the exclusive real estate agent for any further lease or sales transactions between the landlord and tenant occurring during the term of the lease (paragraph 34). These provisions are aimed at encouraging the landlord and tenant to act in good faith with respect to the agent and the payment of the agent's commission.

Subordination of lease to landlord's mortgage:

One of the provisions contained in this lease is lessee's agreement that his leasehold interest is subordinate to the lien of all mortgages which encumber the demised premises at any time (paragraph 25). In the ordinary course of events, leasehold interests are subject to prior mortgages, but the express subordination by subsequent lessees of their leasehold interests may be required as further protection. Mortgage liens, however, may be subordinate to rights under previously recorded leases unless the lessee expressly agrees to the contrary. The subordination clause contained in this lease does not permit the lessee to cure any default by the lessor-mortgagor nor does it contain any provision for nondisturbance. Accordingly, the lessee must face the possibility that his leasehold estate may be terminated in the event of a mortgage foreclosure action.

THIS AGREEMENT is made this _____ day of _____ [date], between Barnes Corporation, a Pennsylvania corporation, Agent for Hines-Cohen Corporation, of Pennsylvania (the "Lessor"), and Martin Meat Corporation, a Pennsylvania corporation, or its corporate nominee, which is to be formed (the "Lessee").

1. Demised premises; rent. The Lessor demises and lets to the Lessee all that certain premises consisting of Sections 8 through 11, inclusive, of Industrial Fabricators Buildings, 66 Ceasar Road, New Hope Industrial Park, New Hope, Pennsylvania, as shown on the plan attached as Exhibit A, for the term of ten years, commencing [date]. The minimum annual rent shall be $54,400, payable in advance, in monthly payments of $4,533.33, on the first day of each month during the term, or its renewal. The Lessee shall make each monthly payment without demand at the office of Barnes Corporation, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, or at any other place the Lessor requires in writing. Rent shall begin on April 1, [year], and the first payment shall be made when this lease is executed.

2. Taxes. The Lessee further shall pay as additional rent upon demand, on June 1st of each year, 4/11 of all taxes annually assessed or imposed upon the premises of which the demised premises are a part during the term of this lease. This additional rent shall be apportioned for the first and last calendar years of the Lessee's occupancy.

3. Use of premises. The demised premises shall be used and occupied only as and for offices and the manufacturing, storage, and distribution of food products, and for no other purpose without the Lessor's prior written consent. If, in the Lessor's opinion, the premises of any part thereof are not being used in the usual and legitimate manner in the conduct of such business, the Lessor may give the Lessee written notice requiring the Lessee to terminate the improper use within two days thereafter. A failure to comply with such request shall constitute a breach of this lease, which will entitle the Lessor to immediate possession of the premises hereby leased (in addition to all other remedies given to the Lessor for the breach of any condition or covenant of this lease).

4. Insurance. The Lessee will not do or suffer to be done, any act, matter, or thing objectionable to the fire insurance companies whereby the fire insurance or any other insurance now in force or hereafter to be placed on all or part of the demised premises, or on the building of which the demised premises are a part, becomes void or suspended, or is rated as a more hazardous risk than at the date of the execution of this lease. The Lessee shall not employ any person or persons objectionable to the fire insurance companies, or carry or have any benzine or explosive matter of any kind in and about the demised premises. In case of a breach of this covenant (in addition to all other remedies given to the Lessor for the breach of any condition or covenant of this lease) the Lessee shall pay to the Lessor as additional rent, upon demand, all increase or increases of premiums on insurance carried by the Lessor on all or part of the demised premises, or on the building of which the demised premises are a part, caused in any way by the Lessee's occupancy.

5. Remedies. If the rent or any charges included as rent remain unpaid on any day on which the payments are due, the Lessor, or any person acting under it, may enter the premises, and without any demand, proceed by distress and sale of the goods therefound to levy the rent and all other charges herein payable as rent. All costs and officers' commissions, watchman's wages, and further including the 5% chargeable as tax to the Lessor, shall be paid by the Lessee. In that case, all costs, officers' commissions and other charges shall immediately attach and become part of the Lessor's claim for rent. Any tender of rent without such costs, made after the issue of a warrant of distress, shall not be sufficient to satisfy the Lessor's claim. The Lessee waives the benefit of all present and future laws regarding any limitation in which distress is to be made after removal of goods, and further relieves the Lessor of the obligation of proving or identifying such goods. The Lessee shall lease no goods of any kind for use on the demised premises, with the understanding that such goods shall be exempt from levy for rent, and other charges herein reserved as rent.

6. Waivers. The Lessee waives all right under the Act of Assembly of [date], and all present and future supplements or amendments of that Act, and authorizes the sale of any goods distrained for rent at any time after five days from such distraint without any inventory or appraisalment thereof. The Lessee waives the benefit of all present and future exemption laws, releasing goods on the premises or elsewhere, or any property in any way belonging to the Lessee, from levy and sale upon distress for rent or other charges reserved as rent, or upon an execution or any judgment obtained in an action brought for nonpayment of rent, or in all suits, actions, or proceedings, amicably or otherwise, for the collection of rent or other charges reserved as rent due and in arrears for any expenses incurred in removing ashes, rubbish, or refuse matter from the premises, and for damage for the nonfulfillment of any covenant contained herein. The Lessee also waives the right of inquisition on any real estate that may be levied upon to collect any amount due under the terms and conditions of this lease, and does voluntarily condemn the same and authorizes the Prothonotary to enter a writ of execution or other process on such Lessee's voluntary condemnation. The Lessee further agrees that the real estate may be sold on a writ of execution or other process.

7. Ejectment. If the Lessee fails or omits to pay the rent or other charges reserved as rent, whenever and wherever they are made payable, or in any other respect violates any term, condition, or covenant contained herein, the Lessor may deem this lease and its term to be terminated. In that event, the lease shall become absolutely void without any right by the Lessee to save the forfeiture by payment of rent due, or by other performance of the terms, conditions, or covenants so violated. Moreover, when the lease is so terminated, either during its original term or any extension of it, and also as soon as the initial term or extension thereof has expired, any attorney, as attorney for the Lessee, may sign an agreement for entering in any competent court an amicable action and judgment in ejectment, without any stay of execution or appeal against the Lessee and all persons claiming under the Lessee for the recovery by the Lessor of possession of the premises, without such attorney being liable, for which this shall be a sufficient warrant, whereupon a writ of possession may issue forthwith without any prior writ or proceeding. If a true copy of this lease is filed in such action, the original need not be filed as a warrant of attorney, notwithstanding any contrary rule of court. If for any reason after commencement of such action the lease is terminated and possession of the premises remains in or is restored to the Lessee, the Lessor may in any subsequent default bring one or more further amicable actions to recover possession of the premises for such default. No such determination of this lease nor taking or recovering possession of the premises shall deprive the Lessor of any remedies or action against the Lessee for rent or for damages for the breach of any covenant herein contained, nor shall the bringing of any such action for rent, or of breach of covenant, nor the resort to any other remedy be construed as a waiver of the right to insist upon the forfeiture and to obtain possession in the manner herein provided.

8. Confession of judgment. The Lessee empowers any Prothonotary or Clerk of the Court, or attorney of any court, to appear for the Lessee in all actions to be brought for any arrears of rent or rent herein treated as if in arrears, or other charges reserved as rent which may at any time fall due, or for any expense incurred by the Lessor in removing ashes, rubbish, or refuse matter from the premises, and to sign for the Lessee an agreement for entering in any competent court an amicable action or actions for the recovery of such arrears of rent or rent herein treated as if in arrear, or other charge or expense. Further, in such suits or in such amicable action or actions any attorney is authorized to confess judgment against the Lessee for all arrears of rent or rent herein treated as if in arrear, or other charges or expense as aforesaid, which may at any time fall due or become due under this lease, and for interests and costs, and so on from time to time as often as any of the rent or other charges or expenses, as aforesaid, shall fall due or be in arrears, or treated as if in arrear under the terms hereof. The power and powers herein granted may be exercised as well after the expiration of the original term and/or after the expiration of any extension or renewal of the original term as during the original term and/or during any extension or renewal of the term.

9. Removal of goods. (a) All goods, property, and chattels to be used or kept by Lessee or to be attached upon the premises, shall be owned or leased by Lessee. However, no such leased goods or chattels shall be leased with the understanding that they shall be exempt from levy for rent and other charges reserved as rent. This condition by the Lessor shall be deemed to be a part of the consideration for entering into this lease, and a breach of this condition shall give the Lessor the rights and privileges to which it may be entitled by the terms of this lease or by law for conditions broken.

(b) If the Lessee at any time during the continuance of this lease removes or attempts to remove its goods or property out of or from the premises, except in the ordinary course of business, without first having paid and satisfied the Lessor in full for all rent which may become due during the entire term of this lease, such removal or attempted removal shall be considered as fraudulent, and thereupon the Lessor may consider the whole rent of this lease or any part of it to be due and payable and in arrear. Moreover, the Lessor may proceed by landlord's warrant or other process to distrain, or collect or sue for the whole or such part of the rent in the same manner as if by the conditions of this lease the whole or such part of the rent were due and payable in advance, and were in arrear, and may also, at any time during the term of this lease or any extension or renewal thereof, enter judgment by confession for such amount in the manner herein elsewhere provided for entering of judgment by confession.

10. Acceleration of rent. If the Lessee becomes insolvent, bankrupt, or makes an assignment for the benefit of creditors, or is levied upon or sold out by Sheriff's, Marshal's, or Constable's sale, or if a receiver is appointed, the Lessor may declare the rent for the balance of the term or any part thereof to be due and payable as if by the terms of the lease it were payable in advance. If the rent or any other sum payable hereunder is at any time unpaid when due, the Lessor may then declare the rent for the balance of the term or any part thereof to be immediately due and payable as if by the terms of the lease it were payable in advance, and the Lessor may immediately proceed to distrain, collect, or bring action for the whole rent or any part thereof, as if it were in arrear, or may enter judgment therefor, in an amicable action as hereinabove provided in the case of rent in arrear. Any attorney is authorized to confess judgment against the Lessee in such suit or amicable action for the whole rent or any part thereof.

11. Assignment and subletting. Lessee shall not transfer, mortgage, or pledge this lease, or sublease the subject premises or any portion thereof, without the Lessor's prior written consent. The Lessor may deem any levy or sale or execution or other legal process against the Lessee, or any assignment or sale in bankruptcy or assignment of a receiver or insolvency of the Lessee, to be an assignment within the meaning of this Section.

12. Rent or sale signs. The Lessor may place and continually keep in a conspicuous place on the demised premises for the information of the public the usual and customary "For Sale" or "For Rent" signs with the name and address of the Lessor, and its agents or either of them, at any time within three months before the expiration of the term, or before any sooner determination, or any time after notice from either party of an intention to terminate this lease. Prospective purchasers or tenants authorized by the Lessor may inspect the premises at reasonable hours at any time.

13. Vacating of premises. If any of the following events occur, the Lessor may, without notice or demand, enter the premises, breaking open locked doors if necessary to effect entrance: the Lessee removes from the premises or ceases to use and occupy them as provided herein; the premises are vacated or deserted during the term of this lease or any renewal or extension; the Lessor desires to distrain; or the Lessee fails to pay rent or any other sum on the due date hereunder. In any such event, the Lessor shall not be liable to action for prosecution or damages for such entry or the manner thereof, for the purpose of distraining or levying and for other purposes. The Lessor may also relet such premises as agent for the Lessee for any unexpired portion of the term and receive rent therefor, holding the Lessee liable for any deficiency.

14. Alterations, improvements, services. None of the following acts or omissions by the Lessor shall in any way affect the payment of the rent at the time specified in this lease: if the Lessor at any time enters into a contract for any alterations, additions, or improvements; if the Lessor fails to make such alterations, additions, or improvements; or if the Lessor or its agents or contractors makes the alterations, additions, or improvements. The Lessor may discontinue all facilities and services rendered by it or its agents or contractors that are not expressly covenanted for herein; such facilities and services shall constitute no part of the consideration for this lease.

15. Risk of loss. The Lessor shall not be held responsible for, and is relieved from all liability by reason of, any injury or damage to any person, persons, or property in the demised premises, whether belonging to the Lessee or any other person, caused by any fire or by any breakage or leakage in any part or portion of the demised premises, or in any part or portion of the building of which the demised premises are a part, unless such breakage, leakage, injury, or damage is caused by or results from the negligence of the Lessor or its agents. The Lessee, in consideration of the rent, accepts and assumes such responsibility and liability.

(a) The Lessor shall not be held responsible for, and is relieved from all liability by reason of, any damage to any person, persons, or property in the demised premises, whether belonging to the Lessee or to any other person, from water, rain, or snow that may leak into, issue, or flow from any part of the premises or of the building of which the demised premises are a part, from the pipes or plumbing work of the same, or from any place or quarter, unless such damage, leak, or flow is caused by or results from the negligence of the Lessor or its agents or any person or persons. The Lessee, in consideration of the rent herein specified, accepts and assumes such responsibility and liability.

(b) The Lessee releases the Lessor from all liability, and assumes all liability, for damages which may arise from any kind of injury to person, persons, or property on account of the use, misuse, or abuse of all elevators, hatches, or openings of any kind that may exist or hereafter be erected or constructed on the premises or from any kind of injury that may arise from any other cause on the premises, unless such damage, injury, use, misuse, or abuse is caused by or results from the negligence of the Lessor or its agents.

16. Care of premises. The Lessor has let the demised premises in their present order, arrangement, and condition. The Lessee shall, at its expense, keep all waste and drain pipes open, repair all damage to plumbing, and keep every part and portion of the interior of the demised premises, and all glass windows and plate glass, in good order and repair. Further, if so requested by the Lessor, the Lessee shall, at its expense, comply with all requirements under notice from the Lessor's insurance carriers and all of the constituted public authorities, including the Fire Department, Bureau of Elevator Inspection, Bureau of Boiler Inspection, Board of Health, and Board of Fire Underwriters.

17. Right of entry. The Lessee shall permit the Lessor, the Lessor's authorized representatives, and the holder of any mortgage or any prospective mortgagor, to enter the demised premises at all reasonable times for the purpose of (a) inspecting them, and (b) making all necessary repairs, alterations, additions, or improvements including, but not limited to, repairs that may be necessary by reason of the Lessee's failure to make the same. Nothing herein shall imply any duty by the Lessor to do any such work, and the Lessor's performance of such work shall not constitute a waiver of the Lessee's failure to have performed any work which the Lessee is required to perform under the terms of this lease.

18. Failure of lessee to perform. (a) If the Lessee at any time fails to make any payment or perform any act required of it under this lease, the Lessor may do so, without notice to or demand upon the Lessee, and without waiving or releasing the Lessee from any obligation hereunder. All sums so paid by the Lessor and all necessary incidental costs and expenses in connection with the performance of any such act by the Lessor, together with interest thereon at two points above the prime rate of Philadelphia National Bank per annum from the date such expenditure is made, shall immediately become due and be payable by the Lessee on demand. All sums which may become payable to the Lessor by the Lessee under this paragraph (a) shall be deemed additional rent, and in the event of nonpayment the Lessor shall have (in addition to its other rights and remedies) the same rights and remedies as in the case of the Lessee's default in the payment of minimum rent.

(b) All of the above remedies given to the Lessor and all rights and remedies given to it by law and equity shall be cumulative and concurrent. No determination of this lease or the taking or recovering of the premises shall deprive the Lessor of any remedy or action against the Lessee for rent due at the time or which, under the terms hereof, would in the future become due as if there had been no determination, or for any sums due at the time or which, under the terms hereof, would in the future become due as if there had been no determination. Moreover, neither the bringing of any action for rent or breach of covenant, or the resort to any other remedy herein provided for the recovery of rent shall be construed as a waiver of the right to obtain possession of the premises.

19. Liability of agent. Barnes Corporation is acting as Agent only, and shall not in any event be held liable to the owner or the Lessee for the fulfillment or nonfulfillment of any term or condition of this lease, or for any action or proceeding that may be taken by the owner against the Lessee, or by the Lessee against the owner.

20. Damage by fire. If the demised premises are totally destroyed or so damaged by fire or other casualty not occurring through fault or negligence of the Lessee, or those employed by or acting for it, that they cannot be repaired and restored, on the basis of normal working days and hours, within 90 days, this lease shall terminate, and the rent shall abate for the balance of the term.

If the damage above is only partial and the premises can be restored, on the basis of normal working days and hours, to the present condition within 90 days, the Lessor shall restore them as speedily as circumstances reasonably permit, including the time necessary and required by the insurance companies to inspect the premises and to make an adjustment with the Lessor. The Lessor may enter upon the premises for the purpose of doing the restoration work. However, if such damage occurs during the final 12 months of the then current term, the Lessor may terminate this lease by giving written notice to the Lessee within 30 days after the damage occurs. If the Lessor exercises such option the rent shall abate for the balance of the term. The Lessor also may enter upon the demised premises whenever necessary to repair damage caused by fire or other casualty to the building of which the demised premises are a part, even though the effect of such entry is to render the demised premises or a part thereof untenable. In either event, the rent shall be apportioned and suspended while the Lessor is in possession, taking into account the proportion in area of the demised premises rendered untenable and the duration of the Lessor's possession. If a dispute arises as to the amount of rent due under this clause, the Lessee shall pay the full amount claimed by the Lessor. The Lessee may, however, proceed by law to recover any excess payment.

21. Surrender of premises. The Lessee shall, during the term of this lease and all continuations, keep, and at the expiration, peaceably surrender possession of the premises in as good order and condition as they now are, reasonable wear and tear excepted, and free from all ashes, dirt, and refuse matter, and shall at the expiration or any continuance of such term deliver the keys at the Lessor's office. The Lessee shall not make any alterations, additions, or improvements without the Lessor's prior written consent. All alterations, additions, or improvements, including partitions, and all fixtures attached to the building upon the premises by the Lessee, after such consent is given shall be the Lessor's property. The Lessor may either allow such property to remain upon and be surrendered with the premises as a part thereof, without molestation or injury, at termination of this lease, or remove the property at the Lessee's expense.

22. Non-waiver. The Lessor's failure to insist in any one or more instances upon the performance of any covenant or condition of this lease, or to exercise any right or privilege contained in it, shall not be construed as a subsequent waiver or relinquishment of such covenant, condition, right, or privilege, all of which shall continue and remain in full force and effect. The Lessor's receipt of any rent from the Lessee or its assignees or subtenants, regardless of whether the rent was originally reserved or may become payable under any covenant (or portion thereof) contained herein, shall not operate as a waiver of the Lessor's right to enforce the payment of the additional rent or of any of the other obligations of this lease by appropriate remedies and shall not waive or avoid the Lessor's right, at any time thereafter, to elect to terminate this lease on account of such assignment, subletting, transferring of this lease, or any other breach of any covenant, term, or condition herein.

23. Zoning; permits. Anything herein elsewhere contained to the contrary, this lease and all the terms, covenants, and conditions hereof are in all respects subject and subordinate to all zoning restrictions affecting the demised premises, and the building in which they are located, and the Lessee shall be bound by such restrictions. The Lessor further does not warrant that any licenses or permits which may be required for the business to be conducted by the Lessee on the demised premises will be granted, or, if granted, will be continued in effect or renewed. Any failure to obtain the licenses, permits, or any revocation thereof or failure to renew them, shall not release the Lessee from the terms of this lease.

24. Condemnation. If all or a part of the demised premises are taken or condemned for a public or quasi-public use, this lease shall, as to the part so taken, terminate when title vests in the condemnor, or, if the Lessor so elects, when the condemnor assumes physical possession of such premises. Rent reserved shall abate proportionately to the square footage of leased space taken or condemned as to the part so taken or shall cease if the entire demised premises are so taken. In that event, the Lessee shall waive all claims as against the Lessor and make no claim against it by reason of the complete or partial taking. Moreover, the Lessee shall not be entitled to any notice of the partial or complete termination of this lease by reason of the above. If the Lessor's lease of the premises of which the demised premises form a part is terminated (whether by the Lessor's landlord or otherwise) either because of the unsafe condition of any building on the premises or because the whole or a portion of any building or premises under lease to the Lessor is condemned, this lease shall terminate upon the same date as does the Lessor's lease, regardless of whether any portion of the demised premises is declared unsafe or is condemned. In the event of complete or partial termination, the Lessee shall make no claim against the Lessor and shall waive all claims for damages, and such termination shall take effect without any notice to the Lessee.

25. Subordination. This lease shall be subject and subordinate at all times to the lien of all present and future mortgages, rents, and encumbrances placed on the land and buildings demised or of which the demised premises form a part. No further instrument or act by the Lessee shall be necessary to effectuate such subordination. However, the Lessee shall execute and deliver, upon demand of any such mortgagee, proposed mortgagee, or other person, all further instruments evidencing subordination of this lease to the lien of such mortgage, ground rent, or other encumbrance. The Lessee irrevocably appoints the Lessor its attorney-in-fact to execute and deliver all such instruments for and in the Lessee's name.

26. Judgment rights. The right to enter judgment against the Lessee shall be exercised on behalf of any assignee of the Lessor in his, her, or their own name. This right shall be exercisable as often as there is default by the Lessee, and shall not be exhausted by one or more uses thereof.

27. Pavements, sidewalks, etc. The Lessee shall be responsible for the condition of the pavement, curb, cellar doors, awnings, and other erections on the pavement during the term of this lease, and shall keep the pavement free of snow and ice. The Lessee shall be solely liable for any accidents alleged to be due to their defective condition. This Section is applicable only if an entire building is leased to a single Lessee, or if a first floor is leased to the Lessee.

The Lessee of the first floor shall, at its expense, keep the pavement in the front of the premises in good order and repair and free from snow and ice. The Lessor shall, at its expense, keep the exterior and roof of the building of which the demised premises are a part in good order and repair. The Lessee acknowledges that the same now are in good order and repair. The Lessor shall not be liable or responsible for any injury or damage occasioned by bad order or lack of repair until it receives written notice thereof either from the Lessee or another tenant of the building and has had a reasonable time to remedy such order or make the repair.

28. Public areas. If the demised premises constitute one or more floors, or portions thereof, of the building, and, at the time of the execution of this lease there are upon such floor or floors, or portions thereof, hallways, passageways, stairways, elevators, or other means of access to and from the upper and lower portions of the building, the space occupied by such hallways, passageways, stairways, elevators, and other means of access, although within the demised premises as above described, shall be taken to be excepted therefrom and reserved to the Lessor or to the other tenants or occupants of the building, and they shall not be considered a portion of the demised premises.

29. Termination; automatic extensions. Either party may terminate this lease at the end of the term by giving the other at least six months' prior written notice. If such notice is not given, this lease shall continue upon the same terms and conditions for a further period of one year, from year to year, unless terminated by either party, by giving the other at least six months' written notice for removal prior to expiration of the then current term. However, if this lease is continued for under the above terms, any allowance given the Lessee on the rent during the original term shall not extend beyond that term. Moreover, if before the expiration of any extended term the Lessor gives written notice to change the terms and conditions of this lease, and the Lessee does not within 30 days thereafter notify the Lessor of its intention to vacate the demised premises at the end of the then current term, the Lessee shall be considered as Lessee under the terms and conditions mentioned in the notice for a further term as provided above, or for such further term as stated in the notice. If the Lessee gives notice of intention to vacate the premises at the end of any term and fails or refuses to vacate them on the date designated in such notice, the Lessor either (a) may disregard the notice and deem it to have no effect, in which case all the terms and conditions of this lease shall continue thereafter with full force as if such notice had not been given, or (b) may at any time within 30 days after such term give the Lessee 10 days' written notice of its intention to terminate the lease, whereupon the Lessee shall vacate the premises at the end of the 10-day period specified in such notice. During any renewal of the original term of this lease, the Lessor may exercise the same powers granted to it during the original term, and the Lessee shall perform the same obligations imposed upon it during the original term.

30. Commissions. In consideration of services rendered in procuring the tenancy created in this lease, Barnes Corporation, the Agent, has earned, and the Lessor shall pay to it, in cash, when this lease is executed, a service charge equal to one-half of the stipulated maximum monthly rental payable hereunder, or $100, whichever is less, plus a leasing brokerage fee equal to 6% of the first year's rental, plus 5% of the second year's rental, if any, plus 4% of the rental for the balance of the term, if any. For any period less than a year, the leasing brokerage fee due shall be computed on the basis of a full year's rental. Commissions shall be based upon all amounts required to be paid by the Lessee according to the lease, including but not limited to (a) taxes, (b) insurance, (c) water and sewer rents, (d) amortization of capital sums, (e) amounts expended by the Lessee in lieu of rent to alter, remodel, repair, renovate, build, or rebuild, and (f) amounts of any allowances to the tenant as free rent therefor. The commissions thereon shall be payable when the payments or expenditures are made and when the waivers or offsets of rent shall become effective.

31. Termination of agency. Notwithstanding any contrary provision in Section 30, the Agent may permit payment of the leasing brokerage fee to be spread over the term of the lease. In such event, the Lessor authorizes the Agent to collect the rent due or to become due hereunder during the continuance of the term of this lease, and of any renewal or renewals thereof. The Agent shall remit monthly the rent collected by it, deducting and retaining from such collection a sum to cover both leasing brokerage fees and collection commission equal to 6% of the rent collected each month during the term of the lease and during any renewals or continuances thereof. However, the Lessor may terminate the agency of the Agent at any time by giving it 30 days' written notice and retake possession of this lease, except that such termination, or termination of the agency for any other reason, shall not become effective until the Lessor pays to the Agent, or the Agents authorized to retain and deduct from any funds of the Lessor in its hands, the following items in payment of deferred leasing brokerage (which shall be in addition to the sums due or to become due as provided in Sections 33 and 34):

(a) 6% of the rental accruing up to one year after such termination, plus

(b) 5% of the rental up to the second year thereafter, if any, plus

(c) 4% of the rental for the balance of the term, if any.

(d) For any period less than a year, the deferred leasing brokerage shall be equal to three-fifths of the maximum rental for any one month.

All provisions of this Section shall bind the Lessor's assigns, heirs, executors, and successors in interest.

32. Acceleration of brokerage fee. If the Agent is collecting the rent it may collect the deferred leasing brokerage fee if any of the following events occur:

(a) An encumbrancer takes possession of, or foreclosure is commenced, on any encumbrance on the demised premises;

(b) Any execution is issued against, a petition in bankruptcy is filed against, a receiver is appointed for, or an assignment for the benefit of creditors is made by the lessor;

(c) The Lessor sells or leases or permits any other person to rent or offer for rent the property or any portion of it of which the demised premises are a part, or instructs the Agent to remove its signs from the same;

(d) The Lessor in any way alters this lease by agreement with the Lessee without the Agent's approval;

(e) This lease is a sublease and the Lessor or its receiver or Trustee in equity or bankruptcy cancels or disaffirms the paramount lease without the Agent's approval; or

(f) Without fault of the Agent this lease is terminated for any reason.

33. Agent's lien. If the Agent is collecting rent for the Lessor, the Agent shall retain this lease in its possession during the term, or during any renewal or renewals thereof, under lien for the Agent's services. The Agent has a security interest in this lease to the extent of any deferred leasing brokerage due it, and the Lessor is entitled to receive only the net amount due hereunder after deduction of the brokerage Commission. No grantee, assignee, receiver, trustee, encumbrancer, or other person or officer shall adopt or receive the benefits of this lease without paying such brokerage fee or making provisions therefor.

The Agent shall have a lien against the premises for such brokerage and for the repayment of any sums advanced in connection with the demised premises, including insurance premiums, and for all other sums due in accordance herewith, on this lease and on any funds of the Lessor in Agent's hands, whether arising from this lease or from any other transaction. The Lessor assigns, transfers, and sets over to the Agent the rentals herein reserved up to the amount of the commission. A renewal shall be deemed to occur if the relationship of Landlord and Tenant continues after the expiration of the original or any renewal term, under this or any other agreement, between the Lessor and any successor or assign of the Lessor and Lessee or any person, company, or corporation having any interest, relationship, or connection in or with the Lessee or this lease. If the Lessee or any person, company, or corporation, having any interest, relationship, or connection in or with the Lessee or this lease, becomes the purchaser of the demised premises, or any other building or land owned by the Lessor, at any time while this lease or any renewal thereof is in force or any of the above parties are in possession of the demised premises or of all or any portion of the property of which the demised premises form a part, the Lessor shall, at the time of such sale, pay the Agent a sales commission at the customary rate charged for the service.

34. Exclusive agency. The Agent has the exclusive right, while this lease is in effect, to lease or sell to the Lessee any additional building space or land owned by the Lessor. If at any time while the Lessee is in possession of all or part of the demised premises, whether during the original term or any renewal thereof or under any new lease or agreement, the Lessee leases or purchases additional building space or land owned by the Lessor, regardless of whether contiguous to the space or areas described in this lease or under an amendment to this lease, a separate lease, or agreement of sale, and regardless of who sells or leases it, whether by the Lessor directly or by another agent, the Lessor shall pay to the Agent for such additional building space or land leased or sold to the Lessee, in addition to the leasing brokerage payable to the Agent hereunder, a brokerage commission in accordance with the provisions of Sections 30 through 34. The additional commission shall be paid as if the additional space or areas formed a part of the premises leased to the Lessee under this lease.

35. Condition of premises. The Lessee or its duly authorized agent has inspected the premises. The premises are leased as a result of such inspection and not in reliance upon any representations made by the Lessor, or its leasing or other agent, except as expressly stated in this lease. Neither the Lessor nor any of its agents shall be responsible or liable for any agreement, condition, or stipulation not set forth herein, including, without limitation, anything relating to or affecting the physical condition of such premises.

36. Owner's approval. This lease shall become null and void and all money paid on account thereof shall be refunded by the Lessor unless approved by it within seven days from the date hereof. The use and deposit of any checks or other payments by the Agent shall not constitute approval.

37. Miscellaneous.

(a) All headings preceding the text of the several Sections and subsections hereof are inserted solely for convenience or reference and shall not constitute a part of this lease or affect its meaning, construction, or effect.

(b) This lease represents the entire agreement between the parties; there are no collateral oral agreements or understandings between them. All additions, variations, or modifications to this lease shall be void and of no effect unless in writing signed by the parties.

(c) This lease and any attached riders set forth all the promises, agreements, conditions, and understandings between the Lessor and Lessee with respect to the demised premises. There are no other oral or written promises, agreements, conditions, or understandings between them. Except as otherwise provided herein, no subsequent alteration, amendment, change, or addition to this lease shall be binding upon the parties unless in writing and signed by them.

(d) The provisions of this lease shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of both parties and their respective legal representatives, successors, and assigns.

(e) No delay or failure by either party to exercise any right under this lease, and no partial or single exercise thereof, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

(f) This lease may be executed in two or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

(g) Unless otherwise authorized herein, all notices or other documents under this lease shall be in writing and delivered personally or mailed by certified mail, postage prepaid, addressed to the parties at their last known addresses.

In witness whereof the parties have hereunto set their hand and seals the day and year aforesaid.

FORM 23.13 Sublease--simultaneous termination with underlying lease

COMMENT

There is a distinction between a true sublease and an assignment of a lease. An assignment is deemed to be a complete transfer of all of one's interest in a lease in some jurisdictions.

Sublease vs. assignment:

An assignment transfers the entire unexpired term in the whole or some part of the leased and/or demised premises, leaving no reversionary interest in the transferor. It is a transfer of the prime lessee's whole interest in the lease in the whole or some part of the demised premises.

A transfer of a portion of the lessee's interest, however, is a sublease. A transfer creating new conditions with a right of reentry or new causes of forfeiture is also a sublease, since the transferee in such case holds by different tenure than his transferor. A transferor who reserves the right of reentry for breach of conditions has a contingent reversionary interest which prevents his transfer from operating as an assignment of the whole of the unexpired term; instead, a sublease is created. If a subtenant makes rental payments directly to the owner rather than to his transferor, that does not affect the status of the transfer, even though such payment is by mutual agreement.

Whether a given transaction constitutes an assignment or a sublease will depend upon its legal effect rather than on what the parties denominate it or what sort of instrument they may employ to give it effect.

Remedies of lessor against lessee's assignees:

Whatever remedies the lessor of any real property has against his immediate lessee for the breach of any agreement in the lease, or for recovery of the possession, he also has against the assignees of the lessee for any cause of action accruing while they are the assignees, except where the assignment is made as security for a loan, and is not accompanied by possession of the premises.

In some jurisdictions an occupant of real property holding possession by bare assignment of the lessee assumes, vis-a-vis the lessor, only such obligations as arise out of privity of estate, as distinguished from those arising on privity of contract and therefore is bound to perform only those covenants running with the land.

Effect of lease provisions on sublease:

Leases frequently contain a prohibition against the lessee's assigning or subletting the leased premises without the prior consent of the lessor. Generally, these provisions prohibit only voluntary and not involuntary assignments. Thus, transfer by execution sale and assignment by lessee's estate may be permissible. If the lessor desires to avoid an involuntary transfer of the leasehold interest of the tenant, it should be expressly provided in the lease.

A clause prohibiting the assignment of a lease does not necessarily foreclose every voluntary transfer of the lessee's rights. If a transfer results merely from a change in the legal form of a business and does not affect the interests of the party protected by the nonassignment provisions of the lease, there may be no breach of that provision. Accordingly, a lessee might be permitted to transfer the lease to a corporation formed and wholly owned by the lessee.

The incorporation of the lessee does not of itself operate as an assignment of the lease to the corporation. For example, the incorporation of an existing partnership does not operate to transfer to the corporation the title to the real or personal property of the partnership or association in the absence of a statutory provision to such effect. But there generally must be a conveyance, contract of sale, or assignment. (The corporation may, however, acquire an equitable title without a conveyance.)

Transfer by lessee in violation of lease prohibition:

Since a violation of the covenant or condition against assignment or subletting may result in forfeiture, the condition generally is strictly construed against the lessor. In such a case, assignment without consent may not of itself terminate the lease or render the assignment void. However, the making of the assignment may give the lessor certain rights to be exercised in the manner provided by law, i.e., the assignment is not void, but only voidable. The leasehold passes to the assignee, subject only to forfeiture by the lessor and the right to declare a forfeiture may be waived.

If the lessor desires to rely on the restriction against assignment, he may give notice of his election to declare a forfeiture of the lease and sue for breach of the lease. He may also pursue his remedy in unlawful detainer in some jurisdictions if possession is thereafter withheld following proper notice. However, the lessor does not have the option of merely giving notice of the invalidity of the assignment without declaring a forfeiture. The restriction as to the condition of assignment is generally considered to be a personal covenant for the benefit of the lessor and until the lessor elects to take advantage of the breach, the assignment remains a valid and binding conveyance of the leasehold interest as to all other parties.

Rent payments:

Absent a provision in the lease expressly providing to the contrary, if the lessor accepts payments of rent from the assignee, even under a stipulation reserving the right to declare a forfeiture, the lessor's right is deemed waived. But, since a waiver is the relinquishment of a known right, there must be actual knowledge of the existence of the fact on which such right can be predicated. There is no waiver on the part of the lessor due to an acceptance of rent without actual knowledge of the assignment or sublease. Such knowledge must be actual, not constructive. However, there is a presumption of an assignment which follows occupancy of the leased premises by one other than the lessee, especially when the occupancy pays the rent and cost of maintenance.

FORM

THIS SUBLEASE is dated [date], between Albany Metal Works, a New York Corporation, with its principal place of business at Houghton Park, Albany, New York 14830 (the "Lessor"), and Retailers Alliance Limited--U.S.A. ("RAL, U.S.A."), a Delaware Corporation, with a place of business at 57 East Road, Chicago, Illinois 60631 (the "Lessee").

The Lessor lets to the Lessee and Lessee hires from the Lessor the following described premises: Approximately 990 sq. ft. of office space located in the Fifth Floor, known as Suite No. 525, of the office building designated as Building 100 in the complex of buildings known as PHASE III, O'Hare Plaza, located at 57 East Road, Chicago, Illinois to be used only for a district sales office for the term commencing [date] and expiring [date] at the monthly rent provided in Section 20.

The Lessee agrees to each of the following:

1. Payment of rent. Pay the rent set forth herein to Albany Metal Works.

2. Repairs. At its expense, keep the premises in good repair, ordinary wear and tear, repairs to the roof, exterior of the building, and structural repairs excepted, unless such repairs are made necessary by the Lessee's act or negligence. At the expiration of the term, the Lessee shall remove its goods and effects and peaceably yield up the premises to the Lessor in as good condition as when delivered to the Lessee, ordinary wear and tear, damage by fire, the elements, act of the public enemy, or casualty excepted. All notices to quit or vacate are expressly waived, any law, usage or custom to the contrary notwithstanding.

3. Compliance with regulations. Comply promptly with all laws, ordinances, requirements, and regulations of the federal, state, county, municipal and other authorities, the fire insurance underwriters, and insurance organizations or associations. However, the Lessee shall not be required to make alterations to the exterior of the building, or alterations of a structural nature.

4. Viewing premises. Use the premises exclusively for the purpose set forth herein and during the last three months of this lease, or any extension thereof, and permit the Lessor to display the usual "To Let" signs and show the premises to prospective tenants. At any time during the term the Lessor, its landlord, or either's agents, may enter the premises for the purpose of examining their condition or making repairs in any part of the building. However, the Lessor does not assume any liability for the care or supervision of the premises or appurtenances.

5. Assignment. The Lessee shall not make or permit to be made any alterations or additions to the premises, assign, mortgage, or pledge this lease, or sublet the whole or any part of the premises without the Lessor's written consent. Such consent shall apply solely to the particular transaction consented to and shall not constitute the Lessor's waiver of the provisions of this lease.

6. Insurance. The Lessee shall not leave the premises unoccupied during the term, or by any act of commission or omission cause an increase in the rate of insurance or the cancellation of any insurance policy. If any increase in the rate of insurance is caused by the Lessee's occupancy, the Lessee shall pay on demand the amount of the increase, and in default of such payment, the amount may be added to the next installment of rent as additional rent. The Lessee shall furnish the Lessor with public liability insurance policies issued by companies and in amounts satisfactory to the Lessor.

7. Signs. The Lessee shall not install awnings, advertisements, or signs on any part of the premises without the Lessor's written consent and shall keep the sidewalks free from ice, snow, and all obstructions.

8. Utilities. The Lessee shall make its own arrangements for the supply of gas, electricity, water, fuel, and the like, and pay for all such services.

9. Indemnification. The Lessor shall not be responsible for any defect or change of condition in the premises, or for any damage thereto, or to any person, or to goods or things contained therein due to any cause except the Lessor's act or negligence. The Lessee shall indemnify the Lessor from all claims, demands, and actions arising in connection with the Lessee's use of the property, or the use by any person occupying the premises during the term hereof, or by reason of any breach or nonperformance of any covenant herein, or the Lessee's violation of any law or regulation.

10. Fire damage. If the premises are so damaged by fire, other casualty, or act of the public enemy so as to be substantially destroyed, this lease shall terminate and any unearned rent paid in advance by the Lessee shall be apportioned and refunded to it. However, if the premises are not substantially destroyed, the Lessor will endeavor to have the Lessee restore them, and a just proportion of the rent shall abate according to the extent to which the premises have been rendered untenable until they have been restored. The Lessee shall give the Lessor immediate notice of any damage to the premises.

11. Default and remedies. If the Lessee fails to perform or observe any of its covenants under this lease within 10 days after the Lessor gives it notice of default, the Lessor may immediately: (a) terminate or cancel this lease by notifying the Lessee as provided above, and upon such termination or cancellation the Lessee shall be liable to the Lessor for all damages sustained by it by reason of the Lessee's breach of covenant and of the termination or cancellation; or (b) re-enter the premises without notice and upon reentry let all or any part thereof as agent for the Lessee. If the premises are let in accordance with the provisions of (b), the Lessor may receive the rent, applying it first to the payment of any expense the Lessor incurs in entering and letting the premises, and then to the payment of the rent and the fulfillment of the Lessee's covenants hereunder. If the Lessee defaults, it shall pay and be liable for the several installments of rent that would under this lease become due had no default occurred, regardless of whether the demised premises are re-let or remain vacant, and whether the vacancy is in whole or in part or for a period less than the whole or remainder of the term. The Lessee shall be credited at the end of each month with any net amounts actually received by the Lessor during that month for the use or occupancy of all or part of the demised premises provided that the Lessor has been fully reimbursed for all sums and liabilities it has paid or incurred for any of the above purposes (which the Lessee also shall pay and be liable for). Such payments shall be made either directly by the Lessee or out of moneys actually received for renting the demised premises after the Lessor has received undisputed possession. The Lessor's maintenance of any action or proceeding to recover possession of the premises or any installment or installments of rent or other moneys that may be due or become due from the Lessee shall not preclude the Lessor from also instituting and maintaining subsequent actions or proceedings to recover possession of the premises or of any subsequent payment or payments of rent or other moneys that may be due or become due from the Lessee. A waiver by the Lessor of the Lessee's breach of any one or more covenants or conditions contained herein shall not bar any of the Lessor's rights or remedies for a subsequent breach of the same covenant or condition.

12. Additional rent. If the Lessor makes any expenditure for which the Lessee is responsible, or if the Lessee fails to make any required payment under this lease, the Lessor may add such amount to any current or future installment of rent.

13. Condemnation. If all or any part of the premises are taken or condemned for a temporary or permanent public or quasi-public use, the Lessor may terminate this lease. In that case, it shall return to the Lessee all unearned rent paid in advance.

14. Demolition. If any competent governmental authority decides that the building or buildings should be demolished and removed, the Lessee shall immediately vacate the premises, this lease shall terminate, and all unearned rent paid in advance by the Lessee shall be apportioned and refunded to it.

15. Notices. All notices or other documents under this lease shall be in writing and delivered personally to the party to be notified or sent by telegram or by registered or certified mail addressed to such party at its last known address.

16. Termination. The Lessor may terminate this lease if any one or more of the following events occur: proceedings in bankruptcy, or under any other act for the relief of debtors, are instituted by or against the Lessee; the Lessee compounds its debts, or assigns over its estate or effects for payment thereof; any execution issues against the Lessee or any of its effects; a receiver or trustee is appointed for the Lessee's property; or this lease by operation of law devolves upon or passes to any person or persons other than the Lessee personally. In any such event, the Lessor may immediately terminate this lease by notifying the Lessee as provided in Paragraph 15. Upon such termination all present and future sums due from the Lessee shall immediately become due and payable.

17. Sublease. This is a sublease. The Lessor's interest in the premises is as Lessee under an underlying sublease made by General Products Corporation dated [date], a copy of which, initialed for identification, is attached hereto. Except as provided in paragraph 20, this sublease is expressly made subject to all the terms and conditions of the underlying lease. The Lessee shall use the premises in accordance with the terms of the underlying lease and not do or omit to do anything which will breach any of its terms. If the underlying lease is terminated, this sublease shall terminate simultaneously and any unearned rent paid in advance shall be refunded to the Lessee, if such termination is not the result of a breach by the Lessee of the within sublease. The Lessee shall assume the obligation for performance of all of the Lessor's obligations under the underlying lease, except the obligation to pay rent to Lessor's landlord.

18. Quiet possession. The Lessor covenants that the Lessee, upon paying the rent reserved herein and performing all its covenants and agreements contained herein, may quietly enjoy the premises, except as otherwise provided herein. However, this covenant shall be subject to the terms of the underlying lease and of any mortgages which may now or later affect the premises.

19. Waiver. Both parties waives their respective rights against the other for damages caused by fire or other perils covered by insurance when the damages are sustained in connection with the occupancy of the leased premises.

20. Rent payments. Commencing [date] through [date], the monthly rental shall be $763.13. No term of the underlying lease referred to in Section 17 shall be effective under any circumstances to increase or escalate this monthly rental during the term of this sublease. Rental shall be payable in advance on the first business day of each month during the term of the sublease.

21. Binding effect. The provisions of this instrument shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of both parties and their respective legal representatives, successors, and assigns.

22. Non-waiver. No delay or failure by either party to exercise any right under this instrument, and no partial or single exercise of that right, shall constitute a waiver of that or any other right, unless otherwise expressly provided herein.

23. Headings. Headings in this Sublease are for reference and convenience only and shall not be used to interpret or construe its provisions.

24. Counterparts. This Sublease may be executed in two or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

25. Entire agreement. This instrument supersedes all agreements previously made between the parties relating to its subject matter. There are no other understandings or agreements between them, except as otherwise provided herein.

In witness whereof the Lessor has signed and sealed this instrument, [date] and the Lessee has signed and sealed this instrument, [date].

FORM 23.14 Assignment and assumption of lease--landlord consent--assignor remains liable for assignee's performance

COMMENT

Assignment and assumption agreement:

The agreement set forth in this form is a three-way agreement between an assignor, an assignee, and the landlord. Such an agreement is a convenient method to delineate the rights and obligations of all three parties interested in the transaction in one document. Each party then has full knowledge of the agreement between the other two parties. In this single agreement, the assignor assigns the lease to the assignee, the assignee assumes the assignor's obligations under the lease, and the landlord consents to the assignment. Alternatively, the assignment can be accomplished in one agreement between the assignor and the assignee, and the landlord's consent can be accomplished in a separate document.

Where the original lease provides that it cannot be assigned without the landlord's consent, the landlord may refuse to consent to an assignment unless certain conditions are met. A common condition to the landlord's consent is that the assignor remain liable for the assignee-tenant's performance under the lease. In essence, the landlord requires the assignor to guarantee the assignee's performance. As with a lease guaranty, this protects the landlord from the consequences of a default by an assignee-tenant whose financial situation is uncertain.

FORMASSIGNMENT AND ASSUMPTION OF LEASE

THIS ASSIGNMENT AND ASSUMPTION OF LEASE ("Assignment") is made as of the _____ day of [date], by and among: (1) _____, Assignor, having a notice address of _____ Street, City of _____, State of _____; (2) _____ Corp., Assignee, a corporation incorporated under the laws of the State of _____, having a notice address of _____ Avenue, City of _____, State of _____; and (3) _____ Associates, Landlord, a limited partnership in the State of _____, having a notice address of _____ Road, City of _____, State of _____.

WITNESSETH:

WHEREAS, Assignor (as "Tenant"), and Landlord made and entered into a certain Lease Agreement dated [date], as amended by a First Amendment to Lease dated [date] (collectively the "Lease"), demising certain leased premises located at _____ Road, City of _____, State of _____, containing approximately _____ square feet of floor area, all as in the Lease more particularly described (the "Premises");

WHEREAS, Assignor desires to assign the Lease to Assignee;

WHEREAS, the Lease provides, among other things, that the Lease shall not be assigned without the Landlord's consent in writing;

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual covenants and agreements herein set forth, and of other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, the parties covenant and agree as follows:

1. Effective as of [date], Assignor assigns to Assignee all its right, title and interest in and to the Lease.
2. Assignor covenants, warrants and represents that: (a) the Lease is in full force and effect; (b) Assignor has performed all of its obligations up to the effective date of this Assignment; (c) Assignor has full right and power to execute this Assignment; and (d) the Lease has not been modified, supplemented or amended.
3. Assignor hereby surrenders and assigns to Assignee, and Assignee hereby accepts the surrender and assignment from Assignor of, all of Assignor's right, title and interest in, to and under the Lease, a copy of which is attached as Exhibit A and incorporated herein by reference.
4. Assignee hereby assumes and agrees to be bound by and pay and perform all of the obligations, terms, covenants and conditions which, pursuant to the Lease, are to be observed, kept and/or performed by the Assignor, effective as of [date].
5. Assignor agrees to remain liable for the performance of all terms, covenants and conditions of the Lease to be performed by Assignee and by Assignee's successors and assigns thereunder.
6. Landlord consents to the aforesaid Assignment of the Lease by Assignor to Assignee upon the express conditions that: (a) the Assignor remains liable for the full and due performance by the Assignee, and by Assignee's successors and assigns, of all terms, obligations, covenants and agreements under the Lease; and (b) no further assignment of the Lease shall hereafter be made without the prior written consent of the Landlord.

7. Nothing in this Assignment shall be deemed to authorize any assignment or other transfer in whole or in part of the interest of Assignee in violation of any provisions of the Lease.

8. This Assignment shall be binding upon and shall inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their successors and permitted assigns.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties have executed this Assignment and Assumption of Lease as of the date first written.

FORM 23.15 Lessor's consent to sublease--nondisturbance agreement to protect subleasehold interest

COMMENT

Most primary leases require the consent of the Lessor prior to a sublease of a portion of the space leased by the sublessor under the terms of the primary lease. This form can be used to document that consent. However, the mere consent of the lessor to the sublease does not fully protect the sublessee from a possible loss of its subleasehold interest because if the primary lease is terminated, the sublease itself terminates by operation of law.

In this form, the lessor is asked to accept the sublessee as its tenant for a period equal to the unelapsed portion of the term of the sublease, in the event the primary lease is terminated because of a default by the sublessor or in the event the sublessor voluntarily surrenders and cancels the primary lease. This lease provides that as long as the sublessee is not in default under the terms of its sublease at the time of such termination or cancellation of the primary lease, the lessor will accept the sublessee as its tenant, and in return the sublessee will agree to recognize the lessor as its lessor for the balance of the term of the lease. The form goes on to further clarify that in the event the termination is due to fire or other casualty or taking by eminent domain, causes beyond the control of the parties, the primary lease will terminate under those circumstances.

Consent of Lessor

For One Dollar ($1.00) and other valuable consideration the receipt and sufficiency of which is hereby acknowledged, _____ ("Lessor"), as Sublessor's landlord under the primary lease dated [date], for the premises known as _____, hereby consents to the Sublease Agreement ("Sublease") to which this Consent is attached between _____ ("Sublessor") and _____ ("Sublessee"), provided however that this Consent shall not be deemed to be a release of Sublessor from all or any part of Sublessor's obligations under the primary lease with Lessor, nor shall it be deemed to be a waiver in the future of the requirement that Sublessor obtain the prior written consent of Lessor to any assignment or sublease as provided in Sublessor's primary lease with Lessor.

In the event of (i) the termination of the primary lease caused by the default thereunder by Sublessor, or (ii) the voluntary surrender and cancellation of the primary lease by Lessor and Sublessor, Lessor agrees to accept Sublessee as its tenant for a period equal to the full and unelapsed portion of the terms of the Sublease to Sublessee, and upon the same covenants and conditions as are contained in the Sublease, provided Sublessee is not in default of the terms of the Sublease at the time of such termination or cancellation of the primary lease. In consideration thereof, Sublessee shall make full and complete attornment to Lessor for the balance of the term of the Sublease to establish direct privity of estate and contract between Lessor and Sublessee and with the same force and effect as though the Sublease was originally made directly from the Lessor to the Sublessee. Thereafter, provided the primary lease to Sublessor has been terminated or cancelled, Sublessee shall make all rental payments directly to Lessor. It is understood by the parties hereto that this paragraph shall not apply to termination of the primary lease by reason of fire or other casualty or eminent domain pursuant to the terms of the primary lease.

Lessor further agrees to and does hereby waive any right of recovery against Sublessee for loss, damage or destruction of the Demised Premises or building in which the Demised Premises is located resulting from perils ordinarily covered by standard fire insurance policies with extended coverage and vandalism and malicious mischief endorsements, notwithstanding that the damage may be due to the negligent acts or omission of Sublessee, Sublessee's agents or employees. Lessor agrees to acknowledge that the insurance will not be invalidated should the insured waive in writing prior to a loss any or all right of recovery against any party for loss occurring to Lessor's property.

FORM 23.16 Third party lease guaranty agreement

COMMENT

Lease guaranties:

A lease guaranty agreement is an agreement by a third-party to be liable for rent payments and the performance of the tenant's obligations under a lease agreement. The landlord may require such a guaranty before signing a lease with a tenant whose financial situation is uncertain. Such assurances might be necessary if the tenant is starting a new business, engages in a highly speculative business, has insufficient capital to provide a security deposit, or has a poor credit record. The guaranty protects the landlord from the consequences of a tenant default, and enables such a tenant to enter into a lease. Additionally, the guarantor may benefit from the tenant's ability to lease the premises if the guarantor is a partner in a tenant partnership, an officer or director of a tenant corporation, a member in a limited liability company, a franchisor of a tenant franchisee, or otherwise related to the tenant's business.

Conditional or absolute guaranty:

This form is an example of an absolute guaranty. Under the agreement, upon the tenant's default, the landlord may proceed directly against the guarantor without being obligated to proceed against the tenant first. In a conditional guaranty, the landlord is required to exhaust its remedies against the tenant before the landlord can proceed against the guarantor. Sometimes, the agreement provides that the guaranty is subject to certain conditions other than the tenant's default, and those conditions must be met before the landlord may proceed against the guarantor.

The guaranty also contains a confession of judgment clause (Paragraph 10.) which would allow the landlord to obtain a default judgment against the guarantor if there is a lease default. Such a clause may or may not be statutorily permitted depending on the applicable state law.

Scope and duration of guaranty:

A guaranty agreement may limit the scope of the guaranty, usually to a specified dollar amount. The agreement also may limit the duration of the guaranty to a specified period of time. For example, the guaranty may terminate after the first several years of the lease provided the tenant has consistently paid its rent and there are no defaults under the terms of the lease. The agreement set forth in this form is not limited as to its scope or duration.

FORM

GUARANTY AGREEMENT

This Guaranty is made as of this _____ day of _____, [date] by _____ ("Guarantor"), to _____ Associates, a State of _____ limited partnership ("Landlord").

WITNESSETH:

Guarantor has requested Landlord to enter into a certain Lease Agreement dated [date], (hereinafter, together with any modifications, amendments, extensions, riders, and renewals, referred to as the "Lease") with _____, Inc., a corporation incorporated under the laws of the State of _____, as the Tenant ("Tenant"), covering the space as set forth in Section _____ of the Lease, and defined as the "premises" in the Lease.

To induce Landlord to enter into the Lease, the Guarantor hereby agrees to guarantee, as hereinafter provided, the performance by Tenant of all of the terms, covenants, conditions, obligations, and agreements (collectively the "Covenants") contained in the Lease on the part of Tenant to be performed thereunder.

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the making of the Lease and other good and valuable consideration, including the undertakings herein contained, the Guarantor hereby agrees as follows, intending to be legally bound hereby:

1. Definitions. Unless specifically defined in this Guaranty Agreement or the context clearly requires a different meaning, the capitalized words and phrases used in this Guaranty Agreement have the same meanings ascribed to them in the Lease.

2. Guaranty of Lease. Guarantor unconditionally and absolutely, jointly and severally, guarantees to Landlord the prompt payment, when due, of the rents and any and all other charges payable under the Lease and the full and faithful performance and observance of any and all Covenants contained in the Lease, including, without limitation, the rules and regulations as therein provided, on the part of Tenant to be performed and observed. Guarantor unconditionally and absolutely covenants to Landlord that, if Tenant shall default at any time in the Covenants to pay rent or any other charge stipulated in the Lease or in the performance of any of the other Covenants contained in the Lease on Tenant's part to be performed, Guarantor will well and truly perform such Covenants, and pay the rent or other charges or arrears thereof that may remain due thereon to Landlord, and also all damages stipulated in the Lease. Guarantor shall pay to Landlord, on demand, all expenses (including reasonable expenses for attorneys' fees and reasonable charges of every kind) incidental to, or relating to, the enforcement of this Guaranty Agreement. If the Lease is renewed or its term extended, for any period beyond the original expiration date specified in the Lease, either pursuant to any option to renew granted under the Lease or otherwise at any time, or if the Tenant holds over beyond the term of the Lease, or if the Lease is modified in any way, the obligations hereunder of Guarantor shall extend and apply with respect to the full performance and observance of all of the covenants, terms, and conditions of the Lease, as existing, extended, renewed or modified and of any such amendment thereof.

3. No Discharge of Guaranty. The liability of any Guarantor hereunder shall not be impaired, released, terminated or discharged, in whole or in part, by any of the following, notwithstanding that the same are made with or without notice to the Guarantor:

- (a) any amendment or modification of the provisions of the Lease; or
- (b) any extensions of time for performance, whether in whole or in part, of the covenants of Tenant under the Lease given prior to or after default thereunder; or
- (c) any other Guaranty now or hereafter executed by any Guarantor or any other person; or
- (d) any waiver of, assertion or enforcement of, or failure or refusal to assert or enforce, in whole or in part, any covenants, claims, causes of action, or remedies that Landlord may, at any time, have under the Lease or with respect to any guaranty or any security that Landlord may hold, at any time, for or under the Lease or with respect to Tenant; or
- (e) any act, thing, omission or delay to do any act or thing that may, in any manner, or to any extent, vary the risk of Guarantor or that would otherwise operate as a discharge of any Guarantor as a matter of law; or
- (f) the failure to give any Guarantor any notice whatsoever; or
- (g) the release of any security, Guaranty, or any rights, power, or privileges Landlord may now or hereafter have against any persons, entity, or collateral; or
- (h) any transfer by Tenant or any assignment of Tenant's interest under the Lease, whether or not with Landlord's consent; or
- (i) the invalidity of the Lease for any reason whatsoever.

In the event that any agreement or stipulation between Landlord and Tenant shall extend the time of performance or modify any covenants of the Lease on the part of Tenant to be performed, Guarantor shall continue to be liable upon this Guaranty.

4. Demand Not Required. To charge any Guarantor under this Guaranty, no demand shall be required nor shall there be required any notice of any default in any of the covenants of the Lease on the part of Tenant to be performed or of the same as affected by any agreement or stipulation extending the time of performance or modifying the covenants of the Lease. Guarantor hereby expressly waives any such demand or notice. Landlord shall have the unlimited right to enforce this Guaranty without pursuing any rights or remedies of Landlord against Tenant, or any other party, of any security Landlord may hold, it being intended that immediately upon any breach or default by Tenant in the performance or observance of any covenant of the Lease, Landlord may enforce its rights directly against any Guarantor under this Guaranty. Landlord may commence any action or proceeding based upon this Guaranty directly against Guarantor for the full performance of the Lease without making Tenant, any other guarantors, or any other person a party defendant in such action or proceeding. Any one or more successive or concurrent actions may be brought on this Guaranty against any Guarantor either by the same action, if any, brought against Tenant and/or any other party or in separate actions, as often as Landlord, in its sole discretion, may deem advisable.

5. Waivers. The Guarantor hereby expressly waives and releases the following: (i) notice of the acceptance of this Guaranty and notice of any change in Tenant's financial condition; (ii) the right to interpose all substantive and procedural defenses of the law of guaranty, indemnification, and suretyship, except the defenses of prior payment or prior performance by Tenant (of the obligations which Guarantor is called upon to pay or perform under this Guaranty) or that there is no obligation on the part of Tenant with respect to the matter or matters claimed to be in default; (iii) all rights and remedies afforded by applicable law to Guarantor or sureties, including, without limitation, any extensions of time conferred by any law now or hereafter in effect; (iv) the right to interpose any defense (except as allowed under (ii) above), set-off, or counterclaim of any nature or description in any action or proceeding; (v) any right or claim of rights to cause a marshaling of Tenant's assets or to cause Landlord to proceed against Tenant or any collateral held by Tenant at any time or in any particular order; (vi) any right against Tenant for reimbursement or contribution because of any payment made by Guarantor under this Guaranty Agreement; and (vii) any defense based upon the invalidity of the Lease.

6. No Impairment of Obligation. Neither Guarantor's obligations to make payment in accordance with the term of this Guaranty nor any remedy for the enforcement thereof, shall be impaired, modified, changed, stayed, released, or limited in any manner whatsoever by impairment, modification, change, release, limitation or stay of the liability of Tenant or its estate in bankruptcy or any remedy for the enforcement thereof, resulting from the operation of any present or future provision of the Bankruptcy Act of the United States or other statutes, or from the decision of any court interpreting any of the same, and each Guarantor shall be obligated under this Guaranty as if no such impairment, stay, modification, change, release, or limitation had occurred.

7. Subrogation Rights. Whenever at any time or from time to time Guarantor makes any payment to Landlord or performs or fulfills any covenant, Guarantor will notify Landlord in writing that such payment or performance, as the case may be, is for such purpose. No such payment or performance by Guarantor pursuant to any provision hereof shall entitle Guarantor, by subrogation or otherwise, to the rights of Landlord to any payment by Tenant or out of the property of Tenant, except after payment of all sums or fulfillment of all covenants, terms, conditions, provisions or agreements to be paid or performed by Tenant.

8. Estoppel Certificate. Guarantor will, at any time and from time to time, within ten (10) business days following written request by Landlord, execute, acknowledge and deliver to Landlord a statement certifying that this Guaranty is unmodified and in full force and effect (or if there have been modifications, that the same is in full force and effect as modified and stating such modifications). Such certificate may be relied on by anyone holding or proposing to acquire any interest in the premises from or through Landlord or by any mortgagee or prospective mortgagee of the premises or of any interest therein.

9. Binding Effect. All of Landlord's rights and remedies under this Guaranty are intended to be distinct, separate and cumulative and no right or remedy mentioned herein is intended to be an exclusion of or a waiver of any of the others. This Guaranty shall be binding upon Guarantor and Guarantor's heirs, personal representatives and assigns.

10. Confessions of Judgment. Guarantor authorizes any attorney at law at any time or times to appear in any state or federal court of record in the United States of America after the amount guaranteed hereunder or any part thereof shall have become due and payable (whether the payment becomes due by lapse of time or by acceleration of maturity or otherwise), and in each case to waive the issuance and service of process, to admit the maturity of the debt in question and the nonpayment thereof when due, to present evidence of the debt in question or any part thereof to the court and to certify the amount of the debt then owing thereon, to confess judgment against Guarantor and each of them in favor of the Landlord for the amount of the debt then appearing due, together with interest and costs of suit, and thereupon to release all errors and waive all rights of appeal and stay of execution. The foregoing warrant of attorney shall survive any judgment, and should any judgment be vacated for any reason, the Landlord may nevertheless utilize the foregoing warrant of attorney in thereafter obtaining additional judgment or judgments against Guarantor.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, this Guaranty is executed this _____ day of _____ [date].

WARNING -- BY SIGNING THIS PAPER YOU GIVE UP YOUR RIGHT TO NOTICE AND COURT TRIAL. IF YOU DO NOT PAY ON TIME, A COURT JUDGMENT MAY BE TAKEN AGAINST YOU WITHOUT YOUR PRIOR KNOWLEDGE AND THE POWERS OF A COURT CAN BE USED TO COLLECT FROM YOU REGARDLESS OF ANY CLAIMS YOU MAY HAVE AGAINST THE CREDITOR WHETHER FOR RETURNED GOODS, FAULTY GOODS, FAILURE ON THE CREDITOR'S PART TO COMPLY WITH THE AGREEMENT, OR ANY OTHER CAUSE.

FORM 23.17 Cell Tower Lease with Option

COMMENT

This is a form of lease used for a free standing cell tower to be constructed on a parcel of land located in a portion of a state university campus athletic field. It is set up as a 12-month option to lease so that during the 12-month option, the carrier can verify the suitability of the property for the cell tower, and to allow it to see if all permits and licenses can be obtained to construct the cell tower and operate it.

Telecommunications providers want to offer television, telephone and high speed internet services in offices and homes. In general, real estate developers need to consider a lot of issues in connection with these installations, including safety, aesthetics, consumer choice, carrier reliability and general engineering concepts.

There has been a proliferation of wireless telecommunications sites appearing on water tanks, roof tops, ridges and fields. If cell tower equipment is to be located in a field, it will usually be mounted on a tower, as in this lease. Unlike more traditional utilities which utilize eminent domain to acquire property to install its equipment, wireless telecommunications infrastructure has occurred in the free market through negotiated use and access agreements. These are usually in the form of leases, easements, or licenses between a landowner and the telecommunications company. In this form, the land on which the ground equipment and cell tower are to be located is leased from the landowner.

Most carriers have their own forms of lease written to the advantage of the carrier. If you represent the owner, you must check the form lease of the carrier to make sure that the cell tower will not interfere with other telecommunication facilities of the owner, or the operations of the owner, that the agreement covers the hazardous materials obligations of the carrier, that the lease does not restrict the owners from locating other carriers on the owner's property, that adequate rent is paid throughout the term of the lease, that there is a requirement to restore the property upon termination, including removal of all or portions of the concrete foundations supporting the tower. In addition, the usual protective provisions for the landlord such as indemnities, insurance coverage requirements and subordination clauses should be included. A security deposit should be considered to back up the lease obligations of the tenant, especially if there are extensive obligations imposed on the carrier to remove its installations, including foundations and to restore the site upon the expiration or termination of the lease.

FORM

SITE LEASE WITH OPTION

THIS SITE LEASE WITH OPTION (this "Lease") is by and between _____ ("Landlord") and _____ ("Tenant").

1. Option to Lease.

(a) In consideration of the payment of one thousand and no/100 dollars ($1,000.00) (the "Option Fee") by Tenant to Landlord, Landlord hereby grants to Tenant an option to lease a portion of the real property described in the attached Exhibit A (the "Property"), on the terms and conditions set forth herein (the "Option"). The portion of the Property to be leased shall be referred to as the "Premises" as more fully described in Section 1(c), below. The Option shall be for an initial term of twelve (12) months, commencing on the Effective Date (as defined below) (the "Option Period").

(b) During the Option Period and during the term of this Lease, Landlord agrees to cooperate with Tenant in obtaining, at Tenant's expense, all licenses and permits or authorizations required for Tenant's use of the Premises (as defined below) from all applicable government and/or regulatory entities (including, without limitation, zoning and land use authorities, and the Federal Communication Commission ("FCC") ("Governmental Approvals"), including all land use and zoning permit applications, and Landlord agrees to cooperate with and to allow Tenant, at no cost to Landlord, to obtain a title report, zoning approvals and variances and land-use permits. Landlord expressly grants to Tenant a right of access to the Property to perform any surveys, soil tests, and other engineering procedures or environmental investigations ("Tests") on the Property deemed necessary to determine that Tenant's use of the Property will be compatible with Tenant's engineering specifications, system design, operations and Government Approvals. Tenant may not change the zoning classification of the Property without first obtaining the Landlord's written consent. During the Option Period, Landlord agrees that it will not interfere with Tenant's efforts to secure other licenses and permits or authorizations that relate to other property. During the Option Period, Tenant may exercise the Option by so notifying Landlord in writing, at Landlord's address in accordance with Section 12 hereof. During the Option Period, Tenant agrees to and does hereby indemnify, defend and hold harmless Landlord from any claims, actions, liabilities or expenses arising from the exercising of any of the rights set forth herein relating to the Tests or other work to be done by Tenant, its agents and employees. In addition, Tenant shall repair and restore the Property to the condition it was in prior to any such Tests or other procedures. Prior to any entry on to the Property, Tenant shall provide to Landlord proof of the insurance required by the terms of Section 11(a), below.

(c) If Tenant exercises the Option, then, subject to the following terms and conditions, Landlord hereby leases to Tenant that portion of the Property sufficient for placement of the Antenna Facilities (as defined below), together with all necessary space and easements for access and utilities, as described and depicted in the attached Exhibit B (collectively referred to hereinafter as the "Premises"). The Premises, located at _____, comprises approximately _____ square feet.

2. Term. The initial term of this Lease shall be five (5) years commencing on the date of exercise of the Option (the "Commencement Date"), and terminating at midnight on the day preceding the fifth anniversary of the date of exercise of the Option ("Initial Term").

3. A. Permitted Use. The Premises may be used by Tenant only for the transmission and reception of radio communication signals and for the construction, installation, operation, maintenance, repair, removal or replacement of related facilities, including, tower and base, antennas, microwave dishes, equipment shelters and/or cabinets and related activities, as approved by Landlord.

3. B. Compliance with Laws. Tenant shall fully comply with all applicable laws, statutes, ordinances, rules and regulations pertaining to Tenant's operation at the Property, the improvements constructed, used or maintained by Tenant at the Property, or Tenant's use and occupancy of the Property including without limitation those of the Federal Aviation Administration and the Federal Communications Commission.

4. Rent. Tenant shall pay Landlord, as rent, two thousand and no/100 dollars ($2,000.00) per month ("Rent"). Rent shall be payable within twenty (20) days following the Commencement Date prorated for the remainder of the month in which the Commencement Date falls, and thereafter Rent will be payable monthly in advance by the fifth day of each month to Landlord at the address specified in Section 12 below. If this Lease is terminated at a time other than on the last day of a month, Rent shall be prorated as of the date of termination, subject to the provisions of Section 8 hereof. All rent shall be paid to Landlord at _____, or to such other address as Tenant is notified in writing. All rent not received by the tenth (10[th]) day of the month shall be subject to a late penalty of two percent (2%) of the amount past due, and shall be payable upon demand. If a payment is mailed it shall not be subject to a late penalty if postmarked prior to the 5[th] day of the month.

5. Renewal. Provided Tenant is not in default under the terms of this Lease, Tenant shall have the right to extend this Lease for four (4) successive five-year terms (each a "Renewal Term") on the same terms and conditions as set forth herein, except that Rent shall be increased by fifteen percent (15%) of the Rent paid over the preceding term. Provided Tenant is not in default under the terms of this Lease, this Lease shall automatically renew for each successive Renewal Term unless Tenant notifies Landlord, in writing, of Tenant's intention not to renew this Lease, at least ninety (90) days prior to the expiration of the Initial Term or either of the Renewal Terms. If Tenant shall remain in possession of the Premises at the expiration of this Lease or any Renewal Term without a written agreement, such tenancy shall be deemed a month-to-month tenancy under the same terms and conditions of this Lease.

6. Interference. Tenant shall not use the Premises in any way which interferes with the use of the Property by Landlord or reception or transmissions of Landlord, or lessees or licensees of Landlord with rights in the Property prior in time to Tenant's use. Similarly, Landlord shall not use, nor shall Landlord permit its lessees, licensees, employees, invitees or agents to use, any portion of the Property in any way which interferes with the operations of Tenant; provided, however, that nothing herein shall be construed to mean that Landlord cannot continue to use its Property in the same manner in which it has been using such Property. Such interference shall be deemed a material breach by the interfering party, who shall, upon written notice from the other, be responsible for terminating said interference. In the event any such interference does not cease within thirty (30) days after written notification or in the case of objectionable interference to the reception or transmissions of Landlord, within twenty-four (24) hours after notification of such interference, the interfering party shall be required to (1) cease operation until interference can be corrected to the satisfaction of the injured party (except for test transmissions of minimal duration made in coordination with all parties involved; or (2) be terminated upon receiving written notice from the other party. All parties acknowledge that continuing interference may cause irreparable injury and, therefore, the injured party shall have the right, in addition to any other rights that it may have at law or in equity, to bring a court action to enjoin such interference or to terminate this Lease immediately upon written notice, subject to the provisions of Section 8 hereof if applicable.

7. Improvements; Utilities; Access.

(a) Tenant shall have the right, at its expense, to erect and maintain on the Premises improvements, personal property and facilities necessary to operate its communications system, including, without limitation, radio transmitting and receiving antennas, microwave dishes, tower and base, equipment shelters and/or cabinets and related cables and utility lines and a location based system, as such location based system may be required by any county, state or federal agency/department, and including, without limitation, additional antenna(s), coaxial cable, base units and other associated equipment (collectively, the "Antenna Facilities"). All such improvements are to be made on the basis of drawings approved by the Landlord and referenced in "Exhibit B" hereto. At all times, Exhibit B will reflect a true and accurate description of the site. Prior to construction of Antenna Facilities, Tenant shall provide construction plans for review by Landlord, who shall review and approve or reject said construction plans within fifteen (15) business days of Landlord's receipt of plans. Tenant shall have the right to alter, replace, expand, enhance and upgrade the Antenna Facilities at any time during the term of this Lease upon Landlord's written approval, which will not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed. Tenant shall cause all construction to occur lien-free and in compliance with all applicable laws and ordinances. The Antenna Facilities shall remain the exclusive property of Tenant and shall not be considered fixtures. Tenant shall remove the Antenna Facilities, including concrete footings to three (3) feet below grade, upon the expiration or termination of this Lease at Tenant's own cost.

Upon the termination of the Lease, and in addition to removing the tower and applicable portion of the foundation of Tenant's pole and tower, Tenant agrees to promptly reinstall the pole and lights of Landlord which were removed in connection with the installation of the Antenna Facilities by Tenant. Tenant agrees to do such work in accordance with all applicable laws and to the reasonable satisfaction of Landlord. To ensure that the Premises and Property are properly surrendered upon the termination of this Lease, upon the execution of Tenant's option to lease the Premises, Tenant agrees to deposit with Landlord a security deposit in the amount of three (3) months' rent as security for the performance of such obligations and any other obligations under this Lease. In the event the Premises and the Property are properly surrendered to the reasonable satisfaction of Landlord, such security deposit shall be promptly released to Tenant.

(b) Tenant shall, at Tenant's expense, keep and maintain the Antenna Facilities now or hereafter located on the Property in commercially reasonable condition and repair during the term of this Lease and in compliance with all applicable laws, normal wear and tear and casualty excepted. Upon termination or expiration of this Lease, the Premises shall be returned to Landlord in good, usable condition and as required by Section 7(a), above, normal wear and tear and casualty excepted.

(c) Subject to Landlord's prior written notice and prior approval of Tenant's plans which shall be approved or rejected within fifteen (15) business days of receipt of the plans, Tenant shall have the right to install utilities, at Tenant's expense, and to improve the present utilities on the Property. (including, but not limited to, the installation of emergency power generators. Landlord agrees to use reasonable efforts in assisting Tenant to acquire necessary utility service. Tenant shall install separate meters for utilities used on the Property by Tenant.

(d) As partial consideration for Rent paid under this Lease, Landlord hereby grants Tenant a License in, under and across the Property for ingress, egress, utilities and access (including access for the purposes described in Section 1) to the Premises adequate to install and maintain utilities, including but not limited to, the installation of power and telephone service cable, and to service the Premises and the Antenna Facilities at all times during the Initial Term of this Lease and any Renewal Term (collectively, the "License"). The License provided hereunder shall have the same term as this Lease.

(e) Subject to the limits hereafter set forth, Tenant shall have 24-hours-a-day, 7-days-a-week right to access to the Premises at all times during the Initial Term of this Lease and any Renewal Term, provided Tenant gives Landlord forty-eight (48) hours notice prior to entry on the Premises in non-emergency situations except for routine maintenance. Upon the occurrence of an emergency, Tenant shall give Landlord notice of entry as soon as practicable and reasonable under the circumstances. Tenant acknowledges that the Premises being leased is located on the Property which has limited access because it is in an athletic field that is fenced in. Therefore, any access to the Premises, whether under emergency circumstances or otherwise, shall be in accordance with the rules and regulations and policies of the Landlord regarding access to such Property. Initially, such regulation shall require access by obtaining the access key for the policeman on duty at the Landlord's police station, after proper identification is given to the policeman, after which the key must be promptly returned to the police station.

(f) Where applicable, Tenant shall maintain and repair all access roadways from the nearest public roadway to the Premises in a manner sufficient to allow vehicular and pedestrian access at all times, at its sole expense, except for any damage to such roadways caused by Landlord.

8. Termination. Except as otherwise provided herein, this Lease may be terminated as follows:

(a) upon thirty (30) days' written notice by Landlord if Tenant fails to cure a default for payment of amounts due under this Lease within such thirty (30) day period;

(b) immediately upon written notice by Tenant if Tenant notifies Landlord of any unacceptable results of any Tests prior to Tenant's installation of the Antenna Facilities on the Premises, or if Tenant does not obtain, maintain, or otherwise forfeits or cancels any license (including, without limitation, an FCC license), permit or any Governmental Approval necessary to the installation and/or operation of the Antenna Facilities or Tenant's business;

(c) upon thirty (30) days' written notice by Tenant if Tenant determines that the Property, or the Antenna Facilities are inappropriate or unnecessary for Tenant's operations for economic or technological reasons, provided Tenant pays Landlord three (3) months' rent at the time such notice is given, and pays all rent through the date of termination;

(d) immediately upon written notice by Tenant if the Premises or the Antenna Facilities are destroyed or damaged so as in Tenant's reasonable judgment to substantially and adversely affect the effective use of the Antenna Facilities. In such event, all rights and obligations of the parties shall cease as of the date of the damage or destruction;

(e) at the time title to the Property transfers to a condemning authority, pursuant to a taking of all or a portion of the Property sufficient in Tenant's determination to render the Premises unsuitable for Tenant's use. Landlord and Tenant shall each be entitled to pursue their own separate awards with respect to such taking but Landlord shall have the right to the entire amount of the award attributable to the real property. Sale of all or part of the Property to a purchaser with the power of eminent domain in the face of the exercise of the power shall be treated as a taking by condemnation;

(f) immediately upon written notice by either party as set forth in Section 6 hereof; or

(g) Upon one (1) years' notice from Landlord to Tenant, in the event of redevelopment of all or a portion of the Property by Landlord; provided, however, that if a termination of the Lease due to redevelopment occurs sooner than the tenth (10th) year of the Lease term, then Landlord agrees to reimburse Tenant for a portion of its expenditures with respect to the Antenna Facilities, provided such expenditures can be substantiated to Landlord. Such reimbursement shall be in proportion to the amount of time remaining during the aforesaid 10-year period. For example, if the term of the Lease has been in effect for eight (8) years at the time of the termination, and there are two (2) years remaining of that 10-year period, then two-tenths (2/10ths) of the amount of such expenditures shall be reimbursed to Tenant.

9. Default and Right to Cure. Notwithstanding anything contained herein to the contrary and without waiving any other rights granted to it at law or in equity, each party shall have the right, but not the obligation, to terminate this Lease on written notice pursuant to Section 12 hereof, to take effect immediately, if the other party fails to perform any covenant or commits a breach of this Lease and fails to diligently pursue a cure thereof to its completion after thirty (30) days' written notice specifying such failure of performance or default.

10. Taxes. (Section must be reviewed in light of Landlord's status as instrumentality of the State of Ohio) Landlord shall pay when due all real property taxes for the Property, including the Premises. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Tenant shall pay any personal property tax, real property tax or any other tax or fee which is directly attributable to the presence or installation of Tenant's Antenna Facilities, only for so long as this Lease has not expired of its own terms or is not terminated by either party. If Landlord receives notice of any personal property or real property tax assessment against Landlord, which may affect Tenant and is directly attributable to Tenant's installation, Landlord shall provide timely notice of the assessment to Tenant sufficient to allow Tenant to consent to or challenge such assessment, whether in a Court, administrative proceeding, or other venue. Further, Landlord shall provide to Tenant any and all documentation associated with the assessment and shall execute any and all documents reasonably necessary to effectuate the intent of this Section 10.

11. Insurance and Subrogation and Indemnification.

(a) Tenant will maintain Commercial General Liability Insurance in amounts of One Million and no/100 Dollars ($1,000,000.00) per occurrence and Two Million and no/100 Dollars ($2,000,000.00) aggregate which shall remain in full force and effect immediately upon the execution hereof and throughout the entire term of this Lease and until all equipment and structures of Tenant have been removed. Tenant may satisfy this requirement by obtaining the appropriate endorsement to any master policy of liability insurance Tenant may maintain. Landlord will be named as an additional insured on such policy. Proof of such insurance shall be provided to Landlord upon the execution hereof and upon request thereafter.

(b) Tenant releases Landlord, and its successors or assigns, from liability and waives all rights of recovery against Landlord for any loss or damage whether covered by its first party property insurance or not. Tenant's insurance policy shall contain a waiver of subrogation in Landlord's favor.

(c) Tenant agrees to and does hereby indemnify, defend and hold harmless Landlord from and against any and all claims, damages, costs and expenses, including reasonable attorney fees, to the extent caused by or arising out of the negligent acts or omissions or willful misconduct in the operations or activities on the Property by the Tenant or the employees, agents, contractors, licensees, tenants and/or subtenants of Tenant, or a breach of any obligation of Tenant under this Lease. The Tenant's obligations under this section are contingent upon its receiving written notice of any event giving rise to an obligation to Landlord within a reasonable period of time from the time Landlord learns of such matters.

(d) Landlord, to the fullest extent permitted by State of Ohio Law and decisions thereunder, shall be responsible for any and all personal injury and property damage (excluding attorney's fees) which is attributable to the negligent actions or omissions of Landlord, or its trustees, officers or employees while acting within the scope of their employment in relation to this Lease as set forth in Ohio Revised Code Section 2743.02. Landlord and Tenant hereby agree that nothing in this provision shall be construed or interpreted as a waiver of the sovereign immunity of Landlord or the State of Ohio beyond the waiver provided in Ohio Revised Code Section 2743.02.

(e) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Lease, the parties hereby confirm that the provisions of this Section 11 shall survive the expiration or termination of this Lease.

(f) Tenant shall not be responsible to Landlord, or any third-party, for any claims, costs or damages (including fines and penalties) attributable to any pre-existing violations of applicable codes, statutes or other regulations governing the Property.

(g) Tenant agrees that the Antenna Facilities and all other fixtures and equipment and personal property belonging to Tenant and located in or about the Premises shall be at the sole risk of Tenant, and Landlord shall not be liable for the theft or misappropriation thereof, nor for any damage or injury thereto, nor for any damage or injury to Tenant, its agents, employees and licensees or invitees, or to any other persons or to any property caused by fire, explosion, wind, water, rain, snow, frost, steam, gas, electricity, any Acts of God, heat or cold, or by any act or neglect of any other tenant or any person, it being the obligation of Tenant to insure its personal property and Antenna Facilities.

12. Notices. All notices, requests, demands and other communications shall be in writing and are effective three (3) days after deposit in the U.S. mail, certified and postage paid, or upon receipt if personally delivered or sent by next-business-day delivery via a nationally recognized overnight courier to the addresses set forth below. Landlord or Tenant may from time to time designate any other address for this purpose by providing written notice to the other party.

13. Quiet Enjoyment, Title and Authority. Landlord covenants and warrants to Tenant that (i) Landlord has full right, power and authority to execute this Lease; (ii) it has good and unencumbered title to the Property free and clear of any liens or mortgages, except those disclosed to Tenant and which will not interfere with Tenant's rights to or use of the Premises; and (iii) execution and performance of this Lease will not violate any laws, ordinances, covenants, or the provisions of any mortgage, lease, or other agreement binding on Landlord; provided, however, that nothing herein shall be deemed to be a representation that the Property and Premises are suitable for Tenant's purposes or that the Property is properly zoned to allow such use, the same being the obligation of the Tenant to determine. Landlord covenants that at all times during the term of this Lease, Tenant's quiet enjoyment of the Premises or any part thereof shall not be disturbed as long as Tenant is not in default beyond any applicable grace or cure period.

14. Environmental Laws. Landlord represents that it has no knowledge of any substance, chemical or waste (collectively, "Hazardous Substance") on the Property that is identified as hazardous, toxic or dangerous in any applicable federal, state or local law or regulation. Landlord and Tenant shall not introduce or use any Hazardous Substance on the Property in violation of any applicable law. Landlord shall be responsible for, and shall promptly conduct any investigation and remediation as required by any applicable environmental laws, all spills or other releases of any Hazardous Substance not caused solely by Tenant, that have occurred or which may occur on the Property. Tenant shall not cause or permit any Hazardous Substance to be brought upon, stored, used, generated, released into the environment, or disposed of on, under, from or about the Property (which includes but is not limited to subsurface soil and ground water) by Tenant, its agents, employees, contractors or representatives. Tenant shall be responsible for, and shall promptly conduct any investigation and remediation as required by any applicable environmental laws, all spills or other releases of any Hazardous Substance not caused solely by Landlord, that have occurred or may occur on or above the Property. Tenant agrees to defend, indemnify and hold harmless Landlord from and against any and all administrative and judicial actions and rulings, claims, causes of action, demands and liability (collectively, "Claims") including, but not limited to, damages, costs, expenses, assessments, penalties, fines, losses, judgments and reasonable attorney fees that the Landlord may suffer or incur due to the existence or discovery of any Hazardous Substances on the Property or the migration of any Hazardous Substance to other properties or the release of any Hazardous Substance into the environment (collectively, "Actions"), that relate to or arise from the Tenant's activities on the Property. Landlord, to the extent permitted by State of Ohio law and decisions thereunder, shall be responsible for Claims and Actions (excluding attorney's fees) arising under this Lease attributable to the negligent actions or omissions of Landlord, its trustees, officers or employees while acting within the scope of their employment, as set forth in Ohio Revised Code Section 2743.02. Landlord and Tenant hereby agree that nothing in this provision shall be construed or interpreted as a waiver of the sovereign immunity of Landlord or the State of Ohio beyond the waiver provided in Ohio Revised Code Section 2743.02. The liabilities in this section specifically include, without limitation, costs incurred in connection with any investigation of site conditions or any cleanup, remedial, removal or restoration work required by any governmental authority. This Section 14 shall survive the termination or expiration of this Lease.

15. Assignment and Subleasing. Tenant shall have the right to assign or otherwise transfer this Lease and the License (as defined above) to any person or business entity which is FCC-licensed to operate a wireless communications business, is a parent, subsidiary or affiliate of Tenant, is merged or consolidated with Tenant, or purchases more than fifty percent (50%) of either an ownership interest in Tenant or the assets of Tenant in the "Metropolitan Trading Area" or "Basic Trading Area" (as those terms are defined by the FCC) in which the Property is located provided that the assignee has a net credit worth either greater than or equal to Tenant. Tenant shall obtain such documents as shall be needed to substantiate to Landlord the net credit worth of the proposed assignee and shall provide the same to Landlord. In addition, Tenant shall provide the full name and address of the proposed assignee, and the legal identification of the proposed assignee. Provided each of the aforesaid are provided to Landlord and are satisfactory to Landlord, upon such assignment Tenant shall be relieved of all future liabilities and obligations under the Lease accruing on and after the effective date of such assignment, and Landlord shall look solely to the assignee for performance under this Lease with respect to all such future obligations and liabilities.

Tenant may otherwise assign this Lease upon written approval of Landlord, which approval shall not be unreasonably delayed, withheld, conditioned or denied. In the event of such assignment, Tenant shall not be released from any liabilities or obligations under the Lease without the express prior written consent of Landlord.

Tenant may sublease space on the tower to other properly licensed telecommunications providers for collocation, provided that such sublessee first obtains and executes an acceptable separate ground lease with Landlord for its ground equipment. If such separate ground lease is not agreed to and executed by both parties, the sublease shall not be effective.

Additionally, Tenant may, upon notice to Landlord, mortgage or grant a security interest in this Lease and the Antenna Facilities, and may assign this Lease and the Antenna Facilities to any mortgagees or holders of security interests, including their successors or assigns (collectively "Mortgagees"), provided such Mortgagees agree to be bound by the terms and provisions of this Lease. In such event, Landlord shall execute such consent to financing as may reasonably be required by Mortgagees.

16. Successors and Assigns. This Lease and the Easements granted herein shall run with the land, and shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties, their respective successors, personal representatives and assigns.

17. Waiver of Landlord's Lien. As long as Tenant is not in default hereunder, Landlord hereby waives any and all lien rights it may have, statutory or otherwise, concerning the Antenna Facilities or any portion thereof, which shall be deemed personal property for the purpose of this Lease, whether or not the same is deemed real or personal property under applicable laws, and Landlord gives Tenant and Secured Parties the right to remove all or any portion of the same from time to time, whether before or after a default under this Lease, in Tenant's and/or Secured Party's sole discretion and without Landlord's consent.

18. Miscellaneous.

(a) This Lease constitutes the entire agreement and understanding of the parties, and supersedes all offers, negotiations and other agreements with respect to the subject matter and property covered by this Lease. Any amendments to this Lease must be in writing and executed by both parties.

(b) Landlord agrees to cooperate with Tenant in executing any documents necessary to protect Tenant's rights in or use of the Premises. A Memorandum of Lease in substantially the form attached hereto as Exhibit C may be recorded in place of this Lease by Tenant. In the event of a conflict between this Lease and the Memorandum of Lease, the provisions of this Lease shall govern.

(c) In the event the Property is encumbered by a mortgage or deed of trust, Landlord agrees, upon request of Tenant, to obtain and furnish to Tenant a non-disturbance and attornment agreement for each such mortgage or deed of trust, in a form reasonably acceptable to Tenant.

(d) Tenant may obtain title insurance on its interest in the Premises. Landlord agrees to execute such documents as the title company may require in connection therewith.

(e) This Lease shall be construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Ohio, without regard to the conflicts of law principles of such state.

(f) If any term of this Lease is found to be void or invalid, the remaining terms of this Lease shall continue in full force and effect. Any questions of particular interpretation shall not be interpreted against the drafter, but rather in accordance with the fair meaning thereof. No provision of this Lease will be deemed waived by either party unless expressly waived in writing by the waiving party. No waiver shall be implied by delay or any other act or omission of either party. No waiver by either party of any provision of this Lease shall be deemed a waiver of such provision with respect to any subsequent matter relating to such provision.

(g) The persons who have executed this Lease represent and warrant that they are duly authorized to execute this Lease in their individual or representative capacities as indicated.

(h) This Lease may be executed in any number of counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute a single instrument.

(i) All Exhibits referred to herein are incorporated herein for all purposes. The parties understand and acknowledge that Exhibits A and B may be attached to this Lease and the Memorandum of Lease, in preliminary form. Accordingly, the parties agree that upon the preparation of final, more complete exhibits, Exhibits A, and/or B, as the case may be, may be replaced by Tenant with such final, more complete exhibit(s).

(j) If Tenant is represented by any broker or any other leasing agent, Tenant is responsible for all commission fees or other payment to such agent, and agrees to indemnify and hold Landlord harmless from all claims by such broker or anyone claiming through such broker.

The effective date of this Lease is the date of execution by the last party to sign (the "Effective Date").

AUTHOR: by Thomas G. Belden

FORM 23.18 Traffic Camera Lease on Rooftop

COMMENT

This form of lease is for the leasing of space on the rooftop of a high rise building for the installation and use of a traffic camera, used for traffic reports made by a radio station. This form was prepared by the radio broadcast station but has been modified by the Lessor to protect the Lessor's interest. The essential factual information for the lease is set forth on the exhibits to the lease. Because of the large number of leases entered into by the Lessee for traffic cameras or other broadcasting facilities, it is easier to put the information which varied from lease to lease on an exhibit to the lease. The name, address, term of the lease and rent are set forth on Exhibit A to the lease, the description of the equipment is set forth on Exhibit B to the lease, and the legal description of the land on which the building is located is described on Exhibit C to the lease.

Section 5 of the lease makes clear that the equipment must be used in accordance with the standards imposed by the Federal Communications Commission ("FCC") and any other applicable governmental agencies. The Lessor has also made clear in Section 5.1 that the use of the rooftop is not exclusive to the Lessee because it is a large rooftop and the Lessor has the potential of leasing additional space to other companies in the telecommunications business. Section 5.2 makes clear that the Lessee cannot interfere in any way with the operation of any other existing roof top tenants in the building.

Please see the comment to Form 23.10 relating to the leasing of land for a cell tower for a discussion of other concerns a lessor should have when dealing with large national companies who provide telecommunications services, all of whom have their own form lease for such facilities. Of primary concern to the lessor in these types of leases is that the lessee carry adequate liability insurance for lessor's protection, has agreed to indemnify the lessor from any acts or omissions of the lessee in connection with the use of the rooftop and the lessee's equipment, and agrees to remove the equipment upon the termination of the lease and repair any damage to the rooftop as a result thereof.

LEASE AGREEMENT

THIS LEASE AGREEMENT (the "Lease") made as of this _____ day of _____, [date], between _____ ("LESSEE"), and _____ ("LESSOR").

RECITALS:

A. Lessor is the owner of a structure (building known as _____ (the "Building") and rooftop) (the "Structure") located on real property owned by Lessor described in Exhibit C (the "Property"), attached hereto;

B. Lessor desires to lease to Lessee and Lessee desires to lease from Lessor certain space on the Structure as more particularly described in Exhibit B of this Lease, all under the following terms and conditions.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the foregoing, and other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which is hereby acknowledged, the parties agree as follows:

1. Premises. Lessor hereby leases to Lessee:

1.1 Camera Space. Space on the Structure as described in Exhibit B (the "Camera Space").

1.2 Shelter Space. Space on the Property for the construction of Lessee's transmitter facilities, equipment cabinets, and other associated equipment as described in Exhibit B.

1.4 Utilities. The right, in common with others, to maintain such power, telephone and utility lines within the Property as may be necessary for the operation of Lessee's Equipment.

All of the foregoing shall be collectively referred to herein as the (Premises.)

2. Lessee's Equipment. The term "Lessee's Equipment" shall mean Lessee's one (1) unmanned traffic camera and other associated equipment more particularly described in Exhibit B of this Lease, and any replacement or additions permitted by this Lease.

3. Term. The Initial Term of this Lease shall commence on the "Commencement Date" described in Exhibit A, and shall end and terminate, subject to any early termination as specifically provided in this Lease, at midnight, on the final day of the Initial Term. So long as Lessee is not in material default under the terms of this Lease, Lessee shall have an option to extend the term of this Lease for the number of Extended Terms described in Exhibit A, following the Initial Term "the (Extended Term(s))". Each Extended Term option shall be exercised only by written notice from Lessee to Lessor, given no less than six (6) months prior to the expiration of the Initial Term. Lessee shall hold the Premises during the Extended Terms upon the same terms, covenants and conditions herein contained, except that the Rent (as defined in Section 4) shall be adjusted in accordance with Section 4. Collectively, the Initial Term and Extended Terms are sometimes referred to hereinafter as the "Term."

4. Rent. During the Term, Lessee shall pay as rent for the use of the Premises the Basic Rent, as defined in Section 4.1, and the Additional Rent, as defined in Section 4.2. The term "Rent" as used in this Lease shall mean, collectively, Basic Rent and Additional Rent.

4.1 Basic Rent. Lessee shall pay Lessor the basic rent set forth on Exhibit A as fixed minimum rent (herein called (Basic Rent)) for the first year of the Term; payable in equal monthly installments in advance on or before the first business day of each calendar month during the Term. The term "Lease Year" as used in this Lease shall mean each consecutive twelve (12) month period, the first of which shall commence on the first day of the month during which the Commencement Date occurs and the last of which shall end at the termination of the Lease.

4.2 Additional Rent. Lessee shall pay as additional rent (herein sometimes called "Additional Rent"), all sums of money or charges of whatsoever nature (except Basic Rent) required to be paid by Lessee to Lessor pursuant to this Lease, whether or not the same is designated specifically as Additional Rent.

4.3 Payment of Rent.

(a) Lessee covenants to pay all Rent when due and payable without any prior demand therefor whatsoever.

(b) Any Additional Rent provided for in this Lease shall become payable, unless otherwise provided herein, within ten (10) days after the date Lessor renders a statement therefor.

(c) Rent shall be paid to Lessor at the address for notices as provided in Section 29, or at such other place as Lessor may, from time to time, designate in a notice to Lessee.

(d) Any payment by Lessee or acceptance by Lessor of a lesser amount than shall be due from Lessee to Lessor shall be treated as a payment on account. No acceptance of any payment by Lessor from Lessee after termination of this Lease, or after the service of any notice or commencement of any suit shall renew, reinstate, continue or extend the Term or affect any such notice, demand or suit, unless otherwise agreed by Lessor in writing.

(e) Any Rent or other charge not paid when due shall bear interest at the rate of one and one-half percent (1 1/2 %) per month from and after Ten (10) days after its due date until paid, which interest shall be paid by Lessee as Additional Rent.

(f) All Rent shall be paid in lawful money of the United States of America.

5. Uses of Premises. The Premises is to be used solely for the installation, removal, operation, repair, and maintenance of the Lessee's Equipment as identified in Section 2, above. Operation of Lessee's Equipment shall be conducted in accordance with the standards imposed by the FCC and any other governmental body or agency as shall have jurisdiction over the installation, repair, alteration, operation, or replacement of Lessee's Equipment or with any activities of Lessee on the Premises.

5.1 Lessor shall have the right to lease space on the Structure to any other person or persons desiring to engage in any form of broadcasting and/or electromagnetic communication.

5.2 Interference. Lessor shall use all commercially reasonable efforts to ensure that other tenants on the Structure do not cause interference to the operation of Lessee's Equipment, to the extent the equipment of such other tenants was installed subsequent to the installation of Lessee's Equipment ("Objectionable Interference"). Should Objectionable Interference be experienced by Lessee, Lessee shall provide notice in writing of such Objectionable Interference to Lessor, and Lessor shall cooperate with Lessee in identifying the source of the Objectionable Interference and in causing the responsible party to take such reasonable steps necessary to eliminate the Objectionable Interference. In the event such party causing the Objectionable Interference fails to correct such problem and Lessee's broadcast continues to be materially affected within thirty (30) days of Lessee notifying Lessor of such problem, Lessee shall have the right to terminate this Lease by written notice to Lessor at any time thereafter (unless such Objectionable Interference is eliminated within the aforesaid 30-day period), at which point Lessor shall refund to Lessee any payments made by Lessee which apply to the period after said termination date.

Lessee agrees that it shall not interfere in any way with the operations of the existing rooftop tenants or other tenants in the Building. In the event such interference does occur, Lessee shall promptly take all necessary actions needed to avoid such interference. If such interference cannot be avoided, Lessee shall cease its operations and this Lease shall be terminated.

5.3 Lessee shall comply with all laws and regulations of the federal, state, county and municipal authorities applicable to the Premises, the housing and operation of Lessee's Equipment therein, and the exercise of the rights conferred hereunder, including, but not limited to, the land use requirement of the county in which the Structure is located and the Occupational Safety and Health Administration ("OSHA").

5.4 Lessee shall conduct its business in such a manner as regards noise, other nuisances or otherwise, as will not unreasonably and unnecessarily interfere with, annoy or disturb the Lessor in the conduct of the main purpose of the Shelter Space, other lessees of the Structure, or area landowners and their tenants, provided however, that nothing said herein is intended to preclude Lessee's quiet enjoyment of the Premises afforded herein. The sidewalks, entrances, and parking areas of the Shelter Space shall not be obstructed or encumbered by Lessee or used for any other purpose other than normal ingress or egress to and from the Premises, except as may be necessary to permit Lessee to exercise its rights hereunder.

5.5 Lessee's Risks. All Lessee's Equipment and personal property of every kind or description which may at any time be in the Premises shall be at Lessee's sole risk, or at the risk of those claiming under Lessee, and Lessor shall not be liable for damage to or theft of or misappropriation of such property, any injury or damage to persons or property resulting from or related to Lessee's Equipment or personal property or any latent defect in any improvements located upon the Property; provided, however, the foregoing limitation on Lessor's liability shall not apply to Lessor's acts of gross negligence and/or willful misconduct.

6. Lessee's Rights to Access. Lessor hereby grants to Lessee a nonexclusive right to access the Property for the employees, agents or representatives designated by Lessee to the extent reasonably necessary to enable Lessee to install, operate, maintain and monitor Lessee's Equipment, as follows:

6.1 Lessee shall have access to the ground or building portions of the Premises, including Lessee's equipment shelter, if any, twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week. However, Lessee shall not enter Lessor's Shelter Space without first providing Lessor prior notice, and if outside Lessor's customary Building hours of 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., then such prior notice shall be given at least twenty-four (24) hours in advance. Lessee acknowledges that Lessor may require that Lessor's representative be present in the event of access of the Structure by Lessee. Lessee acknowledges that Lessor's control of access to the Property is essential to the safe operations of all parties utilizing the Structure.

6.2 Lessee's Contractors.

(a) All contractors and subcontractors (sometimes collectively referred to herein as "Contractor") of Lessee who shall perform any service for Lessee on the Premises shall hold licenses and/or governmental authorizations appropriate to and necessary for the work being performed. In addition, all such contractors and subcontractors shall carry insurance of the type and in the amount provided in Section 10, issued by companies licensed in the states where the services are to be performed. In addition, prior to commencement of any work by Lessee and upon Lessor's request, Contractor shall provide Lessor with certificates or other proof of insurance which shall name Lessor as an "additional insured" on all such policies identified below and such other documentation as Lessor may reasonably request showing Contractor's compliance with this Section 6.2.

(b) Without limitation as to any other indemnification requirements contained in this Lease, Lessee further agrees to indemnify and hold harmless Lessor for any claims related to the operation of Lessee's business at the Structure (whether by Lessee or Lessee's employees, agents, contractors and/or subcontractors), including any claims related to health, safety, RF energy exposure or equipment damage (including damage to Lessor's equipment or other third party equipment) resulting from such operation.

6.3 In order to maintain the integrity of the operations of Lessor, Lessee and other Structure tenants, Lessee shall comply with any applicable instructions regarding any site security system. All gates and doors shall remain closed and locked (if applicable) at all times unless entering or exiting the premises. When leaving any building, Lessee shall ensure that all doors are locked and the security system (if any) is armed.

6.4 If Lessee leases space inside Lessor's Shelter Space, Lessor shall provide to Lessee a key by which Lessee may unlock the Shelter Space for maintenance purposes. If this key is lost, Lessee shall be responsible for the expense of retooling the locks and providing new keys for all authorized persons.

7. Utilities. Lessor shall provide Lessee electric power and with connectivity to Lessor's electrical service at the Premises as part of this Lease. Installation costs directly associated with Lessor's providing electrical service to Lessee shall be initiated, contracted for, obtained and paid for by Lessee. Lessee agrees to cooperate with Lessor's reasonable requests regarding the manner and timing of the installation of Lessee's utilities. No other utilities (water, sewer or gas) will be available at the Premises during the Term. If in Landlord's sole judgment, the electric charges for the Premises are substantially higher than normal due to Tenant's usage, then Tenant agrees that it will, upon written notice from Landlord, install a sub-meter at Tenant's expense and thereafter pay all electrical charges for the Premises based on such meter readings.

In no event shall Lessor be liable for the quality, quantity, failure or interruption of electrical service to the Premises or damages resulting directly or indirectly therefrom by reason of or resulting from any accident, or the need or priority of repairs or improvements, or by reason of orders of any military, civil or governmental authority, or strikes, riots, insurrections or invasions, or any other reason beyond the control of Lessor.

8. Taxes. Lessor will pay all real property taxes assessed against the Property. Lessee will pay when due any taxes levied against the Lessee's Equipment and any other personal property of Lessee located on the Premises or any increase in real property taxes as a result of Lessee's Equipment being located on the Property or Premises. Where possible, Lessee shall cause the Lessee's Equipment or other personal property to be assessed and billed separately from the Property.

9. Indemnification. EACH PARTY HERETO, AS "INDEMNITOR," HEREBY AGREES TO REIMBURSE, INDEMNIFY, AND HOLD HARMLESS THE OTHER PARTY HERETO, ITS PARENT, SUBSIDIARY AND AFFILIATED ENTITIES, AND THEIR RESPECTIVE OFFICERS, DIRECTORS, SHAREHOLDERS, EMPLOYEES, REPRESENTATIVES AND AGENTS (COLLECTIVELY, "INDEMNITEES"), FROM AND

AGAINST ANY AND ALL CLAIMS, DAMAGES, LOSSES, LIABILITIES, COSTS AND EXPENSES (INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, REASONABLE ATTORNEYS' FEES) ARISING OUT OF ANY MATERIAL BREACH OF ANY REPRESENTATION, WARRANTY OR AGREEMENT IN THIS AGREEMENT BY INDEMNITOR. THE PROVISIONS OF THIS SECTION SHALL SURVIVE THE TERMINATION OR EXPIRATION OF THIS AGREEMENT. EACH PARTY HERETO AS "INDEMNITOR" FURTHER AGREES TO INDEMNIFY AND HOLD HARMLESS THE INDEMNITEES FROM ALL CLAIMS FOR LOSS OR DAMAGE ON ACCOUNT OF INJURY OR DEATH TO ANY PERSON OR PERSONS OR DAMAGE TO OR DESTRUCTION OF PROPERTY OF ANY PERSON OR PERSONS OCCURRING ON THE PROPERTY, TO THE EXTENT CAUSED BY (A) THE INDEMNITOR'S EQUIPMENT, OR (B) ANY ACT OR OMISSION OF THE INDEMNITOR OR ITS AGENTS, EMPLOYEES, SERVANTS OR CONTRACTORS IN CONNECTION WITH THEIR USE OF THE STRUCTURE & PREMISES UNDER THIS AGREEMENT.

10. Liability Insurance. Lessee shall obtain, and at all times thereafter shall maintain, at a minimum, the policies of insurance set forth below and otherwise acceptable to Lessor, issued by companies licensed in the states where the Structure is located. In addition, prior to commencement and upon Lessor's request at any time, Lessee shall provide Lessor with certificates or other reasonable proof of insurance which shall name Lessor, its Affiliates "defined below), and all partners, officers, directors, employees, agents and representatives of Lessor and its Affiliates, as "additional insureds" on all such policies identified below and such other documentation as Lessor may reasonably request showing Lessee's compliance with this Section 10. For the purpose of this Agreement, "Affiliate(s)" of Lessor means any other entity that directly or indirectly controls, is controlled by, or is under direct or indirect common control with, Lessor. Lessee acknowledges and agrees that Lessee's property placed on the Structure shall be placed at Lessee's sole risk and expense, and Lessee shall be solely responsible for any insurance coverage related to such property.

10.1 Commercial General Liability Insurance. Lessee shall obtain, and at all times thereafter shall maintain Commercial General Liability Insurance for bodily injury and property damage, which includes products/completed operations and all standard broad form comprehensive general liability extensions without limitations. Contractual liability, if not written on a blanket basis, must be endorsed to cover the indemnities specified herein. This policy shall be written on an "occurrence" basis. It shall provide for bodily injury and property damage coverage with limits no less than $2,000,000 aggregate per location and no less than $1,000,000 per occurrence.

10.2 Workers' Compensation and Employer's Liability Insurance. Lessee shall carry Workers' Compensation and Employer's Liability Insurance affording coverage under the workers' compensation laws of the state in which the Structure is located, with Employer's Liability Insurance having minimum limits of $1,000,000.00 for injury by accident and $1,000,000.00 for injury by disease. Such coverage shall provide a standard waiver of subrogation endorsement in favor of Lessor, and its Affiliates.

10.3 Insurance Requirements. All of Lessee's insurance required hereunder shall be with insurance carriers licensed to do business in the state where the Structure is located, and rated no lower than A-X in the most current edition of A.M. Best's Property-Casualty Key Rating Guide. Lessee shall deliver to Lessor certificates evidencing the insurance required to be maintained by Lessee hereunder prior to Lessee's installation of the Lessee's Equipment and annually thereafter. Without limitation upon the other terms and provisions of this Section 10, each insurance policy maintained by Lessee with respect to the Premises shall be endorsed to provide (i) that in the event of cancellation, non-renewal or material modification, Lessor shall receive 30-days advance written notice thereof and (ii) that Lessor shall receive renewal Certificates of Insurance in advance of each renewal.

11. Maintenance of Premises. Lessor shall maintain the Premises (but not Lessee's Equipment housed thereon), and in compliance with all governmental regulations, and shall promptly repair any material damage to the Premises; all necessary maintenance and repairs; provided, however, that when such maintenance and repair is made necessary by or because of the fault or negligence of Lessee (reasonable wear and tear excepted), Lessee shall reimburse Lessor for the cost thereof. In the performance of its obligation to maintain and repair the Structure, and to allow other lessees to install, remove, relocate, maintain and repair their equipment, it may be necessary from time to time for the Lessor to require Lessee to temporarily cease operations and transmission activities, to turn off electrical power, and/or to make other adjustments to its equipment and operations. Lessor shall use commercially reasonable efforts to schedule such work so as to cause minimum disruption to Lessee's operations. Lessee agrees to cooperate with Lessor and to comply with and honor Lessor's requests for temporary cessation of operations and transmission activities, to turn off electrical power, and/or to make adjustments to its equipment or operation, as necessary, to allow orderly performance and carrying out of such work.

11.1 Lessor shall maintain all required records and shall file any required notification concerning any failure of, repairs to, and correction of the Structure in compliance with the rules and regulations of all applicable governmental authorities.

11.2 Lessee, at its own expense, shall carry out maintenance of Lessee's Equipment, including, but not limited to, the electrical and mechanical maintenance of Lessee's equipment. Maintenance shall be conducted by Lessee in accordance with standards of good engineering practice to assure that at all times, Lessee's Equipment conforms with the requirements of all government bodies or agencies with jurisdiction over Lessee.

12. Lessee Construction. Lessee shall have the right at its cost and expense, to install, renovate, alter, and remove the Lessee Equipment, detailed in Exhibit B, located in or on the Premises as its operation may require; provided however, that:

(1) such installation is in compliance with standards of good engineering practice and, if necessary, have been approved and are in compliance with standards imposed by any governmental body or agency as referred to in Section 5 hereof;

(2) Lessee submits plans and specifications to Lessor and Lessor, whose approval shall not be unreasonably withheld prior to the installation of Lessee's Equipment;

Notwithstanding the above, the final mounting and installation of Lessee's equipment shall be subject to the prior approval of Lessor, or Lessor's representative.

Construction of Lessee's Equipment on the Structure shall not commence without consent from the Lessor. Lessee shall give Lessor no less than five (5) business day's advance notice of commencement of initial construction, and no less than ten (10) business day's advance notice of commencement of any alterations to Lessee's Equipment within the Premises or on the Structure, and twenty (20) business day's advance notice of commencement of any structural modifications to the Structure.

Such installation work may require the cessation of operation of other tenants on the Structure, however, and there can be no assurance that each will agree to the precise schedule requested by Lessee. Lessor shall use reasonable efforts to coordinate this work with the other tenants to permit construction at the time(s) and date(s) requested.

Lessee shall give Lessor no less than five (5) business days advance notice of any maintenance of Lessee's Equipment on the Structure. Such maintenance or installation work may require the cessation of operation of other tenants on the Structure. However, there can be no assurance that each will agree to the precise schedule requested by Lessee. Lessor shall use reasonable efforts to schedule this work with the other tenants at the time requested.

LESSEE SHALL DELIVER, PURSUANT TO THE TIMELINES DESCRIBED IN THIS SECTION 12, TO LESSOR PRIOR TO COMMENCEMENT OF CONSTRUCTION ALL COPIES OF ANY CONSTRUCTION DRAWINGS, PERMITS, INSURANCE CERTIFICATES, AND OTHER RELATED DUE DILIGENCE PURSUANT TO THIS LEASE.

12.1 Alterations by Lessee. Lessee shall be permitted to make replacements or repairs to Lessee's Equipment without completing the steps described at (2) above in Section 12, to the extent such changes utilize physically identical equipment as that being replaced and/or repaired.

12.2 Liens. Lessee has no authority or power to cause or permit any lien or encumbrance of any kind whatsoever, whether created by act of Lessee, operation of law or otherwise, to attach to or be placed upon Lessor's title or interest in the Property, Structure, or Premises, any and all liens and encumbrances created by Lessee shall attach to Lessee's interest only. Lessee covenants and agrees not to suffer or permit any lien of mechanics, suppliers, materialmen or others to be placed against the Structure, Premises, or Property, and Lessee covenants and agrees within thirty (30) days after written notice by any entity of the filing of such lien to cause it to be release and removed of record. If Lessee shall fail to cause such lien or encumbrance to be discharged, then, in addition to any other right or remedy Lessor may, but shall not be obligated to, discharge the same either by procuring the discharge of such lien by deposit or by bonding proceedings, and in any such event Lessor shall be entitled, if Lessor so elects, to compel the prosecution of an action of the foreclosure of such lien by the lienor and to pay the amount of the judgment in favor of the lienor with interest, costs and allowances. Any amount so paid by Lessor, and all costs and expenses, including attorneys' fees, incurred by Lessor in connection therewith, shall constitute Additional Rent.

12.3 Title. Lessor's title to the Property (if owned by Lessor), and Structure, is and always shall be paramount to the interest of Lessee and nothing herein contained shall empower Lessee to do any act or to omit any act which would encumber Lessor's title.

13. Structure Damage. In the event that the Structure is fully or partially destroyed or damaged by fire, lightning, windstorm, explosion, collapse, vandalism, civil disturbance, aircraft or other vehicle damage or other casualty so as to be unfit for Lessee's occupancy and intended use hereunder and the Structure cannot be restored or rebuilt by Lessor within ninety (90) days, then either Lessee or Lessor may elect to terminate this Lease by written notice to the other party. If the Structure is in need of such repair or is so damaged by fire, lightning, windstorm, explosion, vandalism, aircraft or other vehicle damage, collapse or other casualty that reconstruction or repair cannot reasonably be undertaken without dismantling Lessee's Equipment, then Lessor may remove Lessee's Equipment and interrupt Lessee's operations, thereafter replacing the Lessee's Equipment as soon as reasonably possible. Lessee shall be entitled to a pro rata refund of its prepaid Monthly Rent for such time as it is unable to conduct its normal operations as a result of such total or partial destruction or damage or need of repair. Under no circumstances shall Lessor be liable for any financial loss due to business interruption caused by the aforementioned circumstances.

14. Hazardous Materials. Lessee shall not cause or permit any hazardous substances to be brought upon, stored, used, generated, released into the environment or disposed of on, under, from or about the Structure by Lessee, its agents, employees, contractors or representatives. Lessee agrees to at all times comply with all environmental laws, rules and regulations, federal, state and local. Lessee agrees to defend, indemnify and hold harmless Lessor from and against any and all administrative and judicial actions and rulings, claims, causes of action, demands of liability (collectively "Claims") including, but not limited to, damages, costs, expenses, assessments, penalties, fines, losses, judgments and reasonable attorney fees that the Lessor may suffer or incur due to the existence or discovery of any hazardous substances or the release of any hazardous substances into the environment (collectively "Actions") that arise from Lessee's activities at or about the Structure.

15. Limitation of Liability. Lessor, its agents or employees, shall not be liable for (and to the extent permitted by law, Lessee hereby releases Lessor and its agents and employees from) any loss of or damage to property of Lessee or of Lessee's agent, contractors, employees, invitees, or licensees, nor for any injury or damage to persons or property resulting from any cause of whatsoever nature unless caused by the acts or omissions of Lessor or its agents, employees or contractors. Without limiting the foregoing, neither Lessor, nor its agents or employees, shall be liable for any such damage caused by other tenants of Lessor or persons in, upon or about the Building, Structure, Premises, or Property, or caused by bursting, stoppages, or leaking, of water, gas, sewage or steam pipes, transmissions, electrical systems, flooding or damage caused by sprinkling devices, air conditioning apparatus, water, snow, ice, frost, steam, excessive heat or cold, broken glass, odor, noise, or collisions, unless any such loss or damage is proximately caused by the willful or negligent acts of Lessor, its agents, employees or contractors. All property belonging to Lessee or any occupant of the Property that is in the Building, Structure, Premises or Property, shall be there at the risk of Lessee or other occupant only; and Lessor shall not be liable for loss or damage thereto or theft or misappropriation thereof except as provided herein above. Any liability of the Lessor to Lessee under this Lease shall be recoverable only from the interest of Lessor in the Structure and Property, and neither Lessor nor any of its owners, officers, directors, employees or affiliates shall have any personal liability therefor.

16. Service Interruption. Lessor shall incur no liability to Lessee for failure to furnish space, as provided herein, or the rendition of any services, if prevented by war, fires, strikes, or other labor troubles, accidents Acts of God, or other causes beyond its control, including but not limited to, temporary or intermittent service interruptions resulting from maintenance and repair work to the facilities of Lessor or other tenants on the Structure, or alterations to the Structure required by any tenants on the Structure, or alterations to the Structure required by any governmental authority.

17. Eminent Domain. If the land which Lessor's Structure, foundation, guy wire anchors or building is located, or the Property are acquired or condemned under the power of eminent domain whether by public authority, public utility, or otherwise, then this Lease shall terminate as of the date title shall have vested in public authority. Lessor shall be entitled to the entire amount of any condemnation award, except the Lessee shall be entitled to make claim for and retain a condemnation award based on and attributed to the expense of removing its fixtures.

18. Assignment. Lessee shall not sublet, assign, mortgage, or encumber this Lease without the express written consent of Lessor which shall not be unreasonably withheld provided however, that Lessee may, without Lessor's consent, transfer or assign this Agreement in conjunction with the sale of Lessee's business or the sale or transfer by Lessee of all or substantially all of its assets but in such event Lessee shall notify Lessor of the name and address of such purchaser-assignee. Lessee shall include a provision in its sales contract that buyer shall acknowledge acceptance of this Lease Agreement and that Buyer's use of the Lease Premises is subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement prior to close of sale.

19. Termination. In the event Lessee shall: (i) default in the payment of Rent or any other sum payable by Lessee hereunder, and such default shall continue for a period of ten (10) business days after receipt of written notice by Lessor; or (ii) default in the performance of any other covenants or agreements of this Lease and such default shall continue for twenty (20) days after Lessee's receipt of written notice thereof; or (iii) become bankrupt or insolvent or should any debtor proceeding be initiated by or against Lessee, then Lessor may pursue the following rights and remedies:

- (a) Terminate this Lease and retake possession of the Premises;
- (b) Enter the Premises and relet the same without termination of the Lease, in which event Lessee covenants and agrees to pay any deficiency after Lessee is credited with the Rent thereby obtained less all repairs and expenses (including the expenses of obtaining possession);
- (c) Cure any such default and invoice Lessee for the costs and expenses of the same, which invoice shall be payable within twenty (20) days of its receipt by Lessee; and
- (d) Exercise any other remedy available at law or in equity.

If Lessee remains in default beyond any applicable cure period, whether or not Lessor shall have terminated this Agreement, Lessor may demand immediate removal by Lessee of Lessee's Equipment (except for Permanent Improvements) from the Property, and if Lessee fails to do so within sixty (60) days of Lessor's demand, Lessor may remove and store the Lessee's Equipment at Lessee's sole cost.

In the event Lessor shall be in default in the performance of any material representation, warranty or agreement contained in this Lease and such default shall continue for twenty (20) days after Lessor's receipt of written notice thereof, Lessee may terminate this Lease and may exercise any other remedy available at law or in equity

20. Removal of Lessee's Equipment. Lessee shall, at the termination of this Lease, surrender possession of the Premises to Lessor in as good a condition as prior to the commencement of this Lease, reasonable wear and tear excepted. At the termination of this Lease, whether it expires by its own terms or is canceled for any reason, Lessor agrees to give Lessee access to remove Lessee's Equipment for a period of no more than thirty (30) days after such termination. Lessee agrees at the termination of this Lease to remove Lessee's Equipment and to pay all cost in connection with such removal, and to repair and restore any damage resulting from such removal.

21. Subordination.

21.1 Lessee acknowledges that Lessor may have or hereafter may desire to place a mortgage upon all or part of the Property. It is further understood that the mortgagee of said mortgage may require that the within Lease be subordinated to said mortgage, in which event Lessee agrees to execute, at no cost to Lessee, any document reasonably required by such mortgagee to evidence such subordination; provided, however, that the mortgagee of any such mortgage shall covenant in writing that the Lessee's leasehold interest hereunder shall not be foreclosed and any action brought under such mortgage or in the event of a sale of the Property as a result of said action if, at the time of bringing an action to foreclose or at the time of said sale, Lessee is not in default in the payment of rent or the performance of any other obligations under this Lease, with due allowance given for the payment of any past due rental or for the correction of any other default by Lessee within the period of time permitted after any notice is given or required to be given by the terms of this Lease. It is further understood that the mortgagee of said mortgage may require that the Lessee agree to attorn to any purchaser of the Property in the event that the same shall be sold through foreclosure proceedings, and that Lessee agrees to waive any and all rights to treat any such foreclosure proceedings as a breach of the Lease by Lessor, in which event Lessee agrees to execute, at no cost to Lessee, any document reasonably required by such mortgagee to evidence such agreements.

22. Remedies Cumulative. The remedies provided herein shall be cumulative and shall not preclude the assertion by any party hereto of any other rights or the seeking of and other remedies against the other party hereto.

23. No Waiver. Should Lessor permit a continuing default of Lessee in Lessee's performance of the terms of this Lease, the obligations of Lessee hereunder shall continue and such permissive default shall not be construed as a renewal of the term hereof nor as a waiver of any of the rights of Lessor or obligations of Lessee hereunder.

24. Relationship of Parties. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed or construed as creating the relationship of principal and agent or of partnership or of joint venture between the parties hereto, it being understood and agreed that neither the provision contained herein, nor any acts of the parties, shall be deemed to create any relationship between the parties hereto other than the relationship of landlord and tenant, nor cause Lessor to be responsible in any way for the acts, debts or obligations of Lessee.

25. Broker. Lessee warrants that it has dealt with no broker, commission agent, finder or other person or entity with respect to this Lease and Lessor warrants that it has dealt with no broker, commission agent, finder or other person or entity with respect to this Lease, except for Colliers International, who Lessor shall be solely responsible for paying pursuant to a separate letter agreement. Each party shall indemnify and hold harmless the other party from any and all claims, actions, damages, costs, expenses, and liability whatsoever, including reasonable attorney's fees, that may arise from any claims for commission or finder's fees in connection with this Lease, the Property, or Premises.

26. Applicable Law. This Lease shall be construed and governed in accordance with the internal laws of the State in which the Property is located and without regard to the conflict of laws provisions thereof.

27. Entire Agreement. This Lease and any other documents referred to herein or delivered pursuant hereto, which form a part hereof, contains the entire understanding of the parties with respect to its subject matter. There are no restrictions, agreements, promises, warranties, covenants or undertaking other than expressly set forth herein. This Lease supersedes all prior agreements and understandings between the parties. No modification of this Lease shall be effective unless contained in writing signed by the authorized representative of both parties.

28. Headings. The section and paragraph headings contained in this Lease are for reference purpose only and shall not affect in any way the meaning or interpretation of this Lease.

29. Notice. Except as otherwise expressly provided herein, all notices, requests, claims, demands and other communications hereunder shall be in writing and shall be deemed to have been duly delivered if mailed (certified mail, postage prepaid, return receipt requested), sent by fax, or sent by overnight delivery service as described in Exhibit A, or to such address or fax number as any party may have furnished to the other in writing in accordance herewith, except that notices of change in address shall only be effective upon receipt.

30. Counterparts: Faxed Signature Pages. This Lease may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument. Any faxed signature page hereof shall be considered an original signature page and be effective for all purposes to evidence such party's execution hereof.

31. Severability. It is the intention of the parties hereto that if any provision of this Lease is capable of two constructions, one of which would render the provision valid, then the provision shall have the meaning which renders it valid. If any term or provision, or any portion thereof, of this Lease, or the application thereof to any person or circumstances shall, to any extent, be invalid or unenforceable, the remainder of this Lease, or the application of such term or provision to persons or circumstances other than those as to which it is held invalid or unenforceable, shall not be affected thereby, and each other term and provision of this Lease shall be valid and be enforced to the fullest extent permitted by law.

32. Lessee Entity. Lessee hereby covenants and warrants that: the Lessee is a duly constituted organization (corporation, limited partnership, limited liability company, partnership non-profit corporation, etc.) qualified to do business in the state in which the Property is located; all Lessee's corporate franchise or other entity-related taxes have been paid to date; all future forms, reports, fees and other documents necessary for Lessee to comply with applicable laws will be filed by Lessee when due; and such person is duly authorized by the governing body of such corporation to execute and deliver this Lease on behalf of the corporation.

33. Successor and Assigns. This Lease shall inure to the benefit of and be binding upon Lessor, its successors and assigns, and shall be binding upon Lessee, its successors and assigns, and shall inure to the benefit of Lessee and only such assigns of Lessee as are permitted herein. Except as expressly provided otherwise, nothing contained in this Lease shall be construed so as to confer upon any persons rights of a third party beneficiary.

34. Representations and Warranties. Lessor and Lessee each represent and warrant to the other that it is legally qualified, empowered and able to enter into this Lease, and that the execution, delivery and performance hereof shall not constitute a breach or violation of any agreement, contract or other obligation or any kind to which the party is subject or by which it is bound.

35. Survival. All indemnifications herein shall survive termination of this agreement and be binding on Lessee, any successors, heirs, and assigns.

36. Estoppel Certificate. Lessee will, at no cost to Lessee, execute, acknowledge and deliver to Lessor, promptly upon request, a certificate certifying that (a) this Lease is unmodified and in full force and effect (or, if there have been modifications, that the Lease is in full force and effect, as modified, and stating the modifications), (b) the dates, if any, to which the base rent, additional rent and other sums payable hereunder have been paid, and (c) no notice has been received by Lessee of any default which has not been cured, except as to defaults specified in said certificate, it being intended that any such certified may be relied upon by any prospective purchaser or mortgagee of the Property or any part thereof.

37. Waiver of Subrogation. Any other provision of this Lease notwithstanding, Lessor and Lessee hereby release each other and each other's employees and agents from any and all liability (to the other or anyone claiming through or under them by way of subrogation or otherwise) for any loss or damage which is coverable by a customary policy of insurance required to be carried by that party hereunder.

This Lease has been duly executed and delivered by the Lessor and the Lessee on the date first above written.

FORM 23.19 Building Lease to School Board for High School Students

COMMENT

This lease is a lease of a building located on a state university campus to the local Board of Education in the City where the university is located. The purpose of the lease is for use by certain gifted high school students in the City who are using the building because it has labs set up for special instructional courses in the health care field. It is a triple net lease, meaning that all the expenses are required to be paid by the Lessee.

The building to be leased is an older building not in compliance with the accessibility guidelines of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, or the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act of 1997 ("IDEA"). Therefore, there are clauses in the lease in Paragraph 5 that require Lessee to comply with those requirements.

In addition, the university leasing the building was concerned about providing security for the high school students so the university added a provision in the lease that places the burden of security on the Lessee, and provides that it is the Lessee's responsibility to cause the permanent removal of any students who cause trouble at the building or anywhere on the campus of the university.

FORM

INDENTURE OF LEASE

THIS INDENTURE OF LEASE is made and entered into at _____, _____, this _____ day of _____ [date], by and between _____ UNIVERSITY, an instrumentality of the State of _____ (hereinafter called "Lessor"), and _____ BOARD OF EDUCATION, a political subdivision of the State of _____, (hereinafter called "Lessee").

WITNESSETH:

1. Demised Premises. For the rents and upon the terms and conditions hereinafter set forth, Lessor hereby leases to Lessee the building located at _____, _____, which building is commonly known as the _____ building, and the land on which it is situated described on Exhibit A, attached hereto and made a part hereof, all of which shall hereinafter be referred to as the "Demised Premises."

2. Term. Lessee shall hold the Demised Premises for the term of two (2) years, commencing on the first (1st) day of [month, year], and terminating on the last day of [month, year], unless the term hereby demised shall be sooner terminated or extended as hereinafter provided.

3. Rent. In consideration of said demise, Lessee covenants and agrees to pay to Lessor, without deduction or setoff of any kind, as rent for the use of the Demised Premises for the term hereof, the sum of _____ Dollars ($ _____), in equal monthly installments of _____ Dollars ($ _____) each, payable in current legal tender of the United States of America, as the same is then by law constituted. All such sums are due and payable in advance, on the first day of each and every calendar month during said term, at _____, or at such other place as Lessor may in writing designate.

4. A. Option to Renew. The Lessee shall have the option to extend the term of this lease for one additional term of one (1) year, provided that Lessee is not in default of any and all of the terms, covenants and conditions of this lease either on the date that notice of extension is given or on the commencement date of the extended term. Such option to extend shall be exercised by the Lessee by giving written notice to the Lessor not less than six (6) months prior to the expiration date of the term of the lease. The extension of this lease shall be upon the same terms, covenants and conditions as are contained in the lease ascertained and compared with the same as of the first day of the renewal term next to commence.

B. Possession. Lessee acknowledges that Lessee has been given an opportunity to examine the Demised Premises, and Lessee accepts the Demised Premises in its "AS IS," "WHERE IS," condition with all faults, and Lessor is not making any representations or warranties (either express or implied) regarding the condition or use of the Demised Premises, all of which, including the implied warranty of fitness for a particular purpose, is hereby disclaimed. Lessee's taking possession of the Demised Premises shall be conclusive evidence of Lessee's acceptance thereof. The parties acknowledge and agree that Lessee will be making extensive repairs and renovations to the Demised Premises to bring the Demised Premises into compliance with all applicable city building code provisions.

5. Use. The Demised Premises shall be used solely as an educational facility for approximately four hundred (400) to five hundred (500) _____ High School students participating in health care instructional and educational programs offered by Lessee and its affiliate, the _____ ("Hospital"), and for no other purpose. The parties hereby acknowledge and agree that said instructional and educational programs shall be provided by Lessee and/or the Hospital at the Demised Premises between the hours of 7:30 a.m. and 2:15 p.m., Monday through Friday, unless otherwise agreed by the parties hereto. If Lessee uses the Demised Premises for any purpose, authorized herein or otherwise, which causes the accessibility or other requirements of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 ("ADA"), Individuals with Disabilities Education Act, amended in 1997 ("IDEA"), or the rules and regulations thereunder, to be applicable to the Demised Premises or building in which the Demised Premises are located, Lessee agrees at Lessee's expense to pay for any modification to the Demised Premises or building imposed by the ADA, IDEA, or the rules and regulations thereunder. The statement in this lease of the nature of Lessee's business does not constitute a representation by Lessor that such business is lawful or otherwise permitted by law at the Demised Premises. Lessee shall not use or occupy, or permit the use or occupancy of, the Demised Premises, or any part thereof, in any unlawful manner or for any illegal purpose or in such a manner as to constitute a nuisance or violate the terms and conditions of any certificate of occupancy or equivalent use permit applicable to the Demised Premises, or for any purpose or in a manner liable to cause structural injury, and shall not use or occupy or permit the use or occupancy of the Demised Premises for other than purposes of the nature and to the extent permitted by the laws, rules, regulations, and ordinances of the applicable governmental authorities and their agencies.

6. Security; Removal of Student. Lessee shall be solely responsible for providing security and security personnel for the Demised Premises. Lessee acknowledges and agrees that Lessor may require Lessee to cause the permanent removal from the Demised Premises, subject to the due process rights afforded students under federal and state law, of any _____ High School student who (i) participates in the vandalization or destruction of any part of the Demised Premises or any other _____ University property; (ii) engages in any illegal activity in, on, or about the Demised Premises or any other _____ University property; or (iii) is placed under arrest or is otherwise taken into custody in connection with any activities on, in, or about the Demised Premises or any other _____ University property.

7. Compliance with Laws. The Lessee shall throughout the term of this lease, at the Lessee's sole cost and expense, but subject to Lessee's right to contest the validity thereof, promptly comply with all laws and ordinances and the orders, rules, regulations or requirements, including without limitation the ADA and IDEA, of all applicable governmental authorities and their agencies, and appropriate departments, commissions, boards and officers thereof, and the orders, rules and regulations of the applicable Board of Fire Underwriters, or any other body now or hereafter constituted exercising similar functions, foreseen or unforeseen, ordinary as well as extraordinary, and whether or not the same require structural repairs or alterations, which may be applicable to the Demised Premises, and the fixtures thereof, if any, or the use or manner of use of the Demised Premises, except as provided elsewhere in this lease. The Lessee shall likewise observe and comply with the requirements of all policies of public liability, fire and all other policies of insurance at any time in force with respect to the buildings and improvements on the Demised Premises and the equipment thereof.

8. Net Lease Provisions.

A. This lease shall be deemed and construed to be a "net lease" and, except as expressly otherwise provided in this lease, the Lessor shall receive all rental and all payments hereunder to be made by Lessee free from any charges, taxes, assessments, impositions, expenses or deductions of any and every kind and nature whatsoever.

B. The parties acknowledge that the Demised Premises are exempt from any and all state and local real property taxes and assessments as a result of the use thereof exclusively for tax exempt purposes. In the event that the Demised Premises shall at any time during the term of this lease become subject to any state or local real property tax and/or assessment as a result of this lease, Lessee shall be solely responsible for the payment thereof, and all such taxes and assessments shall be paid by Lessee as and when they come due during the term of this lease.

9. Utilities. The Lessee shall, during the continuance of this lease, pay for all heat, electric current, steam, water, sewer, trash removal, gas, telephone and other utilities furnished to or used by Lessee in or upon the Demised Premises, together with all taxes, levies, or other charges on such utilities and governmental charges based on utility consumption. Such payment shall be made directly to the utility company or department furnishing the same provided, however, that if such utilities are submetered or separately metered, Lessee shall instead pay Lessor for such utilities at the same rates that Lessee would be charged by the utility company if billed directly by the utility company, such payment to be made by Lessee to Lessor within ten (10) days of receipt by Lessee from Lessor of the bill thereof. Lessee agrees to indemnify Lessor and save Lessor harmless against any liability or damages on all such accounts. The Lessee shall also at Lessee's sole cost and expense procure any and all necessary permits, licenses or other authorizations required for the lawful and proper installation and maintenance upon the Demised Premises of wires, pipes, conduits, tubes and other equipment and appliances for use in supplying any such service to and upon the Demised Premises.

Lessor shall not be liable to anyone for cessation of any services, including but not limited to public utility services, heating and air conditioning, due to inability to obtain fuel, electricity, service or supplies from the sources from which they are usually obtained, due to failures in the equipment used to provide such services, or for any other reason beyond the control of the Lessor. Any such interruption of any of the above services shall never be deemed an eviction or disturbance of the Lessee's use of the Demised Premises or any part thereof, or render the Lessor liable to the Lessee for damages, or relieve the Lessee from performance of the Lessee's obligations under this lease.

10. Insurance. Lessee shall, at Lessee's cost and expense, secure and keep in effect during the term of this lease or any extension thereof insurance policies in the amounts and covering the following risks:

A. With respect to the building and improvements at any time forming a part of the Demised Premises (and all the contents, fixtures, furnishings and equipment therein), a broad form insurance policy against loss or damage by fire, vandalism, malicious mischief, and such other risks as are from time to time included in a standard form of fire and extended coverage and additional perils policy of insurance available in the State of Ohio. Said building and improvements shall be insured for the benefit of Lessor in an amount not less than the full replacement cost thereof as determined from time to time by the insurance company. These insurance provisions shall in no way limit or modify any of the obligations of the Lessee under any provisions of this lease to restore the Demised Premises.

B. For the protection of Lessor, a self-insurance fund for claims for bodily injury, death, and property damage occurring upon, in or under the Demised Premises, to the extent of not less than One Million Dollars ($1,000,000), and comprehensive general public liability insurance policies for said claims in excess of One Million Dollars ($1,000,000) up to and including Five Million Dollars ($5,000,000), which policies shall designate Lessor as a named additional insured thereof.

All insurance carried by Lessee as required by this paragraph shall be carried in favor of Lessor and/or Lessee as may be appropriate, as their respective interests may appear, and shall, whenever appropriate and if requested by Lessor, include the interest of the holders of any mortgages on the Demised Premises. All policies of insurance shall, to the extent obtainable, provide that any loss shall be payable notwithstanding any act or omission of the Lessee which might otherwise result in a forfeiture or reduction of said insurance.

Lessee shall procure policies for all excess insurance required by this paragraph for periods of not less than one (1) year and shall deliver to Lessor certificates of insurance certifying that such insurance is in full force and effect, and shall procure renewals thereof from time to time at least twenty (20) days before the expiration thereof. In default of such delivery or renewal, Lessor may procure any such insurance and Lessee shall, on demand, reimburse Lessor for the cost thereof with interest thereon until paid in full at the rate per annum equal to one percent (1%) in excess of the prime rate of _____ Bank then in effect. All such insurance shall be taken in such companies as shall be reasonably acceptable to the Lessor and to the holders of any mortgages on the Demised Premises. The policies of insurance shall provide that they may not be canceled except upon at least thirty (30) days' prior written notice to Lessor and the holder of any mortgage, and shall further provide, if so requested by the Lessor, that the proceeds be payable to the holder of any mortgage on the Demised Premises as the interest of such mortgagee may appear pursuant to a standard mortgage clause; provided, however, that any payment of such proceeds to any such mortgage holder shall not prejudice any right of Lessee hereunder to the use or benefit of any insurance proceeds. The Lessee may provide any insurance required by this lease in the form of a blanket package-type policy, provided such policy complies in all respects with the provisions of this paragraph.

Lessor and Lessee agree that if the building and improvements at any time forming a part of the Demised Premises or the personal property of Lessee located on the Demised Premises shall be damaged or destroyed by an insured peril, and whether or not such damage or destruction was caused by the negligence of or any act or omission of the other party, the other's agents or employees, neither party shall have any liability to the other on account of such damage or destruction, or the cause thereof, except as hereinafter stated, and each party shall, with due diligence, require all policies of risk insurance with respect to the Demised Premises carried by such party during the term of this lease to be endorsed with a provision by which the insurer designated therein shall waive its right of subrogation against the other party.

Furthermore, each of Lessor and Lessee agrees to, and does hereby waive all rights of recovery and causes of action against the other, the other's agents and employees, and all persons claiming through or under the other, relating to the loss of business, business interruption or loss of rentals resulting from any damage or destruction to the Demised Premises or any of Lessee's property contained therein, notwithstanding that any such damage or destruction may be due to the negligence or any act or omission of Lessor or Lessee, their respective agents or employees, as the case may be.

11. Repairs and Surrender; Mechanic's Liens.

A. Subject to the provisions of Paragraph 13., throughout the term of this lease, Lessee shall maintain the building (including its principal components) and other improvements at any time forming a part of the Demised Premises (including without limitation of the generality of the foregoing the foundations, vaults, water, sewer and gas connections, pipes and mains, plumbing, heating and ventilation, and electrical systems, but excluding parking lots, driveways, grounds and landscaping, fences, sidewalks, and other outside areas) in as good and tenantable repair as at the commencement of the term of this lease, reasonable wear and tear excepted, and shall promptly and in a good and workmanlike manner make all necessary repairs, ordinary as well as extraordinary, structural and otherwise, to the Demised Premises, and shall comply with all governmental regulations, laws or ordinances with respect to such repairs, maintenance or alterations of the Demised Premises.

When used in this Paragraph 11., the term "repairs" shall include replacements or renewals when necessary, and all such repairs made by Lessee shall be equal in quality and class to the original work. Lessee agrees to deliver up and surrender to Lessor possession of the Demised Premises upon the expiration of this lease, in good and tenantable repair, reasonable wear and tear and damage by insured peril for which Lessee has not been paid and for which damage the insurance proceeds have been assigned to Lessor by Lessee excepted.

B. Except as otherwise provided herein, Lessor shall be responsible for the maintenance and repair of all parking lots, driveways, grounds and landscaping, fences, sidewalks, and other outside areas forming any part of, or appurtenant to, the Demised Premises.

C. The Lessee shall not suffer or permit any mechanic's or other liens to be filed against the Demised Premises or any part thereof by reason of work, labor, services or materials supplied or claimed to have been supplied to the Lessee or anyone holding the Demised Premises or any part thereof through or under the Lessee. If any such mechanic's lien or other liens shall at any time be filed against the Demised Premises, the Lessee shall cause the same to be discharged of record within thirty (30) days after the date of filing the same. If the Lessee shall fail to discharge such mechanic's lien within such period, then in addition to any other right or remedy of the Lessor, the Lessor may, but shall not be obligated to, discharge the same either by paying the amount claimed to be due or by procuring the discharge of such lien by deposit in court or by giving security or in such other manner as is, or may be, prescribed by law. Any amount paid by the Lessor for any of the aforesaid purposes, and all reasonable legal and other expenses of the Lessor, including reasonable counsel fees, in or about procuring the discharge of such lien, with all necessary disbursements in connection therewith, with interest thereon until paid in full at the rate per annum equal to one percent (1%) in excess of the prime rate of National City Bank then in effect, shall be repaid by the Lessee to the Lessor on demand, and if unpaid may be treated as additional rent. Nothing contained herein shall imply any consent or agreement on the part of the Lessor to subject the Lessor's estate to liability under any mechanic's lien law.

12. Alterations. Lessee shall make no alterations in, or additions or improvements to, said Demised Premises (structural or otherwise) without the written consent of Lessor first had and obtained, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld. Notwithstanding the aforesaid, Lessee shall not be permitted to make any alterations or improvements to the Demised Premises or building in which the Demised Premises are located which would cause to be applicable to the Demised Premises or building the accessibility or other requirements of the ADA and/or IDEA, or the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder from time to time. If any permitted alterations, additions or improvements in or to said Demised Premises are made by Lessee, the Lessee covenants and agrees that Lessee will make all such alterations, additions or improvements in or to said Demised Premises at Lessee's own expense. If Lessee, its agents and employees, makes any alterations or improvements (whether or not authorized by Lessor), which cause the accessibility or other requirements of the ADA and/or IDEA to be applicable to the Demised Premises or building in which the Demised Premises are located, Lessee agrees at Lessee's expense to pay for any modifications to the Demised Premises or building imposed by the ADA and/or IDEA, or the rules and regulations issued thereunder. Any such permitted alterations, additions or improvements which are begun by Lessee shall be completed by Lessee. No alterations, additions or improvements shall be made which will weaken the structural strength of any building at any time forming a part of the Demised Premises. Lessee shall, in making any such alterations, additions or improvements, and/or in using and/or occupying the Demised Premises, comply with all applicable laws and ordinances pertaining to such work and/or such use or occupancy. Any additions, alterations or improvements made by Lessee shall become and remain a part of the Demised Premises, and be and remain the property of Lessor upon the termination of this lease or Lessee's occupancy of the Demised Premises. In any event, Lessee shall have the right to remove all Lessee's trade fixtures, furnishings and other personal property in the Demised Premises which have been placed there by Lessee, even though the same be attached to said Demised Premises, upon the condition that the removal of any such annexation shall be effected before the expiration of the term of this lease, and that all damage caused to said Demised Premises by such removal shall be repaired by Lessee on or before the expiration of said term. Lessee shall indemnify and save harmless Lessor from and against all expenses, liens, claims or damages to either property or person which may or might arise by reason of such repairs, alterations, improvements, additions or removals.

13. Destruction of Demised Premises.

A. Except as provided in subparagraph 13.B., below, if the Demised Premises, or any part thereof, shall be destroyed or damaged during the term of the lease, and the same can reasonably be repaired or restored within ninety (90) days following such occurrence, Lessee shall not be entitled to surrender possession of the Demised Premises, or any part thereof, nor shall Lessee's liability to pay rent under this lease cease; but in case of any such damage or destruction, this lease shall continue in full force and effect and the proceeds of all insurance covering such damage or destruction shall be made available to the Lessor. Lessor shall make use of such insurance proceeds to rebuild and reconstruct such damaged portion of the Demised Premises. If the proceeds of any insurance covering such damage or destruction exceed the cost of repair or reconstruction, such excess shall belong absolutely to the Lessor. In the event of any such damage or destruction and the same cannot reasonably be repaired within ninety (90) days following such occurrence, either Lessor or Lessee may elect to terminate this lease by written notice to the other within thirty (30) days following such damage or destruction. In the event either does so elect to terminate this lease, all proceeds of the insurance covering such damage or destruction shall belong absolutely to the Lessor. In the event that neither Lessor nor Lessee elects to terminate this lease, the Lessee's obligation and the use of the proceeds shall be the same as described above under circumstances where the damage and destruction can be repaired within ninety (90) days.

B. If any damage or destruction to the Demised Premises or the repair or rebuilding thereof shall render the Demised Premises untenantable in whole or in part, Lessee shall be allowed a proportionate reduction or abatement of the rental hereunder corresponding to the time and space of which Lessee shall be deprived (giving due consideration to the reasonable use of the remaining portion of the Demised Premises) from the date of the occurrence of such damage or destruction until the date Lessor completes the repair or restoration thereof.

14. Eminent Domain.

A. If all of the Demised Premises or such portion thereof as shall substantially interfere with the Lessee's use and occupancy thereof, shall be condemned or taken by any governmental authority, or sold to any such governmental authority to prevent such taking, then this lease shall wholly terminate effective as of the date possession is taken by said authority, and the rent, taxes, insurance and other items payable under this lease shall be equitably apportioned and paid to the time of such termination. Thereupon, all parties shall be relieved of any further obligations accruing under this lease.

B. If the amount of property or type of estate taken shall not substantially interfere with the conduct of Lessee's business, this lease shall continue in full force and effect, except that the rental shall be equitably reduced, and Lessor, by use of the award received as a result of said taking and/or condemnation, shall promptly commence and diligently complete the repair and restoration of the remainder of the Demised Premises, subject to delays beyond its reasonable control, to a condition as nearly equivalent as feasible to the condition of the Demised Premises existing prior to such taking.

C. Whether such taking shall be partial or the entire Demised Premises, and whether this lease shall by reason thereof be terminated or not, Lessee shall not, because of such taking, assert any claim against the taking authority or against Lessor for any compensation because of such taking, except that Lessee shall be entitled to make a separate claim for any rights Lessee may have for Lessee's cost of moving or relocating any trade fixtures, equipment or other personal property that Lessee placed upon the Demised Premises, or for the recovery of any other provable damages to Lessee's business. For this purpose, Lessee reserves the right to participate at Lessee's expense in any condemnation proceeding. In no event, however, shall the Lessee's rights, as stated above, reduce the Lessor's award from the condemning authority as the owner of all interests in the real estate.

15. Rights of Lessor Upon Default.

A. This lease is made upon the condition that Lessee shall punctually perform all of its covenants and agreements as herein set forth and if,

(i) Lessee defaults in payment of rent, or any additional charge or amount of money to be paid by Lessee as provided in this lease, and such default shall continue uncorrected for a period of ten (10) days after written notice to the Lessee thereof; or

(ii) Lessee defaults in the prompt and full performance and observance of any of the terms and conditions of this lease to be performed or observed by Lessee and not relating to the payment of money, and any such default shall continue uncorrected for a period of thirty (30) days after written notice to the Lessee thereof, or if any such last-mentioned default cannot reasonably be corrected within such 30-day period, then if Lessee shall not within such period have commenced in good faith to correct such default; or

(iii) Lessee abandons the Demised Premises; or

(iv) any execution, attachment or other order of court shall be issued upon or against the interest of Lessee in this lease and shall continue for a period of thirty (30) days after notice, then in any such event, in addition to any and all rights and remedies allowed by law and equity, Lessor may, with or without further notice, forthwith terminate this lease and Lessee's right to possession of the Demised Premises, or Lessor may, without terminating this lease, terminate Lessee's right to possession of the Demised Premises.

B. Upon the termination of this lease, or upon the termination of Lessee's right to possession without termination of this lease:

(i) Lessee shall surrender possession and vacate the Demised Premises immediately, and Lessor may enter into and repossess said Demised Premises, with or without process of law, and remove all persons and property therefrom; and

(ii) Lessor may remove from the Demised Premises any and all property found therein, and such repossession shall not release Lessee from Lessee's obligation to pay the rents herein provided.

C. In the event of termination of this lease as provided in this Paragraph 15., Lessor, in addition to any and all rights and remedies allowed by law and equity, shall upon such termination be entitled to recover damages in the amount equal to the then present value of the rent reserved in this lease for the entire residue of the stated term hereof less the then present worth of the fair rental value of the Demised Premises for the residue of the term hereof as then in effect, plus the costs incurred, including reasonable legal expenses, to terminate this lease and Lessee's possession of the Demised Premises.

D. Any and all property which may be removed from the Demised Premises by Lessor may be handled, removed, stored or otherwise disposed of by Lessor at the risk and expense of Lessee, and Lessor shall in no event be responsible for the preservation or the safekeeping thereof. Lessee shall pay to Lessor, upon demand, any and all expenses incurred in such removal and all storage charges against such property, so long as the same shall be in Lessor's possession or under Lessor's control. If any property shall remain in the Demised Premises or in the possession of Lessor, and shall not be retaken by Lessee within a period of twenty (20) days from and after the time when the Demised Premises are either abandoned by Lessee or repossessed by Lessor under the terms of this lease, said property shall conclusively be deemed to have been forever abandoned by Lessee.

16. Lessor's Right to Perform Lessee's Covenants. In addition to, but without limitation or qualification of, any other right or remedy of the Lessor herein provided, if the Lessee shall default in the performance of any covenant, condition or stipulation contained in this lease except defaults pertaining to the payment of rent or additional rent, the Lessor may, after thirty (30) days' written notice to the Lessee, or if such default cannot reasonably be corrected within such 30-day period, then if Lessee shall not within such period have commenced in good faith to correct such default, or with or without notice if, in the Lessor's reasonable opinion, an emergency exists, perform the same for the account and at the expense of the Lessee, and the amount of any payments made or other expenses incurred by the Lessor for such purpose shall be forthwith repaid by the Lessee with interest thereon until paid in full at the rate per annum equal to one percent (1%) in excess of the prime rate then in effect as published by National City Bank. Should the Lessee, pursuant to this subparagraph 16.A. or any other provision of this lease, become obligated to reimburse or otherwise pay Lessor any one or more sums of money in addition to the fixed rent, the amount thereof shall be deemed additional rent and may, at the option of Lessor, be added to any subsequent installment of the basic rent due and payable under the lease, in which event the Lessor shall have the remedies for default in the payment thereof provided in Paragraph 15., hereof. The provisions of this subparagraph 16.A. shall survive the termination of this lease. Nothing in this subparagraph 16.A. shall in any manner increase Lessor's liability to Lessee or to any others. The rights granted to Lessor under this subparagraph 16.A., shall be permissive only and shall not be construed as requiring Lessor to perform any such condition or covenant or to correct any such default.

17. Indemnity. Lessee agrees that no representations or warranties, either express or implied, have been made with reference to the condition of the Demised Premises or their fitness for the use of any purpose whatsoever. Lessee assumes the sole responsibility for the condition, operation, maintenance and management of the Demised Premises, and Lessee shall indemnify, defend and save harmless Lessor from any and all liabilities, damages, penalties, costs, expenses, claims, suits or actions due to or arising out of (i) any breach, violation or nonperformance of any covenant, condition or agreement in this lease contained on the part of Lessee to be fulfilled, kept, observed and performed; (ii) any damage to property or any injury to persons (including death) resulting at any time therefrom in, on, under or about any Cleveland State University property or facility, including but not limited to, the Demised Premises or the adjacent streets, sidewalks and other adjoining or adjacent areas, which damage shall arise out of or result from Lessee's use or occupancy of the Demised Premises or from any activity in which Lessee, its employees, agents, invitees and visitors may be engaged, which activity is related to or arises out of Lessee's use or occupancy of the Demised Premises, but excluding any such damage or injury resulting from Lessor's breach of this lease; and (iii) any and all liens placed or permitted to be placed thereon by Lessee, or any other person claiming by, through, from or under Lessee.

18. Loss or Damage to Lessee's Property. All trade fixtures, equipment, inventory and all other personal property belonging to Lessee, Lessee's agents, or Lessee's guests, located in or about the Demised Premises shall be at the sole risk of Lessee, and Lessor shall not be liable for the theft or misappropriation, nor for any damage or injury thereto, nor for any damage or injury to Lessee, or any of Lessee's officers, agents, employees, licensees or guests, or to other persons or to any property caused by fire, explosion, wind, water, rain, snow, frost, steam, gas, electricity, any Acts of God, heat or cold, dampness, falling plaster and/or ceilings, sewers or sewage odors, noise, leaks from any part of said building, or by the bursting or leaking of pipes, plumbing, electrical wiring and equipment and fixtures of all kinds, or by any act or neglect of any other tenant or of any person; provided, however, subject to the provisions of Paragraph 10., Lessor shall not be relieved of liability for the negligence, intentional wrongful acts or omissions of Lessor, Lessor's agents and employees.

19. Assignment and Subletting. Lessee may sublet all or any part of the Demised Premises and may assign this lease or any interest Lessee may have hereunder, provided that:

(i) the signed written consent of the Lessor to any such subletting or assignment shall first be obtained, which may be granted in Lessor's sole discretion; and

(ii) in the event of any such permitted assignment or subletting, Lessee shall remain liable as Lessee for the performance of all of the conditions and covenants on the part of Lessee to be performed under this lease, unless Lessor shall otherwise expressly consent in writing.

The right on the part of Lessee to assign this lease under any of the foregoing provisions of this Paragraph 18. shall be upon the express condition that such assignment shall be in writing, executed by Lessee and the assignee, that in such writing the assignee shall, in consideration of such assignment, agree to assume, perform and be bound by all of the terms, obligations and conditions on the part of Lessee to be performed under this lease, and that a duplicate executed counterpart of such instrument of assignment and assumption shall be delivered to Lessor within ten (10) days after the execution thereof.

20. Limitation of Lessor's Liability. The term "Lessor," as used in this lease so far as covenants or obligations on the part of Lessor are concerned, shall be limited to mean and include only the owner or owners at the time in question of the fee of the Demised Premises. In the event of any transfer or transfers of title to such fee, the Lessor herein named (and in case of any subsequent transfers or conveyances, the then grantor) shall be freed and relieved from and after the date of such transfer and conveyance of all liability with respect to performance of any covenants or obligations on the part of Lessor contained in this lease thereafter to be performed. Without further agreement, the transferee of such title shall be deemed to have assumed and agreed to observe and perform any and all obligations of the Lessor hereunder during the transferee's ownership of the Demised Premises. Lessor may transfer Lessor's interest in the Demised Premises without the consent of Lessee, and such transfer or subsequent transfer shall not be deemed a violation on Lessor's part of any of the terms and conditions of this lease.

21. Mortgage Subordination. The Lessee understands that Lessor may have or hereafter desire to place a mortgage upon all or part of the land described herein and the building constructed thereon. It is further understood that the mortgagee of said mortgage may require that the within lease be subordinated to said mortgage, in which event Lessee agrees to execute any document required by such mortgagee to evidence such subordination; provided, however, that the mortgagee of any such mortgage shall covenant in writing that the Lessee's leasehold interest hereunder shall not be foreclosed in any action brought under such mortgage or in the event of a sale of the Demised Premises as a result of said action if at the time of bringing an action to foreclose or at the time of said sale the Lessee is not in default in the payment of rental or in the performance of any other obligation under this lease, with due allowance to be given for the payment of any past due rental, or for the correction of any other default by Lessee within the period of time permitted after any notice is given or required to be given by the terms of this lease. It is further understood that the mortgagee of said mortgage may require that the Lessee agree to attorn to any purchaser of the property in the event that the same should be sold through foreclosure proceedings, and that the Lessee agrees to waive any and all rights to treat any such foreclosure proceedings as a breach of the lease by Lessor, in which event Lessee agrees to execute any document required by such mortgagee to evidence such agreements.

22. Estoppel Certificate by Lessee. Lessee will execute, acknowledge and deliver to Lessor, promptly upon request, a certificate certifying that (a) this lease is unmodified and in full force and effect (or, if there have been modifications, that the lease is in full force and effect, as modified, and stating the modifications), (b) the dates, if any, to which basic rent, additional rent and other sums payable hereunder have been paid, and (c) no notice has been received by Lessee of any default which has not been cured, except as to defaults specified in said certificate, it being intended that any such certificate may be relied upon by any prospective purchaser or mortgagee of the property or any part thereof.

23. Signs. Lessee may, subject to the prior written approval of Lessor, which approval shall not be unreasonably withheld, erect and maintain upon the Demised Premises, at Lessee's expense, all signs necessary or appropriate to the conduct of the business of Lessee which are not in violation of any governmental rule or regulation and will not invalidate any insurance policy of Lessor.

Lessee shall maintain said signs in good condition and repair at all times, and shall save Lessor harmless from injury to person or property arising from the erection or maintenance of said signs. Any signs placed in or upon the Demised Premises, upon the written request of Lessor, shall be removed by Lessee at Lessee's expense upon the expiration or sooner termination of this lease, and all damage caused by the removal of such signs shall be fully repaired at the cost and expense of Lessee.

24. Quiet Enjoyment. The Lessor covenants that Lessor has lawful title to the above-described real property and the right to make this lease for the term aforesaid and, conditioned upon the prompt performance and observance by the Lessee, Lessee's agents and employees of all of the terms, covenants and conditions hereof required to be performed or observed by Lessee, Lessee's agents and employees, Lessee shall at all times during the term of this lease have the peaceable and quiet enjoyment of the Demised Premises, subject to zoning ordinances, and all restrictions, reservations, conditions, covenants and easements of record or which are known by Lessee and any condition which would be disclosed by an accurate survey.

25. Withholding Premises. Should Lessee withhold from Lessor possession of the Demised Premises after the expiration or termination of this lease, whether by lapse of time or otherwise, such withholding shall constitute only a month-to-month tenancy.

26. Effect of Demand. Any demand for rent upon the Lessee after the same shall have become due and payable, or for the performance or observance of any covenant or condition of this lease after the same is required to be performed or observed under the provisions hereof, shall have the same effect as though made at the time and place such rent became due or such obligation should have been performed or observed, any law to the contrary notwithstanding.

27. Effect of Waiver. No waiver of any condition or covenant of this lease or of the breach of any condition or covenant shall be taken to constitute a waiver of any subsequent breach of such condition or covenant, or to justify or authorize the nonobservance on any other occasion of the same or any other condition or covenant thereof. The acceptance of rent by the Lessor at any time when the Lessee is in default of any covenant or condition shall not be construed as a waiver of such default or of the Lessor's rights under Paragraph 15., above on account of such default, nor shall the payment of rent by the Lessee at any time when Lessor is in default under any covenant or condition hereof be construed as a waiver of such default, nor shall any waiver or indulgence granted by the Lessor or Lessee be taken as an estoppel against the party granting the same.

28. Notices. Whenever Lessor or Lessee shall make any demand or serve any notice which is required to be in writing under the terms of this lease upon the other, the same shall be in writing and shall be sufficiently given if sent, postage prepaid, by United States registered or certified mail, addressed to Lessee at _____ Board of Education, Attention: Chief Legal Counsel, and addressed to Lessor at _____ University, _____, Attention: Chief Legal Counsel, or at such other address as Lessor or Lessee may theretofore by written notice to the other have designated for the service of such notice.

29. Terminology; Captions. Where the context so requires or such interpretation is appropriate, any word used herein denoting gender shall include all genders, natural or artificial, and the singular and plural shall be interchangeable. The term "paragraph" shall refer to all paragraphs under the caption in question, where appropriate. The captions of the various provisions of this lease are for convenience only and in no way define, limit or describe the scope or intent of this lease or the provisions which they precede or in any other manner affect this lease.

30. Short-Form Lease. This lease shall not be recorded, but the parties agree to execute a skeleton lease incorporating the terms of this lease and including a legal description of the property upon which the Demised Premises is situated, at the request of Lessee or Lessor. The same shall be duly executed in form suitable for recording, and any costs incurred in connection therewith shall be at the expense of the party requesting same.

31. Successors and Assigns. This lease and the covenants and conditions herein contained shall inure to the benefit of and be binding upon Lessor and Lessor's successors and assigns, and shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of Lessee, Lessee's successors, and those assignees of Lessee who become assignees in accordance with and as permitted by the terms of Paragraph 19., above.

32. Severability. In case any one or more of the provisions contained herein shall for any reason be held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable in any respect, such invalidity, illegality or unenforceability shall not affect any other provision of this lease, but this lease shall be construed as if such invalid, illegal or unenforceable provisions had not been contained herein.

33. Broker. Lessor warrants, which warranty shall survive the execution of this lease, that no brokerage fee or other compensation is due any real estate broker or other person or entity by reason of this transaction. Lessee warrants, which warranty shall survive the execution of this lease, that no broker induced Lessee to enter into this transaction.

34. Remedies Not Exclusive. All rights and remedies of the Lessor and Lessee herein set forth shall not be exclusive, but shall be in addition to any and all rights and remedies allowed by law and equity.

35. Entire Agreement. This lease contains the entire agreement between the parties hereto; and any agreement hereafter or heretofore made shall not operate to change, modify, terminate or discharge this lease, in whole or in part, unless such agreement is in writing and signed by each of the parties hereto.

The parties hereto have signed this Indenture of Lease as of the date first above written.

FORM 23.20 Hunting and fishing lease

COMMENT

This form is a lease agreement between a lumber company and a hunting and fishing organization. The lumber company is fully entitled to continue its business activities on the property, while the organization is allowed to construct lodges and use the property for hunting, fishing and other outdoor activities. In exchange for this, the organization pays rent, which covers the property taxes and liability insurance on the property. In addition, the organization acts as caretaker of the property, providing security services while also making certain that the land remains clean, safe and unspoiled.

The agreement allocates liability and risk of loss between the parties. The agreement also mandates the use of good conservation techniques by all parties in order to preserve the usefulness and pristine condition of the land. These techniques include, among others, clean-up and sanitation requirements, an annual report by the tenant of the fish and game harvested on the premises during the past year, etc.

FORM

THIS AGREEMENT is made this _____ day of _____ [date], between _____ [insert lessor's name], a corporation having its principal place of business at _____, hereafter referred to as the "Lessor," and _____ [insert lessee's name], hereafter referred to as the "Lessee," having an office located at _____.

W I T N E S S E T H:

In consideration of the mutual promises contained herein, it is agreed as follows:

1. Lessor agrees to lease property to lessee. The Lessor, subject to the rights reserved in Paragraph 11 hereof, hereby leases to the Lessee ALL THAT TRACT OR PARCEL OF LAND described in Exhibit A, annexed hereto and made a part hereof, hereinafter called the "Premises." This Lease shall be for a term of approximately _____ (_____) [insert number] years, commencing on the _____ day of _____ [date], and expiring on the _____ day of _____ [date], unless sooner terminated under the terms and conditions of this Lease. This Lease shall expire, regardless of any extensions given thereto, on _____ [date].

2. Lessee to pay annual rental fee. The Lessee agrees to pay an annual rental fee to the Lessor, as set forth in Paragraph 3, below.

3. Such annual rental fee shall include:

(a) All taxes (general and special) assessed during the term of this Lease against the Premises, including, but not limited to, county and municipal property tax, school tax, water and sewer tax, special district assessments, if any, together with any additional taxes which may be assessed as a result of the construction of any buildings or other improvements on the Premises, or as a result of the use and existence of any buildings or other improvements thereon by the Lessee. The Lessee shall pay such taxes to Lessor during the time within which such tax may be paid without penalty. Lessor shall provide proof of payment within _____ (_____) [insert number] days thereafter;

(b) A sum equal to twenty-five percent (25%) of the taxes specified in Paragraph 3(a). This sum shall be paid at the same time that the taxes are to be paid. In the event that the taxes are paid at more than one time each year, said sum may be paid in full on December 31st of each lease year, at the option of the Lessee; and

(c) A sum equal to $1.50 per acre times the total acreage of the Premises described in Exhibit A, annexed hereto. The Lessee shall make these payments on the anniversary of this Lease. If the final year of this Lease is not a full calendar year, the sum due shall be prorated.

4. Insurance. During the term of this Lease, the Lessee shall maintain, in full force and effect, the insurance listed below. Lessee shall provide Lessor with a certificate of insurance evidencing such coverage, together with proof of payment of the premiums, on the anniversary of this Lease in each year.

(a) Public Liability Insurance, including Contractual Liability Insurance to cover the indemnity agreement set forth in Paragraph 5, in at least the following amounts:

Bodily Injury Liability: $250,000 per injured person, including Contractual Liability
 $500,000 per occurrence

Property Damage Liability: $250,000 per occurrence, including Contractual Liability of $500,000 in the aggregate

The Public Liability Policy shall be obtained from a company with a rating of "AA" or better. The policy shall name the Lessor as an additional insured.

(b) Fire and Casualty insurance on any buildings on the Premises, equal to at least eighty percent (80%) of the replacement cost of said buildings. The policy shall be obtained from a company with a rating of "AA" or better. The policy shall name the Lessor as an additional insured.

5. Indemnification and hold harmless. The Lessee hereby shall indemnify, defend and hold harmless the Lessor from and against all claims for damages to person or property arising out of, incidental to, or in any way connected with, the use of the Premises by the Lessee or its members, their guests, agents or invitees.

6. Lessee's rights. The Lessee is hereby granted, subject to the rights of the Lessor: the exclusive privilege to occupy the Premises during the period (hereafter the "Privilege Period") beginning with the opening of the rifle season for deer and extending through December 31st of each year; exclusive use and occupancy of the buildings year round; the non-exclusive right to cut and use firewood for heating purposes, but only in any of the buildings located on the Premises. (However, said firewood is to be taken only from trees which are not useful as lumber or pulpwood. It is to be removed only from dead or fallen trees, or cut from trees definitely marked by the Lessor for that purpose with tops lopped according to the laws of the State of _____).

7. Use of timber by lessee prohibited. No merchantable timber shall be used by the Lessee for the construction or repair of camps, buildings, or for any other purpose without the prior written approval of the Lessor, who will mark the timber which may be so used.

8. Fishing and trapping. With the exception of the "Privilege Period" as described above, fishing and trapping by the public shall be permitted on the premises described in Schedule A, annexed hereto. Hunting by the public shall be permitted only for any established season which is not within the "Privilege Period."

9. Lessee to provide services of caretaker. The Lessee covenants to have either a caretaker or a watchman (either of whom may be a member of the Lessee organization who lives in the immediate area) patrol the Premises during the Privilege Period and at any other time requested by the Lessor. It is anticipated that the additional times shall be only when the conditions are such as to create fire hazards. The Lessee, its members and guests at all times will use reasonable caution in order to prevent forest fires on the Premises described in Schedule A, annexed hereto.

10. Lessee to report to lessor about violations of the use of leased premises. The Lessee shall report promptly to the Lessor any violations of the use of the Premises under this Agreement, including, but not limited to, the cutting or removal of logs, timber, stovewood, gravel, or other natural resources. Lessee shall report to the Lessor immediately any unusual circumstances which involve or affect the Premises described in Schedule A, annexed hereto.

11. Lessor's rights. The Lessor hereby reserves the right to remove timber and/or trees from the Premises at any time during the term of this Lease. The Lessor shall notify the Lessee _____ (_____) [insert number, e.g., two (2)] days prior to the time at which the Lessor intends to cut or remove timber or trees from the Premises. Lessor shall specify the general geographic area in which it intends to cut. Lessee shall notify its members to vacate and avoid this area during the period of cutting. The Lessee shall advise all of its members and guests of the nature and location of all timberstand improvement work carried on by the Lessor. Lessee shall caution them of the possible hazards resulting from the use of herbicides, and from dead, dying and falling timber.

12. Buildings or other improvements erected by lessee. The Lessee may not erect any buildings or other improvements on the Premises without the prior written permission of the Lessor. The title to any such building or other improvements shall vest in the Lessor immediately upon erection. Lessee shall maintain all improvements in good repair, reasonable wear and tear excepted, at all times during the term of this Lease and at Lessee's sole cost and expense.

The Lessee shall maintain all furnishings and equipment provided by the Lessor in good repair and return same to Lessor at the end of the term.

13. Lessee must comply with all laws. The Lessee shall fully cooperate with the Lessor and the duly authorized federal, state or local authorities in complying with and enforcing all laws and regulations now in effect or hereafter enacted or promulgated pertaining to the protection of fish, birds, and game; the use of the Premises for hunting, trapping, and fishing purposes; and the use of the property by the public in accordance with the conservation easement hereinbefore or hereinafter granted by the Lessor to the People of the State of _____. The Lessee shall comply with the terms of said Conservation Easement. The Lessee shall indemnify and hold harmless the Lessor for any violation by it or its members of said laws or regulations or conservation easement. The Lessee shall restrict its usage of the Premises, described in Schedule A and annexed hereto, to its members and guests only. Lessee shall not permit any commercial use of the premises.

14. Lessee to maintain leased premises. The Lessee shall not dam any streams. Lessee shall not allow or suffer trash, glass, cans, refuse or garbage of any nature to accumulate on the Premises. Lessee shall cause the same to be hauled away at its own expense. Lessee shall not allow any garbage or refuse to be burned on the Premises. Lessee shall not allow any human waste to be discharged into any stream on the Premises. The Lessee shall not create or suffer any health hazard on the Premises. The Lessee shall be bound by and comply with all federal, state, and municipal sanitation, health, environmental and other laws, orders and regulations which may pertain to the use or possession of the Premises.

15. No assignment of lease or subletting the premises. This Lease shall not be assigned, and no part of the premises shall be subleased by the Lessee. Lessee shall not use or permit the Premises to be used by anyone, for any purpose other than the above specified, without the prior written consent of the Lessor. If this Lease is assigned or the premises subleased, or the premises are used or permitted to be used without such written consent, the Lessor may terminate this Agreement, re-enter and re-let the Premises. The Lessor may also obtain an injunction to prevent the use of the leased Premises by the Lessee for any purposes other than hunting, trapping and fishing. The Lessor shall not be precluded from any legal remedy which it would otherwise enjoy by reason of the specification herein of any particular remedy.

16. Lease is subordinate to any mortgage outstanding on property. This Lease, and any amendments or extensions thereof, is and shall be subordinate to any mortgage now, or hereafter to become, a lien on said premises. Lessee agrees to execute any documents required by any mortgage to effect a subordination.

17. Termination of lease by lessor. In the event the Lessor determines to sell any part of the Premises or to devote or use the Premises for purposes which Lessor, in its sole discretion, determines to be inconsistent with the use of the Premises by the Lessee under the terms of this Lease, Lessor may terminate this Lease, at its option. Lessor shall give Lessee at least _____ (_____) [insert number, e.g., thirty (30)] days' written notice prior to the effective date of termination of the Lease. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if notice is given in the months of October or November, Lessee may retain the possession and use of the Premises until the end of that deer-hunting season. In the event of termination under this Paragraph, all rental fees shall be prorated and paid or refunded, as the case may be, on the effective date of termination.

18. Condemnation of property by government. In the event of a condemnation by any governmental or quasi-governmental authority, all compensation and damages awarded for such condemnation shall be the sole and exclusive property of the Lessor.

19. Lessee to supply list of names and addresses of its officers, directors and caretakers. The Lessee, upon execution of this Lease, shall deliver to the Lessor a list of the names and residence addresses of its officers, directors and caretakers. This list shall be updated on the anniversary date of this Lease in each year.

20. Lessee to submit reports to lessor on fish and game harvested. The Lessee shall provide Lessor with accurate reports of all fish and game taken during each year of this Lease. This report shall be provided to the Lessor on the anniversary date of this Lease in each year.

21. Boundary lines of premises. The Lessee shall post the boundary lines of the Premises with signs approved by the Lessor and compatible with the applicable provisions of the laws and regulations of the State of _____ for such posting. Lessee shall use only aluminum nails for posting purposes. Lessee shall not use nails made of other metals in any of the standing timber.

22. Lessor to be furnished with keys or combinations to all locks on buildings and gates. The Lessor will be furnished with keys or combinations to all locks on buildings and gates maintained by the Lessee. The location and design of all gates and fences shall be approved, in writing, by the Lessor. Lessee shall maintain all gates and fences which it has installed in good repair and in good working order. If Lessee fails to do so, Lessor may make such repairs and charge the cost thereof to Lessee as additional rent. Lessor shall give Lessee written notice to repair at least _____ (_____) [insert number] days prior to Lessor commencing such repairs.

23. Giving of notice. Any notice required to be given to Lessor shall be in writing and sent certified mail, return receipt requested, to _____ [insert person's name], located at _____. Any notice required to be given to Lessee shall be in writing and sent certified mail, return receipt requested, to _____ [insert person's name], located at _____. Notice shall be deemed given when received.

24. Agreement contains entire understanding of parties. This Agreement contains the entire understanding of the parties; there have been no representations made which are not contained herein.

25. Modification of agreement. This Agreement may only be modified by a written amendment signed by both parties. An oral modification shall not be binding on either party.

26. Interpretation of agreement. This Agreement shall be construed in accordance with the laws of the State of _____.

27. Any failure by either party to enforce any right arising hereunder shall not be deemed a waiver of such right.

The parties hereto have set their hands and seals the day and year first above written.

FORM 23.21 Model recreation lease--tenant permitted to harvest wildlife on leased premises--tenant has obligation to properly dispose of garbage and human waste--tenant promises not to use, store or dispose of hazardous substances on leased premises

COMMENT

Like the preceding lease, this lease is another form by which the tenant--a recreational organization with many members--acquires the right to use the landlord's undeveloped property for recreational purposes. The landlord retains the right to use its property for lumbering, forest management operations, mining and mineral prospecting. As in the preceding lease, the rental fee equals the annual real estate taxes assessed against the land.

The lease contains a variety of provisions pertaining to wildlife found on the property. All of these provisions are designed to protect the landlord from potential civil or criminal liability, or from damage to its property. For example, there are provisions prohibiting trapping of different types of wildlife appearing on government lists of endangered species. There is another provision requiring the tenant to notify the landlord of the discovery of beaver dams. (Beaver dams result in the destruction of valuable standing timber and may render an area unsuitable for recreational use.)

Yet another provision requires that members of the tenant-organization be trained in proper food and refuse storage techniques in order to avoid attracting bears to campsites. This provision is particularly important to the safety of users of the leased property. In the past, bears became accustomed to eating at open-air garbage dumps around the nation; but as communities began closing such dumps, the food supply diminished, and bears became frequent raiders at campsites, seeking food. Thus, campers must know how to properly store food and organic refuse in order to avoid dangerous incidents which may result in injury or death to campers.

This lease provides the tenant with the exclusive right to hunt, trap and fish on the leased premises. In addition, it requires proper disposal of garbage and human waste by the tenant so that the property will not become polluted. The lease also contains prohibitions on the use, storage or disposal of hazardous substances.

FORM

RECREATION LEASE

THIS LEASE is made this _____ day of _____ [date], between _____ [insert name of lessor-corporation], a _____ [insert name of state where lessor-corporation is incorporated] corporation, having an office at _____ ("Lessor"), and _____ [insert name of lessee-corporation], a _____ [insert name of state where lessee-corporation is incorporated] corporation, having an office at _____ ("Lessee").

WITNESSETH:

WHEREAS, Lessor is a corporation which manufactures wood products and maintains a large inventory of land on which timber may not be harvested for many years; and

WHEREAS, Lessee is a membership corporation comprised of many individuals and organizations, which are devoted to teaching young people the pleasures of outdoor recreation, including, but not limited to, camping, hiking, bicycling, hunting, fishing and survival techniques; and

WHEREAS, Lessor supports the mission of Lessee; and

WHEREAS, Lessor is not currently harvesting timber from the land described in Exhibit A, annexed hereto;

NOW, in consideration of the mutual covenants contained herein, it is agreed as follows:

1. Lessor agrees to lease property to lessee. The Lessor hereby leases to the Lessee ALL THAT TRACT OR PARCEL OF LAND described in Exhibit A, attached hereto and made a part hereof (hereinafter called the "Premises"). This Lease shall be for a term of _____ (_____) [insert number] years, commencing on the _____ day of _____ [date], and expiring at midnight on the _____ day of _____ [date], unless sooner terminated under the terms and conditions of this Lease.

The Lessor and Lessee further agree as follows:

2. Rental fee. The Lessee agrees to pay to the Lessor as annual rental all taxes (general and special) assessed during the term of this Lease against the Premises, including any additional taxes assessed as a result of the construction of any buildings or other improvements thereon by the Lessee, pursuant to the provisions of Paragraph 10 hereof, or as a result of an increase in the tax rate. The Lessee shall pay such taxes within _____ (_____) [insert number] days after the receipt by it of bills for said taxes.

3. Insurance. During the term of this Lease, the Lessee shall maintain, in full force and effect, the following insurance:

(a) Public Liability Insurance, in at least the following amounts:

Bodily Injury Liability:	$ 250,000 per injured person;
Property Damage Liability:	$ 250,000 per occurrence and $ 500,000 in the aggregate.

The Public Liability Policy shall be written by a company acceptable to the Lessor. Said policy shall name the Lessor, the Lessee and Lessee's members as insureds. A certified copy of the policy and evidence of premium payment shall be delivered to the Lessor for approval before the Lessee enters upon the premises;

(b) Fire insurance on any buildings (not including lean-tos or outhouses) that may be erected on the Premises, covering at least eighty percent (80%) of the replacement cost of said buildings, written by a company acceptable to the Lessor and naming the Lessor, the Lessee and Lessee's members as insureds. A certified copy of the policy and evidence of premium payment shall both be delivered to the Lessor for its approval before the Lessee enters upon the premises.

4. Indemnification and hold harmless. The Lessee hereby shall indemnify, defend and hold the Lessor harmless from and against all claims for damages for bodily injury, including death at any time resulting therefrom, and for damage to property, including loss of use thereof, arising out of, incidental to, or in any way connected with, the use of the Premises by the Lessee.

5. Lessee's right to post the premises and use firewood. The Lessee is hereby granted, subject to the rights of the Lessor, the exclusive privilege to post the Premises and to protect the same as a private park, and to take and use firewood only for fuel for any of the buildings now located or to be erected on the Premises. (However, said firewood is to be taken from timber not useful for lumber or pulpwood, and is to be cut only from trees definitely marked by the Lessor for that purpose, with all tops lopped off and all cutting practices to be performed according to the conservation laws of the State of _____.)

6. Lessee has exclusive right to hunt, trap and fish. The Lessee is hereby granted, subject to the rights of the Lessor, the exclusive hunting, trapping and fishing privileges on the Premises, with the understanding that the trapping of the following endangered species is hereby totally prohibited:

(3)

7. Lessee to provide caretaker. The Lessee covenants to have either a caretaker or a watchman (either of whom may be a member of the Lessee-organization who lives in the immediate area) patrol the premises at all times during which the conditions are such as to create a significant danger of forest fires. The Lessee, its members and guests at all times will use reasonable caution in order to prevent forest fires on the Premises.

8. Lessee's duty to issue reports to lessor:

(a) The Lessee shall report promptly to the Lessor any trespass on the Premises, including, but not limited to, the unlawful cutting or removal of logs, timber, stovewood, gravel, shale, or other natural resources.

(b) Lessee shall report to Lessor any damage or probability of damage that might result from the construction of any dams by beavers or other animals, and shall report immediately to the Lessor any unusual circumstances involving or affecting the Premises.

(c) Lessee shall instruct its members and guests in the proper handling and storage of food and garbage so as to avoid unnecessary entanglements with bears. Lessee shall report all damage to person and property caused by bears to the forest ranger immediately. Lessee shall provide bear-proof lockers for food at all established campsites.

9. Lessor to notify lessee if former intends to remove timber. The Lessor shall notify the Lessee if, at any time, the Lessor intends to cut or remove timber or trees from the Premises, and the Lessor hereby reserves the right to remove timber and/or trees from the Premises at any time.

10. Construction by lessee. Lessee may construct sleeping lodges, lean-tos, outhouses, latrines and other recreational buildings or structures or improvements. Such improvements shall have natural wood exteriors which are stained in shades of brown or green only in order to blend with the natural setting. The Lessee will not erect any buildings or other improvements on the Premises without first notifying the Lessor and receiving the Lessor's written permission. The title to any such buildings or other improvements shall vest in the Lessor immediately upon erection. No house trailer or permanent trailer shall be placed upon the premises by Lessee. Lessor shall have no responsibility or liability whatsoever to Lessee or any other party to maintain, repair, care for, protect or rebuild any building or other improvement erected on the subject premises by Lessee, and Lessee shall be fully responsible for said maintenance, repair, care, and protection of the buildings so erected. In the event that Lessee is in full compliance with the terms of this Lease, and at Lessor's sole discretion, Lessee may be allowed to remove, at the end of the Lease term, any such building Lessee has been allowed to construct on the Premises. Such right of removal shall be upon the condition that Lessee shall, at its own cost, clean up and remove any and all debris or rubble, etc., from the Premises; shall fill in with clean gravel any foundation or other opening in the ground; and shall restore the land to its natural condition as nearly as possible. Lessee may be required by Lessor to post cash or other security for the faithful performance of said obligations.

11. Lessee must comply with all laws. The Lessee, at its own cost, shall fully cooperate with the Lessor and the duly-authorized federal, state or local authorities in complying with and enforcing all laws and regulations now in effect or hereafter enacted or promulgated pertaining to: (1) the protection of fish, birds and game; and (2) the use of the Premises for camping, hiking, hunting, trapping and fishing. The Lessee shall indemnify and hold the Lessor harmless for any violation by Lessee or its members of said laws or regulations. The Lessee shall restrict the usage of the premises to its members and non-commercial guests only. Lessee covenants not to conduct any business or commercial enterprise whatsoever on the Premises, including, but not limited to, the sale or rental of any equipment, vehicles or any other item.

12. Further obligations of lessee:

(a) The Lessee shall maintain in good condition any existing roads, buildings or other improvements on the Premises, or any buildings or other improvements hereinafter erected on the Premises. Upon the expiration or termination of this Lease, Lessee shall surrender not only said buildings and improvements, but the entire Premises in as good condition as now exists, reasonable wear and tear excepted. The Lessee shall dam no stream unless the Lessor consents thereto in writing.

(b) The Lessee shall allow no litter, trash, glass, cans, refuse or garbage to accumulate on the Premises, and the same shall be hauled away by the Lessee, at its expense, as often as is necessary, but no less often than once each week during periods when the Premises are in use. Prior to hauling, organic refuse shall be stored in bear-proof containers. No rubbish or garbage shall be burned, nor any human waste discharged, into any stream on the Premises. The Lessee shall be bound by, and comply with, the requirements of the public health laws of the State of _____, and all other laws, orders and regulations, whether federal, state or local, pertaining to the use or possession of the Premises. Lessor reserves the right to enter upon the leased Premises at any time to clear, repair or take steps to protect its roads, property or other improvements located thereon, all for Lessor's sole benefit.

(c) No pesticides, fertilizers or substances deemed hazardous under any federal, state or local law, regulation or policy shall be used, stored, manufactured or disposed of on the premises.

Violation by Lessee of any of these provisions shall be grounds for immediate termination of this Lease, notwithstanding any other provisions contained herein. It is the intention of Lessor to maintain the premises in as natural a condition as possible. Use of hazardous substances is not compatible with this intention.

13. Assignment of lease or subleasing of premises prohibited:

(a) Neither this Lease, nor the term hereby leased, nor the Premises, nor any part thereof, shall be assigned, let or under-let by the Lessee, or used or permitted to be used by the Lessee for any purpose other than the above specified, without the written consent of the Lessor. If so assigned, let or under-let, used or permitted to be used without such written consent of Lessor, then Lessor may re-enter and re-let the Premises. In addition, this Lease, by such unauthorized act of Lessee, shall become void, if the Lessor shall so determine and elect. Without objections by Lessee, the Lessor, at its option, may also apply for and obtain an injunction to prevent the use of the leased Premises by Lessee for any purposes other than camping, hiking, bicycling, hunting, trapping and fishing, and the Lessor shall not be precluded from any legal remedy which it would otherwise have by reason of the specification herein of any particular remedy for any specified breach of the terms and conditions of this Lease. In case of the assignment of this Lease, or any part of the term hereby leased, or any subletting or under-letting, the Lessor shall have a lien upon, and shall be hereby empowered to collect, any rent accruing from the subtenant or assignee, and shall apply the net amount collected to the rent due and owing from Lessee.

(b) Lessee shall limit the use of the premises at any time to no more than _____ (_____) [insert number] people.

14. Lease is subordinate to any mortgage on leased premises. In the event that the premises are mortgaged by the Lessor, this Lease, and any amendments or extensions thereof, shall automatically be subordinate to any such mortgage. Lessee shall have no right to mortgage the leased premises or pledge this lease as collateral for any purpose whatsoever.

15. Termination of lease. This Lease may be terminated, in whole or in part, by the Lessor, at its option and for any reason whatsoever, on _____ (_____) [insert number, e.g., ten (10)] days' prior written notice to the Lessee, as long as there are no buildings on the premises which the Lessee has erected. In the event that the Lessee has erected buildings on the premises, subject to the provisions set forth in Paragraph 10 of this Lease, such notice must be supplied to the Lessee _____ (_____) [insert number, e.g., sixty (60)] days prior to termination. However, any such notice given in the months of October or November shall permit the Lessee to retain the possession and use of the Premises until the end of the deer hunting season in that particularly calendar year. In the event of termination under this Paragraph, the Lessor shall return to the Lessee the unearned portion of the rental money already paid by the Lessee if there has been a complete termination, and a portion thereof, reflecting the proportionate land area or part of the Premises to which the termination applied, in the event of a partial termination.

16. Eminent domain. If, under the power of eminent domain, there should be a taking or condemnation of the whole or any portion of the Premises, all compensation and damages awarded for any such taking or condemnation shall be the property of the Lessor, and the Lessee hereby assigns to Lessor all of the Lessee's right, title and interest in and to any and all such compensation and damages. The Lessee shall execute such instruments of assignment as may be required by the Lessor in connection with such taking or condemnation, and Lessee agrees to prosecute, at the Lessor's expense and request, either singly or jointly, any proceedings to recover such compensation and damages.

17. Lessee to supply lessor with names and addresses of lessee's members. The Lessee, within _____ (_____) [insert number] days of the execution of this Lease, shall deliver to the Lessor a list of the names and addresses of the Lessee's individual members and corporate members, and the names and residence addresses of its officers, officials and caretakers. The Lessee shall, at least annually and at the time the rental is paid, deliver to the Lessor a list of any changes in its membership.

18. Lessee to supply lessor with a count of deer killed. The Lessee shall keep an accurate record of the total number of deer taken during each hunting season on the Premises and shall make a report of the same at the conclusion of each hunting season to the Lessor.

19. Lessee to post boundary lines. The Lessee shall post the boundary lines of the Premises with signs approved by the Lessor, and such signs shall be compatible with the applicable provisions of the laws and regulations of the State of _____ for such posting. However, the Lessee shall not paint or otherwise mark the boundary lines of the Premises, except at the request of, and under the direction and supervision of, the Lessor.

20. Lessor reserves right to conduct its business on leased premises. This Lease of the Premises shall in no way or manner interfere with the Lessor's right to conduct business on said premises for any lawful purpose whatsoever, including, but not limited to, lumbering and forest management operations, mining or mineral prospecting, or other such operations. The Lessor shall give the Lessee notice of the commencement of any such operations, and the Lessee shall thereby be prohibited from entering upon any portion of the Premises on which such operations are being conducted for the duration of the conduct of such operations.

21. Other rights and privileges of lessor, its guests and invitees. The Lessor and any guests or invitees thereof and any other persons designated by the Lessor shall have the same privileges and rights to the Premises as are granted herein to the Lessee and its members, subject, however, to all the rules, regulations and by-laws established by the Lessee and applicable to its members, but without any requirement for the payment of fees, dues or assessments by Lessor, its guests or invitees.

22. Lessee to advise its members and guests of business activities of Lessor. The Lessee shall advise all its members and guests of the business activities of Lessor, including, but not limited to, timber work carried on by the Lessor, and shall caution them of possible hazards resulting from the use of herbicides, and from dead, dying and falling timber.

In addition, the Lessee shall not use nails or any other metal in or around any of the standing timber, except that Lessee may use aluminum nails for the purpose of posting property.

23. Notice to the parties. Any notice to be given to Lessor shall be given to _____ [insert name of person] at the following address: _____. Any notice to be given to Lessee shall be given to _____ [insert name of person] at the following address: _____.

The parties hereto have caused this Lease to be signed by their proper officers or duly-authorized representatives on the day and year first above written.

FORM 23.22 Office retail space lease on a net-net-net basis to the lessee

COMMENT

This form is a form of lease that could be used for office space or retail space in a multi-tenant building which is set up as a net-net-net lease in that the tenant is required to pay its pro rata share of real estate taxes and assessments, insurance, common area expenses and certain building repairs. In this form, those costs are passed on to the tenants on a dollar for dollar basis, in contrast to just passing the costs on to the extent they exceed what the costs were during a defined base year. The latter is referred to as an escalation clause. The base rent will vary depending on whether the costs are passed on dollar for dollar, or just increases in expenses are passed on to the tenants. In this form, the pro rata share is done in the customary manner by dividing the space in the leased premises by the total rental square feet in the building. Under such a formula, the landlord will be able to recover dollar for dollar each of those expenses being passed along to the tenants as long as the landlord is able to lease up all of the space. Otherwise, 100% of those costs will not be recouped by the landlord.

The one area that the tenant must be concerned about as far as paying its pro rata share is concerned is the area of building repairs and maintenance. This form lease excludes from building repairs and maintenance any structural repairs and replacements because if major structural repairs and replacements are required they will benefit the landlord for a lot longer period of time than the term of the lease. Therefore, the tenant will argue that the tenant should not have to pay any portion of such capital-like expenditures. The compromise is often passing on only a portion of those capital expenditures each year during the term of the lease as they would be allowed to be written off for tax purposes over the applicable recovery period for the particular expenditure. For a discussion of the period over which leasehold improvements can be written off, see The Tax

Background § 23.07. For example, if the capital expenditure had a fifteen year life, only one-fifteenth of the expenditure would be passed on to the tenants pro rata each year during the term of the particular lease of the tenant.

This particular form also provides in Paragraph 25 that the landlord has the right to build an additional building on the parcel of land on which the existing building is situated. In such event, the formula for computing the pro rata share of expenses passed on to tenants would have to be recalculated as stated in that Paragraph 25.

FORM

INDENTURE OF LEASE

THIS INDENTURE OF LEASE is made and entered into at _____, _____ this _____ day of _____ [date], by and between _____, hereinafter called "Lessor," and _____, a[n] _____, hereinafter called "Lessee."

WITNESSETH:

1. Demised Premises.

A. For the rents and upon the terms and conditions hereinafter set forth, Lessor hereby leases to Lessee certain premises, containing approximately _____ (_____) square feet of floor space in the building known as _____, located on the parcel of land described on Exhibit A, attached hereto and made a part hereof, being outlined or crosshatched on the floor plan marked Exhibit B, attached hereto and made a part hereof, hereinafter called the (Demised Premises.(

B. Lessee has examined the Demised Premises and the same are known to the Lessee to be in good condition and repair, and Lessee hereby accepts them in their present condition.

C. Lessor reserves the right to place, maintain, repair and replace utility lines, pipes, tunneling and the like, in, under, over and through the Demised Premises and building in which the Demised Premises are located as may be reasonably necessary or desirable for the servicing, repair, renovation or improvement of the Demised Premises or the building in which the Demised Premises are located. Lessor shall have the right to enter the Demised Premises at all reasonable times and to the use of the roof and exterior walls of the Demised Premises and building for such purpose. Lessor agrees that none of the aforesaid work shall permit Lessee to receive an abatement of rent or to make a claim for any damages or losses to Lessee or Lessee's business resulting directly or indirectly therefrom.

2. A. Term. Lessee shall hold the Demised Premises for the term of _____ (_____) years, commencing on the commencement date hereafter defined. However, if the commencement date is other than on the first day of a month, the term shall be extended by the number of days remaining in said month.

B. Commencement Date of Term. The commencement date of the term shall be [date], or upon the earlier taking of possession of the Demised Premises by Lessee. However, if the Demised Premises have not been substantially completed by Lessor in accordance with the provisions of subparagraph 13.B. below prior to the date specified in this subparagraph 2.B., the commencement date of the term shall be the date when the Demised Premises shall have been certified by Lessor's project architect as substantially completed in accordance with the provisions of this Lease and possession surrendered to Lessee, or upon earlier taking of possession of the Demised Premises by the Lessee; provided, however, that if any delay in completion is caused by the acts or omissions of Lessee, Lessee's agents and employees, then the commencement date of the term shall be the date certified by Lessor's project architect on which the Demised Premises would have been substantially completed but for the delay caused by Lessee. In the event of any such delay, Lessor and Lessee agree to exchange a side letter agreement setting forth the actual commencement and termination dates of this Lease. Said letter shall be prepared by Lessor and forwarded to Lessee for execution. Failure by Lessee to respond within ten (10) days of receipt of such letter shall be deemed an acceptance of the dates therein. Even if Lessee does not agree with such dates, Lessee shall pay rent and perform all other obligations pursuant to the terms of this Lease according to the dates in such letter, subject to refund or credit when the matter is resolved.

3. A. Rent. In consideration of said demise, Lessee covenants and agrees to pay to Lessor, without deduction or setoff of any kind, as rent for the use of the Demised Premises for the term hereof, the sum of _____ Dollars ($ _____), in equal monthly installments of _____ Dollars ($ _____) each, payable in current legal tender of the United States of America, as the same is then by law constituted. All such sums are due and payable in advance, on the first day of each and every calendar month during said term, _____, or at such other place as Lessor may in writing designate. In the event any payment of rent is not received by Lessor within ten (10) days of its due date, Lessor shall have the right at Lessor's option to charge Lessee a late fee of two percent (2%) of the amount of the overdue payment. If the late fee is charged, it shall be payable upon demand.

B. Expenses of Enforcement. Lessee shall pay, upon demand, all of Lessor's reasonable costs, charges and expenses, including without limitation, attorneys' fees and out-of-pocket expenses of counsel, agents and others retained by Lessor, incurred in enforcing Lessee's obligations hereunder or incurred by Lessor in any litigation, negotiation or transaction in which Lessee causes Lessor to become involved or concerned.

4. A. Services. Lessor shall provide, at Lessor's expense, sewer and water (for sanitary purposes only). Lessor shall also provide, subject to the terms of Subparagraph 8., below, electricity for heat and for air conditioning services to the Demised Premises and building to the extent required to maintain temperatures compatible with normal standards of comfort, during business hours. The term "business hours" shall mean Monday through Friday inclusive, from 8:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m., and on Saturday from 8:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m., but excluding all legal holidays. Installation of special equipment shall be subject to Lessor's prior approval and to special charges and regulations. Any new or additional electrical facilities required to service Lessee's equipment, and all changes in existing electrical or communication facilities servicing the Demised Premises required by Lessee shall be subject to Lessor's prior written approval, and if permitted, shall be at Lessee's expense. All expenses of maintenance and cleaning and lighting equipment located in the Demised Premises, including tubes, fixtures, light bulbs and component parts, shall be paid by Lessee. Should Lessee require any additional work or services, including services furnished outside the stipulated hours, Lessor may, in terms to be agreed upon, upon reasonable advance notice by Lessee, furnish Lessee's additional services and Lessee agrees to pay Lessor such charges as may be agreed upon, but in no event less than Lessor's actual cost plus fifteen percent (15%) for overhead, for the additional services provided.

It is understood that Lessor does not warrant that any of the services referred to above, or any other services which Lessor may supply, will be free from interruption. Lessee acknowledges that any one or more such services may be suspended by reason of accident or of repairs, alterations, or improvements necessary to be made, or by strikes or lockouts, or by reason of operation of law, or causes beyond the reasonable control of Lessor. Any such interruption or discontinuance of services shall never be deemed an eviction or disturbance of Lessee's use and occupancy of the Demised Premises or any part thereof, or render Lessor liable to Lessee for damages, or relieve Lessee from performance of Lessee's obligations under this Lease. In the event of any such interruption, Lessor shall use commercially reasonable efforts to restore services as soon as reasonably possible.

B. Security Deposit. Concurrently with the execution of this lease, Lessee shall deposit with Lessor the sum of _____ Dollars ($_____) as security for the punctual performance by Lessee of each and every obligation of Lessee under this lease. In the event of any default by Lessee not corrected within the permitted grace period granted herein, in addition to and without prejudice to any other rights or remedies available to Lessor set forth in this lease or otherwise, Lessor may apply or retain all or any part of such security to cure the default or to reimburse Lessor for any sum which Lessor may spend by reason of the default. In the case of every such application or retention, Lessee shall, on demand, pay to Lessor the sum applied or retained, which shall be added to the security deposit so that the same shall be restored to its original amount. If at the end of the lease term Lessee shall not be in default under this lease, but not otherwise, the security deposit, or any balance thereof, shall be returned to Lessee, without interest. It is expressly understood and agreed that the within security deposit is not an advance payment of or on account of the rent herein reserved or any part or installment thereof or a measure of Lessor's damages.

C. Option to Renew. The Lessee shall have the option to extend the term of this lease for _____ (_____) additional term(s) of _____ (_____) year(s) each, provided that Lessee is not in default of any and all of the terms, covenants and conditions of this lease either on the date that notice of extension is given or on the commencement date of the extended term. Such option to extend shall be exercised by the Lessee by giving written notice to the Lessor not less than six (6) months prior to the expiration date of the original *[(or renewal)] term of the lease then in effect. The extension of this lease shall be upon the same terms, covenants and conditions as are contained in the lease except that the monthly rental shall be [_____ Dollars ($_____)].

5. Use. The Demised Premises shall be used solely for _____, and for no other purpose. Lessee shall not use or occupy, or permit the use or occupancy of, the Demised Premises, or any part thereof, in any unlawful manner or for any illegal purpose, or in such a manner as to constitute a nuisance or violate the terms and conditions of any certificate of occupancy or equivalent use permit applicable to the Demised Premises, or for any purpose or in a manner liable to cause structural injury, and shall not use or occupy or permit the use or occupancy of the Demised Premises for other than purposes of the nature and to the extent permitted by the laws, rules, regulations, and ordinances of the applicable governmental authorities and their agencies.

6. Compliance with Laws. The Lessee shall throughout the term of this lease, at the Lessee's sole cost and expense, promptly comply with all laws and ordinances including without limitation, all environmental laws, rules and regulations, federal, state and local, and the orders, rules, regulations or requirements of all applicable governmental authorities and the orders, rules and regulations of the applicable Board of Fire Underwriters, or any other body now or hereafter constituted exercising similar functions, foreseen or unforeseen, ordinary as well as extraordinary, and whether or not the same require repairs or alterations, which may be applicable to the Demised Premises and the fixtures thereof, or the use or manner of use of the Demised Premises, except as provided elsewhere in this lease. The Lessee shall likewise observe and comply with the requirements of all policies of public liability, fire and all other policies of insurance at any time in force with respect to the Demised Premises. Lessor shall at its cost and expense comply with all laws and ordinances and the orders, rules, regulations or requirements of all applicable governmental authorities with respect to the building and improvements as a whole; provided, however, Lessee shall reimburse Lessor for its pro rata share as hereafter defined, of the costs incurred by Lessor to so comply.

7. Net Lease Provision. This lease shall be deemed and construed to be a "net lease" and, except as otherwise expressly provided in this lease, the Lessor shall receive all rental and all payments hereunder to be made by Lessee free from any charges, taxes, assessments, impositions, expenses or deductions of any and every kind and nature whatsoever (excluding any inheritance, estate, succession, transfer, gift, franchise, corporate, income or profit tax or capital levy) to the extent the aforesaid are required to be paid pro rata by tenants in the building in which the Demised Premises are located, including Lessee.

8. Utilities. The Lessee shall, during the continuance of this lease, pay for all heat, electric current, water, sewer, gas, telephone, internet services and other utilities used by Lessee in or upon the Demised Premises. Lessor shall at its option install separate meters to measure Lessee's use of utilities but if said utilities are supplied to the building as a whole, or to a portion of the building including more than just the Demised Premises, Lessee shall pay an allocable share of the cost of such utilities based upon the square feet in the Demised Premises to the total rentable square feet in the building served by such utilities. Lessee shall pay to Lessor its pro rata share, as hereafter defined, of the water and sewer bills and of any other utilities supplied to the building as a whole (or supplied to a portion of the building) within ten (10) days from receipt of a bill therefor. Separately metered utilities shall be paid directly to the utility company supplying the same.

9. Taxes and Assessments; Pro rata Share. Lessor shall pay, but Lessee shall reimburse Lessor for its pro rata share, as hereafter defined, of all real estate taxes and assessments (both general and special), any tax (other than income or franchise tax) assessed by any governmental agency against the rental provided herein or other tax in substitution of said real estate taxes and assessments, all charges and other taxes, duties and charges, fees or payments imposed by any governmental, quasi-governmental or public authority, which shall be imposed, assessed, levied or become a charge or lien upon, or arise in connection with the use, occupancy or possession of, the Demised Premises or any part thereof or any appurtenances thereto for any portion of the term hereby granted; provided, however, that if any such real estate taxes and assessments or other such charges relate to a fiscal period of the taxing authority, a portion of which is included in the term of this lease and a portion of which is included in a period of time prior to or after the term of this lease, they shall be prorated based on the applicable portion of the fiscal period coinciding with the term of this lease and Lessee shall be required to reimburse Lessor for its pro rata share thereof. The Lessor shall in each instance submit to Lessee a bill evidencing the amount of said taxes and other charges and showing Lessee's pro rata share thereof, and Lessee shall be required to pay said bill within ten (10) days from receipt thereof. Said costs shall be billed to Lessee as often as Lessor is billed for said costs by the taxing authority.

For purposes of this paragraph and as used elsewhere in this lease, Lessee's pro rata share shall mean the percentage obtained by dividing the total rentable square feet of space leased by Lessee by the total rentable square feet of space in the building; provided, however, in the event the square footage occupied by Lessee in the building is increased or decreased, the Lessee's pro rata share shall be adjusted accordingly in accordance with the aforesaid formula.

10. Insurance. Lessor shall at Lessor's cost and expense (except to the extent reimbursed therefor for Lessee's pro rata share thereof, as hereafter provided) secure and keep in effect during the term insurance policies in the amounts and covering the following risks:

A. For the benefit of Lessor, with respect to the building and improvements in which the Demised Premises are located, insurance against loss or damage by fire and such other risks as are from time to time included in a standard form of all risk (special form) or a fire and extended coverage and additional perils policy of insurance available in the State of Ohio.

B. For the protection of Lessor and Lessee, comprehensive general public liability insurance against claims for bodily injury or death occurring upon, in, or under the common areas and common facilities, as hereafter defined, to the extent of not less than One Million Dollars ($1,000,000) in respect to bodily injury or death to any one person, and to the extent of not less than Two Million Dollars ($2,000,000) for bodily injuries or death to any number of persons arising out of one accident or disaster, and property damage with limits of not less than Three Hundred Thousand Dollars ($300,000).

Lessee shall reimburse Lessor for its pro rata share of the premium cost to carry the aforesaid insurance described in subparagraphs A. and B., above, within ten (10) days from receipt of a bill from Lessor evidencing said costs and showing Lessee's pro rata share thereof. Lessor shall bill Lessee for such insurance costs as often as Lessor is billed therefor by Lessor's insurer.

C. Throughout the term of this lease, for the protection of Lessor, Lessee shall secure at Lessee's expense comprehensive general public liability insurance against claims for bodily injury or death occurring upon, in, or under the Demised Premises to the extent of not less than One Million Dollars ($1,000,000) in respect to bodily injury or death to any one person, and to the extent of not less than Two Million Dollars ($2,000,000) for bodily injuries or death to any number of persons arising out of one accident or disaster, and property damage with limits of not less than Three Hundred Thousand Dollars ($300,000). Lessor shall be named as an insured under said policy. Lessee shall provide Lessor with a certificate evidencing such insurance prior to commencement of the lease term and thereafter from time to time when requested by Lessor.

Lessor and Lessee agree that if the building and improvements at any time forming a part of the Demised Premises or the personal property of Lessee located in or about the Demised Premises shall be damaged or destroyed by an insured peril, and whether or not such damage or destruction was caused by the negligence of or any act or omission of the other party, the other's agents or employees, neither party shall have any liability to the other on account of such damage or destruction, or the cause thereof, except as hereinafter stated, and each party shall with due diligence require all policies of risk insurance carried by such party during the term of this lease to be endorsed with a provision by which the insurer designated therein shall waive its right of subrogation against the other party.

Furthermore, each of Lessor and Lessee agrees to, and does hereby waive all rights of recovery and causes of action against the other, the other's agents and employees, and all persons claiming through or under the other, relating to the loss of business, business interruption, or loss of rentals resulting from any damage or destruction to the Demised Premises, or building in which the Demised Premises are located, or any of Lessee's property contained therein, notwithstanding that any such damage or destruction may be due to the negligence or any act or omission of Lessor or Lessee, their respective agents or employees, as the case may be.

11. A. Repairs by Lessor. Subject to the provisions of this Paragraph 11., throughout the term of this lease, Lessor shall, at Lessor's expense (except to the extent reimbursed therefor by Lessee's pro rata share thereof as hereafter provided), maintain the building (including its principal components) and other improvements at any time located on the land described in Exhibit A (including, without limitation of the generality of the foregoing, the roof, foundation, vaults, fences, water, sewer and gas connections, pipes and mains, plumbing, heating and ventilation, and electrical systems, parking lots, driveways and other appurtenances) in as good and tenantable repair as at the commencement of the term of this lease, reasonable wear and tear excepted, provided Lessee notifies Lessor of the need for such repairs and further provided such repairs are not caused by the fault or negligence of Lessee, Lessee's agents and employees, except to the extent covered by Lessor's insurance. Said repairs shall include all necessary repairs, interior or exterior, ordinary as well as extraordinary, structural and otherwise, to the Demised Premises and building in which the same are located. When used in this Paragraph 11., the term "repairs" shall include replacements or renewals when necessary.

Lessor shall be responsible for the cost of operation and maintenance of the common areas and common facilities, as more fully described in Paragraph 25., below, including, without limitation, costs of equipping, removing snow and ice (except from sidewalks, which shall be done by Lessee at its expense), lighting, cleaning, landscaping, insuring, line painting, repairing and replacing, paying personnel to implement such services, plus fifteen percent (15%) of the foregoing costs for Lessor's administrative expenses in connection therewith.

Lessee shall reimburse Lessor for its pro rata share of all of the aforesaid costs (not covered by insurance and excluding structural repairs and replacements) set forth in this Paragraph 11.A., within ten (10) days from receipt of a bill therefor itemizing said costs and showing Lessee's pro rata share thereof. Said costs shall be billed by Lessor on an annual basis, or more frequently at Lessor's option.

B. Estimated Payments. In order to provide for current payments on account of the payments required for the operating and other expenses described in subparagraph 11.A., above, and to account for the payments required for real estate taxes and assessments and other charges pursuant to subparagraph 9.A., above, and the payments for insurance pursuant to Paragraph 10., above, Lessee agrees that Lessor may at its option at any time during this lease bill Lessee for the estimated amount of such charges to be paid in monthly installments equivalent to 1/12 of the estimated amount of such charges for the year. If, as finally determined, Lessee's pro rata share of such expenses shall be greater than or less than the aggregate of all the monthly installments so paid on account to the Lessor, then Lessee shall promptly pay to Lessor the amount of such underpayment, or Lessor shall credit Lessee for the amount of such overpayment against the next installments of base rental due hereunder, or if such next installments are not sufficient in amount to cover the overpayment, shall promptly refund the overpayment to Lessee.

12. Repairs by Lessee and Surrender. Throughout the term of this lease, Lessee will keep and maintain the interior of the Demised Premises and any fixtures, facilities or equipment therein in a good state of repair, including, without limitation, all servicing and repairs required to the wiring, plumbing, sewage system, and heating and air cooling installations, ordinary wear and tear, damage by fire, casualty, invasion, acts of war, insurrection and the like, the elements and Acts of God excepted. Lessee shall also keep, maintain and repair all exterior door and window frames. Lessee will be liable for replacement of all broken glass of the same size and quality as that broken and will keep the entire Demised Premises in a clean, safe and healthy condition according to the applicable governmental ordinances and the direction of the proper public officers. Lessee shall, at Lessee's expense, remove the snow and ice from the sidewalks adjoining the Demised Premises. It shall be Lessee's obligation to obtain its own cleaning service, at its option. Lessee further agrees to deliver up and surrender to Lessor possession of the Demised Premises upon the expiration or other termination of this lease in as good condition as when taken, ordinary wear and tear and damage from the above-specified causes excepted.

13. A. Alterations. Lessee shall make no alterations in, or additions or improvements to, said Demised Premises without the written consent of Lessor first had and obtained, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld. If any permitted alterations, additions or improvements in or to said Demised Premises are made by Lessee, the Lessee covenants and agrees that Lessee will make all such alterations, additions or improvements in or to said Demised Premises at Lessee's own expense. Any such permitted alterations, additions or improvements which are begun by Lessee shall be completed by Lessee. No alterations, additions or improvements shall be made which will weaken the structural strength of any building at any time forming a part of the Demised Premises. Lessee shall, in making any such alterations, additions or improvements, and/or in using and/or occupying the Demised Premises, comply with all applicable laws and ordinances pertaining to such work and/or such use or occupancy, including without limitation the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, and all rules and regulations issues thereunder. Any additions, alterations or improvements made by Lessee shall become and remain a part of the Demised Premises, and be and remain the property of Lessor upon the termination of this lease or Lessee's occupancy of the Demised Premises. Notwithstanding the above, Lessor may, by giving written notice to Lessee, require Lessee to restore the Demised Premises to the same condition they were in at the commencement of the lease term. In any event, Lessee shall have the right to remove all Lessee's trade fixtures, furnishings and other personal property in the Demised Premises which have been placed there by Lessee, even though the same be attached to said Demised Premises, upon the condition that the removal of any such annexation shall be effected before the expiration of the term of this lease, and that all damage caused to said Demised Premises by such removal shall be repaired by Lessee on or before the expiration of said term. Lessee shall indemnify and save harmless Lessor from and against all expenses, liens, claims or damages to either property or person which may or might arise by reason of such repairs, alterations, improvements, additions or removals.

B. Construction. Lessor shall, at its own expense, commence construction of the leasehold improvements for the Demised Premises and shall substantially complete the same with due diligence in accordance with the provisions of this Lease, subject to delays caused by the acts or omissions of Lessee, Lessee's agents and employees, governmental regulations, strikes, inability to obtain labor or materials, casualties, inclement weather and acts beyond the control of Lessor. Any delay in the substantial completion of Lessor's work attributable to acts or omissions of Lessee, Lessee's agents and employees, shall not delay the commencement date of the Lease and Lessee's obligation to pay rent. Lessor shall perform only the work which shall be set forth on mutually agreeable plans and specifications which must be completed by [date]. The plans and specifications will incorporate the building standard items and the Tenant Fit Plan set forth on Exhibit C, attached hereto and made a part hereof. Lessee shall perform all other work and make all other installations necessary for the use of the Demised Premises by Lessee, at Lessee's expense, but only pursuant to plans and specifications approved by Lessor, and subject to all of the terms set forth in subparagraph 13.A., above.

Taking of possession by Lessee shall be conclusive evidence against Lessee that the Demised Premises are in good order and satisfactory condition, save and except for a punchlist which Lessee shall have the right to prepare and submit to Lessor. Lessor agrees to correct such punchlist items as soon as reasonably possible. No promise of Lessor to alter, remodel or improve the Demised Premises or the building, and no representation respecting the condition of the Demised Premises or the building have been made by Lessor to Lessee, unless the same is contained herein, or made a part hereof.

C. The Lessee shall not suffer or permit any mechanic's or other liens to be filed against the Demised Premises or any part thereof by reason of work, labor, services, or materials supplied or claimed to have been supplied to the Lessee or anyone holding the Demised Premises or any part thereof through or under the Lessee. If any such mechanic's lien or other liens shall at any time be filed against the Demised Premises, the Lessee shall cause the same to be discharged of record within thirty (30) days after the date of filing the same. If the Lessee shall fail to discharge such mechanic's lien within such period, then in addition to any other right or remedy of the Lessor, the Lessor may, but shall not be obligated to, discharge the same, either by paying the amount claimed to be due or by procuring the discharge of such lien by deposit in court, or by giving security or in such other manner as is, or may be, prescribed by law. Any amount paid by the Lessor for any of the aforesaid purposes, and all reasonable legal and other expenses of the Lessor, including reasonable counsel fees, in or about procuring the discharge of such lien, with all necessary disbursements in connection therewith, with interest thereon at the rate of seven percent (7%) per annum from the date of payment, shall be repaid by the Lessee to the Lessor on demand, and if unpaid may be treated as additional rent. Nothing contained herein shall imply any consent or agreement on the part of the Lessor to subject the Lessor's estate to liability under any mechanic's lien law.

14. Destruction of Demised Premises.

A. If the Demised Premises, or any part thereof, or building in which the same is located, shall be destroyed or damaged during the term of the lease, and the same can reasonably be repaired or restored within one hundred eighty (180) days following such occurrence, Lessee shall not be entitled to surrender possession of the Demised Premises, or any part thereof, nor shall Lessee's liability to pay rent under this lease cease; but in case of any such damage or destruction, this lease shall continue in full force and effect. Lessor shall be obligated to repair and reconstruct such damage as soon as reasonably possible, subject to delays beyond the control of Lessor. In the event of any such damage or destruction and the same cannot reasonably be repaired within one hundred eighty (180) days following such occurrence, Lessor or Lessee may elect to terminate this lease by written notice to the other within thirty (30) days following such damage or destruction. In the event neither Lessor nor Lessee so elects to terminate this lease, all proceeds of the insurance covering such damage or destruction shall belong absolutely to the Lessor. In the event that neither Lessor nor Lessee elects to terminate this lease, the Lessor's obligation shall be the same as described above under circumstances where the damage and destruction can be repaired within one hundred eighty (180) days.

B. If any damage or destruction to the Demised Premises or the repair or rebuilding thereof shall render the Demised Premises untenantable in whole or in part, Lessee shall be allowed a proportionate reduction or abatement of the rental and other charges hereunder corresponding to the time and space of which Lessee shall be deprived (giving due consideration to the reasonable use of the remaining portion of the Demised Premises) from the date of the occurrence of such damage or destruction until the date Lessee completes the repair or restoration thereof.

[C. For the purposes of subparagraph 14.B., above, the phrase "term of the lease" shall mean the next renewal term of this lease if Lessee, at any time prior to the expiration of fifteen (15) days after the occurrence of said destruction or damage, shall have exercised Lessee's option to extend the term pursuant to the provisions of Paragraph 4., above.]

15. Eminent Domain.

A. If all of the Demised Premises or building in which the Demised Premises are located, or the common areas or such portion thereof as shall substantially interfere with the Lessee's use and occupancy thereof, shall be condemned or taken by any governmental authority, or sold to any such governmental authority to prevent such taking, then this lease shall wholly terminate effective as of the date possession is taken by said authority and the rent, taxes, insurance and other items payable under this lease shall be equitably apportioned and paid to the time of such termination. Thereupon, all parties shall be relieved of any further obligations accruing under this lease.

B. If the amount of property or type of estate taken shall not substantially interfere with the conduct of Lessee's business, this lease shall continue in full force and effect, except that the rental shall be equitably reduced, and Lessor, at Lessor's expense, shall promptly commence and diligently complete the repair and restoration of the remainder of the Demised Premises, subject to delays beyond its reasonable control, to a condition as nearly equivalent as feasible to the condition of the Demised Premises existing prior to such taking.

C. Whether such taking shall be partial or the entire Demised Premises, and whether this lease shall by reason thereof be terminated or not, Lessee shall not, because of such taking, assert any claim against the taking authority or against Lessor for any compensation because of such taking, except that Lessee shall be entitled to make a separate claim for any rights Lessee may have for Lessee's cost of moving or relocating any trade fixtures, equipment or other personal property that Lessee placed upon the Demised Premises, or for the recovery of any other provable damages to Lessee's business. For this purpose, Lessee reserves the right to participate at Lessee's expense in any condemnation proceeding. In no event, however, shall the Lessee's rights, as stated above, reduce the Lessor's award from the condemning authority as the owner of all interests in the real estate.

[D. For the purposes of subparagraph 15.B., above, the phrase "term of the lease" shall mean the next renewal term of this lease if Lessee, at any time prior to the expiration of fifteen (15) days after the date possession is taken by the authority, shall have exercised Lessee's option to extend the term pursuant to the provisions of Paragraph 4., above.]

16. Rights of Lessor Upon Default.

A. This lease is made upon the condition that Lessee shall punctually perform all of its covenants and agreements as herein set forth and if,

(1) Lessee defaults in payment of rent, or any additional charge or amount of money to be paid by Lessee as provided in this lease, and such default shall continue uncorrected for a period of ten (10) days after written notice to the Lessee thereof; or

(2) Lessee defaults in the prompt and full performance and observance of any of the terms and conditions of this lease to be performed or observed by Lessee and not relating to the payment of money, and any such default shall continue uncorrected for a period of thirty (30) days after written notice to the Lessee thereof, or if any such last mentioned default cannot reasonably be corrected within such 30-day period, then if Lessee shall not within such period have commenced in good faith to correct such default; or

(3) Lessee abandons the Demised Premises; or

(4) Lessee becomes insolvent under state law, makes a general assignment for the benefit of creditors, a receiver or trustee is appointed to take possession of Lessee's assets and is not removed within thirty (30) days, or any execution, attachment or other order of court shall be issued upon or against the interest of Lessee in this lease and shall continue for a period of thirty (30) days after notice, then in any such event, in addition to any and all rights and remedies allowed by law and equity, Lessor may, with or without further notice, forthwith terminate this lease and Lessee's right to possession of the Demised Premises, or Lessor may, without terminating this lease, terminate Lessee's right to possession of the Demised Premises.

B. Upon the termination of this lease, or upon the termination of Lessee's right to possession without termination of this lease:

(1) Lessee shall surrender possession and vacate the Demised Premises immediately, and Lessor may enter into and repossess said Demised Premises, with or without process of law, and remove all persons and property therefrom; and

(2) Lessor may remove from the Demised Premises any and all property found therein, and such repossession shall not release Lessee from Lessee's obligation to pay the rents herein provided.

C. In the event of termination of this lease as provided in this Paragraph 16., Lessor, in addition to any and all rights and remedies allowed by law and equity, shall upon such termination be entitled to recover damages in the amount equal to the then present value of the rent reserved in this lease for the entire residue of the stated term hereof less the then present worth of the fair rental value of the Demised Premises for the residue of the term hereof as then in effect, plus the costs incurred, including reasonable legal expenses, to terminate this lease and Lessee's possession of the Demised Premises.

D. In the event of any repossession by Lessor without terminating this lease, Lessor shall use Lessor's best efforts to relet and keep rented the Demised Premises or any part thereof, as agent of Lessee, to any person, firm or corporation, and on such terms as Lessor may determine, provided that Lessor shall use reasonable efforts to mitigate damages to Lessee arising from Lessee's continuing liability under this lease. Lessor may make repairs, alterations, replacements, and/or decorations in or to the Demised Premises to the extent reasonably necessary and advisable for the purpose of reletting the Demised Premises, and in the making of such repairs, alterations, additions, replacements and/or decorations shall not operate or be construed to release Lessee from liability hereunder; and Lessee shall upon demand pay the cost thereof, together with Lessor's expense of reletting (including reasonable legal expenses and brokerage commissions). If the rents collected by Lessor upon any such reletting are not sufficient to pay monthly the full amount of the rent reserved herein, together with the cost of such repairs, alterations, additions, replacements, decorations and expenses, Lessee shall pay to Lessor the amount of each monthly deficiency upon demand, and if the rent so collected from any such reletting is more than sufficient to pay the full amount of the rent reserved herein, together with such costs and expenses of Lessor, Lessor shall, at least every twelve (12) months after such eviction, account for any surplus to Lessee.

E. Any and all property which may be removed from the Demised Premises by Lessor may be handled, removed, stored, or otherwise disposed of by Lessor at the risk and expense of Lessee, and Lessor shall in no event be responsible for the preservation or the safekeeping thereof. Lessee shall pay to Lessor, upon demand, any and all expenses incurred in such removal and all storage charges against such property, so long as the same shall be in Lessor's possession or under Lessor's control. If any property shall remain in the Demised Premises or in the possession of Lessor, and shall not be retaken by Lessee within a period of twenty (20) days from and after the time when the Demised Premises are either abandoned by Lessee or repossessed by Lessor under the terms of this lease, said property shall conclusively be deemed to have been forever abandoned by Lessee.

17. Bankruptcy: Assumption; Assignment; Adequate Protection.

A. Chapter 7. If a petition is filed by or against Lessee under Chapter 7 of the Bankruptcy Code and the Trustee in Bankruptcy ("Trustee") elects to assume this lease for the purpose of assigning it or otherwise, the assumption or assignment, or both, may be made only if all of the terms and conditions of subparagraph 17.C., below, are satisfied. If the Trustee fails to assume this lease within sixty (60) days after the Trustee's appointment, or within such additional time period as the Bankruptcy Court may allow, this lease shall be deemed to have been rejected. Assumption of this lease must satisfy all of the conditions of subparagraph 17.C., below, which Lessor and Lessee acknowledge to be commercially reasonable. In the event this lease is rejected, Lessor shall then immediately be entitled to possession of the Demised Premises without further obligation to Lessee or the Trustee and this lease shall be canceled. Lessor's right to be compensated for damages in the bankruptcy proceeding, however, shall survive.

B. Chapter 11. If a petition for reorganization under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code is filed by or against Lessee, or a proceeding that is filed by or against Lessee under any other chapter of the Bankruptcy Code is converted to a Chapter 11 proceeding and Lessee as debtor in possession fails to assume this lease within sixty (60) days from the date of filing of the petition or the conversion, or within such additional time period as the Bankruptcy Court may allow, debtor in possession will be deemed to have rejected this lease.

C. Assumption of Lease. Assumption of this lease must satisfy, in Lessor's business judgment, all of the following conditions which Lessor and Lessee acknowledge to be commercially reasonable:

(1) The Trustee or the debtor-in-possession has cured or has provided to Lessor adequate assurance, as defined hereinbelow that:

(a) The Trustee will cure all monetary defaults under this lease within ten (10) days from the date of the assumption; and

(b) The Trustee will cure all non-monetary defaults under this lease within thirty (30) days from the date of the assumption.

(2) The Trustee or the debtor-in-possession has compensated Lessor, or has provided to Lessor adequate assurance as defined hereinbelow, that within ten (10) days from the date of the assumption Lessor will be compensated for any pecuniary loss it incurred arising from the default of Lessee, Trustee, or the debtor-in-possession.

(3) The Trustee or the debtor-in-possession has provided Lessor with adequate assurance of future performance, as defined hereinbelow, of each of Lessee's obligations under the lease; provided, however, that:

(a) The Trustee or debtor-in-possession will also deposit with Lessor, as security for the timely payment of rent, an amount equal to three months base rental and other monetary charges accruing under this lease.

(b) If required by the terms of this lease, the Trustee or the debtor-in-possession will also pay in advance, on each day the base rental is payable one-twelfth (1/12) of Lessee's annual obligation for operating expenses and real estate taxes and assessments.

(4) Lessor has determined that the assumption of this lease will not:

(a) Breach any provision in any other lease, mortgage, financing agreement, or other agreement by which Lessor is bound relating to the Building; or

(b) Disrupt, in Lessor's judgment, the lessee mix of the Building or any other attempt by Lessor to provide a specific variety of tenants in the Building that, in Lessor's judgment, would be most beneficial to all of the tenants of the Building and would enhance the image, reputation and profitability of the Building.

(5) For purposes of this subparagraph 17.C., "adequate assurance" means that:

(a) The Trustee or the debtor-in-possession has, and will continue to have, sufficient assets to assure Lessor that Trustee or the debtor-in-possession will have sufficient funds to fulfill Lessee's obligations under the lease and to keep the Demised Premises properly staffed with sufficient employees to conduct a fully operational, actively promoted business on the Demised Premises; and

(b) An order will have been entered segregating sufficient cash payable to Lessor and/or a valid and perfected first lien and security interest will have been granted on the property of the estate that is acceptable for value and kind to Lessor, to secure to Lessor the obligation of the Trustee or debtor-in- possession to cure the monetary or non-monetary defaults under this lease within the time period set forth above.

(c) If the Trustee or the debtor-in-possession has assumed the lease under the terms of subparagraphs 17.A. or 17.B., above, and elects to assign Lessee's interest under this lease or the estate created by that interest to another person, that interest or estate may be assigned only if Lessor acknowledges in writing that the intended assignee has provided adequate assurance of future performance, as defined hereinbelow, of all of the terms, covenants and conditions of this lease to be performed by Lessee.

(d) For the purposes of this Paragraph 17.C., "adequate assurance of future performance" means that Lessor has ascertained that each of the following conditions has been satisfied:

(i) The assignee has submitted a current financial statement, audited by a certified public accountant, that shows a net worth and working capital in amounts determined by Lessor to be sufficient or to assure future performance by the assignee of Lessee's obligations under this lease;

(ii) If requested by Lessor, the assignee will obtain guarantees in form and substance satisfactory to Lessor, from one or more persons who satisfy Lessor's standards of creditworthiness;

(iii) Lessor has obtained all consents or waivers from any third party required under any lease, mortgage, financing agreement, or other agreement by which Lessor is bound to permit the assignment;

(iv) When, pursuant to the Bankruptcy Code, the Trustee or the debtor-in-possession is obligated to pay reasonable use and occupancy charges for the use of all or a portion of the Demised Premises, the charge will be no less than base rental and additional rent and other monetary obligations of the Lessee included in this lease.

18. Lessor's Access to Demised Premises. Lessor reserves the right to enter the Demised Premises during the normal business hours of Lessee only, or at any time in case of an emergency, for the purpose of examining, repairing, renovating, improving and protecting the Demised Premises, or for the purpose of showing the Demised Premises to a prospective purchaser or mortgagee, and also during the last six (6) months of the term of this lease for the purpose of exhibiting the Demised Premises to prospective tenants and putting up the usual notice "to rent" or "for sale," which notice shall not be removed or hidden by Lessee.

19. Indemnity. Lessee agrees that no representations or warranties, either express or implied, have been made with reference to the condition of the Demised Premises or their fitness for the use of any purpose whatsoever. Lessee shall indemnify, defend and save harmless Lessor from any and all liabilities, damages, penalties, costs, expenses, claims, suits or actions due to or arising out of (i) any breach, violation or nonperformance of any covenant, condition or agreement in this lease contained on the part of Lessee to be fulfilled, kept, observed and performed; (ii) any damage to property or any injury to persons (including death) resulting at any time therefrom in, on, under or about the Demised Premises or the adjacent streets, sidewalks and other adjoining or adjacent areas caused by the negligence, willful acts or omissions of Lessee, or of the employees, agents, invitees, visitors, assignees and sublessees of Lessee, and the employees, agents, invitees and visitors of said assignees and sublessees; and (iii) any and all liens placed or permitted to be placed thereon by Lessee, or any other person claiming by, through, from or under Lessee.

20. Loss or Damage to Lessee's Property. All trade fixtures, equipment, inventory and all other personal property belonging to Lessee, Lessee's agents, or Lessee's guests, located in or about the Demised Premises shall be at the sole risk of Lessee, and Lessor shall not be liable for the theft or misappropriation, nor for any damage or injury thereto, nor for any damage or injury to Lessee, or any of Lessee's officers, agents, employees, licensees or guests, or to other persons or to any property caused by fire, explosion, wind, water, rain, snow, frost, steam, gas, electricity, any Acts of God, heat or cold, dampness, falling plaster and/or ceilings, sewers or sewage odors, noise, leaks from any part of said building or by the bursting or leaking of pipes, plumbing, electrical wiring and equipment and fixtures of all kinds, or by any act or neglect of any other tenant or of any person; provided, however, subject to the provisions of Paragraph 10., Lessor shall not be relieved of liability for the negligence, intentional wrongful acts or omissions of Lessor, Lessor's agents and employees.

21. Assignment and Subletting. Lessee shall not be permitted to mortgage, pledge or encumber this lease. Lessee may sublet all or any part of the Demised Premises and may assign this lease or any interest Lessee may have hereunder, whether voluntarily or involuntarily, by operation of law or otherwise, provided that:

(1) the signed written consent of the Lessor to any such subletting or assignment shall first be obtained (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld); and

(2) in the event of any such permitted assignment or subletting, Lessee shall remain liable as Lessee for the performance of all of the conditions and covenants on the part of Lessee to be performed under this lease, unless Lessor shall otherwise expressly consent in writing.

Lessee shall supply to Lessor all financial and other information with respect to a prospective assignee or sublessee as required by Lessor. The parties hereby agree that it shall be reasonable under this lease or under any applicable law for Lessor to withhold consent to any proposed transfer to a sublessee or assignee where one (1) or more of the following applies (without limitation as to other reasonable grounds for withholding consent): (i) the proposed sublessee or assignee is of the character or reputation or engaged in a business which is not consistent with the quality or nature of the other tenants in the Building, or would be a significantly less prestigious occupant of the Building than Lessee, (ii) the sublessee or assignee intends to use the Demised Premises, or any portion thereof, for purposes which are not permitted under this lease, (iii) the sublessee or assignee is either a government (or agency or instrumentality thereof), (iv) the proposed sublessee or assignee or affiliate thereof is an occupant of the building, or has negotiated to lease space in the building from Lessor during the prior twelve (12) months, (v) the proposed sublessee or assignee does not have, in Lessor's sole good faith determination, satisfactory references or a reasonable financial condition in relation to the obligations to be assumed in connection with the sublease or assignment, (vi) the sublease or assignment involves a partial or collateral assignment, or a mortgage, pledge, hypothecation, or other encumbrance or lien on this lease, or is a transfer by operation of law, (vii) the proposed sublease or assignment would cause Lessor to be in violation of any laws or any other lease, mortgage or agreement to which Lessor is a party, would give another tenant in the building a right to cancel its lease, or would create adverse tax consequences for Lessor, or (viii) Lessee has committed a default under this lease and failed to cure the same within the applicable grace period. If Lessee disagrees with Lessor's decision to deny approval, Lessee agrees that its sole remedy shall be to seek injunctive relief.

Any attempt to assign this Lease or to sublet all or any portion of the Demised Premises, without Lessor's prior written consent, shall be void and, at Lessor's option, shall constitute an event of default under this lease. The right on the part of Lessee to assign this lease under any of the foregoing provisions of this Paragraph 21 shall be upon the express condition that such assignment shall be in writing, executed by Lessee and the assignee, that in such writing the assignee shall, in consideration of such assignment, agree to assume, perform and be bound by all of the terms, obligations and conditions on the part of Lessee to be performed under this lease, and that a duplicate executed counterpart of such instrument of assignment and assumption shall be delivered to Lessor within ten (10) days after the execution thereof. For purposes of this lease, the sale or transfer of the majority of the common stock of Lessee, or the majority of the beneficial or equitable interests of the owners of a non-corporate Lessee, shall be considered an assignment of the lease subject to the provisions of this Paragraph 21 In the event Lessor consents to any such assignment or sublease to any assignee or sublessee that is not related to Lessee in the manner hereafter described in the next paragraph, all options granted to Lessee herein, if any, whether renewal, expansion or otherwise, shall not apply to such assignee or sublessee.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, if Lessee is a corporation, Lessee shall have the right to assign this lease or sublet a portion thereof without Lessor's consent to any subsidiary, parent or successor corporation of Lessee. A successor corporation shall mean any corporation or entity which shall acquire all or a substantial part of the assets in business of Lessee whether by merger, consolidation, dissolution, corporate reorganization or otherwise. However, in such event, Lessee shall remain liable under this lease and shall notify Lessor in writing of such event within thirty (30) days of its occurrence, and of the exact name and address of the new entity.

If Lessee requests that Lessor consent to a sublease of the Demised Premises or a portion thereof, or an assignment of the Demised Premises (other than in connection with the sale of Lessee's business) in lieu of granting such consent, Lessor shall have the right and option to exclude ("recapture") from this lease the space proposed to be subleased or assigned, effective as of the proposed commencement date of the sublease. If Lessor elects to recapture such space, Lessor shall give Lessee written notice thereof within thirty (30) days of receipt of Lessee's written request to sublease such space, in which event Lessee shall surrender such space as of the proposed commencement date. Effective as of the date of recapture of the space proposed to be subleased or assigned, the base rent and additional rent with respect to such recaptured space shall be prorated as of such date, and if the space to be recaptured is not the entire Demised Premises, the base rent and additional rent for the balance of the term shall be adjusted accordingly.

Lessee shall submit all requests for Lessor's consent to an assignment or sublease in writing to Lessor, accompanied by a non-refundable service fee of $500 to cover Lessor's consideration of the request. Such written request shall include the name and address of the proposed sublessee, and the terms of the proposed sublease, including without limitation, the sublease term, rental rate and description of the space. In addition, Lessee shall be responsible for the reasonable legal fees incurred by Lessor in connection with (i) the review of any subleases and preparation or review of consents to subleases, and in connection with the review or preparation of any assignments of the Lease or consents to assignments; and (ii) the review or preparation of any construction contracts related to the buildout of space for the subtenant or assignee.

22. A. Limitation of Lessor's Liability. The term "Lessor," as used in this lease so far as covenants or obligations on the part of Lessor are concerned, shall be limited to mean and include only the owner or owners at the time in question of the fee of the Demised Premises. In the event of any transfer or transfers of title to such fee, the Lessor herein named (and in case of any subsequent transfers or conveyances, the then grantor) shall be freed and relieved from and after the date of such transfer and conveyance of all liability with respect to performance of any covenants or obligations on the part of Lessor contained in this lease thereafter to be performed. Without further agreement, the transferee of such title shall be deemed to have assumed and agreed to observe and perform any and all obligations of the Lessor hereunder during the transferee's ownership of the Demised Premises. Lessor may transfer Lessor's interest in the Demised Premises without the consent of Lessee, and such transfer or subsequent transfer shall not be deemed a violation on Lessor's part of any of the terms and conditions of this lease.

B. No Personal Liability. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this lease, it is expressly understood and agreed, such understanding and agreement being a significant and material inducement to the execution of this lease by Lessor, that (i) there shall be absolutely no personal liability of whatever nature imposed upon Lessor or Lessor's officers, agents, employees, personal representatives, successors and assigns, with respect to any terms, covenants or conditions of this lease, (ii) in the event that Lessor shall commit a default or breach of any of the terms, covenants or conditions hereof and Lessee shall obtain a judgment against Lessor for such default or breach, Lessee's sole exclusive remedy for the enforcement and collection of such judgment shall be the institution of foreclosure or other appropriate execution proceedings solely against the land on Exhibit A and improvements thereon, and (iii) regardless of whether or not the proceedings described in "(ii)" immediately above shall result in a complete satisfaction of Lessee's judgment, in no event (whether by proceedings at law, in equity, administrative proceedings or otherwise) shall any deficiency or other personal judgment be rendered or enforced against Lessor or Lessor's officers, agents, employees, personal representatives, successors or assigns.

23. Mortgage Subordination. The Lessee understands that Lessor may have or hereafter desire to place a mortgage upon all or part of the land described herein and the building constructed thereon. It is further understood that the mortgagee of said mortgage may require that the within lease be subordinated to said mortgage, in which event Lessee agrees to execute any document required by such mortgagee to evidence such subordination; provided, however, that the mortgagee of any such mortgage shall covenant in writing that the Lessee's leasehold interest hereunder shall not be foreclosed in any action brought under such mortgage or in the event of a sale of the Demised Premises as a result of said action if at the time of bringing an action to foreclose or at the time of said sale the Lessee is not in default in the payment of rental or in the performance of any other obligation under this lease, with due allowance to be given for the payment of any past due rental or for the correction of any other default by Lessee within the period of time permitted after any notice is given or required to be given by the terms of this lease. It is further understood that the mortgagee of said mortgage may require that the Lessee agree to attorn to any purchaser of the property in the event that the same should be sold through foreclosure proceedings, and that the Lessee agrees to waive any and all rights to treat any such foreclosure proceedings as a breach of the lease by Lessor, in which event Lessee agrees to execute any document required by such mortgagee to evidence such agreements.

24. Estoppel Certificate by Lessee. Lessee will execute, acknowledge and deliver to Lessor, promptly upon request, a certificate certifying that (a) this lease is unmodified and in full force and effect (or, if there have been modifications, that the lease is in full force and effect, as modified, and stating the modifications), (b) the dates, if any, to which basic rent, additional rent and other sums payable hereunder have been paid, and (c) no notice has been received by Lessee of any default which has not been cured, except as to defaults specified in said certificate, it being intended that any such certificate may be relied upon by any prospective purchaser or mortgagee of the property or any part thereof.

25. Common Areas. "Common areas" and "common facilities," as used in the within lease, include, without limitation, all of the parking areas, approaches, entrances, driveways, sidewalks and service areas and landscaping located on the parcel of real estate described on Exhibit A, and all public or semi-public parts of the building in which the Demised Premises are located, including, without limitation, halls, exits, stairs, lavatories, doors or windows. Lessor shall operate, manage, equip, repair, replace and maintain the common areas and common facilities for their intended purposes in such manner as Lessor shall, in Lessor's sole discretion, determine; provided, however, Lessor agrees to keep said common areas and common facilities clean and to remove snow and ice from the parking areas and driveways as promptly as possible.

Lessor reserves the right to change the location, size, elevation or nature of the common areas and common facilities, including without limitation, the right to construct an additional building containing approximately 3,000 square feet on the parcel on which the building is situated. Such building, if constructed, shall be at Lessor's sole cost and expense. In the event such building is constructed, it is anticipated that the tenants of such building shall share in the use of the common areas. In such event, those expenses related solely to the use of the outside common areas by the tenants of both buildings shall be passed on pro rata to the tenants of both buildings, based on an allocation to the tenants taking into consideration the total rentable square feet in both buildings. The pro rata share of those common area expenses shall be equivalent to the percentage obtained by dividing the rentable square feet in the Demised Premises by the total rentable square feet in both buildings. Lessor may, from time to time, make reasonable rules and regulations for the use of said common areas and common facilities, which regulations shall be promulgated when established.

The Lessee, Lessee's agents, employees and invitees, shall have the right to use said common areas and common facilities jointly with Lessor, Lessor's agents and employees, and other tenants of the above-described building, their agents, employees and invitees. All of such use of any of the common areas and common facilities shall be such as will not unreasonably obstruct or interfere with the joint use thereof, and shall be in compliance with all applicable laws, rules and regulations.

26. Signs. Lessee shall have the right to erect and maintain upon the Demised Premises, at Lessee's expense, all signs necessary or appropriate to the conduct of the business of Lessee which are not in violation of any governmental rule or regulation and will not invalidate any insurance policy of Lessor; provided, however, that Lessee shall not have the right to erect or maintain in or upon the Demised Premises any sign, the erection, maintenance or removal of which will operate to decrease the value of the Demised Premises or impair the structural integrity of the building, without the Lessor's prior consent in writing. Installation of any exterior signs, however, shall be subject to the prior written approval of Lessor as to design, size and location, it being understood that the Demised Premises are part of an integrated and uniform commercial building, and that control of exterior signs by Lessor is essential.

Lessee shall maintain said signs in good condition and repair at all times, and shall save Lessor harmless from injury to person or property arising from the erection or maintenance of said signs. Any signs placed in or upon the Demised Premises, upon the written request of Lessor, shall be removed by Lessee at Lessee's expense upon the expiration or sooner termination of this lease, and all damage caused by the removal of such signs shall be fully repaired at the cost and expense of Lessee.

27. Quiet Enjoyment. The Lessor covenants that Lessor has lawful title to the above-described real property and the right to make this lease for the term aforesaid and, conditioned upon the prompt performance and observance by the Lessee, Lessee's agents and employees, of all of the terms, covenants and conditions hereof required to be performed or observed by Lessee, Lessee's agents and employees, Lessee shall at all times during the term of this lease have the peaceable and quiet enjoyment of the Demised Premises.

28. Withholding Premises. Should Lessee withhold possession of the Demised Premises after the termination of this lease, whether by lapse of time or otherwise, Lessee shall be subject to all of the terms of this lease except the rent required to be paid shall be at a rate equal to two (2) times the base rental (plus additional rental payments) required to be paid immediately prior to such holdover. In addition, if Lessor shall suffer any damage or loss which may result from Lessor's inability to timely deliver the Demised Premises to a subsequent tenant, Lessee shall promptly pay the amount to Lessor. Should Lessee occupy the Demised Premises after the termination of this lease for any cause whatsoever, Lessee shall be considered a tenant-at-will and by sufferance of Lessor and no such occupancy shall operate as a renewal of the lease or any part thereof.

29. Effect of Demand. Any demand for rent upon the Lessee after the same shall have become due and payable, or for the performance or observance of any covenant or condition of this lease after the same is required to be performed or observed under the provisions hereof, shall have the same effect as though made at the time and place such rent became due or such obligation should have been performed or observed, any law to the contrary notwithstanding.

30. Effect of Waiver. No waiver of any condition or covenant of this lease or of the breach of any condition or covenant shall be taken to constitute a waiver of any subsequent breach of such condition or covenant, or to justify or authorize the nonobservance on any other occasion of the same or any other condition or covenant thereof. The acceptance of rent by the Lessor at any time when the Lessee is in default of any covenant or condition shall not be construed as a waiver of such default or of the Lessor's rights under Paragraph 16., above, on account of such default, nor shall the payment of rent by the Lessee at any time when Lessor is in default under any covenant or condition hereof be construed as a waiver of such default, nor shall any waiver or indulgence granted by the Lessor or Lessee be taken as an estoppel against the party granting the same.

31. Notices. Whenever Lessor or Lessee shall make any demand or serve any notice which is required to be in writing under the terms of this lease upon the other, the same shall be in writing and shall be sufficiently given if sent, postage prepaid, by United States registered or certified mail, or delivered by a nationally recognized overnight courier, addressed to Lessee at _____, _____, and addressed to Lessor at _____, _____, or at such other address as Lessor or Lessee may theretofore by written notice to the other have designated for the service of such notice.

32. Terminology; Captions. Where the context so requires or such interpretation is appropriate, any word used herein denoting gender shall include all genders, natural or artificial, and the singular and plural shall be interchangeable. The term "paragraph" shall refer to all paragraphs under the caption in question, where appropriate. The captions of the various provisions of this lease are for convenience only and in no way define, limit or describe the scope or intent of this lease or the provisions which they precede or in any other manner affect this lease.

33. Short-Form Lease. This lease shall not be recorded, but the parties agree to execute a skeleton lease incorporating the terms of this lease and including a legal description of the property upon which the Demised Premises is situated, at the request of Lessee or Lessor. The same shall be duly executed in form suitable for recording, and any costs incurred in connection therewith shall be at the expense of the party requesting same.

34. Successors and Assigns. This lease and the covenants and conditions herein contained shall inure to the benefit of and be binding upon Lessor, Lessor's successors and assigns, and shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of Lessee, Lessee's heirs, legal representatives, or successors and those assignees of Lessee who become assignees in accordance with and as permitted by the terms of Paragraph 21., above.

35. Severability. In case any one or more of the provisions contained herein shall for any reason be held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable in any respect, such invalidity, illegality or unenforceability shall not affect any other provision of this lease, but this lease shall be construed as if such invalid, illegal or unenforceable provisions had not been contained herein.

36. Broker. Lessor warrants, which warranty shall survive the execution of this lease, that no brokerage fee or other compensation is due any real estate broker or other person or entity by reason of this transaction, except _____, who shall be paid by Lessor. Lessee warrants, which warranty shall survive the execution of this lease, that no broker induced Lessee to enter into this transaction, except _____. Lessor and Lessee each agree to indemnify, defend and hold harmless the other from any breach of said warranties.

37. Rules and Regulations. Lessor reserves the right from time to time to adopt such rules and regulations as Lessor may deem necessary for the preservation, safety, care, cleanliness or operation of the building, common areas and common facilities, provided such rules and regulations are promulgated by Lessor and are uniformly enforced among all of the tenants in the building.

38. Authority of Lessee. Lessee hereby agrees that prior to Lessee's execution and delivery of this Lease to Lessor and as a condition of Lessor's duties and obligations hereunder, Lessee will provide Lessor with such reasonable documentation as Lessor may require, including, without limitation, a resolution evidencing the Lessee's authority to execute and deliver this Lease.

39. Confidentiality. Lessee shall keep the content and all copies of this lease, related documents or amendments now or hereafter executed, and all proposals, materials, information and matters relating thereto strictly confidential, and shall not disclose, disseminate or distribute any of the same, or permit the same to occur, except to the extent reasonably required for proper business purposes by Lessee's employees, attorneys, insurers, auditors, lenders and permitted assignees or sublessees (and Lessee shall obligate any such parties to whom disclosure is permitted to honor the confidentiality provisions hereof), and except as may be required by law or court proceedings.

40. Remedies Not Exclusive. All rights and remedies of the Lessor and Lessee herein set forth shall not be exclusive, but shall be in addition to any and all rights and remedies allowed by law and equity.

41. Entire Agreement. This lease contains the entire agreement between the parties hereto; and any agreement hereafter or heretofore made shall not operate to change, modify, terminate or discharge this lease, in whole or in part, unless such agreement is in writing and signed by each of the parties hereto.

The parties hereto have signed this Indenture of Lease as of the date first above written.

FORM 23.23 Restaurant lease in office building--tenant to perform the buildout of leasehold improvements

COMMENT

This form was used for a restaurant lease on the ground floor of a high-rise office building. The tenant has agreed to pay, in addition to the base rent, its pro rata share of increases in real estate taxes and assessments and insurance to carry a fire and extended coverage or all risk policy of insurance upon the building in which the premises are located. In this particular lease, the tenant is only required to pay its pro rata share of such increases over a base year as defined in Paragraph 4. of the lease. In addition, in Paragraph 4.A.(2), the tenant is also required to pay its pro rata share of certain operating expenses with respect to the maintenance and repair of the common areas and facilities located outside of the building. Tenant's pro rata share of these operating expenses are passed on to the tenant on a dollar for dollar basis, not just the increases over a base year. Unlike other office space tenants in the building, the common area expenses for the maintenance and repair of the common areas inside the building are not required to be paid by this restaurant tenant because this restaurant tenant is not using those common areas. It has direct access to its space from the outside of the building, and has its own restroom facilities. The definition of "operating expenses" and how inclusive it is, is always a matter of negotiation between the landlord and the tenant. In this particular lease, the tenant was able to negotiate several exclusions from the definition of operating expenses, which exclusions are set forth on Exhibit B-1 attached to the lease.

In this transaction, the tenant has agreed to take the premises in their "as is" condition and to perform its own buildout of the space pursuant to the terms of Paragraph 9.B.(1) of the lease, but within the time period referred to in that paragraph. The tenant has also agreed to purchase the existing restaurant equipment left in the premises by the prior tenant. Finally, it should be noted that the transaction is contingent upon the tenant obtaining all building permits and licenses referred to under Paragraph 9.B.(5) of the lease, and is contingent upon the ability to obtain a liquor license for use in connection with its restaurant operation as referred to in Paragraph 9.D. of the lease.

It should also be noted that in this lease, because of the size of the restaurant, parking is an important issue for the tenant and must be adequately spelled out in the lease. In Paragraph 22.B. of the lease, the tenant is granted the right to the use of the non-exclusive parking areas around the building, but in addition is granted the right to the exclusive use of certain parking spaces located on an adjoining piece of property over which the landlord has easement rights for parking purposes. Those all must be properly identified in the lease or on exhibits to the lease, and tenant's counsel should make sure that it reviews the documents which created the parking easement in the first instance.

INDENTURE OF LEASE

THIS INDENTURE OF LEASE is made and entered into at _____, _____ [city, state] this _____ day of _____ [date], by and between _____, hereinafter called "Lessor," and _____ hereinafter called "Lessee."

WITNESSETH:

1. Demised Premises

A. For the rents and upon the terms and conditions hereinafter set forth, Lessor hereby leases to Lessee certain premises, containing approximately _____ square feet of floor space in the building located on the parcel of land described on Exhibit A, attached hereto and made a part hereof, being delineated in red on the floor plan marked Exhibit B, attached hereto and made a part hereof, hereinafter called the "Demised Premises."

B. Lessee has examined the Demised Premises and the same are known to the Lessee to be in good condition and repair, and Lessee hereby accepts them in their present "as is" condition.

C. Lessor reserves the right to place, maintain, repair and replace utility lines, pipes, tunneling and the like, in, under, over and through the Demised Premises as may be reasonably necessary or advisable for the servicing, renovation, improvement or repair of the building in which the Demised Premises are located. Lessor shall have the right to the use of the roof and exterior walls of the Demised Premises for such purpose. Lessee agrees that none of the aforesaid work shall permit Lessee to receive an abatement of rent or to make a claim for any damages or losses to Lessee or Lessee's business resulting directly or indirectly therefrom, provided the aforesaid work does not unreasonably interfere with Lessee's use or occupation of the Demised Premises and the operation of Lessee's business therein.

2. Term. Lessee shall hold the Demised Premises for the term of _____ (_____) years, commencing upon (i) one hundred twenty (120) days after the execution of this lease, or (ii), the date Lessee begins doing business at the Demised Premises, whichever shall first occur (the "Commencement Date"). However, if Lessee's Work as described in Paragraph 9.B., below, is not substantially completed within such 120-day period despite Lessee's commercially reasonable efforts, and provided Lessee can substantiate such fact to Lessor's reasonable satisfaction, Lessee shall have up to an additional thirty (30) days before the lease commences, but in no event shall the Commencement Date be later than one hundred fifty (150) days from the date of execution of this lease or the date Lessee begins doing business at the Demised Premises, whichever is sooner. The term shall expire on the _____ (_____) year anniversary of the Commencement Date, unless the term hereby demised shall be sooner terminated. If the Commencement Date is other than on the first day of the month, then the Commencement Date of the lease term shall be the first day of the month next following, and the expiration date shall be _____ (_____) years after such date. However, during the partial month preceding the Commencement Date of the lease term, all provisions of this lease shall be in full force and effect and the rent for such partial month shall be prorated based on the applicable number of days in the partial month in question to the total number of days in the month, multiplied times the monthly rate of rent payable during the first full month of the lease.

3. Base Rental. In consideration of said demise, Lessee covenants and agrees to pay to Lessor, without deduction or setoff of any kind, as base rental for the use of the Demised Premises during the first _____ (_____) years of the term hereof, the sum of _____ Dollars ($ _____) per annum, in equal monthly installments of _____ Dollars ($ _____) each, and during the final _____ (_____) years of the term hereof, the sum of _____ Dollars ($ _____) per annum, in equal monthly installments of _____ Dollars ($ _____), payable in current legal tender of the United States of America, as the same is then by law constituted. All such sums (hereinafter sometimes called the "base rental") are due and payable in advance, on the first day of each and every calendar month during said term, at _____, _____, _____, _____, _____, or at such other place as Lessor may in writing designate. All rent and other charges not paid by Lessee within ten (10) days of its due date shall bear interest at the rate of interest equal to two points in excess of the base lending rate of _____ Bank, or its successor, then in effect at the time, until paid.

4. Additional Payments

A. Additional Rent.

(1) For purposes of this subparagraph 4.A., the "base year" shall be the calendar year [date], and each calendar year thereafter during the term of this lease shall be deemed to be the "comparison year." The annual base rental shall be adjusted for each comparison year or part thereof comprised in the term hereof by an amount equal to the Lessee's proportion, as hereinafter defined, of any increases for the comparison year over the base year in the amount of:

(i) real estate taxes and assessments, general and special, levied upon the parcel of land described on Exhibit A and the building in which the Demised Premises are located and other improvements thereon, including any tax or other imposition charged by any governmental authority (other than income or franchise tax) against said land, building and improvements, the tenancy created hereby, or the rental provided herein, in substitution for or in addition to said real estate taxes and assessments, in whole or in part; and

(ii) the insurance premium paid by Lessor to carry a fire and extended coverage and additional perils (or all risk [special form]) policy of insurance upon the building in which the Demised Premises are located and other improvements in or upon the land described on Exhibit A.

(2) In addition, Lessee shall pay to Lessor as additional rent for each calendar year or partial year during the term hereof an amount equal to "Lessee's proportion" of the Operating Expenses (as hereinafter defined) incurred by Lessor during any lease year (or during any calendar year of which the lease year of less than twelve (12) months shall be a part) during the term hereof. The term "operating expenses" shall mean all costs and expenses of every kind and nature paid or incurred by Lessor with respect to the operation and maintenance of common areas and common facilities located outside of the Building as defined in Paragraph 22., below. Such costs and expenses shall include, without limitation, costs of: sanitary, water and storm sewer charges, maintaining and repairing the exterior of the building, removing snow and ice, cleaning, gardening and landscaping, lighting, insuring (including, without limitation, public liability, property damage, automobile, rental, sign and other insurance (excluding fire and extended coverage and additional perils) in limits selected by Lessor), repairing and replacing the parking lot and driveways, line painting, and providing police, security and fire protection services, fire hydrant charges, sweeping, garbage removal and other sanitary control services, renting and/or depreciation or expensing of machinery, equipment and tools used in such maintenance, utility charges not paid by Lessee pursuant to Paragraph 7., below, and the cost of personnel to implement such services and similar services and functions. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the term Operating Expenses shall not include any items described in Exhibit B-1, attached hereto and incorporated herein.

In the event the term of this lease shall terminate other than on the last day of a calendar year, the rental adjustments provided herein shall be prorated for the applicable portion of the part year in question.

(3) For the purposes of this subparagraph 4.A., the "Lessee's proportion" shall be the percentage equivalent of the fraction having as its numerator _____ square feet and having as its denominator the total number of square feet of rental space in the building (_____ square feet), or _____ percent (_____%); provided, however, in the event that the square footage occupied by Lessee in the building in which the Demised Premises are located, shall be increased or decreased, the "Lessee's proportion" shall be a fraction having as its numerator the total number of square footage occupied by Lessee in the building and having as its denominator the total number of square footage of rentable floor space in said building.

(4) With respect to the payment by Lessee of Lessee's proportionate share of real estate taxes and assessments or other impositions and the fire insurance premium as required by subparagraphs 4. A.(1)(i) and (ii), above, Lessor shall notify Lessee in writing of the amount of said real estate taxes and assessments and insurance premium, submit proof of payment of said amounts, and notify Lessee of Lessee's proportion of any increase over the base year amounts thereof. In the event that such amounts result in any increase over the base year amounts, Lessee shall pay Lessee's proportion thereof to Lessor within thirty (30) days of receipt of said notice.

As soon as reasonably possible after the close of each comparison year, Lessor shall notify Lessee in writing of Lessee's proportion of operating expenses. During the next thirty (30) days following receipt of such notice, Lessee shall be entitled to reasonably examine Lessor's books and records regarding such operating expenses. Within thirty (30) days following receipt of said notice Lessee shall pay to Lessor Lessee's proportion thereof. Lessor shall have the right, for a period of twelve (12) months following any such written notice (or such longer period as may be reasonably required to accurately ascertain the facts relating to such notice), to send corrected statements of the notice to Lessee, and any rent adjustments required thereby shall be made within thirty (30) days after Lessor's delivery of the corrected statements.

(5) Each year during the term, in order to provide for current payments on account of any increases in real estate taxes and assessments or any increase in the insurance premium as described above, and each year (or partial year) during the term hereof in order to provide for current payments on account of the payment of Lessee's proportion of operating expenses, Lessee agrees that all monthly installments of rent coming due thereafter shall be adjusted by Lessor to the extent necessary to pay an estimated adjusted base rental. The estimated adjusted base rental shall be paid in monthly installments equivalent to one-twelfth (1/12) of the amount of the adjustment; provided, however, that the first monthly payment made after the estimated adjusted base rental as computed shall include the monthly adjustment for the months which have elapsed in the year then in effect prior to the said first monthly payment. If, as finally determined, Lessee's proportion shall be greater than or less than the aggregate of all installments so paid on account to the Lessor for a year, then Lessee shall pay to Lessor the amount of such underpayment, or the Lessor shall credit Lessee for the amount of such overpayment against the next installments of base rental due hereunder, or if none, shall promptly refund the overpayment to Lessee.

(6) Within thirty (30) days following receipt by Lessee of written notice by Lessor as provided in the foregoing subparagraph 4. A.(4), Lessee shall be entitled to notify Lessor in writing of any claim by Lessee with respect to the accuracy of the determination of the amount paid by Lessee to Lessor pursuant to the provisions of subparagraph 4. A.(4). Notwithstanding any such claim made by Lessee, a payment from Lessee to Lessor as provided in subparagraph 4. A.(4) shall be paid in accordance with the provisions of subparagraph 4. A.(4). In the event that any such claim of Lessee shall not be resolved by the parties within thirty (30) days of said written notice of said claim, said claim shall be settled and determined by arbitration in accordance with the commercial rules of the American Arbitration Association, or its legal successors, then in effect; and the decision of said arbitration, including the decision with respect to the allocation of costs of said arbitration as between the Lessor and Lessee, shall be binding upon Lessor and Lessee. Within ten (10) days following receipt of notification of the decision of said arbitration, Lessor shall pay to the Lessee any amount due the Lessee by reason of said decision of the arbitration or conclusion of said contest.

B. Option to Renew. The Lessee shall have the option to extend the term of this lease for two (2) additional terms of five (5) years each, provided that Lessee is not in default of any and all of the terms, covenants and conditions of this lease either on the date that notice of extension is given or on the Commencement Date of the extended term. Such option to extend shall be exercised by the Lessee by giving written notice to the Lessor not less than six (6) months prior to the expiration date of the original term of the lease. The extension of this lease shall be upon the same terms, covenants and conditions as are contained in the lease except that the base rental for the first renewal term shall be _____ Dollars ($ _____) per annum, payable in equal monthly installments of _____ Dollars ($ _____) each, and the base rental for the second renewal term shall be _____ Dollars ($ _____) per annum, payable in equal monthly installments of _____ Dollars ($ _____) each.

C. Services. Lessor shall not be obligated to furnish any services within the Demised Premises. Lessee shall pay for its own rubbish removal. Lessor has installed a dumpster for rubbish removal in an area outside the Demised Premises for Lessee's use, provided, however, that Lessee shall in all events be responsible for contracting for and paying for removal of rubbish from the dumpster.

5. Use. The Demised Premises shall be used solely for the operation of a first class restaurant serving a variety of foods with the incidental privilege of the sale of alcoholic beverages and for no other purpose. Lessee shall, at all times, operate its restaurant as a full service first class restaurant in a first class building. Lessee agrees to keep open and operate its restaurant during the usual and customary hours for a first class restaurant, but in no event less than 11:00 a.m to 10:00 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 11:00 a.m. to 11:00 p.m. on Friday, and 12:00 p.m. to 11:00 p.m. on Saturday. Lessor agrees that Lessee may in the future open its restaurant on Sunday during its normal and customary hours for such day. The statement in this lease of the nature of Lessee's business does not constitute a representation by Lessor that such business is lawful or otherwise permitted by law at the Demised Premises. Lessee shall not use or occupy, or permit the use or occupancy of, the Demised Premises, or any part thereof, in any unlawful manner or for any illegal purpose or in such a manner as to constitute a nuisance or violate the terms and conditions of any certificate of occupancy or equivalent use permit applicable to the Demised Premises, or for any purpose or in a manner likely to cause structural injury, and shall not use or occupy or permit the use or occupancy of the Demised Premises for other than purposes of the nature and to the extent permitted by the laws, rules, regulations, and ordinances of the applicable governmental authorities and their agencies, including without limitation, environmental laws and regulations.

6. Compliance with Laws. Lessee shall, at Lessee's own expense but subject to Lessee's right to contest the validity thereof, promptly comply with the requirements of every applicable statute, law and ordinance, including all environmental laws, rules, and regulations (whether federal, state, or local) and with every applicable lawful regulation and order, including without limitation the ADA, with respect to the condition and maintenance of the Demised Premises to the extent that Lessee is obligated to repair and maintain the same, and with respect to Lessee's use or occupation of the Demised Premises, including without limitation compliance with all laws, rules, and regulations relating to Lessee's use of its liquor license. Lessee shall likewise comply with any applicable regulation or order of the applicable Board of Fire Insurance Underwriters, or other body having similar functions, or of any liability or fire insurance company by which the Demised Premises may be insured, with respect to Lessee's use and occupancy of the Demised Premises. Lessee shall not knowingly permit any article to be brought upon, or any act to be done upon or about the Demised Premises that shall cause the cancellation of any policy of insurance thereon or cause an increase in the rate of premium of any such insurance.

Lessee shall not use or occupy, or permit the use or occupancy of, the Demised Premises, or any part thereof, in any manner as shall violate the terms and conditions of its liquor license. Lessee's customers and patrons shall not disrupt the business of the other tenants of the building or unreasonably interfere with any such tenant's use and occupancy thereof, and Lessee agrees that its customers or patrons shall not constitute a nuisance to the other tenants of the building or to the public. In no event shall Lessee use the Demised Premises or allow the Demised Premises to be used in any manner that will injure the reputation of the Demised Premises, the building, Lessor, or the other tenants of the building.

7. Utilities. The Lessee shall pay for all heat, electric current, water, gas and other utilities furnished to or used by Lessee in or upon the Demised Premises, together with all taxes, levies or other charges on such utilities and governmental charges based on utility consumption. Such payment shall be made directly to the department furnishing the same unless such utilities are submetered or are not separately metered or assessed. If such utilities are not separately metered or assessed, (or are only partly separately metered or assessed) and are used in common with the other tenants in the building, Lessee will pay to Lessor an apportionment of such charges for utilities used in common based on the proportion of square feet in the Demised Premises served by such utility to the total square feet in the building served by such utility. If such utilities are submetered by a re-registering meter or otherwise, Lessee shall pay Lessor for such utilities at the same rates that Lessee would be charged by the utility company if billed directly by the utility company. Lessee shall pay said bills received from Lessor within ten (10) days of receipt thereof.

Lessor shall not be liable to anyone for cessation of any services, including but not limited to public utility services, heating and air conditioning, due to inability to obtain fuel, electricity, service or supplies from the sources from which they are usually obtained, due to failures in the equipment used to provide such services, governmental rationing of such utilities, or for any other reason beyond the control of the Lessor. Any such interruption of any of the above services shall never be deemed an eviction or disturbance of the Lessee's use of the Demised Premises or any part thereof, or render the Lessor liable to the Lessee for damages, or relieve the Lessee from performance of the Lessee's obligations under this lease; provided, however, if the interruption is due to the negligence of Lessor, its agents, servants and employees and the interruption lasts for longer than forty-eight (48) consecutive hours, Lessee's base rent shall be abated after such 48-hour period in proportion to the amount of space Lessee is unable to use until the interruption ceases.

8. Repairs

A. Repairs by Lessee and Surrender. Throughout the term of this lease, Lessee will keep and maintain the interior of the Demised Premises and any fixtures, facilities or equipment therein in a good state of repair, including, without limitation, all servicing, repairs and replacements required to the wiring, plumbing, and sewage system, and heating and air cooling installations inside the Demised Premises (but not on the rooftop), ordinary wear and tear, damage by fire, casualty, invasion, acts of war, insurrection and the like, the elements and Acts of God, excepted. Lessee shall also keep, maintain and repair all exterior doors and window frames. Lessee will be liable for replacement of all broken glass of the same size and quality as that broken and will keep the entire Demised Premises in a clean, safe and healthy condition according to the applicable governmental ordinances and the direction of the proper public officers. Lessee shall, at its expense, remove the snow and ice from the sidewalks and entrances adjoining the Demised Premises. Lessee further agrees to deliver up and surrender to Lessor possession of the Demised Premises upon the expiration or other termination of this lease in as good condition as when taken, ordinary wear and tear and damage from the above-specified causes excepted. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Lessee shall not be required to replace the rooftop HVAC system, the same being the responsibility of Lessor.

B. Lessor's Repairs. Subject to the provisions of Paragraph 16., Lessor shall maintain and make all necessary structural repairs and replacements and all repairs and replacements to the rooftop HVAC, and except as otherwise provided herein will maintain and make all necessary repairs to the exterior of the building in which the Demised Premises are located subject to the provisions of subparagraph 4. A.(2), above, provided that Lessee shall have notified Lessor in writing that any such repairs to said building are required; and provided further that any such repairs, if occasioned by the fault or negligence of Lessee, Lessee's agents or employees, shall be made by Lessor at Lessee's expense, except to the extent that the damage necessitating such repairs shall be covered by the fire and extended coverage insurance policy carried by Lessor and the waiver of subrogation provided in Paragraph 14. is applicable. Subject to the provisions of Paragraph 16., Lessor shall repair any damage to the interior of said building caused by a casualty covered by Lessor's fire and extended coverage insurance policy and Lessee shall have no liability with respect thereto provided that the waiver of subrogation provided in Paragraph 14. is applicable. All work set forth in this paragraph, and all other work to be performed by the Lessor under the terms of this lease, shall be done during ordinary working hours. If any such work is, at the request of Lessee, to be done at hours other than ordinary working hours, Lessee shall pay any extra cost occurring because of such request.

9. A. Alterations. Subject to subparagraph 9.B., below, Lessee shall make no alterations in, or additions or improvements to, said Demised Premises (structural or otherwise) without the written consent of Lessor first had and obtained, which consent will not be unreasonably withheld or delayed. In the event any permitted alterations, additions or improvements in or to said Demised Premises are made by Lessee, the Lessee covenants and agrees that Lessee will make all such alterations, additions or improvements in or to said Demised Premises at Lessee's own expense. Any such permitted alterations, additions or improvements which are begun by Lessee shall be completed by Lessee. Lessee shall, in making any such alterations, additions or improvements, and/or in using and/or occupying the Demised Premises, comply with all applicable laws and ordinances pertaining to such work and/or such use or occupancy, including without limitation the Americans with Disabilities Act. Any additions, alterations or improvements made by Lessee shall become and remain a part of the Demised Premises, and be and remain the property of Lessor upon the termination of this lease or Lessee's occupancy of the Demised Premises. Lessee shall indemnify and save harmless Lessor from and against all expenses, liens, claims or damages to either property or person which may or might arise by reason of such repairs, alterations, improvements or additions. In any event, Lessee shall have the right to remove all Lessee's trade fixtures, furnishings and other personal property in the Demised Premises which have been placed there by Lessee even though the same be attached to said Demised Premises, provided that the removal of such annexation shall be effected before the expiration of said term or within a reasonable period thereafter not to exceed ten (10) days, and all damage caused to said Demised Premises by such removal shall be repaired by Lessee on or before the expiration of said term.

B. Lessee's Construction and Installations

(1) Lessee's Construction. Lessee shall, at its own cost and expense: (i) perform all work and supply all installations required to prepare the Demised Premises for the operation of Lessee's business as a first class restaurant and (ii) subject to the terms of subparagraph 9. B.(2), below, fully equip the Demised Premises with all trade fixtures, lighting fixtures, furniture, furnishings, fixtures, signs, and any special equipment and other items of construction and personal property necessary for the completion of the Demised Premises and the proper operation of Lessee's business. All such items not purchased by Lessee from Lessor shall be new or in good condition. All such work to be done by Lessee shall be referred to as "Lessee's Work." Lessee agrees as part of Lessee's Work to replace the outside awnings with new awnings, install two (2) new signs over its outside entrance doorway, and to install a monument sign outside the Demised Premises, all as more fully described in Paragraph 23. below. In addition, Lessee agrees as part of its work to make improvements to the interior and exterior of the Demised Premises as described on Exhibit C, attached hereto and made a part hereof. Lessee agrees that Lessee's Work shall be done in accordance with all applicable building codes and regulations. Lessee agrees to perform Lessee's Work diligently so as to substantially complete Lessee's Work as soon as reasonably possible and in no event later than one hundred twenty (120) days from the date of execution hereof. However, if Lessee is unable to substantially complete Lessee's Work within such 120-day period despite its commercially reasonable efforts to do so, and provided Lessee can substantiate such fact to Lessor's reasonable satisfaction, Lessee shall have an additional thirty (30) days within which to substantially complete Lessee's Work.

Lessee shall submit all plans and specifications for all of Lessee's Work to Lessor for Lessor's approval, which shall be granted or withheld in Lessor's sole discretion and shall be subject to approval by the City of Independence. All such plans shall be submitted to Lessor as soon as possible and no later than fifteen (15) days after execution of this lease. The approval by Lessor of such plans and specifications shall not constitute the assumption of any liability on the part of Lessor for their accuracy or their conformity with Building Code requirements, and Lessee shall be solely responsible for such plans. Lessee shall not commence any such work without first delivering to Lessor a policy or policies of public liability and property damage insurance of the type and with the limits set forth in Paragraph 14., hereof, naming Lessor as additional insured.

(2) Purchase of Equipment. Lessee agrees to purchase from Lessor all of the personal property identified on Exhibit D, attached hereto and made a part hereof, formerly belonging to the prior tenant thereof, in its as is condition with all faults, for an aggregate purchase price of _____ Dollars ($_____) to be paid by Lessee in readily available funds upon its execution hereof. Upon receipt of payment, Lessor shall deliver a bill of sale to Lessee warranting title to the said equipment to be free and clear of all liens and encumbrances. All other equipment located in the Demised Premises shall be leased by Lessee from Lessor, without additional charge, during the term hereof. All such equipment shall be put into good working order by Lessee prior to the Commencement Date.

(3) License to Enter Demised Premises. Upon the execution hereof, Lessor agrees that Lessee, its agents and employees, shall have access to the Demised Premises for the performance of Lessee's work, at Lessee's sole risk and expense.

(4) Mechanic's Liens. Lessee shall not permit to be created or to remain undischarged any lien, encumbrance or charge (arising out of any work of any contractor, mechanic, laborer or materialman retained by Lessee or any mortgage, conditional sale, security agreement or chattel mortgage, or otherwise incurred by Lessee or those claiming under Lessee) which might be or become a lien or encumbrance or charge upon the Demised Premises or any part thereof or the income therefrom, and Lessee will not suffer any other matter or thing whereby the estate, rights and interest of Lessor in the Demised Premises or any part thereof might be impaired. If any lien or notice of lien on account of an alleged debt of Lessee or any notice of contract by a party engaged by Lessee or Lessee's contractor to work on the Demised Premises shall be filed against the Demised Premises or any part thereof, Lessee, within thirty (30) days after notice of the filing thereof, will cause the same to be discharged of record by payment, deposit, bond, order of a court of competent jurisdiction or otherwise. If Lessee shall fail to cause such lien or notice of lien to be discharged within thirty (30) days after written notice by Lessor, then, in addition to any other right or remedy, Lessor may, but shall not be obligated to, discharge the same either by paying the amounts claimed to be due or by procuring the discharge of such lien by deposit or by bonding proceedings, and in any such event Lessor shall be entitled, if Lessor so elects, to compel the prosecution of an action for the foreclosure of such lien by the lienor and to pay the amount of the judgment in favor of the lienor with interest, costs and allowances. Any amount so paid by Lessor and all costs and expenses including attorneys fees incurred by Lessor in connection therewith, together with interest thereon at the base lending rate of _____ Bank, from time to time, plus 2%, not to exceed twelve percent (12%) per annum, from the respective dates of Lessor's making of the payment or incurring of the cost and expense shall constitute additional rent payable by Lessee under this lease and shall be paid by Lessee to Lessor on demand. Nothing herein contained shall obligate Lessee to pay or discharge any lien created by Lessor.

(5) License Permit. Lessee shall exercise its best efforts to obtain all permits and licenses for its work under this paragraph 9.B. In the event Lessee shall fail to obtain all such necessary permits and licenses within sixty (60) days after the date of execution of this lease (despite its best efforts), then either party may terminate this lease by delivering written notice thereof upon the other party no later than five (5) days after the expiration of said sixty (60) day period. If neither party exercises its right to terminate this lease within said five (5) day period, then this lease shall continue in full force and effect.

C. Outdoor Patio. During the term of this lease, Lessor may, in Lessor's sole discretion, subject to the approval of the City of Independence, grant Lessee the right to construct at Lessee's sole cost and expense an outdoor patio immediately adjacent to the Demised Premises for the exclusive use of Lessee and its patrons during the term hereof. If a patio is permitted by Lessor in Lessor's sole discretion, the square footage contained in the patio shall not be considered additional rentable square feet for which Lessee is charged. Any such construction shall be subject to the prior written approval of Lessor with respect to design, size, location, and otherwise, which approval may be granted or withheld in Lessor's sole discretion.

D. Liquor License Contingency. Lessee upon execution hereof shall exercise best efforts to obtain a liquor license for the operation of Lessee's restaurant in the Demised Premises within sixty (60) days from the date of execution of this lease. In the event Lessee shall fail to obtain such liquor license within sixty (60) days after the date of execution of this lease (despite its best efforts), then either party may terminate this lease by delivering written notice thereof upon the other party no later than five (5) days after the expiration of said sixty (60) day period. However, notwithstanding the aforesaid, if Lessee can substantiate to Lessor that it has used its best efforts and there is a realistic probability of obtaining the liquor license, Lessee shall have the right to an additional thirty (30) days to obtain the permit. If, at the end of that 30-day period, Lessee has not obtained the permit, then either party may terminate this lease by delivering written notice to the other party no later than five (5) days after the expiration of said 30-day period. If neither party exercises its right to terminate this lease within said five (5) day period, then this lease shall continue in full force and effect.

10. Eminent Domain.

A. If the whole of the Demised Premises or common areas, or such part thereof as shall substantially interfere with the Lessee's use and occupancy thereof, shall be taken for any public or quasi-public purpose by any lawful power or authority by exercise of the right of appropriation, condemnation or eminent domain or sold to prevent such taking, the Lessee or the Lessor may at Lessor's or Lessee's option terminate this lease effective as of the date possession is taken by said authority by written notice to the other within thirty (30) days after the date possession is taken by said authority. If neither party so elects to terminate, this lease shall continue in full force and effect except that the rent shall be equitably reduced and Lessor, at Lessor's expense, shall promptly proceed to restore the Demised Premises to a condition as nearly equivalent as feasible to their condition prior to said taking.

B. If the amount of property or the type of estate taken shall not substantially interfere with the conduct of Lessee's business, this lease shall not terminate and Lessor shall be entitled to the entire amount of the award as the owner of all interests in the real estate without deduction for any estate or interest of Lessee in said real estate. Lessor, at Lessor's expense, shall promptly proceed to restore the Demised Premises to substantially their same condition prior to such partial taking, and a proportionate allowance shall be made to Lessee for the rent corresponding to the time during which, and to the part of the Demised Premises of which, Lessee shall be so deprived on account of such taking and restoration. Notwithstanding the above, if said taking shall occur during the last year of the term of the lease, either Lessor or Lessee may elect to terminate this lease by written notice to the other within thirty (30) days from the date possession is taken by said authority, effective as of the date possession is taken. If neither party so elects, this lease shall continue in full force and effect except that the rent shall be equitably reduced and Lessor, at Lessor's expense, shall promptly proceed to restore the Demised Premises to a condition as nearly equivalent as possible to their condition prior to said taking.

C. If this lease is terminated pursuant to this paragraph, Lessee shall not, because of such taking, assert any claim against the Lessor or the taking authority for any compensation because of such taking, and Lessor shall be entitled to receive the entire amount of any award as the owner of all interests in the real estate without deduction for any estate or interest of Lessee. Lessee shall, however, have the right to pursue, at Lessee's expense by separate claim against the taking authority, any rights Lessee might have as Lessee for Lessee's cost of moving or relocating any trade fixtures, equipment, or other personal property that Lessee placed upon the Demised Premises, or for the recovery of any other provable damages to Lessee's business, provided that such claim shall not result in a reduction of Lessor's award.

D. For the purposes of subparagraph 10.B., above, the phrase "term of the lease" shall mean the next renewal term of this lease if Lessee, at any time prior to the expiration of fifteen (15) days after the date possession is taken by the authority, shall have exercised Lessee's next option to extend the term pursuant to the provisions of Paragraph 4., above.

11. Rights of Lessor Upon Default

A. This lease is made upon the condition that Lessee shall punctually perform all of its covenants and agreements as herein set forth and if,

(1) Lessee defaults in payment of rent, or additional rent, or any additional charge or amount of money to be paid by Lessee as provided in this lease, and such default shall continue uncorrected for a period of ten (10) days after written notice to the Lessee thereof; or

(2) Lessee defaults in the prompt and full performance and observance of any of the terms and conditions of this lease to be performed or observed by Lessee and not relating to the payment of money, and any such default shall continue uncorrected for a period of thirty (30) days after written notice to the Lessee thereof, or if any such last mentioned default cannot reasonably be corrected within such 30-day period, then if Lessee shall not within such period have commenced in good faith to correct such default; or

(3) Lessee abandons the Demised Premises; or

(4) any execution, attachment or other order of court shall be issued upon or against the interest of Lessee in this lease and shall continue for a period of thirty (30) days after notice; or

(5) Lessee is cited more than once during any twelve (12) month period for the violation of any of the laws, rules, or regulations applicable to the liquor license permits being used by Lessee at the Demised Premises, then in any such event, in addition to any and all rights and remedies allowed by law and equity, Lessor may, with or without further notice, forthwith terminate this lease and Lessee's right to possession of the Demised Premises, or Lessor may, without terminating this lease, terminate Lessee's right to possession of the Demised Premises.

B. Upon the termination of this lease, or upon the termination of Lessee's right to possession without termination of this lease:

(1) Lessee shall surrender possession and vacate the Demised Premises immediately, and Lessor may enter into and repossess said Demised Premises, with process of law, and remove all persons and property therefrom in the same manner and with the same right as if this lease had not been made; and

(2) Lessor may remove from the Demised Premises any and all property found therein, and such repossession shall not release Lessee from Lessee's obligation to pay the rents herein provided.

C. In the event of termination of this lease as provided in this Paragraph 11., Lessor, in addition to any and all rights and remedies allowed by law and equity, shall upon such termination be entitled to recover damages in the amount equal to the then present value of the rent reserved in this lease for the entire residue of the stated term hereof less the then present worth of the fair rental value of the Demised Premises for the residue of the term hereof as then in effect, plus the costs incurred, including reasonable legal expenses, to terminate this lease and Lessee's possession of the Demised Premises.

D. In the event of any repossession by Lessor without terminating this lease, Lessor shall use reasonable efforts to relet and keep rented the Demised Premises or any part thereof, as agent of Lessee, to any person, firm or corporation, and on such terms as Lessor may determine, provided that Lessor shall use reasonable efforts to mitigate damages to Lessee arising from Lessee's continuing liability under this lease. Lessor may make repairs, alterations, replacements, and/or decorations in or to the Demised Premises to the extent reasonably necessary and advisable for the purpose of reletting the Demised Premises, and in the making of such repairs, alterations, additions, replacements and/or decorations shall not operate or be construed to release Lessee from liability hereunder; and Lessee shall upon demand pay the cost thereof, together with Lessor's expense of reletting (including reasonable legal expenses and brokerage commissions). If the rents collected by Lessor upon any such reletting are not sufficient to pay monthly the full amount of the rent reserved herein, together with the cost of such repairs, alterations, additions, replacements, decorations and expenses, Lessee shall pay to Lessor the amount of each monthly deficiency upon demand, and if the rent so collected from any such reletting is more than sufficient to pay the full amount of the rent reserved herein, together with such costs and expenses of Lessor, Lessor shall, at least every twelve (12) months after such eviction, account for any surplus to Lessee.

E. Any and all property which may be removed from the Demised Premises by Lessor may be handled, removed, stored or otherwise disposed of by Lessor at the risk and expense of Lessee, and Lessor shall in no event be responsible for the preservation or the safekeeping thereof. Lessee shall pay to Lessor, upon demand, any and all expenses incurred in such removal and all storage charges against such property, so long as the same shall be in Lessor's possession or under Lessor's control. If any property shall remain in the Demised Premises or in the possession of Lessor, and shall not be retaken by Lessee within a period of fifteen (15) days from and after the time when the Demised Premises are either abandoned by Lessee or repossessed by Lessor under the terms of this lease, said property shall conclusively be deemed to have been forever abandoned by Lessee.

12. Bankruptcy

A. Chapter 7. If a petition is filed by or against Lessee under Chapter 7 of the Bankruptcy Code and the Trustee in Bankruptcy ("Trustee") elects to assume this lease for the purpose of assigning it or otherwise, the assumption or assignment, or both, may be made only if all of the terms and conditions of subparagraph 12.C., below are satisfied. If the Trustee fails to assume this lease within sixty (60) days after the Trustee's appointment, or within such additional time period as the Bankruptcy Court may allow, this lease shall be deemed to have been rejected. Assumption of this lease must satisfy all of the conditions of subparagraph 12.C., below, which Lessor and Lessee acknowledge to be commercially reasonable. In the event this lease is rejected, Lessor shall then immediately be entitled to possession of the Demised Premises without further obligation to Lessee or the Trustee and this lease shall be canceled. Lessor's right to be compensated for damages in the bankruptcy proceeding, however, shall survive.

B. Chapter 11. If a petition for reorganization under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code is filed by or against Lessee, or a proceeding that is filed by or against Lessee under any other chapter of the Bankruptcy Code is converted to a Chapter 11 proceeding and Lessee as debtor in possession fails to assume this lease within sixty (60) days from the date of filing of the petition or the conversion, or within such additional time period as the Bankruptcy Court may allow, debtor in possession will be deemed to have rejected this lease.

C. Assumption of Lease. Assumption of this lease must satisfy, in Lessor's business judgment, all of the following conditions which Lessor and Lessee acknowledge to be commercially reasonable:

(1) The Trustee or the debtor-in-possession has cured or has provided to Lessor adequate assurance, as defined hereinbelow that:

(a) The Trustee will cure all monetary defaults under this lease within ten (10) days from the date of the assumption; and

(b) The Trustee will cure all non-monetary defaults under this lease within thirty (30) days from the date of the assumption.

(2) The Trustee or the debtor-in-possession has compensated Lessor, or has provided to Lessor adequate assurance as defined hereinbelow, that within ten (10) days from the date of the assumption Lessor will be compensated for any pecuniary loss it incurred arising from the default of Lessee, Trustee, or the debtor-in-possession.

(3) The Trustee or the debtor-in-possession has provided Lessor with adequate assurance of future performance, as defined hereinbelow, of each of Lessee's obligations under the lease; provided, however, that:

(a) The Trustee or debtor-in-possession will also deposit with Lessor, as security for the timely payment of rent, an amount equal to three months base rental and other monetary charges accruing under this lease.

(b) If required by the terms of this lease, the Trustee or the debtor-in-possession will also pay in advance, on each day the base rental is payable one-twelfth (1/12) of Lessee's annual obligation for operating expenses and real estate taxes and assessments.

(4) Lessor has determined that the assumption of this lease will not:

(a) Breach any provision in any other lease, mortgage, financing agreement, or other agreement by which Lessor is bound relating to the building; or

(b) Disrupt, in Lessor's judgment, the lessee mix of the building or any other attempt by Lessor to provide a specific variety of tenants in the building that, in Lessor's judgment, would be most beneficial to all of the tenants of the building and would enhance the image, reputation and profitability of the building.

(5) For purposes of this subparagraph 12.C., "adequate assurance" means that:

(a) The Trustee or the debtor-in-possession has, and will continue to have, sufficient assets to assure Lessor that Trustee or the debtor-in-possession will have sufficient funds to fulfill Lessee's obligations under the lease and to keep the Demised Premises properly staffed with sufficient employees to conduct a fully operational, actively promoted business on the Demised Premises; and

(b) An order will have been entered segregating sufficient cash payable to Lessor and/or a valid and perfected first lien and security interest will have been granted on the property of the estate that is acceptable for value and kind to Lessor, to secure to Lessor the obligation of the Trustee or debtor-in- possession to cure the monetary or non-monetary defaults under this lease within the time period set forth above.

(c) If the Trustee or the debtor-in-possession has assumed the lease under the terms of subparagraphs 12.A. or 12.B., above, and elects to assign Lessee's interest under this lease or the estate created by that interest to another person, that interest or estate may be assigned only if Lessor acknowledges in writing that the intended assignee has provided adequate assurance of future performance, as defined hereinbelow, of all of the terms, covenants and conditions of this lease to be performed by Lessee.

(d) For the purposes of this subparagraph 12.C., "adequate assurance of future performance" means that Lessor has ascertained that each of the following conditions has been satisfied:

(i) The assignee has submitted a current financial statement, audited by a certified public accountant, that shows a net worth and working capital in amounts determined by Lessor to be sufficient or to assure future performance by the assignee of Lessee's obligations under this lease;

(ii) If requested by Lessor, the assignee will obtain guarantees in form and substance satisfactory to Lessor, from one or more persons who satisfy Lessor's standards of creditworthiness;

(iii) Lessor has obtained all consents or waivers from any third party required under any lease, mortgage, financing agreement, or other agreement by which Lessor is bound to permit the assignment;

(iv) When, pursuant to the Bankruptcy Code, the Trustee or the debtor-in-possession is obligated to pay reasonable use and occupancy charges for the use of all or a portion of the Demised Premises, the charge will be no less than base rental and additional rent and other monetary obligations of the Lessee included in this lease.

13. A. Lessor's Right to Perform Lessee's Covenants. In addition to, but without limitation or qualification of, any other right or remedy of the Lessor herein provided, if the Lessee shall default in the performance of any covenant, condition or stipulation contained in this lease except defaults pertaining to the payment of rent or additional rent, the Lessor may, after thirty (30) days' written notice to the Lessee, or if such default cannot reasonably be corrected within such 30-day period, then if Lessee shall not within such period have commenced in good faith to correct such default, or with or without notice if, in the Lessor's reasonable opinion, an emergency exists, perform the same for the account and at the expense of the Lessee, and the amount of any payments made or other expenses incurred by the Lessor for such purpose shall be forthwith repaid by the Lessee with interest thereon at the rate of 12 percent per annum. Should the Lessee, pursuant to this subparagraph 13. A. or any other provision of this lease, become obligated to reimburse or otherwise pay Lessor any one or more sums of money in addition to the fixed rent, the amount thereof shall be deemed additional rent and may, at the option of Lessor, be added to any subsequent installment of the basic rent due and payable under the lease, in which event the Lessor shall have the remedies for default in the payment thereof provided in Paragraph 11. hereof. The provisions of this subparagraph 13. A. shall survive the termination of this lease. Nothing in this subparagraph 13. A. shall in any manner increase Lessor's liability to Lessee or to any others. The rights granted to Lessor under this subparagraph 13.A. shall be permissive only and shall not be construed as requiring Lessor to perform any such condition or covenant or to correct any such default.

B. Lessor's Access to Demised Premises. Lessor reserves the right to enter the Demised Premises during the normal business hours of Lessee only, or at any time in case of an emergency, for the purpose of examining, repairing and protecting the Demised Premises, or for the purpose of showing the premises to a prospective purchaser or mortgagee, and also during the last six (6) months of the term of this lease for the purpose of exhibiting the Demised Premises to prospective tenants and putting up the usual notice "to rent" or "for sale," which notice shall not be removed or hidden by Lessee. The rights granted to Lessor pursuant to this subparagraph 13. B. shall not require Lessor to make any repairs to the Demised Premises other than those herein specifically agreed to be made by Lessor nor otherwise extend any of Lessor's other obligations.

14. Insurance. Lessor covenants and agrees that at all times after the commencement of the term hereof, Lessor shall obtain and keep in force adequate insurance for fire and lightning, with extended coverage and vandalism and malicious mischief endorsement on the building of the Demised Premises. Lessee shall obtain and keep in force, during the term of this lease, insurance to cover the physical loss of Lessee's personal property in the Demised Premises in amounts sufficient to cover Lessee's interest. Lessee hereby expressly waives any right of recovery against the Lessor for any and all liability and expense for loss, damage or destruction of the Lessee's property resulting from perils ordinarily covered by standard fire insurance policies with extended coverage and vandalism and malicious mischief endorsements, notwithstanding that the damage may be due to the negligent acts or omissions of Lessor, Lessor's agents or employees. Lessor hereby expressly waives any right of recovery against the Lessee for loss, damage or destruction of Lessor's property resulting from perils ordinarily covered by standard fire insurance policies with extended coverage and vandalism and malicious mischief endorsements, notwithstanding that the damage may be due to the negligent acts or omissions of Lessee, Lessee's agents or employees. Each of Lessor and Lessee shall place Lessor's and Lessee's respective insurance with companies that will agree to acknowledge, by endorsement to the policies of the insured if necessary, that the insurance will not be invalidated should the insured waive in writing prior to a loss any or all right of recovery against any party for loss occurring to the property described therein.

Lessee agrees to carry public liability and property damage insurance with respect to the Demised Premises in insurance companies licensed to do business in the State of _____ and having limits of not less than One Million Dollars ($1,000,000) for injury to one person in any one accident, and not less than Two Million Dollars ($2,000,000) for injury to all persons in any one accident, and not less than Five Hundred Thousand Dollars ($500,000) for damages caused to all properties in any one accident. Lessee will furnish to Lessor a certificate evidencing such insurance. The insurance policies shall designate specifically that Lessor is named as an additional insured thereunder.

Lessor and Lessee hereby waive all rights of recovery and causes of action against the other, the other's agents and employees, and all persons claiming through or under the other, relating to loss of business, business interruption or loss of rentals resulting from any damage or destruction to the Demised Premises or any of Lessee's property contained therein, notwithstanding that any such damage or destruction may be due to the negligence of Lessor or Lessee, their respective agents or employees, as the case may be.

15. Indemnity.

A. Lessee agrees that no representations or warranties, either express or implied, have been made with reference to the condition of the Demised Premises or their fitness for the use of any purpose whatsoever, and Lessor shall not be liable for any use to which the Demised Premises are put or any damage either to person or property because of any injury, loss of life, loss or damage to or total destruction of merchandise or property resulting from such use, except to the extent resulting from the negligence of Lessor, its agents, servants, or employees. Lessee agrees that Lessee will at all times save and keep Lessor and the Demised Premises free and harmless from and against any and all liens placed or permitted to be placed thereon by Lessee, or by any other person claiming by, through, from or under Lessee, and from and against any and all loss, cost, damage, suits, fines, penalties, liability or expense, including attorney's fees, occasioned (i) by the act or neglect of Lessee, or any of Lessee's agents or employees, or those claiming or holding under Lessee, (ii) by the breach, violation or nonperformance of any covenant, condition or agreement in this lease by Lessee or any of Lessee's agents or employees or those claiming or holding under Lessee, or (iii) arising out of an accident causing death or injury to any person whomsoever, or damage to any property whatsoever resulting from any use of the Demised Premises by Lessee or any person holding under Lessee or Lessee's employees, licensees or invitees.

16. Destruction of Demised Premises.

A. Except as provided in subparagraph 16.B., below, if the Demised Premises, or any part thereof, shall be destroyed or damaged at any time during the term of the lease then in effect, and such destruction or damage may reasonably be repaired within one hundred twenty (120) days from the happening of such destruction or damage, Lessee shall not be entitled to surrender possession of the Demised Premises, or any part thereof, nor shall Lessee's liability to pay rent under this lease cease; but in case of any such destruction or damage, Lessor shall at Lessor's expense repair the same with all reasonable speed and shall complete such repairs within one hundred twenty (120) days from the happening of such destruction or damage, subject to delays beyond Lessor's reasonable control. In the event that any destruction or damage cannot reasonably be repaired within one hundred twenty (120) days from the happening of such destruction or damage, either Lessor or Lessee shall have the right to terminate this lease by giving written notice to the other within thirty (30) days from the happening of such destruction or damage, in the absence of which notice Lessor shall at Lessor's expense repair the same with all reasonable speed.

B. If the Demised Premises, or any part thereof, shall be destroyed or damaged by fire or other casualty at any time during the last year of the term of the lease and the same can be reasonably repaired or restored within sixty (60) days following such occurrence, this lease shall not terminate; but in case of any such damage or destruction, Lessor shall at Lessor's expense repair the same with all reasonable speed and shall complete such repair within sixty (60) days from the happening of such damage or destruction, subject to delays beyond Lessor's reasonable control. In the event that any such damage or destruction cannot reasonably be repaired within sixty (60) days following such occurrence, the Lessee or the Lessor may elect to terminate this lease by written notice to the other within thirty (30) days following such damage or destruction, in the absence of which notice Lessor shall at Lessor's expense repair the same with all reasonable speed.

C. If any damage or destruction to the Demised Premises or the repair or rebuilding thereof shall render the Demised Premises untenantable in whole or in part, Lessee shall be allowed a proportionate reduction or abatement of the rent and additional rent payable hereunder corresponding to the time and space of which Lessee shall be deprived (giving due consideration to the reasonable use of the remaining portion of the Demised Premises) from the date of the occurrence of such damage or destruction until the date Lessor completes the repair or restoration thereof.

D. For the purposes of subparagraph 16. B., above, the phrase "term of the lease" shall mean the next renewal term of this lease if Lessee, at any time prior to the expiration of fifteen (15) days after the occurrence of said destruction or damage, shall have exercised Lessee's next option to extend the term pursuant to the provisions of Paragraph 4., above.

17. Loss or Damage to Lessee's Property. All trade fixtures, equipment, inventory and all other personal property belonging to Lessee, Lessee's agents, or Lessee's guests, located in or about the Demised Premises shall be at the sole risk of Lessee, and Lessor shall not be liable for the theft or misappropriation, nor for any damage or injury thereto, nor for any damage or injury to Lessee, or any of Lessee's officers, agents, employees, licensees or guests, or to other persons or to any property caused by fire, explosion, wind, water, rain, snow, frost, steam, gas, electricity, any acts of God, heat or cold, dampness, falling plaster and/or ceilings, sewers or sewage odors, noise, leaks from any part of said building or by the bursting or leaking of pipes, plumbing, electrical wiring and equipment and fixtures of all kinds, or by any act or neglect of any other tenant or of any person; provided, however, subject to the provisions of Paragraph 14., Lessor shall not be relieved of liability for the negligence, intentional wrongful acts or omissions of Lessor, Lessor's agents and employees.

18. Assignment and Subletting. Lessee shall not be permitted to mortgage, pledge or encumber this lease. Lessee may sublet all or any part of the Demised Premises and may assign this lease or any interest Lessee may have hereunder, whether voluntarily or involuntarily, by operation of law or otherwise, provided that:

(1) the signed written consent of the Lessor to any such subletting or assignment shall first be obtained (which consent Lessor will not unreasonably withhold or delay); and otherwise expressly consent in writing.

In determining whether to grant consent to the Lessee's sublet or assignment request, the Lessor may consider any reasonable factor. Lessor and Lessee agree that any one of the following factors, or any other reasonable factor, will be reasonable grounds for declining the Lessee's request: (a) the business reputation of the proposed subtenant/assignee is not in accordance with generally acceptable commercial standards; (b) the use of the Demised Premises by the proposed subtenant/assignee is not identical to the use permitted by this lease; and (c) managerial and operational skills of the proposed subtenant/assignee are not the same or better than those of the Lessee.

The right on the part of Lessee to assign this lease under any of the foregoing provisions of this Paragraph 18., shall be upon the express condition that such assignment shall be in writing, executed by Lessee and the assignee, that in such writing the assignee shall, in consideration of such assignment, agree to assume, perform and be bound by all of the terms, obligations and conditions on the part of Lessee to be performed under this lease, and that a duplicate executed counterpart of such instrument of assignment and assumption shall be delivered to Lessor within ten (10) days after the execution thereof. For purposes of this lease, the sale or transfer of a majority of the common stock of Lessee, or of a majority of the beneficial or equitable interests of the owners of a noncorporate Lessee, shall be considered an assignment of the lease subject to the provisions of this paragraph.

19. Limitation of Lessor's Liability. The term "Lessor," as used in this lease so far as covenants or obligations on the part of Lessor are concerned, shall be limited to mean and include only the owner or owners at the time in question of the fee of the Demised Premises. In the event of any transfer or transfers of title to such fee, the Lessor herein named (and in case of any subsequent transfers or conveyances, the then grantor) shall be freed and relieved from and after the date of such transfer and conveyance of all liability with respect to performance of any covenants or obligations on the part of Lessor contained in this lease thereafter to be performed. Without further agreement, the transferee of such title shall be deemed to have assumed and agreed to observe and perform any and all obligations of the Lessor hereunder during the transferee's ownership of the Demised Premises. Lessor may transfer Lessor's interest in the Demised Premises without the consent of Lessee, and such transfer or subsequent transfer shall not be deemed a violation on Lessor's part of any of the terms and conditions of this lease.

20. Mortgage Subordination. The Lessee understands that Lessor may have or hereafter desire to place a mortgage upon all or part of the land described herein and the building constructed thereon. It is further understood that the mortgagee of said mortgage may require that the within lease be subordinated to said mortgage, in which event Lessee agrees to promptly execute any document required by such mortgagee to evidence such subordination; provided, however, that the mortgagee of any such mortgage shall covenant in writing that the Lessee's leasehold interest hereunder shall not be foreclosed in any action brought under such mortgage or in the event of a sale of the Demised Premises as a result of said action if at the time of bringing an action to foreclose or at the time of said sale the Lessee is not in default in the payment of rental or in the performance of any other obligation under this lease, with due allowance to be given for the payment of any past due rental or for the correction of any other default by Lessee within the period of time permitted after any notice is given or required to be given by the terms of this lease. It is further understood that the mortgagee of said mortgage may require that the Lessee agree to attorn to any purchaser of the property in the event that the same should be sold through foreclosure proceedings, and that the Lessee agrees to waive any and all rights to treat any such foreclosure proceedings as a breach of the lease by Lessor, in which event Lessee agrees to execute any document required by such mortgagee to evidence such agreements.

21. Estoppel Certificate by Lessee. Lessee will execute, acknowledge and deliver to Lessor, promptly upon request, a certificate certifying that (a) this lease is unmodified and in full force and effect (or, if there have been modifications, that the lease is in full force and effect, as modified, and stating the modifications), (b) the dates, if any, to which basic rent, additional rent and other sums payable hereunder have been paid, and (c) no notice has been received by Lessee of any default which has not been cured, except as to defaults specified in said certificate, it being intended that any such certificate may be relied upon by any prospective purchaser or mortgagee of the property or any part thereof.

22. A. Common Areas. "Common areas" and "common facilities," as used in the within lease, include, without limitation, all of the parking areas, approaches, entrances, driveways, sidewalks and service areas and landscaping located on the parcel of real estate described on Exhibit A. Lessor shall operate, manage, equip, repair, replace and maintain the common areas and facilities for their intended purposes in such manner as Lessor shall, in Lessor's sole discretion, determine; provided, however, Lessor agrees to keep said common areas and facilities clean and to remove snow and ice from the parking areas and driveways as promptly as reasonably possible. Lessor reserves the right to change the location, size, elevation or nature of the common areas and common facilities.

The Lessee, Lessee's agents, employees and invitees, shall have the right to use said common areas and common facilities jointly with Lessor, Lessor's agents and employees, and other tenants (except such service areas as may be designated by Lessor for the exclusive use of a particular tenant or tenants) of the above-described building, their agents, employees and invitees. All of such use of any of the common areas and common facilities shall be such as will not unreasonably obstruct or interfere with the joint use thereof, and shall be in compliance with all applicable laws, rules and regulations.

B. Parking. During the term of the lease, Lessee shall have the right to the nonexclusive use of the common parking areas described in subparagraph 22.A., above, along with the right to the exclusive use of the parking area on the land immediately adjacent to the Demised Premises and land described on Exhibit A attached hereto, as described on Exhibit E and as further described on the site plan marked Exhibit E-1, attached hereto and made a part hereof. In addition, Lessee shall have during the term of the lease the exclusive use of up to four (4) parking spaces to be located in the common area located directly in front of the Demised Premises, for the purpose of providing parking to Lessee's carry-out customers (the "Carry-out Spaces"). The location of the Carry-out Spaces within said common parking area shall be designated by Lessor in its sole discretion. Lessee shall bear sole responsibility for enforcing its exclusive use of the Carry-out Spaces and all other exclusive use parking spaces.

C. Rules. Lessee agrees to comply with rules and regulations adopted now or in the future, and relating to the use of the building, the Demised Premises, and common areas and common facilities, as may be amended from time to time by Lessor at its discretion, provided such rules and regulations are uniformly promulgated to all the tenants and are made uniformly applicable to all of the tenants.

23. Signs. Lessee shall install at its sole expense new awnings, two (2) signs over the entrance doorway at least one (1) of which is a lit sign, and one (1) outside monument sign between the Demised Premises and _____ Road, but subject to the prior written approval of Lessor and the City of _____. Such awnings, two doorway signs and monument sign shall be installed in such locations as are approved by Lessor. The design and type of awnings and of the two doorway signs and the monument sign shall be subject to the prior written approval of Lessor, which Lessor may grant in its sole discretion, it being understood that the Demised Premises are part of an integrated and uniform building, and that control of exterior awnings and signs by Lessor is essential in order to maintain uniformity and aesthetic value in said building. Lessee agrees to submit to Lessor as soon as reasonably possible its outside elevation plans showing such proposed changes.

Lessee shall maintain said awnings and signs in good condition and repair at all times, and shall save Lessor harmless from injury to person or property arising from the erection or maintenance of said awnings and signs. Any sign placed in or upon the Demised Premises, upon the written request of Lessor, shall be removed by Lessee at Lessee's expense upon the expiration or sooner termination of this lease, and all damage caused by the removal of such sign shall be fully repaired at the cost and expense of Lessee.

24. Covenant Against Waste. Lessee agrees that Lessee will not commit waste in or upon the Demised Premises or any portion thereof.

25. Quiet Enjoyment. The Lessor covenants that Lessor has lawful title to the above-described real property and the right to make this lease for the term aforesaid and, conditioned upon the prompt performance and observance by the Lessee, Lessee's agents and employees of all of the terms, covenants and conditions hereof required to be performed or observed by Lessee, Lessee's agents and employees, Lessee shall at all times during the term of this lease have the peaceable and quiet enjoyment of the Demised Premises.

26. Withholding Premises. Should Lessee withhold from Lessor possession of the Demised Premises after the expiration or termination of this lease, whether by lapse of time or otherwise, such withholding shall constitute only a month-to-month tenancy, provided that the monthly rental for such month-to-month tenancy shall be one and one-half times the monthly rental in effect immediately prior to the commencement of such month-to-month tenancy.

27. Effect of Demand. Any demand for rent upon the Lessee after the same shall have become due and payable, or for the performance or observance of any covenant or condition of this lease after the same is required to be performed or observed under the provisions hereof, shall have the same effect as though made at the time and place such rent became due or such obligation should have been performed or observed, any law to the contrary notwithstanding.

28. Effect of Waiver. No waiver of any condition or covenant of this lease or of the breach of any condition or covenant shall be taken to constitute a waiver of any subsequent breach of such condition or covenant, or to justify or authorize the nonobservance on any other occasion of the same or any other condition or covenant thereof. The acceptance of rent by the Lessor at any time when the Lessee is in default of any covenant or condition shall not be construed as a waiver of such default or of the Lessor's rights under Paragraph 11., above, on account of such default, nor shall the payment of rent by the Lessee at any time when Lessor is in default under any covenant or condition hereof be construed as a waiver of such default, nor shall any waiver or indulgence granted by the Lessor or Lessee be taken as an estoppel against the party granting the same.

29. Notices. Whenever Lessor or Lessee shall make any demand or serve any notice which is required to be in writing under the terms of this lease upon the other, the same shall be in writing and shall be sufficiently given if sent, postage prepaid, by United States registered or certified mail, addressed to Lessee at _____, _____, _____ until such time as Lessee occupies the Demised Premises, at which time such notices shall be addressed to Lessee at the Demised Premises during the term of this lease, and addressed to Lessor at _____, _____, _____, or at such other address as Lessor or Lessee may theretofore by written notice to the other have designated for the service of such notice.

30. Terminology; Captions. Where the context so requires or such interpretation is appropriate, any word used herein denoting gender shall include all genders, natural or artificial, and the singular and plural shall be interchangeable. The term "paragraph" shall refer to all paragraphs under the caption in question, where appropriate. The captions of the various provisions of this lease are for convenience only and in no way define, limit or describe the scope or intent of this lease or the provisions which they precede or in any other manner affect this lease.

31. Short-Form Lease. This lease shall not be recorded, but the parties agree to execute a skeleton lease incorporating the terms of this lease and including a legal description of the property upon which the Demised Premises is situated, at the request of Lessee or Lessor. The same shall be duly executed in form suitable for recording, and any costs incurred in connection therewith shall be at the expense of the party requesting same.

32. Successors and Assigns. This lease and the covenants and conditions herein contained shall inure to the benefit of and be binding upon Lessor, Lessor's successors and assigns, and shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of Lessee, Lessee's successors and those assignees of Lessee who become assignees in accordance with and as permitted by the terms of Paragraph 18., above.

33. Severability. In case any one or more of the provisions contained herein shall for any reason be held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable in any respect, such invalidity, illegality or unenforceability shall not affect any other provision of this lease, but this lease shall be construed as if such invalid, illegal or unenforceable provisions had not been contained herein.

34. Broker. Lessor warrants, which warranty shall survive the execution of this lease, that no brokerage fee or other compensation is due any real estate broker or other person or entity by reason of this transaction, except _____, who shall be paid by Lessor. Lessee warrants, which warranty shall survive the execution of this lease, that no broker except _____ induced Lessee to enter into this transaction. The parties acknowledge and agree that _____ represent both Lessor and Lessee in this transaction, and Lessor and Lessee hereby consent to such dual agency representation.

35. Entire Agreement. This lease and the Guaranty of this lease contain the entire agreement between the parties hereto; and any agreement hereafter or heretofore made shall not operate to change, modify, terminate or discharge this lease, in whole or in part, unless such agreement is in writing and signed by each of the parties hereto.

The parties hereto have signed this Indenture of Lease as of the date first above written.

14. Capital expenditures required by Lessor's failure to comply with laws enacted on or before the date of the building's certificate of occupancy is validly issued.
15. Any recalculation of or additional expenses for cleaning, maintaining or operating the building actually incurred more than two (2) years prior to the year in which Lessor proposes that such costs be included (excluding disputes or litigation with respect to such costs).

16. Costs incurred by Lessor with respect to goods and services (including utilities sold and supplied to tenants and occupants of the building) to the extent that Lessor is reimbursed for such costs.

17. Costs, including permit, license and inspection costs, incurred with respect to the installation of tenant improvements made for new tenants in the building or incurred in renovating or otherwise improving, decorating, painting, or redecorating vacant space for tenants or other occupants of the building.

18. Expenses in connection with services or other benefits which are not available (whether used or not) to Lessee or for which Lessee is already being charged directly.

19. Rentals and other related expenses incurred in leasing air conditioning systems, elevators or other equipment ordinarily considered to be of a capital nature, except equipment not affixed to the building which is used in providing janitorial or similar services.

20. Costs incurred by Lessor in connection with any major alterations in the building, such as roof replacement or lobby renovations, which are considered capital improvements and replacements under generally accepted accounting principles consistently applied.

21. All items and services to the extent that Lessee or any other tenant in the building reimburses Lessor, or which Lessor provides to one or more tenants (other than Lessee) without reimbursement.

FORM 23.24 Lease buyout agreement--tenant pays landlord to terminate office space lease early

COMMENT

This form documents an agreement between a landlord and tenant whereby the tenant desires to terminate its lease after an extensive buildout of the space by the landlord for the tenant's new office headquarters. The early termination was desired because of a sudden and unexpected buyout of the tenant by another company which did not desire to relocate to the location where the premises were located. Initially, because the tenant did not move into the builtout space, the tenant decided to keep the primary lease in place and to sublease its space to several subtenants needing smaller spaces than the tenant. After some subleases were successfully negotiated by tenant, the tenant decided it did not make economic sense for it to continue in the commercial leasing of the office space when that was not its primary business. Therefore, it negotiated an early termination of its primary lease by a payment to the landlord. As part of that agreement, the landlord agreed to negotiate new direct leases with the subtenants of tenant, on similar terms and conditions.

In order to minimize the impact of the receipt of the lump sum payment to be made by the tenant to the landlord, all of which would be taxable as ordinary income to the landlord in the year of receipt (see TB § 23.11[1]), in Paragraph 1., part of the payment is deflected to the construction company used by the landlord for construction costs required to be incurred to re-rent the space which otherwise would normally be paid by the new tenant. The costs include the hard and soft costs of construction. Some of the costs are also deflected from the landlord to the landlord's leasing broker, to cover some of the commission costs that will be required to be paid in connection with re-leasing the space to new tenants.

In Paragraph 2., part of the direct payment made by the tenant to the landlord is allocated to the actual construction costs incurred by landlord to buildout the space for the tenant. From a tax point of view, these costs are required to be capitalized and can be written off over the recovery period of the particular asset. See TB § 23.07. Because the landlord has not yet had the chance to write off those costs and because the costs can now be deducted in full since the lease is being terminated, receipt of money as reimbursement for such costs is taxable income but can be offset by such costs. To the extent that the payments made to landlord referred to in Paragraph 2. exceed those actual costs incurred to do the buildout, they are taxed as ordinary income to the landlord.

The security deposit referred to in Paragraph 2. is to be kept by the landlord according to the agreement. Receipt of that security deposit is taxed as ordinary income to the landlord unless the landlord can substantiate that it is in payment of actual expenses incurred by the landlord because of the termination of the lease. See TB § 23.05.

In this form, the actual lease cancellation agreement is set forth on a separate document to be delivered by the landlord to the tenant in exchange for the payments from the tenant. It was kept on a separate document because it is to be recorded, and the parties do not want the amount of the payment and other terms to be disclosed.

LEASE BUYOUT AGREEMENT

This Lease Buyout Agreement is made this _____ day of _____, [date], by and between _____ (hereinafter called "Landlord"), and _____ (hereinafter called "Tenant").

WHEREAS, Landlord and Tenant entered into a certain lease dated [date] (hereinafter called the "Lease"); and

WHEREAS, the Lease relates to certain premises located in the building located at _____ (hereinafter referred to as the "Premises"); and

WHEREAS, Tenant decided not to take possession of the Premises and, since that decision was made, has subleased portions of the Premises to various subtenants and as required by the Lease has used ABC Construction Corp. ("ABC"), a company affiliated with Landlord, to plan for and carry out the buildout of the various subleased premises; and

WHEREAS, Tenant has decided that it no longer desires to sublease its space and desires to make a settlement with Landlord that would allow Tenant to surrender the Premises to Landlord subject to certain resolutions of the subleases, to cover certain costs owed to ABC with respect to such subleases and to obtain a release from future obligations under the terms of the Lease after a certain date; and

WHEREAS, Tenant and Landlord desire to set forth in writing the terms and conditions for such surrender of the Premises and termination of the Lease;

NOW, THEREFORE, Tenant and Landlord agree as follows:

1. Tenant acknowledges that there will be incurred certain expenses with respect to the efforts of Landlord to re-lease portions of the Premises. Those expenses relate to tenant improvements which are usually paid for by the tenant, and for commissions incurred in connection with having to lease the space again. In order to cover such expenses and restore the Premises to a multi-tenant capacity, Tenant agrees to pay ABC the sum of _____ Dollars ($_____) to cover such hard and soft costs for tenant improvements for the portion of the premises used or to be use by any tenants to whom Landlord leases space. In addition, because a portion of the Premises now leased to Tenant will be vacated in the event Tenant is released from the Lease, Tenant agrees to pay to Johnson Brokerage Company the sum of _____ Dollars ($_____) in payment of the commissions due and payable with respect to the leasing of such space in the future.

2. Tenant hereby acknowledges that at the inception of its Lease, Landlord incurred costs of _____ Dollars ($_____) in connection with the buildout of the Premises for Tenant's use. In order to repay Landlord for such costs and obtain a release, Tenant shall pay Landlord the sum of _____ Dollars ($_____) in consideration for which Landlord shall deliver to Tenant the release and cancellation of the Lease in the form set forth on Exhibit A, attached hereto and made a part hereof. Such release shall be delivered to Tenant on the date set forth in Paragraph 5., below. All rights to the security deposit on the Lease shall be retained by Landlord. All other outstanding invoices owed by Tenant to Landlord or ABC shall be paid on or before the date set forth in Paragraph 5., below.

3. In consideration of the payment to Landlord by Tenant, Landlord agrees to offer a new lease to the existing subtenants on the same terms as space was subleased to the subtenants by Tenant (except for the location in the building which could be subject to change, the commencement dates, and the fact that the leases will be direct leases, not subleases), which new leases shall supersede the existing subleases to the subtenants.

4. In consideration of the release and cancellation of the Lease given to Tenant by Landlord, Tenant agrees to obtain terminations of its subleases with other subtenants.

In further consideration of the release of the Lease, Tenant agrees to and does hereby indemnify, defend and hold harmless Landlord from any and all claims made by subtenants of Tenant, or others holding under Tenant, from any agents, consultants or other persons or entities with whom Tenant dealt in connection with the Lease, the subleases or this transaction, and from any claims for brokerage commissions payable with respect to or by reason of such subleases of sub-subleases. This indemnity shall survive the closing of this transaction.

5. The payments required by the terms of Paragraphs 1. and 2. shall be due and payable as of the _____ day of _____ [date], on which date the lease cancellation and release set forth on Exhibit A shall be delivered to Tenant by Landlord. Under the terms of such release, Tenant shall continue to pay all rent and other payments owed to Landlord pursuant to the terms of the Lease through [date].

6. Upon the execution of this Agreement, Tenant agrees to allow Landlord to enter the Premises to make all necessary alterations of the Premises in order to carry out the terms of this Agreement.

7. The parties hereto agree that the terms and conditions of this Agreement are strictly confidential and that neither party shall disclose any of the terms and conditions of this Agreement to any third party, save and except for the attorneys, accountants and advisors to the parties hereto.

8. This Agreement shall be governed by the laws of the State of _____. This Agreement represents the entire agreement between the parties hereto and shall not be amended or modified in any manner whatsoever except in a writing signed by each of the parties hereto.

9. This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective successors and assigns.

The parties hereto have signed this Lease Buyout Agreement as of the date first set forth above.

WHEREAS, by written leased dated [date] (hereinafter called the "Lease"), the Landlord demised to the Tenant certain premises in the building located at _____, _____ (hereinafter called the "Premises"); and

WHEREAS, for good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which is hereby acknowledged, the parties have mutually agreed to execute this Agreement.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the aforesaid, the parties agree as follows:

1. The Tenant agrees to surrender and deliver up said Premises in compliance with the terms of the Lease to the Landlord on [date], and continue to pay all rent and other charges due under the lease through [date].
2. In consideration whereof, the Landlord agrees to accept said payments and surrender in full satisfaction and discharge of all obligations of the Tenant under said Lease, and provided such payments are made, releases Tenant from any claims under the Lease.
3. In consideration of this cancellation and release of Tenant, Tenant hereby releases Landlord from all obligations under the Lease and hereby waives any and all claims thereunder against Landlord.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties have executed this Lease Cancellation Agreement and Release as of the day and year first above written.

FORM 23.24A Garage Space Lease

COMMENT

This document is a form of lease that can be used for the leasing of a garage space in an indoor parking garage built primarily for the use by the occupants of an adjoining apartment building. This form anticipates that there are other spaces in the parking garage that may be used by the public, other than a garage dedicated just for use by residential apartment tenants.

An important part of this lease is the enforcement of the use of the space by the owner of the automobile identified in the lease, used by one of the residential apartment tenants. That emphasis and other provisions of the lease are imposed for the safety and security of the apartment tenants who use the garage. To provide flexibility on the part of the landlord to change the parking rates, the lease provides that the rates can be changed upon thirty (30) days' written notice to the tenant. In addition, if operating procedures need to be changed, the lease provides for that flexibility by the terms of Paragraph 18. which states that landlord can change the rules and regulations applicable to the use of the garage from time to time.

Finally, because of the landlord's concern about protecting the landlord from liability, the lease provides in Paragraph 2. that the tenant owning the car must carry at least the minimum insurance required by the state in which the garage is located, and the lease provides for an indemnity of the landlord in case of damage to persons or property resulting from the use of the space by the tenant.

GARAGE SPACE LEASE

Tenant: _____
 Suite #: _____
 Phone Numbers: Home: _____
 Cell: _____
 Work: _____

Tenant agrees to pay Landlord as rent for the garage space the monthly sum of _____ Dollars ($_____) in advance on the first day of each month together with the monthly rental payment of Tenant's suite, at the same location as the rent for the suite is due. This lease shall commence on _____, 20____. If such commencement date is other than the first day of a calendar month, the rent for the first partial month shall be prorated based on the number of days remaining in such month to the total number of days in the month. Such prorated amount plus the next full month's rent shall be payable in advance upon the execution of this Agreement. The monthly rental rate quoted is guaranteed for thirty (30) days from the execution of this Agreement by both parties, after which time the rate is subject to change upon ten (10) days' notice to the Tenant based on market conditions. This Garage Lease shall run concurrently with the Tenant's Apartment Lease for the full term of the Apartment Lease, but may be terminated by either party upon thirty (30) days' written notice.

I/we agree to the following conditions:

1. Tenant agrees the Landlord is not responsible for any damages to vehicles or any other item in said space or in the vehicle, including but not limited to damage caused by other vehicles, water leaks, vandals or any other cause. Landlord shall not be responsible for theft of vehicles or any other property in said space. Tenant agrees that Landlord is not responsible for any damages to persons or property resulting from the use of the space or garage by Tenant, Tenant's agents, employees, or invitees. Tenant agrees to and does hereby indemnify, defend and hold harmless Landlord from any claims, actions, suits, damages or expenses resulting or occasioned by such use by Tenant, Tenant's agents, employees, or invitees.
2. The garage space is to be used for the described auto only and Tenant represents to Landlord that Tenant is the registered owner of the vehicle and that Tenant has insurance for the vehicle as mandated by state law. Upon request from time to time, Tenant shall provide proof of insurance. The garage space cannot be sublet or assigned without the prior written consent of the Landlord. In the event any other auto is parked in said space, Landlord shall have the right to (a) disable the vehicle until the vehicle owner pays a fee of $50.00; and/or (b) have the vehicle towed, at the vehicle owner's sole cost and expense, to a storage lot. Thereafter, the vehicle owner shall be responsible for any and all charges for storage, damage, or casualty to the vehicle.
3. Should the Tenant park the Tenant's vehicle in any other location within the garage other than the Tenant's designated space, Landlord shall have the same rights stated above with respect to Tenant's use of the space for an unauthorized vehicle and in addition shall have the right to terminate this Lease immediately at Landlord's sole discretion.
4. Vehicle measurements cannot exceed the size designated by the Landlord. Vehicles larger than these measurements will not be permitted to use the garage.
5. It is expected that the garage will be open during normal business hours; however, operating hours are subject to change. Except on an emergency basis or as a result of factors beyond Landlord's control, Landlord shall post any changes to the operating hours in the garage thirty (30) days prior to any change.

6. Vehicles must obey the speed limit of 5 MPH at all times.

7. Vehicles must maintain their lane when driving throughout the garage in order to ensure proper clearances to other vehicles traversing the garage and must give way to pedestrians at all times.

8. Vehicles must be maintained in a way to prevent loud exhausts, squeaky brakes, tire squeals and any other type of loud or offensive noises.

9. All guests shall pay the advertised market rate.

10. There shall be no storage of any kind within the garage except for the vehicle itself.

11. Tenant may not allow anyone else the use of the Tenant's car for access to the garage or the Tenant's space in the garage. If key card access is provided, Tenant may not allow anyone else to use the Tenant's garage access card. In addition, Tenant may not use the Tenant's garage access card to allow more than the Tenant's vehicle to enter or exit the garage. Landlord reserves the right to verify the identification of Tenant and Tenant's vehicle at all times while in the garage. If Tenant refuses to verify identification, Landlord reserves the right to deny access to the garage and/or may terminate this Agreement and remove the vehicle from the garage.

12. Tenant must park in the designated area within the garage; tenants with reserved spaces must park only in their reserved space as designated at the bottom of this Lease. Tenants with general parking must park above the third floor in non-reserved spaces only. First floor, second floor and basement parking is prohibited to residents and guests. Anyone in non-compliance of this lease term will be fined $100 per infraction and/or Landlord reserves the right to immediately terminate this Agreement.

13. Tenant shall not use the emergency egress doors located on floors 2 through 6 for ingress into the adjoining apartment building. All access to the apartment building shall be through the first floor entrance.

14. No washing of vehicles is permitted in the garage except in areas designated by the Landlord.

15. No repairing of vehicles is permitted in the garage. However, vehicles having dead batteries may be jumped, or vehicles having flat tires may be changed to allow the vehicles to be serviced. Any unauthorized, abandoned or permanently inoperable vehicles or vehicles not having current license plates will be towed from the garage at the Tenant's risk and expense. Tenant shall be liable for any damages caused by Tenant's vehicle or Tenant's guest's vehicles for oil, gas, antifreeze, leaks, etc.

16. If key card access is provided and the key card is lost or damaged, a new card will be issued for a replacement fee of $50. The garage access card must be returned undamaged at the expiration of the lease or the garage security deposit will be disbursed along with any other security deposit being refunded to the Tenant.

17. Upon expiration of the Lease, Tenant agrees to immediately remove the Tenant's vehicle from the Landlord's garage. Should Tenant fail to remove the Tenant's vehicle from the garage, such vehicle shall be conclusively deemed to be abandoned and Landlord shall have the right to have the vehicle towed, at Tenant's sole cost and expense, to a storage lot. Thereafter, Landlord shall not be responsible to Tenant for any charges for storage, damage, or casualty to the vehicle. Landlord shall have no obligation to contact Tenant regarding removal of the Tenant's vehicle at the end of the lease term. This Lease shall automatically renew concurrently with the Apartment Lease, if Tenant elects to renew the Apartment Lease, unless Tenant notifies Landlord in writing at the same time it renews the Apartment Lease that Tenant does not wish to renew the garage space lease.

18. Landlord reserves the right from time to time to impose reasonable rules and regulations that Landlord believes are necessary for the safe operation of the garage and the safety and security of the property. Such rules and regulations shall be posted in the garage. Notice of any changes in rules and regulations or adoption of new rules shall be posted in the garage and shall be automatically and immediately incorporated herein without further notice.

19. If Tenant and/or Tenant's guests are found to be in violation of any of the terms above or any other rules and regulations reasonably imposed by Landlord, Landlord shall have the use of all remedies and rights available under law in addition to Landlord's right to terminate this Agreement. If Landlord terminates the Agreement pursuant to a violation of the rules and regulations imposed, Landlord may at Landlord's sole discretion bar the Tenant from access to the garage.

20. The laws of the State of _____ shall govern this Agreement.

FORM 23.24B Net Lease of Multi-Tenant Warehouse--Office Space

COMMENT

This is a form of a net lease for an existing warehouse office space proposed to be renovated and leased to the tenant taking a substantial part of the space in the building. The lease is a net lease in that the tenant is required to pay its pro rata share of all real estate taxes, insurance, maintenance costs of the common areas, and repair and maintenance costs of the building, save and except for major structural repairs to the roof, building and foundation, vaults, water, sewer and gas connections, pipes and mains, plumbing, electrical systems and the heating/air conditioning system, parking lots, fences and driveways.

The building itself is located on a large parcel of land, all of which is not required to be used for the building to be leased. Therefore, in Paragraph 1.A. the Lessor has reserved the right from time to time to sell or transfer a portion of the land which is not required in connection with the use and operation of the building, and reserves the right to grant easements for ingress or egress or for utilities over the land not sold or transferred, for the benefit of the land sold or transferred.

Because this is an existing building which was previously used by other tenants who have since vacated the building, an extensive build out is required as described in Paragraphs 4.B. and 4.C. of the lease. Paragraph 4.B. refers to general building work required to be done by the Lessor in order to put the building back in rentable condition. In addition, the Lessor has agreed to buildout the office space for use by the Lessee, pursuant to the terms of Paragraph 4.B.2. of the lease. Lessee has agreed to do the remainder of the buildout as described in Paragraph 4.C. captioned "Lessee's Work," but Lessor has agreed to grant Lessee an allowance of $300,000 to be applied towards the cost of that Lessee's Work. Paragraph 4.C. spells out the construction procedure which Lessee must meet in order to obtain the use of that $300,000 allowance.

In addition to the favorable buildout provisions which the Lessee was able to negotiate, because it was a favorable market for tenants at the time this lease was negotiated, this Lessee was able to negotiate three additional options to renew (see Paragraph 4.A.), a right of first offer to purchase the real estate (see Paragraph 4.D.), a right of first offer to lease additional space in the building (see Paragraph 4.E.), a right of first refusal to lease additional space in the building (see Paragraph 4.F.), an agreement on the part of the Lessor to pay a portion of the Lessee's rent for the building it was continuing to lease during the buildout (see Paragraph 4.G.), and an option to terminate the lease at the end of the sixth full year of the ten year term of the lease (see Paragraph 4.H.).

Another favorable provision the Lessee was able to negotiate is set forth in Paragraph 25.B. of the lease relating to parking provided for Lessee. In addition to the 260 parking spaces in the parking lot to be designated for use by Lessee, the Lessor has agreed to land bank certain of its additional land that it owns to accommodate the possible need for additional parking in the future for use by Lessee. The details of that land bank for parking are spelled out in Paragraph 25.B. of the lease.

FORM

INDENTURE OF LEASE

THIS INDENTURE OF LEASE is made and entered into at _____, _____, this _____ day of _____, 20____, by and between ROUDABUSH ASSOCIATES, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company, hereinafter called "Lessor," and WHELAN CORPORATION, an Ohio corporation, hereinafter called "Lessee."

WITNESSETH:

1. Demised Premises.

A. For the rents and upon the terms and conditions hereinafter set forth, Lessor hereby leases to Lessee certain premises containing approximately fifty thousand (50,000) square feet of floor space consisting of approximately ten thousand (10,000) square feet of office space and forty thousand (40,000) square feet of production space in the building known as 23000 Kirtland Parkway, Cleveland, Ohio, located on the parcel of land described on Exhibit A, attached hereto and made a part hereof, identified on the floor plan marked Exhibit B, attached hereto and made a part hereof, hereinafter called the "Demised Premises." Lessee shall have the right to increase or decrease the rentable square feet to be leased by no more than ten percent (10%), provided Lessee notifies Lessor in writing of its exact space layout plan showing the square footage by no later than _____. Upon receipt of the proposed space layout plan, Lessor shall have ten (10) days in which to confirm the exact square footage of the Demised Premises. In such event, if the layout is more or less than 50,000 square feet, this lease shall be amended to reflect such change, and the base rent and Lessee's prorata share of expenses shall be adjusted accordingly.

Subject to the terms of Paragraph 4.D. below and to Lessee's rights described in Paragraph 25.B. below relating to a one acre land bank for possible future parking, Lessor reserves the right from time to time at its option to sell or transfer portions of the land described on Exhibit A which are not required in connection with the use and operation of the building. Lessor further reserves the right to grant easements for ingress and egress or for utilities over the remaining land described on Exhibit A not sold or transferred, for the benefit of the land sold or transferred.

B. Lessee has examined the Demised Premises and the same appears to be in good condition and repair subject to Lessor performing the work described in Paragraph 4.B. below. Subject to the warranties of Lessor set forth in subparagraph 1.D. below, Lessee hereby accepts them in their present condition save and except for the improvements agreed to be performed by Lessor as more fully described in Paragraph 4.B. below.

C. Lessor reserves the right to place, maintain, repair and replace utility lines, pipes, tunneling and the like, in, under, over and through the Demised Premises and building in which the Demised Premises are located as may be reasonably necessary or desirable for the servicing, repair, renovation or improvement of the Demised Premises or the building in which the Demised Premises are located. Lessor shall have the right to enter the Demised Premises at all reasonable times and to the use of the roof and exterior walls of the Demised Premises and building for such purpose. Lessor agrees that none of the aforesaid work shall permit Lessee to receive an abatement of rent or to make a claim for any damages or losses to Lessee or Lessee's business resulting directly or indirectly therefrom, provided that any such work, once commenced, is diligently pursued to completion and that commercially reasonable efforts are used to minimize disruption to the Lessee's business during the performance of the work. If the work is not diligently pursued to completion, subject to delays beyond the control of Lessor, or the Lessor or its agents or contractors fail to use commercially reasonable efforts to minimize disruption to the Lessee's business, rent shall be abated or reduced in appropriate amounts.

D. Lessor warrants that by the date that Lessee is required to commence paying rent as set forth in Paragraph 2. below, the operating systems of the Building (mechanical, electrical, HVAC, plumbing and lighting) and the structural components of the building, including the roof, shall be in good working order. In addition, Lessor represents that to the best of its knowledge no violations of environmental laws exist as of the date of execution of this Lease with respect to the building and land described on Exhibit A.

2. Term. Lessee shall hold the Demised Premises for the term of ten (10) years, commencing on the 1st day of _____, _____, and terminating on the 31st day of _____, _____, unless the term hereby demised shall be sooner terminated or extended as hereinafter provided.

If the improvements being done by Lessee described in Paragraph 4.C. below are not substantially completed by _____, _____, regardless of the cause of the delay, the base rent and all obligations imposed upon Lessee hereunder shall commence as of _____, _____. However, if the delay is due solely to the failure of Lessor to act with reasonable diligence in the performance of its obligations that form part of Lessee's Work as hereafter defined (e.g. making of disbursements to Lessee), then the rent shall not commence until substantial completion actually occurs. In addition, if the delay is due to the failure of Lessor to cause substantial completion of Lessor's Work as described in Paragraph 4.B. below, other than due to the acts or omissions of Lessee, its agent, employees and contractors, then the rent shall not commence until substantial completion of Lessor's Work, or until Lessee begins doing business at the Demised Premises, whichever is sooner. If such date is other than on the first day of the month, then the commencement date of the lease term shall be the first day of the month next following such event, and the expiration date shall be ten (10) years after such date. However, during the partial month preceding the commencement date of the lease term, all provisions of this lease shall be in full force and effect and the rent for said partial month shall be prorated based on the applicable number of days remaining in the partial month in question to the total number of days in said month, multiplied by the monthly rate of rent payable during the first full month of the lease. In the event of such delay in the commencement date, Lessor and Lessee agree upon the commencement of the lease term to exchange a side letter agreement setting forth the actual commencement and expiration dates of this lease.

3. Rent. In consideration of said demise, Lessee covenants and agrees to pay to Lessor, without deduction or setoff of any kind, as rent for the use of the Demised Premises for the term hereof, rent at the following rates and amounts during the following years of the lease, payable in monthly installments as follows:

Year	Rate Per Square Foot	Annual Amount	Monthly Installment

All such rent shall be payable in current legal tender of the United States of America, as the same is then by law constituted. All such sums are due and payable in advance, on the first day of each and every calendar month during said term at _____, _____, _____, or at such other place as Lessor may in writing designate. However, notwithstanding the above, the first month's rent shall be paid to Lessor upon the execution of this lease, such payment to be applied against the base rent for the first month as and when the rent accrues for such month. In the event any payment of rent is not received by Lessor within ten (10) days of its due date, Lessor shall have the right at Lessor's option to charge Lessee a late fee of five percent (5%) of the amount of the overdue payment, which option Lessor agrees not to exercise until Lessee is late more than once during the term hereof. If the late fee is charged, it shall be payable upon demand.

4. A. Option to Renew. Lessee shall have the option to extend the term of this lease for three (3) additional terms of three (3) years each, provided that Lessee is not in material default of any and all of the terms, covenants and conditions of this lease on the date that notice of extension is given and has not been in default (as hereafter defined) more than three (3) times during the lease term as it may have been extended. As used throughout this lease, the term "material default" shall only apply, if at all, to nonmonetary defaults. All monetary defaults shall be considered material whether or not so stated, and the term "default" without the qualifier shall mean any default, material or otherwise. Such option to extend shall be exercised by the Lessee by giving written notice to the Lessor not less than nine (9) months prior to the expiration date of the original or renewal term of the lease then in effect. The extension of this lease shall be upon the same terms, covenants and conditions as are contained in the lease, except that the base rent shall be ninety-five percent (95%) of the then prevailing fair market rent as determined by Lessor from available space being marketed in comparable buildings in the area of the Demised Premises, taking into account the terms and conditions under which the space is to be leased as set forth in this lease, but in no event shall the base rent be less than the base rent being paid hereunder during the last year of the term of the lease then in effect. Upon Lessee's request in writing to Lessor made within thirty (30) days prior to Lessee's exercise of said option, Lessor shall inform Lessee in writing of its determination of ninety-five percent (95%) of the then prevailing market rate of rent as described above. Such determination shall be made reasonably and in good faith by Lessor. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, Lessee's option herein shall be subject to a determination by Lessor, at Lessor's sole discretion to be exercised reasonably and in good faith, that Lessee's financial condition on a consolidated basis with its parent company, affiliates and subsidiaries at the time it makes such election is comparable or better than the financial condition of Lessee on a consolidated basis with its parent company, affiliates and subsidiaries, at the time Lessee executed this Lease. If at such time Lessee's parent company is no longer a publicly traded company, then Lessee shall provide Lessor with financial statements requested by Lessor to make such determination.

4. B. Lessor's Work.

1. General Building Work. Lessor shall, at Lessor's sole cost and expense and exclusive of any other allowances given by Lessor to Lessee hereunder, complete the work described on Exhibit C, attached hereto and made a part hereof. Lessor agrees to use commercially reasonable efforts to substantially complete such work on or before the date that Lessee is obligated to commence paying rent, except for the work to the parking lot areas described on Exhibit C, which work shall be done as stated on Exhibit C.

2. Office Space Buildout. Lessor, at Lessor's sole cost and expense, agrees to buildout the approximately _____ square feet of office space identified on Exhibit B, attached hereto and made a part hereof, in such a manner as to be adequate to turn-key such space for use by Lessee to a finish level comparable to the existing office space located in the Demised Premises. Such work shall include all finishes, demising walls, HVAC, electrical, plumbing (including a lunchroom and restrooms if required by code), and windows installed in the north wall. In connection with such work, Lessor shall work closely with Lessee's architect but Lessor reserves the right to hire its own contractor of its choice for this specific work. Lessor and Lessee agree to work in a productive and cohesive manner to control the costs of this work. Lessee agrees to cause its architect to develop floor plans and specifications descriptive of the work as soon as reasonably possible, so as to allow the office space work to commence and to be completed in a timely manner, which plans and specifications shall be subject to the approval of Lessor. In order to do so, Lessee shall (i) cause its architect to deliver to Lessor no later than _____, 20____, final working drawings completed and ready to be submitted to Lessor's contractor for bidding, and ready to be submitted to the City of Cleveland for permits, and (ii) cause its architect to submit such working drawings to the City of Cleveland in order to obtain construction permits by _____, 20____ so that Lessor can cause construction to start by no later than the next work day thereafter. Lessee, at its expense, shall supply Lessor and the City of Cleveland with the necessary number of sets of working drawings required for such purposes. Lessor agrees to reimburse Lessee for the cost of space planning services up to the sum of Fifteen Thousand and 00/100 Dollars ($15,000.00). Lessor agrees to use commercially reasonable efforts to complete the office improvements and buildout by the scheduled commencement date of the term of the lease as set forth above, subject to delays beyond the reasonable control of Lessor. Commercially reasonable efforts shall not require the need to work overtime.

3. All work to be done or caused to be done by Lessor pursuant to this Paragraph 4.B. shall be done in a good and workmanlike manner and in conformity with all applicable building codes and regulations. Any defects in material or workmanship shall be corrected or caused to be corrected by Lessor at Lessor's expense.

4. C. Lessee's Work. Except for the Lessor's work as described above, Lessee agrees at its cost and expense, save and except for the allowance hereafter described, to perform all other portions of the buildout required in order for Lessee to use its Demised Premises for the purpose herein intended (the "Lessee's Work"). Lessee shall have the right to select and supervise its architect, engineers, construction managers and contractors as required to complete the Lessee's Work.

Lessee hereby represents and warrants to Lessor that it will cause such Lessee's Work to be performed on a competitive bid basis, and agrees that Lessor shall be entitled to review and approve all of the contractors selected by Lessee; provided, however, that Lessor's approval shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed.

In consideration of Lessee doing the Lessee's Work, subject to the conditions hereinafter enumerated, Lessor shall provide Lessee an allowance of Three Hundred Thousand Dollars ($300,000) towards the cost of Lessee's Work. Such allowance shall be applied against the actual costs of Lessee's Work including but not limited to the actual hard costs of construction (including, without limitation, demolition and construction costs) and the soft costs incurred by Lessee in connection therewith, including, without limitation, all architectural, engineering and design fees, and permit fees incurred by Lessee.

Disbursements shall be made monthly from the allowance during the progress of construction in an amount equal to the paid invoices submitted to Lessor by Lessee and for which Lessee has not been previously reimbursed or sought reimbursements, save and except for a ten percent (10%) retainage from each disbursement to be held back by Lessor until substantial completion of all of the Lessee's Work. A request for payment shall be made on AIA Form G-702, Applications for Payment, for work done through the last day of the month. Lessor shall make disbursements from the allowances by the tenth (10th) day of the following month provided (i) Lessor has received acceptable invoices, statements, and any other documentation reasonably requested by Lessor (or Lessor's lender) substantiating the cost of the work claimed to be done (ii) the work done to date is in conformity with Lessee's final plans and specifications which shall be submitted to Lessor for approval, which approval shall not be unreasonably withheld or delayed, and (iii) Lessee has complied with all of the other terms and provisions set forth in this Paragraph 4.C. Lessor shall not be required to pay the 10% retainage until substantial completion of all of the Lessee's Work and unless and until Lessor is provided with all affidavits and lien waivers requested from Lessee's contractors and all subcontractors and suppliers thereunder.

Lessee agrees to keep the Demised Premises and building free from any liens arising out of nonpayment of any of the Lessee's Work. In the event any such lien is filed, Lessee covenants and agrees to take immediate action to cause such lien to be released or removed of record and to notify Lessor of such action. If Lessee does not diligently pursue the release or removal of the lien, or if the lien is not released and removed within thirty (30) days following the imposition of any such lien, Lessor shall have the right, upon ten (10) days prior written notice to Lessee, to cause the lien to be released and removed by such means as Lessor shall deem proper, including without limitation, payment of, bonding or defense of the claim giving rise to such lien. All sums to be paid by Lessor in connection therewith shall constitute rent under the lease, due upon demand, and shall bear interest at the rate of eight percent (8%) per annum until paid. Nonpayment of said sum shall constitute a default under the lease and entitle Lessor to any and all remedies specified under the lease for defaults of rent.

All work done or caused to be done by Lessee pursuant to this Paragraph 4.C. shall be done in a good and workmanlike manner and in conformity with all applicable governmental codes and regulations. Any defects in material or workmanship shall be corrected or caused to be corrected by Lessee at Lessee's expense. Lessee shall be responsible for all repairs and maintenance required of the Lessee's Work installed by Lessee pursuant to this Paragraph 4.C. Lessee agrees to use commercially reasonable efforts to cause Lessee's Work to be substantially completed on or before the scheduled commencement date of _____, _____, but agrees that in any event the rent shall commence as of said date, subject to the exception set forth in Paragraph 2. above.

4. D. Right of First Offer (Purchase). Provided Lessee is not in material default under the terms of this lease, Lessee shall have the continuing right during the term of the lease to purchase the building and the land on which it is located as described on Exhibit A, attached hereto, or to purchase any parcel of land within the boundaries of the parcel described on Exhibit A, if Lessor decides in its sole discretion to sell the land and building or such parcel of vacant land. From time to time during the term of the lease Lessor may deliver to Lessee a notice ("Lessor's Sale Notice") setting forth in reasonable detail a description of the property proposed to be sold.

Lessee shall have ten (10) business days following receipt of Lessor's Sale Notice in which to elect to purchase the property described in the Lessor's Sale Notice. If Lessee fails to timely respond to Lessor's Sale Notice, Lessee shall be deemed to have waived its right to respond to Lessor's Sale Notice and Lessor may proceed to sell such property to other prospective purchasers. If Lessee exercises the right to purchase the property, Lessee shall notify Lessor and the purchase price for such property shall be the fair market value for such property as determined in the manner hereafter described. Within five (5) days following receipt by Lessor of Lessee's election to purchase such property, Lessor shall notify Lessee of the fair market value at which the property may be purchased as determined by Lessor from comparable buildings or parcels of land in the Cleveland, Ohio vicinity. If Lessee believes that the fair market value specified by Lessor exceeds the fair market value for the property as of the proposed sale date, then Lessee shall notify Lessor of its objection within five (5) days following receipt of Lessor's notice of the amount of the fair market value. If the parties are unable to agree upon the fair market value for the property within five (5) days after Lessor's receipt of Lessee's notice of Lessee's objection to the price, then Lessor shall be free to offer such price to prospective purchasers without any further restrictions imposed upon Lessor.

4. E. Right of First Offer (Lease). Provided Lessee is not in material default under the terms of this lease, and except as to the space proposed to be leased to Richmond Corporation ("Richmond") if such lease to Richmond is executed, Lessee shall have the continuing first right to lease Available (defined below) space in the building, in accordance with the terms and provisions of this Paragraph 4.E. From time to time during the term of the lease, Lessor may deliver to Lessee a notice ("Lessor's Availability Notice") setting forth in reasonable detail a description of space within the building which is available, or which Lessor expects to be or become available. At Lessee's request, Lessor shall arrange for Lessee to view any space described in Lessor's Availability Notice.

Lessee shall have ten (10) business days following receipt of Lessor's Availability Notice within which to elect to lease any of the space described in Lessor's Availability Notice. If Lessee fails to timely respond to Lessor's Availability Notice, Lessee shall be deemed to have waived its right to respond to Lessor's Availability Notice and Lessor may proceed to lease such space to other prospective tenants. If Lessee timely exercises the right to lease the additional space provided herein, the additional space in question shall be added to and become a part of the Demised Premises following the substantial completion of tenant improvements therein, if any, and the base rent payable for such additional space shall be the market rent for such space as determined in the manner hereafter described. Within five (5) days following receipt by Lessor of Lessee's election to lease any of the space described in Lessor's Availability Notice, Lessor shall notify Lessee of the market rent at which the space may be leased as determined by Lessor from available space being marketed in comparable buildings in the Cleveland, Ohio vicinity, taking into account the terms and conditions under which the space is to be leased as set forth in this lease. If Lessee believes that the market rent specified by Lessor exceeds the actual market rent for the proposed space as of the proposed commencement date for the leasing of such space, then Lessee shall notify Lessor within five (5) days following receipt of Lessor's notice of the amount of the market rent. If the parties are unable to agree upon the market rent for the space within five (5) days after Lessor's receipt of Lessee's notice of Lessee's objection, Lessor shall be free to offer such space to prospective tenants and to rent such space without any further restrictions imposed upon Lessor.

As used in this Paragraph 4.E. the term "Available" means that the space in question is or will be, or will become, ready to be offered in the market place to the public at large for rent, free and clear of all claims and rights of other parties. Such space shall be deemed not to be Available only if, as to such space, there is a lease, lease option or other right of extension, renewal, expansion, refusal, negotiation or similar or other right: (i) pursuant to any lease which was entered into on or before the date of this lease or entered into with Richmond; or (ii) pursuant to any extension or renewal of any of the foregoing, whether or not set forth in the original lease or written agreement, or (iii) pursuant to any lease which was entered into after the date of execution of this lease with respect to space for which Lessee failed to timely respond to Lessor's Availability Notice, or failed to reach an agreement with Lessor as to the market rent with respect to such space pursuant to the procedures set forth above, or any extension or renewal thereof whether or not set forth in the original lease.

The right to take additional space pursuant hereto shall only apply provided Lessor and Lessee agree to an extension of the term of this lease pursuant to Paragraph 4.A. above or otherwise, so that there will be at least five (5) years during which the expansion space shall be leased, or if there is not a full five years, if either (i) Lessee agrees to promptly reimburse Lessor upon the termination of the lease for the unamortized cost of any leasehold improvements Lessor is required to pay for with respect to the additional space, assuming an interest rate of eight percent (8%) per annum on the cost paid for by Lessor for such leasehold improvements and for the unamortized cost of any commissions required to be paid with respect to such additional space, in each instance based upon a 60-month amortization period; or (ii) Lessee agrees to accept a lower leasehold improvement allowance reduced in proportion to the number of months less than a full 60 months that Lessee would occupy and pay rent for such additional space.

4. F. Right of First Refusal (Lease). Provided Lessee is not in material default under the terms of this lease and has not been in material default more than three (3) times during the term of this lease, during the initial term of this lease and excluding the space proposed to be leased to Richmond if such lease to Richmond is executed, Lessee shall have a right of first refusal ("Right of First Refusal") to lease any other vacant space in the building ("Additional Space") on the same terms and conditions that Lessor is prepared to accept from any third party. If Lessor receives a bona fide offer to lease the Additional Space from a third party which Lessor desires to accept, Lessor shall first notify Lessee of the same offer in writing to Lessee. Lessee shall have five (5) business days from receipt of such offer within which to accept or reject the offer in writing to Lessor. If Lessee rejects such offer in writing or fails to notify Lessor of its intention to do so within the aforesaid 5-day period, then Lessee shall be deemed to have waived its rights under this paragraph, and Lessor shall be free to lease the Additional Space to such third party on substantially the same terms and conditions offered to Lessee in the foregoing manner. If Lessor does not enter into a new lease with such third party within six (6) months from the date such offer is first made to Lessee, Lessee's Right of First Refusal shall apply again to such space and Lessor shall be required to submit any other offer for such space to Lessee in the same manner as set forth above.

If Lessee validly exercises its Right of First Refusal herein, the parties shall execute an amendment to this lease adding the Additional Space or shall enter into a new lease for the Additional Space, or shall enter into such other documentation as Lessor shall reasonably require, promptly after Lessor reasonably shall prepare the same, in order to confirm the leasing of such Additional Space to Lessee. However, a valid exercise of the Right of First Refusal contained herein shall not be fully effective unless and until such confirmatory documentation is executed.

The foregoing Right of First Refusal shall apply only with respect to the entire Additional Space, and may not be exercised with respect to only a portion thereof, unless only a portion thereof shall first become the subject of a legally sufficient offer acceptable to Lessor (in which case the foregoing Right of First Refusal shall apply to such portion as the same became subject to such offer).

4. G. Payments on Selden Road Lease. Lessee currently leases space at the property known as 9999 Selden Road, Cleveland, Ohio (the "Selden Road Building") pursuant to the terms of the lease for such space identified by reference on Exhibit D, attached hereto and made a part hereof. Lessor agrees to make the lease payments (including additional rent and other charges due under the lease) through the expiration date of the lease on _____, 20____, required to be made under that portion of the lease of the Selden Road Building which is not being leased on a month-to-month basis, on a short term basis, or under terms where the space is cancelable, subject to a maximum monthly payment of $_____. Lessee shall continue to be responsible to pay for its own insurance, utilities and repairs with respect to such space to the extent required by the Selden Road Building lease. Lessee hereby represents and warrants that the expiration date of the lease for the Selden Road Building is _____, 20____. The aforesaid payments agreed to be made by Lessor shall not commence until the Lessee commences to pay the base rent hereunder. In addition, such monthly payments shall only be required to be made if and as long as Lessee is current in its rental obligations to Lessor under the terms of this lease. In the event such rental payments are not current, Lessor's requirement to pay rent for the Selden Road Building shall be suspended until such time as Lessee pays all past due rent due under this lease, and is current on all other rent and charges due under this lease.

Lessor shall have the right at any time after this lease is executed to hire a real estate brokerage firm in an effort to sublease the space being leased by Lessee at the Selden Road Building. In order to facilitate such subleasing, Lessee agrees to keep such space in a clean and sightly condition, and to cause its landlord to cause the outside areas to be cleared from snow and ice as necessary to allow access to such space. In the event all or any portion of such space is subleased prior to the payment of the full amounts of the rent owed for such space, then any unspent money shall accrue to and belong to Lessor.

4. H. Option to Terminate. Lessee shall have a one time right to cancel the lease effective as of the end of the sixth full lease year during the initial term of the lease (the "termination date"), provided that Lessee notifies Lessor in writing of its intention to terminate at least nine (9) months prior to the termination date of the lease, and further provided that Lessee pays the payments hereafter described. In order for this termination to be effective, Lessee must reimburse Lessor for the unamortized cost as of the termination date of all leasehold improvements paid from the $300,000 allowance granted to Lessee as set forth in Paragraph 4.C. above, assuming that the cost of such leasehold improvements are amortized over the 10-year term of the lease at an interest rate of seven percent (7%) per annum. In addition, Lessee must reimburse Lessor for the unamortized cost as of the termination date of all lease commissions paid by Lessor with respect to the initial term of the lease, assuming the straight-line amortization of such leasehold commissions at an interest rate of seven percent (7%) per annum. In addition to the aforesaid payments, Lessee must also pay in one lump sum to Lessor the equivalent of six (6) months of base rent based on the monthly rental required to be paid by Lessee under the terms of this lease during the sixth year of the lease term. All of the aforesaid payments must be paid to Lessor at the same time Lessee gives Lessor notice of its intention to terminate the lease. In the event all of such payments are not timely made to Lessor, this lease shall continue in full force and effect and there shall be no termination of this lease.

Lessee may exercise the rights in this Paragraph 4.H. notwithstanding that it is at the time of the notice or thereafter in default of this lease; provided, however, that, with respect to any monetary defaults hereunder occurring before or arising after the notice date, Lessor may notify Lessee in writing of the amounts that it in good faith contends are due. Within thirty (30) days after receipt of any such notice, Lessee must, at its election, either (i) pay to Lessor the amount alleged to be due, or (ii) place the amount alleged to be due into an escrow account with an escrow agent mutually selected by Lessor and Lessee. If Lessor and Lessee cannot agree, the escrow agent shall be designated by the Chief Administrative Judge of the Stark County Court of Common Pleas. If Lessee fails to pay such amount alleged to be due or to place it in escrow, this option to terminate early shall be void and of no further force and effect. If reasonably unable to resolve the dispute among themselves within ten (10) business days of the funds being placed in escrow, the parties shall reasonably promptly thereafter cause such dispute to be settled and determined by arbitration in accordance with the commercial rules of the American Arbitration Association, or its legal successor then in effect. The decision of said arbitration, including the decision with respect to the allocation of costs of said arbitration as between the Lessor and Lessee, shall be binding upon Lessor and Lessee. The escrow agent shall disburse the funds in accordance with the arbitration decision promptly upon being notified of the decision. The parties shall share equally in the costs of the escrow agent, if any.

5. Use. The Demised Premises shall be used solely for the operation of Lessee's business, and for no other purpose. This statement in this Lease of the nature of Lessee's business does not constitute a representation by Lessor that such business is lawful or otherwise permitted by law at the Demised Premises. Lessee shall not use or occupy, or permit the use or occupancy of, the Demised Premises, or any part thereof, in any unlawful manner or for any illegal purpose, or in such a manner as to constitute a nuisance or violate the terms and conditions of any certificate of occupancy or equivalent use permit applicable to the Demised Premises, or for any purpose or in a manner liable to cause structural injury, and shall not use or occupy or permit the use or occupancy of the Demised Premises for other than purposes of the nature and to the extent permitted by the laws, rules, regulations, and ordinances of the applicable governmental authorities and their agencies, including without limitation those relating to environmental matters.

6. Compliance With Laws. Subject to Lessor's express obligations hereunder, the Lessee shall throughout the term of this lease, at the Lessee's sole cost and expense, promptly comply with all laws and ordinances, including without limitation, the ADA and all environmental laws, rules and regulations, federal, state and local. Lessee shall likewise comply with the orders, rules, regulations or requirements of all applicable governmental authorities and the orders, rules and regulations of the applicable Board of Fire Underwriters, or any other body now or hereafter constituted exercising similar functions, foreseen or unforeseen, ordinary as well as extraordinary, and whether or not the same require repairs or alterations, which may be applicable to the Demised Premises and the fixtures thereof, or the use or manner of use of the Demised Premises, except as provided elsewhere in this lease. The Lessee shall likewise observe and comply with the requirements of all policies of public liability, fire and all other policies of insurance at any time in force with respect to the Demised Premises. Lessor shall at its cost and expense comply with all laws and ordinances and the orders, rules, regulations or requirements of all applicable governmental authorities with respect to the building and improvements as a whole.

7. Net Lease. This lease shall be deemed and construed to be a "net lease" and, except as otherwise expressly provided in this paragraph or expressly provided in this lease, the Lessor shall receive all rental and all other payments hereunder by Lessee free from any charges, taxes, assessments, impositions, expenses or deductions of any and every kind and nature whatsoever to the extent the aforesaid are required to be paid by Lessee alone or pro rata by Lessee and other tenants in the building in which the Demised Premises are located, including Lessee. Nothing herein contained shall require or be construed to obligate Lessee to pay any franchise, corporation, capital stock, capital levies, transfer, estate or inheritance tax imposed upon Lessor; provided, however, that in any case in which a tax may be levied, assessed or imposed upon the income arising from the rent hereunder for the use and occupancy of the Demised Premises in lieu of or as a substitute for real estate taxes and assessments upon the Demised Premises and land on which it is situated, or if at any time during the term of this Lease the method of taxation prevailing at the commencement of the term hereof shall be altered so as to cause the whole or any part of the taxes, assessments, levies, impositions or charges now or hereafter levied, assessed or imposed on the real estate and the improvements thereon, to be levied, assessed or imposed wholly or partially as a capital levy or otherwise on the rents therefrom in lieu of or in addition to real estate taxes and assessments upon the Demised Premises, Lessee shall upon written request by Lessor reimburse its pro rata share of the same to Lessor.

8. Utilities. The Lessee shall, during the continuance of this lease, pay for all heat, electric current, water, gas, telephone and other utilities used by Lessee in or upon the Demised Premises. Lessor shall install separate meters to measure Lessee's use of gas and electricity. If other utilities such as water are not separately metered or assessed (or are only partially separately metered or assessed) and are used in common with other tenants in the building, Lessee will pay an apportionment of such charges for utilities used in common based on the proportion of square feet in the Demised Premises served by such utility to the total square feet in the building served by such utility. In the event that the water usage by Lessee or another tenant sharing such bill with Lessee becomes extraordinary, Lessor shall at its expense separately meter such water usage.

Separately metered utilities serving only the Demised Premises shall be paid by Lessee directly to the utility company supplying the same. Lessor shall, at its expense, supply separate gas and electric meters for the Demised Premises and the electrical service brought to the Demised Premises at Lessor's expense shall be adequate to provide power for the existing office space in the Demised Premises, new office space to be constructed by Lessor as described in Paragraph 4.B.2. above, and the production space in the Demised Premises, as determined by customary industry standards. Except with respect to Lessor's Work, Lessee shall, at Lessee's sole cost and expense, procure any and all necessary permits, licenses and other authorizations required for the lawful and proper installation and maintenance upon the Demised Premises of wires, pipes, conduits, tubes and other equipment and appliances for use in supplying any such service to and upon the Demised Premises from the Lessor supplied meters.

Lessor shall not be liable to anyone for cessation of any services, including but not limited to public utility services, heating and air conditioning, due to inability to obtain fuel, electricity, service or supplies from the sources from which they are usually obtained, due to failures in equipment used to provide such services, or for any reason beyond the control of Lessor. Any such interruption of any of the above services shall never be deemed an eviction or disturbance of Lessee's use of the Demised Premises or any part thereof, render Lessor liable to Lessee for damages, or relieve Lessee from the performance of Lessee's obligations under this Lease; provided, however, that if such interruption is caused by the acts or omissions of Lessor, its agents and employees, and lasts for in excess of seven (7) consecutive days, then Lessee's base rent shall be abated in proportion to the amount of space which Lessee is unable to use to the total space leased by Lessee, until such interruption ceases. Lessor agrees to use commercially reasonable efforts to restore such services at the earliest possible date.

9. Taxes and Assessments.

A. Lessor shall pay, but Lessee shall reimburse Lessor for its pro rata share, as hereafter defined, of all real estate taxes and assessments (both general and special), levied upon the parcel of land described on Exhibit A, attached hereto, and the building in which the Demised Premises are located and any other improvements thereon, including any tax or other imposition charged by any governmental authority (other than franchise or income tax) against the land, building and improvements, the tenancy created hereby, or the rental provided herein, in substitution for or in addition to said real estate taxes and assessments, in whole or in part, and for water rents, sewer rentals, and all charges and other taxes, duties and charges, fees or payments imposed by any governmental, quasi-governmental or public authority, which shall be imposed, assessed, levied or become a charge or lien upon, or arise in connection with the use, occupancy or possession of, the Demised Premises or any part thereof or any appurtenances thereto, for any portion of the term hereby granted. However, if any such real estate taxes and assessments or other such charges relate to a fiscal period of the taxing authority, a portion of which is included in the term of this lease and a portion of which is included in a period of time prior to or after the term of this lease, they shall be prorated based on the applicable portion of the fiscal period coinciding with the term of this lease and Lessee shall be required to reimburse Lessor for its prorata share thereof. The Lessor shall in each instance submit to Lessee a bill evidencing the amount of said taxes and other charges and showing Lessee's pro rata share thereof, and Lessee shall be required to pay said bill within ten (10) days from receipt thereof. Said costs shall be billed to Lessee as often as Lessor is billed for said costs by the taxing authority.

Lessee shall have the right to contest such taxes and assessments at Lessee's expense, if Lessee first requests that Lessor contests such taxes and assessments and Lessor elects not to do so. In the event any refund of such taxes and assessments are obtained by Lessee, Lessee shall be allowed to keep the pro rata portion of the refund attributable to the Demised Premises if previously paid by Lessee, and the balance of such refund shall be remitted to Lessor.

B. Pro rata Share. For purposes of this Paragraph 9. and as used elsewhere in this lease, Lessee's pro rata share shall mean the percentage obtained by dividing the total square feet of space in the Demised Premises leased by Lessee by the total square feet of rentable space in the building; provided, however, in the event the square footage occupied by Lessee in the building is increased or decreased, the Lessee's pro rata share shall be adjusted accordingly in accordance with the aforesaid formula.

10. Insurance. Lessor shall at Lessor's cost and expense (except to the extent reimbursed therefor for Lessee's pro rata share thereof, as hereafter provided) secure and keep in effect during the term insurance policies in the amounts and covering the following risks:

A. For the benefit of Lessor, with respect to the building and improvements in which the Demised Premises are located, All Risk (Special Form) insurance for the full replacement cost of such building and improvements.

B. For the protection of Lessor and Lessee, comprehensive general public (Commercial General) liability insurance against claims for bodily injury or death occurring upon, in, or under the common areas, as hereafter defined, to the extent of not less than One Million Dollars ($1,000,000) in respect to bodily injury or death to any one person, and to the extent of not less than Two Million Dollars ($2,000,000) for bodily injuries or death to any number of persons arising out of one accident or disaster, and property damage with limits of not less than Five Hundred Thousand Dollars ($500,000).

Lessee shall reimburse Lessor for its pro rata share of the premium cost to carry the aforesaid insurance described in subparagraphs A. and B. above within ten (10) days from receipt of a bill from Lessor evidencing said costs and showing Lessee's pro rata share thereof. Lessor shall bill Lessee for such insurance costs as often as Lessor is billed therefor by Lessor's insurer.

C. Throughout the term of this lease, for the protection of Lessor, Lessee shall secure at Lessee's expense comprehensive general (Commercial General) public liability insurance against claims for bodily injury or death occurring upon, in, or under the Demised Premises to the extent of not less than One Million Dollars ($1,000,000) in respect to bodily injury or death to any one person, and to the extent of not less than Two Million Dollars ($2,000,000) for bodily injuries or death to any number of persons arising out of one accident or disaster, and property damage with limits of not less than Five Hundred Thousand Dollars ($500,000). Lessor shall be named as an additional insured under said policy. Lessee shall provide Lessor with a certificate evidencing such insurance prior to commencement of the lease term and thereafter from time to time when requested by Lessor.

Lessor and Lessee agree that if the building and improvements at any time forming a part of the Demised Premises or the personal property of Lessee located on the Demised Premises shall be damaged or destroyed by an insured peril, and whether or not such damage or destruction was caused by the negligence of or any act or omission of the other party, the other's agents or employees, neither party shall have any liability to the other on account of such damage or destruction, or the cause thereof, and each party shall with due diligence require all policies of risk insurance carried by such party during the term of this lease to be endorsed with a provision by which the insurer designated therein shall waive its right of subrogation against the other party.

Furthermore, each of Lessor and Lessee agrees to, and does hereby waive all rights of recovery and causes of action against the other, the other's agents and employees, and all persons claiming through or under the other, relating to the loss of business, business interruption, or loss of rentals resulting from any damage or destruction to the Demised Premises, or building in which the Demised Premises are located, or any of Lessee's property contained therein, notwithstanding that any such damage or destruction may be due to the negligence or any act or omission of Lessor or Lessee, their respective agents or employees, as the case may be.

11. A. Repairs by Lessor; Common Area Operating Expenses. Subject to the provisions of Paragraph 14., throughout the term of this lease, Lessor shall, at Lessor's expense (except to the extent reimbursed therefor by Lessee's pro rata share thereof as hereafter provided), maintain the building (including its principal components) and other improvements at any time located on the land described on Exhibit A (including, without limitation of the generality of the foregoing, the roof, foundation, vaults, fences, water, sewer and gas connections, pipes and mains, plumbing, heating and ventilation, and electrical systems, parking lots, driveways and other appurtenances) in as good and tenantable repair as at the commencement of the term of this lease, reasonable wear and tear excepted, provided Lessee notifies Lessor of the need for such repairs and further provided such repairs are not caused by the fault or negligence of Lessee, Lessee's agents and employees, except to the extent covered by Lessor's insurance. Said repairs shall include all necessary repairs, interior or exterior, ordinary as well as extraordinary, structural and otherwise, to the Demised Premises and building in which the same are located. Lessor shall, at Lessor's expense (except to the extent reimbursed therefor by Lessee's pro rata share thereof) make all necessary repairs, replacements or alterations to comply with all laws and ordinances, and the orders, rules, regulations or requirements of all applicable governmental authorities with respect to the building and improvements as a whole. When used in this Paragraph 11., the term "repairs" shall include replacements or renewals when necessary.

Subject to Lessee's obligation to reimburse Lessor for a pro rata portion thereof, Lessor shall be responsible for the cost of operation and maintenance of the common areas, as more fully described in Paragraph 25. below, including, without limitation, costs of equipping, removing snow and ice, lighting, cleaning, landscaping, line painting, securing, repairing and replacing, paying personnel to implement such services, plus fifteen percent (15%) of the foregoing costs for Lessor's administrative expenses in connection therewith.

Lessee shall reimburse Lessor for its pro rata share of all of the aforesaid costs (not covered by insurance) set forth in this Paragraph 11., save and except for major structural repairs to the roof, building and foundation, vaults, water, sewer and gas connections, pipes and mains, plumbing, electrical systems and heating/air conditioning system, parking lots, fences, and driveways, within ten (10) days from receipt of a bill therefor itemizing said costs and showing Lessee's pro rata share thereof. Said costs shall be billed by Lessor on an annual basis, or more frequently at Lessor's option.

11. B. Estimated Payments. In order to provide for current payments on account of the payments required for the operating and other expenses described in subparagraph 11.A., above, and to account for the payments required for real estate taxes and assessments and other charges pursuant to subparagraph 9.A., above, and the payments for insurance pursuant to Paragraph 10., above, Lessee agrees that Lessor may at its option at any time during this lease bill Lessee for the estimated amount of such charges to be paid in monthly installments equivalent to 1/12th of the estimated amount of such charges for the year. If, as finally determined, Lessee's pro rata share of such expenses shall be greater than or less than the aggregate of all the monthly installments so paid on account to the Lessor, then Lessee shall promptly pay to Lessor the amount of such underpayment, or Lessor shall credit Lessee for the amount of such overpayment against the next installments of base rental due hereunder, or if such next installments are not sufficient in amount to cover the overpayment, shall promptly refund the overpayment to Lessee.

11. C. Right to Review Records. Lessor shall keep and make available to Lessee for a period not less than twelve (12) months after statements for the operating and other expenses and for real estate taxes and assessments and insurance are rendered to Lessee, as well as for any other fees, charges, or costs assessed by Lessor to Lessee under or in connection with this Lease, records in reasonable detail of such costs and expenses for the period covered by such statement. During such period of time, Lessee and the representatives of Lessee, shall be permitted to examine and audit such records at any reasonable time during Lessor's usual business hours; provided that, upon Lessee's request, Lessor shall mail copies of all such records to Lessee. Lessee shall promptly reimburse Lessor for the copying and shipping costs related thereto. Within one hundred twenty (120) days following receipt by Lessee of such statements from Lessor, Lessee shall be entitled to notify Lessor in writing of any claim by Lessee with respect to the accuracy of the determination of the amount paid by Lessee to Lessor pursuant to the provisions of subparagraphs 9.A. and 11.A. and Paragraph 10., above. Notwithstanding any such claim by Lessee, all such payments due hereunder shall continue to be made by Lessee to Lessor in accordance with the terms of this Lease. In the event that any such claim of Lessee shall not be resolved by the parties within thirty (30) days of written notice of said claim, said claim shall be settled and determined by arbitration in accordance with the commercial rules of the American Arbitration Association, or its legal successor then in effect. The decision of said arbitration, including the decision with respect to the allocation of costs of said arbitration as between the Lessor and Lessee, shall be binding upon Lessor and Lessee within ten (10) days following receipt of notification of the decision of said arbitration. Lessor or Lessee, as the case may be, shall pay any amount due the other by reason of said decision of the arbitration.

12. Repairs by Lessee and Surrender. Throughout the term of this lease, Lessee will keep and maintain the interior of the Demised Premises and any fixtures, facilities or equipment therein in a good state of repair, including, without limitation, all servicing and repairs required to the wiring, plumbing, sewage system, and heating and air cooling installations, ordinary wear and tear, damage by fire, casualty, invasion, acts of war, insurrection and the like, the elements and Acts of God excepted. Lessee, at its expense, shall keep in effect at all times during the term hereof and any renewals a preventive maintenance contract with respect to the heating and air cooling installations serving the Demised Premises, and provide evidence thereof to Lessor. If, with Lessor's approval, any air conditioning units are installed by Lessee, Lessee shall be responsible at its expense for keeping such units in good condition and repair. Lessee shall also keep, maintain and repair all exterior doors and window frames. Lessee will be liable for replacement of all broken glass of the same size and quality as that broken and will keep the entire Demised Premises in a clean, safe and healthy condition according to the applicable governmental ordinances and the direction of the proper public officers. Lessee shall at its expense be responsible for all cleaning, maintenance and waste disposal with respect to its Demised Premises. Lessee further agrees to deliver up and surrender to Lessor possession of the Demised Premises upon the expiration or other termination of this lease in as good condition as when taken, ordinary wear and tear and

A. From and after the commencement date of the lease, Lessee shall make no alterations in, or additions or improvements to, the Demised Premises without the written consent of Lessor first had and obtained, provided, however, if such alterations are for an amount less than $5,000, such alterations shall not require the prior written consent of Lessor. If Lessor consents to any alterations, improvements or additions (collectively, "Alterations"), Lessor may impose such reasonable conditions with respect thereto as Lessor deems appropriate, including, without limitation, requiring Lessee to furnish Lessor with insurance against liabilities which may arise out of such work, furnish plans and specifications and permits necessary for such work, and comply at Lessee's expense with the ADA and the rules and regulations issued thereunder, resulting from such alterations and additions, but in any event excluding the ability to require that Lessee subsequently remove the Alterations, subject however to Paragraph 13.C., below. The work necessary to make any alterations, improvements or additions to the Demised Premises, whether prior to or subsequent to the commencement date shall be done at Lessee's expense by contractors hired by Lessor except to the extent Lessor gives its prior written consent to Lessee's hiring of Lessee's own contractors, which consent shall be solely within Lessor's discretion. If Lessor shall so desire, Lessee shall submit to the reasonable supervision of Lessor or Lessor's agent of Lessee's work at Lessee's expense. Lessee shall also pay Lessor for all other costs and expenses arising directly in connection with such work, including without limitation, additional janitorial, security and utility expenses. Lessee shall promptly pay to Lessor, or the Lessee's contractors, as the case may be, when due, the cost of all such work, supervision, and other charges. Upon completion of such work, or from time to time as Lessor may reasonably require, Lessee shall deliver to Lessor, if payment is made directly to contractors, evidence of payment, contractors' affidavits and full and final waivers of all liens for the labor, services, or materials all in form satisfactory to Lessor. Lessee shall indemnify, defend and hold Lessor harmless from all costs, damages, liens and expenses related to such work. All work done by Lessee, or its contractors, pursuant to this lease shall be done in a first-class workmanlike manner using only good grades of materials, and shall comply with all insurance requirements and all applicable laws and ordinances and rules and regulations of governmental departments or agencies. All such work shall be performed so as not to unreasonably interfere with or materially impair the use and enjoyment of the Building by the Lessor and other tenants as determined by Lessor. Lessor may require all or a portion of such work to be performed outside of business hours. Subject to Lessor's option contained in Paragraph 13.C. below, all additions, alterations, fixtures and improvements (temporary or permanent) in and upon the Demised Premises, whether installed by Lessee or Lessor, shall become Lessor's property, and shall remain upon and be surrendered with the Demised Premises without disturbance or injury upon the termination of this lease by lapse of time or otherwise, all without payment or credit to Lessee. In the event any permitted alterations, additions or improvements in or to said Demised Premises are made by Lessee, the Lessee covenants and agrees that Lessee will make all such alterations, additions or improvements in or to said Demised Premises at Lessee's own expense, including without limitation the cost of all permits and licenses therefor. Any such permitted alterations, additions or improvements which are begun by Lessee shall be completed by Lessee. Lessee shall have the right to remove all Lessee's trade fixtures, furnishings and other personal property in the Demised Premises which have been placed there by Lessee even though the same be attached to said Demised Premises, provided that the removal of such annexation shall be effected before the expiration of said term, all damage caused to said Demised Premises by such removal shall be repaired by Lessee on or before the expiration of said term, including the closing of all floor, ceiling and roof openings resulting from such removal, and all debris shall be removed from the Demised Premises.

B. The Lessee shall not suffer or permit any mechanic's or other liens to be filed against the Demised Premises or any part thereof by reason of work, labor, services, or materials supplied or claimed to have been supplied to the Lessee or anyone holding the Demised Premises or any part thereof through or under the Lessee. If any such mechanic's lien or other liens shall at any time be filed against the Demised Premises, the Lessee shall cause the same to be discharged of record within thirty (30) days after the date of filing the same. If the Lessee shall fail to discharge such mechanic's lien within such period, then in addition to any other right or remedy of the Lessor, the Lessor may, but shall not be obligated to, discharge the same, either by paying the amount claimed to be due or by procuring the discharge of such lien by deposit in court, or by giving security or in such other manner as is, or may be, prescribed by law. Any amount paid by the Lessor for any of the aforesaid purposes, and all reasonable legal and other expenses of the Lessor, including reasonable counsel fees, in or about procuring the discharge of such lien, with all necessary disbursements in connection therewith, with interest thereon at the rate per annum equal to two percent (2%) in excess of the prime rate of National City Bank, or its corporate successor then in effect, from the date of payment until repaid. Said amount shall be repaid by the Lessee to the Lessor on demand, and if unpaid may be treated as additional rent. Nothing contained herein shall imply any consent or agreement on the part of the Lessor to subject the Lessor's estate to liability under any mechanic's lien law.

C. 1. Lessor shall not have the right to cause alterations or additions described in Paragraphs 4.B. or 4.C. above to be removed, or to have removed any work hereafter performed by Lessor or its contractors or agents. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if Lessee exercised its early termination right under Paragraph 4.H. above, Lessee shall, unless notified to the contrary by the Lessor within thirty (30) days after receipt of Lessee's notice under Paragraph 4.H., remove all wiring, cabling, and telecommunications lines installed by Lessee as part of the work described in Paragraph 4.C., either before the termination of the lease or within a reasonable time thereafter (provided that work in furtherance of this obligation conducted after the termination of the lease shall not cause Lessee to be deemed to be withholding the Demised Premises as provided in Paragraph 28., nor shall it entitle Lessor to the remedies specified in Paragraph 28. or elsewhere in this lease in connection with holdover tenancies). Lessee shall not hereunder be obligated to remove wiring, cabling, or telecommunications facilities (i) that the Lessor or its contractors installed, whether as part of Lessor's Work or otherwise, (ii) that were already in the Demised Premises before Lessee commenced the Lessee's Work, or (iii) if the lease terminates or expires other than in connection with the exercise of Lessee's rights under Paragraph 4.H.. For greater clarity, a default under this subsection C.2. new following shall not limit Lessee's ability to exercise its early termination right under Paragraph 4.H.

2. Additionally, and notwithstanding Lessor's consent to any Alteration to the Demised Premises made after the commencement date of this lease, Lessor shall retain the option, by notifying Lessee at or before the time that approval is issued, of requiring Lessee, at Lessee's sole cost and expense, to remove at the termination or expiration of this lease any and all of said Alterations made after the commencement date of the Lease, including without limitation, wiring, cabling and other telecommunications facilities, and to repair substantially all the damage caused directly by such removal. Should Lessor not notify Lessee at or before the time it issues its approval of an Alteration of the removal requirement, Lessee shall not thereafter be required to remove the Alteration. For greater clarity, this subsection C.2. shall not apply to the work described in Paragraphs 4.B. and 4.C. above.

14. Destruction of Demised Premises.

A. Except as provided in Paragraph 14.B. below, if the Demised Premises, or any part thereof, or building in which the same is located, shall be destroyed or damaged during the first eight (8) years of the term of the lease, and the same can reasonably be repaired or restored within one hundred eighty (180) days following such occurrence, Lessee shall not be entitled to surrender possession of the Demised Premises, or any part thereof, nor shall Lessee's liability to pay rent under this lease cease; but in case of any such damage or destruction, this lease shall continue in full force and effect. Lessor shall be obligated to repair and reconstruct such damage as soon as reasonably possible, subject to delays beyond the control of Lessor. In the event of any such damage or destruction and the same cannot reasonably be repaired within one hundred eighty (180) days following such occurrence, Lessor or Lessee may elect to terminate this lease by written notice to the other within thirty (30) days following such damage or destruction. In the event neither Lessor nor Lessee so elects to terminate this lease, all proceeds of the insurance covering such damage or destruction shall belong absolutely to the Lessor. In the event that neither Lessor nor Lessee elects to terminate this lease, the Lessor's obligation shall be the same as described above under circumstances where the damage and destruction can be repaired within one hundred eighty (180) days.

B. If the Demised Premises, or any part thereof, or building in which the same is located, shall be destroyed or damaged by fire or other casualty at any time during the last two (2) years of the term of the lease, and the same can be reasonably repaired or restored within sixty (60) days following such occurrence, this lease shall not terminate and Lessor shall be obligated to rebuild and repair such damage as soon as reasonably possible, subject to delays beyond the control of Lessor. In the event of any such damage or destruction and the same cannot reasonably be repaired within sixty (60) days following such occurrence, Lessor or Lessee may elect to terminate this lease by written notice to the other within thirty (30) days following such damage or destruction. In the event that neither Lessor nor Lessee elects to terminate this lease, the Lessor's obligation shall be the same as described above under circumstances where the damage and destruction can be repaired within sixty (60) days.

C. If any damage or destruction to the Demised Premises or the repair or rebuilding thereof shall render the Demised Premises untenantable in whole or in part, Lessee shall be allowed a proportionate reduction or abatement of the rental and other charges hereunder corresponding to the time and space of which Lessee shall be deprived (giving due consideration to the reasonable use of the remaining portion of the Demised Premises) from the date of the occurrence of such damage or destruction until the date Lessee completes the repair or restoration thereof.

D. For the purposes of Paragraph 14.B., above, the phrase "term of the lease" shall include the renewal term of this lease if Lessee, at any time prior to the expiration of fifteen (15) days after the occurrence of said destruction or damage, shall have exercised Lessee's option to extend the term pursuant to the provisions of Paragraph 4.A., above.

15. Eminent Domain.

A. If all of the Demised Premises or building in which the Demised Premises are located, or the common areas or such portion thereof as shall substantially interfere with the Lessee's use and occupancy thereof, shall be condemned or taken by any governmental authority, or sold to any such governmental authority to prevent such taking, then this lease shall wholly terminate effective as of the date possession is taken by said authority and the rent, taxes, insurance and other items payable under this lease shall be equitably apportioned and paid to the time of such termination. Thereupon, all parties shall be relieved of any further obligations accruing under this lease.

B. If the amount of property or type of estate taken shall not substantially interfere with the conduct of Lessee's business, this lease shall continue in full force and effect, except that the rental shall be equitably reduced, and Lessor, at Lessor's expense, shall promptly commence and diligently complete the repair and restoration of the remainder of the Demised Premises, subject to delays beyond its reasonable control, to a condition as nearly equivalent as feasible to the condition of the Demised Premises existing prior to such taking. Notwithstanding the aforesaid, if said taking shall occur during the last two (2) years of the term of the lease, either Lessor or Lessee may elect to terminate this lease by written notice to the other within thirty (30) days after the date possession is taken by said authority, effective as of the date possession is taken. If neither so elects, this lease shall continue in full force and effect, except that the rental shall be equitably reduced and Lessor, at Lessor's expense, shall promptly commence and diligently complete the repair and restoration of the remainder of the Demised Premises, subject to delays beyond Lessor's reasonable control, to a condition as nearly equivalent as feasible to the condition of the Demised Premises existing prior to such taking.

C. Whether such taking shall be partial or the entire Demised Premises, and whether this lease shall by reason thereof be terminated or not, Lessee shall not, because of such taking, assert any claim against the taking authority or against Lessor for any compensation because of such taking, except that Lessee shall be entitled to make a separate claim for any rights Lessee may have for Lessee's cost of moving or relocating any trade fixtures, equipment or other personal property that Lessee placed upon the Demised Premises, or for the recovery of any other provable damages to Lessee's business. For this purpose, Lessee reserves the right to participate at Lessee's expense in any condemnation proceeding. In no event, however, shall the Lessee's rights, as stated above, reduce the Lessor's award from the condemning authority as the owner of all interests in the real estate.

D. For purposes of Paragraph 15.B., above, the phrase "term of the lease" shall include the renewal term of this lease if Lessee, at any time prior to the expiration of fifteen (15) days after the date possession is taken by the authority, shall have exercised Lessee's option to extend the term pursuant to the provisions of Paragraph 4.A. above.

16. Rights of Lessor Upon Default.

A. This lease is made upon the condition that Lessee shall punctually perform all of its covenants and agreements as herein set forth and if,

(1) Lessee defaults in payment of rent, or any additional charge or amount of money to be paid by Lessee as provided in this lease, and such default shall continue uncorrected for a period of ten (10) days after written notice to the Lessee thereof; or

(2) Lessee defaults in the prompt and full performance and observance of any of the terms and conditions of this lease to be performed or observed by Lessee and not relating to the payment of money, and any such default shall continue uncorrected for a period of thirty (30) days after written notice to the Lessee thereof, or if any such last mentioned default cannot reasonably be corrected within such 30-day period, then if Lessee shall not within such period have commenced in good faith to correct such default; or

(3) Lessee abandons the Demised Premises or vacates the Demised Premises for longer than fourteen (14) consecutive days; or

(4) any execution, attachment or other order of court shall be issued upon or against the interest of Lessee in this lease and shall continue for a period of thirty (30) days after notice, then in any such event, in addition to any and all rights and remedies allowed by law and equity, Lessor may, with or without further notice, forthwith terminate this lease and Lessee's right to possession of the Demised Premises, or Lessor may, without terminating this lease, terminate Lessee's right to possession of the Demised Premises.

B. Upon the termination of this lease, or upon the termination of Lessee's right to possession without termination of this lease:

(1) Lessee shall surrender possession and vacate the Demised Premises immediately, and Lessor may enter into and repossess said Demised Premises, with or without process of law, and remove all persons and property therefrom; and

(2) Lessor may remove from the Demised Premises any and all property found therein, and such repossession shall not release Lessee from Lessee's obligation to pay the rents herein provided.

C. In the event of termination of this lease as provided in this Paragraph 16., Lessor, in addition to any and all rights and remedies allowed by law and equity, shall upon such termination be entitled to recover damages in the amount equal to the then present value of the rent reserved in this lease for the entire residue of the stated term hereof less the then present worth of the fair rental value of the Demised Premises for the residue of the term hereof as then in effect, plus the costs incurred, including reasonable legal expenses, to terminate this lease and Lessee's possession of the Demised Premises.

D. In the event of any repossession by Lessor without terminating this lease, Lessor shall use Lessor's best efforts to relet and keep rented the Demised Premises or any part thereof, as agent of Lessee, to any person, firm or corporation, and on such terms as Lessor may determine, provided that Lessor shall use reasonable efforts to mitigate damages to Lessee arising from Lessee's continuing liability under this lease. Lessor may make repairs, alterations, replacements, and/or decorations in or to the Demised Premises to the extent reasonably necessary and advisable for the purpose of reletting the Demised Premises, and in the making of such repairs, alterations, additions, replacements and/or decorations shall not operate or be construed to release Lessee from liability hereunder; and Lessee shall upon demand pay the cost thereof, together with Lessor's expense of reletting (including reasonable legal expenses and brokerage commissions). If the rents collected by Lessor upon any such reletting are not sufficient to pay monthly the full amount of the rent reserved herein, together with the cost of such repairs, alterations, additions, replacements, decorations and expenses, Lessee shall pay to Lessor the amount of each monthly deficiency upon demand, and if the rent so collected from any such reletting is more than sufficient to pay the full amount of the rent reserved herein, together with such costs and expenses of Lessor, Lessor shall, at least every twelve (12) months after such eviction, account for any surplus to Lessee.

E. Any and all property which may be removed from the Demised Premises by Lessor may be handled, removed, stored, or otherwise disposed of by Lessor at the risk and expense of Lessee, and Lessor shall in no event be responsible for the preservation or the safekeeping thereof. If any property shall remain in the Demised Premises or in the possession of Lessor, and shall not be retaken by Lessee within a period of twenty (20) days from and after the time when the Demised Premises are either abandoned by Lessee or repossessed by Lessor under the terms of this lease, said property shall conclusively be deemed to have been forever abandoned by Lessee.

17. Bankruptcy: Assumption; Assignment; Adequate Protection.

A. Chapter 7. If a petition is filed by or against Lessee under Chapter 7 of the Bankruptcy Code and the Trustee in Bankruptcy ("Trustee") elects to assume this lease for the purpose of assigning it or otherwise, the assumption or assignment, or both, may be made only if all of the terms and conditions of subparagraph 17.C., below, are satisfied. If the Trustee fails to assume this lease within sixty (60) days after the Trustee's appointment, or within such additional time period as the Bankruptcy Court may allow, this lease shall be deemed to have been rejected. Assumption of this lease must satisfy all of the conditions of subparagraph 17.C. below, which Lessor and Lessee acknowledge to be commercially reasonable. In the event this lease is rejected, Lessor shall then immediately be entitled to possession of the Demised Premises without further obligation to Lessee or the Trustee and this lease shall be canceled. Lessor's right to be compensated for damages in the bankruptcy proceeding, however, shall survive.

B. Chapter 11. If a petition for reorganization under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code is filed by or against Lessee, or a proceeding that is filed by or against Lessee under any other chapter of the Bankruptcy Code is converted to a Chapter 11 proceeding and Lessee as debtor in possession fails to assume this lease within sixty (60) days from the date of filing of the petition or the conversion, or within such additional time period as the Bankruptcy Court may allow, debtor in possession will be deemed to have rejected this lease.

C. Assumption of Lease. Assumption of this lease must satisfy, in Lessor's business judgment, all of the following conditions which Lessor and Lessee acknowledge to be commercially reasonable:

(1) The Trustee or the debtor-in-possession has cured or has provided to Lessor adequate assurance, as defined hereinbelow that:

(a) The Trustee will cure all monetary defaults under this lease within ten (10) days from the date of the assumption; and

(b) The Trustee will cure all non-monetary defaults under this lease within thirty (30) days from the date of the assumption.

(2) The Trustee or the debtor-in-possession has compensated Lessor, or has provided to Lessor adequate assurance as defined hereinbelow, that within ten (10) days from the date of the assumption Lessor will be compensated for any pecuniary loss it incurred arising from the default of Lessee, Trustee, or the debtor-in-possession.

(3) The Trustee or the debtor-in-possession has provided Lessor with adequate assurance of future performance, as defined hereinbelow, of each of Lessee's obligations under the lease; provided, however, that:

(a) The Trustee or debtor-in-possession will also deposit with Lessor, as security for the timely payment of rent, an amount equal to three months base rental and other monetary charges accruing under this lease.

(b) If required by the terms of this lease, the Trustee or the debtor-in-possession will also pay in advance, on each day the base rental is payable one-twelfth (1/12) of Lessee's annual obligation for operating expenses and real estate taxes and assessments.

(4) Lessor has determined that the assumption of this lease will not:

(a) Breach any provision in any other lease, mortgage, financing agreement, or other agreement by which Lessor is bound relating to the Building; or

(b) Disrupt, in Lessor's judgment, the lessee mix of the Building or any other attempt by Lessor to provide a specific variety of tenants in the Building that, in Lessor's judgment, would be most beneficial to all of the tenants of the Building and would enhance the image, reputation and profitability of the Building.

(5) For purposes of this subparagraph 17.C., "adequate assurance" means that:

(a) The Trustee or the debtor-in-possession has, and will continue to have, sufficient assets to assure Lessor that Trustee or the debtor-in-possession will have sufficient funds to fulfill Lessee's obligations under the lease and to keep the Demised Premises properly staffed with sufficient employees to conduct a fully operational, actively promoted business on the Demised Premises; and

(b) An order will have been entered segregating sufficient cash payable to Lessor and/or a valid and perfected first lien and security interest will have been granted on the property of the estate that is acceptable for value and kind to Lessor, to secure to Lessor the obligation of the Trustee or debtor-in-possession to cure the monetary or non-monetary defaults under this lease within the time period set forth above.

(c) If the Trustee or the debtor-in-possession has assumed the lease under the terms of subparagraphs 17.A. or 17.B. above, and elects to assign Lessee's interest under this lease or the estate created by that interest to another person, that interest or estate may be assigned only if Lessor acknowledges in writing that the intended assignee has provided adequate assurance of future performance, as defined hereinbelow, of all of the terms, covenants and conditions of this lease to be performed by Lessee.

(d) For the purposes of this subparagraph 17.C., "adequate assurance of future performance" means that Lessor has ascertained that each of the following conditions has been satisfied:

(i) The assignee has submitted a current financial statement, audited by a certified public accountant, that shows a net worth and working capital in amounts determined by Lessor to be sufficient or to assure future performance by the assignee of Lessee's obligations under this lease;

(ii) If requested by Lessor, the assignee will obtain guarantees in form and substance satisfactory to Lessor, from one or more persons who satisfy Lessor's standards of creditworthiness;

(iii) Lessor has obtained all consents or waivers from any third party required under any lease, mortgage, financing agreement, or other agreement by which Lessor is bound to permit the assignment;

(iv) When, pursuant to the Bankruptcy Code, the Trustee or the debtor-in-possession is obligated to pay reasonable use and occupancy charges for the use of all or a portion of the Demised Premises, the charge will be no less than base rental and additional rent and other monetary obligations of the Lessee included in this lease.

18. A. Lessor's Right to Perform Lessee's Covenants. In addition to, but without limitation or qualification of, any other right or remedy of the Lessor herein provided, if the Lessee shall default in the performance of any covenant, condition or stipulation contained in this lease except defaults pertaining to the payment of rent or other payments owed to Lessor, the Lessor may, after thirty (30) days' written notice to the Lessee, or if such default cannot reasonably be corrected within such 30-day period, then if Lessee shall not within such period have commenced in good faith to correct such default, or with or without notice if, in the Lessor's reasonable opinion, an emergency exists or the default occurs upon the termination of this lease or termination of Lessee's occupancy, perform the same for the account and at the expense of the Lessee, and the amount of any payments made or other expenses incurred by the Lessor for such purpose shall be forthwith repaid by the Lessee with interest thereon at eight percent (8%). Should the Lessee, pursuant to this subparagraph 18.A. or any other provision of this lease, become obligated to reimburse or otherwise pay Lessor any one or more sums of money in addition to the fixed rent, the amount thereof shall be deemed additional rent and may, at the option of Lessor, be added to any subsequent installment of the fixed rent due and payable under the lease, in which event the Lessor shall have the remedies for default in the payment thereof provided in Paragraph 16. above. The provisions of this subparagraph 18.A. shall survive the termination of this lease. Nothing in this subparagraph 18.A. shall in any manner increase Lessor's liability to Lessee or to any others. The rights granted to Lessor under this subparagraph 18.A. shall be permissive only and shall not be construed as requiring Lessor to perform any such condition or covenant or to correct any such default.

B. Lessor's Access to Demised Premises. Lessor reserves the right to enter the Demised Premises during the normal business hours of Lessee only, or at any time in case of an emergency, for the purpose of examining, repairing, renovating, improving and protecting the Demised Premises as and to the extent required by this Lease, or, upon reasonable advance notice to Lessee, for the purpose of showing the Demised Premises to a prospective purchaser or mortgagee, and also during the last nine (9) months of the term of this lease for the purpose of exhibiting the Demised Premises to prospective tenants and putting up the usual notice "to rent" or "for sale," which notice shall not be removed or hidden by Lessee.

19. Indemnity. Lessee agrees that no representations or warranties, either express or implied, have been made with reference to the condition of the Demised Premises or their fitness for the use of any purpose whatsoever except as stated in Paragraph 1.D., above. Lessee shall indemnify, defend and save harmless Lessor from any and all liabilities, damages, penalties, costs, expenses, claims, suits or actions due to or arising out of (i) any breach, violation or nonperformance of any covenant, condition or agreement in this lease contained on the part of Lessee to be fulfilled, kept, observed and performed; (ii) any damage to property or any injury to persons (including death) resulting at any time therefrom in, on, under or about the Demised Premises or the adjacent streets, sidewalks and other adjoining or adjacent areas caused by the negligence, willful acts or omissions of Lessee, or of the employees, agents, invitees, visitors, assignees and sublessees of Lessee, and the employees, agents, invitees and visitors of said assignees and sublessees (except to the extent caused by the negligence, willful acts, or omissions of Lessor, or its employees, agent, invitees, visitors, assignees, contractors, or by the negligence, willful acts, or omission of any other lessee of the building or its employees, agents, invitees, visitors, assignees, or contractors); and (iii) any and all liens placed or permitted to be placed thereon by Lessee, or any other person claiming by, through, from or under Lessee.

Lessor shall indemnify, defend, and save harmless Lessee from any and all liabilities, damages, penalties, costs, expenses, claims, suits, or actions due or arising out of (i) any breach, violation, or nonperformance of any covenant, condition or agreement in this Lease contained on the part of Lessor to be fulfilled, kept, observed and performed; (ii) Lessor's violation of applicable laws, regulations, or judicial orders; or (iii) any damage to property or any injury to persons (including death) resulting at any time therefrom in, or, under or about the Demised Premises or the adjacent streets, sidewalks and other adjoining or adjacent areas caused by the negligence, willful acts, or omissions of Lessor, or of the employees, agents, invitees, visitors, assignees and contractors of Lessor, and the employees, agents, invitees and visitors thereof (except to the extent caused by the negligence, willful acts, or omissions of Lessee, or its employees, agents, invitees, visitors, assignees, contractors, or by the negligence, willful acts, or omissions of any other lessee of the building or its employees, agents, invitees, visitors, assignees, or contractors).

20. Loss or Damage to Lessee's Property. All trade fixtures, equipment, inventory and all other personal property belonging to Lessee, Lessee's agents, or Lessee's guests, located in or about the Demised Premises shall be at the sole risk of Lessee, and Lessor shall not be liable for the theft or misappropriation, nor for any damage or injury thereto, nor for any damage or injury to Lessee, or any of Lessee's officers, agents, employees, licensees or guests, or to other persons or to any property caused by fire, explosion, wind, water, rain, snow, frost, steam, gas, electricity, any Acts of God, heat or cold, dampness, falling plaster and/or ceilings, sewers or sewage odors, noise, leaks from any part of said building or by the bursting or leaking of pipes, plumbing, electrical wiring and equipment and fixtures of all kinds, or by any act or neglect of any other tenant or of any person; provided, however, subject to the provisions of Paragraph 10., Lessor shall not be relieved of liability for the negligence, intentional wrongful acts or omissions of Lessor, Lessor's agents and employees.

21. Assignment and Subletting. Lessee may sublet all or any part of the Demised Premises and may assign this lease or any interest Lessee may have hereunder, provided that:

(1) the signed written consent of the Lessor to any such subletting or assignment shall first be obtained (which consent Lessor will not unreasonably withhold); and

(2) in the event of any such permitted assignment or subletting, Lessee shall remain liable as Lessee for the performance of all of the conditions and covenants on the part of Lessee to be performed under this lease, unless Lessor shall otherwise expressly consent in writing.

The right on the part of Lessee to assign this lease under any of the foregoing provisions of this Paragraph 21. shall be upon the express condition that such assignment shall be in writing, executed by Lessee and the assignee, that in such writing the assignee shall, in consideration of such assignment, agree to assume, perform and be bound by all of the terms, obligations and conditions on the part of Lessee to be performed under this lease, and that a duplicate executed counterpart of such instrument of assignment and assumption shall be delivered to Lessor within ten (10) days after the execution thereof. For purposes of this Paragraph 21., the sale or transfer of the majority of the common stock of Lessee if not a publicly held corporation, or the majority of the beneficial or equitable interests of the owners of a non-corporate tenant which is not publicly held, shall be considered an assignment of the lease subject to the provisions of this Paragraph 21.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, if Lessee is a corporation Lessee shall have the right to assign this lease or sublet a portion thereof without Lessor's consent, to any subsidiary, parent or successor corporation of Lessee, or to any corporation or subsidiary thereof sharing a common parent with Lessee. A successor corporation shall mean any corporation or entity which shall acquire all or substantially all of the assets and business of Lessee, whether by merger, consolidation, dissolution, corporate reorganization or otherwise. However, in such event, Lessee shall remain liable under this lease and shall notify Lessor in writing of such event within thirty (30) days of its occurrence, and of the exact name and address of the new entity.

If Lessee requests that Lessor consent to a sublease of the Demised Premises or a portion thereof, or an assignment of the Demised Premises (other than in connection with the sale of Lessee's business), in lieu of granting such consent Lessor shall have the right and option to exclude ("recapture") from this lease the space proposed to be subleased or assigned, effective as of the proposed commencement date of the sublease or assignment. At the time of Lessee's request, which shall be by written notice to Lessor, Lessee shall give Lessor written notice of the economic terms of the sublease or assignment, as the case may be. If Lessor elects to recapture such space, Lessor shall give Lessee written notice thereof within thirty (30) days of receipt of Lessee's written request to sublease or assign such space, in which event Lessee shall surrender such space as of the proposed commencement date. Effective as of the date of recapture of the space proposed to be subleased or assigned, the base rent and other charges hereunder with respect to such recaptured space shall be prorated as of such date, and if the space to be recaptured is not the entire Demised Premises, the base rent and additional rent for the balance of the term shall be adjusted accordingly. In lieu of the recapture of such space, in the event Lessee requests that Lessor consent to a sublease of the Demised Premises or an assignment of the Demised Premises (other than in connection with the sale of Lessee's business), and in the case of a sublease if the terms of the proposed sublease are for a base rent in excess of the base rent per square foot required to be paid in this lease, then Lessor shall have the right to be paid by Lessee fifty percent (50%) of the base rent payable to Lessee under the terms of the sublease to the extent it is in excess of the base rent then being paid by Lessee hereunder, and to the extent in excess of the reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred by lessee to sublet the space. Such payment shall be made as and when it is paid to Lessee by its subtenant, within ten (10) days of its receipt by Lessee. In the case of an assignment of the Demised Premises, if as part of such assignment the assignee has agreed to pay Lessee a sum of money (whether in a lump sum or installments) for the value of the leasehold interest, Lessor shall have the right to receive fifty percent (50%) of such payments as and when they are made, and such payments shall be paid by Lessee to Lessor within ten (10) days from receipt of such payments by Lessee.

22. Limitation of Lessor's Liability. The term "Lessor," as used in this lease so far as covenants or obligations on the part of Lessor are concerned, shall be limited to mean and include only the owner or owners at the time in question of the fee of the Demised Premises. In the event of any transfer or transfers of title to such fee, upon written notice to Lessee, the Lessor herein named (and in case of any subsequent transfers or conveyances, the then grantor) shall be freed and relieved from and after the date of such transfer and conveyance of all liability with respect to performance of any covenants or obligations on the part of Lessor contained in this lease thereafter to be performed. Without further agreement, the transferee of such title shall be deemed to have assumed and agreed to observe and perform any and all obligations of the Lessor hereunder during the transferee's ownership of the Demised Premises, including, without limitation, any then-outstanding liabilities or obligations that arose before the transfer was effective. Lessor may transfer Lessor's interest in the Demised Premises without the consent of Lessee, and such transfer or subsequent transfer shall not be deemed a violation on Lessor's part of any of the terms and conditions of this lease.

23. Mortgage Subordination. The Lessee understands that Lessor may have or hereafter desire to place a mortgage upon all or part of the land described herein and the building constructed thereon. It is further understood that the mortgagee of said mortgage may require that the within lease be subordinated to said mortgage, in which event Lessee agrees to execute any document required by such mortgagee to evidence such subordination; provided, however, that the mortgagee of any such mortgage shall covenant in writing that the Lessee's leasehold interest hereunder shall not be foreclosed in any action brought under such mortgage or in the event of a sale of the Demised Premises as a result of said action if at the time of bringing an action to foreclose or at the time of said sale the Lessee is not in default in the payment of rental or in the performance of any other material obligation under this lease, with due allowance to be given for the payment of any past due rental or for the correction of any other material default by Lessee within the period of time permitted after any notice is given or required to be given by the terms of this lease. It is further understood that the mortgagee of said mortgage may require that the Lessee agree to attorn to any purchaser of the property in the event that the same should be sold through foreclosure proceedings, and that the Lessee agrees to waive any and all rights to treat any such foreclosure proceedings as a breach of the lease by Lessor, in which event Lessee agrees to execute any document required by such mortgagee to evidence such agreements.

Within sixty (60) days from the date of execution of this lease, Lessor agrees to obtain and deliver to Lessee a subordination and nondisturbance agreement from Lessee's mortgagee for the benefit of Lessee, on such terms as are commercially reasonable to Lessee and Lessor's mortgagee.

24. Estoppel Certificate by Lessee. Lessee will execute, acknowledge and deliver to Lessor, promptly upon request, a certificate certifying that (a) this lease is unmodified and in full force and effect (or, if there have been modifications, that the lease is in full force and effect, as modified, and stating the modifications), (b) the dates, if any, to which basic rent, additional rent and other sums payable hereunder have been paid, and (c) no notice has been received by Lessee of any default which has not been cured, except as to defaults specified in said certificate, it being intended that any such certificate may be relied upon by any prospective purchaser or mortgagee of the property or any part thereof.

25. A. Common Areas. "Common areas," as used in the within lease, include, without limitation, all of the parking areas, approaches, entrances, driveways, sidewalks and service areas and landscaping located on the parcel of real estate described on Exhibit A. Lessor shall operate, manage, equip, repair, replace and maintain the common areas for their intended purposes in such manner as Lessor shall, in Lessor's sole discretion, determine; provided, however, Lessor agrees to keep said common areas clean and to remove snow and ice from the parking areas and driveways as promptly as reasonably possible. Lessor reserves the right to change the location, size, elevation or nature of the common areas. Lessor may, from time to time, make reasonable rules and regulations for the use of said common areas, which regulations shall be promulgated when established.

The Lessee, Lessee's agents, employees and invitees, shall have the right to use said common areas jointly with Lessor, Lessor's agents and employees, and other tenants (except such service areas as may be designated by Lessor for the exclusive use of a particular tenant or tenants) of the above-described building, their agents, employees and invitees. All of such use of any of the common areas shall be such as will not unreasonably obstruct or interfere with the joint use thereof, and shall be in compliance with all applicable laws, rules and regulations.

25. B. Parking. Notwithstanding the terms of Paragraph 25.A., above, Lessor shall allocate to Lessee two hundred sixty (260) parking spaces in the current parking lot. Such parking spaces shall be designated by paint markings for use by Lessee. It is understood, however, that this is a one-time designation, and Lessor shall have no responsibility to enforce the use of such parking spaces solely by Lessee, its employees, customers and invitees, except that Lessor shall, once per year, notify the other tenants of the Building and Lessee that certain spaces are designated and marked for the exclusive use of certain tenants.

In addition to the aforesaid allocation of parking spaces, Lessor agrees to land bank approximately one (1) usable acre of ground (at a location near Lessee's eastern parking area) to accommodate approximately one hundred twenty (120) parking spaces. Such one acre of land shall be designated by Lessor in its sole discretion, taking into account the most efficient use of such spaces by Lessee, but also taking into account the ultimate development or disposition opportunities for such adjacent land by Lessor. During the initial two years of the lease term, there shall be no charge for the land banking of the one acre of land. However, whether or not Lessee uses the land banked area, during years 3-5 of the lease there shall be a charge of Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000) per year, and during years 6-10 of the lease there shall be a charge of Fifteen Thousand Dollars ($15,000) per year, each payable in twelve (12) equal monthly installments, in advance, on the first day of each month during the lease year. In the event renewal options are properly exercised, the land bank charge shall be increased by increases in the cost of living occurring during the five years prior to the start of the first 3-year renewal term, and during the three years prior to the start of the next two 3-year renewal terms. Such increases in the cost of living shall be measured by the use of the Consumer Price Index (All Items Figures for All Urban Consumers for the City of Cleveland, Ohio, base year 1982 - 1984 = 100) published by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, Department of Labor, popularly referred to as the "Cost of Living Index," or its successor then in effect. If the base year selected by the U.S. Department of Labor is changed, then the resultant Cost of Living Index shall be readjusted to reflect the base initially established under this lease. If there is no such Index still published at the time of renewal, Lessor shall designate a new Index to be used as near as possible to the Cost of Living Index. With respect to the first 3-year renewal term, the Cost of Living Index as of the first day of the sixth year of the lease herein shall be ascertained and compared with the same as of the first day of the first 3-year renewal term next to commence. In the event the Cost of Living Index is increased between the aforementioned dates, then the monthly charge shall be increased in the same proportion as the aforesaid increase in the Cost of Living Index to obtain the monthly charge to be paid during the first 3-year renewal term. As to the second and third 3-year renewal terms, the Index shall be measured during the 3-year period preceding the renewal term next to commence. In no event shall the monthly charge then being paid be decreased. In the event Lessee desires to use the parking spaces in the land banked area, Lessee agrees to reimburse Lessor for all reasonable costs for creating and maintaining such parking spaces in the land banked area, including, without limitation, costs of restriping parking lots, converting truck docks, paving grassed areas, and engineering costs. Lessee shall have the right to notify Lessor that Lessee no longer needs the land banked area at any time during the term of this lease, in which event all future monthly payments thereafter payable for such land banked area shall terminate.

26. Signs. Lessee shall have the right to erect and maintain a sign upon the front entry way to the Demised Premises, and to share use of the monument sign with other tenants now or later occupying space in the building, all at Lessee's expense. Lessor agrees that Lessee shall have the right to the top position on the monument sign. All such signs shall be necessary or appropriate to the conduct of the business of Lessee and not in violation of any governmental rule or regulation and will not invalidate any insurance policy of Lessor; provided, however, that Lessee shall not have the right to erect or maintain in or upon the entry to the Demised Premises any sign, the erection, maintenance or removal of which will operate to decrease the value of the Demised Premises or impair the structural integrity of the building, without the Lessor's prior consent in writing. Installation of any exterior signs, however, shall be subject to the prior written approval of Lessor as to design, size and location, it being understood that the Demised Premises are part of an integrated and uniform warehouse-office building, and that control of exterior signs by Lessor is essential.

Lessee shall maintain said signs in good condition and repair at all times, and shall save Lessor harmless from injury to person or property arising from the erection or maintenance of said signs. Any signs placed in or upon the Demised Premises, upon the written request of Lessor, shall be removed by Lessee at Lessee's expense upon the expiration or sooner termination of this lease, and all damage caused by the removal of such signs shall be fully and promptly repaired at the cost and expense of Lessee.

27. Quiet Enjoyment. The Lessor covenants that Lessor has lawful title to the above-described real property and the right to make this lease for the term aforesaid and, conditioned upon the prompt performance and observance by the Lessee, Lessee's agents and employees, of all of the terms, covenants and conditions hereof required to be performed or observed by Lessee, Lessee's agents and employees, Lessee shall at all times during the term of this lease have the peaceable and quiet enjoyment of the Demised Premises.

28. Withholding Premises. Should Lessee withhold possession of the Demised Premises after the termination of this lease, whether by lapse of time or otherwise, Lessee shall be subject to all of the terms of this lease except the rent required to be paid shall be at a rate equal to one and three-fourths (1 3/4) times the base rental set forth in Paragraph 3. above required to be paid by Lessee during the last twelve (12) months of the lease term. In addition, if Lessor shall suffer any damage or loss which may result from Lessor's inability to timely deliver the Demised Premises to a subsequent tenant, Lessee shall promptly pay the amount to Lessor. Should Lessee occupy the Demised Premises after the termination of this lease for any cause whatsoever, Lessee shall be considered a tenant-at-will and by sufferance of Lessor and no such occupancy shall operate as a renewal of the lease or any part thereof.

29. Effect of Demand. Any demand for rent upon the Lessee after the same shall have become due and payable, or for the performance or observance of any covenant or condition of this lease after the same is required to be performed or observed under the provisions hereof, shall have the same effect as though made at the time and place such rent became due or such obligation should have been performed or observed, any law to the contrary notwithstanding.

30. Effect of Waiver. No waiver of any condition or covenant of this lease or of the breach of any condition or covenant shall be taken to constitute a waiver of any subsequent breach of such condition or covenant, or to justify or authorize the nonobservance on any other occasion of the same or any other condition or covenant thereof. The acceptance of rent by the Lessor at any time when the Lessee is in default of any covenant or condition shall not be construed as a waiver of such default or of the Lessor's rights under Paragraph 16. above on account of such default, nor shall the payment of rent by the Lessee at any time when Lessor is in default under any covenant or condition hereof be construed as a waiver of such default, nor shall any waiver or indulgence granted by the Lessor or Lessee be taken as an estoppel against the party granting the same.

31. Notices. Whenever Lessor or Lessee shall make any demand or serve any notice which is required to be in writing under the terms of this lease upon the other, the same shall be in writing and shall be sufficiently given if sent, postage prepaid, by United States registered or certified mail, or personally delivered by a nationally recognized overnight courier, addressed to Lessee at 9999 Selden Road, Cleveland, Ohio 44139, until such time as Lessee takes occupancy, after which all notices shall be sent to Lessee at its address in the building, and addressed to Lessor at 9999 Smith Parkway, Wilmington, Delaware 08439, or at such other address as Lessor or Lessee may theretofore by written notice to the other have designated for the service of such notice.

32. Terminology; Captions. Where the context so requires or such interpretation is appropriate, any word used herein denoting gender shall include all genders, natural or artificial, and the singular and plural shall be interchangeable. The term "paragraph" shall refer to all paragraphs under the caption in question, where appropriate. The captions of the various provisions of this lease are for convenience only and in no way define, limit or describe the scope or intent of this lease or the provisions which they precede or in any other manner affect this lease.

33. Short-Form Lease. This lease shall not be recorded, but the parties agree to execute a skeleton lease incorporating the terms of this lease and including a legal description of the property upon which the Demised Premises is situated, at the request of Lessee or Lessor. The same shall be duly executed in form suitable for recording, and any costs incurred in connection therewith shall be at the expense of the party requesting same.

34. Successors and Assigns. This lease and the covenants and conditions herein contained shall inure to the benefit of and be binding upon Lessor, Lessor's successors and assigns, and shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of Lessee, Lessee's heirs, legal representatives, or successors and those assignees of Lessee who become assignees in accordance with and as permitted by the terms of Paragraph 21. above.

35. Severability. In case any one or more of the provisions contained herein shall for any reason be held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable in any respect, such invalidity, illegality or unenforceability shall not affect any other provision of this lease, but this lease shall be construed as if such invalid, illegal or unenforceable provisions had not been contained herein.

36. Remedies Not Exclusive. All rights and remedies of the Lessor and Lessee herein set forth shall not be exclusive, but shall be in addition to any and all rights and remedies allowed by law and equity.

37. Waiver of Jury Trial. The parties hereto shall and do hereby waive a trial by jury in any action or proceeding on any matters whatsoever arising out of or connected with this Lease, the relationship of Lessor and Lessee, Lessee's use or occupancy of the Demised Premises, or any claim of injury or damages.

38. Authority of Lessee. Lessee hereby agrees that prior to Lessee's execution and delivery of this lease to Lessor and as a condition of Lessor's duties and obligations hereunder, Lessee will provide Lessor with such reasonable documentation as Lessor may require, including, without limitation, a resolution evidencing the Lessee's authority to execute and deliver this Lease.

39. Broker. Lessor warrants, which warranty shall survive the execution of this lease, that no brokerage fee or other compensation is due any real estate broker or other person or entity by reason of this transaction except _____ and _____, jointly, who shall be paid by Lessor, and _____ who shall be paid by _____ and _____, jointly. Lessee warrants, which warranty shall survive the execution of this lease, that no broker induced Lessee to enter into this transaction except

_____, _____ and _____. Lessor and Lessee each agree to indemnify, defend and hold harmless the other from any breach of said warranties.

40. Entire Agreement. This lease contains the entire agreement between the parties hereto; and any agreement hereafter or heretofore made shall not operate to change, modify, terminate or discharge this lease, in whole or in part, unless such agreement is in writing and signed by each of the parties hereto.

The parties hereto have signed this Indenture of Lease as of the date first above written.

FORM 23.25 Description of leased property

COMMENT

This section sets forth the basic provisions in lease agreements. Each "Form" in this section deals with a different type of provision, and includes various clauses illustrating techniques employed in drafting that type of provision.

Selected clauses:

In order to deal with a manageable group of clauses, it has been necessary to select only the principal items covered in leases. In practice, many lease provisions deal with matters which are unique to the particular relationship between the parties. These are not sufficiently recurrent to warrant their inclusion in a selective group of clauses. There are also, in general use, various minor provisions which give the draftsman no trouble, and as to which there could be no useful commentary. These too have been omitted from this chapter.

Lease of property interest:

A lease has a dual purpose: to convey an interest in real property and to establish the terms of a continuing relationship between the landlord and the tenant. Thus, the draftsman must formulate both an adequate definition of the property interest conveyed and the essentials of a durable contractual agreement. The first step in defining this interest is to describe the leased property. This is the purpose of the clauses in this group. Other provisions may qualify the scope of the leasehold interest, such as those dealing with the title and the condition of the property, the availability of vault space, and the limitations or privileges of easements.

Property description:

The particularity with which the property interest must be described depends in part upon the nature of the leased premises, the duration of the lease, and the commitments undertaken by the parties. In the case of short-term residential leases, identification of the leased premises is made by a simple reference to a street address, or to an address and apartment number. Commercial leases generally require more detailed descriptions. A metes-and-bounds description may be advisable. The size of the building or the total number of square feet is often specified. If the lease covers part of a floor, a blueprint or sketch of the precise area may have to be attached. If personal property is included, it should be itemized in an accompanying schedule which also describes its condition.

Additional lease rights:

In most situations a tenant leases more than just floor space. The property rights which are usually implied include the right of access to the leased property, or the right to display the tenant's name on a building directory or shopping center sign. Some of these related rights may be of significant importance to a particular tenant or landlord. An express provision in the lease is advisable in these situations. For example, a shopping center tenant may seek an express clause granting the tenant, its employees and customers, access to the common areas, such as parking, walkways and other facilities. An office tenant may seek the express right to list not only the tenant's corporate name on the building directory, but also the names of corporate officers, significant employees, as well as affiliated companies or subtenants.

FORMS*(1) Entire building--detailed description attached*

The Landlord leases to the Tenant the property located at 250 Circle Drive, City of Centreville, State of New York (the "leased property"), more particularly described in Schedule A attached hereto and made a part hereof.

(2) Entire motel building--personalty included

The Landlord leases to the Tenant all the property known as the West Side Motel, on Uptown Avenue, Hollywood, California, together with the furniture, furnishings, fixtures, and equipment used in the operation of such motel and listed in Schedule A attached hereto and made a part hereof (collectively the "leased property").

(3) Office space--diagram attached

The Landlord leases to the Tenant, and the Tenant takes and hires from the Landlord, the office space constituting a portion of the ground floor and a portion of the second floor, as outlined in red on Exhibits A and B attached hereto and made a part hereof, of the Perry Building, located on the northwest corner of 8th Avenue and 47th Street, New York, New York (the "leased property").

(4) Land and building to be erected

The Landlord hereby leases to the Tenant, subject to the conditions hereinafter contained, that certain parcel of real property, together with the buildings and improvements to be erected thereon, situated in the City and County of New York, State of New York, described as follows:

(Insert description)

(5) Store in shopping center to be erected--common parking facilities

The Landlord, for and in consideration of the rents, covenants, and agreements hereinafter specified to be paid, kept, and performed by the Tenant, leases the premises consisting of a store 40 feet by 80 feet (the "leased property") to be built by the Landlord in the shopping center area located at the west side of North Road, in the town of Greenville, New York. The store is to be located approximately as outlined in red on the plot plan dated January 4, _____[date], annexed and marked Exhibit A. This lease includes the Tenant's right to use, in common with other tenants of the shopping center, the parking facilities in the area outlined in blue on Exhibit A for the parking of automobiles of the Tenant's employees, customers, invitees, or licensees.

(6) Shopping center lease--common areas--landlord's obligation to maintain--common area charges

(a) Common areas. Landlord grants to Tenant, in common with other tenants, and their agents, employees, customers, and persons doing work for or business with tenants in the shopping center, the right to use the "common areas" consisting of the parking areas, roadways, pathways, sidewalks, entrances, and exits designated by Landlord for common use in the shopping center, subject to the terms and conditions of this lease.

(b) Maintenance of common areas. The Landlord or its managing agent shall be required: (i) to maintain and keep in good repair (including the making of any necessary replacements) all portions of the common areas, including, but not limited to, paving, roads, hydrants and sprinkler equipment (including standby charges), driveways, sidewalks, secondary fire pump facility, curbs, culverts and drainage facilities, surfacing, landscaping, barriers, retaining walls, fences, gates, grading, directional and shopping center signs, marking of the parking area, sewer and water supply lines and facilities, and other outside service and utility lines and facilities, including electric lines, pipes, and installation of every kind serving the buildings in the shopping center (including those in premises not leased to Tenant); (ii) to keep the common areas reasonably free from accumulated snow, ice, and refuse, and open for use and fully lighted during all business hours; (iii) to keep the curb cuts of the shopping center, and to keep the sidewalks and curbs, if any, adjacent to and immediately in front of the shopping center, in good condition and repair, and reasonably free from accumulated snow, ice, and refuse, and to comply with all applicable governmental requirements; (iv) to establish reasonable reserves for the replacement of the paving; and (v) to include the common areas and the above curb cuts, sidewalks and curbs, covered by public liability insurance, protecting the Landlord and Tenant against all claims for personal injury and property damage occurring thereon with limits of at least $500,000 for bodily injury to one person, $1,000,000 for injury to all persons in any one occurrence, and $100,000 for property damage. The insurance policy shall be written by companies licensed to write insurance in the jurisdiction where the shopping center is located. Such insurance may be carried under a blanket policy covering the Landlord's other locations, and shall include Tenant and may include as insured other tenants of the buildings in the shopping center. Landlord shall provide Tenant with a certificate of such insurance.

(c) Control of common areas. Landlord shall have exclusive control over and management of the common areas, and may establish, modify, change, and enforce reasonable rules and regulations with respect thereto. Tenant shall abide by and conform with such rules and regulations. Customers shall have the right to use the parking facilities only while they are shopping in the shopping center. Tenant and its employees may park their trucks, delivery vehicles, and automobiles only in parking areas designated by Landlord for that purpose. Landlord may close any part of the common areas for whatever time as may, in the opinion of Landlord's counsel, be necessary to prevent a dedication thereof or the accrual of any rights in any person, or to clean and repair such area. Landlord may close any part of the parking area for whatever time it deems necessary in order to discourage noncustomer parking and to do other things that it deems reasonable and necessary for the benefit of the shopping center.

(d) Common area charges. Tenant shall pay Landlord, as an additional charge for the use and maintenance of the common areas, its proportionate share, which is 6.71 percent, of Landlord's total actual costs of maintaining, operating, and insuring such areas. Tenant shall make such payments within 10 days after Landlord submits statements indicating the amounts due.

(7) General access to leased property

The Tenant may, at any time during the term of this lease or any renewal, determine and change the hours during which it keeps the leased property open for business. The Tenant's employees, agents, customers' clients, and business invitees shall at all times during which the Tenant is open for business have the free and uninterrupted right of access to the leased property by means of all doorways, passageways, corridors, stairways, elevators, and entrances to the building which afford access to the leased property.

(8) Continued occupancy of existing space during construction of new space--proportionate rent abatement for surrendered space

The parties acknowledge that Tenant, on the Commencement Date of this Lease will continue to use and occupy portions of the Building other than the Demised Premises ("Tenant's Existing Space"). Landlord has agreed to permit Tenant to remain in Tenant's Existing Space until Tenant's Initial Construction in the Demised Premises has been completed. Such use and occupancy of Tenant's Existing Space shall be pursuant to all of the terms, covenants, and conditions of this lease, except for those which are inapplicable to Tenant's Existing Space and except for the following:

(a) Rent. The fixed rental during the first three months following the Commencement Date shall be at the annual rate of $2,020,847.50 including electricity. Such rental shall be payable in equal monthly installments of $168,403.95, without any set-off or deduction, in advance on the first day of each month during the term. The first installment shall be payable on the Commencement Date. Rent payments shall continue throughout the term (subject, however, to adjustment as provided below) until Tenant has quit and surrendered to Landlord all of Tenant's Existing Space. If the Commencement Date is not the first day of a calendar month, the fixed rent for such month shall be prorated, and the balance of the first month's rent theretofore paid shall be credited to the next monthly installment.

(b) Pro rata abatement. Commencing with the fourth month of the term, the fixed rental for Tenant's Existing Space shall continue at the annual rental rate provided in (a) above, except that rental shall be abated at the rate of $8.75 per square foot of usable area to be effective as Tenant surrenders a portion or portions of Tenant's Existing Space to Landlord. Adjustments of rental shall be made on a weekly basis, the first adjustment to be made on the Rent Commencement Date.

(c) Good faith. Tenant shall use due diligence and best efforts to complete Tenant's Initial Construction as soon as possible following the Commencement Date. Tenant further shall promptly quit and surrender those portions of Tenant's Existing Space as its work in such portions is completed.

(9) Roof space--advertising purposes

The Landlord leases to the Tenant the entire roof of the building located at 7 Elwood Road, Troy, New York. The Tenant shall have the exclusive right to erect, place, and maintain an advertising sign structure on such roof and to post, paint, illuminate, and maintain advertisements on such structure.

(10) Vacant land--right to erect sign

The Landlord leases to the Tenant a strip of ground on front of lots situated in Madison, Wisconsin, described as follows:

(Insert description)

The Tenant shall have the exclusive right to place, erect, and maintain thereon billboard structures. The Tenant may use whatever space in the rear of such strip is necessary for placing supports or braces for such structures, and may maintain advertisements on them, for the demised term.

FORM 23.26 Rights and options to expand or contract tenant space

COMMENT

Expansion and contraction of tenant space:

Business planning flexibility can be achieved by allowing a tenant to increase or decrease space during the term of the lease. A tenant, anticipating future growth, may seek an option to lease adjoining or nearby space during the term. On the other hand, if a tenant plans to eliminate or move certain operations in the future, the lease might allow the tenant the right to abandon part of the leased property, while continuing to occupy the remainder. The inclusion of such clauses, and the mechanics of achieving the desired flexibility, depend on the particular circumstances of the transaction.

Expansion of space:

Expansion options may be achieved by giving the tenant the right of first refusal or the right of first offer for the desired space as it becomes available. Such a provision will give the tenant a right to lease the desired space that is superior to the right of any third party. Under such an arrangement, the tenant has no obligation to lease the additional space if and when it becomes available. Alternatively, surrounding tenants may be restricted to short-term leases of adjoining space, which are expressly subject to the right of the landlord to relocate them if the principal tenant seeks to expand.

Right of first refusal:

The tenant who has a right of first refusal essentially has a latent option to rent certain premises that is activated when a third party offers or agrees to rent the premises. The tenant's right to lease the property for the rental price and on the terms offered by the third party is superior to the third party's offer or agreement. The right of first refusal gives the tenant the right to lease, if, and only if, the landlord first decides to lease and receives an offer. If the landlord does not decide to entertain offers during the term of the tenant's lease, or during the period of the tenant's right as contained in the lease, the tenant has no right to lease the additional premises.

Right of first offer:

Another possible method for granting a tenant an expansion right is the right of first offer. The landlord who gives a tenant a right of first offer is obligated to offer to lease the desired premises to the tenant before offering to lease the premises to any third parties. The tenant's right to lease is activated when the landlord offers the property to the tenant at a rental price and upon terms chosen by the landlord, rather than when the landlord receives an offer from a third party. The tenant may accept the landlord's terms for the lease, or, if not, the landlord may offer the premises to third parties at the same rental price and upon the same terms.

Contraction of space:

If the tenant plans to eliminate or move certain operations in the future, the lease can grant the tenant the right to abandon part of the premises while the tenant continues to occupy the remainder. A provision permitting the tenant to decrease space may specify the space to be abandoned, and the time period within which the option to abandon must be exercised or else forfeited. The lease also should include a formula or other method for rent adjustment.

FORMS*(1) Future surrender of part of leased premises at tenant's option*

Tenant's obligation to occupy and pay fixed and additional rental for the 13th floor portion of the Demised Premises shall be in effect for the first 30 months of the demised term only. If Tenant does not intend to use and occupy such portion of the Demised Premises beyond the 30th month, it shall so notify Landlord not less than six months before the 30th month ends. In that case, Tenant shall quit and surrender the 13th floor to Landlord on or before the end of the 30th month in accordance with the terms of this Lease (but subject to any existing subleases). Upon such surrender the parties shall promptly enter into an appropriate amendment of lease to restate the Demised Premises, the fixed rent, Tenant's proportionate share of Adjustments of Rent, and all other mutually agreed upon matters.

(2) Option to lease additional space

The Tenant shall have an option to lease approximately 3,200 square feet of additional rentable space by giving written notice to the Landlord on or before July 1, _____[date]. Landlord shall designate such additional space, and will use reasonable efforts to provide it on the tenth floor adjacent to the property originally leased hereunder. This option is given upon the following terms and conditions:

(a) This lease shall be in force on January 1, _____[date], on which date Tenant shall have fully performed all the terms of this lease.

(b) The term for the additional space shall commence on January 1, _____[date], or on such date thereafter as Landlord is able to deliver possession thereof to Tenant, but in any event not later than January 1, _____[date]. The term for the additional space shall terminate on the termination date of this lease.

(c) The annual rent for the additional space shall be $12 per square foot.

(d) If the Tenant exercises this option to lease, the parties shall enter into a written agreement modifying this lease. Such modification shall reflect and be governed by the terms of this lease, with appropriate adjustments for the additional rentable area.

(e) The Landlord shall use reasonable diligence to make such additional space available to the Tenant as soon after January 1, _____[date], as it can. The Landlord shall not be liable for the failure to give possession of the additional space on the commencement date set forth above if such failure is caused by the holding over or retention of possession of any tenant or occupant. Moreover, such failure shall not impair the validity of this lease or extend its term. The rent for such additional space shall be abated until possession is delivered to the Tenant.

(3) Future expansion of leased space at tenant's option--restrictions on lease of adjoining space by others

(a) Option to lease additional space. Tenant shall have the option to lease, for the first ten lease years, the contiguous approximately 25,000 square feet of gross floor area (as such configuration is set forth in Exhibit B annexed or as it is agreed upon by the parties when the option is exercised or as soon thereafter as practicable) at the per square foot rent then prevailing under this Lease.

With respect to such additional space: (i) the term of any lease that Landlord enters into with any other party shall not exceed five years; (ii) any such lease shall contain a clause permitting Landlord to relocate that tenant to other space; and (iii) within thirty days after the other tenant executes the lease, Landlord shall provide Tenant with a memorandum thereof, not in recordable form, setting forth, at a minimum, the terms and conditions for that space.

If Tenant has exercised its rights to lease additional space, it shall pay all costs and expenses of the other tenant's relocation.

(b) Rental of excess space. Tenant may lease space in excess of the 25,000 square feet provided in subparagraph (a), as such space becomes available for leasing, at the then prevailing market rental. Landlord shall not be required to notify Tenant of any prospective lease unless Tenant has given Landlord prior written notice of Tenant's desire to lease additional space.

(c) Notice; terms of lease. Exercise of the option set forth in paragraph (a) shall be by written notice, certified mail, return receipt requested, not less than seven months before the date on which Tenant intends to take possession of the option space. Such contiguous space shall, after the date of possession, be included within the demised premises and be leased under the same terms and conditions as contained herein.

(4) Right of first refusal of tenant to lease available space

Tenant shall have the right of first refusal with respect to leasing, on an entire floor basis, the 12th, 13th, 14th, and 15th floors in the Building as such space becomes available for leasing by the Landlord, provided that (1) this Lease is then in full force and effect, and (2) at least five years of its term then remain (or, if less than five years remain, Tenant has given notice of its option to accept an extension of this Lease). The exercise of Tenant's right of first refusal shall be further subject to the following conditions:

(a) As soon as Landlord receives an acceptable bona fide offer from a third party for the leasing of all or any part of such space (on an entire floor basis), Landlord shall notify Tenant of the terms and conditions of such offer and furnish it with a true copy thereof. Tenant shall then have 30 days to notify Landlord that it agrees to lease the same space on the same terms and conditions as are contained in such offer.

(b) Landlord may accept the third party's offer if Tenant declines to meet the offer or fails to reply to Landlord's notice thereof within the 30-day period specified in (a), above.

(c) If Tenant agrees by reply notice to meet such offer, it shall promptly enter into a modification of this Lease with Landlord to incorporate the subject space into this Lease, but otherwise upon the terms and conditions set forth in such offer.

(5) Right of first refusal of tenant to lease contiguous additional space--adjustment of rent if space added to leased premises

Tenant shall have a right of first refusal to lease any additional space which becomes available during the term of the Lease, provided that such additional space is contiguous to the Premises and shall consist of no less than _____ square feet ("Additional Space"). If Landlord has Additional Space available and receives a bona fide offer to lease the Additional Space from a third party which Landlord is willing to accept, Landlord shall send written notice to Tenant, which notice shall set forth the terms of the third party offer. Within _____ days after receipt of Landlord's notice, Tenant shall reply by written notice either accepting the Additional Space on the same terms and conditions of the third party offer, or rejecting the same. Failure to respond within the _____-day period shall constitute a rejection of the Additional Space. If Tenant accepts the Additional Space, the Additional Space shall be added to the Premises by amendment to this Lease, which shall include an adjustment of Tenant's pro rata share and such other changes as may be appropriate.

(6) Right of first offer of tenant to lease available space

During the first two Lease Years, Landlord agrees that prior to entering into a lease with another tenant for space contiguous to the Leased Premises outlined in green on Exhibit A, Landlord shall so notify Tenant, in writing, which notice shall be accompanied by a term sheet for such space (the "Termsheet"), setting forth the terms and conditions under which Landlord is willing to lease such space to Tenant. Tenant shall then have a period of seven (7) business days after receipt of such notice and Termsheet (the "Acceptance Period") within which to notify Landlord, in writing, that it elects to lease such space on the terms and conditions set forth in such Termsheet. If Tenant makes such election within the Acceptance Period, an appropriate amendment to this Lease shall be entered into by Landlord and Tenant to add the adjacent space to the Leased Premises on the terms set forth in the Termsheet submitted by Landlord. If Tenant does not make the aforesaid election within the Acceptance Period, or if Landlord and Tenant do not enter into an amendment to this Lease incorporating such space on the terms set forth in the Termsheet within thirty (30) days after receipt by Landlord of Tenant's written election to lease such space, Tenant shall be deemed to have waived its rights with respect to the space set forth in Landlord's notice and Landlord shall be free to lease such space to another tenant free of any claim of Tenant.

(7) Right of first offer--provisions for conditions, notice requirements, rent, build-out, removal of holdover tenants

(1) During the term of this lease, as extended in accordance with the terms of the lease, Tenant shall have the right of first offer (the "Right of First Offer"), to lease space located on the second and third floors of the landlord's building (the "Offer Space").

(2) At the time Tenant exercises a Right of First Offer: (a) the Lease must be in full force and effect; (b) Tenant shall not be in Default; and (c) the commencement date of the lease for any Available First Offer Space must be at least _____ years prior to the expiration date of this lease, unless Tenant simultaneously exercises its option to renew in accordance with the provisions of this lease.

(3) (a) After any part of the Offer Space has or will "become available," as defined below, Landlord shall not, during the term of this lease, offer on the market or lease to another tenant that space within the Offer Space that has or will become available without first offering Tenant the right to lease that space.

(b) Space shall be deemed to become available when the lease for the current occupant of the space expires or is otherwise terminated.

(c) Offer Space shall not be deemed to become available if the space is: (i) assigned or subleased by the current tenant of the space; (ii) released by the current tenant of the space by renewal, extension, or renegotiation; (iii) subject to a specific expansion right of another tenant in the landlord's building existing as of the date of this lease unless and until such other tenant has failed to timely exercise its option or right; or (iv) not leased to a tenant as of the date of this Lease (until that space is leased, and then subsequently "becomes available").

(d) Landlord shall not offer any such Offer Space on the open market unless and until Landlord has first notified Tenant in writing (the "First Offer Leasing Notice") that Landlord intends to offer the designated Offer Space to third parties, and until a period of fifteen (15) days has elapsed from the date that Landlord has delivered to Tenant the First Offer Leasing Notice without Tenant having notified Landlord in writing of Tenant's desire to lease all of the Available First Offer Space (defined below). The First Offer Leasing Notice shall: (i) advise Tenant that Landlord intends to offer on the market the Available First Offer Space; (ii) describe the amount and location of the First Offer Space that has or will become available (the "Available First Offer Space") and attach a floor plan showing the Available First Offer Space crosshatched; and (iii) set forth the date on which the Available First Offer Space will be available for leasing by Tenant (which shall not be more than twelve (12) months and not less than three (3) months after the date of the First Offer Leasing Notice).

(e) Subject to the conditions set forth in subsection (2) above, if Tenant delivers to Landlord written notice of Tenant's desire to lease all of the Available First Offer Space within the fifteen-day period, the Available First Offer Space shall be leased by Tenant on the terms and conditions set forth in this Section.

(f) If Tenant declines or fails to effectively exercise the Right of First Offer as provided herein or fails to meet the conditions set forth in subsection (2), above, Landlord shall thereafter be free to offer the particular Available First Offer Space previously identified in a First Offer Leasing Notice on the open market and to lease some or all of that Available First Offer Space previously offered to Tenant at any time without regard to the restrictions in this Section and on whatever terms Landlord may decide in its sole discretion.

(g) If Landlord rejects Tenant's acceptance of any Offer Space because Tenant fails to meet the conditions in subsections (2) and (3), above, Landlord must provide to Tenant a written notice within ten (10) days after receiving Tenant's acceptance, which Landlord notice shall specify in detail how Tenant failed to meet the cited conditions.

(4) If Tenant leases Available First Offer Space under this Section, all of the terms and conditions of the Lease shall apply to the Available First Offer Space except that:

(a) The commencement date of the Lease for each particular Available First Offer Space shall be seven (7) days after the Available First Offer Space is delivered to Tenant broom clean, free of tenants or other occupants, and otherwise in the condition required by this subsection (4), and the termination date shall be the same as for the Existing Premises, including any extension or renewal terms (exercised or to be exercised).

(b) Landlord shall build-out the Available First Offer Space in the same manner and style as for the Existing Premises or if the Available First Offer Space is already built out, then Landlord shall adapt the Available First Offer Space to conform with the style and layout of the Existing Premises.

(c) The annual rent for the Available First Offer Space shall be at the same rate per rentable square foot, including all escalations, then being paid by Tenant for the Existing Premises as of the commencement of the lease for the Available First Offer Space, but subject to rental increases for the Existing Premises in effect from time-to-time as provided in Section _____ of this lease.

(d) As of the commencement date for the Available First Offer Space, Tenant's pro rata share shall be increased to an amount computed by dividing the total of the rentable square footage of the Existing Premises plus all Available First Offer Space leased by Tenant plus all other space becoming part of the Existing Premises after the date of this lease (the numerator) by the rentable square footage of Landlord's building (the denominator), and expressing the fraction as a percentage.

(e) Any Available First Offer Space taken by Tenant shall be deemed part of the Premises as of the commencement of the lease term for such Available First Offer Space taken by Tenant.

(5) Landlord shall use commercially reasonable efforts to remove any holdover tenants or other occupants from the Available First Offer Space Tenant leases under this Section. Although Landlord shall not be liable for any damages for any holdover Tenant or other occupant (unless Landlord is not using commercially reasonable efforts to remove the holdover tenant or other occupant), all of Tenant's obligations regarding the Available First Offer Space shall be abated until the holdover tenant or other occupant is removed, and the commencement date for the Available First Offer Space shall be delayed until the holdover tenant or other occupant is removed.

(6) The parties shall, within thirty (30) days after each time Tenant adds any Available First Offer Space, confirm in writing:

(a) The Commencement date for the Available First Offer Space;

(b) The Available First Offer Space that was leased showing that space cross-hatched;

(c) The additional rent to be paid for the Available First Offer Space;

(d) The increased pro rata share allocated to the Available First Offer Space; and

(e) Any other terms related to the Available First Offer Space or this lease that either party reasonably requests to be confirmed.

FORM 23.27 Condition, inspection, and acceptance of property

COMMENT

The tenant's acceptance of the title to and the condition of the leased property, or the landlord's warranty as to these facts, may be dealt with in a general list of conditions to which the lease is subject or in separate provisions dealing explicitly with particular matters. The standard clause for the benefit of the landlord provides that he makes no warranty as to the title to or the condition of the property, and that the tenant has examined and accepts the title and condition as existing at the time of the lease. Sometimes, a provision is added specifying that there is no right to any abatement in rent if there should be a defect in title or condition. To insure that a tenant's rights against a contractor for defective construction are not waived by acceptance of the condition of the property, the tenant may expressly preserve such rights.

Tax aspects:

For tax purposes, any costs incurred by the tenant to defend his right to possession constitute capital expenditures generally amortizable over the term of the lease. The expense of a repair or a replacement is deductible in the year paid or accrued unless it constitutes a capital improvement, in which case the deduction must be spread over the recovery period applicable to the improved property. For a more detailed discussion of the tax treatment of the lessee's costs of improvements and repairs to the leased premises, see the Tax Background §§ 23.07[1] and 23.09, at the beginning of this chapter.

Title or use warranties:

Also illustrated in this group are clauses in which the landlord covenants that his title to the property is good and that the use contemplated by the tenant is permissible. The tenant's protection must be expressed precisely, since the general rule is that in the absence of such a provision the landlord makes no warranties as to title or permissible use. Many lease agreements take care of the problems relating to the title and to the condition of the property by "subject to" clauses. Such a clause, in which there is a summary listing of all items related to these matters, may be sufficient in most cases.

Residential implied warranty of habitability:

A number of jurisdictions have adopted the principal of implied warranty of habitability in residential lease transactions. This implied warranty acknowledges that a residential tenant leases an apartment primarily to live in it, and imposes an obligation on the landlord to provide habitable space. If the apartment is not habitable, the landlord has breached the warranty of habitability. Residential premises may be rendered unlivable by a lack of vital facilities necessary for living. The warranty has not been extended to commercial nonresidential leases generally. Local law should be examined to determine if an express provision in a residential lease may modify the effect of the warranty of habitability and available tenant remedies. There are significant variations of the warranty and related remedies among jurisdictions which have adopted the same.

FORMS

(1) Tenant's acceptance of property

At the commencement of the term, the Tenant shall accept the building, improvements, and any equipment on or in the leased premises, in their existing condition. No representation, statement, or warranty, express or implied, has been made by or on behalf of the Landlord as to such condition, or as to the use that may be made of such property. In no event shall the Landlord be liable for any defect in such property or for any limitation on its use.

(2) Tenant's acceptance of property--another form

Neither the Landlord nor its agents have made any representations with respect to the building, the land upon which it is erected, or the leased property except as expressly set forth herein and no rights, easements, or licenses are acquired by the Tenant by implication or otherwise except as expressly set forth in this lease. The taking of possession of the leased property by the Tenant shall be conclusive evidence that the Tenant accepts the same "as is" and that the leased property and the building of which the same form a part were in good condition at the time possession was taken.

(3) Tenant's acceptance of property and title--no abatement in rent

The Tenant has examined the leased property, the title thereto, the sidewalks and structures adjoining the same, any subsurface conditions, and the present uses and nonuses thereof. The Tenant accepts the same in the condition in which they now are, without representation or warranty, express or implied, in fact or by law, by the Landlord, and without recourse to the Landlord as to title, the nature, condition, or usability of the leased property, or the uses to which the leased property may be put. The Landlord shall not be responsible for any latent defect or change of condition in the building, improvements, and personalty, or of title, and the rent hereunder shall not be withheld or diminished on account of any defect in such title or property, any change in the condition thereof, any damage occurring thereto, or the existence with respect thereto of any violations of the laws or regulations of any governmental authority.

(4) Tenant's acceptance of property--reservation of rights against contractor

Tenant acknowledges that the Landlord, or its agent, has made no representations or promises in regard to the premises for the term herein demised. Tenant's taking possession of the Demised Premises shall be conclusive evidence as against it that Tenant accepts the premises "as-is" and that such premises were in good and satisfactory condition when such possession was taken. Landlord shall not be required to make any repairs, alterations, improvements, or additions to such premises for Tenant's initial occupancy. Tenant does not waive any rights it may have against the general contractor or any subcontractor under guarantees with respect to any defects that may now exist or hereafter occur due to defective materials or workmanship in the original construction of the leased property.

(5) Landlord's representation of good title

The Landlord represents that it owns the leased property in fee simple and that the property is free from encumbrances except as referred to elsewhere in this lease. The Landlord further represents that it has the right to make this lease and covenants that it will execute or procure any further necessary assurances of title that may be reasonably required for the Tenant's protection.

(6) Landlord's agreement to maintain property up to time of possession by tenant

The Landlord shall maintain the leased property in its present state of repair, reasonable wear and tear excepted, up to the time that the Tenant is to take possession under the terms of this lease. The Landlord shall turn over the leased property to the Tenant in such condition that it can be immediately used and occupied by the Tenant for the purposes for which such property is to be used.

(7) General list of conditions--"subject to" clause

This lease is made by the Landlord and accepted by the Tenant subject to the following:

- (a) Rights of tenants, licensees, concessionaires, or occupants in possession.
- (b) Any state of facts that an accurate survey or inspection would show.
- (c) Any presently existing defect of title, easement, covenant, encumbrance, restriction, mortgage or deed of trust, agreement, and lien affecting the leased property.
- (d) All existing or future zoning regulations affecting the leased property.
- (e) Restrictive covenants and party wall agreements of record.
- (f) Encroachment of the leased property on any street or on adjacent property.

(g) Projection of any portion of the leased property or equipment in or under any abutting street and the right of any governmental authority to require the removal thereof.

(h) All ordinances, statutes, and regulations, and any presently existing violations thereof, whether or not of record.

(i) The existing condition and state of repair of the leased property.

(8) Lease of property subject to existing leases

This lease is given and accepted subject to the leases, rights, and privileges of tenants in possession, more particularly set forth in Schedule A attached hereto and incorporated by reference herein. The existence of such leases, rights, and privileges shall not be deemed a violation of the Landlord's covenant of quiet enjoyment or any other covenant in this lease. The Tenant hereby assumes all liability by reason of such leases and the rights of such tenants, and subject to the right of the Landlord to receive the rent, reserved hereunder, the Tenant is hereby entitled from the date hereof to all rents, additional rents, and other amounts due from such tenants, except that the Landlord shall retain any security deposits listed in Schedule A. Any security deposits which by reason of such leases with such tenants (the "subtenants") are required to be returned to such subtenants shall be paid to them by the Tenant. The Tenant shall receive a credit against current rent equal to the security deposits so returned, plus any interest, not in excess of 4 percent per annum, on such security deposits which the Tenant may have paid to such subtenants in accordance with the terms of such leases. If the Tenant is entitled under law to receive any such security deposits as a result of a default by any subtenant, the Tenant shall receive a credit against current rent equal to such security deposits. The Tenant shall collect and pay over to the Landlord as additional rent all sums due under tax escalator clauses in existing leases with subtenants and in all future leases made by the Tenant with subtenants containing tax escalator clauses. The Tenant may enforce all rights, remedies, and privileges of the Landlord under the terms of the leases listed in Schedule A, except as herein otherwise provided, until the expiration of such leases or the sooner termination of this lease.

(9) "As is" broom clean condition--landlord's right to change shopping center common areas

Tenant has examined the demised premises and accepts them in an "as is" condition without any further responsibility of the Landlord for any construction, repairs, alterations, or additions thereto, except that Landlord shall deliver the premises to Tenant in broom clean condition. Landlord may from time to time make changes, additions, and eliminations in and to the buildings and common areas in the shopping center. However, the size and location of the demised premises shall not be changed without Tenant's prior written consent.

FORM 23.28 Term of lease

COMMENT

The drafting of a provision describing the term of a lease is a relatively simple matter if its commencement and termination dates are known. The problems are somewhat more difficult when the commencement date is contingent upon the completion of an improvement, the installation of special facilities, the issuance of a certificate of occupancy or other governmental approval, or the placement of adequate financing.

Commencement date for new construction:

If the beginning of the lease term depends upon the completion of construction, the lease must contain a method for establishing the commencement date. The simplest method is for the term to commence only after the issuance of a certificate of occupancy or a certificate of completion by the architect, or after a similar prescribed event signifying the completion of the construction. There is a question in some jurisdictions as to whether such a provision violates the applicable rule against perpetuities because of the possibility that the prescribed event might not occur within the period of the rule. In order to avoid such vulnerability, the term may be made to commence on the earlier of either a specified date or the occurrence of the prescribed event. Alternatively, the lease may provide for its cancellation if the prescribed event does not occur prior to a specified date. Regardless of the method for fixing the commencement date, the tenant in most cases will want the privilege of access to the premises during the construction period in order to install his own equipment. In addition, he may want to impose some pressure on the landlord to complete the construction within the anticipated period by requiring the payment of damage for any inordinate delay.

Tax amortization of expenses:

For tax purposes, the lease term is significant because it is the measuring period for the deduction of various expenses. For example, the cost of a leasehold, including the brokerage commissions and similar initial expenses incurred by a tenant in procuring the lease, is not deductible in the year of payment, but is deductible proportionately each year over the term of the lease. This rule applies also to advance rentals, even to the extent of requiring a tenant under a long-term lease to spread the deductions for annual payments during the early portion of the lease where they exceeded payments during the later portion of the lease. Deductions for payments by a tenant to renew a lease must be similarly spread. In contrast, the landlord must report all advance rentals as income in the year in which they were received. For the tax treatment of lessor and lessee expenses, see the Tax Background (TB) §§ 23.03, 23.09, and 23.10, at the beginning of this chapter. For the tax consequences of advance rentals, see the TB § 23.05.

Recovery of leasehold improvement costs:

The cost of any building erected, or improvement made, on leased property, is recovered over the cost recovery period applicable to the building or the property improved. Costs are recovered using the straight line method over 27.5 years for residential rental property or 39 years for nonresidential real property. For property or improvements placed in service after 1986, the lease term is not taken into account. For property placed in service prior to 1987, the lease term was taken into account in determining the deduction for the amortization, cost recovery or depreciation of the cost of improvements. For leasehold improvements placed in service during 1981 to 1986, the recovery period (rather than its useful life) was used to determine whether the cost of the improvement was recovered over the shorter of the lease term or the recovery period. See the TB § 23.07.

Amortization over lease term:

Where the deduction is measured by the term of the lease (for example, leasehold acquisition costs), the deduction is characterized as amortization rather than depreciation. The significance of this distinction is that the accelerated rates (declining balance, sum-of-the-years digits, etc.) were applicable to deductions for cost recovery or depreciation but not to deductions for amortization. There are special rules for measuring the term of the lease where the tenant has renewal or extension options. See the TB § 23.06.

Effect of cancellation of lease:

If the lease is cancelled before the end of its term the undepreciated or unamortized portion of the cost of the lessee's improvements is deductible in the year of cancellation. This applies also to other deductions deductible over the lease term.

Cancellation payments:

The term of the lease is also a significant factor for a landlord who makes a payment to cancel a tenant's lease. Where there is a cancellation by the landlord for the purpose of acquiring the right to possession for the remaining term of the lease, the deduction is spread over that period. When the lease is cancelled to enable the landlord to rent the space to a new tenant, the cancellation cost is amortizable over the term of the new lease. Bypassing the allocation problem, the Tax Court has held that the amount paid by a lessor to indemnify and reimburse a lessee for the expense of moving to another location so that the lessor could relet to a new tenant paying a higher rental is amortizable over the basic period of the new lease containing a renewal option. But where the landlord's intent is to erect a new building or to sell the property, the cancellation payment will be added to the cost of the building or the property. For the tax consequences of cancellation of a lease and of cancellation payments, see the TB § 23.11.

Term for holdover tenant:

The length of the lease may also be important where a tenant remains in possession after the expiration of the original term. Local law may operate harshly upon such a tenant, binding him to a new term. There is considerable variation from state to state as to the length of the new term to which the tenant is committed where the lease makes no provisions for holdover. In some jurisdictions the result depends upon the manner in which the rent is reserved. Thus, if the rent is reserved on a yearly basis but payable monthly, the holdover tenancy is for a year, or from year to year. If the rent is reserved monthly, then the new tenancy is on a monthly basis, or from month to month. In other jurisdictions, the new term is measured by the length of the original term. In some jurisdictions the tenant is liable for increased rent during the holdover period. Generally, the retention of possession by a subtenant will cause the primary tenant to be liable as a holdover.

FORMS

(1) Specific term

The term of this lease shall be 20 years, commencing on _____[date], and ending on _____[date], inclusively, unless terminated sooner as provided below.

(2) Commencement of term on earlier of opening for business, completion of alterations, or specified date--term of specific years

The term of this lease shall commence on the earlier of (i) the date Tenant opens for business in the demised premises, (ii) 60 days after Tenant has completed its work of alterations, or (iii) _____[date]. The term of this lease shall expire on the last day of the month following 21 years after commencement (unless the term commences on the first day of a month, in which case it shall expire 21 years later). Within a reasonable time after commencement of the term the parties shall execute an agreement setting forth the dates upon which the lease commenced and shall expire.

(3) Term to begin after construction by landlord--tenant's option to cancel

(a) Term. The initial term of this lease shall be 12 years, beginning on the commencement date (defined in paragraph (b) of this article) and ending at 12 o'clock noon on a date 12 years thereafter, unless sooner terminated by the Landlord as herein provided.

(b) Commencement date. The commencement date shall be the earlier of: (1) the 45th day immediately after the later of the following two dates: (i) the date on which the architect supervising construction certifies in writing to the parties that the motel and all of its facilities are substantially complete and ready for use (except for the personal property required to be installed or supplied by the Tenant), or (ii) the date the appropriate governmental authority issues a temporary certificate of occupancy for the entire motel; or (2) the date on which the Tenant commences business at the motel. After the commencement date has been determined, and upon the demand of either party, the parties shall execute a declaration in recordable form expressing the specific commencement and termination dates of the initial term.

(c) Tenant fixtures. The Tenant may, prior to the commencement date, enter upon the leased property at reasonable times for the purpose of installing the furniture, furnishings, fixtures, and equipment which it is required to install under the terms of this lease.

(d) Completion date. If the commencement date does not occur on or before _____[date], the Tenant may cancel this lease by giving five days' prior written notice to the Landlord. In the event of such cancellation, the Landlord shall (1) return to the Tenant the security deposit and all other sums which the Tenant may have paid to the Landlord; (2) purchase from the Tenant, at a price equal to the Tenant's cost, all furniture, furnishings, fixtures, and equipment which the Tenant has purchased for installation in the leased property; and (3) assume the performance of all unpaid contracts and obligations for furnishings, fixtures, and equipment incurred by the Tenant in connection with its obligations under this lease. If the lease is terminated under this paragraph the Landlord shall not be obligated to make any payments to the Tenant other than those specified in this paragraph.

(4) Term to begin after construction by landlord--specific deadline

The term of this lease shall be 25 years, beginning on (a) _____[date], or (b) the date on which the Landlord tenders possession of the leased property to the Tenant, if that date is later than _____[date] (whichever date is applicable being the effective date of this lease), and ending 25 years after the effective date of this lease. Tender of possession of the leased property by the Landlord to the Tenant shall be evidenced by written notice given by the Landlord to the Tenant, accompanied by a copy of any necessary certificate of occupancy, stating that the building to be constructed on the leased property has been substantially completed and is ready for occupancy by the Tenant. If the effective date of this lease is not the first day of a calendar month, the term of this lease shall be deemed extended by the number of days between the effective date and the first day of the first calendar month following the effective date, so that the term of this lease shall expire 25 years after such first day of the first calendar month following the effective date. In such case, the Tenant shall pay pro rata rent, in advance, for the period from the effective date of this lease to the first day of the following calendar month. On and after the first day of such following calendar month, the Tenant shall pay the rent provided in this lease. Notwithstanding the above, the effective date of this lease shall be no later than _____[date]. If the lease does not become effective on or before that date in accordance with the terms of this paragraph, this lease shall be deemed to be cancelled and all deposits and payments made by the Tenant to the Landlord shall be returned to the Tenant.

(5) Construction of building by landlord--lease to commence when ready for occupancy--meaning of "ready for occupancy"

(a) Notwithstanding any other provision in this lease, the term shall not commence until the leased property is ready for occupancy by the Tenant.

(b) The leased property shall be conclusively considered as ready for occupancy when all of the following events occur:

(1) A temporary or final certificate of occupancy is issued by the appropriate authorities.

(2) All installations, decorations, and other work required to be done by the Landlord under this lease are substantially completed. Minor mechanical adjustments shall be made by the Landlord as promptly as possible.

(3) Elevator, plumbing, heating, air conditioning, gas, and electrical facilities are substantially completed to the extent that the appropriate services to be rendered through such facilities can be supplied.

(4) The entrance and lobby of the building are substantially completed and the means of ingress and egress in no manner interfered with by any scaffolding, building material, or other articles.

(5) The Landlord gives notice to the Tenant that items (1) through (4) have been complied with and a period of ten days elapses from the date of such notice.

(6) Term to begin on day following expiration of present tenant's lease or day possession surrendered, whichever is earlier

(a) Term. This lease shall be for a term beginning on the commencement date as defined in subparagraph (b) and ending on _____[date], unless sooner terminated as herein provided.

(b) Commencement date. It is contemplated that the present tenant will vacate the leased property and surrender possession thereof to the Landlord on or before _____[date]. The term of this lease shall commence on the date (the "Commencement Date"), which shall be the earlier of (1) _____[date], or (2) the day immediately following the date on which the present tenant surrenders possession of the leased property to the Landlord.

(c) Waiver. Subparagraph (b) constitutes an express provision as to the Commencement Date and the time when the Landlord will deliver possession of the leased property to the Tenant. The Tenant hereby waives any right to rescind this lease which it might have under any implied condition that the lessor will deliver possession at the beginning of the lease term, as provided under Section 223-a of the Real Property Law of the State of New York.

(d) Completion date. If the Commencement Date does not occur on or before _____[date], the Tenant may terminate this lease by giving written notice to the Landlord. In the event of such termination, neither party shall be under any further obligation to the other hereunder, except that the Landlord shall promptly return to the Tenant the security deposit, the first monthly installment of rent, and all other sums which the Tenant has paid to the Landlord.

(7) Lease contingent upon governmental approval

This lease shall not become binding upon the Tenant unless the Comptroller of the Currency authorizes the Tenant to open and maintain a branch office for banking business at the location of the leased property. The Tenant shall promptly make an application to the Comptroller for approval and shall exercise due diligence to obtain it. Tenant shall notify Landlord if it obtains approval, or if the Comptroller fails or refuses to give approval on or before _____[date]. If approval is not granted by such date, either party may cancel this agreement by giving the other party written notice of cancellation by registered mail. In that case this agreement and all rights and obligations hereunder shall cease.

(8) Holdover by tenant--provision for month-to-month tenancy

If the Tenant remains in possession of the leased property after the expiration of either the original term of this lease or of any extended term, except pursuant to an exercise of an option to extend, such possession shall be as a month-to-month tenant. During such month-to-month tenancy, rent shall be payable at the same rate as that in effect during the last month of the preceding term, and the provisions of this lease shall be applicable.

(9) Holdover by tenant--not renewal or extension--month-to-month tenancy--landlord's right to terminate

If the Tenant holds over and remains in possession of the leased property after the expiration of this lease without the Landlord's consent, such holdover shall not be deemed or construed to be a renewal or extension of this lease but shall only operate to create a month-to-month tenancy, which may be terminated by the Landlord at the end of any month by giving 30 days' prior written notice to the Tenant.

(10) Option of landlord to deem holdover renewal of lease or to remove tenant

If Tenant holds over for more than one day after this lease term expires without Landlord's consent, Landlord may either deem such holdover a renewal of this lease for an additional term of one year under the same terms, covenants, and conditions thereof, or take all required steps to remove Tenant from the leased property.

(11) Holdover by subtenant--release of tenant

If any of Tenant's subtenants fails to surrender possession of all or any part of the leased property when the original term or any extended term of this lease terminates, such failure shall not constitute a "holding over" by Tenant so as to impose any liability on it. However, if such subtenant does not relinquish possession of the leased property within 30 days after Landlord gives Tenant written notice requesting the subtenant's removal, Tenant shall reimburse Landlord for its reasonable costs incurred, including attorneys' fees, for removing the subtenant.

FORM 23.29 Options to extend or renew lease

Options to extend or renew a lease can affect the amortization period for leasehold acquisition costs. However, costs for a building erected, or improvements made, on leased property are recovered over the recovery period applicable to the building or the improved property, regardless of the lease term.

Lease acquisition cost amortization period:

Generally, lease acquisition costs are amortized over the lease term. However, the term of the lease is treated as including all renewal options, and any other period that the parties reasonably expect the lease to be renewed, if less than 75 percent of the cost is attributable to the period of the term of the lease remaining on the date of its acquisition. In determining the term of the lease remaining on the acquisition date, the period for which the lease may subsequently be renewed, extended, or continued under an option exercisable by the lessee is not taken into account. For a more detailed discussion of the tax treatment of lease acquisition costs, see the Tax Background (TB) § 23.06 at the beginning of this chapter.

Tax treatment of renewal payments:

Any payment made to extend or renew a lease is reportable as income by the landlord in the year of receipt. The lessee's deduction, however, must be amortized over the term of the extended new lease. See the TB § 23.11.

Renewal or extension:

The language required in drafting an option to prolong the term of a lease may depend on the particular interpretation given to the words "renew" and "extend" under local law. In some states, the extension of a lease is regarded as a continuation of the original lease as if the original lease covered the entire term as extended, whereas renewal is treated as involving a new lease for the additional period. In such states, therefore, an extension option may be exercised simply by notice to the landlord, whereas a renewal option requires the execution of a new lease. Other jurisdictions do not make this distinction and treat the original lease provisions as automatically applicable to the renewal period. A third approach is based upon the intention of the parties, with a presumption that an extension rather than a renewal is normally contemplated. In the clauses in this group, except where an option to renew is specifically intended, the term "extend" is used so that in all jurisdictions the exercise of the option would not require the execution of a new lease.

The renewal option may range from a simple expression of the tenant's right to a complex contractual pattern. The option may be unconditional, may be made subject to nondefault by the tenant during the original lease term, or may be exercisable in the event of an excusable default. The option may precipitate specific changes in the lease, including an increase in rent. This increase may be fixed in advance or may be made to depend on economic factors at the time of the renewal. If the option is to extend a sublease, the sublessor's renewal of the basic lease must be taken into account. A useful refinement in such a case is an option on the part of sublessee to acquire the sublessor's interest in the basic lease if the sublessor does not wish to extend it. Provisions for automatic renewal in the absence of notice are valid in most jurisdictions, but in some states a reminder must be given by a residential landlord of the impending extension.

Frequently, the renewal provision requires that the tenant give the landlord written notice of the exercise of the option to renew or extend the lease. Usually, the notice must be given within a certain number of days or months before the expiration of the current term. The use of certified or registered mail is required in many cases to evidence the fact that the option has been exercised. Since the burden of sending the notice is placed on the tenant, the tenant risks clerical or administrative error in the failure to give timely notice. One method of dealing with this risk is to provide that the renewal is automatic unless the tenant sends notice of its intention not to renew. Whether such a clause is desirable, of course, depends upon the circumstances of the particular case. Another alternative would require that the landlord first notify the tenant just before or during the time period that the tenant is to give notice of the exercise to renew. This condition lessens the tenant's risk of a costly clerical error. The clause would be particularly useful in the case of a particularly long initial term.

Drafting considerations:

The extension or renewal term should not be drafted in such a manner that the renewal right could be construed as perpetual. This could occur, for example, if the clause included the right to renew or extend under all the terms and conditions of the lease. Such a clause presumably could include also the right to renew, in perpetuity. This risk can be decreased by specifying that the right to renew applies only once, or some other specified time. In addition, or alternatively, the renewal could be made subject to the terms of the initial lease, excepting the clause permitting renewal. Similarly, it may be useful to expressly state the effect of renewal on other provisions of the lease of particular importance to the parties. For example, the tenant's option to purchase the leased property may or may not be extended upon renewal of the lease. A tenant might desire an express provision permitting the tenant's assignee to exercise the renewal or extension option, and/or relieving the tenant from liability upon the assignee's renewal or extension. A tenant may also seek a provision that the option to renew is exercisable even if the tenant is in default, provided that the tenant is making a diligent effort to cure the default.

(1) Option for one extension--no lease changes

The Tenant may extend this lease, upon the same terms, for an additional period of ten years. Tenant shall exercise this option in writing not later than 60 days before the original term expires.

(2) Option for several extensions

(a) Tenant may extend the term of this lease for four successive periods of 21 years each (the "extended terms"), as follows:

First extended term--[date] to [date]

Second extended term--[date] to [date]

Third extended term--[date] to [date]

Fourth extended term--[date] to [date]

Tenant shall exercise the option to extend by giving written notice to Landlord not more than 24 months nor less than 12 months before expiration of the then existing term.

(b) Each extended term shall be upon the same terms, covenants, and conditions, with the same annual rent payable, as provided in this lease for the initial term. Payment of all additional rent and other charges required to be made by the Tenant under this lease for the initial term shall continue to be made during each of the extended terms. The Tenant may not extend this lease beyond the fourth extended term. Any termination of this lease during the initial or any extended term shall terminate all rights of any further extension hereunder.

(3) Option for several extensions--change in rent--amount of rent specified

The Tenant may extend the term of this lease for three separate and successive periods (extended terms) of 21 years each by giving written notice of each renewal at least 24 months before the then current lease term expires. The last extended term shall end on _____[date]. During each extended term, the basic rent shall be $100,000 per annum.

(4) Option to extend lease--ceiling on rent increase

The Tenant may extend this lease for a further term of ten years from _____[date], upon the same terms and conditions herein set forth, except that the rental shall be the lesser of the following:

(a) A rental of $100,000 per annum, plus the Tenant's pro rata share of any increase in real estate taxes and any increase in the actual cost of operating the property, including wages, supplies, fuel, water rent, and other normal expenses of operation over the amount of such taxes and expenses during the calendar year _____[date].

(b) An annual rental of $120,000.

The Tenant shall notify the Landlord in writing prior to _____[date], as to whether it intends to exercise this option.

(5) Option to extend lease--conditioned on tenant's performance--advance notice by landlord

(a) Tenant may extend this lease upon the expiration of its initial term, provided that this lease is then in full force and effect and Tenant has fully performed all of its terms and conditions. The first extended term shall be upon the same terms and conditions as under the initial term, including the provision for rent, and shall be for 20 years, commencing on _____[date], and ending on _____[date]. Upon expiration of the first extended term, Tenant may extend this lease for a second extended term of 20 years if this lease as extended remains in full force and effect and Tenant has fully performed all of its terms and conditions. The second extended term shall be upon the same terms and conditions, including the provision for rent, and shall be for 20 years, commencing on _____[date], and ending on _____[date]. Tenant shall exercise the option for each extended term by giving written notice thereof to Landlord not less than 12 months nor more than 24 months before expiration of the then current term.

(b) If, 30 days prior to the time that Tenant's right to give notice of exercise of option shall expire, Tenant shall not have previously given Landlord written notice of exercise of option for an extended term, Landlord shall give Tenant written notice that Tenant's option rights are about to expire. Notwithstanding any contrary provision herein, the time within which Tenant may then serve its notice of exercise of option for an extended term shall continue for 15 days after receiving Landlord's advisory notice.

(6) Option to extend lease--default pending at time of exercise

(a) Extension options. Upon expiration of the initial term, provided that, with respect to such term or any extended term, Tenant is not then in default hereunder, or has cured any default for which it may have been given notice, Tenant may extend the term of this lease for four periods consisting of three successive periods of 21 years each, and a final period of 15 years (the "extended terms"). However, if there is a default, Tenant may nevertheless exercise the option and be entitled to any such extended term if the default cannot with due diligence be cured before the last date on which the Tenant is entitled to exercise the option, and Tenant has proceeded promptly and with due diligence to cure such default after service of notice of default.

(b) Number of extended terms. Each extended term shall be upon the same conditions as provided in this lease, except that the Tenant may not extend the term of this lease for any period beyond the expiration of the fourth extended term.

(c) Notice. The Tenant shall exercise the option for an extended term by notifying the Landlord in writing at least six months before the then current term expires. Upon such exercise this lease shall be deemed to be extended without the execution of any further lease or other instrument.

(7) Option to extend sublease

The Subtenant, if the then effective term of the Main Lease exceeds any term of this sublease when and if extended, may extend the term of this sublease for three separate and successive extended terms as follows:

First extended term--[date] to [date]

Second extended term--[date] to [date]

Third extended term--[date] to [date]

However, the Subtenant's right to so extend the sublease term shall be subject to the following conditions:

- (a) The Subtenant is not in default on the date that the notice of extension is given or on the date of the commencement of the extended term.
- (b) The extended term is upon the same conditions applicable during the original term, except that the basic rent during the extended term shall be $100,000 per annum.
- (c) There is no further privilege of extension after the third extended term expires.

The Subtenant shall extend the sublease term by giving written notice to the Sublessor of its intention to do so at any time during the then current term, but not later than 30 days before such term expires.

(8) Option to extend sublease--conditional right in subtenant to take over basic ground lease

(a) Extension option. The Subtenant may extend this lease for a term of 23 years commencing on _____ [date], and ending on _____ [date], by giving the Sublessor written notice of election to extend not later than 18 months before the expiration date of the initial term, upon the following terms and conditions:

- (1) Subtenant, is not in default under any term of this lease, either at the time such notice to extend is given or when the extended term commences.
- (2) During the extended term all the terms of this lease shall apply, except that the net rent payable during such extended term shall be $15,000 per annum.
- (3) Such extension by the Subtenant, although irrevocable by it, does not take effect unless the Sublessor (as Tenant under the Ground Lease) has exercised the option to extend the term of the Ground Lease from [date], to [date].

(b) Extension of ground lease. If the Subtenant has exercised its option to extend the term of this lease, the Sublessor shall advise the Subtenant in writing whether it intends to exercise its option to extend the term of the Ground Lease from _____ [date], to _____ [date]. The notice shall be given to the Subtenant not later than 16 months before the expiration date of the initial term of this lease.

(i) If the notice states that the Sublessor elects not to extend the Ground Lease, the Subtenant shall have 30 days from the receipt of the notice to exercise an option, by written notice to the Sublessor, to acquire by assignment all of the Sublessor's right, title, and interest in and to this lease and as Tenant under the Ground Lease.

(ii) If the Sublessor fails to give the Subtenant the notice provided for in this subparagraph (b), the Subtenant may, by giving written notice to the Sublessor within one month after the last date for giving such notice, require the assignment to it of the Sublessor's entire right, title, and interest in and to this lease and as Tenant under the Ground Lease. The assignment, in the case of either (i) or (ii), shall be without recourse, except that the Sublessor shall warrant that it is not in default as Tenant under the Ground Lease. The notice of the Subtenant's election shall specify the date (which shall be no more than 15 days or less than 12 days in advance) and the time of day during business hours when and the place in New York City where the closing of the assignment shall take place. At the closing, the Sublessor and the Subtenant shall execute and deliver to each other instruments by which the Sublessor shall assign to the Subtenant its interest as Tenant under the Ground Lease and by which the Subtenant shall assume the obligations of the Tenant thereunder, all in compliance with the provisions of the Ground Lease. Thereupon the Sublessor shall have no further rights under this lease or under the Ground Lease.

(c) Power of attorney. If the Sublessor fails or refuses to execute and deliver the required instruments under subparagraph (b), the Subtenant is hereby irrevocably designated as attorney-in-fact for the Sublessor to execute and deliver such instruments on its behalf.

(9) Automatic extension of lease--tenant's right to terminate--advisory notice from landlord

The term of this lease shall be automatically extended for a period of 20 years, upon the same terms and conditions, including the same basic rent, overage rent, and additional rent, as herein provided, unless the Tenant gives to the Landlord, between 18 months and 24 months before the initial term of this lease expires, written notice that the lease shall not be so extended. However, at least 15 days before the expiration of the period within which the Tenant is required to give such notice, the Landlord shall notify the Tenant in writing of the final date for giving such notice. Notwithstanding the above, the Tenant shall have 30 days after it receives the Landlord's notice to give the Landlord written notice that the lease is not to be extended.

(10) Option to renew lease--renewal rent based on land value subject to minimum

(a) Renewal option. The Tenant may renew this lease for a period of 21 years, to commence upon the expiration of the original term, provided that the Tenant is not in default hereunder on the expiration date of the original term. The Tenant shall exercise the renewal option by giving the Landlord written notice of its election to do so at least one year, but not more than two years, before the original term expires.

(b) Renewal rent. The net annual rent during the renewal term shall be the greater of (1) the rate per annum payable at the end of the original term, or (2) a sum equal to 5% of the appraised value of the land covered by this lease, considered as unimproved and exclusive of any buildings or improvements thereon, as of the date for the expiration of the original term. If the parties are unable to agree upon the value of the land for the purpose of fixing the net annual rent for the renewal term, they shall promptly resolve the dispute by arbitration. The renewal lease shall contain the same conditions as those contained in this lease, except as to the net annual rent and except also that the covenants contained herein with respect to the demolition of the buildings now on the leased property and the erection of the new building shall not apply to the renewal lease. The renewal lease shall not require the deposit of further security.

(11) Tenant's release option

Effective as of the last day of the 25th lease year (the "Effective Date"), the Tenant may be released and relieved from all liabilities thereafter accruing under this lease, provided that Tenant gives Landlord not less than 18 nor more than 24 months' prior written notice to such effect and that, when such notice is given and as of the Effective Date, Tenant is not in default under any provision hereof.

(a) Initial extension option. Upon expiration of the initial term of this lease for the Demised Premises, provided that the same is then in full force and effect and Tenant is not in default hereunder, Tenant may extend such term for a first renewal term of 10 years by giving Landlord written notice that it desires such extension. Such notice must be given not less than one year before the initial term expires. The renewal term shall be upon the same terms, provisions, covenants, and conditions as are contained in this Lease, except as to the duration of the term, the rental rate, and any other provision herein which by its terms is applicable only to the initial term.

(b) Second extension option. Tenant may extend the term of this Lease for a second renewal term of 10 years, commencing on the day following the expiration of the first renewal term, upon the following terms and conditions: (i) Tenant shall have exercised its option for the first renewal term under the provisions of subsection (a); (ii) this Lease is in full force and effect and Tenant is not in default hereunder; (iii) Tenant notifies Landlord in writing not less than one year before the first renewal term expires that it desires such extension; and (iv) such extension is upon the same terms, provisions, covenants, and conditions as are contained in this Lease, except as to the duration of the term, the rental rate, and any other provision herein which by its terms is applicable only to the initial or first renewal term.

(c) Renewal rent determination. The rents during the first and second renewal terms shall be equal to the fair rental value of the Demised Premises at the time of commencement of each renewal period, as determined by agreement between Landlord and Tenant or by arbitration in accordance with the provisions of this lease and this subsection. If Tenant exercises any option in subsection (a) or (b), it shall specify in each such notice its evaluation of the fair rental value of the Demised Premises ("Tenant's Rent") for the period covered by such exercise. Within three months thereafter, Landlord shall send to Tenant a notice stating either (i) Landlord's agreement with Tenant's Rent, in which event such amount shall be fixed as the rent payable by Tenant for the renewal period in issue, or (ii) Landlord's evaluation of such fair rental value ("Landlord's Rent"). If Landlord and Tenant are unable to agree upon such fair rental value within three months from the date of sending the notice described in (ii) above, the matter shall be determined by arbitration under this lease. The arbitrator's determination of the fair rental value of the Demised Premises for the renewal period in issue may not, in any event, be less than Tenant's Rent nor more than Landlord's Rent.

(d) Continuation of prior rent. If, for any reason, the first and second renewal terms commence before the fixed rent for such term is determined, Tenant, in the meantime, shall pay the monthly installments of fixed rent (the "Prior Rent") in effect under this lease on the last day of the term being renewed. If the fixed rent for such renewal term is determined to be greater than the Prior Rent, Tenant immediately following such determination shall pay to Landlord the difference between the Prior Rent actually paid and that which should have been paid on the basis of such determination if the fixed rent for such renewal term was determined to be less than the Prior Rent. Immediately following such determination, Landlord shall pay to Tenant the difference between the monthly installments of the Prior Rent actually paid and those which should have been paid on the basis of such determination. Tenant shall pay the fixed rent as so determined.

(e) Condition of premises, failure to give notice. Tenant shall accept the Demised Premises in the condition then existing as of the commencement of any of the renewal terms of this lease. Landlord shall not be responsible for performing any work or furnishing any materials to the Demised Premises, except that it shall continue to supply its services. If Tenant fails to give the required notice under subsection (a) or (b) above exercising its option to renew within the time and manner provided, such failure or omission shall be deemed, without further notice or agreement between the parties, to be an election by Tenant not to exercise such options.

(f) Information request. Upon Landlord's request during the last three years of the original or any renewal term, Tenant shall execute and deliver to Landlord an instrument in form satisfactory to it, which states either (i) that Tenant has not exercised either option contained in subsections (a) and (b), or (ii) that Tenant has exercised such option. In the event of (ii), such instrument shall set forth all of the modifications to this lease resulting therefrom, including, but not limited to, the new fixed rent, as determined by agreement between the parties, or by arbitration, whichever is applicable. However, Tenant's failure to execute or deliver such instrument shall not vitiate any provision of this Article, and if Tenant's time to exercise an option has not yet expired, the giving of such notice under (i) shall not preclude such exercise thereafter.

(13) Option for several extensions--minimum rent and annual percentage base increases specified--landlord allowance for refurbishing on extension--conditioned on tenant's performance

(a) Tenant may, at its option, extend this lease for three (3) extended terms of five (5) years each. The term of each extension period shall commence immediately upon the conclusion of the original term of this lease or the preceding extension period, as the case may be. This option(s) to extend may be exercised only by written notice, in the manner provided in Section _____ of this lease, no later than one (1) year prior to the expiration date of the original term of this lease or the preceding extension period, as the case may be. This shall be the exclusive and only method of exercising this extension option(s) and any other method shall not constitute an exercise thereof. The extended term(s), granted pursuant to this option(s) to extend, shall be on the same terms and conditions as are to be in effect during the original terms of this lease except that: (i) Tenant shall have no further option to extend this lease beyond the expiration of the third extended period created by this Section; (ii) the minimum rent for the first extension period shall be $ _____ per lease year and annual percentage base shall be $ _____; (iii) the minimum rent for the second extension period shall be $ _____ per lease year and annual percentage base shall be $ _____; and (iv) the minimum rent for the third extension period shall be $ _____ per lease year and annual percentage base shall be $ _____.

(b) If Tenant exercises its second option to extend in accordance with the terms and conditions of this Section, and if Tenant is not in default under this lease, Landlord shall expend the sum of $ _____ toward the cost of refurbishing the premises.

(c) If: (i) Tenant fails to exercise this option(s) to extend during the period(s) in which it is available and in the manner required hereby, or (ii) this lease is no longer in full force and effect for any reason, or (iii) Tenant is in default under this lease, at the time of such exercise, this option(s) to extend shall terminate, be void and of no further force or effect.

(d) Unless otherwise herein expressly provided, any reference in this lease to the "term of this lease" shall mean the original term hereof and any extended period(s), if validly exercised by Tenant pursuant to its option(s) to extend set forth in this Section, except to the extent that the original term or any extended period may be sooner terminated or canceled under any provisions of this lease.

(14) Option to renew--rent increase governed by prevailing rate--disputes decided by appraiser

Tenant may, at its option, renew this Lease for one (1) renewal term of _____ years. The term of the renewal period shall commence immediately upon the conclusion of the original term of this Lease. This option to renew may be exercised only by written notice in the manner provided in Section _____ of this Lease no later than six (6) months prior to the expiration date of the original term of this Lease. This shall be the exclusive and only method of exercising the renewal option and any other method shall not constitute an exercise thereof. The renewal term, granted pursuant to this option to renew, shall be on the same terms and conditions as are to be in effect during the original term of this Lease except that: (i) the Base Rent for the renewal term shall be the higher of (a) ninety percent (90%) of the "prevailing rate" (as defined below) per square foot of floor area, or (b) the rate per annum payable in the last Lease Year of the original term of this Lease; and (ii) Tenant shall have no further option to renew this Lease beyond the expiration of the renewal period created by this Section.

The term "prevailing rate," as used in this Section, means the fair market rental rate then being charged for like space similarly situated in office-warehouse buildings similar to and reasonably proximate to the Building in the same city and/or geographical area. In the event the parties cannot reach an agreement as to the prevailing rate, the same shall be determined by appraisal in accordance with the following provisions.

If, by the day that is one hundred fifty (150) days prior to the expiration of the original term of this Lease, the parties are unable to agree in writing on the prevailing rate, then the prevailing rate shall be established by appraisers chosen and who shall act in the following manner: Landlord and Tenant shall each nominate one appraiser deemed by them, respectively, to be fit, reputable and impartial, to appraise and determine the prevailing rate for the renewal term of this Lease. The nomination must be in writing and must be given by each party to the other within one hundred twenty (120) days prior to the expiration of the original term of the Lease. If only one party shall so nominate an appraiser, then that appraiser shall have the power to act alone, and that appraiser's decision as to the prevailing rate made in accordance with the provisions hereof shall be binding upon both parties as if in fact it were made by appraisers selected by both parties. If the two appraisers nominated and appointed as appraisers by the parties shall differ in judgment as to such prevailing rate, then they shall appoint a third appraiser who is a fit, reputable and impartial person. However, if they cannot agree upon such person, then the Administrative Judge of the _____ Court shall appoint a fit, reputable and impartial person to act as the third appraiser, but if such Administrative Judge fails or refuses to act, then such appointment shall be made by _____. If the two appraisers agree in writing upon such prevailing rate, then that determination shall be binding on the parties, but if they are unable to agree within thirty (30) days after the second of the two has been appointed, then the selection of the third appraiser shall be made, as above provided for, within ten (10) days thereafter, and the three appraisers then named shall act with promptness, and the decision of a majority of such appraisers shall be conclusive and binding upon the parties. Each party shall bear the expense of its own appraiser, but the fees of the third appraiser shall be shared equally.

No person shall be qualified for appointment as an appraiser hereunder unless he or she is a licensed real estate broker or agent with at least five (5) years of experience in leasing office-warehouse space. Any appraiser may be removed by the parties or other persons who appointed that appraiser, as the case may be, for failure to perform his or her duties expeditiously, and a successor appraiser shall be promptly appointed by such parties or person(s), as the case may be. If the prevailing rate has not been determined and evidenced by an appropriate amendment to this Lease prior to the expiration of the original term of this Lease, then Tenant shall pay as Base Rent the amount set forth in the following paragraph until such determination has been made, at which time Tenant shall pay the difference, if any.

If the prevailing rate has not been determined as of the first day of the renewal period, then pending determination of the prevailing rate, Tenant shall pay Landlord the sum of $_____ per month as Base Rent for the Premises.

If: (i) Tenant fails to exercise the renewal option during the period in which it is available and in the manner required hereby, or (ii) this Lease is no longer in full force and effect for any reason, or (iii) Tenant is in default under this Lease, at the time of such exercise, the renewal option shall terminate, be void and of no further force or effect.

Unless otherwise herein expressly provided, any reference in this Lease to the "term of this Lease" shall mean the original term hereof and the renewal period, if validly exercised by Tenant pursuant to its option to renew set forth in this Section, except to the extent that the original term or renewal period may be sooner terminated or canceled under any provisions of this Lease.

FORM 23.30 Delivery of possession

COMMENT

The interests of both landlord and tenant may be served by a clause dealing with the consequences of the failure to deliver possession to the tenant upon commencement of the lease term. In the absence of such a provision, the tenant's remedies may be inadequate. For example, in many jurisdictions the tenant has no recourse against the landlord in the event of a holdover by a prior tenant. On the other hand, the landlord may wish to protect himself where his failure to deliver possession might otherwise result in liability for damages, deferral of the lease term, or a right in the tenant to cancel the lease.

Effect of failure to deliver possession:

One approach is to permit an abatement in rent during the period when the tenant is unable to take possession, with the provision that such inability will not extend the lease term or give the tenant an action to cancel the lease or obtain damages. A clause for the benefit of the tenant would provide that the lease term is to begin when possession is delivered, and that the tenant may cancel the lease and recover any rent and security payments if possession is not delivered by a stated date.

Tax effect of rent repayment:

If a landlord is required to repay rent in a tax year other than the one in which it was reported as income, the amount repaid is deductible in the year of repayment. However, if the amount repaid exceeds $3,000 the taxpayer may elect in the alternative to recompute the tax for the year in which the income was reported by excluding from the income of that year the amount repaid. For a discussion of the tax consequences of rental payments generally, see the Tax Background § 23.02, at the beginning of this chapter.

FORMS

(1) Delay in delivering possession--abatement of rent

If, for any reason, the Landlord cannot deliver possession of the leased property to the Tenant when the lease term commences, this lease shall not be void or voidable, nor shall the Landlord be liable to the Tenant for any loss or damage resulting therefrom. However, there shall be an abatement of rent for the period between the commencement of the lease term and the time when the Landlord delivers possession.

(2) Delay in delivering possession--abatement of rent--no extension of lease

The Landlord shall not be liable for failure to give possession of the leased property to the Tenant upon the effective date of this lease if such failure is due to the fact that the leased property is not ready for occupancy, is being held over by a prior tenant or is otherwise in the wrongful possession of another person, or is not available for any other reason. In such event, the rent shall not commence until possession is given or is made available to the Tenant, but the term of this lease shall not be extended.

(3) Delay in delivering possession--landlord allowed time to evict--abatement of rent as full settlement of damages

If the Landlord is unable to give possession of the leased property to the Tenant upon the commencement date of this lease because of the present tenant's failure to vacate such property, the Landlord shall be allowed sufficient time to evict the holdover tenant by due process of law. The rent reserved under this lease will be abated while Tenant is not in possession of the leased property, and Tenant shall consider such rent abatement as full settlement of any damages caused by the delay in its possession of the leased property.

(4) Delay in delivering possession--landlord not liable for damages--lease remains effective--rent abatement--lease extended

If the Landlord is unable to deliver possession of the leased property upon the date the term of this lease is to commence, neither the Landlord nor its agents shall be liable for any damages caused to the Tenant by reason of the delay nor shall this lease become void or voidable. However, the Tenant shall not be liable for the payment of rent until the Landlord delivers possession of the leased premises to it and the term of this lease shall be extended by the length of time possession by the Tenant has been delayed.

(5) Delay in delivering possession--no abatement of rent

Tenant shall not be allowed any abatement or diminution of the rent to be paid hereunder, nor shall the validity of the lease be impaired, if Landlord is unable to give possession of the leased property on the term commencement date for any reason, including the holding over or retention of possession of any tenant, or if repairs, improvements, or decorations are not completed with respect to the leased property or of the building of which such property forms a part.

(6) Delay in delivering possession--lease remains effective--rent not payable until ready for occupancy

This lease shall remain in full force and effect if the property is not ready for occupancy at commencement of the term because alterations or repairs are being made upon the property, or the building of which such property forms a part, or if the present occupant of the property fails to vacate and surrender possession. However, Tenant shall not be required to pay rent until the leased property is ready for occupancy and it has been notified thereof by letter addressed to its last known post office address.

(7) Delay in delivering possession--not default if cause beyond landlord's control--right of either party to cancel lease--delivery of key not deemed possession

(a) The Landlord shall not be deemed in default with respect to the performance of any term, covenant, or condition of this lease if such nonperformance is due to strike, lockout, civil commotion, war, war-like operation, invasion, rebellion, hostilities, military or usurped power, sabotage, inability to obtain any material or service through Act of God, or other cause beyond the Landlord's control, if such cause is not due to Landlord's act or neglect.

(b) If for any reason the Landlord fails to deliver possession of the demised premises to the Tenant on or before _____[date], either party may terminate and cancel this lease by giving written notice to that effect within 30 days after such date. This lease shall then terminate and be null and void, and neither party shall have any further rights against or obligations to the other.

(c) No giving of possession shall be deemed to occur when Landlord delivers the key for the leased property to Tenant. Giving of possession shall occur only when Landlord gives written notice to Tenant that Landlord has completed its required work, and has received from its architect or engineer a certificate that the work has been completed.

(8) Tenant's option to cancel for delay beyond stated date

If, for any reason, the Landlord cannot deliver possession of the leased property to the Tenant at the beginning of the lease term this lease shall not be void or voidable, but such term shall commence whenever the Landlord is able to deliver possession. However, if the Landlord cannot deliver possession of the leased property by _____[date], the Tenant may cancel this lease, in which event the first month's rent and the security deposit shall be returned to the Tenant and neither party shall have any further obligation to perform hereunder.

(9) Building under construction--tenant's option to cancel for delay--early possession

Landlord shall not be liable if it is unable to give Tenant possession of the leased property on the commencement date of this lease, if the property is located in a building that is under construction and has not been sufficiently completed to make the property ready for occupancy, if it has not procured a certificate of occupancy, or for any other reason. Under such circumstances, the payment of rent shall not commence until possession of the leased property is given to or the property is available for occupancy by the Tenant. No such failure to give possession on the commencement date of the lease term shall affect the validity of this lease or the obligations of the Tenant hereunder, or extend the term of this lease. However, if the leased property is not available for occupancy by _____[date], Tenant may cancel this lease by giving 15 days' written notice before Landlord tenders possession. If Tenant receives permission to enter into possession of the leased property or to occupy other property before the date specified as the commencement of the lease term, such occupancy shall be subject to all the terms of this lease, except that the obligation to pay rent shall begin only upon the commencement of the lease term.

(10) Landlord to notify tenant of estimated date of possession--tenant's right of access

At least 90 days before the leased property is ready for delivery to the Tenant's exclusive possession, the Landlord shall give the Tenant written notice fixing the estimated date on which such possession will be delivered. From the date of such notice, the Tenant, its agents, and its employees shall have access to the leased property for the purpose of installing furniture, fixtures, equipment, and other items necessary for the commencement of the Tenant's operations provided that there shall be no interference with the completion of construction.

FORM 23.31 Fixed rent and net lease provisions

COMMENT

Where possible, the lease should state the total amount of the rent which the tenant will be obligated to pay during the entire term. The time and the place of payment should also be specified. In many jurisdictions, in the absence of a specific provision, rent is payable on the premises and at the end of the term. As a matter of general custom, most leases provide that periodic rent is payable in advance and at the office of the landlord, with the right reserved in the landlord to designate a different place.

Fixed rent vs. net rent:

While the term "fixed rent" appears to contemplate an ascertainable income from the leasing of property, actually only the tenant's expense is fixed. The landlord's rate of return is subject to inevitable variations in maintenance costs, insurance, real estate taxes, assessments, and other running expenses. Where the landlord's intention is to derive a constant cash flow from the property, without fluctuation due to these changeable factors, the appropriate arrangement is a "net lease." Under a net lease, or a provision for the payment of "net rent," the tenant is obligated to pay a fixed sum and, in addition, to bear the cost of most or all operating expenses. This device shifts to the tenant the impact of periodic changes in such costs.

Net lease:

The terms "net lease," or "net-net lease," do not in themselves define the expenses to be paid by the tenant. While such terms may be useful to indicate generally the intention of the parties, proper draftsmanship requires a more complete and precise specification of the tenant's obligations. Therefore, if it is intended that the tenant is to pay all operating costs the lease should state specifically that the landlord is to be free from all expenses, assessments, deductions, and impositions in connection with the property. Normally, the lease will also state that these additional items required to be paid by the tenant are to be considered as additional rent and that the landlord is to have the same rights upon the nonpayment of such items as he has for the nonpayment of rent. In addition, the lease should clearly define the tenant's obligations with respect to such major items as repairs, utilities, mortgage amortization, and taxes. The clauses in this group illustrate the general description of the rental obligation when a "net lease" is contemplated.

Rent deduction:

Periodic rent payments are deductible under the statutory section covering ordinary and necessary trade or business expenses. Rental payments for property not used in a trade or business but held for the production of income are also deductible. The issuance of a non-negotiable instrument is not "payment" of rent permitting a deduction. There is no statutory condition for the "reasonableness" of rent. An excessive amount, however, may be a factor in determining that the payments were not in fact rent. Rental payments made by a tenant for property used solely for residential purposes are not deductible. For a further discussion of the deductibility of rental payments, see the Tax Background (TB) § 23.02, at the beginning of this chapter. For tax treatment of rental payments for residential property, see TB § 23.13.

Tax leveling of uneven rent payments:

Lessors and lessees of tangible property are subject to timing requirements to avoid mismatching income and deductions. The restrictions apply if: (1) the rent totals more than $250,000, and (2) any payment either varies in amount or is deferred more than one calendar year, e.g. stepped rents or deferred payments. In effect, the rent payments are "leveled" for tax purposes, whether the taxpayer uses the accrual or cash method of tax accounting. See TB § 23.02[4] .

Net lease deductions:

Where the tenant pays all taxes, charges, and other operating expenses under a net lease, such amounts are treated as additional rental income to the landlord, and are deductible by the tenant if the basic rent is deductible as an ordinary business expense or as an income-producing expense. The landlord may deduct the amount of any item paid by the tenant if it would constitute a deduction were it paid directly by the landlord. For a further discussion of the tax consequences of the lessee's payment of the lessor's expenses, see TB § 23.03.

Capital expenditures:

Certain payments made by the tenant on behalf of the landlord which constitute capital expenditures, though constituting rental income to the landlord, are not deductible as current expenses, but must be amortized by annual deductions over the life of the lease. An example is an assessment for local improvements paid by a tenant. Another type of payment which would be amortized rather than deducted as paid by the tenant is an amount paid to reduce the landlord's mortgage obligation. See TB § 23.03.

FORMS*(1) Fixed annual rent--equal monthly installments*

The Tenant shall pay to the Landlord the annual rent of $4,800 in lawful money of the United States, in equal monthly installments of $400 in advance, on the first day of each month throughout the term of this lease. Payment of rent of $400 for the month of _____[month], is hereby acknowledged. The rent shall be payable at the office of the Landlord or at any other place it designates in writing.

(2) Fixed total rent--varying monthly installments

The Tenant shall pay to the Landlord during the original term of this lease total rental of $250,000, in advance, without demand, on the first day of each month, as follows:

$5,000 for the month of March in each year
$3,000 for the month of April in each year
$3,000 for the month of May in each year
$4,100 for the month of June in each year
$7,500 for the month of July in each year
$7,500 for the month of August in each year
$6,300 for the month of September in each year
$5,000 for the month of October in each year
$2,150 for the month of November in each year
$2,150 for the month of December in each year
$2,150 for the month of January in each year
$2,150 for the month of February in each year

(3) Fixed rent--annual increases--acceleration upon default

The Tenant shall pay to the Landlord rent, in equal monthly payments, on the first day of every month during the term of this lease, as follows:

From _____[month] to _____[month], equal monthly payments of $3,000 (total of $72,000);

From _____[month] to _____[month], equal monthly payments of $4,000 (total of $96,000); and

From _____[month] to _____[month], equal monthly payments of $5,000 (total of $120,000).

The property is leased for a rental of $288,000 for the term hereof, payable upon the execution of this lease. The provisions contained herein for the payment of such rent in installments are solely for Tenant's convenience. If Tenant defaults in such payment, the entire rent then remaining unpaid for the full lease term shall immediately become due and payable without any notice or demand.

(4) Rent based on floor space--floor space defined

Beginning with the rent commencement date of this lease, the Tenant shall pay the Landlord a fixed annual rental equal to $4.20 for each square foot of floor space. Floor space is to be measured from the extension of the exterior walls of the building. If the plans and specifications for the building call for basement space, such space shall be included in the floor space upon which the annual rent is computed. The fixed annual rent shall be paid to the Landlord in equal monthly installments in advance on the first day of each month during the term of this lease.

(5) Place and manner of payment

Tenant shall make all rental payments without notice or demand, at any place in the United States Landlord designates in writing. Landlord presently designates as such place The North Shore Bank, Palm Beach, Florida. All rent shall be payable in current United States legal tender, as it is then, by law, constituted. Checks must be drawn on a Florida bank and are subject to collection. The extension of time for the payment of any installment of rent, or the acceptance by the Landlord of any money other than of the kind specified herein, shall not be a waiver of the Landlord's rights to insist on having all other payments of rent made in the manner and at the time specified herein.

(6) Payment by tenant of lesser amount deemed payment on account--endorsement on check or statement not deemed accord and satisfaction

No payment by the Tenant or receipt by the Landlord of a lesser amount than the monthly rent stipulated in this lease shall be deemed other than a payment on account of the earliest rent due, nor shall any endorsement or statement on any check or on any letter accompanying any check or payment as rent be deemed an accord and satisfaction. The Landlord may accept such check or payment without prejudice to its right to recover the balance of the rent or to pursue any other remedy provided for in this lease.

(7) Net rent provision

The rent specified in this lease shall be net to Landlord in each year during the lease term. Accordingly, Tenant shall pay all expenses and obligations relating to the leased property (except as otherwise specifically provided herein) which may arise or become due during the lease term, and Tenant shall indemnify and hold Landlord harmless against such expenses and obligations.

The net rent shall be paid to the Landlord without notice or demand and without abatement, deduction, or setoff (except as otherwise specifically provided in this lease). The net rent shall be paid in equal monthly installments in advance on the first day of each calendar month during the lease term.

(8) Net rent provision--no obligation to pay mortgage interest, franchises, or taxes of landlord

The Landlord shall receive the rents, additional rents, and all sums payable by the Tenant under this lease free of all taxes, expenses, charges, damages, and deductions, and the Tenant shall pay all sums which except for this lease would have been chargeable against the leased property or payable by the Landlord. The Tenant shall, however, be under no obligation to pay interest on any mortgage on the fee of the leased property, any franchise or income tax payable by the Landlord, or any gift, inheritance, transfer, estate, or succession tax which may be enacted during the lease term.

(9) Net rent for construction and occupancy periods--apportionment of expenses at beginning of lease

(a) The Tenant shall pay to the Landlord net rent in equal quarterly installments in advance as follows:

(1) $27,500 net per annum for the Construction Period, which shall begin on the date hereof and end on the earlier of (i) three years thereafter, or (ii) the date a temporary or final Certificate of Occupancy is issued permitting the use of all or any part of the new building, the construction of which is required to replace the existing structure under the provisions of this lease; (2) $110,000 net per annum for the Occupancy Period, which shall begin when the Construction Period expires and end 25 years thereafter.

(b) If the Occupancy Period commences on any day other than the first day of a calendar month, the Tenant shall pay to the Landlord on such commencement day the proportionate amount of rent due for the balance of such current month at the new rate then prevailing, and, on the first day of the next succeeding month, the next quarterly installment of rent at such new rate.

(c) The rent under all leases, tenancies, and occupancies shown on Schedule A attached to this lease and made a part hereof shall be apportioned between the parties as of the date of this lease, as well as premiums on existing transferable insurance policies, real estate taxes, assessments for local improvements, water charges, sewer rents if any (to the extent to which they are not payable by tenants), fuel, employees' compensation and related employees' benefits, and charges under service contracts. Such apportionment shall be computed with all reasonable diligence after the execution and delivery of this lease. Immediately after such apportionment is concluded, Tenant shall pay Landlord, or Landlord shall pay Tenant, as the case may be, whatever net balance is determined to be owing from it. If the parties are unable to agree upon the proper apportionment of any such item, they shall promptly resolve the dispute by arbitration in the manner provided for in this lease.

(10) All obligations of tenant considered additional rent

The following obligations of the Tenant shall be deemed to be additional rent hereunder: all taxes, charges, and expenses that Tenant is required to pay hereunder; all interest and penalties that may accrue on such items because of the Tenant's failure to pay the same; and all damages and expenses that Landlord may incur because of Tenant's default or failure to comply with the lease terms. In the event of Tenant's nonpayment of any of the foregoing, Landlord shall have the same rights and remedies as it has for nonpayment of the basic rent.

(11) Tenant to submit proof of payment of items of additional rent--tenant appointed attorney-in-fact for payment purposes

(a) Taxes. The Tenant shall promptly pay all real estate taxes, assessments, water and sewer charges, and other governmental levies against the leased property, and also any occupancy tax and "tax on rents" ("impositions"). The phrase "tax on rents" means any tax levied, assessed, or imposed in connection with the receipt of rent under this lease for the use and occupancy of the leased property, in lieu of all or part of any real estate or personal property tax upon the leased property. The Tenant may pay any imposition in installments, if payment may be so made without penalty. All impositions for the tax year in which this lease terminates shall be apportioned between the Tenant and the Landlord, except that Tenant shall pay in full, at least 60 days before the lease term expires, any imposition it has elected to pay in installments.

(b) Advance monthly payments. The Tenant shall pay as additional rent on the first day of each month, in advance, one-twelfth of any tax that may be imposed in connection with the rental and use of the personal property included in the leased property. The Landlord shall remit such payment to the proper governmental authority together with any required return. The Tenant shall also pay any gross receipts tax imposed on the Landlord in connection with the Landlord's receipt of rents for the rental and use of the personal property.

(c) Operating expenses. The Tenant shall pay all expenses in the operation of the leased property, except (1) any interest and amortization on mortgages encumbering the fee title at any time, (2) rentals payable by the Landlord as tenant under any superior lease, and (3) any estate, inheritance, income, or other personal taxes of the Landlord.

(d) Receipts. The Tenant shall furnish to the Landlord official receipts or other satisfactory proof of payment, within a reasonable time after the Landlord's demand.

(e) Contested amounts, deposit. The Tenant may contest the amount or validity of any imposition by appropriate proceedings. However, the Tenant shall promptly pay the contested imposition unless (1) the proceedings operate to prevent or stay its collection, and (2) the Tenant has deposited with the Landlord the contested and unpaid amount, together with a sum sufficient to cover all charges that may be assessed against the leased property in such proceedings. Upon the termination of such proceedings, the Tenant shall deliver to the Landlord proof of the amount of the imposition as finally determined, and thereupon the Landlord shall, out of the deposited sums, pay such imposition and refund the balance to the Tenant. If the deposited sums are insufficient to pay the full amount of the imposition and other charges, the Tenant shall immediately pay any deficiency. If, at any time during the proceedings, the Landlord deems the deposited amount insufficient, the Tenant shall, upon demand, deposit with the Landlord all additional sums it may reasonably request. The Landlord, at the Tenant's expense, shall join in any such proceedings if so required by law. Any sums deposited hereunder with the Landlord shall be held in a trust account.

(f) Additional rent. All sums (other than the basic rent) which may be due and payable or are to be deposited by the Landlord under this lease shall be payable on demand and shall be deemed to be additional rent hereunder.

(g) Power of attorney. Landlord appoints Tenant as Landlord's attorney-in-fact for the purpose of making all payments to be made by Tenant under any provision of this lease to persons other than Landlord. If such person refuses to accept payment directly from Tenant, Tenant shall so notify Landlord in writing and pay the sum directly to Landlord, who shall then pay it to such person.

(12) Shopping center--additional rent for advertising

The Tenant shall pay to the Landlord additional rent of $2,000 per annum within 30 days after the Tenant takes possession of the leased property and each year thereafter on the same date. Upon receiving such additional rental, Landlord shall contribute $2,000 to the fund. Landlord shall expend such additional rental and contribution each year solely for the purpose of advertising and promoting the shopping center, by any means it determines.

(13) Additional rent--tenant's share for maintenance of parking area--easement to tenant

Tenant shall pay Landlord, as its share of the maintenance of the parking area, additional rent of $2,400 per year, in equal monthly installments in advance on the first day of each month, beginning on the date fixed for the commencement of this lease. Landlord may promulgate rules and regulations governing the use of the parking area by Tenant and its employees and customers. Tenant, at no additional charge, is hereby given an easement in common with the other stores to use the parking lot for itself and its employees, customers, and invitees, and shall have an easement over the walks for the ingress and egress of such persons to and from the leased property.

FORM 23.32 Percentage rent

A fixed rental provision does not protect the landlord against inflation, or enable him to benefit from an appreciation in property income or rental value or from an increase in business potential which may occur during the term of a long lease. From the tenant's point of view, the burden of a fixed rent may become unsupportable during a period of depressed business conditions. A sharing of the risks of fluctuations in value or business income is commonly accomplished by a provision for a percentage rental.

Minimum rent:

Such a provision generally involves the payment of two separately computed rentals: a fixed minimum rental and a rental based upon a percentage of receipts or income from use of the property in excess of a specified amount. The fixed rental provides a return for the landlord which is often less than the return customarily derived from similar property. The clause will generally follow the language for fixed rent, but with an indication of the requirement for additional rent. The minimum rent provision, however, may be quite elaborate, as in the case where it is designed to permit the landlord to recover over the term of the lease the costs of improvements constructed for the tenant.

Income base for percentage rent:

The starting point in formulating the percentage rental provision may be "gross income," "adjusted gross receipts," "net income," or "gross sales." The basis to be selected will depend primarily upon the nature of the tenant's operations. In the case of certain large scale merchandising and service enterprises, the complexities in accounting make it desirable to base the percentage rent on gross receipts. The simplest provision will require the payment of a percentage of gross receipts in excess of a specified amount.

Gross sales defined:

One of the significant parts of a percentage rent clause is the definition of the income base against which the percentage is taken. Frequently, gross sales or gross receipts are used as the base. Although the definition of "gross sales" may vary, an understanding of the basic parameters of the definition is useful for negotiation and drafting purposes. The starting point is an inclusion of all receipts from the leased premises, followed by a list of applicable exclusions or deductions. The broad inclusion would specify such items as all revenues of any kind and character from the leased premises, including all sales of merchandise, for cash or on credit, and income from services.

Where applicable, a well drafted lease would specify whether gross sales includes receipts of the tenant's licensees or concessionaires, uncollected credit sales, telephone or catalog sales, sales over the internet, and off-premises deliveries. Gross sales may also include receipts of other tenant stores or offices resulting from sales at the leased premises. Internet sales may be included if the goods sold are located or sold from the leased premises. Items which would be generally excluded in the definition are sales tax receipts, vending machine proceeds, and customer charges for mail, delivery, or alterations if at cost. Other excluded receipts may be sales to the tenant's employees at discount, interest and credit charges, and sales at the tenant's other locations, assuming these sales are not diverted to avoid the percentage rent. This approach to defining gross sales is used with retail tenants.

Net income defined:

If net income is used as the base for percentage rent, the definition will permit the deduction of certain specified expenses from gross receipts. This is a significant difference from the definition of gross sales, which does not allow for the deduction of expenses. Care should be exercised so that the definition of net income is not synonymous with profits or net profits. A sharing of profits must be avoided if the landlord and tenant do not want to be classified as partners. (The effect of sharing "gross receipts" or income on the landlord-tenant relationship is discussed below.) A net income base for percentage rent has been used by landlords of commercial office space who seek a percentage of sublease revenues from the prime tenant. Deductions from gross receipts would include expenses related to subleasing, such as rent paid by the prime tenant to the landlord, the prime tenant's expenses for management fees, commissions, insurance, wages, advertising, interest, and similar operating expenses. One of the difficulties inherent in basing the percentage rent upon net income stems primarily from the need to specify the allowable deductions from gross receipts or gross sales. Such a provision imposes substantial record-keeping burdens upon the tenant and makes proper supervision difficult for the landlord. Some of these problems may be solved by accepting the income tax figure as a starting point. If major income of the tenant derives from subletting, as in an office building, the landlord may require, for his own benefit and for the benefit of the mortgagee, information respecting such subleases and also the right to inspect the original instruments.

Sales records and statements:

Collection of the percentage rent depends to a large extent upon the records maintained and supplied by the tenant. Usually, a percentage rent provision requires a tenant to keep certain records and receipts and to give a periodic statement to the landlord. The primary record in a retail operation is the cash register receipts tape. Other records may include credit sales and transactions which would not normally be recorded on the register. The tenant is usually required to provide the landlord with a statement of receipts or sales periodically. The frequency of the report and the detail of the information depends upon the circumstances of the transaction. An annual statement may be sufficient in many cases, while daily reports may be required in others.

Enforcement and verifications of percentage rent:

A basic ingredient of all these formulas is the obligation on the tenant to maintain adequate records and to supply periodic statements. In order to avoid the expense and delay, the lease may provide that the tenant's continued failure, after notice of delinquency, to produce the required statement will empower the landlord to terminate the lease. In addition, the landlord is often given the right to inspect the tenant's records within a prescribed time after each rental period, the tenant to bear the cost of such inspection if an understatement, in a minimum amount, of the basis for computations is discovered. Cross-checks of the tenant's figures is also a useful enforcement device. This can be achieved by requiring the tenant to make available to landlord specific records, such as tenant sales tax returns, and notification to the landlord of any sales tax audits or income tax audits. The figures from these items of information can then be compared to the information supplied by the tenant.

The amount of percentage rent received by a landlord is directly affected by the income of the tenant. The hours of the day and the days of the week during which the tenant is open for business will affect income. The landlord, therefore has an economic interest in the continued operation of the tenant's business. To insure the maximum rent, the lease may provide that a failure to conduct the business continuously will constitute a breach on the part of the tenant. Alternatively, the lease may provide that if the continuous operation of the tenant's business has been interrupted for a cause within his control, the measuring receipts or sales shall be determined by reference to the corresponding period for the previous year or by some other relevant standard. A stronger provision would be to allow the lessor to "recapture" the leased premises if the additional rent anticipated by virtue of the percentage clause is not forthcoming within a stipulated period of time.

Avoiding partnership status:

The payment of a part of gross receipts by a tenant to a landlord will not, alone, lead to classification of the landlord-tenant relationship as a partnership. However, if the landlord shares in the tenant's profits, the possibility of partnership classification increases. Under the Uniform Partnership Act, a partnership is an association of two or more persons to carry on as co-owners a business for profit. UPA § 6. Receipt of profits from a business is prima facie evidence, although not conclusive, that the person receiving the profits is a partner. UPA § 7(4). However, sharing gross returns or receipts does not of itself establish a partnership. UPA § 7. The gross receipts are usually paid under a percentage rent provision without regard to the tenant's profits. The intention of the parties is also a significant factor in the classification of a relationship as a partnership. Many practitioners include an express disclaimer of any intention to create a partnership or joint venture between the landlord and tenant.

Tax aspects:

For tax purposes, the most troublesome question has been the timing of the income and deduction for percentage rent. A cash basis taxpayer obviously must report the income or take the deduction when the payment is made. In the case of an accrual basis taxpayer, rent based on sales accrues as income for the period during which the sales are made. For a more detailed discussion of the tax treatment of rental payments, see the Tax Background § 23.02, at the beginning of this chapter.

FORMS

(1) Basic rent--reference to additional percentage rent

The basic annual rent for the leased property is $48,000, payable by the Tenant monthly in advance in equal installments of $4,000 each on the first day of every month during the lease term. In addition to the basic rent, the Tenant shall pay in each year additional rent, based upon a percentage of its gross income from the leased property, as set forth below.

(2) Basic rent--lease of building constructed for tenant--cost recovery formula

(a) Basic rate formula. The Tenant shall pay an annual basic rental, in addition to all other required payments, and without any abatement or setoff, equal annually to 8 1/2 percent of the Rent Determination Base. The annual basic rental shall be paid in equal monthly installments in advance on the first day of each calendar month during the term of this lease, commencing on _____ [date], or on the first day of the first calendar month following the effective date of this lease if such date is not _____ [date].

(b) Rent determination base. The term "Rent Determination Base" as used in this lease shall be the total amount of the following items:

(1) Land acquisition costs. The purchase price to the Landlord of the land described herein, the cost of title insurance covering the land and the improvements to be constructed thereon, and all recording fees, revenue stamps, and other closing costs paid or incurred by the Landlord in connection with the acquisition of the land, the construction of the improvements, and the necessary financing transactions.

(2) Property taxes. All ad valorem taxes paid by the Landlord by reason of ownership of the land before the effective date of this lease.

(3) Architect and engineering fees. All fees and other remuneration paid to architects and engineers for the design, planning, supervision, and all other services rendered in connection with the construction of the buildings under the terms of an agreement attached hereto as Exhibit A.

(4) Construction costs. The contract sum provided for in a construction contract between the Landlord and ABC Builders, Inc., as such contract may be modified by the provisions of this lease. For the purposes of this paragraph, however, such contract sum shall be reduced by the greater of (i) $500,000, or (ii) the amount paid by Tenant to Landlord for tenant improvements under this lease.

(5) Interim financing. Landlord shall pay interest of 7 percent per annum for the interim financing of all items set forth in subparagraphs (1) through (4) of this paragraph (b), regardless of when incurred or accrued, until the effective date of this lease. The Landlord shall attempt to keep the amount of this item as low as possible by drawing against interim financing commitments from time to time only such sums as are then necessary to meet obligations which are then due or for which sound business discretion would then provide.

(6) Deposit credit. The aggregate sum of all the items set forth above in subparagraphs (1) through (5) of this paragraph shall be reduced by the amount of the security deposit paid by the Tenant to the Landlord upon the execution of this lease.

(c) Settlement of amount. During the course of the construction of the buildings and the completion of the leased property, the Landlord shall maintain a complete and accurate accounting of all sums to be included in the Rent Determination Base. Upon the completion of the buildings, the Landlord shall submit to the Tenant a complete summary of the amount of the Rent Determination Base, and the Tenant shall have a reasonable time to check and verify all figures included in the Rent Determination Base. For this purpose, Tenant may examine Landlord's books and records. Within ten days after Tenant receives such summary from Landlord, it shall give Landlord written notice either that it agrees to the amount of the Rent Determination Base, or that it does not agree, pointing out any amounts which it questions as being accurate or includable in the Rent Determination Base. If Tenant questions the accuracy of any such figure or its inclusion in the Rent Determination Base, both parties shall attempt in good faith to resolve the dispute. If the parties are unable to do so within seven days after Tenant submits written notice specifying the nature of its questions concerning the amounts, the parties shall appoint a board of arbitration to resolve their differences and to determine the Rent Determination Base. Such board shall consist of one individual named by Tenant, a second named by Landlord, and a third selected by the two designees. In making the determination, the arbitrators may seek the assistance and advice of an independent certified public accounting firm, the charges of which shall be paid equally by Landlord and Tenant. The decision of the three arbitrators shall be final and binding upon both parties.

(3) Subleased rental property--additional rent based on gross income in excess of minimum

If the gross income collected by the Tenant from the operation of the leased property exceeds $200,000 in any calendar year, it shall pay 5% of the excess to the Landlord as additional rent for such year. Upon demand, the Tenant shall furnish to the Landlord a list of the rents collected during each calendar year, including the names of all subtenants. Such lists shall be furnished within 30 days after demand and if uncertified may be audited by the Landlord's accountant.

(4) Subleased rental property--additional rent in gross receipts adjusted for improvements and taxes

(a) Percentage rent. If the adjusted gross receipts (as defined below) of the Tenant in the operation of the leased property exceed $825,000 in any lease year (as defined below), the Tenant shall pay to the Landlord, as additional rent, 2% of such excess.

(b) Lease year. The term "lease year" means the period of 12 consecutive months commencing on November 1 of each year during the term hereof.

(c) Adjusted gross receipts. The term "adjusted gross receipts" means Tenant's gross receipts from the operation of the leased property for the particular lease year, less (1) the cost of capital improvements to the leased property (including alterations for subtenants renting space in such property) made by Tenant at its expense during the particular lease year, (2) the cost of such capital improvements made by Tenant in any previous lease year that was not deducted by it in the previous year, and (3) real estate taxes in excess of $100,000 paid by Tenant during the particular lease year.

(d) Annual statement. The Tenant shall keep a full and accurate set of books adequately showing the amount of adjusted gross receipts received by it in each lease year. Within 60 days after the close of each lease year, the Tenant shall furnish to the Landlord a verified statement certified by a certified public accountant setting forth the Tenant's adjusted gross receipts during the preceding lease year and showing the amount of additional rent required to be paid by the Tenant for such year. Simultaneously with the delivery of such statement, the Tenant shall pay to the Landlord all such additional rent. The Landlord and its duly authorized representatives may inspect the Tenant's books, records, leases, and other supporting data at all times during the term of this lease during normal business hours.

(e) Disputed amounts. If the Landlord is not satisfied with such statement, it shall so notify Tenant in writing within 30 days after the statement is delivered to it. Otherwise, Landlord shall be deemed to accept and approve the statement. Any dispute as to the amount of adjusted gross receipts in any lease year shall be determined by arbitration in accordance with the provisions of this lease.

(f) Separate determination. The amount of additional rent shall be determined only with respect to the particular lease year and shall be independent of any other lease year. The fact that additional rent was not payable for any lease year shall not affect or diminish the amount of additional rent which may become due in any subsequent lease year, except as to the cost of capital improvements not previously deducted. Such improvements may be carried forward to, and deducted from, the adjusted gross income of any subsequent lease year in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles approved in advance by Landlord, but such approval shall not be unreasonably withheld.

(5) Subleased rental property--additional rent based on net income--deductible and nondeductible items listed

The Tenant shall pay, as additional rent for each calendar year during the term of this lease, commencing on _____[date], a sum equal to one-third of the annual net income in excess of the following annual amounts ("minimum net income") derived by Tenant from the operation of the leased property:

During the period ending [date]	$1,000,000
During the period commencing [date], and ending [date]	1,500,000
Thereafter	1,800,000

The term "net income" for any calendar year means the net income derived by the Tenant from the leased property, determined in the following manner:

(a) Gross income. The gross income derived from the leased property shall be computed for each calendar year on an accrual basis, in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles consistently applied. Gross income shall include all income received from all sources as a result of the operation of the leased property, including all net refunds, rebates, and recoveries of items previously charged as an expense (after deducting therefrom necessary expenses incurred in recovering such items, except for refunds, rebates, or recoveries of items not previously charged or deductible as an expense). Gross income, however, shall not include the proceeds from any loan or financing, condemnation award paid to the Tenant under this lease, or proceeds from the sale of the leasehold estate created hereby. The proceeds of any insurance recovery arising from damage shall be included in gross income, but only as and when the repairs of such damage have been completed, and then only to the extent that such proceeds exceed the cost of such repairs.

(b) Deductions. All of the following items shall be deducted from the calendar year gross income described above in subparagraph (a): (1) net rent payable under this lease; (2) management fees of a managing agent, or, if the leased property is operated directly by the Tenant, an amount equal to the cost of such operation, not to exceed customary rates for management then currently paid in the area in which the property is located; (3) leasing commissions, or, if no such commission is payable in connection with the making of any lease, an amount equal to the commission that would have been payable to a broker for procuring such lease, not to exceed customary rates then currently paid in the area; (4) cost of alterations for tenants; (5) cost of capital improvements (other than alterations for tenants); (6) wages and salaries paid to building employees engaged in the operation and maintenance of the leased property, including, but not limited to, any vacation pay, hospitalization, and contributions to welfare funds under customary agreements with such employees or their representatives or required by law or governmental regulations, provided that no deduction is allowed for salaries paid to any person as an officer or member of the Tenant; (7) premiums for insurance policies required to be carried under this lease, and for all other types of insurance, including compensation insurance, deemed proper by the Tenant and which may be reasonably approved by the Landlord, to cover any hazard against which the Tenant should be insured in connection with the kind of real estate referred to herein; (8) taxes paid by the Tenant under this lease; (9) uncollectible amounts due from tenants; (10) sales taxes and other taxes paid to governmental agencies for utilities and payrolls of building employees; (11) advertising expenses in connection with offering for rent specific space in the leased property; (12) reasonable fees for legal services incurred in connection with occupancy or collection of income and for accounting services in connection with the preparation of the annual reports hereinafter required to be submitted to the Landlord; (13) interest on loans incurred in connection with and used to pay for improvements made to the leased property, together with the reasonable expenses of procuring such loans; and (14) all other necessary expenses in connection with the operation of the leased property, properly chargeable against income, and not hereinafter expressly excluded. All amounts deducted under this subparagraph (b) shall be computed on an accrual basis, in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles consistently applied.

(c) Nondeductible amounts. The following items shall not be deducted from gross income (1) depreciation, depletion, obsolescence, or amortization of the cost of, or any value attributed to, the leasehold estate created hereby; (2) taxes not payable hereunder by the Tenant; (3) additional rent payable under this lease; and (4) cost of repairs or restoration to the extent of insurance recovery.

(d) Pro rata deductions. Anything to the contrary notwithstanding, the amount of the deductions in each calendar year enumerated as items (3), (4), (5), and (6) in subparagraph (b) shall be computed as follows:

"Leasing commissions"--prorated over the terms of the respective leases.

"Cost of alterations for tenants"--prorated over the terms of the respective leases.

"Cost of capital improvements"--prorated over the useful life of such improvements or a term of ten years, whichever is less.

"Insurance premiums"--prorated over the terms of the respective policies.

(e) Cash payments. If, during any calendar year, the Tenant makes cash payments for expenses incurred during such year on account of any item specified in (3), (4), or (5) of paragraph (b) and such payments exceed the total deductions permitted under paragraph (b), plus the proceeds of any financing arranged for or in connection with such expenses, any amount which (except for this subparagraph) would otherwise have been the additional rent calculated for such calendar year under this paragraph shall be reduced by the lesser of (i) the portion of such amount which equals one-third of the excess cash payments, or (ii) such amount itself. Any remaining amount shall be paid as additional rent for such calendar year under this paragraph. One-fifth of such reduction shall be additional rent for each of the five succeeding calendar years.

(f) Annual report. The Tenant shall submit to the Landlord on or before April 1 of each year, commencing _____[date], a certified report prepared by qualified independent public accountants showing the net income, as defined herein, and the calculation, if any, specified in subparagraph (e), for the preceding calendar year. When such report is submitted, Tenant shall pay Landlord the additional rent shown to be due.

(g) Books. The Tenant shall maintain suitable books of account at its regular business office. Such books shall be available for inspection and audit by the Landlord or its agent at any reasonable time within six months after the expiration of each respective calendar year. Nothing in this paragraph or in any other portion of this lease shall be construed to imply that the relationship between the Landlord and the Tenant is other than that of landlord and tenant.

(h) Separate determinations. For purposes of calculating additional rent, each calendar year shall be regarded as independent of any other calendar year during the term of this lease, so that the amount by which the net income in any calendar year is less than the minimum net income for that year shall not be treated as a deduction or credit in computing net income or additional rent for any other calendar year.

(i) Arbitration. Any dispute in calculating additional rent shall be submitted to and determined by arbitration in New York City in accordance with the prevailing rules of the American Arbitration Association.

(6) Hotel operation--additional rent based on gross revenue from room sales

(a) Annual statement. The Tenant shall keep records on a calendar year basis, commencing _____ [date]. Within 60 days after the end of each calendar year, the Tenant shall deliver to the Landlord a statement of its profit or loss from the operation of the leased property for the preceding fiscal year. Each statement shall be prepared and certified by an independent certified public accountant in accordance with standard hotel accounting practice. If the Tenant subleases all or substantially all of the leased property, it shall submit to the Landlord a similar statement of profit and loss of the subtenant. The Tenant shall deliver to the Landlord with such statement, as overage rent, a sum equal to 20% of the amount by which "gross revenue from room sales" (as defined in paragraph (b) below) exceeds $3,000 times the average number of rooms in existence during the fiscal year. The Landlord may, during normal business hours, by giving five days' written notice to the Tenant, inspect the Tenant's books and records for the purpose of verifying any statement within three years after it is submitted. The Landlord's receipt of overage rent shall not be deemed to create any partnership or joint venture between the Landlord and the Tenant.

(b) Gross revenues. The term "gross revenue from room sales" includes, but is not limited to, rentals, service charges, or other fees charged by the Tenant or by any other person operating the leased property under or through it, for accommodations, whether residential or commercial, transient or permanent, and rentals or other charges for concessions and the use of public rooms, whether for cash or credit, and whether paid or unpaid. If the Tenant, directly or indirectly, operates or controls any business or concession at the leased property, it shall pay a fair rental for the space occupied by the business or concession and such fair rental shall be considered as part of "gross revenue from room sales."

(7) Motel operation--additional rent based on gross revenue from room rentals in excess of given volume--penalty for understating volume

(a) Average rent. In addition to the minimum rental, the Tenant shall pay to the Landlord, as overage rent for the leased property, 35 percent of the amount by which the "gross revenue from room rentals" (as defined in paragraph (b) below) in each calendar year exceeds $800,000. If the term of this lease commences other than on January 1, or terminates or expires other than on December 31, the $800,000 figure shall be appropriately prorated for the purpose of computing overage rent for the first and last year of the lease term.

(b) Gross revenues. The term "gross revenue from room rentals" includes, all rentals, service charges, or other fees charged by the Tenant or any other person operating the leased property for the use and occupancy of the 200 dwelling rooms which are part of the leased property, whether such rooms are rented for residential or commercial purposes, on a transient or permanent basis, for cash or for credit, or paid or unpaid (all risks of credit shall be borne by the Tenant). The term "gross revenue from room rentals" shall not include any revenue received by the Tenant from the operation of the restaurant, coffee shop, bar and cocktail lounge, shops, cabana club, or any other facilities in or about the leased property, whether such facilities are operated directly by the Tenant or by others on a sublease or concession basis. The Landlord shall share solely in the revenue derived from the dwelling accommodations. Computation of gross revenue from room rentals shall be made separately for each calendar year. If, at any time, the Tenant adopts a program which offers rooms under the so-called "American Plan," that is, where a single charge is made for accommodations and meals, the parties shall agree upon an allocation of such charge as between room rental and food charges, and the amount of the room rental only shall be included in "gross revenue from room rentals." If the parties cannot agree upon such allocation, the question shall be arbitrated in accordance with the provisions of this lease.

(c) Operating reports. The Tenant shall keep its records on a calendar year basis. Within 60 days after the end of each calendar year, the Tenant shall cause to be delivered to the Landlord a certified operating report, prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principals for motel operations by a certified public accountant. The report shall set forth the gross revenue from room rentals and the net operating profit derived from the operation of the leased property for such calendar year (regardless of whether the Tenant is the operator). If the report discloses that overage rent is due for the preceding calendar year, the Tenant shall deliver its check in payment of the overage rent together with the report. In addition to the foregoing annual certified operating report, the Tenant shall cause to be delivered to the Landlord, in writing, on or about the tenth day of each month during the initial or any renewal term of this lease, a written statement of gross revenue from room rentals for the preceding month, certified to be accurate by the Tenant or its authorized representative.

(d) Inspection of books. Within three years after Tenant submits any statement to it, Landlord, upon five days' written notice given to Tenant, may inspect Tenant's books and records during normal business hours for the purpose of verifying such statement. Landlord's receipt of overage rent shall not be deemed to create a partnership or joint venture between the parties or to make Landlord liable for any debts incurred by Tenant in the conduct of its business. The relationship between the parties is, and at all times shall remain, that of landlord and tenant. Landlord's acceptance of overage rent shall not be deemed a waiver of its rights to claim additional or further overage rent after a review and inspection of Tenant's books and records.

(e) Understatements; nonreporting. If Landlord's inspection of Tenant's books and records discloses that Tenant's certified operating report understated "gross revenue from room rentals," resulting in an error of $500 or more in overage rent, Tenant shall bear the reasonable cost of such inspection. If Tenant fails to have a certified operating report or statement of gross revenue delivered to Landlord at the times and in the manner provided herein, Landlord may terminate this lease by giving Tenant five days' written notice of default and of its intention to terminate. When such notice period expires, the term of this lease shall expire as fully and completely as if that were the date fixed herein for term expiration.

(8) Retail operation--additional rent based on gross sales--quarterly payments

(a) Percentage rent. In addition to the rent reserved herein, Tenant shall pay to Landlord, as an additional charge, 3 percent of the amount by which gross sales (as defined in paragraph (c) below) for each lease year exceed $75,000 ("minimum gross sales"). The first lease year shall commence on the first day of the calendar month on or after which the term of this lease commences, and shall run for 12 full calendar months thereafter. Each succeeding 12-month period shall be deemed a lease year. If Tenant commences business on other than the first day of a month, the period between such first day and the commencement date shall be included as part of the first month of the first lease year.

For any other fractional part of a lease year, Tenant shall pay 3 percent of the amount by which the gross sales for such fractional part exceed a proportionate amount of minimum gross sales (based upon the fractional part of the lease year).

(b) Payment of percentage rent. Within 15 days after the end of each calendar month during the term hereof, Tenant shall deliver to Landlord a statement, signed and certified as correct either by Tenant or its principal executive (if Tenant is a corporation). The statement shall show the gross sales for the preceding calendar month or fraction of such month, whichever applies. Tenant shall make quarterly payments of percentage rent equal to the amount by which the gross sales for that quarter exceed 1/4 of the minimum gross sales of $75,000, within 15 days after the expiration of each quarter of each lease year. Tenant, however, shall be liable for percentage rent only to the extent that the total gross sales for all quarters of that lease year exceed a proportion of minimum gross sales (of $75,000) for such year. Within 30 days after the end of each lease year, or expiration or sooner termination of this lease, Tenant shall deliver to Landlord a cumulative statement, certified by a certified public accountant, showing the gross sales made in, at, or from the demised premises for the preceding lease year, or fraction thereof as the case may be, from the end of the preceding year to the expiration or sooner termination of this lease. Such gross sales shall be the total amount of sales and excise taxes paid or payable to the state or any county or municipal authority. If Tenant has not paid Landlord the full amount of percentage rent for the period of the cumulative statement, it shall simultaneously with the delivery of such statement pay the balance. If Tenant has paid more than the required percentage rent, Landlord shall promptly refund the excess.

(c) Definition of gross sales. The term "gross sales," as used herein, includes: the entire amount charged by Tenant and any sublessee, concessionaire, licensee, or other person or corporation, for all sales of merchandise made or services rendered in, at, or from the premises, sales wherever made of merchandise stored on the premises including without limitation those made over the internet, or sales from any business conducted from the premises, regardless of whether made on a cash basis or on credit, paid or unpaid, or collected or uncollected. Gross sales also shall include deposits not refunded to customers, as well as orders, including but not limited to telephone and mail orders received at or solicited from the premises, filled on the premises or elsewhere. Gross sales shall not include the following amounts: (1) any sales or excise tax that is added to the price of a sale or service and collectible from the customer, and in turn payable by Tenant to the governmental authority imposing such tax; (2) transfers of merchandise from the premises to Tenant's other stores if made for the convenient operation of its business and not to consummate or to deprive Landlord of a sale made in or from the premises; (3) returns to Tenant's suppliers; (4) credits and refunds for returned or exchanged merchandise, and allowances for loss of or damage to merchandise sold; and (5) sales of fixtures and equipment used by Tenant in the operation of its business on the premises. Tenant may deduct from gross sales all amounts listed in (1) through (5) that were previously included in such sales.

(d) Records of gross sales. All cash sales made upon the premises shall be immediately registered on a cash register equipped with tape. The Tenant shall install and keep on the premises complete and accurate books and records of all business conducted in or from the premises, and the Landlord may examine them during regular business hours. The Tenant shall keep and preserve for at least one year after the end of each lease year, all tapes, sales slips, books, records, and other evidence of the business conducted in the premises for that lease year. All tapes shall be dated and totaled and be available for inspection. If the Landlord's audit discloses that gross sales for any lease year or part thereof have been understated by more than 3%, the Tenant shall pay for the cost of the audit. Any audit, whether spot check or complete, shall be made during regular business hours. Tenant shall not permit anyone who fails to comply with the provisions of this Article to occupy any part of the premises. However, nothing contained herein shall be deemed a consent by Landlord to any assignment, subletting, or occupancy by any one except Tenant.

(e) Operation of business. At all times on and after the commencement date of this lease, the Tenant shall keep the entire premises open for business at least 52 hours per week and conduct its business in a high class and reputable manner, with an adequate staff and full stock of merchandise. The Tenant shall not at any time during the term of this lease be or become interested or engaged, directly or indirectly, in a similar business within a radius of two miles of the premises except with respect to leases in force or signed before the date hereof.

(a) Percentage rent. In addition to the minimum annual rental, Tenant shall pay Landlord, as additional rental for each lease year, 2 percent of Tenant's gross sales in such year less Tenant's minimum annual rental. The term "lease year" means the first consecutive 12-month period beginning the first day of the first full month hereunder and each succeeding 12-month period.

(b) Gross sales. The term "gross sales" includes the gross amount of all sales made in, upon, or resulting from the conduct of any business upon the leased property, after deducting credits, allowances, and refunds from the return of merchandise by customers, refunds made in the normal course of business, and charges to customers for credit service, extension of credit, deferred payments, or layaways. Proceeds from vending machines shall not be included in gross sales, if the use of such machines does not exceed their incidental use characteristic of stores presently operated by the Tenant. No deduction from gross sales shall be made because the sale price of any article proves to be uncollectible. Gross sales shall not include any taxes paid by the Tenant or its customers.

(c) Annual statement. On or before 60 days after the close of each lease year, the Tenant shall deliver to the Landlord an annual statement showing gross sales during such year, which statement shall be verified by a duly qualified officer of the Tenant. Simultaneously with delivery of the statement, the Tenant shall pay to the Landlord the additional rental, if any, required by the provisions of this lease to be paid for any such year.

(d) Audit. The Landlord may each year examine and audit the Tenant's records, but only for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of gross sales. Such audit shall not be made more than once a year by a certified public accountant selected by the Landlord. If the Landlord wishes to audit the Tenant's records, it shall notify the Tenant and proceed with the audit within 90 days after receipt from the Tenant of the verified statement as provided in paragraph (c) above. Such statement shall be final and binding upon Landlord if it fails to exercise its right to audit within the required 90-day period. Any audit or examination by Landlord shall be at its expense. The Landlord shall keep in confidence all information furnished to it, either in the form of the statement of sales delivered by the Tenant, or any information which it might gain or gather from the examination or audit of the Tenant's books.

(10) Retail operation--graduated percentage rent based on gross sales--chain store tenant--cash register receipts

(a) Percentage rent. In addition to the minimum annual rental, Tenant shall pay Landlord, as additional rental for each lease year, the following amount: (1) 5 percent of the gross sales up to $250,000, plus 4 percent of the gross sales over $250,000 and up to $500,000, plus 3 percent of the gross sales over $500,000, less (2) the minimum rental for such lease year. Within 30 days after the expiration of each lease year, Tenant shall furnish to Landlord a statement, verified by a duly qualified officer of Tenant, setting forth the gross sales made on the leased property in such year, and simultaneously therewith pay Landlord the additional rental due for such year. The term "lease year" means the 12-month period beginning on _____ [date] of each year and ending on the following _____ [date]. The first lease year shall begin on _____ [date]. If a period at the end of this lease term is less than a full 12-month lease year, the shorter period shall be considered a separate lease year.

(b) Gross sales. The term "gross sales" means all receipts from the conduct of all business upon the leased property including, without being limited to, the gross sales of merchandise at or supplied from the leased property, whether sold for cash or on a charge or credit basis, all charges for the rendition of services on or supplied from the leased property, and all sales and business of any licensees or concessionaires operating upon the leased property. Amounts attributable to sales originally made upon the leased property and to services originally contracted for upon such property shall be included in gross sales even though payment of the bill for such sales or services is transferred to another location for collection, or deliveries pursuant to such sales or performance of such services are effected outside of the leased property. Amounts attributable to merchandise delivered or services performed upon the leased property, though contracted for elsewhere, shall be included in gross sales.

(c) Excluded receipts. In computing gross sales, a deduction shall be taken for all federal, state, or local taxes payable by the seller on the sale of merchandise or services in or from the leased property, but not for any capital stock tax, privilege tax, franchise tax, or income or similar tax based solely upon income or profits. A deduction from gross sales also may be taken for receipts from the sale on the leased property of meals to the Tenant's employees in the course of their employment, any service charge collected by the Tenant and turned over to its employees in lieu of their receiving tips or gratuities from the Tenant's patrons, and the proceeds of the sale of any of the Tenant's fixtures or store equipment used upon the leased property.

(d) Books and records. The Tenant shall maintain with respect to the business transacted in or from the leased property the same books and records as are generally kept during the lease term at its other stores. Such books and records shall be maintained at the Tenant's main office and shall be preserved for the same length of time as is the general practice with respect to the other stores. The books and records in any event shall be maintained according to generally accepted accounting principles and shall contain sufficient information to permit a calculation of gross sales. Landlord may examine all books and records of Tenant that in any way pertain to business transacted in or from the leased property. Such examination shall be during regular business hours and at Tenant's main accounting office. Landlord may also examine at the leased property all of Tenant's sales reports and other records pertaining to gross sales.

(e) Cash register records. Tenant's store on the leased property shall use tape-recording cash registers or other sales-recording devices commonly used in lieu thereof, if such other devices make a permanent written record of each sale. Tenant shall record on such cash register or other recording device all amounts received from sales of merchandise and services. Landlord may, at all times during the store's business hours, take readings of such cash register or other recording device and observe the operation of the recording of sales thereon.

(f) Landlord's examination costs. If Landlord, upon examining Tenant's books and records, discovers an error in its favor which results in there being due to it additional percentage rental of over $100, Tenant shall pay the reasonable cost of such examination.

(g) Relationship of parties. Nothing contained in this lease shall be construed to create a partnership or joint venture between the Landlord and the Tenant or between the Landlord and any other party, or cause the Landlord to be responsible in any way for the debts or obligations of the Tenant or any other party.

(11) Retail operation--additional rent based on gross sales less specified deductions--inspection of bank deposits, sales tax returns

(a) Rent. On or before the last day of February, May, August, and November respectively of each year, the Tenant shall deliver to the Landlord a statement certified as correct by a duly authorized officer or member of the Tenant, and prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles for the retail merchandising industry under the supervision of a certified public accountant. Such statement shall show in reasonable detail the amount of the gross sales (as defined in paragraph (b)) during the three-month period ended on the last day of the month preceding the month in which the statement is due ("lease quarter"). Simultaneously with the submission of each statement, Tenant shall pay Landlord, as overage rent, the following sum: (1) 3 percent of gross sales for the lease quarter, less (2) the amount of allowables plus the basic rent for the lease quarter.

NOTE:

(b) Gross sales. The term "gross sales" means the entire price charged for merchandise or services sold at the leased property by Tenant or its concessionaires, undertenants, or licensees (collectively, "Occupants"). Gross sales shall include the following:

- (1) 3% of gross sales for the lease quarter, less the aggregate of
- (2) The amount of allowables for such lease quarter, and
- (3) The basic rent for such lease quarter.

(b) Gross sales. The term "gross sales" shall mean the entire price charged for merchandise or service sold at the leased property by the Tenant or any concessionaire, undertenant, or licensee of the Tenant (hereinafter called collectively "Occupants"), and shall include the following:

- (1) Sales made wholly or partially on credit.
- (2) Sales made over the internet or resulting from telephone or mail orders received at the leased property.
- (3) Net income derived from vending machines, public telephones, or other coin-operated equipment, in lieu of the price charged for merchandise or services dispensed thereby. However, if any such equipment is operated by the Tenant or Occupants or any affiliate or other party related to or controlled by the Tenant or Occupant, the price charged for the merchandise or services dispensed thereby shall be included in lieu of net income.

(c) Accounting principles. The following principles shall at all times be applied by the Tenant in computing overage rent:

- (1) Generally accepted retail accounting principles shall be consistently applied by the Tenant in determining when sales are made.
- (2) Orders received at the leased property shall be included in gross sales even if they are filled elsewhere.
- (3) All sales shall be computed without deductions for uncollected credit accounts. However, unpaid balances of credit sales that are charged off as bad debts may be deducted from gross sales at the time of such charge-off, except that any amount later collected on account thereof shall be included in gross sales.

(d) Exclusions and deductions. The following shall be deducted from gross sales:

- (1) Sums charged separately to and collected from customers, and required by law to be paid out for any sales or compensating use tax.
- (2) Proceeds from sales of merchandise to stores or warehouses controlled by or affiliated with the Tenant or any Occupant, if such sales are made solely for the convenient operation of the Tenant or Occupant and not for the purpose of diverting sales which would otherwise be made at the leased property.
- (3) Any cash or credit refund made upon a sale which was previously included in gross sales.
- (4) Interest or other carrying charges on credit or time sales.
- (5) Amounts charged customers for mailing, delivery, alterations, or other services, if such service is rendered to the customer without profit to the vendor.

(6) Amounts received from sales of distressed, damaged, or obsolescent merchandises sold in bulk to persons other than retail customers.

(7) Amounts received from sales to employees of the Tenant or any Occupant physically present at the leased property, if such sales are at prices less than those charged customers for the same merchandise or services.

(e) Exterior maintenance and insurance. The term "allowables" means the Tenant's expenditures only for insurance premiums and exterior maintenance. Allowables with respect to exterior maintenance shall be computed on a cash basis of accounting, and shall be recognized at the time and to the extent that actual payment is made by the Tenant. With respect to insurance premiums, allowables shall be computed on an accrual accounting basis. For the purpose of computing allowables, the following rules shall apply:

(1) Insurance premiums paid by the Tenant shall be limited to the premiums paid for insurance the Tenant is required to carry under the terms of this lease or any mortgage or easement agreement to which this lease may be subject, and any insurance carried against the risk of a condemnation of the leased property for a limited period of time.

(2) Exterior maintenance shall include only (i) repairs to the foundation, roof, exterior walls, and marquee, if any, and structural members (whether or not exterior), except for repairs to any glass, windows, and doors; (ii) repairs relating to the lighting towers, drainage facilities, paving, and striping of the parking area; and (iii) snow and ice removal at the parking area. Notwithstanding any contrary provision herein, exterior maintenance shall exclude all repairs during the first 18 months after construction of the leased property is completed, except for those required as a result of Landlord's negligence. Landlord hereby assigns to Tenant, but only for this lease term, all of Landlord's right, title, and interest in and to all guarantees and warranties obtained from contractors and materialmen. Tenant may enforce such guarantees and warranties in its name or that of the Landlord.

(3) Nothing herein shall be construed in any way to relieve Tenant of its full responsibility for all repairs and maintenance relating to the leased property or for providing all required insurance coverage, or to include under allowables any repairs made necessary because of the negligent acts of Tenant or any Occupant, or its respective agents.

(f) Sales records; inspection. For a period of two years following the end of each lease year, Tenant, as long as it or any affiliate is a tenant under this lease, shall keep at its principal office, or at a location known to and approved by Landlord, all daily sheets tabulating sales of merchandise and services, receipts, and records for all allowables, and receipts and records for all items excluded from gross sales under paragraph (d) to the extent that such exclusions are not recorded in the daily sheets. At all times, the Tenant shall cause accurate cash registers, of a type which record all sales separately, to be installed at the leased property and to be utilized to record all cash sales. Such records and books, together with all records of bank deposits and copies of sales and compensating use tax reports, shall, upon five days' written notice to the Tenant, be open to inspection and audit by the Landlord and its agents at all reasonable times during ordinary business hours. The Tenant shall immediately notify the Landlord of the result of any audit of any sales and compensating use tax reports by the taxing authority, and shall submit to the Landlord any written report covering such audit. If Tenant makes any valid assignment of this lease, Landlord may thereafter require the new tenant to install and maintain any other or different record or system that is reasonably required to assure Landlord that the proper amount of overage rent is paid, if such record or systems is of a type then in common use in retail store accounting.

(g) Certified audit statements. The Tenant shall submit to the Landlord, within 60 days following the end of each lease year, a statement showing the computation of the overage rent, prepared in accordance with generally accepted retail merchandising accounting practices under the supervision of a certified public accountant, certified as correct by such accountant and by a duly authorized officer of the Tenant. The certification by the certified public accountant may be based upon spot verifications in lieu of a complete audit. Such statement shall show in reasonable detail the amount of gross sales made by the Tenant and all Occupants, and the amount of the allowables during the preceding lease year.

Similar certified audit statements shall be submitted to the Landlord within 60 days following the expiration or termination of the term of this lease, covering the preceding or fractional lease year. None of the following acts or omissions by Landlord shall bar it from collecting, at any time within five years after such act or omission, the correct overage rent due for any period: the receipt of any statement; the acceptance of any payment of overage rent; or the failure to make an audit. If an audit of Tenant's records reveals a deficiency in any payment of overage rent, Tenant shall pay the deficiency. However, if the deficiency exceeds 5 percent of the correct overage rent for the lease year, Tenant shall also pay interest of 18 percent per annum on the deficiency, starting on the date the payment should have been made, plus Landlord's expense for the audit.

(h) Relationship of parties. Nothing contained in this lease shall be deemed or construed to create a partnership or joint venture between the Landlord and the Tenant or between the Landlord and any other party, or cause the Landlord to be responsible in any way for the debts or obligations of the Tenant or any other party. The only relationship hereunder is solely that of landlord and tenant.

(12) Tenant's obligation to conduct business during specified hours

The Tenant shall operate the leased property for the uses and purposes for which it is let continuously throughout the year, and shall conduct and operate its business therein during each business day from the hours of 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. The Tenant shall keep the leased property reasonably stocked with merchandise, and reasonably staffed to serve customers, comparable to stores doing a similar business in the vicinity of such property. The Tenant is not required to operate its business on Sundays or legal holidays, nor during any time while such operations must be suspended because of casualty loss to the building, strike, insurrection, or other cause beyond the Tenant's control.

(13) Experimental minimum--subject to upward adjustment after period of operation

(a) The Tenant shall pay the Landlord, as rental for the demised premises, the following:

(1) A minimum rental of $24,000 per annum, payable in equal monthly installments in advance on the first day of each calendar month of the term without any set-off or deduction; plus

(2) The amount by which (i) Tenant's first $300,000 of gross sales made in or from the demised premises during each lease year, plus 7 percent of such sales over $300,000 and up to $500,000, plus 6 percent of such sales over $500,000, exceed (ii) the minimum rental for such year.

The minimum rental in (1) above shall be subject to the following adjustments:

(i) Within 45 days after the end of the first three annual periods in the term commencing with the date Tenant's demised premises are open for business (each such annual period is the "adjusting year"), during which the business has been operated without substantial interruption because of fire or other hazard, Tenant shall submit to Landlord a statement setting forth the amount of gross sales made in or upon the demised premises during each such adjusting year. This statement shall be duly certified in the same manner as provided herein with respect to the annual statement of gross sales.

(ii) Beginning with the day following the expiration of the third of such first three full adjusting years, and continuing for the remainder of the term, the minimum rental per annum shall be the greater of the following: (a) $24,000; or (b) 80 percent of the average for such three adjusting years of the gross sales made in the demised premises during each such year, determined as follows: 8 percent of the first $300,000 of such sales, plus 7 percent of such sales over $300,000 and up to $500,000, plus 6 percent of such sales over $500,000.

(iii) Pending determination of the adjusted minimum rental under this paragraph, and subject to such adjustment, the minimum rental shall be $24,000 per annum, as provided in paragraph (1).

(iv) If the change in the minimum rental under this paragraph occurs on other than the first day of the calendar month, the minimum rental for that month shall be equitably prorated between the old minimum rental, i.e., the rental from such first day through the day immediately preceding the change, and the new minimum rental, i.e., the rental for the balance of the month.

(14) Additional rent based on gross sales, with credit for net lease payments--self-implementing provision for gross sales determination when business operation interrupted

(a) Rent. The Tenant shall pay to the Landlord, without notice, demand, or set-off, an annual basic rent in equal monthly installments in advance on the first day of each calendar month wherever the Landlord designates in writing.

(b) Basic rent. For the purpose of this lease, the annual basic rent means the sum of the following:

(1) The yearly real property taxes, assessments, and governmental charges and levies, assessed or imposed upon the whole of the land and building wherein the demised premises are situate (separately payable, however, in the manner set forth below).

(2) One-tenth of Landlord's cost, not to exceed $10,000, of making alterations to the demised premises ("cost of construction").

(3) The annual interest charges incurred by the Landlord as set forth in the original commitment relating to the loan of moneys to cover the cost of construction.

(4) The annual premium required to keep the building of which the demised premises are a part insured against loss or damage by fire with extended coverage (Landlord being responsible for obtaining such insurance).

(5) The amount of $12,000.

(c) Additional rent. In addition to the annual basic rent, Tenant shall pay Landlord for each lease year annual "additional rent." Such additional rent shall be determined in the following manner:

(1) By first ascertaining the amount representing 4 percent of the Tenant's gross sales for the lease year in question.

(2) By then determining the annual basic rent for such year, less a deduction for any abnormal increase in fire insurance premiums attributable to Tenant's operations on the demised premises ("adjusted annual basic rent").

(3) By subtracting the adjusted annual basic rent determined in step (2) from the amount in step (1) ("additional rent").

(4) If all or part of Tenant's operations on the demised premises are interrupted for any reason within its control, gross sales for the interrupted lease year shall be calculated by using as a base gross sales for the corresponding period of the prior lease year, adjusted to reflect any annual increment, or, if no corresponding period is available, by using as a base the gross sales of the short period immediately preceding the interruption.

(d) Gross sales. Gross sales mean the total dollar value of all sales of merchandise and all revenues of every kind and character derived from, arising out of, or payable on account of the business and all business transactions conducted on the demised premises by the Tenant or for its account, both for cash and on credit, including all orders for merchandise taken or sold at or from the demised premises, including orders taken over the internet.

(e) Statements. Lease year means a period of 12 calendar months, beginning on the first day of this lease term or on any anniversary date thereof. Tenant shall keep a full and accurate set of books adequately showing the amount of gross sales in each lease year and, within 30 days after the close of each quarter-year, shall furnish the Landlord a verified statement certified by a certified public accountant setting forth the Tenant's gross sales from business conducted on the demised premises during the preceding quarter-year. Within 30 days after the close of each lease year, the Tenant shall furnish the Landlord a verified statement certified by a certified public accountant setting forth the Tenant's gross sales from business conducted on the demised premises during the preceding lease year and showing the amount of additional rent required to be paid by the Tenant for such year. Concurrently with the delivery of such yearly statement, the Tenant shall pay any required additional rent. The Landlord and its duly authorized representatives may inspect the Tenant's books, records, and supporting data at all times during the lease year during normal business hours. The Tenant shall keep such books, records, and supporting data at a convenient place during the entire lease term.

(15) Additional rent in lieu of percentage rent if tenant fails to open for business

In the event that the Landlord notifies the Tenant that the Leased Premises are available for occupancy and the Tenant fails to take possession and to open the Leased premises for business fully fixtured, stocked and staffed within one hundred twenty (120) days thereafter, then the Landlord shall have, in addition to any and all remedies herein provided, the right at its option to collect not only the Minimum Rent, but also Additional Rent at the rate of $_____ per day for each and every day that the Tenant shall fail to commence to do business as herein provided. Such Additional Rent shall be deemed to be in lieu of any Annual Percentage Rent that might have been earned during such period of the Tenant's failure to open.

(16) Disclaimer of partnership status

No term, provision, or condition of this lease shall be construed to create a partnership or joint venture between Landlord and Tenant, or in any manner to make Landlord liable for Tenant's debts, defaults, obligations, or losses.

FORM 23.33 Rent adjustment

A percentage rental arrangement is only one method of adjusting rent in order to reflect business and economic fluctuations. Another method is to express the economic variable in terms of the consumer price index. Or the rent adjustment can be made to depend on fairly narrow factors, such as the increase in labor costs incurred by the landlord in the operation of his building. In many leases increases in real estate taxes are passed on to the tenant in the form of rent adjustments. In long-term net leases, protection against an inflationary trend may be obtained by an overage rent clause. Generally, the gross amounts of the subrent collected at the commencement of the term of the net lease is the base rent upon which the overage rent is computed. All of these methods are designed to permit periodic rent increases during the term of any particular lease.

A technique which is not sensitive to periodic changes but which can reflect the sum total of all changes during an extended period is the appraisal procedure. The objective in this procedure is to insure the landlord a fair return by fixing the rent at a predetermined percentage of the value of his property as appraised at prescribed intervals. These are generally long-term intervals, partly because appraisal procedures are expensive, but primarily because the parties are usually concerned only with substantial changes in the values.

(1) Consumer price index

(a) Rent. Tenant shall pay Landlord, at the address specified herein or furnished hereunder, a net annual rental ("net rent"), as follows:

(1) For the 20-year period from [date] through [date], $100,000 per annum.

(2) For each lease year of any extended term hereunder, $100,000 per annum, plus any additional amount that is sufficient to give Landlord for each year during such extended term a total net rent equal to the purchasing power of $100,000 during [date].

(b) Computation. Within 30 days after its publication and issuance, Landlord shall deliver to the Tenant a true copy of the Consumer Price Index (the "Index"), for New York, New York, for all items of the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the United States Department of Labor for the month ending _____ [date], (the "base month"), for the month ending _____ [date], and for the corresponding month in each subsequent lease year. If the Index for the month of _____ [date], and for each corresponding month in each subsequent lease year shows a decrease in the purchasing power of $100,000 as compared, in each such case, to the Index for the month ending _____ [date], the Landlord, as soon as possible after the delivery of each Index subsequent to the Index for the base month, shall furnish the Tenant with the computation of any additional amount, to be paid by the Tenant for the lease year in question. Such additional amount shall be divided and paid in 12 equal monthly installments during each such lease year. Pending the determination of any additional amount to be paid by it, Tenant shall continue to pay net rent of $100,000 per annum. When the additional amount is determined, Tenant, on the first day of the month immediately after Landlord furnishes Tenant with such computation, shall pay Landlord all elapsed installments from the commencement of the lease year in question up to and including the first day of such month.

(c) Substitution. If, at the time required for the determination of the additional rent, the Index is no longer published or issued, or either the Landlord or the Tenant believes that the Index does not accurately reflect, in relationship to the base date, the purchasing power of $100,000, the parties shall use any other index that is then generally recognized and accepted for similar determinations of purchasing power. If the parties are unable to agree on the selection of an index that would most accurately carry out their intent, or if there is a dispute regarding the computation of the additional rent provided herein, the issue shall be determined by arbitration as provided for in this lease.

(2) Rent adjustment during renewal term--consumer price index--another form

(a) Renewal rent. If the Tenant exercises its option to extend the term of this lease, its fixed rent during the extended term shall be $50,000 per annum plus any increase as determined in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (b) below.

(b) Rent adjustment. (1) As promptly as practicable after the end of the initial ten-year term of this lease, the Landlord shall compute any increase in the cost of living for the preceding ten-year period based upon the "Revised Consumers Price Index--Cities (1967 = 100)" (the "Index"), published by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the United States Department of Labor.

(2) The "base Index number" shall be the Index number indicated for the City of Philadelphia, entitled "all items," for the month of [date]. The "current Index number" shall be the corresponding Index number for the month of [date].

(3) The current Index number shall be divided by the base Index number, and the integer 1 shall be subtracted from such quotient. Any resulting positive number shall be deemed to be the percentage of increase in the cost of living.

(4) The increase referred to in subdivision (a) above shall be determined by multiplying the percentage of increase by $50,000.

(5) Landlord shall give Tenant notice of any such increase within a reasonable time after obtaining the necessary data for computing it. Landlord's computation shall be conclusive and binding, but shall not preclude any adjustment that may be required by a published amendment of the index figures upon which such computation was based unless Tenant notifies Landlord of any claimed error therein within 60 days after such notice is given. Any dispute between the parties as to any such computation shall be resolved by arbitration.

(c) Rent payment. The fixed rent, as determined above (i.e., $50,000 plus the "increase" calculated in accordance with paragraphs (1) through (4) of subdivision (b)), shall be due and payable to Landlord in equal monthly installments, commencing with the first month of the extended term of this lease. Any retroactive payments then due shall be payable within five days after the above provided notice is given. If there is any subsequent redetermination of such amount, the parties shall promptly make the indicated adjustment.

(d) Substituted index. If publication of the Consumers Price Index is discontinued, the parties shall accept comparable statistics on the cost of living for the City of Philadelphia, as such statistics are computed and published by a federal agency or by a recognized financial periodical selected by the parties or by arbitration. If comparable statistics are used in place of the Consumers Price Index, or if the Index figure is published at non-monthly intervals, the method of computation shall include all revisions required to carry out the intent of this Article. If such adjustment is disputed by the parties, the matter shall be resolved by arbitration.

(3) Consumer price index--reduction in mortgage payments

(a) Basic rent. The Tenant shall pay the Landlord a rental (the "basic rent"), of $48,000 per annum, in equal payments of $4,000 on the first day of each month in advance.

(b) Overage rent. Commencing in _____[date], in each year in which the National Consumer Price Index, for the month of July, published by the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics, shows a rise of more than 10% in the cost of living index for New York City over the level of such cost of living index in _____[date], the Tenant shall pay the Landlord, as overage rent, such percentage of the basic rent as is proportional to the rise in such index from its level for _____[date], to its level for July of such later year. All overage rent shall be due and payable within 20 days after the Landlord notifies the Tenant of the level of the index and of the amount of overage rent payable. The receipt by the Landlord of overage rent shall not be deemed to create any partnership or joint venture between the parties.

(c) Refinancing. If Landlord refinances any mortgage on the leased property to which this lease is subordinate, or places a new mortgage thereon, and such action results in a reduction of the total annual requirements for mortgage interest and amortization, the basic rent shall be reduced by 40 percent of the difference between the total annual requirements for interest and amortization under the prior mortgages and the requirements under the refinanced or new mortgage. The reduced basic rent shall commence with the month following the month in which the refinancing is effected or the new mortgage is placed, and continue so long as this lease remains in force.

(d) Mortgage liquidation. Upon liquidation of the mortgages to which this lease may be subordinate, the annual basic rent shall be immediately reduced by $8,000, which shall include the aggregate annual amount of all prior reductions in basic rent under paragraph (c). However, if such mortgages have been liquidated by Landlord's lump-sum payment, the annual basic rent shall not be so reduced at the time of liquidation. In that event, the annual basic rent in effect before the liquidation shall continue until the liquidated mortgages would have been fully paid by the regular rule of amortization, at which time such rent shall be reduced by $8,000.

(e) Minimum rent. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the annual basic rent shall not be less than $40,000.

(4) Labor cost fluctuation

(a) Rent adjustment. If the Adjusted Labor Rate is greater or less than the Base Labor Rate, the annual fixed rent shall be increased or decreased, as the case may be, as of the date of such change in the Labor Rate. The amount of such adjustment shall be one and one-half cents times the number of square feet in the leased property for each 1%, or fraction thereof, by which the Adjusted Labor Rate exceeds, or is less than, the Base Labor Rate. The Landlord, promptly after the effective date of any such change, shall furnish the Tenant with a statement thereof, and all subsequent monthly installments of fixed rent shall reflect one-twelfth of the annual amount of such adjustment. If such statement is furnished to the Tenant after the effective date of the change, Tenant shall pay Landlord, or vice versa, as the case may be, an amount equal to the portion of such adjustment allocable to that part of the Lease Year that has elapsed prior to the first day of the calendar month immediately following the calendar month in which such statement was furnished.

(b) Labor rate. The term "Labor Rate" means one-half of the combined total of the regular hourly wage rate paid to porters and to cleaners in Class A Office Buildings (i.e., an office building that has a square-foot rentable area of over 280,000 square feet).

(c) Base labor rate. The term "Base Labor Rate" means the Labor Rate in effect after the most recent change in the Labor Rate for which an adjustment in rent is to be made.

(d) Adjusted labor rate. The term "Adjusted Labor Rate" means the Labor Rate in effect after the most recent change in the Labor Rate for which an adjustment in rent is to be made.

(5) Labor cost increase

If the cost of labor employed in the operation of the building of which the demised premises form a part increases during any year of this lease above the labor cost for the first lease year, Tenant's rental for each later year shall be increased by .005 percent of the labor cost increase. Tenant shall pay the amount of such increase as additional rent for that year, within five days after it receives a written statement thereof from Landlord.

(6) Labor cost increase--another form

(a) Rent adjustment. Commencing with the lease year beginning _____ [date], and for each later lease year in which Landlord's operating expenses exceed the base rate (as defined below), Tenant shall pay as additional rent, within 90 days after the end of such year, 2.5 percent of the excess.

(b) Base rate. The term "base rate" means the operating expenses incurred by the Landlord during the lease year ending _____ [date] (the "base period").

(c) Operating expenses. Operating expenses shall include the following:

(1) Wages, salaries, or other compensation for the following classes of employees or agents of the Landlord performing services rendered solely in connection with the operation of the Building (but not including leasing commissions paid to its agents):

(A) Management fees of the Building's managing agent. If there is no managing agent, the owner-manager's management fees shall be deemed to equal the prevailing fees for managing a building similar to the one in which the demised premises are located in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, in the year [year].

(B) Elevator starters and assistant starters.

(C) Window cleaners, porters, janitors, cleaners, dusters, sidewalk shovelers, and miscellaneous handymen.

(D) Watchmen, caretakers, and persons engaged in patrolling and protecting the Building.

(E) Carpenters, engineers, mechanics, electricians, plumbers, and persons engaged in the operation of the Building's heating, air-conditioning, ventilating, plumbing, electrical, and elevator systems.

(2) The uniforms of employees specified in (B), (C), (D), and (E) of subdivision (1) and the cleaning and pressing thereof.

(3) Repairs to and physical maintenance of the Building and the cost of supplies and equipment used in connection therewith.

(4) Premiums and other charges incurred by the Landlord with respect to the following insurance on the Building:

(A) Fire and extended coverage insurance, including windstorm, hail, explosion, riot, rioting attending a strike, civil commotion, aircraft, vehicle, and smoke insurance.

(B) Public liability insurance.

(C) Elevator insurance.

(D) Workmen's compensation insurance for the employees specified in (A), (B), (C), (D), and (E) of subdivision (1), except employees of the managing agent if other than the owner-manager.

(E) Boiler, sprinkler leakage, water damage, and pilferage insurance on the Building equipment and materials.

(F) Health, accident, and group life insurance on employees enumerated in (A), (B), (C), (D), and (E) of subdivision (1), except employees of the managing agent, if carried during the base period.

(G) Insurance, except rent insurance and war damage insurance and rent or use and occupancy or rental value insurance, not carried during the base period but which the holder of any mortgage affecting the Building or the Building and the Land might in the future require to be carried under the terms of such mortgage, but only to the extent of the excess of its cost over the cost that would have been incurred for it if it had been carried during the base period.

(5) Costs incurred for fuel or other energy for heating the Building and operating the air-conditioning system, and for electricity, steam, or other power required in connection with the operation of the Building.

(6) Costs incurred in connection with inspection and servicing of elevator, electrical distribution, and air-conditioning, and cost of supplies and equipment used in connection therewith.

(7) Water charges and sewer rents.

(8) Payroll taxes, federal and state unemployment taxes, and social security taxes payable in connection with the employment of any of the employees specified in (A), (B), (C), (D), and (E) of subdivision (1), except employees of the managing agent if other than the owner-manager.

(9) Sales and excise taxes on goods and services provided by the Landlord to properly manage, operate, or maintain the Building and equipment.

(d) Occupancy adjustment. If, in the base period, the Building is not fully occupied during the entire year, the base rate shall be corrected to reflect operating expenses for a fully occupied Building, for the entire year, by projecting the actual operating expenses per square foot of occupied rentable area in the Building to cover periods when there is less than full occupancy.

(e) Statements. Within 60 days after the expiration of the period, the Landlord shall furnish the Tenant with a statement, certified by a certified public accountant, setting forth in reasonable detail the base rate for such period. Within 60 days after the expiration of each lease year thereafter, the Landlord will furnish the Tenant with a comparative statement, certified by a certified public accountant, of the operating expenses for such year, together with the Landlord's statement for any additional rent due under this Article. The Landlord shall make available to the Tenant for its examination and inspection all books and records that relate to or have any bearing upon the base rate for the base year and on operating expenses for any subsequent year, and make extracts of such books and records at the Tenant's expense. The payment of any additional rent under this Article without such examination and inspection shall not be deemed a waiver of any error revealed by a subsequent examination and inspection for the year for which payment has been made. If, in respect to any subsequent lease year for which additional rent may be currently payable, the books and records are not made promptly available upon demand by the Tenant, any additional rent for that year shall not be deemed due and payable earlier than 30 days after such demand is honored.

(7) Building constructed by landlord--cost exceeding specified amount

If the cost of construction exceeds $3,000,000, the annual minimum rental provided for in this lease shall be increased by 5% of the cost in excess of $3,000,000.

(8) Rent adjustment--area of leased property more or less than specified Annual fixed rent set forth in this Lease is based on a rate of $8.75 per square foot, and the Demised Premises contains 230,954 square feet of rentable area. If the Demised Premises is re-measured by either Landlord or Tenant following the execution of this Lease, but in no event later than 12 months following the Rent Commencement Date, using the most current Building Owners and Managers ("BOMA") standard and such re-measurement results in a rentable area of other than 230,954 square feet, the fixed rent payable under this Lease shall be adjusted to reflect the differential and the parties shall promptly enter into an appropriate amendment of lease to set forth the rental adjustment.

(9) Increases in taxes and operating expenses--annual tenant credit

I. Rent adjustment for taxes.

(a) Definitions. For purposes of this section I:

1. "Taxes" mean the real estate taxes and assessments and special assessments imposed upon the Building and/or the Land by any governmental bodies or authorities. If, at any time during the term of this Lease, the methods of taxation prevailing at the term commencement are altered so that in lieu of, or as an addition to or substitute for, all or any part of the taxes, assessments, levies, impositions or charges now levied, assessed or imposed on real estate and the improvements thereof, there are levied, assessed and imposed (i) a tax, assessment, levy or otherwise on the rents received therefrom, (ii) a license fee measured by the rent payable by Tenant to Landlord, or (iii) any other such additional or substitute tax, assessment, levy, imposition or charge, all such taxes, assessments, levies, impositions or charges or the part thereof so measured or based shall be deemed to be included within the term "Taxes."

2. "Base Tax" means Taxes for the fiscal period of [date] to [date].

3. "Tax Year" means the fiscal year for which Taxes are levied by the governmental authority.

4. "Tenant's Proportionate Share" shall be 43.5% subject, however, to adjustment under any applicable provisions of this lease.

(b) Additional rent, taxes.

1. If the Taxes for any Tax Year exceed the Base Tax, Tenant shall pay, as additional rent for such year, an amount equal to its Proportionate Share of the excess amount (the "Tax Payment"). The Tax Payment shall be prorated, if necessary, to correspond with that portion of a Tax Year occurring within this Lease term. Tenant shall make the Tax Payment at the same time as Landlord makes its payments to the taxing authority or mortgagee, as the case may be, and within ten days after Tenant receives the Landlord's demand therefor. Landlord's demand shall be accompanied by a copy of the tax bill and its computations of the Tax Payment.

2. If the Tax Base is reduced as a result of an appropriate proceeding, Landlord may adjust the amount of Tenant's Tax Payment for any Tax Year in which it is or was obligated to make such payment. Tenant shall pay such adjustment on the rental installment day immediately following receipt of a rent statement from Landlord setting forth the adjustment amount.

(c) Tax refunds. If Landlord receives a refund for any Tax Year in which Tenant has made a Tax Payment, it shall repay Tenant's Proportionate Share of such refund after deducting therefrom the expenses, to be allocated to all of the Tax Years involved, of obtaining such refund. If Landlord effects a reduction in the assessed valuation, thus reducing the Tax Payment that would otherwise be payable by Tenant, Tenant shall pay, upon Landlord's demand, Tenant's Proportionate Share of the expenses of obtaining such reduction of assessed value.

(d) Partial tax years. Landlord's statement shall adjust the additional rent due hereunder for any period at the expiration hereof that constitutes a partial Tax Year. Tenant's obligation for such additional rent for the partial tax year shall survive the expiration of this Lease term.

II. Rent adjustment for operating expenses.

(a) Additional rent for operating expenses. In any calendar year during the term of this Lease ("Comparison Year") in which the expenses for maintaining and operating the Building of which the Demised Premises are a part (as such expenses are defined below) are increased over the amount thereof for the calendar year _____ [date] ("Base Year"), Tenant shall pay, as additional rent, an amount equal to Tenant's proportionate Share (as defined above) of such increase in the expenses for maintaining and operating the Building. Such amount shall be payable in equal monthly installments during this Lease term.

(b) Definition. For the Base Year and for each Comparison Year, the term "expenses for maintaining and operating the Building" shall mean (i) those expenses incurred during such year for the operation and maintenance of the Building in accordance with accepted principles of sound management and accounting practice as applied to the operation and maintenance of first class buildings of the type involved, including, without limitation, (1) sewer rents or charges, electricity (for the common areas of the Building only) and premiums for insurance carried by Landlord plus (2) those additional expenses which Landlord would have so incurred during such year had the Building been 100% occupied. Such expenses shall not include (i) expenses for any capital improvements made to the Land or Building, including without limitation replacement costs of building fixtures, equipment, and facilities; (ii) expenses for painting, redecorating, or other work which Landlord performs for Tenant or for any other tenants in the Building (such expenses for maintaining and operating the Building shall, however, include the costs of other work in public areas which is standard for the Building and the proportionate cost of painting and redecorating in such public areas which is done at intervals); (iii) expenses for repairs or other work caused by fire, windstorm, or other casualty; (iv) expenses incurred in leasing or procuring new tenants (including lease commissions, advertising expenses, and expenses of renovating space for new tenants); (v) legal expenses in enforcing the terms of any lease; (vi) interest or amortization payments on any mortgage or mortgages and rental under any ground or underlying lease or leases; and (vii) all cleaning costs except with respect to the common areas on the ground floor.

(c) Partial year adjustment. In addition to the rental adjustments provided for hereunder, if the term of this Lease shall terminate on a date other than December 31st, then for the fractional portion of such calendar year at the end of this Lease, the rent for such period shall be adjusted at the same rate as the rent for the Comparison Year immediately preceding such calendar year. The adjustment for such period shall be made when Landlord shall render its statement for the last monthly installment of the fixed rent payable under this Lease, or if that is not reasonably feasible, as soon thereafter as is reasonably feasible. This obligation for the fractional portion of the Comparison Year in which this Lease terminates shall survive the termination of this lease.

(d) Statement. Landlord shall furnish Tenant with statements of Tenant's pro rata share of expenses for maintaining and operating the Building, which Tenant is required to pay as additional rent as provided above, as soon as reasonably feasible during the calendar year following the first Comparison Year and each Comparison Year thereafter, except as otherwise provided in subparagraph (c) for any fractional period at the end of this Lease. After Landlord renders such statement, however, it may send a corrected statement to Tenant. In that event, all time limits specified below shall date from when such corrected statement is rendered.

(e) Payment of adjustment. Tenant's payment of any increase in rent under the provisions of this Section II shall be made as follows: On the first day for the payment of rent under this Lease which is at least ten days after the delivery to Tenant of a statement for the Comparison Year: (1) Tenant shall pay to Landlord a sum equal to one-twelfth of Tenant's Proportionate Share of such increase multiplied by the number of months then elapsed commencing with January 1st of the preceding Comparison Year (except as otherwise modified by subparagraph (c) hereof, for fractional periods); and (2) thereafter, until the next Comparison Year statement is rendered, the monthly installments of rent payable under this Lease shall be increased by an amount equal to one-twelfth of Tenant's Proportionate Share of such increase. Any adjustment required under subparagraph (f) shall be made within 20 days after the decision requiring such adjustment has been rendered by the certified public accountants and a copy thereof delivered to each party.

(f) Dispute settlement. Any statement rendered by Landlord under this Article shall be final and binding upon the parties. However, Tenant, by giving written notice thereof to Landlord within 120 days after the delivery of such statement, may dispute any time involving the expenses for maintaining and operating the Building, or the additional expenses which would have been incurred had the Building been 100% occupied, upon which such statement is based. If Tenant gives such notice and the dispute is not settled within 60 days thereafter, Landlord's statement shall become final and binding on Tenant unless, within such 60 day-period, either party refers the disputed item or items to an independent firm of certified public accountants designated by Landlord and, if requested in writing by Tenant, to another independent firm of certified public accountants selected by Tenant, for decision by arbitration to be held in New York City. If the two firms are unable to reach an agreement, they shall select a third firm of independent certified public accountants as an additional arbitrator. If they are unable to agree on a third arbitrator, the selection shall be made under the provisions of the governing New York arbitration law.

The decision of a majority of such firms shall be conclusive and binding upon Landlord and Tenant. The expenses involved in such determination shall be borne by the party against whom the decision is rendered by the accountants.

III. Tenant credit against rent adjustments.

Notwithstanding any contrary provision in Sections I and II of this Article, in each 12-month period throughout the original 15-year term of this lease, the first $70,000 of additional rent payable under Sections I and II shall be forgiven by Landlord and in fact not be payable by Tenant. If, in any such 12-month period the Tenant is obligated to pay less than $70,000 as additional rental under Sections I and II, it may deduct the difference between $70,000 and the additional rent so payable from the next installment(s) of fixed rent payable under the lease. Such $70,000 annual credit will be proportionately increased, if, as and when the Tenant elects to lease additional space in the Building, such increase to be effective on the date the Tenant takes possession of such additional space.

(10) Rent on renewal--appraisal and arbitration

(a) Renewal rent. If the Tenant exercises the option for a renewal term under the provisions of this lease, and the parties have not agreed in writing at least six months before the expiration of the initial term upon the amount of the fixed annual rent to be paid during the renewal term, the fixed annual rent shall be 6% of the value of the land on the date three months prior to the conclusion of the initial term. Such value shall be determined by arbitration as provided in subparagraph (b). The fixed annual rent shall not be less than $50,000 during the renewal term.

(b) Arbitration of value. If the value of the land must be ascertained under subparagraph (a), each party shall appoint an arbitrator within 30 days after written notice of the dispute or after notice of the necessity for arbitration, and shall advise the other party of the choice. If either party fails to appoint an arbitrator within ten days after notification of the appointment by the other party, the person appointed as arbitrator may appoint an arbitrator to represent the party in default. The two arbitrators appointed in either manner shall then appraise the land. If they are unable to do so, they may select a third arbitrator, and an award by two of the three arbitrators shall be binding upon the parties. If the two arbitrators are unable to agree on a third arbitrator, he shall be appointed by the Presiding Justice of the Appellate Division of the Second Department. Each party shall pay one-half of the arbitrators' expenses and reasonable fees, and both shall be bound by the arbitrators' award. Each arbitrator shall be a real estate broker and have at least 15 years' experience in appraising real estate or acting as brokers of real estate in New York State.

(11) Adjustment of excessive rent disallowed by Internal Revenue Service--related parties

If the Internal Revenue Service disallows any rental paid hereunder by Tenant to Landlord as excessive and not a proper deduction for federal income tax purposes, by reason of the relationship of the parties, a reallocation of tax items, or otherwise, the Landlord shall refund to the Tenant the amount of rental disallowed upon proof that the Tenant has paid a tax deficiency in such amount.

FORM 23.34 Taxes paid by tenant

COMMENT

Many leases shift the burden of taxes to the tenant, even though they do not qualify as "net" leases. The primary reason for this is the refusal of a landlord to assume the risk of periodic tax increases while the rent to the tenant remains constant. Instead of passing on the entire obligation to the tenant, the agreement may require the tenant to pay only the excess over taxes levied during a specific base period. Where there are several tenants occupying one taxable unit, the burden is allocated among them usually on the basis of relative rent payments or floor space occupancy.

Tenant tax payments:

The usual tax clause encompasses the ad valorem property tax, and frequently, it also covers water and sewer charges as well as special assessments. Specifically excluded are income or franchise taxes of the landlord. Since the burden is shifted to the tenant many of these clauses permit the tenant to contest the tax assessment and to delay payment of the tax pending the outcome of the protest. Some form of additional security is often provided to protect the landlord while payment is being withheld. In some cases, even in the absence of a contest, the tenant is required to make advance periodic deposits to create a fund for the tax payment when it becomes due.

Tax escalation clause:

Generally, a tax escalation clause provides that a tenant is to pay all or a portion of the tax increases over the "base year." Usually, the base year is the fiscal tax year in which the lease commences. If the property to be leased is under construction, the lease could provide that the base year is the tax year following the year of commencement of the lease. This avoids the problem of taxes assessed in the base year without taking into consideration the full value of the building. Usually, the building will not be assessed for taxes until construction is completed. The fact that different tax authorities, i.e., municipality, county, school district, etc., have different tax years should also be taken into consideration in defining the base tax year. In addition to the tenant's right to contest the assessed valuation or amount of tax, the provision should allow for downward adjustment or refund to the tenant if the tax contest is successful, after payment of expenses.

Tax aspects:

Taxes of the landlord paid by the tenant are taxable as rent to the landlord and are deductible by the tenant if the rental property is used by the tenant for business purposes or for the production of income. However, the landlord has an offsetting deduction for such amounts. By specific statutory provision, income taxes of the lessor paid by the lessee are income to the lessor. This includes any pyramided taxes which may result from a lessee's obligation to bear the full burden of any income taxes imposed upon the additional income realized from the payment of such taxes. Special assessments for improvements are capital expenditures which are amortizable by the tenant over the term of the lease. For a more detailed discussion concerning the tax consequences of the lessee's payments of the lessor's expenses, see the Tax Background § 23.03, at the beginning of this chapter.

FORMS

(1) Payment of taxes and assessments--proration in first and last years

The Tenant, in addition to the fixed rent, shall pay all taxes and assessments upon the leased property, and upon the buildings and improvements thereon, which are assessed during the lease term. All taxes assessed prior to but payable in whole or in installments after the effective date of the lease term, and all taxes assessed during the term but payable in whole or in installments after the lease term, shall be adjusted and prorated, so that the Landlord shall pay its prorated share for the periods preceding and following the lease term and the Tenant shall pay its prorated share for the lease term.

(2) Payment of all taxes except as specifically excluded--proof of payment by tenant

(a) Additional rent. The Tenant shall pay as additional rent, before any fine, penalty, interest, or cost is added for its nonpayment, all real estate taxes, assessments, water rates and water charges, and other governmental levies and charges, whether general or special, ordinary or extraordinary, or foreseen or unforeseen, which are assessed or imposed upon all or part of the leased property, or become payable during this lease term.

(b) Excluded taxes. Nothing in this lease shall require the Tenant to pay any franchise, corporate, estate, inheritance, succession, capital levy, or transfer tax of the Landlord, any income, profits, or revenue tax, or any other tax, assessment, charge, or levy upon the rent payable by Tenant hereunder. However, if at any time during the term hereof this state or one of its political subdivisions assesses a tax on rents against Landlord or the basic rent, as a whole or partial substitution for taxes assessed by it on land or buildings, such tax shall be included within the amount which the Tenant is required to pay under this article.

(c) Tax receipts. The Tenant shall furnish to the Landlord for its inspection, within 30 days after the date any amount is payable by the Tenant, as provided in this article, official receipts of the appropriate taxing authority or other proof satisfactory to the Landlord evidencing payment.

(3) Payment of all increases in taxes above present specified amount--payment of special assessments--effect of increase in assessed valuation

The Tenant shall pay all increases in the taxes assessed and levied against the leased property above the present tax of $40,000 per annum during the term of this lease, whether such increase results from a higher tax rate or an increase in the assessed valuation of the leased property, or both. The Tenant shall also pay any special assessment imposed upon the property for any purpose during such term.

(4) Payment of portion of increase in taxes--specific percentage

The Tenant shall pay as additional rent one-half of one percent of any increase in real estate taxes exceeding those payable for the fiscal year _____[date] which may be imposed upon the property of which the leased premises form a part, in each and every year during the period of this lease, commencing from the lease year _____[date]. Such amount shall be paid within five days after Landlord's demand and shall be collectible as rent. Tax bills shall be sufficient evidence of the amount of such taxes and shall be used for calculating the amounts to be paid by the Tenant.

(5) Payment of portion of increase in taxes--based upon percentage of total rental value

The Tenant shall pay the Landlord, as additional rent, the proportionate part of any increase in taxes assessed on the land and building of which the leased property is a part over the amount assessed for the first year after assessment is made of the land and the completed building. The portion of such increase payable by the Tenant shall be based on the ratio of the Tenant's annual rent to the total annual rent payable by all tenants, including the rental value of any vacant rentable space in the building, for the year prior to the year for which the assessment has been increased. The Tenant may during reasonable business hours examine the Landlord's books to verify the total annual rent payable by all tenants and the rental value of vacant rentable space in the building.

(6) Payment of percentage of increase in real estate taxes above specific amount--collectible as rent--tax bill as evidence

The Tenant shall pay as rent 10% of any increase in the amount of real estate taxes over $50,000 which may be imposed upon the property of which the leased property is a part, in each year during the period of this lease. Such amount shall be paid within ten days after the Landlord's demand and shall be collectible as rent. A tax bill shall be sufficient evidence of the amount of taxes and for calculating the amount to be paid by the Tenant.

(7) Payment of portion of increase in taxes--based upon proportionate share of floor space

The Tenant shall pay annually that proportion of any increase in real estate taxes assessed against the land and building of which the leased property is a part over the amount of such taxes assessed against the land and building for the calendar year ____[year] which the total number of square feet of floor space in the leased property bears to the total number of square feet of floor space in the entire building. For the final year of the lease term the Tenant shall pay only a pro rata share of such proportion of any increase in taxes. The Landlord shall furnish the Tenant with a properly authenticated statement of the real estate taxes assessed for the calendar year ____[year] and with a receipted bill for the real estate taxes for any subsequent year in which an increased amount has been assessed.

(8) Adjustment for increase or decrease in taxes

The Landlord shall pay all real estate taxes on the leased property. However, if there is any change in such taxes from those assessed in the year ____[year], the Tenant shall pay as additional rent all increases over the ____[year] assessment and be given credit against the basic rent for any decreases from the ____[year] assessment.

(9) Tenant's right to contest taxes and other charges--legal proceedings

The Tenant may contest and review by legal proceedings, instituted and conducted by it at its own expense, real estate taxes, assessments, water rates, sewer rents, or other charges imposed upon or against the demised premises or buildings thereon. If Tenant exercises such right of review, it shall continue to pay, as they become due and payable, all protested taxes, assessments, and other charges. The term "legal proceedings," as used herein, includes appropriate appeals of all judgments, decrees, orders, and certiorari proceedings and appeals of orders therein, including appeals to the court of last resort.

(10) Taxes paid as additional rent--allocation based on tenant's floor area--tenant's right to contest subject to prior consultation and consent of landlord

(a) Taxes and assessments. Tenant shall pay or cause to be paid as additional rent, in the same manner as the annual rent, before any fine, penalty, interest, or cost is added thereto for nonpayment, all taxes, assessments (including, but not limited to, assessments for public improvement), water and sewer rents, rates and charges for public utilities, excises, levies and other governmental charges, whether general or special, ordinary or extraordinary, foreseen or unforeseen, which at any time during the term hereof are assessed, levied, confirmed, or imposed upon, become due or payable out of or in respect of, or become a lien on, the demised premises or any part or appurtenance thereof, the rent or income received by Tenant from subtenants, or the right or privilege of leasing real estate or collecting rents therefrom.

(b) Payment by tenant; computation. Tenant shall make monthly payments to Landlord on account of the annual real estate taxes and assessments assessed against the demised premises for the then effective tax year, and Landlord shall pay such taxes and assessments. Tenant's share of real estate taxes shall be computed by multiplying the total tax assessment on the tax lots whereon the demised premises are located times a factor, the numerator of which, shall be the gross floor area occupied by Tenant when this computation is made, and the denominator of which is the gross floor area of the entire building or buildings on such lots. Landlord shall provide Tenant with copies of the tax assessment statements together with a statement showing the allocation of such taxes or assessments to the demised premises.

(c) Contests. Tenant may contest the amount or validity, in whole or in part, of any assessment or seek a reduction in the assessed valuation of the demised premises by appropriate proceedings diligently conducted in good faith, but only after payment of such amount and/or item in question unless such payment would operate as a bar to such contest or interfere materially with its prosecution.

Upon the final determination of any such proceeding, Tenant shall immediately pay all amounts, including interest, fees, penalties, and other liabilities, awarded therein. Landlord shall not suffer or sustain any costs or expenses (including, but not limited to, attorneys' fees) or any liabilities in connection with such proceeding.

Tenant shall first consult with Landlord and obtain its consent before contesting any assessment or charge. If Tenant subsequently appeals the assessment, it shall regularly consult with Landlord during the appeal proceedings so that Landlord may protect its interest.

(11) Tax escalation in proportion to ground level floor area--additional shopping center buildings

(a) Payment of tax increases. If the real estate or ad valorem taxes payable on the land and buildings comprising the shopping center are increased for any tax year over the amount of such taxes payable for the tax year ____ [year] (such tax year is the "base year" and the taxes payable in that year are the "basic taxes"), Tenant shall pay Landlord as an additional charge, within 10 days before such taxes or any installment thereof are payable to the municipality or taxing authority, 6.71 percent (determined by dividing Tenant's ground level floor area by the floor area of all ground level rented and rentable space in the shopping center) of the tax increase. Such percentage shall be determined on the 30th day before such taxes or installments are payable to the municipality or taxing authority.

(b) Added land and buildings. If any land or buildings are added to the shopping center during or after the base year, the following taxes shall be added to the basic taxes: for the additional land, the real estate or ad valorem taxes payable with respect thereto for the tax year when such taxes are added; for the additional buildings, the real estate or ad valorem taxes payable with respect thereto for the tax year when they are first assessed as completed buildings. If such additional land or buildings are not separately assessed or their assessed valuations are not obtainable from the tax assessor, the taxes to be added to the basic taxes shall be computed on valuations as appraised by a reputable and competent appraiser designated by the Landlord, and multiplied by the tax rates for the applicable tax year. Tenant shall not be responsible for its proportion of taxes on such additional land unless that land is contiguous to and improved as part of the shopping center.

(c) Definition of floor area. The term "floor area," whenever used in this lease, means the number of square feet of floor space within the exterior faces of the exterior walls, without deduction for any space occupied by or used for columns, stairs, or other interior construction or equipment. The center of the wall shall be used when party walls and walls between spaces are occupied by two or more separate tenants.

(d) Alternate taxes. Tenant shall not be chargeable with, nor obligated to pay, any income tax, inheritance tax, gift tax, franchise tax, corporate tax, gross receipts tax, or tax on Landlord's business. Tenant shall be liable proportionately for the payment of only real estate taxes assessed against the real estate (including the buildings and improvements thereto). However, if at any time during the term hereof the present method of taxation or assessment is changed so that the real estate taxes previously levied, assessed, or imposed on real estate and the buildings and improvements thereon are, in lieu thereof, imposed, as a capital levy or otherwise upon the rents reserved herein or as a tax, corporation franchise tax, assessment, levy, or charge or any part thereof, measured by, or based upon, the demised premises or on the rents derived therefrom and imposed upon Landlord, Tenant shall pay all such taxes so measured or based to the extent that any such change in the method of taxation or assessment relieves Tenant from paying the real estate taxes as they were previously known. If there is any change in the method of taxation as set forth herein, the parties shall continue to bear their respective pre-change monetary obligations.

(12) Proportionate share of taxes paid by tenant--tenant payments based on leased area until tax assessment is complete

(a) Real estate taxes. Lessee shall pay its proportionate share of the real estate taxes during this Lease term, and for any prior period during which it transacted business in the Demised Premises. For the purposes of this Article, the term "real estate taxes" includes all real estate taxes, assessments, water and sewer rents (except water meter charges and sewer rent based thereon) and all other kinds of governmental impositions and charges, whether ordinary or extraordinary, general or special, foreseen or unforeseen, and every installment thereof (including any interest on installment payments) which are, during the term hereof, levied, assessed, or imposed, become due and payable, or liens upon, or arise in connection with, the use, occupancy, or possession of, or become due and payable out of or for, the Shopping Center or any part thereof, and all costs incurred by Lessor in contesting or negotiating the same with governmental authority. Lessee's proportionate share shall be computed by multiplying the total amount of the real estate taxes each year by a fraction, the numerator of which is the Floor Area of the Demised Premises and the denominator of which is the total rentable building space in the Shopping Center as of the beginning of the calendar year in which such taxes are paid. Lessee hereby waives all statutory or other rights

Nothing contained herein shall be construed to include as a tax which shall be the basis of real estate taxes, any inheritance, estate, succession, transfer, gift, franchise, corporation, income or profit tax or capital levy that is or may be imposed upon Lessor. However, if at any later time the methods of taxation are altered so that in lieu of or as a substitute for the whole or any part of the taxes now levied, assessed, or imposed on real estate as such, there are levied, assessed, or imposed (i) a tax on the rents received from such real estate, (ii) a license fee measured by the rents receivable by Lessor from the Shopping Center or any portion thereof, (iii) a tax or license fee imposed upon Lessor which is otherwise measured by or based entirely or partly upon the Shopping Center or any portion thereof, or (iv) an income or franchise tax, the same shall be included in the computation of real estate taxes hereunder, computed as if the amount of such tax or fee were that due if the Shopping Center were the only property of Lessor subject thereto.

(b) Amount of Lessee payment. On the first day of each calendar month, Lessee shall pay Lessor, as its estimated payment of real estate taxes, four cents per month for each square foot of Floor area contained in the Demised Premises, until the Shopping Center is assessed as substantially complete. For each subsequent year, Lessee shall pay Lessor, on the first day of each calendar month, one-twelfth (1/12) of Lessee's tax liability for the preceding calendar year. Lessor shall notify Lessee of the actual amount due. If Lessee's payment exceeds the actual amount due, the difference shall be credited on the next payment due under this section. If Lessee's payment is less than the actual amount due, it shall pay the difference within 10 days after Lessor notifies it of the deficiency. If the term of this Lease does not begin or end on the first or last day of a calendar year, these charges shall be billed and adjusted on the basis of such fraction of a calendar year. If the taxing authorities include in such real estate taxes, Lessee's machinery, equipment, fixtures, inventory, or other personal property or assets, Lessee shall also pay the entire real estate taxes for such items.

(13) Percentage excess taxes paid by tenant--credit against percentage rent--tax reduction credit--base year adjustment

(a) Tax increases. For each lease year during this lease term in which the total annual real estate taxes imposed or assessed upon the land and building of which the demised premises form a part exceed, by reason of increased assessed valuation or increased rate of taxes, the real estate taxes imposed or assessed for the tax year ____[year], Tenant shall pay Landlord, as additional rent, within 90 days after the end of such lease year, 7.82 percent of the excess. Such percentage of the excess real estate taxes for less than a year shall be prorated and apportioned. The additional rental paid under this section shall be credited against the "percentage rental" in the lease year in which paid.

(b) Credit for tax reduction; base year adjustment. If any refund is obtained because the assessed valuation of the land and building is reduced by the Assessors, the Tax Commission, or the courts, appropriate credit shall be given against subsequent rent payments falling due. The original computations, as well as any payments of additional rent under this Article, shall be based upon the original assessed valuations. Adjustments shall be made at a later date when any tax refund is paid to Landlord by the taxing authorities. However, if any proceeding for review of the tax assessment for the tax year ____[year] is pending, the Tax Commission's final determination of the assessments shall be used in all computations until a different assessment is determined by the court or otherwise. If a different assessment is so determined, Landlord shall promptly notify Tenant of that fact and Tenant shall, within 90 days after notification, pay any additional rent required by reason of such different assessment. In determining the assessment for the base year or any subsequent year, any settlement or stipulation made by the Landlord and the tax authorities shall be conclusive and binding upon the Tenant. A proportionate share of expenditures for legal fees and other similar or dissimilar expenses directly necessary to obtain the tax refunds, may be charged against the tax refund before the adjustments are made for the tax year.

(14) Shopping center lease--adjustment for increase in taxes--separate formulas for assessment against leased space, building or entire center--allocation of common area taxes

(a) Tax increases. If at any time during the term hereof, or its renewal, extension, or modification, the Real Estate Taxes (as defined in paragraph (b) below) are increased above Landlord's Basic Tax Liability (as defined in paragraph (c) below), Tenant shall pay such increase or its share thereof, as the case may be, as additional rental. Payment shall be made on the rent installment day immediately following receipt of Landlord's Statement.

(b) Taxes defined. The term "Real Estate Taxes" means special or other taxes and assessments, assessed upon or with respect to the ownership of, or all other taxable interests in, the following:

(1) all buildings, structures, and other improvements situated in the tax lot of which the leased property is a part;

(2) all land lying under any of the buildings, structures, and other improvements described in subparagraph (1), above; and

(3) all land and improvements constituting the Common Area, including, without limitation, all mall and mall areas and all improvements thereto, imposed by federal, state, and local governments or other competent governmental authorities. However, Real Estate Taxes shall not include income, intangible franchise, capital stock, estate, or inheritance taxes, or taxes based upon the receipt of rentals. The term "Common Area" means all portions of the Shopping Center, as now or hereafter constituted, except those portions which are covered by buildings which may be erected thereon, but including all mall and mall areas and all improvements thereto.

(c) Basic tax defined. The "Landlord's Basic Tax Liability" shall be equal to the lesser of the amount of the Real Estate Taxes as assessed or reduced by appropriate proceedings against the tax lot of which the leased property is a part for the first tax year immediately following the tax year in which possession of such property is delivered to the Tenant. Excluded, however, are Real Estate Taxes for special assessments for local improvements not located on property owned by the Landlord.

(d) Tenant's share formulas. The Tenant's share of any increase in Real Estate Taxes above Landlord's Basic Tax Liability shall be computed as follows:

(1) If the increase occurs with respect to leased property (but not the entire building) and the underlying land, which together constitute a separate tax lot, Tenant shall pay the entire increase.

(2) If the increase occurs with respect to the entire building in which the leased property is located and the underlying land, which together constitute a separate tax lot, Tenant shall pay a proportionate share of the increase. Tenant's share shall be determined by multiplying the increase by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of square feet of floor space in the leased property and the denominator of which is the number of square feet of all floor space in the building in which the leased property is located (the "Fraction").

(3) If the building in which the leased property is located and the underlying land are not separately assessed but are part of a larger tax lot, Tenant shall pay a proportionate share of the increase on the larger lot. Tenant's share shall be determined by adding the results of multiplying the Fraction by (A) the Applicable Land Increase, and (B) the Applicable Building Increase. The "Applicable Land Increase" is that portion of the increased Real Estate Taxes on the land, exclusive of all buildings thereon (other than the Common Area), comprising the larger tax lot which the land area under the building in which the leased property is located bears to the total land area on which such increased taxes were assessed. The "Applicable Building Increase" is the portion of the increased Real Estate Taxes on all of the jointly taxed buildings, which is equitably allocable to the building in which the leased property is located on the basis of the respective values for tax purposes of all of the buildings taxed.

The parties shall resolve by arbitration any dispute as to the amount of tax so allocable to the building in which the leased property is situated. Persons who may be made parties to such arbitration include Landlord, any ground or underlying lessor, any separate fee owner, and the other lessees or occupants of all buildings included in the total tax and who are directly responsible for paying taxes with regard thereto, either by reason of ownership or because the lease provides for such payment in addition to fixed rent. Arbitration shall be by a board of three arbitrators, and shall take place in the county in which the leased property is located, in accordance with the governing rules and regulations of the American Arbitration Association. Judgment upon the award rendered may be entered in a federal court or any other court of competent jurisdiction. The arbitrators shall decide which party or parties shall bear the cost of arbitration and, if there is more than one, in what proportions.

(4) If such tax increases occur to the Common Area, regardless of whether part of Tenant's tax lot, Tenant's share of such increase, in addition to its obligations under paragraphs (1), (2), and (3) above, shall be determined by multiplying the increase of Real Estate Taxes on the Common Area by a fraction, the numerator of which is the total area of all floor space in the leased property and the denominator of which is the total area of all floor space of all buildings in the Shopping Center. Unless a separate tax assessment is obtained for the Common Area, the Real Estate Taxes on the Common Area shall mean and refer to that portion of all of the Real Estate Taxes on the land comprising the larger tax lot, including the Common Area, which the Common Area bears to the total land area taxed.

(e) Landlord's tax statement. The Landlord may at any time deliver to the Tenant a written statement (the "Landlord's Statement"), containing a computation of the increase above the Landlord's Basic Tax Liability and the amount of the Tenant's share thereof. The Landlord's failure to deliver a Landlord's Statement shall not prejudice or waive its right to deliver such statement for any subsequent tax year, nor from including in such statement as additional rental the Tenant's share of any increase for any year in which no Landlord's Statement was delivered to the Tenant, but for which the Tenant was otherwise obligated to pay such additional rental. If the Landlord's Basic Tax Liability is reduced as a result of any appropriate proceeding, the Landlord may adjust the amount of such additional rental due from the Tenant for any year in which the Tenant is or was obligated to pay such additional rental hereunder. Tenant shall pay the amount of such adjustment on the next rent installment day immediately following receipt of a written statement from Landlord setting forth the adjusted amount.

With respect to any period at the expiration of this lease term which constitutes a partial tax year, Landlord's Statement shall apportion the amount of the additional rental due hereunder. The Tenant's obligation with respect to such additional rental for all or part of the last year of this lease term shall survive the expiration of such term.

(15) Payment of taxes--right in tenant to contest--advance monthly deposits

(a) Payment of impositions. The Tenant shall promptly pay all real estate taxes, assessments, water and sewer charges, and other governmental levies against the leased property, whether ordinary or extraordinary, or foreseen or unforeseen, together with any interest or penalties thereon ("impositions"). The Tenant may pay any impositions in installments, if payment may be made without penalty, unless such installment payment would violate the terms of any mortgage or deed of trust. All impositions for the tax year in which this lease begins or terminates shall be apportioned between the Tenant and the Landlord, except that on the final termination of this lease Tenant shall pay in full, at least 60 days before the lease term expires, any imposition which it has elected to pay in installments.

(b) Tax contests. Tenant may contest the amount or validity of any imposition by appropriate proceedings. However, Tenant shall promptly pay any contested imposition unless the proceeding prevents or stays its collection and Tenant deposits with Landlord the amount contested and unpaid, together with a sum to cover all charges that may be assessed against the leased property in such proceeding. Upon the termination of such proceeding, Tenant shall deliver to Landlord proof of the amount of such imposition as finally determined. Landlord shall then pay such imposition out of the sum so deposited with it by Tenant and refund any balance to Tenant. If sums deposited with Landlord are insufficient to pay the full amount of such imposition and other charges, Tenant shall immediately pay any deficiency. If during such proceeding Landlord deems the sums deposited with it insufficient, Tenant shall, upon demand, deposit with Landlord such additional sums that Landlord may reasonably request. Landlord, at Tenant's expense, shall join in any such proceeding required by law.

(c) Tax escrow. The Landlord may at any time require the Tenant to deposit funds for the payment of current impositions on the leased property in a bank or trust company selected by the Landlord. Such funds shall be held in the Tenant's name, with any interest payable to the Tenant, but the depository shall not pay such funds to anyone other than the appropriate taxing authority without the Landlord's written consent. The Tenant shall so deposit one-twelfth of the current annual impositions, or those of the preceding tax year if the current impositions have not then been fixed, on the first day of each month in advance. However, all additional funds required for any payment shall also be deposited on the first day of the final month during or at the end of which a payment is due and payable without interest or penalty. Notwithstanding the above, Tenant's first deposit shall be sufficient to create the same bank balance as if Landlord had required such deposit on the preceding January 1.

(16) Rent escalation for taxes--exclusion of income and franchise taxes--tenant's right to contest

(a) Annual basic rent. During the initial term hereof, Tenant shall pay Landlord an annual basic rental ("basic rent") of $16,800.

(b) Payment. Tenant shall pay the annual basic rental at Landlord's address set forth above, or at any other address Landlord designates in writing. Payment shall be made in equal monthly installments in advance on the first day of each month during the term hereof, without notice or demand, and without abatement, deduction, set-off, or counterclaim of any amount, except as specifically provided below.

(c) Additional rent; taxes. Tenant shall pay as additional rent, before the addition of any fine, penalty, interest, or cost for nonpayment, all real estate taxes (other than special assessments), water rates and charges, and other governmental charges, whether general or special, ordinary or extraordinary, or foreseen or unforeseen (collectively, "impositions") that are assessed, levied, confirmed, imposed, or become a lien on the demised premises or become payable during the lease term, or that are now liens thereon. However, if by law any such imposition is payable, or may be payable by Tenant, in installments (regardless of whether interest accrues on the unpaid balance), Tenant may pay the imposition (and any accrued interest on the unpaid balance) in installments as they respectively become due and before any fine, penalty, interest, or cost is added for the nonpayment of any installment and interest. If any part of the imposition relating to a fiscal period of the taxing authority is included in a period before the commencement or after the termination of the lease term, such imposition shall be adjusted between the parties when the lease term commences or terminates, regardless of whether during this term it is assessed, levied, confirmed, imposed, becomes a lien on the demised premises, or becomes payable. Accordingly, Landlord shall pay a percentage of such imposition, the numerator of which is that part of the fiscal period included in the period before such commencement or after such termination, and the denominator of which is the fiscal period, and Tenant shall pay the remainder.

(d) Excluded taxes. Nothing in this lease shall require the Tenant to pay any franchise, corporate, estate, inheritance, succession, capital levy, income, profits, revenue or transfer tax of the Landlord, or any income, profits or revenue tax or any other tax, assessment, charge or levy upon the basic rent payable by the Tenant under this lease. No kind of tax, assessment, charge, or levy described above in this Section shall be included as an "imposition" under this Article. However, if at any time during the lease term this state or any of its political subdivisions levies or assesses a tax or excise on rents against Landlord or the basic rent, as a full or partial substitution for taxes or imposed by such taxing authority on land or buildings, or both, such tax or excise on rent shall be included as an "imposition." In such case, Tenant shall pay and discharge such tax or excise as an imposition in accordance with the provisions of this Article, but only to the extent that such substitution so far as ascertainable relieves the Tenant from the payment of impositions under it. Tenant's obligation to pay such tax or excise on rent shall be limited to the amount which, but for this lease, would have been payable by Landlord had the basic rent payable hereunder (and upon which such tax or excise was imposed) been Landlord's sole taxable income for the year in question.

(e) Contests. Tenant may contest the amount or validity of any imposition by appropriate legal proceedings. However, this shall not be deemed or construed in any way to relieve, modify, or extend Tenant's obligation to pay any imposition at the time and in the manner provided in this Article, unless such proceedings operate to prevent the collection of the contested imposition and the sale of all or part of the demised premises to satisfy the same. Upon termination of such legal proceedings, Tenant shall pay all impositions finally determined to be due, including those deferred during the course thereof, plus all related costs, fees, interest, penalties, and other liabilities.

(f) Landlord participation. Landlord shall not be required to participate or join in any such proceeding unless such action is necessary or advisable for its prosecution. However, Landlord shall not be subjected to any liability for the payment of any costs or expenses in connection with any such proceedings, and Tenant shall indemnify and save harmless Landlord from such costs or expenses. Tenant shall be entitled to and a refund of any such imposition and penalties or interest thereon which have been paid by either party and for which Landlord has been fully reimbursed, including interest thereon to the date of reimbursement.

(g) Tax bill. A certificate, advice, or bill made or issued by an appropriate official which indicates that an imposition was not paid shall be prima facie evidence that the imposition was then due and unpaid. For this purpose, an appropriate official is one designated by law to make or issue such certificate, advice, or bill, or to receive payment of such imposition.

(17) Rent escalation based on tax increases--rider to lease--definitions and formula

RENT ESCALATION RIDER

Section A. Definitions. As used in this escalation rider:

(1) "Taxes" mean the aggregate amount of real estate taxes and assessments (exclusive of penalties, interest and discount thereon or with respect to a refund thereof) imposed upon the land and Building (including, without limitation, (i) real estate taxes upon any "air rights" or payable by Landlord to a ground lessor with respect thereto, and (ii) all special assessments levied after the date of this lease for public benefits to land and/or Building (excluding an amount equal to the assessments payable in whole or in part during or for a Base Tax Year). Such assessments, if payable in installments, shall be deemed payable in the maximum number of permissible installments) in the manner in which such taxes and assessments are imposed as of the date hereof. However, if because of any change in the taxation of real estate, any other tax or assessment (including, without limitation, any occupancy, gross receipts, or rental tax) is imposed upon Landlord or the owner of the land and/or Building, or upon or with respect to the land and/or Building or the occupancy, rents or income therefrom, in substitution for, or in addition to, any of the foregoing Taxes, such other tax or assessment shall be deemed part of the Taxes. With respect to any Comparison Year, all expenses, including legal fees, experts' and other witnesses' fees, incurred in contesting the validity or amount of any Taxes or in obtaining a refund of Taxes, shall be considered as part of the Taxes for such year.

(2) "Base Annual Rental Rate" means the rate of annual rent originally provided or formulated in this lease on the date of its execution, as such rate may be subsequently fixed, modified or supplemented in any way other than under the provisions of this escalation rider.

(3) "Term of this lease" or "lease term," for the purpose of this rider, means the period beginning with the date of Tenant's obligation to commence paying rent and ending with the date of the expiration or termination of this lease.

(4) "Tax Year" means the period July 1 to June 30 (or any other period hereafter duly adopted by the municipality as its fiscal year for real estate tax purposes).

(5) "Comparison Year" means: (a) with respect to Taxes, any Tax Year subsequent to the Base Tax Year and (b) with respect to Operating Expenses, any calendar year for any part or all of which there is an increase or decrease in Base Annual Rental Rate under Section B below.

(6) "Base Tax Year" means the Tax Year within which the date of this lease falls.

(7) "Base Taxes" mean the Taxes payable for the Base Tax Year.

(8) "Tenant's Proportionate Percentage" shall be 3.13% and shall represent the agreed percentage of any increase or decrease in Taxes or Operating Expenses allocable to Tenant under Section B below.

(9) (a) "Operating Expenses" mean those expenses (and any taxes thereon) paid or incurred by or on behalf of Landlord (whether directly or through independent contractors) in respect of the operation, maintenance and management of the land and/or Building and the sidewalks and areas adjacent thereto ("Operation of the Property") which, in accordance with the accounting practice used by Landlord, (and in accordance with sound management principles respecting the operation of noninstitutional first class office buildings in New York City) are properly chargeable to the Operation of the Property, together with and including (without limitation) the cost of electricity (including any taxes paid thereon) used in operating all Building equipment and servicing common areas of the Building. Such cost shall be determined (if such electricity is not separately metered) on the basis of an electrical survey of such equipment and common area facilities and the then prevailing rates, and financial expenses incurred in connection with the Operation of the Property such as insurance premiums and legal, auditing, and other professional fees and expenses, but specifically excluding (i) Taxes as defined in Section "A(1)", (ii) franchise or income taxes imposed on Landlord, (iii) ground rent and mortgage interest, (iv) leasing commissions, (v) the cost of electrical energy furnished directly to tenants of the building, (vi) cost of tenant installations and decorating incurred in connection with preparing space for a new tenant, and (vii) capital improvements. However, (x) if any capital improvement results in reducing any Operating Expenses (as, for example, a labor-saving improvement), then with respect to the calendar year in which the improvement is made and each subsequent calendar year during the term of the lease, the amount by which the Operating Expenses have been reduced shall be deemed deducted from the Base Operating Expenses, and (y) if Landlord is not furnishing any particular work or service (the cost of which if performed the Landlord would constitute an Operating Expense) to a Tenant who has undertaken to perform such work or service in lieu of the performance thereof by Landlord, Operating Expenses shall be deemed to be increased by an amount equal to the additional Operating Expenses which would reasonably have been incurred during such period by Landlord if it had at its own expense furnished such work or service to such Tenant.

(b) In determining the amount of Operating Expenses for the Base Expense Year and for any subsequent year, if less than 95% of the building rentable area has been occupied by tenants at any time during the year, Operating Expenses shall be deemed for such year to be equal to the like expenses which would normally be expected to be incurred had such occupancy been 95% throughout such year. However, the Operating Expenses for any Comparison Year shall not be based on any percentage of occupancy less than the percentage of occupancy utilized for the Base Expense Year.

(c) If any capital improvement is made after the Base Expense Year in compliance with the requirement of any federal, state or local law, or governmental regulation, as for example, improvements respecting fire safety required by the municipality, the reasonable annual amortization, with interest, of the cost of such improvement shall be deemed an Operating Expense in each of the calendar years during which such amortization occurs unless there is an exemption or abatement of Taxes on account of the cost of such improvement as contemplated by the last sentence of paragraph (1) of Section B below.

(10) "Base Expense Year" means the calendar year ____[year].

(11) "Base Operating Expenses" means the Operating Expenses for the Base Expense Year.

Section B. Increase or Decrease in Rent.

(1) Taxes. If the Taxes payable for any Tax Year (any part or all of which falls within the lease term) after the Base Tax Year represent an increase above or decrease below the Base Taxes, the Base Annual Rental Rate for such Tax Year (i.e., a Comparison Year) and continuing thereafter until a new comparative statement is sent to Tenant, shall be increased or decreased, as the case may be, by the Tenant's Proportionate Percentage of the increase or decrease. The real estate taxes involved in this paragraph (1) shall be initially computed on the basis of the assessed valuations in effect at the time the comparative statement is sent (as such assessed valuations may have been settled or finally adjudicated prior to such time), regardless of any then pending application, proceeding or appeal respecting the reduction of any such assessed valuations, but shall be subject to subsequent adjustment as provided in paragraph (1) of Section D, below. If, in, or for any Comparison Year, there is an exemption or abatement of Taxes on account of changes or additions to the Building at the Landlord's expense and made pursuant to requirement of any law or governmental regulation, the Taxes for such year shall be calculated as though there were no such exemption or abatement.

(2) Operating expenses. If the Operating Expenses for any calendar year (any part or all of which falls within the lease term) after the Base Expense Year is greater or less than the Base Operating Expenses, the Base Annual Rental Rate payable under this lease for such calendar year (i.e., a Comparison Year), and continuing thereafter until a new comparative statement is sent to Tenant, shall be increased or decreased, as the case may be, by the Tenant's Proportionate Percentage of the increase or decrease.

Section C. Payment or Credit.

(1) Statement. At any time during or after any Comparison Year Landlord shall send Tenant a comparative statement(s) showing separately or together: (i) a comparison of the Taxes for the Comparison Year with the Base Taxes, (ii) a comparison of the Operating Expenses for the comparison year with the Base Operating Expenses, and (iii) the amount of the increase or decrease in the Base Annual Rental Rate resulting from each comparison.

(2) Adjustment. On the first day for the payment of a monthly rent installment following the furnishing to Tenant of such comparative statement, (i) Tenant, in case of an increase, shall pay to Landlord 1/12 of such increase in Base Annual Rental Rate, multiplied by the number of the preceding months (and any fraction thereof) for which the increase is applicable; and in case of a decrease, shall be entitled to a credit against the rent next becoming due, of 1/12 of such decrease multiplied by the number of the preceding months (and any fraction thereof) for which the decrease is applicable; and (ii) thereafter, commencing with the then current monthly rent installment, and continuing monthly thereafter, until a different comparative statement is sent to Tenant, the monthly installments of rent shall be increased or decreased, as the case may be, by 1/12 of such increase or decrease. If the last mentioned increased or decreased monthly installments of rent continue beyond the end of the Comparison Year, any necessary adjustment will be made when the next succeeding comparative statement is sent to Tenant.

(3) Tentative charge. As used in this paragraph (3), "Tentative Monthly Expense Escalation Charge" means 1/12 of the Tenant's Proportionate Percentage multiplied by the difference between (i) the Base Operating Expenses and (ii) 110% of the Operating Expenses for the calendar year immediately preceding the Current Year, and "Current Year" shall mean the calendar year in which a demand is made upon Tenant for payment of a Tentative Monthly Expense Escalation Charge.

At any time in any calendar year (any part or all of which falls within the lease term) after the Base Expense Year, the Landlord, may demand and collect from Tenant, as additional rent, a sum equal to the Tentative Monthly Expense Escalation Charge multiplied by the number of months in said year preceding the demand, and thereafter, commencing with the month in which the demand is made and continuing thereafter for each month remaining in such year, the monthly rent shall be deemed increased by the Tentative Monthly Expense Escalation Charge. Landlord may include any amount due it under this paragraph (3) in any comparative statement sent to the Tenant under paragraph (1) of this Section C.

After the end of the Current Year and when Landlord sends a comparative statement to Tenant under paragraph (1) of this Section C respecting the comparison of the Operating Expenses for said Current Year (i.e., a Comparison Year), with the Base Operating Expenses, the amounts, if any, collected by Landlord from Tenant under this paragraph (3) on account of Tentative Monthly Expense Escalation Charge shall be adjusted. If the amount so collected is less than the amount actually due under such comparative statement for the Comparison Year, the Tenant shall pay the difference, as additional rent, to Landlord forthwith. If the amount so collected exceeds the amount actually due for the Comparison Year, the excess shall be credited against the next rental due from Tenant, or if no further rental is due, Landlord shall immediately pay the excess to Tenant.

Section D. General.

(1) Assessed valuation. (a) Comparative year reduction. If, after a comparative statement has been sent to Tenant, an assessed valuation which had been utilized in computing the Taxes for a Comparison Year is reduced (as a result of settlement, final determination of legal proceedings or otherwise), and as a result thereof a refund of Taxes is actually received by or on behalf of Landlord, then, promptly after receipt of such refund, Landlord shall send Tenant a statement adjusting the Taxes for such Comparison Year (taking into account the expenses mentioned in the last sentence of paragraph (1) of Section A above) and setting forth Tenant's Proportionate Percentage of such refund, and Tenant shall receive such Percentage by way of a credit against the rent next becoming due after such statement has been sent. However, Tenant's share of such refund shall be limited to any amount previously paid by it to Landlord as increased rent for such Comparison Year on the basis of the assessed valuation before its reduction.

(b) Base year reduction. If, after a comparative statement has been sent to Tenant, the assessed valuation utilized in computing the Base Taxes is reduced (as a result of settlement, final determination of legal proceedings or otherwise) then: (i) the Base Taxes shall be retroactively adjusted to reflect such reduction, (ii) the monthly installment of rent shall be increased accordingly and (iii) all retroactive additional rent resulting from such retroactive adjustment shall be forthwith payable when billed by Landlord. Landlord shall promptly send to Tenant a statement setting forth the basis for such retroactive adjustment and additional rent payments.

(2) Objections. Any comparative statement sent to Tenant shall be conclusively binding upon it unless, within 30 days thereafter, it sends a written notice to Landlord objecting to such statement and specifying what portions are claimed to be incorrect. If such notice is sent, Landlord's books and records shall not be available for inspection because of their confidential nature. However, either party may submit the issues for resolution to M. Smith & Co., certified public accountants, its successor firm, or any other reputable firm of certified public accountants selected by Landlord, and its decision shall be conclusively binding upon the parties. The unsuccessful party shall bear all the fees and expenses of such decision. If both parties are partially unsuccessful, the accountants shall apportion the fees and expenses between them based on the degree of success of each party.

(3) Minimum rent. Notwithstanding any contrary provision in Section B, the rental payable under this lease shall not be less than the Base Annual Rental Rate.

(4) Lease expiration. The expiration or termination of this lease during any Tax Year or any calendar year for any part or all of which the Base Annual Rental Rate is increased or decreased under this rider shall not affect the rights or obligations of the parties respecting such increase or decrease. Any comparative statement relating to such increase or decrease may, on a pro rata basis, be sent to Tenant subsequent to, and all such rights and obligations shall survive, any such expiration or termination. Any payments due under such comparative statement shall be payable within 20 days after it is sent to the Tenant.

FORM 23.35 Landlord's expenses paid by tenant as additional rent

COMMENT

Leases commonly provide that the tenant reimburse the landlord for expenses incurred in management, maintenance, or protecting the landlord's rights under the lease. These charges are frequently denominated "additional rent" in order to give the landlord a possessory as well as a contractual remedy. Provisions of this type are valid and enforceable, although the state law in the jurisdiction where the property is located will need to be ascertained to find out whether legal fees incurred by the landlord are collectible from the tenant.

Expenses, notice:

Expenses incurred in the collection of rent occasioned by the tenant's nonpayment are included in the covenants obligating the tenant to pay specific as well as unanticipated expenses. Expenses borne by the landlord in curing the tenant's defaults, as in the case of the tenant's failure to make required repairs or to pay insurance premiums, are common reimbursable items. A tenant may seek to be given notice, and afforded an opportunity to cure the default before becoming bound to reimburse the landlord. A notice requirement may be included in the covenant imposing the obligation. Giving notice can be made a condition precedent to the tenant's default.

Litigation expenses:

Some lease provisions obligate the tenant to pay the legal expenses incurred by the landlord in maintaining legal proceedings for the prosecution or defense of legal actions related to the lease. If the dispute is between the landlord and the tenant, the landlord is not able to recover such fees and expenses unless the final decision is in his favor, under some leases. Many lease provisions, however, are not so conditioned. The terms of these lease agreements make it obligatory that the tenant pay such expenses regardless of the litigation's outcome. Payment of the landlord's expenses in recovering possession from a defaulting tenant by means of summary eviction or similar proceedings is also a common requirement.

Landlord's lien, distraint, security interest:

As additional security for the tenant's payment of expenses, some leases provide that the landlord will have a lien against the tenant's property. Depending on the circumstances, the relevant tenant's property may include subleases, building improvements constructed by the tenant, or the tenant's personal property. The creation and enforcement of the liens in these various property interests are governed by local laws dealing with real estate liens, landlord's distraint or liens, or the Uniform Commercial Code. Although Article 9 of the Uniform Commercial Code will not govern a lien or other interest against real estate, it will govern a security interest in personal property, unless there is a specific state law governing the lien. U.C.C. § 9-104. Many jurisdictions have specific statutes governing a landlord's interest in a tenant's personal property located in the leased premises upon a tenant's default. These laws could apply without a specific lease provision. If the lease is primarily for residential purposes, however, consumer protection laws could be involved, and should be examined before proceeding under the landlord's right of distraint.

Tax aspects:

Frequently, commercial insurance premiums, interest, and similar payments required under a commercial lease to be paid by the tenant to or for the benefit of the landlord are deductible as rent by the tenant. Such payments constitute taxable income to the landlord. Usually, these expenses are deductible, in turn by the landlord. Many practitioners expressly characterize such payments as "additional rent" in the lease instrument. For a more detailed discussion concerning the tax consequences of the lessee's payments of the lessor's expenses, see the Tax Background § 23.03, at the beginning of this chapter.

FORMS

(1) Reimbursement of default and eviction action expenses

The Tenant shall pay and indemnify the Landlord against all legal costs and charges, including counsel fees lawfully and reasonably incurred, in obtaining possession of the leased premises after any default of Tenant, including a default in surrendering possession upon the expiration or earlier termination of the lease term or enforcing any of Tenant's covenants under this lease.

(2) Reimbursement of expenses of curing tenant's default--no prior notice required

If the Tenant defaults in observing or performing any term or provision of this lease, Landlord may, without notice, perform the same for Tenant's account. If Landlord makes any expenditures or incurs any obligations for the payment of money in this connection including, but not limited to, attorneys' fees, such sums, with interest and costs, shall be deemed to be additional rent and shall be paid by the Tenant to the Landlord within five days after an appropriate bill or statement is rendered to Tenant.

(3) Reimbursement of expenses of curing tenant's default--prior notice required

If Landlord, because of Tenant's failure after due notice to perform any covenant, term, or condition of this lease, is required to pay any money, incur any obligation for the payment of money, do any act that requires the payment of money, or expend any sums for any type of legal services, the payments or obligations, with interest, shall be added to the installment of rent next becoming due, and shall be collectible as additional rent, in the same manner and with the same remedies as if it had been ordinarily reserved.

(4) Cleaning contractor selected by landlord at tenant's expense--tenant's right to submit alternate cleaning contractor

During the initial term hereof and all extension periods, Tenant shall clean the entire Demised Premises at its expense, using a cleaning contractor selected by Landlord. However, if Tenant disputes the contractor's rates or quality of service, it may submit to Landlord its own cleaning contractor to compete for such cleaning. The parties shall use their combined best efforts to choose a mutually acceptable cleaning contractor. Only one cleaning contractor will be contracted to service the entire building.

(5) Heating, air cooling, and ventilation overtime--additional rent on per hour basis

If Tenant shall require the use of the heating, air cooling, and/or ventilating service furnished by Landlord to the leased premises for any period of time other than the hours provided for such services in this lease:

A. Tenant shall pay to Landlord, promptly upon demand, as additional rent, a special overtime service charge of $180 per hour for air cooling, $125 per hour for ventilating, and $150 per hour for heating, subject to increase for increased costs, for such service. However, no charge shall be made for any electricity except as used in the heating, air cooling, and/or ventilating systems for Tenant's space.

B. Landlord shall furnish any such overtime service on the day requested by Tenant if such request is received by 2 p.m. of that day. However, the Landlord shall not be required to furnish such overtime services to Tenant for more than 20 hours in any one week.

C. If more than one tenant requests the same overtime service at the same time, the charge to Tenant shall be adjusted pro rata.

(6) Common areas of shopping mall--maintenance and regulation by landlord--common area charges--parking

(a) Common areas use. Lessee shall have nonexclusive use of the Common Areas during the term hereof. The Common Areas shall be subject to Lessor's exclusive control and management and to all of Lessor's rules and regulations. Lessor may make any changes, additions, deletions, alterations, and improvements in and to the Common Areas, so long as there is no unreasonable obstruction of Lessee's right of ingress to or egress from the Demised Premises.

(b) Maintenance; payment. Lessor shall maintain the Common Areas in good repair, reasonably clear of debris, and lighted and open until 10:00 p.m. of each business day, and shall keep all enclosed mall areas adequately lighted, heated, and air conditioned until 10:00 p.m. of each business day.

For these services Lessee shall pay Lessor twenty-five cents ("Common Area Payment") each year for each square foot of Floor Area contained in the Demised Premises. The total annual amount shall be payable in equal installments on the first day of every calendar month, and a pro rata sum for any partial month when the term commences. At the end of the first Lease Year, and each Lease Year thereafter, the Common Area Payment shall be adjusted upwards or downwards in the manner set forth below, but never less than the above amount. The amount of the Common Area Payment for each Lease Year, commencing with the second Lease Year, shall be determined as follows: Using the Consumer Price Index for "All Urban Consumers" (CPI-U, 1982-84 Base = 100), published by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of The United States Department of Labor, applicable on the date of this Lease as the denominator and the index number for the first month of each Lease Year thereafter as the numerator, multiply the resulting fraction by the above stated Common Area Payment. If the Bureau of Labor Statistics changes the base period, the new index numbers shall be substituted for the old index numbers in making the above computation. If such Consumer Price Index is discontinued, comparable statistics on the purchasing power of the consumer dollar, as published at the time of discontinuation by a recognized financial periodical, shall be used for making such computation.

(c) Indemnification. Lessor shall protect, indemnify and save and keep harmless Lessee against and from all claims, loss, cost, damage, or expense arising out of or from any accident or other occurrence on the Common Areas, except for the willful acts or negligence of Lessee or its agents.

(d) Insurance. Lessor shall carry public liability insurance on the Common Areas providing coverage of not less than $500,000 against liability for injury to or death of any person and $1,000,000 for any one occurrence. Lessee shall pay Lessor 6 cents per year for each square foot of Floor Area contained in the Demised Premises, payable in equal installments on the first day of every calendar month, as Lessee's share of the cost of the premiums for such insurance, (hereinafter the "Insurance Payment"). At the end of the first Lease Year, and each Lease Year thereafter, the Insurance Payment shall be adjusted upward or downward, but never less than the above amount, in direct proportion to the increase or decrease in the cost of the premiums paid by Lessor for such insurance coverage.

(e) Personnel and equipment. Lessor shall provide personnel and equipment to police the malls and other Common Areas that it deems necessary to maintain order, security, traffic, and pedestrian control and protect the person and property of the general public and the tenants, their agents and employees while upon the Shopping Center premises. In consideration of Lessor providing such personnel and equipment, Lessee shall pay Lessor a proportion of the total cost thereof, based upon the ratio of the square feet of Floor Area in the Demised Premises to the total square feet of all building space leased in the Shopping Center as of the last day of the calendar year in which such cost was incurred. Total cost shall be deemed to include actual cost to Lessor plus 15% for administration.

As its estimated payment for security service, Lessee shall pay Lessor, in advance, on the first day of each calendar month, two cents per month for each square foot of Floor Area contained in the Demised Premises. For each subsequent year, Lessee shall pay Lessor monthly, in advance, one-twelfth of Lessee's actual security service payment for the preceding calendar year. Lessor shall notify Lessee in writing of the actual amount due for the preceding year. If such payment exceeds the actual amount due, Lessee shall be credited with the excess on its next payment. If the estimated payment is less than the actual amount due, Lessee shall pay the deficiency within ten days after it is so notified by Lessor. If the term hereof begins or ends on other than the first or last day of the calendar year, the charge for the deficiency shall be billed and adjusted on the basis of such fraction of a calendar year.

(f) Snow removal costs. Lessee shall pay Lessor annually its proportionate share of Lessor's snow removal costs. Lessee's proportionate share shall be based upon the ratio of the square feet of Floor Area in the Demised Premises to the total square feet of all building space leased in the Shopping Center as of May 31 of each year. Snow removal costs shall be deemed to include actual cost to Lessor plus 15% for administration. Within 60 days after May 31 of each year, Lessor shall notify Lessee of the actual amount due for the preceding 12 months ending May 31. Lessee shall pay the amount due within 30 days after receipt of said notice from Lessor. If the term of this Lease shall begin or end other than on May 31, the charge shall be billed and adjusted on the basis of such fraction of a year.

(g) Parking. Lessee and its employees shall park only in the outer areas of the parking lot or other places provided and designated by Lessor for employee parking. Lessee shall deliver to Lessor, within 10 days after its request, a statement listing all automobiles owned by Lessee and its employees, including their description and state license numbers. Lessee shall subsequently advise Lessor of all changes, additions, or deletions in such list. If any listed automobile is parked in a non-designated area after Lessor notifies Lessee or its store manager that such automobile was previously parked in violation of this provision, Lessee shall pay Lessor $10 for each day (or part thereof) for each such automobile improperly parked. Such payment shall be due within 10 days after Lessee receives notice from Lessor.

(7) Office building operation--additional rent keyed to real estate taxes and landlord's expenses of operation

(a) Fixed and additional rent. Tenant shall pay Landlord fixed annual rent of $120,000, in lawful money of the United States, without notice or demand and without abatement, deduction, or set-off. Such payment shall be made in equal monthly installments, in advance, on the first day of each calendar month, at Landlord's office or any other place designated by it. Tenant shall pay the first month's rent on execution and delivery of this lease. If the obligation to pay rent commences on other than the first day of the month, the fixed rent for the unexpired portion of such month shall be prorated and paid on a per diem basis, and Landlord shall credit any difference toward the payment of the rent for the following calendar month. Tenant shall also pay Landlord "additional rent," as provided below.

(b) Definitions. For the purposes of this Article:

(1) "Lease year" means every period of 12 consecutive months commencing on the 1st day of May immediately following the commencement of this lease term.

(2) "Real property" means collectively the building and the land upon which it stands.

(3) "Taxes" mean all present or future real estate taxes levied, assessed, or imposed against the real property.

(4) "Tax base year" means the first full lease year in which the building has been fully assessed as a completed building.

(5) "Expenses" means all expenses paid by or incurred by the Landlord in the operation of the real property, including maintenance and repair costs, steam, electricity, water, water rates, frontage charges, sewer rents, fuel, air-conditioning, labor costs, window cleaning, lighting, and all other expenses of maintenance and repair of the real property.

(6) "Expense base year" means the average of the first two full lease years commencing with the first full lease year in which the permanent certificate of occupancy for the building is issued.

(c) Taxes. If the taxes for any lease year after the tax base year are greater than those for the tax base year, Tenant shall pay Landlord, as additional rent, 1.03 percent of the increased taxes for each such subsequent year. If the taxes for any subsequent lease year are less than those for the tax base year, Landlord shall pay the Tenant 1.03 percent of the reduced taxes for each such subsequent year.

Landlord shall not unreasonably refuse any timely request by tenants occupying 50 percent or more of the building's rentable area to contest, through available legal remedies, the validity or amount of the real property's assessed valuation or the taxes levied on it. If Landlord receives a tax refund for any subsequent tax year in which Tenant has paid it additional rent under this section, Landlord shall, after deducting all expenses incurred in obtaining such refund (including reasonable attorney's fees), reimburse Tenant 1.03 percent of the balance.

(d) Expenses. If the expenses for any lease year after the expense base year are greater than those for the expense base year, Tenant shall pay Landlord, as additional rent, 1.03 percent of the increased expenses for each such subsequent year. If the expenses for any subsequent lease year are less than those for the expense base year, Landlord shall pay Tenant 1.03 percent of the reduced expenses for each such subsequent year.

(e) Escalation cap. Notwithstanding any other provision, the total additional rent resulting from increases in taxes and expenses in any lease year under this section shall not exceed 10 percent of the fixed annual rent set forth, above.

(f) Payment. Tenant shall pay any additional rent due Landlord for taxes or expenses within 30 days after Landlord submits a statement reflecting how such amount was computed. Landlord shall pay any amount due Tenant for taxes or expenses by crediting it toward the payment of the next monthly installment of fixed rent becoming due or, in the case of the last lease year of the term, by refunding it to Tenant within 30 days after the end of such year. Landlord shall make available, for at least 60 days after such statement is submitted, reasonably detailed records supporting the items referred to therein, for examination at reasonable times by Tenant and its representatives.

(8) Rent escalation based on cost of living index--definitions and formula

(a) Definitions. As used in this section:

(i) "Index" means the Consumer Price Index for "All Urban Consumers" (CPI-U, 1982-84 Base = 100), issued by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the United States Department of Labor. If the Index is subsequently converted to a different standard reference base or otherwise revised, the Percentage Increase (defined in subsection (iv), below) shall be determined by using any conversion factor, formula, or table for converting the Index published by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, or, if the Bureau does not publish it, by using any conversion factor, formula, or table published by a nationally recognized publisher of similar statistical information. If the Index ceases to be published, for the purposes hereof, any other index agreed upon by the parties shall be substituted therefor. If the parties are unable to agree on a substitute index within 90 days after publication of the Index ceases, the matter shall be determined by arbitration in New York City under the governing rules of the American Arbitration Association.

(ii) "Base Index" means the Index in effect in December of the calendar year in which the date of this lease falls.

(iii) "Anniversary Month" means December of the calendar year succeeding the calendar year in which the Tenant's obligation to pay rent commences under this lease and such successive December thereafter during the lease term.

(iv) "Percentage Increase" means the percentage equal to the fraction, the numerator of which is the Index in the Anniversary Month less the Base Index and the denominator of which is the Base Index.

(b) Rent escalation. If the Index in an Anniversary Month shall exceed the Base Index, then the Base Annual Rental Rate payable for the ensuing calendar year, and thereafter until a new index comparative statement is sent to Tenant, shall be increased by 25% of the Percentage Increase. At any time after January 1st of the ensuing calendar year, Landlord shall send Tenant an index comparative statement setting forth (a) the Index of the Anniversary Month preceding the date of the statement, (b) the Base Index, (c) the Percentage Increase, and (d) the increase in the Base Annual Rental Rate. On the first day of the calendar month ("current month") following the month in which the index comparative statement was sent, (i) Tenant shall pay to Landlord a sum equal to 1/12 of the increase in Base Annual Rental Rate multiplied by the number of calendar months of the lease term then elapsed since such January 1st, and (ii) thereafter, commencing with the current month and continuing monthly thereafter until a different index comparative statement is sent to Tenant, the monthly installments of rent shall be increased by 1/12 of said increase. If the last mentioned increased monthly installments of rent shall continue beyond the end of the calendar year for which such payments were payable, any necessary adjustment will be made when the next index comparative statement is sent to Tenant.

(9) Security interest grant in tenant's inventory and equipment--to secure payment of rent and performance of other obligations

(a) Security interest, collateral. For valuable consideration and as security for the payment of rent and other charges becoming due hereunder, Lessee hereby grants Lessor a security interest in the following described collateral: (i) All inventory in the Demised Premises during the term of this Lease; (ii) All equipment and other personalty placed in the Demised Premises during the term of this Lease; and (iii) All proceeds of said inventory, equipment and personalty.

(b) Default. Lessee shall be deemed in default if any of the following events or conditions occur: (1) default in the payment of rent, additional rent, or performance of any obligation, covenant, or liability contained or referred to in this lease; (2) making of any levy, seizure, or attachment of the collateral; or (3) death, dissolution, termination of existence, insolvency, business failure, appointment of a receiver, assignment for the benefit of creditors by, or the commencement of a proceeding under any bankruptcy or insolvency law by or against, Lessee or any guarantor or surety for Lessee. Upon the happening of any such events or conditions, or at any time thereafter (if such default has not previously been cured), Lessor shall have all rights and remedies of a secured party under the laws of the state in which the Demised Premises are located. Such rights and remedies shall include, without limitation, the right to take possession of the collateral, and for that purpose, the Lessor may enter upon the Demised Premises and remove the collateral therefrom. Lessor shall give Lessee at least ten days' prior notice of any public sale thereof, or of the date after which any private sale or other intended disposition is to be made. Lessor may purchase the collateral at any such sale.

(c) Termination. The security agreement and the security interest and collateral created hereby shall be terminated when all of the rent and other charges becoming due during the term of this Lease or its extension have been paid in full.

(10) Reimbursement of litigation expenses--expenses deemed landlord's lien

If Landlord, without its fault, is made a party to any litigation commenced by or against the Tenant, the Tenant shall pay all costs, including reasonable attorney's fees, incurred by or against the Landlord in connection with such litigation. The Tenant shall also pay all costs and reasonable attorney's fees incurred by or against the Landlord in enforcing the covenant, term, or provision of this lease, or in terminating this lease by reason of the Tenant's default. All such costs and reasonable attorney's fees, all taxes and assessments, and all moneys to be paid by the Tenant under this lease, shall, if paid or incurred by the Landlord, be a landlord's lien upon any building and improvement and the Tenant's interest in any personal property placed upon the premises at any time during the term of this lease, upon the leasehold interest hereby created, and upon the rent of any building and improvement situated upon the premises at any time during the lease term. Tenant hereby grants Landlord a security interest in all such personal property for such purpose.

(11) Reimbursement of litigation expenses--tenant exculpated if joinder of landlord is due to landlord's acts.

If the Landlord is made a party to any litigation commenced against the Tenant, the Tenant shall pay all expenses, costs, and reasonable attorney's fees incurred by or imposed on the Landlord in connection with such litigation. Such expenses, costs, and attorney's fees shall be additional rent due on the last rent day after service of notice of such payment or payments, together with interest from the payment date. Such additional rent shall be collected as rent unless Landlord is made a party by reason of any independent liability of Landlord caused by its act or omission and not resulting from any act or omission by Tenant or from Landlord's execution of the lease.

(12) Reimbursement of litigation expenses recoverable in landlord-tenant proceedings only if landlord prevails

If Landlord, without its fault, is made a party to any litigation by or against the Tenant, the Tenant shall pay all costs of such litigation and reasonable attorney's fees incurred by or charged against the Landlord in enforcing the covenants, terms, and conditions of this lease or in terminating this lease by reason of the Tenant's default. In any litigation between the parties, the Tenant shall pay the Landlord's costs and attorney's fees only if the final judgment is in the Landlord's favor.

FORM 23.36 Security deposits, advance rentals, and bonuses

COMMENT

Payments to a landlord to secure a tenant's lease obligations have raised a variety of problems. A major area of controversy has involved the tax effect of such a payment. Essentially, the issue is whether or not the payment constitutes income to the landlord and a deduction to the tenant, even though all or a portion of the sum may subsequently be returned.

Tax treatment--deposit, advance rent:

The basic tax principles are easily stated. Where the payment is a security deposit, to be returned to the tenant under stipulated conditions, it is not income to the landlord nor a deduction to the tenant while it is being held subject to such conditions. If, on the other hand, the payment is in effect an advance rental or bonus, it must be reported as income by the landlord when it is received, regardless of the period covered or the method of accounting employed by the taxpayers. An advance rental or bonus payment generally must be amortized by the tenant over the period of the lease unless it is applicable against the last period of the lease, in which event it becomes deductible at that time. The key, however, is to distinguish between a security deposit and an advance rental or bonus.

The following are some facts which would support a conclusion that a payment is a security deposit: the obligation of the landlord to return the payment if the tenant performs the terms of the lease; the setting up at the request of the tenant of an escrow arrangement for the deposit; the crediting of interest to the tenant; and the right of the landlord to apply the payment during the lease term only upon a default by the tenant. On the other hand, where the deposit is to be applied to the rent for the final period of the lease, the landlord has the unrestricted right to use the funds, and there is no provision for interest, the payment has been treated as an advance rental. For a further discussion of the tax effect of advance rentals and security deposits, see the Tax Background § 23.05, at the beginning of this chapter.

Residential deposit escrows:

In some jurisdictions, a security deposit for a residential lease is required by statute to be held as a trust fund by the landlord and remains the property of the tenant until the landlord is entitled under the terms of the lease to appropriate it or apply it against rent. In such states, the deposit would not become income to the landlord so long as it is held subject to such trust.

Security deposit dispositions:

A number of other considerations should be taken into account in drafting the security provisions. These include the disposition of the deposit in the event of the landlord's sale of the property, the assignability of the deposit by the tenant, and the effect of a clause providing for liquidated damages. Generally, the lease gives the landlord the right to transfer the security to a purchaser without any further obligation to the tenant. On the other hand, a tenant's assignment of the security deposit, outright, as collateral, or otherwise, normally requires the consent of the landlord. Some leases provide that the security deposit is to constitute liquidated damages in the event of the tenant's default. The effect of this clause depends upon the local rule. The facts will vary as to when the provision is so unreasonable as to constitute a penalty which is unenforceable, and when it is valid as an attempt in good faith to anticipate and measure reasonable damages.

The following clauses illustrate a variety of arrangements for security deposits, advance rentals, and bonuses. The simplest procedure is the deposit of cash to be returned to the tenant after the termination of the lease and the full performance of its terms by the tenant. Some leases require the repayment of the deposit by the landlord prior to the expiration of the lease term.

FORMS

(1) Security returnable at end of lease--landlord's right to transfer to purchaser

The Tenant has deposited with the Landlord $5,000 as security for Tenant's full and faithful performance of all the terms of this lease. Landlord shall return such sum when this lease expires if Tenant has fully and faithfully carried out all of its terms. If there is a bona fide sale of the property of which the leased premises are a part, Landlord may transfer to the purchaser the security to be held under the terms of this lease, and the Landlord shall be released from all liability for the return of such security to the Tenant.

(2) Security deposit to be returned to tenant without interest--transfer to purchaser--deposit to remain unencumbered by tenant

Tenant shall deposit with Landlord security for Tenant's full and faithful performance of all the terms, covenants, and conditions of this lease. Landlord shall return such sum, without interest, after the expiration hereof, if Tenant has fully and faithfully carried out all of such terms, covenants, and conditions. Landlord may apply any part of such deposit to cure any of Tenant's defaults. In such event, Tenant shall, upon demand, deposit with Landlord the amount so applied so that Landlord shall have the full deposit on hand at all times during the term hereof. If there is a sale or lease of the shopping center, subject to this lease, Landlord may transfer the security to the purchaser or lessee. In that event, Landlord shall thereby be released from all liability for the return of such security, and Tenant shall look solely to the new landlord for its return. The preceding shall apply to every transfer or assignment made of the security to a new landlord. Tenant shall not mortgage, assign, or encumber the security deposited under this lease without Landlord's written consent, and any attempt to do so shall be void.

(3) Security returnable at end of lease and after surrender of possession--specific uses to which security may be applied

The Tenant has deposited with the Landlord $10,000 as security for the Tenant's performance of the terms of this lease. The Landlord may use, apply, or retain all or any part of the security to the extent required for the payment of any rent, additional rent, or other sum or debt as to which the Tenant is in default or for any sum expended or incurred by Landlord due to Tenant's default in any term of this lease, including, but not limited to, any damages or deficiency in the reletting of the leased property, whether such damages or deficiency accrued before or after summary proceedings or other reentry by the Landlord. If the Tenant complies with all of the terms of this lease, the security shall be returned to the Tenant after the date fixed as the end of the lease and after delivery of possession of the leased property to the Landlord. If a sale or lease of the premises of which the leased property forms a part, the Landlord may transfer the security to the purchaser or lessee and the Landlord shall thereupon be released from all liability for the return of such security. The Tenant shall look solely to the new landlord for the return of such security. The Tenant shall not assign or encumber the money deposited as security, and neither the Landlord nor its successors or assigns shall be bound by any such assignment or encumbrance.

(4) Cash security--transfer on sale by landlord--release of mortgagee--tenant prohibited from assigning or encumbering security

(a) Security deposit. The Tenant has deposited $5,000 with the Landlord as security for the Tenant's full and faithful performance of every term, covenant, and condition of this lease. If the Tenant defaults in respect of any term, provision, covenant, or condition of this lease, including but not limited to payment of any rentals, the Landlord may use, apply, or retain all or any part of the security for the payment of any rentals in default or for any other sum which the Landlord may expend or be required to expend by reason of the Tenant's default, including any damages or deficiency in the reletting of the leased property, whether such damages or deficiency accrue before or after summary proceedings or other reentry by the Landlord. If the Tenant complies fully and faithfully with all the terms, provisions, covenants, and conditions of this lease, the security or any balance thereof shall be returned to the Tenant after the time fixed as the expiration of this lease. The Tenant shall not be entitled to any interest on the security. In the absence of evidence satisfactory to the Landlord of any assignment of the right to receive the security, or the remaining balance, the Landlord may return the security to the original Tenant, regardless of one or more assignments of the lease itself.

(b) Assignment by Landlord. If there is a bona fide sale, subject to this lease, the Landlord may transfer the security to the purchaser for the benefit of the Tenant. In such case, the Landlord shall be considered released by the Tenant from all liability for the return of the security, and the Tenant shall look to the new landlord solely for the return of the security. The preceding shall apply to every transfer or assignment made of the security to a new landlord.

(c) Release of mortgagee. No holder of a mortgage to which this lease is subordinate shall be responsible in connection with the security deposited hereunder, by way of credit or payment of any rentals or otherwise, unless such mortgagee actually has received the security, but then only to the extent of receipt.

(d) Restrictions. Tenant shall not assign or encumber the security deposited under this lease without Landlord's prior written consent. The issuance of a warrant and the reentering of the leased property by Landlord for any default by Tenant before the term hereof expires shall not be deemed a termination of this lease so as to entitle Tenant to recover the security. Landlord shall retain the deposit until the end of the term.

(5) Cash security--landlord's right to intermingle funds--no interest to tenant--prohibition against assignment by tenant

(a) Deposit. Concurrently with the execution of this lease, the Tenant has deposited with the Landlord $8,000 as security for Tenant's performance of all its obligations hereunder. Landlord shall return such sum to Tenant after the expiration hereof if Tenant has performed all of such obligations. Prior to the time that Tenant is entitled to the return of the security deposit, Landlord may intermingle such deposit with its own funds and use the deposit for whatever purposes it desires. Tenant shall not receive any interest on the security deposit.

(b) Default. If Tenant defaults in the performance of any of its obligations hereunder, including, but not limited to, the payment of rent and additional rent, the Landlord may use, apply, or retain all or any part of such security deposit for the payment of any unpaid rent and additional rent, or for any other amount which the Landlord may be required to spend by reason of the Tenant's default, including any damages or deficiency in the reletting of the leased property, regardless of whether the accrual of such damages or deficiency occurs before or after an eviction or a summary reentry or other reentry by the Landlord.

(c) Assignment. Tenant shall not assign or encumber the security deposit without Landlord's written consent, and any assignment or encumbrance without such consent shall not bind the Landlord. Regardless of any assignment of this lease by the Tenant, the Landlord may return the security deposit to the original Tenant, in the absence of evidence satisfactory to the Landlord of an assignment of the right to receive such security deposit or any part of the balance thereof.

(6) Surety bond as security--landlord's option to terminate upon tenant's failure to furnish

The Tenant shall execute and deliver to the Landlord a bond for $10,000 with a surety company acceptable to Landlord as the surety thereon to insure the Landlord against loss resulting from the Tenant's failure to perform the terms, conditions, and covenants of this lease. Such bond shall be executed and delivered to the Landlord at the Tenant's expense within 15 days after the execution of this lease. If Tenant fails to furnish such bond, this lease shall terminate 30 days after Landlord gives Tenant written notice to that effect. Such notice shall be sent to Tenant by registered mail, at its above address. Such bond shall be for a term of not less than one year, and shall be renewed thereafter as required for the term of this lease under the same condition of termination as herein provided.

(7) Security deposits received under tenant's subleases--landlord indemnified against claims of subtenants

The Tenant shall indemnify the Landlord against any claim or lien against the Landlord or its successors or against the leased property for the return of any securities under any leases with subtenants for any of the rentable space in the leased property. Neither the Landlord nor its successors shall be liable for any such claim nor shall there be any lien by reason of any such sublease. If Tenant makes any assignment of this lease, Tenant may transfer all securities it then holds under any leases with subtenants, if the assignee agrees in writing to apply all such securities in accordance with the terms of the respective leases and to indemnify both Tenant and Landlord against any claim or lien against them or against the property for the return of any such securities. If the assignee so agrees, Tenant shall immediately be released from all liability under this paragraph. These provisions shall apply to every subsequent transfer of such securities to a new assignee of this lease.

(8) Advance rental--applied to last three months' rent

Upon the execution of this lease, the Tenant shall pay the Landlord $3,000 to be applied to the payment of the last three months' rent of this lease. The Landlord shall have the sole and unrestricted right to use such sum and the sum so paid shall constitute an advance rental.

(9) Advance rental--installment payments--applied as partial payment of last year's rent

Upon the execution of this lease, the Tenant shall pay the Landlord $1,000, an additional $1,000 within three months thereafter, and an additional $1,000 within three months following the second payment. The total of $3,000 shall constitute partial payment of the rental for the last year of this lease, and the balance of such rental for such period shall be paid in equal monthly payments on the first day of each month of the last year of this lease.

(10) Bonus payment--lump sum

To obtain this lease, the Tenant shall pay the Landlord a bonus of $3,000 upon its execution.

(11) Bonus payment--installment payments

To obtain this lease, the Tenant shall pay the Landlord a bonus of $3,000, payable in annual installments of $1,000. The first payment shall be made upon the signing of this lease, and the remaining installments shall be paid on the second and third anniversary dates of this lease.

(12) Bonus by promissory note

Simultaneously with the execution of this lease, the Tenant will deliver to the Landlord its duly executed promissory note to pay the Landlord $3,000 on or before _____[date], and $3,000 on or before _____[date]. The consideration for the total of $6,000 is the execution of this lease by the Landlord. Such amount shall be fully earned by the Landlord upon the execution of this lease. No part shall be applied to or be in satisfaction of any rental becoming due by the Tenant under the terms of this lease.

FORM 23.37 Restrictions on use

COMMENT

There is an infinite variety of clauses covering the uses to which leased property may be put by a tenant. The clauses in this group illustrate some of the more common limitations placed upon a tenant's activities.

General restrictions:

In some jurisdictions, it may be sufficient to allow a tenant the broadest leeway, such as the right to use the premises for "any lawful purpose," unless it is intended to limit his use to a specific purpose. Such a broad provision may be appropriate if zoning regulations, building codes, a certificate of occupancy, and general prohibitions against nuisances are considered to impose adequate limitations. Frequently, a number of restrictions are spelled out, particularly limitations which would not apply as a matter of local law. In this category are restrictions on activities jeopardizing insurance coverage, impairing the landlord's title, or endangering or adversely affecting the value of the property. In addition, violations of the certificate of occupancy, breaches of governmental laws and regulations, and the maintenance of nuisances are often specifically prohibited.

Limited restrictions:

Where a specific business use is contemplated, it is the practice to permit activities which are allied to the main enterprise. Where there is a common landlord for several adjoining tenants, a clause restricting competition is often essential for the protection of each tenant. The specification of a particular use in a lease does not normally constitute a representation on the landlord's part that the use is permitted. A zoning variance, a license, or a governmental approval may be required for the contemplated use. The tenant may have to predicate his obligations under the lease upon his obtaining the necessary variance, license, or approval. If this appears certain, it may be sufficient merely to require the landlord's cooperation in obtaining it. The tenant's expenditures to obtain the zoning variance, license, or government approval are not deductible when paid but must be amortized as a capital expenditure over the term of the lease.

FORMS

(1) Use for any lawful purpose

The Tenant may use and occupy the leased property for any lawful purpose. The Tenant shall not use or knowingly permit any part of the leased property to be used for any unlawful purpose.

(2) Retail use limited to sale of specified type of items--sale of specified incidental items permitted

Tenant shall use the leased premises solely for the purpose of conducting the following business, and for no other purpose: the sale of medium to better Men's Boy's clothing, furnishings and accessories, including the sale of men's sundries and Men's and Boy's shoes as an incidental part thereof.

(3) Prohibition against close-out sales--conduct of retail business in high class manner

Tenant shall not, throughout the term of this lease, conduct any auction, bankruptcy, going-out-of-business, or close-out sales on or from the demised premises, and shall at all times conduct its business in a high class manner suitable for the building and the neighborhood in which it is located. Tenant shall keep the show window of the demised premises and its window displays at all times in a neat and attractive condition.

(4) Prohibition against unlawful, disreputable, or extra-hazardous use--enforcement against subtenants

The Tenant may use and occupy the leased property for any lawful purposes. Tenant shall not use or occupy or permit the leased property or any part thereof to be used or occupied for any unlawful business, use, or purpose, for any business, use, or purpose deemed disreputable or extra-hazardous, or for any purpose or in any manner which is in violation of any present or future governmental laws or regulations. The Tenant shall, promptly after the discovery of any such unlawful, disreputable, or extra-hazardous use, take all necessary legal and equitable steps, to compel the discontinuance of such use and to oust and remove any subtenants, occupants, or other persons guilty of such unlawful, disreputable, or extra-hazardous use. The Tenant shall indemnify the Landlord against all costs, expenses, liabilities, losses, damages, injunctions, suits, fines, penalties, claims, and demands, including reasonable counsel fees, arising out of any violation of or default in these covenants.

(5) Prohibition against uses affecting certificate of occupancy, insurance, structural changes

The Tenant shall not use or occupy or permit the leased property to be used or occupied, nor do or permit anything to be done in or on the leased property, in a manner which will in any way violate any certificate of occupancy affecting the leased property, or make void or voidable any insurance then in force with respect thereto, or which will make it impossible to obtain fire or other insurance required to be furnished by the Tenant hereunder, or which will cause or be likely to cause structural damage to the building or any part thereof, or which will constitute a public or private nuisance, and shall not use or occupy or permit the leased property to be used or occupied in any manner which will violate any present or future laws or regulations of any governmental authority.

(6) Prohibition against use resulting in insurance rate increase--landlord's remedy upon tenant's failure

The Tenant shall not use the leased property in a manner which shall increase the rate of fire insurance in the building in which such property is located over that in effect prior to this lease. If the Tenant's failure to comply with the provisions of this paragraph causes the fire insurance rate to be higher than it otherwise would be, the Tenant shall reimburse the Landlord, as additional monthly rent, for that part of all fire insurance premiums thereafter paid by the Landlord which have been charged because of Tenant's failure.

(7) Prohibition against use violating certificate of occupancy--tenant's obligation to discontinue use upon notice from authorities--landlord's rights upon tenant's failure

The Tenant shall not, at any time, use or occupy the leased property in violation of the certificate of occupancy. If any competent governmental authority at any time contends or declares by notice, violation, order, or otherwise that the leased property is used for a purpose which is a violation of the certificate of occupancy, the Tenant shall, upon five days' written notice from the Landlord, immediately discontinue such use of the leased property. Tenant's failure to do so after such notice shall be considered a default in the fulfillment of a covenant of this lease, whereupon Landlord may immediately terminate this lease and exercise all rights, privileges, and remedies given to it by law and under this lease. The statement in this lease of the nature of the business to be conducted by the Tenant in the leased property shall not be deemed or construed to constitute a representation or guaranty by the Landlord that such business may be conducted in the leased property or is lawful or permissible under the certificate of occupancy issued for the building of which such property forms a part, or is otherwise permitted by law.

(8) Prohibition against specified uses--no use impairing landlord's title or adversely affecting value or character of property

The Tenant shall not use or allow the leased property or any part thereof to be used or occupied for any unlawful purpose or in violation of any certificate of occupancy or certificate of compliance covering or affecting the use of the leased property. The Tenant shall not permit any act to be done or any condition to exist on the leased property or any article to be brought thereon which may be dangerous, unless safeguarded as required by law, which may in law constitute a public or private nuisance, or which may make void or voidable any insurance then in force with respect to the leased property. The Tenant shall not permit the leased property to be used by the public, as such, without restriction or in such manner as might reasonably tend to impair the Landlord's title to the leased property or might reasonably make possible a claim of adverse usage or adverse possession by the public, as such, or of implied dedication of the leased property. The Tenant shall not use or permit the use of the leased property for any purpose which in the Landlord's reasonable opinion would adversely affect the then value or character of the leased property. Any dispute between the Landlord and the Tenant arising under the provisions of this paragraph shall be submitted to arbitration as provided in this lease.

(9) Restrictions on floor load--heavy mechanical equipment

(a) The Tenant shall not place a load upon any floor of the leased property exceeding the floor load per square foot which such floor was designed to carry and which is allowed by law. The Landlord certifies that the street floor space of the leased property will carry 100 pounds live load per square foot of floor space, and that the second floor space of the leased property will carry 50 pounds live load and 20 pounds for partitions per square foot of floor space. If the Tenant desires a floor load in excess of that specified for any portions of the leased property the Landlord shall strengthen and reinforce the floor so as to give the Tenant the live load desired, if the Tenant submits to the Landlord the plans showing the locations of and the desired floor live load for the areas in question, and agrees to reimburse the Landlord on demand for the cost of such strengthening and reinforcement.

(b) The Landlord may prescribe the weight and position of all safes which must be placed so as to distribute the weight evenly.

(10) Restrictions on moving heavy equipment without landlord's consent--special handling by licensed persons--indemnification of landlord

(a) The Tenant shall not move any heavy equipment, heavy machinery, freight, bulky items, or fixtures into or out of the leased property without the Landlord's prior written consent.

(b) If any of the foregoing items require special handling, the Tenant shall employ only persons holding a Master Rigger's license to do the work, and all work shall comply with all federal, state, and local regulations.

(c) Notwithstanding Landlord's consent, Tenant shall indemnify and hold Landlord harmless from and against all damages to property and all damages or moneys paid by Landlord in settlement of all claims or judgments, including all related expenses and attorneys' fees and all costs incurred in repairing any damages to the leased property.

(11) No representation by landlord as to use--specific restrictions on use

(a) The Tenant shall not at any time use or occupy the leased property in violation of the certificate of occupancy issued for the building of which the leased property forms a part. The statement in this lease of the nature of the business to be conducted by the Tenant in the leased property does not constitute a representation or guaranty by the Landlord that such business may be conducted in the leased property, or is lawful or permissible under the certificate of occupancy issued for the building of which the leased property forms a part, or is otherwise permitted by law.

(b) The Tenant shall comply with all applicable federal, state, county, and municipal laws and regulations governing its business in the leased property.

(c) The Tenant shall conduct its business in a manner, regarding noise and other nuisances, that will not interfere with, annoy, or disturb any other tenant in the conduct of its business, or the Landlord in the management of the building.

(d) The Tenant shall not keep within the leased property any article of dangerous, inflammable, or explosive character which increases the danger of fire upon the leased property, or which would be deemed "hazardous" or "extra-hazardous" by any responsible insurance company.

(e) Tenant shall not obstruct or encumber the sidewalks, entrances, passages, courts, elevators, or halls or use them for any purpose other than access to the leased property.

(12) Use for apartment house--commercial or professional uses if permitted by law

The Tenant shall use the leased property for the purpose of operating and maintaining an apartment house, including any commercial or professional tenancies and any stores on the street-level grade, if permitted by law.

(13) Use for specific office purpose--limitation on number of employees--material consideration

The Tenant shall use the leased property solely for the purpose of conducting an insurance brokerage, and for no other purposes. The Tenant shall not, without the Landlord's written consent, permit the leased property to be occupied by any other person, firm, or corporation or by more than 25 employees exclusively employed in the Tenant's insurance brokerage business. This restriction on the type of use of the leased property and the number and type of occupants is a material consideration for the Landlord to enter into this lease.

(14) Use of apartment as residence

(a) Residential use. The Tenant shall use the leased property exclusively for a private residence.

(b) Pets prohibited. No domestic animals shall be kept in or about the leased property without the Landlord's written consent.

(c) Appliances. The Tenant shall not install or use a laundry or dish washing machine, air conditioning or ventilating equipment, or other mechanical equipment, or a television or radio antenna in or outside of the apartment without the Landlord's written consent.

(d) Storage. The laundry rooms and storerooms are provided and maintained gratuitously by the Landlord, and their use is not appurtenant to the leased property. Any use of the laundry rooms or storerooms by the Tenant shall be at its own risk. The Landlord shall not be or become liable for any loss or damage to persons or property by reason of such use.

(e) Rules. The Tenant shall conform to the rules and regulations attached hereto and hereafter adopted to protect the building and to further the general comfort and welfare of the occupants.

(15) Use for supermarket operation--"stay-open" and "radius" clauses

(a) Retail use. Subject to and in accordance with all rules, regulations, laws, ordinances, statutes, and requirements of all governmental authorities and the Fire Insurance Rating Organization and Board of Fire Insurance Underwriters, and all similar bodies having jurisdiction, the Tenant shall use the leased property solely for the retail sale of food for off-premises consumption, except that an area not to exceed 3,000 square feet of floor space, inclusive of aisle space, may be used for the sale of non-food items.

(b) Operation, hours. The Tenant shall conduct its business in the leased property under the name of Tasty Products, Inc., as a typical supermarket operation, and in any consistent manner therewith that will achieve the maximum volume in gross sales. The Tenant shall be open for business on all days and for all hours during which the majority of supermarkets in the community are open for business.

(c) Radius restriction. Neither the Tenant nor any person owning a greater than 20 percent interest in it shall own, operate, manage, or have any interest in the profits of any similar store or business within a radius of five miles from the leased premises, unless such store or business is in operation on the date of this agreement.

(16) Use as store in shopping mall--hours of operation--continuous, active, and diligent operation of business--penalty for failure to remain open--merchants association

(a) Use. Lessee shall operate its business in the Demised Premises during the term of this Lease under the name "A Bedder World." The Demised Premises shall be occupied and used solely for the purpose of retail sales of primarily beds, water beds, and associated bedroom furniture and accessories, including, but not limited to, bedding, pillow furniture and pillow couches, but expressly excluding the sales of leather, rosewood, or butcher-block furniture, housewares and gourmet utensil items.

(b) Use restrictions. Lessee shall not abandon or leave vacant the Demised Premises, or permit, license, or allow them to be occupied by any other party. Lessee shall:

(i) Keep the Demised Premises continuously and uninterruptedly open for business at least from 10:00 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. each day of the week, unless prevented from doing so by strikes, fire, casualty, or other causes beyond Lessee's control.

(ii) Conduct no auction, fire or bankruptcy sales, or similar practice.

(iii) Display no merchandise outside the Demised Premises nor in any way obstruct the malls or sidewalks adjacent thereto. Lessee shall store all trash and refuse in appropriate containers within the Demised Premises and attend to the daily disposal thereof in the manner designated by Lessor. Lessee shall not burn any trash or rubbish anywhere within the confines of the shopping center complex, or operate a garbage grinder without Lessor's prior consent. If Lessor elects to provide refuse compactor service in the shopping center complex, Lessee shall use said service exclusively for disposal of all waste. If compactor service is not provided, Lessee shall use a refuse disposal service approved by Lessor.

(iv) Load or unload all merchandise, supplies, fixtures, equipment, and furniture and cause the collection of rubbish only through the rear service door or doors of the Demised Premises. No deliveries of any kind shall be made through the front entrance.

(v) Keep the Demised Premises in a careful, safe, clean, and proper manner; and not permit any rubbish or refuse of any nature emanating from the Demised Premises to accumulate in the mall areas or rear delivery area.

(vi) Prevent the Demised Premises from being used in any way which will injure the reputation of the same or of the Shopping Center of which it is a part, or from being used in any way which may be a nuisance, annoyance, inconvenience, or damage to the other tenants or occupants of the shopping center complex, including, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, noise by the playing of any musical instrument or radio or television or the use of a microphone, loud speaker, electrical equipment, or other equipment which may be heard outside of the Demised Premises.

(vii) Display or affix no sign, advertising, placard, name, trademark, insignia, decal, advertising matter, or any other item or items on any exterior door, wall, or window or within any display window space in the Demised Premises or within five feet of the front of the Demised Premises in the case of an open storefront, or within any entrance to the Demised Premises. Lessor may, without notice to Lessee and without any liability for damage to the Demised Premises reasonably caused thereby, remove all items displayed or affixed in violation of the above provisions.

(viii) Abide by all reasonable rules and regulations established by Lessor, from time to time, with respect to the common areas, facilities, improvements, and sidewalks.

(c) Active operation. Upon commencement of the term hereof, Lessee shall proceed with due dispatch and diligence to open for business in the Demised Premises. Lessee shall thereafter continuously, actively, and diligently operate its business on the Demised Premises in a high grade and reputable manner, maintaining therein an adequate staff of employees and a full and complete stock of merchandise during business hours throughout this term, unless prevented from doing so by fire, strikes, or other contingencies beyond its control. If Lessee fails to open for business within 30 days after the term commences or thereafter fails to thereafter keep the Demised Premises open each business day during the hours specified herein, then Lessee shall pay as rent during each month the Demised Premises are not open or in which such hours are not maintained an amount equal to double the Minimum Rent provided for in Article III. Such amount represents the agreed liquidated damages to Lessor, since the exact amount of its damages cannot be ascertained with certainty. Lessor's right to receive such liquidated damages shall be in addition to all its other rights and remedies.

(d) Compliance with law. Lessee shall not use or occupy the Demised Premises or any part thereof, or permit all or part of such premises to be used or occupied, for any purpose contrary to law, the rules or regulations of any public authority, the requirements of any insurance underwriters or rating bureaus, or in any manner so as to increase the cost of insurance to Lessor over the normal cost of such insurance for the use above permitted for the type and location of the building of which the Demised Premises are a part. Lessee shall, on demand, reimburse Lessor for all extra premiums caused by Lessee's use of the Demised Premises, regardless of whether Lessor has consented to such use. Nothing contained herein shall permit a use other than the use provided above. Lessee shall promptly comply with all present and future laws, regulations, and rules of applicable county, state, federal, and other governmental authorities, and their respective bureaus and departments, as well as of the National Board of Fire Underwriters or any other body exercising similar function which may be applicable to the Demised Premises, including the making of any required structural changes thereto. If Lessee shall install any electrical equipment that overloads the lines in the Demised Premises, Lessee shall make whatever changes are necessary to comply with the requirements of the applicable insurance underwriters and governmental authorities.

(e) Merchants association. Lessee shall become a member of any Merchants Association formed by the tenants of the Shopping Center and approved by Lessor, abide by all rules and regulations established by the Merchants Association and maintain such membership. Lessee shall cooperate in any Merchants Association's Shopping Center wide sales and promotions and advertise annually in at least four Shopping Center wide Merchants Association newspaper sections or advertisements as from time to time determined by the Association's Board of Directors. The minimum size of such advertisements shall be either 1/8 page in a full-sized newspaper section, or 1/4 of a page of a tabloid size advertisement. In addition to the foregoing, Lessee shall pay as its share of the cost of the activities conducted by the Merchants Association the 25 cents per year for each square foot of Floor Area contained in the Demised Premises ("Merchants Association payment"), payable in advance in quarter annual installments, plus a nonrecurring fee of 25 cents per sq. ft. for each square foot of Floor Area contained in the Demised Premises as an initial membership fee in such Merchants Association. Commencing with the second Lease Year, and each Lease Year thereafter, the Merchants Association payment shall be adjusted upwards or downwards in the manner set forth below, but never less than the above amount. The amount of the Merchants Association payment for each Lease Year, commencing with the second Lease Year, shall be determined as follows: Using the Consumer Price Index for "All Urban Consumers" (CPI-U, 1982-84 Base = 100), published by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the United States Department of Labor, applicable on the date of this Lease as the denominator and the index number for the first month of each Lease Year thereafter as the numerator, multiply the resulting fraction by the above stated Merchants Association payment. If the Bureau of Labor Statistics changes the base period, the new index numbers shall be substituted for the old index numbers in making the above computation. If the above Consumer Price Index is discontinued, comparable statistics on the purchasing power of the consumer dollar, as then published by a recognized financial periodical, shall be used in making such computation.

(17) Use as administrative offices--no injury to reputation of building--extra hazardous activity prohibited--general tenant covenants and covenants regarding environmental compliance

(a) Tenant's use of leased premises. Tenant shall use the Leased Premises for administrative offices for a _____ business only and for no other purpose whatsoever.

(b) Nature of use. Tenant shall use and occupy the Leased Premises in a careful, safe and proper manner and shall keep the Leased Premises in a clean and safe condition in accordance with local ordinances and the lawful directions of proper public officers. Tenant shall not use, occupy or permit the Leased Premises to be used or occupied, nor do or permit anything to be done in or on the Leased Premises, in whole or in part, in a manner which would in any way violate any certificate of occupancy affecting the Building.

(c) Reputation of building. Tenant shall not use or allow the Leased Premises to be used, for any purpose other than as specified herein, and shall not permit the Leased Premises to be used for any unlawful, disreputable or immoral purpose or in any way that will injure the reputation of the Building, nor permit the Leased Premises to be occupied in whole or in part by any other person, except as otherwise provided herein.

(d) Extra hazardous activity. Tenant agrees that it will not do or permit to be done, or keep or suffer to be kept, anything in, upon or about the Leased Premises which will contravene Landlord's policies insuring against loss or damage by fire or other hazards, or which will prevent Landlord from procuring such policies in companies acceptable to Landlord. Tenant shall not use or occupy or permit the Leased Premises to be occupied, nor do or permit anything to be done in or on the Leased Premises, in whole or in part which will cause or be apt to cause structural injury to the Leased Premises or the Building or any part of either, or as or will constitute a public or private nuisance. Tenant shall permit no waste, damage or injury to the Leased Premises.

(e) Exterior. Tenant will not mark, paint, decorate, drill or in any way deface the exterior of the Leased Premises or the Building without first obtaining Landlord's written approval. Tenant shall remove promptly upon order of Landlord any paint or decoration which has been applied to or installed upon the exterior of the Leased Premises by Tenant, its agents, employees or contractors without Landlord's prior written approval, or take such other action with reference thereto as Landlord may direct.

(f) Rubbish and trash. Tenant shall not permit the accumulation of rubbish, trash, garbage or other refuse in and around the Leased Premises or the Building, will remove same at Tenant's expense, and will keep such refuse in proper containers on the interior of the Leased Premises until called for to be removed. In the event Tenant fails to remove any accumulation of rubbish within three (3) days after notice to remove the same, Landlord shall have the right to remove the same, in which event the cost thereof shall be paid by Tenant as additional rent for the following month, except that Landlord shall at no time be obligated to remove the same but may cancel this Lease if continual violations occur.

(g) General covenants of tenant. Tenant will, at its sole cost: (i) comply with all laws or ordinances and all valid rules, regulations and requirements of all county, municipal, state, federal and other governmental authorities, now in force or which may hereafter be in force, pertaining to the Leased Premises; (ii) comply with all recommendations of any public or private agency having authority over insurance rates with respect to the use or occupancy of the Leased Premises by Tenant; (iii) install and maintain fire extinguishers; (iv) comply with all reasonable rules and regulations which Landlord may, from time to time, establish for the use and care of the Leased Premises, Building and Common Areas, and other facilities in the Development; (v) not park on, and require its employees to refrain from parking any vehicles on, Development Land except in such places as may be designated from time to time by Landlord for the use of Tenant and its employees; (vi) not load or unload or permit the loading or unloading of merchandise, supplies or other property from any doors except those doors designed for such purpose; and (vii) adequately heat the Leased Premises to prevent damage by freezing or otherwise.

(h) Covenants regarding environmental compliance.

(1) Tenant will not use, generate, manufacture, produce, store, release, discharge, or dispose of on, under or about the Leased Premises and the Development or transport to or from the Leased Premises and the Development any Hazardous Substance (as defined below), or allow any other person or entity to do so except in minor amounts under conditions permitted by applicable laws.

(2) Tenant shall keep and maintain the Leased Premises in compliance with, and shall not cause or permit the Leased Premises to be in violation of, any Environmental Law (as defined below).

(3) Tenant shall give prompt written notice to Landlord of:

(i) any proceeding or inquiry by any governmental authority with respect to the presence of any Hazardous Substance on the Leased Premises or the migration thereof from or to other property;

(ii) all claims made or threatened by any third party against Tenant or the Leased Premises relating to any loss or injury resulting from any Hazardous Substance; and

(iii) Tenant's discovery of any occurrence or condition on any real property adjoining or in the vicinity of the Leased Premises that could cause the Leased Premises or any part thereof to be subject to any restrictions on the ownership, occupancy, transferability or use of the Leased Premises under any Environmental Law.

(4) Tenant shall protect, indemnify and hold harmless Landlord, its directors, officers, employees, agents, successors and assigns from and against any and all loss, damage, cost, expense or liability (including attorney fees and costs) directly or indirectly arising out of or attributable to the use, generation, manufacture, production, storage, release, threatened release, discharge, disposal, or presence of a Hazardous Substance on, under or about the Leased Premises, including, without limitation: (i) all foreseeable consequential damages, and (ii) the costs of any required or necessary repair, cleanup or detoxification of the Leased Premises and the Development and the preparation and implementation of any closure, remedial or other required plans. The foregoing environmental indemnity shall survive the expiration or termination of this Lease and/or any transfer of all or any portion of the Leased Premises, or of any interest in this Lease, and shall be governed by the laws of the State of _____.

(5) Definitions:

"Environmental Law" means any federal, state or local law, statute, ordinance, or regulation pertaining to health, industrial hygiene, or the environmental conditions on, under or about the Leased Premises, including without limitation the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act of 1980 ("CERCLA") as amended, 42 U.S.C. Sections 9601 et seq., and the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act of 1976 ("RCRA"), 42 U.S.C. Sections 6901 et seq.

The term "Hazardous Substance" includes without limitation:

(i) Those substances included within the definitions of "hazardous substances," or "solid waste" in CERCLA, RCRA, and the Hazardous Materials Transportation Act, 49 U.S.C. Sections 1801 et seq., and in the regulations promulgated pursuant to those laws;

(ii) Those substances listed in the United States Department of Transportation Table (49 CFR 172.101 and amendments thereto) or by the Environmental Protection Agency (or any successor agency) as hazardous substances (40 CFR Part 302 and amendments thereto);

(iii) Such other substances, materials and wastes which are or become regulated under applicable local, state or federal law, or the United States government, or which are classified as hazardous or toxic under federal, state, or local laws or regulations; and

(iv) Any material, waste or substance which is (a) asbestos, (b) polychlorinated biphenyls, (c) designated as a "hazardous substance" pursuant to Section 311 of the Clean Water Act, 33 U.S.C. Sections 1251 et seq. (33 U.S.C. Section 1321) or listed pursuant to Section 307 of the Clean Water Act (33 U.S.C. Section 1317); (d) explosives, or (e) radioactive materials.

FORM 23.38 Exclusive use provisions and radius restrictions

COMMENT

In the absence of specific protection in a lease, a tenant has no right to prevent competing uses by other tenants in the same building, tenants in the vicinity or by the landlord. For this reason, many leases provide that the landlord will not lease or permit the use of other parts of a building for activities which will offer business competition to the tenant. Such provisions are commonly referred to as "exclusive use" clauses.

In formulating an exclusive use clause the draftsman may consider:

- (1) Failure of the landlord to insert a restriction on use in a subsequent lease to another tenant;
- (2) The operation of a competing activity by the landlord;
- (3) Sale of the premises to a new owner who either competes or leases the premises to another for a competing use.

Radius restriction on the tenant:

A radius restriction clause prohibits the tenant from opening a similar store within a specified radius of the landlord's shopping center. Generally, a radius clause could give rise to the issue of whether it is an unreasonable restraint of trade. The resolution of this issue depends upon the facts and circumstances of each particular case. Attention should be given to the reasonableness of the time, distance, and purpose of the particular radius clause. This requires an examination of all relevant facts in light of applicable law.

Radius restrictions do serve a legitimate business purpose. To obtain the substantial sums necessary to construct shopping centers, developers have used two useful devices: the radius clauses and percentage rent. Percentage rent, generally based on the gross sales volume in each store, was developed to deal with fluctuations in the economy and the particular business over the term of the lease. As a necessary corollary, the developer relies upon a radius clause so that the tenant will not open a site too close to the shopping center which would pull customers away from the shopping center and reduce the percentage rent. A radius clause which is reasonable in terms of time, distance, and purpose, and which is merely ancillary to a lawful lease, should generally be enforceable, although applicable law should be examined.

Radius restriction and gross sales for percentage rent:

Lease clauses which restrict tenants in shopping centers from operating competing stores within a certain radius of the center aim to protect the developer's percentage of rentals by insuring that tenants devote their best efforts to generating sales within the center. While a second store operated by the same tenant within the same trade area might be at a competitive disadvantage to the store within the center, it still may siphon off at least some customers from the center. This could result in decreased sales and decreased income. Instead of an outright ban against the tenant's operation of a similar store within a given distance from the center, a less restrictive provision could be employed for protecting the developer's rentals. This could be done by including the gross sales of any store within the radius in the gross sales of the leased store within the center for the purpose of computing the lessee's percentage rent.

Exclusive use provisions:

It is not uncommon for a shopping center lease to restrict the landlord from allowing a use in another store in the shopping center similar to the use specified in the lease. For example, a lease of a computer store may contain a restriction against leasing to another computer store, within the center or within a specified radius from the center. The restriction is frequently drafted in one of three ways. One method is to restrict the landlord from leasing, or entering into a lease for a store to be used for the particular use. An alternative is a covenant by the landlord not to permit the particular use in a store in the shopping center. A third alternative is the landlord's grant of the exclusive right to the particular use to the tenant. Which style of restriction is desirable in a particular lease depends on the facts and circumstance of a particular lease transaction as well as applicable law.

Antitrust aspects:

Ordinarily, a provision in a shopping center lease granting a tenant the exclusive right to carry on a certain line of business in the shopping center does not constitute an illegal restraint of trade as long as the scope and effect of the restriction is not unreasonably broad. Lease restrictions are often necessary in order for a shopping center to obtain a desirable tenant. Whether a particular restriction is unreasonably broad depends upon the facts and circumstances of the transaction, and local as well as federal law. There is no guarantee, however, that a particular restriction, although apparently reasonable, would not be challenged as a restraint on trade. The resolution of this issue in many cases is a question of fact rather than a question of law. The same clause may be valid or deemed a restraint of trade depending upon different facts and circumstances.

The Federal Trade Commission has issued various orders prohibiting the inclusion of certain anticompetitive restrictive clauses in shopping center leases which are an unreasonable restraint on trade. Accordingly, many prior practices have been abandoned in order to conform to the body of developing regulatory law in this area.

For example, the following anticompetitive clauses have been forbidden:

- (1) Giving a drugstore-chain landlord the right to be the only drugstore in a shopping center;
- (2) Giving the landlord the "right of first refusal" on placing another drugstore in a shopping center;
- (3) Restrictions imposed by a substantial chain tenant upon types of goods and services which may be offered for sale by satellite and other tenants already within a shopping center where the landlord-chain is a tenant.

In general, all lease agreements which prohibit or in any manner control the entrance of prospective tenants into shopping centers, or control or restrict the business operations of other tenants therein, could subject the landlord to FTC action.

Tax aspects:

In the event of a breach of an exclusive use clause, there may be a problem in measuring the tenant's loss. The tenant may have an action for loss of profits or for injury to goodwill. Or the damages may be the difference in rental value with and without the covenant. The method of taxing the amount received by the tenant depends upon the nature of the recovery. As a general rule, amounts recovered for damages to a taxpayer's capital or goodwill represent a return of capital. Such amounts are not taxable unless they exceed the taxpayer's basis of the asset to which they are attributable. On the other hand, damages for the destruction of business are taxable if they represent a recovery of lost profits rather than the loss of tangible or intangible assets. In some cases, however, a recovery may represent compensation for damage to goodwill even though the amount is measured by the loss of profits. Thus, damages have been first attributed to the loss of physical assets and to an investment in advertising before being attributed to the loss of income. Among the factors taken into account in classifying the recovery are the causes of action permitted under local law, the nature of the claim asserted by the tenant, and the measure of the recovery.

FORMS

(1) Landlord's agreement not to rent other space in shopping center for specified use

The Lessor shall not rent other space in the shopping center for use solely as a men's specialty shop specializing in clothes of the same quality as those of the Tenant at the time of execution of this lease.

(2) Retail use by tenant--restriction against landlord leasing to another to operate a similar store--store to remain open and stocked

The Tenant may use the demised premises only for a stationery, card, and gift shop. The Landlord shall not lease to any other Tenant whose use of space in the shopping center is to be for the principal purpose of the operation of a stationery, card, and gift shop. The demised premises shall be kept open and fully stocked for business during normal business hours.

(3) Landlord restricted from leasing space for use specified--conditioned on tenant performance of lease terms--major tenants excepted

Notwithstanding any contrary provision herein, so long as Tenant is not in default of any term, provision, covenant, or condition hereof, Landlord shall not lease or cause to be occupied any other space in the shopping center for the purposes of a medium to better priced men's and boy's clothing store. This clause shall not be applicable to:

The Major Department Store

The Chain Drugstore

The National Department Store

The Local Supermarket

or to any Tenant where the sale of Men's and Boy's clothing is incidental to its main line of business.

(4) Landlord's agreement not to permit similar use in premises or within a specified radius--permitted similar uses described

In order to induce the Tenant to enter into this lease, neither Landlord nor its successors and assigns, officers, directors, shareholders (holding more than 10 percent of its stock), parent, affiliated and subsidiary corporations, or affiliated parties shall use, suffer, permit, or consent to the use or occupancy of (a) any part of the Entire Premises or adjacent premises as a supermarket or for the sale of food or food products intended for off-premises consumption or (b) any other premises owned or controlled by Landlord or any of the above mentioned parties within a radius of two miles of the Entire Premises as a food supermarket.

Notwithstanding any contrary provision of this Section, Landlord may lease stores within the Entire Premises for the following uses upon the following terms and conditions:

(a) One bakery selling home-style baked goods, baked by its proprietor.

(b) Any premises leased to reputable chains operating variety stores or junior department stores may be operated by them without restriction if they do not operate such premises or permit the same to be operated as a supermarket.

(c) Premises occupied by Washington Stores Corporation, or any of its subsidiaries, successors or assigns (operated under the name of "Alberts") may be operated as a department store without restriction, except that not more than 1,000 square feet of its selling floor space may be devoted to sales of food products. For the purposes of this restriction, candy, confections, cookies, potato chips, pretzels, and other "snack" products shall not be considered food products.

(d) Any restaurant may sell food prepared on the premises ready for immediate consumption without further preparation either on or off the premises.

(5) Tenant's exclusive right to sell specified products--not applicable to other specified stores

The Tenant shall have the exclusive right to sell products normally sold by a bakery shop, except that such exclusive right will not apply to or prevent the sale of such products by chain tenants such as the super food markets, the Jr. Department store or the Variety store and the Drug store. The Landlord shall not rent any other space in the shopping center for the purpose of baking on the premises, with the exception of the Chains, but the Landlord shall not rent any space to a bakery chain.

(6) Restriction on tenant operating a similar business within specified radius--tenant includes related parties--inclusion of income from other stores within the radius in percentage rent gross income

During the term of this Lease and all renewals and extensions thereof, Tenant shall not, directly or indirectly, or through subsidiary or affiliated corporations, partnerships, or other commercial entities (and no officer or director, or shareholder owning more than 10 percent of the Tenant's stock, shall) engage in the same or any similar business as that conducted on the Demised Premises within a radius of four miles from the extreme limits of the Landlord's premises. This restriction shall not apply to any business of Tenant that (i) is open and doing business within the specified radius as of the date this Lease is executed, or (ii) that is opened for business to the public within such radius after execution thereof. The exception in (ii) shall apply only if the parties agree in writing to the following: to add the gross sales of such business to the gross sales from the Tenant's business in the Demised Premises for the purpose of computing percentage rental under this Lease; and not to include gross sales from any store opened more than four years from the date hereof within such four-mile radius, except that the required minimum annual rental shall be increased by 35 cents per square foot of the floor area in the demised premises (as specified in Article II above), starting on the date such store opens for business.

(7) Landlord's agreement not to rent space in medical office building to competing radiology service--exception for dentists and physicians with X-ray equipment for their own patients--provision void if tenant defaults, assigns, sublets, or changes use

During the term, Landlord shall not permit any portion of Landlord's building to be used by a Competing Business. "Competing Business" shall mean an office engaged primarily in providing radiology services to the public, excluding: (i) any business occupying space in the building directly or (as an assignee or sublessee) indirectly under a lease executed prior to the execution of this lease by Landlord and Tenant; (ii) Landlord and Tenant understand and agree that certain tenants of the building (i.e., dentists and doctors) and specifically The _____ Clinic, will have, as a service to their patients, X-ray equipment in their offices and that those services do not constitute a default under this lease. This paragraph shall be null and void if: (a) an event of default, as described in Paragraph _____ of this lease, shall have occurred; (b) Tenant shall have assigned its rights under this lease to sublet the premises; or (c) the premises shall cease to be used primarily for the use of providing radiology services to the public.

(8) Landlord prohibited from competing with tenant

The Landlord shall not, during the continuance of this lease, directly or indirectly engage in or compete with the Tenant's trade or business. However, the Landlord may manufacture, within the corporate limits of the municipality in which the demised premises are situated, goods handled by the Tenant, if such goods are conveyed and sold beyond such corporate limits.

(9) Tenant's rights upon landlord's breach of prohibitions against competing

If there is a breach of any provision of this paragraph, the Tenant shall have the following rights and remedies, none of which shall be exclusive of the others or any other remedy otherwise available to the Tenant:

(a) Injunction. The Tenant may institute proceedings to enjoin the violation, either in its name or that of the Landlord.

(b) Termination. If the conflicting use continues for a period of ten days after the Tenant gives written notice to Landlord, Tenant may, at any time thereafter, elect to terminate this lease. If Tenant so elects, this lease shall be terminated on the date fixed in the notice of such election, and Tenant shall be released and discharged from all further liabilities hereunder.

(c) Rent. So long as such condition exists, the Tenant's only obligation with respect to rental shall be the payment of percentage rentals only, with no guaranteed minimum annual rentals, on the basis of the percentages of gross sales. Such percentage rentals shall be payable only after each lease year of the term expires, and only while such condition continues.

(d) Expenses. The Tenant may hold the Landlord liable for all costs and expenses, including counsel fees, sustained or incurred in connection with any proceedings instituted by the Tenant. If the Landlord does not institute and proceed diligently with a suit to enjoin such conflicting use, the Tenant may hold it liable for any other damages sustained or to be sustained by reason of the violation of such covenant.

FORM 23.39 Covenants of quiet enjoyment

COMMENT

A specific covenant of quiet enjoyment only rarely gives the tenant any rights in addition to those which are implied in every lease. A specific provision is not required to protect the tenant against evictions and other substantial interference by the landlord, or by anyone asserting a title superior to that of the landlord.

Many covenants of quiet enjoyment are designed to circumscribe the scope of the implied covenant. A common method of limiting the right to quiet enjoyment is to predicate this right upon the tenant's performance of all the terms of the lease. In the absence of such a condition, the tenant's implied rights do not depend upon his standing under the lease. The clauses in this group include this condition. In addition, these clauses illustrate further limitations on the covenant of quiet enjoyment by making the tenant's rights subordinate to existing mortgages, ground leases, and other superior liens.

FORMS

(1) Covenant of quiet enjoyment--subject to tenant's performance of lease

The Tenant, upon the payment of the rent and the performance of all the terms of this lease, shall at all times during the lease term and any extension or renewal term peaceably and quietly enjoy the leased property without any disturbance from the Landlord or any other person claiming through it.

(2) Covenant of quiet enjoyment--subject to tenant's performance of lease--subject to existing mortgage

The Tenant, upon paying the basic rent and all additional rent and other charges, and performing all the other terms of this lease, shall quietly have and enjoy the leased property during the lease term without hindrance or interference by anyone claiming by or through the Landlord, subject, however, to the reservations and conditions of this lease and the fee mortgage to which it is subordinate.

(3) Quiet enjoyment conditioned upon payment of minimum and percentage rent--exclusion of eminent domain

If the Lessee pays the Minimum and Percentage Rent and other charges provided herein and performs all of its covenants and agreements hereunder, Lessee shall, at all times during such term, have the peaceable and quiet enjoyment and possession of the Demised Premises without any manner of hindrance from Lessor or any persons lawfully claiming through it, except as to any portion of the Demised Premises that is taken under the power of eminent domain.

(4) Covenant of quiet enjoyment--landlord to pay ground lease mortgage--subject to ground lease, existing fee, mortgages, and restrictions

So long as the Tenant pays the rents reserved by this lease and performs and observes all of its covenants and provisions, the Tenant shall quietly enjoy the leased property. The Landlord shall comply with all the terms of and make all payments due on mortgages placed by the Landlord on the existing ground lease, and shall pay all real estate taxes on the leased property before they become delinquent. The Tenant's quiet enjoyment of the leased property shall be subject, however, to the terms of this lease, to dispossession by reason of superior title, the ground lease, or the existing mortgages on the fee, and to all easements, restrictions of record, and municipal ordinances. If the Tenant is dispossessed from the leased property by reason of the terms of this lease, the ground lease, or the existing mortgages on the fee, or by reason of such easements, restrictions, or ordinances, the payment of rent shall cease from and after the date of such dispossession. Landlord shall, immediately after such dispossession, return to Tenant any rent prepaid by it or any sum held by Landlord constituting Tenant's security deposit. However, Tenant shall not be entitled to receive from Landlord any damages suffered as a result of such dispossession.

(5) Covenant of quiet enjoyment--eviction by foreclosure or after conveyance of fee not breach

The Tenant, on paying the rent reserved, and performing all the covenants and conditions of this lease, shall, at all times during the demised term, peaceably and quietly have, hold, and enjoy the leased property. However, no eviction of the Tenant by reason of the foreclosure of any present or future mortgage now or hereafter on the leased property shall be construed as a breach of this covenant, nor shall any action by reason thereof be brought against the Landlord. Moreover, no eviction of the Tenant for any reason, after the Landlord has conveyed the fee of the leased property, shall be construed as a breach of this covenant, and no action therefor shall be brought against the Landlord.

(6) Covenant of quiet enjoyment by landlord and mortgagee

So long as the Tenant pays the rent reserved under this lease and fulfills its obligations thereunder, the Tenant shall peaceably hold and quietly enjoy the leased property without interruption by the Landlord or the mortgagee, or any other person, firm, or corporation claiming under either of them.

(7) Prior mortgage or lease to contain clauses protecting tenant--tenant not to be made party to eviction or foreclosure actions of prior interests--nondisturbance agreement required

(a) Prior interests in premises. Notwithstanding the subordination of this lease to any subsequent superior lease or superior mortgage or to any subsequent renewal, modification, replacement, or extension of any superior lease or superior mortgage, or to any consolidation or spreader of any prior or subsequent superior mortgage, this lease is subject to the express conditions that, and shall be effective only if, the holder of such superior mortgage or the lessor of such superior lease, by their respective terms, or by separate agreement, agrees in substance as long as this lease is in effect:

(i) The Tenant shall not be joined as a party defendant (1) in any action or proceeding instituted or taken by the lessor of such superior lease for the purpose of terminating such superior lease by reason of any default thereunder, or (2) in any foreclosure action or proceeding instituted or taken by the holder of such superior mortgage; and

(ii) The Tenant shall not be evicted from the Demised Premises, nor shall its leasehold estate under this Lease be terminated or disturbed, or any of its rights under this Lease be affected in any way, by reason of (1) any default under such superior lease or such superior mortgage, or (2) any disaffirmance or other termination of such superior lease. However, upon the request of the holder of a superior mortgage or the lessor of a superior lease, the Tenant shall attorn and execute a nondisturbance, recognition and attornment agreement in form prepared by such holder and reasonably satisfactory to the Tenant.

(b) Nondisturbance agreement. The Landlord represents that there is presently no existing superior lease. The Landlord shall deliver to the Tenant, on the Commencement Date of this Lease, a nondisturbance agreement from the then existing mortgagee, and concurrently with the execution of future superior mortgages, shall deliver a nondisturbance agreement from such mortgagees, in the form approved and prepared by such holder, and reasonably satisfactory to the Tenant.

(c) Attornment to successor landlord. If the lessor of a superior lease or the holder of a superior mortgage succeeds to the Landlord's rights under this Lease, whether through possession or foreclosure action or delivery of a new lease or deed (the "successor landlord"), and the successor landlord requests, and agrees in writing to accept, Tenant's attornment, Tenant shall attorn to and recognize the successor landlord as its landlord under this Lease, and shall promptly execute and deliver any instrument that the successor landlord reasonably requests to evidence such attornment. Upon such attornment, this Lease shall continue in full force and effect as, or as if it were, a direct lease between the successor landlord and Tenant upon all of the terms, conditions, and covenants set forth in this Lease and shall be applicable after such attornment. However, the successor landlord shall not:

(i) be liable for any previous act or omission of the Landlord under this Lease;

(ii) be subject to any offset, not expressly provided for in this Lease, which has previously accrued to the Tenant against the Landlord; or

(iii) be bound by any previous modification of this Lease, not expressly provided for therein, or by any previous prepayment of more than one month's fixed rent, unless such modification or prepayment has been expressly approved in writing by the lessor of the superior lease or the holder of the superior mortgage through or by reason of which the successor landlord has succeeded to the Landlord's rights under this Lease.

Notwithstanding any of the foregoing provisions of this Section, none of Tenant's claims against any prior Landlord shall be deemed waived, extinguished, or relinquished.

(d) Approval of mortgagee. No alteration or modification of any provision of this Lease, nor any cancellation or surrender of this Lease, shall be valid or binding against any superior mortgagee of the premises covered by this Lease unless it has been approved in writing by the holder of such superior mortgage, whose name and address has been furnished to the Tenant, in writing, by notice as provided above.

FORM 23.40 Repair and maintenance

COMMENT

A provision dealing with repair and maintenance is normally included in a lease because the local rules of law do not generally reflect the customs in the trade. Moreover, this is an area in which there must be clear guidelines defining the immediate obligations of the parties, since the curing of a defective physical condition often cannot await a protracted dispute as to responsibility.

Tenant repairs:

If the burden is on the tenant, the extent of his responsibility should be spelled out with exactness. A general requirement to keep property in good repair may not include structural repair or the replacement of worn-out items unless such obligations are specified. On the other hand, if the tenant covenants to make all necessary repairs without exception, his obligation to make repairs may exist regardless of the reason for the repairs. Therefore, exceptions are often made for ordinary wear and tear and for repairs necessitated by casualties. A tenant's undertaking to effect all repairs does not normally require him to put the premises in a better condition than when received. Sometimes this obligation is imposed by a covenant to "put in repair." The repair and maintenance provision should also cover the responsibility with respect to exterior areas, and should assign the task of snow and rubbish removal. In some cases, the tenant's obligation to repair is expressed by obligating him to return the property in as good a condition as when received. This type of provision presents its own unique problems. From a tax perspective, the landlord may be denied a deduction for depreciation or cost recovery. For a detailed discussion of the tax treatment of the lessee's costs of repairs, see the Tax Background (TB) § 23.09, at the beginning of this chapter.

Landlord repairs:

A landlord generally has no duty to repair or maintain leased premises, except with respect to concealed defects existing at the beginning of the term. Therefore, a specific provision is usually required whenever such duties are to be shared by or assigned to the landlord. Among the obligations often assumed by the landlord are those relating to structural and exterior areas, and those occasioned by defective materials or workmanship in buildings erected by the landlord. It should be noted that a clause requiring one party to make specified repairs does not in itself obligate the other to make the remaining repairs, and a clause excusing one party from certain repairs does not automatically commit the other to making them. For a more detailed discussion of the tax treatment of the lessor's costs in managing and maintaining rental property, see TB § 23.10.

Tax deduction or amortization:

The tax treatment of expenditures for repairs can become a difficult problem. There is a fine dividing line between repair costs which are deductible and improvement costs which must be capitalized and then deducted over the recovery period of the improvement. The Regulations provide, "The cost of incidental repairs which neither materially add to the value of the property nor appreciably prolong its life, but keep it in an ordinarily efficient operating condition may be deducted as an expense." However, the rule is different for the cost of "repairs in the nature of replacements, to the extent that they arrest deterioration and appreciably prolong the life of the property." The rules apply to the landlord and the tenant equally. The tax treatment of the cost of improvements to rental property is covered in greater detail in TB § 23.07. The tax treatment of the lessee's and lessor's repairs are considered in TB §§ 23.09 and 23.10, respectively.

Tax treatment of specific items:

The tax litigation in this area has made it extremely difficult to state any meaningful generalizations. Deductions have been allowed for the costs of shoring a wall and repairing a foundation of a collapsing building, for painting and repapering rooms, and for cleaning and refilling loose mortar in brick walls of a building. On the other hand, on facts which are difficult to distinguish in principle, deductions have been denied for recovering and replacing a large portion of a roof, for replacing the electrical system in a building, for covering old shingles with new, and for replacing worn-out furnishings and equipment in a hotel. A deduction is not justified merely because the repair or replacement must be made in order to comply with local laws or regulations. The fact that repairs and replacements are required by the terms of a lease tends to justify the deduction. Thus, the deduction has been allowed for recurring purchases of assets of relatively short life and for the costs of replacing worn-out machinery and equipment all made pursuant to lease obligations. See TB §§ 23.09 and 23.10.

Business or investment purpose:

For both the landlord and the tenant, the deduction is based upon the general allowance of all ordinary and necessary expenses paid or incurred in carrying on a trade or business, or for the production or collection of income, or for the management, conservation, or maintenance of property held for the production of income. Thus, a tenant whose occupancy is purely for residential purposes may not take a deduction for the cost of repairing and maintaining the leased property. For the difference in tax treatment between rental of property used in a business or investment and rental of dwellings used for personal purposes, see TB §§ 23.02 and 23.13.

FORMS

(1) Tenant's obligation to repair and replace--landlord's right on tenant's default

Tenant, at its expense, shall promptly make all necessary repairs and replacements to the leased property, whether interior or exterior, ordinary or extraordinary, or structural or nonstructural, as and when necessary. Such obligation shall extend to repairs and replacements to the pipes, heating and plumbing systems, window glass, fixtures, and all other appliances and their appurtenances, as well as to all equipment used in connection with the leased property, and the sidewalks, curbs, and vaults adjoining or appurtenant thereto. The quality and class of all repairs and replacements shall be at least equal to that of the original work. If Tenant defaults in making such repairs or replacements, Landlord may make them for Tenant's account, and all expenses thereof shall constitute and be collectible as additional rent.

(2) Tenant's obligation to maintain buildings--adjacent areas

The Tenant shall, at all time during the lease term, at its expense, put and maintain in thorough repair and in good and safe condition, all buildings and improvements on the leased property, and their equipment and appurtenances, both inside and outside, structural and nonstructural, extraordinary and ordinary, however the necessity or desirability for repairs may occur, and regardless of whether necessitated by wear, tear, obsolescence, or defects, latent or otherwise. The Tenant shall also, at its expense, put and maintain in thorough repair and in good and safe condition, and free from dirt, snow, ice, rubbish, and other obstructions or encumbrances, the sidewalks, areas, chutes, sidewalk hoists, railings, gutters, and curbs in front of and adjacent to the leased property.

(3) Tenant's obligation to maintain sprinkler system--to make changes required by authorities

The Tenant shall maintain in good and proper condition the sprinkler system now installed in the leased property. If such system or any of its appliances are damaged or injured or not in proper working condition by reason of any negligence or fault of the Tenant, its agents, servants, employees, or visitors or otherwise, the Tenant shall immediately make all needed repairs and restore the system to a good working condition. If the Board of Fire Underwriters, the Fire Insurance Exchange, or any state or municipal bureau, department, or official requires or recommends that any changes, modifications, alterations, or additional sprinkler heads or other equipment be made or supplied by reason of Tenant's business or the location of partitions, trade fixtures, or other contents of the leased property, or if such changes or additional equipment become necessary for any reason, Tenant shall promptly make or supply them at its expense.

(4) Tenant's obligation to maintain and repair--standard for repairs--arbitration of disputes

(a) Repairs. Throughout the term hereof, Tenant, at its expense, shall take good care of, and make all necessary repairs to, the leased property and the adjoining sidewalk, curbs, and vaults, regardless of whether interior or exterior, structural or nonstructural, ordinary or extraordinary, or foreseen or unforeseen. As used in this Article, "repairs" include all necessary replacements, renewals, alterations, additions, and betterments. All repairs made by the Tenant shall be at least equal in quality and class to the original work. The Tenant will do or cause others to do all necessary shoring of foundations and walls of the building and every other act for the safety and preservation thereof which may be necessary by reason of any excavation or other building operation upon any adjoining property or street, alley, or passageway.

(b) Standards. Whether repairs to the leased property and adjoining areas are necessary and adequate under subparagraph (a) above shall be measured by the appropriate standard for improvements of similar construction and class. However, Tenant shall in any event make all necessary repairs in such a manner as to avoid any structural damage or injury to the building.

(c) Maintenance. The Tenant shall maintain all portions of the leased property and adjoining areas in a clean and orderly condition, free of dirt, rubbish, snow, ice, and unlawful obstructions.

(d) Sole responsibility. The Landlord shall not be required to furnish any services or facilities or to make any repair or alteration in or to the leased property or adjoining areas. The Tenant shall assume the full and sole responsibility for the condition, operation, repair, replacement, maintenance, and management of the leased property and adjoining areas.

(e) Arbitration. Any dispute between the parties as to the standard of care and maintenance of the leased property and adjoining areas shall be determined by arbitration. If, however, the requirement for making repairs or replacements is imposed by any governmental authority or the holder of any mortgage to which this lease is subordinate, such requirement shall be complied with by the Tenant and shall not be considered an arbitrable dispute. The Tenant, however, may dispute or contest the validity, application, or reasonableness of any such requirement and the Landlord shall give it reasonable cooperation in this connection.

(5) Tenant's obligation to maintain and repair--covenant against waste--reasonable wear and tear excepted

The Tenant shall not cause or permit any waste, damage, or injury to the leased property. The Tenant, at its expense, shall keep the leased property as now or hereafter constituted with all improvements made thereto and the adjoining sidewalks, curbs, walls, parking areas, landscaping, access roads, and vaults clean and in good condition (reasonable wear and tear excepted), and shall make all repairs, replacements, and renewals, whether ordinary or extraordinary, foreseen or unforeseen, including all structural repairs, necessary to maintain the leased property. All repairs, replacements, and renewals shall be at least equal in quality of materials and workmanship to that originally existing in the leased property. The Landlord shall in no event be required to make any repair, alteration, or improvement to the leased property. Any equipment and materials replaced by the Tenant shall belong to the Tenant, and all proceeds from their disposition may be retained by the Tenant. The Tenant shall indemnify the Landlord against all costs, expenses, liabilities, losses, damages, suits, fines, penalties, claims, and demands, including reasonable counsel fees, because of the Tenant's failure to comply with the above. The Tenant shall not call upon the Landlord for any disbursement or outlay in connection therewith, and expressly releases and discharges the Landlord of and from any liability therefor.

(6) Landlord maintenance of roof and structure--tenant maintenance of leased premises--indemnification of landlord and mall tenants for accidents

(a) Lessor maintenance. Lessor shall keep and maintain the roof and structural portions of the Demised Premises, except that Lessee shall promptly repair any damage caused thereto by its act or negligence or that of its employees, agents, invitees, subtenants, licensees, assignees, or contractors. Except as otherwise provided herein, the Lessor shall not be responsible to maintain or make any improvements or repairs of any kind, in or upon the Demised Premises.

(b) Lessee maintenance. Except as provided above, Lessor shall keep and maintain every part of the Demised Premises in good order, condition, and repair (including any necessary replacements). Such maintenance shall include, without limitation, the exterior and interior portions of all doors, door checks, security gates, windows, glass, utility facilities, plumbing and sewage facilities within the Demised Premises or under the floor slab including free flow up to the main sewer line, fixtures, heating, air-conditioning including exterior mechanical equipment, exterior utility facilities and exterior electrical equipment serving the Demised Premises and interior walls, floors and ceilings, including compliance with applicable building codes relative to fire extinguishers. If Lessee refuses or neglects to commence or complete repairs promptly and adequately, Lessor may make or complete such repairs and require Lessee to reimburse it for the cost thereof.

(c) Indemnification. Lessee shall protect, indemnify, save and keep harmless Lessor and other tenants and occupants of the shopping center complex against and from all claims, loss, cost, damage, or expense arising out of or from any accident or other occurrence in, on or at the Demised Premises, from the utilities located thereunder causing injury to any person or property, the occupancy or use of the Demised Premises or any act or omission of Lessee, its employees, agents, invitees, subtenants, licensees, assignees, or contractors. Lessee shall hold Lessor harmless and indemnified against and from any penalty or damage or charges imposed for any violations of any law or ordinance, whether occasioned by the neglect of Lessee or those holding under Lessee. Lessee shall also indemnify, and hold harmless Lessor and other tenants and occupants of the shopping center complex against and from any and all claims and against and from any and all loss, cost, damage, liens, or expense arising out of any failure of Lessee to comply with and perform all the requirements and provisions of this Lease. Lessee shall procure and continue in force general liability insurance covering all claims for injuries to persons in or upon the Demised Premises, including all damage from signs, glass, awnings, fixtures, or other appurtenances now or hereafter erected on the Demised Premises, and insuring the indemnity agreement contained in this paragraph. Such insurance shall be for not less than $500,000 for injury to one person in one accident, occurrence or casualty and not less than $1,000,000 for injuries to more than one person in one accident, occurrence or casualty. Lessee shall also carry property damage insurance for not less than $100,000 for damage to property arising out of any one occurrence. All insurance policies required hereunder shall name Lessor as an additional insured, and Lessee shall furnish Lessor evidence of such insurance coverage. Such insurance policies may not be modified or terminated without 30 days advance notice to Lessor.

(7) Shopping center lease--tenant to pay pro rata share to maintain common area

(a) Maintenance expenses. The Tenant shall pay the Landlord in the manner provided in subdivision (b) below the Tenant's pro rata share of the Actual Costs of Maintaining and Operating the Common Area during the leased term. The "Actual Costs of Maintaining and Operating the Common Area" mean the following: All amounts paid by the Landlord as actual net costs for maintaining and repairing the common areas (but only to the extent that the cost in question is not properly chargeable to "capital account" under generally accepted accounting principles) including, without limitation, any and all enclosed or unenclosed malls and mall areas and installations therein; cleaning; snow and ice removal; costs and expenses of planting, replanting, and replacing flowers and landscaping; water and sewerage charges; maintenance, repair, and replacement of utility systems; lighting, heating, and air conditioning of any enclosed mall; premiums for liability and workmen's compensation insurance; wages; salaries of any resident manager and his secretary, directly and actually performing services in connection with the common areas in an amount not to exceed $45,000 per annum; unemployment taxes, social security taxes, personal property taxes, if any, sales and use taxes on material, equipment, supplies, and services purchased for maintenance of the common areas; real property taxes on any enclosed mall, including the land thereunder; fees for required licenses and permits, supplies and operation of loudspeakers and any other equipment supplying music to the common areas or any part thereof; operation of public restrooms; policing the common areas and affording protection thereof against fire; reasonable straight-line depreciation of movable equipment used in the operation, repair, and maintenance of the common areas; reasonable rental of movable equipment used in the maintenance of the common areas, but without duplication as to depreciation charges on such movable equipment, but as to rental of such equipment only if its rental will, in the Landlord's good faith judgment, be less expensive than depreciation on owned equipment; and other similar direct costs properly chargeable to such operation. However, Tenant's maintenance expenses shall not include any real property taxes (except such taxes on any enclosed mall), assessments, capital costs, depreciation, interest, amortization, compensation of executives, overhead, and profit, all as determined in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

(b) Pro rata share. The Tenant's pro rata share of the costs and expenses shall be that portion of the whole which the floor space of the leased property bears to the total ground floor space from time to time occupied by the tenants in the Shopping Center. The annual charge to the Tenant shall be paid in monthly installments on the first day of each calendar month in advance in an amount estimated by the Landlord. Within 90 days after the end of each calendar year, the Landlord shall furnish the Tenant a statement in reasonable detail of the actual common area costs and expenses paid or incurred by the Landlord or its designees during such period, prepared in accordance with sound accounting practices by the Landlord's or the designee's accountant. Thereupon there shall be an adjustment between the Landlord and the Tenant, with payment to or repayment by the Landlord, as the case may require, so that the Landlord shall receive the entire amount of the Tenant's pro rata share of such costs and expenses for such period. In no event, however, shall the Tenant's pro rata share and payments exceed $15,000 annually.

(c) Arbitration. Any disagreement between the Landlord and the Tenant with respect to the interpretation or application of this section shall be determined by arbitration under the governing rules of the American Arbitration Association.

(8) Landlord's obligation to maintain parking area--tenant's rights upon default

(a) Parking area installation. The Landlord shall, at its expense, grade, drain, and suitably hardsurface the parking area to conform with the Tenant's requirements at or prior to the commencement of this lease term.

(b) Maintenance. The Landlord shall, at all times during this lease term, at its own expense:

(1) Maintain sufficient floodlights and other means of illumination to illuminate the parking area during all twilight and evening hours that the Tenant's store is open for business and in operation;

(2) Maintain and keep the parking area in good condition with a hard-top surface pavement and properly striped, clean and remove debris, ice, and snow, and provide suitable and sufficient traffic direction personnel as required;

(3) Permit free parking on the parking area at all times by the Tenant, its customers, employees, and persons dealing with the Tenant; and

(4) Obtain and maintain public liability insurance covering the interests of the Landlord and the Tenant indemnifying the Tenant and holding it harmless from any liability for personal injury, death, or property damage arising on or about the operations on the parking area, within limits of $100,000/$300,000 for personal injury and death, and $25,000 for property damage, and to furnish the Tenant on demand with certificates evidencing the existence of the required insurance.

(c) Remedies. If, at any time during the term of this lease, there is a default in or other noncompliance with any provision of this paragraph, the Tenant shall have the following rights and remedies, none of which shall be exclusive of the others or any remedy otherwise available to the Tenant:

(1) The Tenant may remedy or attempt to remedy any such default or other noncompliance and expend all necessary sums therefor at Landlord's expense. All sums so expended plus lawful interest thereon shall be payable to Tenant on demand and may be deducted by it from any rents or other sums due or to become due.

(2) So long as any such default or other noncompliance continues, all provisions in this lease with respect to the payment of any guaranteed minimum annual rental shall be eliminated, and the Tenant's only obligation with respect to rental shall be the payment of the percentage rentals on gross sales as provided for in this lease, payable only after the expiration of each lease year of the term so long as such condition continues.

(3) So long as any such default or other noncompliance continues, the Tenant may, on written notice, terminate and cancel this lease, in which event it shall be relieved of any further liability hereunder.

(9) Landlord's right to maintain and repair--pipes, cables, conduits, etc.--interference with tenant's use to be avoided

The Tenant shall permit the Landlord or its designees to erect, use, maintain, and repair pipes, cables, conduits, plumbing, vents, and wires in, to, and through the leased property, as and to the extent that the Landlord may now or hereafter deem to be necessary or appropriate for the proper operation and maintenance of the building. All such work shall be done, so far as practicable, in such manner as to avoid interference with the Tenant's use of the leased property.

(10) Landlord's obligation to repair--interior decoration excepted

The Landlord shall bear the entire expense of all repairs, alterations, or improvements required on the leased property, except for interior redecoration which shall be performed by the Tenant at its expense. All such repairs, alterations, or improvements by the Landlord shall be accomplished promptly with first class materials, in a good and workmanlike manner, in compliance with all applicable laws of all governmental authorities and in accordance with the applicable orders, rules, and regulations of the Board of Fire Underwriters or any other body hereafter exercising similar functions, and in a style, character, and quality conforming to the existing construction. Delays shall be excused when due to force majeure, which, among other things, shall include strikes, lockouts, and other labor and industrial disputes restricting the Landlord's operations or the operations of any contractor or subcontractor.

(11) Painting and decorating by tenant on landlord's inspection--maximum of once every five years

Landlord may require the premises to be painted and decorated if, upon inspection, it judges that they are not being maintained in good condition or that they require painting and decorating. Tenant shall perform such painting and decorating within 30 days after it receives appropriate written notice from Landlord. If Tenant fails to do so, Landlord may either paint and decorate such areas and charge the cost thereof to Tenant as additional rent, or consider such failure as a default for which Landlord shall have the same remedies as in the case of any other default under the terms of this lease. Such painting and decorating shall not be required more than once in each five-year period.

(12) Heating plant--landlord's obligation to repair--tenant's remedy upon failure

The heating plant and equipment to be installed in the building in which the leased property is located will be, at the commencement of the term, in good working order capable of producing temperature of at least 70 _____ [degrees] Fahrenheit at 0 _____ [degrees] outside, and will be in compliance with all federal, state, and municipal orders, regulations, and requirements. Landlord shall at all times during the term of this lease, at its expense, keep such heating plant and equipment in good order and make all necessary repairs and replacements thereto. If the Landlord fails to make such repairs or replacements, the Tenant may do so, and the cost thereof shall be payable by the Landlord to the Tenant on demand with lawful interest thereon. The Tenant may deduct or retain the amount so paid out of any rents or other sums that may then be due or that may thereafter become due under this lease. In the event of emergency, the Tenant may make such repairs at the Landlord's expense, before giving any written notice to the Landlord, but the Tenant shall notify the Landlord in writing within three business days after the expiration of the emergency.

(13) Tenant to maintain exterior doors--landlord notice of required repairs

Tenant shall repair and replace whenever necessary, at its expense, all exterior doors leading to the demised premises, and fittings, including front door assemblies, jambs, transoms, checks, and hardware. If Landlord determines that such door or doors and appurtenances require repair or replacement, Tenant shall make the necessary repair or replacement within 30 days after it receives appropriate written notice from Landlord. If Tenant fails to make such repair or replacement within the 30-day period, Landlord may either do so and charge Tenant with the cost thereof as additional rent, or consider such failure to be a default for which it will have the same remedies as in the case of any other default hereunder.

(14) Neighboring excavation--tenant's obligation to protect property

If any excavation is made or contemplated for building or other purposes upon property adjacent to the leased property, the Tenant shall either (a) allow any person causing such excavation to enter upon the leased property and any building and improvement now or hereafter erected for the purpose of doing such work as such person considers to be necessary to preserve any wall or structure thereof from injury or damage and to support such walls or structures by proper foundations, or (b) at the Tenant's expense, cause to be done all work that is necessary to preserve any wall or structure of any building and improvement now or hereafter erected upon the leased property from injury or damage and to support such walls or structures by proper foundations. The Tenant shall not, by reason of any such excavation or work, have any claim against the Landlord for damages or indemnity or for suspension, diminution, abatement, or reduction of rent under this lease or any renewal or extension thereof.

(15) Neighboring excavation--landlord's obligation to protect property

If an excavation is made or contemplated for building or other purposes upon land (including land in the bed of a street) adjacent to the leased property, the Landlord may permit any person causing such excavation to enter upon the leased property for the purpose of doing such work as such person deems necessary to preserve the walls and structures of the leased building from injury or damage, and to support such walls and structures by proper foundations. The Landlord shall, at its expense, repair or cause to be repaired any damage caused to any part of the leased property because of any excavation, construction work, or other work of a similar nature which may be done on any adjacent land. The Tenant hereby assigns to the Landlord all rights to recover against the adjoining owners, or the parties causing such damages, the amounts expended or damages sustained by the Landlord from such excavation, construction work, or other similar work.

FORM 23.41 Compliance with laws and regulations

COMMENT

A general covenant to make necessary repairs does not normally require the tenant to make changes or alterations in order to conform to laws and regulations of governmental authorities, or to the requirements imposed by insurance policies. Therefore, the responsibility for such an obligation is customarily expressed either in the repair clause, or in a clause dealing with permitted uses, or in a special clause of the type illustrated in this group.

Structural changes required by law:

In many jurisdictions, the mere statement of a covenant to comply with the requirements of law does not obligate the tenant either to make structural changes or to comply with subsequent enactments not within the original contemplation of the parties. Where the leased premises constitute only part of a building it is especially likely to be presumed that structural changes by the tenant are not intended. Thus, several of the following clauses specify the tenant's obligation with respect to both present and future laws, and structural as well as nonstructural repairs or alterations.

Tenant's right to contest regulations:

One aspect of the tenant's duty to comply with regulatory requirements which is often extensively treated in the lease agreement is the tenant's right to contest the validity or applicability of a regulation or order. The conditions under which the tenant may delay compliance so as to prosecute his contest are generally that no lien will attach to the property and that no civil or criminal liability will be imposed upon the landlord because of the delay. In addition, the tenant may be required to post security for the protection of the landlord.

Americans with Disabilities Act:

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) prohibits discrimination on the basis of disability by public accommodations. Among other things, the law requires places of public accommodation and commercial facilities to be designed, constructed and altered in compliance with accessibility standards contained in federal regulations. Depending upon the circumstances of the lease, the landlord and the tenant of premises which meet the statutory definition of a "public accommodation" and/or a "commercial facility" will desire to provide in the lease for compliance with ADA requirements. Such a provision may ensure one party that the other party has complied with applicable governmental regulations, or it may allocate between the parties the responsibility for compliance.

Environmental laws:

Environmental laws cover a wide spectrum. They may include water and air pollution, dangerous chemicals and construction materials, refuse removal, and other similar laws. The responsibility for compliance with such laws should be delineated in the lease. The laws applicable in any given leasing situation will depend upon the location, nature and use of the premises. For a more detailed discussion of environmental laws and specific forms relating to them, see Vol. 33, Chapter 25, Environmental Considerations in Real Estate Transactions, infra.

Tax treatment of expenditures:

The primary difficulty in determining whether an expenditure is a deductible expense or a depreciable capital item is the same as that involved in expenses for repairs. The fact that the expenditure is initiated solely to satisfy governmental authorities is not a relevant factor in establishing its character. For a more detailed discussion of the tax treatment of the lessee's costs of maintenance and repairs, see the Tax Background § 23.09, at the beginning of this chapter.

FORMS

(1) Tenant's obligation to comply with applicable laws--tenant to obtain necessary license

Tenant, at its expense, shall promptly comply with all federal, state, and municipal laws, orders, and regulations, and with all lawful directives of public officers, which impose any duty upon it or Landlord with respect to the leased property. The Tenant, at its expense, shall obtain all required licenses or permits for the conduct of its business within the terms of this lease, or for the making of repairs, alterations, improvements, or additions, and the Landlord, when necessary, will join with the Tenant in applying for all such permits or licenses.

(2) Tenant's obligation to comply with applicable laws--compliance with requirements of insurance policies

Tenant, at its expense, shall promptly comply with all federal, state, and municipal laws and regulations, including those of appropriate departments, commissions, authorities, boards, and their officers, as well as all orders and regulations of the National Board of Fire Underwriters or any other present or future body exercising similar functions, which may be applicable to the leased property, the fixtures and equipment therein, and the adjoining sidewalks and curbs. Tenant shall comply with the requirements of all public liability, fire, and other types of insurance policies at any time in force with respect to the building and other improvements on the leased property.

(3) Tenant's obligation to comply with applicable laws--structural changes excepted--tenant's right to contest applicability

Tenant, at its expense, shall promptly comply with all present and future federal, state, county, municipal, and other governmental laws and regulations, as well as the orders and regulations of the National Board of Fire Underwriters or any other body exercising similar functions, which may be applicable to the leased property, except when a structural change is required. The Tenant may, after written notice to the Landlord, contest by appropriate legal proceedings, diligently conducted in good faith, the validity or application of any such law, regulation, or rule, and delay compliance therewith pending the prosecution of such proceedings, if such delay does not cause any civil or criminal liability to be incurred by Landlord or any lien or charge to be imposed upon or satisfied out of the leased property.

(4) Tenant's obligation to comply with applicable laws--right in tenant to contest applicability--security for liens or liability

The Tenant, at its expense, shall promptly comply with all present and future laws and regulations of all federal, state, and municipal governments, courts, departments, commissions, authorities, boards, and officers, and all orders and regulations of the National Board of Fire Underwriters or any other body exercising similar functions, whether foreseen or unforeseen, ordinary or extraordinary, which may be applicable to the leased property and adjoining sidewalks, curbs, and vaults or applicable to its owners, tenants, or occupants regardless of whether such laws or regulations require structural changes or improvements or interfere with the use and enjoyment of the leased property. The Tenant shall likewise comply with the requirements of all public liability, fire, and other insurance policies at any time in force with respect to the leased property. Tenant may, after written notice to Landlord, contest by appropriate legal proceedings diligently conducted in good faith, in the name of either or both, without expense to Landlord, the validity or application of any law or regulation of the nature herein referred to, subject to the following:

(a) Tenant may delay compliance until final determination of such proceeding if Tenant prosecutes it with due diligence, provided that the contested law or regulation expressly allows such delay without imposing any lien, charge, or liability against the leased property, or Tenant's leasehold interest therein, and without subjecting either party to any civil or criminal liability for failure to comply.

(b) If any lien, charge, or civil liability would be incurred by reason of any delay under subparagraph (a), Tenant may, with Landlord's written consent (which it shall not unreasonably withhold), contest and delay compliance with such law or regulation, as provided in subparagraph (a), if (i) such action does not subject Landlord to criminal liability, (ii) Tenant furnishes reasonably satisfactory security to Landlord against any resulting loss or injury, and (iii) Tenant prosecutes the contest with due diligence. Landlord shall execute and deliver all necessary and proper documents to permit Tenant to contest the validity or application of any such law or regulation. Landlord shall not be required, however, to execute and deliver any document which, in the judgment of Landlord's attorney, may prejudice its interest in the leased property.

(5) Tenant's obligation to comply with applicable laws--tenant's right to contest applicability and proceedings to widen street and to remove encroachments

(a) Compliance with law. Tenant, at its expense, shall promptly comply with all present and future federal, state, county, city, and other applicable governmental laws and regulations, as well as all orders and rules of the insurance underwriting board or insurance inspection bureau, or any other body exercising similar functions, having or claiming jurisdiction over the leased property, and of all insurance companies writing policies covering such property. Compliance, by Tenant, shall include any necessary structural alteration, change, addition, improvement, or repair, either inside or outside, extraordinary or ordinary (including the removal of any encroachment on the street or on adjoining property by any building on the leased property). Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the Tenant shall procure every permit, license, certificate, or other authorization required in connection with the lawful and proper use of the leased property or with any present or future building or improvement erected thereon, and shall require every person cleaning any window on the leased property from the outside to use the equipment and safety devices then required by law. The Tenant, after notice to the Landlord, may, by appropriate proceedings conducted at the Tenant's expense, contest in good faith the validity or enforcement of any such law or regulation and may defer compliance therewith if such deferment does not constitute a crime by Landlord, Tenant diligently prosecutes such contest to a final determination, and Tenant furnishes Landlord with such security, by bond or otherwise, as Landlord may reasonably request in connection with such contest.

(b) Street widening. If, at any time, during the term of this lease, or any extension or renewal hereof, any proceeding is instituted or order made for the widening or other enlargement of any contiguous street, requiring removal of any projection or encroachment on, under, or about any such street, or any changes or alterations upon the leased property, or in the sidewalks, curbs, gutters, vaults, or appurtenances, Tenant, at its expense, shall promptly comply with such requirement. If Tenant fails to comply, Landlord may do so after giving Tenant ten days' written notice. In such case, Landlord shall add the amount expended, together with any interest, fines, penalties, architects' fees, counsel fees, or other expenses which it may thereby incur, as additional rent to the next installment of net rent due. Tenant may contest in good faith any such proceeding or order if (i) during the pendency of such contest, Tenant deposits with Landlord security in amount and form satisfactory to Landlord for the performance of the work required in case Tenant's contest is unsuccessful, and (ii) such contest is consented to in writing by the holder of any mortgage to which this lease is then subordinate. Tenant shall not permit Landlord to become liable for any criminal violation because of Tenant's failure to comply with any such order.

(6) Tenant to comply with law--flammable materials prohibited--compliance with insurance rules

Tenant shall comply with the requirements of all governmental laws, orders, ordinances, and regulations. Tenant shall not use the demised premises in any manner that would constitute a violation of their permitted use, bring or permit to be brought or kept in or on the demised premises any inflammable, combustible, or explosive fluids, materials, chemicals, or other substances, permit any cooking not expressly authorized hereunder, permit any unusual or objectionable odors to emanate from the demised premises, or do or permit any act upon the demised premises which may subject Landlord to any liability or responsibility for injury to persons or damage to property. Tenant shall comply with all rules, orders, and requirements of the local and National Board of Fire Underwriters, the Fire Insurance Rating Organization, and other similar bodies having jurisdiction. Tenant shall not do, permit, bring, or keep anything in the demised premises which shall increase the rate of fire insurance on the building of which such premises are a part or on the property kept therein over the insurance in effect at the term commencement. If Tenant engages in any of the above, it shall reimburse Landlord on demand, as an additional charge hereunder, for the increased insurance premiums thereafter payable and which are charged because of Tenant's violation, and shall indemnify and hold Landlord harmless from and against all other costs, liabilities, and expenses Landlord may thereby incur. In any action or proceeding in which Landlord and Tenant are parties, a schedule or makeup of rates for the building or the demised premises issued by the Fire Insurance Rating Organization or other body fixing the fire insurance rates, shall be conclusive of the facts therein stated and of the items and charges in the fire insurance rate then applicable to the said premises.

(7) Environmental law compliance--violation by tenant deemed breach of lease--disclaimer by landlord

The parties acknowledge that certain federal, state, and local laws, regulations and guidelines are now in effect, and that additional laws, regulations and guidelines may hereafter be enacted, relating to or affecting the demised premises, the shopping center, and the larger parcel of land of which the demised premises and the shopping center are a part, concerning the impact on the environment of construction, land use, the maintenance and operation of structures and the conduct of business. Tenant will not cause, or permit to be caused, any act or practice, by negligence, omission, or otherwise, that would adversely affect the environment or do anything or permit anything to be done that would violate any of said laws, regulations, or guidelines. Any violation of this covenant shall be an event of default under this lease. Tenant shall have no claim against Landlord by reason of any changes Landlord may make in the shopping center or the premises in which the leased premises are located under such laws, regulations, and guidelines.

(8) Landlord's obligation to comply with applicable laws

The Landlord certifies that the leased property, fixtures, and appurtenances, excluding fixtures and appurtenances installed by the Tenant, conform to all applicable governmental laws, ordinances, regulations, and requirements, as well as the regulations and requirements of all boards of underwriters, rating bureaus, and similar organizations, and of any insurer of the leased property. Landlord, at its expense, shall comply with all such laws, ordinances, regulations, and requirements.

(9) Landlord's obligation to comply with applicable laws--exception as to tenant's defaults

The Landlord shall make all repairs, changes, alterations, and additions required by the laws, ordinances, orders, or regulations of any public authorities having jurisdiction over the leased property. However, the Tenant shall make all such repairs, changes, alterations, and additions required because of its use of the leased property (other than the proper and lawful conduct of the Tenant's business), or because of any unlawful action or negligence of the Tenant or any breach or default by it under this lease.

(10) Tenant's obligation to dispose of infectious waste in compliance with law--lease of medical office space

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in the Lease, Tenant, rather than Landlord, shall be responsible and shall pay for all costs of segregating, packaging, treating, transporting and disposing of all Infectious Waste generated by Tenant at or from the Building. All Infectious Waste shall be identified, segregated, measured, stored and disposed of by Tenant in a manner that complies with all federal state and local laws or regulations applicable to Infectious Waste. None of the common areas may be used by Tenant for the storage or disposal of Infectious Waste.

As used herein, the term "Infectious Waste" means any infectious waste as defined in the infectious waste regulations of the State of _____, including without limitation Section _____ of the _____ Code of the State of _____, as amended from time to time. Tenant hereby agrees that it shall be fully liable for all costs and expenses related to the use, storage and disposal of Infectious Waste generated from the Premises by Tenant.

(11) Allocation of responsibilities for compliance with Americans with Disabilities Act

Landlord warrants and represents that to the best of its knowledge the common areas of the Development are in compliance with the requirements of Title III of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, 42 U.S.C. §§ 12101 et seq. ("ADA"). Landlord further represents and warrants that any alterations, modifications, upfit or construction performed by Landlord to the Leased Premises or the common areas located thereon shall be performed in compliance with the ADA.

Tenant represents and covenants that it shall conduct its occupancy and use of the Leased Premises in accordance with the ADA (including, but not limited to, modifying its policies, practices and procedures, and providing auxiliary aids and services to disabled persons).

If the Lease provides that the Tenant is to complete certain alterations and improvements to the Leased Premises in conjunction with the Tenant taking occupancy of the Leased Premises, Tenant agrees that such work shall comply with the ADA and, on request of the Landlord, Tenant shall provide Landlord with evidence reasonably satisfactory to Landlord that such work was performed in compliance with the ADA. Furthermore, Tenant covenants and agrees that any and all future alterations or improvements made by Tenant to the Leased Premises shall comply with the ADA.

FORM 23.42 Surrender upon termination of lease

COMMENT

The tenant's obligation to return leased property is clear even in the absence of a provision requiring him to do so. However, the condition in which the property is to be returned and the rights with respect to fixtures installed by the tenant and improvements constructed by him should be defined.

Removal of tenant installations:

With respect to the tenant's installations, the problem is not only to define the property which the tenant may remove when the lease expires, but also to indicate the extent to which he is obligated to remove the property. One alternative is to permit the tenant to remove trade fixtures and movable assets, with the provision that any property remaining when the tenant vacates is owned by the landlord. Other alternatives may give the landlord the option to keep the property or have it removed at the tenant's expense. In many cases, the tenant is required to remove all such property. In some jurisdictions this may be the effect of a covenant by the tenant to return the premises in the same condition as when received, or to return the premises "broom-clean."

Tax aspects of surrender clause:

In describing the condition in which property is to be returned, one standard provision requires surrender of the property "in the same condition as at the commencement of the lease term, ordinary wear and tear excepted." This provision should not preclude a depreciation or cost recovery allowance to the landlord. But it was the position of the Service for a long time that depreciation was allowed to neither the landlord nor the tenant if the tenant was required to return the property at the expiration of the lease in the same condition as at the beginning of the lease. The Service has modified its position and now concedes that some depreciation, such as for obsolescence, may be allowed even under such a provision. Depreciation is questionable, however, if the tenant's obligation is to return the property in its same condition as at the beginning of the lease, or the equivalent in its value at that time. A lessee is allowed a deduction for expenses incurred to restore the premises as required under the lease. A deduction is allowed also for a payment in lieu of restoration. The tax treatment of the lessee's costs of repairs, replacements, and restoration is discussed more fully in The Tax Background (TB) § 23.09, at the beginning of this chapter.

Depreciation affected by tenant obligations:

The landlord's depreciation or cost recovery allowance can be affected by the obligation of the tenant to restore the leased property. The denial of the allowance depends upon the degree of the tenant's restoration obligation. Although the tax result depends upon the facts and circumstances of each particular lease transaction, the general legal principles are fairly clear. Generally, if the terms of the lease require the tenant to return the leased property to the landlord upon expiration of the lease in the same condition as at the beginning of the term, or its equivalent in value, or otherwise fully protect the landlord from economic loss, no deduction for depreciation or cost recovery of the leased property is allowed. On the other hand, a landlord may be entitled to depreciation or cost recovery under the terms of a lease requiring the tenant only to make all necessary repairs and replacements and to maintain the property in good condition during the term of the lease, if it can be demonstrated that the landlord will suffer economic loss during the term of the lease. See TB § 23.09.

Surrender of premises:

A number of incidental problems arise with respect to the surrender provision. The measure of damages for the tenant's breach of the covenant to surrender in a prescribed condition may be either the landlord's cost of restoration or the diminution in value, depending upon the jurisdiction. If a particular measure of damages or the right to injunctive relief to compel surrender is contemplated by the parties it should be specifically provided for. Complications which may result from subleasing should be considered. A subtenant who retains possession may acquire certain rights as a holdover tenant unless his status is clarified by the agreement. If the tenant is to pay the cost of the subtenant's removal, this too should be specified in the lease.

FORMS

(1) Surrender in as good a condition as at beginning of lease term--reasonable wear excepted

At the expiration of the lease term, the Tenant shall surrender the leased property in as good condition as it was in at the beginning of the term, reasonable use and wear and damages by the elements excepted.

(2) Surrender in as good a condition as at beginning of lease term--lessee's improvements returned in their condition when completed

The Tenant shall on the last day of the term, or upon the sooner termination of the term, peaceably and quietly surrender the leased property to the Landlord, broom-clean, including all buildings, alterations, rebuildings, replacements, changes, or additions placed by the Tenant thereon, in as good condition and repair as at the commencement of the term, and as any new buildings, structures, replacements, additions, or improvements constructed, erected, added, or placed thereon by the Tenant are when completed, natural wear and tear excepted.

(3) Surrender in same good order and condition--tenant's option to remove his property--landlord's right to unremoved property

The Tenant shall vacate the leased property in the good order and repair in which it now is, ordinary wear and tear and casualties by accidental fire not occurring through the Tenant's negligence alone excepted, and shall remove all its property therefrom so that the Landlord can repossess the leased property not later than noon on the day upon which this lease or any extension thereof ends, whether upon notice or by holdover or otherwise. The Landlord shall have the same rights to enforce this covenant by ejectment and for damages or otherwise as for the breach of any other condition or covenant of this lease. The Tenant may at any time prior to or upon the termination of this lease or any renewal or extension thereof remove from the leased property all materials, equipment, and property of every other sort or nature installed by the Tenant thereon, provided that such property is removed without substantial injury to the leased property. No injury shall be considered substantial if it is promptly corrected by restoration to the condition prior to the installation of such property, if so requested by the Landlord. Any such property not removed shall become the property of the Landlord.

(4) Surrender--removal of tenant's personal property--landlord's right to store and sell

At the expiration of the lease term, the Landlord may remove any personal property then upon the leased property, store the property at the Tenant's expense, and on three days' written notice to the Tenant sell such property at public or private sale, or, if it is unsalable, may dispose of it in any other manner, without liability. The Tenant shall be liable for all expenses of such property's storage, sale, or removal, and the Landlord may retain a 5% commission on the amount realized upon a sale.

(5) Surrender in broom clean and good condition, wear and tear excepted--removal of tenant improvements and restoration of premises--clause to survive lease

(a) Surrender. Lessee shall deliver and surrender to Lessor possession of the Demised Premises upon expiration of this Lease, or its earlier termination, broom clean and in as good condition and repair as they were at the commencement of this Lease term, or may have been put by Lessor during the continuance thereof, ordinary wear and tear and damage by fire or the elements beyond Lessee's control excepted.

(b) Tenant improvements. Lessee shall remove all of its property and all alterations, additions, and improvements that Lessor has elected not to retain, repair all damage to the Demised Premises caused by such removal, and restore the Demised Premises to their condition prior to the installation of the articles so removed. Any property that Lessor has elected not to retain and that is not so removed at the expiration of this term shall be deemed to have been abandoned by Lessee, and may be retained or disposed of by Lessor. Lessee's obligation to observe or perform this covenant shall survive the expiration or termination of this Lease.

(6) Surrender in good order and repair--property subleased by tenant--apportionment of income and expenses

Upon the termination of this lease, the Tenant shall surrender the leased property in good order and repair, except for reasonable wear and tear. Unless the Tenant is then in default in the performance of its obligations, the parties shall apportion all accrued and prepaid income and normal operating expenses as of the expiration of this lease. The Tenant shall deliver to the Landlord all leases, lease files, plans, records, registers, and other papers and documents required for the proper operation and management of the leased property. It is understood that the Landlord will suffer irreparable injury in the event of any violation of this provision, and that the Landlord shall be entitled to a mandatory injunction (including a temporary mandatory injunction, pendente lite) to enforce this provision.

(7) Surrender of building in good order and repair--free of subtenancies--improvements except movable trade fixtures to belong to landlord--abandoned fixtures and personal property to be retained by landlord or removed at tenant's expense

The Tenant shall, on the expiration or the sooner termination of the lease term, surrender to the Landlord the leased property, including all buildings, replacements, changes, additions, and improvements constructed or placed by the Tenant thereon, with all equipment in or appurtenant thereto, except all movable trade fixtures (not including equipment) installed by the Tenant, broom-clean, free of subtenancies, and in good condition and repair, reasonable wear and tear excepted. Any trade fixtures or personal property belonging to the Tenant or any subtenant, if not removed at such termination and if the Landlord so elects, shall be deemed abandoned and become the property of the Landlord without any payment or offset therefor. If the Landlord does not so elect, it may remove such fixtures or property from the leased property and store them at the Tenant's risk and expense. The Tenant shall repair and restore, and save the Landlord harmless from, all damage to the leased property caused by such removal by either party.

(8) Surrender--liquidated damages to landlord upon tenant's failure

At the termination of this lease, whenever occurring or howsoever caused, the Tenant shall immediately surrender and deliver possession of the leased premises to the Landlord. If the Tenant fails to deliver the premises, it shall pay Landlord, as liquidated rental, $100 for each day it holds possession. Landlord, by accepting such liquidated rental, shall not be deemed to waive any other right or privilege under this lease, but rather such right shall be considered as in addition to and not in exclusion of such rights and privileges.

(9) Surrender of leased property broom-clean--tenant's right to movable property--damages for delay--retention of possession by subtenant not a holdover, but tenant liable for costs of subtenant's removal

(a) Surrender of possession. The Tenant shall, on or before the expiration of the lease term, surrender the leased property free of subtenancies and broom-clean, together with all alterations, additions, and improvements made upon the leased property, except movable furniture, movable personal property, or movable trade fixtures put in at the expense of the Tenant or any subtenant. Tenant shall remove the property on or before the expiration of the lease term, and any property not so removed shall be deemed abandoned by it.

(b) Delay. If the leased property is not surrendered at such time, the Tenant shall make good to the Landlord all damage which the Landlord suffers by reason thereof, and shall indemnify the Landlord against all claims made by any succeeding tenant against the Landlord founded upon its delay in delivering possession of the leased property to such tenant, to the extent that such delay is occasioned by the Tenant's failure to surrender the leased property.

(c) Subtenants. The Tenant shall not enter into any sublease for a period beyond the expiration date of the lease term. If any subtenant of the Tenant or any person holding by, through, or under it fails to surrender possession of the leased property at the expiration of the lease term, such failure and the continuance in possession of the leased property by such subtenant or other person shall not constitute a "holding over" by Tenant so as to impose any liability upon it. If Tenant fails to remove such subtenant or other person within ten days after Landlord's written demand, Landlord may do so. In such case, Tenant shall reimburse Landlord for all reasonable expenses, including counsel fees, incurred in effecting such removal.

(10) Acceptance of surrender in writing--acceptance of keys not acceptance of surrender--acceptance of partial rent not a settlement

No agreement to accept a surrender of the demised premises shall be valid unless in writing and signed by Landlord. The delivery of keys to any of Landlord's employees or agents shall not operate as a termination of the lease or a surrender of the premises. Tenant's payment or Landlord's receipt of an amount less than the rent stipulated herein shall not be deemed to be other than on account of the earliest stipulated rent. No endorsement or statement on any check and no letter accompanying any check or payment as rent shall be deemed an accord and satisfaction, and Landlord may accept such check or payment without prejudice to its right to recover the balance of such rent or pursue any other remedy provided in this lease.

(11) Landlord repairs of roof and structure--tenant repair of leased premises--surrender in good, broom clean condition, wear and tear excepted

Landlord shall make all necessary repairs to the roof and structural parts of the demised premises after notification thereof by Tenant, except for repairs caused by Tenant's negligence. During the lease term, Tenant, at its expense, shall keep and maintain the demised premises and all fixtures and equipment therein, including all plumbing, sprinkler, heating, air-conditioning, electrical, gas and like fixtures and equipment, the store-front and all show window glass, the ceilings, doors and door frames, windows and window frames, and inside walls of the demised premises, and all signs of the Tenant erected outside of the demised premises, in good repair, order, and condition. Tenant shall make all required repairs thereto, of the same quality, design, and class as the original work. However, Tenant shall not be required to make repairs to the structural parts of the building, i.e., the bearing walls, beams, roof, foundations and concrete slab, unless the condition necessitating such repairs was caused by the Tenant, its agents, servants or invitees. At the expiration of this lease, the Tenant shall surrender the demised premises in good condition and broom clean, reasonable wear and tear excepted.

FORM 23.43 Tenant's right to alter and improve

COMMENT

The primary tax questions raised by improvements made by a tenant are those relating to the recognition of income to the landlord, the cost recovery or depreciation of the tenant's costs, and the deductions upon termination of the lease.

Tax amortization of tenant improvements:

A tenant's cost of erecting buildings or making other permanent improvements is not currently deductible, but is treated as a capital expenditure. The cost of any building erected, or improvements made, on leased property is recovered over the recovery period applicable to the property. Costs are recovered under the straight line method over 27.5 years for residential rental property or 39 years for nonresidential real property. The costs are recovered over the applicable recovery period regardless of the term of the lease. For a further discussion of the tax treatment of the lessee's costs of improvements, see the Tax Background (TB) § 23.07[1], at the beginning of this chapter.

Tax effect on landlord:

So long as the tenant is in possession under his lease, no income is realized by the landlord from improvements made by the tenant. The enhancement in the value of the property during the term of the lease is not realized income. Improvements which the tenant is permitted to make in lieu of rent may constitute rental income to the landlord. Whether an improvement made by a lessee results in rental income to the lessor in a particular case depends upon the intention of the parties, which may be indicated either by the terms of the lease or by the surrounding circumstances. Rent-free periods or rent abatements when coupled with an obligation on the tenant to make improvements indicate an intention that the improvements are in lieu of the payment of rent. For a more detailed discussion of the tax treatment of the lessor's costs of improvements, see TB § 23.07[2].

Surrender of tenant improvements:

The Code specifically excludes from the landlord's income the value of buildings and other improvements erected or made by a tenant when they are acquired by the landlord upon the termination of the lease. This rule is not applicable if the improvements are accepted in satisfaction of a rental obligation. See TB § 27.07[1].

Lease clause:

Since a tenant generally has no implied authority to make alterations, a permissive provision should be included in the lease whenever future physical changes are considered a possibility. The scope of authority should be defined so as to indicate whether structural alterations and the erection of new structures are permitted. Rights of ownership and the obligation to remove upon termination of the lease should also be specified. An important purpose of this type of provision is to protect the value and the character of the property. For this reason, the landlord often reserves the right to approve the plans and specifications of improvements proposed by the tenant.

Mechanics' liens:

The provision must also deal with the possibility that the property could become encumbered by liens for materials and services furnished to the tenant. A number of techniques are employed to protect the landlord in this respect: (1) approval by the landlord of all work in excess of a specified amount; (2) a bond for the completion of the job free of encumbrances; (3) waivers of liens of materialmen, architects, contractors, and others; (4) the deposit of security by the tenant; and (5) the right in the landlord to discharge liens which are on record for more than a specified period and to add the cost thereof to the rent. The tenant should also be obliged to obtain all necessary permits from governmental authorities before construction is begun.

FORMS

(1) Consent of landlord--improvements to become property of landlord

Tenant shall not make any alterations, additions, or improvements to, or install any fixtures on, the leased property without Landlord's prior written consent. If such consent is given, all alterations, additions, and improvements made, and fixtures installed, by Tenant shall become Landlord's property upon the expiration or sooner termination of this lease. Landlord may, however, require Tenant to remove such fixtures, at Tenant's cost, upon the termination hereof.

(2) Tenant alterations permitted only with landlord consent--alterations become property of landlord

The Tenant shall not make any additions, alterations or improvements in or to the demised premises without the Landlord's written consent. All additions, alterations and improvements made in or to the demised premises by either party shall become the property of Landlord and be surrendered with the premises at the termination of this lease. The Tenant may remove or replace its movable trade fixtures, if it repairs any damage caused by such removal. The Tenant's failure to remove its fixtures or any of its property at the termination of this lease term may be deemed abandonment of such property by the Landlord.

(3) Tenant alterations--landlord's prior consent--attached improvements become landlord property--tenant's obligation to remove improvements on notice of landlord

Lessee shall not make or permit to be made any alterations, improvements, or additions to the Demised Premises or any part thereof without Lessor's prior written consent, and only if they are made in accordance with all applicable laws. All such alterations, improvements, and additions shall immediately be deemed to have attached to the freehold and to have become Lessor's property, and shall remain for its benefit upon the expiration or sooner termination of this lease, in as good order and condition as they were when installed, reasonable wear and tear excepted. However, if before the expiration hereof, or within 15 days thereafter, Lessor directs Lessee to remove any of its additions, improvements, fixtures, or installations, Lessee shall promptly do so and repair any resulting damage. If Lessee fails to effect such removals or make such repairs, Lessor may do so at Lessee's expense. Lessee shall indemnify and hold harmless Lessor from all expense, liens, claims, and damages to persons or property arising out of, or resulting from, the undertaking or the making of any alterations, additions, or improvements hereunder.

(4) Tenant's right to alter and improve--consent of mortgagee where required

Unless prohibited by the terms of any mortgage or deed of trust, the Tenant may make whatever alterations, structural or otherwise, to the leased property it deems desirable in the conduct of its business, including an increase in the height of any building on the leased property, but not the demolition of any building or part thereof. All such alterations and new construction shall be performed in accordance with the provisions of this lease. Whenever any alteration requires the consent of the holder of any mortgage or deed of trust, the Tenant shall first procure such consent.

(5) Tenant's right to alter and improve--landlord to consent to demolition, material changes, and alterations exceeding specified cost

The Tenant may, at its expense, make what alterations, improvements, additions, and changes to the leased property it deems necessary or expedient in the operation of the leased property. Tenant shall not, however, without Landlord's written consent, tear down or materially demolish any improvement on the leased property, or make any material change or alteration thereto, if the improvement, when completed, would substantially diminish the value of the leased property. The Tenant shall not make any change in or alteration to the leased property which would violate the terms of any mortgage then a lien upon the leased property, or of any policy of insurance in force with respect to the leased property. If the estimated cost of any proposed alteration, improvement, addition, or change to the leased property exceeds $10,000, Tenant shall first obtain Landlord's approval of the plans therefor, which Landlord shall not unreasonably withhold.

(6) Tenant's right to alter and improve--present structure not to be changed from self-contained operating unit--limitation on cost of unapproved improvement

The Tenant may make changes or alterations to the building located on the leased property, or construct improvements on such property, subject to the following conditions:

(a) Structural limitations. The Tenant shall not make any structural or other alteration that converts the building located on the leased property into a structure which is not a complete, self-contained operating unit. The Tenant shall make no structural change in, or addition to, the proposed new building if its total cost may be reasonably expected to exceed $25,000, without first submitting to the Landlord plans and specifications thereof and obtaining the Landlord's written consent thereto, which it shall not unreasonably delay or withhold.

(b) Insurance. During the course of any construction, alteration, or addition to the leased property, the Tenant shall deliver to the Landlord, at the Tenant's expense, comprehensive general liability insurance of the character and in the limits reasonably required by the Landlord.

(c) Ownership. Any alteration, addition, and improvement placed upon the leased property by the Tenant, as well as fixtures and articles of personal property attached to or used in connection with the leased property, shall immediately become the property of the Landlord and be surrendered to it at the end or other termination of this lease. However, the movable furniture, movable personal property, and movable trade fixtures put in at the Tenant's expense and which, under the provisions of this lease, may be removed by the Tenant at or before the expiration or sooner termination of this lease, shall not be deemed to be the property of, or surrendered to, the Landlord.

(7) Tenant alterations at tenant's expense--prior approval of plans--compliance with law--indemnification

(a) Alteration at tenant expense. Subject to the Landlord's financial contribution to the cost of the Tenant's installations, Tenant shall accept the premises in their present condition "AS IS" without calling upon Landlord to make any expenditures or to perform any work for the preparation of the demised premises for its use. Tenant shall at its expense, make the necessary alterations and installations in the demised premises required for its business, using a contractor or contractors who have been approved in writing by Landlord, such approval not to be unreasonably withheld. Tenant shall comply at its expense with all present and future governmental requirements arising out of, in connection with, or necessitated by such alterations.

(b) Approval of plans. Before commencing such alterations, Tenant shall submit the plans and specifications therefor to Landlord or its agent, for Landlord's written approval, which Landlord shall not unreasonably withhold. All work to be done by Tenant shall be performed in strict accordance with the approved plans and specifications, unless otherwise approved in writing by Landlord.

(c) Preconditions. Before commencing any work or installing any equipment, Tenant shall:

(1) Permits. Obtain the necessary consents, authorizations, and licenses from federal, state, and/or municipal authorities having jurisdiction over the work to be done. No work shall be started or equipment installed until all such necessary consents, authorizations, and licenses shall have first been duly obtained by the Tenant, its contractor, or other persons doing the work or installing the equipment on the Tenant's behalf;

(2) Subcontracts. Enter into a contract with its contractor and/or other persons who will do the work and install the equipment referred to. Such contract will provide, among other things: that the work shall be done and equipment installed in a good workmanlike manner in accordance with the plans and specifications previously approved and consents, authorizations, and licenses previously obtained; that the contractor or other persons above referred to will look solely to Tenant for payment and will hold Landlord and the demised premises free from all liens and claims of all persons furnishing labor or furnishing materials therefor, or both; and that similar waivers of the right to file liens shall be obtained from all of such contractors or materialmen. A copy of the contract, together with a duly executed waiver of the right to file liens executed by the contractor or other persons above referred to, shall be furnished to Landlord. The contract shall further provide that all labor employed in the alteration work will be labor recognized by the local Building Trade union or unions for such purposes and, in the Landlord's sole judgment, will cause no labor difficulty or other jurisdictional dispute with respect to any other workers or groups of workers then employed in or about the building of which the demised premises form a part;

(3) Indemnification. Tenant shall also indemnify and save harmless the Landlord against all bills for labor performed and equipment, fixtures, and material furnished to the above Tenant in connection with work and against all liens, bills, or claims therefor or against the demised premises and from and against all loss, damages, costs, expenses, suits, claims, and demands whatsoever;

(4) Laws; insurance. Tenant, at its expense, shall promptly comply with all applicable federal, state, city, and other governmental laws, ordinances, orders, and rules, and shall reimburse Landlord for all expenses incurred on account of Tenant's failure to comply. All such expenses incurred by Landlord shall be deemed additional rent under this lease, which shall be due and payable to Landlord on the first day of the month immediately following their payment by Landlord. All persons who do work or install equipment, whether Tenant, its contractors, or other persons, must be fully covered by workmen's compensation insurance, and the certificate therefor must be furnished to Landlord before any such work is commenced. Tenant shall indemnify and hold Landlord harmless from all claims for personal injury, death, or property damage occurring during the progress, or as a result, of any work done in or about the demised premises.

(d) Records and disputes. Tenant shall keep, maintain, and operate, full, true, and accurate books of account and full, true, and complete records with respect to such alterations. Landlord and its representatives shall have full access to such books and records at all times during regular business hours and may examine and audit them. Tenant shall furnish Landlord all statements, information, vouchers, invoices, and supporting data it reasonably requires with respect to such work. Any dispute between the parties as to the cost of such alterations shall be submitted for arbitration to the American Arbitration Association (or any successor organization) in accordance with the association's rules and regulations, and the parties shall be bound by its decision. The parties shall bear equally the expense of such arbitration, except that Tenant shall bear the entire expense if it is determined that Tenant's report of the cost of the alterations was substantially incorrect. As soon as Tenant completes the required alterations and submits satisfactory evidence of their cost, Landlord shall reimburse Tenant therefor up to a maximum of $340,000.

(8) Tenant work in accordance with landlord approved plans--permits, insurance, indemnification--noninterference with adjacent office space

Tenant, at its expense, shall design and construct the Demised Premises for the proper conduct of its business in accordance with the following terms and conditions:

(a) Plans. Tenant's work shall be completed pursuant to working plans and specifications prepared by a duly registered architect employed by Tenant at its expense. Such plans shall be submitted to the Landlord for its reasonable approval. Thereafter, the work shall be commenced and completed with due diligence in substantial conformity with such approved plans and specifications. Any deficiency in design or construction shall be Tenant's sole responsibility, regardless of whether previously approved by Landlord.

The aforementioned plans and specifications and Tenant's work shall comply with all applicable governmental laws, rules, regulations, codes, and orders, and with the requirements of the National Board of Fire Underwriters and other competent agencies. Such compliance is intended to prevent any increase in the applicable fire insurance rates for the Building.

(b) Representations; disclaimer. No representations have been made by Landlord or its employees or agents with respect to the Building, the Demised Premises, applicable zoning and building regulations, or the location, availability, or adequacy of any utilities required in the work.

(c) Permits. Tenant, at its sole cost and expense, shall file all drawings and specifications, pay all fees, and obtain all permits and applications from the local Building Department, the Department of Labor, and other competent governmental authorities, and also obtain a Certificate of Completion (or equivalent) and all other approvals required to enable it to open for business. Tenant shall promptly furnish to the Landlord all certificates and approvals required by the governing authorities. Landlord shall sign all applications requiring the owner's signature.

(d) Workmanship. All materials shall be new, and both workmanship and materials shall be of first class quality; all architects, contractors, subcontractors, materialmen, and workmen shall be duly licensed (if required by local laws) and skilled in their profession and trades.

(e) Mechanic's liens. If any mechanic's or other labor or material lien is filed against the Building or any part thereof as a result of Tenant's work, Tenant shall cause such lien to be discharged by payment, bond, or otherwise, within 30 days after it has knowledge or receives notice from Landlord, the architect, the general contractor, or any other person, that the lien was filed. If Tenant fails to do so, Landlord may obtain such discharge. In such event, Tenant shall indemnify and hold Landlord harmless from and against all expenses in connection therewith. Tenant shall reimburse Landlord for such expenses, on demand, as additional rent.

(f) Insurance; indemnification. Prior to commencement of the work, the general contractor shall secure Builders Risk Insurance (Fire with Extended Coverage and Vandalism Endorsement) on a Completed Value Form with Landlord and Tenant as named assured, in an amount not less than 100% of the value of the work.

Tenant shall indemnify and hold harmless Landlord and any mortgagee(s) having an interest in the Demised Premises, from and against any and all suits, actions, damages, losses, claims or liabilities, expense, including reasonable counsel fees, resulting from or due to the work contemplated hereunder, whether same be as a result of the claims of other tenants in the Building or acts or omissions of Tenant, its agents, employees, the architect, the general contractor, or any subcontractor, supplier, or materialman. Tenant shall insure this obligation in its hereinafter required Comprehensive General Liability Policy. In addition, prior to the commencement of the work, Tenant shall procure and maintain at its own cost and expense: insurance against claims under Workmen's Compensation Acts with limits of $100,000 for employer's Liability Insurance; Comprehensive General Liability Insurance covering the work (including Broad Form Contractual Liability Insurance and Products and Completed Operations Insurance) with a combined single limit of not less than $1,000,000 bodily injury and/or property damage liability. Landlord and all mortgagees having an interest in the demised premises shall be named assured in such insurance policies, which shall be issued by companies approved by Landlord. Certificates evidencing the placement of all the above required insurance and evidencing endorsements providing for 15 days' prior written notice to Landlord of cancellation or changes in such insurance shall be delivered to Landlord before the work commences. If such certificates are not furnished, Landlord may secure them at Tenant's expense.

(g) Maintenance. Tenant shall not permit the accumulation of building supplies, equipment, waste material, or rubbish outside the Demised Premises, and during the construction and upon completion shall cause all rubbish, implements, material, and equipment to be removed from the premises. At no time, shall the sidewalks, adjacent office entrances, or public areas be blocked or interfered with, and Tenant shall maintain continuous protection of the property. If any damage is done to any other portions of the Building, Tenant, at its own cost and expense, shall repair and/or replace same, in a manner satisfactory to the Landlord, to the condition existing prior to the commencement of the work.

(h) Labor. Tenant shall require its general contractor and all subcontractors and materialmen to employ the services of labor that will work in harmony with each other, and any others working in the area. If labor disputes arise, from any cause whatever, Tenant shall make every effort to end same.

(i) Title to personalty. Title to all improvements, as constructed and installed by Tenant, together with Tenant's trade fixtures and furniture shall remain in Tenant until the expiration or sooner termination of this lease. Upon such expiration or sooner termination of the lease term, title to its improvements, installations, trade fixtures and furniture which are not removed by Tenant shall immediately vest in Landlord, free of any and all liens or claims of Tenant or any other person. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if Tenant, or anyone claiming by, through or under Tenant, or anyone claiming by, through or under Tenant, shall have any claim or lien on said improvements by operation of law or otherwise, such claim or lien shall at all times be subject and subordinate to the lien of any mortgage or mortgages and any underlying lease which may now or hereafter affect the Building or any part thereof.

(j) Inspections. Landlord may place its supervisory personnel and representatives on the job during the course of construction, at Landlord's expense, for the purpose of making inspections and insuring that Tenant and Tenant's contractors, suppliers and materialmen comply with these conditions. Notwithstanding the foregoing enumeration of restrictions and conditions, Landlord may at any time during the course of the work to impose such other restrictions, rules and conditions as may be reasonably necessary to insure the proper completion of the work.

(k) Consent. Nothing herein contained shall imply any consent or agreement by the Landlord to subject Landlord's estate to liability under any mechanic's or other lien law.

(l) Drawings. Upon completion of the work, Tenant shall provide Landlord, at Tenant's sole cost and expense, one set of "as built" drawings.

(9) Tenant improvements-- landlord approval of drawings and contractor required-- tenant to obtain permits and licenses--landlord to provide tenant's allowance for construction

(a) Condition of premises. Landlord has no obligation to alter, remodel or improve the Premises in any way. Tenant agrees to accept the Premises in an "as is" condition.

(b) Drawings. Tenant shall submit to Landlord, on or before thirty (30) days after the date of this Lease, drawings for the build out of the Premises. Within ten (10) days after the receipt of the Tenant's drawings, Landlord, by notice in writing addressed to Tenant, shall indicate Landlord's approval of them or clearly specify any objections to them, the objections in all events to be reasonable. The work to be performed by Tenant as described in the drawings therefor, approved by Landlord as provided above, are herein referred to as "Tenant's Work."

The drawings for Tenant's Work shall be prepared by licensed architects in the employ of Tenant. Tenant shall bear all costs of preparing the drawings. Landlord's approval of the drawings shall not constitute an opinion or agreement that they are in compliance with law (it being agreed that such compliance is solely Tenant's responsibility), nor shall such approval impose any present or future liability on Landlord or waive any of Landlord's rights under the Lease. Tenant shall provide Landlord with two (2) sets of the drawings.

(c) Workmanship. Tenant shall, to the reasonable satisfaction of Landlord, commence, construct, perform and complete all Tenant's Work in a good and workmanlike manner, in complete accordance with the drawings approved by Landlord.

(d) Lease applicability before commencement date. At all times prior to the Commencement Date, all the provisions, covenants and conditions of the Lease shall be applicable to the Premises other than those requiring payment of rent relating solely to the Premises.

(e) Permits. Prior to commencement of construction of Tenant's Work, Tenant shall obtain, at its sole cost and expense, all permits and licenses and other consents and approvals of all governmental authorities as may be required in connection with Tenant's Work and shall deliver copies thereof to Landlord. Tenant shall, at its sole cost and expense, furnish to Landlord all certificates and approvals with respect to work done by Tenant or on Tenant's behalf that may be required from any governmental authority for the issuance of a certificate of occupancy for the Premises and shall obtain such certificate and furnish Landlord with a copy of such certificate prior to the Commencement Date.

(f) Compliance with law. Tenant's Work and all of Tenant's trade fixtures and equipment shall be performed, constructed and installed in accordance and in full compliance with all applicable governmental requirements, including without limitation all applicable laws, statutes, codes, ordinances and governmental rules, regulations and orders, as well as reasonable rules and regulations established by Landlord. Tenant's Work shall be performed without interference and disruption to Landlord or other tenants.

(g) Approval of contractor. Any contractor used by Tenant to perform Tenant's Work pursuant to this Section, must first be approved in writing by Landlord, which approval shall not be unreasonably withheld. Such approval shall be in Landlord's sole discretion based on the proposed contractor's financial condition, reputation and workmanship, but no such approval shall relieve Tenant of any of its other obligations hereunder or impose any liability upon Landlord. In connection with the performance of Tenant's Work or the use and occupancy of the Premises, Tenant shall not permit anything to occur which directly or indirectly interferes in any way with the use and occupancy of any tenant or the normal operations of the Shopping Center.

(h) Tenant's allowance. Landlord shall provide to Tenant an allowance in the sum of $_____, which shall be used by Tenant toward the cost of construction of Tenant's Work ("Tenant's Allowance"). The Tenant Allowance may only be used for leasehold improvements that become part of the Leased Premises, it being specifically understood and agreed that no portion of the Tenant Allowance may be used for removable trade fixtures, equipment, furniture or other personal property. All improvements constructed with Tenant's Allowance dollars shall become part of the Leased Premises and title thereto shall vest in Landlord upon installation. All costs of Tenant's Work that exceed Tenant's Allowance shall be paid by Tenant. Tenant hereby expressly grants Landlord an offset and deduction against Tenant's Allowance for all delinquent costs, payments, and expenses Tenant is obligated to pay Landlord pursuant to the Lease or otherwise due and owing to Landlord.

Tenant's Allowance shall be due and payable when: (i) Tenant's Work has been performed in accordance with the provisions of this Section; (ii) Tenant has furnished evidence satisfactory to Landlord that all work contracted for by Tenant in and about the Premises has been paid for, including without limitation, mechanic's lien affidavits and lien waivers in accordance with the mechanic's lien laws of the State of _____; (iii) the Premises are open for business; (iv) Tenant has made the first payment of Minimum Rent required hereunder; (v) Tenant has executed such certificates as shall be reasonably required by Landlord or any mortgagee of Landlord; (vi) Tenant has furnished Landlord with a written certificate of the actual cost of Tenant's Work, together with evidence of such cost as Landlord shall require; and (vii) at or prior to Tenant's opening for business at the Premises, Tenant has, at its sole cost and expense, obtained and delivered to Landlord a final certificate of occupancy for the Premises. Then, when and if each condition contained in the foregoing items (i) through (vii), inclusive, hereof has been complied with in full, Landlord shall pay to Tenant the Tenant Allowance.

(10) Subtenant's right to alter and improve--general conditions

The Subtenant may from time to time to make, at its sole expense, additions, alterations, and changes (hereinafter sometimes collectively referred to as "alterations"), in or to the leased property, subject to the following conditions:

(a) Notice. No structural alterations shall be commenced unless the Tenant gives at least 20 days' prior written notice to the Landlord.

(b) Structural. No alterations of any kind shall be made which would change the general design, character, or structure of the building, materially decrease its size, cubic content, or rentable area, or materially reduce or impair the value, rental, rental value, rentability, or usefulness of the leased property or any part thereof.

(c) Permits. No alterations shall be commenced until the Subtenant procures and pays for all necessary governmental permits and authorizations. The Landlord shall join whenever necessary, but without any liability or expense to it, in the applications for such permits or authorizations, and, if necessary, shall request the Main Landlord to join in such applications.

(d) Architect. All alterations involving an estimated total cost of more than $25,000 shall be conducted under the supervision of an architect or engineer selected by the Subtenant and approved in writing by the Landlord. Such alterations shall be made in accordance with detailed plans and specifications and cost estimates prepared or approved in writing by such architect or engineer and approved in writing by the Landlord prior to their commencement.

(e) Standards. All alterations shall be made promptly and in a good workmanlike manner, and in compliance with all applicable governmental laws, ordinances, regulations, orders, permits, and authorizations, as well as with the orders, rules, and regulations of the applicable insurance underwriting board or insurance inspection bureau, or any other body exercising similar functions.

(f) Insurance. Before commencing alterations, the Subtenant shall, at its expense: provide workmen's compensation insurance covering all persons employed in connection with the work and with respect to whom death or bodily injury claims could be asserted against the Main Landlord, the Landlord, the Subtenant, or the leased property; provide, if the work involved calls for blasting, insurance against loss or damage resulting from blasting, explosion, and vibrations; and obtain all necessary endorsements on the insurance policies provided for elsewhere in this lease covering the additional risks during the course of such alterations.

(g) Bond. Before commencing any alteration, the estimated cost of which is $25,000 or more, the Subtenant shall provide a surety company bond or bonds in a company or companies and in form satisfactory to the Landlord in an aggregate amount equal to the estimated cost of such alteration, guaranteeing the completion of such alteration in accordance with plans and specifications therefor approved by the Landlord and the payment of the cost of such alteration.

(11) Liens for improvements by tenant--indemnification of landlord

The Tenant shall indemnify the Landlord against any mechanic's lien or other lien arising out of the making of any alteration, repair, addition, or improvement by the Tenant.

(12) Liens for improvements by tenant--deposit of security or performance bond

The Tenant shall deposit with the Landlord whatever security or performance bond is reasonably requested by it, or the holder of the first mortgage on the leased property, in order to protect the leased property, the Landlord, and such mortgagee from and against liens of mechanics and materialmen performing work or services in or on the leased property or supplying materials in connection with any construction work to be performed in or on such property.

(13) Removal of liens by tenant--right to contest

The Tenant shall not permit any mechanic's, materialman's, or other lien to stand against it. Tenant, however, may contest the validity of any lien or claim if it first posts a bond to insure that, upon final determination of such claim, it shall immediately pay any judgment rendered against it with all proper costs and charges, and have such lien released without cost to the Landlord.

(14) Removal of liens by tenant--landlord's right on default

The Landlord shall not be liable for any labor or materials furnished or to be furnished to the Tenant, and no mechanic's or other lien for any such labor or materials shall attach to or affect the Landlord's interest in and to the leased property. If any mechanic's lien is filed against the leased property, based upon any act or interest of the Tenant or of anyone claiming through it, or if any security agreement is filed for or affecting any materials, machinery, or fixtures used in the construction, repair, or operation by the Tenant, the Tenant shall immediately take whatever action by bonding, deposit, or payment will remove the lien or security interest. If the Tenant does not remove the lien or security interest within 30 days after notice to it, the Landlord may pay the lien or security interest or discharge the same by deposit. The amount so paid or deposited, with interest, shall be deemed additional rent under this lease, and shall be immediately payable with interest at the prime rate of First National Bank from the date of such advance, and with the same remedies to the Landlord as in the case of default in the payment of rent.

FORM 23.44 Construction of new buildings

COMMENT

The following clauses illustrate a variety of arrangements which may be made for the construction of a new building under a lease. The landlord may be required to construct the new building for an entering tenant, the tenant may arrange for the new construction which is to be paid for by the landlord, or the tenant may be required to construct the new building at his own expense. Each arrangement involves special problems.

Construction by landlord:

Where the landlord is to construct the building for a new tenant the lease should include provisions for: (1) the tenant's approval of the original plans and the periodic progress of construction; (2) the commencement of the lease term and of rent payments; (3) early entry by the tenant to install improvements; (4) payment by the tenant for such items as fixtures, painting, and other special additions; and (5) the liability of the landlord for damages in the event of his default. In addition, there may be provisions for modifications in the plans during the course of construction, for mortgage financing, and for the assignment to the tenant of rights under guarantees by contractors.

Rent commencement:

Normally, the lease term and rent payments begin either after the landlord notifies the tenant that the building is ready for occupancy, or after delivery of a certificate of occupancy issued by the local authority. A deadline is usually imposed for the completion of construction, with extensions allowed for delays beyond the control of the landlord.

Construction by tenant:

If the tenant is to control the construction of the new building, it is proper to impose on him many of the conditions which generally limit a tenant's right to make alterations or improvements on leased property. These include protections for the landlord against liens attaching to the premises, against violations of local law in the course of construction, and against undesirable construction by the tenant. To implement these protections, the landlord is given the right of approval over the plans and the right to check the progress of construction.

Payment of construction costs:

If the landlord is to pay for the cost of construction but the construction is to be under the tenant's control, the limitation on costs and the schedule of payments must be set forth. The tenant is likely to require some immediate funds to undertake construction, but payment of the major portion of the costs is frequently deferred until mortgage financing may be arranged. The more common transaction is one in which the tenant is obligated at his own cost to demolish existing structures and erect a new one. The basic problem of the landlord in this type of situation is to insure the completion of the project. This requires extensive supervision and control by the landlord over the details of construction, the time schedule, and the financial responsibility of the tenant.

Tax aspects of demolition:

Demolition of existing structures sometimes must be accomplished to prepare for new construction. An owner or lessee is not permitted to take a deduction for the cost of, or losses incurred in connection with, the demolition of any structure after 1983. Demolition expenses were not always deductible prior to enactment of this specific exclusion. Under prior law, if an owner-lessor or a lessee demolished a building pursuant to a lease or an agreement which resulted in a lease, no deduction was allowed to the lessor for the demolition of the old building. However, the adjusted basis of the demolished building, increased by the net cost of demolition or decreased by the net proceeds from demolition, was considered a part of the cost of the lease to be amortized over the remaining lease term. The measuring life was that of the new lease, not that of the new building which replaces the demolished one. For this purpose, the courts have not distinguished between cases in which the new lease is longer or shorter than the life of the new building. If the new lease was prematurely terminated, the then remaining cost of the demolished building would seem to be deductible at the time of termination. For a more detailed discussion concerning the tax treatment of demolition of structures, see the Tax Background (TB) § 23.08, at the beginning of this chapter.

Amortization of tenant removal costs:

In some cases, tenants must be removed in order to proceed with construction. Expenditures for such removals are not deductible when paid or incurred, but must be amortized. When the payment is made by the owner to remove a tenant in order to erect a new building to be leased to a new tenant, the amount is treated as part of the cost of the new building. The costs of cancelling a lease paid by an owner simply to enable the owner to lease the premises to a new tenant are deductible over the life of the new lease. For a further explanation of the tax aspects of cancelling, extending, or renewing a lease, see TB § 23.11.

FORMS

(1) Construction by landlord--simple form

The Landlord shall, at its expense, construct the building to contain the leased property in accordance with the outline specifications dated _____[date], which have been initialed by representatives of the parties simultaneously with the execution of this lease and are deemed a part hereof. The Landlord shall complete the construction by _____[date], but this date shall be extended for all delays in construction resulting from causes beyond the Landlord's control. Construction shall be deemed to have been completed when the Landlord sends Tenant written notice of completion, accompanied by a copy of a certificate of occupancy applicable to the leased property.

(2) Construction of building by landlord--tenant's right to terminate lease if not completed within specified time

If the building to be occupied by the Tenant is not completed within 12 months after the making of this lease, the Tenant, by giving written notice to the Landlord, may terminate this lease, together with its obligations and liability. In such case, the term of this lease shall thereupon cease, and the parties shall be under no further obligation or liability to each other.

(3) Construction of building by landlord--early entry by tenant--delivery of possession

(a) Building construction. The building to be constructed on the leased property by the Landlord shall be constructed in accordance with the preliminary specifications set forth in Exhibit A, attached, and the detailed plans and specifications to be approved by the parties in writing. The Landlord shall construct and erect the building in compliance with all applicable federal, state, and municipal laws and regulations. The Landlord shall furnish the Tenant satisfactory evidence of such compliance in the form of a certificate of occupancy issued by the appropriate municipal department or, if such certificates are not issued by the municipal authorities, by a certificate of compliance issued by the Landlord's architect.

(b) Tenant access. During the course of such construction the Tenant, its employees, agents, and contractors may enter upon the leased property at all reasonable times for the purpose of inspection and, as soon as possible after such construction is substantially completed, may enter upon the leased property for the purpose of installing improvements, fixtures, and other equipment. However, the Tenant, its employees, agents, and contractors will not unreasonably interfere with the Landlord's employees, agents, or contractors in the pursuit of the Landlord's construction.

(c) Removal of materials. The Landlord shall remove or cause its builder to remove all tools, scaffolding, unused and discarded building materials, waste, debris, and rubbish in, on, or about the leased property before the commencement date of this lease.

(d) Time of completion. Possession of the leased property, completed in accordance with the detailed plans and specifications, shall be delivered not later than [date], unless construction is delayed for causes beyond the Landlord's control. In that event the time fixed to complete and deliver such building shall be extended for a grace period equivalent to the time lost by reason of such delay, but not to exceed 60 days.

(e) Rent commencement. Notwithstanding any provision herein to the contrary, Tenant shall commence rental payments 30 days after delivery to it of possession of the leased property under a certificate of occupancy issued by the appropriate municipal authority or a certificate of completion issued by the Landlord's architect certifying that the building and surrounding area have been completed in accordance with the detailed plans and specifications, and with all applicable laws, ordinances, rules, and regulations.

(4) Construction of building by landlord--deadline for completion--tenant to pay for special improvements

(a) Construction. The Landlord shall, at its expense, erect a 12-story office building and a connecting seven-story parking garage in substantial compliance with the plans and specifications attached as Exhibit A. The Tenant shall specify the names or designations by which the office building and parking garage shall be commonly known during the term of this lease.

(b) Completion. The Landlord has entered into a contract dated [date], with Ace Builders, Inc., for the construction of the building and garage. The contract provides that all work in connection with the construction of the buildings shall be substantially completed on [date]. The Landlord shall use its best efforts to tender possession of the leased property to the Tenant on or before [date]. If the buildings are not substantially completed and the Landlord has not tendered possession of the leased property to the Tenant on or before [date], but the Landlord is attempting to complete the buildings, the Landlord shall pay the Tenant as liquidated damages a sum equal to $1,000 multiplied by the number of days which transpire after [date], up to and including the day before the buildings are substantially completed and the Landlord tenders possession of the leased property to the Tenant. The Landlord shall not, however, be liable to the Tenant for failure to tender possession of the leased property on [date], if such failure is the result of unavoidable delays. The date upon which the Landlord is obliged to tender possession of the leased property to the Tenant shall be extended for the cumulative period of all unavoidable delays occurring between the date of this lease and [date]. The term "unavoidable delays" means delays resulting from, or arising out of, strikes, lockouts, Acts of God, inability to obtain labor or materials, governmental restrictions, enemy action, civil commotion, fire, unavoidable casualty, or similar causes beyond the control of the Landlord or the contractor under the construction contract.

(c) Bond. Ace Builders, Inc., as contractor under the construction contract, has given the Landlord a bond guaranteeing the performance by the contractor of all of its obligations under the contract. Landlord shall pay Tenant, as liquidated damages, all sums Landlord recovers under the bond if the contractor defaults in the performance of the contract, Landlord recovers sums under such bond, the buildings are not completed by [date], and Landlord is not then attempting to complete the buildings. In such event, this lease shall terminate and be of no further force or effect, and neither party shall have any further obligation or liability hereunder.

(d) Tenant access. During the period of construction, the Tenant and its duly authorized representatives shall have access at all reasonable times to the leased property for the purpose of inspecting it and determining that the work is completed in accordance with the plans and specifications. The Tenant may, during the course of construction, modify the plans and specifications by selecting non-specified materials and by change orders. Such modifications, however, except to the extent that they represent tenant improvements (as defined below), shall not result in additional costs of over $50,000.

(e) Tenant improvements. The Tenant shall pay the Landlord a sum equal to the cost of the purchase, erection, and installation of tenant improvements in the buildings. "Tenant improvements" shall include, but not be limited to, all floor coverings, interior finishing and partitions, lighting fixtures and electrical work, kitchen and cafeteria equipment, special equipment, signs of every description, and all other items which would not normally or customarily be included in buildings of the type to be constructed without specific direction or request of the proposed tenant. The Landlord has furnished the Tenant a detailed statement of the tenant improvements which the Landlord proposes to purchase, erect, and install in the buildings, showing that such improvements are estimated to cost $520,000. The Tenant approves the proposed tenant improvements and shall pay the Landlord $520,000 therefor, and the Landlord shall purchase, erect, and install such improvements in the buildings. During the course of the construction of the buildings, however, the Tenant may change or add to the proposed tenant improvements. The Tenant shall pay the Landlord all additional costs attributable to changes or additions to tenant improvements resulting from any action by the Tenant. The Tenant shall pay, from time to time, such portion of the total amount which it is obligated to pay the Landlord under this subparagraph upon certification by the architects that such sums are due and payable.

(5) Construction of building by landlord--part of building leased to tenant

(a) Construction of building. The Landlord shall within a reasonable time erect, or cause to be erected, on the property, a nine-story building in which the leased premises are to be located, substantially in accordance with plans and specifications now on file with the appropriate city authorities. The leased premises shall be laid out and completed in accordance with the plans and outline of specifications, which are attached as Exhibit A.

(b) Completion. Landlord shall give Tenant written notice at least 90 days before the building is completed. The lease term and rent shall commence on the date fixed in such notice if, in fact, the leased premises are ready for occupancy on that date. Immediately upon receipt of such notice, Tenant may commence installation of its equipment and make all other preparations it deems necessary to make the leased premises available for its use rental commencement date. If Tenant takes possession of the leased premises and conducts its business therein before the specified rental commencement date, Tenant shall pay the rent in full from the date such business operations are begun.

(c) Possession. Landlord shall not be liable if, for any reason beyond its control, it is unable to give Tenant possession of the leased premises. However, if the lease term does not commence before [date], the lease shall be deemed cancelled and neither party shall have any further rights against or obligations to the other.

(6) Construction of supermarket by landlord--time for completion--tenant's option to terminate lease for delays

(a) Construction. Landlord, at its expense, shall erect upon the leased property a building containing at least 50,000 square feet on the street level, with a basement of at least 20,000 square feet and a parking area of at least 30,000 square feet. The building and parking area shall be constructed in accordance with plans and specifications to be prepared by Landlord and approved in writing by Tenant. The building shall be substantially similar to the Tasterite Supermarket being operated by the Tenant at Scarsdale, New York, as to quality and the kind of material and workmanship. A general synopsis of the proposed plans and specifications is annexed and marked Exhibit A. The final plans and specifications will embody substantially the items set forth in the general synopsis.

(b) Permits. Immediately upon written approval by the parties of plans and specifications for the building and parking area, the Landlord shall apply to all applicable municipal, federal, and other governmental agencies for permission to erect a building and to make all the improvements required by this lease, and the Landlord shall proceed diligently with applications for such permits. The Tenant shall cooperate with the Landlord and furnish it with all necessary information and data in the Tenant's possession required in connection with such applications.

(c) Completion. The Landlord shall diligently proceed to complete construction of the building and the other improvements to be erected and performed by it. If the building is not commenced within 12 months of the date hereof or is not completed and ready for use and occupancy by the Tenant and possession thereof actually delivered to it within 12 months of the date of commencement, the Tenant may, at any time thereafter, so long as the construction of the building has not been commenced or the building and parking area have not been completed within the time above set forth above: (1) terminate this lease by giving the Landlord ten days' notice, and thereupon the Tenant shall be relieved and released of all its obligations hereunder as if this lease had never been drawn; or (2) extend the Landlord's time for completion thereof and delivery of possession to the Tenant.

(7) Construction of motel by landlord--contractors' guarantees transferred to tenant--security deposit by tenant

(a) Construction. The Landlord shall, at its expense, except as hereinafter set forth, complete the construction of a 200-room motel, with swimming pool, restaurant, cocktail lounge, and other facilities, all in accordance with the plans and specifications prepared by Lavar Associates as architects, copies of which have been delivered to the Tenant and initialed by it. No changes shall be made in the plans and specifications, without the Tenant's prior written approval, that result in a reduction in the number of dwelling rooms or diminution of other facilities.

(b) Certificate of occupancy. The Landlord shall obtain at its expense and deliver to the Tenant, on or before the commencement date of this lease term, a certificate of occupancy for the leased property, and all other necessary governmental approvals and permits to evidence completion of the motel and its readiness for use and occupancy.

(c) Contractor guarantees. The Landlord represents that under its general contract with West Side Contracting Co., Inc., for the construction of the motel, the general contractor is obligated to deliver a guarantee for a period of one year from the date of completion against any defects of workmanship and materials, and that the plumbing, roofing, air conditioning, and electrical contractors are also required to deliver guarantees of the materials and workmanship provided by each of them. The Landlord assigns to the Tenant all its rights under the guarantees of the general contractor and the subcontractors so that the Tenant shall have the full benefit, right, and privilege of enforcing such guarantees if necessary. The Tenant may sue for and recover any damages and the cost of any restoration and repair caused by the breach of any such guarantees or warranties, in the name of the Landlord or the Tenant as required.

(d) Furnishings and equipment contract. The Landlord has entered into a letter agreement, dated [date], with Melvin Supply Company relating to the furnishing and equipping of the motel, a copy of which has been delivered to the Tenant. The Tenant hereby assumes all of the Landlord's obligations under such agreement, and shall reimburse the Landlord for all sums previously paid by it to such company under such agreement.

(e) Painting subcontractor. The Tenant shall contribute $50,000 toward the cost of painting the motel, which is being performed by Baker Brothers, as subcontractor. Tenant shall pay such sum directly to the subcontractor on or before the commencement date of the lease term upon presentation of appropriate bills therefor, or, if Landlord has previously paid such sum to the contractor or subcontractor, Tenant shall reimburse Landlord for such payments.

(f) Security deposit. Simultaneously with the execution of this lease, the Tenant shall deposit with the Landlord $100,000 in cash or by certified check, or by delivering to the Landlord negotiable federal, state, or municipal bonds having a market value of $100,000 on the date of their deposit. Landlord shall retain such deposit as security for Tenant's faithful performance of its obligations hereunder. If such deposit is made in the form of negotiable bonds, all interest accruing thereon shall belong to Tenant, and any such interest collected by Landlord shall be paid over to Tenant when the security deposit is returned.

(g) Refund of deposit. The Tenant shall not be entitled to possession of the leased property until it has fully complied with its obligations under subparagraph (d), and has fully paid $50,000 as required under subparagraph (e). Promptly, after the Tenant takes possession of the leased property and pays the minimum rent for the first month, Landlord shall refund to it the security deposit, together with any interest thereon which Landlord has collected.

(h) Completion. The buildings and other facilities on the leased property shall be deemed completed on the date that the supervising architects, Twining Associates, delivers a certificate of completion and a temporary official certificate of occupancy.

(8) Construction of building by landlord--landlord's obligation to comply with laws pertaining to employment and to employ union labor--tenant's damages upon breach

The Landlord shall comply with, and require all contractors to comply with, all federal, state, and local laws and regulations pertaining to employment, conditions, and hours of employment in connection with the construction of the building on the leased property, and employ union labor on such construction. If the Tenant is damaged as a result of the breach of this paragraph, the Landlord shall pay such damages to the Tenant if it furnishes the Landlord with proof thereof.

(9) Construction of building by tenant--approval of plans by landlord

(a) Construction documents. On or before [date], the Tenant shall submit to the Landlord for its approval, which shall not be unreasonably delayed or withheld, plans and specifications for the construction on the leased property of a one-story, steel beam structure having a ground floor area of not less than 60,000 square feet, suitable for use as a self-service department store. After such plans and specifications are approved and before construction is commenced, the Tenant shall also submit to the Landlord for its approval, which shall not be unreasonably delayed or withheld:

(1) A copy of any proposed written construction agreement with a general contractor (or, if no general contractor will be used, a copy of each proposed written agreement with the various subcontractors). Such agreement shall provide that payment of at least 10 percent of the total price thereunder shall not be due until at least 30 days after full completion of the work to be performed; and

(2) An estimated schedule of payments thereunder which shall provide for partial payments as the work progresses.

(b) Construction. On or before [date], the Tenant shall commence construction of the structure and of parking facilities on the leased property. The Tenant shall diligently pursue the work to completion, and the department store shall be fully ready to open for business not later than [date], except as such date may be extended by the number of working days lost by reason of strikes, fire, Acts of God, or other events beyond the Tenant's control.

(c) Plan variances. The Tenant shall not authorize any variance from the plans or specifications approved by the Landlord without its prior written approval if any single variance would increase or decrease the cost of construction by more than $30,000, or if all variances authorized during the course of construction would increase or decrease the cost of construction by more than $100,000.

(d) Completion documents. On the completion date, the Tenant shall deliver to the Landlord each of the following:

(1) A certificate of completion by the architect who supervised the construction, which shall state that all work has been completed in accordance with the approved plans and specifications.

(2) A certificate of occupancy, or any equivalent permit or certificate required by governmental authority before business can be commenced at the leased property.

(3) A survey of the leased property, showing the completed structure and parking field, and that there are no encroachments by either on any adjoining premises.

(e) Certificate of title. Within 30 days after the completion date, the Tenant shall deliver to the Landlord the certificate of the Southern Title Company of Richmond, Virginia, or its agency, currently dated, that the time for the filing of mechanics', materialmen's, and similar liens has expired, or, if such is not the case, that a search of the record shows that no such liens then encumber the leased property. If the latter information is furnished by such title company, or its agency, within 90 days thereafter, the Tenant shall deliver a further certificate of such title company that no such liens then encumber the leased property.

(10) Construction of building by tenant--mortgage financing to be arranged by tenant

(a) Construction plans. Within one year after the execution of this lease, or within four months after the Landlord executes a mortgage for construction financing, whichever occurs first, the Tenant shall proceed with the demolition of the structures now on the leased property and the construction of a multi-family dwelling (the "Building"), under the construction agreement executed by the parties contemporaneously herewith, and the outlined architectural, engineering, and mechanical plans and specifications (the "Outlined Plans") attached as Exhibit A. Before construction of the Building commences, the Tenant shall submit to the Landlord the final architectural, engineering, and mechanical plans and specifications (the "Final Plans"), for the Landlord's approval. The Landlord shall not unreasonably withhold approval if the Final Plans substantially conform to the Outlined Plans. The Tenant, at its expense, shall diligently file the Final Plans with the proper municipal departments and obtain from such departments all required permits, certificates and documents. The Building shall become and be the Landlord's property.

(b) Construction period. The Tenant's failure to commence the demolition of the existing structures and the construction of the Building within the period specified in subparagraph (a), or to complete the Building within such reasonable period of time after commencement as would ordinarily be required by any reputable or prudent builder to erect, construct, and complete a similar building, shall be deemed a default by the Tenant under this lease, unless caused by unavoidable delay.

(c) Final plans. The Building shall be constructed substantially in accordance with the Final Plans as approved by the Landlord and filed with the applicable municipal authorities. There shall be no substantial changes in the Final Plans or the construction of the Building except for changes required by the municipal authorities, or with the express written consent of the fee mortgagee or mortgagees. No change shall be made which substantially alters the nature or character of the Building as provided for by the Final Plans.

(d) Payments. Tenant shall construct the Building at the guaranteed cost to Landlord of $3.52 million, as more particularly provided in the construction agreement referred to in subparagraph (a). Landlord shall pay Tenant such sum as follows:

(1) $320,000 on the execution hereof, receipt of which Tenant hereby acknowledges; and

(2) The balance of $3.2 million from the proceeds of temporary and permanent mortgage financing which Tenant shall procure for Landlord in accordance with the provisions of subparagraph (e).

(e) Mortgage financing. The temporary and permanent mortgage financing to be procured by Tenant may consist of one or more mortgages, and shall provide for yearly interest and amortization payments of not more than $300,000. Landlord shall cooperate with Tenant in obtaining the mortgage or mortgages. Landlord or its nominee shall execute any instrument, including, without limitation, certificates, notes, bonds, mortgages, or other evidences of indebtedness reasonably required in connection therewith. Each instrument shall expressly provide that the mortgagee or payee, as the case may be, will not look to any principal, disclosed or undisclosed, for the payment of any indebtedness, or that the instruments so executed by the Landlord shall expressly provide that the mortgagee or payee, as the case may be, will not look to any principal, disclosed or undisclosed, for the payment of any indebtedness, or that the instruments so executed by the Landlord shall expressly provide that the mortgagee or payee, as the case may be, shall look solely to the security of the real estate for the payment of the indebtedness and will not seek to collect the indebtedness from or obtain a deficiency judgment against the maker or mortgagor. Any such mortgage to be obtained by the Tenant in accordance with the above provisions shall be for a term of not less than ten years from its commencement date. The Tenant shall pay all costs, fees, title insurance charges, recording fees, taxes, and legal fees incurred or payable in connection with such mortgage. This lease shall be subordinate only to the mortgage or mortgages so obtained by the Tenant for the Landlord.

(11) Construction of building by tenant--removal of present subtenants--demolition procedure--detailed building procedure

(a) Removal of existing tenants. Promptly, after the execution hereof, Tenant, at its expense, shall commence with the lawful removal of all tenants and other occupants of the leased property. Tenant shall conduct the removal with due diligence until it has secured entire possession of the leased property free and clear of all tenancies and other rights of possession. The Tenant shall proceed on the basis that it intends to demolish the existing buildings and to replace them with the type required below. For the purpose of carrying out this covenant, the Tenant shall not extend or renew any existing lease, license, or tenancy or right to possession or use of any part of the leased property, or enter into any new lease, license, or right to possession, and shall not permit any occupant of any part of the leased property to remain in possession beyond the time such occupant is now entitled by agreement or may be entitled by virtue of an emergency rent law. The making of any such lease or agreement or the permitting of any occupant to remain in possession beyond the time such occupant could be legally removed shall be deemed a default under this lease. The Landlord shall, after the execution and delivery of this lease and upon the Tenant's request, serve upon the tenants listed in Schedule "I" all notices of termination of lease which are required by their respective leases, in whatever form the Tenant approves.

(b) Building plans. The Tenant, at its expense, shall promptly cause building plans and specifications to be prepared for the replacement of the existing structures with a modern, first-class, fully air conditioned office building of a design suitable for the location, at least 30 stories in height, covering so much of the leased property as is allowed by applicable municipal building and zoning ordinances for a new building of such type on the site. The building shall stand entirely on the leased property, be a complete, self-sustaining operating unit containing adequate utilities and facilities, and be of a design, character, and appearance appropriate and in keeping with the neighborhood and the site on which it is constructed. Any garage and parking space shall be in the basement of the building. No gasoline, petroleum product, tire, or automobile accessory shall be stored or sold in any garage or parking space.

(c) Preliminary plans. The Tenant, at its expense, shall engage an architect to prepare preliminary plans and specifications and prepare and submit to the Landlord on or before six months after the date hereof preliminary plans and outline specifications in sufficient detail to show the design, character, and appearance of the building to be erected. If the Tenant fails to submit the preliminary plans and outline specifications within the time specified, the Landlord may terminate this lease by giving ten days' written notice.

(d) Approval of preliminary plans. The Landlord, immediately upon receiving the preliminary plans and outline specifications, may employ its own architect, engineer, or both, to examine them and report whether they are adequate and satisfactory. Within 30 days after submission, the Landlord shall inform the Tenant in writing of any objections to the preliminary plans and outline specifications. In such event, the Tenant shall have 20 days thereafter to propose in writing corrective amendments for the Landlord to accept or reject within the next 20 days. The Landlord's failure to inform the Tenant of its objections within the 30-day period shall constitute the Landlord's approval of the preliminary plans and outline specifications. The Landlord's approval of such preliminary plans and outline specifications shall not be deemed its approval of the final plans or the complete detailed specifications.

(e) Permit application. After the Landlord has notified the Tenant that it approves the preliminary plans and outline specifications, the Tenant shall promptly apply to the municipal Department of Buildings for a permit permitting the Tenant to construct the new building required under this article. The Tenant shall submit to the Landlord all plans and detailed drawings required by the Department of Buildings in connection with the permit application and shall obtain the Landlord's prior written approval before submitting them to the Department. The Landlord's failure to inform the Tenant in writing of its objections within the ten days shall constitute the Landlord's approval of such plans and detailed drawings.

(f) Final plans. Thereafter, the Tenant, at its expense, shall also proceed promptly to prepare complete and final plans ("final plans"), and completed detailed specifications covering each building trade concerned in the construction of the proposed new building, and shall submit to the Landlord for its approval final plans as soon as practicable. The Landlord will not require final plans and complete detailed specifications to be completed before the date construction is commenced. If the Tenant fails to proceed promptly with the preparation of final plans and to submit final plans as required by this subparagraph, the Landlord may notify the Tenant in writing of the Landlord's claim to that effect and may designate in such notice a date for their submission, which shall be not less than 30 days thereafter. If Tenant shall fail to submit final plans to Landlord by the designated date, Landlord may terminate this lease by giving ten days' written notice. Any claim by Tenant that it acted promptly in preparing final plans shall be decided by arbitration, if Tenant gives written notice thereof to Landlord within ten days after Landlord gives the above 30 days' notice. If Tenant fails to give such timely notice, it shall be deemed to have waived any right to contest Landlord's claim by arbitration or otherwise.

(g) Approval of final plans. The Landlord, immediately upon receiving the final plans, shall require its architect or engineer, or both, to examine and report to the Landlord whether they are adequate and satisfactory. Within 30 days after the plans are submitted, Landlord shall inform Tenant in writing of any objections thereto. Tenant shall then have 20 days to propose in writing corrective amendments, which Landlord shall accept or reject within the next 20 days. Landlord shall be deemed to approve the final plans if it fails to inform Tenant of its objections within the preliminary 30-day period. Tenant's failure to submit corrective amendments to the final plans shall have the same effect as its failure to submit the original final plans. In such event, Landlord may terminate this lease by giving ten days' written notice, and may retain the security. Immediately after it obtains Landlord's approval, Tenant shall cause the final plans, or the appropriate part thereof, to be filed with the municipal Department of Buildings for its approval.

(h) Detailed specifications. After obtaining the Department of Building's approval for the work shown on the final plans, and before entering into any contract for such work, Tenant shall submit to Landlord for its approval complete detailed specifications covering each building trade involved in such contract. Landlord shall immediately require its architect and engineer to examine such specifications and report to it whether they are adequate. Within 30 days after Tenant submits any complete detailed specifications, Landlord shall inform it in writing of any objection thereto. Tenant shall have 20 days from such notice to propose in writing corrective amendments, which Landlord shall accept or reject within the next 20 days.

(i) Approval unreasonably withheld. The Landlord shall not unreasonably withhold its approval to any preliminary plans, outline specifications, plans and detailed drawings required by the Department of Buildings, final plans, or complete detailed specifications. Any claim by Tenant that Landlord unreasonably withheld approval of any such plans or specifications shall be decided by arbitration, if Tenant shall apply for arbitration within ten days after it receives Landlord's written notice of disapproval. Otherwise, Tenant shall be deemed to have waived its right to contest such claim by arbitration or otherwise. Landlord's refusal to approve the final plans and detailed specifications shall not be deemed unreasonable if they vary substantially from the approved preliminary plans and outline specifications.

(j) Demolition and construction. After the Department of Buildings issues a permit based upon approved plans and specifications, Tenant, at its expense, shall demolish the existing improvements on the leased property and, with diligence and continuity, construct the building in accordance with such plans and specifications. All demolition, excavation, and construction required hereunder shall be performed diligently, in conformity with all legal safety requirements, in a good and workmanlike manner, and in accordance with the standards required by the municipal Department of Buildings. No demolition, excavation, or construction shall be commenced, however, until Tenant shall deliver to Landlord the following:

(1) Completion bond. A contractors' completion bond of a surety company or surety companies (or other assurances that are satisfactory to the Landlord) running to the Landlord as obligee, conditioned on completion of the building in accordance with approved plans and specifications and the provisions of this lease, free and clear of all mechanics' or other liens (except any leasehold mortgages permitted under this lease), and security agreements, and of the possibility of such liens and security agreements. If the approved plans or specifications are subsequently amplified or modified, the bond shall immediately be modified to include such change. The bond shall be in any form and written by any company which Landlord may approve, but such approval shall not be unreasonably withheld.

(2) Liability insurance. Comprehensive general liability insurance insuring the Landlord for at least $2,500,000 for any one accident and $500,000 for any injury to any one individual, and $500,000 for damage to property, written to protect the Landlord in regard to its ownership of the leased property, the demolition of the existing buildings, and the construction of the improvements contemplated by this article.

(k) Time limitation. Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary herein contained, Tenant shall comply with all the provisions of this article and be prepared to commence demolition and construction, by no later than the second anniversary of the first day of the original lease term.

(l) Demolition commencement. If Tenant does not commence demolition by [date], Landlord may terminate this lease by giving ten days' written notice. In such event, this lease shall terminate at the end of the ten-day period and be of no further force and effect, and Landlord may retain, as liquidated damages, the security deposited hereunder. However, if Tenant commences demolition during such ten-day period, its failure to commence such demolition by the specified date shall not be deemed a default hereunder, and Landlord's notice of termination shall be of no force and effect. But if demolition is not thereafter continued with due diligence to completion, Landlord may terminate this lease by giving ten days' notice. At the end of such period, this lease shall terminate and Landlord may retain, as liquidated damages, the security deposited hereunder.

(m) Delay. Such demolition and construction shall proceed with diligence and continuity until completion, subject, however, to fire, strikes, embargoes, governmental restrictions, unavailability of construction materials, or other similar contingencies beyond the Tenant's control. No delay of any nature, however, regardless of whether occasioned by any change in the laws existing or regulations now in effect governing the removal of tenants, shall postpone the accrual of rent hereunder of $110,000 per annum from and after the third anniversary of the first day of the original lease term.

(n) Compliance with law. The Tenant shall procure all the required permits for the construction of the building and shall, during construction, comply with all applicable legal requirements. The building shall, when completed, comply with all applicable state, municipal, and other governmental laws, ordinances, regulations, and orders, and with all requirements of the local Fire Insurance Rating Organization or similar body and of any liability for accidents in or connected with the leased property. Before the building is used for its designed purpose the Tenant shall obtain and deliver to the Landlord a certificate of occupancy, or a temporary certificate of occupancy if such is provided for by law. If a certificate of occupancy is issued for any part of the building to be erected, the part of the building so certified may be occupied. On Tenant's demand, Landlord shall promptly execute all documents that require its signature in order to obtain such certificate, but only if, in the opinion of its counsel, it incurs no expense or liability thereby.

(o) Inspection. During construction the Landlord and its architects or engineers, or both, may, from time to time, inspect the building and require that they be furnished with copies of all plans, shop drawings, and specifications relating to construction. If, during construction or at any time before a final certificate of occupancy is issued, Landlord or its architects or engineers determine that the building is not being constructed in accordance with the plans and specifications, prompt written notice shall be given to Tenant specifying in detail the particular deficiency, omission, or other act of nonconformance. Upon receiving such notice, Tenant shall take all necessary steps to make the proper corrections.

(p) Changes and additions. If after construction is begun the Tenant desires substantial changes in the plans and specifications or substantial additions thereto, it shall serve upon the Landlord a statement thereof, together with appropriate plans and specifications showing in detail the nature of the proposed changes or additions. Any change or addition proposed by Tenant shall be deemed part of the plans and specifications approved by both parties unless, within 20 days after receipt thereof, Landlord notifies Tenant that it refuses to accept the proposed change or addition. Landlord, however, shall not unreasonably withhold its consent. Minor changes in work or materials that do not affect the general character of the alteration may be made in the plans and specifications at any time without Landlord's approval.

(q) Architect fees. Tenant shall bear the charges of any architect or engineer employed by Landlord to pass upon any plans and specifications and to supervise and approve any construction, or for any other services rendered by such architect or engineer as contemplated hereunder. The architect's or engineer's fees shall be comparable to those customarily paid for similar services. Any dispute concerning the reasonableness of such fees shall be settled by arbitration.

(r) Leasehold mortgages. Within 20 days after requested by any holder of a first mortgage on this lease, Landlord shall furnish it with a duly acknowledged statement as to whether Landlord accepts and approves the plans and specifications for the new building required by this article; whether such building has been completed in accordance with the plans and specifications; the amount of any rent and additional rent due; and whether the fire and other insurance required by this lease has been obtained. Any such statement shall be for the sole benefit of such leasehold-mortgagee requiring it and shall have no effect, as an estoppel or otherwise, with respect to any third party.

(12) Tenant's agreement to amend lease for construction financing--certain terms unamendable

The Landlord intends to procure from one or more financing institutions part or all of the funds to finance the construction of the improvements on the property of which the leased premises are a part. If any such financing institution requires any modification of the terms and provisions of this lease as a condition to such financing, the Landlord may cancel this lease if the Tenant refuses to approve and execute such modification within 30 days after the Landlord's request. Such request may not be made later than 60 days before delivery of possession. If such right is exercised, this lease shall thereafter be null and void and any money deposited shall be returned to the Tenant. Neither party shall have any liability to the other for damages or otherwise by reason of such cancellation. The Tenant, however, shall not be required to agree, and the Landlord shall not have any right of cancellation for the Tenant's refusal to agree, to any modification of the provisions of this lease relating to the amount of minimum and percentage rentals reserved, the purposes for which the leased premises may be used, the size or location of the leased premises, the duration or commencement date of the term, or the improvements to be made by the Landlord to the property of which the leased premises are a part.

(13) Tenant work upon building shell constructed by landlord--landlord approval of tenant plans and contractors

(a) Lessor's work in the Demised Premises. Lessor shall construct the Demised Premises substantially in accordance with its construction obligations set forth in Exhibit "A," Part I, "Lessor's Work Done at Lessor's Expense," annexed. Lessor shall commence and complete its construction in the Demised Premises as soon as may practically be done, but Lessor shall not be liable in any manner whatsoever for its failure to do so.

(b) Lessee's Work. (1) Commencement of work. Promptly, after Lessor notifies Lessee that the shell of the Demised Premises is ready for commencement of Lessee's work, Lessee shall commence and thereafter complete with due diligence its construction work and installation of fixtures in accordance with its construction obligations set forth in Exhibit "A," Part II, "Lessee's Work Done at Lessee's Expense," annexed and in accordance with its Preliminary Plans and Specifications and its Working Plans and Specifications. If Lessee shall neglect, fail, or refuse to commence its work as aforesaid and thereafter neglects, fails or refuses to diligently proceed with and complete its work, Lessor, in addition to its other rights and remedies and after 30 days' written notice given to Lessee, may (a) complete Lessee's work at Lessee's expense and thereupon commence the Lease term, (b) commence such term and all of Lessee's payment obligations hereunder, notwithstanding the incompleteness of Lessee's work, or (c) declare this Lease cancelled and of no further force and effect.

(2) Preliminary work. Lessee may, with Lessor's consent, enter the Demised Premises for preliminary work before Lessor completes its work, provided that Lessee's work is done in a manner that does not interfere with either the completion of Lessor's work or any of its labor agreements.

(3) Certificates; entry by tenant. Lessee shall furnish Lessor with all certificates and approvals with respect to work done by Lessee or on its behalf that may be required by any governmental authority for the issuance of a certificate of occupancy. Lessor shall not be responsible for any loss or damage to any fixtures or equipment installed or left in the Demised Premises. Lessee's entry on and occupancy of such premises before the commencement of this Lease shall be governed by and subject to all of its provisions, covenants, and conditions, other than those requiring the payment of Minimum Rent and other charges except utility charges.

(4) Preliminary plans. Lessee shall furnish Preliminary Plans and Specifications incorporating its construction obligations under Exhibit "A" for Lessor's prior approval within 15 days after Lessor's architects provide Lessee with outline plans for the Demised Premises. Within 45 days after Lessor approves the Lessee's Preliminary Plans and Specifications, Lessee shall submit Working Plans and Specifications for Lessor's review and prior approval. The Lessor's approval of the Preliminary Plans and Specifications and the Working Plans and Specifications shall not constitute its assumption of any liability for their compliance or conformity with applicable building codes and the requirements of this Lease or for their accuracy, and Lessee shall be solely responsible for such plans and specifications.

(5) Approval of contractors. Any contractor used by the Lessee to perform its work under Exhibit "A," Part II, "Lessee's Work Done at Lessee's Expense," must first be approved in writing by Lessor. Such approval shall be in Lessor's sole discretion based on the proposed contractor's financial condition.

(6) Lessee's allowance. Lessor shall allow Lessee $10,000 for the completion of Lessee's work in the Demised Premises. This allowance shall be paid after the Lessee's work is completed and approved by Lessor, the Demised Premises are opened for business, and Lessee delivers to Lessor (a) properly executed general contractor's affidavits stating that all laborers and materialmen have been paid in full, (b) final waivers of liens or lien releases from all general contractors and subcontractors who have performed work on or furnished materials to the Demised Premises, and (c) an occupancy certificate or an unqualified estoppel letter executed by Lessee.

FORM 23.45 Utilities and other services

COMMENT

The clauses in this group deal primarily with the responsibility for providing and paying for utilities. The specific arrangements often depend upon the character of the tenancy.

Tenant utility payments:

In the lease of an entire building to one tenant there is generally no obligation on the part of the landlord to furnish utilities or other services. In such a case, the lease will state that the landlord is not required to furnish utility services. Even where the landlord does provide these services the obligation to pay for them is passed on to the tenant directly or in the form of additional rent.

Tax treatment of tenant's payments:

For tax purposes, these situations are conceptually different, even though the ultimate result is the same. Where the tenant pays for a cost which is the legal obligation of the landlord, the payment is treated as an additional rental payment. The landlord must include the amount of the payment as ordinary income, but this is eliminated by an offsetting deduction since the payment would have been deductible if made by him directly. If, on the other hand, the tenant obtains and pays for the services on his own, the landlord does not become involved. One distinction between these two approaches is the inclusion of the utility payment amounts in the landlord's gross income. If the landlord is an individual who itemizes deductions, this could affect the deduction for medical expenses or casualty losses, each of which is subject to a limitation based on a percentage of adjusted gross income. Under both arrangements, the costs incurred by the tenant are deductible by the tenant if the basic rental payments are deductible.

In some situations, costs for utilities and other services are shared by the tenants. A typical case is the shopping center. The landlord generally provides and maintains the conduits to bring utilities to the leased property. He also assumes the cost of lighting the common parking area. On the other hand, each tenant is required to furnish all interior facilities for utilities and to pay for the services furnished to him.

In leases of apartments, office space, or parts of a building used for other purposes, the landlord frequently provides certain services free of charge for the occupants of the entire building. A basic protection for the landlord in such a case is a clause providing that interruption of service for reasons beyond the control of the landlord will not result in any claim for damages or abatement of rent, if service is restored as soon as is reasonably possible. Another protection is a clause providing that if normal use of a particular utility is exceeded, the landlord may install a meter at the tenant's expense, after which the tenant will be charged for the cost of the utility incurred in connection with his own use. The tax treatment of the lessee's payments of the lessor's expenses is discussed more fully in the Tax Background § 23.03, at the beginning of this chapter.

FORMS

(1) Utilities not furnished by landlord

Landlord shall not be required to furnish to Tenant any facilities or services of any kind, including, but not limited to, water, steam, heat, gas, hot water, electricity, light, and power.

(2) Utilities paid by tenant to landlord--additional rent

Tenant shall pay for all electricity, gas, and water used in the property upon presentment of a bill therefor by Landlord. Such amount shall be deemed additional rent hereunder.

(3) Utility charges paid by tenant--indemnification of landlord

Tenant shall pay or cause to be paid all charges for air conditioning, heat, water, gas, electricity, light, telephone, or any other communication or utility service used in or rendered or supplied to the demised premises throughout the term of this lease, and shall indemnify Landlord and save it harmless against any liability or damages on such account.

(4) Electric supplied by utility company--landlord not responsible for failure of supply

Tenant understands that the Consolidated Edison Company of New York, its successors or assigns (the utility company), furnishes and shall furnish electric current for all purposes to the building and the demised premises. Landlord shall not be liable for any damages incurred on account of the utility company's failure at any time to supply such electric current due to strikes, lockouts, boycotts, labor disturbances accidents, or any other cause beyond Landlord's control, or by virtue of any direction, order, or regulation of any Federal, State, City, County, or Municipal authority.

(5) Utilities paid by tenant--meters installed by landlord--deposits--disclaimer for service interruptions

Tenant shall pay for all water charges, sewer charges, or sewer tax if based on use or consumption of water, gas, electricity, fuel and like utilities used or consumed in or upon the leased premises, including the operation of the heating, air-conditioning and sprinkler systems for the leased premises. Landlord may interrupt the supply of water, gas, electric and also sewer service and all other similar utilities for the leased premises, when required by reason of accident or of repairs, alterations or improvements, until such repairs, alterations or improvements shall have been completed. Landlord shall arrange for the installation of all required utility meters for the leased premises. However, Tenant shall be responsible for the payment of any deposits or similar charges required to be paid in connection therewith and of any sewer or other utility assessment, charge or connection fee required to be paid as a result of a change in the nature of a utility service to the leased premises after the commencement date of this lease. Landlord shall not be liable in damages or otherwise for any failure to furnish or interruption of water, gas, electricity, or sewer services.

(6) Water supplied by landlord--tenant to pay proportionate cost--option to install submeter

Landlord shall furnish Tenant with water for drinking, lavatory and toilet purposes only, through the fixtures installed by Landlord. Tenant shall not waste or permit the waste of water, or use it for any nonstated purposes. Landlord will periodically bill Tenant for Tenant's Proportionate Share of all water bills received by Landlord for water metered to the Building. Tenant shall pay such bills promptly, but in no event later than the date for the next Monthly Installment. Tenant, at its expense, may install a submeter to meter water delivered to the Leased Premises. In such event, Tenant shall not be subject to the foregoing restrictions concerning water usage, but shall pay Landlord for water used according to meter readings (at the rate charged by the supplier of such water) in lieu of paying Tenant's Proportionate Share of bills for all water metered to the Building. All previous or subsequent leases executed with respect to premises in the Building shall contain identical restrictions governing the use, misuse, or wasting of water, except when Tenant installs a submeter at its expense, and such submetered water will be deducted before computing its Proportionate Share of any water bills.

(7) Electrical equipment installed by tenant--tenant's obligation to make changes to remedy overloading

If the Tenant installs any electrical equipment which overloads the lines in the leased property or the building in which such property is located, the Tenant shall, at its expense, promptly make whatever changes are necessary to remedy such condition and to comply with all requirements of Landlord, the Board of Fire Insurance Underwriters (or any similar body), and any applicable governmental authority. For the purposes of this paragraph, any finding or schedule of the applicable Fire Insurance Rating Organization shall be deemed to be conclusive.

(8) Elevator service--right to suspend service

The Landlord shall keep in operation in the building during ordinary business hours, except on Sundays and legal holidays, as many passenger elevators it deems necessary to maintain elevator service. In case of accidents, strikes, repairs, renewals, or improvements to the building or machinery therein, or for other cause deemed sufficient by the Landlord, or those acting for it, the operation of such elevators and other machinery may be changed or suspended. The Landlord will keep one elevator in such building available for service after ordinary business hours and on Sundays and legal holidays, subject to call by the Tenant.

(9) Heat, water, gas, electric and other utilities to be obtained by tenant--surcharge if supplied by landlord--landlord's right to suspend service

(a) Utilities. Lessee shall contract for, in its own name, and shall pay for all utility services rendered or furnished to the Leased Premises, including heat, water, gas, electricity, fire protection, sewer rental, sewage treatment facilities and the like, together with all taxes levied or other charges on such utilities. Lessee shall purchase from Lessor all utility services that Lessor supplies, or is required to pay for under a master meter, at charges not to exceed those for similar utility services supplied in the area by any public utility corporation or governmental agency, plus an additional 10 percent for Lessor's overhead costs. Any such charges for service supplied by Lessor shall be due and payable within ten days after billed to Lessee. Lessor shall not be liable for the quality, quantity, failure, or interruption of such service to the Leased Premises.

(b) Suspension of utility service. Lessor may, with notice to Lessee, or without notice in the case of an emergency, cut off and discontinue gas, water, electricity and all other utilities whenever such discontinuance is necessary to make repairs or alterations. No such action by Lessor shall be construed as an eviction or disturbance of possession or as its election to terminate this Lease, nor shall Lessor be in any way responsible or liable for such action.

(10) Water, gas, and electricity supplied by tenant--tenant's cost proportionate to tenant's ground floor space in shopping center--landlord may suspend utility service

(a) Utilities. The Landlord shall provide the necessary mains, ducts, and conduits in order to bring water, gas and electricity to the demised premises. Unless otherwise specifically provided herein, Tenant at its expense shall supply all means of distribution of all utilities within the demised premises, and shall bear the cost of water, gas, electricity, sewerage, and all other utilities.

(b) Cost of utilities. If Landlord initially pays for the cost of a utility furnished to the demised premises, Tenant shall reimburse it for such expenses. If the precise cost of the utility cannot be determined because there is no meter in the demised premises, Tenant shall pay the Landlord the proportionate share of the total cost of such utility furnished to tenants in the Shopping Center, in the ratio that the area of ground floor space in the demised premises bears to the total area of ground floor space in the Shopping Center. If the cost of electricity used in the demised premises is billed to Landlord's meter, Tenant shall reimburse it for such cost. The parties intend to agree hereafter as to the method for approximating the cost of electricity used in the demised premises.

(c) Suspension of utility service. The Landlord may interrupt or suspend the supply of any utility service to the demised premises in order to make necessary repairs or alterations to them or to any other building or other part of the Shopping Center. There shall be no abatement in rent because of any such interruption or suspension, if the Landlord makes such repair or alteration with reasonable diligence. No interruption or suspension of any utility for any cause beyond the Landlord's control shall constitute a constructive eviction or entitle the Tenant to any abatement in rent.

(11) Landlord's standard electric services supplied without additional charge--subject to rate adjustment--restrictions on use--landlord's right to discontinue

(a) Landlord's standard electrical service. As long as Tenant is not in default in the payment of any rent or the performance of any of its covenants under this lease, Landlord shall furnish to the demised premises, as one of the services supplied without additional charge to Tenant, Landlord's Standard Electrical Service for Tenant's requirements for lighting and electrical appliances and equipment within the demised premises without specific measurement or charge, on any meter or otherwise, for Tenant's consumption of electricity therein. The furnishing of such Standard Electrical Service is included in the annual rental reserved under this lease, subject to future adjustment if there is an increase or decrease in the electric rate schedule. All installations of electrical fixtures, appliances and equipment within the demised premises shall be subject to Landlord's prior written approval. If, under paragraph (c) below, Landlord discontinues furnishing electric current to the demised premises: (i) Tenant shall contract for such electrical service directly with the public utility serving the area in which the building is located for all of Tenant's electric current requirements if, before such discontinuance, it is physically possible for Tenant to receive electric current in the demised premises from such public utility; and (ii) the annual rental reserved under this lease shall be reduced, as of the date Landlord discontinues furnishing electric current to Tenant, in an amount equal to the aggregate of Tenant's payments to such public utility for electric current consumed for the first twelve month period following the discontinuance of such service by substantially the same electric fixtures, equipment and appliances in use and installed on the date of the discontinuance. Such reduction shall be effected by Landlord's granting to Tenant, (1) commencing with and applied against the first rent becoming due hereunder after the rendition of the first monthly bill from such public utility, and (2) upon Tenant's furnishing to Landlord a photostatic copy of each receipted monthly bill from such public service, a credit against such rent equal to such monthly bill, and for each of the next succeeding eleven monthly payments of rent due hereunder a credit equal to the respective next succeeding eleven monthly bills received by Tenant from such public utility. Thereafter, at the expiration of such twelve month period, the monthly payments of annual rental hereunder shall be reduced by one-twelfth of the aggregate of such billing for such first twelve month period. The rendition of public utility bills and the allowance of credit to Tenant as provided above shall not preclude Landlord from claiming that such bills include charges for electrical consumption by increased electrical fixtures, equipment and appliances.

(b) Electrical restrictions. If Tenant does not pay the rent reserved hereunder within five days after the due date, Landlord may discontinue supplying electric service to the demised premises, without further notice. Such discontinuance shall not release Tenant from any liability hereunder or cause Landlord or its agent to incur liability for any resulting damage or loss to Tenant. Tenant shall purchase from Landlord or its agent all lamps, starters, ballasts, and bulbs used in the demised premises. Landlord shall in no way be liable to Tenant for any loss, damage, or expense sustained or incurred by Tenant if either the quantity or character of electric service is changed or is no longer available or suitable for Tenant's requirements. Landlord shall install, at Tenant's expense, any riser or risers that Tenant requests in writing to supply its electrical requirements, if Landlord believes, in its sole judgment, that such items are necessary, and will not cause permanent damage to the building or demised premises, cause or create a dangerous or hazardous condition, entail excessive or unreasonable alterations, repairs, or expense, or interfere with or disturb other tenants or occupants. In addition, Landlord shall, at Tenant's expense, install all proper and necessary equipment in connection with the installation of such riser or risers, subject to the above terms and conditions. Tenant's use of electric current shall not at any time exceed the capacity of the feeders to the building, the risers, or wiring installation. All of the above expenses shall be chargeable as additional rent, and shall be paid by Tenant to Landlord within five days after Landlord renders any bill or statement to Tenant therefor.

(c) Discontinued electric service. Landlord may discontinue the above service by giving Tenant 30 days' notice, without being liable to Tenant therefor and without in any way affecting this lease or Tenant's liability hereunder. Such discontinuance shall not be deemed to be a diminution of services within the meaning of any present or future law, rule, or regulation. If Landlord gives such notice of discontinuance, it shall permit Tenant to receive such service directly from the public utility and to use Landlord's wires and conduits, to the extent they are available, suitable, and safely capable, for that purpose. Tenant shall make no alteration or additions to the electrical equipment or appliances without Landlord's prior written consent. Only rigid conduit will be allowed. If any tax is imposed upon Landlord with respect to the purchase, sale, or resale of electrical energy supplied to Tenant by any municipal, state, or federal agency, Tenant's pro rata share of such taxes, if permitted by law, shall be passed on to and paid by Tenant to Landlord.

(12) Standard electrical service supplied by landlord--rent adjustment for lower or higher use or rate changes--public utility fuel adjustment applicable--use appraisal

(a) Landlord's standard electrical service. The rental reserved in the lease includes Landlord's Standard Electrical Service, consisting of the furnishing of 4 watts of electrical energy per square foot of rentable area, connected load, at 85 percent demand for 236 hours per month (i.e., .8024 kwhrs per square foot per month--"Kwhrs Factor").

(b) Electrical utility charge in rent. In computing the rental reserved in this Lease, $1.60 per rentable square foot has been included in the rental to cover Landlord's Standard Electrical Service, based on electrical rates, fuel adjustment factor, and transfer adjustment factor in effect on the date hereof (as adjusted from time to time, the "Electrical Utility Charge").

(c) Use adjustment. If, (i) in Tenant's judgment, Tenant's lighting fixtures, appliances and equipment ("Tenant's Electrical Installations") use a lower connected load and/or lower demand factor, or (ii) in Landlord's judgment, Tenant's Electrical Installations use a higher connected load and/or higher demand factor than that provided in the Standard Electrical Service, Tenant or Landlord, as the case may be, may at any time hereafter request in writing a reduction or increase, as the case may be, in the Electrical Utility Charge (and consequently in the rental reserved in the Lease).

If Landlord and Tenant cannot reach agreement ("settlement") of such reduction or increase, an appraisal shall be made by an independent electrical engineer mutually acceptable to them. If the parties cannot agree promptly upon an acceptable independent electrical engineer, they shall promptly arbitrate the amount of such reduction or increase before the American Arbitration Association, and in accordance with the Association's rules. The parties shall share equally the costs of such appraisal or arbitration. However, if either party requests a reduction or increase within one year of the date hereof or after an earlier settlement, appraisal, or arbitration has been made or concluded, it shall bear the costs of the new appraisal or arbitration.

The settlement, appraisal, or arbitration shall be binding on both parties, and shall set forth (i) the connected load and demand factors of Tenant's electrical installations, and (ii) if the same is less or more than the Standard Electrical Service, the Electrical Utility Charge reduction or increase to be made by reason of applying Tenant's actual connected load and demand factor to the then current electrical rates for the Building.

Any change in Electrical Utility Charge (and consequently in the rental reserved in the Lease), as outlined above, shall become effective on the first day of the month following the month in which the request for a reduction or increase in rent reserved under the Lease, as the case may be, was made, and the Lease shall be deemed amended accordingly.

(d) Utility charge adjustment. A. If either:

(1) the electrical energy rates of the public utility supplying the Building for its current Service Classification (or any successor classification reflecting similar services) applicable to the Building is increased or decreased from and after the date hereof, over or below the rates in effect on the date hereof (upon which rates the rent is based as mentioned above), or

(2) the fuel adjustment and/or the transfer adjustment factors applied by such public utility are increased or decreased from and after the date hereof over or below the base fuel adjustment factor of .4093 [cents] per kwhr and the base transfer adjustment factor of .1603 [cents] per kwhr in effect on the date hereof (upon which factors the rent is based as mentioned above), then, in any one or more of such instances:

(i) with respect to any rate change under subparagraph (1) of this paragraph (d)A., the Electrical Utility Charge (and consequently the rent reserved under the Lease) shall be increased or decreased, as the case may be, by applying the new rates to the agreed connected load and demand factor used by Tenant at that time, which may be converted into a percentage of increase or decrease of the Electrical Utility Charge, and by applying such percentage of increase or decrease to the Electrical Utility Charge set forth in paragraph (b), less fuel adjustment, if any, under the next succeeding paragraph, and

(ii) with respect to any change under subparagraph (2) of this paragraph (d)A., the rent reserved in the Lease shall be increased or decreased by reason of any change in electricity costs for the Building resulting from such change in the fuel adjustment and/or transfer adjustment factors, as set forth either in the monthly bills of said public utility, or in a statement published by the utility company or such other verification of such change, by multiplying (x) the product of the rentable square-foot area of the demised premises and the Kwhrs Factor of Standard Electric Service set forth in paragraph (a) above (as adjusted by the results of any appraisal made under paragraph (c) hereof) by (y) the net increase or decrease over or under, as the case may be, the base fuel adjustment and/or transfer adjustment factors set forth in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, annualized.

B. Such increases or decreases under paragraph A. of this paragraph (d) shall go into effect as of the date they become effective, and the Lease shall be deemed amended accordingly.

C. Upon the occurrence of any change under this paragraph (d) which incorporates any portion of the fuel adjustment factor in effect immediately prior to such change, the base fuel adjustment factor set forth in this paragraph (d) shall be changed to the fuel adjustment factor applied by such public utility after giving effect to such rate change for purposes of any increase or decrease in rent under this paragraph (d) which may thereafter be applicable.

(e) Option areas. The increases or decreases shall apply not only to the demised premises but also to any option area referred to in the Lease, so that, at any time such area becomes part of the demised premises, the increase or decrease in rent to be paid by Tenant at such time shall be increased or decreased to reflect all changes in the above rates and fuel adjustment and/or transfer adjustment factors from the date hereof to the time such area becomes part of the demised premises.

(f) Electrical use appraisal. Within 90 days after the Lease term commences, an independent electrical engineer selected by Landlord and reasonably acceptable to Tenant shall make an appraisal to determine the connected load and demand factor of Tenant's Electrical Installations and the Electrical Utility Charge applicable to such factor. The appraisal shall be made at Tenant's expense, and any increase or decrease in the Electrical Utility Charge from that set forth in subparagraph (b) of this agreement shall be effective retroactively to the commencement date of the Lease term.

(13) Air-conditioning, heat, elevator service provided by landlord--computer air-conditioning at tenant's expense--business hours

Landlord shall furnish the following services at its expense:

(a) Air Cooling. Air cooling through the air-conditioning equipment of the Building, between May 15 and October 15 on business days from 8:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m., and on Saturdays from 8:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m., to the extent required in Landlord's reasonable judgment to maintain interior temperatures compatible with normal standards of comfort.

Use of the Demised Premises, or any part thereof, in a manner exceeding the design conditions (including occupancy and connected electrical load) for air-conditioning service in the Demised Premises, or the use of computer or data processing machines, may require changes in the air-conditioning system servicing the Demised Premises. Such changes shall be made by Tenant, at its expense, as Tenant's Alterations.

Tenant shall keep and cause to be kept closed all the windows in the Demised Premises whenever the air cooling system is in operation. Tenant at all times shall cooperate fully with Landlord and abide by all reasonable regulations and requirements which Landlord may prescribe for the proper functioning and protection of its air-conditioning system. Landlord shall have free access to all of its mechanical installations, including, but not limited to, air-conditioning, fan, ventilating, and machine rooms, and electrical closets. Tenant shall not construct partitions or other obstructions which may interfere with Landlord's free access thereto, or with the moving of Landlord's equipment to and from the enclosures containing such installations. Neither Tenant nor its agents, employees, or contractors shall at any time enter such or adjust, touch, or otherwise in any manner tamper with Landlord's mechanical installations.

(b) Elevators and access. Elevator service on business days with first floor supervisor, from 8:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m., and on Saturdays from 8:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. At all other times Landlord shall have an elevator available in operating condition. Tenant shall have access to the Building and the Demised Premises 24 hours per day, 7 days per week throughout the term.

(c) Heat. Heat, when and as required by law, on business days from 8:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. If Tenant requires heat at any other time ("after hours") Landlord shall furnish such after-hours heat upon reasonable advance notice from Tenant, and Tenant shall pay on demand Landlord's reasonable cost therefor, which shall be determined by survey made by Landlord's Building engineer.

(d) Janitor services. Janitor services shall be performed such as are standard and customary for the entire Building. Landlord may charge Tenant for removal of wooden or metal packaging materials at Landlord's actual cost for such removal.

(e) Suspension of services. Landlord may suspend, delay, or stop any services to be furnished and provided by it under the provisions of this Article whenever necessary by reason of fire, storm, explosion, strike, lockout, labor dispute, casualty or accident, lack or failure of sources of supply of labor, fuel supply, Acts of God or the public enemy, riots, interferences by civil or military authorities in compliance with the laws of the United States of America or with any governmental laws, orders, rules and regulations, or by reason of any other cause beyond Landlord's control, or for emergency or for inspection, cleaning, repairs, replacements, alterations, or renewals that Landlord deems to be desirable or necessary.

(f) Building condition. Landlord shall keep and maintain the Building in good order and repair and condition as an office building. Landlord shall do all other repairs in the Demised Premises that are not Tenant's obligation under this lease.

(14) Electricity supplied by landlord--prior approval of increased use--rent adjustment--use survey

(a) Electricity. Landlord shall furnish Tenant's electric energy on a rent inclusion basis. Landlord shall not charge Tenant for electric energy by way of measuring it on any meter or otherwise, but it shall be included in Landlord's services which are covered by the annual rental. Landlord shall not be liable in any way to Tenant for any failure or defect in the supply or character of electric energy furnished to the Demised Premises by reason of any requirement, act or omission of the public utility servicing the Building with electricity or for any other reason not attributable to Landlord. Landlord shall furnish and install, at Tenant's expense, all replacement lighting tubes, lamps, bulbs, and ballasts required in the Demised Premises.

(b) Excess energy demand. Tenant's use of electric energy in the Demised Premises shall not at any time exceed the capacity of any electrical conductors and equipment in or otherwise servicing the Demised Premises. In order to insure that such capacity is not exceeded and to avert possible adverse effect upon the Building's electric service, Tenant shall not, without Landlord's prior written consent in each instance (which shall not be unreasonably withheld), connect any additional fixtures, appliances or equipment to the Building's electric distribution system, other than the usual lamps, typewriters and small office machines, or make any alteration or addition to the electric system of the Premises existing on the Rent Commencement Date. If Landlord grants such consent, all additional risers or other equipment required therefor shall be provided by Landlord and their cost shall be paid by Tenant upon Landlord's demand. As a condition to granting such consent, Landlord may require Tenant to agree to an increase in the annual rental to an amount which will reflect the value to Tenant of the additional service to be furnished by Landlord, i.e., the potential additional electrical energy to be made available to Tenant based upon the estimated additional capacity of such additional risers or other equipment. If the parties cannot agree, such amount shall be determined by a reputable, independent electrical engineer, to be selected by Landlord (but subject to Tenant's reasonable approval), and paid equally by both parties. When the amount of such increase is so determined, the parties shall execute a supplementary agreement to reflect such increase in the amount of annual rental stated in this Lease, effective from the date such additional service is made available to Tenant. The increase shall be effective from such date even if the supplementary agreement is not executed.

(c) Rent adjustment. (1) Electricity factor adjustments. The sum of $88,629.50 ("electricity factor") is included in the annual rental to cover the cost of electricity made available to Tenant in the Demised Premises. If the public utility rate schedule for the supply of electric current to the Building is increased or decreased (using the rate in effect on [date] as the base rate), or if there occurs any other cost adjustment resulting in an increase or decrease in Landlord's cost for furnishing the electrical energy to the Demised Premises, the annual rental shall be equitably adjusted to reflect the increase or decrease in the electricity factor, and Tenant shall pay Landlord the new annual rental resulting from such adjustment. If the parties cannot agree, the amounts of the adjustments shall be determined in the same manner as a dispute as to the value of additional electric service to the Tenant set forth in paragraph (b), above.

(2) Use survey. The parties recognize that at the time of the execution of this Lease, the electricity factor ($88,629.50) is an arbitrary figure, not necessarily representing the true cost of electricity being supplied to the Premises. Promptly following the Rent Commencement Date a survey shall be made by an electrical engineer selected by Landlord (but subject to Tenant's reasonable approval). When the survey is completed and delivered to Tenant, the cost of electricity as set forth in the survey shall become binding upon Tenant, unless, within 120 days after the delivery of the survey, Tenant notifies Landlord, in writing, that it disputes the amount set forth therein. In such event, Tenant may have an independent survey made by an electrical engineer selected and paid for by it. Tenant shall submit its survey to Landlord and the parties shall have a period of 60 business days to resolve the dispute. If the dispute cannot be resolved within such period, it shall be settled by arbitration. Any adjustment in fixed rent shall be retroactive to the Rent Commencement Date and shall continue for the balance of the term and any renewal thereof, subject, however, to further adjustments as provided for in this Lease.

(3) Future use surveys. Throughout the demised term and any extension periods, either party may annually resurvey to determine if a further adjustment in the electricity factor is warranted. Such adjustment would be warranted (in addition to the factors set forth above) to reflect an increase or decrease in the use of more or less electrical service than could be purchased from the public utility company furnishing electric current to the Building under Landlord's Service Classification. When any survey is completed and delivered to the other party, the cost of electricity as set forth therein shall become binding upon the other party unless, within 120 days after delivery of the survey, the other party notifies the serving party in writing that it disputes the amount set forth therein. Settlement of the dispute shall be made in the same manner as provided in subsection (2), above.

(d) Supply of electric energy. (1) Discontinuance by landlord. Landlord may discontinue furnishing electric energy to Tenant in the Demised Premises at any time by giving it not less than 30 days' notice. If Landlord exercises such right of termination, this Lease shall continue in full force and effect and shall be unaffected thereby, except only that, from and after the effective date of such termination, Landlord shall not be obligated to furnish electric energy to Tenant and the annual rental payable under this Lease shall be reduced to $732,155.00, subject, however, to any further adjustment(s) that may be made under any other Articles of this Lease.

(2) Electric furnished by tenant. If Landlord discontinues furnishing electric energy to Tenant, Tenant shall arrange to obtain electric energy directly from the public utility company furnishing electric service to the Building. Such electric energy may be furnished to Tenant by means of the then existing building system feeders, risers and wiring to the extent that they are available, suitable, and safe for such purposes. All meters and additional panel boards, feeders, risers, wiring and other conductors and equipment which may be required to obtain electric energy directly from such public utility company shall be installed by Landlord at its expense. Landlord shall not discontinue furnishing of electric current to the premises until Tenant has completed its arrangements to obtain electric current directly from the public utility company furnishing electric current to the Building, so that there is no interruption in the continuity of electric service.

(15) Tenant's option to cancel lease if utilities found to be insufficient

The obligations of both Tenant and Landlord under this Lease are expressly conditioned upon Tenant determining within thirty (30) days after the date of this Lease that the utilities servicing the premises are sufficient for Tenant's Permitted Use. If Tenant determines within such thirty (30) day period that the utilities servicing the Premises are insufficient for Tenant's Permitted use, then Tenant may cancel this Lease, in which event, both parties shall be released of any further liability under this Lease. Failure of Tenant to exercise this option to terminate within that thirty (30) day period shall constitute Tenant's waiver of its right to do so.

B. LEASE CLAUSES

31-23 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 23.46

AUTHOR: by Thomas G. Belden

FORM 23.46 Landlord's rights upon tenant's default

The purpose of the default clause is to specify both the defaults by the tenant and the remedies of the landlord in the event of a breach by the tenant. Generally, this provision enumerates the events of default, describes the procedures by which the lease may expire or be terminated upon such default, and establishes the measure of damages recoverable by the landlord. Proper treatment of these points requires careful consideration of local law, since jurisdictional variations pose distinctive drafting alternatives and problems.

Rent after default:

Several functions are served by the section of the default clause dealing with rent and damages. Normally, the early termination or expiration of a lease concludes all rental obligations of the tenant. Thus, one purpose of the damages clause is to preserve the tenant's liability beyond the premature termination date. This provision is also often designed to accelerate the time when damages are payable. In the absence of a specific provision the landlord might be required to wait until the lease would have otherwise expired, since only then could the effect of the early termination be ascertained precisely.

Deficiencies in rent and expenses:

A standard provision for damages requires the tenant to make payments over what would have been the remaining term of the lease, on the dates when rental payment would have been due. The amount to be paid on each due date in such case is generally the rental which would have been due under the terminated lease, less rentals realized under any new lease entered into by the landlord. Expenses for restoration of the property, acquisition of new tenants, and other consequences of the lease termination are taken into account.

Present value of unpaid rent:

An alternative formula is often allowed to the landlord. Damages are calculated as of the early termination date and become payable immediately thereafter. They consist of the present value of the remaining rental payments which would have been due until the expiration of the full lease term, less the immediate rental value of the property, plus costs of rental. If the property has been relet the new rental is generally prima facie evidence of present rental value.

Tenant's liability on reletting:

In many jurisdictions, clauses providing for the survival of the tenant's liability upon a reletting by the landlord are strictly construed against the landlord. In order for the reletting not to terminate the tenant's obligations in these jurisdictions, the reletting must be specifically permitted by the lease. For this reason, the landlord is frequently permitted considerable freedom in the manner in which he may relet the premises. He often reserves the right to determine whether or not to relet, to grant concessions, and to rent for a shorter or longer period than the original term.

of default:

In defining the defaults upon which the landlord's rights to an early cancellation of the lease arise, the problem is not only to list the breaches which will cause a cancellation, but also to establish the length of time they may be allowed to persist. The diversity in the seriousness of different breaches is usually taken into account by allowing varying periods for correction following notice by the landlord. An ample period may be allowed to correct the breach of a relatively minor condition. On the other hand, a breach which is considered relatively serious, such as nonpayment of rent, usually must be corrected within a short period following the landlord's notice. Allowance may be made for delays which are beyond the tenant's control.

Bankruptcy of tenant:

The Bankruptcy Reform Act of 1978 nullifies, for all practical purposes, the effect of a default clause which purports to terminate a lease on the basis of insolvency, unsatisfactory financial condition, commencement of a proceeding under the Bankruptcy Act, or the appointment of or taking possession by a bankruptcy trustee or custodian. The law precludes termination or modification in such circumstances, despite express language in the lease to the contrary. Under prior law, a termination or modification based upon these specified events was generally enforceable. Some courts, however, would not permit terminations or modifications on equitable grounds.

Bankruptcy default clause:

Although the effectiveness of the clause, which provides that proceedings in bankruptcy, insolvency, or related events will be deemed a default, may be substantially diminished by the Bankruptcy Reform Act, the clause still frequently appears in leases. This continued inclusion may be motivated by a desire to test the effectiveness of the new law in court, by a hope that the federal law will change during the term of the lease, by the force of tradition, or for future negotiation advantage. Note that the provisions of the standard bankruptcy clause relating to state insolvency situations are still effective.

Other practical alternatives to sole reliance on the traditional default clause can be pursued. Some practitioners advise a landlord to make a careful review of a prospective tenant's financial condition. Additional precautions for a landlord include the holding of additional cash security or obtaining a guarantee from a responsible third party. Special provision can be made for periodic review of financial statements as an early warning sign. Such provisions are sometimes found in bank loan or security documents. The lease can provide that the landlord may terminate if the tenant does not maintain a specified minimum net worth, working capital or cash flow standards. Hopefully, these financial problems will become obvious soon enough that the landlord can terminate and regain possession of the premises before bankruptcy proceedings are commenced.

Insolvency, possession, and bankruptcy:

Defaults such as insolvency, the financial condition of the tenant falling below prescribed standards specified in the lease, or appointment of a receiver in state proceedings, will enable a landlord to take steps to obtain possession of the property. If the lease is thereby terminated and possession is recovered by the landlord prior to commencement of federal bankruptcy proceedings, the landlord will have escaped the automatic stay of proceedings effective under the bankruptcy law. If, however, the landlord is still in the process of obtaining possession or otherwise enforcing his right to terminate the lease at the time that bankruptcy court obtains jurisdiction, the automatic stay will become effective. The landlord may seek relief in bankruptcy court, requesting that the stay be lifted for "good cause." Good cause is not defined in the Act, but requires an examination of case law.

Shopping center leases in bankruptcy:

Shopping center leases are given special attention in the Bankruptcy Reform Act. A trustee in bankruptcy cannot assume a shopping center lease, otherwise in default (i.e., nonpayment of rent), unless he can provide "adequate assurance" of future performance (i.e., rent payments). For shopping center leases, the phrase "adequate assurance" is explained in some detail in the Bankruptcy Act: (1) specification of the source of rent, (2) that percentage rent will not substantially decline, (3) lease assignment or assumption will not breach lease or other valid shopping center restriction, and (4) there will be no disruption, by assignment or assumption of the lease, of tenant mix at the center.

Insolvency and liquidation:

State authorized insolvency and liquidation proceedings could still trigger a termination clause. This assumes that the bankruptcy provision is not preemptive. Problems and complications may arise, however, if state proceedings are abandoned in favor of the bankruptcy law's protection.

Additional landlord protection:

There are a number of additional protections which may be provided for the landlord. These include a waiver by the tenant of rights of redemption provided under local law, a security interest in the tenant's personal property to secure payment of amounts due under the lease and damages from any default, a pledge of profits or an assignment of subleases in the event of termination, and a consent by the tenant to injunctive relief for the landlord. The latter provision, of course, cannot in itself liberalize the principles employed by the courts to determine when equitable relief is available. With respect to perfecting a security interest on the tenant's personal property, it is essential that local statutory filing requirements be strictly adhered to. In this connection, it should be noted that for the purpose of complying with the filing requirements, the Uniform Commercial Code distinguishes between fixtures and other kinds of personal property. Another common provision states that failure by the landlord to require strict performance of any condition is not a waiver of that condition. The waiver of the right to a trial by jury is included here because the relinquishment of this right is generally considered to be to the landlord's advantage.

Tax aspects:

The tax effects of the cancellation of a lease and the payment of damages generally are not complicated. The amount received as damages by the landlord is income to him in the year received, even though it may relate to future periods and even though the landlord is an accrual basis taxpayer. This amount is most often ordinary income, and not the proceeds of a sale or exchange of a capital asset. The tenant's payment upon cancellation is usually currently deductible. The tenant may also deduct in the year of cancellation the unamortized costs incurred in acquiring the lease and the undepreciated or unamortized costs of his improvements on the leased property. For a further discussion of the tax aspects of cancelling a lease, see the Tax Background § 23.11, at the beginning of this chapter.

FORMS

(1) Landlord's right to reenter upon tenant's default--damages based upon reletting

Landlord may declare this lease to be null and void and, without incurring liability therefor, reenter or repossess the leased property, by force, summary proceedings, surrender, or otherwise, and dispossess and remove Tenant or other occupants therefrom, together with their effects, if (a) the leased property shall become deserted or vacated, (b) proceedings are commenced by or against Tenant in any court under a bankruptcy act or for the appointment of a trustee or receiver of Tenant's property before or after the lease term commences, (c) Tenant defaults in paying all or part of the rent for more than five days after Landlord gives written notice thereof, or (d) Tenant defaults in performing any other covenant, agreement, condition, rule, or regulation now or subsequently contained herein for more than 20 days after Landlord gives written notice thereof. In any such event, Landlord may relet all or part of the leased property, as Tenant's agent, and Tenant shall pay Landlord the difference between the rent due for the remaining term at the time of reentry or repossession and any amount received or to be received under such reletting for the remaining term. Tenant hereby waives service of notice of intention to reenter or of instituting legal proceedings to that end, all right to trial by jury in any summary proceeding instituted by Landlord against Tenant with respect to the leased property, and all rights to redeem under Section 761 of the New York Real Property Actions and Proceedings Law.

(2) Landlord's right to cause expiration upon listed defaults--recovery of rent for balance of term less reasonable rental value

(a) Default. Landlord may give Tenant five days' notice of intention to terminate this lease in any of the following circumstances:

(1) Breach. If Tenant shall default in observing, performing, or keeping any term, provision, covenant or condition of this lease on Tenant's part to be kept, observed, or performed (other than covenants for payment of basic rent and additional rent) and shall not cure such default within 15 days after Landlord gives Tenant written notice thereof, or, if such default cannot be cured completely within the 15-day period, if Tenant does not promptly commence within such period and thereafter proceed with due diligence to cure the same.

(2) Insolvency. If Tenant is unable to meet its obligations as they become due, is adjudicated a bankrupt, makes a general assignment for the benefit of creditors, or takes the benefit of any insolvency act, or a permanent receiver or trustee in bankruptcy is appointed for Tenant's property and such appointment is not vacated within 90 days. For these purposes, "Tenant" shall mean the tenant then in possession of the leased property.

(3) Abandonment. If the leased property becomes vacant or deserted for a period of 30 days.

(4) Assignment. If this lease is assigned or the leased property sublet other than in accordance with the lease terms and such default is not cured within 15 days after notice.

(5) Rent. If Tenant shall be in default of the prompt payment, when due, of any installment of basic rent or additional rent.

(b) Termination. If Landlord gives the five days' notice of termination provided in subparagraph (a), at the expiration of such period this lease shall terminate as completely as if that were the date fixed for the expiration hereof, and Tenant shall then surrender the leased property to Landlord. If this lease so terminates, Landlord may, without any formal demand or notice, reenter the leased property by an unlawful detainer action or by any other means, including force, and remove Tenant therefrom without being liable for any damages therefor. Upon the termination of this lease, Landlord may terminate any sublease then in effect, without the consent of the sublessee.

(c) Continued liability. Tenant shall remain liable for all its obligations under this lease, despite Landlord's reentry, and Landlord may rerent or use the leased property as Tenant's agent, if Landlord so elects. Tenant waives any legal requirement for notice of intention to reenter and any right of redemption.

(d) Statutory notice. Nothing in this article shall be deemed to require Landlord to give Tenant any notice, except as required by statute, before the commencement of an unlawful detainer action for nonpayment of any basic rent or additional rent. The five-day notice is intended only for the purpose of creating a conditional limitation hereunder pursuant to which this lease shall terminate.

(e) Deficiency. If the lease terminates as provided in this article, Landlord may at any time recover from Tenant the amount by which the rent and charges equivalent to rent reserved herein for the balance of the term exceed the reasonable rental value of the leased property for the same period.

(f) Time of essence. Time is of the essence of this lease with respect to Tenant's performance of its obligations hereunder.

(3) Default on failure to pay rent or ten days after notice of failure to perform other covenants--reentry without lease termination--application of rent on reletting--nonwaiver, cumulative remedies

(a) Default; reentry. In addition to all other rights and remedies it may have, Lessor may immediately terminate this Lease, or reenter and attempt to relet without terminating, and remove all persons and property from the Demised Premises, if Lessee (i) fails to pay any rental or other sums when due hereunder, (ii) fails to observe, perform, or keep any other term, provision, covenant or condition hereof required by Lessee to be observed, kept or performed, for more than ten days after Lessor gives Lessee written notice of such default, (iii) falsifies any reports required to be furnished to Lessor hereunder, or (iv) allows this Lease to be taken under any writ of execution. In any such event, Lessor may remove such property and store it in a public warehouse, or elsewhere, for Lessee's account and at its expense, without service of notice or resort to legal process, and without being deemed guilty of trespass or becoming liable for any resulting loss or damage.

(b) Application of rent; deficiency. If Lessor (i) elects to reenter and attempts to relet, or (ii) takes possession pursuant to legal proceedings or any notice provided by law, it may, from time to time, make whatever alterations and repairs are required to relet all or part of the Demised Premises for any term or terms (which may extend beyond the term of this Lease), at any rental or rentals, and upon any other terms and conditions Lessor deems advisable. All rentals received by Lessor from each such reletting shall be applied, first, to the payment of any indebtedness other than rent due hereunder from Lessee to Lessor; second, to the payment of all costs and expenses of such reletting, including brokerage fees and attorney's fees; third, to the payment of rent due and unpaid hereunder; and balance shall be held by Lessor and applied to payment of future rent as it becomes due and payable hereunder. If the rentals received from such reletting during any month are less than those to be paid during that month by Lessee hereunder, Lessee shall pay such deficiency to Lessor. Such deficiency shall be calculated and paid monthly. No such reentry or taking possession of the Demised Premises by Lessor shall be construed as its election to terminate this Lease unless a notice of such intention is given to Lessee or the termination thereof is ordered by a court of competent jurisdiction. Notwithstanding any such reletting without termination, Lessor may at any time thereafter elect to terminate his Lease for such previous breach. In addition to all other rights and remedies which Lessor may have at law, in equity, or hereunder, if Lessor shall terminate this Lease for any breach, it may recover from Lessee: (i) all damages incurred by reason of such breach, including the cost of recovering the Demised Premises, (ii) reasonable attorney's fees, and (iii) the amount by which the rent and equivalent charges reserved herein for the remainder of the stated term exceeds the then reasonable rental value of the Demised Premises for such remaining period. All of the above amounts shall be immediately due and payable from Lessee to Lessor. In determining the rent which would be payable hereunder by Lessee after default, the annual rent for each year of the unexpired term shall be equal to the average annual Minimum and Percentage Rents paid by Lessee from the commencement of the term to the time of default, or during the preceding three full calendar years, whichever period is shorter.

(c) Expense reimbursement. Lessee shall pay upon demand all of Lessor's charges and expenses incurred in recovering all sums due hereunder, or arising out of the breach of any covenant hereunder or for any other relief against Lessee, including the fees of counsel, agents, and others retained by Lessor. The foregoing shall be in addition to all of Lessor's other rights and remedies at law, in equity, or hereunder. If Lessor prevails in any action brought against it by Lessee for relief hereunder, Lessee shall pay Lessor's reasonable attorney fees and all court costs.

(d) Bankruptcy; insolvency. Lessor may cancel and terminate this Lease if Lessee or any Surety of this Lease becomes bankrupt, or files or has filed against it in any court under any federal or state statute, any debtor proceedings, or a petition in bankruptcy or insolvency, for reorganization, or for the appointment of a receiver or trustee of all or part of Lessee's or such Surety's property; or if Lessee or any such Surety makes an assignment for the benefit of creditors, or petitions for or enters into an arrangement. Upon such cancellation and/or termination, no party claiming on behalf of Lessee or any such Surety of this Lease shall have any rights hereunder,

(e) No waiver. No waiver of any covenant or condition of this Lease or of the breach thereof shall be deemed to constitute a waiver of any subsequent breach of such covenant or condition, or to justify or authorize the nonobservance on any other occasion of the same or any other covenant or condition hereof. No waiver or indulgence granted by Lessor to Lessee shall be taken as an estoppel against Lessor. Lessor's acceptance of rent, or its failure to promptly avail itself of any or all of its rights or remedies at any time while Lessee is in default under any covenant or condition hereof, shall not be construed as a waiver of such default, or of Lessor's right to terminate this Lease on account thereof.

(f) Cumulative remedies. Lessor's rights and remedies hereunder shall be deemed to be cumulative and not exclusive of all other rights and remedies which it may have at law or in equity, and Lessor may exercise any such right or remedy at any one or more times without impairing its standing to subsequently exercise any other right or remedy.

(4) Default--failure to pay rent--abandonment--failure to perform covenants--assignment for benefit of creditors, bankruptcy--inability to obtain insurance

The occurrence of any of the following shall constitute a default of this Lease:

1. Rent default. Any failure by Tenant to pay the rental or make any other required payment when such failure continues for five days after it receives Landlord's written notice.

2. Abandonment. Tenant's abandonment of the Leased Premises.

3. Breach. Tenant's failure to observe and perform any other provision of this Lease, when such failure continues for 15 days after it receives Landlord's written notice. However, if the default cannot reasonably be cured within such period, Tenant shall not be deemed to be in default if within this period it commences to cure and then diligently completes such curing.

4. Insolvency. Tenant's making of a general assignment for the benefit of creditors. The filing by or against Tenant of a petition to have it adjudged a bankrupt or of a petition for reorganization or arrangement under any bankruptcy law (unless, in the case of a petition filed against Tenant, it is dismissed within 60 days); the appointment of a trustee or receiver to take possession of substantially all of Tenant's assets or of its interest in this Lease, if possession is not restored to Tenant within 30 days; or the attachment, or other judicial seizure of substantially all of Tenant's assets or of its interest in this Lease if such seizure is not discharged within 30 days.

5. Insurance. Landlord's inability to obtain fire and extended coverage insurance equal to the full replacement cost of the Building (less foundations) from recognized insurers because of any use of the Leased Premises by Tenant. Landlord shall give Tenant notice of such inability, and Tenant shall have 30 days to obtain such insurance for Landlord or cease the offending use.

(5) Termination remedy on tenant's default--damages to include rent and expenses incurred in reletting--reentry and rent deficiency--default under another lease--late payment penalty

(a) Default damages. In the event of any default by Tenant, Landlord may immediately terminate this Lease by giving written notice. If Landlord exercises such right of termination, it shall recover from Tenant:

(1) The worth at the time of award of any unpaid rent which has been earned at the time of such termination;

(2) The worth at the time of award of the amount by which the unpaid rent for the balance of the term after the time of award exceeds the amount of such rental loss that Tenant proves could be reasonably avoided;

(3) Any other amount necessary to compensate Landlord for all the detriment proximately caused by Tenant's failure to perform its obligations under this Lease or which in the ordinary course would be likely to result from the cost of preparing the premises for reletting, brokerage fees, and reasonable attorney fees incurred in such reletting.

The term "rent" as used herein means rental and all other sums required to be paid by Tenant. All such sums, other than Basic Rental, shall be computed on the basis of the average monthly amount thereof accruing during the immediately preceding 24-month period prior to default. If it becomes necessary to compute such rental before such 24-month period occurs, the rental shall be computed on the basis of the average monthly amount accruing during the actual period elapsed.

As used in paragraph (1), above, the "worth at the time of award" is computed by allowing interest at the rate of 10 percent per annum. As used in paragraph (2) above, the "worth at the time of award" is computed by discounting such amount at the discount rate of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago at the time of award plus 1 percent.

(b) Right of reentry, rent deficiency. In the event of any default by Tenant, Landlord may also reenter the Leased Premises and remove all persons and property from them. Such property may be removed and stored in a public warehouse or elsewhere at Tenant's cost and for its account.

In the event of abandonment of the Leased Premises or if Landlord elects to reenter as provided above, or takes possession of the Leased Premises under legal proceeding or under any notice provided by law, and if Landlord does not elect to terminate this Lease, Landlord may from time to time, without terminating this Lease, either recover all rental as it becomes due or relet the Leased Premises or any part thereof for such term or terms and at such rental or rentals and upon such other terms and conditions as Landlord deems advisable, with the right to make alterations and repairs to the Leased Premises.

If Landlord elects to relet, rentals received by it shall be applied: (1) to the payment of any indebtedness other than rent due from Tenant to Landlord; (2) to the payment of any cost of such reletting including reasonable attorneys' fees; (3) to the payment of the cost of any alterations and repairs to the Leased Premises; (4) to the payment of rent due and unpaid hereunder; and (5) any balance shall be held by Landlord and applied in payment of future rent as it becomes due and payable hereunder. Tenant shall be responsible for any deficiency created by such reletting during any month, such deficiency to be paid monthly. Tenant shall also pay Landlord, as soon as ascertained, all costs and expense incurred by Landlord in such reletting or in the making of such alterations and repairs not covered by rentals received from the reletting.

No reentry or taking possession of the Leased Premises by Landlord under this Section shall be construed as an election to terminate this Lease, or cause a forfeiture of rents or other charges to be paid during the balance of the term unless a written notice of such intention is given to Tenant or termination is decreed by a legal proceeding. Notwithstanding any reletting without termination by Landlord because of any default by Tenant, Landlord may at any time after such reletting elect to terminate this Lease for any such default.

(c) Default under other lease. If the term of any lease (other than this Lease) made by Tenant for any adjacent premises leased from Landlord is terminated or terminable after the making of this Lease, because of any default by Tenant under such other lease, Landlord may terminate this Lease by notice to Tenant.

(d) Late payment penalty. Tenant acknowledges that late payment to Landlord of rent and other sums due hereunder will cause Landlord to incur costs not contemplated by this Lease, the exact amount of which will be extremely difficult to ascertain. Such costs include, but are not limited to, processing and accounting charges, and late charges which may be imposed on Landlord by the terms of any mortgage or trust deed covering the Premises. Accordingly, if any installment of rent or any other sum due from Tenant is not received by Landlord or its designee within ten days after such amount is due, Tenant shall pay Landlord a late charge equal to 10 percent of such overdue amount. The parties agree that such late charge represents a fair and reasonable estimate of the costs Landlord will incur by reason of late payment by Tenant. Landlord's acceptance of such late charge shall in no event constitute a waiver of Tenant's default with respect to such overdue amount, or prevent Landlord from exercising any other right or remedy granted hereunder.

(e) Subtenants. As used in this Article, "Tenant" also means subtenant.

(6) Default by failure to pay rent, breach of covenants, or transfer of lease--reentry upon failure of possession by tenant--rent deficiency as liquidated damages--injunction and nonexclusive remedies

(a) Defaults. Landlord may terminate this lease, as provided below, if (1) Tenant defaults in paying any rent or additional charges and such default continues for five days after such payment is due, (2) Tenant defaults in performing any other covenant or agreement on its part to be performed hereunder, and such default is not cured within ten days after written notice thereof from Landlord, or the cure thereof is not commenced within such period and thereafter diligently prosecuted to completion, or (3) this lease is transferred to or devolves upon any person or corporation other than Tenant, except as specifically provided herein. In any such event, Landlord or its agent may give Tenant written notice specifying a day, not less than five days thereafter, on which this lease shall end, and on such day this lease shall expire as fully as if the specified day was the day fixed herein for expiration of the lease. Tenant shall then quit and surrender the demised premises to Landlord, but shall remain liable as provided below.

(b) Abandonment. Landlord may reenter the demised premises and remove Tenant or its legal representatives or other occupant, by summary proceedings or otherwise, if (1) Tenant abandons the demised premises, (2) the term of this lease expires, or (3) Tenant fails to take possession of the demised premises within ten days after the lease term commences. Tenant hereby waives service of notice of intention to reenter or to institute legal proceedings to that end.

(c) Reentry. In case of any reentry, expiration, or dispossession under subparagraph (b) above, the rent shall immediately become due and be paid up to that time, together with all expenses incurred by Landlord for brokerage and putting the demised premises in good order, or for preparing them for rental. Landlord may relet all or any part of the premises, in its name or otherwise, for a term or terms that are less or greater than the period that otherwise would have constituted the balance of the lease term, and may grant reasonable concessions, or free rent. In addition, Tenant or its legal representatives shall pay Landlord, as liquidated damages, for Tenant's failure to observe and perform its covenants hereunder, any deficiency between (1) all rent and additional charges hereby reserved or covenanted to be paid, with percentage rental computed for the balance of the term for the purpose of this Article at the average percentage rent for the two full lease years preceding the default or reentry, and (2) the net amount of any rents collected on account of the lease of the demised premises for each month of the period which would otherwise have constituted the balance of this lease term. In computing such liquidated damages, the deficiency shall include all expenses incurred by Landlord in connection with reletting, such as for brokerage, keeping the demised premises in good repair, and preparing them for reletting. Tenant shall pay all such liquidated damages in monthly installments on the rent days specified in this lease. If Landlord brings a suit to collect the deficiency for any month, the same shall not prejudice in any way its rights to collect the deficiency for any subsequent month by a similar proceeding. Landlord may make all necessary alterations, repairs, replacements, and decorations in the demised premises for the purpose of reletting without releasing Tenant from its liability hereunder. Landlord shall not be liable for failure to relet the demised premises. The words "reenter" and "reentry," as used in this lease, shall not be restricted to their technical legal meaning.

(d) Injunctive relief. If Tenant breaches or threatens a breach of any covenant or provision of this lease, Landlord shall have the right to an injunction and to invoke any remedy allowed at law or in equity, as if reentry, summary proceedings, and other remedies were not provided herein. Mention in this lease of any particular remedy shall not preclude Landlord from any other remedy at law or in equity. Tenant expressly waives all rights of redemption granted by or under any present or future laws if it is evicted or dispossessed, or if Landlord obtains possession of the demised premises by reason of Tenant's violation of any provision of this lease.

(e) Cure defaults. If Tenant defaults in the observance or performance of any provision, covenant, or condition required by it to be observed, kept or performed hereunder, Landlord may cure such default for Tenant's account and at Tenant's expense. If Landlord, at any time, is compelled or elects to pay any sum or to do any act that requires such payment because of Tenant's failure to comply with any provision hereof, or if Landlord incurs any expense in prosecuting or defending any action or proceeding because of such default, Landlord's payments, together with legal interest, costs, and damages, shall be due from and paid by Tenant to Landlord on demand as an additional charge hereunder.

(7) Cure of default by tenant after notice--ten-day notice of default in rent--30-day notice of other default--contest of landlord's allegation of default

The following shall govern notices to Tenant and opportunity to cure if it defaults under this Lease:

Landlord may serve a three-day notice of termination upon Tenant as permitted in this Lease:

(a) If Tenant defaults in the payment of any installment of fixed rent or of any additional rent or other charge payable by it to Landlord on any day that the same is due hereunder, and such default continues for ten days after Landlord gives Tenant written notice specifying such default; and

(b) If Tenant does or permits anything to be done, whether by action or inaction, contrary to any of its obligations hereunder (other than the payment of money, as specified above), and if such action or inaction continues and is not remedied within 30 days after Landlord notifies Tenant of such fact, or if there is a default which cannot, with due diligence, be cured within such 30-day period (and which will not subject Landlord to the risk of criminal liability, termination of any superior lease, or foreclosure of any superior mortgage) if Tenant does not commence the cure of such default within such 30-day period and thereafter diligently prosecute the same to completion.

(c) Tenant may contest an alleged default specified by Landlord in its notice if such protest is made in good faith and with due diligence, and the exercise of such right does not subject Landlord to the risk of criminal liability, termination of any superior lease, or foreclosure of any superior mortgage. Such protest shall suspend the time within which Tenant must perform.

(8) Landlord's right upon tenant's failure to take possession--additional per diem rent as damages in lieu of percentage rent

If Tenant receives notice that the leased property is ready for occupancy and fails to take possession and to open for business fully fixtured, stocked, and staffed within the time herein provided, Landlord may, in addition to all of its other remedies, collect additional rent of $100 per day for each day that Tenant fails to commence business as herein provided. Such additional rental shall be deemed to be in lieu of any percentage rent earned during the period Tenant failed to open.

(9) Late charge for delay in payment of rent--monthly percentage reimbursement of expenses to collect late charge

Landlord may require Tenant to pay as an additional charge hereunder interest of 11/2 percent per month (based upon the rate of 18 percent per annum) on all payments of rent and additional charges which are made more than ten days after the due date. If Tenant fails or refuses to pay rent or any additional charge hereunder and Landlord institutes suit for its collection, Tenant shall reimburse Landlord for all reasonable expenses incurred by Landlord in connection therewith, including but not limited to attorneys' fees, not to exceed 15 percent of the total amount due from Tenant.

(10) Waiver of right of redemption

If Landlord obtains possession of the Leased Premises by reason of Tenant's violation of this Lease, Tenant expressly waives all rights of redemption granted by or under any present or future laws.

(11) Tenant's waiver of statutory redemption rights

Tenant, for itself, and on behalf of all persons, firms, corporations, and associations claiming through or under it, including creditors of all kinds, waives all of its rights and privileges under any present or future law to redeem the premises or to have a continuance of this lease for the demised term after it is dispossessed or ejected therefrom by process of law or under the terms of this lease or after the expiration or termination of this lease as herein provided or pursuant to law. Tenant also waives the provisions of any law relating to notice and/or delay in levy of execution in case of an eviction or dispossession of a tenant for nonpayment of rent, and of any other present or future similar law. Tenant shall not interpose any counterclaim in any summary proceeding commenced by Landlord for nonpayment of rent.

(12) Security interest and lien on tenant's improvements and personal property

Landlord shall have a security interest and first lien paramount to all others on every right and interest of Tenant in and to this lease, on any building or improvement on or hereafter placed on the leased property, and on all furnishings, equipment, fixtures, or other personal property of any kind belonging to Tenant, or the Tenant's equity therein, on the leased property. The security interest and lien are granted for the purposes of securing payment of rents, taxes, assessments, charges, liens, penalties, and damages, and of securing the performance of all of Tenant's obligations under this lease. The security interest and lien shall be in addition to all other rights granted to Landlord under present or future laws of this state.

(13) Landlord's right to receiver upon tenant's default

In addition to any other security for the performance of this lease, Tenant hereby assigns to Landlord all of the rents and profits which might otherwise accrue to Tenant from the use, enjoyment, and operation of the leased property. This assignment shall become effective, however, only after default by Tenant in the performance of its obligations under this lease. If Landlord, upon Tenant's default, elects to file a suit in equity to enforce lease and protect its right hereunder, Landlord may upon notice to Tenant, as ancillary to such suit, apply to any competent court for the appointment of a receiver of the leased property, the improvements and buildings located thereon, and the personal property located therein, and thereupon the court may appoint a receiver with the usual powers and duties of receivers in similar cases. Landlord shall have an absolute right to such appointment, without considering the adequacy of the value of Tenant's interest in the lease, Tenant's solvency or insolvency, the value of the property, the commission of waste thereon, or the deterioration thereof. Nothing herein shall prevent the enforcement of Landlord's lien for rent in any court or by any proceeding authorized by the laws of this state, or Landlord's institution of a separate proceeding in equity for the appointment of a receiver as an ancillary remedy to protect Landlord's rights and interest. All remedies and proceedings are considered cumulative and not exclusive.

(14) Injunctive relief for landlord or tenant

In addition to other remedies provided for in this lease, Landlord and Tenant shall be entitled to restraint by injunction of the violation, or attempted or threatened violation, of any condition or provision of this lease, or to a decree specifically compelling performance of any such condition or provision.

(15) Injunctive relief by landlord against tenant or others--cumulative remedy

Any violation, attempted violation, or threatened violation of any condition of this lease by Tenant, or anyone claiming under it, shall be remediable by injunction, which shall be a cumulative remedy in addition to every other remedy given by this lease or by existing or future laws.

(16) No waiver of landlord's rights through failure to require strict performance

Landlord's failure to insist upon a strict performance of any term or condition of this lease shall not be deemed a waiver of any of its rights or remedies with respect thereto or with respect to any subsequent breach of such term or condition.

(17) No waiver of landlord's rights except by written instrument

No failure by Landlord to insist upon the strict performance of any term or condition of this lease or to exercise any right or remedy available on a breach thereof, and no acceptance of full or partial rent during the continuance of any such breach, shall constitute a waiver of any such breach, term, or condition. No term or condition of this lease required to be performed by Tenant, and no breach thereof, shall be waived, altered, or modified, except by a written instrument executed by Landlord. No waiver of any breach shall affect or alter any term or condition in this lease, and each such term or condition shall continue in full force and effect with respect to any other existing or subsequent breach thereof.

(18) Remedies cumulative--exercisable concurrently

All rights and remedies of Landlord are cumulative. The exercise of one or more rights or remedies shall not be taken to exclude or waive the right to exercise any other. All such rights and remedies may be exercised and enforced concurrently and whenever and as often as Landlord deems desirable.

(19) Remedies not exclusive--exercisable from time to time

No remedy conferred upon Landlord shall be considered exclusive of any other remedy, but shall be in addition to every other remedy available to Landlord under this Lease or as a matter of law. Every remedy herein conferred upon Landlord may be exercised from time to time and as often as the occasion may arise.

FORM 23.47 Landlord's right to perform tenant's obligations

COMMENT

In many cases, the right to terminate a lease upon the tenant's default will not by itself afford all the protection needed by the landlord. There are certain defaults which normally should not be permitted to continue even for the period of notice customarily provided in default clauses dealing with termination of a lease. For example, it is important that taxes be paid promptly, that insurance be kept in full force, and that violations of laws and administrative regulations be eliminated. Moreover, it is obviously not to the landlord's advantage to terminate a basically favorable lease upon defaults which can be expected to be cured by the tenant. For these reasons, the landlord is generally given the right to perform obligations of the tenant which are in default.

Additional rent for expenses:

The usual provision permits the landlord to perform obligations which remain in default for a specified period after notice to the tenant. Amounts expended by the landlord, together with interest and reasonable attorneys' fees, are required to be reimbursed by the tenant as additional rent. Thus, the landlord has the same rights to terminate the lease in the event of the nonpayment of this additional rent as he has for the nonpayment of the fixed rent.

Additional items:

A number of additional items may be added to this basic pattern. The landlord may be permitted to reenter the premises whenever necessary to cure defaults (see also clauses dealing with the landlord's right of reentry in the event the tenant fails to keep the premises in repair). There may be variation in the notice period, depending upon the immediacy with which the obligation must be performed. The clause may specify that the landlord's performance of the tenant's obligations will not constitute a waiver of the default or preclude the landlord's right to terminate the lease and recover possession. In the case of a failure by the tenant to keep insurance in force, the landlord's damages should not be limited to the amount of the premiums which the tenant neglects to pay. The lease should permit the landlord to recover any loss which becomes uninsured because of the tenant's delinquency.

Tax aspects:

It should be noted that a payment by a landlord on behalf of a tenant does not justify a current deduction by the landlord or a reduction in rental income in any case where the landlord is entitled to reimbursement from the tenant and the right of reimbursement is not valueless. Consistently, the tenant's deduction is in the year of the landlord's payment, not when the tenant repays the amount. Any interest paid on the reimbursement would be taxable income to the landlord and deductible by the tenant. For a more detailed discussion concerning the tax aspects of rental payments, see the Tax Background (TB) § 23.02, at the beginning of this chapter. For the tax treatment of the lessee's payment of the lessor's expenses, see TB § 23.03.

FORMS

(1) Performance of tenant's obligations--general form

If Tenant is in default hereunder, Landlord may cure such default on Tenant's behalf. In such case, Tenant shall reimburse Landlord for all sums paid to effect such cure, together with interest of 6 percent per annum and reasonable attorneys' fees. In order to collect such reimbursement Landlord shall have all the remedies available under this lease for a default in the payment of rent.

(2) Reimbursement of landlord for expenses of performing tenant obligations--payable without demand or setoff

Lessee shall observe, perform and keep, at it's expense, all of the terms, provisions, covenants, and conditions required by it to be observed, kept and performed hereunder. If Lessor incurs any expense arising out of Lessee's failure, neglect, or refusal to perform its obligations hereunder, Lessee shall reimburse Lessor for such amount in the next installment of rent. All such payments by Lessee to Lessor shall be made without any prior demand and without any deduction, counterclaim, or setoff.

(3) Performance of tenant's obligations after notice--other remedies--landlord payments are additional rent

If, at any time, Tenant is in default in the payment of any imposition, insurance premium, or other amount required by it to be paid hereunder, or in the performance of any other act required hereunder, Landlord, in addition to invoking all other remedies for such default, may pay Tenant's obligations, or, after giving it ten days' prior written notice, perform Tenant's acts, in the manner and to the extent Landlord deems desirable, and may pay all incidental expenses. All such payments by Landlord shall constitute additional rent payable on demand. Failure to make such payments on demand shall constitute a new default by Tenant and Landlord shall have the same rights and remedies as in the case of default by Tenant in the payment of any installment of rent.

(4) Performance of tenant's obligations after notice or without notice in emergency

If Tenant defaults in performing any of its obligations hereunder, Landlord may perform such obligation for Tenant's account and at Tenant's expense, after giving 30 days' notice to Tenant, or without notice if Landlord believes an emergency exists. Tenant shall reimburse Landlord for all expenses, including reasonable attorneys' fees, incurred by Landlord in instituting, prosecuting, or defending any action or proceeding resulting from Tenant's default. If Tenant is required hereunder to reimburse or otherwise pay Landlord any money in addition to the specified rent, such amount shall be deemed additional rent, which Landlord may add to any subsequent installment of specific rent due and payable hereunder. In such case, Landlord shall have the remedies for default in the payment of rent provided by this lease. The provisions of this paragraph shall survive the termination of this lease.

(5) Performance of tenant's obligations--damages not limited to unpaid insurance premiums

(a) Insurance and other obligations. If Tenant at any time fails to (i) pay any amount in accordance with the provisions hereof, (ii) obtain, maintain, or deliver any insurance policies provided for herein, or (iii) perform any of its other obligations hereunder, Landlord may do so after giving 15 days' notice to Tenant, or without notice in case of an emergency, and without waiving or releasing any other right or remedy Landlord may have against Tenant. Landlord may enter upon the leased property for such purposes and take all necessary action.

(b) Additional rent. All payments and expenses incurred by Landlord in performing Tenant's obligations under paragraph (a), together with interest thereon at the rate of 18 percent per annum from the respective dates of each such payment and expense, shall constitute additional rent hereunder, which Tenant shall pay Landlord on demand.

(c) Damages. Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary herein contained, damages claimed by Landlord for Tenant's failure to provide and keep insurance in force shall, in addition to the amount of insurance premiums not paid by Tenant, include any uninsured loss, together with losses, costs and expenses arising out of any suit incurred by reason of damage occurring to the leased property during any period Tenant has failed to provide and keep such insurance in force.

(6) Performance of tenant's obligations upon notice--special provision for taxes

(a) Tenant obligations. If Tenant defaults in performing any of its obligations hereunder, Landlord may, after giving 30 days' notice to Tenant specifying such default, or without notice in case of emergency, perform such obligation for Tenant's account and at Tenant's expense, including reasonable counsel fees. Any payment made or expense incurred by Landlord for such purpose, with interest thereon at the rate of 10 percent per annum, shall be deemed additional rent, which Tenant shall immediately pay to Landlord, or, if Landlord so elects, shall be added to any subsequent installment of rent due and payable hereunder. If no emergency exists, the provisions of this subparagraph shall be inapplicable if, within 30 days after Landlord gives such notice, Tenant either cures the default or commences and thereafter diligently proceeds to cure the same. Nothing contained herein shall be deemed to waive Landlord's right to hold Tenant liable for any money paid or indebtedness incurred by Landlord under the provisions of this subparagraph. Such provisions shall survive the termination of this lease.

(b) Taxes. Notwithstanding the provisions of subparagraph (a), if Tenant does not pay any real estate tax, assessment, sewer rent, water charge, or other tax set forth in this lease at least ten days before the last day on which they may be paid without penalty or interest, Landlord may make such payment. Landlord's payment, with interest thereon, may be added as additional rent to the next installment of rent due and payable hereunder, and the amount of such tax or charge shall, for all purposes, be deemed to be rent payable on such rent day or on any other subsequent rent day selected by Landlord. Landlord's payment shall not be deemed to waive or release Tenant's default for nonpayment or Landlord's rights to terminate this lease and to recover possession.

(7) Tenant not to allow mechanic's liens--landlord's option to pay if tenant fails to discharge--reimbursement to landlord on demand

Lessee shall not permit to be created nor to remain undischarged any lien, encumbrance, or charge arising out of any work of any contractor, mechanic, laborer, or materialman which might be or become a lien or encumbrance or charge upon the Demised Premises or the Shopping Center of which the Demised Premises is a part, or the income therefrom. Lessee shall not suffer any other matter or thing whereby Lessor's estate, right and interest in the Demised Premises or in the Shopping Center may be impaired. If any lien or notice of lien on account of an alleged debt of Lessee or any notice of contract by a party engaged by Lessee or Lessee's contractor to work in the Demised Premises is filed against the Demised Premises or the Shopping Center, Lessee shall, within 20 days after notice of the filing of such lien or notice of lien, cause it to be discharged of record by payment, deposit, bond, order of a court of competent jurisdiction, or otherwise. If Lessee fails to cause such lien or notice of lien to be discharged within the period provided, Lessor, in addition to its other rights and remedies, may discharge the lien or notice of lien either by paying the amounts claimed to be due or by procuring the discharge of such lien by deposit or by bonding proceedings. In either case, Lessor may defend any prosecution of an action for foreclosure of such lien by the lienor, or compel the lienor to prosecute such action, and pay the resulting judgment in favor of the lienor, with interest, costs, and allowances. Lessee shall pay Lessor on demand all amounts paid by Lessor and all costs, including attorney's fees, incurred by it in connection with such action, together with maximum legal interest thereon from the respective dates that Lessor makes the payment or incurs the expense.

FORM 23.48 Access and easements to the premises

COMMENT

Access to the premises and surrounding areas is important to both the landlord and the tenant. The principal concerns of the landlord usually relate to maintenance of the property and showing it to prospective lessees, purchasers, or mortgage lenders. A tenant's concern for access relates to the right to use some parts of the landlord's property not leased by the tenant for entering and leaving the leased part. This may involve the right to use elevators, access of customers in a shopping center to the tenant's store, or the use of common hallways, stairways, and the like.

Access by landlord:

There are several purposes for including a provision authorizing the landlord to enter the premises. In the absence of such a provision, the landlord's rights of access are narrowly limited, and he may be subject to an action for damages or rent abatement if the entry is not allowed by the lease. Therefore, the lease should specify the occasions on which the landlord has access to the premises. If the landlord has agreed to make repairs or alterations, or if there are common facilities which he is obligated to maintain, he should have the right to enter to inspect such facilities and to make such repairs. A similar right should exist if the landlord is to make any repairs which are the responsibility of the tenant but which the tenant has failed to make. The landlord also normally retains the right to exhibit the premises to prospective tenants and purchasers and to post "for rent" signs.

Limitations on landlord's access:

Reasonable limitations can be placed on the frequency and hours of the landlord's entry for these purposes. If an entry is sought because of the tenant's failure to make repairs, the tenant should be entitled to notice and to an opportunity to object or to comply before being charged with the work done by the landlord. The landlord's right to exhibit the premises to prospective tenants can be limited to a fixed period towards the end of the lease. On the other hand, the right to enter during an emergency should be unqualified. There is the possibility that some affirmative obligation may be inferred from the landlord's right of entry. To help preclude any such contention the provision may state that it does not impose upon the landlord any obligation other than those specifically assumed in the lease.

Utility easements and access:

In many cases, it is desirable for the landlord to reserve the right to grant easements for the installation of utilities. While the simple statement of the reserved right may be sufficient, local law may require a specific provision to the effect that no abatement in rent will result from the granting of such an easement. On the other hand, the tenant may want the assurance that any such easement will not unduly interfere with his planned use of the premises.

FORMS

(1) Landlord's right of entry--purposes specified

Landlord and its representatives may enter the leased property at any reasonable time in order to inspect the property, perform any work made necessary by reason of Tenant's default hereunder, exhibit the property for sale, lease, or mortgage financing, and to post notices of nonresponsibility under any mechanic's lien law.

(2) Landlord's access to leased premises--landlord alterations and repairs--interruption of business not an eviction

Lessee shall permit Lessor or its agents to inspect or examine the Demised Premises at any reasonable time, and shall permit Lessor to make all repairs, alterations, improvements, or additions in the Demised Premises or to the building of which they are a part, that Lessor deems desirable or necessary or that Lessee is required but fails to do. Such repairs, alterations, improvements, or additions shall not be construed as a full or partial eviction of Lessee, and the rent shall not abate in any manner while such work is being performed, whether by reason of resulting loss or interruption of Lessee's business or any other reason.

(3) Landlord's right to enter premises--inspection, exhibit to prospective purchasers, maintenance--"for sale" sign

Landlord may enter upon the demised premises at all reasonable hours for the following purposes: to inspect or protect the same; to effect compliance with all applicable governmental laws, orders, and regulations; to exhibit the demised premises to prospective purchasers, lenders, or tenants; to make or supervise repairs, additions, or alterations to the demised premises or the building of which they are a part, and to take thereon all required materials; to erect, use, and maintain pipes and conduits in and through the demised premises; and to alter, decorate, or otherwise prepare the demised premises for reoccupancy at any time after Tenant vacates then or removes substantially all of its property therefrom. None of the foregoing shall constitute an actual or constructive eviction of Tenant or a deprivation of its rights, subject Landlord to any liability or impose upon it any obligation, responsibility or liability, for the care, supervision, or repair of the building of which the demised premises are a part, or any part thereof, other than as specifically provided herein, or entitle Tenant to any compensation or diminution or abatement of the reserved rent. Landlord shall not be responsible to Tenant for any loss or damage that may accrue to its merchandise or other property by reason of any work done by Landlord in or about the demised premises. During the last six months of this lease, Tenant shall permit Landlord to place upon the exterior of the demised premises and the show window the usual "For Rent" or "For Lease" sign.

(4) Landlord's access to make repairs or show premises--landlord's rights to control signs, keys, third-party access, heavy equipment, etc., in premises, building, and site

The Landlord reserves the following rights:

1. To take all measures, including inspections, repairs, alterations, additions, and improvements to the Leased Premises or the Building that are necessary or desirable for their operation, safety, protection, or preservation, if such work does not permanently reduce the area rented by Lessee;
2. To show the Leased Premises to prospective tenants or brokers during the last six months of this Lease term (and if vacated during such period, to prepare the Leased Premises for reoccupancy) and to prospective purchasers at all reasonable times, if prior notice is given to Tenant.

In addition to other rights set forth in this Lease, Landlord shall have the following rights, exercisable without notice or liability to Tenant, for damage or injury to property, person, or business (all claims for damage being hereby released) and without effecting an eviction or disturbance of Tenant's use or possession or giving rise to any claim for set-offs or abatement of rent:

- (a) To change the name or street address of the Site, or the site number of the Premises;
- (b) To install and maintain signs on the exterior and interior of the Site;
- (c) To designate all sources furnishing sign painting and lettering, ice, mineral or drinking water, beverages, foods, towels, vending machines, or toilet supplies used or consumed on the Premises and the Site;
- (d) To have pass keys to the Premises;
- (e) To grant to anyone the exclusive right to conduct any business or render any service in the Site, if such exclusive right does not operate to exclude Tenant from the use expressly permitted by this Lease;
- (f) To decorate, remodel, repair, alter, or otherwise prepare the Premises for reoccupancy during the last six months of the term hereof, if during or prior to such time Tenant vacates the Premises, or at any time after it abandons the Premises;
- (g) To enter the Premises to make inspections, repairs, alterations, or additions in or to the Premises or the Site or to exhibit the Premises to prospective tenants, purchasers, or others, at reasonable hours and at any time in the event of an emergency or to perform any acts related to the safety, protection, preservation, reletting, sale, or improvement of the Premises or the Site;
- (h) To have access to all mail chutes according to the rules of the United States Post Office;

- (i) To require all persons entering or leaving the Site during reasonable hours set by Landlord to identify themselves to a watchman by registration or otherwise and to establish their right to enter or leave, and to exclude or expel any peddler, solicitor, or beggar at any time from the Premises or the Site;
- (j) To close the Building at 10:00 p.m. or other reasonable time set by Landlord, subject, however, to Tenant's right to admittance under regulations prescribed from time to time by Landlord;
- (k) To approve the weight, size, and location of safes and other heavy equipment and articles in and about the Premises and the Site, and to require all such items to be moved in and out of the Site and the Premises only at the times and in the manner directed by Landlord, and only at Tenant's sole risk and responsibility;
- (l) To decorate, alter, repair, or improve the Premises, the Site, and appurtenances at any time. For that purpose, Landlord and its representatives may enter on and about the Leased Premises and the Building with whatever material Landlord deems necessary, erect scaffolding and all other necessary structures on or about the Premises and the Site, and close or temporarily suspend operations of entrances, doors, corridors, elevators, or other facilities. Tenant waives any claim for damages including the loss of business resulting therefrom, and agrees to pay Landlord for overtime and other expenses incurred for work done other than during ordinary business hours at Tenant's request. In exercising its rights under this subparagraph, Landlord shall not unreasonably interfere with the conduct of Tenant's business; and
- (m) To do or permit to be done any work in or about the Leased Premises or the Building or any adjacent or nearby building, land, street, or alley.

(5) Landlord's right of entry--broad purposes

Landlord or its agents may enter the leased property at all times in order to examine it, to show it to prospective purchasers or lessees, or to make any decorations, repairs, alterations, improvements, or additions that Landlord deems necessary or desirable. Landlord may take all necessary material into and upon the leased property, and such entry shall not constitute a full or partial eviction of Tenant. The rent reserved shall not abate while decorations, repairs, alterations, improvements, or additions are being made, whether by reason of loss or interruption of Tenant's business or otherwise.

During the six months preceding the expiration of the term of this lease or any renewal term, Landlord may place upon the leased property the usual notices "To Let" or "For Sale," which Tenant shall permit to remain without molestation. If Tenant removes all or substantially all of its property therefrom during the last month of the term, Landlord may immediately enter and alter, renovate, and redecorate the leased property, without elimination or abatement of rent and without liability to Tenant for any compensation, and such acts shall have no effect upon this lease.

If the Tenant is not personally present to open and permit an entry into the leased property whenever for any reason an entry therein is necessary or permissible, Landlord or its agents may enter the leased property by a master key, or forcibly enter the leased property, without rendering them liable therefor (if during such entry Landlord or its agents accord reasonable care to Tenant's property), and without in any manner affecting the obligations and covenants of this lease.

Landlord's right of reentry shall not be deemed to impose upon it any obligation, responsibility, or liability for the care, supervision, or repair of the leased property other than as herein provided. Landlord may, at any time, without effecting an actual or constructive eviction or incurring any liability to Tenant therefor, change the arrangement or location of entrances or passageways, doors and doorways, corridors, elevators, stairs, toilets, or other public parts of the building and change the name, number, or designation by which the building is commonly known.

(6) Right of entry to make necessary repairs--no liability for disturbance

Landlord or its agent may enter the leased property at all reasonable times during usual business hours for the purpose of inspecting the same, making all necessary repairs thereto, and performing any work therein made necessary by Tenant's default hereunder. Nothing herein shall imply any duty by Landlord to do any work which Tenant is required to perform under any provision of this lease, and Landlord's performance of such work shall not constitute a waiver of Tenant's default. Landlord may during the progress of any work on or in the leased property keep and store upon the leased property all necessary materials, tools, and equipment. Landlord shall not in any event be liable for inconvenience, annoyance, disturbance, loss of business, or other damage to Tenant or its subtenants by reason of making such repairs or performing such work on or in the leased property, or bringing materials, supplies, and equipment into or through the leased property during the course of such work, and Tenant's obligations under this lease shall not thereby be affected in any manner.

(7) Right of entry to make repairs for safety

Landlord and its representatives may enter any part of the leased property at all reasonable hours for the purpose of examining the same or making all necessary repairs or alterations for its safety and preservation. Except in emergencies, Landlord shall give Tenant ten days' notice before making any repair or alteration. Any dispute by Tenant as to the necessity for a particular repair or alteration shall be resolved by arbitration under the provisions of this lease. Landlord is under no obligation to make any repairs or alterations, all of which shall be made at Tenant's expense. Tenant shall repay Landlord's cost of such repairs or alterations, together with interest, as additional rent. The receipted bills of Landlord's mechanics or contractors, showing Landlord's payment for such repairs or alterations, shall be prima facie evidence that the charges are reasonable and that Landlord paid the same.

(8) Landlord's right to grant utility easements--no rent abatement

Landlord may grant easements in areas of the leased property for the installation of utilities, if the use of the easement areas for such purposes does not interfere substantially with the operation of Tenant's business. In the absence of such substantial interference, Tenant shall not be entitled to any compensation or abatement of rent.

(9) Access areas reserved for other tenants

If the leased property constitutes one or more floors, or portions thereof, of a building, and any floor or portion contains hallways, passageways, stairways, elevators, or other means of access to and from the upper and lower portions of the building ("access areas"), the space occupied by such access areas shall be reserved for the use of Landlord and all Tenants in the building and shall not be considered a portion of the leased property, even if it is within such property.

(10) Reservation of driveway easement

Landlord hereby reserves the right to use the driveway across the leased property as a means of ingress and egress to and from the street in front of the leased property, and to and from the premises in the rear of such property, by trucks and other vehicles, and by persons on foot. Landlord shall have the right for itself, its agents, servants, and employees, invitees, and licensees, to use such easement of right of way at any time and for any purpose.

(11) Access to service elevator by tenant--basement entrance for deliveries

Tenant shall have the use of the service elevator for access to the demised premises through the basement entrance for the removal of rubbish and deliveries at whatever times and subject to whatever regulations Landlord establishes for the use of the service elevator.

(12) Excavation of adjoining premises--tenant to permit entry to preserve building--not deemed an eviction

If an excavation or other construction is undertaken upon land adjacent to the demised premises, Tenant shall afford to the person performing such work permission to enter upon the premises for the purpose of doing any work such party deems necessary to preserve the wall, or the building of which the demised premises form a part, from injury or damage and to support it by proper foundations. Such permission and entry shall not constitute a whole or partial eviction of Tenant, or entitle it to claim any damages or indemnity against Landlord, or diminution or abatement of rent. The person performing such work shall use reasonable efforts to minimize interference with, or interruption of, Tenant's business operations, and shall repair any resulting damage caused to the demised premises.

(13) Shopping center landlord's right to refuse admission during nonbusiness hours--right to eject or close in event of commotion

Landlord reserves the following rights: to refuse admission to the shopping center and the demised premises, outside of ordinary business hours, to any person not known to any watchman in charge or properly identified; to eject any person from the shopping center whose conduct may tend to be harmful to the safety and interests of the tenants and the property therein; and to close any part of the shopping center during any riot or other commotion when person or property may be imperiled.

FORM 23.49 Tenant's right to perform landlord's obligations

COMMENT

A tenant's interest in leased property can, at times, be adversely affected by his landlord's failure to meet certain obligations. Such a result is possible, for example, if the landlord defaults in paying real estate taxes or in meeting obligations under a mortgage. A tenant who has a substantial stake in continuous possession can seek the right to cure any defaults by the landlord which can jeopardize the tenant's possession.

Payments by the tenant for this purpose are generally treated like those made by the landlord to cure defaults by the tenant. Within a specified period prior to the deadline for payment, the tenant may be given the right to pay any overdue amounts. Such expenditures are then applied against future rentals. To take care of the case where the recovery by offsetting against future rent may extend over a long period, the tenant may be given the additional right to maintain a separate action for reimbursement. Also, the tenant may be given an option to terminate the lease if the landlord is guilty of recurring defaults. These rights may be extended to apply to the breach of other covenants by the landlord. For example, failure by the landlord to make repairs within a reasonable time may justify the performance of such work by the tenant. Sometimes this right is limited to emergency repairs, or to repairs which cost less than a specified amount.

The tenant's payment of the landlord's obligations is in the nature of an advance, and unless clearly uncollectible would produce no income tax deduction at the time the expenditure is made. Recovery by the tenant is generally assured by the operation of the provision allowing him to subtract from future rents amounts expended to cure the landlord's defaults. If the tenant is unable to recover the full amount of the outlay, a loss deduction would then become available. For further discussion of the tax aspects of the lessee's payment of lessor's expenses, see the Tax Background § 23.03, at the beginning of this chapter.

FORMS

(1) Performance of landlord's obligation--general provision

If Landlord defaults in observing or performing any of its obligations hereunder, Tenant may remedy the default after giving 30 days' notice to Landlord, and in connection therewith may pay expenses and employ counsel, except that Tenant may remedy Landlord's default without notice in case of an emergency. Landlord shall reimburse Tenant on demand for all sums expended or obligations incurred by Tenant in connection with such default. If Landlord fails to do so, Tenant, in addition to its other rights and remedies, may deduct such amount from basic rent or additional rent thereafter becoming due to Landlord.

(2) Performance of landlord's obligation--option to cure default or terminate lease

If Landlord breaks any condition under this lease, Tenant may either cure such breach and deduct the cost thereof from rent subsequently becoming due hereunder, or terminate this lease by giving 30 days' notice to Landlord. If Tenant elects termination, this lease shall terminate on the date fixed in such notice unless Landlord has cured such default prior thereto.

(3) Performance of landlord's obligation--option to terminate lease upon recurring default

If Landlord, after being given written notice of the need thereof, fails or unreasonably delays in building, rebuilding, maintaining, or repairing the leased property as herein required, or in performing any other covenant hereunder, Tenant may perform Landlord's obligation and deduct the cost thereof, with interest, from future rents until such cost is fully recovered. For the purpose of this paragraph, failure for more than three business days to repair leaks in roofs or skylights shall be considered unreasonable. If Landlord's failure or delay to perform any obligation reoccurs and continues for a period of 30 days, Tenant may terminate this lease by giving written notice to Landlord.

(4) Mortgage payments by tenant--right to apply against future rentals or sue for recovery

If Landlord fails to pay any sum due upon any mortgage which encumbers the leased property, Tenant may do so and apply the money so advanced on account of the next maturing rent payments due to Landlord, or, may recover such advances, together with all attorneys' fees and costs incurred in connection with the recovery, in any court of competent jurisdiction.

(5) Mortgage and real estate tax payments by tenant

(a) Mortgage payments. If Landlord, at any time, fails to pay an installment of principal or interest or any other sum due under any present or future mortgage placed on the fee of the leased property to which this lease is subordinate, Tenant may make such payment provided that it gives Landlord five days' notice prior to the expiration of any grace period after which Landlord's failure to make such payment would constitute a default under the mortgage. Tenant may deduct such payment and any additional expense incurred on account of Landlord's nonpayment, with interest thereon at the rate of 10 percent per annum from the date of payment, from subsequent installments of rent until Tenant has been fully reimbursed for such payment, expense, and interest. Tenant shall in no event be subrogated to any lien, interest, or right of the holder of any such mortgage unless Tenant pays such mortgage in full and receives an assignment thereof.

(b) Taxes. If Landlord, at any time, fails to apply any sums deposited hereunder by Tenant for real estate taxes to the payment of such taxes before the last day on which they may be paid without penalty, Tenant may pay such taxes directly and deduct such payment, together with interest thereon at the rate of 10 percent per annum from the date of payment, from subsequent installments of rent until Tenant has been fully reimbursed for such payment and interest.

(c) Subsequent taxes. Tenant, in addition to its right to pay real estate taxes as provided in subparagraph (b) above, may also pay the real estate taxes for the next two years directly to the collector of such taxes. In such event, Tenant shall not be required to make any deposit with Landlord for such item or items during the two-year period.

(6) Mortgagee's right to cure landlord's default

If Landlord is in default under this lease, Tenant shall give written notice thereof to the holder of record of the first mortgage covering the leased property. The mortgagee shall be permitted to correct or remedy the default within 30 days after it receives such notice from Tenant. If the mortgagee fails to do so, Tenant, after giving notice thereof to Landlord, may cure the default and deduct the cost thereof from the rent subsequently becoming due hereunder.

(7) Performance of landlord's obligations after notice--duplicate notice to holder of first mortgage--first mortgagee's option to correct or remedy

(a) Notice of landlord's default. Lessor shall in no event be charged with default in performing any of its obligations hereunder unless it has failed to perform them within 30 days after Lessee gives it notice properly specifying the details of its nonperformance, or within such additional time as may be reasonably required to correct the default.

(b) Notice to first mortgagee. If the holder of record of the first mortgage covering the Demised Premises (the "first mortgagee") gives prior written notice to Lessee that it is the holder thereof and includes in such notice the address at which notices are to be sent to it, Lessee shall give the first mortgagee notice simultaneously with any notice to Lessor to correct Lessor's default as provided above. The first mortgagee shall have 30 days after receipt of such notice to correct or remedy Lessor's default, during which time Lessee may not take any action hereunder to cure the same. Any notice of default to Lessor shall be null and void unless simultaneous notice is given to the first mortgagee.

FORM 23.50 Fire or other casualty losses

COMMENT

There are basically two components of the cost of providing for the restoration of property in the event of a fire or other casualty: the cost of insurance premiums and the expenses of restoration in excess of the insurance proceeds. Thus, the burden of such costs may be allocated in any one of four different ways. Either the tenant or the landlord may pay both the insurance premiums and the restoration costs in excess of the insurance proceeds; the tenant may pay the premiums and the landlord the additional costs; or the landlord may pay premiums and the tenant the additional costs. The clauses in this group assign the burden for the costs of restoration in excess of the insurance proceeds and set forth the procedures for the restoration of the property or the termination of the lease in the event of fire or other casualty.

Termination on destruction of property:

Statutes in many jurisdictions provide that if leased premises are destroyed or rendered unfit for occupancy through no fault of the tenant and there is no written agreement to the contrary, the tenant may elect to surrender possession and be released from paying rent for the period subsequent to the surrender. The rule in jurisdictions where the common law has not been modified by statute is generally that the tenant is not liable for rent in the event of the total destruction of the leased property. Therefore, if it is intended that the lease is to continue and the rent is not to abate, a specific provision to this effect is required.

The lease may provide for its continuance in all events, or only if some prescribed portion of the property has not been destroyed. The standard for the extent of the destruction which will bring about a termination of the lease may be mechanical, such as a fixed percentage of floor space, or may be a flexible test, depending upon whether repair is economically feasible. If the lease is to continue, it should assign the responsibility for the repair work. In some cases, an election is given to either or both parties to terminate the lease if the casualty occurs near the expiration of the term, in which case insurance proceeds become the property of the landlord.

Tenant restoration:

If the tenant is to arrange and pay for the restoration, a procedure should be established for the application of the insurance proceeds. One approach is to transfer the proceeds to the tenant, who is to hold them in trust or place them in escrow to insure their application toward restoration costs. Another arrangement is for the landlord to retain the funds until he has received from the tenant a certificate of an architect or engineer that funds have been expended or are due for restoration work. A combination of these plans may be employed.

Mortgagee's right to proceeds:

Frequently, the insurance proceeds are subject to the prior claim of a mortgagee. The tenant who has undertaken to pay restoration costs should make certain that funds will be available to him to replace the amount of any insurance proceeds which are retained by a mortgagee. This may be accomplished by a direct requirement that the landlord provide funds to the extent that insurance proceeds are retained by the mortgagee. Another procedure is to authorize or require the placing of a second mortgage on the property to provide funds equivalent to the amount withheld by the mortgagee. Of course, the agreement with the mortgagee may permit the use of all insurance proceeds for restoration purposes, under safeguards controlled by the mortgagee. The landlord should negotiate with its mortgagee prior to signing its loan documents for this right to the use of the insurance proceeds as long as the landlord is not in default and the insurance proceeds alone, or in combination with the landlord's own funds, are adequate to fully restore the property.

Landlord restoration:

If the landlord is to pay the restoration costs he may be given an election to repair or terminate the lease, or he may be obligated to repair unless the property is totally destroyed. If the lease is terminated, rent is apportioned as of the date of the damage or termination. If the premises are wholly or partly untenantable during the course of repair, provision must be made for the suspension, reduction, or continuance of the tenant's rent obligation.

Loss deduction:

A loss from fire, storm, or other casualty creates a deduction for the taxpayer who has purchased or constructed the damaged improvement. If business or income-producing property is completely destroyed, the deduction is for the full adjusted basis of the property, no matter what its value immediately before the casualty. In the case of a partial loss, the deduction is limited to the difference in value before and after the casualty, but cannot exceed the adjusted basis of the property. For example, if the loss in value is $8,000 and the adjusted basis of the property is $5,000, the allowable deduction is $5,000. If the loss in value is $4,000, that amount is the deductible loss. The amount of any insurance proceeds is subtracted from the adjusted basis in computing the limitation on the deduction. Thus, in the example given, if insurance proceeds of $3,000 are recovered the deduction in both cases would be limited to $2,000.

Loss measurement:

Loss in value is one of the limiting factors in measuring the amount of the deduction. While competent appraisal is the traditional method of proving loss in value, the taxpayer may rely upon the cost of repairs as the measure of the loss in value if he shows that (a) the repairs are necessary to restore the property to its condition immediately before the casualty, (b) the amount for such repairs is not excessive, (c) the repairs do not correct more than the damage suffered, and (d) the value of the property after the repairs does not, as a result of the repairs, exceed the value of the property immediately before the casualty. If a lessee has no interest in the leased property, a casualty can not create a deductible loss for him.

Capital asset limitation:

Insured casualty losses or gains from insurance proceeds and the cost of repairs are within the scope of a special statutory classification referred to as "section 1231" transactions. If the transactions result in a net gain, gains and losses from capital transactions are subject to the special limitations applicable to capital assets. If such transactions produce a net loss, the capital asset limitations do not apply. Uninsured casualty losses of long-term business property are deductible as ordinary losses, however, without regard to other transactions. Receipt of fire insurance proceeds by a lessor is a section 1231 transaction even though the tenant elects to terminate the lease instead of requiring the landlord to restore the property.

FORMS*(1) Full risk of loss upon tenant*

No destruction or damage to any building or improvement on the leased property by fire, windstorm, or any other casualty shall entitle Tenant to surrender possession of the leased property, terminate this lease, violate any of its provisions, or cause any rebate or abatement in rent then due or thereafter becoming due under the terms hereof.

(2) Tenant to repair--landlord to apply and turn over insurance proceeds

(a) Damage and restoration. If the leased property is damaged or destroyed by fire or other casualty, Tenant, at its expense, shall promptly restore the property as nearly as possible to its prior condition. All insurance proceeds received by Landlord under the provisions of this lease, less any cost of such recovery, shall be held in trust and applied by Landlord to the payment of such restoration as it progresses.

(b) Termination. If at any time within 18 months before the end of the initial or any renewal term, (i) Tenant has not served upon Landlord notice of renewal or extension, (ii) the leased property is completely destroyed or so damaged by fire or other casualty, regardless of whether covered by insurance, so as to render it unfit for its intended use, and (iii) repair or restoration is not economically feasible, either party may terminate this lease by giving at least ten days, but not more than 30 days, notice. Such notice must be given within 60 days after the date of such damage or destruction. If the lease is so terminated, all basic and additional rent shall be apportioned to the date of termination, and all insurance proceeds shall belong to Landlord. Any disagreement between the parties as to the economic feasibility of repairing or restoring the leased property shall be arbitrated as provided below.

(c) Deficiency. If the lease is not so terminated and the proceeds of insurance are insufficient to pay the full cost of repair or restoration, Tenant shall pay the deficiency. If the insurance proceeds exceed such cost, the excess shall be paid to Tenant.

(d) Mortgagee, trustee. Any disbursement of insurance proceeds by a holder of a deed of trust shall be deemed to have been made by Landlord. If any holder of a mortgage or deed of trust refuses to disburse any portion of insurance proceeds to which Tenant is entitled, Landlord shall provide an equivalent sum from other sources.

(e) Continuing obligations. Except as provided in subparagraph (b) above, the fact that all or part of the leased property, or the furniture, furnishings, and fixtures therein, is destroyed or damaged shall not affect the provisions of this lease, notwithstanding any contrary law, rule, or regulation, and Tenant's obligations under this lease, including the payment of basic rent, percentage rent, additional rent, and other charges, shall continue without any abatement.

(3) Tenant to repair--insurance proceeds to be applied by landlord--landlord to retain excess proceeds

(a) Damage and restoration. If any building on the leased property, or the machinery, fixtures, and equipment, (except movable trade fixtures, furniture, and furnishings, used in its operation or maintenance), is damaged or destroyed by fire or otherwise, Tenant shall, at the time and upon the conditions set forth below, restore, repair, replace, rebuild, or alter the damaged or destroyed property as nearly as possible to its prior condition (the "work"). Such work shall be commenced as soon as practicable after Landlord or any mortgage holder (the "mortgagee") receives the insurance proceeds, and shall be performed with reasonable diligence.

(b) Application of funds. Landlord or the mortgagee shall apply all insurance money received on account of such damage or destruction, less the cost of recovery, to pay the cost of such work. Such cost shall include expenditures made for temporary repairs or for the protection of property pending the completion of the work. The insurance funds shall be paid out, as provided below, from time to time as the work progresses, upon Tenant's written request, which shall be accompanied by the following:

(1) A certificate of the architect or engineer in charge of the work (the certificate), dated not more than 30 days before such request, setting forth that the requested sum either has been paid by Tenant or is justly due to contractors, subcontractors, materialmen, engineers, architects, or other persons (whose names and addresses shall be stated) who have rendered services or furnished materials for certain work. The certificate shall give a brief description of such services and materials, list the several amounts so paid or due to each such person, state the fair value of the work at the date of the requisition, and state that no part of such expenditures has been or is being made the basis for any other request for payment. The certificate shall state also that except for the amounts listed therein, the architect or engineer, after due inquiry, knows of no outstanding indebtedness that is then due for labor, wages, materials, supplies, or services relating to such work and which, if unpaid, could become the basis of a vendor's, mechanic's, laborer's, materialman's, or similar lien upon such work or the leased property.

(2) An affidavit sworn to by Tenant that all materials and property constituting the work described in such architect's or engineer's certificate are free and clear of all security interests, liens, charges, or encumbrances, except encumbrances securing indebtedness due to persons specified in such certificate which are to be discharged upon payment of such indebtedness.

(c) Disbursement. Upon compliance with the provisions of subparagraph (b), above, Landlord or such mortgagee shall, out of such insurance money, on Tenant's request, pay to the persons named in such certificate the respective amounts stated to be due to them, or shall pay to Tenant the amount stated to have been paid by it. Such payments, however, shall not exceed the fair value of the relevant work as stated in the certificate. If the insurance proceeds held by Landlord or the mortgagee exceeds the amount required to pay the cost of the work, such party may retain the excess.

(d) No rent abatement. Tenant's obligation to pay the basic rent and all other charges and to perform all other terms of this lease shall not be affected by any such damage to or destruction of any building on the leased property or of the machinery, fixtures, and equipment used in its operation and maintenance, and Tenant waives the provisions of any present or future statute or law to the contrary.

(e) Tenant default. Notwithstanding the above provisions of this paragraph, Landlord or such mortgagee shall not be required to pay out insurance moneys held by it when payment is requested, if Tenant is then in default in performing any of its obligations hereunder as to which notice of default has been given.

(4) Tenant to repair--insurance proceeds in escrow--tenant's right to mortgage fee if proceeds retained by existing mortgagee--right to cancel lease if damage occurs near expiration of term

(a) Damage and repair. If any building or improvement upon the leased property is totally or partially destroyed or damaged as a result of a casualty or hazard against which Tenant is required to carry insurance, and all or part of the insurance proceeds are due or required to be paid to Landlord or any mortgagee, Tenant shall immediately notify Landlord of such fact. Tenant may then, at its expense, either promptly repair, replace, or rebuild such building or other improvement at least to the extent of its prior value, or delay the commencement of the work until the proceeds of all insurance policies covering the casualty or hazard are made available to it for such purpose. Tenant shall continue the commenced work with reasonable diligence until its completion.

(b) Specifications and approvals. Tenant shall make the repair, replacement, or rebuilding in accordance with applicable plans and specifications. If the estimated cost of the work is more than $50,000, the plans and specifications shall first be submitted to and approved in writing by Landlord, which approval shall not be unreasonably withheld or delayed. Before any work is commenced, the plans and specifications shall be filed with and approved by all applicable municipal or other governmental authorities, and, if so required by the terms of the mortgage, Tenant shall obtain and deliver to Landlord the written consent of any present mortgagee. Landlord shall join in any application to the mortgagee for such consent, and use all reasonable efforts to obtain it. Before commencing the work, Tenant shall procure at its expense, and deliver to Landlord, all policies of insurance usually required in connection with such work.

(c) Insurance proceeds escrow. For the purpose of paying the cost of repair, replacement, or rebuilding, Tenant shall keep the insurance proceeds in an escrow account and disburse the same during the course of the work. If the proceeds are insufficient to pay the cost of the work, Tenant shall pay the deficiency. If the proceeds exceed the cost of such work, Tenant may retain the excess.

(d) Mortgages. If the holder of any existing mortgage (the "mortgagee") elects to apply any insurance proceeds towards the reduction of the mortgage, Landlord shall make available to Tenant, for the sole purpose of the repair, replacement, or rebuilding for which Tenant is obligated, an amount equal to the total insurance proceeds retained by such mortgagee. If Landlord fails to do so within a reasonable time after final settlement of the loss with the insurers, Tenant may place a mortgage against the leased property in an amount not greater than that which Landlord is required to make available to Tenant, plus the expenses of placing such mortgage. However, if the total charges for interest and amortization upon such new mortgage and for the existing mortgages exceed the then current charges for interest and amortization, Tenant shall pay 50 percent of the excess to Landlord as additional rent, and Landlord shall pay the remaining 50 percent directly and execute all papers in connection therewith. Landlord, however, shall not incur any personal liability with respect to any such mortgage.

(e) Termination by Landlord. If the work of repairing, replacing, or rebuilding is not commenced and completed within the period specified above, Landlord may terminate this lease by giving Tenant 30 days' written notice. If the work is not commenced and the other conditions satisfied before such 30-day period expires, this lease shall terminate, and the insurance proceeds received and receivable shall belong to and be retained by Landlord or any mortgagee to whom such proceeds are payable, as their interests may appear, without claim thereon by Tenant.

(f) Termination by either party. If, during the final three years of the last renewal period of this lease, the building and improvement on the leased property are damaged or destroyed as a result of a casualty or hazard against which Tenant is required to carry insurance and such damage or destruction exceeds 50 percent of their then insurable value, either party may cancel this lease by giving the other five days' written notice within 30 days after the date of damage or destruction. In such case, this lease shall terminate on the date specified in the notice. Tenant shall not be required to rebuild, and Landlord or any mortgagee to whom the insurance proceeds are payable may retain all such proceeds, whether received or receivable. All taxes, rents, and other charges shall be prorated and paid to the date specified in the notice of termination.

(g) Continuation of lease. Except as otherwise provided herein, this lease shall not terminate or be affected in any manner by reason of the damage or destruction, by fire or other casualty, in whole or in part, of the leased property or the building or improvement thereon, or by reason of the untenantability of the leased property, and Tenant shall pay the fixed rent reserved in this lease, as well as all other charges payable hereunder, in accordance with the terms of this lease, without abatement, diminution, or reduction of rent on account of any such damage or destruction.

(5) Landlord to repair--rent abatement during repair--termination of lease upon complete destruction

If the building in which the leased property is located is damaged by fire or other casualty, without Tenant's fault, and the damage is so extensive as to effectively constitute a total destruction of the property or building, this lease shall terminate and the rent shall be apportioned to the time of the damage. In all other cases of damage without Tenant's fault, Landlord shall repair the damage with reasonable dispatch, and if the damage has rendered the leased property wholly or partially untenantable, the rent shall be apportioned until the damage is repaired. In determining what constitutes reasonable dispatch, consideration shall be given to delays caused by strikes, adjustment of insurance, and other causes beyond the Landlord's control.

(6) Restoration by landlord of property destroyed by insured casualty--tenant to replace trade fixtures--proportionate rent abatement--landlord's option to terminate

If the demised premises or the building containing it is damaged or destroyed during the lease term by fire or other insurable casualty without Tenant's fault, Landlord shall repair or restore such property to substantially its prior condition, except as otherwise provided in this Article. However, Landlord's obligation shall not exceed the scope of the work required of it in the original construction of the building. Landlord shall not be required to, but Tenant shall with due dispatch, replace or restore all trade fixtures, signs or other installations previously installed by Tenant. Rent payable under this lease shall be abated proportionately according to the floor area of the demised premises which is usable by Tenant, but if such damage was caused by Tenant's fault, there shall be no abatement of rent. Such abatement shall continue for the period commencing with such damage or destruction and ending when Landlord completes its required repair work or reconstruction. If, however, the demised premises, the building containing it, or the other buildings in the shopping center are damaged or destroyed by any cause and Landlord decides to demolish or completely rebuild any of them, it may, within 60 days after such damage or destruction, give Tenant written notice of its decision. Thereupon, this lease shall be deemed to have terminated as of the date of the damage or destruction and Tenant shall immediately quit and surrender the demised premises to Landlord.

(7) Landlord to repair--rent abatement during repair for loss of business--no rent abatement if damage due to tenant's negligence

If all or any part of the leased property is damaged or destroyed by fire or other casualty insured under the standard fire insurance policy with approved standard extended coverage endorsement applicable to the leased property, Landlord shall, except as otherwise provided herein, repair and rebuild such property with reasonable diligence. If such work requires Tenant to temporarily close its business to the public, the minimum rental shall be equitably adjusted for the duration of such repairs. Notwithstanding the above, if the leased property is damaged by fire or other insured casualty due to Tenant's fault or neglect, or the fault or neglect of its servants, employees, contractors, agents, visitors, or licensees, Landlord shall, without prejudice to Landlord's other rights and remedies, repair the damage, but there shall be no apportionment or abatement of any rent. Except to the extent provided for in this paragraph, neither the rent payable by Tenant nor any of its other obligations under any provision of this lease shall be affected by any damage to or destruction of the leased property by any cause and Tenant hereby expressly waives all additional rights it might otherwise have under any law or statute.

(8) Restoration of premises by landlord from insurance proceeds released by mortgagee--rent abatement--option to terminate upon substantial destruction

(a) Restoration of damaged premises. If the Leased Premises are damaged, destroyed, or rendered partially untenable for their then use by fire or other casualty insured by Landlord, it shall promptly repair (but only from insurance proceeds released by the holder of any mortgage lien upon the Building which contain the Leased Premises) the premises and restore them to substantially their prior condition. Landlord's obligation to repair shall not extend to any of Tenant's improvements or additions.

(b) Rent abatement. During the period from the date of such casualty until the Leased Premises are repaired and restored, Tenant's obligation to pay any basic rental due hereunder, shall abate, but only to the extent there is no rental insurance covering such obligation. However, Tenant shall be responsible for its share of any additional rental due hereunder. The abatement shall be in the proportion that the destroyed or untenable portion of the Leased Premises bears to the total leased premises.

(c) Termination option. Notwithstanding the above, if 50 percent or more of the Leased Premises or the building of which they are a part is destroyed or rendered untenable by fire or other casualty, Landlord may terminate this Lease effective as of the date of such casualty, by giving Tenant written notice of termination within 45 days after such casualty occurs.

(d) Fire and other casualty. Except as expressly provided herein, this Lease shall not terminate and there shall be no abatement of rent or other charges as a result of fire or other casualty.

(e) Advance rent refund. If Landlord elects to terminate as provided above, it shall promptly repay Tenant all advance rentals or other charges that have not been earned as of the date of such event.

(9) Destruction by casualty--landlord's option to re-do landlord's work, tenant to do tenant's work--proportionate percentage rent

(a) Damage to premises; election to rebuild. If the Demised Premises are damaged to the extent of 50 percent or more of their cost of replacement, or damaged by any uninsured casualty, Lessor may rebuild or terminate this Lease, by giving appropriate notice to Lessee not more than one year from the date of damage. If Lessor elects to rebuild, it shall, at its expense, proceed with so much of the restoration of the Demised Premises as was included in Lessor's work provided for in the Article entitled "Lessor's Work in the Demised Premises." Lessee shall perform all repairs and restorations of the Demised Premises not included in Lessor's work in conformance with the Article entitled "Lessee's Work and Approval of Lessee's Plans and Specifications." The parties shall promptly commence and diligently proceed with their restoration obligations hereunder.

(b) Election to terminate lease. If, at any time, prior to the last five years during the term hereof the Demised Premises are damaged to the extent of less than 50 percent of their replacement cost by fire or other casualty covered by Lessor's fire and extended coverage insurance policy, the parties shall restore the Demised Premises in accordance with the original construction obligations contained therein. If such damage occurs during the last five years of this Lease, Lessor may rebuild or terminate the Lease, by giving appropriate notice to Lessee not more than one year from the date of damage.

(c) Proportionate percentage rent. If the Demised Premises are totally destroyed, Lessee's rent shall completely abate from the date of destruction and the Percentage Break Point shall be prorated to the date of such destruction. If Lessor elects to rebuild as provided above, Lessee's rent shall completely abate from the date of such destruction until 180 days after the date when Lessor notifies Lessee that the shell of the Demised Premises is ready for commencement of Lessee's work, or upon the day when Lessee opens for business, whichever event first occurs. The Percentage Break Point shall be proportionately reduced, based on the period Lessee is unable to open for business due to such destruction. If, however, a partial destruction or damage deprives Lessee of the occupancy and use of only a portion of the Demised Premises, Minimum Rent and the Percentage Break Point shall be equitably apportioned according to the area of the Demised Premises which is unusable by Lessee, until the Demised Premises are repaired or restored as provided herein.

(d) Election to discontinue operations. If any portion of the property of which the Demised Premises form a part is damaged or destroyed to the extent that Lessor elects to discontinue operations, Lessor may cancel this Lease by giving Lessee notice of such election, and this Lease shall terminate and become null and void 90 days thereafter.

FORM 23.51 Insurance

COMMENT

The purpose of the insurance provision is to specify the required coverage and fix the responsibility for the payment of the premiums. It may also describe the manner in which the proceeds are to be distributed, although this is often covered in the clause dealing with casualty losses. Of course, if there is no provision fixing the responsibility for insurance coverage, each party must determine for itself how to obtain protection against loss. Coverage generally includes fire and extended coverage insurance, boiler and machinery insurance, sprinkler system leakage insurance, and rental value or use and occupancy insurance. Although the tenant may pay the premiums, the insurance is written to protect the landlord, the tenant, and the mortgagee according to their respective interests. Minimum coverage may be stated either in an absolute amount or as a percentage of insurance value usually with an 80 percent minimum. Where the latter criterion is employed, provision may be made for an appraisal to determine insurable value. In any event, it is common to require coverage in an amount at least sufficient to prevent the landlord and the tenant from paying for the loss themselves.

Deductible expense:

The Regulations specifically allow a deduction as a business expense for insurance premiums against fire, storm, theft, accident, or other similar losses. Although no specific reference to insurance appears in the Regulations on nonbusiness expenses, the deduction would appear to be allowable for insurance carried in the management, conservation, or maintenance of property held for the production of income, even if the taxpayer's use of the property does not amount to a trade or business and does not currently produce income. A residential tenant could not deduct the cost of insurance.

Time of deduction:

The treatment of prepaid insurance by a cash basis taxpayer is not certain. There is a division of authority as to whether the deduction is to be taken in the year of payment or is to be amortized over the period of coverage. The position of the Revenue Service is that a prepaid insurance premium by a cash basis taxpayer for a term in excess of one year cannot be deducted when paid but must be ratably deducted over the policy's life. As to an accrual basis taxpayer, the law appears to require a proration of the deduction. Some agreements provide for reimbursement by the tenant for the landlord's prepayments at the commencement of the lease term, and for reimbursement by the landlord for the tenant's prepayments at the termination of the term. Such reimbursements constitute prepayments, and the proper treatment by the party making the payments would be subject to the rules noted.

Tax treatment of insurance gains:

Gain realized from the receipt of insurance proceeds for losses with respect to property held for more than the required holding period is treated as long-term capital gain. Such gain, however, must be offset against any net loss realized during the taxable year on sales or exchanges of business real estate and depreciable business property held for more than the required holding period; the net gain from all such transactions is subject to the capital gain limitations and the net loss is treated as ordinary loss.

Rent insurance:

Insurance proceeds compensating for the loss of rent or for the loss of profits under use and occupancy insurance must be reported as ordinary income.

For a more detailed discussion of the tax treatment of insurance with respect to leased property, see The Tax Background §§ 23.03 and 23.10, at the beginning of this chapter.

FORMS

(1) Landlord to maintain fire insurance

Landlord shall keep the building in which the leased property is located insured against loss or damage by fire with extended coverage endorsement in an amount sufficient to prevent it from becoming a coinsurer under the terms of the applicable policies but, in any event, in an amount not less than 80 percent of the full insurable value as determined from time to time. The term "full insurable value" means actual replacement cost (exclusive of the cost of excavation, foundations, and footings below the basement floor) without deduction for physical depreciation. Such insurance shall be issued by financially responsible insurers duly authorized to do business in this state.

(2) Tenant's general undertaking for insurance--present coverage maintained

Throughout the term of this lease, Tenant shall pay all premiums for insurance coverage on the leased property, including fire and windstorm insurance, in whatever amounts and with such companies as Landlord now maintains or shall otherwise approve.

(3) Insurance to be obtained by tenant--public liability, property damage, and plate glass insurance--landlord coinsured--ten-day notice to landlord of cancellation

Tenant shall, at its expense, during the term hereof, maintain and deliver to Landlord public liability and property damage and plate glass insurance policies with respect to the demised premises. Such policies shall name both Landlord and Tenant as insureds, and have limits of at least $500,000 for injury or death to any one person and $1,000,000 for any one accident, and $100,000 with respect to damage to property and with full coverage for plate glass. Such policies shall be in whatever form and with such insurance companies as are reasonably satisfactory to Landlord, and shall provide for at least ten days' prior notice to Landlord of cancellation. At least ten days before any such policy expires, Tenant shall supply Landlord with a substitute therefor, together with evidence that the premiums therefor were paid. If Tenant fails to do so, Landlord may procure such policies or pay such premiums. In such case, all amounts so paid by Landlord, with interest thereon at the rate of 6 percent per annum from the time of payment, shall be added to the next installment of monthly rent becoming due, and shall be collected as an additional charge.

(4) Contents, fire, and casualty insurance to be obtained by tenant--landlord coinsured--certificate of coverage and cancellation notice to landlord

Tenant shall throughout the term of this lease, for the benefit of both Landlord and Tenant as named insureds, maintain insurance against loss or damage by fire, and such other risks and hazards as are insurable under present and future standard forms of fire and extended coverage insurance policies, to Tenant's personal property, furniture, furnishings, and fixtures located in the demised premises, for their actual cash value less depreciation, with New York standard co-insurance clauses for not less than 80 percent of the actual cash value. Each such policy shall provide that not less than ten days before expiration, evidence of its renewal, or a new certificate, together with evidence of payment of premiums for the renewal period or insurance policy, as the case may be, shall be delivered to Landlord. Each policy shall provide that the insurance company will not cancel such policy or change its coverage without giving Landlord ten days' prior written notice. In the event of any fire or other casualty insured against by Tenant's policy, Landlord shall, at Tenant's request, assign to Tenant all of Landlord's right, title, and interest in and to the insurance proceeds. Tenant shall accept such proceeds as full payment for any loss or damage to its property, and shall not make any claim against Landlord for any other sum therefor, even if the loss or damage is due to the carelessness or negligence of Landlord or its servants, agents, or employees. If any insured casualty occurs, Tenant shall have full authority, and shall take all necessary measures, to negotiate, compromise, or adjust any loss under its policy.

(5) Landlord to maintain fire insurance--tenant's rights upon failure

(a) Insurance. Landlord shall at all times during the term of this lease, at its expense, insure and keep in effect on the building in which the leased property is located fire insurance with extended coverage, covering Landlord and Tenant, as their respective interests may appear. Such insurance shall be written by an insurance company or companies authorized to do business in the state in which the leased property is located, and be sufficient to fully pay all covered losses. The foregoing policies shall require the insurer to give Tenant ten days' prior written notice of any cancellation or reduction of insurance under each such policy, and to forward to Tenant copies of all endorsements issued after the date of such policy.

(b) Tenant's rights. If Landlord fails, refuses, or neglects to obtain or maintain such insurance, and to furnish Tenant with proof thereof upon demand, Tenant may procure such insurance and deduct the cost thereof from any rent or other sum payable under this lease, or Landlord shall pay such amount together with lawful interest thereon on demand.

(6) Landlord to carry fire and extended coverage insurance--tenant to carry contents insurance--mutual releases to extent of insurance coverage

(a) Landlord insurance. Lessor shall carry fire and extended coverage insurance, insuring the improvements constructed by Lessor, including the improvements upon the Demised Premises, for not less than the amount required by Lessor's mortgagee.

(b) Tenant insurance. Lessee shall carry insurance against fire and such other risks as are from time to time included in standard extended coverage insurance for the full insurable value of all improvements provided by Lessee as set forth in "Lessee's Work Done at Lessee's Expense." Lessee shall also carry such insurance for the full insurable value of its merchandise, trade fixtures, furnishings, wall covering, carpeting, drapes, equipment, and all other items of its personal property located on or within the Demised Premises. All required insurance policies under this paragraph shall name Lessor as an additional insured, and Lessee shall furnish Lessor evidence of such insurance coverage. Such insurance policies may not be modified or terminated without 30 days' advance notice to Lessor.

(c) Release. Each party hereto ("Releasing Party") hereby releases the other ("Released Party") from any liability which the Released Party would, but for this paragraph, have had to the Releasing Party arising out of or in connection with any accident or occurrence or casualty (1) which is or would be covered by a fire and extended coverage policy (with vandalism and malicious mischief endorsement attached) or by a sprinkler leakage or water damage policy in the state in which the Demised Premises is located, regardless of whether such coverage is being carried by the Releasing Party, and (2) to the extent of recovery under any other casualty or property damage insurance being carried by the Releasing Party at the time of such accident, occurrence or casualty, which may have resulted in whole or in part from any act or neglect of the Released Party, its officers, agents or employees; and insofar as Lessee is the Releasing Party, it will also release the department stores in the shopping center complex from any such liability as if the department stores were each a Released Party under this paragraph. However, the release set forth above shall become inoperative and null and void if the Releasing Party contracts for the insurance required to be carried under this Lease with an insurance company which (a) takes the position that the existence of such release vitiates or would adversely affect any policy so insuring the Releasing Party in a substantial manner and gives notice thereof to the Released Party, or (b) requires the payment of a higher premium by reason of the existence of such release, unless the Released Party within ten days after notice thereof from the Releasing Party pays such increase in premium. Notwithstanding any contrary provision herein, Lessor shall not be liable for any damage to person or property arising from the negligent act or omission of any other tenant or occupant of the shopping center complex; and Lessee expressly waives any claim for such damages.

(7) Tenant to obtain public liability, property damage, and workmen's compensation insurance--indemnification--certificate of policy to landlord--cancellation notice to landlord

At all times during the term of this lease, and during any use, occupancy, or possession of the demised premises before such term commences, Tenant shall, at its expense, provide public liability and property damage insurance in a company approved by Landlord. Such insurance shall provide for coverage of not less than $200,000 for injury or death to any one person, and not less than $500,000 for injury or death occurring to more than one person as a result of one accident, and not less than $100,000 for property damage, and shall name Landlord as insured. Such insurance policy shall be in the form commonly known as "Comprehensive General Liability" or "Owner-Landlord and Tenant." Tenant further shall indemnify and hold Landlord harmless from all claims for personal injuries, death and property damage which occur as the result of the operation of Tenant's business in and about the demised Premises, or from any work done in and about the demised premises by Tenant or any contractor selected by or for it.

Tenant further shall, at its expense, take out and maintain at all times all necessary workmen's compensation insurance covering all persons employed by Tenant in and about the demised premises.

Before the lease term commences or before Tenant's use, occupancy, or possession of the demised premises, whichever is sooner, Tenant shall obtain all such insurance from a company approved by Landlord and deliver to Landlord a certificate or certificates evidencing the issuance of such policies, together with evidence of the payment of premiums,.

Not less than ten days before the expiration of any such policy, Tenant shall deliver to Landlord evidence of the policy's renewal, or a new certificate, together with evidence that premiums were paid for the renewal period or new policy, as the case may be. All such insurance shall contain an agreement by the insurance company not to cancel the policy or policies, or to change the coverage, without giving ten days' prior written notice to Landlord.

Any contractor selected by or for Tenant to perform alteration or repair work shall carry public liability insurance in limits of not less than the amounts specified above. Such insurance shall be in addition to the insurance carried by Tenant. However, Tenant may obtain insurance coverage under a blanket insurance policy instead of a separate policy or policies if the certificate or certificates issued under the policy and the coverage afforded thereby conforms in all respects to the requirements of this section.

(8) Building, rent, and contents insurance obtained by tenant--landlord loss adjustment--primary, not excess, coverage--noncancellable for tenant omission--waiver of subrogation

(a) Building coverage. At all times subsequent to taking possession of the Leased Premises, Tenant shall, at its expense, provide the following insurance coverages:

(1) Comprehensive and general, public liability insurance against claims for personal injury, death or property damage occurring in connection with the use and occupancy of the Leased Premises or arising out of their improvement, repair, or alteration. The limits of such insurance shall not be less than one million dollars per occurrence.

(2) Property damage insurance of not less than $100,000 for damage to property arising out of any one occurrence.

(3) Insurance on the Building in which the Leased Premises are located against loss or damage by fire and other risks embraced by the so-called "Broad Extended Coverage Endorsement" in amounts at all times sufficient to prevent Landlord or Tenant from becoming a coinsurer under the terms of the applicable policies but, in any event, in an amount not less than 100 percent of the then full insurable value of the Entire Premises. The term "Full Insurable Value" means actual replacement value (exclusive of costs of excavation, foundations and footings). If the Leased Premises are part of a larger Building, such coverage shall be procured by Landlord, and Tenant shall pay Landlord as additional rent its proportionate share of the premiums.

(4) Landlord's risk public liability insurance with single limits of $1,000,000.

(5) Rental insurance against loss of rental under a rental value insurance policy covering risk of loss due to the occurrence of any of the hazards insured against under Tenant's Fire and Extended Insurance on the building, in an amount sufficient to prevent Landlord from becoming a coinsurer but in any event, in an amount sufficient to pay for one year the rent payable under this Lease. All proceeds received by Landlord under rent insurance policies will be credited as received against the rent due. If the Building is occupied by more than one Tenant, Landlord may secure such a rental value insurance policy on the building and bill Tenant for Tenant's Proportionate Share thereof.

(b) Tenant coverages. At all times after taking possession of the Leased Premises, Tenant shall, at its expense, provide the following insurance coverages:

(1) Fire and extended coverage insurance (contents broad form) on Tenant's personal property located in the Leased Premises in amounts reasonably deemed adequate by Tenant to fully insure such personal property.

(2) Contractual liability. Coverage to insure the performance by Tenant of the indemnity agreement as to liability for injury to or death of persons injured or damage to property as set forth in this Lease.

(3) Named Insureds. All insurance required hereunder shall name as insureds, Landlord, its employees and agents.

(4) Increased Limits. If during the term of the Lease, higher limits of insurance than those mentioned above are appropriate, customary, and generally required for like premises utilized for similar uses, Tenant shall, upon Landlord's request, procure such increased limits insurance.

(5) Quality of Insurance. Insurance required hereunder shall be in companies rated AAA or better in "Best's Insurance Guide," which shall be qualified to do business in the State in which the premises are located. Tenant shall deliver to Landlord copies of policies of such insurance or certificates evidencing its existence and amounts with loss payable clauses satisfactory to Landlord. No such policy shall be cancellable or subject to reduction of coverage or other modification except after ten days' prior written notice to Landlord. No financed premiums or policy with a deductible greater than $5,000 shall be allowed without Landlord's prior consent.

(6) Loss Adjustments. All policies shall expressly provide that any loss thereunder shall be adjusted with Landlord. The policies shall contain a provision that Landlord and additional insureds, although named as insured, shall, nevertheless, be entitled to recover under such policies for any loss occasioned by them, their servants, agents, and employees other than by reason of the negligence of Landlord or additional insureds.

(7) Primary Insurance. All policies shall be written as primary, and not contributing with or in excess of the coverage carried by Landlord or additional insureds, their agents, servants, and employees.

(8) Blanket Policies. Tenant's obligations to carry the insurance herein provided may be brought within the coverage of a "blanket policy." However, Landlord and additional insureds shall be named as insureds thereunder as their interests may appear. Furthermore, coverage afforded shall not be reduced or diminished by reason of the use of such "blanket policy" and must be at least equal to the coverage which would be provided under a separate policy covering only the Leased Premises.

(9) Noncancellable. The policy shall provide that it shall not be invalidated as to Landlord or additional insureds by reason of any act or omission by Tenant or any misrepresentations in its application for insurance.

(10) Increased Insurance Risk. The parties acknowledge that Premises are a part of a larger space in the Building, and Tenant agrees that if fire and extended coverage insurance maintained by Landlord on the Building or any fire contents insurance maintained by Landlord on materials or goods stored by it in any portion of the Building are increased as a result of Tenant's occupancy, Tenant shall pay such increase upon demand.

(11) Waiver of Subrogation. Neither party shall be liable to the other for any business interruption or any loss or damage to property or injury to or death of persons occurring in the Building (including the Leased Premises), or in any manner growing out of or connected with Tenant's use and occupation of the Leased Premises, the Building or the condition thereof, whether caused by the negligence or other fault of Landlord or Tenant, or of their respective agents, employees, subtenants, licensees, or assignees. This release shall apply to the extent that such business interruption, loss, or damage to property or injury to or death of persons is covered by insurance, regardless of whether such insurance is payable to or protects Landlord or Tenant, or both. Nothing herein shall be constructed to impose any other or greater liability upon either Landlord or Tenant than would have existed in the absence of this provision. This release shall be in effect only so long as the applicable insurance policies contain a clause to the effect that this release shall not affect the right of the insured to recover under such policies. Such clauses shall be obtained by the parties whenever possible. The release in favor of Landlord contained herein, is in addition to, and not in substitution for, or in diminution of the hold harmless and indemnification provisions hereof.

(9) Tenant's specific undertaking for insurance--another form

(a) Insurance. Tenant shall keep the leased property insured throughout the term of this lease against the following:

(1) Fire and extended coverage. Loss or damage by fire and such other risks as may be included in the broadest form of extended coverage insurance from time to time available in amounts sufficient to prevent Landlord or Tenant from becoming a coinsurer within the terms of the applicable policies, and in any event, in an amount not less than 80 percent of the then full insurable value.

(2) Sprinkler system. Loss or damage from leakage of present or future sprinkler systems installed in the building on the leased property in an amount not less than 10 percent of the then full insurable value.

(3) Boiler. Loss or damage by explosion of present or future steam boilers, pressure vessels, or similar apparatus, installed in the building on the leased property, in such limits with respect to any one accident as landlord may reasonably request from time to time.

(4) Rental value. Loss of rental, under a rental value insurance policy covering risk of loss due to the occurrence of any of the hazards described in the preceding subparagraphs of this paragraph (a), in an amount sufficient to prevent Landlord from becoming a coinsurer, but in any event, in an amount not less than 80 percent of the then full rental income fixed by this lease including all rental that Tenant agrees to pay hereunder.

(5) Liability. Claims for personal injury or property damage, under a policy of general public liability insurance, with such limits as Landlord reasonably requests from time to time, but not less than $300,000/$1,000,000 in respect of bodily injury, and $100,000 for property damage.

(6) Mortgage requirements. Against such other hazards and in such amounts as the holder of any mortgage or deed of trust to which this lease is subordinate requires from time to time.

(b) Full insurable value. The term "full insurable value" means the actual replacement cost, less physical depreciation, excluding foundation and excavation costs. The full insurable value shall be determined whenever reasonably requested by Landlord, by a qualified appraiser selected and paid by Tenant and acceptable to Landlord. The appraiser's finding shall not be binding without Landlord's written approval, which it shall not unreasonably withhold.

(c) Policies. All insurance provided for in this lease shall be effected under policies issued by recognized insurers licensed to do business in this state. At least 15 days before the expiration date of any policy, Tenant shall deliver to Landlord the original renewal policy for such insurance. Within 15 days after the premium on any policy becomes due and payable, Landlord shall be furnished with satisfactory evidence of its payment.

(d) Insureds. The rental value insurance policy described above shall name only Landlord as the insured. However, Tenant may furnish a combined rental and use and occupancy policy, if Landlord is named as the insured and the first payee with respect to an amount equal to the basic rent and real estate taxes, and Tenant is named as the payee with respect to any remaining proceeds. All other policies of insurance shall name Landlord and Tenant as the insureds, as their respective interests may appear. At Landlord's request, any insurance policy shall be made payable to the holders of any mortgage or deeds of trust to which this lease is at any time subordinate, as the interest of such holders may appear, pursuant to a standard clause for holders of mortgages or deeds of trust. To the extent obtainable, all policies shall contain an agreement by the insurers (1) that any loss shall be payable to Landlord or the holders of any such mortgage or deed of trust, notwithstanding any act or negligence of Tenant which might otherwise result in forfeiture of such insurance, (2) that such policies shall not be cancelled except upon ten days' prior written notice to Landlord and to the holders of any mortgage or deed of trust to whom loss may be payable, and (3) that the insurance coverage shall not be affected by the performance of any work in or about the leased property. Landlord shall not have any right of action against Tenant on account of any loss or damage from fire and extended coverage, if such loss is covered by insurance and this waiver by Landlord does not invalidate any insurance policy.

(e) Premium apportionment. Premiums on all insurance policies in force at the commencement, expiration, or earlier termination of this lease shall be apportioned between Landlord and Tenant as of the date of such commencement or termination.

(f) Blanket policies. If Tenant provides any insurance required by this lease in the form of a blanket policy, Tenant shall furnish satisfactory proof that such policy complies in all respects with the provisions of this lease, and that the coverage thereunder is at least equal to the coverage which would be provided under a separate policy covering only the leased property.

(10) Tenant to maintain plate glass insurance--insurance certificates to landlord--landlord's right upon failure

Tenant shall insure, and keep insured, at its expense, all plate and other glass in the leased property for and in the name of Landlord. Tenant shall deposit with Landlord certificates of such insurance at or before the commencement of the term and thereafter within ten days before the expiration of such policies. Such policies shall provide that they may not be cancelled without at least ten days' prior written notice to Landlord.

If Tenant fails to deliver certificates of such insurance to Landlord, Landlord may cause the insurance to be issued and may at any time render bills for the premiums to Tenant. Tenant shall pay such bills when rendered, and the amount thereof shall be deemed to be, and paid as, additional rent.

(11) Tenant's obligation to renew insurance--landlord to be furnished with binder and certificate--landlord to receive notice of change or cancellation

Tenant shall furnish a binder to Landlord renewing each policy that Tenant is required to carry under this lease at least 30 days before such policy expires. Each policy or binder shall provide for at least 15 days' notice to Landlord of any change or its cancellation. Tenant shall promptly deliver to Landlord a certificate from the insurance carrier evidencing the renewal of a policy and the payment of premium.

(12) Subtenant's specific undertaking for insurance

(a) Insurance. Subtenant shall during the term hereof, at its expense, provide and keep in force the following insurance coverage:

(1) Fire and extended coverage. Insurance on the building against loss or damage by fire and extended coverage, with no deductible provisions, in an amount at all times sufficient to prevent the Prime Landlord, the Sublessor, or the Subtenant from becoming a coinsurer under the terms of the applicable policies, but in any event in an amount not less than 80 percent of the full insurable value thereof, unless the holder of a first fee mortgage or of a mortgage covering the leasehold estate of the ground lease requires coverage in a greater amount, in which event the insurance shall be for such greater amount, but not to exceed 100 percent of the full insurable value. The term "full insurable value" means actual replacement value of the building (exclusive of cost of excavation, foundations, and footings below the lowest basement floor) less physical depreciation. The Sublessor may request full insurable value to be determined from time to time, but not more than once during any 24 calendar months, by one of the insurers or by an appraiser, engineer, architect, or contractor who is mutually acceptable to the Sublessor and the Main Landlord. No omission by the Sublessor to request any such determination shall relieve the Subtenant of any obligation under this article.

(2) Liability. General public liability insurance protecting and indemnifying the Subtenant, the Sublessor, and the Prime Landlord against all claims for damages to person or property or for loss of life or of property occurring upon, in, or about the leased property, the streets, gutters, sidewalks, curbs, or vaults adjacent thereto, to such limits as the Sublessor or the Prime Landlord may reasonably, from time to time, require for injuries to any one person, for any one accident or disaster or incident of negligence, and for property damage. Limits of $500,000 for injuries to any one person, $2,000,000 for any one accident or disaster or incident of negligence, and $100,000 for property damage are deemed reasonable as of the date hereof. In any event the amount of the foregoing limits of insurance shall be as determined under the ground lease.

(3) Plate glass, boiler. Plate glass insurance covering the glass in the leased property and boiler insurance if and when the leased property contains a boiler or boilers, all in the amounts required under the terms of the ground lease.

(4) Rental value. Rent, or use and occupancy, or rental value insurance in an amount sufficient to pay for one year the net rent and additional rent payable under this lease.

(5) Miscellaneous. Such other insurance against other insurable hazards in such amounts as are from time to time required by the Sublessor, the Prime Landlord, or any mortgagee of a mortgage covering the fee or ground lease, if such insurable hazards are commonly insured against with respect to similar premises, due regard being given to the height and type of construction, location, use, and occupancy.

(b) Policies and carriers. All insurance provided for in paragraph (a) hereof shall be effected under standard form policies issued by insurers of recognized responsibility, which are well rated by national rating organizations and which have been approved in writing by the Sublessor. All policies of insurance of the character described in subparagraphs (1), (3), (4) and (5) of paragraph (a) shall expressly provide that any loss thereunder shall be adjusted with the Sublessor and the Prime Landlord and the holders of all fee and ground lease mortgages. All such insurance shall be carried in the name of the Subtenant, the Sublessor, and the Prime Landlord.

(c) Application of rental value proceeds. The proceeds of the insurance provided for in subparagraph (4) of paragraph (a) hereof shall, in accordance with the terms of the ground lease, be paid to the Prime Landlord and be applied by the Prime Landlord first to the net rent and additional rent then due under the ground lease. After the Prime Landlord has paid the balance to the Sublessor, the Sublessor shall retain a sum equal to the difference between the last mentioned amount applied by the Prime Landlord and the amount of net rent and additional rent then due under this lease, and shall then pay over any remaining balance to the Subtenant. If, however, such proceeds include compensation for a period beyond the date of such payment, such compensation shall be divided into as many parts as the number of months contained in such period and the amount of such compensation shall be paid to the Sublessor, who shall hold such payment as a trust fund. The Sublessor shall, on the first day of each month following the date of such payment, pay to the Prime Landlord from each such part an amount equal to the net rent and additional rent payable by the Sublessor, as tenant under the ground lease, applicable to such month. The Sublessor shall then retain from the balance thereof a sum equal to the difference between the amount paid to the Prime Landlord for such month and the amount of the net rent and additional rent payable by the Subtenant under this sublease applicable to such month, and shall then pay over any balance then remaining from such monthly payment, to the Subtenant. If this sublease is cancelled or terminated as provided herein, all proceeds of such insurance to which the Sublessor is entitled under the ground lease shall be paid to and become the property of the Sublessor.

(d) Original policies and certificates. Pursuant to the terms of the ground lease, the originals of the policies may be held by the Prime Landlord. In such event, duplicate originals of such policies, if obtainable, or, if not obtainable, certified copies of such policies if obtainable, or, if not obtainable, certificates therefor, shall be delivered to the Sublessor and to the holder of any fee and ground lease mortgage. The Subtenant shall pay all premiums for all policies required under paragraph (a), above. At least 30 days before each such policy expires, the Subtenant shall pay the premium for its renewal and furnish to the Sublessor for exhibition to the Prime Landlord the original policy with proper endorsement or receipt or other satisfactory information evidencing payment of such premium. The Subtenant shall not violate or permit to be violated any condition or provision of any policy furnished by it under paragraph (a), and shall so perform and satisfy the requirements of the companies writing such policies so that at all times companies of good standing satisfactory to the Sublessor and the Prime Landlord are willing to write such insurance.

(e) Separate insurance. The Subtenant shall not carry separate insurance concurrent in coverage with any insurance required to be furnished by it under this article, unless the Sublessor, the Prime Landlord, and all fee and ground lease mortgagees are included therein as insureds with loss payable as provided herein. The Subtenant shall promptly notify the Sublessor of the issuance of any such separate insurance and shall deliver any such policy or certified copy or certificate as provided in paragraph (d).

(f) Prior notice. Each policy required by this article, a duplicate original, a certified copy thereof, or a certificate therefor shall, to the extent obtainable, contain an agreement by the insurer not to cancel such policy without giving at least ten days' prior written notice to the Sublessor, the Prime Landlord, and the holders of all fee and ground lease mortgagees named in such policy. If such agreement cannot be obtained with respect to any policy, the Subtenant shall notify the Sublessor in writing and shall accept any insurer of recognized responsibility well rated by national rating organizations named by the Sublessor who will consent to include such agreement in a like policy, if the inclusion thereof does not require the Subtenant to pay any additional premium.

31-23 Current Legal Forms for Real Estate FORM 23.52

AUTHOR: by Thomas G. Belden

FORM 23.52 Denial of subrogation rights

COMMENT

The purpose of a clause which denies subrogation rights is to prevent insurance companies as primary obligors from shifting the burden of casualty losses to a negligent or indemnifying landlord or tenant. For example, if the premises are destroyed by a fire caused by the negligence of the tenant, the tenant is liable in tort to the landlord for the loss. If the landlord has received insurance proceeds to compensate for his loss, the insurer usually may recover from the negligent tenant by becoming subrogated to the rights of the landlord. Similarly, a tenant who has agreed to indemnify his landlord against all losses, damages, or liabilities arising out of the use of the premises may be liable to the landlord's insurer on his indemnity agreement although the tenant is without fault.

Insurance coverage:

One method of precluding the shifting of the risk from the insurance company is to include both the landlord and the tenant in the same policy. Subrogation is avoided because an insurer has no right of subrogation against its own insured. There are certain impracticalities to this approach. It is sometimes difficult to cover all tenants in one policy, or to include a provision that no act or omission of any tenant will invalidate the policy with respect to the landlord. However, in certain circumstances, a lease may follow this technique for avoiding subrogation.

Release from liability:

An alternative technique for preventing the insurance company from shifting the risk is to foreclose its subrogation right. Since subrogation is a derivative right, the insurer can have no basis for subrogation if the landlord releases the tenant from liability. Thus, the basic arrangement is for the landlord to release the tenant (or for both parties to release each other) from liability to the extent that such liability is covered by insurance. One problem which must be taken into account is that such a clause may jeopardize the insured's rights under the policy. In most cases, it is necessary to obtain from the insurer a waiver of subrogation rights. The operation of the clause may be conditioned upon the issuance of such a waiver by the insurer.

Drafting alternatives:

The most comprehensive type of clause provides for a mutual release of all liabilities to the extent of insurance coverage, conditioned upon an appropriate arrangement with the insurance company, and an undertaking by the parties to make such an arrangement wherever possible. There are more limited and somewhat varied approaches. For example, the landlord's waiver may apply only to damages to the leased property, not to tort claims by third parties. Or the waiver may be applicable to hazards covered by insurance, not limited to the amount of the insurance. In such case, the parties assume the burden of the uninsured cost of any liability which they waive. The lease may require the landlord to obtain the appropriate clause in the insurance policy where it will not increase the premiums. If there is a premium increase, the tenant may be given the option to pay such increase and must exercise this option if the landlord's waiver is to become operative.

FORMS

(1) Landlord's release of tenant's liability for damage to property--to extent permitted by insurance

Landlord releases Tenant from any liability for any destruction to the leased property caused by any act or omission by Tenant, its agents, servants, or employees. This release shall be valid and binding only if it is recognized and accepted by the fire and hazard insurance companies under the policies required to be carried hereunder on the leased property.

(2) Landlord's release of tenant's liability for casualties covered by insurance--cost of provision to be borne by tenant

Landlord releases Tenant, to the extent of Landlord's insurance coverage, from any liability for loss or damage caused by fire or any of the extended coverage casualties included in Landlord's insurance policies, even if such fire or other casualty is brought about by the fault or negligence of Tenant, its agents, or employees. However, this release shall be in effect only with respect to loss or damage occurring during the time that Landlord's policies for fire and extended coverage insurance contain a clause to the effect that this release shall not affect its right to recover under such policies. Landlord's fire and extended coverage insurance policies will include such a clause only so long as it is includable without extra cost or, if extra cost is chargeable therefor, only so long as Tenant pays such cost. Landlord shall advise Tenant of any extra cost and Tenant may elect as to whether it chooses to pay the same.

(3) Landlord's casualty insurance to allow waiver of subrogation--effective only to extent of coverage--additional premium to be paid by tenant

Landlord's insurance policies for fire and extended coverage, which may contain a $100,000 deductible provision covering the building of which the demised premises are a part, shall contain in substance the following endorsement, if it is then obtainable from any financially responsible insurance company:

"This insurance shall not be invalidated if, prior to a loss, the insured waives in writing any or all right of recovery against any party for loss occurring to the property described herein."

If Landlord obtains such endorsement, it shall not make any claim against, or seek to recover from Tenant, that portion of any loss or damage to the building which exceeds the deductible sum of $100,000, caused by such fire or other perils so insured, regardless of whether the loss or damage is due to the carelessness or negligence of Tenant, its servants, agents and/or employees. Landlord shall notify Tenant if Landlord's insurance carrier, as a condition of making the above endorsement, requires the payment of a premium in addition to the normal and standard premiums for the coverage involved. If Tenant requires such endorsement in the policy, it shall pay the additional premium cost.

(4) Mutual release of liability for all hazards covered by insurance

Landlord and Tenant and all parties claiming under them hereby mutually release and discharge each other from all claims and liabilities arising from or caused by any hazard covered by insurance on the leased property, or covered by insurance in connection with property on or activities conducted on the leased property, regardless of the cause of the damage or loss.

(5) Mutual release from liability covered by insurance--limited to extent of insurance collected--conditioned on terms of insurance policy and cost

Each party releases the other party (which term as used in this Article includes the other party's employees, agents, officers and directors) from all liability, whether for negligence or otherwise, in connection with loss covered by any insurance policies which the releasor carries with respect to the leased premises or any interest or property therein or thereon (regardless of whether such insurance is required to be carried under this Lease), but only to the extent that such loss is collected under said insurance policies. Such release is also conditioned upon the inclusion in the policy or policies of a provision whereby any such release does not adversely affect such policies or prejudice any right of the releasor to recover thereunder. Each party's insurance policies shall include such a provision so long as it is obtainable without extra cost, or if extra cost is charged, so long as the party for whose benefit the clause or endorsement is obtained pays such cost. Each party shall advise the other of the amount of any extra cost charged, and the other party may elect as to whether it chooses to pay the same.

(6) Mutual release from liability for fire or other casualty--conditioned on nonimpairment of insurance or no increased cost

Landlord and Tenant release each other from any and all liability or responsibility (to the other or anyone claiming through or under them by way of subrogation or otherwise) under fire and extended coverage or supplementary contract casualties, if such fire or other casualty is caused by the fault or negligence of the other party, or anyone for whom it is responsible. However, this release shall be applicable and in full force and effect only for loss or damage occurring while the releasor's policies contain a clause or endorsement to the effect that such release will not adversely affect or impair the policies or prejudice the releasor's right to recover under them. The parties' respective policies shall include such a clause or endorsement if it is obtainable without extra cost, or if such cost is charged, if the party who would benefit by such clause shall pay such charge. If extra cost is charged, each party shall notify the other of the exact amount, and the other party shall be obligated to pay such amount unless, within ten days after such notice, it notifies the original party in writing that it elects not to be so obligated. If such clause or endorsement is not available, or either party elects not to pay the extra cost for such coverage, the provisions of this paragraph shall not apply to the policy or policies in question.

(7) Tenant's release of landlord's liability for loss covered by insurance--conditioned on insurer's approval or landlord being named as insured at his expense

Tenant shall use its best efforts to include in its fire insurance policies for its contents, furniture, furnishings, fixtures, and other property removable by Tenant under the provisions of this lease appropriate clauses under which the insurance carriers either (i) waive all rights of subrogation against Landlord with respect to losses payable under such policies, or (ii) agree that such policies will not be invalidated if the insured waives in writing before a loss any right of recovery against any party for losses covered by such policies. If Tenant, at any time, is unable to obtain inclusion of either clause (i) or (ii), it shall have Landlord named in such policies as one of the assureds. If any additional premium is charged for such clauses or for naming Landlord as an assured, Tenant shall be released from its obligation unless Landlord agrees to pay the additional premium within 20 days after it receives written notice from Tenant that such premium is required. If Landlord is named as one of the assureds in accordance with the above provisions, it shall promptly endorse to the order of Tenant, without recourse, any check, draft, or order for the payment of money representing the proceeds of any such policy or any other payment under such policies, and Landlord irrevocably waives all rights in and to such proceeds and payments. If Tenant's right of full recovery under such policies is not thereby prejudiced or otherwise adversely affected, Tenant waives all other rights of recovery against Landlord, and its agents and employees, for loss or damage to Tenant's contents, furniture, furnishings, fixtures, and other property removable by Tenant under the provisions of this lease to the extent they are covered by Tenant's insurance, even if such loss or damage results from the negligence or fault of Landlord or its agents or employees. Tenant shall promptly advise Landlord as to the coverage or provisions of the clauses included in its insurance policies under this paragraph, as well as of any cancellation or change of the terms of any such policies that would affect such clauses.

FORM 23.53 Condemnation

COMMENT

There are special rules under the Revenue Code which are applicable to an involuntary conversion of property. For the purpose of these rules, the term "involuntary conversion" encompasses the condemnation of property by governmental authority, as well as the expropriation of property, the destruction of property by natural causes, and the loss of property through casualty or by theft. The statute applies not only to an actual condemnation of property, but to the "threat or imminence" of a condemnation. Where the taxpayer faces a real threat of condemnation which would damagingly disrupt his business, he may anticipate the event by a sale to another person. See 26 U.S.C. § 1033.

Long-term capital gain or loss:

One of these special rules applies to the gain or loss from the involuntary conversion of property (other than inventory) held for more than the capital asset holding period. Such gain or loss must be combined with gains or losses during the taxable year on sales or exchanges of business real estate and depreciable business property held for more than the minimum holding period. The net gain from all such transactions is treated as capital gain; the net loss from such transactions may be deducted as an ordinary loss. See 26 U.S.C. § 1231.

Short-term gain or loss:

Where the condemned property has been held for less than the minimum holding period, this special rule does not apply. In such event, the classification of the gain or loss depends upon whether the property is business or nonbusiness property. In the case of a nonbusiness capital asset, any gain is taxable as short-term capital gain and any loss is subject to all the limitations upon short-term capital losses. Gain or loss realized with respect to business property is fully taxable or fully deductible.

Tax allocation of condemnation award:

To calculate the gain or loss from a condemnation, the award must be broken down so that only the amount specifically intended as compensation for the condemned property is taken into account. If only part of the taxpayer's property is condemned, the portion of the award intended as compensation for damages to the remaining property resulting from the severance must be subtracted from the gross award to determine the gain from the involuntary conversion. The amount awarded for severance damages is applied in reduction of the basis of the remaining property, and gain is recognized to the extent that such basis is exceeded.

Replacement of condemned property:

A second aspect of the special treatment for involuntary conversions comes into play where the converted property is replaced. The Revenue Code provides that no gain is recognized if property as a result of its requisition, condemnation or threat or imminence thereof is converted into "property similar or related in service or use." This provision applies to a direct exchange, or to the acceptance of property in satisfaction of a claim. Nonrecognition in such case is mandatory. In the more usual case where money is received in compensation for the converted property, the taxpayer has the option to defer the recognition of gain if he uses all of the money to purchase property similar or related in use. Such replacement must occur either after the date of disposition, or after the date of the threat or imminence of requisition or condemnation provided that the taxpayer retains ownership of the replacement property until the date of the disposition of the original property.

Replacement period:

The replacement must normally be made no later than two years after the close of the first taxable year in which any part of the gain was realized. The period for replacement is measured from the time of an initial payment resulting in gain even though a greater award in a subsequent year may increase the amount of gain. However, application may be made to the Revenue Service for permission to make the replacement at a later time. The application must be timely.

Partial recognition upon replacement:

If only part of the proceeds are used for replacement, gain is recognized to the extent of the proceeds not so used. Thus, if the condemnation award is $20,000, the adjusted basis of the condemned property is $10,000, and $15,000 is used to purchase replacement property, $5,000 of the $10,000 realized gain is recognized. The basis of the replacement property is its cost decreased by the amount of gain not recognized. In the previous example, the basis of the replacement property would be $10,000. The special nonrecognition provision does not apply to losses, which must be recognized at the time of disposition regardless of whether the property is replaced.

Qualified replacement property:

There is the question of when replacement property obtained by a lessor is "similar or related in use" to the lessor's condemned property. The Revenue Service position is that even though replacement property is used by the tenants for different purposes than the condemned property, the nonrecognition provision is applicable if the lessor's management, services, and business risks are similar. Under this theory, deferral of gain has been permitted in the case of the replacement of an office building by a hotel or by an apartment house where the lessor's basic position, as indicated by management and services to tenants, remained the same.

Condemnation lease clause:

Among the principal matters to be dealt with in the lease clause covering the question of condemnation are the continuation or termination of the lease, the allocation of the award, and the responsibility for restoration. The usual approach in the case where the tenant has no major investment in the leased property is to terminate the lease in the event of total or substantial condemnation. There is considerable variety in the criteria for determining when a partial condemnation will result in the termination of the lease. One possibility is a test based on the percentage of space expropriated. Alternatively, the tenant may be permitted an election. In some cases, the standard is purposely vague, such as whether the property is capable of continued use for the purpose for which it was intended, and provision is made for arbitration if the parties cannot agree. If the lease is to continue, upon partial condemnation, provision should be made for an abatement of part of the rent.

Allocation of award:

The provision covering the allocation of the award may similarly vary. The award may be shared. Frequently, the entire award is assigned entirely to the landlord. Another approach is to permit the tenant to recover the unamortized cost of his improvements. In the absence of any provision, the tenant could be entitled to share in the award to the extent that it is attributable to the present value of the leasehold estate--the rental value of the premises less the rent reserved for the unexpired term. He may also be compensated for loss of his fixtures. The balance of the award is payable to the landlord.

Restoration expenses:

If the property is to be restored to its previous use, the principal point to be settled is the responsibility for the cost of restoration in excess of the award. Frequently, the tenant is authorized to make the restoration and the landlord is obligated to apply all or a portion of the award to defray the tenant's cost. Under some agreements, the landlord is not required to make such reimbursement until he has received an architect's or an engineer's statement as to necessary expenditures.

FORMS

(1) Termination of lease upon condemnation--rent apportionment--entire award to landlord

If all or any part of the leased property is taken by eminent domain, this lease shall expire on the date of such taking, and the rent shall be apportioned as of that date. No part of any award shall belong to Tenant.

(2) Separate claim by tenant for tenant property and relocation expenses permitted--tenant claim not to reduce landlord's claim

Notwithstanding the provisions of this lease, Tenant may make a separate claim with the condemning authority for the value of its property and for moving and relocation expenses if such claim does not reduce or adversely affect the amount of Landlord's award.

(3) Termination of lease upon condemnation--specific payments to tenant based upon date

This lease shall be terminated if all or any part of the leased property, other than the vaults under the street on which the premises abut, is taken or condemned for public use. In such event, Tenant shall receive the following amounts as its share of the condemnation award when, as, and if it is paid:

$100,000 if the final order of condemnation is entered before _____[date]; $80,000 if entered between _____[date] and _____[date]; $40,000 if entered between _____[date] and _____[date]; $10,000 if entered at any time between _____[date] and _____[date]; and no award or share if the order is entered on or after _____[date]. Tenant waives any right to share in any award other than on the above terms.

(4) Termination of lease upon condemnation rendering property unsuitable for intended use--rent apportionment--landlord and tenant to recover respective damages

If any legally constituted authority condemns the entire leased property, or such part thereof which shall make the entire property unsuitable for the purposes leased, this lease shall cease when the public authority takes possession, and Landlord and Tenant shall account for rental as of that date. Such termination shall be without prejudice to the rights of either party to recover compensation from the condemning authority for any loss or damage caused by the condemnation. Neither party shall have any rights in or to any award made to the other by the condemning authority.

(5) Termination upon taking by eminent domain--partial taking rent adjustment--severance damages applied to repairs

If all or any portion of the Premises are taken under the power of eminent domain or sold under the threat of the exercise of such power ("condemnation"), this Lease shall terminate as to the part so taken as of the date the condemning authority takes title or possession, whichever occurs first. If more than 25 percent of the floor area of the Premises is taken by condemnation, Tenant may, within ten days after Landlord gives it written notice of such taking (or if there is no such notice, within ten days after the condemning authority takes possession), terminate this Lease as of the date the condemning authority takes such possession. If Tenant does not terminate this Lease as provided above, this Lease shall remain in full force and effect as to the portion of the remaining Premises, except that the rent shall be reduced in the proportion that the floor area taken bears to the total floor area of the building situated on the Premises. If this Lease is not so terminated, Landlord shall, to the extent of severance damages received by it in connection with such condemnation, repair any damage to the Premises caused by such condemnation except to the extent that Tenant has been reimbursed therefor by the condemning authority. Tenant shall pay any amount in excess of such severance damages required to complete such repair.

(6) Termination of lease upon condemnation or transfer in lieu of condemnation--award, leasehold, and reversion to landlord--award for tenant improvements to tenant--option to terminate on partial condemnation

(a) Eminent domain. If all or any part of the Demised Premises is permanently taken, condemned, or transferred by agreement in lieu of condemnation for any public or quasi-public use or purpose by any competent authority, regardless of whether this Lease shall be terminated, the entire compensation award, both leasehold and reversion, shall belong to Lessor without deduction for any present or future estate of Lessee, and Lessee hereby assigns to Lessor all of its right, title, and interest to such award. Lessee shall execute all required documents to evidence such result. Lessee shall, however, be entitled to claim, prove, and receive in the condemnation proceedings any award allowed for fixtures and other equipment installed by it, but only if or to the extent such award is in addition to the award for the land and the building and other improvements (or portions thereof) containing the Demised Premises.

(b) Complete condemnation. If the entire Demised Premises are taken, condemned, or transferred as provided above, this Lease shall terminate and become null and void from the time possession is required for public use, and from that date the parties shall be released from any further obligation hereunder. However, if only a portion of the Demised Premises is so taken or condemned, Lessor may terminate this Lease or, at its expense, repair and restore the portion not affected by the taking, and thereafter Lessee's Minimum Rent shall be equitably and proportionately adjusted.

(c) Partial condemnation. If a portion of the shopping center complex is taken, condemned, or transferred as provided above and, as a result, Lessor elects to discontinue the operation of the Shopping Center, Lessor may cancel this Lease by giving Lessee notice of its election to do so. In such case, this Lease shall terminate 90 days after such notice, and the provisions governing the awards shall be determined by paragraph (a) of this article.

(7) Termination on complete taking--option to terminate on substantial taking--rent adjustment on partial taking--award for landlord except as to tenant fixtures

(a) Complete condemnation. If the entire demised premises are taken under the power of eminent domain, this lease shall be terminated as of the day possession is so taken.

(b) Substantial condemnation. Landlord or Tenant may terminate this lease if more than 25 percent of the floor area of the demised premises, or more than 50 percent either of the common parking area or of all of the ground level floor area of the buildings in the shopping center is taken under the power of eminent domain. Either party may terminate by giving written notice within 30 days after it surrenders possession to the public authority pursuant to such taking. If neither party elects to terminate this lease, Landlord shall restore and adapt the remaining demised premises, and the rent shall be reduced as described in subsection (c) below.

(c) Partial condemnation. This lease shall not terminate if 25 percent or less of the floor area of the demised premises, or 50 percent or less either of the common parking area or of all of the ground level floor area of the buildings in the shopping center is taken under the power of eminent domain. In such case, this lease shall continue in full force and effect, except that the rent shall be reduced in the same proportion that the floor area of the demised premises so taken bears to the total floor area leased to Tenant at the time of such taking, and Landlord shall, at its expense, make all necessary restorations to the building in which the demised premises are located so as to constitute the portion of the building not taken a complete architectural unit, but such work shall not exceed the scope of the work to be done by Landlord in originally constructing such building.

(d) Award. All damages awarded for any taking under the power of eminent domain, whether for the whole or a part of the demised premises, shall belong to and be the sole property of Landlord, whether such damages are awarded as compensation for diminution in value to the leasehold or to the fee of the premises. However, Landlord shall not be entitled to any award made to Tenant for loss of or damage to Tenant's trade fixtures.

(e) Tenant payments. If this lease is terminated as provided in this Article, Tenant shall pay all rent and additional charges and perform all other covenants up to the day that possession is so taken by public authority, and Landlord shall make a proportionate refund of any rent or additional charges paid by Tenant in advance.

(8) Termination upon total condemnation or at option of each party upon substantial condemnation--landlord to restore if no termination--temporary taking by condemnation

(a) Eminent domain. If the entire leased property is taken for any public or any quasi-public use under any statute or by right of eminent domain, or by private purchase in lieu thereof, this lease shall automatically terminate as of the date that title is taken. If any part of the leased property is so taken as to render the remainder unusable for the purposes for which the leased property was leased, either Landlord or Tenant may terminate this lease by giving 30 days' notice to the other within 90 days after the date of such taking. If this lease is terminated, the rental shall be equitably adjusted. Any dispute under this paragraph shall be submitted to the American Arbitration Association for its determination, which shall be binding upon both parties.

(b) Restoration. If any part of the leased property is so taken and this lease does not terminate or is not terminated under subparagraph (a) above, the minimum rental shall be equitably apportioned according to the space so taken. Landlord shall, at its expense, restore the remaining portion of the leased property to the extent necessary to render it reasonably suitable for the purposes for which it was leased, and shall make all repairs to the building in which the leased property is located to the extent necessary to constitute the building a complete architectural unit, if such work does not exceed the scope of the work required to be done by Landlord in originally constructing such building and the cost thereof does not exceed the proceeds of its condemnation award.

(c) Compensation. All compensation awarded or paid upon such a total or partial taking of the leased property shall belong to and be the property of Landlord without any participation by Tenant. However, nothing contained herein shall be construed to preclude Tenant from prosecuting any claim directly against the condemning authority in such condemnation proceedings for loss of business, or depreciation to, damage to, or cost of removal of, or for the value of stock, trade fixtures, furniture, and other personal property belonging to Tenant. Moreover, no such claim shall diminish or otherwise adversely affect Landlord's award or the award of any fee mortgagee.

(d) Temporary taking. Tenant shall give Landlord prompt written notice if at any time during the term of this lease or any renewal hereof, temporary use of the whole or any part of the leased property is taken for any public or quasi-public purpose by any lawful authority, whether by exercise of the right of condemnation or eminent domain, or by Tenant's agreement with such authority. In such event, the term hereof shall not be reduced or affected in any way, and Tenant shall continue to pay in full the net rent, additional rent, and all other required sums of money. Tenant shall be entitled to the entire award for such taking (whether paid by way of damages, rent, or otherwise). If, however, the period of occupation and use by the condemning authority extends beyond the expiration date of this lease and of any extension of hereof, the award made for such taking shall be apportioned between Landlord and Tenant as of the expiration date. Landlord may intervene and participate in any proceeding for such taking or condemnation. If such intervention is not permitted, however, Tenant shall, at its expense, consult with Landlord and its attorneys and experts, and make all reasonable efforts to cooperate with Landlord in prosecuting or defending such proceeding. When the use or occupation of the leased property terminates, Tenant shall, at its expense, repair and restore the buildings and improvements on the leased property, as nearly as is reasonably possible, to their condition at the time of such taking. Tenant, however, shall not be required to make such repairs and restoration if the term of this lease or of any renewal of it expires before, or within one year after, such temporary use terminates. In any such event, Landlord may recover all damages and awards resulting from the condemning authority's failure to repair and restore the building after the temporary taking ends. Any recovery or sum received by Tenant as an award or compensation for physical damage to the leased property caused by and during the temporary taking shall be deemed a trust fund for the purpose of repairing or restoring such damage.

(9) Termination of lease and allocation of award upon condemnation of 50 percent or more of rentable area--tenant to restore if no termination--tenant's right to participate in proceedings

(a) Substantial condemnation. If 50 percent or more of the net rentable area of the building on the leased property is acquired or condemned by eminent domain proceedings or sold under threat of such proceedings, all of the award or proceeds derived from such proceedings or sale shall be paid and distributed in the following order:

(1) Mortgage. First, the holder of any mortgage to which this lease is subordinate shall be paid the amount necessary to satisfy and discharge such mortgage.

(2) Landlord. Next, Landlord shall be paid $350,000, or so much thereof as is available after the required payment is made under subdivision (1), above.

(3) Tenant. Next, Tenant shall be paid $350,000, or so much thereof as is available after the required payments are made under subdivisions (1) and (2), above.

(4) Balance. Any balance remaining shall be divided equally between Landlord and Tenant.

If such condemnation, taking, or sale is for less than the entire leased property, the remainder shall be sold at public auction, or by private sale if agreed upon by Landlord, Tenant, and the holder of any unsatisfied mortgage on the property. The proceeds of such sale shall first be applied against any deficits in the amounts provided for in subdivisions (1), (2), and (3), above, and any balance shall be divided equally between Landlord and Tenant.

In the event of any such condemnation, taking, or sale, this lease shall terminate on the date Tenant surrenders possession. The net rent and prepaid charges due from Tenant shall be apportioned and paid to such date, and any advance payments shall be equitably refunded to Tenant.

(b) Partial condemnation. If less than 50 percent of the net rentable area of the building on the leased property is condemned, taken, or sold under the conditions described in subparagraph (a), Tenant shall proceed promptly and with due diligence to repair, restore, or replace such building and improvements. Tenant's work shall be done in accordance with plans and specifications approved by Landlord, which approval shall not be unreasonably withheld or delayed. There shall be made available to Tenant out of the award or proceeds from such condemnation, taking, or sale a sufficient sum to cover the cost of repair, restoration, or replacement. Any remaining balance shall be divided equally between Landlord and Tenant. This lease shall continue, but the net annual rent payable hereunder from and after the date Landlord receives its share of any such balance shall be reduced by an amount equal to 10 percent of such share.

(c) Tenant notice and consent. Tenant shall have the right to notice and to participate in all eminent domain proceedings, together with Landlord and any mortgagee. Landlord shall not settle any such eminent domain proceedings, or sell the leased property or any part thereof under threat of such proceedings, without Tenant's prior written consent.

(10) Termination of lease and allocation of award upon total condemnation--tenant to restore if no termination--procedure for restoration--provision for temporary taking

(a) Eminent domain proceeding. If, during the term of this lease, the entire leased property is taken as a result of the exercise of the power of eminent domain (the "proceeding"), this lease and all right, title, and interest of Tenant hereunder shall cease on the date of vesting of title pursuant to such proceeding, and Landlord shall be entitled to receive the total award made in such proceeding and to dispose of it as provided in subparagraph (f), below.

(b) Partial condemnation. If, during the term of this lease, less than the entire leased property is taken in any such proceeding, this lease shall, upon vesting of title in the proceeding, terminate as to the part so taken, and Landlord shall be entitled to the total award made in any such proceeding. Tenant shall restore, repair, and replace that portion of the building on the leased property not so taken to a complete architectural unit for its use and occupancy as expressed in this lease. Tenant shall commence such restoration, repair, and replacement ("restoration"), as soon as practicable after the award made in any such proceeding is received by Landlord or the holder of any mortgage, and shall thereafter prosecute such work with due diligence.

(c) Restoration expenses. Landlord shall apply or cause to be applied toward the cost of such restoration the net amount of any award for damage to the building on the leased property which Landlord or the mortgagee in any such proceeding receives. The net award shall be paid to Tenant from time to time as the restoration progresses upon its written request, which shall be accompanied by the following:

(1) Architect's certificate. A certificate of the architect or engineer in charge of the restoration, dated not more than 30 days prior to such request, setting forth that the sum then requested to be withdrawn either has been paid by Tenant or is justly due to contractors, subcontractors, materialmen, engineers, architects, or other persons who have rendered services or furnished materials for such restoration. The certificate shall give a brief description of such services and materials, the several amounts so paid or due, and the persons to whom paid or due. The certificate shall state the fair value of such work at the date of the requisition, that no part of such expenditures, in any previous or then pending requisition, has been or is being made the basis for the withdrawal of any proceeds of any such award, and that, except for any amounts, stated in such certificate to be due for services or materials, there is no known outstanding indebtedness to such contractor, subcontractor, materialman, engineer, architect, or other person, after due inquiry, which is then due for labor, wages, materials, supplies, or services in connection with such restoration which, if unpaid, might become the basis of a vendor's, mechanic's, laborer's, materialman's, or other similar lien upon restoration, or upon the leased property.

(2) Tenant affidavit. An affidavit sworn to by the Tenant stating that all materials and all property constituting the work described in such certificate of the architect or engineer are free and clear of all mortgages, liens, charges, or encumbrances, except encumbrances, if any, securing indebtedness due to persons specified in such certificate, which encumbrances will be discharged upon payment of such indebtedness.

(d) Disbursements. Upon compliance with the provisions of subparagraph (c) and at Tenant's request, Landlord shall pay to Tenant or other persons named in such certificate, as the case may be, the respective amounts stated therein to be due. All payments shall be made out of the proceeds of such net award, provided that the payments do not exceed the fair value of the relevant work, as stated in such certificate. If the funds to be applied by Landlord or any mortgage holder shall exceed the cost of such restoration, Landlord or such mortgage holder, as the case may be, shall be entitled to retain the excess.

(e) Rent abatement. From and after the date of vesting of title in such proceeding, a just proportion of the basic rent, according to the extent and nature of such taking, shall abate for the remainder of the lease term.

(f) Apportionment of award. If the entire leased property shall be taken in any such proceeding, the total award made in such proceeding, less the expenses incurred by Landlord in connection with such proceeding, including reasonable counsel fees, shall be apportioned between Landlord and Tenant, as follows:

(1) Landlord. Landlord shall be entitled to retain out of the balance of such award the sum of $500,000.

(2) Tenant. After the payment provided for in subdivision (1) Tenant shall receive $250,000 out of any remaining balance.

(3) Balance. After the payments provided in subdivisions (1) and (2), Landlord shall receive any remaining balance of such award.

(g) Award for Tenant fixtures. Notwithstanding any contrary provision in this article, in any taking of all or any part of the leased property, regardless of whether this lease is terminated, Tenant shall have the right to prove damages in the proceeding and shall receive any award made for damage to or condemnation of movable trade fixtures, furniture, and furnishings.

(h) Temporary condemnation. If all or any portion of the leased property is taken by the exercise of the right of eminent domain for governmental occupancy for a limited period, this lease shall not terminate, and Tenant shall continue to perform and observe all of its obligations hereunder as though such taking had not occurred, except to the extent Tenant is prevented from doing so by reason of such taking. Tenant shall receive the entire amount of any award made for such taking, whether paid by way of damages, rent, or otherwise. If, however, the period of governmental occupancy extends beyond the lease term, the award, to the extent it represents rent, shall be apportioned between Landlord and Tenant as of the date this lease ends. Upon the termination of such governmental occupancy, Tenant shall, at its expense, restore the building on the leased property as nearly as is reasonably possible to its condition before the taking. Tenant, however, shall not be required to perform such restoration work if the lease term terminates on or before the date the governmental occupancy ends.

(11) Termination upon condemnation of whole or substantially all of leased property--entire award to landlord--termination at option of tenant if condemnation of less than either whole or substantially all includes building--restoration by landlord limited by amount of award--apportionment of net rent--determination of substantially all

(a) Condemnation. If at any time during the term of this lease all or any part of the demised premises are taken for any public or quasi-public purpose by any lawful power or authority by the exercise of the right of condemnation or eminent domain, Landlord shall be entitled to and receive all awards made in any such proceeding. Tenant hereby assigns and transfers to Landlord all such awards made to Tenant.

Tenant shall not be entitled to any payment based upon the value of the unexpired term of this lease, consequential damage to the land not so taken, fixtures, or alterations to the premises or their use or otherwise.

(b) Lease termination. If such proceedings result in the taking of all or substantially all of the demised premises, this lease and the term hereof shall terminate and expire on the date of such taking, and the net rent, additional rent, and other sums or charges to be paid by Tenant shall be apportioned and paid to the date of such taking.

(c) Partial condemnation. If less than all or substantially all of the demised premises are taken in such proceedings, and the part so taken consists only of the parking area or any part thereof, this lease shall terminate only as to that portion. This lease shall continue for the balance of the term as to the remaining part of the demised premises, without any reduction, abatement, or effect upon the term or Tenant's obligation to pay in full the net rent, additional rent, and all other sums and charges which it is required to pay hereunder. If, however, the part so taken consists of all or part of the building on the demised premises, Tenant may terminate this lease as of the date of such taking by giving Landlord written notice within 30 days after Landlord mails a notice advising Tenant of such taking. In such event, the net rent, additional rent, and all other sums and charges Tenant is required to pay shall be apportioned and paid to the date of such termination.

If Tenant does not elect to terminate, this lease shall continue for the balance of the term as to the remaining part of the demised premises, without any reduction, abatement, or other effect upon the lease term, or Tenant's obligation to pay in full the additional rent and all other sums and charges due from Tenant. However, Tenant's annual net rent after such taking for the remaining part of the demised premises shall be reduced pro rata in the proportion which the space in the building so taken bears to the entire space in the building originally demised.

If the parties do not agree upon the amount of such pro rata reduction within ten days after expiration of the 30-day period within which Tenant may elect to cancel, the amount shall be determined by arbitration as provided in this lease.

(d) Restoration. If less than all or substantially all of the building on the demised premises is taken in such proceedings, and Tenant does not elect to terminate this lease, Landlord shall, with reasonable dispatch, repair the remaining portion of the building so as to restore the same as a complete building. However, Landlord shall not be required to expend more than the net sum allowed it in the condemnation proceeding for damage to the building, after deducting all expenses incurred by it in such proceeding, and there shall be no abatement of rent during the restoration. If, however, the expense of such restoration would exceed the foregoing net sum, Landlord shall have 30 days after such partial taking within which to decide whether to make the restoration or terminate this lease. If within such period Landlord gives written notice of termination to Tenant, this lease and its term shall terminate on the last day of the calendar month following the month in which such notice is given, and the net rent, additional rent, and other sums or charges due from Tenant shall be apportioned and paid to the date of such termination. However, if Tenant agrees in writing, within 20 days after receiving Landlord's termination notice, to pay the amount by which the cost of restoration exceeds the net sum allowed Landlord in the condemnation proceeding, Landlord's right to terminate hereunder shall cease, and Landlord shall make the above required restoration.

(e) Substantially all of premises. For the purposes of this Article, substantially all of the demised premises shall be deemed to have been taken if the portion of the demised premises not so taken does not constitute, or cannot be repaired or reconstructed so as to constitute, a complete plot and structure usable by Tenant as an entity for the proper conduct of its business.

(f) Arbitration. Any dispute between Landlord and Tenant as to whether "substantially all" of the demised premises are taken shall be submitted to and determined by arbitration as provided in this lease.

(g) Rent during arbitration. The rent hereunder shall not abate during any arbitration proceeding or pending any arbitration award under this Article. However, an adjustment in the net rent, including a retroactive adjustment for any period during which Tenant has been deprived of the use of all or part of the building on the demised premises, shall be made as soon as the exact amount has been determined by the arbitration award.

(h) Tenant fixtures. Tenant shall be entitled to receive out of the award any sum specifically allowed to it for moving expenses and for its trade fixtures.

(12) Sublease provision--termination of sublease upon total condemnation--subtenant to restore if no termination--participation of subtenant in award

(a) Definitions. Whenever used in this article, the following words shall have the definition and meaning set forth below:

(1) "Condemnation proceedings." Any action or proceeding whereby the fee of all or any part of the leased property is, at any time during the lease term, taken for any public or quasi-public purposes by any lawful power or authority by the exercise of the power of eminent domain or right of condemnation.

(2) "Taking or taken." The event and date of vesting of title to all or any part of the leased property under condemnation proceedings.

(3) "Substantially all of the leased property." A 50 percent or greater portion of the leased property.

(b) Complete condemnation. If the entire leased property is taken by condemnation, this lease shall terminate on the date of such taking, and the net rent and additional rent which Subtenant is required to pay hereunder shall be apportioned as of and paid to such date.

(c) Substantial condemnation. If substantially all of the leased property is taken by condemnation, Subtenant may terminate this lease by giving notice to Sublessor within 20 days after notice of such taking. In that event, this lease shall terminate on the date of such taking, and the net rent and additional rent which Subtenant is required to pay hereunder shall be apportioned as of and paid to such date. Sublessor shall promptly notify Subtenant of such taking after it receives notice or knowledge thereof. If Subtenant does not elect to terminate this lease, Sublessor may not terminate the Ground Lease pursuant to the terms thereof.

(d) Rent adjustment. If less than substantially all of the leased property is taken by condemnation proceedings, or if substantially all of the leased property is so taken and Subtenant does not elect to terminate this lease, this lease shall continue, but the net rent and additional rent shall be reduced from the date of such taking by an amount to be agreed upon by Sublessor and Subtenant. If, within 30 days after the date of such taking, Sublessor and Subtenant are unable to agree on the amount of the reduction, the matter shall be determined by arbitration under the provisions of this lease.

(e) Allocation of award. If there is any such taking, whether partial, whole, or substantially all, the entire award, with interest, shall be disposed of and apportioned in accordance with the provisions of the Ground Lease, subject to the following conditions:

(1) Negotiation. Sublessor shall advise and consult with Subtenant concerning Sublessor's negotiations with Prime Landlord, as contemplated under the Ground Lease, as to the disposition and apportionment of such award between Prime Landlord and Sublessor. Sublessor shall not make any agreement with Prime Landlord in respect of any such disposition and apportionment without Subtenant's consent, which it shall not unreasonably withhold.

(2) Arbitration. If Prime Landlord and Sublessor resort to arbitration under the Ground Lease as to the disposition and apportionment of such award between them, Subtenant may join in such arbitration, all in the same manner and subject to the same conditions as provided for arbitration under this lease.

(3) Restoration. If less than substantially all of the leased property is taken by condemnation proceedings, or if substantially all of the leased property is so taken and Subtenant does not elect to terminate this lease, Subtenant at its expense shall conduct any necessary demolition, and shall repair, alter, replace, and rebuild the part of the building not so taken to a complete architectural unit of substantially the same usefulness, design, and construction as existed immediately prior to such taking. However, with respect to the funds representing that portion of the condemnation award to which Sublessor may be entitled, under the provisions of the Ground Lease, for the purpose of restoring the remaining portion of the building to a complete architectural unit, Sublessor shall pay over such funds, or cause Prime Landlord to pay such funds, to Subtenant as they become due and payable under the Ground Lease.

(f) Sublessee share of award. If Sublessor, as tenant under the Ground Lease, becomes entitled to any portion of an award for such taking of the leased property, whether partial, whole, or substantially all, Subtenant shall be entitled to whatever part of Sublessor's share both parties agree upon. If Sublessor and Subtenant are unable to agree as to such apportionment, the matter shall be determined by arbitration under the provisions of this lease.

(13) Termination upon condemnation of whole or substantially all of leased property which includes accessory parking--determination of substantially all--apportionment of proceeds of distribution between landlord and tenant

(a) Condemnation. If, at any time during the initial term of this lease or any renewal thereof, title to all or substantially all of the demised premises is taken in condemnation proceedings or by any right of eminent domain, this lease shall terminate on the date of such taking and the rent and any additional rent shall be apportioned and paid to the date of such taking.

(b) "Substantially all" defined. "Substantially all of the demised premises" shall be deemed to have been taken if the portion remaining cannot reasonably be used, after restoration, to complete architectural units, for the conduct and operation of a bank and office building, including necessary accessory parking. There are now 300 on-site parking spaces accessory to the building. As a result of the taking, it is agreed that the portion remaining cannot reasonably be used for the conduct of a bank and office building if the on-site accessory parking spaces fall below 200 on-site parking spaces.

(c) Apportionment of award. If there is a total taking or a substantial partial taking as defined above, the rights and interests of Landlord and Tenant in and to the entire award including interest or the aggregate of any separate awards made by the court or otherwise, after payment of all reasonable fees and expenses incurred by both parties in connection with the establishing and collection of such awards, shall be apportioned as follows:

(1) Land. Landlord shall be entitled to receive and retain whatever portion of the award represents compensation for the value of the land including severance and consequential damages to the remainder.

(2) Tenant fixtures. Tenant shall receive no compensation for its leasehold value, if any, and shall be entitled solely to compensation for fixtures owned by it at title vesting. Tenant's fixtures shall not include electrical wiring, air conditioning ducts, heating units and conduits, floors and ceilings, all of which shall be included in Landlord's share of the award.

(3) Improvements. The portion of the award that represents the improvements shall be apportioned between Landlord and Tenant as follows:

(A) The first $25,000 shall belong to Tenant.

(B) The Landlord shall then be entitled to receive and retain such portion of the award with interest thereon as the number of months elapsed since the commencement of the initial term bears to the number of months from such commencement to the then scheduled expiration date of the term, initial or renewal as the case may be, during which the taking occurs.

(C) The balance of this award shall then belong to Tenant.

(4) Renewal option. Any option to renew contained in this lease, shall, on the date of the taking, be deemed to have been exercised by Tenant so as to be computed as part of the initial term for the purposes of this condemnation clause.

(5) Tenant participation. Notwithstanding any language of limitation on Tenant's rights to any awards in condemnation as set forth in these condemnation clauses, it is specifically understood and agreed that Tenant has reserved the right to notice and to participate in the trial of the condemnation proceedings, any settlements thereof, and in any negotiations that lead to acquisition by purchase in lieu of condemnation. Landlord specifically covenants not to settle any such proceedings without Tenant's prior written consent.

(d) Partial taking award. If there is a taking of less than all or substantially all of the demised premises, the term of this lease shall not be reduced or affected in any way and Tenant shall restore the improvements constructed by it in accordance with subsection (3) below. The award shall be apportioned as follows:

(1) Land. Landlord shall first be entitled to receive and retain such portion of the award or awards with the interest thereon as represents compensation for the value of the land or the part thereof so taken considered by Landlord as vacant and unimproved, or based on an economic value at the time of the taking, plus severance and consequential damages (but after giving effect to the completion of the restoration by Tenant) to the remainder considered as vacant and unimproved.

(2) Repair allowance. If the balance of such award or awards is $75,000 or less, such balance shall be paid to Tenant and applied by it to the restoration and repair of the improvements constructed by it on the demised premises. If the balance is over $75,000, the amount shall be paid to Landlord as Condemnation Trustee for application under the terms of subsection (5) below.

(3) Restoration. Tenant, at its expense, and regardless of whether the award payable under subsection (2), above, is sufficient for the purpose, shall proceed with reasonable diligence to construct, repair, alter, and restore the remaining part of the demised premises so that they will contain complete architectural units for use as a bank and office building and related parking facilities with that combination of rentable space and facilities for the on-site parking of automobiles which will result in the greatest number of square feet of rentable space permitted by the appropriate municipality or other governmental unit. Such construction repairs, alterations, or restoration, including temporary repairs, are referred to in this section as the Restoration.

(4) Architect fees. The cost of the Restoration shall include the reasonable fees of any architect employed by Landlord for the purpose of examining and passing upon the plans and specifications and supervising the Restoration.

(5) Condemnation trustee. If the award or awards are deposited with Landlord as Condemnation Trustee under the provisions of subsection (2) above, Landlord shall hold, apply, make available, and pay over the award to Tenant in the same manner as is provided with respect to insurance proceeds under the appropriate provisions of this lease. However, any balance of the award not used for the Restoration shall be divided between Landlord and Tenant as follows:

(A) Landlord shall be entitled to receive and retain such portion of the balance of the award or awards with interest thereon as the number of months elapsed since the commencement of the initial term bears to the number of months from such commencement to the then scheduled expiration date of the term, initial or renewal as the case may be, during which the taking occurs.

(B) The balance of any award or awards shall belong to the Tenant.

(6) No rent abatement. If there is any taking as described herein, no abatement of rent shall be allowed to Tenant.

FORM 23.54 Vault space and other encroachments

COMMENT

This group of clauses deals with the use of portions of the leased property which may be subject to termination by governmental authorities or by action of neighboring property owners. Many leases contain provisions relating specifically to vault space located beyond the building line and under sidewalk and street areas. The problems presented by this type of provision are similar to those raised by overhanging ledges, conduits, and other encroachments.

It is clear that the landlord cannot grant an absolute right to the possession of vault space beyond the property line. Consequently, provisions dealing with vault space normally state that such space is not included in the lease. Instead, the right to use such space is conveyed on the condition that there is to be no abatement in rent if such right is subsequently terminated, and on the further condition that any fees for continued use and any costs for removal shall be borne by the tenant. In some cases, the right to such use is conveyed in the form of a license, revocable by any appropriate authority. In dealing with encroachments in general, the usual provision exonerates the landlord from any liability and imposes no obligation on the tenant to remove them unless required by governmental authority or superior title.

FORMS

(1) Vault space and other encroachments--prohibition of use not to affect rent

This lease includes, as appurtenant to the leased property, any rights of Landlord, or which Landlord has authority to grant, in or to any vaults, steam lines, show-windows, porches, or other space in, under, or over any adjoining avenue, street, highway, or property. However, if, by law, or by or in consequence of the action of any authority or by title paramount, the possession or use of any such appurtenance to any building now or hereafter erected on the leased property outside the boundaries of the land owned by Landlord is discontinued, such discontinuance shall in no way affect Tenant's liability to pay the full rent and perform all the covenants contained in this lease.

(2) Vault and other space beyond building lines excluded from lease--tenant's revocable license to use--tenant's obligation to pay fees
